Town of Newark and University Plunge Over Estimated Library Quota on First Day

Drive, Which Opened Yesterday Noon, is Rolling Along to Sure Success—Hope to Finish Canvass Late Tonight

Women's College First to Reach Goal

The call to the campaign for the State War Memorial Library was sounded throughout the University and the town of Newark at meetings held Monday evening and Tuesday morning of this week. Newark proper is undergoing a thorough canvass which will end tomorrow, at which time it is confidently expected she will go far over the estimated returns. Throughout both the colleges and the town there is an eagerness to be away on the drive for funds. The various workers, headed by their team captains are going ahead with the enormous work of seeing a member of each household in town with an earnestness and thoroughness of purpose which cannot be denied.

At the time the Post goes to press, the drive is at its height and it is impossible to procure up to the minute returns from the workers now out on their territories. However, from the results so far, the success of the drive in this community is already assured. The high lights of the campaign to date are as follows:

The members of the Rehabilitation Division of the University have guaranteed to raise the sum of $3000 for a Memorial Room in the building, of which sum over half has already been raised.

The Women's College of Delaware, Miss C. L. Jackson, chairman, were the first group to reach 100 per cent. At nine o'clock this morning, they reported their drive among the students completed with a total amount raised of $3128.50.

The combined Faculty of the University had 85 per cent of their quota raised by eight o'clock last night. Total to date: $3414.00.

Mrs. Duffy, captain of Newark Team No. 2, with only seventeen pledges, announced the total from that small number to be $1313.00.

The residents of Choate Street were coming through at the rate of 100 per cent at a late hour last night.

The colored citizens of the town of Newark are hard at work and at the last report had passed well over the $500 mark.

These few facts clearly demonstrate the temper of local people towards the War Memorial. Despite the fact of business pressures, the leaders of the drive have been travelling at top speed for forty-eight hours in an effort to bring Newark up to the highest possible standing. Mr. Perry Burgess, Director of the State Wide has been actively supervising the work and when reports came in at the meeting in Old College last night, he hardly believed that the community in so short a time had raised close to $18,000.00 for the campaign. He was loud in his praise for the wonderful showing.

The drive will be brought to a close either late tonight or tomorrow morning. The teams are putting on a fresh burst of speed and hope to clean up their districts before midnight. Newark has awakened to the call to duty and has responded nobly. The example which she will set before tomorrow morning home of the great building has signified her great desire to add this new addition to her growing life, not by aimless bursts of words and gestures, but by actual dollars and cents, given out in their appreciation of the great Memorial to Delaware's soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice, and who nobly upheld the glorious heritage of this little State.

MASS MEETING IN WOLF HALL OPENS STUDENT DRIVE

Time Campaign Fever Hits Undergraduates and Faculty

Monday morning at eleven o'clock the student bodies of the University gathered in the auditorium of Wolf Hall for a giant mass meeting in preparation for the active drive for the State War Memorial Library which began on the stroke of noon.

NEWARK CAMPAIGN TEAMS SWING INTO ACTION

Meet in Old College to Perfect Plans for Two-Day Drive

Team Workers Already on Job

The citizens of Newark who are directly interested in the War Memorial Library got together at the call of Mr. Perry Burgess, General Director of the Campaign, in Old College, Monday evening and completed final plans for the canvassing of the entire town of Newark and vicinity. The meeting was held in conjunction with the workers of the University, but they were given their instructions and departed early leaving the town committees to work unhampered.

The main work which was undertaken at this meeting consisted in the

State Teachers Plan Annual Convention

At a meeting of the program committee of the Delaware State Teachers' Association, held at Newark yesterday afternoon, tentative plans were made for the annual convention to be held November 9 and 10. It is probable that it will be held at Dover.

The committee, consisting of David A. Ward, superintendent of schools, of Wilmington, Miss Agnes Snyder, of the Women's College, and Warren T. Yerger, principal of the Alexis I. duPont High School, outlined a program as follows:

November 9—Morning session, greetings and introductory addresses by state school superintendents followed by music and addresses by two prominent speakers.

The afternoon session will be devoted to sectional meetings of primary, grammar and high school teachers. This will be followed by a dinner in the evening.

At the morning session of the second day, November 10, two addresses will be made: One by Wallace W. Atwood, president of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., and another by a speaker to be announced later.

Only one speaker has been engaged so far for the afternoon session. He is Dr. Wagner, the superintendent of the Chester schools.

