ORDINANCE PREPARED

At the Town Council meeting on Monday night the matter of parking was again discussed and it was decided that with the first of the new year a rule for parking limitation would go into effect. LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING

On account of the inclement weather Monday evening, there was not a quorum present to hold the regular business meeting of the month. I am therefore calling, by order of the President, a special meeting of the Auxiliary on next Monday evening, December 9, at 7:30, in the American Legion room and would like to urge that you be present if at all possible, as there are several matters of importance which cannot be held over until the January meeting, but must be definitely settled within the next week—Irna Hopkins, Secretary.

Scouts To Repair Toys

The Newark Troop, Boy Scouts of America, will again collect, repair and paint old toys for distribution to poor children this Christmas. This custom was started last year by the local Scouts, and a large number of toys were provided for this purpose.

Anyone having old toys to donate should call Vernon Steel, 21 J, or A. E. Tomhave, 242-J, and a Scout will be sent to collect the toys. After the toys are repaired and painted, they will be turned over to the Welfare Committee of the Newark New Century Club for distribution. I. Newton Sheaffer is donating the paint.

NEWARK WON CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeated Seaford For State
Football Title Last Thursday

Newark High School won the football championship of the Delaware Interscholastic Athletic Association at Dover, last Thursday afternoon, by defeating the Seaford High School eleven by the score of 21 to 7.

The game was well played and furnished many thrills to the more than three thousand spectators who witnessed the contest. This was Newark's fourth attempt to win the high honors while Seaford made one previous attempt.

The hard line plunging of "Rip" Smith and Captain Mayer of the Newark team was largely responsible for their victory. The Newark defense was also well drilled in keeping Vinnie Sullivan, Seaford's flashy quarterback, well covered, with the result that the Seaford star could gain little or no ground until the last three minutes of play when he broke through for a fifteen-yard run.

Seaford opened the game by kicking off to Newark who tried four plays at the line without gaining ten yards and then surrendered the ball to Seaford on downs on the Newark thirty-three yard line.

Seaford then made their only score of the game when Lloyd made ten yards through tackle and Sullivan added a few more around the end. King then tossed a pass to Sullivan who slid over the goal line for a touchdown. Lank added the extra point with a field goal.

This play seemed to arouse Newark for their received the ball on the kick-off and started a march from their own twenty-five-yard line to the goal line. During this sensational march no gains were made through passes but rather on the terrific line plunging of Smith and Mayer with Barrow occasionally gaining a yard or two.

BANKS ARE DISTRIBUTING CHRISTMAS SAVINGS FUND

More than $45,000 is being distributed by both Newark banks to members of their Christmas savings clubs. This is the largest amount that has been distributed in Christmas funds here.

The distribution is being made this week and bank officials expect that all of the checks will be delivered by the end of the week.

Both banks will conduct Christmas savings clubs for next Christmas and judging from the number of applicants who have already entered these clubs, the amount to be distributed next year will exceed the present sum.

Both of Newark's banks are closing a very successful year. Both have had a large amount of business and will show an increase in their net earnings.

At the present time the combined deposits in both banks are in excess of $3,000,000 and the combined assets are nearly $4,000,000.

SCOUT OFFICIAL TO SPEAK HERE

Lorne W. Barclay Will Be In Newark On Friday Evening

On Friday evening, December 6, at 8 o'clock, Lorne W. Barclay, educator and social worker, will give an address in the High School auditorium. The Executive Committee of the Wilmington Council, Boy Scouts of America, has secured the services of Mr. Barclay for a series of lectures and discussions on "Boy Training" and the "Objectives of the Boy Scout Movement." It is through the courtesy of this committee that Mr. Barclay has been secured for an address in Newark. The local committee in charge urges all service organizations, lodges, women's clubs, parent-teacher associations, and others interested in the problems of young people to attend this meeting.

Mr. Barclay has had twelve years' experience as a Boy Scout Executive. He was in charge of the American contingent at the Boy Scout Jamboree in England during the past summer. For three years after the war he was given charge of rehabilitating Boy Scout work in France under the auspices of the American Committee for Devastated France. He has been associated with Miss Anne Morgan for many years in social and educational work.

Mr. Barclay was decorated by the Premier of France with Knight of the Legion of Honor and because of his work with the Spanish of Florida, King Alfonso of Spain has made him a Knight of the Royal Order of Isabella.

Wilmington audiences have found Mr. Barclay to be a far-sighted and constructive thinker and a splendid address is promised for the people of Newark.

