NEW SYSTEM FOR FARM DEFERMENTS PRESENTED

Col. Foreman At Conference Of Agricultural Extension Staff

One of the most important developments of the recent emergency conference of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service Staff was the presentation of a new system for determination of eligibility for draft deferment on farm laborers, by Colonel Albert W. Foreman, state director of the Selective Service System.

The new system provides (1) that the farm worker must be essential to the agricultural endeavor or occupation in which he is engaged, (2) that he must be regularly engaged in that agricultural occupation or endeavor, and (3) that agricultural occupation or endeavor must be essential to the war effort before the worker can be considered for deferment. A fourth requirement is that every effort must be made to replace him before he can be deferred. This new system replaces the farm unit system of deferment which was stopped about two weeks ago.

Colonel Foreman stated that these steps were necessary in order to get the armed forces the number of men necessary to prosecute the war, and that at the present time we are better equipped with food and munitions than with men. At present these rulings will be applied in the reclassification of men between the ages of 18 and 26. It is expected that they will soon apply to other age groups.

DAUGHERTY RELATES EXPERIENCE IN ENGLAND

Professor Describes Conditions Overseas

Mrs. M. M. Daugherty has received some interesting letters from her husband, Major Daugherty, who is studying at a Civil Affairs School at the American School Center somewhere in England. He states that he is located at the best camp in the British Isles; in barracks that are built of permanent brick construction with modern conveniences but very much over crowded and underheated. He says that the interesting part of his life there is what he is studying and who his instructors are; but, since that is all a military secret, he cannot write about it.

He states that the British people are very friendly and hospitable and that they have a lot to put up with from so many thousands of American soldiers over there.

On a recent trip to London, Major Daugherty visited the blitzed part of the city and said that except for a few places here and there the part of the city around Westminster Abbey had not been hurt. He stated that St. Paul's Cathedral had received two bomb hits, though the damage was not extensive, but that East of the Cathedral there were acres and acres of the city that had been burned down and the ruins were a sickening sight. His chief interest was in the great change of the British people. He writes that they are the friendliest and most cordial people that any one could wish to know. They even go out of their way to be accommodating, not only to the strata of people who are trying to profit from their association with the soldiers but every one else.

He states that the English children are the rosier cheeked little rascals that one could want to see, and that they all know about American candy bars and chewing gum. He took twenty-four Hershey bars over on the boat with him and when he sees a little child about the age of his little nephew here in Newark, he gives him a bar; and says that they are much more pleased than our American children would be, and they always remember to thank him.

In another letter Major Daugherty writes that the English women state that they have difficulty getting by on their clothing rations of 36 points per year, that even though none of them look "smart" they all seem to be reasonably well clothed. He couldn't remember seeing a man in a suit that looked new. A woman's coat requires 18 ration points, a pair of hose, 2 points and a yard of common cloth 3 points; but he says that you never hear any of them complain. They go right ahead; they get by and that seems to be all they expect.

In another letter he spoke of having real eggs and an orange for his breakfast that morning but he said that he had saved his orange to give to a little English child.

Major Daugherty writes that all essential things in England are rationed and price controlled; that non-essentials are at least five times as high as previous. He spoke of visiting a grocery store and found the prices moderately high on every thing that was not price controlled; for instance, goose eggs were 70 each, a dressed pigeon $1.10 and everything that was not price controlled was in proportion.

The price of meals are controlled he says and a three-course main meal can be had for 5 shillings plus a shilling or so for service.

Major Daugherty said that "you should see how the American 'Dough-boys' and English girls take to one another, he states that there is no doubt that the American boys are establishing amicably international relationships and with alacrity."

but we're scraping bottom!

Since the National Defense program began in 1940, the Bell System telephones in service have increased by over 4½ million. But there's no more new equipment now. The Army and Navy have first call on that. That's why we can't fill civilian orders as fast as we'd like. As we scrape the bottom of the barrel, we're trying hard to make what we have do the best possible job by—

- Stretching switchboards to make room for more lines and calls.
- Making former one-party lines serve two or more families.
- Reconditioning all serviceable facilities and putting them to use.

Nobody likes to stand in line. But it's different when the line forms behind our fighting men.

HEALTH FOR OLDER FOLK

Today elderly people, those over 60, comprise approximately 6.8 percent of the population. Too often, says the State Board of Health, these older folk feel that, because of their age, they do not need to follow the health rules of which they speak so easily to their grandchildren.

