Academy Square To Be Preserved Trustees Assert

The preservation of Academy Square established in 1772 as the site of Newark Academy, is as important as that of the buildings themselves, trustees of the academy assert.

James H. Thompson, president of the trustees, in declining to sell the land to the City of Newark, points out the square has been the center of Newark for two centuries just as Dover has its Green and New Castle its Courthouse Square.

Clyde M. England, Jr., Newark city solicitor, reported to council that condemnation of the land was possible, but said he had received no instructions to proceed and does not plan to institute action unless directed to do so.

The Academy Building is used as the city hall but a new building was authorized by referendum in April, 1968.

After considering several sites, council directed England to negotiate with trustees for the purchase of Academy Square.

The news that council was considering condemnation brought a storm of protest from organizations and individuals interested in preserving the state's heritage.

T. Elbert Chance Reports Alumni Gift Participation Ranks UP Second In Nation

Mrs. Frances Patnovic of Newark, Class of 1928, was cited for special honors at the University of Delaware alumni reunion luncheon last Saturday, as the outstanding alumna for 1969.

T. Elbert Chance, director of alumni and public relations, told an alumni reunion business meeting that the University of Delaware ranks second in per cent of alumni participation in annual giving among state universities in the nation.

Century Club members, those who contribute $100 or more a year, have increased from 189 last year to 262 so far this year, Chance said.

Alumni have contributed $89,754 as opposed to $76,179 last year. "With little more than six weeks remaining in the campaign," he said, "I am confident that we will have our first $100,000 campaign year in history."

The Class of 1919 announced that its reunion gift would be given to the athletic department for an electric scoreboard in Delaware Fieldhouse.

The Alumni Association unanimously passed a resolution calling on officials to maintain order on the campus, urging disciplinary action against those who would disrupt campus life, and extending the association's full support to the president in preserving campus tranquility.

As outstanding senior man and woman, the recipient of the alumni's Alexander J. Taylor Award is David Hewes Bent of Wilmington, for his achievements in campus life, athletics and scholarship. He was captain of the swimming team.

The Emma P. Warner Award went to Delma E. Lafferty of Lancaster, Pa., for her achievements in student government and scholarship. She is president of the Student Government Association.

Alumni also presented President E. Arthur Trabant with his first inauguration gift, a limited edition etching of Purnell Hall by Professor Emeritus Jane L. Gardner, formerly of the art faculty.

Chosen to serve two-year terms as officers are President John W. Alden Jr., 38; Vice-President Gertrude B. Draper, 37; Secretary Catherine Burke Flickinger, 40; and Treasurer John F. Downham, 51 — all of Wilmington.

Some 425 alumni attended the luncheon program in the Student Center, and more than 1,000 former students participated in 16 special class dinners during last weekend.

Sgt. Abel Amaral Gets Bronze Star As Vietnam Hero

Sgt. 1/c Abel Amaral, tactical officer to the ROTC senior class at the University of Delaware, recently was awarded the Bronze Star for heroism in Vietnam, by Col. Frank J. Nemethy, chairman and professor of the military department.

The sergeant was cited for heroic action on Nov. 2, 1967, while serving as an advisor to the Vietnamese Army's 4th Ranger Battalion, when his unit was attacked by a Viet Cong battalion, he "unhesitatingly moved under fire to determine size and strength of enemy attack."

"He accurately pointed out critical areas and assisted in directing counterfire which effectively neutralized those danger points."

"Sgt. Amaral continued to expose himself to hostile fire, taking cover only when a mortar round exploded nearby, knocking him to the ground," the citation reads.

A 21-year Army veteran and a native of Napili, Hawaii, Amaral fought during the Korean War with the 25th Infantry.

He is a veteran paratrooper and wears the Master Parachutist and Combat Infantryman's Badge with star.

New London School Demolition Stayed Pending Cost Estimate

Rebuilding Costs To Be Presented For $10,000 Target; Alternate To Academy Building City Hall Site Sought; Four Ordinances, Resolutions Approved Last Tuesday

Replacement of the New London Avenue School building is to be reconsidered; another site for city hall is to be sought; four ordinances and four resolutions were adopted; and a proposal for a citizens' task force to provide beltway information was tabled with Newark City Council action last Tuesday night in tackling what Mayor Norma B. Handloff termed "an agenda-and-a-half" with some 40 persons in attendance.

