Transportation Lists Being Compiled For Newark School Pupils

Proper Application Must Be Made In Order To Get Transportation; Blanks At School Office

REDUCE TAX RATE

Transportation lists for those children living in districts 31, 35, 36, 42, 77, 90, 100, 32, 45, 44, 49, 56, 92 and 101 are now being made for the coming school year for those children whose parents have made application to the State Board of Education for transportation.

The Newark School records show that there are some who are entitled to this transportation who have not made application for transportation to the Newark School. The Newark School authorities are urging that parents attend to this matter at their very earliest convenience. Transportation blanks may be obtained at the Newark School office or from Mr. J. O. Adams, business manager State Board of Education at Dover.

To secure free transportation to the Newark School a parent must apply for it on regular application forms upon which the information asked for is certified by: The pupil's parent or guardian; by the teacher in the child's resident district, or by the teacher of the Delaware District where the pupil attends or has last attended school and by a trustee of the child's resident district. If a child lives in a closed district or a district wherein there is no trustee, then the application form is signed by a trustee in a Delaware District where the pupil attends or has last attended school.

Pupils whose home districts do not provide the seventh and eighth grade may secure transportation for attendance to the Newark School for the seventh and the eighth grade, provided they live in any of the following districts and further provided that the Newark School is the nearest school offering the grade in question: The districts—31, 35, 36, 42, 77, 90, 100, 32, 45, 44, 49, 56, 92. District No. 36—The White Clay Creek—has

Albert Love Drowns In White Clay Creek

9-Year-Old Boy Loses Life Unnoticed By Bathing Companions; Body Found Next Day By Brother

One of the most pathetic incidents in the drowning of 9-year-old Albert Love in White Clay Creek, Monday afternoon, was that his 18-year-old brother, Vernon, found the body, Tuesday morning, by stepping on it while he was wading in a shallow part of the creek, aiding in the search. The little chap was in bathing in the creek Monday afternoon, and either fainted or slipped unnoticed in water over his depth. When he did not come home in the evening a search was instituted and the creek dragged all night. It was not until 7:45 Tuesday morning that the body was found by his brother. A number of boys and young men had put on bathing suits and were wading through the creek. The body was found in shallow water, near the dam at the Paper Mill Bridge. As his brother discovered the body he collapsed from the shock. The body was taken to the funeral home of Robert J. Jones.

Albert was the motherless son of John Love, who has been employed by the Curtis Paper Mill for twenty-five years. Albert's mother died when he was only about a year old. Besides his father, he is survived by three brothers, Vernon, Glenn and Jack, and a sister, Bertha Love. Funeral services will be at 3 o'clock, standard time, tomorrow afternoon, from the residence of his father, just across from the paper mill. The Reverend Disston W. Jacobs will officiate, and interment will be in the Newark Cemetery.

The same crew made a trip, Saturday, to Salem, N. J., to bring home William Dickerson. On Monday, Mrs. E. B. Walker was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital by Eugene Stiltz. On Monday, Mrs. Herbert Pennock was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital by Eugene Stiltz.

NEGRO RUNS AMUCK

Shortly after midnight, Monday, Robert Lewis, 46 years old and colored, ran amuck in the streets of Hockessin, firing wildly at residences with a shotgun. He was accompanied by his wife on his rampage. A posse gathered to stop him, but he scattered them with his gun. He was finally captured and disarmed by State Highway Officer Sullivan and State Detective Messick. He was arraigned before Magistrate Jones, yesterday, in Wilmington, and tried on three charges; disorderly conduct, firing a gun, and pointing a gun at people. He was fined $5 and costs on the first, $10 and costs on the second, and held under $1,000 bail for the court of general sessions on the third.

It means that you cannot be saved by the valor and devotion of your ancestors; that to each generation comes its patriotic duty, and that upon your willingness to sacrifice and endure, as those before you have sacrificed and endured, rests the national hope.

It speaks of equal rights, of the inspiration of free institutions exemplified and vindicated of liberty under law intelligently conceived and impartially administered.

Junior Short Course Best In Its History

Tenth Annual Course Most Successful Ever Held; Many Highlights In Week

Friday night brought to an official close the tenth annual and most successful Junior Short Course ever held by the 4-H Club organization in Delaware. 127 boys and girls, members of Delaware 4-H clubs, were at the University of Delaware for five days. This was the largest number that had ever attended the course. They arrived Tuesday and went home Saturday. While they were here, they were quartered in Harter Hall, and took their meals in the "Commons." The group this year seemed more mature than in previous years, and Mr. A. D. Cobb, director of club work in Delaware, has received a great many of gratifying comments on the behavior and appearance of his boys and girls.

The week had many high lights for the club members, including daily plunges in the new pool. The biggest social event for the club as a whole was probably the picnic, Thursday night, at Welsh Tract Church. The picnic dinner was prepared and packed by Miss Ruth King and Miss Deborah Spencer and taken to the grounds, and the club members marched down to the old church. After the picnic some of them walked up Iron Hill and examined the old mine

Red Men's Carnival Successful Affair

Wilmington Woman Wins Car; "Slipper" Features Thursday Parade

The Red Men and Heptasophs Carnival came to a successful conclusion Saturday night, when the drawings were made for the big prizes. The chief of these, a Durant four sedan, was won by Mrs. E. Palmer, of 405 West 14th street, Wilmington. The carnival, which ran for one week on the carnival grounds, next to the fire house, enjoyed a liberal patronage each night, and, while the returns have not been computed yet, it is thought that it paid a generous profit.

One of the features of the carnival was the parade, Thursday night, in which Red Men, Heptasoph, and Daughters of Pocahontas lodges from all over the state marched in elaborate and gorgeous Indian costumes. The sensation of the parade was Miss Lil Willis on her mare, "Slipper," who lead the parade, followed by the Continental Band. "Slipper," a spirited animal under any circumstance, was exhilarated by the music so that she danced most of the march on her hind legs. Miss Willis, showed that her horsemanship equaled the beautiful Indian costume that she wore by keeping "Slipper" well in hand and at a proper distance at the head of the column.

Other prize winners, Saturday night, were Howard Brown, of Elkton, who won the dining-room suite; Frank Rutter, of Elk Mills, who was awarded the breakfast suite; Billy Edmondson, of Newark, who won the large rug; Robert Tweed, of Newark, who won the cedar chest.

A handsome diamond ring was given away each night of the carnival as a gate prize. Mrs. Louetta Brown, of Newark, won the ring Saturday. John Tutweiler had the lucky ticket Friday. Nathan Davis won it Thursday, and Bert Willis, of Appleton, won it on Wednesday evening.

NEW LIBRARIAN

It was announced last week that Elliot L. Moses, of the University of Michigan Library, had been appointed to take the place of Donald Coney, resigned, as librarian of the University of Delaware Memorial Library.

The University of Michigan Library is one of the finest college libraries in the United States. Mr. Moses was graduated from Carleton College in 1903 with an A. B. He later attended the Hartford Theological Seminary. He has been principal of several High Schools.

Mr. Coney, who came from the University of Michigan Library, and has been at Delaware for one year, will go to the University of North Carolina, at Chapel Hill, N. C. Mr. Coney will leave Newark about the last of August.

Recover Stolen Tires And Nab One Negro

Clever Sleuthing By Wideman And Cunningham Results In Recovery Of Tires Stolen From Henry Mote; Two Thieves Still At Large

Aided by information given by local colored men, and by using their wits, Constable William Wideman and William Cunningham, Monday night recovered seven new automobile tires stolen from the garage of Henry F. Mote, on Sunday night; apprehended one negro implicated in the theft; and discovered the names of two other negroes who are accused of having broken into Mote's garage and taken the tires.

