Newark Appears On Casualty List

H. R. Mercer Wounded in Action

E. Harrigan Recovering From Gas

Newark's share in the world war is brought home to residents today when the name of Harry Mercer appears in the casualty list,—"wounded in action." Mrs. H. R. Mercer, mother of the wounded man, up to this point had received no further information. Her son is a member of the 76th Company, 6th regiment, U. S. Marines. Mrs. Mercer received a letter from her son only this morning. In it he states, "I have been in the Marine Corps four years, and the army at home five years (referring to Company E, Delaware National Guard), making a total of nine years of army experience."

Mrs. Ellen Harrigan of Delaware, has also received word this week from her son, L. E. Harrigan, who is in a hospital in France recovering from being gassed. Mr. Harrigan was drafted last year, was a member of the 118th Machine Gun Battalion and left camp Dix last April.

DELAWARE MAN WOUNDED IN TEXAS

Lieutenant Bratton falls from Airplane

Word has been received by relatives in Elkton of injuries sustained by Lieutenant Howard Bratton, U. S. Air Service, instructor in aerial gunnery, Houston, Texas. Although particulars of the accident have not been received, it is known that Lieutenant Bratton is suffering from a broken leg and fractured jaw. With his old time wit, he writes, "I'll be back in a few days." Lieutenant Bratton was formerly an athletic star at Delaware and well known here. He was a member of the Class of 1918.

Gift to St. Thomas' Church

Miss Mary Anderson presented St. Thomas' Church, two Eucharistic Candles in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson and Miss Jennie Anderson. These candles were used for the first time on last Sunday. Reginald Roy Rose acted as acolyte. The members of the parish are deeply grateful to Miss Anderson for this beautiful gift.

RAINING CAMP ACTIVITIES

Secretary Ross Outlines Plans

R. B. Ross, Y. M. C. A. secretary, with the draft contingent stationed at Delaware College, has outlined a plan of entertainment for the men stationed here, which covers practically every night in the week. The first camp has been placed on the M. C. A. circuit, moving picture apparatus is expected within ten days, and excellent pictures will be shown free for the men on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings. There will be a regular religious service on Thursday and Sunday evenings. On Friday of each week a troupe of entertainers from Newark and other cities will provide entertainment.

A consignment of athletic goods, including baseball, football and boxing equipment, was received this week.

Mr. Dalrymple, district secretary for Delaware, visited Newark this week.

Although at first the advisability of showing these entertainments to the public was considered, it has been deemed advisable to limit soldiers only.

Corporal Scott Heard From

Mrs. John F. Scott, Barksdale, Md., has lately received a letter from her son, Corporal Clarence Frazer Scott, who has just arrived in France with the 318th Infantry, 8th Division American Expeditionary Force. Corporal Scott was for the past five years receiving mail at Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company bank.

Children Prove Their Patriotism

Gladys and Mary Rose, Ida Wollaston, Donald Armstrong, Harry Williamson, and Alvin Wakeland erected a stand on the lot adjoining the Pennsylvania Railroad station on Saturday and sold ice cream, cake and lemonade for the benefit of the Red Cross.

They cleared $18.85 which was turned over to the local branch. This organization is sincerely appreciative of the work done by these patriotic young people.

REFENSE COUNCIL ORGANIZED

Summer School Students Carry on Work

The Summer School students through their Self Government Association, have organized with the assistance of Dean Rich, an auxiliary Council of Defense, the purpose of which is to give every teacher in the State a working knowledge of the activities undertaken by the State Council and enable her to qualify wherever possible, as secretary of the Community Council. The Committee on Education, Miss Maude Lodge of Dover, chairman, has adopted the school census plan worked out by the National Council and will become familiar with the work and instruct the other teachers. Dr. Spaid met with this Committee on Saturday evening and heartily endorsed the plan.