In Delaware, as in other states, health for mothers and children is constantly being urged. It is also important, says the State Board of Health, that older folk, men and women over 60, consider their health if the state as a whole is to function efficiently in wartime. For them, too, periodic physical check-ups are important. They, too, need a balanced diet with plenty of fruits, vegetables and liquids. These older people also need sufficient sleep and exercise in keeping with their general physical condition.

Caring for Needless illness among older people takes valuable time away from the war effort. Grandma's cold can spread to the other members of the family just as easily as do the "sniffles" of the children, if she is not careful. Grandpa can help to keep himself in good health, as well as being a fine example to the youngsters, when he eats his green vegetables.

Many illnesses of older folk are, of course unavoidable, but these men and women past 60 can make a real contribution to the war effort just by "keeping as well as they know how" and thus saving the time of over-worked doctors and of their families who have to nurse them.

One of the services of the Public Health Nursing Division of the State Board of Health is teaching families how to care for persons who are ill in the home. This assistance has proved especially helpful where elderly persons are confined to their beds, for the homemaker is taught how to arrange: bed trays, cradles to prevent bed covers from weighing down too heavily, pillows to ease aching bodies, sanitation in the sickroom, and many other home nursing ideas.

Delaware figures for 1942 show the main causes of death for the older age groups were as follows: Diseases and Age Group respectively—

Cerebral hemorrhage, thrombosis, embolism—60 to 69 years, 75; 70 years and over, 128; Cancer—60 to 69 years, 89; 70 years and over, 115; Diabetes, 60 to 69 years, 34; 70 years and over, 26; Heart Disease—60 to 69 years, 210; 70 years and over, 521; Nephritis (kidney disease)—60 to 69 years, 83; 70 years and over, 192; Pneumonia—60 to 69 years, 15; 70 years and over, 33; Tuberculosis—60 to 69 years, 18; 70 years and over, 9.

MONEY MAKERS FOR POST OFFICE

In the transportation field, on sea, land and in the air, the government during pioneering stages, found it advantageous to extend some form of aid to individuals courageous enough to enter such fields of endeavor, and it has profited tremendously through resulting development of the country and its transportation resources.

There is still an erroneous impression that the commercial air transport system is a government-subsidized institution, because the government did subsidize the air lines with mail contracts in the early stages of their development. But in 1943, while the Post Office Department paid all domestic air carriers $22,500,000 for the carriage of air mail, it received in return at least $60,500,000 from the sale of air mail postage. There are ground expenses of the Post Office Department other than the direct mail payments to the air carriers, but even the most liberal allocation of ground expenses to air mail would still leave the Post Office Department with a huge profit.

Now the Revenue Bill passed by Congress will increase air mail postage rates from six to eight cents. Air mail postage may become not merely the means of recovering the cost of air mail, but also a means of taxation for other purposes, thus causing air mail to become the subsidizer instead of the subsidee.

In 1931 mail revenue of the air transport industry was 82 per cent of total revenue, whereas in 1943 it approximated only 17 per cent. Mail rates in the last ten years have decreased from $8 a ton-mile to only 60 cents a ton-mile, or 92.5 per cent. Passenger rates have dropped from 12 cents a mile in 1929, to approximately 5 cents today.

END COMBINATIONS AGAINST EMPLOYMENT

A generation ago, laws were passed prohibiting combinations in restraint of trade.

Today labor is cursed with combinations in restraint of employment.

It has become impossible for an American workman to earn a living in basic industries without paying for that privilege, and complying absolutely with the dictates of all-powerful union combinations in restraint of employment.

A soldier home from the bloodiest battlefield, where he fought to perpetuate the ideals of freedom, would find himself blocked in getting a job in his chosen industry, in the majority of cases, unless he bowed his head, signed on the dotted line, and paid the sum demanded by some labor boss for the right to work.

Our own government has aided and abetted his combination, in defiance of every principle of liberty, and contrary to the right of a free man to join or not to join any lawful organization.

While speeding to a blaze in Rochester, Ind., firemen discovered that their truck was afire. They save the truck while neighbors formed a bucket brigade and extinguished the fire in the house.

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION BY W.W. REID

"Youth Week", calling young people to greater loyalty and zeal for the things for which the Christian church stands, will be observed by more than 2,000,000 teen-age boys and girls through forty-two Protestant denominations and thirty state councils of religious education, from January 30 to February 6. The observance in local churches and in groups of churches in various communities is sponsored by the United Christian Youth Movement and by the International Council of Religious Education.

