Truck Parking On Main Street Limited With New Ordinance

Loading Operations Prohibited From 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., 3 to 5:30 For Improved Traffic Flow; Bike Path Out On Delaware Avenue; Church To Sell Site For Police

Loading and unloading of trucks on Main Street from Tyre Avenue to Elkton Road, between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., and from 3 to 5:30 p.m., is to be prohibited for improved traffic flow, with passage of an ordinance at the regular meeting of Newark City Council last Tuesday night. Concerned merchants are to advise truckers of the new regulations. M. E. "Dick" Prettyman, Jr., in the audience further proposed that the city "see if it can't get the Main Street curbs 'on one side yellow' to prohibit all parking on that side of the street, to 'see if merchants want to put in parking areas.' Prettyman suggested a police check of accidents caused by double parked trucks.

Three more ordinances were passed at final readings Tuesday night, eliminating the bicycle path on Delaware Avenue; erecting a stop sign on Haines Street at Ashley Road, and prohibiting parking on Apple Road from Elkton to Winslow roads; and closing Woodhill Drive at the south end.

City Manager Edward R. Stiff announced that the Evangelical Presbyterian Church had accepted the city offer to purchase the church property with three buildings on East Main Street at a price of $135,000, and the property is to be used as new police headquarters.

Pension Proposal Council approved a new municipal pension plan with projected costs of $55,000 for the current year, and a cost of $91,000 in 1974, to provide half-pay for retired police personnel after 25 years service, and a $112.50 monthly minimum for other municipal employees, plus $7.50 per month for each additional year after 15 years service. Police contributions to the fund are to be increased from two to three per cent.

Stiff reported that the 20-year retirement plan with half-pay for state and Wilmington police was considered "self defeating" in that it resulted in the loss of valued personnel, and was "wasteful."

Contracts were awarded to Cities Service Petroleum Co. for current year street repairs at a cost of $89,997.50; to J. F. Alexander & Co. for a production well pump and equipment at a cost of $20,634; and to Harold M. Crouse, Inc. for valve insertions in water main extensions at a price of $25,560.

Concerning well equipment, Councilman Frank J. Osborne, Jr. commended the city manager and Purchasing Agent Philip Sowa for rejecting original bids and obtaining the Alexander quotation at a saving of $22,866.

In reconsideration of Harold Gwaltney's appeal for relief of assessment charges against his property with city improvements to McKees Lane, Councilman William M. Coverdale said that "McKees Lane had been a street as long as anyone can remember," and Coverdale's proposal that it be considered a city street exempt with others in the assessment process, was endorsed unanimously by council.

City Manager Stiff's recommendation that assessments for Bellvue Road improvements be levied entirely against the Industrial Park, was referred to City Solicitor Clyde M. England, Jr.

Alderman Daniel B. Perry's request for additional clerical assistance to process delinquent parking tickets for the remainder of the year at a cost of $2,300 was approved in a 4-3 vote over opposition by Councilmen Coverdale, Arthur P. Mayer, and Olan R. Thomas.

Perry reported that with added clerical help, 2,300 traffic tickets had been processed since March with a collection of $45,640, and Finance Director Albert K. Martin added that estimated income from the alderman's and magistrate's offices had topped the estimated $50,000 by some $4,000.

Surplus Martin reported a $142,000 unappropriated surplus for the first half of the city's fiscal year, was "running pretty close to our budget all the way around."

Councilman John H. Fasnacht's proposal for additional city revenue with metering of electricity to large industrial consumers served directly by Delaware Power & Light, was referred to England, Martin, and Stiff for investigation, with Coverdale's cautioning counsel that this could be a "very sticky thing."

Debbie Weston, a member of Trinity Baptist Church on Milltown Road, was the only representative from this state to receive a 12-day trip to Haiti in July as given by the Delaware Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Women of Delaware.