Councilman Olan R. Thomas urged reconsideration of council action taken for demolition of the New London Avenue School and its replacement with a new building for a recreation center. He requested that local businessman David Gallo and his architect, Ed Plotts, the city manager, and James E. Hall of the recreation department, report on "rebuilding for less than $40,000."

Thomas's motion was approved 3-2 as Councilman John H. Fassnacht and Mayor Handloff opposed the proposal the mayor citing as "simply a matter of chewing up old decisions that have been made and made again."

City Hall
Concerning the Academy Building city hall site, Councilman Arthur P. Mayer stated that "at no time was it my intention to tear this building down unless agreed upon by all concerned. I move that the city consider a second site and do no refurbishing of present quarters." Mayer added, and his motion met with unanimous approval.

In regard to preservation of the Academy Building with its traditions, Councilman William M. Connerdale reported research indicating that George Read, a signer of the Declaration of Independence was educated in Pennsylvania rather than at the Newark Academy "despite the plaque."

Newly enacted ordinances provide adequate court jurisdiction over vehicles not complying with certain licensing and registration requirements; investment of surplus in the parkland sinking fund; a $50 fine with a five-day limit for abandoned vehicles; and removing "abandoned vehicles" from the definition of "rubbish" in trash collection regulations.

Resolutions
Resolutions were adopted commending Gov. Russell W. Peterson for his interest in the Newark Beltway; approving Devon Subdivision Section III of 136 lots with RS zoning; requesting reapportionment of Newark Castle County Council for equitable representation; and commending City Manager Edward R. Stiff with endorsement of a police program to combat illicit drug traffic with a "large sum of reward money" deposited by an anonymous donor.

Mayor Handloff opposed this last resolution in the 61st vote, objecting to anonymity with the reward, and cited satisfactory, normal police performance in controlling drug abuse.

The mayor's proposal for appointment of a citizens' task force to be organized by Charles J. Seidman to provide information on the Newark beltway, was tabled in a 6-1 vote.

Councilmen Fassnacht and Frank J. Osborne, Jr., pointed out that concerned groups already were working on the beltway proposal, and Osborne said that some of his "constituents would like to see alternate routes."

Open Doors
City Manager Stiff said that his staff "is ready to provide such service — our doors are open. We may not have all the answers, but we will not ignore any civic group," he concluded concerning beltway interest.

A proposed ordinance for adoption of the BOCA building code with amendments was approved at a preliminary reading; the contract for city purchase of a three-wheel Cushman motorcycle was awarded to Rhodes Mobile Equipment Co. for a bid of $1,957; and a closed executive session was scheduled at the end of the regular council meeting to consider a contract for purchase of two refuse collector trucks and bodies.

Walter A. Dew was appointed to fill the vacancy on the municipal board of ethics until February, 1973.

Miller Advises On Control For Azalea Leaf Gall

Azalea leaf gall is a minor but persistent problem in Delaware. The pinkster gall appears in late spring or summer on camellias and rhododendrons as well as azaleas, according to R. Walker Miller, Jr., plant pathologist at the University of Delaware.

This gall is caused by a fungus which infects the leaves and makes them grow abnormally.

City Council

Council approved Finance Director Albert K. Martin's proposal to proceed with bond projects by utilizing $958,260 in available funds over the next year.

"If our cash reserves reach a precarious low balance before a favorable bond market appears," Martin added, preparations for short term borrowing will be made.

Sidewalks

The Windy Hills Civic Association requested early construction of a sidewalk on the south side of Capitol Trail from the C&O-B&O overpass to the Windy Hills entrance. The walk is scheduled for 1973, but Councilman Thomas said there is "very definitely a need" for this sidewalk and requested a response on its cost to property owners concerned.

Thomas urged that residents of Windy Hills and Wingate Park now outside the city limits, be encouraged for annexation so they may share in the cost of city services they receive.

Councilman Fasnacht pointed out the need for city clean-up of litter in public rights-of-way and after a closed executive session, City Solicitor Clyde M. England, Jr., was instructed to protect the city's interest in a lawsuit with the Thorn Lane barricade.

A resolution for approval of Arbores Park Section VII was tabled at Mayor's urging in a 6-1 vote over Fasnacht's protest, pending settlement of litigation concerning three other sections of the development.

