

15 BADGES PRESENTED TO SCOUTS ON FRIDAY

6 Youths Are Inducted Into Local Troop At Honor Festival

Awards were made and new scouts inducted at a court of honor for Troops 35 and 56 on Friday at the community picnic grounds.

Talks commending the youths on their accomplishments the past year were given by Al Potts, district scout commissioner and M. L. Draper, chairman of the American Legion's local committee.

The formal induction ceremonies of the awarding of first and second class badges took place around a large table where about 100 scouts, their parents and friends were gathered.

Dr. F. Manns, former scoutmaster and Vernon Steele, district commissioner, presented the awards.

Refreshments, including fresh hot dogs and soft drinks, were served following the exercises.

First class badges were awarded as follows: Troop 56—Don Miller and Skinner; Troop 55—Walter Skelton.

Second class badges: Troop 56—Jack Franklin Lee, Robert Yoder, Robert Pyle, Frank Stewart, John Smith, Troop 55—Edward Sobolewski, George Webber, John Lehman, and Ed Kline.

Six new members were inducted into Troop 56: Earl McMullen, Martin Williams, William Bennett, Willard Marcel Bender, and Harris Lee.

PICNIC SITE NOW READY FOR OUTINGS

Completion of wide-scale improvements to the community picnic site on the western outskirts of town was reported this week by officials of the Newark Recreation Association, which manages the project. The grounds are now open to Newark residents for family or group outings.

A softball diamond has been cleared of a backstop erected in addition, a city court has been laid out and an acre of ground bordering on the cleared area has been cleared of underbrush. Five large picnic tables are also available.

More good news for picnickers is that their old enemies, bugs and weeds, will be at a minimum. Plans are underway to spray the entire area with DDT, and the work is expected to be completed within a week, according to Harry Rawstrom, recreation program director.

Visitors are advised to bring their own drinking water, however, since the spring on the grounds has not been tested as yet. Samples of the water have been sent to health authorities, and a report is expected next week.

In an effort to eliminate some of the nuisances which still exist on the extensive section of the grounds, Rawstrom this week listed these directions: Follow West Main Street to Tip-Top Farm, turn right on a dirt road, proceed along this for about a mile and a half to a sharp turn where a large sign points to the entrance of the picnic grounds. In addition, signs are all along the route, beginning at Tip-Top Farm, he said.

Architect Working On School Specifications

Preliminary plans for Newark's new elementary school were again approved by the local Building Commission at a meeting Tuesday night and Architect W. W. Martin was directed to draw up detailed plans and prepare specifications for bids.

This is expected to take from eight to ten weeks, and construction will not start until after that time.

It was also announced that two of the private homes on Academy Street have been purchased to make way for the new school which will be erected between the present main building and the Delaware Avenue School. Negotiations for the third house on Academy Street are still going on.

Graduates With Honors

Harry Gordon Bethards

Receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry, Harry Gordon Bethards, 178 South Chapel Street, was graduated with "honors in the course" at last week's commencement exercises at the University of Delaware.

He was among 27 Newark residents in the graduating class. An Army veteran and a graduate of P. S. duPont High School, he lives with his wife, Mrs. Madeleine C. Bethards.

To earn "honors in the course," a student must maintain a 3.50 average, which is between an "A" and "B" grade.

NEWARK RED CROSS LISTS YEAR'S WORK

Colburn Renamed Chairman

New officers were elected for the coming year at a recent meeting of Branch Area No. 1 of the Red Cross, which includes Newark and its environs. The entire slate presented by the nominating committee, headed by Dr. R. O. Bausman and including Mrs. Walter Hultihen and Mrs. May Leasure, was accepted without dissent. Officers include: Dr. Allan P. Colburn, Area Chairman; Mrs. Leasure, and Mrs. Richard S. Snyder, vice-chairmen; Mrs. Howard Green, secretary; and Miss Edna Campbell, treasurer.

Elected or reelected to the board of directors were Mrs. Hultihen, Michael Kubicek, Mrs. J. Fenton Raughter, Mrs. Olive Ryland, R. O. Bausman and Ford McBerry, all of Newark; Mrs. Ann Barczewski, Piney Stewart, Mrs. Myra McElwee and Mrs. Flora Laws, all of Glasgow, Miss M. Elizabeth Webber. (Please turn to page 10)

BOYS' CAMP IN OPENING

Two Newark boys were among the 50 excited youths who left Monday for a two week's stay at the children's camp opened for the first time this summer near Assawoman Bay by the Delaware Association of Chiefs of Police.

A full program of athletic and recreational activities, including swimming, boating and woodcraft, is in store for the boys, the first to be taken to Camp Barnes.

Edward and Wayne Pyle, 5 Caldwell Place, were the Newark youths in the group. Four boys from nearby Bear made the trip. They are: Charles Betts, Woodall Sheets, Eugene Keen, Donald Baer.

Sgt. Leroy Hill, of the Newark Police Force and a director of the camp, was among the officials who saw the boys off Monday. Sgt. Hill, along with other members of the association, has devoted much time to organizing and preparing the camp for this summer's session.

Newark business man, Pete Stiltz, donated the bus which transported the boys to the camp. Another Newark man, Earl J. Helmbreck, Jr., was recently named camp director.

D. Rankin Gets Varsity Award At Peddie School

Douglas W. Rankin, of Newark, has been awarded a varsity letter in baseball at The Peddie School. It was announced here today by George W. Weed, Peddie's Director of Athletics.

A junior at Peddie this year, Rankin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Rankin, of 82 West Park Place, in Newark.

Rites Tuesday For Joseph H. Collins

Services for Joseph H. Collins, who died Saturday in Wilmington, were held Tuesday afternoon from the R. T. Jones Funeral Home. Interment was in Head of Christiana Cemetery. The Rev. Hayes Henry, pastor of the Bible Presbyterian Church conducted the service.

Mr. Collins, who would have been ninety on July 22, lived in Newark most of his life.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ruth McKinsey, of Wilmington; several nieces, Mrs. Olivia Houghton and Mrs. John Howell, of Newark; Mrs. Stanley Stevens, of Chesapeake City, Mrs. Clarence Walter, of Baltimore, and Miss Greta McKinsey, Wilmington, one nephew, Joseph Brown, of Roselle, and a cousin, Col. Albert W. Foreman, of Wilmington.

7 New York Youngsters To Vacation With Families Here; Places For Others Sought

At least seven youngsters from New York City's tenements will have a longed-for vacation in the country this summer as guests of Newark residents.

They are children who came here last year through the Tribune, Fresh Air Fund, and they're being invited back again because their Newark hosts found it's fun to rediscover the delights of a small town through the eyes of children who are seeing them for the first time.

In case you haven't heard, the Fresh Air Fund, which is conducted here every summer, is now seeking persons willing to provide a two-week vacation for children from New York's tenement areas. A local committee, headed by Mrs. A. P. Colburn, is soliciting the invitations from private homes here. The children will be selected by leading New York social agencies, and their transportation will be provided.

One of the seven children returning this year has been invited for the entire summer. He is 7-year-old Frankie Vaccarino, of Brooklyn, and he will visit Mrs. Wilma Foland, 20 Thompson Circle. The two hit it off so well last year that Mrs. Foland has also invited Frankie's sister this time. She'll come for two weeks in July.

