PLANS FOR ERECTION OF NEW SCHOOL ARE STALLED

Shortages In Material And Priorities Are Chief Reasons

The new elementary school building program here has been stalled due to lack of priorities, materials, and the impossibility of obtaining competitive bids. It was disclosed at the October meeting of the Newark School Board last Friday evening. President Joseph McVey presided.

Although the board has authority to select an architect, issue bonds and proceed with construction, it was decided to table the program until the current construction situation is eased.

The 1946 school tax returns from the first to the 20th of October inclusive, amounted to $7243.67. It was announced. Returns on back taxes were as follows: 1941, $2 cents; 1942, none; 1943, none; 1944, $1174; 1945, $10.77.

A report on the new elementary school plans to be issued for the first time early in November was given by Supt. Wilmer E. Shue, and a faculty committee reported on progress of the high school self-evaluation program, being conducted in preparation for undergoing an inspection next spring. (Please turn to page 8)

SCHEDULE NEW TRAIN STOP HERE

A step towards more efficient train service between Newark and nearby metropolitan centers was promised this week with the announcement by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company that a new train stop has been scheduled here Sunday evenings for the convenience of local travelers and university students returning on the week-end.

Effective immediately, train No. 167 will stop at Newark every Sunday evening. General Passenger Agent F. M. Ward announced this week. The train, which runs only on Sunday, leaves New York at 8:50 p. m., North Philadelphia at 10:18 p. m., 30th Street at 10:30 p. m. and arrives here at 11:17 p. m.

Until the new stop is listed on time tables, however, passengers are cautioned to check with train officials before boarding in Philadelphia or New York in order to make certain it is train No. 167, stopping at Newark.

In announcing the new service, Mr. Ward stated "this train was established primarily for the accommodation of military personnel and will operate only so long as the patronage warrants."

The move was made possible through the efforts of Charles A. Moore, of the Continental Diamond Fibre Company, who wrote to the Pennsylvania Company, pointing out that increasing numbers of university students, as well as faculty members and local businessmen traveling weekends to Philadelphia or New York were in need of a more convenient return train here Sunday evening. Passenger Agent Ward responded immediately to Mr. Moore's request.

CARLSON INSTALLED AS U. OF D. PRESIDENT

Speakers Stress Aims Of Education In Democracy

At impressive ceremonies held in Mitchell Hall, Saturday morning, Dr. William S. Carlson was inaugurated as president of the University of Delaware. A forty-year-old educator and scientist, Dr. Carlson is a holder of the Legion of Merit, awarded for service in the Army Air Forces where he held the rank of colonel.

Witnessing the ceremony were delegates representing about 100 colleges and universities in every part of the nation. Also present were many other distinguished guests, including the Honorable Walter W. Bacon, Governor of Delaware, as well as several hundred other citizens of Delaware and alumni who had returned for Homecoming Day.

Dr. Carlson was formally installed in the presidency by former Federal Judge Hugh M. Morris, president of the university's Board of Trustees and a graduate of the university. At the completion of the installation Judge Morris placed into the hands of the new president the keys of the university and the Charter and By-Laws of the Corporation.

Emphasized by the speakers at the ceremony was the necessity for such education as will provide an understanding of the world in which we live. This was stressed not only by Dr. Charles M. A. Stine, nationally known industrial scientist and research chemist who was the inaugural speaker, and also by President Carlson in the address following his installation.

Declaring that "Education is democracy and democracy is education," Dr. Carlson stated that in order to live, democracy cannot become static; it must change and move forward. Therefore, he stated, "lies democracy's challenge to education. What is needed is an education which will give intelligent direction to the forces of democracy and which will place a premium upon intellect and extend the training provided for the creative talent of our youth."

LIBRARIAN AT U. OF D. 25 YEARS

Freda Ritz Saw Growth Of Farm Dept.

Miss Freda Ritz, Agricultural Department librarian at the University of Delaware, recently completed 25 years service in that position.

Coming to Newark in 1921 to join her family, she took what she expected to be a temporary post here. Since then, she has seen the departments of entomology, economics, and poultry established and the Agriculture Department generally enlarged to become an effective and influential aid to the farmers of Delaware.

Her invariably cheerful service has been long appreciated by the faculty, students and others who come to her for information and bulletins.

Miss Ritz states that, after a quarter of a century on the same job, she still finds the work varied and interesting and feels it a pleasure to work with the faculty and students of the university.

MUSIC GROUP TO SPONSOR 4 CONCERTS THIS SEASON

To Continue Artist Series; Members Sought By Committee

Nationally celebrated musicians will again be heard in Newark this year in the "Artist Series" of concerts to be sponsored by the Newark Music Society. It was revealed this week, with the announcement that a membership campaign will be conducted by the group November 11-21.

Four concerts, featuring prominent soloists, are being planned for the 1946-47 season. The first will be held in December and the remainder will be given once monthly in January, February and March. Details of the programs, guest artists and dates will be announced later.

Membership in the society, which may be purchased from drive committee members headed by Dr. Elizabeth Dyer, entitles the holder to admission to all four concerts. Special rates are being offered students.

