Presbyterians Call for Congregational Meeting

A meeting of the Session of the First Presbyterian Church was held on Thursday evening at the home of Rev. David A. Reed, White Clay Creek, who presided over the session as Moderator. FIRST MILITARY COMMANDANT AT DELAWARE COLLEGE DEAD

Col. George Le Roy Brown Passes Away at Newport Beach, Calif.

Col. George Le Roy Brown, veteran of Indian, Cuban and Philippine campaigns, for thirty-five years an officer in the United States army, died suddenly at his home at Newport Beach, California, last week.

Col. Brown was the first Military Commandant at Delaware College, serving from 1888 until 1892.

Col. Brown was born in Jackson, Mich., April 14, 1849. Following his graduation in 1872 from the United States Military Academy, he was in active service for more than a third of a century. He was with the United States soldiers who fought the Indians following the massacre of Custer and his men. He campaigned against Indians in Texas, Arizona and New Mexico. The colonel took an active part in fighting during the Spanish-American war.

At his own request, Col. Brown was retired from active service on October 1, 1907. From that time until last May Col. Brown was called as an instructor in military science, first at Peacock Military College at San Antonio, Tex., then at Mt. Temalpais Military Academy at San Rafael, Calif., then at the Tennessee Military Institute at Westwater, Tenn., and then at the University of Arizona. During the world war he was in command of R. O. T. C. camp at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.

CURRENT EVENTS AT THE CENTURY CLUB YESTERDAY

"Spanish Missions" the Topic for Next Week's Meeting

A graphic account of the Hoover dinner in Wilmington recently was given at the New Century Club yesterday by Miss Agnes Snyder, the club's representative there. This was the first of a series of reports on current events.

Mrs. James Hutchinson followed with a discussion of the effects of the War on Canada; Dean W. J. Robinson talked of books and music; and Miss Jane Maxwell of conditions in Mexico.

Next week "Spanish Missions" will be discussed by Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson. This meeting according to request, will begin promptly at 2:30. The following week will be in charge of the ex-presidents of the club and will be a social affair in honor of the new members.

Is Recovering After Operation

Mr. Frederick Ritz who has been ill for several months, was operated on at the U. P. I. Hospital, Baltimore, by Dr. Finney, last Monday and is making very satisfactory progress toward recovery. His wife and daughter are with him.

No New Class to be Formed at Primary School

In response to the request of several parents, Superintendent J. H. Owens had arranged to start a beginners' class at the Primary School. This is, however, prohibited by a ruling of the State Board of Education and the formation of such a class at the present time is therefore impossible.

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Miller are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, Mary Carlton, who arrived last Thursday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Cooch last Saturday. She has been named Eleanor Allan.

WHAT IS A UNIVERSITY? AND WHY?

There is a movement, quietly conducted, asking that the name of Delaware College and Women's College of Delaware be made University of Delaware.

This is interesting and most of us have very definite views. Let us have an open discussion. The Post will open a Forum next week when it is hoped that those originating and advocating the change will present the advantages and those opposing will state their views.

—The Editor.

PRESIDENT OF DELAWARE COLLEGE ELIGIBLE TO THE GENERAL STAFF

Dr. Hullihen One of 300 Chosen from List of 25,000 Officers

Dr. Walter Hullihen, president of Delaware College, has recently been named in the list of 300 officers chosen from the regular army and from the reserve officers' list, as eligible for service on the General Staff of the United States Army. To be chosen as eligible for such service is a great honor since this list of 300 was selected from a roster of 25,000 officers.

Dr. Hullihen was a major of infantry during the war. His service in camps in this country was such as to attract the attention of high military authorities. For a time he served on the staff of General Guy Henry at Camp Logan, Texas. Here he was on the divisional staff of the 15th Division and was promoted to major. He was assistant chief of operations and training on the staff of General Guy Gordon.

He attended the second officers' training school at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where he was commissioned a captain of Infantry. He served with the 81st Division at Camp Jackson and as adjutant of the 5th regiment at Camp Gordon, Ga., and also served for a time in the School of Small Arms Firing at Camp Perry, Ohio.

By a curious coincidence three of the faculty of the University of the South at Sewanee whence Dr. Hullihen came to Delaware College, were named in this list of 300.

Hoover Fund Campaign Closes Saturday

Mayor Eben B. Frazer and George W. Griffin who have been conducting the campaign for the Hoover fund, announce that it will be brought to a close next Saturday.

One contribution was received this week from a former Newark resident, Miss Alice Garlick of Riverside, Calif., who, reading of the campaign in the Post desired to be identified with her home town in making her contribution to the fund.

HE DIDN'T SEE HIS SHADOW!

Today is Groundhog Day, the nature of which according to the superstitions determines the character of the weather for the next few months. Unless Mr. Groundhog was possessed of second sight or appeared elsewhere than in the vicinity of Newark, he saw no shadow today. Consequently, in spite of the snow and slush now covering the earth, winter is over, if this astute animal is himself to emerge from the shadow cast upon him by the eminent John Burroughs. In spite of the utterances of this learned man, the superstitions and the near superstitions looked with interest upon weather signs today and all were pleased with what they saw. Today is also Candlemas Day, a church feast instituted in the fifth century to commemorate the presentation of Christ in the temple and the purification of Mary. Today candles to be used in the service throughout the year, and those used by the faithful in time of sickness and trouble, are blessed in the churches.

OPERA HOUSE MANAGER ATTENDS CONVENTION IN WASHINGTON

C. C. Hubert Brings Interesting Report from National Capital

Charles C. Hubert, manager for the Newark Opera House Company, spent three days last week in Washington, D. C., attending a convention of moving picture managers and producers.

Interesting plans for the coming year were discussed and promises of excellent pictures were made by distributors. The matter of admission price reduction was also discussed in view of the demand for lower rates. No reduction, however, is in sight since producers will not reduce the price of the films.

A resolution was passed whereby the picture houses agreed to raise $6,500,000 for the Hoover relief fund. The Maryland Association has already made plans for raising several hundred thousand dollars.

