Atoms & Us Plans Sept. 3 Meeting For Fallout Study

Millard Zeisberg Heads
Non-Profit Organization
For Radioactivity Review

Atoms & Us, the first citizens' organization in Delaware to be concerned with the effects of radioactive fallout, will hold its first public meeting next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Highlands School at Gilpin and Delaware Avenue, Wilmington, with Newark's Millard D. Zeisberg as executive director.

Zeisberg reports that the program will consist of a panel of experts in fields related to fallout, as well as representatives of local health agencies.

After a motion picture depicting methods used to determine radioactive content in foods, the audience will divide into study groups to prepare questions for the panel. Zeisberg, a DuPont engineer with a background of experience in the design of atomic installations, explained that the non-profit Atoms & Us was organized to provide the people of this area with an unbiased agency to obtain information on radioactive fallout.

"Most people are now aware that fallout is part of our daily lives whether or not another atomic explosion is ever set off," Zeisberg said.

"The big problem is what we as responsible citizens should do to minimize the effect on this and future generations."

In describing difficulties encountered in obtaining facts on fallout, Zeisberg mentioned that the Atomic Energy Commission, the government agency which makes and tests bombs, was also the only official group charged with protecting the public from radiation hazards.

"Naturally, their secrecy requirements frequently conflicted with their public safety activities. This discrepancy has been now recognized by Congress, and legislation is under consideration which proposes that public safety aspects of fallout be the responsibility of the Public Health Service. Unfortunately, no legislation has as yet been enacted," Zeisberg said.

Other problems concerning Atoms & Us which will be discussed at the Sept. 3 meeting include how to determine the Strontium-90 content of local milk supplies and what the public can do to avoid drinking highly contaminated milk; and the similar problems encountered with vegetables, wheat and meat.

Mrs. Ann M. Baker, a resident of Manor Park, New Castle, and a former teacher in Corpus Christi School, Elsmere, will teach in the Edson School.

Mrs. Marilyn Baerenteche, a 1959 graduate of Our Lady of the Lake College, San Antonio, Tex., will teach first grade in the Galaher School.

Mrs. Ida Balant, former teacher in the New Castle special school district, will teach English in Central Junior High School.

Diehl Sponsors Salary Raise For Neide As Acting Manager

Public Works Director To Receive Pay Scale Of Recent City Manager As Councilman Diehl Cites "Outstanding Job." Fire Code Adoption Prohibits Burning Of Trash

Doubling in brass as city manager and public works director since the July 1 resignation of J. J. Salovaara as Newark's second city manager, J. Francis Neide is to receive a raise in salary to the rate paid his predecessor as a result of Councilman Samuel L. Diehl's plea and subsequent unanimous endorsement by City Council at the regular meeting of council last Tuesday night.

Diehl's declaration followed a Councilman Betty McClendon's urging that the city advertise for a manager and seek to fill the office promptly according to the governing ordinance; and recommendations made by Councilmen George Wilson and William Coverdale that the city manager ordinance be revised before conducting a search for a manager.

Mrs. McClendon suggested that a free advertisement be placed for a manager in the national City Manager's Newsletter, citing the ordinance stipulation that the position be filled within 60 days.

Councilman Coverdale pointed out an additional two words in the ordinance—within 60 days "if feasible"—and joined Councilman Wilson in objecting to the present ordinance as "ineffective" with the recommendation that the powers of the city manager be deemphasized, and the City Council be strengthened.

Wilson had urged that the city manager ordinance be revised and presented at a public hearing. "It should fit the needs of Newark, and not be something out of a book, nor a blank check for an employee," he said.

And then Diehl led the discussion that led to Neide's increased salary status.

Getting back to the city manager ordinance, council approved Coverdale's motion to have the ordinance revised Section 62 of the city charter to provide for the appointment of a city manager by two-thirds vote of council, and dismissal by simple majority vote.

Council approved two ordinances at a public hearing establishing a fire code, licenses, and permits; and providing for public meetings of the Planning Commission.

Tools For Fire Marshal In urging passage of the fire code ordinance, Coverdale pointed out that since the city was paying $5,400 annually for a fire marshal, the marshal "should be given the tools to work with."

He cited the dangers in trash burning—the prohibition of which had delayed passage of the ordinance—saying "the obnoxious part is enough, with fumes stewing in a tin can, let alone the known hazards."

The ordinance passed by a 4-1 vote with Diehl dissenting, prohibits the burning of trash without a special $2 permit; and provides levy of $3 annual license fee for conducting certain business operations, including lumber yards, dry cleaning, and fumigation.

Citing the recent Tom's River disaster, Councilman Coverdale urged that an additional, outside entrance be provided at the Newark jail to prevent a similar holocaust in this city.