Charles Hayman was arrested and had a hearing before Magistrate Thompson, yesterday, charged with aiding and abetting in the commission of the crime. Hayman admitted hauling the tires from a poolroom on Cleveland avenue to a house on New London avenue, where they were found. He denied having any knowledge of or part in the theft. He was released in $1,000 bond for further developments in the case.

Late Sunday night or early Monday morning, thieves forced open a window in the rear of Mote's garage and tearing away the sheathing on a room took seven new tires. Monday night, William Cunningham, who is employed by Henry Mote, heard from two negroes that the tires were in a certain house on New London avenue. Accompanied by Constable Wideman, Mr. Cunningham went to the house, and the two men broke through locked doors and found the stolen tires, together with a number of other used tires and rims. As a number of tires have been stolen lately from the backs of cars parked in and about Newark, it is thought that these other tires are also stolen property.

Charles Hayman was arrested by Constable Wideman, and said that he had hauled the tires for Thompson Howard and William Clarke. Other negroes questioned said that Clarke had left for an address on Poplar street, Wilmington. Cunningham drove to Wilmington, and securing two city officers went to the Popular street address and searched the house. Clarke was not found, but it was evident that he had been there. Both he and Howard are still at liberty, but it is expected that they will soon be taken. Howard is a local negro, and Clarke has been here for 7 or 8 months. Both formerly worked for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, but have been out of work for a time. Hayman works for the University of Delaware.

When Hayman was given his hearing, he testified that Howard and Clarke woke him at 2 a. m. Monday morning and asked him to use his car to haul some tires to Wilmington to sell. This he refused to do, but

THE CIVIL LEGION

Committees of The Civil Legion will officially attend the notification ceremonies of both Presidential candidates—Herbert Hoover and Governor Smith.

GO TO PLATTSBURG

Last night, Dean George E. Dutton, accompanied by Warren Singles, left for the R. O. T. C. camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., where part of the University of Delaware unit is in training. July 5 will be Delaware Day in the camp, and Dean Dutton and Mr. Singles will attend the ceremonies.

Those voters who register on July 21 and vote in the primaries, will not have to register again. However, anyone who registers in July and does not vote in the primary elections, will be stricken from the lists, and will have to register again before voting in the November elections.

Newark Residents To Receive No Reduction On Electric Current

Town Will Not Benefit By Delaware Electric Cut; Levy Court To Resurface Park Place; Poolroom Voted Nuisance

TOWN REPORTS

At the regular monthly meeting of the Council of Newark, held in the Council office, Monday night, it was reported that the Delaware Electric Company in answer to an inquiry of the Council had stated that its reduction in electric current rates would not extend to the town of Newark as this reduction applied to domestic rates, where current was furnished direct to the consumer, and not on contract rates.

It was announced that Mayor Frazer had requested that the Levy Court of New Castle County resurface, with Amiesite, Park Place from the town line to Elkton Road, thus continuing the resurfacing that the town will do on Park Place, within the town limits. This requested was granted, and the work will be done this summer.

It was voted by the Council that Hageman's Poolroom was a nuisance, and that the landlord, the Diamond Ice Company, be requested to abate the nuisance. There was one dissenting vote to this motion.

On a request by a property owner that Haines street, between Main street and Delaware avenue be provided with water and sewer service, discussion disclosed that the street did not belong to the town. A motion was made that Mayor Frazer treat with the owners of property on this street to turn street over to the town, and if this could be arranged, that the street be provided with water and sewer service, the properties to be assessed the usual sewer tax per front foot. It was included in the motion, that if the work was ordered, that Daniel Stoll should be awarded the contract on his estimate of $375.

It was voted that a phone be installed in the residence of Chief of Police Keeley, and that the town pay for said phone.

Councilman Wilson reported that he had arranged to have the two fire-plugs, standing in the street on East Main street, moved back of the curb line.

Professor H. R. Baker was appointed to the Town Board of Health to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. R. V. Townend. It was reported by Mayor Frazer, that after considerable negotiation the Board of Trustees of the Red Men's Home, that the necessary permission had been granted to increase the width of Park Place to 30 feet.

It was voted that the property of Samuel Slack, on Academy street, be provided with a curb line.

A letter was read from Guy R. Ford stating that he had ordered the Harting Sign Company to remove the damaged sign on the property across from Leak's Garage.

The treasurer reported a balance of $6,094.14 in the treasury, July 1. The Alderman reported fines and licenses amounting to $65. It was voted that Lignon and Lignon, contractors, who

MAY EXTEND CARRIER SERVICE

W. H. Moore, U. S. postoffice inspector, has been in Newark this week, going over the city carrier routes, and considering the advisability of extending the city carrier routes.

The routes do not cover the town, and many citizens who have been taken into the limits of the town still have the rural mail delivery and are anxious to be served by the city carriers. The postmaster has no authority whatever to make such changes until he receives orders to that effect from the government. W. H. Evans, local postmaster, has realized the situation for some time and has been urging action in the matter. He thinks the prospect for the extension of service is very favorable.

DEAN SPENCER HERE

Dean Spencer, newly appointed dean of the engineering school at the University of Delaware, arrived here Monday, to direct the construction and equipment of the new engineering building. He will also work with the staff of the engineering department in laying out the courses of study for the coming year.

NO CHURCH SERVICE

There will be no church service at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church during July and August.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Fruit For Fun

The summer sport season is here again. Already the sports goods dealers are going around with smiles wreathing their faces. Already the outdoor lover is counting over his cash and spending his evenings figuring on his summer vacation. What shall it be—motoring, camping, sailing? Or, if these ideas seem too strenuous, how about renting a summer bungalow with enticing tennis courts, golf courses, and swimming pools nearby? Or else, if you prefer to stay home, there are always picnics which can be organized at a moment's notice.

However different these methods of fun-making are, they all have one question in common. What shall we eat? And it is no little question, for even the man who eats to live may find that the fresh air and sunlight or the outdoors makes him want to live to eat.

Feeding the Sportsman

After a strenuous day in the open, substantial foods are needed, and the woman who prepares a meal for a party just returning from a long motor drive, or an afternoon of sport, realizes that dinner, the climax of the day, must be made as good fun as the rest of it. Of all the fruits which can be used in party menus, pineapple is undoubtedly the most versatile one. For a breakfast to follow a mountain hike to see the sunrise, what could be better than pineapple waffles or fried bacon and pineapple? For the luncheon preceding a tennis match there are numerous pineapple entrées, salads and desserts. After the match a cooling drink with the syrup of canned pineapple as an ingredient, and perhaps pineapple sandwiches or cakes, are delicious. In both the formal dinner and the impromptu supper pineapple can once more play its part.

A light tea which will be refreshing and cooling after an afternoon in the hot summer sun could consist of society punch, pineapple sandwiches, and cheese straws. To make the punch mix three-fourths cup sugar and one cup water, and boil for five minutes. Chill and add one cup syrup drained from crushed pineapple, the juice from two oranges, and one cup of ice water. Add one orange sliced very thin without removing rind, one-half cup crushed pineapple, and one tablespoon minced Maraschino cherries. Pour over a square of ice in a pitcher. The sandwich filling is so delicious that it is wise to make an extra large quantity of sandwiches. Blanch one-third cup of almonds, shred them and brown gently in two tablespoons butter. Drain two cups crushed pineapple and add to nuts, browning very slightly. Cool. Add twelve pickles chopped fine. Work in one-fourth cup cream cheese gently until soft paste is formed, adding a bit of pineapple syrup. Season with salt and paprika.