The Delaware managers could make no plans because the Wilmington picture houses were not represented, most of these being included in the Philadelphia distribution area. Their plans will doubtless be made later.

Dean Robinson at Home Friday Afternoon

Dean Winifred J. Robinson will be at home at Women's College next Friday afternoon from 3:30 to 5. She will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. C. L. Penny, Mrs. C. O. Houghton, Mrs. George L. Medill, Mrs. Carl S. Rankin.

Country Club Works on Organization Scheme

A number of local men interested in the project of organizing a country club here held a meeting last Saturday night. About $2,000 more of stock was taken and those who started the movement feel encouraged over the prospects. As has been announced a fifty acre plot of ground on New London Road about one mile north of Newark has been leased on which a nine hole golf course will be laid out and a club house erected. Another meeting will be held next Thursday night at the home of S. J. Wright when more of the details of the proposed new club will be discussed.

FARM BUREAU DRIVE IN FULL SWING

Hockessin Community First Point of Attack; Kent Co. 100 Per Cent Over

Mr. Frank Yearsley of Marshallton, president of the New Castle County Farm Bureau, presided at the meeting held at Hockessin last Monday at which final instructions were given the solicitors for the Farm Bureau membership drive in this county. Eight solicitors were present and Mr. Yearsley's final word to them was to see every farmer in the county and give him an opportunity to become a member of the County Farm Bureau.

By becoming a member of the County Farm Bureau a farmer automatically becomes a member of the Delaware State Federation of Farm Bureaus, which will be a unit of the National Farm Bureau Federation with a membership of 1,500,000 farmers comprising 39 states in the Union. Mr. Yearsley has been chosen county manager of the membership campaign and Mr. J. D. Reynolds of Middletown has been chosen assistant manager, in charge of the drive south of the Canal.

The drive began in Hockessin community, yesterday, February 1. Reports today show enrollment of 72 per cent of those solicited. The itinerary for the drive follows: The itinerary for the drive follows:

Hockessin, February 1; Fairview, February 2; Stanton-Newport, February 3; Bear and Odessa, February 4; Mt. Pleasant and Middletown, February 7; Townsend and Deakyneville, February 8; Smyrna and Clayton, February 9; Kirkwood and Newark.

Authorities Asked to Divert Lincoln Highway

Petition Has Many Local Signers

Many Considerations Favor Route Around Rather Than Through Town

A petition has been in circulation throughout the town during the past week requesting that the Lincoln Highway be diverted from Main St. Many favor deflection to the southward at a point east of Newark, thus avoiding the main street of the town. The petition, is understood, has many signers.

At a meeting held here several months ago to ascertain the views of the citizens, discussion showed that while many of the business people favored the through-town route, many of the citizens were opposed for reasons of safety and of initial and maintenance costs.

The Delaware managers could make no plans because the Wilmington picture houses were not represented, most of these being included in the Philadelphia distribution area. Their plans will doubtless be made later.

WINTER NIGHT

ELIZABETH HAVENS BURROWES in Youth's Companion

Bring in the logs and pile them higher!
Push up the Windsor armchair, so;
Draw the high-backed settle higher
And gather in the firelight's glow.
The sharp snow stings the window glasses,
The keen wind tries our door in vain;
He pulls the shutters as he passes
And lulls and sighs and turns again.

Bring the carved oak nut bowl in
And those red apples we've been keeping:
Lay on a fagot; you begin
And spin a story while it's leaping.
Outside the bitter winter paces;
His frost and cold but add delight
To a hearth fire bringing well-loved faces
Home again to its warmth tonight.

For The Homemaker's Eye

Stuffed Baked Apples

Peel large sweet apples, and remove the cores. Fill with a mixture of chopped raisins, nuts, cinnamon and sugar, and bake in the oven until tender. Put a spoonful of whipped cream on each apple.

French Pancakes

Two eggs,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt, 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 cups milk,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup cream, powdered sugar, jam. Add eggs which have been beaten with sugar and to which milk and cream have been added to sifted flour, baking powder and salt. Batter should be very thin. Heat small frying pan in which a little butter has been melted. Pour in just enough batter to cover bottom of pan. Cook over hot fire. Turn and brown other side. Spread with preserves or jam and roll up. Sprinkle with a little powdered sugar and serve hot.

Southern Corn Bread

Take two and one-half cupfuls of buttermilk, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonsfuls of melted lard, and one pint of cornmeal which has been sifted and scalded with one cupful of hot water and add to two beaten eggs, which have not been separated.

After stirring well, turn into a well-greased pan, and bake in a quick oven.

Scalloped Macaroni

Cook a quarter of a pound of macaroni in equal parts of milk and water and add a slice of onion and two whole cloves. When tender drain, rinse with cold water, and drain again. Cut into small pieces and mix with four ounces of grated cheese, salt and paprika to taste, and two tablespoons of melted butter. Take four large scallop shells, brush with melted shortening and pour into each two tablespoonsfuls of thick tomato puree (canned tomato soup is excellent). Add the macaroni, cover with buttered crumbs and brown.

Coffee Cocoanut Custard

Thicken one scant pint of milk and half a cupful of strong clear coffee with two tablespoonsfuls of cornstarch and cook over hot water, stirring constantly for seven minutes. Then add the yolks of three eggs beaten with three tablespoonsfuls of sugar and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Cook for a moment or two to set the egg, remove from the fire and add half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Let the mixture cool and when it begins to stiffen fold in the stiffly whipped white of one egg and three-quarters of a cupful of grated cocoanut. Cover the top with moulds of sweetened whipped cream and chill before serving.

Cauliflower Salad

Divide the cooked cauliflower into small bunches, cleared of all stalk. Season with oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, a pinch of mustard, chopped parsley and chives. Mix these ingredients together, place in the refrigerator for a short time and serve cold.

