

DELAWARE HAS
SUCCESSFUL SEASONSeven Victories And Three Defeats

With an easy victory over Western Maryland by the score of 8 to 1, Delaware College closed its baseball season on Saturday. It was one of the most successful seasons the college has ever had in baseball notwithstanding the poor start. Three of the first five games were defeats but since the extra inning game with Johns Hopkins the blue and gold team has been traveling at a fast clip and won every game played. The defeats by Drexel, Swarthmore, and Johns Hopkins, early in the season was largely due to poor work in the field by the best men on the team. The loss of Jimmy Huston back of the bat was also felt early in the schedule but O'Daniel showed wonderful improvement during the past month and his catching was all that could be desired. O'Daniel deserves much credit for the improvement in his playing as it was brought about by hard work and close attention to the coaching of Coach McAvoy.

The work of the two pitchers has been a feature of every game. In no game during the season were the Delaware twirlers outpitched. Hoch worked in most of the games and the exhibition he gave against St. John's in holding that club to five hits without giving a pass in seventeen innings gives an idea of the kind of ball he has been pitching.

Wallace who pitched the final game against Western Maryland, made a remarkable record. When Western Maryland scored their one run in the seventh inning of that game Wallace had pitched 27 innings without a run being scored against him. He pitched nine innings against Rock Hill the same number against Haverford, three innings against Muhlenberg, and six against Western Maryland before his opponents succeeded in getting a run over.

His control was wonderful in these games as he did not give a pass in the thirty innings that he pitched. He allowed only 8 hits and fanned 44 men in the thirty innings.

The team has re-elected Doherty captain for next year. Geoghegan is the only member of the team who graduates this year so the prospects are bright for another good club in 1916. The score of the Western Maryland game follows:

Delaware Captures
Extra Inning Game

On May 26th the "Blue and Gold" played the strong cadet team from St. John's Military Academy of Annapolis, Maryland. It was the longest and in many ways the most remarkable game ever seen on Joe Frazer Field. "Buck" Hoch pitched the full seventeen innings that were played and struck out eight men, allowing only five hits. Neither of the opposing pitchers passed a man. St. John's only got two men past second base.

In the seventeenth "Mike" O'Daniel, the first man up, doubled to center field, the only extra base hit of the game. "Spider" Horsey beat out a bunt, and when Taylor hit to short, O'Daniel scored. Score by innings:

"Doc" Doherty Re-elected
Captain Of Baseball

Doherty, captain of this year's champion baseball team and captain-elect of the 1916 basketball team, was re-elected captain of the baseball team for 1916. "Doc" has worked faithfully for the "Blue and Gold" in both basketball and baseball and fully deserves the honors given him. He has been hitting like a fiend in baseball and his fielding is like Maranville's.

New Managers Chosen

On May 27th, the 1916 managers for track, baseball and tennis were chosen. The following were elected: G. O. Smith, manager of track, Beauchamp, assistant manager; D. A. Price, manager of baseball, G. C. Brower, assistant manager; Walls, manager of tennis, and "Bob" Pepper, assistant manager.

Women's College Entertains
High School Girls

On Friday evening, May 21, the faculty and girls of the Women's College entertained the graduating class of Wilmington High School. The girls were shown through both buildings. After that ice cream was served in the dining room. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Several of the girls announced their intention of coming to the Women's College next fall.

On the morning of the Inter-scholastic Track Meet twelve girls from Georgetown High School, returning from a class trip to Washington, stopped for luncheon at the Women's College. All were well entertained; and two promised to enter the Women's College next fall.

Field Secretary Visits Y. W.
C. A. At Women's College

Miss Richardson, Field Secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association, visited the Women's College Tuesday, May 25, for the purpose of instructing the girls in summer play-ground work and county clubs. During the meeting a committee was also appointed for nominating delegates to the summer conference at Eaglesmere, Pa.

Y. M. C. A. Elects Delegates

At a recent meeting of the Y. M. C. A., C. D. Pepper, '16, H. W. Bramhall, '17, and R. H. Pepper, '17, were chosen delegates to the Y. M. C. A. conference of colleges to be held for ten days, beginning June 16, at Eaglesmere, Pa.

"Bob" Wallace, '16, Delaware's crack pitcher and right fielder, has signed up with Manager Ellison of the Newark Delaware-Maryland League. Wallace pitched great ball for Delaware this season and should be of great help to the local club.

COMMENCEMENT
SERMONSPresident Evans Preaches Before
Y. M. C. A.