DEATH RATE IS LOWER IN STATE

Dr. Jost Sees Decrease In Certain Diseases Causing Fewer Deaths

Delaware has reason to be thankful for the gradual reduction in its mortality rate, Dr. Arthur C. Jost, executive secretary of the State Board of Health stated this week.

Reduction in the number of cases of tuberculosis is evidence of the continuing effort in an educational way to bring about this result, Dr. Jost says.

With regard to typhoid fever, it is the hope of Dr. Jost that this year's death rate will be the lowest. In speaking of the results of the board, Dr. Jost said:

"From a national point of view, there is reason for thanksgiving in that during the year we escaped so well the epidemic which so severely threatened us as the year was opening. Our memories of the heavy losses which were sustained from influenza in 1918 were too fresh for us not to (Continued on Page 4.)

MORE AVIATORS IN DELAWARE

Twenty-Four Persons Are Now Licensed Pilots In This State

Delawareans are quickly becoming "air-minded."

The last official compilation made by Chester A. Charles, supervising aeronautical inspector in charge of all licensing in the district including this State, gives Delaware twenty-four full-fledged pilots. Several other residents of the State obtained licenses since the last compilation.

Of the number six hold transport licenses, one holds a limited commercial license, and seventeen hold private licenses. No industrial or unclassified licenses have been issued in Delaware so far.

Delaware leads West Virginia in the number of licensed pilots, the latter state having only 16 pilots, including nine transport, one limited commercial and six private.

MANY AUTOISTS NOT LICENSED

Secretary Of State Thinks Six Thousand Drivers Are Not Registered

Six thousand motorists living in Delaware have been driving automobiles this year without drivers' licenses.

This is the opinion expressed this week by Secretary of State Charles H. Grantland.

And next year, the State Highway Police will conduct a dogged search for drivers who take chances by not having licenses.

Mr. Grantland came to this conclusion recently when he found that 10,000 motorists who had drivers' licenses in 1928 did not renew their licenses in 1929.

"What has become of these 10,000?" he asked. "Surely they did not all die, leave the state or stop driving. Surely, they did not renew their applications because they were afraid of drivers' examinations. They did not have to take examinations."

"My conclusion is that at least 60 per cent are driving and have been driving on the state roads without licenses. And they are usually the ones who do not own cars."

Mr. Grantland does not intend to let these people repeat the trick in 1930. After March 1, 1930, when the next year's drivers' licenses go into effect, there will be a special all-year drive to weed out the "cheaters."

PRIMARY SCHOOL HELPS WELFARE COMMITTEE

Fruits, vegetables, jellies and groceries were attractively arranged in paper-trimmed boxes by the children and teachers of the primary school on Wednesday morning. On Wednesday afternoon the members of the Welfare Committee distributed the eight pretty baskets among those whom they thought would most appreciate them.

PLAN HOSPITAL ORGANIZATION FOR NEWARK

Movement Started To Seek Community Support For
The Flower Hospital

TO DRAFT A PLAN

At a meeting, held Monday at the home of Edward L. Richards, a movement was put into operation to gain community support for The Flower Hospital. John K. Johnston was elected chairman of a committee to draft a plan to organize this support, and asked Dr. J. R. Downs, Mrs. Ernest B. Wright, Mrs. W. R. Wilson and Ira S. Brinser to serve on the committee. The committee will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Wilson to draft a plan, and this plan will be submitted at a later meeting of persons, who have agreed to serve as members of a community organization.

The movement to get the community of Newark back of the Flower Hospital was started by friends of the institution, who were in touch with its circumstances and its record of service. They knew that the institution had proved itself a vital community asset in its three years of service to Newark, and that in order to continue this service it required, at least, the moral support of the community in an organized way. In order to organize this support representative citizens are being asked to serve as members of a Flower Hospital organization, and to date the following persons have consented to serve: Louis Handloff, Warren A. Singles, Edward L. Richards, Mrs. Edward L. Richards, Dr. J. R. Downs, Daniel Thompson, Tinley Ford, Dr. R. B. Mathews, Dr. George W. Rhodes, D. A. McClintock, Mrs. W. R. Wilson, Mayor Frank Collins, Dr. Wallace Johnson, Mrs. Ernest B. Wright, the Reverend P. A. Brennan, R. T. Jones, (Continued on Page 4.)

AUTOS SHOULD BE INSURED

State Officials See Need Of Having Motorists Protected
For Liability

The need for some sort of insurance, whether compulsory or not, to protect the responsible motorists from the irresponsible is one of the items of legislation that will be threshed out at the next session of the General Assembly.