The Recreation Committee, Miss Madge Rickards of Ocean View, chairman, plans to make and have at the college during the winter, costumes suitable for plays which may be given during the school year, available to the teachers throughout the State. This committee also plans the Saturday evening entertainment for the soldiers stationed at Newark. A very successful pantomime party was given last Saturday night under direction of this Committee.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Todd, chairman of the Public Health and Nursing Committee, has directed her Committee to aid the Nurses' Drive in their home towns.

The Child Welfare Committee, Miss Anna Hall, Milford, chairman, are learning to direct recreation work with Miss Mary H. Turk as instructor.

The Committee on Home Economics and Food Conservation under the direction of Miss Anna Glenn of Yorklyn, chairman, with the assistance of Mrs. J. Lynn Pratt, who has made such a success of Home Economics work in the Milford Schools, will conduct a Liberty Kitchen during the last few days of the session and will give demonstrations of the preparation of simple school lunches in the Home Economics Department at Women's College during Institute week. An effort is being made to have Mrs. T. Coleman Dupont address the girls at an informal after dinner meeting soon.

Literature for each department has been secured and distributed and arrangements made to have representatives from the State Council meet with the committees, the members of which represent every community of any size in the State.

Registration Totals

On Saturday 51 voters were registered in the First district of White Clay Creek Hundred and 57 in the Second district. This makes a total of 110 for the First district for the two registration days and 114 in the Second.

HARVEST HOME AUGUST FIFTEENTH

Strong Speakers on the Program

Prospects for a record breaking crowd at the annual harvest home, to be held in Whiteman's Grove on August 15, under the auspices of Ebenezer M. E. Church, are excellent. The program includes many strong speakers, and approaching election days promise to bring out the politicians.

Honorable A. J. Williamson of New York, attorney for the Anti-Saloon League of New York, will be one of the speakers. Caleb E. Burchenal of Wilmington, will make a patriotic address in the evening. Lieutenant Neale A. Trufrow, recently returned from France, will tell of his experiences. Dinner and supper will be served by the ladies of the church, and the usual articles will be for sale. Minnehaha Band of Newark will furnish music.

Dr. Latham Addresses Twilight Meeting

Rev. A. L. Latham, Ph.D., pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of Chester, Pa., addressed the Twilight Meeting on Sunday evening. Owing to a regrettable misunderstanding in arrangement the speaker scheduled for the evening failed to arrive on time and at the invitation of Mr. R. B. Ross who conducted the meeting, Rev. Mr. Latham who filled the pulpit at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning, kindly consented to supply.

Taking as his text, "But He could not be hid," the speaker gave four reasons why in a day when news was disseminated so slowly, Christ could not be hid: first, because of the unusual works that He performed; second, because of the doctrines He taught; third, because of the life He lived; and fourth, because He was the Son of Righteousness. In a very eloquent and forceful sermon, Dr. Latham showed the marvellous influence of Christ's life and works.

Mr. Ross announced that Bishop William Gardner Murray of the diocese of Western Maryland, will be the speaker on next Sunday evening.

Mayor Frazer buys Farm

Mayor Eben B. Frazer bought at public sale recently the Stockton or Frazer farm, from the trustees, W. S. Evans, William Pepper Constable, and James F. Evans. The purchase price was $9,500.

SPENDS VACATION HERE

Rev. J. Howard Gray on from Southwest

Rev. J. Howard Gray, formerly pastor of Epworth M. E. Church, Wilmington, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gray, here. Mr. Gray is now pastor of the M. E. Church at Lake Charles, Louisiana. He is also camp pastor at Gerstner Aviation Field, fourteen miles distant from Lake Charles, where the late Mayor John Mitchell of New York, met his death. Mr. Gray is also secretary of the Methodist Church extension society in his conference, and has just been presented with an automobile to expedite his work.

Mr. Gray thinks well of the southwest. Louisiana, he says, has the best roads and schools he has ever seen. The people have gone over the top in very war campaign launched there. Four fifths of the 25,000 population of Lake Charles are northerners. The temperature of the town during the day goes as high as 101, but the nights are cooled by breezes from the Gulf of Mexico.