The sermon preached by Milton G. Evans, president of the Crozer Theological Seminary, on Sunday morning before the Y. M. C. A. proved a delight and an inspiration to his hearers. His subject was "The Gift of Influence." He showed how the normal desire of every person is to shape the destinies of others and he drew examples from religious history to illustrate how religious men have been prime factors in influencing the lives of others.

"The immortals in history," he said, "are Zoroaster, Buddha, Mohammed, Moses, and Jesus. A poor fisherman followed Jesus, a reporter took down the words of the fisherman, and to-day the obscure Peter and the more obscure Mark have become the world's immortals in literary art and moral uplift. This amazing influence of these relatively humble men was a gift—a gift from Jesus. Men controlled by the Master are the outstanding figures in great epochs of national life. Compare Paul with any Roman Emperor; Augustine with Constantine; Luther with Charles V; Carey with Clive. Take John R. Mott; his great influence may be traced to the fact that he heard and believed the words: "If any one thirst, let him come to me and drink. He that believes on me, . . . from within shall flow rivers of living water."

Baccalaureate Sermon by Dr.
Smiley

On Sunday evening in the Oratory Dr. U. Franklin Smiley of West Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, preached the annual baccalaureate sermon. He took for his text I Samuel 7:12,—"Then Samuel took a stone and set it between Mizpah and Shiloh and called the name of it Ebenezer saying hitherto hath the Lord helped us." His address was inspiring and forceful with an intimate appeal in it which brought old truisms before the eyes in an understandable and simple way.

"We should erect a monument," he said, in part, "in honor and remembrance of every occasion on which the Lord has helped us. We must remember that without God's help, no matter how intellectual our education may have made us, no matter how strong, physically, we may be, we are but weaklings. The strongest man or woman without God is pitiable in his weakness; but the weakest man or woman with God's help is a giant in strength. With but a few pebbles and a sling and God's help, the youth David slew the giant Goliath; and with only a few fishes and loaves of bread which a poor fisher boy's bother had probably given him for his lunch, the disciples fed the five thousand. Let us remember, young men, when we go out into the world fortified for life with an education which thousands of young men would give everything to possess, that we are, for all that, very weak,—that, without the great God's help, all our knowledge is of no avail,—that we are helpless until the Master of the Universe lends us his powerful arm to strengthen us. He, alone, can give us power!"

DR. MITCHELL

Dr. Mitchell has been with us a year, and in this time—in some slight degree—we have learned to know what a big man he is. He is big in his sympathies, broad in his vision, keenly intellectual in his understanding; in fact he is a man to whom any son of Delaware College may point and say, "There is a perfect example of an American scholar and gentleman. And he is our president!"

Dr. Mitchell has come to our college and entered with all his soul into the work of making Delaware take rank with other colleges of the east. He did not come—as so many men would have come—in the spirit of faultfinding. He did not come with the desire to bring about a revolution, changing everything to conform to his way of thinking. He did not say, "Here, this is all wrong! We must change this. We must take a radical departure in this matter!" He took things as they were and depended on the force of his own personality to change them gradually to his own mind. I think we Delaware boys never feel quite so proud of him as when, at every public function at which he speaks, he lays the credit of this year's success almost entirely to the man whom we love so well, Dr. Harter, and to the faculty who have labored with him.

Dr. Mitchell's talks in chapel are quite indicative of the man as he pleads with Carlyle and Keats for a "passionate longing for truth." And we must think sometimes almost involuntarily of Thomas Arnold and Rugby,—how that great educator (as Thomas Hughes tells us) used to pray in earnest, impassioned language and how those boys used to stand with bowed heads and minds removed for the moment from the frivolities of school life to listen while that great Englishman saturated their hearts with the eternal values. And if, someday, some of our boys push their heads out from the crowd into that freer air where the combination of great intellectuality and truth is the sine quo non, they will doubtless think with gratitude of Dr. Mitchell's earnest words and their pens will do him the honor he justly deserves.

Thru this coming year and the next and thru as many years as fate keeps Dr. Mitchell with us, let us show him that we do recognize a big man when we see him; that even if his ideas are above our ideas, we believe enough in him to see that his ideals are truth and to want to make truth prevail. In every move which he makes for the advancement of Delaware let us give him our united sympathy and support. And then Delaware College, under his leadership, cannot help but take its place among colleges as representing the higher tendencies of young American manhood.