Women in industry, post-war industry, agriculture and missions in the post-war world, sharecropping, and social changes in American life are among the themes of the 1944 annual meeting of the Home Missions Council of North America. It will be held in Marble Collegiate Church, New York, January 10-12. Announced speakers include Leon Henderson, Dr. Ellen C. Potter, Dr. Niles Carpenter, Dr. Edward C. Lindeman, and Dr. Henry Smith Leiper. Executive secretaries of the Home Missions Council are Edith E. Lowry and Mark A. Dawber.

February 25, 1944, the first Friday of Lent, will mark the observance of the World Day of Prayer, under the sponsorship of the United Council of Church Women, through whose organization a fellowship of prayer will span six continents and the seven seas. According to Miss Margaret T. Applegar, chairman of the national committee, the committee "feels increasingly the need for disturbing every Christian in every community on earth, since God will work out his purpose for mankind through such very human folk as ourselves and we dare not fail him." The Council urges that community-wide services be held not only in churches but in schools, factories, theaters, stores, and military camps, and that war-wives and war-mothers especially participate.

The emergency of war restrictions and the facing of common problems have thrown the Protestants and the Roman Catholics of Japan together as perhaps nowhere else on earth today. In order to present a "united front", the National Christian Council of Japan, formerly Protestant only, has been reconstituted with Protestant and Catholic cooperating units. Archbishop Doi, of the Roman Catholic Church, is chairman of the new Council, and the Rev. K. Miyakoda, executive secretary of the former Protestant council, serves in the same capacity in the new body.

Word comes from Lucknow, India, of the recent death there of S. P. Andrews-Dube, perhaps the best-known Christian Indian layman of his generation and an intimate associate of Mahatma Gandhi and Rabindranath Tagore. He was for many years the only Christian member of the "Servants of India Society", sworn to poverty and to educational and political efforts on behalf of the Indian people. Born in Mainpuri in 1891, he came from a family of Brahmins for many generations in the priesthood; but his parents had been converted to Christianity, and he was educated at Ewing Christian College, Allahabad. For some years he was on the faculty of his alma mater; was secretary of the United Provinces Liberal Association, chairman of the Lucknow District Education Committee, member of Lucknow University Court, and leader of the lay organization of the Methodist Church in India.

Dr. Toyokichi Kagawa, Japan's most prominent Christian personality, is carrying on a city to city evangelistic campaign under the Board of Evangelism of the new United Church of Christ in Japan, according to missionaries recently returned from that country on the Gripsholm. His purpose, they report, is to strengthen the Christian churches and to maintain their morale through the crises of war. They report, also, that Dr. Kagawa's social service centers in Tokyo, Osaka and Kobe, and his Cooperative Hospital at Nakano continue to operate as far as their restricted funds permit.

"The influence of Protestant missions in our countries has been most beneficial", the Latin American Union of Evangelical Youth recently wrote from South America to President Roosevelt. "They have helped to make us live in an atmosphere of greater liberty; they have attended to necessities of a spiritual, cultural and moral nature; they have combated ignorance in many places. . . Anglo-Saxon Protestant missions are very favorable to the Good Neighbor Policy, and people look upon them with respect because their work is constructive and disinterested. It is a well-known fact that the influence which the evangelical church has in Latin America is out of all proportion to its numbers."

Anything appearing in this column is purely the opinion of the writer and does not express the views or policy of the paper. Any exceptions should be taken up with the writer.

The Newark firemen took a beating last Sunday and Monday when the woods and fields along White Clay Creek caught fire and burned out several hundred acres. On Sunday the fire company was called out three times and on Monday they had to go back with two engines to the same place.

On Sunday the third call sent one of the engines to the West side of the creek and the firemen putting on boots, waded across the creek to the fire. Arthur (Horse) Robinson was stated to have gotten HOT FEET and he went and filled his boots with water.

Then there is a story going around about the Fire Chief. Everyone wants to know how ELMER acquired that beautiful BLACK EYE. There have been several versions. The Chief said he stepped on a rake and the handle flew up and hit him, but we all doubt that. The fire chief took a safety course and should know better than to step on a rake.

Marvin Butler and Tommy Silk were the center of attraction on Main Street, Sunday night—Their neckties caused the commotion.

Walter (Bud) Wassmer, a former member of the Newark Police force and also a member of the Newark Fire Company has been spending a few days back in Newark. It would have been a mess if I had forgotten to mention his name in this column. There are some who believe he only came back to Newark to get his name in the paper. Bud, who is now a member of the U. S. Border Patrol, is accompanied on his visit by his own wife and his fine young son, Wayne.

Anyway, Bud, who is still a member of the Newark Fire Company (that is if he has kept his dues paid) has been in his glory since he stopped off at Newark because the fire siren has been working overtime and Bud likes to ride the engine. (He also works at the fires).