Mr. Gray will lecture under the auspices of the Newark W. C. T. U. on August 26th. Mrs. Gray will furnish music, as a feature of the program.

Red Cross at Strickersville

During the last two months eight members of the Strickersville auxiliary of the Newark Red Cross have completed at their homes 56 hospital shirts. The auxiliary has made during the same period 12 sweaters and 16 pairs of socks.

Recruiting Progresses Slowly

Newark Girls Consider U. S. Nurse Reserve

Committee Hopes to Put Town Over the Top

Although the local response in the Nurses' Drive is far from satisfactory, the committee in charge have not abandoned the hope that the young women of the state will put Delaware once more over the top before the campaign closes. Twenty-five is the quota for New Castle County. To this number Newark has contributed only one. A number of young women, however, are seriously considering enrolling within the next few days.

The proposition that Uncle Sam puts up to the young women is one that should stir the patriotic response of all who can qualify for the work. The call comes from the surgeon general of the army, the director of the Red Cross, transmitted through the Woman's Committee of the State Councils of Defense. The campaign for nurses represents the most important piece of work which the government has ever entrusted to women. Appeals have been made through the press, and the churches.

Jane Delano, head of the Red Cross nurses' division in a recent interview, says:

"We must have more nurses. More and more troops are going to the front all the time. Surgeon-general Gorgas says he must have 20,000 to 30,000 more despite the 10,000 we have furnished. We have got to find them. It is inconceivable that we won't."

In order that America may be spared the fate of the cities of France where in many instances thousands have been living without a physician or nurse within call, the U. S. Student Nurse Reserve is being organized. Our hospitals must be manned at once by American women.

Planned in Honor of Soldiers

At the suggestion of the local Y. M. C. A. secretary, R. B. Ross, a special service in honor of the soldiers in training here, was held in St. John's R. C. Church, at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Members of the Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian church choirs assisted St. John's choir in singing Rosewig's First Mass in G together with a number of patriotic selections. The solo parts were sung by Mrs. Herman Tyson, Mrs. J. P. Armstrong, Mrs. Walter Steele, and Mr. J. P. Armstrong.

Rev. John J. Dougherty, pastor of the church, preached especially to the soldiers and their many friends present on the value of sacrifice. The collection at this mass was given to the Athletic Council at Delaware College.

AVIATOR LANDS NEAR NEWARK

Crowd Views Airplane

An airplane driven by Major Drennan and Captain Lake, from Washington, D. C., landed on Huber's field last Sunday, the first to appear at close range in this neighborhood. The news spread like wild fire and in a few minutes a crowd of hundreds had assembled. The aviators had landed for gas. They were out for a pleasure trip and left after three quarters of an hour, for Washington.

The plane was a Curtis training ship, much smaller than those used in the mail service, which daily pass over the town. At the time it came into view of the townspeople, Major Drennan stated, owing to the fact that they were bucking a strong gale, they were traveling only sixty miles an hour. They were up about 4000 feet.

Supper Date Announced

Ladies of the Presbyterian Church have selected the date of November 7th for their annual supper, to be held in the basement of the New Century Club building.

The driver of the automobile, Herbert Marks, chauffeur for two Washington women, occupants of the car, was exonerated by the coroner's jury.

The child was buried from the home of the parents on Tuesday. Services were conducted by the Reverend Walter Haupt of Newark.

Babies To Be Weighed

County Nurse to Visit School-house

Children Received From Nine to Five

The weighing and measuring of Newark children under five begun several weeks ago will be continued next Tuesday, August 13, when Miss Josephine Salmon, public nurse for New Castle County, will be at the High School building from nine until five.