At this time in England there is a law before the House of Commons providing for a penalty of $250 fine and a jail sentence of three months for every motorist who is involved in an accident and who is not insured. The fact that last year there were more than 3,000 fatalities caused by motor accidents in London has brought about this drastic law. When Governor C. Douglass Buck was asked about the subject he said:

"It's a matter that I believe should be given serious consideration. There should be some protection for the responsible motorists. I do not believe, however, that if a man carries no insurance but is financially able to pay merited damages that he should be sent to jail. If he can pay the bill, whether he is insured or not, I do not think he should be penalized."

W. W. Mack, chief engineer of the Highway Commission, is also of the opinion that something should be done to protect the responsible motorists from the reckless driver of the third or fourth rate car.

"I do not believe the time is far off," said Mr. Mack, "when there will be some sort of insurance required of all drivers. Whether this shall be compulsory or not, remains to be seen. But I don't think the motoring public is going to wait much longer before taking steps to see that responsible motorists are protected from those who are not responsible."

"Although we have many more automobiles on our highways than a (Continued on Page 4.)

ELKTON ACADEMY TO BE SOLD PRIVATELY

The property located on North street, Elkton, known for many years as the Elkton Academy, was offered at public sale Friday by Joshua Clayton and Robert C. Thackery, trustees for the heirs, but withdrawn on a bid of $12,000. It will be sold at private sale.

In 1787 this property was donated to the Town of Elkton for the "promotion of literature and the Christian religion." Since that year, up until a few years ago, it was used for school purposes.

The Maryland Legislature by an Act passed in April, 1787, referred to the grant from Henry Hollingsworth. Recently the heirs of Colonel Hollingsworth applied to the Courts for the right to sell and the Circuit Court in Elkton issued a decree giving them permission to do so.

Our Greetings

This is the first issue of The Post under the active direction of the new publisher and editor who takes this opportunity to make his bow and greet the people of the territory which he hopes to serve by having The Post maintain its same high standard of public service that has marked its career ever since its inception by the late Everett C. Johnson. In assuming these duties the new publisher is mindful of the tremendous responsibility attached to the work. The policies of The Post will remain unchanged and we will labor to have this paper continue as a friend of the community and a public servant. Both The Post and the publisher are willing to serve you and await your call.

Mail Early

The post office is sending out their annual plea to their patrons to dispatch their Christmas mail early in order to insure delivery before Christmas day. One remarkable feature about this plea, which is heard every year about this time, is the fact that it is for the benefit of those for whom it is intended as much as it is for the post office department.

Perhaps there can be no greater disappointment at Christmas time than to have an intended gift reach the receiver after the great day. Yet the postal officials through their warning are endeavoring to prevent just such a situation, not for themselves but for the patrons of their service.

The task is made more difficult this year due to the fact that the post offices are closed on Sunday and that will allow just two working days after the Sunday before Christmas and Christmas Day.

Mail dispatched to reach its destination by December twenty-first will be one safe method of having the gifts arrive for Christmas and at the same time aid the postal service.

The slogan "Mail Early" might well be followed this year to the advantage of all concerned.

The Flower Hospital

A few weeks ago an appeal was made through this column in behalf of The Flower Hospital. It was the eve of its third anniversary, and the Hospital was in critical financial condition. This institution had given three years of splendid service to the community. Its proprietor and director, Miss Mary C. Ford, could look back on a record of many lives saved and mended; she could look back of this record to the struggle and fight she had waged to make it.

She could look on the Hospital as her privately owned institution, but she knew that it was privately hers in name only. She had given it and its service to the community. She knew that she had never turned a case away, whether or not the sufferer had money to pay for treatment and care. She knew that her hospital had done just as much charity work as if it was a publicly owned institution. At the moment she had a penniless highway victim in one of her rooms, and she was giving him constant and expert care, supplying expensive surgical dressings.

She looked ahead and saw nothing but endless struggle and small hope of making headway beyond the point to which she had climbed. She planned to go on as best she could, but she did hope and asked for, at least, the moral support of the community.