Other Newark residents who are going to have their New York proteges back next month are: Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons Young, 103 Old Oak Road;

Aetna Carnival To Open June 25; Parade June 29

65 Volunteer Fire Companies Asked To March

Newark's gayest summer fete, the annual fire company carnival, will open here on Friday, June 25, and continue until July 5, with the climax coming on Tuesday, June 29, when a mammoth firemen's parade will wind through the main thoroughfares of the town.

To set the carnival mood, local firemen yesterday began brightening up the Main Street business district. They plan to drape bunting, flags and banners along the entire length. The fire house and the Council offices also will be decked out in holiday colors for the big event.

The parade, if all invitations are accepted, will include some 65 volunteer companies from Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania. If rain intervenes, it will be postponed two days until Thursday, July 1. The starting time and route of march have not been set as yet, and local officials are not sure how many companies will accept their invitation.

Feature of the carnival itself will be the kiddie rides which will include a miniature train, ferris wheel, airplane ride and roto whip. In addition, officials are trying to secure a larger ferris wheel and other concessions.

Construction of numerous booths on the carnival site behind the Academy Building is progressing, and the area has been sprayed with DDT, it was said.

William J. Warwick, general chairman for the fete, announced this week that fancy good contributions are now being accepted at the fire house, and women who wish to donate bake goods to be sold during the parade should have their contributions at the fire house by parade night.

The two local veteran organizations will operate concessions at the carnival to aid the current drive for a war memorial here. A booth will also be turned over to the Newark Recreation Association, which will use the proceeds to further the summer recreation program.

As its concession, the American Legion plans to bring back the 40 and 8 train which proved so popular during its carnival here last month.

Work Of Fresh Air Fund Told At Rotary

Michael Kubicek outlined the work of the Tribune Fresh Air Fund to members of the Newark Rotary Club at their weekly meeting Monday night. President William S. Hamilton presided.

The Fresh Air Fund seeks persons who will invite New York tenement children for a two week vacation here during July or August. Mr. Kubicek is a member of the local Fresh Air Committee, with Mrs. A. P. Colburn chairman.

Roland McCloskey was program chairman at the meeting.

The July 5 meeting of the club has been canceled due to the holiday.

The annual installation of new club officers is set for July 12, when past district governor Thomas Wingate, of Salem, N. J., will give the oath of office.

Tennis Instruction Now Feature Of Play Program

Tennis instruction is one of the new features of this year's summer recreation program here, Harry Rawstrom, director, announced this week.

Lessons are being offered daily from 10 to 12 on the two outdoor courts on Frazer Field. Guy Tracy and Ed Horner are the instructors, both having wide experience in the game. The classes free for persons of any age.

Also open now is the teenage canteen in the New Century Building.

Recently redecorated and painted, the canteen offers a much brighter atmosphere this year. A variety of games, dancing to records and refreshments are offered every Tuesday and Thursday from 7:30 to 10 p. m. Over fifty teen-agers turned out for the opening session last week.

JOB EXAMS FOR LOCAL POST OFFICE

June 29 Is Deadline On Applications

An examination for Substitute Clerk-Carrier for duty at the Newark Post Office was announced today by the Director, Third U. S. Civil Service Region.

Substitutes start at $1.04 per hour while regular employees are paid from $2.10 to $3.10 per year. Applicants must actually reside within the delivery of the Post Office or be bona fide patrons of such office. Persons now employed in the Post Office will be considered bona fide patrons.

There are no experience requirements needed for this position. All applicants will be required to take a written examination. Because the use of motor vehicles is required in city-delivery service, no person will be appointed as substitute city carrier who does not drive an automobile.

Applicants must have reached their eighteenth birthday but must not have passed their fiftieth birthday on the closing date for acceptance of applications and must be citizens of or owe allegiance to the United States. The age limits will be waived for veteran preference applicants.

Applications for this examination must be on file with the Director, Third U. S. Civil Service Region, Room 103-A Customhouse, Philadelphia 6, Pennsylvania, not later than the close of business on June 29, 1948.

Interested persons may obtain further information and the necessary application form from the Commission's local secretary, Mr. Woodrow W. Singles, located at Post Office Building, or from the Director, Third U. S. Civil Service Region, Room 103-A Customhouse, 2nd and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia 6, Pennsylvania.

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE

William Coverdale has been named temporary chairman of the Newark War Memorial Committee which is pushing a drive for the erection of a monument to local veterans.

The clay models of three proposed designs, now on display in the windows of the Newark Department Store, will be moved over the week-end to the Wilmington Auto's window, where they will remain until the opening of the firemen's carnival on June 25.

They will then be displayed in the carnival booth to be operated by the Memorial Committee. The public will again have an opportunity to vote on its choice of design at this time.

Mr. Coverdale issued a call this week for information on World War I veterans from Newark. No complete list now exists, so far as is known, and anyone with information is asked to notify Mr. Coverdale.

Newark Girl At Penn State Parley

Nearly 200 students from 47 Pennsylvania colleges attended the week-end conference of the Pennsylvania Region of the National Student Association at the Pennsylvania State College.

Among the delegates to the annual conference was:

Jane E. Fouracre, 21 Townsend Road, Newark, who represented Pennsylvania State College.

SWIMMING CLASSES TO START HERE ON MONDAY

Recreation Chiefs List Schedule Of Pool Hours

The summer recreation program will move into full swing here on Monday when swimming classes open at the university pool in the women's gym.

Classes for beginners, intermediates and advanced will again be offered in the pool program, which, in past years, has proved the most popular feature of the recreation project.

The beginners' class, scheduled for Monday, Wednesday, Friday, will offer youngsters an invaluable opportunity to learn to swim. Trained instructors, headed by Harry Rawstrom, U. of D. swimming coach, will be in charge.

This class will not produce expert swimmers, Rawstrom said, but those who finish the course will be able to handle themselves adequately in the water. Any child, he said, can learn to swim if he follows instructions.

Youngsters who have progressed beyond the elementary stage, or who completed last year's beginner course, can enter the intermediate.

The advanced class will also offer a life saving course in which entrants can train to pass standard Red Cross life saving tests. These will be given at the end of the course and will qualify those who pass as official Red Cross life savers.

Assisting Rawstrom as instructors will be: Ed Horney, Guy Tracy and Fred Spasato.

The schedule of classes follows:

Beginners—Monday, Wednesday and Friday—Boys, 10 a. m.; Girls, 11 a. m.

Intermediate—Tuesday and Thursday—Boys, 10 a. m.; Girls 11 a. m.

Advance and Life Saving—Tuesday and Thursday—Boys and Girls 3 to 5 p. m.

Adults—Monday, Wednesday and Friday—7 to 10 p. m.

The fee will be the same as in previous years.

UNIVERSITY FARM STAFF PROMOTIONS

Baker, Gordy And Skoglund Are Advanced

Promotions for George L. Baker, W. C. Skoglund and J. Frank Gordy, all members of the University of Delaware Agriculture Experiment Station and Agriculture Extension staff were announced recently by George M. Worrlow, director of the agriculture research and extension service.