For the Beginning or End

Either to begin or to end the day pineapple waffles are delicious. Mix and sift one and three-fourths cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Add gradually one cup milk, two beaten egg yolks, and three tablespoons melted butter. Add one-half cup thoroughly drained crushed pineapple. Fold in two well-beaten egg whites. Bake on waffle iron. To the syrup drained from the pineapple add one and one-half cups sugar and one cup water. Boil this to a syrup, and serve with the waffles. This dish is suitable either at breakfast or at a late supper.

Another breakfast dish de luxe is French toast with pineapple. Sift together one cup flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder. Add one cup milk and two well-beaten eggs; beat well. Dip round slices of white bread into batter and fry in hot fat. Lay on plate, dust with sugar and top with a slice of Hawaiian pineapple. In the center of the pineapple put one-half teaspoon red jelly.

When Days Are Warm

With spring comes the possibility of making lovely salads with the fresh fruits that are on the market. A delicious salad is made as follows: arrange six slices of canned pineapple on the leaves from a head of lettuce. Cut two medium-sized bananas into slices, cover with one-third cup lemon juice. Let stand five minutes and drain. Arrange a circle of banana slices close to the edge of each piece of pineapple. Pile some stemmed strawberries in center of each pineapple slice, and garnish with unstemmed strawberries; it will take about two cups in all. Serve with pineapple cream dressing made as follows: melt one tablespoon butter in top of double boiler, add one tablespoon of flour, one-eighth teaspoon of salt. Stir well and add one cup pineapple syrup and two tablespoons lemon juice. When smooth, remove, chill and fold in one-half cup beaten cream.

A novel sherbet for warm days is pineapple ginger sherbet. Cut one ounce candied ginger in small pieces, add three cups water, one cup sugar, and one-third cup lemon juice. Boil fifteen minutes. Cool. Add one can of crushed pineapple and freeze.

Asparagus Croquettes

Make a thick white sauce from 3 tablespoonfuls of butter, 1-3 of a cupful of flour and 1 cupful of milk. To this add 1 cupful each of hard-boiled eggs coarsely chopped and cooked asparagus cut into small pieces; season to taste with salt and pepper and a dash of nutmeg. Some experts add a few drops of onion juice or 1 tablespoonful of grated cheese. Turn into a shallow pan and leave to become firm and cold. Cut into finger lengths about 3/4 of an inch wide, roll in sifted bread crumbs, then in egg slightly beaten with 3 tablespoonfuls of cold water added for each egg-white, then in crumbs again. Fry in deep hot fat, drain and serve on a hot platter garnished with parsley.

Asparagus au Gratin

Cut cooked asparagus into small pieces and make a layer of the vegetable about an inch thick in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle liberally with grated cheese then cover with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven until the crumbs are brown, about 15 minutes.

Asparagus Omelet

Cut into small pieces enough cooked asparagus to make 1 cupful. Beat 3 eggs, the yolks and whites separately. To the yolks add 1/2 of a teaspoonful each of salt and flour, a dash of pepper, 1 tablespoonful of grated cheese and 2 tablespoonfuls of milk. Melt 2 tablespoonfuls of butter in a frying or omelet pan, turn in the stiffly-beaten whites of the eggs, then the yolks and the asparagus and cook as any other omelet; set in the oven a few minutes until the top is set, then remove to the top of the stove to brown the bottom and cook the mixture throughout. Fold over and turn out on a hot platter. Garnish with asparagus tips, or with parsley and thin slices of lemon.

Molded Tomato and Asparagus Salad

To 2 cupfuls of strained tomato juice add a pinch of a bay leaf, 1/2 of a small onion sliced, 1 clove and 1/2 of a teaspoonful each of salt and sugar. Simmer 15 minutes, then strain and add 2 tablespoonfuls of gelatin that has been soaked in 1/2 of a cupful of cold water for five minutes. Stir until the gelatin is dissolved, then set it aside to cool and thicken. When the gelatin is about ready to set, add 1 1/2 cupfuls of cooked asparagus tips that have been cut into small pieces. Turn into individual molds to become cold and firm. Serve unmolded on hearts of lettuce and garnish with asparagus tips and thick mayonnaise dressing.

Pineapple Patties

Drain the syrup from one can of crushed pineapple. To the pineapple add one-half cup sugar and one tablespoon butter. Allow to cook slowly for eight to ten minutes or until a rich amber in color, stirring frequently. Pour into small pastry shells that have been baked but not allowed to brown. Bake until a film forms over the pineapple or about ten minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Pineapple Ice

Mix one and one-half cups sugar and one cup hot water. Boil until the syrup spins a thread when a little is poured from the tip of the spoon. Add one cup cold water, one-fourth cup lemon juice, and two cups crushed pineapple. Freeze until of mushy consistency and serve immediately. This is delicious served in a parfait glass with fresh strawberries. Put a tablespoon of crushed berries in the bottom of the glass, then the sherbet, more berries and lastly the sherbet, topped by a whole strawberry.

Toasted Pineapple Mushrooms

Cut eight rounds of bread the same size as a slice of pineapple. Sauté the bread and eight pineapple slices in butter until golden brown, then place a circle of pineapple on each round of bread. Mix a package of cream cheese, six tablespoons peanut butter, a few grains of salt and pineapple syrup to moisten. Spread thickly on the pineapple slices and top each one

Company Punch

Make a syrup from two cups sugar and two cups boiling water. Boil ten minutes. Add juices of six oranges, five lemons, two cups strawberries, and the syrup from two cans of crushed pineapple. Beat the eggs well; add the sugar; melt the butter and add it to the eggs and sugar. Add the melted chocolate, and flour, and vanilla, and nuts. Bake in a moderate oven about 20-30 minutes.

When you cut out a dress with a normal shoulder seam and set-in sleeve, see that the back section is half an inch longer across the shoulder than the front section. This extra material is eased into the seam to give room for the shoulder blades. If a person is slightly round-shouldered it is particularly necessary to make this allowance.

Christian Science Churches

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 1.

The Golden Text was from Psalms, 8:1. "O Lord our Lord, how excellent is Thy name in all the earth; who hast set Thy glory above the heavens."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible, "Be still and know that I am God. I will be exalted among the heathen. The Lord of hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our refuge." (Psalms 46:10,11.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Christian Science God is universal, eternal, divine Love, which changeth not, and causeth no evil, disease, nor death."

Willim Interprets Produce Agency Act County Agent Tells Scope And Purpose Of Legislation

Answers to questions on the scope and interpretation of "The Produce Agency Act" which became effective July 1, 1927, has been received by Ed Willim, Jr., New Castle County Agricultural Agent, from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"The information in this article should be filed for reference by any person who ships produce out of the state," says Mr. Willim. "It may prove of value to any shipper who believes that his consignments of produce did not receive the proper attention. Of course only out of state or so-called inter-state shipments will be effected by the act, some regulations of which follow."

The Produce Agency Act is a federal law which became effective July 1, 1927. It is of particular interest to growers, shippers, commission merchants, brokers and distributors.

What is the chief purpose of this law? To protect growers and shippers against fraudulent accounting on consignments of perishable farm products received in interstate commerce.

