

Inter-Collegiate Conference to be held at Princeton to Discuss Disarmament

Representatives from over 100
Colleges and Universities in the East Will Meet
on October 26th

Student Council Elects Carter and Smith to Represent
DELAWARE

The University of Delaware has received an invitation from the Senior Council of Princeton University to send two delegates to the Intercollegiate Conference on the Limitation of Armaments to be held at Princeton, Wednesday, October 26th. The Student Council in session last Monday elected G. Gray Carter, President of the Student Council, and Walter Dent Smith, Editor of the Review to represent Delaware.

The Princeton Senior Council is engineering the movement, and it feels that, while the gathering of college representatives at Princeton could not be expected to influence the delegates at the Washington Conference, it can have a real effect upon public sentiment. This action comes as a sequel to President Hibben's matriculation sermon on October 4th, in which he stated, "I wish to urge upon your serious consideration, therefore, the possibility of organizing a movement here which, with the co-operation of the representatives of other universities throughout the country, might give expression to the convictions upon this subject (disarmament) which I am sure you hold."

The duty of organizing the conference has been assumed by the Senior Council, under whose auspices it is to be held. The Council has appointed a committee of six undergraduates who are to take charge of the organization of this conference.

Invitations have gone out to all important colleges and universities in the East, and a prospectus and proposed program have been sent to all who are expected to participate in this conference. The chief features consist of an afternoon and an evening meeting, to be addressed by prominent men who have been invited to come for this purpose; and a banquet in the University Dining Halls. At the afternoon meeting a resolution will be introduced expressing to the Government the sympathy of the colleges of the country with the purpose of the coming Washington Conference, and solicitation for its successful conclusion.

The gathering of college representatives, it is hoped, will stimulate public interest in the coming Conference, and serve as a basis for crystallization of public opinion in support of the Government. One of the chief results should be to engender wider discussion of the vital question of the limitation of armaments in the colleges as well as outside thru the wide publicity which will doubtless be

FACULTY CLUB PLANS ATTRACTIVE MEETINGS

Prof. George Dutton New President

On October 3rd, the Faculty Club held its annual election. The following officers were elected:

President: Prof. George E. Dutton.

Vice-President: Dr. E. M. R. Lamkey.

Secretary and Treasurer: Mr. A. G. Wilkinson.

Executive Committee: Dr. T. F. Manns, Prof. W. A. Wilkinson.

Social Committee: Major L. B. Row, Chairman; Dr. F. M. Foster, Prof. R. W. Kirkbride.

Inspired by last year's successes the Club has decided to make this year's program excel that of last year.

The program for the entire year has not been completed; but the outline of entertainments for the fall and winter up to Christmas is very attractive. A reception will be given by the Faculty Club on October 24th to (Continued on Page Four.)

PRESIDENT DISCUSSES OUR HONOR SYSTEM

Says that System Here is Not Working As It Should

Dr. Walter Hullihen, President of the University, addressed the Student Body at College Hour, Tuesday, on the Honor System, advocating certain changes in its application, if it is to live up to its purpose. The President pointed out the absurdities of expecting students, coming to Delaware from schools of low standards of honor, to acquire, in the transition, the sense of honor each student is assumed to have under the present application of Student Government.

The present freedom in classroom examinations cannot continue unless each student faithfully observes his pledge to report all "cribbing" coming to his attention. The alternative under Student Government would be the appointment of student proctors to conduct all examinations. The speaker pointed out that unless the students of Delaware can truthfully say that cheating does not go on in classrooms, our diplomas must depreciate in value.

Student Government was adopted at Delaware because it was thought to be better than faculty supervision. It is for the students to maintain its goodness, he asserted.

The orchestra played several fine selections, among which were the following: "One Kiss," Feist and Company; "Just Like a Rainbow," Shapiro and Bernstein; "Nobody's Baby," Feist and Company; "Main Street."

Delaware's football team showed unexpected strength in its game with New York Aggies on Saturday. The Blue and Gold lads pulled together from the start to the finish, a fact which made itself evident in the smoothness of action of the Delaware offense and in the stubbornness of the Delaware defense. A total of 49 points was rolled up by the Newark "grid-ders" while the visitors failed (Continued on Page Four.)

Miss Kathryn Ladd Heads Women Freshmen

Florence Phillips, Junior class president at the Women's College, called a recent meeting of the Freshmen in order to organize the class. Kathryn Ladd, of New Milford, Conn., was elected captain of the class of 1925, and Margaret Black, of Cecilton, Md., was elected sub-captain. These girls will take charge of all class matters until the regular Freshman officers are elected.