Concerning proposed public meetings of the Planning Commission, Harry Cleaver, in the audience expressed the opinion that members of the commission would resign if they had to contend with an audience.

"If they all resign, maybe we can find some more," Mayor Durnall replied. And the ordinance was approved unanimously.

Sanitary Landfill Ordinances governing air pollution, employment policies, and zoning were approved at preliminary readings, and the Planning Commission is to review an amendment to the zoning ordinance for city operation of sanitary landfills at the former sewage disposal plant and at the old cannery property, prior to a special council meeting and final reading of the governing ordinance on the landfill problem this Friday night.

"The intent of zoning is to promote the best use of land for the health, welfare, and morals of the people," Councilman Coverdale said. "Is this the law, or is it just a pious expression of hope?" he asked, pointing out that feeling against the proposed sanitary landfill is so strong that litigation may result.

State To Honor Workers In Labor Day Program

In order that contributions of working men and women to the economy and welfare of the state may be suitably recognized, Governor J. Caleb Boggs has urged display of national and state flags and staging of appropriate ceremonies on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7.

In a proclamation issued this week at Dover, Governor Boggs pointed out that the state's economy is thriving and employment is "approaching a new all-time high." This, he attributed to the fact that "generally good labor-management relationship" exists here.

All Delawareans were invited by Governor Boggs to join him on Labor Day in "saluting those whose daily work makes possible the abundant life we all enjoy."

SAFE-DRIVING TIPS FOR TEENAGERS

The National Safety Council describes a free booklet of safe-driving tips for teenagers, which is distributed by a leading American oil company and its marketing affiliates. One of the most important contributions to safety ever made.

The tips come from professionals—the state policeman, test track driver, the trucker. Here are some of them:

1. Don't show off or clown behind the wheel.
2. Have enough room behind the wheel to chicken out when common sense tells you it's time to give in. Never mind who's right—stay alive!
3. The public highways are for sharing, not competing. 4. The squeal of tires and roar of the exhaust sound like hot stuff to a driver who needs it to build up speed. But it tags him as strictly an amateur to the real pro. The pro gives in to bad weather, bad roads, and traffic jams, and slows down. 6. Would your coach send in a player who has been drinking? Well, it goes double for driving. A half-loaded driver is more dangerous than a loaded gun.

Teenagers are involved in twice as many fatal accidents as the number of miles they drive as drivers over 25. This is because the picture will change in a hurry if the drivers will follow sound and simple tips like these.

105 Candidates Report To Bob Hoffman As Yellowjackets Begin Grid Practice

Vacations voluntarily ended Monday for 105 candidates for the 1959 edition of the Newark Yellowjackets, as a host of hopeful athletes with 14 returning lettermen led by Co-Captains Monty Jackson and Carl Rice at head and quarterback reported to Guard Coach Bob Hoffman for preliminary football instruction and physical examinations. Practice began Tuesday, and will continue in two daily sessions—from 8 to 11 a.m. and from 3 to 5 p.m. until school opens—with Sundays off.

Hoffman, who succeeds Don Miller as head coach of the Blue Hen Conference champions, started at center for the Gettysburg Bullets. In addition to Hoffman, the Newark High School coaching staff includes former Lebanon Valley coach Dick Musselman, backfield coach, and Cliff Brown, former Blue Hen star end, as line coach. With Jackson and Rice as co-captains, other returning Newark lettermen include Alan Beldyk, center; Bill Mowll, guard; Rodney Wilson and Merle Taylor, tackles; and Les Mone, end.

Buzzards Defeat Brookside To Win Intermediate Title

The Buzzards won the NRA Intermediate Softball League championship, taking the playoffs, three games to one over runner-up Brookside.

The fourth and deciding game was played Aug. 19, and the Buzzards won 14-13. Brookside took the lead with two runs in the first inning, without getting a hit. An error and two walks loaded the bases, and Bob Bell's long fly to center was dropped as Joe Gaglia and Glen Alphonse came across with two runs.

The Buzzards, countered in their half of the same inning on successive singles by Bob Schulz and Jack Hummel; a walk to Cotton Thompson, and Bayard Marins' two-run single.

Brookside came back for three more runs in the second as Gene Clark cleared the bases with a double.

The Buzzards scored four in their half of the inning, with Bill Pollard's fourth home run of the season. Scoring five more in the third, Brookside was well on the way to even the series. Dave Taylor's triple scoring Pollard enabled the Buzzards to pull within three runs of their foes.

After a scoreless fourth inning for both teams, a two-run effort in the fifth for Brookside was doubled by the Buzzards who scored four runs with Don Frank as the power hitter.

Going into the bottom of the seventh and trailing by one run, the Buzzards wasted little time against pitcher Alphonse. A single by Frank and a run-scoring triple by Schulz, set the stage for winning pitcher Hummel's single which won the game and crown for the Buzzards.