There have been TOO MANY field fires. It is about time that the folks responsible for this class of fires should be made to pay for some of the time that the firemen lose from work putting out the fires that they so carelessly start. A fine of $25 for each field fire would quickly break up that sort of thing.

Sureshot received a postal card from the former Professor Frederick B. Kutz this week. Now, the reason that I say FORMER is because he is now just Private F. B. Kutz in Uncle Sam's Infantry. Private Kutz is now stationed at Camp Wheeler, Georgia and on the card that Soldier Kutz sent me it states that "Georgia is Famed for Peaches, Kaulin Sports, Sunshine and Pretty Girls". Now Kutz can have the Peaches, the Sports, and the Sunshine, but the Pretty Girls, shucks, why are some of us too old to get to Georgia. That fellow Kutz always gets the breaks. Private Kutz, the Newark Post, the town of Newark, all the people in the town of Newark and even Sureshot, Salutes You, and wishes you the best of luck. In appreciation of these kind words, you might send me one of those (ahem) Pretty Girls, (wrapped in cellophane).

In-as-much as Kutz' card was the best of the week, this column, this week is being dedicated to the U. S. Infantry. By that I mean to every man and boy in that whole branch of the service.

Word was received from the Headquarters of the European Theater of Operations, United States Army that another Infantryman from Newark is poised for D-Day Jump. This lad is Private Emory L. Hess of 370 South College Avenue who according to the Press release is classed as one of the "Footloggers" or one of the fellows who will fight the Nazis foot-by-foot, mile-by-mile. One of the boys who will do a "House-Cleaning Job" in Europe.

Another Press Release received states that Lieutenant William D. Holloway who is stationed in the South Pacific has been promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Holloway and is one of the boys who will settle the score with the Japs.

Aviation Cadet Charles J. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Lewis is reported to be at Newport Army Air Field where he will receive the basic phase of his aviation cadet training.

The wife of a certain BIG SHOT fireman is reported to be very indignant about her husband spending so much time at field fires. She stated that he spent the whole afternoon at the fire along White Clay Creek the other day and when he came home he was black all over. When the whistle blew again about supper time, he took one look at his wife—and stayed at home.

There will be horse racing and the accompanying betting on the mile tracks in New England from Wednesday until the middle of November, as well as some periods of half-mile racing at the smaller tracks in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

A $1,200 purse minimum has been established by Narragansett which has resumed handicaps on Saturdays this spring. There are four $5,000 and one $10,000 added stakes on the program.

Regular Services At White Clay Creek Church

The regular services will be held at White Clay Creek Church on Sunday, April 16. Sunday School will convene at 10 A.M. and the morning worship service will begin at 11 o'clock.

The Rev. J. E. Layton of Wilmington will supply the pulpit and preach the sermon at the morning worship hour which begins at 11 o'clock.

The 15-inch class was run on Saturday and the 13 inch class was run on Sunday with weather conditions of the very best both days. Game was plentiful due to a large number of imported rabbits having recently been released over the club course.

At the trials on Saturday the hounds started out with some good field work but the running was not up to par until noon when the hounds showed their best work. Dunnock's Betty, the winning hound showed some fine footwork and outsmarted her bracedmates in every series of win the title of 15-inch class Champion Derby of the Eastern Federation which numbers seventeen beagle clubs from all parts of the Eastern States.

Ford's Bugler, owned by W. Fordson Thompson of High Rock, Pa., won the 13-inch title, being called back in the second series he did not do so well but came from behind in the third series to prove he had what it takes to win the championship title.

FIREMEN BUSY LAST FRIDAY

The Newark firemen answered three fire calls on Friday. The first call was to extinguish a field fire on Water Street. The second call was also a field fire on the William Bromall farm at Salem Church. The third call was in the evening when an oil stove at the home of Leon Shellender, 121 1/2 East Cleveland Avenue caught fire. There was no damage at any of the fires.

Mr. Langford, who has just completed his duties at the Hot Springs, Ark. meeting, will shortly make a inspection of the plan in preparing the coming meeting.

A veteran of mutuels operations, new manager has served in many capacities at the principal American Canadian tracks over the last 25 years. In turn he has been ticket seller, cashier, money room teller, head calculator and more recently associated with the management of mutuel departments. Beginning at Panama in 1918, after early banking experience Mr. Langford has been a "mutual" since April 1st of that year. He has three sons, one of them in the army and has received powerful endorsement for the post at Delaware Park, which was held for so long by the Herman Frank, and his son Lou Frank, now in command at all New York tracks.