During the last few seasons the concerts have proved highly popular with local music lovers, and it is hoped the current membership drive will insure capacity audiences in Mitchell Hall for all four concerts.

The officers of the society are: T. A. Baker, president; Mrs. Walter Huihien, vice-president; Mrs. F. H. Squire, secretary; and C. W. Woodmansee, treasurer. Mrs. Anthony Louis is program committee chairman.

JAYCEE AIMS GIVEN BY SPEAKER

Meeting For New Members Well Attended

About 100 prospective members and guests of the Newark Junior Chamber of Commerce heard Walter McHendrick, state Jaycee director and former president of the Dover Jaycees, speak on "Aims and Purposes of Jaycee Organizations" at a meeting in the Country Club last Thursday evening. President M. A. Kubicki presided.

Listing the chief objects of the Jaycees as leadership training, community betterment and active citizenship, McHendrick described some of the benefits to be gained by the individual through membership in the Jaycees. Among these, he said, were invaluable opportunities for contacts with older business men and civic leaders, as well as useful training in discharging civic responsibilities and in gaining experience in organizational and executive work.

Through the Junior Chamber of Commerce, he said, the young man is given an opportunity to step into civic service and community leadership.

The speaker also stressed the national scope of the Jaycees and pointed out that acceptance into the local chapter provides an automatic membership in the state and national Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Coach William S. Martin and Dr. Charles N. Lanier, the latter a one-time Newark Jaycee, also spoke briefly on the advantages of membership in the local unit.

Following the business session, films of the recent Delaware-Gettysburg grid match were shown by Coach Ed Brunansky who gave an interesting commentary on the action. A social meeting concluded the evening.

SERVICE OF DEDICATION AT CHURCH NEXT WEEK

Program To Be Held By Bible Presbyterians On November 7

The recently completed Bible Presbyterian Church here will be dedicated in a special service for members and friends of the congregation next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, the Rev. Thomas G. Cross announced yesterday.

The speakers will be Dr. Harold S. Laird, pastor of the First Independent Church, of Wilmington, and, possibly, the Rev. Carl McIntire, pastor of the Bible Presbyterian Church, of Collingswood, and editor of the "Christian Beacon," religious weekly.

The building is of brick construction, colonial architecture and will seat 200 people. The work of completing the basement has been proceeding slowly, it was said. One of the attractions of the church is the latest model Hammond organ with a reverberation control unit which gives it the tone of an echo organ.

The pastor said that he and the board of trustees had hoped the pews would be installed before the dedication but, since further delays arose, it was decided to dedicate the building and furnishings at this time.

This Sunday, services will be held as usual with Sunday School at 10 a. m., under the direction of H. Lloyd Yarnall. The morning worship will be held at 11 o'clock, and the evening worship at 7 o'clock. The Youth Fellowship will meet at 8:30 p. m. at the home of the pastor. The public is invited to attend.

WILM. BANK OFFICIAL TO SPEAK HERE

To Discuss Wills And Trust Funds At Century Club

Joseph Rose, assistant trust officer at the Wilmington Trust Company, will discuss "Trust Funds and Wills" at the bi-weekly meeting of the Newark New Century Club this Monday at 2 p. m. Mrs. R. O. Bauman, president, will preside.

The talk should be of special interest to new residents in Delaware, who have not had an opportunity to familiarize themselves with varying legal phases of these matters.

Mr. Rose will also outline a few interesting technical details in connection with the writing of wills. Following the talk, the speaker will be open to questions from the audiences. It is expected the discussion will clear up many popular misconceptions surrounding these important legal problems.

The speaker has been secured for the afternoon through the efforts of Mrs. J. Pearce Cann, chairman of the American Homes Committee. Several topics of importance will also be considered at the business meeting, it was said.

It was further announced that the Book Club will take orders for Christmas books at the next two meetings.

SCHOOLS TO MARK EDUCATION WEEK SOON

Classes Public On November 14; Two Assemblies To Be Presented

In observance of National Education Week, open house will be held at the Newark Schools on Thursday, November 14, when two assembly programs, one by the high school and the other by the elementary school, will be given in the morning in the auditorium. Parents are invited to attend the events and to visit classes for the remainder of the day. Time of the assemblies will be announced later, it was said.

Featuring the high school program will be two films, "Wilson Dam School" and "New Opportunities for Youth." Their theme will center on education of children for improved citizenship.

"Wilson Dam School" depicts a progressive school in action, while "New Opportunities" is an interesting picturization of Henry Ford's Camps "Legion" and "Willow Run" where a number of unemployed boys, many the sons of dead or disabled veterans, are given a start in life.

Another local highlight of Education Week will be a motion picture trailer "Education for the Atomic Age," with Lowell Thomas as narrator, to be shown at the State Theatre.

The faculty committee in charge of the assembly programs includes: Mrs. Margaret Keeling, chairman; Hiram Miller, Frank Kelechava, Mrs. Mabel Overby, Mrs. Hilda Marshall, Raymond Justin, Miss Miriam Nottingham, Mrs. Amelia Maby, Irwin Derby, Mrs. Virginia Nichols, Miss Jennie Smith, and Mrs. Josephine Williams.