Letterman Lloyd Wells returns for a shot at the starting quarterback slot, while letter-winners Maynard Conkey, Norman Neide, Marshall Saunders and Charley Word provide plenty of depth, speed, and power for the halfback spots.

Bob Burton and Frank Subach are lettermen at the fullback post. Along with the varsity veterans returning from last year's unbeaten conference champions, some stand-out talent is already evident.

Promising line candidates include Bert Loftman, Mike Sobolewski, Vernon Hayman, and Ronnie Pyle, ends; Don Frank and Sherman Colbert, tackles; Fred Williamson, Art Carney, and Fred Williams, guards; and Bob Raun, center.

In the backfield, Guy Cage shows promise at quarterback; Ted and Tom Houle, Bob Bell, and Bill Reed are likely-looking halfbacks; while Bill Neide is a powerful performer in the fullback slot.

The Yellowjackets will not train at Camp Towhock this year, but will practice at home in morning and afternoon sessions on a six-day weekly schedule until school opens on Sept. 10.

Castling bucktails with light surf spinning tackle from the rugged rockpile jetties at the Indian River Inlet recently, John Sadowski and Joe Wlosinski caught two striped bass that were within one inch and one pound of each other when the silvered pair were weighed and photographed the morning after a nocturnal session in the black, racing tide.

Big John's Delaware striper was 36-inches long and weighed a half pound over the Maryland limit of 15 pounds.

Axel Anderson and his neighbor Bob Damon of Middletown went out into the big blue water from Lewes on a recent weekend in the Swede's open cockpit, outboard runabout, and eventually found themselves offshore with the big, trolling cruisers—water, water everywhere, and not a speck of land in sight.

"We caught one bluefish—about four inches long," the Swede said. "What a trip! Even Damon became discouraged."

Newark's No. 1 Naturalist—Horace "Rip" Smith—fared a whole lot better than the Middletown men in a recent ocean-going trip with Herman McCarns and Bill Taylor aboard the "Sea Spray" out of Indian River.

Rip reports they caught 157 bonito and one tuna, edging Carroll Mumford in the bonito bounty department.

Maybe it was 156 instead of 157, from Man Smith smiled. "I didn't count 'em over again to check."

Last Saturday afternoon in the surf at the Coast Guard Station south of Rehoboth with Jim and Sally Godsey, the fishing was slower by a four-inch bluefish than that encountered by the Swede and Damon on the Delaware Main out of Lewes. We caught one blue crab.

Doe Wisniewski had generously loaned us his Penn Squidder, and with fresh fatback and bloodworms from Mack's, we were prepared for some real salt water action with snapper blues after a strenuous session earlier in the day at Lake Gerard, under the Henlopen, with some 60 youngsters and their catfish and bluegills during the Junior Fishing Rodeo.

But last Saturday, all the fish observed in the Rehoboth area were caught in the fresh water lake within a good tee shot of the Atlantic.

"You can have this surf fishing," Jungle Jim Godsey said with feeling, after his first start with new surf spinning tackle.

"I'd rather fish for carp in a ditch back home near New Castle," Jim continued. "They're there, and they bite." The Rodeo impresario concluded.

Well, Saturday afternoon was not one of the good ones on Delaware's Atlantic frontier. We'll admit that much.

Gibby, Elisabeth Young Win Trophy As Golf Twosome

The father-daughter team of Gibby and Elisabeth Young of the Newark Country Club won the Francis Biddle Griscom Cup Golf Tournament last Friday by carding best-ball gross of 39-36-75 over the Wilmington Country Club course.

It was the second straight year that the cup remained in Delaware despite many top-notch entries from neighboring states.

The Youngs competed in Class C, Gibby, former Newark Country Club pro who returned to the amateur ranks several seasons ago, shot brilliantly in the selective drives, alternate stroke event.

Last year's winners, Mrs. S. J. Pyle and Steven Pyle III, were only two strokes off the Youngs' pace, but kept Class A laurels with 40-37.

Some 50 teams competed in the event, which required partners to be members of the same family, but of opposite sex and different generations.

Calder, Williams Scheduled To Play In Polo Tourney

Last Sunday's rain rescheduled the Brandywine varsity polo team to vie with Concordville in the first round of a best-of-three series this Sunday at 3 p.m. on the Toughkenamon, Pa., outdoor field.

Brandywine, eliminated from a similar series, 3-1 and 5-4 last June, will mount Harley Williams and Deryl Calder of Newark, D.J. A. Torello, and Col. Howard Fair, in its bid to even the series with Concordville.

The visitors will field Richie Jones, Fred Fortugno, Norm Taylor and E. B. Stewart.

Undeclared Eastern Loop A's Win Title As NRA Pony League Champions Of 1959

The Eastern League Athletics undefeated in regular season play, and still unbeaten are the 1959 Recreation Pony League champions.