In addition to serving at all Maryland mile and half-mile tracks Mr. Langford has served in Chicago, Arlington and Washington Park, Lehigh Valley, and Hawthorne, in racing at Hialeah, Fair Grounds at Hot Springs, in Canada at Toronto, Devonshire, Kenilworth, Dufferin, Kempton Park, in Kentucky at Louisville and Raceland; as well as at Omaha and Coney Island. In recent years much of Mr. Langford's work has been at Jamaica, Aqueduct and Empire City in New York as part of the Herman Frank-Lou Walger organization.

Lt. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, commanding officer of all ground troops in the Solomon Island campaign served as athletic director and business manager of the Marine Corps football team at Quantico in 1924-25. During that time the Leatherneck gridiron won 11 games. They lost three and drew two.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

300 Tons Of Soybean Meal Allocated

Efficient production of livestock on available supplies of feed is an important phase of the food production program. A new publication giving complete information on good management of sows and pigs has just been prepared by Prof. A. E. Tomhave of the Department of Poultry and Animal Industry at the University of Delaware. This Extension Bulletin No. 40, "Care and Feeding of Sows and Pigs", is available through the Extension Service in Newark, or through county extension offices at Newark, Dover, and Georgetown.

With corn moving out of the five big western corn states in only half the volume of a year ago, the War Food Administration has taken steps to increase supplies for essential users in Delaware and other states. Thirty-five percent of present stocks and future receipts in country grain elevators in 124 counties of five mid-western States have been set aside for government distribution. Terminal elevators in the same area must also offer for the same purposes 35 per cent of their present stocks and future receipts not from country elevator sources.

In the recent Students' All-Time All-American Holstein-Friesian Judging Contest, Delaware's team placed fourteenth in the college division. The team was made up of William H. Murray, Mason P. Currier, John R. Schabinger, and James William Walter.

Under the feed wheat program of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, 41,534 bushels of wheat from the Ever-Normal Granary will be distributed this month to Delaware farmers through the feed industry and the County AAA committees, according to C. E. Ocheltree, chairman of the state AAA committee.

Americans have just observed "Grow More in '44" week by re-adjusting their plans wherever possible in order to increase their production of food in 1944, or to give further aid to the people who are producing food this year. Here are some important points to remember:

We need 22 million gardens—only 19½ million had been planned for about the middle of March. If you have time and space, raise a garden—for victory.

Everyone can help on the farm labor problem—work during your vacation, week-ends, full-time if you are not in an essential industry. And do your work efficiently—find out about job simplification and job method training to do more in less time.

Intentions to plan recently reported by farmers throughout the nation indicated that planned plantings of soybeans, dried beans, and Irish potatoes are not sufficient to meet goals of essential war needs. Plant more of these crops if you can.

War-time Extension Circular No. 8, "Produce Your Share" gives suggestions for improved methods to increase yields on chief essential war crops produced in Delaware.

Wholesale prices on non-agricultural commodities or the goods the farmer buys have risen only 20 per cent since 1939, while there has been a rise of 40 per cent in wholesale prices of all commodities, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports to war food producers in Delaware.

Sale this month on a competitive bid basis by the United States Treasury of 10,000 used motor trucks is expected to give some relief to the shortage of farm trucks in Delaware. The trucks are of 1½ to 7 ton capacity.

Farmers and the mixed feed industry in Delaware have been allocated 300 tons of soybean meal for April distribution through the State and county feed committees of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

FRIDAY LAST DAY TO FILE DECLARATION

Collector of Internal Revenue, Norman Collison, stated this week that there are approximately 24,000 taxpayers in the State of Delaware who must file the estimated 1040 ES Declaration Form on or before Saturday, April 15.

To-date, according to Mr. Collison, only about 2,500 have filed the required form. Deputy revenue collectors have been sitting throughout the county all this week in an effort to aid the public in the preparation and filing of this return before the deadline.

Required to file the Declarations are all citizens or residents of the United States who expect to have, during 1944, either alone or together with husband or wife, wages subject to withholding exceeding $2,700 for a single person or $3,500 for a married couple living together.

Or, more than $100 income from all other sources if the total of such income plus wages subject to withholding is (a) $500 or more for a single person, or (b) more than $624 for a married person, or (c) $1,200 or more for a married couple living together.

Of the men and women in the armed forces only a very small percentage will have to file because the first $1,500 of their active service pay is exempt from tax. Filing for those on active duty outside the United States is automatically postponed.