TO FORM NEW LOCAL GUARD UNIT HERE SOON

Officials Seek Recruits For Battery C Of Nat'l. Guard

Recruits are now being sought for Newark's Battery "C" of the new National Guard. Lt. Joseph N. Balbach, commander, said yesterday. In announcing that the local unit will be activated as soon as a sufficient number of men can be obtained.

Battery "C" will be a unit in the 198th A. A. Group of the National Guard, commanded by Col. James Whaley, with headquarters in Wilmington.

About 10 men are needed before Battery "C" can be formally activated, it was said, and most of these are expected to be recruited from Newark's current Company "G" of the Delaware State Guard, which will probably be disbanded the first of next year.

Battery "C" will be equipped with about three 90 mm anti-aircraft guns. Lt. Balbach said, one of which will probably be kept at the local Armory for training purposes and the remainder at the group's quarters at the New Castle Air Base.

Anyone interested in joining the unit is urged to see Lt. Balbach any Friday evening at the local armory.

A first sergeant and a supply sergeant have already been appointed for the battery. They are: William E. Donnell, currently captain of Company "G" and Staff Sergeant Frederick Stanley. The 198th will be composed of two battalions, the Dover Battalion, an automatic weapons unit, and the 736 Gun Battalion, embracing the northern section of the state. Newark's Battery "C" will be a part of the latter.

TO DELIVER NEW PHONE DIRECTORIES

Distribution Will Begin Tomorrow

Distribution of new telephone directories will begin here tomorrow and is expected to be completed by November 15, it was announced today by Joseph M. Cherpak, manager of the Diamond State Telephone Company.

Approximately 1,000 telephone numbers in the Wilmington exchange and 100 in the Holly Oak exchange have been changed, Mr. Cherpak said. These changes have been made in preparation for the installation of new telephone equipment.

All telephone numbers in the group from 3-200 to 3-2999 in the Wilmington exchange have been changed, he explained. Numbers in the 700 to 799 group at the Holly Oak exchange will now be prefixed by the numeral "8," he added.

"Local subscribers can avoid confusion and mistakes by consulting the new directory before making calls," the telephone manager said. "Wrong numbers and unnecessary calls to 'information' delay everyone's service."

Approximately 62,900 copies of the new directory will be distributed to telephone subscribers in this locality. This is an increase of about 6,125 over last year's distribution. The new green-covered books contain approximately 51,750 alphabetical listings, an increase of about 5,800 over the last issue of the directory.

FEDERAL INCOME REPORT

Showing its first surplus in years, the U. S. Treasury figures for the first three months of the current fiscal year which started July 1 show that the government took in $119,308,000 more than it spent.

However, a government budget expert told a reporter it gives no indication that the outcome for the entire fiscal year will reduce the $1,900,000,000 deficit forecast by President Truman in early August.

The official commented the surplus looks like a surprisingly good showing on the surface but that it had been anticipated in the President's estimate and "it still looks like there'll be a deficit of at least $1,900,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year."

He explained that expenditures, which were shown as $2,755,000,000 for the quarter, will mount more rapidly in later quarters when GI terminal leave pay and world bank and fund commitments, among other things, are charged.

Also noted was the prospect that expenditures on rivers and harbors, flood control and other public works could not be held to $900,000,000 figure set for this fiscal year when the budget was revised in August. The budget bureau is now going over agency reports to see how much will have to be added.

Taxes were $4,500,000,000, a high percentage of the $5,200,000,000 taken in during the first quarter of last year, the record high tax year.

Subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be Everlasting Punishment at Wilmington, First Church of Christ, Scientist, this Sunday, at 1201 VanBuren Street; morning service, 11 a. m.; Sunday School, 11 a. m.; Wednesday evening service, 8 p. m.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

4 Inch Pasture Growth Before Winter Advised

If strawberry beds are lacking in vigor at this time, A. L. Kenworthy, associate professor of horticulture at the University of Delaware, recommends an application of sodium nitrate at the rate of one pound per 100 feet of row. The sodium nitrate should be applied on top of the row.

Two Delaware farmers will attend a meeting at the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., October 31 and November 1, with representatives from other states to discuss the 1948 Wheat Crop Insurance Program.

The 237 new farmers who insured their wheat this fall bring the total number of farmers participating in the wheat crop insurance program to something over 800. This is almost one-third of the total number of wheat growers in the state, according to C. E. Ocheltree, state director of the Production and Marketing Administration.

The last week of October is National Honey Week. Delaware's sixty-five beekeepers who are members of the Delaware State Beekeepers Association are joining in the observance of this week which is held annually to help the homemaker plan for her honey needs during the seasons to come. Dr. L. A. Stearns, extension entomologist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, reports that the estimated honey production in Delaware for this year is 84,000 pounds. The 1945 honey production was 78,000 pounds.

Pastures can be improved by spreading the droppings at this season of the year by using either a drag harrow or a series of old automobile tire rims attached together in the form of a drag.