The Football Team has lost its jinx! Coach Derby has a squad of men who use the spirit of eleven players in every play. Last Saturday's game told the tale that Old Delaware is on the upper road. Haverford is the next test. Let's boost and fight to take the "Have out of Haverford."

HOCKEY IN FULL SWING AT WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Athletics Play Large Part in College Life of the Women
Undergraduates

Altho the athletics at the Women's College receives little publicity because the girls are not allowed to play with other schools, yet athletics plays a large part in the college life. Hockey, the major fall sport, is now in full swing. Miss Mildred Wolfenden, '24, has been elected Head of Hockey for the entire school. Each class also has a Head of Hockey. Miss Grace Marvil has charge of the Senior team; Miss Sara Roe, the Junior; Miss Mildred Wolfenden, the Sophomores; and Miss Blanche Workman, the Freshmen. As soon as the girls have practiced the specified number of hours the inter-class games will begin.

The Blue D really means something to every girl who receives it, for winning a D is not as simple as it may seem. To win a D the girl must have had two years of athletic work, she must be chosen for the honor team of some sport, which means that she must be the best player of that particular position in the school, she must have the qualifications for numerals which means seven points in major sports and five points in minor sports. The major sports are hockey, basketball and tennis. The minor sports are track, baseball, and hiking—and altho walking many miles will give a number of practice points, no girl wins a D for walking the largest number of miles. Hiking will start in December. Tennis, basketball, baseball and track are spring sports.

SENIOR ENGINEERS INSPECT "MARYLAND"

Naval Engineering Practice
Studied on Newest American
Dreadnought

The Senior Mechanical and Electrical Engineers made an inspection of the U. S. S. Maryland in Baltimore harbor last Thursday. Thru the courtesy of Commander Libby, the Chief of the Engineering Department, the men were able to see many parts of the ship to which the general public does not have access. The trip was under the auspices of the local chapter of the American Association of Engineers. H. P. Young and A. D. Ayerst comprised the committee in charge of arrangements.

The Engineers assembled at 5 A. M. at the "Sig Ep" House. Breakfast was cooked over the open fireplace. This was a success altho someone averred that Jacobs had put some Dutch Cleanser in the coffee pot. In order to retrieve himself, "Jake" led the singing of college songs and other popular airs on the long auto ride to Baltimore. His silver toned tenor voice could be heard at all times above the drone of the motor, and, as Repp remarked, "it helped to make the morale 100% perfect."

At Baltimore, a motorboat was hired for the three-hour trip down the bay to Sandy point where the great dreadnought lay at anchor. This latest addition to the American Armada is the final word in naval construction. It has a speed of approximately 21 miles per hour, mounts twelve 16-inch guns and develops 35,000 horsepower. The vessel is propelled by four General Electric motors. General Electric turbines are used to run the generators. The ship is an oil burner. The men were surprised to find that it was as cool in the boiler room as on the Quarter Deck.

Baltimore's various attractive centers catered to the recreational desires of the tired Engineers Thursday night. The men arrived back in Newark early Friday morning.

Military Display in Pharmacy Window

The R. O. T. C. Department of the University is staging an interesting display in the window of Dr. Brown's Pharmacy. The display consists mostly of trophies and statistical records of the Delaware boys who were at Camp Plattsburgh this summer. The background of the window contains the printed statistics and pictures of the boys while "soldiering" there. Three silver cups tell their own tale of the athletic prowess of the "Blue Hen" boys. Types of guns used at camp complete the very interesting collection of military equipment. George McManus, co-operating with Major Row and his staff, should be highly credited for his work in making the display so artistic and complete.

TOWN AND GOWN

It is essential to the welfare of the University that townspeople and student be on friendly terms. For that reason, any overt act likely to bring about an era of bad feeling should be scrupulously avoided.

Sometimes circumstances impel us to reply hastily or act suddenly before we have had an opportunity to calculate the effect of this reply or act upon our Alma Mater.

Let us keep in mind the fact that higher than our personal code of honor is the honor of the University, and that the good name and welfare of Old Delaware is far more important than our private standing in the community.