APPEALS HEARD AT NEWPORT, WEDNESDAY

Town Sets Tax Rate For 1944 At 75c on $100 Of Assessment

Newport, April 13th — Members of the Newport Town Board sat as a Board of Appeals on Wednesday for the purpose of hearing complaints on the town assessments of property taxes for the year 1944. No appeals were made to the Board. The Board has fixed the tax rate for 1944 at 75 cents per $100 of assessment. The assessed valuation of property in Newport for the year 1944 is $1,345,242.

Sales of War Bonds at the Krebs School for the past week totaled $633.60, as reported by Mrs. Elva K. Bogia, chairman. Mrs. Margaret Ford's seventh grade was high room with sales of $91.95, and Miss Jennie Rickards fourth grade and Mrs. Ford's seventh grades were 100 percent in their purchases. The picture hanging in the auditorium of the school showing equipment which the school hoped to purchase has all been drawn in in color, and the school has selected additional equipment of a Field Ambulance at a cost of $1780, which they hope can be completed before the close of the school year.

Dr. W. H. Lemmel, Head of the Wilmington School System was the guest speaker at the Christiana Hundred Lions Club dinner meeting on Tuesday evening in the Conrad High School.

The Rev. Robert S. Hodgson, pastor of the Newport Methodist Church delivered an Easter Message at the 11 A. M. Service on Sunday morning.

There was also a Baptismal Service, and a group of new members received into the church. The choir had a special program of music. At the evening service, the M.Y.F. had Miss Katherine Hageman as Leader and the Junior Group had a special program of music.

The Christiana Hundred Lions Club held its weekly dinner meeting and business session Tuesday evening in the Conrad High School with 100 percent attendance. Arthur G. Craig, President, presided.

Lawrence Hanna of Camp Seibert, Alabama, is home on furlough, and is visiting his wife.

Mrs. Leslie Mahan, Chairman of the American Cross War Drive in the Newport Area, announces that donations have been received amounting to $2,151. This amount exceeded the expectations of the solicitors, who had originally set the figure of $1500 as their goal. They appreciate the cooperation of the residents of the community in this drive.

This bullet will win the war

This is an Allied bullet. It will win the war for us. Please consider it carefully, for you will have to help make it.

What is required to produce this bullet? Is it just a matter of a brass case, some gunpowder, a projectile that the exploding powder will hurl on its fateful way?

Take another look, Mr. and Mrs. America!

It takes men, first of all, to create and assemble those components.

It takes water in many of the necessary processes, and coal.

It takes electricity to run the machines involved, and oil to lubricate them.

A gas flame is needed to anneal the brass case.

Paper is used to package the bullet, and your waste fats give the glycerine for making the powder.

The telephone and telegraph are required for the necessary communications that knit these operations together.

And it takes transportation to bring all the materials to the factories that shape them—and to deliver the finished bullet to the men who, finally, will fire it.

This is the story of the bullet. It is the story of every single weapon with which we are fighting. And we are fighting this war on so vast a scale that our resources of fuel, manpower, equipment, and materials are taxed to the utmost, not only for war purposes, but for the home front as well.

Each of these factors—coal, water, oil, gas, electricity, communications, and transportation—is part of your everyday life. You control a share of each one. You, multiplied by 130,000,000 good Americans like you, can add to our supplies . . . merely by conservation.

HOW to conserve each item is simple: Use no more of them than you find absolutely necessary, and permit not the slightest waste of any. Suggestions on specific ways to prevent the waste of, and to economize on, these critical materials are given regularly in newspapers, magazines, and over the radio. Watch for these suggestions . . . carry them out.

Your hopes and prayers are for the success of Allied arms in their struggle for world freedom.

You can aid them by conserving the critical materials that are used for producing guns, and bullets, and tanks, and ships . . . and ultimately, VICTORY.

These are critical materials—conserve them!

N.H.S. BOY TO GOVERN BOYS STATE ON APRIL 28

High School Students Reign At Dover For One-Day Term

The next Governor of Delaware will definitely be a resident of Newark. Although he hasn't been nominated yet, it's in the bag. Some member of the Newark High School will be Chief Executive of the First State for one day at least when the Delaware Boys' State will be held at Dover on Friday, April 28.

The Boys' State was instituted several years ago with the approval and cooperation of the Governor and other state officials which gives the boys a practical knowledge of the American form of government by having them fill the roles of state officials for one day each year.

The boys will have their own General Assembly and state government in which they will be assisted and instructed by cooperating state officials.

The usual Senate and House attaches will be dispensed with this year, because of transportation difficulties, but there will be the usual numbers of senators, representatives and state officers. The selection of state officials will follow a plan of rotation among counties, and the following officers will be elected from the high schools as named: Governor, Newark; lieutenant-governor Greenwood; secretary of state, Wilmington; insurance commissioner, Seaford; state treasurer, Felton; state auditor, Sanford Preparatory, and attorney general, Dover.