Miss Snyder, of the Women's College, is a member of the Executive Committee of the Association.

President Harding to Come to Delaware

According to a Washington dispatch, Senator L. Heister Ball today arranged an appointment at the White House for tomorrow morning to present Dr. W. R. Grier, of Milford. He will ask the President to come to Delaware to take a degree in the Tall Cedars of Lebanon, one of the oldest lodges in the State.

President Harding has had an application for membership in this organization for some time, but owing to pressing official business has been unable to find time to come to Delaware for the occasion. In fact the President made application to the Milford lodge shortly after his inauguration.

Dr. Gibson and Wife Holding Special Services

Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Gibson, of Lawndale, Philadelphia, are spending the current week with Rev. Herson of the local Methodist Episcopal Church. The object of their visit is the conducting of special services each night in the Church, continuing the balance of this week and next. The audiences which have greeted Dr. and Mrs. Gibson up to this time have been particularly encouraging and at many of the meetings have overflowed into the aisles.

Dr. and Mrs. Gibson preach on alternate evenings, Mrs. Gibson being an authorized pastor of the M. E. Church and one of the first women to be so ordained. Beside their work in the pulpit, the visitors both have beautiful voices and are very liberal in their incomes.

There will be special meetings held for both men and women. Also arrangements are being made to hold services for the Sunday school and for the various Lodges of the town.

In speaking of the outlook in Newark, Dr. Gibson declared that he was much impressed by the beauty of the town and is very happy to be here in Delaware. He looks forward to a most successful campaign.

JAMES E. STAFFORD

James E. Stafford, aged 63 years, died at the Edgewood Sanatorium, on September 23rd. Funeral services were held on Tuesday at the A. U. M. P. Church and interment made in the Newark Cemetery.

NEW CENTURY CLUB Interesting and Profitable Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon

An unusually large number of members gathered at the New Century Club yesterday afternoon to discuss business matters and also to enjoy good music and a "Conversation Ball" as well as refreshing cup of tea, provided by Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Pilling.

At the business meeting all were in favor of giving a Club Luncheon on November 1st. Each Club in the State will be asked to send a representative. The club program and further notice of the Club Luncheon will be given in the press later.

An invitation was given to all members to attend a reception to be given to the Public School Teachers by the Parent-Teacher Association and the New Century Club on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Also an invitation was extended by Mrs. Evans to hear Mrs. Maud Woods Parke talk on the "Duties of Citizenship" at the New Century Club, Wilmington, on October 4th, at four o'clock.

After the business meeting, Mr. Johnson Rowan, accompanied by Mr. Tilghman, sang two songs which were very much appreciated by the club members. All were delighted to hear Mrs. Ingham sing the "Armenian Lullaby," accompanied by her sister, Miss Ann Ritz.

Mrs. Ingham was a former member of the club. It was a pleasure to have a visit with Mrs. Ingham as well as to listen to her musical voice.

More Town Improvements

Dr. R. Casperson, of Atlantic City, who recently purchased the old Cooch house on West Main street, has been in town for a few days, superintending the remodeling of the old property. The alterations will be completed by October 15th.

The stately old trees along the east side of Academy street have been sacrificed on the altar of civic improvement. All of which means that Academy street will soon be a splendid new thoroughfare.

Walter Powell has made extensive improvements on his restaurant property on Main street and now is in a position to accommodate many more guests than ever before. In addition to the handsome new front, the interior of the restaurant has undergone a complete change. More tables have been provided and the general appearance of the hostelry has been greatly improved.

Faculty Club Elects Officers For the Coming Year

The Faculty Club of the University of Delaware held its fourth annual meeting in the club rooms last Monday evening, at which time officers and standing committees were elected to serve for the coming year. The following men were chosen to lead the Club:

President: Dean C. A. McCue. Vice-President: R. B. Harris. Secretary and Treasurer: A. G. Wilkinson. Executive Committee: Dean C. A. McCue, chairman; C. O. Houghton, Thomas F. Manns. Social Committee: Major L. B. Row, chairman; C. J. Rees, F. M. K. Foster.

Many interesting and instructive entertainments have been planned for the forthcoming season, and it is hoped that the Club will continue to maintain its high position in the affairs of the University.

One of the features of the meeting was the election by unanimous vote of Mr. Everett C. Johnson of Newark as a member of the Club.