A complete canvass of the town by Mrs. George Townsend and her committee has revealed that there are 167 children under five in Newark. Of these 78 were weighed the first day. It is hoped that all who have not yet been registered will be brought to the school building on Thursday. The great campaign to discover the slight ailments of children in time to correct them is nation-wide and a direct war measure. All parents are urged to co-operate in making the statistics accurate.

A number of cases needing attention, discovered at the first day of examination have been followed up, and corrective measures applied are yielding results.

COLORED DRAFTEES LEAVE FOR CAMP UPTON

Townsmen Parade in their Honor

The colored people of Newark and vicinity gave a rousing send-off to the 152 draftees who, on Thursday last left here for Camp Upton on the 2:38 Pennsylvania train. Similar achievements of previous occasions were surpassed for the organization of a citizens' committee and the co-operation of the Red Cross branch recently organized made possible a more elaborate demonstration than heretofore. Fifteen of this contingent were residents of Newark. A dance was given on Wednesday night and a band secured to lead the parade on Thursday. The men reported to the Local Board at 9 o'clock, some instructions were given and Delaware Nelson was appointed captain.

Dinner was furnished at the Church Hall by patriotic citizens. A citizens' committee, composed of Rev. C. H. Walker, chairman, Adam Hunter, David Boyles, William Saunders and Obadiah Henry made all arrangements for entertainment and acted as marshals for the parade. Virginia Saunders, president of the local Red Cross branch marched at the head of the Red Cross workers, each of whom carried an American flag. The Sunday school children were guards of honor for a large flag carried by six of their number. Several colored organizations and hundreds of relatives and friends were in line, making a very imposing parade.

PURE BRED CAT.

TLE PROJECT

Under Direction of County Agent Bausman

The New Castle County Farm Bureau has approved the second pure bred dairy cattle project. Since the three carloads of Holstein cows arrived in the county last spring there have been numerous inquiries in regard to more of this class of cows. As the greater portion of these western cows freshen in the fall it is the desire to bring several carloads of them into the county this fall. Most of these cows will be three to five years old and will be due to freshen in a few weeks. Cows of this class with good breeding will cost between $250 and $300.

I might be stated that the farmers who received the cows last

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

A State Convention of the Republican Party of the State of Delaware, will be held at Dover, on Tuesday, the twentieth day of August, A. D. 1918, at 11 o'clock, A. M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of United States Senator, a candidate for the office of Representative from the State of Delaware, in the Sixty-sixth Congress of United States, a candidate for the office of State Treasurer, a candidate for the office of Auditor of Accounts and for the purpose of transacting such business as may properly come before it.

Forty delegates to be chosen from the Third district.

Forty-two delegates to be chosen from the Fourth district.

The said delegates shall be apportioned among the several hundreds, wards and districts in the same manner as was done at the last State Convention.

The delegates with their alternates, shall be chosen in accordance with the Primary Election Law.

Chairman Republican Committee.
ISAAC R. BROWN,
Secretary Republican Committee.

spring have reason to consider their money well invested. The cows are not only producing well, but many of them have heifer calves that are already worth half the cost of the cow. The demand for pure bred dairy cattle is steadily growing and we are told that the man who has the pure bred cattle, will, when the war ends, be in a position to set his own prices.

Because of the greater number of inquiries have been for Holstein cows, this lot will be of that breed. However, a few farmers are interested in pure bred Guernsey cattle and it is hoped that it will be possible to bring into the county a carload of this breed of cows.

One or two of the prominent banks of the county will finance the project and the cattle will be put out to the farmers at cost. If you are interested please get in touch at once with your Community Dairy Committeeman or your County Agent at Newark.

Aid in Food Problem

Bakers, hotel men, grocers, and managers of institutions are coming to home-demonstration agents for help with their conservation problems. The community kitchens and liberty bread shops are well patronized by these business men, who need expert advice to conform to the Government's food regulations. At one of the bread shops in Springfield, Mass., assistance has been given to matrons from both Smith College and Mount Holyoke. In Oswego, N. Y., the county home demonstration agent has gone into the kitchen of one of the hotels where she has given her personal help to the cooks in teaching them how best to follow the latest conservation recipes.