England said there was "no real reason to hold up Section VII because of litigation."

A proposal from the Delaware League of Local Governments to standardize municipal elections into a one instead of nine-month period for utilization of state registration lists and voting machines, is to be reviewed.

With several minutes remaining before the 10:30 p.m. adjournment deadline, Harold Hudson of the College Park Civic Association was the lone spokesman in the audience requesting city upkeep of service drives; enforcement of health ordinances to eliminate exposed garbage; and police protection on the Madison Drive to Thorn Lane "speedway" in College Park.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

By Carol Hart

Open Doors Can Be Hazardous

Sometimes it takes a smashed finger or a crack on the head to remind us that doors are meant to be shut as well as opened.

To help prevent such accidents from happening to you and your family, the Council on Family Health suggests a "door tour" of your home. The Council is a non-profit organization sponsored by a public service by leading members of the drug industry, to promote home safety and family health.

Start with cabinet doors, not only because they are the most numerous in a home, but because they are in areas where Mom spends so much of her time. There are cabinets high and low in the kitchen, utility room, basement, storage room, home workshop and bathroom.

Eye level cabinet doors can be particularly hazardous if left open. Painful and serious face and head injuries can result to the person who stands up suddenly under the corner of a cabinet door.

An open door on a medicine chest, paint locker or household chemical storage cabinet presents an additional hazard. A toddler, seeing it open, may investigate. In that case you may have an accidental poisoning to deal with.

It's the unexpectedly open door that causes many accidents. Did you ever run into an open closet door? Many face injuries happen this way. If there are pre-school youngsters at home, watch out for open cellar doors, and doors that lead to the street.

CPH

Fingers seem to be particularly vulnerable to injury by doors, but a little extra attention can help prevent this. When a child is around, be careful how you close doors. Little children tend to put their fingers on the hinged side of a door.

When closing the door of an appliance such as a refrigerator, freezer, oven, washer or dryer, grasp the door by the handle and not by the edge.

Europe's Oldest Synagogue

This old synagogue in the Josef Quarter of Prague, Czechoslovakia, has been in almost continuous use since its construction in the year 1270. Widely known as the "Old-New Synagogue," it will serve as an impressive backdrop for the forthcoming Millennium celebrations in Prague to mark 1,000 years of Jewish life in Czechoslovakia. A highlight of these celebrations, July 10 through 13, will be a service conducted in the "Old-New" by Dr. Richard Feder, 93, Europe's oldest rabbi. The synagogue is located in what used to be Prague's Jewish ghetto area which produced such intellectual giants as Franz Kafka and Max Brod. The "Old-New" together with other medieval synagogues in Czechoslovakia, was carefully preserved by Hitler in accordance with his idea of maintaining them later as "relics of an extinct people."

French Picnic Fare For Seafarers

Own a boat? Then you'll want some new ideas on foods that keep well in the galley. Been invited to be a weekend sailor? If so, you want to bring the captain or his mate something "just right" for the occasion.

Whatever the reason, if you're water bound, you'll want to know about the wonderful assortment of imported French foods that lend themselves to ideal menus.

For example, there's canned Camembert and Brie—the process used in France to protect this fine cheese through all sorts of weather, is now available in tins, and is excellent for shipboard (or picnic) because it travels well. And, if you've never tasted the small French mackerel in wine sauce, there's a real treat in store. Whole small filets come packed in a special sauce complete with lemon slices. Serve it whole or mashed. A good companion to this is the plump French sardine—some come boneless and skinless—some in herb sauce, some in their natural brine—packed with or without lemon slices. They're different and well worth trying if you've never tasted them before. From

Double-Good Skillet Meal Is Made with Double-Soup Sauce

Main dishes take on an extra dimension when you use two condensed soups instead of one as a double-delicious sauce for meat, poultry, or fish.

For instance, mix condensed golden mushroom and tomato soups. Ladle the resulting double-rich, double-thick sauce over brown beef strips. Then add Italian accents. With a few steps you've concocted a new dish, Golden Beef Strips Italiane.

Whet appetites for Golden Beef Strips Italiane with a first course of hot beef broth tossed with a lemon twist. Along with the main dish, serve your favorite tossed green salad. Slim bread sticks or a hearty Italian loaf complete the main meal.