In the September New Castle County Dairy Herd Improvement Association report the average pounds of milk per cow in Circuit No. 1 was 623 and 28 pounds of butterfat. In Circuit No. 2 the average pounds of milk per cow was 683 and 28.9 pounds of butterfat.

The five high herds in Circuit No. 1 were: Levis Phipps, Centerville; Foxden Farms, Newark; Edwin Pierson, Hockessin; Mitchell Bros., Hockessin; and John Redding, Newark.

The five high herds in Circuit No. 2 were: Wallace Cook, Summit Bridge; Fred Martens, Newark; Peter Zeitler, Glasgow; John C. Green, Middletown; and Irvin Armstrong, Middletown.

Cigarette Output Now Tops War-Time Average

The Agriculture Department reported recently the output of cigarettes during the first post-war year exceeded the average of the war years and consumption in 1947 may exceed this year. Production for the fiscal year ended June 30 totaled 331 billion cigarettes compared with wartime averages of 238 billion.

Gradual Improvement in Men Clothing Lack Seen

There will be enough men's clothes in the nation's retail clothing stores this winter so that "no consumer will have to go naked," says the president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers.

Morris B. Myers, president of the association, representing most of the country's 35,000 retail men's clothing stores, gave this outlook for men's clothing following a meeting recently of the group's board of directors.

The supply of suits, topcoats and overcoats will gradually improve in the next six to nine months. Until the end of that period the demand will keep stores from building up reserve.

The shortage of men's furnishings—shirts, handkerchiefs, socks, underwear—can be relieved in much shorter time because less skill is required in manufacturing them.

The Department of Delaware, American Legion, began a membership drive on Monday, Dr. J. A. Wilker of Laurel, commander of the department, said recently. The campaign will continue until Armistice Day, Nov. 11.

Present membership of the Legion in Delaware is now 5700, highest in its history, and 300 per cent above the previous high record last year, Julian A. Todd, adjutant of the department, said recently.

Dr. Carl J. Rees, vice-commander of the department, and chairman of membership, will direct the campaign. The state has been divided into four districts for the campaign. Thomas Lewis will direct the drive in Wilmington; Thomas J. Lee in rural New Castle County; W. Lyle Mowlds in Kent County, and William G. Graham in Sussex.

PHONE LIST
STILL HIGH7,600 Installed
Thus Far In '46

The Diamond State Telephone Company has set new records in providing new telephone service since the end of the war, but an equally large job remains to be done in the next year, Carl R. Frechhofer, vice-president and general manager of the company, said Monday evening at a meeting attended by local telephone employees in the New Century Club, Wilmington.

The company installed 7,600 new telephones during the first nine months of this year, despite numerous material shortages and the necessity of training many new employees, not only to install and service the new telephones but to handle the record-breaking volume of calls. Mr. Frechhofer said this is 650 more telephones than were installed during the entire year of 1945, the previous high year.

However, he pointed out, even after this tremendous installation job, telephone waiting lists in Delaware are only 2,125 lower than they were on V-J Day. This is because of the record demand for new service.

We have been able to take 9,050 names off the top of the waiting list, but we have had to add 6,925 at the bottom," he said. "Needless to say, the waiting list is our largest present problem and there can be no relaxation of our efforts to give telephone service to everyone desiring it just as promptly as possible."

Developing

The N. H. S. Camera Club observed methods and organization of a commercial studio in a visit to the Poffenberger Studio here recently.

David Poffenberger demonstrated the use of a standard darkroom equipment and the operation of various type cameras. Each club member was shown how to develop a print properly and then was allowed to make one of his own.

The Camera Club is now working on pictures of the school. Various angles have been studied and several shots have already been taken. The club expects to work on similar assignments throughout the year. The pictures will be used in various school publications.

Two thousand new wrist watches were placed on sale Monday in Philadelphia by the War Assets Administration. The watches will be sold at the Philadelphia Signal Depot, 24th and Chestnut Streets, and at Frankford Ordnance Depot, Princeton and Wissinoming Streets.

Only certified veterans of World War II may buy the watches and sales will be limited to one watch per individual. Frank L. McNamee, regional WAA director said. The sale will end tomorrow, unless the supply is exhausted before that date.

Since there is no backlog of unfilled requests for watches, former servicemen will be able to buy immediately following certification.

Florida's 1946 Sugar Crop Being Processed

Florida's 1946 sugar crop is on its way to the nation's tables.

The first carload of sugar cane poured into the United States Sugar Corporation's mill, at Cleveiston, Florida, last week—fourth of an estimated million-ton sugar cane crop.

Cutting began Monday on the corporation's 12 plantations and more than 400 carloads daily are needed to keep the mill operating at capacity.

Good growing weather has prevailed, company officials said, and the crop is expected to equal last year's record production. The corporation and independent growers in the Lake Okeechobee region have an estimated 30,000 acres in sugar cane this season.

Sept. Report Shows Over 40 Million Non-Farm Jobs

Employment in non-farm jobs passed the 40,000,000 mark in September for the first time since December, 1944, the Bureau of Labor statistics in Washington reported recently.