The appeal for help and interest brought immediate response. People realized that The Flower Hospital was a vital community asset, and wanted to help it in its work. Plans were made to organize this interest in the Hospital, and public spirited citizens agreed to serve on a community organization which would give it backing and support. A meeting was held, Monday night, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Richards, and a committee was named to formulate a plan through which Newark could get back of Miss Ford and her splendid institution, and take a part in the service it is giving to the town. This committee is meeting tonight, and it will submit its plan at a general meeting to be held in the near future. John K. Johnston is its chairman, and serving with him are Dr. J. R. Downs, Mrs. Ernest B. Wright, Mrs. W. R. Wilson, and Ira S. Brinser. The members of this committee all have records of fruitful civic service, and a sound and workable plan undoubtedly will be produced in their meeting.

Whatever this plan is, it will probably appeal to the community at large to give The Flower Hospital its friendly interest and support. And the community should give this largely and eagerly, for The Flower Hospital has stood ready, and still stands ready, to give a service beyond price to anyone who needs it.

is second with 208, Virginia is third with 132, Maryland is fourth with 76, Delaware is fifth and West Virginia is last.

Mr. Charles stresses that the road leading to a pilot's license is not a path of roses. Nor is it anything to be feared by the would-be pilot, he said.

"They are taking to the air and qualifying so fast that it almost makes me dizzy," he continued. "Seriously, the large number of applicants for licenses is a forcible reminder of the tremendously growing interest in aviation. In this district, within a month, 128 students were given tests. That is at the rate of four a day."

Sketching briefly the route which leads to the test itself, Mr. Charles listed as the first station, the doctor's office.

If he passes the doctor—and many would-be pilots do not—the applicant files out various blanks to be sent to Washington. The doctor gives him a letter authorizing him to operate a plane as a student pilot for sixty days by which time his regular student license, if granted, is arrived.

After a strenuous period of instruction and ten hours of solo flying he is eligible for a private license. After the solo flying he takes his first examination. He takes a plane up alone while an inspector watches how he takes-off, handles it in the air and makes his landing. The inspector then decides whether he is qualified for his private license.

Autos Should Be Insured

few years ago, and the number of accidents and fatalities are increasing, yet according to statistics, driving is not as much of a menace now as it was two or three years ago. Our records this year show that there has been but one fatality in every 4,400,000 miles driven. This is over 400,000 miles more than in 1926. That would seem as though it was fairly safe driving in Delaware.

The separation of the time for distributing license tags and drivers licenses has proved of great benefit to the Tiling Department of the Secretary of State's Office, according to William Ball, in charge of the Tiling Department.

"We are handling many more applications this year," he said, "and are doing it with half the force. There is no confusion and we are thus saving both time and money because everything is working along smoothly."

goal with Lloyd and Sullivan carrying the ball but after making one first down they were compelled to punt.

Newark kept the play in Seaford territory during the most of the second period but several penalties and a fumble broke up their several opportunities to score.

Newark kicked off to Seaford to open the third period and held Seaford for downs, taking the ball on the Seaford thirty-eight-yard line. Here Newark started another march to the Seaford goal line but a fumble which was recovered by Seaford stopped their march.

Seaford being unable to gain punted and Newark started their new march from their own forty-yard line with Smith and Mayer averaging from seven to ten yards through the line on almost every play until Smith carried the ball over from the four-yard line and also made the extra point on an end run. Shortly after this score the period ended.

Newark's final score came in the middle of the fourth period and was due to a beautiful run by Mayer. With the ball on Seaford's twenty-eight-yard line, the Newark team was lined up for a double pass back of the line, but Mayer, who had the ball, observed an open field on the left side of the line and started a run around that end that took the ball over the goal line. He also added the extra point with an end run.

That play ended the scoring for the day. Seaford made several attempts to gain through the air and also on runs by Sullivan, but the Newark defense usually broke up these plays.

Coach Gillispie's Newark squad showed the result of the strenuous preparation they had made for the game in using line plays exclusively, they having tried only one forward pass throughout the entire contest. Newark gained eighteen first downs while Seaford made nine. Seaford tried nine forward passes, four of which were successful for short gains while Newark tried one and it was grounded.

The arrangements for the game were made by Major P. S. Prince, Director of the D. I. A. A. and the corps of officials he produced gave an excellent exhibition of handling a football game. The score:

Newark	Seaford
Surratt	L.G.
Ford	C.
Schwartz	R.G.
Gallagher	R.T.
Rittenhouse	R.E.

George Griffin, A. G. Wilkinson, J. K. Johnston, Ira S. Brinser, Dr. A. J. Strikol, Dr. Seth Hurdle, J. Irvin Dayett, A. Marshall Whelan and H. C. McSherry.