HARTER HALL

The self governing system which is now being installed in Harter Hall is undoubtedly a big step forward. For years, Harter Hall has been under Student Council control, a control which, tho well meant, has been ineffective maily because those members of the Council who do not reside in the dormitories do not understand the problems which are peculiar to the dormitories, and so are incapable of making rulings to solve adequately those problems. And so this fault will be done away with and those men who make the laws governing Harter Hall will be, thereafter, those who understand all the conditions of dormitory life, therefore those fit to make rules for the governing of such life.

No self governing system can be really successful, however unless each individual realizes the extent of his own responsibilities toward that system. It is only when individual effort is put forth, effort untinted by selfishness and guided into the right channel by competent leaders, that such a system will approach perfection. There are great potentialities in Harter Hall. We hope that the occupants will develop those potentialities.

BAND

The Delaware Band under the capable leadership of "Abe" Gutowitz is rounding out into a well-trained organization. Not only does it adequately provide the jazz at our pep-fests and football games, but it puts the snap into the marching at drill-time.

The success attained by the musicians is due principally to the fact that each man in the band is working for the good of the band as a whole. Some other campus organizations might profitably emulate the spirit of the band.

English Department to Give Talks to Freshmen

The English Department has arranged a series of five talks to be given fortnightly for the edification of the Freshmen of both colleges. Altho these talks have been specifically prepared for the Freshmen, arrangements are being made to present the talks at such times as will enable other members of the Student Body to take advantage of them. All of the talks will be given in the Wolf Hall auditorium.

The program as announced by Dr. Sypherd is as follows:

1. On Talking. Dr. Finley M. K. Foster.
2. On Reading. Mr. Van Keuren.
3. On Studying. Professor George A. Dutton.
4. On Writing. Dr. W. Owen Sypherd.
5. On Going to the Theatre. Mr. Blair.

Episcopal Rector

Addresses Students

Rev. Edgar Jones of the Episcopal Church of Newark gave one of the best talks ever heard in Wolf Hall, at the last College Hour. The talk was universal in its appeal in that it had a significance for every member of the student body. It was a talk that appealed to Engineers, Arts and Science men, and "Ags" alike, and Rev. Jones may always be sure of a cordial reception whenever he speaks before the Student Body.

Mr. Jones spoke of three men who had received excellent educational training and who were not content to stay at home and enjoy their intellectual culture; but rather they preferred to go out among the people who were not so fortunate to have the benefits of good education, and to help and teach these people. These men went out to the Arctic regions and Antarctic regions and lived there among the Eskimaux for the remainder of their lives.

The point that Rev. Jones brought out had a special meaning to every student. The Engineers should not be studying Engineering in order to make more money; the "Ags" should not be studying Agriculture in order to exploit the ground for their own betterment; and the Arts and Science men should not be pursuing knowledge just for their own pleasure and betterment. Everyone of us has a special task laid down by God and we should prepare ourselves for the fulfillment of that task and for the improvement and advancement of mankind everywhere.

CHEMICAL STUDENTS WORKING IN RESEARCH

Post-"grads" Devoting Considerable Time to Detailed Investigations

James H. Kohlerman and John F. McWhorter, graduates from Delaware in the 1921 class, have accepted fellowships from the University and are now engaged in chemical research work in Wolf Hall.

Kohlerman is specializing in Oil Shale. This promises to be the source of a substitute for petroleum and is the object of considerable experimental and research work thruout the United States. Kohlerman is trying to correlate the calorific value of the shale with the amount of oil it will produce, with the idea of ascertaining its value as a fuel. Considerable apparatus is needed in this work. It is now being installed in the chemical labs of Wolf Hall. The work is of commercial as well as scientific importance.

McWhorter is engaged in purely scientific research, continuing the work commenced by J. D. Craig, last year, on the electrolysis of certain salts in pyridine. He is working in conjunction with Charles Dare, of the Senior Class. More specifically, both of these men are trying to ascertain parallelism between pyridine and water, as mediums for electrolysis.

Wolf Chemicals

Hold First Meeting

The first meeting of the Wolf Chemical Club took place on October thirteenth. President Alvan Allen emphasized the fact that the Club was a University Club, and that it was hoped that much interest in chemistry would be aroused thru the medium of the organization.

During the business discussion of the evening, two motions were laid on the table. The first, was to the effect that Freshmen should be allowed to become members of the organization; the second, based on the fact that "true science is sexless," was to extend an invitation to all members of the Women's College who are interested in chemistry to attend the meetings. Mr. Tarr gave a very instructive talk on the Fixation of Nitrogen. Mr. Brandt, who was elected Vice-President in the place of Mr. Sackett, gave an interesting review of the life of Madame Curie. Dr. Miller gave an educational talk on the extraction of radium from its ores.