Mr. Baker has been raised from head of the Experiment Station Chemistry Department to assistant director of the Agricultural Experiment Station; W. C. Skoglund from assistant research professor in the Department of Animal and Poultry Industry to associate research professor; and Mr. Gordy from extension poultryman to County Agent Leader in the extension service. The promotions have been approved by the University Board of Trustees' committee on agriculture.

Mr. Baker, the new assistant experiment station director, has been head of the Chemistry Department since 1942 and will continue in this capacity. He will have general responsibility for the implementation and coordination of the agricultural research activities within the experiment station and between the various agricultural research departments. Gilligan Gets Engineering Degree At Rensselaer

Stephen W. Gilligan, of Newark, was one of 415 candidates graduating last week at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's 138th commencement, in Troy, N. Y.

He received the degree of bachelor of technical engineering. Charles E. Wilson, president of the General Motors Corporation, delivered the commencement address.

Gilligan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Gilligan, 37 Kells Avenue, Newark, and a graduate of Newark Public High School. At Rensselaer he was a member of Phi Kappa fraternity and was pledged to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

UNIVERSITY PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

Enrollment Of Over 2,000 Seen Here Next Term

The University of Delaware's enrollment problems are again getting top priority.

President William S. Carlson has reported that another student body topping 2,000 is in prospect for 1948-49.

Promotion of 15 faculty members, including three to the rank of full professor, has also been announced.

The new professors are: Dr. James C. Kawayas, chairman of the Department of Biological Sciences; Dr. Charles N. Lanier, Jr., chairman of the Department of Economics and Business Administration; and Dr. G. Cuthbert Webber, of the Department of Mathematics.

Dr. Kawayas is the senior member, having joined the Delaware faculty in 1929 as a member of the Department of Bacteriology. When that department was combined with the Department of Biology last Jan. 1, Dr. Kawayas was named to head the new Department of Biological Sciences.

Dr. Lanier, who has been on the Delaware faculty since 1940, has been chairman of the Department of Economics and Business Administration since 1946. Dr. Webber, who has served the past six years as secretary of the faculty, came to Delaware in 1937 as an instructor. All three new professors advance from the rank of associate professor.

Other faculty promotions are: To Research Professor: Dr. Herbert Dorn, formerly lecturer, Department of Economics and Business Administration.

To Associate Professor: Miss Jane L. Gardner, previously assistant professor, Department of Fine Arts; Dr. Jack A. Gerster, previously assistant professor, Chemical Engineering; Harold A. Birkness, previously assistant professor, Mechanical Engineering.

To Instructor: A. F. Clifford, from part-time instructor, Chemistry; Robert C. LeProhn, from part-time instructor, Economics; Harry Smith, Jr., and A. Carl Nelson, Jr., previously graduate assistants, Mathematics; D. F. Clements, from part-time instructor, Electrical Engineering.

The part-time instructor: Constance Mitchell, from teaching and research assistant, Biological Sciences.

Paint Firm Marks 85th Anniversary

Felton, Sibley & Co., Inc., Philadelphia paint manufacturer, announces concurrently with their eighty-fifth anniversary year, an expanded line of Deko interior wall paint. Now available in 152 colors, the Deko line of paints consists of ten fluid base colors from which can be secured beautiful tints, covering a range of colors to meet the desires of the most discriminating people.

Celebrating their eighty-fifth anniversary this year, Felton-Sibley points with pride to the fact that the firm is still in the hands of the founders' families.

Felton-Sibley & Co., Inc., was established August 1, 1863, at Fourth and Cherry Streets, Philadelphia. The original members of the firm were Samuel K. Felton, Conrad F. Rau and Edward A. Sibley. Mr. Rau withdrew in 1892 and the firm continued in the Felton and Sibley families. Active in the firm today are Mr. Horace S. Felton, president, and Mr. Walter G. Sibley, Jr., vice-president in charge of sales.

Recruits May Select Own Army School

The U. S. Army joins the U. S. Air Force in offering high school graduates the opportunity to select the technical training they wish before they enter the service. It was announced by Capt. Walter Runte, local Army and Air Force recruiting officer for Delaware.

The Pre-Selection School Plan in effect now by the Army Field Forces was instituted in June by the U. S. Air Force and is already attracting high school graduates at the rate of more than 1,000 a month.

Captain Runte explained that a man between the ages of 17 and 34, inclusive, with a high school education or its equivalent, may choose from among the Army's many career opportunities, two favorite fields of interest such as machine shop, construction, crafts, mechanical, scientific-medical-technical, or electrical and radio. In each of these fields he may indicate two specialist training courses he would like to learn. If he is accepted for enrollment in one of these four courses and is satisfied with that course, he may then enlist in the Regular Army for three or more years with positive assurance that he will be assigned to the course he has chosen.

The Wilmington office of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service located in Room 349, Post Office Building, Wilmington, will provide full information and application forms to qualified civilians.

Need Recruits For Fort Hancock Duty

There is an urgent need for men for duty with the 1225th ASU at the United States Disciplinary Barracks, Fort Hancock, New Jersey, according to an announcement made by Captain Walter G. Runte, local Army and Air Force Recruiting Officer for Delaware.

Captain Runte stated that former Army servicemen who held the Military Occupational Specialty 677 (Military Policeman) or 745 (Rifleman) may enlist for direct assignment to this installation providing they are at least 22 years of age, are a minimum of 5 feet 6 inches tall and attain a score of 80 or better on their AGCT test.

For further details about this special assignment all interested veterans are invited to visit the local Army and Air Force Recruiting station located in room 349, Post Office Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

THE DIAMOND STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY

U. OF D. NAMES NEW TRUSTEE

Election of G. Franklin Waples, of Milford, to the Board of Trustees of the University of Delaware, has just been announced by university authorities. Mr. Waples, an alumnus of Delaware College, class of 1921, fills the vacancy left by the resignation in 1947 of Dr. Samuel M. D. Marshall of Lewes.

Concomitant board appointments include that of R. H. Richards, of Wilmington, to serve his third consecutive six-year term, and that of R. R. McCarpen, Jr., as chairman of the Finance committee. In this capacity Mr. Carpenter succeeds General Eugene Reybold, who, however, continues as a member of the board.

The new appointee is the secretary and director of the L. D. Caulk Co., of Milford, and is also advertising manager for that firm. Married to the former Frances Jones of Georgetown, he has two sons—Jack, a senior in the electrical engineering department of the University of Delaware's School of Engineering and Bob, a high school junior.

Mr. Waples is president-elect of the Milford Rotary Club, and is Clerk of Session at Milford's First Presbyterian Church. He is a member of the Poor Richard Club of Philadelphia, and of the Rehoboth Country Club, and of Sigma Nu social fraternity.

Now It's Corset Wearing Monkeys

Monkeys will wear corsets in the interest of science at the University of Illinois.

The 40 simians will be used to test a theory that tight-fitting corsets may cause ulcers, the university's vice-president, Andrew Ivy, says.

Until the monkeys arrive, two men and two women have volunteered to undergo the tests.

VALLEY SCHOOL PROGRAM

Amateur Show And Picnic Held

Pleasant Valley School, Iron Hill, held last Wednesday with an amateur show and picnic on the school grounds.

First prize winners at the amateur show were Doris Jane McCormick and Kay Hanna, who tied with Dorothy Schuler and Shirley Zist. Both couples received vocal duets.