Remember that your main dish is more than half prepared when you add a convenient sauce of condensed soups. You

Finale In Series By String Quartet Scheduled Monday

The University of Delaware Resident String Quartet will perform the last of its 1968-69 concert series with "An International Festival" next Monday at 8:15 p.m. in Mitchell Hall.

The quartet will be joined by pianist Barbara Townley who last year assisted in a performance of the Faure Piano Quartet in C-Minor. Miss Townley is a student of Nadia Reisenberg at the Mannes College of Music in New York.

In bringing to a close its fourth consecutive year of affiliation with the university, the ensemble is preserving its practice of never repeating a work performed in an earlier season.

In four years, the ensemble has presented over 70 different works.

FOR US, THE LIVING

A DAY IN MAY

Military ceremonies in Aisne Marne, Flanders Field, Surrey, Brittany, Carthage, Mexico City, Manila and Pearl Harbor are but a few of the final resting places of thousands of Americans who fought and died for freedom. Thousands more have been brought home for burial in military and civilian cemeteries where their silent headstones pay them the tribute of a grateful nation.

A day has been set aside to honor these men and women. Some call it Memorial Day; others call it Decoration Day. By whatever name, it should be an occasion — today more than ever — to pause and reflect: "What are we doing to make certain this precious and highly perishable thing called freedom continues to live?"

Desecration of the flag, defiance of authority, the rebellion against military service — all so rampant in our land — make us wonder. Have these men died in vain?

Over 200 years ago, our ancestors created a system of order that detractors in our midst now refer to derisively as "The Establishment."

Our forebears built and preserved this nation not by force of arms but by giving us an environment in which industrial, scientific, educational and social progress and development were possible. It is now up to us to build on what we have inherited, not tear it to shreds.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower whose entire life was dedicated to preserving the American ideal, vowed to "leave the land better than I found it."

Can we do less without dishonoring those for whom this day of tribute has been set aside?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Members of the Nottingham Green Garden Club would like to publicly express our appreciation to members of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity of the University of Delaware for the beautiful plantings which they made recently on several traffic islands in the City of Newark.

We understand the time and effort involved in accomplishing such work, and would like persons responsible to be aware of how much pleasure they are giving so many people.

At a time when we read so much adverse comment about college students in our nation, our club feels that more publicity should be given to students who are making such a big contribution to the beautification of our city and to the pleasure of all persons who pass through our community.

We extend our vote of thanks to ATO!

MAKE AMERICA A BETTER PLACE.

LEAVE THE COUNTRY.

Of all the ways America can grow, one way is by learning from others.

There are things you can learn in the Peace Corps you can't learn anywhere else.

You could start an irrigation program. And find that crabgrass and front lawns look a little ridiculous. When there isn't enough wheat to go around in Nepal.

You could be the outsider who helps bring a Jamaican fishing village to life, for the first time in three hundred years. And you could wonder if your country has outsiders enough. In Watts. In Detroit. In Appalachia. On its Indian reservations.

Last year, for the first time, Peace Corps alumni outnumbered Volunteers who are now out at work overseas.

By 1980, 200,000 Peace Corps alumni will be living their lives in every part of America.

There are those who think you can't change the world in the Peace Corps.

On the other hand, maybe it's not just what you do in the Peace Corps that counts.

Planning Children's Rooms Cited By Coral Morris

Children can outgrow their rooms as quickly as they outgrow their clothes.

"When planning your child's room, you should keep this fact in mind," states Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

A room that's appropriate for a three- or four-year-old may be altogether wrong for the same child at eight.

So when you start your decorating plans, remember to keep them flexible.

EYE STATISTICS

There are approximately 250,000 people who are considered "legally blind" in the United States. By "legally blind," we mean these persons cannot see the big "E" on the eye chart when they have an eye examination. In addition, there are 750,000 people who cannot read newsprint.

Some of these people could have their vision problems corrected and other conditions could be corrected if eye examinations were made on a regular basis. The National Eye Research Foundation suggests that such examinations be made every six months.

It is true that 750,000 Americans are blind in one eye. These people especially should be sure to have frequent eye examinations. Vision is one of our most precious possessions. Protect your vision—make an appointment to see your ophthalmologist or optometrist soon.

Thoroughbreds To Arrive Monday At Delaware Park

Bustling activity in Delaware Park's vast stable area is just around the corner, and not long after that, the opening of the track's 1969 thoroughbred race meeting of 61 days.