PLANS FOR A GREATER DELAWARE

Trustees Purchase $200,000
Worth Of Property

The Trustees of Delaware College have recently purchased land between Delaware College and the Women's College, amounting in all to about $200,000. All the options which the trustees held on land on the South side of Depot Road were taken up except three, and the options on these properties were renewed. The properties which remain to be purchased are the Pemberton property, the Gamble property, and the property occupied by the Newark Post.

Nothing has been planned, it is understood, for the immediate use of this land. The land will be rented until the college has use for it. The securing of this land has great significance in laying the basis for all future development of Delaware College.

The money with which this land was purchased was part of an endowment to the college which was given to it largely through the efforts of Mr. Henry B. Thompson and Mr. H. Rodney Sharpe, of the Board of Trustees.

The college and the people of the State appreciate greatly the gift of their anonymous benefactor and the efforts of these men in securing it.

The other day little Joseph Holton Jones, Jr., took some tests in order to take out some life insurance with James Hastings. He—Joseph—went to the doctor's to get his certificate filled out.

"You don't dissipate, do you?" asked the physician. "Not a fast liver or anything of that sort?"

Joseph hesitated and shifted from one foot to another. His ears twitched and he blushed.

Finally he replied with his usual cuteness, "I sometimes chew a little gum!"

A. A. Elects Officers

Crothers, Delaware's star center on the football team and captain-elect of the Blue and Gold track team, was elected president of the Athletic Association for next year at its last meeting held in the Oratory, May 26.

"Alec" is one of the most popular students in the Junior Class and is always full of "pep" in all college activities. He should be able to encourage the increased spirit that "Dutch" Little, our retiring president, has aroused this year.

"Biddie" Bounds, next year's basketball manager, was chosen vice-president. The student body decided no other officers were needed; so a treasurer and secretary were not elected.

Juniors Beat "Sophs"

In the final game of the inter-class series the Juniors walloped the "Sophs" on Saturday afternoon, May 5. The game was full of pepper and was very close. The 1916 men got an early lead but the "Sophs" soon tied up the score. The Juniors scored a run in the sixth which proved to be the deciding run. However, the 1917 nine was not defeated until every man was retired in the seventh.

"Sophs" Outgame "Freshies"

On May 12, the second year men defeated the Freshmen in a very spirited game. After being beaten in a seven inning game, the Freshmen protested and two more innings were played on May 17. The final score by innings:

Sophomores . . . 1 0 3 2 0 0 0 2—8
Freshmen . . . 1 0 0 2 0 2 0 1—7

Crothers Next Year's Captain

Crothers, Delaware's crack miler, was unanimously elected captain of track for 1916. "Alec" is a Junior and has been a consistent winner for the Blue and Gold, having taken first place in every race he entered. He is a hard worker and should make a capable leader on the cinder path next year.

Johnson '99 Presents College With Booklets

Mr. Everett C. Johnson, '99, of the Newark Post, has presented the college with a number of artistically bound booklets which contain the addresses delivered on the occasion of the installation of Dr. Mitchell as President of Delaware College, and the dedication of the buildings of the Women's College of Delaware. These booklets will be distributed during Commencement Week to the alumni, trustees, and distinguished visitors. They should prove of inestimable value in propagating the new spirit of Delaware College which Dr. Mitchell sums up in the opening words of the booklet: "It is no longer a secret that Delaware College is to take rank among the foremost institutions of the kind in America."

Dr. Mitchell Gives Seniors Reception

On Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock Dr. Mitchell gave a delightful reception at the Red Men's Home to the graduating class and their friends, the faculty, the trustees, and the students of the Women's College. Everybody had a most enjoyable time. After a social hour ice cream, coffee, and cakes were served.

Financial Report Of Athletic Council

From a financial point of view this has been a banner year in athletics, with the exception of baseball. Although Delaware has had a successful season in baseball, the gate receipts have been unusually small. Very few alumni have attended the games this year. And since the entire schedule was played at home, the deficit has run higher than usual.

While basketball did not pay for itself, the receipts this year were much better than ever before. Football and track were both paying propositions.