Whose business is affected by this law? Commission merchants and any others who receive perishable farm products in interstate commerce for or on behalf of another.

To what produce does this law relate? Fruits, vegetables, melons, dairy and poultry products, or any other perishable farm product.

What transactions by dealers are not covered by this law? (a) Purchases of product (not consignments); (b) Consignments not in interstate commerce; (c) Strictly brokerage transactions; (d) Joint accounts; (e) Cooperative associations except on produce handled for non-members; (f) Disposal of rejected produce by railroads, except as to accounting; (g) Non-perishable farm products, such as grains, livestock, etc.

What acts are prohibited? (a) Dumping or destroying produce, received in interstate commerce for or on behalf of another, without good and sufficient cause; (b) Making any false statement to the shipper, knowingly and with intent to defraud, concerning the handling, condition, quantity, quality, sale or disposition of the produce; (c) Failure, knowingly and with intent to defraud, to account truly and correctly for the produce.

What is the penalty for violation of any provision of this Act? A fine of not less than $100 and not more than $3,000, or imprisonment for a period of not exceeding one year, or both.

What protection is afforded a commission merchant or other agent? On produce to be dumped or destroyed because unsaleable, the law has provided that the commission merchant or other agent may obtain prompt investigations and certificates, by persons in classes designed by the Secretary of Agriculture, as to the quality and condition of such produce. These certificates are prima facie evidence in federal courts of the truth of the statements therein contained.

HARNESS-MAKER BUSY EVEN IN MOTOR AGE

In spite of the fact that we are living in a motor age there is plenty of work in making and repairing harness.

Success Of Industrial Trust Company Of Wilmington Has Been Spectacular

The completion of extensive improvements and addition to the building of the Industrial Trust Company marks a period of progress without parallel in the banking history of Wilmington.

Haldeman C. Stout
Vice-President
Industrial Trust Co.

During the relatively short time of fourteen years there has been created a strong financial institution with ever widening influence on the lives and habits of thousands of substantial citizens, visibly expressed by a building and equipment that is a credit to any city.

The Industrial Savings and Loan Association was organized on July 22, 1914, largely through the efforts and according to the plan of Mr. Haldeman C. Stout, now vice-president of the institution. It was on September 17, 1914, that it commenced business at 923 Market street. Immediate success forced its removal within a year to what is now the Citizens Bank Building. Five years later larger quarters and a permanent home was demanded by the volume of business.

On August 11, 1920, the Industrial Trust Company became the successor to the Industrial Savings and Loan Association, and on March 28, 1921, the new home of the company was formally opened.

The new addition to the building was opened on April 23 of the present year and thousands of its patrons visited the building and expressed satisfaction.

The Industrial Banking Department is that feature of its service to patrons which has made it one of the assets of the community. Up to 1914 the regular banking institutions of the city made it difficult to make loans to the working people. Thousands of these industrial loans have been made and their influence has been widely felt. Many improvements to homes and the comforts of labor-saving devices have been made possible to those engaged in the various trades and industries.

These loans are made on the endorsement of two property owners, and are repaid to the bank in small weekly payments.

So Michael Haitseh of 625 W. Second street, Wilmington, keeps busy during his fortieth year in the business, although he has added auto cushions and curtains to his line.

"Forty years ago," says Mr. Haitseh, "automobiles were scarcely thought of. The boys had never heard of clutches, cylinders, pistons, or generators. Now try and find a boy who knows what a race, a crupper, a martingale or a hame-strap, all of which were common knowledge to the lads of the Horse Age."

But the horse is not forgotten by any means. People from all over the State come in here for harness repairs or for new parts of old harness. Horseback riding is not so popular as it formerly was but there are enough people who bring in saddles for repairs to make it a considerable part of my work."

USED CAR MARKET LIGHTED BY UNIQUE SYSTEM
The Hammond Motors Company, Wilmington Oldsmobile dealers, have just completed a large open air used car market at 37th and Market streets.

The plot alongside the showrooms, about 90 ft. x 50 ft. in size, has been filled in and covered with cinders. Toward the rear of the plot a cinder-block shed has been built for the repairing of used cars.

The market will be lighted by night by a unique system. A mast has been erected at a corner of the lot, about 20 feet in height. On this is placed two powerful marine flood lights, which will give it the brightness of high noon.

Altogether the new Hammond headquarters is a model of up-to-dateness, both the new showrooms and the used car market. It is well worth a visit when you are next in Wilmington, if only to view the 1901 model Olds, which is on display.

JULY 4, 1928

The Declaration of Independence

Does it stand, or is it "old stuff?" If it stands, let all 100 per cent Americans on this July 4, 1928, with a new sense of the blessings of peace, get solidly behind those ageless truths, the foundation of this republic. In a country once more free from a war of oppression, America calls upon the men and women of 1928 to assume the same obligation which Americans of 1776 assumed—with the same completeness, the same courage, "and for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Now Let the Agitation Begin

One of the recognized prime needs of the Women's College of the University of Delaware is an education building.

So urgent is that need that it should be supplied without undue delay.

The record for achievement made by the Women's College under the wise leadership of Miss Winifred J. Robinson, the dean, makes it peculiarly worthy of generous public and legislative thought and action.

When, as governor, the late Charles R. Miller proclaimed as a fixed State policy the providing of equal higher educational facilities for Delaware boys and girls he launched a new educational era in Delaware and the Women's College was a result of it. Having been created, all its reasonable needs to hold the scales of educational equality truly balanced must be supplied and the education building is one of them.

In this connection we desire to call public attention to the following letter which we have received from Dean Robinson:

"Mr. George Carter, Editor,
"The Evening Journal.

"My dear Mr. Carter—This is to express appreciation for The Evening Journal's recognition of the need of the Women's College for an Education Building. I appreciate very much the prominence given to this need in the report of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Yours sincerely,
"WINIFRED J. ROBINSON, Dean."

Right there, we think, is another opportunity to do the Women's College a good turn. Dean Robinson refers to the prominence given to the education building need in the report of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. That is all very fine, so far as it goes; but neither the Federation nor its new president, Mrs. Florence M. Beacom, should let it rest on that report. They should get behind the building project and force it through to completion.

Primarily, of course, the Federation stands behind anything which tends to promote and safeguard the public interest. Secondly, however, its most important function is to promote and safeguard the interests of Delaware women and girls. The appeal for an education building for the Women's College blazes the way for the Federation to do something big and concrete for Delaware girls who are destined to become Delaware women. It is to begin now to agitate in favor of that building and to continue to agitate for it until it has been built and dedicated to the girlhood and young womanhood of our State.

A Federation report is fine, but subsequent and persistent Federation agitation will be finer and lead to more practical results.—Evening Journal.

Thought and The Press

In these days there surely is manifested a higher devotion to clean journalism, more loyalty to right standards of unity between all English-speaking peoples, more practical good for humanity, a higher intelligence through "the press." Without doubt many realize that the most and very best which writers and editors can know or print today make but faint expressions of what is possible. These expressions are but symbols of universal intelligence—and the symbols are improving with every passing year.

Working in thought to improve thought, as impersonal educators the newspapers of the world have a wonderful opportunity to help abolish war, increase the brotherhood of man, establish good will, and make the world safe for peace. The success of the whole news industry must continue to depend on its element of good will in service; and may there be more light cast on the depth of meaning within these two words—"good will"! There is quite a little splendid achievement today to make us believe that the newspapers will do their important part as time goes by to make all these constructive effects as practical and visible as they are normal.—Christian Science Monitor.