MISSOURI FARMERS HAD TO BE SHOWN

Patriotic Town Men Put One Over

It's an odd sort of situation for men who want to work to be denied that privilege, and to be forced to sneak to their jobs and work surreptitiously, nocturnally, night-riders. Yes, it's odd, except in the case of burglars and highway-men—and the men who adorn this little tale were merely patriotic business men of Nevada, Mo., and far removed in temperament and practice from the ways of outlaws.

It happened in this wise: Despite all the persistence with which the United States Department of Agriculture has explained the farm-labor situation, the necessity for town volunteers for farm work and for the acceptance by farmers of such emergency help, despite all the preliminary campaigning, there were some farmers here and there, when the harvest came on this summer, who continued firm in their prejudice against the proposal of men from the towns for emergency farm work.

"In" and "From" Missouri

There were some farmers of this kind around Nevada, Mo. The wheat was ripe for the harvest. The town men had organized for farm work and were eager for it, because they knew it was patriotic service. But lo! the farmers of the county—or some of them—declined emphatically to have anything to do with the proposition; they wanted no soft town men coming out to their farms; indeed, some of them most positively forbade it.

"And why?" insisted the United States Department of Agriculture's farm-labor representative.

"No good, these town duds. They can't do the work," said the farmers.

"But you don't know whether they can do the work or not; you haven't tried 'em."

"Not gon'er try 'em. They can't do it."

Meanwhile, by reason of unusual weather the wheat ripened all at once instead of spreading out over a period of a week or so. The farmers were cutting just as fast as they could, but they couldn't get the fields shocked. In town the volunteers were chafing. They knew the possible loss if the grain wasn't shocked. They knew they could do the work, and they wanted to do it. They called a special meeting at the chamber of commerce.

"There's just one thing to do," said the leader of the local farm-labor movement. "That's to go out to these farms and do the work anyhow! Once the farmers see we can do it they'll be running after us! But we've got to take the bit in our teeth and show 'em! We'll start out late this afternoon, and to-night we'll shock old man Blank's field by moonlight—if he doesn't wake up and run us off with a shotgun!—and tomorrow we'll work on other fields and then the word will get out that we're doing good work and the farmers in this county will be begging us to come!"

Advancing Under Darkness

So the town volunteers piled into autos and trucks and started upon their "work-anyhow" expedition that night. They shocked old man Blank's 15 acres—he didn't wake up and bother them with a barrage—and the next day they started out openly, not shunning the eye of man, and without so much as a by-your-leave they simply went to work shocking wheat in every field they came to without fear or favor!

Business began to pick up on the rural telephones, and the party lines did a rushing business. Women on the farms near town, where the volunteers struck first, phoned their more distant friends, and presently the entire county knew what was being done, and knew that it was being done well. Meanwhile old man Blank had called up the chamber of commerce. He was just a bit dazed. He was uncertain whether this was a miracle, or only a hallucination, or just plain, brazen interference by the soft town duds. The secretary, quite cheerily, told him it was the latter.

"You see," he added, "you've acted grouchy that we wouldn't care if you did lose your crop—if you were the only one that suffered. But we're thinking about our Missouri boys who are fighting in France. We don't intend for them to be short of food. Yes, Mr. Blank, this was just a plain, unvarnished case of butting into your business! And please don't thank us! We didn't do it for you! We did it for Uncle Sam! Good-by!"

Missouri Has Been "Shown"

That day autos and trucks loaded with town men left Nevada, going on every country road leading from town; and the next day, and the day after and the day after that each machine was loaded to capacity with town men, and they just took the fields as they came to them, and shocked the cut wheat and went on to the next. They cleaned up the county; and if you want to find out whether the United States Department of Agriculture's "dope" about town volunteers for emergency farm work is practicable, make a few inquiries in the Nevada, Mo., country.