Senators representing Wilmington and the counties will be drawn from the following schools: Wilmington, St. Elizabeth's and P. S. du Pont; rural New Castle county, Archmere Academy, Alexis I. duPont, Friends' School, St. Peter's and Conrad, Kent county, Cessar Rodney, Milford, Smyrna, Harrington and Felton; Sussex county, John M. Clayton, Rehoboth Beach, Lewes, Bridgeville and Laurel.

The Boys' State Committee of which Mr. Matthews is chairman, includes Department Commander W. Floyd Jackson and the vice-chairmen who will be in charge of transportation for their respective territories.

RATIONING RULES ARE EXPLAINED BY OPA

Care Must Be Taken Of All Ration Books

Housewives were advised today by the OPA to take good care of War Ration Book Four, and to keep War Ration Book Three in a safe place.

For the first time since rationing began a year ago, all buying of rationed foods is now done from one ration book—Book Four—and that book will be in use about three times as long as earlier food books.

With ordinary care, the ration books will last without giving trouble. If they are abused, they will wear out rapidly, just as any other book.

Applications are received frequently by local War Price & Rationing Boards from persons who want their ration books replaced for various reasons. Some have been lost, others damaged by fire or water, while some have fallen into children's hands with disastrous results.

Since no more ration books are to be printed soon, the replacement of damaged or lost books may become increasingly difficult.

The longer life of War Ration Book Four is made possible by the use of 10-point stamps and tokens under the program which began February 27.

Although since March 20, when the last of the brown meats-fats stamps ran out, War Ration Book Three has not been used for food buying, housewives must keep the book, since it contains Airplane Stamp I now good for shoes, and since it probably will continue to be used for shoe rationing. In addition, occasional uses may be found for other stamps in Book Three. Stamp 18 in War Ration Book One is also good for shoes through April 30.

Spare stamp No. 37, and not sugar stamp No. 37 is used in obtaining extra sugar for home canning through the local rationing boards.

Many consumers have used the wrong stamp in submitting Form R-323, the OPA said. Those who do so will be unable to obtain the usual household allotment when that stamp is validated. The proper stamp to affix to the form is spare stamp No. 37 from Book 4, it was emphasized.

William Larson was fined $200 by a Chicago judge for pawing his wife's false teeth to obtain money for liquor.

Weekly Sermon

Success or Failure?

By the Rev. Harold L. Lundquist, D.D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The story of Saul, the first king of Israel, is well worth studying. A consideration of his personal qualifications for leadership, and his ultimate disgrace and death, should give pause to every young man and woman who has been afflicted with present-day ideas that brilliance of mind, quickness of wit, and apparent worldly success, apart from obedient submission to God, are satisfactory ends in themselves.

"There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death" (Prov. 16:25).

God had been Israel's king, but in their willful unbelief they wanted to be like neighboring nations. And the choice of both God and Israel fell on Saul, for there was "none like him among all the people."

Never has a man been privileged to enter more auspiciously upon high office. Physically he was well equipped, head and shoulders above the people (1 Sam. 10:23). Mentally he was fitted for leadership. He was humbled (9:21). He was spiritually right (10:6-9). He had a tolerant and kindly spirit (11:13). He was a successful military leader (ch. 11).

For two years all went well, but then came the crisis which proved all was not as it should be. Saul presumptuously took the place of the priest and made an offering (13:9-13). This was later followed by his disobedience in sparing Agag, king of the Amalekites (ch. 15).

God had commanded utter destruction of the Amalekites and their possessions—something like the burning of a disease-infested house. We may not fully understand this act of God, but if we know Him, we will not doubt that it was in accordance with His infinite wisdom and love.

Saul chose to disobey, contending it was done because of the people; that sheep and oxen had been spared for a sacrifice to the Lord. Samuel cut through his hypocrisy and declared that God wants obedience rather than sacrifice. This is a lesson that many who profess to follow the Lord have not learned. The one who denies or disregards the teaching of God's Word and attempts to make up for it by sacrifices and ceremonies declares to the world that he has departed from true faith in God.

"The battle went sore against Saul" (31:3). This relates to a particular battle, but it may well be applied to the entire battle of Saul's life. Having once begun the downward path of presumption and disobedience, the descent became rapid. The man to whom God had given a new heart and upon whom He had poured out His Spirit fell to such a low state that we find him consulting a witch.