The 40,147,000 on non-agricultural rolls was only 700,000, or 1 1/2 per cent, below the wartime peak.

Unemployment, reported by the census bureau, remained at about 2,000,000.

The number of jobs rose 200,000 between August and September. In addition to gains of 121,000 each in manufacturing and trade, the reopening of schools brought a rise of 6,000 in government employment.

Despite this, there still were one-half million fewer government job-holders than a year ago, the BLS said.

Shortage of building materials brought about an 11,000 decline in contract construction employment, the first since January, 1945.

Over $11,000,000 Surplus Reported By U. S. Treasury

The government again broke into the black recently on financial operations for the current fiscal year, largely due to consistently good tax receipts, a report from Washington claims.

The Treasury statement for Oct. 14 showed that day's receipts were $128,856,898.95 and expenditures only $38,844,520.76, giving income an edge sufficient to wipe out the prior deficit and provide a surplus of $11,375,339.10 for the three and a half month old fiscal year.

Burke, wore a gown of white skinkers satin bodice with long pointed sleeves and full elegant skirt forming a long train trimmed with a white lace peplum. Her long tulle veil fell from a tulle and pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. Norman Hall was matron of honor and wore a pink gown and veil and carried pink roses.

Miss Josephine Icenhour, of Zionville, N. C. was bridesmaid and wore a blue gown and veil and carried pink roses.

Mr. Norman Hall was best man. Mr. John W. Burke, step brother of the bride, was usher. The music was played by Miss Sylvia Edwards, of Coaches Bridge, Del.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of black chiffon velvet and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a street length dress of blue crepe and a corsage of pink roses. A reception followed the ceremony. About sixty relatives and friends were present. After a short motor trip to Virginia the couple will make their home in Newark.

APRON AND FOOD SALE WEDNESDAY, NOV. 6

The members of Group No. 2 of the First Presbyterian Church, of which Mrs. W. Harry Dawson is leader, will conduct its annual apron, food and white elephant sale in the Elliott Building, (on the University Campus next to Rhodes Drug Store), on Wednesday, November 6, from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m.

In spite of the shortage of a variety of materials many very attractive aprons have been made. You will find them both of the practical and novel patterns.

It is not only interesting to note that this same group of women is holding its fourth annual sale of its kind but also that they have been using the same date, November 6 and the same location, the Elliott Building, which must certainly give this particular group a most established background.

Do come in and look around for the hard-to-find gift. You will find something unusual in our collection.

Indicative of the national trend back to Republicanism is a survey of pivotal states recently conducted by the nation's top newspaper in circulation which, if proven correct, definitely shows that Delaware will go solidly Republican in the coming election, November 5.

With both major parties engaged in a bitter struggle for control of the House and Senate, the outcome is of extreme importance to the Democrats if they are to retain their stranglehold on the country and to the Republicans if they hope to gain control of the White House in 1948.

Never having gone Democratic over a 36 year period until the surprised New Deal candidates rode to victory on the coat-tail of the Roosevelt landslide, Delaware ordinarily is strongly Republican. And, unless all signs are wrong, Tuesday's election will see this District, County, State again in the fore for the G. O. P.

Dated at Dover, Delaware, October 12, Fred Pasley's interview says:

"G. O. P. strategy calls for liquidation of the last New Deal footholds in this industrial duchy of the DuPonts by the capture next month of the U. S. Senatorship now held by James M. Tunnell, Sr., and the state's lone House seat held by Philip A. Traynor. The other Senatorship is held by Republican C. Douglass Buck, elected in 1942, and therefore not at stake until 1948.

Confidential polls by both parties show an anti-Democratic swing especially in the suburban and rural areas, which contain some 48% of the population. The New Deal through the Roosevelt era recruited its major strength in Wilmington, the Delaware metropolis, which casts approximately 40% of the state's total vote. In 1944 when F. D. R. carried Delaware for the third consecutive time, Wilmington went Democratic by more than 60%.

Tunnell, a former public school teacher turned lawyer-politician, was elected in the Roosevelt sweep of 1940, defeating John G. Townsend, a ranking Republican member of the Senate for a third term by a margin of slightly more than 4,400. F. D. R. the same year was carrying the state over Wilkie by a plurality of 13,159. Traynor, a Wilmington dentist, also failed in on the Roosevelt kite, to win Delaware's one Congressional seat by a 5,000 margin over the then incumbent, George S. Wilson.

But even in '40 with Roosevelt polling 54.8% of the state's vote, the Republicans were able to elect a governor, Walter W. Bacon, mayor of Wilmington, by about the same margin as that of F. D. R. In 1944, with Roosevelt again carrying the state, Bacon was re-elected for another four year term.

In the interim, the anti-Democratic swing set in. Running for reelection in the off year of 1942, U. S. Senator Buck not only swept the state but carried with him the Republican tickets of the three counties comprising Delaware as well as both houses of the State General Assembly. A major casualty of the landslide was Congressman Traynor, defeated for seat by the then Secretary of State Earle D. Willey.