REPUBLICANS PLAN RALLIES

Conferences Held in City Today Arrange for Mass Meetings

BALL, BUPONT TO SPEAK SATURDAY

Republican leaders from all parts of the State attended a conference early this afternoon with the members of the Republican State Executive Committee when matters pertaining to the campaign were discussed and plans also made for some mass meetings to be held in the near future.

A meeting of the State Executive Committee was held at State Republican headquarters, No. 2 East Ninth street, and later a conference was held in Parlors A and B, Hotel duPont. Among those who attended the conference were Senator T. Coleman duPont, Congressman Caleb R. Layton, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Harry H. Billany, Colonel Thomas W. Miller, former Governor John G. Townsend, former Congressman William H. Heald, Charles H. Grantland and many others.

It was announced that the opening Republican mass meeting of the campaign will be held in the Playhouse at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Senator L. Heister Ball will preside at this meeting and speeches will be made by Senator duPont and Congressman Layton.

First Assistant Postmaster General John H. Bartlett, formerly governor of New Hampshire and also formerly president of the Civil Service Commission, will be the principal speaker at the meeting Saturday night. Mr. Bartlett is said to be one of the most fluent speakers in the country. He will be remembered by those who attended the banquet of the Maryland Society of Delaware last February, as the speaker on that occasion.

Plans have also been made for a Republican business men's luncheon to be held in the duBarry room at the Hotel duPont at 12.30 o'clock next Tuesday to further the Republican campaign.

Mass meetings will also be held at Georgetown, Seaford, Milford and Dover in the near future and plans are under way for other meetings to be held in Wilmington.

Choral Club Reorganizes

The first meeting of the Newark Choral Club for the current season is called for Monday evening, October 9, in the High School at 7.15 o'clock. This notice marks the active beginning of the Club's second year as a distinct Newark institution, and it is hoped that the citizens of the town will continue their active interest in its welfare. Miss Dora Wilcox will direct the Club again and she is particularly anxious to gather in many more members. There is no need to point out the value of such an organization to the community. The support of all music lovers is needed and they will undoubtedly be amply repaid by a series of musical treats during the coming season.

WEATHER FOR THE WEEK

Generally fair, but with probability of local showers latter part of week. Temperature above normal.

Elkton Suburb Growing

The announcement early in the week that over thirty lots, ranging in price from $350 to $400 each, had been sold in the new home site development of Elkton Heights, on the northern edge of town, has given rise to considerable speculation on the future of the new boom. The land is unquestionably well situated and the lots are roomy and well arranged. Whether the town fathers approve of present day real estate methods is somewhat doubtful. Their aid so far has been something less than nothing. Quite naturally, the staid leaders of the town have gained wonderful popularity among the younger, and more progressive men. It is sincerely hoped that a worthy cause will be pushed along to success, despite the apparent lethargy of Council.

B. W. Green, formerly employed on the State Experimental farm has taken possession of the frame house in the rear of Handlett's department store. Mr. Green spent the latter part of last week in moving to his new home.

CORN GROWERS PLAN SHOW

Invitation of Dover Chamber of Commerce Accepted by Association

Mr. M. O. Pence, secretary of the Delaware Corn Growers Association, has received and accepted an invitation from the Dover Chamber of Commerce to hold their annual Corn Show in that town during the first week in January. This affair is of great interest to corn growers throughout the State and plans are now being laid to make this show the largest and best attended in recent years. Mr. Pence is very anxious to get in touch with all members of the association and their families interested in the project.

The Association again offers a Challenge Cup for the best boy corn judge of the State. This signal honor has been won for the past two years by young Stanley Short, of Cheswold. Mr. Short announces that in the event he wins the third leg on the cup and permanent possession thereof of this year, he will replace the cup in the contest for future competition. This action on the part of the young champion is deserving of much praise and shows the real interest taken in the work by the young people of the State.

A premium list, soon to be made out, calls for cash prizes of more than $500, which will be given to the fortunate winners at the end of the Show.

The Vocational Agricultural Schools of the State will also hold their Corn Judging Contests for boys during and in conjunction with the big State Show. The whole affair is in the hands of capable men and should prove to be a great success from all angles and a worth while feature in state agricultural activities.

Firemen On Outing

About twenty members of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. of this place, led by Chief E. C. Wilson, rambled down to Havre de Grace last Thursday evening and attended the street carnival there as guests of the Havre de Grace firemen. The trip was made in their big fire truck and from all accounts the hospitality and good time furnished by their hosts was well worth the trip.