BURROUGH MEDAL GOES TO POET OF NATURE

The medal of the John Burroughs Memorial Association has been awarded this year to John Russell McCarthy, poet, whose name is now bracketed with the names of William Beebe and Ernest Thompson Seton, to whom the association has already given its accolade.

According to Dr. Clyde Fischer, President of the association, the prize is given for what, in the opinion of the judges, is the best literary production of the year dealing with nature. This may either be poetry or prose. Mr. McCarthy was a friend of John Burroughs, although their friendship did not develop until toward the end of the naturalist's life. The origin of the friendship is narrated by Dr. Clara Barrus in her life of Burroughs.

Burroughs, writes Dr. Barrus, disliked the custom of exchanging gifts at Christmas. On December 24, 1918, when a small package was handed to him, he "growled" before opening it. When the wrappings were removed he found "Out of Doors" and "Gods and Devils," by John Russell McCarthy. He found that the books dealt with trees and outdoor life. After reading the poems Mr. Burroughs was the poet's host at Woodchuck Lodge, near Roxbury, N. Y. They spent days together in the woods and found much in common.

Although Mr. Beebe and Mr. Thompson Seton have both been honored by the association for their literary work, Mr. McCarthy is the first to receive the Burroughs Medal.

"The Medal is not without its touch of romance," said Dr. Clyde Fischer. "It is the work of Mrs. Gertrude Lied-fers, a woman approaching middle age, who is the mother of several children. She was unable to develop her talent until a few years ago.

"Mrs. Liedfers, a native of Sweden, came to this country after she was 20. Force of circumstances took her to Portland, Ore., where with her husband she ran a grocery store. When her responsibilities grew sufficiently light to give her a little leisure she turned to the longing of her youth—art. She attended a school in Portland. Soon her talent attracted attention and she was sent East. She joined the Art Students League of New York and at the end of a year had won a scholarship.

"One night when she was visiting Mrs. Fischer and me she made a sketch of Burroughs from a photograph of him that stood on my desk. I was much impressed by it. It was the merit of this sketch that prompted the Board of the John Burroughs Memorial Association to ask Mrs. Liedfers to make the medal for us."

On one side of the medal is John Burroughs' profile and on the other is Slabside, one of his favorite homes, on the west bank of the Hudson.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Editor, Newark Post:

Several weeks ago, Dr. Heim, chairman of Civic Committee of Newark Chamber of Commerce, published an article in which he set forth the desirability of cleaning up the unsightly and unsanitary places, looking to a town beautiful.

The response, I notice, has been fine on the part of a number of our citizens, and while not wishing to intrude upon the field wished upon Dr. Heim by the C. of C., I would like to add a little to his plea, commendatory as well as critical. Coming in from the east end of town one is at once impressed by the comfortable homes, most of them freshly painted, neat lawns ornamented with shrubbery and flowers of lovely hues. Only two or three jarring notes till the Penna. R. crossing is reached. From there on to Delaware University grounds is largely given up to business, and it shows the usual business section of good, bad and indifferent, one or two outstanding buildings of architectural merit and some others just outstanding. Paint and pavements would help some. Speaking of pavements, I observe the need of good cement pavements is almost universal along Main street. The present brick ones are mostly irregular and bumpy. In front of Center Hall some replacements are needed, and especially this is needed in front of the Masonic lot above the Presbyterian Church. In passing I would compliment the Presbyterians on the handsome Sunday School building they have just erected, but, if permitted, I would suggest a new pavement, front, on account of the pools of water collecting thereon in wet weather. I saw a man washing his hands in one of them a few days ago, and it would add quite a bit to the safety of umbrellas if the Trustees would trim the lower branches of their fine Norway maples. One of our Councilmen seems to be cultivating quite a growth of weeds and bushes in front of the old homestead. I venture to say I. S. with a scythe and axe could, in less than a day, work wonders there. A little further along in front of Mr. Griffin's home on the corner, I see his pavements are nothing to brag about. As I meander along over the B. & O. R. R., I find myself coming into a quiet, steady part of the town. The homes are mostly substantial, and with well-kept lawns make a fine appearance, excepting, as usual, too many stretches of unsightly old brick pavements, principally on one side of the street, and on the other, by way of contrast, we are pleased and our feet are eased by a long line of cement pavement which lead us by some really fine homes, and to the Newark Country Club's play grounds, where we rest in their observation stand, and looking out over the links, we meditate on the amount of work done in the name of play and think of Tom Sawyer.

The Pedestrian.

Elk Mills, Md.,
July 2, 1928.

Mr. Editor:
Ex-Sheriff Lewis A. Seth, of Elk Mills, while attending the carnival at Newark on Saturday night last, parked his car on Main street in front of the college, was much surprised, after spending an hour at the carnival and returning to his car to go home he discovered that a thief had been there while he was attending the carnival and had relieved him of a new tire and rim from the rear of his car.

It would be very nice if the guilty one could be brought to justice so persons going to Newark could do their shopping without fear of theft.

Mrs. E. Williams,
Elk Mills, Md.

Knowledge does not comprise all which is contained in the large term of education. The feelings are to be disciplined; the passions are to be restrained; true and worthy motives are to be inspired; a profound religious feeling is to be instilled, and pure morality inculcated under all circumstances. All this is compressed in education.—Daniel Webster.

The Etiquette of Railroad Travel

Women constitute so large a percentage of the present traveling public that to them is attributed the increasing attention paid to the recognition and observance of general rules of travel etiquette. By familiarizing herself with the standardized procedures, even the inexperienced woman can enjoy that ease and assurance which comes with knowledge of what to do and how to do it, and which stamps one as a well-mannered traveler, able to make oneself comfortable without infringing on the rights and privileges of others.

There is so much of general information attached to what is included in so-called travel etiquette that, even without the incentive of an immediate journey, the subject is interesting, especially to those to whom travel, either by land or sea, is still something of an event. While the general code of courtesy applies to travel of all kinds, there are certain details of procedure that relate especially to railroad trips and others which relate to ocean voyages, so that it is well to consider as separate subjects these two best-known methods of travel.

Land Cruises

Unless one has had reason to investigate the late luxury in train service, the accommodations now available will seem almost incredible. Tourist agencies are only too glad to disseminate this information and valuable literature is to be had for the asking. One speaks now of a "Land Cruise" quite as a matter of hole. Vesper services were held in the church yard after the picnic. The girl club members had two very instructive periods with Mrs. Helen McKinley, State Domestic Science extension worker, in which they were shown how to make home-made furniture and how to make color selections in clothes. The boys had a number of periods at the Experimental Farm with the staff there in the study and judging of livestock and poultry.

The 4-H Club work made itself felt outside of the course, when on Wednesday, Dean McCue took Mr. Cobb and two club members, Edith Staples, of Bridgeville, and Ted Pierson, of Hockessin, to the weekly Kiwanis Club Luncheon, in Wilmington. Dean McCue is chairman of the agriculture committee of the club and had the luncheon program for the day. Mr. Cobb gave a talk, explaining the work of the 4-H clubs in general, and the particular work of the clubs in Delaware. He also told about the National 4-H Camp in Washington, to which several members of the Wilmington Kiwanis Club had been instrumental in seeing that the expenses of Delaware delegates were paid. Both of the 4-H Club members gave talks which swept the Kiwanians off their feet and the youngsters had a more than enthusiastic reception.