The second prize was also a tie between Karina Pollari and Maya Zist for their piano solos.

Dennis Kemelher with his "knee" pick-up stunt, Laura Jane Wagoner with her tap dancing, and Betty Jane Zist, at the piano, shared third place honors.

Mr. Toms Foltz, chairman, Misses Margaret Stewart and Alice Stanton, assisted and carried out the organized games. Numerous prizes were awarded.

Cake cutting and serving of ice cream and cake to the large crowd present were managed efficiently by Mrs. William Schwartz, Mrs. Archie Paul, Mrs. Samuel Stewart, Mrs. Laura Brown, Mrs. John Zist, Mrs. Laurence Egan, Mrs. August Zist, and Mrs. Margaret Thorpe.

Honor Roll

The sixth marking period honor roll listed ten pupils with all "A's" on the first Honor Roll. One student, Mary Ellen Brown, grade six, with all "A's" for one, was placed on the Second Honor Roll.

First Honor Roll pupils include: Betty Jane Zist, grade five; Maya Bissell, grade four; Shirley Ann Zist, grade four; Karina Pollari, "Teddy" Egan, Ray Thorpe, and Laura Jane Wagoner, grade two; Barbara Jean Egan, Alvira Peel and "Billy" Pollari, grade one.

Attendance

The local school with an average of 87% won the attendance banner in its division for the past school year.

Sixteen pupils won perfect attendance honors: Shirley Ann Zist, Maya Bissell, and Mary Ellen Brown received three-year certificates. The other three winners were Barbara Jean Egan, Kay McCormick, Alvira Peel, Suzanne Bell, Karina Pollari, Doris Jane McCormick, Phyllis McNeal, Dennis Kemelher, Walton Connelly, Gunnar Nelson, Harry McCormick, Ray Thorpe, and Paul Zist.

Parent-Teacher Association. Recent P-T. A. elections resulted in the following selections: president, Dr. Francis Thorpe; vice-president, Dr. William T. Schwartz; secretary, Dr. Toms Foltz; treasurer, Mrs. Allen Egan.

Mrs. Ruth McCormick, our retiring president and Mrs. Francis Thorpe, our new president, spent Saturday, June 5, in the P-T. A. Work Shop held at the Home duPont High School.

Former Pupil

Marjorie Brown, grade nine, brought letters to her one-room school by leaving the New Century Club award at Newark High for the most outstanding scholarship and citizenship in her grade. Marjorie's six years of elementary training were received at the Pleasant Valley School.

Comics And Classics. Can't Live Together. Marjorie Johnson, 20, a stenographer, likes to read the classics and wanted her husband to read them, too, she told Superior Judge Edwin A. Robson in Chicago.

But she testified recently in her suit for divorce, he persisted in reading only the comics. They quarreled over their reading preferences, she said, and her husband, Raymond L., a stock clerk, struck her.

Mrs. Johnson was granted a divorce on grounds of cruelty.

Try our Homogenized Vitamin D

Anti-Fear Drug To Be Marketed

A drug designed to relieve fear, nervous tension, anxiety and pain was announced recently by Sharp & Dohme, Inc., drug manufacturers.

The company identified the preparation as "delvinal-aspirin."

It will be sold only at a physician's prescription.

The new drug, the company said, is applicable especially in myalgic (muscular), neuralgic and arthritic conditions, particularly in hypersensitive, neurasthenic or nervous patients, or those suffering from anxiety tension conditions.

"It is especially useful in allaying fear and controlling pain preceding minor surgical operations."

The company said the drug "produces calmness, induces refreshing sleep without 'hangover' on awakening, is a central nervous system depressant, and is relatively non-toxic."

ROTC STAFF ON NEW DUTY

Gets Summer Assignments

Lt.-Col. L. A. Zimmer, assistant professor of military science, at University of Delaware, has received orders for temporary duty at Boston Army Base during the summer school session of the university. No ROTC Courses are being offered in summer school.

Col. Zimmer's duty will be in connection with National Guard activities and will consist principally of assisting in coordination and supervision of training activities of National Guard Antiaircraft Units at Camp Edwards, Mass.

Lt.-Col. Harold G. Osborne and Captain Jack P. Loughman have been ordered to ROTC summer camp at Fort Bragg, N. C., where they will assist in training the advanced students from University of Delaware as well as from other colleges and universities in First Army Area having artillery units. Sgts. William G. Rivello, Edward F. Klindienst, Myron E. Jacques, John F. Thompson and Alfred E. Fuller, Jr., instructors in the Military Department are also going to Fort Bragg, N. C., during latter part of June and all of July.

Tech Sgt. Alfred Fuller, Jr., is receiving an AB degree this month through the University of Delaware where during the past school year he has completed subjects which he was unable to finish before World War II called.

Dorn Named To Head New U. Of D. Institute

Appointment of Dr. Herbert S. Dorn as chairman of an Institute for Inter-American Affairs at the University of Delaware was announced today by Dr. William S. Carlson, president.

Designed to promote understanding and cooperative effort throughout the Western Hemisphere, the institute will develop research and instruction in numerous related fields.

Aiding Dr. Dorn as secretary will be William H. Bohning, the university's registrar, who is active in the Inter-American Society of Wilmington.

Dr. Dorn is now a research professor in economics at the university, having served as a special lecturer in the past academic year upon joining the Delaware faculty in September. He was chief justice of the Supreme Court of the Reich in matters of public finance in pre-Hitler Germany and later was consulting economist and acting director of the Department for International Economy of the War Economy Board of Cuba.

SPECIAL SERVICES PLANNED

At Head Of Christiana On Sunday

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Head of Christiana Church this Sunday at 11 a. m., with Dr. Elliot Field, of New Castle, conducting the services.

Sunday School will be at 10 a. m. with classes for all ages. Dr. Field will be in charge of the Adult Bible Class. Daily vacation school is being held this week and next, Monday through Friday, from 9 until 11:30 a. m. Bus service is available, leaving Newark at 8:30 a. m. using the same route as on Sunday, starting with Mooretown and Barksdale.

Election of officers and the monthly consecration meeting of the Westminster Fellowship will be held Sunday at 6:45 p. m., followed by Youth Choir rehearsal. All members of the Fellowship are urged to be present.

Miss Jean Pierson, Ronald Cheadle and John Smith will attend the Youth Conference at West Nottingham, Col. Md., the week of June 21.

In the absence of a pastor, Dr. Field with the members of the session, has offered to assist anyone wishing to become members of the church, as well as new residents who wish to transfer their membership.

BROILER OUTPUT

Increase Seen This Summer

Information on the placement of baby chicks in broiler houses in the important broilers-producing areas indicates that there will be more broilers for market this summer. Dr. R. O. Bausman, head of the department of marketing and farm management at the University of Delaware reports that a study of chick placement figures shows that the number of chicks started have increased substantially over earlier months, and more than seasonally.

Placement of chicks in broiler houses in the Delmarva area, which account for almost half of the broilers in the seven commercial broiler-producing areas has followed this trend, says Dr. Bausman.

On the basis of these figures, Dr. Bausman, points out that broiler prices may decline moderately in the next few months. Although placements of broiler chicks will decline seasonally during the next few months, they will be substantially ahead of last year. This will result in about 10 to 15 per cent greater marketings of broilers during the third and fourth quarters of 1948 than of 1947. Broiler prices then may decline somewhat.