FORMER COLLEGE STUDENTS WED

Lt. Crothers and Miss Jones Married Saturday

Miss Elizabeth Frazer Jones, of Dover, Women's College, class of 1918, and Lt. J. Alexander Crothers of Zion, Cecil County, Md., Delaware College, 1916, were married in Baltimore on August second. Only members of the immediate families were present.

Miss Jones was a very popular member of the first graduating class at the Women's College, of which she was president. Lieutenant Crothers is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity, and when here was one of the most popular men in college. His record in athletics was a splendid one and during his senior year he was president of the Student Council, the highest honor which his fellow students could confer upon him.

Lieutenant Crothers was formerly a member of Company E, First Delaware regiment of Newark, serving with his unit for eight months on the Mexican border. He was appointed to the First Officers' Training Camp at Fort Myer, where he received a commission as first lieutenant in the U. S. Reserve Army. Lieutenant Crothers is now stationed at Camp Meade, near Baltimore.

McDowell-Pepper

At a military wedding in the Forrest Presbyterian Church at Middletown, Helen Kendall McDowell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harrison B. McDowell, became the bride of Lieutenant Carlton David Pepper of Georgetown, Del. Lieutenant Pepper is a graduate of Delaware College Class of 1915 and is now stationed at Camp Lee, Virginia.

The young couple will be at home in Petersburg, Va., after August 5.

Party for Enlisted Man

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Walter E. Hegeman entertained a party of friends in honor of her brother Merrill Robinson, who recently enlisted in the Naval Reserves.

In addition to the Newark young people, there were present a number of draft men and out-of-town guests. A most enjoyable evening was spent in dancing and singing. At a late hour delightful refreshments were served.

KEEP ON KNITTING

Wool Shortage Unlikely

Replying to an article by Samuel S. Dale in a recent issue of the Literary Digest in which he gave reasons why the Red Cross should no longer encourage knitting, the magazine in the issue of August 3 gives a compilation of facts gleaned from the protests of Red Cross officials and workers in all parts of the country. Regarding the shortage of wool proof is advanced to show the inaccuracy of his statements and the opinion of W. E. Heath, president of a large commercial company in Baltimore is that there will be a surplus of 400 million pounds over the 1918 requirements.

A Canadian Sergeant, writing from a military hospital in Whitby, Ont., takes exception to the statement that hand knitted articles are very little used in the trenches. He speaks from an experience of 25 months in the trenches and says that he has worn a sweater in France and Flanders and that thousands of Frenchmen wear the hand-knitted articles. Factory and mixed goods he says, are the cause of many sore feet, so his advice is to knit and keep knitting.

The Red Cross itself is not yet ready to make a formal statement but its officials are unwilling to see the women of the country discouraged in this line of war work. They are not yet sure what the wool situation will be but in a conference with the War Industries Board it was decided that the Red Cross would have second chance to procure wool after the army and navy requirements have been met. So the delayed appeal for women to knit is due to uncertainty as to how much yarn will be apportioned to them.

They likewise denied that they have knit article do not wear well and declared that machine knit socks last only about a third as long as those made by hand. Then too, there is not in a machine-made garment that sense of intimate or sentiment which a garment made by the hands of some patriotic woman possesses. It is this sentiment of service and democracy that does so much to fortify the morale of an army.

A Farewell Party

George Mitchell, son of Dr. S. C. Mitchell, has accepted a position as assistant to the expert in soil analysis, now stationed in Milford. Previous to his departure, he entertained some of his young friends at a farewell dance given at the "Knoll."

Those present were Elizabeth McNeal, Hazel Collins, Edna Green, Sara Lovett, Beulah Law, Kathryn Barnard, Emma Dayett, Alma Dunlevy, Marion Gallaher, Arunah Armstrong, Granville Robinson, Johnson Rowan, Paul Steele, John Hofferker, Ted Richards and Warren Kennedy.