On Friday Mr. Cobb arranged an anniversary luncheon and invited all of the 47, who had been at the first Short Course, in 1918, to attend. Three were present and 16 sent messages of regret at not being able to be there. Stanley Short, of Cheswold, one of the members in 1918, gave a talk, and was followed by E. G. Jenkins, club leader for the State of Maryland, and Joseph McVey, former New Castle County Club Agent.

Dewey Sapp, the first club member in Delaware, accompanied by Mrs. Sapp, also a former Delaware club member in Delaware, accompanied by Mrs. Sapp, also a former Delaware club member, were present at the evening exercises. Mr. Sapp gave a talk on the first Delaware 4-H Club. The Sapps also have the first Delaware 4-H baby.

The program, Friday night, was varied and colorful. Miss Everett, of the Philadelphia Dairy Council gave a series of tableaux built around old songs and working in the health idea. She used club members for her scenes, and had special scenery with her, so that the episodes were very effective.

The different clubs gave a stunt program, which was a mixture of everything from acrobatics to mouth organ quartettes. The closing exercise was the ceremony of conferring the Order of the Link on eight outstanding club members. This is an order that was created by Mr. Cobb, last year. The link represents a link in the 4-H chain. The clubs sang "taps" and the meeting disbanded.

Current Price

He had just been appointed judge, and it was his first day on the bench. His first case was a bootlegger. A little uncertain as to what penalty to inflict, he excused himself a minute, went outside, and called an old judge aside.

"O, judge," he said, "I've got a bootlegger out there and I don't know what to give him."

The old man replied: "Don't give him over $4. I never do!"

course and special trains are so equipped as to compare favorably with the superb ocean liners. Such a "Cruise" train in the United States boasts an entire recreation car, with assembly hall, stage and removable seats making a clear floor space possible. There is radio and moving picture entertainment, a gymnasium, library and lounge, and a special observation car with not only the usual outdoor sheltered platform but a spacious living room with continuous broad windows giving an unobstructed view. The sleeping accommodations include rooms with real beds, private baths, easy chairs and dressing tables. Of course, there is maid and steward service and the cuisine is that of a smart restaurant.

It is obvious that the etiquette observed on such a trip would be that of a high-class hotel, modified by a certain degree of sociability as the result of continued proximity with fellow travelers. That this is appreciated is proved by bookings sometimes for an entire season in advance.

Preparedness is essential even for a short journey, and the more luxury one desires the more necessary is it to make a reservation well ahead of time. Ordinarily a week of forethought is sufficient, but at holiday and vacation seasons, two weeks or more are often necessary, especially where a drawing-room is required.

Disposal of Luggage

In the United States the experienced traveler is identified by scarcity of hand luggage, as the checking system is simple and inexpensive. These conditions are reversed on the other side of the Atlantic, with the result that the seasoned traveler often eliminates heavy luggage and travels with an assortment of bags and suit cases. The disposal of one's hand luggage is always a test of good manners. No space should be appropriated that belongs to another passenger. If, on an uncrowded train, extra space is available, it should be relinquished cheerfully when needed. It should not be necessary for last-minute passengers to make the request. Extra wraps are best folded and laid in overhead racks, for, if hung, they are liable to sway back and forth most annoyingly. No luggage is ever allowed in the aisle or even to jut into aisle space. This is an absolute rule of every road and to dispute it shows ignorance of travel regulations.

Absence of hurry and confusion is an evidence of good manners, therefore the traveler who would make things easy for herself and others allows ample time to take a train. Unless one has a reservation the early comer has the advantage of choice of seats, and it is well to be at the entrance gate when it is first opened, ticket in hand. It is then quickly inspected and punched by the official.

In America, drawing-room and sleeping cars are quite different in appearance from ordinary day coaches, with broader windows, spacious vestibules and dressing-rooms, and luxurious seats. The usual European train does not present this exterior difference. The "carriages" of England and the "wagons" of the French railroads, whether first, second, or third class, are distinguishable chiefly by these Roman numerals on the sides. Within, the division of space is different, the first-class compartments usually seating four or six; second class eight, with movable chair arms separating the places. Third class in England is equivalent to second class in France, second class in England having been practically abolished. All the better class of through trains in Europe are of the compartment type, with a corridor on one side of the car.

The Board of Education has fixed the rate for the Special Bond tax for the present fiscal year at twenty-three cents per hundred. The rates for this tax since the bonds were issued are as follows:

1923-24—45 cts.	1926-27—27 cts.
1924-25—40 cts.	1927-28—25 cts.
1925-26—32 cts.	1928-29—23 cts.

The income from the Special Bond tax for the present year is to retire six one thousand dollar bonds and to pay the interest charge of $6000.

Under the Laws of Delaware the official whose duty it is to collect other county taxes in the county or counties wherein the district is located collects the Special Bond taxes "in the same manner and at the same time as provided by law for the collection of taxes for other school purposes."

The Board of Education has fixed the rate for the Special Bond tax for the fiscal year at twenty-three cents per hundred. The rates for this tax since 1923 show a decrease from 45 cents on the hundred to the present rate of 23 cents. The income from the Special Bond tax for the present year is to retire six one thousand dollar bonds and to pay the interest charge of $6000.

The assessment for the special tax for the Newark Special School district is the same as that determined by the county assessment for all other taxes. The Newark Special School district included very much more territory than the Town of Newark.

The regular meeting of the Young People's Society of White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church, which was to have been held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Irvine, wife of the pastor, was called off until next month owing to the death of Mrs. Irvine's sister.

The first grape berry moth adults issued from old leaves in the overwintering cage at Camden on May 28, and hatching of eggs can be expected this week. Grape leaf hoppers made their appearance in very abundant numbers this spring but weather conditions during the past month has been decidedly against them and has served to check their development and multiplication considerably.

Curculio has caused heavy dropping of fruit and attention is called to the fact that where feasible the early drops should be gathered and either burned or buried very deep and covered with paraffinized benzine (P. D. B. or Parocide). This measure may seem expensive but it will repay in the long run and the growers cannot continue to let a heavier annual infestation be built up and continue to grow fruit.

The third summer spray should be applied at this time. It may prove the most important spray of the season. Do not let the harvest of early apples interfere. The late apples must be protected now. Do not delay.

Foliage and fruit is very subject to spray injury at this time.

For practical results, and to reduce the possibilities of fruit russeting, use dry-mix at rate of 50 pounds to 200 gallons of water. If commercial lime sulphur is used, dilute at rate of 1-70. Arsenate of lead must be used, and 8 pounds should be added to each 200 gallons of spray. With dry-mix and lead arsenate, add 5-10 pounds of lime, while with lime, sulphur and lead arsenate, add 15 pounds of lime.

Where bitter rot and apple blotch are troublesome, it is essential to use Bordeaux mixture for control of these diseases. Use the 2-4-50 formula, or 2 pounds of copper sulphate, 4 pounds of hydrated lime, and 50 gallons of water.

Growers equipped for dusting should continue their dust schedule, and keep growth protected.

The June drop and a heavy secondary drop has been commonly found. Curculio, peach moth, low temperatures and lack of feeding are factors contributing to this disturbance.

Foliage injury is common. Trees low in vigor show greater reaction to lead arsenate. This is not because of the lead but on account of the foliage being soft and trashy.

Where heavy drop of fruit has been experienced it would prove practical to pick it up and have it destroyed. Further adults of curculio and peach moth from this fruit will be eliminated.