The vanguard of 1,400 horses will begin taking up residence in 45 barns next Monday, and 11 days later, Delaware Park's 32nd meeting will get underway on Friday, May 30.

One doughball disappeared from a hook while we were flipping a fly and spinner combination around the shoreline away from a still-fishing rig, in a futile quest for panfish, bass and pickerel. And a boy caught a nice bass on a worm from a spot we had just fished hard. But these proved to be Saturday highlights.

Just before falling asleep at the Phillies ball game on TV, we cajoled Mr. Mumford into trying Brandon Davis' favorite fishing spot again, and with the remainder of Saturday's dough bait sundae, went back to Lum's Pond Sunday afternoon.

Just as we took refuge in the car parked beside the water, to avoid a rain squall, the cork floated disappeared and the spinning rod whirled into a straining arc from its brace in a forked stick on the shore.

There was a powerful thrust on the line, we set the hook — and the light monofilament suddenly snapped.

After the previous afternoon's fishing without a strike, it was a bit sickening to suddenly hook a big fish and lose it because of a broken line, in an apparent last chance.

Putting on another rig for the spinning tackle and adding an extra bait line trailing from the flyrod with no float, we resumed fishing — and the carp began to bite.

The flyrod line suddenly tightened, the tip strained, and the hook was set into a carp that surged off with real power, peeling yardage off the reel.

Around and around he went with the line hissing through the surface, and as the fish began to tire at long last, it took a great golden tail and mailed flank in chuming swirls — a reasonable facsimile of the famed red puppy drum of the Carolina shore.

"That's some fish!" Carroll Mumford exclaimed in real delight as we slid a spent six-pound length of carp onto the sandy beach.

After missing several good strikes, the flyrod reel buzzed and the rod was nearly yanked out of its forked stick rest into the pond as we made a dive from the car during another rain squall.

During the 15-minutes required to tame this six-pounder, the carp attracted an audience from cars in the area, including a young soldier just returned from some tough going in Vietnam.

"That's wonderful sport," the Vietnam veteran volunteered. "And on a flyrod. I'm going to catch up on my fishing — with carp."

Skipper Charlie Shaffer of the Starfish Operating out of South Jersey's Sea Isle City Fishing Center, writes last Sunday:

"Just how much longer the current red hot mackerel fishing can hold up is certainly doubtful, but if not another mackerel is caught, certainly no one is going to complain. Chalk this up as another banner mackerel season."

"Sea Isle party boats are still reeling up fabulous catches just 20 minutes east of Townsend's Inlet, and early dockings have been the rule rather than exception, with most patrons completely fished out."

"The past week's mackerel fishing has far surpassed the previous week when mackerel schools seemed a bit broken with a few bulls in the fishing. The current fishing is consistent with hardly any let-up."

Coach Bob Turnberger's Vikings beat Wilmington High with 15 hits in defeating the Red Devils 14-0 at Christiansa last Tuesday afternoon after ending the DeLaWarr visitors 5-4 in 10 innings with Monday's game after Friday's postponement.

In Monday's win over the Lions, Catcher Tom Hornung singled to lead off the home half of the 10th inning, and scored the winning run on Centerfielder Glenn Thompson's triple.

Tied for third with a 4-2 record in the Blue Hen Conference A-Flight, Turnberger's Vikings play away at 4-1 Dickinson this Friday, and at winless Mt. Pleasant next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

All-State Quarter Dobroski to Attend Dartmouth In Fall

Salesman All-State Quarterback Chuck Dobroski will attend Dartmouth in September.

Dartmouth Coach Bob Blackburn said "Dobroski was our No. 1 high school prospect this year. We are happy to have him and know he will fit well into our program."

Blackburn said Dobroski will receive a scholarship.

Dobroski, voted the top player in Wilmington last season by the News-Journal sports department, sparked the Sals to an undefeated record.

The 188-pounder, who also won letters in swimming and track is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Dobroski of 80 Mercer Drive, Brookside.

OFF AND RUNNING by Jo'n I. Day Won Derby? Which One?

If after buying a Thoroughbred which his owner had claimed was a Derby winner you failed to find him listed anywhere between Aristides (1875) and Dancer's Image (1968) don't do anything rash.