Orchard Ridge an Attractive Real Estate Section

Need of More Room Plainly Felt in Newark —Latest Development Sure to be a Success

Recent Purchases Mark Revival of Interest

The tract of land west of Depot Road and extending from Amstel Avenue on the north to Park Place on the south, and known generally among Newark residents as Orchard Ridge, bids fair to become one of the most attractive and valuable real estate developments in this section of the State. A casual trip over the ground by The Post representative disclosed many surprises and interesting features connected with the improvements of the tract. The past summer disclosed few changes of an active nature, but in real estate circles it is confidentially whispered that the Orchard Ridge tract is due for a rapid boom in the near future. Whether or not this rumor is authentic is a matter of conjecture, but such a well situated and attractive residential section cannot but eventually be in great demand.

For the benefit of those who have not been actively connected with the project, a few plain facts as to the history and future plans of the tract might be of some value. The land itself is owned by the Greater Newark Development Co., an organization consisting chiefly of Newark business men. It contains about thirty acres in all, and is bounded on the north by Amstel Avenue and on the south by Park Place. Westward it runs from Depot Road to a point beyond Orchard road. The terrain is in the shape of a low ridge and is extremely well drained. In fact, there is hardly a more desirable spot within convenient distance of the center of town upon which to build. Two streets, as yet unnamed, have been cut through the heart of the tract, running from Depot road to the westward border of the land, but their improvement and permanency depend solely upon the extent of building along them. The chief activity in recent months is centered along both sides of Orchard road. In addition to the four or five houses already completed, practically all the desirable lots adjoining have either been sold or are held under options. Gradually, however, the lack of space in this area will tend to develop the more roomy lots along the two new streets and westward of Orchard road. Considering that the active development of the tract has consumed little more than a year, considerable progress has been made, and there is reason to believe that a few years will see the Orchard road section a permanent and choice part of Greater Newark.

Several Recent Deals

In a quiet way and perhaps unknown to many citizens, several important real estate deals have been closed during the past few months, which are directly connected with this latest development. The Post realizes the need of dependable authority for such matters, and the deplorable results derived from misquoted statements and hasty conjectures, but in this case it feels free to disclose a few of the outstanding transfers.

Beside large blocks of land owned by J. P. Wright, E. B. Wright, George L. Townsend, and S. J. Wright, many other desirable sites are held under option and their sale is awaited daily. Chief among the deals closed during the past week or two is the purchase by W. H. Evans from George L. Medill of a tract 70 feet by 300 feet on the west side of Orchard road, adjoining the property of Norris N. Wright. Mr. Evans desires the price to be withheld for the present.

It is also rumored that Professor George E. Dutton will shortly purchase a desirable lot along Orchard road, with the intention of erecting a splendid new house. In addition to these two activities many options are now held by prominent Newark men. The results attained by them may be looked for in an early issue.

Newark Outgrowing Its Clothes

It is a well known fact that more room is needed in Newark. Not so many years ago, Main street, with just a few exceptions, was the sum and substance of the real estate dealer's living. Newark has long been called a "one street" town. All things business and social have for years centered along this old thoroughfare, and will no doubt continue to do so. But conditions have become too crowded. Scores of new stores, shops, tea rooms, restaurants, movies and ice cream palaces have slowly but surely crowded out the residences. The world of commerce and trade has little regard for an old resident who wishes to sun himself on the front porch in quiet and solitude. Those days, as the late Bert Williams so aptly puts it, "am went."

So the only thing left for Newark to do is to expand its borders. The rapid influx of business into this little town has stretched its existing limitations beyond repair. The only graceful way out is the improvement and quick development of land directly adjoining the town limits and the providing of moderately priced and attractive building sites for the newcomers as well as the older residents. Such a plan is that of the Greater Newark Development Co.

The plan is commendable in every sense of the word. It has passed far beyond the stages of a speculative land scheme. The Orchard road tract is the answer to the increasing demand of the average citizen for a little home, a little lawn, a few trees and comfort. The great trend of movement today is towards the open places, and in a small way that same trend is in evidence right here in Newark. More power to Orchard Ridge.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Chief Lutz Gives Views on Campaign; Also Some Advice

Wilmington has inaugurated its annual Fire Prevention Week. The city proper and the surrounding country are being reached in an extensive campaign to eliminate carelessness and the general disregard of fire ordinances. In relation to this subject, Fire Chief W. J. Lutz of Wilmington gives some very common sense advice to the readers of The Post. He is quoted as follows:

"Don't test your tractor, engine or automobile in a barn or stable. Many times you can get away with it, but at other times there have been fires that have destroyed much property, all of which could have been avoided if precaution had been taken.