New Castle county. This disease can be controlled by proper treatment. The most modern treatment consists of a copper dust preparation, two ounces per bushel of wheat will give practically a complete control of this disease.

Two millers in New Castle county cleaned and treated the seed wheat for the farmers last fall. According to Mr. William this method of controlling the spread of wheat smut will go a long way in ridding the county of this serious wheat pest.

PREDICTS EXPANSION OF CAR MARKET ABROAD

Despite the desire of European automobile manufacturers to keep the business to themselves and regardless of the wish of European motor car buyers to support home industries, I feel that the great value of the American automobile at its price will break down those sentimental barriers and provide American manufacturers with a steadily expanding market abroad.

This is the home-coming statement of R. H. Grant, vice-president of the Chevrolet Motor Company in charge of sales, who recently returned from a six weeks tour of the leading business centers overseas.

"America's position in the European market has been made possible and fortified by the advanced production methods employed by the industry on this side of the Atlantic," Mr. Grant pointed out. "Our manufacturing facilities are vastly superior to those of European companies."

"This is true especially in the lower priced fields where Europe has only one manufacturer that has developed quantity production methods to any considerable extent. And as we know over here, volume manufacturing has been one of the foremost factors in permitting the industry to offer so much automobile at so low a price."

"By the very virtue of the speed required to attain volume, precision is constantly becoming more of an automatic in the manufacturing of our automobiles. Parts must be machined to closer and more accurate limits to make this volume possible, and as a result of this precision we get a finer automobile and as a result of quantity production which precision makes possible, American manufacturers are able to offer the public more automobiles per dollar than any other in the world."

Mr. Grant is keenly enthusiastic over the prospects for export sales and points to an increasing European trade as an important factor in the development of the automobile business generally.

"Unlike the average American, the typical European hasn't yet come to the realization that he must have an automobile," Mr. Grant observed. "However, the desire to own one has always been there and with economic conditions in better shape now than at any time since the war, the prospective customer over there is in a more advantageous position to satisfy the need."

The wide-spread use of bicycles throughout Europe proved of special interest to Mr. Grant, as a seller of a low-priced car. There are twenty bicycles in operation in Germany for every automobile registered, ten in England and seven in France. More than 27,000,000 bicycles are being operated in these countries alone.

"The vast number of bicycles now being used in Europe provides an accurate notion of the potentialities of the European automobile market and seems to indicate that one of the major sales duties of the automobile industry abroad is to place these 27,000,000 bicycle riders at the wheels of automobiles," Mr. Grant declared.

In the course of his tour Mr. Grant visited England, France, Belgium, Germany, Holland and Denmark. In Antwerp, Berlin, Copenhagen, Paris and London, he addressed meetings of Chevrolet dealers.

the University of Maryland. He was a member of the first dairy club judging team to be sent to England, in 1922, to compete in the International Junior Judging Championship, held in London. The Maryland team, which represented the United States, brought back the cup that year. Mr. Worralow's dairy experience will be available to the farmers of New Castle County. The 4-H Club work in New Castle County has grown rapidly under Mr. Willim's administration, and this growth is expected to continue under Mr. Worralow.

In accepting his new appointment as New Castle County Agent, Mr. Willim prepared for publication the following statement:

"For the past nine months the audit end of the extension work, better known as the county agent work, has been under my direction as Acting County Agent. It has been a pleasure to me to do this type of extension work along with the 4-H Club activities of the county. From now on all of the problems which concern the farmers of this county may be brought to my attention. I hope to keep my finger on the pulse of the agricultural situation in this county, and everyone who wants to help me do this will be welcome. That means that the farmers' problems and activities, no matter how small or large, will be my job. As a state and federal employer I want every farmer to feel free to ask for my services if he wants them."

"The program of work for this year," continues Mr. Willim, "has already been made up, of course. It includes demonstrations on all of the principal projects in this county. In the potato area of northern New Castle County several demonstrations are being conducted to show the value of proper fertilization and spraying. In the corn and wheat district of the southern half of the county the value of treatment of wheat for smut and corn for root rot and other diseases is being demonstrated. The dairy business of the county should be helped by the sweet clover for pasture and alfalfa hay as a dairy roughage campaigns which have been conducted here for a year or so. It is the purpose of the County Agent to conduct a pure bred dairy sire survey at an early date with the idea of increasing the number of pure bred bulls on the dairy farms in order to breed up the herd and increase the milk production per individual cow."

"If anyone wants to buy good grade or pure bred stock the County Agent is in a position to give them help in this matter. Some dairymen have talked about a cow testing association for their communities. If enough men want this kind of an association, I will use all of my facilities in endeavoring to organize one for them."

"Farm management problems will be talked over with interested people with the idea of helping them to secure a greater return from the farm at the lowest cost of production."

"For the poultrymen of this county the program of work provides considerable assistance to the commercial poultryman as well as to the farm poultry flock owner. With the assistance of Mr. H. S. Palmer the Extension Poultryman, Mr. Willim hopes to get in touch with every man or woman poultry raiser in the County."

"Aside from the main projects of the program of work, I want to help with any personal problems which are brought to my attention. My office is in Wolf Hall, one of the University buildings at Newark, and my office telephone is 310. If you want me just drop a letter to Ed Willim, Jr., New Castle County Agent, Newark, Del., or call on the telephone."

Something You Don't Know

Watermelons, Apples, Onions and Spinach are of Ancient Descent; Potatoes and Cranberries Are American and the Pumpkin, a Waif

(By Peter Roman Sterling)

The watermelon, that juicy appetizing thing that makes summer joyful, tickled the palates of the Egyptians many centuries before Mr. Columbus steered his craft across the blue and found our land. It is reliably stated that it was the favorite dessert of Cleopatra and other notables of that period. To this day it is popular among the inhabitants of that land of sixty centuries. On ancient tombs may be seen carvings of this melon. The Hebrew name of watermelon is "Abbatichim," and it is thus mentioned in the Hebrew exodus from Egypt.

The watermelon grows wild in tropical Africa and is eaten by natives and wild animals. Livingston saw thousands of acres of them. They were planted in America by the early settlers. Massachusetts had many of them as early as 1629, and the Florida Indians were raising large quantities as early as 1664. The United States produces over 50,000 carloads of melons yearly, exclusive of local consumption. There are about a thousand melons in each car, a total of $6,000,000.

Onions seem to be almost as old as the hills. They are mentioned in the Bible as one of the things longed for by the Israelites in the wilderness and complained about to Moses. Herodotus says that in his time there was an lowing a short wedding trip, they will live on S. College avenue, Newark.

Misses Mae Malcolm, Ann Chalmers and Beatrice Moore, all of Newark, visited Lois Phelps at her home here on Sunday afternoon.

Last Saturday evening Mr. Wilbur Bush, Jr., and Miss Elva Jewell, both of Christiana, were married at the Bush home here, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Hanson of New Castle. Mr. and Mrs. Bush will make their home here for the present.

On Wednesday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. Olan Cleaver attended the wedding of Miss Mae Brown and Mr. Herman H. Leasure, both of Glasgow. The ceremony took place in Pender Presbyterian Church, followed by a reception at the home of the bride. Mr. Leasure is proprietor of the Leasure garage at Glasgow. Mrs. Leasure has been a teacher in the public schools at Glasgow.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah H. Perkins, who died on June 27, was held Saturday afternoon at the home of her son, John Perkins, near Christiana. The services were in charge of Rev. Preston W. Spence, Jr., pastor of the Christiana M. E. Church, and there was singing by a trio composed of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Davis and Mrs. Ida Tomlin. Interment was in Riverview Cemetery.

inscription on the Great Pyramid, stating the sum expended for onions, radishes, and garlic, which had been consumed by the laborers during its erection as 1,600 talents. Ancient pictures show priests holding onions in their hands at the altar.