Debbie was selected through the questionnaire she had to submit. The group left for Haiti on July 1, returning July 13. Enroute they spent one day in Puerto Rico. In Port au Prince, Haiti, they visited the Good Samaritan Hospital where one doctor and three nurses care for all patients.

Making the award at ceremonies in New York were Major Eileen Bonner, left, and Captain Martha Flack, both Army Reserve nurses. Capt. Flack is a Vietnam veteran.

NEW YORK — Famed actress and comedienne Martha Raye was made an honorary nurse in the U.S. Army Reserve at ceremonies in New York.

Miss Raye, who studied nursing before embarking on her theatrical career, was honored for her work in Vietnam where she has entertained extensively and helped maintain high morale among American troops there.

Presenting a special plaque to Miss Raye were Major Eileen Bonner and Captain Martha Flack, both nurses in the U.S. Army Reserve.

Miss Raye has visited Vietnam five times since the war started. She visits hospitals and entertains troops wherever her travels take her.

The actress took time away from rehearsing her new Broadway show to receive the award.

The thousands of nurses in the Army Reserve, both men and women, are citizen-soldiers who contribute their time and knowledge to maintaining the Army in a high standard of readiness.

Civilian nurses who want information on the Army Reserve should contact their local Army Reserve unit or write to Information Office, Chief of Army Reserve, Room 2D-520, The Pentagon, Washington, D.C. 20310.

The Working World

By Neil R. Cronin

Neil R. Cronin is Director of Temporaries, Business Schools, Victor Comptometer Corp.

Ready or not, most Americans are forced to retire at age 65. Fortunately, able retirees can still find profitable work if they want it. One of the best ways is temporary help.

The unemployment rate is at one of the lowest levels in history which means experienced, competent help is hard to find. Consequently, temporary help offices are being overwhelmed by requests for their services. Ours is not the only company to enlist the large wealth of talent among retirees.

Jobs For Retirees We find that many retired people prefer temporary work because it does not tie them down to a regular schedule and they can stop anytime to protect their social security benefits and then come back the following year.

The same company that forces its employees to retire at a certain age has no objection to using qualified temporary workers who exceed their employment age limits. After all, they do not have to support benefit programs for the retiree.

Another advantage to the company is instant use of an experienced expert who has the maturity to make sound judgments.

Many retirees will find themselves in supervisory roles and often in positions that prove more interesting than their former jobs.

Most Skills In Demand One difficulty for retirees, of course, is in deciding where to look for employment. Few firms advertise for people over 65 in the want ads. Temporary help firms are easy to find in the yellow pages and the progressive ones welcome retirees.

Although the temporary help field uses almost every skill, the biggest demand is for office workers.

Here are some of the critical needs: clerical supervisors, typing, figurework, keypunching, management planning, filing, survey taking and surveying, solicitation, selling or order taking by telephone.

After you make up your mind to become a temporary, take these steps:

Draw up a one-page summary of your skills and experience to guide the temporary help placement manager.

Send the summary with a brief cover letter to an established temporary help office and follow up by telephone after a few days.

If you are not called in for an interview and placement, try another office. You shouldn't have any difficulty if you have ability.

Assignments Vary Many temporary positions are semi-permanent in nature because of long-term projects or the needs of a company. You can make up your own mind as to whether you want short or long assignments. Of course, it is to your advantage to find a firm that offers flexibility of hours.

If you have been out of action for awhile, choose a firm that offers brush-up courses.

Extremely high temperatures in the Delaware-Maryland area caused a tremendous increase in broiler mortality, reports University of Delaware Extension Poultryman Raymond W. Lloyd.

Reports from 14 of Delmarva's major broiler producers indicate that over 150,000 ready-to-market broilers perished from heat prostration between June 28 and June 30. Many areas rendering plants, which normally convert dead birds into fertilizer have been forced to close due to overloading.

DP&L To Assist Field Day Events For Homemakers

The modern homemaker is a hard worker. She must maintain her home, care for her family and find time to accomplish many difficult tasks that are part of being wife and mother.