Traynor came back in '44 to beat Willey by the slim margin of 1,271 while Roosevelt was winning over Dewey by a plurality of more than 11,000. Democratic campaign managers have listed Traynor's seat as one of those "in danger" in the November elections. The off-year jinx on the Democrats plus the Republican trend is likewise counted upon by the G. O. P. strategists to stymie Tunnell's chances.

Both Traynor and Tunnell have been okayed by the PAC on their legislative records, Tunnell especially for his leadership in behalf of the full employment program, the 65 cent minimum wage, and price and rent controls. Opposed to Traynor on the Republican ticket is J. Caleb Boggs of Wilmington, a deputy judge of the New Castle County Family Court, and a World War II vet. Opposing Tunnell is John J. Williams, feed dealer and poultryman of Millsboro in Sussex County, a G. O. P. stronghold.

Williams, a bitterly sarcastic critic of OPA, is campaigning on a platform for the removal of Washington controls over American economy.

"One thing about carrying on a business nowadays," he says in discussing the volume of government directives, "is that it's so easy. All the rules are laid out for you and you don't even have to think. I mean to Government tells you how much money you can spend and exactly what you can buy with your non-existent profits. It's all in the directives."

Tunnell, standing on his record, is hammering away at the state G. O. P. platform and what he declares is its anti-labor plank. This latter reads in part:

"There must be, and we advocate, a reexamination and revision of the great bulk of pro-labor legislation of the past two decades that has contributed so mightily in building up modern labor organizations into Frankenstein-like monsters now so powerful that they dare defy the Government that thus promoted their growth."

Newark will follow the election results with especial interest in the political fortunes of her two candidates, both running on the Republican ticket, with Doc, George W. Rhodes, a veteran member of the State Senate a candidate for reelection to this post from the Fifth Senatorial District and John P. Sinclair, a young, newcomer to politics (a veteran of World War II) seeking election to the House of Representatives from the Ninth Representative District.

DELAWARE AIMS TO EXTEND STRING TO 27 AT EXPENSE OF F. & M. SATURDAY AWAY

Kick-Off At 2 P. M.; Murraymen Romp To 52-0 Win Over Drexel Here Before Homecoming Crowd For 26 Straight Without Loss

The Blue Hen grid machine rumbles into Pennsylvania this Saturday afternoon where it hopes to ground fragile Franklin & Marshall into No. 27 in its string of games without a defeat. The kick-off is at 2 p. m.

Although F. & M., who last week absorbed a punishing 40-7 buffeting at the hands of powerful Muhlenberg, should provide easy fare for the Hens, the score will offer something of a comparison as to how the Murraymen stack up against Muhlenberg, the last and probably most severe test in the Hens current campaign.

Against Drexel last week, in a melo autumnal Homecoming Day setting here, the Hens outdid themselves in their efforts to provide the Old Grads with a pleasant afternoon. They did not desist until they had disembled Drexel's Dragons by a 52-0 count.

Scarcely had the some 5000 fans settled themselves on Frazer Field before Delaware began laying the foundation of their lopsided victory. The first score came early in the opening quarter when Doc Doherty's punt bounced off a Drexel player and Bob Campbell recovered for the Hens on their own 45-yard line. Three plays later the Hens were mining pay dirt, the score coming on a pass from Paul Hart to Buck Thompson.

Gerald "Doc" Doherty, Delaware's free roaming halfback, stepped into the picture shortly afterwards when he rambled 35 yards on his favorite off-tackle reverse for the second tally. Bill Murray's flawless placement raised the score to 13-0.

In the second canto, Delaware dropped all formalities and moved into high, nabbing four touchdowns before the officials called the half-time halt. Charlie Griffith carried the oval over in a 19-yard dash for the first of the quartet of six-pointers. Center Jack Messick provided the second on an interception followed by a 42-yard tour of the field, Murray and Gene Carrell collaborated on the third, with Murray blocking a Drexel boot and Carrell falling on the ball in the end zone. The fourth was powered by Paul Hart, who slipped between guard and center for a 17-yard touchdown sprint.

Surprisingly enough, the dispirited Dragons stiffened in the third quarter to do something no other Hen opponent had until then achieved this season—held Delaware scoreless for an entire period.

In the final session, however, the Hens broke loose again. Billy Cole rang up a tally on a 38-yard dash through tackle. And, again, after a high-powered advance, spearheaded by Cole and Griffith, the Hens pushed deep into Drexel territory where Mariano Stalloni crunched into the end zone on two plunges.

Offensively, the Dragons failed to breathe much fire. They came to life only once when Jim Ostendarp galloped 46 yards to break into Delaware territory. The Murraymen quickly smothered the attempt, though, by the simple process of intercepting a Drexel pass.

Newark Alumni Expected To Turn Out In Force To Spark Jackets To First Triumph; Claymont Nips Locals, 20-2

The Yellow Jackets will face undefeated P. S. DuPont before the annual Newark Homecoming Day crowds here this Saturday afternoon on Frazer Field. The kick-off is set for 2:15 p. m.

Powerful opposition is expected from the Dynalubs, who will be aiming for their fifth straight win, but the Jackets will be hoping that the return in force of Newark's old grads will spark them to their first win of the season.