In view of the larger feed-grain crops which will probably be marketed during the fall and winter, Dr. Bausman says, however, that the relationship between broiler and feed prices probably will be more favorable than during the same season of 1947.

Auto Industry Is Top Steel User '47

The American Iron and Steel Institute said recently the automobile industry in 1947 was the largest industrial user of steel, taking the largest tonnage in its history.

The automobile industry received 2,273,000 net tons, equal to 14.7 per cent of total shipments of finished steel. The highest previous tonnage was 8,882,000 tons in 1941.

Construction was second with 8,501,000 tons, equal to 13.5 per cent of the total. Containers were third with 5,078,000 tons, or 8 per cent of the total, and railroads fourth with 4,880,000 tons or 7.7 per cent.

Shipments of steel products last year totaled 63,057,000 net tons, an increase of 14,282,000 over 1946, with every industrial classification participating in the increase.

Report On State's Child Aid Program

The State Board of Welfare reported recently that the number of children given assistance through its Aid to Dependent Children program has increased 56 per cent in the last year.

Frederick P. Whitney, of Georgetown, chairman of the board, disclosed that the number of children on the rolls reached 1,059 this May, as compared with 678 in May a year ago. He pointed out that, in May, 1947, the board was unable to assist all eligible applicants with its available funds. Since then, he added, the "ceiling bill" adopted by the last session of the General Assembly has brought about the spreading of available funds over more cases.

The number on the rolls has gradually risen. The figure for this month is 5.9 per cent higher than the 1,001 figure for April. At present there is no dependent children waiting list except of cases in process of investigation.

The board had 300 children in aid foster home care this month—the same number as last month, and only 10 more than were receiving this service last May.

Number Of State Vets On G. I. Aid List Drops

The number of Delaware veterans receiving federal financial assistance for education and job training was 153 less during the month of May than during April, Col. Thomas H. Stillwell, manager of the local regional office of the Veterans Administration, announced yesterday. The figure of 4,414 at the end of last month also represented a decline of 350 over the corresponding period of last year, he reported.

One of the few categories showing a substantial increase is the farm training program, with 112 veterans on the rolls in May compared to 93 in April. This program has had a steady advance in registrants since the first of the year.

Under Public Law 16 for disabled veterans, the number in education remained nearly the same from month to month, 169 in April and 170 last month. The job training list increased from 201 to 214. Farm training registration was constant—nine each month.

UNIVERSITY FILLS POSTS

Dean Appointed

Appointment of Miss Irma L. Ayers as dean of the University of Delaware's School of Home Economics, beginning July 1, was announced today by Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the university.

Miss Ayers, who will hold a full professorship, now is on the home economics staff at the University of Tennessee. She is a Knoxville resident at present, but her permanent home has been in Pittsburgh, Pa.

A native of Revere, W. Va., Dean Ayers was graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from West Virginia University in 1931, and from Pennsylvania State College in 1933 with a Master of Science degree. From 1931 to 1941, she engaged in high school training of home economics subjects at Rogersville and Warfordsburg, Pa., and at Salem, N. J., where she organized a new home economics department. For the next three years, until 1944, she was at the Pennsylvania College for Women in Pittsburgh, where she also organized a new department. In 1944-46 she taught in a private school in Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, and since her return to this country she has been at the University of Tennessee.

The deanship of the University of Delaware's School of Home Economics is resumed, by Miss Ayers' appointment, after a lapse of several months. On last Feb. 1, Miss Amy Rextrow, who was the first dean of the school, was appointed dean of women, and since that time Mrs. Edna S. Haynes has been acting head of the school in an interim appointment which will terminate June 30.

WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Mary Lowmes Garrett, of 1201 E. 12th St., Newark, N. J., announce the wedding of their daughter, Miss Mary Margaret Wilson, to Mr. George E. Alves, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Alves, of 1201 E. 12th St., Newark, N. J., on Saturday afternoon, June 19, at 2 o'clock, in Silverbrook Methodist Church, Wilmington.

The bride wore a white tulle gown with a long train, and carried a bouquet of white and pink sweetpeas. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Roy Tawes, pastor of the church. The wedding party included Miss Mary Margaret Wilson, bride; George E. Alves, groom; Miss Mary Margaret Wilson, bridesmaid; and George E. Alves, best man.

After a week's honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Alves will be at the University of Maryland where Mr. Alves will attend summer school.

MISS MARGUERITE WILSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus B. Wilson, of 1201 E. 12th St., Newark, N. J., and George E. Alves, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Alves, of 1201 E. 12th St., Newark, N. J., will be married on Saturday afternoon, June 19, at 2 o'clock, in Silverbrook Methodist Church, Wilmington.

Rev. Roy Tawes performed the wedding ceremony and Mr. Stewart Smith, of Maryland, was the best man. The bride wore an ivory tulle gown with a long train and carried a bouquet of white and pink sweetpeas. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword.

Nursery School Pupils Are Among 'Grads' At University

The University of Delaware's Commencement for seniors wasn't the only "graduation" on the campus this month.

For a dozen pre-school children recently closed another of the nursery school terms conducted in one of the university's buildings.

Designed to translate classroom learning into actual experience for 20 university girl students under the supervision of Miss Muriel E. Starr, instructor in home economics, the nursery school provides the youngsters with experiences as interesting—if perhaps not as dignified—as those of the staff.

The school, conducted in the Home Management House, is staffed by girls taking a course in child development. Required for home economics majors.

FILLIN' IN

Last week we lost our slip for the local Chinese laundry. We had been living in fear of this ever since we began taking our shirts there a year ago.

Reared in the grim belief "no-sleepe, no laundee," we expected, at the very least, to be drawn into a vast web of oriental confusion and misunderstanding.

We had visions of being summoned to the rear of the shop, then led down a dim-lit corridor, lined with jade idols, to a secret room where we would be thrown before a sinister, lavishly robed figure, seated on a teak wood dais and surrounded by semi-naked Nubians with upraised swords. Here, we would be grilled on the color, size and number of our shirts.

We're happy to report, though, that none of this goes on at the local laundry. When we blurted out our loss to the proprietor, a cool, reassuring voice in better English than our own said: "That is all right. Return home quickly, write down the ink inscription you'll find on any shirt previously laundered here, bring this to us and all will be well."

Still shaken with doubt, we complied, and, after a brief search, the proprietor produced our shirts. We went our way praising his honorable ancestors. An ancient American myth had been exploded for us.

Incidentally, the fellow who spoke English so well, said he is an engineering student at the U. of D. It looks like a new hand-laundry era is dawning.

A brooding spell hit us this week when we read a news announcement about a new-fangled "atomic watch" that will "never run down" and will keep "the same time 1,000,000 years hence," despite the fact that the earth will have "slowed down several hours" by then.

Although it possesses none of these features, our alarm clock will serve just as well, we've decided. The latter we regard as one of the outstanding freaks of the machine age. Sometimes, we doubt that it was made by mortals at all. Certainly, it keeps no earthly time.

Once, after much statistical research, we figured that the thing gains three hours in twenty-four, or one in eight. Our course seemed clear. Before retiring, we merely had to move it back one hour, and it would be on time in the morning.