"Don't smoke when you are filling the tank of your automobile or tractor. This is another menace that more times than not results in a fire. Keep your gasoline in a tightly stoppered can or bottle or tank. If you have a tank place it away from other buildings so that in case it catches fire it only will be burned.

"Above all things, don't attempt to fill a lamp or lantern when it is lighted. Don't attempt to clean the lamp or lantern while it is lighted, and the best time to do the cleaning is in the daytime, when we all are able to see better.

"Ninety-nine per cent of all the fires are due to the fact that we temporarily lose or forget our common sense. We get in too big a hurry or attempt to do things such as fill a lantern after dark, when we know we shouldn't or else only while exercising the most care.

"If persons would only stop and reason before they do many of the foolish things they do, there would not be so many accidents and fires.

"In every state in the union and in every city and village, someone is attending to the details of Fire Prevention Week, this week. The request to clean up cellars and attics, and study fire prevention methods comes from President Harding, down to Governor Denney, who also appeals to Delawareans to do their part. Luncheon clubs, the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions organizations are all co-operating, churches and pastors, and civic organizations lending their aid—all for the general good. In this campaign it's not a question of giving money, it's service and in a service in which all will share mutually."

Her Wonder

There are questions that have puzzled the thinking world for ages—Who was the man in the iron mask? Who struck Billy Patterson? Who wrote Shakespeare's plays? Who killed Cock Robin? And, of all things, who dragged whom how many times around the walls of what?

But the answers to all these she would willingly forego could she know who was the man who telephoned last night and didn't leave his name!—Saturday Evening Post.

DELAWARE BOYS AND GIRLS WIN HONORS

Club Members Return from Springfield Exposition With Remarkable Records

That Delaware stands second to none in the standard of Boys' and Girls' Club Work being done under direction of the Extension Department of the University of Delaware, was again ably demonstrated by the twelve Delaware club members who returned home last week from the Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Massachusetts.

At Springfield, the boys and girls from Delaware were members of Camp Vail, with club members representing twelve other Eastern States. Teams of three members each, representing the different states, took part in judging and demonstrating contests, representative of the various lines of club work which the members were doing at home. As a result of their high class work, each boy and girl from Delaware was awarded a blue ribbon for "meritorious performance" in demonstration better practices in agriculture and home making, and a gold medal for all around proficiency in judging and demonstrating.

The boys' team representing the Greenwood On The Go Club, and consisting of Earle Meredith, Edwin Unger, and Emmert Judy, placed first in corn judging. The Houston team made up of Emerson Sapp, Harold Johnson, and Burnham Simpson placed third in corn judging.

The Sunnyside Canning Club team, including Margaret Baker, and Katherine and Francis Passwaters, of Bridgeville, placed first in judging canned products. These girls gave a public demonstration of jelly making and made a big hit with the boys of the camp by serving them with jelly sandwiches.

Edith McCarns, Margaret Jarmon and Rebecca Hutchison constituted the Clover Leaf Club team from Newark, and placed fourth in clothing judging in hot competition with seven other teams. These girls gave a splendid demonstration of home millinery and to show the practical side of their work wore the dresses and hats which they made themselves.

The Greenwood boys made the highest team score on judging, of any boys' team in Camp Vail, and the Houston team stood third.

Individually, Delaware club members ranked among the highest in the camp. Burnham Simpson, of Houston, judging corn, made the highest judging score of any club member in Camp Vail, in any project, and Earle Meredith, of Greenwood, stood third in this respect.

The older club members were given an intelligence test similar to the tests given in our public schools. Earle Meredith was the only boy in Camp Vail who successfully passed all the requirements of the test. Margaret Baker, of Bridgeville, ranked just below the only girl in camp to pass the test.

Aside from their duties as members of Camp Vail, the boys and girls had opportunity to see some of the finest exhibits of live stock and farm products ever developed in the United States.

They were presented to many prominent State and Government officials and had opportunities to study club methods practiced in other States.

One of the purposes of Camp Vail is to train club members to become future club leaders. The lessons learned in the development of Head, Heart, Health and Hands, will be carried back to Delaware by these boys and girls. Already three of the teams have planned to hold community meetings, where they will tell the people of their neighborhood the message of Camp Vail.