Last Saturday, the Jackets snapped a losing streak, unfortunately not their own, when they went down, 20-2, before the Claymont Eagles, who thereby annexed their first victory in three starts.

Claymont lost little time after the opening kick-off. In their second chance at the ball, the Eagles sent Capt. Dixie Dickens dashing off-tackle for fifty yards and the first score.

The count was raised to 13-0 a few minutes later when Nick Bucci passed to end, Ted Parlier, in the end zone. Their final tally came in the third period when Buzzy Daniels bucked over from the one yard line after a sustained Claymont drive.

Newark's lone two points came as a result of a safety when a Claymont passer was knocked down in the end zone.

DELAWARE COACH COMPANY

Serving the Public Since 1864

Letter to Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

We thought that you were a little mean in calling the members of the Newark High School football team "water-boys." You may be right, but you did not say why, or who is responsible, and you may not agree with us, but there are plenty who do.

If the high school coach ever saw a football game before coming to Newark, we are sure our guess and he missed the boat. We have seen lots of football games in action but never in our experience have we seen one so poorly coached as the present Newark team.

Where did Matt come from? Where did he come before he came here? His boys do not know even the basic fundamentals of the game. Don't blame them for being "water-boys." At least they are a bunch of quitters. Where was Matt at the half-time? He was not in the locker room with his team and giving them helpful instructions. There was a fight among some spectators on the Newark side of the field. Maybe he was there.

There are seven seniors on the team, but only one of them ever starts a game and three are immediately pulled out and replaced by a green player who has not had sufficient experience in the game. Does Matt take advantage of their experience? He does not. He puts them warm the bench. They cannot possibly be any worse than the green players he uses as regulars. In fact the minds of many say they are much better than the regulars. Don't blame the green players, blame Matt. When he takes a player out he hasn't the slightest idea of why he took them out. He never tells them of their mistakes. Instead of keeping the same boys in the game he should try a little substitution of experienced players, at least he can do no worse when the team is so overwhelmingly outclassed as was demonstrated in the Wilmington game.

Why was there a dance permitted to be held at the school the night before the Wilmington game? Why were the players allowed to take part in the dance? Were they not expected to be home resting before the game? Did the coach check Iron Hill and the other secluded spots around Newark after the game to make sure that his boys would get the proper rest? We know of one coach who never permitted a dance to be held before a game, and this same coach always checked the local hangouts the night before a game to be certain that the boys were home in bed where they belonged. Let's go back, take a little interest in your player's health.

Where was the Newark Faculty? We saw none at the game last Saturday, not even from the lowest to the highest. No Newark team ever received such poor support from the faculty. What do you say Faculty, let's show the boys some of the pre-war enthusiasm. It does it take too much of your valuable (777) time?

What happens to the money earned by the football team? Is it used to buy the proper equipment for the players? It is not, as witness the "Gay Nineties" shoulder pads and the moth-eaten blankets they have for the players. Three or four blankets for forty players. Fortunately it has been warm and the boys have not suffered, but if it gets cold and it is likely to do that very thing, the boys will suffer. And how about the crowded bus that hants the players. Some of the players are forced to sit on the floor while they ride to a game. We ask you is that conducive to the well being of the players?

What happened to the team physician? Did the powers that be provide transportation for him? They did not. He was left standing at the school on the night that Newark was scheduled to play the Sallies. You remember how hard it rained that night. If it had not been for the timely appearance of a Newark regular supporter he could still be standing there as far as the school officials knew or cared.

No, Mr. Editor, don't call the football players "water-boys," call the play as it is. Place the blame on the inefficient coaching and the poor cooperation received from the Faculty and the Officials. We think the boys deserve better than being called "water-boys," we think they should be called "Newark's Mighty Midgets."

Chronic Sinus Trouble Is Held To Be Allergic

"Until recently," the San Francisco physician stated in a paper prepared for delivery before the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, "it was believed all swellings and polyps in the nose and sinus were secondary to infection, and the recognized treatment was surgical."

After much investigation, Dr. Ashley said, "many rhinologists now believe that the great majority of all so-called chronic sinus infections are allergic manifestations."

"A large number of sinus infections, if uncomplicated by allergy, will clear up spontaneously."

Although the elimination of an allergen is usually not possible, Dr. Ashley said, a rigid anti-dust program, especially about the home and the cessation of the use of nose drops and jellies will aid greatly in such sinus cases.

URGE FARM FIRE LOSS PREVENTION

Carelessness Cause Of Most Of Destruction

George L. Schuster, director of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, calls upon all Delaware farmers and their families to enlist in the fight on fire which last year destroyed more than $85,000,000 of farm property and snuffed out almost 4,000 lives.

Stating that the fire curve continues to surge upward to an all-time high this year, he urges farmers to take time to eliminate the common causes of fire during Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12, sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association.

Pointing out that 90 per cent of the fires can be prevented by eliminating the common cause, Director Schuster declares, "So many times we have seen the result of a lifetime of work go up in smoke in a few minutes—all due to the failure to exercise ordinary care."