The meeting, Monday night, was called to plan an organization. Various persons spoke of the work the Flower Hospital was doing, and of its important place in the community. Various plans were suggested by which the community could aid and support the hospital. It was agreed that if the hospital could be kept full of patients, it would be practically self-supporting and could increase its service facilities. It was pointed out that while the hospital was privately owned and operated, it was public in service, inasmuch as Miss Mary C. Ford, who was one of the two founders of the institution, and through whose efforts the hospital has been maintained, has done as large a share of charity work as any public hospital would be called on to do, and that it was due to this charity work that the hospital had not been able to make much financial headway.

Dr. A. J. Strikol, who has recently moved his home to Newark, spoke of a free eye, ear, nose and throat clinic which he was going to hold in the Flower Hospital for the school children, and said that he was renting space in the hospital for his Newark office and for this clinic.

Dr. J. R. Downs spoke of the hospital and its director, Miss Ford. He told how the hospital had been a great help to the doctors of Newark and said that in many cases its services were superior to those to be had in larger hospitals. He particularly lauded Miss Ford as a nurse, and as a person, saying that he had never known her equal as a worker.

Mr. E. L. Richards spoke of Miss Ford's struggle to build up the institution, said that she was certainly deserving of the support of the community which she had served so well.

It was reported that there were donations available for the Flower Hospital, and that the community organization would be asked to receive and administer these. It was also reported that a group of Newark merchants had donated prizes for a raffle that was being held for the hospital. Chances for this raffle are being sold by the school children.

Death Rate Is Lower In State

dread the threatening outbreak which then impended. There were indeed losses, but they were slight in comparison with those of the former outbreak.

"There is every indication that the steady reduction in losses from tuberculosis, which has been going on uninterruptedly for a number of years, has not slackened. It is yet impossible for us to predict when the disease shall have so lessened in frequency that it will be a relatively negligible factor on our mortality returns, but if during the next ten years the progress made in the last ten is maintained, we shall have reached a point which but a generation ago was thought to be almost beyond the limit of human attainment."

"With respect of typhoid fever, there are evidences that during the year last past the extent of our losses in this state is smaller than has been experienced at any time in its history. But tuberculosis and typhoid fever appear to be disappearing diseases."

"It is quite safe to assume that distinct progress has been made during the year. The school examiners have been able to report that there is a greater per cent of children whose condition approach that standard which it is expected that normal children reach, than ever before. The effect of this improvement on the future of these children, not only physically but mentally and morally, must be salutary."

County Agent To Broadcast

The Agricultural Agent made a post-card survey to find the desires of the rural people on the subject. He found that all who replied to the question "Shall the broadcast period be continued this fall?" were in favor of having it started again this winter. As a result of this the Extension Agents will try to bring some of the agricultural events of the county before the public every week and at the same time they hope to have some of the county agricultural organizations on the air to help make the broadcast more local and helpful. It is expected that the subordinate granges of the county will utilize this opportunity of presenting programs at various times during the winter.

Mr. William will talk on Tuesday evening and at that time he has several announcements of importance concerning the Cow Testing Association.

tion, the State Grange meeting at Lewes and the fall meeting of the Delaware Holstein-Friesian Association at the University of Delaware. The program for December 17 has not been announced, but it is probable that Mrs. Daugherty or Mr. Worthington will be in the studio that evening to tell of coming events in their lines of extension activities.

A Smoother GAS RANGE for MOTHER

Sons! Daughters! Husbands!

A GIFT SUGGESTION FOR WIFE OR MOTHER

These gifts that please most are those that show loving thought and understanding on the part of the giver. What better expression of affection than to make it possible for wife or mother to have more time for recreation—less nervous strain—less irritating inconveniences. And what will do all this? The answer is a SMOOTHER Gas Range with Oven Heat Control.

It will take the watching, waiting and worrying out of cooking three times a day for many, many years. It will enable your wife or mother to bake or roast without the nervous strain and anxiety that go with an old-fashioned cook stove.

With the Oven Heat Control science has taken all guess work out of baking and roasting. No longer is there a question—'How hot is my oven?'—'Is my oven hot enough?'—'Is my oven right for this delicate cake or important pie or expensive roast?' And why is a wife or mother so concerned—So anxious for that pie or cake or roast to be just right?

It's for you, you are the one she wants to please. Now make it easier for her to do this with a new, up-to-date, modern SMOOTHER Gas Range with Oven Heat Control. It's so easy with our "Save The Christmas Budget Plan."

IF you want to give your wife or mother a Christmas present that will make her happy three times a day for many years to come—give her a SMOOTHER Gas Range with Oven Heat Control.