Welsh Track P. T. A. Elects Officers

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Welsh Tract School met on Wednesday of last week and elected the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. W. M. Coverdale, President; Mrs. Hutchinson, Treasurer, and Miss Emily Carpenter, Secretary.

Plans for the year were taken up and discussed. It was decided to buy a victrola and some playground equipment for the school. Arrangements were also made for a Halloween Party to be held for the children later in the month.

A story is told of a continental traveler who brought with him into the restaurant car an enormous bag which he deposited by the side of the table.

The conductor promptly rebuked him, saying: "You mustn't bring that bag in here. You must put your luggage in the van."

"That's not my luggage," was the reply. "I'm going to Austria; that's my purse."—Toronto Telegram.

ELKTON PLANS BIG DOINGS

Neighboring Town Again Takes the Limelight With Hallowe'en Celebration—Novel Features and Lots of Fun Promised

$500 in Prizes to be Awarded

Spooks, Goblins, Fairies, Hoboes, Millionaires, Clowns, Bootleggers, beautiful girls and dancing boys. Can you imagine a more cosmopolitan crowd? These ladies and gentlemen and many more of their select neighbors and friends will descend upon staid old Elkton and for one night will take over the streets for an orgy of fun and frolic. The occasion will be the annual Hallowe'en parade and contest for prizes which is fast becoming one of the features of Elkton's Fall activities.

The business men of the town and vicinity are heartily behind this project and to show their approval and interest the sum of $500 will be given away in prizes to the various outstanding costumes. The whole town is agog over the parade and from all accounts nearly every household and business firm will be represented by a float or a costumed goblin. The spirit of Hallowe'en clings year after year and it is a most commendable act to keep up the interest in this unusual and popular American tradition.

The organization in preparation for the coming event has been selected and their names are given below. The date set for the big night is Tuesday, October 31st, and the people of Newark and surrounding towns are cordially invited to come over and join the party. Several prizes were brought back to Newark last year, and the winners are anxious to repeat.

The officers and chairmen of committees follow:

Chairman, William Feeley; Treasurer, Herman Mezick; Secretary, Sidney Lipman. Finance, John McCool; Prizes, W. H. Gardner; Printing, Harry Cleaves; Arrangements, H. W. Lewis; Music, Sterling Dunbar; Registration, Sidney Lipman; Lights, Calvin Fox; Fireworks, J. B. Decker, R. V. Criswell, John Buckley, Ed. Phillips.

ELKTON CHURCH REFUSED PETITION

The New Castle Presbytery, at their meeting in Frankford, Del., yesterday refused the application of the Elkton Presbyterian Church to be transferred to the Baltimore Presbytery. The vote was over two to one. The Presbytery of New Castle flatly stated its position with regard to the action of the Elkton Church, and emphasized their attitude by an overwhelming vote.

But instead of settling the controversy for all time, and bringing peace to the discontented flock of our neighboring town, the decision only served to fan the flames of defiance and bitterness to greater heights. It had been hoped by all concerned that some sort of working agreement could be reached during the current meeting of the Presbytery but the outlook for peace is very dim at present.

The disgruntled members of the church in question have even threatened to disassociate themselves entirely from the Presbytery. In answer, the ruling body declares such action would constitute open and flagrant rebellion against the Church. The body further stated, through its spokesman, Rev. John MacMurray of Newark, that in case such action was taken by the Elkton church, legal proceedings will be instituted to compel the congregation to vacate the edifice.

The whole matter has come to the showdown, according to those who have followed the battle from the start, and it seems that one or the other of the contending factions must give way. The spectacle of such a series of internal fights among the members of the same denomination is not exactly elevating to say the least, and should be stopped once for all.

Shiftless

Mose and Sam were digging a trench over in France. Although not in an especially safe spot, for a time they were unconscious of their danger. Then a shell flew over their heads and exploded just beyond. Others followed. At the fifth explosion Mose asked inquiringly:

"Sam, don't you all think it's about time we-all done got religion?"

"Chuff!" retorted Sam scornfully. "Mose, you're sutenly is tholy shiftless boy, Me, I done got religion when de fust bomb bust."—American Legion Weekly.

HOWARD BERRY AT DELAWARE

The announcement that J. Howard Berry, one of the best backs who ever stepped into cleated shoes, has been engaged to help Coach McAvoy with Delaware's punters, brings us back to the days when he used to thrill the football followers of Penn. Much has been said and written both for and against Berry, yet he has not become lost in the shuffle of the sporting world. Moreover, the football world misses him. He was dashing and brilliant in everything he did on the gridiron. He had football instinct; he had brains; above all, he had ambition. With these three characteristics firmly imbedded in his system, he went out there and played marvelous football.