The report, which covers the entire collegiate year to June 1, 1915, is as follows:

Cash on hand at opening of college	$ 245.59
Dues collected from students	1331.50
Sale of season tickets	383.00
Gate receipts
Football	996.05
Basketball	125.95
Baseball	83.25
Track	293.25

Total amount of funds $3458.59

Expenses
Football (guarantees and officials' fees)	$ 886.55
Basketball (guarantees and officials' fees)	231.09
Baseball (guarantees and officials' fees)	389.20
Track (guarantees, medals and printing)	196.50
Equipment, advertising, meals, etc.	1052.63

Capt. Smith Forced To Quit Track

Captain G. O. Smith, Delaware's 10-second man, has been ordered by physicians to give up track on account of heart trouble. "Smitty" had been warned previously to give up athletics but had not taken the warning seriously. After the Dual Meet with Temple University on May 15, however, his heart caused him a good deal of pain and he went to see a physician. As a result he was forbidden to run again. He was recently elected Manager of Track for the coming year.

Captain Smith has been a loyal representative of Delaware College ever since he came here. He has always given us the very best that he has had, and the student body feels just now that it will be almost impossible to replace him. We all owe him our thanks and our sympathy.

We were about to hand in our examination books in mechanics last Wednesday, when Prof. Short came marching in the lecture room with a pot of flowers. What did he mean?

THE BEST DRESSERS COME TO LIPPINCOTT'S

There is a certain originality and distinctiveness in the clothes you buy at this Store, that makes them seem made to your measure.

And the quality, workmanship and style in the clothes cannot be duplicated elsewhere at even near the prices we ask.

For these reasons the better dressers come here. They are on the safe side. They know that new styles and materials come here first.