Yet the lot of today's homemaker may be easier, and easier, perhaps, than that of her mother.

Electricity has done much for the American homemaker. She has learned to depend on its benefits.

But how much does the homemaker really know about her many appliances—about the conveniences she has come to take for granted?

To fill the knowledge gap, University of Delaware home economists have prepared a half-day homemaker program on the selection, use and care of small household appliances for the University's 1969 Farm and Home Field Day on Aug. 13, at the Georgetown Substation.

Highlights of the session will include discussions and demonstration of several food preparation appliances and personal grooming aids.

Guest speakers from the Delmarva Power and Light home economics staff will demonstrate a variety of new and different uses for common kitchen appliances, discuss the safety features of grooming aids and offer hints on appliance care and storage.

Ladies attending the program will have an opportunity to inspect a portable electronic oven capable of reducing cooking times by more than 50 per cent.

Throughout the afternoon, Field Day visitors are invited to inspect an exhibit of electrical equipment and posters, and of university fruit and vegetable research in the grove area.

Middletown Girl Wins First Place In 4-H Dress Test

The soft, feminine look, in a perfectly fitted and styled rose jacket-dress, won first place honors for petite Sharon Feucht, 16 of Middletown, in the State 4-H Dress Test. She competed with 56 county revue winners in the annual contest held July 15, at Caesar Rodney High School, Dover.

She will receive an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November.

The softer, more feminine look was a favorite with most of the dress revue contestants, according to contest judges Janet Reed, extension clothing and textile specialist at the University of Delaware.

Ten contestants named to the Dress Revue Honor Court included Debbie Laws of Newark.

Judges for the annual event were Mrs. Morgan J. Jones, Dover; Mrs. Arthur McDaniel, Newark; Miss Reed; and Mrs. Ralph Paisley, New Castle county home economics extension agent.

"More Podiatrists Needed"

Keeping human feet active and on the job requires doctors with specialized medical training and education. Their services are an important part of the total health picture and represent a challenging career opportunity for the professionally minded young adult.

Foot problems are among the most widespread and neglected health problems affecting the people of this country. A recent survey by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare states that 20 out of every 1,000 Americans suffer disability because of foot ailments — and for each person suffering actual disability, there are approximately 30 others with less serious afflictions.

Doctors of Podiatric Medicine are the specialists who care for the foot. They are licensed in every state to treat the foot medically and surgically. The skills of the podiatrist are increasing in demand, with 165 percent more to be needed by 1975, according to U.S. Department of Labor figures.

As with all medical professions, a career in podiatry begins with college training. There are five Colleges of Podiatric Medicine at present, located in Chicago, Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco. To be accepted for completion of a minimum of two years of pre-podiatric education is required, although the majority of students have a baccalaureate degree. Students must satisfactorily complete courses in biology, chemistry, English and physics or mathematics.

The four-year podiatry course provides knowledge in the biological, physical and behavioral sciences. These basic sciences prepare the student to make the most of practical and theoretical work in the major clinical sciences. Through the college clinic and cooperative hospitals students receive extensive clinical experience and gradually assume patient responsibility under faculty guidance.

The degree of Doctor of Podiatric Medicine is awarded on the successful completion of the four-year course of study. Internships and residency programs are available, and podiatrists are expected to pursue further education to maintain proficiency and keep abreast of new techniques and advances.

Podiatrists share with all those devoted to the healing arts the satisfaction of being able to relieve suffering. As a podiatrist the young man or woman can choose to practice at home or in a professional building with other specialists. Podiatrists also serve on the staff of hospitals and treatment centers, in government health programs and in the armed forces.

Professional status in this respected, manpower-short field also assures a dependable and substantial income. Podiatrists in well established practices have incomes comparable to those earned by other doctors. Podiatry is a lifetime profession, offering personal challenge and financial rewards. A family can be supported in security and comfort with the certainty that the demand for podiatric services will grow as the demand for all Americans for health care increases.