In the first of the three-game championship finals, the A's overpowered the International League Chiefs, 24-4, behind the pitching of Allen Peoples and Jim Sage. Playing heads-up ball, the Athletics put on a show of fine fielding and base running as they took control in the first inning, scoring four runs on five hits. The second inning was the big one as they reached the Chiefs' pitcher for 13 runs on 10 hits and three walks. The Athletics were scoreless with one hit in the third, but scored seven more runs before the game ended.

It was a perfect night for Hughes, Hofferker, and Terry Quinn. Hughes had two singles, a double and a walk to score four runs for the Athletics. Hofferker doubled twice, singled, hit a home run and walked to score four, and Handling singled, tripled, doubled and walked to score three. Every man on the Athletics scored at least one.

Peoples and Sage gave up only two hits during the game, struck out five, and walked seven.

Five Yellowjackets Aid Gold All-Stars In Fourth Contest

Crissman, Jezyk, Mackey Machulski, Wallace Play To Aid Retarded Children

Five of Coach Don Miller's line-men from last year's Blue Hen Conference champions—the undefeated Yellowjackets of 1958—played a lot of football for the Gold All-Stars in the hot humidity at Newark's Delaware Stadium last Saturday afternoon, but the Blue All-Stars racked up their fourth straight victory in this fourth annual All-Star High School Football Game for the benefit of the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children, with a last quarter touchdown and extra point for a 7-0 nod.

The Yellowjackets playing for the Gold Stars were first string All-Stars Wayne Crissman at center and Walt Mackey at end; Frank Jezyk and Ed Wallace, second team All-State team selections, at end and guard; and Ed Machulski at tackle.

The triumph for the Northern Blues was achieved with Quarterback Ken Reeder's six yard sprint and Guard Don Burawski's placement.

Reeder's run climaxed an afternoon of offensive frustration for both squads and, fittingly, was made possible by a stellar defensive effort—end Johnny Pierson's block of Phil Horsey's punt on the Gold 30-yard line.

Financially, the game was a record success. An estimate by Willard McConnell, game committee treasurer, indicates that the net will top last year's $25,000 by 12 per cent.

From this abundant pork supply we can brighten up breakfast with one of the various types of sausage, or perhaps have a special breakfast of pork chops.

Pork is always pleasing and can easily be served in a variety of ways — baked, fried, stuffed, breaded, barbecued and roasted.

Milk will be another September plentiful that is packed full of important nutrients. A glass of milk when school is out, and milk with each meal will help fill the recommended daily quota of these ever-important vitamins and minerals. Don't forget grown-ups need milk too!

Bountiful supplies of fresh Bartlett pears will continue.

Fresh table-ready grapes, as well as lemons and limes, will be plentiful throughout the month of September.

Be sure to take full advantage of the seasonal bounty of late summer vegetables. There will be plenty of onions, sweet corn, tomatoes, green peppers, carrots, beets and cabbage, snap beans, and lima beans.

Don't forget squash—it's in good supply also—and there are so many varieties available — the yellow crookneck, the pleasing, bright yellow bananas, the flat, pale green scalloped squash, the all green zucchini, and the green, Cocozelle with its lengthwise stripes.

Last but not least on the September plentiful food list, is peanut butter. Stock piles of this delicious spread remain high so take advantage of the favorable situation to get an extra jar or two. The children love it, and there are so many ways of using it—in sandwiches, desserts, stuffings and salad dressings.

The Kingswood-of-Brookside Methodist Church has made tentative plans to hold a nursery for children of working parents in Fellowship Hall, beginning in September.

The nursery will be conducted from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. to include children in the three to six-year-old group. Hot meals will be served at noon and snacks and nap-times will be included.

The cost per child will be announced after operating costs are determined, but it is expected to be somewhat less than the cost of the average baby-sitter.

This project is planned primarily as a community service, and is open to all.

In order to complete the survey needed for such a service, interested parents are asked to call Mrs. Alan Miller or Mrs. Joseph Fernandez for enrollment.

$1.23 Per Bushel
Price For Support
Of County's Corn

Prices for the 1959 corn crop will be supported in New Castle County at an average of $1.23 per bushel, Harry G. Deputy, chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today.

Average county rates are based on the national average support price of $1.12 per bushel announced last February, with adjustments for location and historical price patterns.

Under the 1959 program, the price support rate to each producer throughout the country reflects the national support level.

As approved by 71.2 per cent of the growers voting in a referendum last November, the corn acreage allotment and the commercial corn-producing area of earlier programs are not in effect for the 1959 program.

To be eligible for support, corn must have been produced in 1959; must grade No. 3 or better, or No. 4 because of test weight only; must meet certain moisture requirements; and must be in adequate storage.