Baked Sweet Potatoes and Bacon

Scrub potatoes or yams well and put into oven to bake. When nearly done, remove from the oven and

SOME VARIATIONS FOR SCHOOL LUNCHES

Expert Gives Many Suggestions for Sandwich Fillings

"Will you suggest some variations in sandwiches for school lunches?" This question came from a mother who puts up five lunches every day and who feels that the children need some variation from the meat sandwiches and from the egg sandwiches which are so commonly used. Bread and meat and bread and butter and eggs are pretty good combinations for the average child's lunch box, but for the sake of variety it is well to introduce some other kind of sandwich occasionally. Men and women and children are all peculiarly endowed with a desire for a change and this desire for change includes the subject of foods as every housewife can testify.

An attractive sandwich filling is made by putting through the meat grinder equal quantities of raisins and nuts. Add enough fruit juice or jelly to make moist, then spread on slices of buttered bread. A lettuce leaf placed in the sandwich improves it for most people. Another fruit sandwich filling is made of figs. Remove the stems and chop the figs until fine. Add a small quantity of water and cook in a double-boiler until a paste is formed. Then add a few drops of lemon juice. Chopped peanuts may be added to this or some people like to spread the bread with peanut butter and then with this paste of figs. For those who like preserved ginger, try placing thin slices of preserved Canton ginger between slices of buttered bread.

Sometimes the addition of flavors to the meat sandwiches will make it more acceptable. Try adding some tomato sauce to cold chopped meat and see if it is not a pleasant variation. Fried oysters arranged on crisp lettuce leaves and placed between slices of buttered bread form a good sandwich for adults. Young children should not have the fried foods, because of the greater difficulty in digestion. Hard-cooked eggs mixed with chopped ham and moistened with salad dressing is an old friend under a new guise. Scrambled eggs with crisp bacon is another good combination.

Cheese may be used much more than it is by most mothers. A plain cheese sandwich is nourishing and palatable. A cake of cream cheese contains many possibilities. With the addition of some pimentos and possibly some nuts or some chopped olives and a bit of mayonnaise it makes a very nice filling for sandwiches. Cottage cheese which is made at home takes on quite an aristocratic air when mixed with chopped nuts and spread between thin slices of graham bread. A change in the kind of bread used will often please the child. A change in color or in shape is often worth while. One mother bakes round loaves in baking powder cans because her children are fond of the crust and this makes a sandwich which is attractive and which does not break easily.

The ingenious woman, however, is not going to depend upon directions for the making of sandwiches. She will study the tastes and needs of her children; she will study the contents and possibilities of her cupboard and do some experimenting in the making of sandwiches. If she has nuts, cheese, salad dressing, tomatoes, and dried fruits, she will be able to give her children a surprise occasionally in the contents of their lunch baskets.

A Profitable Midwinter Picnic

Did you ever try cooperation in ice harvesting? It works like a charm. Get one or two of your neighbors to go into such a scheme. One pond or stream and one set of tools will answer for all. It is much like a midwinter picnic, for "many hands make light work." These midwinter picnics make midsummer picnics more enjoyable, for the ice that is stored can be used to great advantage at such affairs during the hot season. On every farm there are many uses for ice. The dairy farm can hardly do without it.

The equipment necessary for harvesting and storing ice consists simply of saws, tongs, and iron bars for pushing the blocks of ice around. Nearly any shed can be made into an ice house if drainage is provided and a plentiful supply of clean, dry sawdust or similar insulating material is used. The United States Department of Agriculture can supply complete information on the proper way of storing ice.

Her Wedding

"So Helen Strongmind is to be married to Mr. Wurm."

"Not exactly. Helen says he is to be married to her."

"Oh, yes, of course. She's asked you to be her bridesmaid, hasn't she?"

"No, she asked me to be her best woman."—Boston Transcript.

Women Not Subject to Capitation Tax Says Attorney General

An opinion that there is nothing contained in the constitutional amendment enfranchising women which affects our constitutional provision relating to a capitation tax, has been given the Kent County Board of Assessment by Attorney-General Sylvester D. Townsend, Jr., in answer to a query as to this matter by Harry B. Grieves, a member of the Kent county board. Mr. Grieves, in his communication to the attorney-general stated that the new board of assessment of Kent county is making out a questionnaire to be submitted to the taxpayers and

Townsend for answer. Mr. Townsend's answer to the question of Mr. Grieves follows:

"Dear Sir: Your letter of January 21, inquiring whether females of 21 years and upward are subject to a capitation tax the same as males, was duly received. I presume that this question arises out of the passage of the constitutional amendment enfranchising women. I have discussed this matter with my deputies, Mr. Southerland and Mr. Finger, and we are all of the opinion that there is nothing in the constitutional amendment enfranchising women which effects our constitutional provision relating to a capitation tax in any way."

CHEAPER FERTILIZER FOR THE FARMER NOW A POSSIBILITY

Dr. Milton Whitney, Chief of Bureau of Soils, Makes Encouraging Report

Cheap and abundant fertilizer has long been the dream of the farmer, orchardist, and truck gardener. A step toward its attainment has been taken by the Bureau of Soils, United States Department of Agriculture, in solving the problem of extracting phosphoric acid, one of the three constituents most commonly used in commercial fertilizers, from phosphate rock by a method much cheaper and more efficient than the commonly used sulphuric-acid process. This new method in which mixtures of phosphate rock, sand, and coke are heated to a smelting temperature in a fuel-fed furnace may revolutionize the fertilizer industry of the world.

In the United States the phosphate used for fertilizer comes largely from the deposits of rock in Florida. The established method of producing a soluble phosphate is to treat the rock with sulphuric acid. By this method the acid phosphate contains only one-half the percentage of phosphoric acid that is contained in the rock from which it was derived. Commercial acid phosphate, for instance, made from 32 per cent rock contains only 16 per cent of phosphoric acid. Oftentimes the process results in the loss of two-thirds of the rock.

New Process Saves Waste

With a view to saving this immense waste of phosphate, the Bureau of Soils undertook to evolve a new process whereby phosphoric acid could be freed by using a high degree of heat. The first work was done in an electric furnace, but it soon became evident that this process would be prohibitively expensive except in localities where electric power could be obtained at a very low cost. The department, therefore, turned its attention to the possibilities of using crude oil, which is the cheapest fuel obtainable in the vicinity of the large phosphate rock deposits of Florida, and the experiments indicate that phosphoric acid can be extracted more cheaply in an oil-burning furnace than by the old sulphuric-acid process.

U. S. Ranks Ninth In Education

In a report of the Committee on Education of the House of Representatives, the United States was declared to rank ninth among the nations of the world in the general educational level of its people.

This report was made in connection with a recommendation for the passage of the Smith-Towner bill to establish a federal department of education with federal aid in increasing educational facilities. The country is trailing behind most of the civilized world," the report said, from the standpoint of its educational advantages.

The proposed measure offers the only means, the report declared, of correcting the present inequality of educational opportunities among the various communities.

Illiteracy is a national and not a sectional problem, the report said in citing statistics to show it was almost equally prevalent in every section of the country.

Build a "Pleasant" New House

Happy the man, in these days of shortage, who owns a house that is neither ugly nor uncomfortable! And happier still is the prospective builder who will conform honorably to good standards for the new structure. We may sigh for the good old days of cheap materials and abundant labor, but the responsibility for a pleasant new house is no less personal now than formerly. Of course utility should always be considered, but that is no reason why a house should not also have simplicity of line and good taste in ornament.

Preventive Hygiene Worth More than Relief Work

A young physician who had charge of the medical and surgical relief work of a manufacturing plant asked the doctor of the Public Health Service how he could induce his employers to raise his salary, which was twelve hundred dollars a year. "Study the needs of your plant," advised the Service doctor; "investigate the causes of accidents and of headaches and colic; suggest ways whereby they can be reduced and the lost time can be saved, and see what will happen." Six months later the physician told the Service doctor that he had acted on his advice and that his employers had doubled his salary. Preventive hygiene is always worth twice as much as relief work.

Mr. Paderewski's

Title to Fame

The Polish patriot and pianist, Mr. Paderewski, is, says the London Morning Post, keenly interested in farm stock. He once bought some prize pigs in Essex, a transaction to which the newspapers gave much publicity. Not long after he had made the purchase he was looking into the pigsty at a certain farm, when the farmer came up and began to talk. Being anxious to impress the visitor with his importance, the farmer led him to a sty that he had not seen and, pointing to the inmates, said, "Do you see them pigs? I've sold them to Mr. Paderewski, the great pig dealer from abroad!"

U. S. Ranks Ninth In Education

In a report of the Committee on Education of the House of Representatives, the United States was declared to rank ninth among the nations of the world in the general educational level of its people.

This report was made in connection with a recommendation for the passage of the Smith-Towner bill to establish a federal department of education with federal aid in increasing educational facilities.

The country is trailing behind most of the civilized world," the report said, from the standpoint of its educational advantages.

The proposed measure offers the only means, the report declared, of correcting the present inequality of educational opportunities among the various communities.

Illiteracy is a national and not a sectional problem, the report said in citing statistics to show it was almost equally prevalent in every section of the country.

The Hand of God in the Seasons

We feel it when the gentle hand of Spring
Drapes all the listless earth in vernal hues,
When tree and plant and shrub are blossoming,
And erstwhile silent songsters do enthrone.

We feel it when the Summer skies are clear,
When dewdrops glisten on the brow of Morn,
When smiling blooms unto the long rays rear
Their heads, and fragrance on the breeze is borne.

We feel it when the mellow Autumn yields
Its store, and shrill winds in the browning trees,
On scorching hills and in the fading fields,
Presage to pining nature its surcease.

We feel it when all things of bloom expire,
As north winds groaning o'er field and glade,

When hoary Winter's chastening empire
Is built upon the wreckage it has made.

There is beneath the changeful film and pall
Rapture that is not to the earth allied.
And in that Presence permeating all
The universe, that rapture doth abide.

Hopes Delaware Will Enact a Part-time Law

Mr. L. S. Hawkins, Chief, Federal Board for Vocational Education, Washington, D. C., addressed a conference in Wilmington recently on Industrial Education, at which State Director R. W. Hein and Benj. W. Johnson, State Supervisor for Trades and Industries, were present.

Mr. Hawkins complimented the State on the splendid showing which Delaware has been able to make in its industrial program this year. He stated that he hoped Delaware would enact a Part-time Law during the present session of the Legislature.

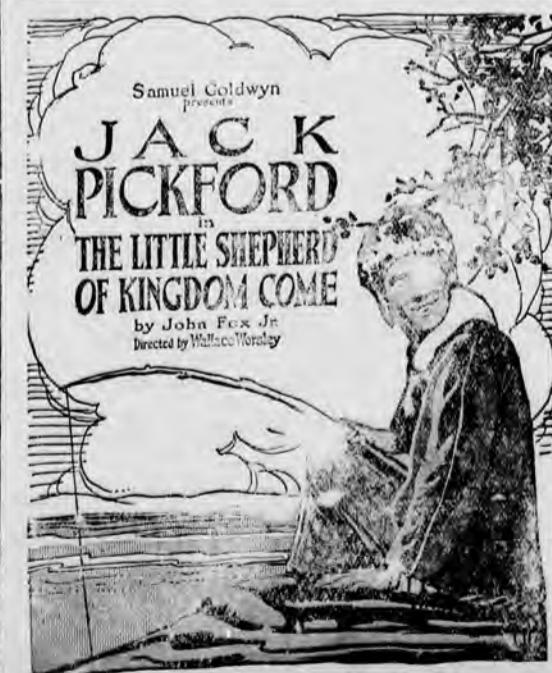

Before returning to Washington, Mr. Hawkins called at the State Office in Dover and addressed the agricultural teachers' conference which was in session there.

Mickey's Definition

In the matter of making bulls, as the following story from Answers indicates, even the youngest Irishman may be proficient.

"Now," said the teacher of a village school in Ireland at the close of her long lecture on elementary chemistry, "I want someone to give me a good definition of salt."

"Sure," said Mickey, a bright, blue-eyed youngster. "It's the stuff that makes potatoes taste nasty when you boil them and don't put any in."

Amend the Game Laws

Any step that our Legislature may take in the direction of affording greater protection to our wild game will be along the right line. To increase the fees of non-residents who want to shoot in Delaware is surely a wise proposal, but we should like to see it advanced to a sum sufficient to discourage the custom of "outlanders" coming here and killing off our game.

If the sport is so irresistible there is no true sportsman who would object to paying for it, and this sum could be used for the propagation of additional birds and thus their entire extinction averted. It would not be a hardship either if citizens of the State should contribute to this cause by permit to hunt.

Possibly, however, the surest and best form of preservation of the wild game birds would be for the farmers to prohibit shooting on their lands at any time in the future.—Every Evening.

A SETTIN' HEN

When a hen is bound to set,
Seems as though 'tain't etiket Dowsin' her in water till
She's connected with a chill.
Seems as though 'twas skursley right

Givin' her a dreadful fright,
Tayin' rage around her tail,
Poundin' on an old tin pail,
Chasin' her around the yard,
Seems as though 'twas kinder hard
Bein' kicked and slammed and shooed

'Cause she wants to raise a brood,
I sh'd say it's gettin' gay
Jest 'cause natur' wants its way.
While ago my neighbor, Penn,
Started bustin' up a hen;

Went to yank her off the nest,
Hen, though, made a peck and jest
Graffed his thumb nail good and stout
Liked to yank the darn thing out.
Penn, he twitched away and then
Tried again to grab the hen,
But, by ginger, she had spunk,
'Cause she took and nipped a chunk

Big's a bean right out his palm;
Swallowed it, and cool and calm
Histed up and yelled "Cah-dah!"
Sounded like she said "Hoo-rah!"
Wall, sir, when the hen done that,
Penn, he bowed, took off his hat,
Spunk just suits him you can bet—
"Set," says he, "gol darn ye, set!"

The Butler's Complaint

"There would be fewer divorcees," said Gen. Baxter Sweeney at a Knoxville luncheon, "if discipline were observed in marriage—if the rules of politeness held them as elsewhere."

"A Knoxville butler the other day resigned his job."

"Why are you quitting, Halliburton?" a brother butler asked him.

"Because they treat one so badly," was the answer. "Why, they treat me as one of the family! The mistress calls me an old fool as often as she does her husband."

MAKING MONEY

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toil—some saving of their daily wages. But we submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have achieved a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

A word to the wise is enough. Watch your neighbors gradually rise in the world and then ascertain how they are doing it.

In nine cases out of ten you will find they have purchased their home or farm—often on easy terms—while their less enterprising neighbor is still paying rent.

MANY ATTEND FARE- WELL RECEPTION TO PASTOR AND WIFE

St. Thomas' Church to Have Visiting Ministers Until Pulpit Is Filled

Members of the congregation of St. Thomas' Church and friends of Rev. and Mrs. Walter G. Haupt to the number of 200, gathered at the Parish House on Saturday evening to bid farewell to the departing pastor and his wife. The popularity of these two faithful workers was attested by the genuine regret expressed by old and young who for seven years have been associated with Dr. and Mrs. Haupt in church and social work.

Bishop Philip Cook of Wilmington, presided, and seated with him at the table were Rev. and Mrs. Haupt, members of the vestry and their wives, as follows. Dr. George A. Harter, Mr. and Mrs. Levi K. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lee Rose, Mr. and Mrs. George Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Dean, Charles W. Colmery and Mr. and Mrs. George Carter.

Bishop Cook in a short but exceedingly effective address eulogistic of the work of Rev. and Mrs. Haupt, presented them with a purse of $75 from the congregation. Both Mr. and Mrs. Haupt responded. Bishop Cook was compelled to leave before the affair was over and he turned the meeting over to Dr. George A. Harter.

George Carter, Dr. Walter Hullihen, president of Delaware College; Dean Winifred J. Robinson, of Women's College; Professor Elisha Conover, and J. B. Shaw were the other speakers. All commended the work of Rev. and Mrs. Haupt, expressed regret at their departure and wished them success and happiness in their new line of work.

Previous to the reception the vestry held a conference with Bishop Cook with regard to applicants for the rectorship. A number were considered but no definite action taken. Arrangements were made for ministers to fill the pulpit until a pastor can be secured. Next Sunday Rev. C. J. Pollet of Aberdeen, Md., will conduct the services at the usual time.

Mr. Haupt conducted his final services here on Sunday and features of a farewell nature were arranged by the choir and by the organist whose final selection was "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." After the evening service Mr. and Mrs. Haupt left for Washington, D. C., where he will engage in educational work. A large delegation of church folk and friends were at the train for a final farewell.

DELMARVIA PRESS ASSOCIATION REELECTS S. E. SHANAHAN

Entertains Two Governors at Annual Meeting in Wilmington Last Saturday

At the annual meeting of the Delmarvia Press Association held at the Hotel Du Pont last Saturday, E. E. Shannahan of Easton, Md., was re-elected president. Governors Denney of Delaware and Ritchie of Maryland were present and both spoke briefly. The newspaper men, nearly 100 in number, began arriving early. Many of the down state editors and others from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, because of the limited train service from their sections reached Wilmington some time before the meeting. The time, however, prior to the morning session was a most delightful one for the early comers for it gave them an opportunity of discussing "shop" problems with their neighbor editors, whom, perhaps, they had not seen and talked with since the last meeting of the Delmarvia Press Association. How this man was meeting a difficulty that was of interest to every one, and how he helped cut the cost of production were themes that were of intense interest.

Mr. Shannahan presided at the meeting. In his report he suggested that a committee be named to draft resolutions on the death of F. E. Williams of Elkton, and Marion Brewington, of Salisbury. On motion of George Carter it was decided to elect as honorary members Governors Davis, of Virginia; Ritchie, of Maryland, and Denney, of Delaware.

William F. Metten, secretary and treasurer, reported 48 members.

Colonel Theodore Townsend, of Milford, nominated Mr. Shannahan for president for the coming year. The election was unanimous. Mr. Carter then moved the appointing of a nominating committee to name the officers to be elected. This committee was named as follows: Clarence J. Pyle, Colonel James C. Wicks and Charles Walls.

The committee recommended the re-election of George Carter as vice-president, and W. F. Metten, secretary and treasurer.

The executive committee elected is Colonel Theodore Townsend, of Milford; Everett C. Johnson, of Newark, and Fred S. Usilton, of Chestertown.

The following were elected members of the association: C. H. Bray, Easton, Md.; C. B. White, Snow Hill; Charles B. Palmer, H. T. Price and Julian Morgan, Wilmington.

Leo M. Moore, of Havre de Grace, Md., president of the Maryland Press Association, presided at the meeting of that society. It was decided to cancel all dues for 1920 and to reduce the dues from $6 to $3 annually.

President Moore announced the following committee to draft suitable resolutions on the death of F. E. Williams, Marion Brewington and G. T. Melvin; John B. Worthington, of Belair, Md.; S. E. Shannahan, of Easton, and Fred S. Usilton, of Chestertown.

The annual election then was held, John E. Raine, of Baltimore, Md., being elected president unanimously. S. E. Shannahan was re-elected secretary and treasurer, and the retiring board of directors was re-elected as follows: E. H. Brown, Jr., E. O. Diffendel, Fred E. Usilton, Edward B. Powell, S. E. Shannahan and Harry Brewington.

C. L. Estill, of Salisbury, Md.,

The Annual Meeting of the Stock Holders of the Mutual Building and Loan Association will be held at the Farmers' Trust Co. J. EARLE DOUGHERTY, Sec.

extended an invitation to the association to hold its annual session at that place along with the Delmarvia Association. The invitation was accepted.

The following were elected to office: John Robinson, Belair; C. B. White, Snow Hill; John D. Worthington, Belair, and C. E. Egan, of Easton.

Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, and Albert H. Wehr were elected honorary members of the association.

Among those present at the joint meeting were Colonel Theodore Townsend, of Milford; A. R. Saylor, Clarence J. Pyle, George Carter, Clarence C. Killen, L. M. Wickensham and William F. Metten, of Wilmington; R. H. Collins, of Chestertown, Md.; John E. Raine, of Baltimore; W. J. Brewington, C. L. Estill, of Salisbury, Md.; J. W. Stowell, of Federalsburg, Md.; R. P. ### FARM BUREAU DRIVE IN FULL SWING ark, February 10; Centerville, Talleyville and Wilmington, February 11.

Mr. Yearsley says, "We propose to give every farmer in the county an opportunity to join the County Farm Bureau, his State and National Farm Bureau Federation, and farmer, drivers and solicitors will call on their neighbors for this purpose. Our farmers have shown great interest in the meetings which have been held in the various communities to explain the achievements and program of work of the County Farm Bureau and the National Federation. Our New Castle County farmers do not realize how the County Farm Bureau has benefited them since it was organized three years ago." As one example of the Farm Bureau program achieved since it was started President Yearsley referred to that of dairying movement and development.

The Farm Bureau in cooperation with the banks has brought into the State 200 pure bred female dairy cattle, of which 70 were heifers for members of the boys and girls dairy cattle club, and all of which were sold at cost to the farmers. A bull survey was taken in the county over a year ago which showed that more than 92% of them were either scrub or grades. As a result of this survey animal sales of pure bred bull calves have been held so that owners of scrub bulls could replace them with pure breeds at a reasonable price.

President Yearsley referred with pride to the organizations developed for more efficient marketing, and here he referred to the eight locals of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association, which have been promoted at eight shipping points by the Farm Bureau. Each phase of the program of work of the county farm bureau is in the hands of some man or woman deeply interested in that phase of the farming problem for which they are responsible. As an example of how this work extends into the remotest rural community he mentioned the Boys' and Girls' Clubs in agriculture and home making, in which have been enrolled more than 1000 boys and girls during the past three years. Dilworth of Centerville heads up these projects.

President Yearsley made it clear that the County Farm Bureau was not a competitive farmers' organization, but that it was acting as a clearing house for all farmers and their organizations. As the County Farm Bureau has developed into a service organization for the farmers in helping them with local problems, so the National Federation of Farm Bureaus is acting as a service organization to the farmers in the solution of their national problems. These are grouped under four heads, (1) Legislative, (2) Marketing, (3) Publicity, and (4) Transportation. One of the outstanding achievements of the National Federation is that of reducing the valuation of the railroads by $1,500,000,000 and thus saving the shippers of America $100,000,000 in freight rates. This work is under the direction of Clifford Thorne, famous as a railroad attorney with the Corn Belt Meat Producers' Association.

All this has frightened some easily scared souls in Wilmington and other communities. They fear the over-crowding of cities and desertion of farm acres. They view with alarm and tremble with each rustling of the census leaf. But unduly so.

There are not as many persons needed on the farms. Farm machinery has reduced the demand for human hands. One man with a tractor can, and does, do more than two with horses did.

Probably the 1930 census will show less than 48.6 per cent on the farms. By then, no doubt, machinery will have done still more to reduce farm demand for human hands.

Those who fear that desertion of farms means food famines in the future forget that the moment when such a thing may be possible that moment there'll be a rising tide of back-to-the-landers. Then farm wages will mount so high that city jobs will lose much of their attraction. In the long run men find their way to where they are most needed. Just now, it seems more are needed in factories than in fields. Until the reverse is true, why worry about the matter? Why, indeed, when one remembers that when 51.4 per cent of the population were in cities and the other 48.6 produced that fine 1920 crop, so much food that America will have to export and a surplus besides!—Exchange.

February—at Megary's!

It is the month that many of our friends have waited for—it is the month of the Megary Sale of fine home furnishings.

And this year—of all years—the February Sale takes on new meaning.

The immense stock and the greater, much greater, reductions that usual makes this furniture sale a bigger money saving opportunity than ever before.

Here are hundreds of pieces of fine home furnishings—odd pieces and suites for every room in the house. And they are of the high standards of quality we insist upon—the kind of furnishings you want in your home—the kind that's good to live with.

And every piece in this big stock has been sharply reduced. Some are marked in many cases below today's replacement value.

The Megary February Sale is eagerly awaited for by the careful and prudent buyers.

They know the fineness and the high quality of our goods and the moderate price they are marked.

They know that the reductions are real and genuine—not mere price tag reductions.

And what is more important still they have faith and confidence in this big store—they know the Megary reputation for honest merchandising—a reputation fifty years old.

We would earnestly advise your taking advantage of the February Sale.

Prices will not be any lower and if immediate delivery is not wanted make your selections and we will hold them a reasonable time.

Included in the Furniture Sale is the Floor Covering, Drapery and Bedding Sales with some very low prices prevailing.

We deliver by truck to most out-of-town points.

Will you pay us an early visit?

Pays Compliment to Prohibition Director

Saturday's issue of Every Evening under the heading of "A Benign and Guileless Countenance," pays tribute to worthy neighbor W. Truxton Boyce in the following article:

"We wish to extend congratulations to W. Truxton Boyce, Prohibition Director of Delaware, because of his benign and guileless countenance, which even disarms the suspicions of bootleggers whom he meets along the highway."

"Every Evening published the story Friday of how Mr. Boyce was driving along the roadway and was hailed by a Negro who wanted a ride. After taking the pedestrian in, Mr. Boyce remarked casually that this is a dry world. The guest took one look at Mr. Boyce, and seeing nothing but simplicity in his eyes, remarked that things could be liquored up, at the rate of 35 cents a drink, if desired.

"Mr. Boyce did desire, for purposes of evidence. Whereupon the Negro poured forth a stiff libation and tendered it to him, saying, 'You know boss, there's more profit by selling it this way than by the quart.' A moment later Mr. Boyce's benign and guileless gaze changed to one of stern disapproval, and the hapless wight by his side found himself in the law's clutches.

"Fiction hath it that all prohibition directors have that peculiar cast of countenance which the illustrators attribute to Sherlock Holmes. Possibly some of them do; maybe that is why so few are successful. But Mr. Boyce is otherwise. His face is a success—this we say in all seriousness. If by his own personal efforts he could put away one bootlegger a day, Delaware would soon be as dry as a Sahara without a desert."

"All bootleggers, who would flaunt the law, should take a tip from the plight of the Negro in this case. These harmless looking, soft-voiced gentlemen are not always what they seem. Sometimes they are very efficient servants of Uncle Sam like Mr. Boyce, who never overlook a chance to pick up a lawbreaker along the highway."

STATE TO HAVE 12 DELEGATES TO
WOMAN'S PARTY
CONVENTION

Chairman Makes Public the Plans for Gathering
Feb. 15 to 18

According to the program recently made public by Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's Party, Delaware will have twelve delegates at the convention to be held at Washington, February 15 to 18.

The principal purpose of the convention is the adoption of a future program for the party. This decision will be reached by a majority vote of the 590 delegates from the forty-eight states.

In order that the Women's Party program may not duplicate those of other groups, representatives of eleven national women's organizations and departments of the government, dealing with women and children will address the convention before the vote is taken. The Democratic, Republican, Socialist and Farmer-Labor parties will send representatives to outline legislation they propose to enact in the interest of women.

Miss Mabel Boardman, first woman commissioner of the District of Columbia, will welcome the delegates to Washington, and Rev. Olympia Brown, of Racine, Wis., one of the first women preachers in the United States, and a friend of Susan B. Anthony, will open the convention with prayer.

Among the forty women who are listed on the program are: Mrs. Ellis Yost, legislative chairman of the W. C. T. U.; Miss Mary Stewart, national corresponding secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs; Mrs. Philip North Moore, president of the National Council of Women; Miss Lida Hafford, Washington director, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Henry Villard, president, National Woman's Peace Party; Miss Mabel Kittredge, president, Woman's International League; Miss Julia Lathrop, chief, Federal Children's Bureau; Miss Mary Anderson, director, Woman's Bureau of the Department of Labor; Miss Ethel Smith, national secretary, Woman's Trade Union League; Miss Alice Robertson, congresswoman from Oklahoma.

Three men will have a place on the program: Speaker Gillette, of the House of Representatives, who will accept the suffrage memorial which will be presented to the Capitol; Dr. Simeon Fess, chairman of the congressional committee of the Republican party, who will represent his party, and Senator Thaddeus Caraway, of Arkansas, who will speak on "What the Woman's Party Has Accomplished" at the final session of the convention.

On Freedom

Freedom is not a gift but an attainment. It does not characterize the state or nature, but flowers from the growth of personality and civilization.

Action issues from character, and there is inner discord and the feeling of restraint until the individual is happy and satisfied in his act and attitude.

A divided will marks incomplete personality, and is not a free will.

Every man must win his own freedom. He must desire it enough to pay its price, and its price is the mastery of passions and appetites.

As a man gains mastery over his own powers and desires he is free. Resolutions are good, because they witness to the sense of incomplete self-mastery and to the vision of greater self-control and freedom that are possible. — Minneapolis Journal.

Had Feared the Worst

It is a sad thing to have to relate, but Mr. Spengedy came home the other night "wet." Not externally, but internally; he had drunk wine or spirits or beer!

With uncertain footsteps he climbed the stairs, with itchy, nervous fingers he undressed himself, with swimming head he lay down in his bed.

Mrs. Spengedy had, however, heard his anti-catlike tread.

Thinking to frighten him, she covered her head with a sheet and approached his bed.

Spengedy sat up in bed and gaped in wonder at the spook.

"Who is that?" he asked.

"I am a ghost!" came the answer from the sheet.

"Oh, that's all right, then. But you did give me a fright! I thought you were my wife!" — London Tit Bits.

Which Type of Woman Does a Man Prefer?

A question of ethics with an intensely modern slant is given a clever treatment in the big Selznick feature picture, "Just a Wife," to be shown at the Opera House next Saturday.

Who has the real right to a man's regard and affection—the woman who has been "The Power Behind the Throne" of his life helping him to success—or the woman who married him for money and then discovered that she loved him?

Shall a woman who has sacrificed her brain power, her youth, and her good name for a man, step aside in favor of a girl who takes his name laughingly, enjoys his wealth, and gives nothing save a belated affection?

Which type of woman does a man truly care for—the intellectual, self-reliant kind who can help him build a fortune or the sweet, domestic woman who can surround him with beauty, make him comfortable, and demand protection?

Wife—or good comrade? Which woman finally wins in the eternal battle for love?

These are a few of the phases of an unusual situation which exists in the brilliant drama, "Just a Wife."

Nazimova at Best in Latest Picture

Those who like Nazimova best as the gorgeous woman of the world, the celebrity, will have ample opportunity for pleasure Friday evening at the Opera House in witnessing "Madame Peacock," the Russian star's latest Metro picture, adapted from Rita Weiman's story. And those who find especial delight in Nazimova as the appealing youngster, the doughty poor little girl, will likewise be satisfied—rather more than that, in fact.

For in "Madame Peacock," Nazimova has the first dual role chosen since the great Chinese spectacle, "The Red Lantern." Rita Weiman has drawn two distinct characters in Jane Goring and Gloria Cromwell, both taken by the star.

The skillful direction of Ray C. Smallwood and no less capable photographic work by Rudolph Bergquist, projected against Edward Shulter's stunning art settings all contribute to supplement fittingly the star's greatest achievement on the screen.

Stanton Activities

The Girls Club of Stanton held a business meeting recently at the home of Mrs. C. P. Dickey, at which time the girls decided on the pattern of a quilt which they will make, and which will be exchanged off, proceeds of which will be for the playground work at the school.

It was decided to prepare a letter, asking for suggestions for club work, which will be sent to the various clubs of the State, and then returned to the Stanton Club. It is hoped in this way that ideas of the various clubs may be exchanged, and thereby promote the work to a great extent.

The club will have a guest, next Monday evening, Miss Mabel Krall, Rural Y. W. C. A. Leader, Miss Agnes Medill, County Club Leader, Professor Martin, State Club Leader, and Mrs. Martin, Miss Lora Little, teacher of the Stanton school and Mrs. C. P. Dickey, leader of the Stanton Club. The girls of the club are arranging a surprise in the way of entertainment for their guests.

The Boys Athletic Club and the Girls Sewing Club will give an entertainment in the meeting house in celebration of Washington's birthday.

Hockessin Grange Holds Meeting

Because of the illness of Worthy Master S. S. Denison, Wilson T. Pierson acted as master of Hockessin Grange on Monday night. After the regular business meeting and suggestions from several of the members of the grange, the following literary program was presented: Singing by the grange; remarks by Robert B. Walker, on "Have the prices on farm products decreased in greater or less proportion, as compared to manufacturers' products and why?"; talk by Mr. Richards, on "The bright spots in the past year of our grange"; address by Frank Yearsley, on "In your opinion has the grange lost ground in the past year"; discussion, Miss Mary Springer.

Tommy was always in trouble of some sort. One of his greater faults was that he never stopped talking.

So father ordered him to remain silent at mealtimes until he was spoken to.

One dinner time he noticed the small boy simply bursting to speak, so he asked kindly:

"Well my boy?"

"Are caterpillars good to eat?" asked little Tommy.

"No," said father, "what makes you ask that?"

"You had one on your lettuce, but it's gone now," replied Tommy.

Much interest is being manifested in the outcome of the first half of the Fraternal Quoit Series now being played off. The final game will be played next Saturday evening. In the event of tie this will be played off before the second series is begun. From present indications there is no possibility of such a contingency since the Jr. Order of Mechanics are so far ahead that only their dust is visible to the other contestants. An unlooked for spurt of speed, however, may land the Red Men within hailing distance of these valiant leaders. The contests take place on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings in Odd Fellows Hall at 8:30 o'clock. They are open to the public and are attracting many spectators. The schedule for this week is as follows:

Monday, Jr. O. A. M. vs. K. G. E.

AMERICAN LEGION AGAIN DOWNS NEWARK HIGH

Strong Rehab Team Completely Swamps Faculty Five

The second contest between the strong Newark High School basketball team and that representing the American Legion took place last night at the Armory in the presence of a goodly number of loyal rooters for both sides. The Legion team proved too much for the High School five who, however, put up a stubborn fight. The final score was 17-5. Evans and Hopkins starred for the latter and from the appearance of the score sheet the American Legion put on the boards an all-star aggregation.

The basketball game between the Rehabs and a team representing the faculty of their unit, played last Wednesday night, resulted in a decisive victory for the former with a score of 41-18.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars who had scheduled a dance for

February 11, have moved the event forward to February 8 in order to avoid having that festivity during the Lenten season which starts on February 9.

School Auxiliary

Association Makes No Definite Plans

Members of the Delaware School Auxiliary Association met last Friday to discuss plans for the future. They talked over what had been accomplished and many things that would be for the betterment of school conditions in the future. It appeared to be the opinion that it would be the wisest course to wait and see what important changes if any were made in the school law before making any definite plans for the present year.

The Association either has completed, has in course of erection or planned for the erection of about thirty new buildings throughout the State.

Miller's Greatest February Furniture Sale

In planning our sale this year we had good grounds for claiming that it would be our GREATEST FURNITURE SALE. We knew in advance that we would startle the City and State with the low prices we had determined to quote during the month.

We had sized up other sales and knew just what other merchants were giving the public in the way of prices. We invited the people to wait for the opening of our sale with full confidence that it would be the GREATEST FURNITURE SALE.

That it has proved well worth waiting for is the verdict of hundreds of enthusiastic buyers.