But here the human element enters. We don't like to have our clock exactly on time (which rules out all "atomic watches"). We like to think when it rings in the morning that it is only a false alarm. "Oh, well," we say craftily as we turn it off, "You're half an hour fast." Then we settle down to oversleep.

But with a clock that is one hour fast in eight, this means pushing it back one hour and up a half, or simply back a half hour, before retiring.

All would be well if our clock would follow these calculations. But, frequently, when the alarm rings in the morning, the hands are pointing to some fantastic hour such as 5:12, though it was set for 7:30.

Whipping out pad, pencil and a table of logarithms (always kept near our clock), we attempt to compute where we stand. Usually, we wind up with some dubious answer like 1492 A. D. About this time, we notice the sun is streaming through the window, birds are twittering and people are moving about outside. It sounds suspiciously like noon.

The only thing to do is to get dressed and go find what year it is. We wouldn't trade a clock like that for a carload of "atomic watches."

What really has us worried, though, is this business about the earth slowing down. We don't like the sound of that.

If you get a bit bored this summer, why not brighten up the old homestead with a visit from a New York tenement child. You can do this through the Fresh Air Fund which is operating here through a committee headed by Mrs. A. P. Colburn.

But don't be like the disillusioned couple Mike Kubicek (member of the local Fresh Air Committee) told about this week. They were hoping for a dead-end kid they could reform and got instead an 11-year-old "perfect little lady." That's a disappointment it wouldn't be hard for most of us to take.

It might be quite a thrill, though, to show off the old home town to a child who, perhaps, as never before outside New York.

Leo Laskaris, local artist who recently completed his training at one of New York's leading art schools, is planning to open a studio of his own here. It'll be in the old Academy Building on the first floor next to the town library.

After he gets settled, Leo plans to take a few students, but first he wants to finish some work of his own. He'll be glad to have visitors drop in when he opens, he says.

UNBEATEN RED MEN ASSUME UNDISPUTED SOFTBALL LOOP LEAD; INDIANS ARE SECOND

Indians, Even Though Still Undeclared, Drop Out Of First Place Tie With Red Men, Aces Running In Third; Knights Of Pythias Lose To Indians by 10-7 Count

The Red Men, undefeated in five starts, took sole possession of first place in the community softball league this week, while the Indians, even though still undeclared, slipped to second in the standings with four wins in as many games.

Also pushing the leaders was the Newark A. C. with one blemish on its record against four victories.

The Indians continued to push their bid for the loop lead this week with a 10-7 triumph over the Knights of Pythias.

The warpathing Indians had to come from behind to do it, though, for the Knights leaped to a five run lead in the second. The Indians managed a singleton in their half of the second, then laid low until the fifth and sixth when they fell on the Pythians with four and five run rallies. The latter got their other two scores in the fourth and seventh.

The Indians pounded out 11 hits for their win, with Flynn, Kelly, McCormick and W. Wallstrom getting two apiece. For the Knights, Butterworth was the big gun, accounting for three safeties.

GI Subsistence Is Not Vacation Pay, Vets Told

Veterans readjustment allowances are not intended as summer vacation pay, and all veterans who receive the weekly $20 allowances must be able and available for work and willing to accept suitable work, Albert Stetser, chairman-executive director of the Unemployment Compensation Commission which, with the Veterans Administration, administers the readjustment allowance program in the GI Bill of Rights, pointed out recently.

"The important thing," Mr. Stetser said, "is that those thousands of GIs understand that when the school year ends and they are out of school they are not entitled to subsistence allowances for school purposes, and that they should make sure that allowances have been discontinued before claiming readjustment allowances."

"Further," he said, "it must be remembered that the veteran who plans merely to rest and relax between school terms is not eligible for readjustment allowances, he must be available for work and ready to take a job when one is offered."

The club held its 600 mile race for the second annual "Secretary's Trophy" from Gainesville, Ga., on June 5, with R. S. Brown liberating 28 birds from five lofts. Birds from Harold Stanley's loft placed first and second in the race.

AUTO RACE ON SUNDAY

Mays To Drive At Langhorne

Rex Mays, one of America's most colorful and outstanding auto race drivers, has joined the star-studded field that will seek top honors in the National Convention Sweepstakes, 100-mile AAA-sanctioned big car race, on Sunday at Babcock's Langhorne Speedway.

Mays, holder of more speedway and dirt track records than any other living speed chauffeur, will drive his famous Bowes Seal Fast Special in the century contest on the famed Lincoln High oval. He has told officials at Langhorne that he will bring two motors, an 8-cylinder supercharged Offenhauser and a 4-cylinder job, also an Offy without supercharger.

Rex, who was national dirt track champion in 1940 and again in 1941, finished second to Wilbur Shaw when the latter scored his third triumph in the 1940 Memorial Day 500-mile classic at Indianapolis. Mays again was runner-up to Floyd Davis in 1941 and placed sixth in 1947.

Fibre Girls In Crucial Contest Next Wednesday

The Continental-Diamond girls' softball team will meet Cris Cleaners in a game to decide the lead in the Amateur League of Delaware next Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. on the Continental Field.

The Fibre girls, who Tuesday night trounced the DuPonters, 10-3, are tied with Cris Cleaners for the loop lead. Their meeting here next week will be one of the biggest games of the season for the Newark girls.

TIES MARK LOOP TITLE RACES HERE

After only three weeks of play, competition is already stiff in the Junior and Senior Baseball Leagues, sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association.

Three clubs, Warriors B, Cleveland Avenue Clippers and the Southside Indians, are claiming a foothold on first place in the 4-team circuit, while in the senior league its a two-way tie, with the Southside Indians and the Clippers running shoulder to shoulder.

All teams in both leagues are showing about equal form, and neither circuit has produced a standout title contender to date.

Last week's thriller in the Senior League saw the Southside Indians top the second place Clippers, 3-2, in the fifth and final inning. With the score at 2-1 in favor of the Clippers as the teams entered the last of the fifth, Porter got a walk for Southside, stole second and was driven in by J. Edmanson to knot the count.

Successfully foughting an un-written law in baseball, Lawson then bunted with two outs and a man on third. He beat the throw to first and Edmanson came in with the winning tally.

In the best game so far the Junior League, the Warriors B, nipped the Southside Indians, 15-14. Southside trailed 15-9 going into the final fifth, when it put across five runs, only to see the sixth and tying score tagged out at the plate. Lewis with two outs and two on drove one to right field, bringing in runs 13 and 14. He tried to stretch the blow into a home run to tie the score, but an accurate peg by D. Pyle, Warriors left fielder, caught him at the plate.

The standings:

Junior League

Team	W.	L.
Warriors B.	2	1
Cleveland Ave. Clippers	2	1
Southside Indians	2	1
Out of Towners	0	3

Senior League

NEWARK'S PROTEST AGAINST ELKTON UPHELD; DISPUTED CONTEST WILL BE REPLAYED

But Talks With League Officials Are Continuing And Decision May Not Be Final; Newark Bows To N. E. On Sunday, 4-3; 'Grace Game Called

Newark's protest against Elkton over a game two weeks ago has been upheld by Susquehanna League officials. Ralph Edmanson, local manager, said this week, and the game will be replayed from the third inning when the dispute arose.