Early explorers, including Columbus, brought onion seed to the New World. New Englanders were raising them as early as 1634, and General Sullivan, in 1779, in his raid against the Indians in central New York, destroyed many onion fields belonging to the savages. Nineteen states now produce large commercial crops of onions. Texas sends up the whole Gulf of Mexico and the eastern side of the Atlantic with her onion-laden vessels bound for New York.

What would be a Christmas or Thanksgiving dinner without a nice dish of cranberry sauce? Massachusetts, New Jersey and Wisconsin are the three principal commercial cranberry producing states. These three states produce more than half a million barrels annually, valued at almost $6,000,000.

The cranberry was found growing wild by the New England pioneers, and decided to follow the example. It did not become a real commercial crop until about 1830. From old records, we learn that "Mr. F. A. Hayden, of Lincoln, Mass., is stated to have gathered from his farm in 1890, 400 bushels of cranberries, which brought him in Boston market $600."

Potatoes have become almost as popular as bread and meat. Practically every botanist in the world gives the Andean Mountains of South America as the original home of this popular vegetable. According to history, it was introduced into Spain soon after the Spanish invasion in South America, and from there found its way into Italy and central Europe.

A Department of Agriculture expert says that "history records its introduction into Ireland from Virginia in one of Sir Walter Raleigh's trading vessels about 1586. It is apparent, however, that a discrepancy occurs in this account in that it implies that the potato was a native of Virginia. From the description of the Virginia plant it is quite evident that the historian had in mind a tuberous-bearing plant of the pulse family. There is every reason to believe, however, that the true potato was brought over in one of Raleigh's ships, but that it was obtained at some trading post on the west coast of South America rather than in Virginia."

The largest potato-producing states are New York, Minnesota, Michigan, Maine, Wisconsin, and Pennsylvania, their total production being 203,167, 400 bushels, or nearly 49 per cent of the total crop of the country.

The apple seems to be about the oldest of all fruits. It has gained wide and permanent publicity through its popularity in the Garden of Eden. The scientific geologist tells us that the apple is believed to have been distributed from prehistoric times both in the wild state and in cultivation throughout much of Europe, where it is believed to have been indigenous; also, south of the Caucasus and in northern Russia. It is to be noted, however, that with few exceptions the varieties now grown in the United States are of our own origin, the outstanding exceptions being some of the early ripening sorts of Russian origin. No other fruit in America has been given so many different names as the apple. No one knows how many varieties exist, or have existed. American literature records something like 7,500 varieties. We produce about 175,000,000 bushels of apples annually.

Not so very long ago a lot of people turned up their noses at spinach, declaring it to be fit food only for sheep and pigs. Things have changed. Spinach is now the Beau Brummell of vegetables. Babies are supposed to cry for it and thrive on it. Grow-ups who eat it are declared to be adding to their longevity.

Spinach, despite its recent popularity, is one of the oldest known cultivated vegetables. It is mentioned in a Chinese book published a dozen centuries ago. It was known as "a prince of vegetables" in Spain in the twelfth century. In England the name "spynoches" occurs in a cook book of 1390, compiled for the use of the Court of King Richard II. There seems to be no early record of its introduction into America. The total annual value of this crop to the farmers is close to $8,000,000.

All the world seems to have a "hankering" for cucumbers. About 10,000 carloads are shipped to market annually. This is in addition to those grown in greenhouses and small truck patches and marketed locally, also those grown for home consumption.

There are historical references to the cucumber 3000 years B. C. It is generally supposed to be a native of India, and was brought into China from the west 86 B. C. Cucumbers were known to the ancient Greeks and Romans. Pliny mentions their forced culture. They were grown by Columbus at Haiti in 1494. There is a record of their production by the Indians in the section now occupied by Montreal, Canada, and by Indians in Florida. Captain John Smith speaks of growing them in Virginia. Rev. Francis Higginson tells of seeing them in Massachusetts in 1629.

"You surely have missed something if you didn't live in the country when a boy or girl and enjoy the pleasure of pulling up a turnip in the late autumn, peeling it with an old barlow knife, and eating it like an apple. The cooked turnips served at home never tasted quite so good."

The turnip is said to be a native of Russia and Siberia and the Scandiavian Peninsula. England got them from Holland in 1550. Virginia cultivated them in 1609, and Massachusetts in 1629. They were plentiful in the farming sections around Philadelphia in 1707.

It is rather regrettable that the pumpkin is surrounded with mystery. All normal humans are found of pumpkin pie and would be glad to know something about the original home of pumpkins. Writers and botanists have been unable to ascertain whether pumpkins are of Old World or New World origin. Some authorities are of the opinion that the common pumpkin originated in that section of Mexico now known as Texas. It is definitely known that the pumpkin was in general use in colonial times, but no one seems to know whether the Colonists got the seeds from the Indians or whether the Indians received them from their white friends.

Lettuce, which has recently become one of the most popular vegetables in America, was among the earliest cultivated plants of the Old World. We find reference to its use by Persian kings about 550 B. C. Aristotle, in 356 B. C., praised it highly. Hippocrates, about 430 B. C., commented upon its medicinal qualities. The early Romans were very fond of it. Its culture in China can be traced to the fifth century. Chaucer in England, in 1340, used the word "lettuce" in his prologue, saying: "Well loved he garlic, onions and lettuce."

The lettuce farms in the United States aggregate about 100,000 acres, and the annual crop to the farmers is worth about $30,000,000.

About 1,000,000 acres in the United States are devoted to the raising of peanuts. About 750,000,000 pounds are raised yearly.

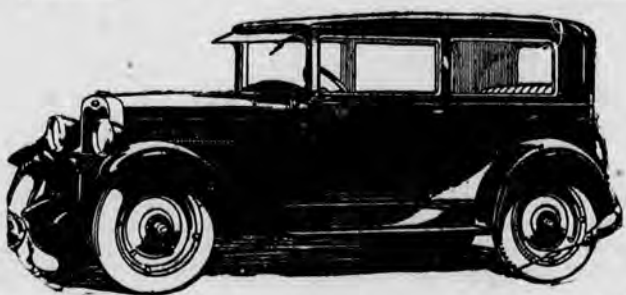

The peanut is a product of the New World. Scientists have found them in ancient mummy graves in Peru. Tradition tells us that peanuts were introduced into Virginia in colonial times, presumably by slave traders as food for the slaves. Thomas Jefferson, in 1781, makes mention of peanuts. The industry was started in the vicinity of Jamestown, where soil and climatic conditions are ideal. In the early days they were grown largely in gardens and in small patches, and a few were roasted and sold on the streets in Virginia towns and later in New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and other eastern cities. Most people in that period called them "ground nuts."

It was not until after the Civil War that the peanut was developed into a worthwhile commercial crop. Necessity for a crop that would yield a cash return induced the farmers of Virginia and North Carolina to go strong on peanuts. They were wise. Thomas Rowland, of Norfolk, Va., is referred to as the father of the peanut industry in America. The farmers brought their crops to his place in small boats and he paid them cash. They brought seventy-five cents a bushel. Evidently farm relief was needed then as well as now.—National Republic.