The death of Saul writes a tragic end to a promising life, destroyed not so much by outside influence as by the moral decay within. The wise man said that as a man "thinketh in his heart, so is he" (Prov. 23:7). It may not show today or tomorrow, but eventually the heart that is wrong leads to a life that is wrong. "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life" (Prov. 4:23).

4-H CLUB CONTESTS ANNOUNCED

Winners Will Be Eligible For National Awards

Delaware 4-H club members have proved through their enthusiastic participation in the 4-H Victory program that their chief interest is helping in every way they can to win the war. This year they have the further incentive of several contests in their project work. Contests, awards, and sponsors announced by C. E. McCauley, county club agent supervisor for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, are:

National 4-H Food for Victory, trip to National 4-H Club Congress for highest scorer, and six $25 war bonds to three boys and three girls scoring next highest, by International Harvesting Company; National 4-H Canning, educational trip to National 4-H Club Congress, by Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation; National 4-H Food Preparation, trip to National 4-H Club Congress, by Servel, Inc.; National 4-H Girls' Record, trip to National 4-H Club Congress, by Montgomery Ward; National 4-H Victory Dress Revue, educational trip to National 4-H Club Congress, by American Viscose Company; National 4-H Home Grounds Beautification, gold watch, by Mrs. Walgreen; Delaware 4-H Local Leader, trip to National 4-H Club Congress, by county 4-H club agents; and National 4-H Clothing Achievement, trip to National 4-H Club Congress, by Spool Cotton Company.

In most of these contests state winners will be eligible to compete for sectional or national awards.

All contests, awards, and requirements are being announced to club members during their April meetings, according to Mr. McCauley.

PHILLIES BOOKED BY BLUE ROCKS

Exhibition Scheduled For June 5

The parent Philadelphia Phillies have been booked for an exhibition game with the Wilmington Blue Rocks at Wilmington Park on Monday night, June 5, Business Manager Eddie Glennon announced yesterday.

The game is one of four or five the Blue Rocks hope to arrange with major league clubs this season in continuing a program inaugurated in 1940, their first season. To date only the Phillies' game has been booked but negotiations are under way with other American and National League clubs.

Spring training for the Phillies' farm clubs, Utica of the Eastern League, Wilmington of the Interstate and Bradford of the Pony League, opens on Wednesday, April 19.

Eddie Sawyer, Utica manager, arrived in Philadelphia last Saturday night and coached at first base during the Phillies' "B" team's game with the Athletics on Sunday afternoon at Wilmington Park, while Manager Fred (Dutch) Dorman of Wilmington and Manager Ray Brubaker of Bradford are due here the first part of next week.

Daily drills for the three teams, approximately 90 players, will be held from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

OPA Inspection of Tires To End After April 20

The Office of Price Administration is abandoning its passenger car tire inspection program, a spokesman said today.

Effective April 20, only motorists wishing to obtain replacement tires will be required to submit inspection certificates.

All other inspections are being eliminated, it was explained, because the average driver now is taking good care of his tires in an effort to make them last as long as possible.

"The inspection program has served its purpose and can now be dropped," the spokesman said.

Requirements of the program have called for tire inspection every six months for motorists with A gasoline cards, every four months for B card motorists and every three months for C card holders.

By ABNER GORDON

DIRT and grime, (not grease), are readily removed from wall paper by a putty-like material easily prepared at home by blending four teaspoonsful baking soda, two cups of flour, five teaspoonsful household ammonia, with the addition of 1 1/2 cups of water. Cook in double boiler for about 90 minutes. Knead until smooth.

As friction frequently removes the design from some wall papers, test the material on hidden area, turning the putty continuously to present fresh surface to pick up dirt. If color or design is affected, remove surface dust by brushing gently or with vacuum cleaner, as faded areas often are more conspicuous than dirt.

When clean, wipe the wall well to remove putty crumbs. The starchy putty attracts bugs.

Q.—How should white pine be painted to prevent surface discoloration due to bleeding knots?

A.—In painting knotty white pine, brush priming coat well into surface. Allow to dry thoroughly, then apply two coats of 4 lb. cut orange shellac to all knots to prevent paint discoloration resulting from bleeding. When dry, apply body and finish paint coats.

For best results, shellac should never be applied to the bare wood.

Suggested priming coat: 3 parts (by volume) soft paste white lead, 3 parts pure raw linseed oil, 2 parts turpentine.

After applying shellac, follow with body and finish coats of 3 parts soft paste white lead, 4 parts lead mixing or lead reducing oil.

Add 1/2 pint of drier to each gallon of paint prepared with raw linseed oil. Lead mixing and lead reducing oils require no drier.

For colors, add colors-in-oil to paint mixed above.