Losses would drop immediately, he says, if farmers would:

1. Protect all buildings with adequate lightning rods.
 2. Clean and keep clean heating systems, fireplaces and flues.
 3. Check electric systems for adequacy of load, and repair or replace worn cords and equipment.
 5. Store kerosene and gasoline safely, and away from buildings.
- For the 10 per cent of fires that are unavoidable, Schuster advises:
1. Know how to call your fire department.
 2. Ladders long enough to reach the highest roof.
 3. An adequate water supply, such as a clear cistern.
 4. Inspection of fire extinguishers to be sure they are ready in case of need.

FARM INCOME IN COUNTY UP

Totals Over Six Million, Report Says

Nearly doubling their annual gross income in comparison with 1940, as reported by the U. S. Bureau of Census, New Castle County farm families last year produced crops and livestock with the record value of more than $6,241,000.

This huge increase in farm revenue has already created heavy demand for general farm improvements and for home remodeling, according to a study released by the Title Council of America. With every industry anticipating greater business in the state than before the war, floor and wall tile manufacturers alone expect their sales here to triple in the next few years.

"Increased sales of industrial products mean in turn a new level of prosperity for every local businessman and worker," said D. P. Forst, chairman of the Council's Residential Construction Committee.

The study shows that many farm improvements were made even during the war. Since 1940, for example, the number of farm homes reporting electric lights here has increased from 984 to 1,375. Heavy demand for such modernizing as installation of running water, tiling of bath rooms and improving kitchen layouts has already resulted, according to Forst.

Forst also pointed out that farmers in the county today have 430 more tractors than in 1940, according to the Bureau of Census, and that the number of trucks on farms has likewise increased substantially. "These facts not only indicate the importance of the farm market but also make it one which no businessman or manufacturer can afford to overlook," he said.

C. Edwin Lewis Dies, Former Local Resident

C. Edwin Lewis, Sr., a widely known mechanical engineer, who for the past 28 years had been employed by the Downingtown (Pa.) Iron Works, died at his home, 255 Highland Avenue, that borough, Sunday morning, October 29, 1946, in his 68th year. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Lewis was a son of the late Evan W. and Annie B. Lewis and was born in Newark, Del. He was educated in the Newark schools and later graduated from the University of Delaware, class of 1899. He resided in Coatesville, Pa., for a number of years where he was employed by the Craig Ridgway & Sons Co., the Coatesville Boiler Works and the Lukens Steel Co. He moved to Downingtown, Pa., in 1919.

He was a member of the Central Presbyterian Church, Downingtown, Williamson Lodge No. 309, F. & A. M., Brandywine Lodge No. 338, Washington Camp No. 338, P. O. S. of A. and the Coatesville Foreman's Club. He had been an active member of the Coatesville Y. M. C. A. for 40 years. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War, having served as sergeant in the First Delaware Regiment. He was a member of West Chester Camp No. 49, United Spanish War Veterans.

Gandhi Claims Holding Breath Is Ideal Suicide

Hindu women attacked by Moslem rioters can commit suicide non-violently by holding their breath, rather than by using poison as Herman Goering did at Nuremberg, Mohandas K. Gandhi suggested recently.

The Hindu spiritual leader directed his advice particularly to women whose conversion to Mohammedanism has been forced by rioters in the Noakhali district of Bengal Province during the past week.

BUMPER DELAWARE APPLE CROP

Harvest Will Also Be Of Top Quality

Delaware apple producers and consumers are prepared to celebrate "Apple Week," October 26 to November 2. It has been disclosed by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with the International Apple Association.

In spite of late spring frosts, between six and seven hundred thousand bushels of high-quality apples are being harvested, marketed and stored by Delaware producers this fall. A. L. Kenworthy, associate professor of horticulture, University of Delaware, says that the quality of the crop has never been better.

High quality is credited to the excellent control of disease and insects through the interest shown by growers in adopting recommended spray and cultural programs.

Delaware produces more apples per square mile than any other state, according to Kenworthy. Most popular varieties are: Stayman Winesap, Winesap, Delicious, Golden Delicious and Rome Beauty. While processors are using many apples for canning purposes, there will be plenty of fresh apples available to buyers in Delaware this year.

In the United States as a whole, the crop is about average this year, and based on population will provide every person with three apples a week throughout the year.

4-H WEEK NOV. 2-10

Achievement Observance

Delaware's 4-H Club members will join 4-H'ers throughout the United States in observing National 4-H Club Achievement Week, November 3-11. During this week rural boys and girls who are members of this great youth organization will mark the culmination of the work they have accomplished this year.

As Delaware club members conclude another year of outstanding accomplishments in their individual and community club projects, George M. Worrlow, associate director of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service observes that "the record of Delaware 4-H Club members this year is one of which they and the citizens of Delaware can be justly proud."

"In local community clubs and in county achievement fairs our boys and girls have shown to us all visible evidence of their work. Their true achievements lie, however, in their acceptance of the responsibilities of citizenship, their hard work on their projects, and the methodical way they have gone about learning to be better citizens by working with their hands, head and heart."