To the average respondent to a "gallop" poll there are but two Derbies, one a rarely-worn road, hard hat (also called a Bowler) and the other a race for three-year-olds annually run on the first Saturday in May at Churchill Downs in Louisville. There are, however, no less than 40 other Derbies run each year, six of them worth $100,000 plus nomination and entry fees.

The American Derby, California Derby, Florida Derby, Hollywood Derby, Jersey Derby and Santa Anita Derby are each rich and important races in their own right. The fact remains, there is but one Kentucky Derby.

Other Derbies range from the hundred granders mentioned down to the Pikes Peak Meadows which, at Pikes Peak Meadows last year, was worth $750. A Derby is traditionally a classic event for three-year-olds, but the name has so much magic that tracks have programmed stakes for two-year-olds calling them the Junior Derby and Freshman Derby.

Fair Hill Racing Slated Next Week For Hospital Aid

Parti-mutuel thoroughbred racing in a hunt meet setting will be offered next week at Fair Hill on Route 273, four miles from Newark.

A six-race program has been scheduled for next Wednesday with a first race post time of 4:30 p.m.

Another six-race card has been arranged for Saturday, May 24, with a first post time of 2 p.m.

There is a possibility, according to race committee chairman J. H. Tyler McConnell and racing secretary John E. Cooper, that Saturday's program will be extended through a seventh race. This will be determined by the number of entries.

Daily double wagering will be available on the first two races, both to be run over Fair Hill's refurbished turf course.

The feature event on the late Wednesday afternoon schedule will be the first running of the $2,500 Kelso Steeplechase, while Saturday's headliner will be the $3,000-added National Steeplechase. Both main events will be run at "about two miles."

The Kelso is designed for younger, less experienced steeplechasers, while the division's more seasoned campaigners will compete in the National.

Encouraged by record attendance and wagering totals at last September's meeting, McConnell and his committee associates have undertaken important construction at Fair Hill.

The pari-mutuel facility has been expanded; the timber course has been completely rebuilt, and the hurdles course has been realigned. The latter two projects were undertaken to provide greater safety for horsemen as well as providing better visibility for spectators.

All proceeds of the spring meeting, the first in Fair Hill's 30-year history, will be directed to the Union Hospital of nearby Elkton. Union Hospital has been the beneficiary of Fair Hill's autumn meetings since 1951.

Battle Of Brandywine Feature For Saturday

Brandywine Raceway, which opened its 17th season last Monday with a 100-night meet, will present the first of eight major stake and invitational races worth some $200,000 in purse money this Saturday.

It's the $25,000-added Battle of the Brandywine, restricted to three-year-old pacers; and indications are that the field will include the best sophomores in the nation with at least $35,000 up for grabs.

Self-righteous people often owe their reputations to lack of temptation. — M. Gene Dow, Van Horn (Tex.) Advocate.

"Local skippers, as well as myself, are now experiencing the old familiar complaints. 'We (the anglers), don't want any more mackerel.' In fact, a drop in clientele no doubt is due to too many mackerel. If only we could suppress these fish throughout the summer when catches become lean."

"To please, or try to please our customers, we are switching over to wreck fishing where some ling and sea bass are to be had."

"And the wrecks are even producing mackerel for those who still want to fish for them." Cap'n Shaffer concludes.

Fulghum's Jackets Beat Lions 11-4, Lose To Bulldogs

In a near equally divided 21-hit parade last Tuesday, Coach Francis Fulghum's Yellowjackets collected 11 safeties to defeat the Lions by 11-4 at DeLaWarr and balance Newark's season record at 3-3 in Blue Hen Conference A-flight play.

Leftfielder Steve Repole collected three hits in five trips with two RBI; Third Baseman Tom Stopyra drove in runs in a two-for-four plate performance; and Rightfielder Dave Chapman collected two hits in three trips, batting in one run.

Winning Pitcher Rich Widdows struck out 10 and belted a triple to help his own cause along.

The Yellowjackets face a pair of home stands — with 2-3 Wilmington High this Friday, and against 4-1 Dickinson on Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Hen Netmen Eliminated In Tourney First Round

Delaware's entrants in the Middle Atlantic Conference tennis championships in singles and doubles were first-round victims last Friday.

BUSINESS BULLETINS

Many investors consider a generous dividend sufficient reason for buying a company's stock. Maybe so. Maybe not so.