However, Edmanson stated that talks among Elkton, Newark and league officials concerning counter Elkton protests are under way, and a further decision may be made.

As things now stand, the game will be resumed from the third when Tom Silk hit the trouble-making home run and was tagged out at the plate with a ball Newark official said was returned to play by the umpire. Silk overran the plate and was tagged when he turned back.

The home run, which also scored a runner, now stands, and the game will be continued with the score at 4-3 in favor of Newark. No date was announced for the replay.

Meantime, Newark managed to play two more games the past week. On Sunday, the local club was on the short end of a 4-3 decision with North East, which waited until the final stanza to clinch the victory.

Newark bunched its three scores in the second, and the count stood at 2-3 going into the ninth. North East got its two on a brace of walks, a single and a double. Newark flared up momentarily in its half, when Brooks singled but he was left stranded.

On Saturday, Newark and Havre de Grace made a fourth attempt to play a postponed game. They got as far as the eighth inning when the match was called for rain again. The score, reverting to the seventh inning, stood at six all. The game will be played once more, this time under the lights at Havre de Grace tonight at 8:30.

SET GOVT JOB EXAM

Stenographer, Typist Test

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has recently lowered the requirements for the stenography examination. Until now an applicant for the stenography examination was required to type at the rate of 90 words per minute. However, because of the shortage of available stenographers, this standard has been lowered to 80 words per minute.

Applications for both stenographic and typist positions, for duty in various Federal agencies in the States of Pennsylvania and Delaware, will be accepted by the Regional Director, U. S. Civil Service Region, Room 103-A, Customhouse, Philadelphia 6, Pennsylvania, until the needs of the service have been met. Salary for stenographers and typists range from $1.76 to $2.394 per year.

Applicants for the typist positions must compete in a general clerical test and in an actual performance test on the typewriter. Applicants for the stenographic positions must qualify in the stenographic dictation exercise given at the rate of 80 words per minute.

Application card forms and additional information may be obtained from the Commission's Local Secretary, Mr. Singles, located at Newark Post Office, from most first- and second-class post offices in the States of Pennsylvania and Delaware, or from the Director, Third U. S. Civil Service Region, Room 103-A Customhouse, Philadelphia 6, Pennsylvania.

GASOLINE STORAGE

Underground Best Method

Handle all gasoline with kid gloves, says Jack F. Bell, extension agricultural engineer for the University of Delaware, who warns that all grades of gasoline are highly flammable and dangerous unless properly stored.

Quality ratings of gasoline do not have any important bearing on fire and explosion hazards. Violent explosions may result from improper use of gasoline, but it is always the vapor mixed with air that is explosive, and not the liquid.

The best method of storing gasoline, according to Bell, is an underground tank having a gasoline pump similar to the equipment used in filling stations. The pump and tank should be located well away from buildings, and all tractors and other equipment having tanks that require filling should be brought to the pump. The tanks should be buried underground with the top at least two feet below the surface of the ground. Never bury the tank under roadways which heavy trucks and tractors use unless properly protected with a reinforced concrete slab.

The next best method of storing gasoline is in a substantially constructed tank kept away from all buildings with the gasoline drawn from the drum by means of a pump or gravity flow. A drum and an enclosure should be placed around the drum to provide protection from the weather and to prevent tampering. The drum should never be placed in any tight building where the explosive fumes may accumulate in case of a leak or a spill.

Steel Ingot Output Sets Record In May

Steel ingot production in May set a new record high for that month in peacetime, it was announced recently by the American Iron and Steel Institute.

The record came after the setback from the coal strike in April. Output of ingots and steel for castings in May was 7,364,626 net tons compared with a revised figure of 6,218,157 in April and 7,330,614 a year ago.

Building Supplies Are Seen As Ample

The Federal Works Agency pictured a bright outlook recently for building materials supplies but added that aid to Europe and defense needs are uncertain factors.

As the building season arrived, materials production increased, an agency publication noted.

"It is expected that materials will be in ample supply except for possible shortages of nails, pipe, lumber products, some plumbing and heating items, and gypsum products," FWA said. But it added:

"It is anticipated that shortages of these items will ease somewhat as the year progresses."

DRUG KILLS WILD KALE

2,4-D Found Effective

Delaware farmers who have unintentionally produced abundant crops of wild kale in their grain and hay fields this year may eliminate this weed in the future through the use of the chemical weed killer—2,4-D.

C. E. Phillips, extension agronomist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service reports that efforts to control this weed with the chemical have been successful. In early April Phillips laid out plots in a wheat field on the Logan Farm located near Kitts Hummock and sprayed each of the plots with 2,4-D at different rates.

The agronomist reports that an examination of the field last week showed that all the plants hit by the spray were under control. None of the plants had blossomed and set seed. The lowest rate of the chemical applied, 1/4 pound of 2,4-D acid equivalent per acre, gave effective control.

In reporting the results of this demonstration Phillips warns farmers, however, that 2,4-D "must always be used carefully and cautiously, or it may do more harm than good."

Farmers interested in using 2,4-D for weed control are advised to see their county agent or write the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service for recommendations for use under Delaware conditions.

Tour Rates Reduced By Eastern Airlines

Eastern Air Lines has filed a list of tariff rates with the Civil Aeronautics Board which would provide an approximate 25 per cent reduction to passengers making special tours to Latin America.

Under the terms of the proposal a traveler may purchase a "circle tour" from Wilmington to Miami, Fla., to Meridia, Mex., and return via New Orleans to Wilmington for $173.30 as compared with the standard fare of $240.05.

Other tours from Wilmington would be to Miami, Kingston, Jamaica, and Montego Bay and return the same route for $167.30, compared with the standard $229.70, and to Miami to Port Au Prince and return for $187.30, compared with the standard $259.40.

HOW to do it

WITH CONCRETE

While you're improving your farm for greater production, do the job for keeps. With concrete! Here's a "how to do it" book that will help you build such essential structures as:

Barn Floors	Watering Tanks
Feeding Floors	Septic Tanks
Walkways	Home Improvements
Foundations	Manure Pits
Concrete Masonry	Trench Silos
Construction	Hog Wallows
Chimneys	Soil-Saving Dams

Remember, concrete is fireproof, termite-proof, easy to work with, low in first cost, needs little upkeep, endures for generations.

ELECTRICITY IS A BARGAIN

HOW MUCH IS IT WORTH TO YOU TO:

Vacuum clean
6 large rugs,

Iron 20 table
napkins, ...

Protect your food
for 5 hours,

Have the correct
time for a week

Electrically it costs
only a few pennies

This is an anagram. The four scrambled words tell a well-known truth these days of scrambled budgets.

You may have to do a little figuring to discover that it says: "ELECTRICITY IS A BARGAIN"—but it doesn't take much figuring to realize what a great bargain electricity really is!

Look around your own home at the things electricity does for you and think how much it's worth in dollars and cents not to be doing these jobs the old-fashioned, slow, laborious way of yesteryear.

Yes, electricity seems an even greater bargain on that basis, doesn't it? As a matter of fact, it is just about the smallest item on your budget today.

NEED FOR NURSES IS STRESSED

Three reasons for Delaware's shortage of nurses were cited this week by officials of the Student Nurse Recruitment Committee.