Berry can greatly help McAvoy in developing a dependable punter for the Blue and Gold. He has mastered the technique of punting, and certainly should prove a valuable aid in that department. Somehow, we wish, in the course of his demonstrations, he would accidentally drop the secret of those twisting, tearing off tackle thrusts of his to some Delaware back. They were beautiful things to see.

The well known fact that the French never lose their innate courtesy, no matter what the occasion, was recently demonstrated at the end of the Carpentier-Siki brawl, when the flaming Georges, battered and bleeding from the terrible beating he had received, was regaining his senses in his corner. The first words which passed his swollen lips were, "Women and children first, don't bother with me."

A GOOD SHOW

The final curtain was rung down on organized baseball for the season of 1922 on Monday, when the New York Yankees downed the Red Sox and clinched the American League flag. This was accomplished only after one of the bitterest races on record. The St. Louis Browns came on with a rush in the last three games, but lost their first pennant by the margin of just one game.

A word about the Browns. Here was a team which for downright earnestness and fight had no peer in the league. They were no collection of high priced stars, were these big men from the Mound City. With the exception of George Sisler, they were not outstanding ball players. Straight through the Holdout season of early spring, through the long sweltering weeks of July, when many teams "crack," and on to the final drive down the stretch, they remained a St. Louis team, fighting to give their town its first major league pennant. They had the crowd with them at all times.

For the first time in the history of baseball, one city has been the scene of two consecutive World Series engagements. The Giants and Yankees begin their struggle for supremacy today. This column makes no predictions as to the outcome. Rather, it refers its readers to a statement often made by a good friend from Missouri. He would undoubtedly say, "Pay your money and take your choice."

KENNETT SQUARE TO HAVE A GOLF CLUB—Headline.

Now won't the proverbial feathers fly. We can't imagine anything more modern than the staid residents of Landenberg and New Garden, attired in knickers and camels hair sweaters, gathered about the corner store and debating as to whether the treacherous eighth hole at Newark had anything on the "dog leg" third at Kennett. The advent of the Newark Country Club has converted a surprisingly large number of middle aged local citizens to the cause. Even Prof. C. A. Short, a man to whom football is the acme of hard, smashing sport, has become an enthusiastic follower of Golf. But we feel sure that there are two things which shall always lie next to this man's heart—the love of clean football and the Class of '96.

We are glad to see Kennett Square taking up golf. Aside from competitive and neighborly interest, it marks the swift gain in popularity of the old Scotch game. Golf is steadily assuming a position worthy of its name. The old persistent "mollycoddle" and "rich man's game" idea has almost vanished. No competitive sport can quite compare with golf in its appeal.

The University of Pennsylvania has one of the finest football stadiums in the East and the rosters from Penn State, Navy, and Cornell should have very pleasant afternoons in the bowl this Fall.

Glasgow Track Opened Saturday. Auspices of Pencader Breeding Association

The new half mile track on the estate of J. Wirt Willis, near Glasgow, was opened officially last Saturday afternoon and the harness racing was witnessed by many lovers of the horse from Newark, Elkton, Middletown and other points. Mr. Willis has always been a devoted follower of the sulky sport and his new track is one of the finest private plants in this section of the country. The racing there will be under the control of the Pencader Breeding and Agricultural Association, which he organized.

There were four events on the program, and all of them were closely contested. S. J. McNece was starter; J. J. Fox, presiding judge; Joseph Davidson and Dr. H. P. Eves, assistant judges, and N. K. Warren, clerk. The summaries:

Agricultural Review Shows Normal Harvest Prospects

Mixed sentiment in agricultural circles generally throughout the country is indicated in the monthly review of the agricultural situation issued by the United States Department of Agriculture today. In the range country cattle raisers are fairly optimistic, and stock men are reported to be paying off some old debts this fall. Range shortage in the Southwest is serious in some regions. Alfalfa prices are higher and the number of sheep is increasing.

Cotton is beginning to move to market and growers who have a crop find prices the most encouraging in three years. The main difficulty has been the crop failure; the Eastern belt has been badly hit by the boll weevil, and the territory west of the Mississippi has had the worst drought in many years.