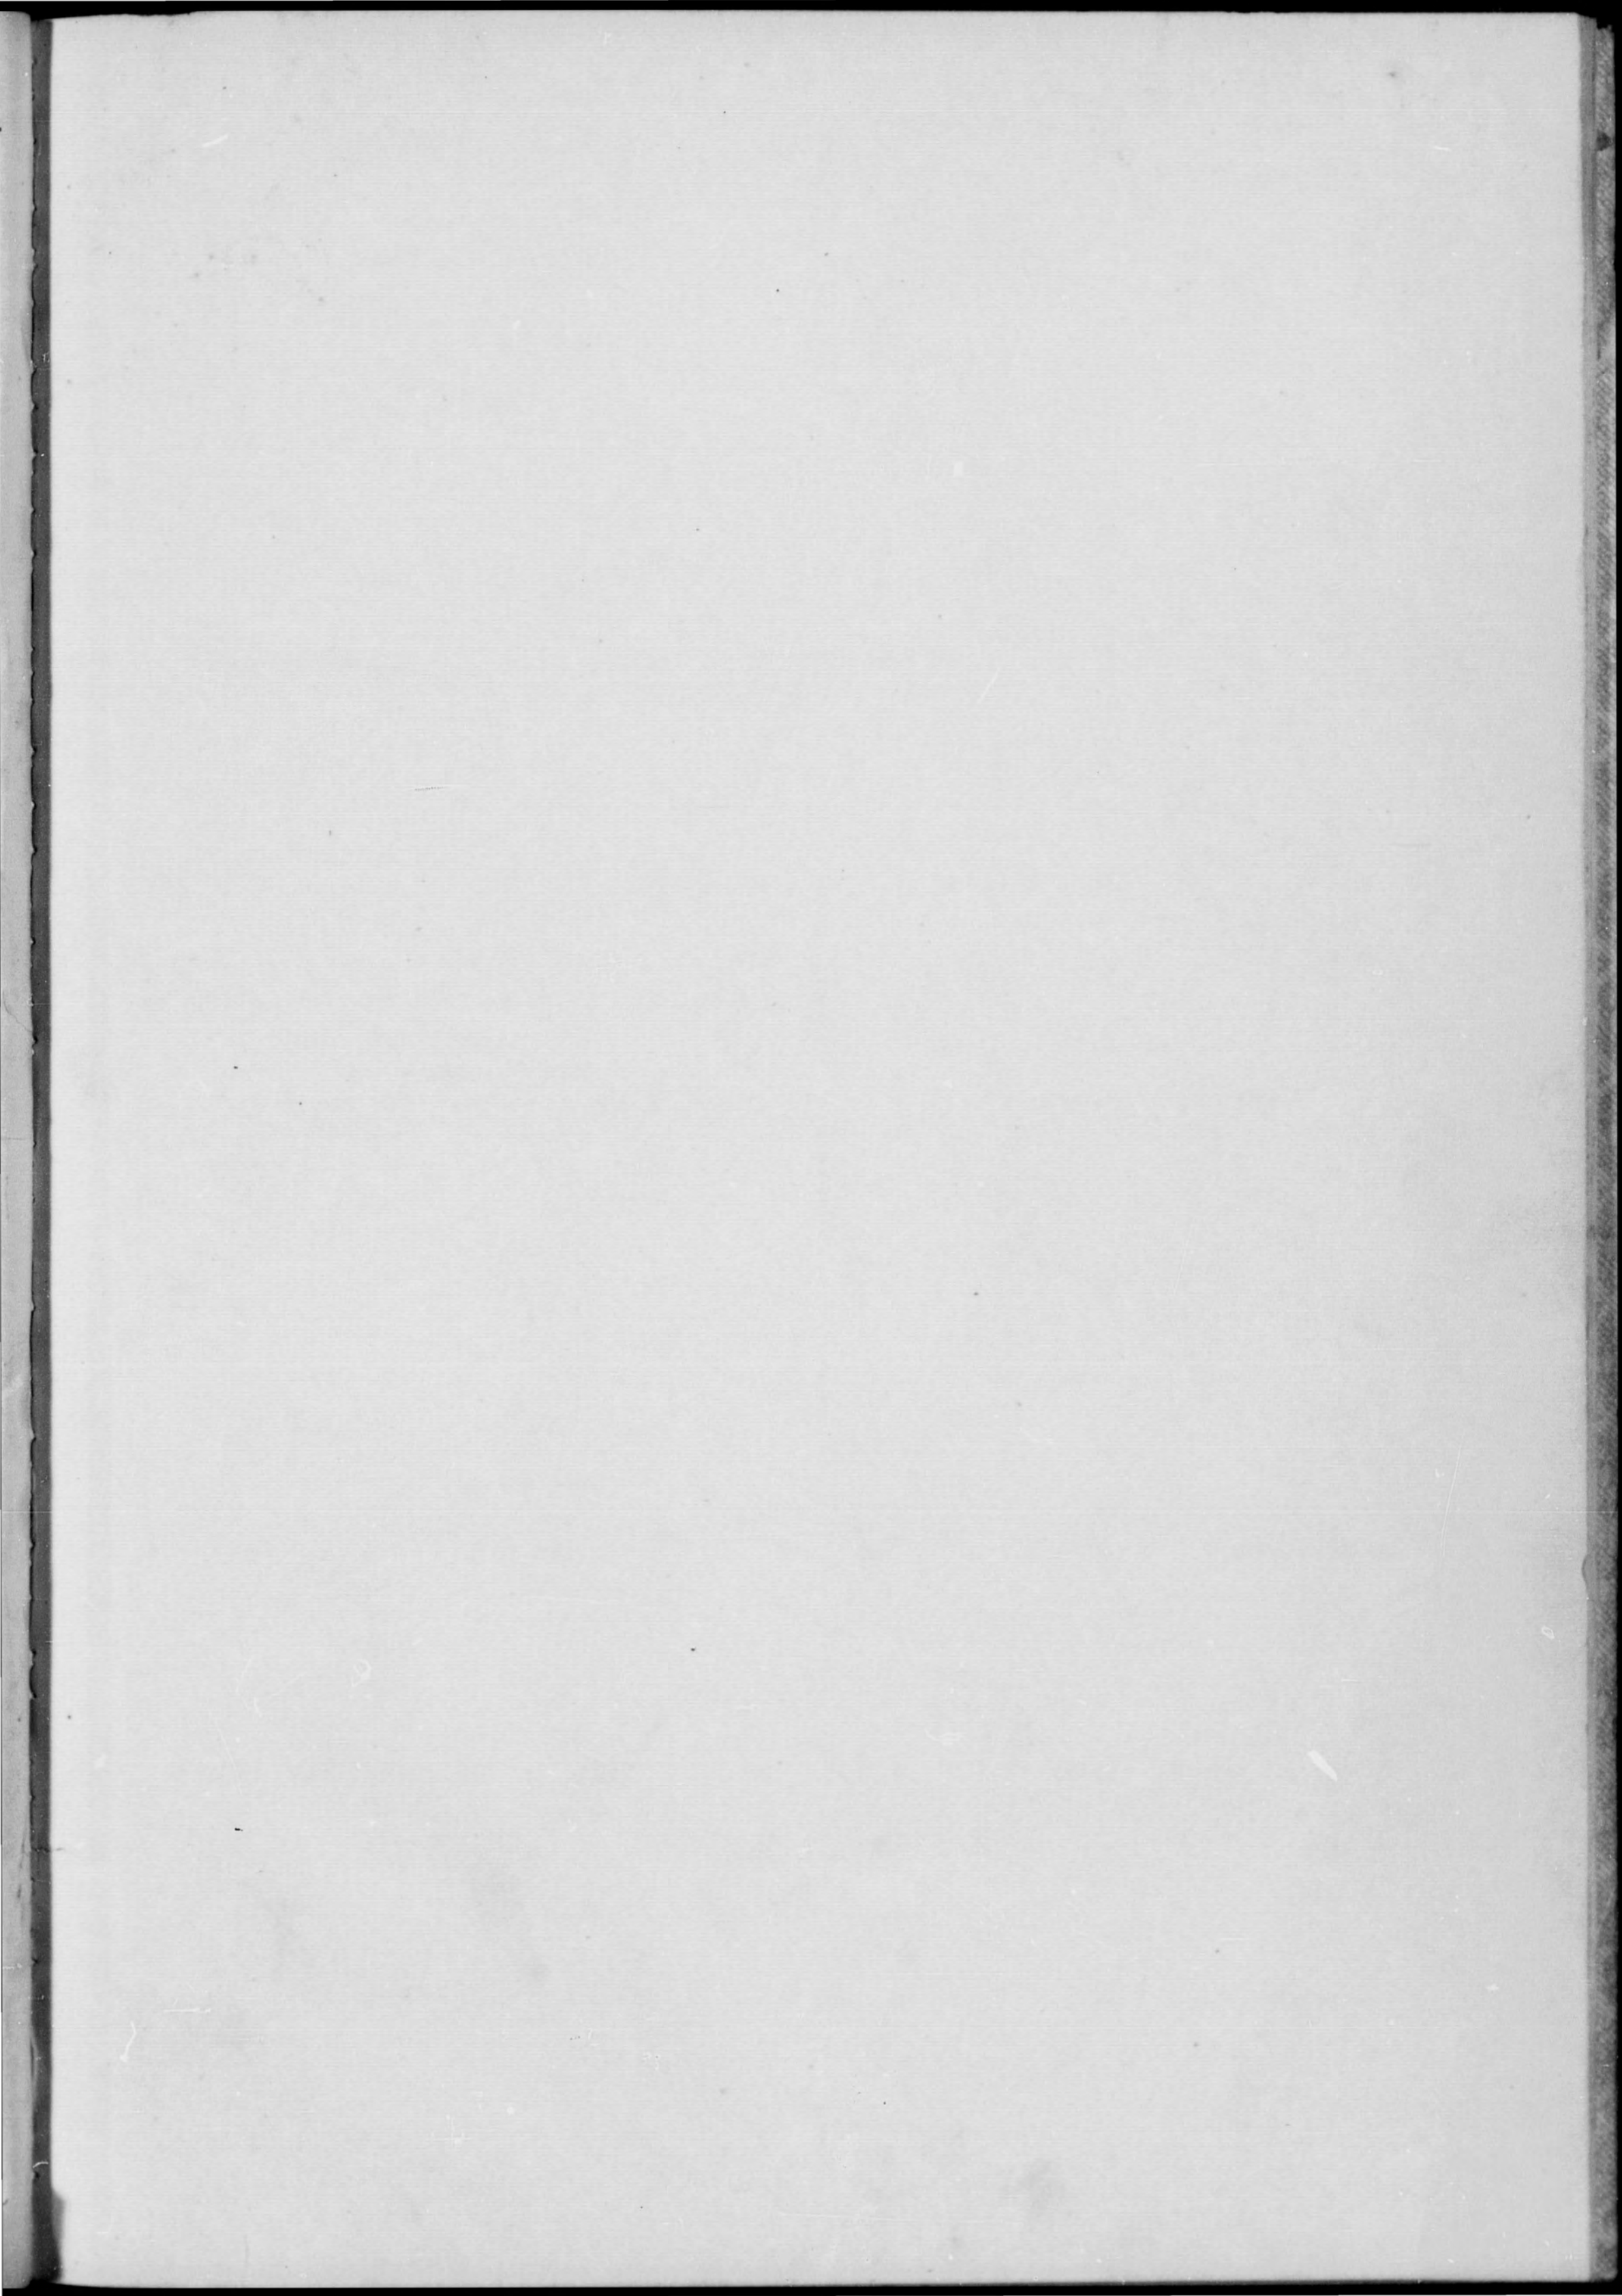

As an additional economy, we give Pink Stamps with every purchase. A filled book is redeemable in any merchandise you may select from this Store, to the extent of $3.00.