Wise Cracks Heard

Christified: See those wireless towers? What station is that?
Young: I don't think it's Lumbrook.

M. E.: Where's Doc Smith?
E. E.: He went to hire a boat for the trip down the bay.

M. E.: Well, he'll either get the boat or sell the man a subscription to the Review.

Petty Officer: We must report to the Quarter Deck now.

"Yonk": Please show me the ten cent deck.

Pete: What is that traveling crane used for?

Chris: They use that to lift "stages" out of the turbine when they put on a show.

DR. HARTER WAYLAI BY FAKE AGENT

University Student and Neighbor Scare Off Impostor

A little highwayman-act that smacks of the days in "Merrie England" when Robin Hood terrorized the peaceful English gentry was perpetrated in Newark last Wednesday evening about 7.30 o'clock.

Dr. George A. Harter, of the University faculty, while approaching his home, was apprehended by a gentleman of obviously questionable character and told to surrender the package which he was carrying. The man averred that Dr. Harter was transporting a couple bottles of highly prized "spirits" to his home. Subsequently, he said that he was a prohibition agent and was detailed to inspect the bundles. Dr. Harter, knowing well that his groceries had not undergone such a radical change, naturally questioned the veracity of the man's statement and hailed a passer-by, who happened to be a University student. The student questioned the "prohibition agent" and demanded that he show his authority to inspect promiscuously citizens' bundles. As the man was in the act of searching for these credentials, Mr. Geist, a neighbor of Dr. Harter, came upon the scene as the wind in March, and, by the application of one hand to the collar and one to the seat of the breeches, nonchalantly hurled the crestfallen would-be gurgler of "hooch" into the street. Then by means of a stalwart toe, Mr. Geist directed the man towards the B. & O. Station.

It was afterwards learned that the stranger was probably a Mr. Flynn, formerly affiliated with the First National Bank of Delaware. Apparently, he is now in the thralls of "King Alcohol." Here's hoping, however, that Dr. Harter may in the future make his way home unscathed and without such thrilling experiences.

Journal Club Begins Work

The initial meeting of the Journal Club, one of the Senior Chemical Societies, was held in Professor Harold E. Tiffany's office on Monday evening. William Baumgardt was unanimously selected Secretary and Treasurer of the organization. The ideals of the club were set forth thus: "Now fellows, last year we had a good club, and we learned to abstract Journals. Do we want to continue this year?"

"Yes sir."

"At Columbia, the Journal Club is part of the post graduate work. Are we capable of such endeavor?"

"Yes sir."

"You know we always have some eats for each meeting, if you fellows want them."

"Yes sir, yes sir. We're for a Journal Club."

And the boys meant what they said!

Old Time Delaware Discipline and Team Work Brings Success

Saturday's Scores of Delaware's Future Opponents
Haverford, 0; Franklin and Marshall, 35.
P. M. C., 12; Gallaudet, 0.
Lafayette, 20; Bucknell, 7.

In a first rate "come-back," the football team of the University of Delaware outclassed the New York Agricultural College's representatives by the score of 49 to 0 on Frazer Field last Saturday afternoon.

The afternoon's entertainment proved more cheerful, enthusiastic, and spirited than the last contest here. In fact, the game showed a great development in the local team. Eleven or more Delawareans, struggling, fighting plunging and driving their way across their opponents goal line seven times for touchdowns, kept the followers on edge, athirst for a big score. A rejuvenated team, revived in spirit, literally swept their opposition before them from the first kick-off to the final whistle.

Delaware kicked off to the Aggies, who formed a beautiful wedge protection in interference for the runner through which the locals pierced easily, dropping Anderson on his own thirty yard line. A fumble gave Delaware the ball at once. Then, an exchange of fumbles again placed the ball in the Blue and Gold's possession, on Dick Holton's recovery. Immediately Jackson, with a short end run, broke through for a touchdown. Captain Holton kicked the goal. From then until the end of the game the result was never in doubt, it being merely a question of how large a score Delaware could pile up.

Collectively, the work of the team showed great improvement in team work. "Spirit," that indefinable something necessary for success, had been imbued into the squad. The dash and determination of the backfield showed that they were out to turn in a win. The interference given the runner, time and again, was of a higher order than previously. The tackling was harder, more deadly and surer than in previous games. In every department of the game, except the forward passing, Delaware men displayed more football "sense" than hitherto. To every spectator, the chances for a successful season looked brighter as the Blue and Gold team marched down the field for scores.

It is only fair to concede to the visitors, a brave effort to withstand the onslaught of the Delaware aggregation. Their forward passes saved them from annihilation, and in this style of game, they shaded Delaware. However, they were unable to make any gains of consequence through the line.

Individually, numerous bright spots appeared in the Delaware line-up. Jackson, the Dover freshman, was responsible for large gains. He put up the style of game demanded of a fast, driving back, while Jack Williams, playing his usual dependable game, managed to snatch two passes from the arms of Aggies and run them back for gains. Rothrock ripped big holes in the New York line. At the same time, he looks to be the Blue's hope in the forward passing line, if he can be helped to handle the ball a little more steadily. Inasmuch as the new ends, Young and Foulk showed up so well, the case of discipline has been proved. The entire team fought as a unit for the first time this season. The score:

New York Aggies U. of Delaware
W. Van Pelt .. left end Manning
Stewart center Lilly
Pollett right guard Goffigon
Guayer right tackle ... McKelvie
Scholl right end Price
G. Van Pelt .. quarterback .. Schaffer

Summary—Touchdowns, Jackson, 2; Shaffer, 3; Rothrock, Williams, Goals from touchdowns: Aiken, 2; Holton, 5. Substitutes—Delaware: Ivory for Jackson, Young for Manning, Donalson for Lilly, Huff for Holton, Foulk for Price, Holton for Goffigon, Steel for Ivory, Rothrock for Steel; N. Y. A.: Stevenson for W. HARTER HALL RESIDENTS ELECT OFFICERS

Allen, President; Repp and Pierce, Section Managers

On last Monday night, at 7 o'clock, an election of the officers for the Harter Hall Self-Government Association was held. Sixty-eight of the ninety occupants of the Dorms were present and seemed interested in the selection of representatives.

The men elected Alvan Allen, as President, by a majority of thirty-five over the combined votes cast for the other nominees. Such an expression of confidence would indicate that a loyal, wholesome support will be given to the head of the association. The offices of Section Manager of each of the two sections were both deadlocked and required a second ballot to decide that E. Herbert Pierce and Harold C. Repp were the choice of A and B sections respectively. The Proctors designated for each floor were: Section A, first floor, Albert Gundlack; second floor, William Ewing; third floor, Abraham Gutowitz; Section B: first floor, Henry Betzmer; second floor, C. Rulon Dare; third floor, John C. Tripolitis; fourth floor, C. A. Smith.

The object of the association is to place the government of Harter Hall strictly in the hands of its own occupants. The elected officials will draw up a code of laws, which when countenanced by the men themselves, the Student Council, and the Business Administrator, will regulate conditions. The duty of enforcing the laws is also given the officers together with the power to recommend to the Student Council for execution penalties for any offenders. Since the Council is unanimously in back of the Proctors, the laws will be well supplied with teeth, when they are necessary.

The success of the association will depend entirely on the men's own ability to govern and be governed in this form of University Democracy. The efficiency of the organization is truly "of the people, by the people, and for the people."

BETA EPSILON HOLDS DANCE

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Alpha Fraternity held its fall informal dance in Old College Saturday night, October 15. The hall was seasonably decorated. The lights were enclosed in pumpkins and the fodder, corn, and autumn leaves gave the room an appearance of a field on an autumn evening.

Refreshments consisted of ice cream and cakes. Many alumni were back. Among the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Dutton, Dean and Mrs. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Wright, Captain McKenzie, Mrs. Wilson, and Coaches Shipley and Derby. Music was furnished by Madden's orchestra.

REHABILITATION NEWS

The Rehabilitation Club will meet at 12.30, Monday afternoon, November 7th.

The work on the wainscoting in our new building is practically completed. The doors are hung, and the metal door-plates are of an effective design.

"The Soldiers," a new War Book. Coningsby Dawson's review of John Dos Passos' novel, "Three Soldiers," published in the New York Times of October 2, has caused many ex-service men to protest strongly against the book. "Three Soldiers" is a long, bitter "grouch" against the terrible tyranny of officers and non-coms., against the humiliating degradation of "policing-up", and against the life in general of an A. E. F. man. We will all admit that "policing-up" was not the most pleasant of recreations; the "butts" and the matches were numerous, but have any souls been soiled beyond redemption because of that? The book is crowded with technical errors. To mention but three: the author refers to "a prisoner saluting an officer," a "looe" is addressed, by a private, as "Lieutenant" instead of "Sir," and, "the unkindest cut of all," a "recruiting sergeant tests a man's heart." There is, however, more serious offence in the book. The author's experiences with the A. E. F. brought to him only the conviction that every man above the evening in Wolf Hall. There was a record-breaking attendance and prospects are bright for a successful year.