In the corn belt sentiment is mixed. Present prices of corn are discouraging, but some farmers say they can make money this year in hogs. There is a tendency to take on considerable feeder stock. Wheat growers have been discouraged by low prices, and the crop has come into market rather rapidly because of necessity for raising cash. Sentiment on the winter wheat acreage is not yet certain.

Farmers in many localities in the East are pessimistic over the low prices of their crops. The markets are almost glutted with potatoes, apples and cabbage. Milk prices are low and there is a considerable surplus. Feed is fairly cheap, however, and dairymen are paying fairly good prices for fall cows.

The general outlook is for a normal to heavy harvest of all staple crops except cotton, which has suffered from adverse weather and insect ravages.

The trend of average prices received at the farm by producers up to September was generally downward. Live stock, as a class, declined somewhat more than crops. Farm products as a whole were selling at 13 per cent above the prewar average during the month of August.

Movement of grain to market is fairly heavy, but has been somewhat impeded by lack of cars in certain sections. Heavy quantities of butter and cheese have moved into storage, but storage stocks of meat are abnormally low. The movement of hogs and cattle to market was much heavier in August of this year than last. Exports of wheat and cotton, on the other hand, were much lighter in August than in the same month last year.

evening. It was well attended and much enjoyed.

Miss Elizabeth McNeal is the new organist at the church, and did excellent work last Sunday. Mrs. Burnley, her predecessor, returned a month ago to take charge of the organ at St.
Barnabas, Marshallton, her home town.

Methodist Church Notes

The annual Rally Day of the M. E.
Sunday School was held last Sunday at the Church. An unusually large number of workers were present, and the results were extremely gratifying to those in charge.

S. S. Convention at Christiana

The Executive Committee appointed at the last convention of White Clay Creek Hundred Sunday School Association held in the Newark Presbyterian Church last year, met recently and is making arrangements for a great day at Christiana on October 12.

They urge all members of Sunday schools to attend and that delegates be elected and their names forwarded promptly to Mr. H. E. Tomlin, president, so that arrangements can be made for supper. Christiana M. E.
Sunday school will furnish free supper to those attending and would like to know in advance about how many visitors to expect.

Arrangements are being made to have a full program both afternoon and evening with something worth while every minute. A full report is desired from each school of anything and everything done or tried that is worth while reporting, including new ideas to pass around to others.

It is hoped to make this the best convention the Sunday schools have ever had so that a good report from this Hundred may be handed in to the County Convention to be held in Wilmington on October 19.

Reception at the Presbyterian Church

The ladies of the Baracca Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church will hold the reception which was postponed last Friday, this Friday evening, October 6th, at 8 o'clock. All members and friends of the church and congregation are invited to be present. An interesting program has been arranged and it is hoped that many will attend in order to make this, the first social affair of the season, a great success.

Reception to the friends and members of the Church and congregation will be held on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Rally Day will be observed in the Sunday School on this Sunday morning at the usual hour, 9.45. Everybody welcome.

NEWARK CAM-

INTO ACTION

division of the town into districts.
After debating the various sides of the question, it was decided to plot the town into five areas, each area to be handled by one of the five active teams appointed by Mr. Clarence A.
Short, Chairman for Newark. The actual canvass is extending from the Country Club to Lumbrook and from the Continental Fibre Co., and the Penna. Station on the south to the Curtis Mills and American Vulcan-ized Fibre Mills on the north.

This district comprises practically all of Newark proper and the adjoining territory. The surrounding countryside is to be taken care of by special arrangement.

During the course of the evening, speeches and announcements were made by Clarence A. Short, Everett C. Johnson and Perry Burgess. All were emphatic in their belief that Newark would surpass the popular beliefs of some people in the raising of money by pledge. Mr. Short, a man who has lived here for many years and knows the situation thoroughly, stated that he could see nothing but success in this drive and that the people of the town have at last awakened to the fact that the new Library is the one fitting memorial to the sons of this State who died in service.

Mr. Burgess spent several minutes in giving sound advice, gained through many years' experience in conducting drives. He interspersed his little talk with many bits of humor and kept the audience at all times attentive to the details of this work.

After the preliminary speeches, the members of the teams got together and mapped out their separate plans of attack. The various streets and districts coming under their areas were assigned and each one soon was ready to start out on the work. Great pains were taken by the team captains to see that none of the areas overlapped, thus causing a general mixup and much duplication.

Below is a complete list of the Captains and members of the teams which will lead Newark and the University through to success in this great drive:
