"Queen Of Kells" Is Toast Of Neighborhood

"Queen of Kells," 2-year old Springer Spaniel owned by Sam Diehl, 214 Kells Avenue, certainly lived up to her name one recent night.

Usually quiet and amiable, "Queen" aroused the entire neighborhood around 2 a. m. with her barking, finally awakening her master, Councilman Diehl, who groped his way into some clothes and shuffled down to find out what the fuss was all about. "Queen" refused to be quieted, and Mr. Diehl finally set her free. She headed immediately for the garage of a next door neighbor, A. L. Lackman.

Councilman Diehl, girding up his courage, followed and found the garage had been broken into. It looked very much like prowlers had been trying to steal Mr. Lackman's car.

Needless to say, "Queen" is now the toast of Kells.

Police Force Makes 36 Arrests In Nov.; Speeding Fines Dip*Only 8 Motorists Fined For Exceeding 25-Mile Limit
In Town

A total of 36 law violators were arrested here during November, a sizeable drop from the 45 taken into custody the previous month, according to Chief William Cunningham's report.

For the first time in many months, speeding failed to top the list of offenses. Only eight motorists were nabbed for violating the 25-mile limit in town.

Most common offense was passing red lights, which drew 10 arrests. The breakdown for the remainder follows: threatening bodily harm, one arrest; drunkenness, five; four on front seat of car; two; disorderly conduct, six; assault and battery, two, resisting arrest, one; passing on right, one.

Twenty-one investigations were carried out by the force as follows: seven accidents; three reports of illegal use of firecrackers, two of which were cleared; five cases of breaking and entering; three reports of prowlers; one report of a hit and run driver, which was cleared; one report of boys breaking windows, also cleared; one case of a runaway boy, who was returned to his home.

One person was held for the Court of Common Pleas and one case was dismissed.

Magistrate Clarence Foster reported the collection of $336 in fines.

During the 30-day period, the police handled 287 phone calls, followed up 42 reports of faulty street lights, and granted overnight lodging to four transients. The police car covered 3522.

Rev. George Walton, president of the chapter, announced that the group will sponsor a Cub pack for boys between the ages of 9 and 12 in the New London area. Members of the committee to plan the pack are Dr. Ted Landsman, chairman, Miss Gloria Howard, Mrs. Alice Wilson, Mrs. Ethelyn Chambers and Mrs. Olive Ryland. The committee will meet at 7:30 p. m. No Complaints Over
Fluoridated Water
Yet, Officials Say*Dr. Musselman Plans New Tooth Tests For Youngsters Here

This community rounded out its first week on fluoridated water with no ill effects and no complaints from the public according to town authorities.

The fluorine experiment, aimed at retarding tooth decay in young children, began just a week ago Tuesday, when automatic machinery was turned on feeding sodium fluoride into the town system.

Despite the fact that the chemical, in the amounts being used, is odorless and colorless, the lack of public reaction came as something of a surprise to town officials, who had expected at least a few "crank" complaints. On several previous occasions, announcements that the town was about to begin the experiment brought a number of irate objections to the "fluorine taste" in the water.

Dr. P. K. Musselman, local dentist, who is directing the experiment, said yesterday he has been keeping a close watch on the daily reports of the water's fluoride content. Thus far it has been a little low, he said, but he expects it to be brought up soon to the recommended level of one part of sodium fluoride per million parts of water.

He also said he is completing arrangements for another mass tooth examination of Newark children between the ages of three and ten. The previous examination, held last January, is no longer regarded as useful for the purposes of the experiment.

The next tests, which are expected to include some 500 local children as well as youngsters in the same age bracket in Dover, the comparison test town for the experiment, will be conducted by Miss Margaret Jeffers, director of oral hygiene of the State Board of Health. The dates will be announced in the near future.

Postoffice Officials Set Special Christmas
Mailing Hours, Dec. 16-17

In an effort to expedite the last-minute rush of Christmas mail, a stamp and parcel post window will be open at the postoffice until 3 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 16, and from 2 to 5 p. m. on Sunday, Dec. 17.

The special mailing hours will be an innovation this year, postoffice officials said, and it is hoped the public will cooperate.

That same day, a special tow-wide collection will be made from street mailboxes, starting at 3 p. m. Letters and parcels placed in the boxes before that time will be assured of prompt shipment from the postoffice.

Officials also issued a reminder that the rate on unsealed cards is now two cents. Many persons are still using 1½ cent stamps on this type of mail.

20 Girls Invested
By Scout Troop 21

Twenty girls of Scout Troop 21 were invested in ceremonies last Thursday at the Community Hall on Cleveland Avenue.

The investiture was conducted by Mrs. G. T. Borchardt, chairman of the Newark Girl Scout district; Mrs. Jerome Weinberg, assistant chairman; and Mrs. Edward Nalle, representative of the district committee. The visiting scout officials were assisted in the ceremonies by Troop 21 leaders, Mrs. Gloria Howard and Mrs. Julius Ryland.

Included in the program was a flag ceremony with Irene Klahr and Lucile Corey, members of the Mariner Troop, serving as flag bearers and Grace Miller and Sandra Calhoun, members of the intermediate troops, as color guards.

Alvin Robeson, III and Connie Parker*Prompt Formation Of Civil Defense Program Is Planned*Organization Of Emergency Units Is Now Most Important Problem Facing Town, Johnson Says At December Council Meeting Tuesday

Stepped up plans for organization of a full scale civilian defense program here were outlined by Mayor Wallace Johnson at the December meeting of the Town Council on Tuesday night.

The lawmakers postponed action on two important issues—rent control and the proposed ordinance governing the use of auto trailers.

Appointment of John Fader, a Newark resident who was active in air warning work here in World War II, as chief coordinator of local civilian defense was announced by Mayor Johnson. Soon to follow will be the selection of assistant coordinators to head up auxiliary fire, police, first aid and evacuation units.

Pointing to the worsening international situation, Mayor Johnson stressed the need for an efficient civilian defense here. He pointed out that while Newark may not be a prime target in an air attack, it will be involved in any emergency that strikes the vulnerable eastern seaboard. Bombing of nearby cities, for instance, would mean an influx of refugees here, many requiring immediate medical attention and all needing emergency shelter and care. Such an attack might also mean that local auxiliary police and firemen might be called to supplement hard-hit city forces at the scene of the emergency.

Calling for the wholehearted support of every Newark citizen, Mayor Johnson scored the "lackadaisical attitude," still all too common where civilian defense is concerned. When the call for volunteers for local emergency units is made, Mayor Johnson urged that every citizen join some phase of the work.

Action on rent controls was postponed until the last week in December as a result of reports that the federal government is considering the over-all extension of ceilings for another 90 days. If Washington does not take action, the Council will call a special meeting the last week in December to vote on local extension of controls until next June. If the lawmakers fail to act, the controls will automatically expire, Dec. 31, under terms of a current federal law.

A spokesman for local unions was present to urge that Council extend the controls immediately. Such action, he pointed out, would not conflict with any agreement in general law, since the 72-Republishes would be able to account for the surplus.

These figures were contained in Town Secretary-Treasurer Charles Loke's report.

As usual, the major item of income was electric light receipts, which brought in a total of $12,796.47 during the month. Electric power accounted for another $7,731.82 and water receipts totaled $9,416.62.

Total November income was $101,241.78. Republishes were to cover $2,000, leaving $99,241.78 for the surplus.

After Arrival Saturday Santa Claus To Make His Headquarters In Stores

Following his arrival here Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the B. & O. station, Santa Claus will make his headquarters in various stores for the remainder of the Christmas season.

A gala welcome is planned at the station for St. Nick, who is expected to bring gifts of free candy to children on hand to greet him. Following the ceremonies, Santa will be escorted through the central portions of town.

The parade will move east on Main Street to South College Avenue, south to Delaware Avenue, east to Chapel Street, north to Main and west to Jackson's Hardware.

Regulations On Ash
Pick-Up Again Stressed

The town's first public ash collection ran into difficulty on Monday, Mayor Wallace Johnson said this week.

Major trouble was due to the wet weather. Some persons placed their ashes in cardboard containers, which became soggy and broke when lifted. Ashes in non-rigid containers will not be picked up, it was stressed.

Another difficulty was the fact that, in many cases, trash, including tin cans and papers, was mixed with the ashes. Ashes containing other types of refuse cannot be collected. It was explained that the ashes are being used as "fill" in various parts of town and are useless if they contain foreign matter.

Town To Remember Soldiers At Xmas

The 150 soldiers in Newark's Battery "C" will be remembered at Christmas by their fellow citizens at home. A Mayor's Committee, under Dr. John R. Downes, is planning to send Christmas stockings to every member of the battery. The stockings will contain fruit cake, toilet articles, candy and stamps.

Gifts will be sent to other local servicemen if their names and addresses are brought to the attention of the committee. This information should be left at the Council Offices, 24 Academy Street.

Moose To Provide For Needy Children

The Newark Moose Lodge plans to remember Newark's needy children with gifts of clothes and shoes at Christmas.

Funds to aid the work will be collected at a lodge Christmas party on Dec. 20 in the Chimes Restaurant.

There will be an entertainment program, music and refreshments. Tickets are available at the Chimes Restaurant.

North-lee Ness, Correspondent

The Kemblesville Methodist Youth Group recently with a religious picture shown by the Reverend Richard Bell of Oxford, Ann Peterson of the Scripture lesson, Earl Swain, president of the combined Kemblesville and Flint Hill Group, had the Protesta Richards substituted for Alberta Mote at the organ. Irene Mote distributed a big box of grapes and hundred oranges for the refreshments. After the meeting, the young people arranged eight trays of surprise fruit and delivered the fruit to the community.

At the present time the young people are preparing a play, with the help of the counselors, which they hope to present around the first of the year.
The proceeds from this play "Out in the Street," will be used toward an organ for the Kemblesville Church.

The water level is lowering, all right, judging by the wells being drilled in those parts. Ed Herbener is the agent of those to seek for that precious fluid, water.

The party of men which went up to Potter County, Pa., recently, had themselves a time getting there, due to the high water, etc. Many people LaRue VanSant, Lou Losee, Lou and Frank DeProspero and Glen Wilkinson and Johnnie Taylor made it, although they had to detour by Sunbury.
When the party got their after eleven hours everyone was relieved. They were able to follow the regular route coming back. Bill Nichol and LaRue VanSant got a deer apiece.

Have you heard LaRue VanSant's bear story? It seems that about three weeks ago, up in Potter County to hunt bear, LaRue was building a campfire, when he heard something in the brush. Glancing up, our friend spied a magnificent bear walking toward him.
You guess how long it took Rue to get to that rifle, leaning 'gainst yonder tree, and take those five shots! Oh, he thought he had a bear all right. Anti-rumor—Mr. Bear just kept walking and Three fellows coming along in a car on the road below the camp spied
the animal, jumped out of their car, and got him with about nine more shots. Moral: Don't count your tough old bear until he's skinned!

Dec. 2 the George Kalbs went to a dinner at the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity in Philadelphia. A scrumptious time was had by all.

Bumper, the beautiful, golden-haired cocker who delighted the hearts of all visitors as he so graciously wagged and waggled out of the James Sanford home, is dead—the victim of joyful exuberance and modern motorists' high speeds. If only people would slow up just a little when they come to a group of homes on the highway. That might have been a child instead of Bumper.

Now a little black cocker named Cinder has come to fill that empty place in little Pamela Sanford's heart.

The evening of Nov. 23, Mr. and Mrs. William Pyle, Route 896, or the Newark Road, were driving toward Landenberg on the Toughkenamon Road, when the car went out of control, into a ditch, and hit a cement abutment. Bill escaped with a banged-up nose and a bad knee, but poor Louise took quite a beating, in addition to which she had severe and numerous cuts on the face, throat and leg. She has been in the Memorial Hospital since that time, and the stitches were removed on Nov. 29 and 30, but it was not known at what time she could come home.

The comparatively new truck is a complete mess. Miss Louise Pyle was notified Friday and came right home from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, where she is residing, while doing stenographical work at the Deepwater Plant.
She has taken over the management of the home until Mrs. Pyle is well again. Incidentally, Louise planned to be married Nov. 25 to Corporal William Messick, but Uncle Sam had different ideas, and the wedding is deferred until the prospective groom gets home from Korea. Louise tells us she learned about her future brother-in-law being seriously wounded in the Korean campaign about the same time she heard of her parents' accident.

We heard something the other day which we think deserves an Oscar for consideration above and beyond the call of duty, or something. Lt.
Cliff Owen couldn't get home from Ft. Meade for Thanksgiving, so the James Sanfords voted to hold their Thanksgiving when Cliff arrived on leave from Nov. 30 to Dec. 3.

Cliff Losee, Billie Ayers and Mrs.
Van Meter have all been ill.

The other Friday night was an enjoyable one for the Filipis, who have a deep interest in the theater. They saw "Mr. Roberts" which was at the Wilmington Playhouse.

Billie and Judy Nichol have been ill recently.

The sick list included Nan, Bud and Joey Alcock.

Nov. 26 brought very welcome guests to the Alcock home. Mrs. Alcock's Uncle and Aunt, General and Mrs.
William O. Butler, retired, of Pratt-ville, Ala., came by after visits in other states.

Dale Nichol was the official representative of the New London Presbyterian Church at the recent Presbytery held in Coatesville. Rev. George Gardner, Mr. Harvey Lysle, and Mr.
Malcolm Chambers attended also.

Jeffy Soliday had a grand party
Nov. 24 in honor of his eighth birthday. Guests included Kenny Knauer, Joey Alcock, Davey Ness, Richie Taylor, Jimmie McVey, Tommie Filipi, Mikie, Mickey, and Alice Mekalian.

Propose Purchasing State's Poor Lands For Reserves, Parks

Dr. R. O. Bausman Suggests Economic Use Of All Delaware Lands

Purchase by state or federal government of the poorest farm land for production of timber, game preserves, and state parks, was suggested recently by Dr. R. O. Bausman, professor of agricultural economics at the University of Delaware, as one solution to the impoverished condition of the low-grade farms' inhabitants.

Reporting on a study of the economic use of all Delaware land, Dr. Bausman pointed out that the farmer on the poorer land has small crops, a minimum of machinery, run-down buildings, access chiefly to bad roads; that he has a normal gross income of $400 a year which does not enable him to retire or to keep his children in school beyond the lower grades.

"All Delaware land has some use, but the economic use of some classes of land is much different from that of others," said Dr. Bausman in addressing the annual research meeting of Phi Kappa Phi honorary scholastic fraternity in Warner Hall, Newark.

"In our research we sought to determine the uses for which the different classes of Delaware land are best suited." Among the benefits of the study, he explained are the fact that "it is now possible to refine our research in the field of farm management by determining the best-paying system of farming in each specific class of land instead of merely the best-paying system of farming on the average."

In addition, said Dr. Bausman, "an improved system of farm-to-market roads can be planned with greater accuracy; attention can now be concentrated on improving roads in the better classes of land."

Discussing the possibility of governmental purchases of the poorer land, Dr. Bausman said:

"The state and federal governments now own about 12 tracts of land in Delaware, totaling about 25,000 acres. This land is devoted largely to the production of timber, to game preserves, and to state parks. This study makes it possible, with greater accuracy, to buy additional tracts of land which are suited only to these purposes.

"And we must consider the prospect that the purchase of these poorer lands by the state and federal governments may solve some social problems by enabling the occupants to change to employment which affords a higher standard of living."

Blue Cross To Mark Fifteenth Anniversary

The Delaware Blue Cross Plan is observing its fifteenth anniversary from November 1935 to November 1950.

Did you know that your group is one of 1700 groups in this state? The groups cover a wide field—industrial plants, stores, offices, civic, state and federal organizations.

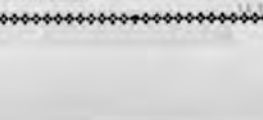

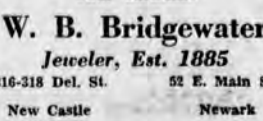

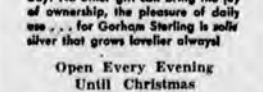

When the Delaware Blue Cross Plan was started late in 1935, there were only 10 Blue Cross Plans in the nation. Now there are 90 such plans in the United States and Canada.

A total of 180,000 Delawareans are enrolled. Over 52 percent of the state's population is enrolled in the surgical plan and over 57 percent of the state's population is enrolled in the hospital plan. Nationally over 37,000,000 Americans are members of Blue Cross.

At the moment, the New Castle County Medical Association has under discussion a program considering the extension of Blue Cross coverage to include paying your in-hospital medical bills as well as your hospital and surgical bills. This would make your prepaid health service even more valuable to you and your family.

Queries On Social Security Answered

Address All Queries To Social Security Administration, Customs House, 6th & King Sts., Wilmington, Delaware

Q. When I received my social security number I did not give my correct age but now I wish to make this correction. Please tell me the proper way to have this change taken care of and to whom do I apply?

A. You may apply to the nearest office of the Social Security Administration and request them to furnish you with a Form OAA-N-7003, "Change in Records." You should complete this form and return it to the Social Security Administration. They will make the necessary change in your record at our central office.

Q. My brother has worked steadily under Social Security since 1937 until April 1950. He had to leave his employment because of a disability. He will be 65 on January 10, 1951. Can he start getting monthly benefits now or must he wait until his 65th birthday?

A. Your brother will be entitled to benefits on his 65th birthday. As yet the law does not provide benefits for those totally disabled before their 65th birthday.

Q. If a widow is receiving monthly payments and she remarries, will her payments continue?

A. The widow's benefits will be terminated upon her marriage.

Q. I am 62 and expect to marry in a short time. Will my wife be able to collect a wife's insurance benefit when I retire?

A. Under amendments to the Social Security Act of August 10, 1946, a wife who files application for wife's benefits after January 1, 1947, will be entitled to those benefits provided she and the wage earner have been married for at least 36 months prior to the month in which she files her application.

Q. I am a single person and support my parents. If I were to die would my parents be entitled to monthly benefits?

A. If your parents were chiefly dependent upon you for support and you were to die either fully or currently insured, your parents may be entitled to monthly survivors' benefits.

Q. The only proof I have of my age is a family Bible that belonged to my mother. She made all the entries in this Bible at the time each child was born. Will this proof of age be acceptable?

A. When you file your application for social security benefits, please bring the family Bible. The Bible may be an acceptable proof of your age.

Q. In the event of my death, are there any Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits payable to my wife and two young children?

A. If you have been paid wages of $50 or more in employment covered by the Social Security Act in half of the calendar quarters since January 1, 1937 up to the quarter in which you die, (or been paid at least $50 a quarter for six out of the last thirteen quarters of your life), monthly insurance payments will be made to your children under 18 years of age and to your widow while she has your children in her care. Your widow will receive these payments until the youngest child reaches 18.

Kitchenware Styles

Styles change even in kitchen pots and pans says Miss M. Katharine Jones, home demonstration agent, and she advises buying those with straight up and down sides. Cooking space on most modern ranges is limited and straight sides allow them to stand more closely together.

The flare which makes the pan wider at top than bottom not only may make it difficult for pans to stand side by side but also prevents them from standing squarely on the gas burner or electric unit. This indirectly causes waste of heat and uneven cooking. Another disadvantage of flare-top pans is that many of them come without covers or if covered the covers are large and difficult to store.

National Parley

The Newark High School Allied Youth delegates returned Sunday afternoon from a very successful National Planning Conference held at Buck Hill Falls in the heart of the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania on Thursday, Nov. 30. The conference was the fifth and largest annual gathering of The Allied Youth organization, which now has a membership of about 10,000.

Those attending from Newark were: Rudolph Johnson, Eileen Folk, Herbert Marin, and Albert J. Crispell, sponsor. The highlight of the first day session was the Founder's Birthday Banquet dinner given in honor of the founder of Allied Youth, Dr. Daniel A. Poling. Dr. Poling had received a personal birthday greeting from President Harry S. Truman a few hours before the banquet. Dr. Poling is the editor of Christian Herald, and past president of International Society of Christian Endeavor.

Other prominent speakers were: Mr. J. C. Penney, founder of the J. C. Penney Company, and member of the Allied Youth board of trustees. Mr. Penney had as his topic "The American Way." Dr. Haven Emerson, professor emeritus of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University, spoke on the topic, "Parents, Teen-Agers and Alcohol."

The Allied Youth is taking part in the Mid-Century White House Conference on Children and Youth, which opened in Washington on Monday with a group of 500 youth.

The local delegates will make a formal report to the student body on the Buck Hill Conference on Wednesday morning, Jan. 3, at 8:40. Organizations wishing to have the delegates report may contact any of the four delegates.

Head Of Christiana Pastor Gives Talk

Speaks At U. of D. Weekly
Vesper Service

"Who God Is To Me," was the subject taken by the Rev. James L. Getaz, Jr., pastor of the Head of Christiana Presbyterian Church near Newark, at the weekly vesper service held at the University of Delaware last Sunday evening.

"God is a person with many functions," said Dr. Getaz. "We know Him through His works. We know Him through His work of creation; through His work of revelation recorded in the Bible; through His redemptive work in Jesus Christ."

"God is creator. God is redeemer. If I think of Him only as a creator, or if I think of Him only as redeemer, there is conflict."

"He created men and women to live with Him. He redeems men and women to life with Him. God's redemption is in, through, and by Jesus Christ."

"Redeemed men and women live unto God by Jesus Christ."

The university's vesper services are arranged by the University Religious Council, an interdenominational body representing all the campus religious groups. Next Sunday's speaker will be the Rev. William F. Edge of Dover.

patrolman. This has been urged several times by the Newark Chapter, NAACP.

The only Councilman to take a definite stand on the issue was Mr. Diehl, who said he was opposed to putting a Negro on the force at this time, chiefly for two reasons. First such an officer, assigned to the New London Avenue area, would be able to work only an eight hour shift. White officers would still be required for the other two watches daily. Mr. Diehl said he favored the appointment of not one but three Negro policemen in that area, but he added the town could not afford such a move at present. His second reason for opposing the appointment of a Negro to the force concerned the attitude of the Negro residents themselves. Such an officer, he said, would generate jealousies in a faction of the Negro residents. Mr. Diehl said that a group in that area are against the appointment of a Negro.

At one point in the discussion, it was claimed that most of the law violations reported in Newark occur in the New London Avenue area. Mrs. Samuel Handloff, another spectator, pointed out that if the town could put its finger so readily on the chief sources of delinquency why not take constructive crime prevention measures?

The discussion was concluded by a suggestion from Councilman Coverdale that rather than expand the police force the town use such funds to establish an adequate pension plan.

Arrangements were begun for holding a public hearing on G. Wesley Wollaston's request for rezoning from RM to RA an area on the north side of Cleveland Avenue between Ker-shaw Street and North Chapel Street. Mr. Wollaston wants the change in order to continue work on two homes he has started there. The partially completed dwellings violate the present zoning regulations and construction has been halted. Date for the public hearing will be advertised as required by the zoning law.

Many local friends and relatives of Rev. B. ## HOW TO BE A "GOOD EGG" On Party-Line Telephones

WHEN YOU PLAY FAIR with your party-line neighbors... it pays dividends! They'll return your courtesies, and everybody on the line will get better service.

Here are two suggestions

On finding the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call. And when, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up in a few minutes and free the line.

Easy, isn't it? Yet these little courtesies mark you as a "good egg" on the party line... one who deserves fair treatment in return.

FILLIN' IN

When Santa Claus arrives here this Saturday, he may get a cool reception from the younger set. We have talked with a few of his more ardent followers and have noted a touch of bitterness in their attitude toward the old gent. Some have even expressed stern disapproval of the way he has been conducting himself this Christmas season.

One youngster who recently made a trip to Wilmington with his parents to watch Santa arrive by helicopter was particularly caustic. Santa was grounded by bad weather somewhere in Pennsylvania, and, as the kid put it, "It serves him right. Any guy with a stable full of magic reindeer, who insists on using a plain, old helicopter ought to resign from office. Hope the cluck doesn't pull a stupid stunt like that on Christmas Eve."

Another disillusioned youngster, who formerly followed the strict party line where Santa was concerned, said "Phooey, reindeer were always good enough for him before. He must be turning radical or something."

We admitted that Santa's helicopter venture was ill-fated and ill-advised, but we pointed out that he is scheduled to arrive in Newark by train, a tried and proven method of transportation. We added that the sly old fellow probably wanted to save his reindeer for the strenuous trip on Christmas Eve. The two admitted there was some sense in this, but it was obvious that they didn't like Santa's unorthodox antics.

Most of Santa's followers, we found, are highly conservative in their feelings about him and view with alarm his tendency to go modern. They don't want him to change.

One boy who was taken by his mother to visit Santa in a Philadelphia department store came home unable to conceal his disgust. "He just wasn't the same old Santa, too darn polite and sissified. Didn't roar 'Ho-Ho' once, just acted like a sweet, harmless old guy. Never even told me to be a good boy; said he knew I was. That's a laugh. They say Santa goes to school now somewhere in New York. Education sure is changing him. He's getting too uppity for me."

We were inclined to sympathize with this disenchanted traditionalist, who knew Santa in his rough and tumble days. We, too, had heard that it is now the custom, especially with large department stores, to send Santa to a Santa Claus school, and the graduates we have seen this year have certainly learned their lessons well. They strike us as too well trained; they operate on a kid like specialists in jocular or technicians of mirth. Santa has become hardly more than a gaudily dressed child psychologist.

The tense international situation is also affecting Santa Claus' status in the eyes of the small fry, those at least who are up on their current events. Santa's unconventional behavior, they feel, may get him into trouble with the authorities. One youngster we talked with was especially worried about the fact that this year Santa is offering toy A-bomb kits with samples of real uranium ore and jet-propelled model airplane kits. "Santa Claus goes everywhere on Christmas Eve, you know," he said, "and without thinking he just might give some of that uranium ore to kids behind the Iron Curtain. That old Senator McCarthy wouldn't like that. First thing you know, Congress will be investigating Santa Claus, and when he shows up in that red suit his goose'll be cooked. And all us kids will probably get in dutch for being accomplices or something."

We didn't say so, but we could see that Santa wasn't in any danger and that his strange behavior was probably a passing thing. All we hope now is some logic in this. Santa Claus, with his high-handed disregard for political boundaries and iron curtains, might be classified as a dangerous internationalist. People who permit this red-clad, red-nosed, red-cheeked, atomic secret laden, uranium ore bearing, old fellow traveller to come down their chimneys on Christmas Eve may find themselves blacklisted for harboring a subversive.

We assured the youngster, though, that Santa doesn't get frightened by the fact that his Christmas Eve jaunt is obviously illegal, a violation of immigration laws and passport regulations and definitely not 100 percent American.

One little girl we know is taking a hard-headed realistic approach to the world this Christmas season. Her letter to Santa reads as follows: "Please send me one Junior Miss Nursing Kit, one Future Doctor's Kit, one Young Firemen's First Aid Rescue Kit and, if you can, a tiny, tot edition of the National Security Resources Book 'Survival Under Atomic Attack.'"

School Journalists Rounds Up Facts On Jacket Grid Players

A round-up of facts on Newark high's unbeaten team was gathered especially for the Post this week by Joe Gregg, a member of the Journalism class at the school.

His article follows:

Newark's Undeclared Squad is Interviewed
"The following boys were on what Coach Fred Sposato called his 'white team.' Each of the boys who played most of the time was briefly interviewed for this article."

"Jim Wollaston is a local boy. The '50' season was his third year out for football. Jim's number 50 could always be seen at right end. The Thanksgiving Day game was Jim's last as he will be graduated in June."

"Rod Smith, right tackle, is also a senior. This is Rod's second year as a starter. He has been playing football since the ninth grade."

"Joe Gregg, right guard, was converted from center where he played last. This was Joe's second year out for the team; he has been a starter for two years also. Joe will also graduate in June."

"Marty Murphy, center. This is Marty's first year on the varsity squad, although he played some last year. Marty is also a senior."

the most outstanding linemen in the state. The amazing thing about Al is that this was his second year on the varsity squad and he is only a sophomore."

"Ronnie Bramble, left tackle, is another player like Sparks. This was Ron's second year on the varsity squad and he is also a sophomore."

"Jim Bueche, left end, is a senior. Jim was the tallest man on the squad. This was also Jim's second year on the varsity."

"Dave George, quarterback, is one of the few juniors on the team. Dave scored 111 points in nine games. Blaney was the team's second highest scorer. This was Dave's third year out for the team."

"Bernard Blaney, left halfback, was New Castle County's high scorer. He scored 111 points in nine games. Blaney has played varsity ball for the past two years. Blaney, who is a junior, came to Newark from Wilmington H.S."

"Hank Correll, right halfback, was captain of the '50' squad. Hank has been playing school ball since he was in the eighth grade. Henry is a senior.

"Earl Schaeen, fullback, was a most valuable man in on the squad. Earl was a demon on defense, the best blocker on offense, and a hard ball carrier. Earl's position on defense will probably be the hardest to fill next year. He is a senior."

"Donnie Sharp, defensive right guard, is an outstanding defensive player. This is Donnie's second year on the varsity squad and he is also a sophomore."

"Bob Boutin, end and defensive halfback, is from Springfield, Pa. Bob is a junior and is playing his second year of N.H.S. football."

"Andy Murphy, quarterback and defensive halfback, is a senior. Andy is one of the outstanding defensive players on the squad. Andy also does all of the punting for the Yellowjackets."

"Jerry Leahy, guard and tackle, is a sophomore. Jerry is a fine utility man. He has played right guard, left guard, right tackle and left tackle. This is Jerry's third year on the football team."

"Other boys who have played a bit of varsity ball this year are: Bill Hawthorne, Merritt Buchanan, Dick Lawson, Danny Palmer, Leonard Nelson, Mitch Crothers, Joe Thorpe, Tom Baker, and Art Boulden. The J.V.'s didn't play many varsity quarters."

Delaware Cagers To Face Johns Hopkins

The University of Delaware basketball team will invade Johns Hopkins Saturday night in its fourth game of the season.

The Hens received rough treatment in their opener with Lawrence Tech at Detroit and going was still bumpy when they played at Temple University last Saturday. Delaware bowed to the Philadelphiaans, 80-45.

Coach Fred Emerson, former Wake Forest cage and grid star, who is now in his second year on the Delaware staff, still hopes to improve on the 8-8 record his team turned in last year.

As usual, the Hens are competing in the southern division of the Middle Atlantic loop.

In addition, several fine non-league teams have been added to the card, making it one of the toughest ever tackled by a Delaware squad. Two of these, Lawrence Tech and Temple, have already manhandled the Hens. Still to be faced are Muhlenberg, Buffalo and King's College.

Boostered up by the return of four of his 1949 starters, Emerson is fielding a veteran quintet this winter. Frank Albera is back at forward where he is paired with Dick Evans, a lanky transfer student who was ineligible last year.

Big Jim Kruzinski is back at center.

Jacket Courtmen Open '50 Season At Mt. Pleasant, Dec. 10

Out to equal or better last year's record of 14 wins in 17 starts, Coach Ray Ciesinski's Newark High basketball team will open a 19-game schedule on Saturday with a game at Mt. Pleasant.

Although four stalwarts of last season's fast-stepping five were last graduates, Coach Ciesinski still has nucleus of a high scoring aggregation. "Bunny" Blaney and big Jim Boudin, who were second and third scorers in New Castle County last year, had an average of 17.4 points per game.

Newark's first appearance before home fans this year won't be until Jan. 23, when the Jackets will take Salesianum in the local gym. Following the Mt. Pleasant opener, the team will lay off until after the holidays, resuming Jan. 5 at P. S. duPont.

Coach Ciesinski's schedule lists home and home games with A. I. DuPont, Mt. Pleasant, P. S. duPont, Conard, Archmere, William Penn.

Discussing the Jackets' chances for the coming season, Coach Ciesinski said, "We have a lot of rebuilding to do this year. Loss of Phil Hens, Phil Records, Frank Porter and Nagel will be felt to a great extent. Good prospects, however, are up from the Jayvee ranks. They include: J. Seydell, J. Draper, A. B. Kase, Bill Knotts, D. George, Sobolewski, Bob Boutin, and Bert. A new find is David Hens, who may add much to the team's potential."

Farm Bulletin On "Tools For Home Use"

Today's housewife often has to be a mechanic, as well as cook, mother, and cleaning woman; and paring knives and ice picks can't always do the necessary repair jobs, according to W. A. Calvert, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware.

"Tools for Home Use," MC 72, written by Mr. Calvert, is a revised bulletin now available from the county extension offices, and the bulletin mailing room at the university.

The bulletin tells when to use a wrench, a side cutting pliers instead of a combination pliers, a block plane, and many others. Hints on keeping tools in good condition are also included.