Dean McCue and Dr. Heim were the speakers of the evening. These men offered valuable advice and gave much encouragement for a prosperous year. Several new members of the "Ag" School Faculty entertained with new jokes. President Daly announced briefly the program for the year. The meeting was concluded informally with a "big feed" provided by the Commons.

DELAWARE BEATS NEW YORK AGGIES

Delaware's first touchdown came in the first few minutes of play when Williams intercepted a forward, putting the Blue and Gold in a position where a pair of end runs and a line plunge by Jackson resulted in a touchdown. Captain Holton kicked the goal. From that time on Delaware had little difficulty in scoring. Most of the ground gained was on end runs beautifully executed by Jackson, Shaefer, and Rothrock. Jackson's work in open field running was exceptionally good until he was forced to retire with a strained neck received in a scrimmage. The second half found Rothrock bearing the brunt of the offensive work, ably assisted and directed by Shaefer. Williams also tore through the opponents' line for long gains beside intercepting several forwards which put Delaware into good positions to score. Delaware's line played well, holding the New York aggregation to two or three first downs.

Perhaps the most notable thing about the contest was the improvement showed by the rank of private was vicious and contemptible. We all suffered. There were humiliations, but on the whole, cannot we look back on those "Over Seas" days and feel proud of the men with whom we worked, men who were "men," from private to general? What a little soul must be that of John Dos Passos, not to have felt the "Bigness" of men, the fineness even in those we, aforesaid, pitied, and the courage, that every day kept them all "Carrying On," during those terrible, but wonderful days in the A. E. F.

The Society of the Third Division, Post Number 8, holds its Second Annual Dance on Armistice night, in the Hotel Majestic, Philadelphia, at 8.30 o'clock.

Two thousand members of the Fifth Division attended their first re-union, on September 11th to 13th, at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia. President Harding personally welcomed the Red Diamond men at Atlantic City, on Sunday, the 12th, and on Monday over 1500 men marched in the parade from Broad Street and Fairmount Avenue to Independence Hall.

The Rehabs are busy men. Winter is near, and perhaps we are thinking of the ant in the fable, we work so hard that there is no time left for pleasure. Who said "Tennis Court"?

Blue and Gold backfield in skirting the ends. Time after time Jackson, Rothrock, and Shaefer made large gains off the wings. The interference was more effective than ever before and while it did not have any "big time" ends to take care of, it was a decided improvement over that of the past three games.

FACULTY CLUB PLANS ATTRACTIVE MEETING

which the Faculty of the Women's College will be invited as well as the wives of the Faculty members.

The next event on the program of the Faculty Club is one which concerns everybody and to which everybody looks forward with a great amount of pleasure. On November 22nd, the Faculty will join with the students in the Annual Thanksgiving Dinner. Mr. A. G. Wilkinson has done very much toward making this dinner become a custom of the University and has already begun to make plans for it. Students eating at the Commons will be admitted free of charge; all other students will be charged the nominal fee of fifty cents. Members of the Faculty and their wives will be admitted at the cost of one dollar each. Mr. Wilkinson and G. Gray Carter, President of the Student Council, have been conferring about the dinner and they anticipate that the entertainment at this dinner will far exceed any of previous years. Tickets will be available shortly. Owing to the limited space in the dining hall, it is advisable that every student secure a ticket as soon as possible.

The last entertainment before the Christmas holidays will be a Christmas party held in the rooms of the Faculty Club. Definite plans have not been arranged for this as yet.

The Social Committee has also planned to make the first Monday night of every month a special night as well as the regular meeting night. On this night, one of the Faculty or another well-known person will give a talk on some subject. So far, the following arrangements have been completed:

Nov. 7th: Dr. W. L. Bevan will speak on "A Far Nientista's Holiday."

Dec. 5th: Lt. S. M. Prouty will talk on the Far Eastern Question.

Lieut. Prouty had just completed a three year tour of duty in the Philippines and China when he was ordered to the University of Delaware.

When you really want something, and need it immediately, you naturally go "HOME" to get it.