According to a recent issue of Investor's Reader, a helpful magazine of interest to all investors, you shouldn't always pass over a stock because it yields a low dividend. It's a good idea to check the balance sheet in the company's annual report for the amount of earnings.

Actually, it is frequently more beneficial — to a company and its shareholders — for the company to pay little or nothing in dividends and to plow the maximum amount of earnings back into the business. The reason is, that by retaining earnings, a company may avoid issuing new stocks or borrowing at today's high interest rates. Reinvestment of retained earnings could enable a company to grow, and hopefully, to increase profits.

Thus, investors should think twice before rejecting a stock simply because it pays a less than generous cash dividend. Look what happened to Xerox and IBM over the long run.

Len Savage Leads Yellowjacket Victory Over Lions With High, Low Hurdles Wins

Len Savage led Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjackets to a 67 1/2-54 1/2 win over the Lions at DeLaWarr last Monday afternoon, as Savage won the high hurdles in 15.4 and finished first over the 180-yard low hurdle course in 21.9.

Gary Hobday, senior transfer student from Michigan, finished second to Savage over the 120-yard hurdles with Marc Straus taking third for a Newark sweep; and Hobday was third over the low obstacle route.

Neil Garner was second in the 100 won by DeLaWarr's Howard

Garner and Savage finished second and third in the 220, and John Rolfe won the two-mile race in 11:12 followed by Greg Rolfe in second place.

The Yellowjacket team of Hobday, Dave Whitman, Guizzetti and Bruce Weber won the mile relay in 3:40.1.

Eric Mayer and Weber tied for first in the pole vault at 10-ft., and Chris Dunn high jumped to a first place 6-3 1/4.

Steve Strumbeck took second in the long jump, and Newark swept the discus with John Hrycak's heave of 138.6, followed by Randy McDonald and Robinson.

Ciesinski's track and field squad was defeated 88-37 by the unbeaten Brandywine visitors at Newark on Wednesday last week.

Taking firsts for the Yellowjackets were Straus over the 120-yd. hurdles in 15.4; Garner with a 220 in 23.5; Dunn with a 6-3 1/4 high jump; and Hrycak with a 136-6 discus toss.

The Yellowjackets, 4-2 in the Blue Hen Conference A-Flight, host 4-2 Dickinson next Monday.

Capt. Joe Purzycki Succeeds Novotny As Blue Hen Chief

Joe Purzycki, a junior from Point Pleasant, N.J., has been elected captain of the 1969 Delaware football team.

Purzycki, 22, has been a starter as a defensive back for two years in a row. He was a particular standout in the defensive secondary last year when Delaware won the Middle Atlantic Conference championship, the Lambert Cup and the Boardwalk Bowl.

"Joe is the right man in the right place at the right time," says Blue Hen Coach Tubby Raymond. "He is just the type of leader an experienced team needs."

The new Hen captain is the younger brother of former Blue Hen spread receiver Mike Purzycki and had ambitions of being a receiver himself. He has sacrificed the attention and glory of being an offensive end in order to bolster the defensive secondary.

"Joe recognized that we needed help in the defensive backfield and he has done the job for us," Raymond notes. "He gave evidence this spring of being a very mature ball player."

A 5-11 and 190-pound cornerback, Purzycki was an All-State, All-Conference and All-County performer at Our Lady of the Valley 7th School in Overton, N.J. He attended Bordentown (N.J.) Military Institute for one year before coming to Delaware.

Generally regarded as one of the top tacklers on the Blue Hens' defensive unit, Purzycki has had his share of interceptions. He ran an interception back 42 yards for a touchdown in 1967 against Hofstra and last year returned three interceptions 4' yards.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Purzycki, he is a physical education major and a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Mrs. Harry McCavana Scores NCC Hole-In-One

Mrs. Harry McCavana scored a hole-in-one at the Newark Country Club in Ladies Day play on May 6.

Competing in the Blind Hole Tournament with Mrs. Eleanor Fitzwilliam and Mrs. Doris Westcott, Mrs. McCavana used a No. 3 iron for her ace on the 123-yard second hole.

Hobday, Savage, Straus, Strumbeck Set Relay Mark

The Yellowjacket team set a meet record 10:47 over the 480-yard hurdles at the Peninsula Relays last Saturday in Wilmington's Baynard Stadium.