1st. Population increases—in 1910 there were 91 million people in the United States—now there are 131 million. There were 2 million babies born last year—only 1 million persons died.

2nd. Specialization in medicine—the general practitioner as we knew him in the 19th century is practically extinct. Those worthy gentlemen brought the child into the world—cared for him during measles, chickenpox, etc., often pulled his teeth, sewed up his wounds, set his broken bones, usually compounded himself the remedies he ordered for his patients, and finally acted as friend and advisor. Today we have the Obstetrician, the Pediatrician, the Cardiologist, the Gynecologist, the Radiologist and a host of others—each needing a nurse or nurses to assist him with his work. We have also public health and experimental fields which draw from the pool of nurses available for actual care of the hospitalized patient. We have the Cancer Control Centers, Industrial and First Aid Units to list a few.

3rd. Regarding Group Hospitalization—when started in 1937 there were 600 thousand subscribers—now there are 27 million—its wide use is illustrated by the 15 million persons hospitalized last year—a daily average of 1 million persons. We have only 2000 more hospitals than in 1910—but we have a million more beds.

Thus, it is immediately apparent that nursing would have needed to expand markedly to have kept pace with the demand. Although about 70,000 more nurses are needed in the United States today, the nurse-patient ratio is much better than in 1910.

Specifically, in Delaware we have 17 hospitals—7 of which have schools of nursing. We have over 3000 hospital beds. We have 422 student nurses and 330 graduate nurses in our hospitals. About 450 additional nurses are placed in other fields of nursing including over 100 in private duty.

We need 300 student nurses for our September 1948 classes for all schools collectively. You can help us by interesting young women between 18-35 and who are high school graduates to consider nursing as a career. Further information can be obtained by contacting your local hospital or the Delaware State Nurses' Office, Academy of Medicine, Wilmington, Del. Telephone—Wilmington 5-9044.

Mrs. R. Earle Dickey, Mrs. William Elliott, all of Christiana; Ralph Hawthorne, of Oglethorpe; Mrs. C. J. Highfield and Mrs. Robert Goodrich, of Bear; and Mrs. Anna Cameron, of Milford Cross Roads. Area officers are also members of the board.

Dr. Colburn presided over the business meeting which in addition to the election included reports from all committee chairmen. Dr. R. O. Bauman reported that 175 workers had participated in the annual drive for funds, and that 17 per cent of the population of Newark had contributed, an increase of two per cent over 1947 participation. The area goal of $6,000 was thereby oversubscribed by $612.00, he announced.

Mrs. Huilthen, vice-chairman, in charge of production, home nursing, public information and Senior Red Cross, reported that an average of 23 workers per month have contributed 1850 work hours in the past year.

Thirty-nine women sewed a total of 159 individual garments including coats, dresses, snowsuits, and the like, according to the report of Mrs. John A. Pie, chairman. This represented 832 hours of stitching, she added.

Mrs. Milton Draper, chairman of Junior Red Cross activities, reported on projects undertaken by the Glasgow, Newark, Christiana, and Pleasant Valley schools. These included packing boxes for Christmas delivery, an exchange correspondence album from Newark High School to Central High School, Newark, N. J., the making of more than 15,000 paper bottle caps for use in hospitals, and the making of puppets and producing a show at the Nemours Foundation by Newark elementary pupils this past May.

Approximately 10 knitters contributed 536 work hours and 33 garments to the Area Red Cross, according to Miss Carolyn Chalmers, chairman.

Mrs. Mary A. Russell, chairman of safety services, reported that during the year 13 junior first aid certificates, 106 swimming proficiency certificates, 19 senior life-saving badges, and 27 instructor's certificates had been awarded.

The Disaster Committee, under H. C. Boden, reported itself ready to function in time of need.

Westwater Takes Post At Illinois University

James W. Westwater, research fellow and part-time assistant in the University of Delaware, has been named assistant professor of chemical engineering in the University of Illinois. He will come to his new post Sept. 1.

Born in Danville, Ill., he was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1941; received the master's degree from Delaware in 1943, and will receive the doctorate degree there this month.

NEW FORD AT FADER'S

On View Tomorrow

The 1949 Ford, a radical departure in styling and engineering from traditional Ford design, will go on display tomorrow at the Fader Motor Company here.

"New standards of beauty, comfort, economy and performance in the 1949 Ford passenger cars advances them far ahead of others in the low priced field," Mr. Fader said. "Styling of the new Ford definitely establishes it as the Car of the Year."

To develop and produce the 1949 passenger cars alone, the Ford Motor Company has expended more than $37,400,000.00 in tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

The modern design has been molded along functional lines, resulting in a long, low, sweeping silhouette. The grille is distinctive, the hood massive, but shorter and the body so wide the rear fenders have been eliminated. There are clean, unbroken lines from front to rear.

Comfort has been one of the primary objectives in the new Ford. There is more room in the "Lounge Car" interiors than in many cars with much larger over-all dimensions. Front seat widths have been increased six inches and the rear seat nearly eight inches. The body has been moved five inches forward with the seats cradled between the axles for a much smoother ride.

partments. He has been a member of the Delaware staff for the past 25 years and since 1944 has served as assistant to the director. He is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts.

Professor Skoglund, who has been a member of the university staff since 1940, served for a period of about two years as extension poultryman and as a research worker has devoted a large part of his time to research in the field of poultry nutrition.

He is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and received his master of science degree from Pennsylvania State College.

In the university's agricultural extension division, Mr. Gordy will retain his present position as extension poultryman on a part time basis. As county agent leader he will be responsible for developing and directing the county agricultural agent program and for the supervision of the personnel.

Gordy, a graduate of the University of Delaware School of Agriculture, joined the Delaware Extension staff as assistant county agent in Sussex County in 1941. He later served as county agent in that county and in 1943 was appointed state supervisor of the Extension Service Emergency Farm Labor Program. He served in this capacity and as extension poultryman until the farm labor program was terminated last December.

AGRONOMIST PARLEY SET

Local Resident To Take Part

The Northeastern Branch of the American Society of Agronomy will meet at the University of Delaware, June 28, 29 and 30, according to Claude E. Phillips, head of the Department of Agronomy and host to the group.

The program will include visits to farms in the state, to the Grasselli Laboratory of the DuPont Company, to Longwood Gardens, to the University Experimental Farm at Newark and the Agricultural Substation near Georgetown.

On June 28 the agronomists will tour the farm of Wilson Pierson, near Hoskessin and Chambers' Rock Farm, near Newark, where they will observe practical soil conservation practices on these grain and dairy farms in the Piedmont soil area of the state.

The second day of the society's meeting will include a tour of the farm of Roland Garrison, northeast of Dover.

The final day of the meeting will be devoted to a visit to the farm of Peter Zeitler, at Glasgow, and an inspection of the research plots at the Newark experimental farm. At the Zeitler Farm points of interest will be the extensive hay and pasture fields, the barn hay curing system and forage harvesting methods.

Newark residents who will attend are:

Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. J. A. Correll, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. Frank Colby, Mrs. Steven Barczewski, Mrs. Chester Ewing, Mrs. Clarence Ocheltree, Mrs. Harry Dayett, and Mrs. Pierce Fox, Bear.