Debbie Weston, a member of Trinity Baptist Church on Milltown Road, was the only representative from this state to receive a 12-day trip to Haiti in July as given by the Delaware Baptist Convention and the American Baptist Women of Delaware.

Every two years, the department of Christian education of the Pennsylvania-Delaware Baptist Convention sponsors a work-study mission tour for especially chosen young people from both states. Debbie was selected through the questionnaire she had to submit. The group left for Haiti on July 1, returning July 13. Enroute they spent one day in Puerto Rico, in Port au Prince, Haiti, they visited the Good Samaritan Hospital where one doctor and three nurses care for all patients.

At Laib, the group spent a week at the Baptist Seminary where day school is held in summer for children. Day trips were also taken to extension mission stations and small churches.

She is survived by three sons — William E. of Bear; Samuel of Hoekessin; and Corbit of Delaware City; three daughters — Mrs. Hazel Ellsworth and Mrs. Gladys R. Fulton of New Castle, and Mrs. Mary E. Shantz of Stanton; a sister, Mrs. Laura Ballentine of Dover; 30 grandchildren; 79 great-grandchildren; and 10 great, great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted from the Gebhart Funeral Home with interment in Glebe Cemetery.

State police arrested three juveniles after a burglary at Peterson's House of Fudge on U.S. 40 near Bear. Police said the trio took a power saw, tools and candy valued at $60 early Friday morning.

Mrs. Julian Laws is a patient in Wilmington General Division after suffering a stroke at her home near Glasgow on Wednesday. Her relatives and friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Paul Burge of Bear fell from the roof of his home on Saturday evening. He was taken by Wilmington Manor ambulance to Delaware Division, and after x-rays, was returned to his home. We are glad to report that no bones were broken and he is doing nicely.

Guests attended the Ford and Barr family reunion with Sunday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burge. Ice cream and cake were served at 4 p.m.

Games directed by Mrs. George R. Moore were enjoyed by young and old alike.

Next year's reunion will be the third Sunday in July at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Irwin in Newark.

The Rev. George Leukei, pastor of Pender Presbyterian Church, received two new members in the church on Sunday — Clara Dawson and Sharon Perry.

Delmarva Heat Results

In Heavy Broiler Loss
Extremely high temperatures in the Delaware-Maryland area caused a tremendous increase in broiler mortality, reports University of Delaware Extension Poultryman Raymond W. Lloyd.

Reports from 14 of Delmarva's major broiler producers indicate that over 150,000 ready-to-market broilers perished from heat prostration between June 28 and June 30. Many area rendering plants, which normally convert dead birds into fertilizer have been forced to close due to overloading.

IN THIS WORLD

THE MODERN SUSPENSION BRIDGE IS AN AMERICAN INVENTION AND ACHIEVEMENT. THE FIRST LONG-SPAN SUSPENSION BRIDGE IN THE WORLD STILL SERVES TRANSPORTATION NEEDS AT WHEELING, WEST VIRGINIA.

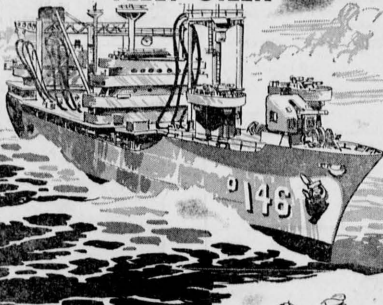

ORIGINALLY BUILT IN 1849 BY PIONEER CIVIL ENGINEER CHARLES ELLET, JR., THE BRIDGE LACKED NECESSARY DECK STIFFENING STAYS AND TRUSSES. DURING A STORM IN 1854 IT FAILED BUT WAS LATER REBUILT DEFINING AND ADVANCING NEW CIVIL ENGINEERING METHODS THAT ARE RECOGNIZED TODAY IN SUSPENSION BRIDGE CONSTRUCTION.

DP&L To Assist Field Day Events For Homemakers

The modern homemaker is a hard worker. She must maintain her home, care for her family and find time to accomplish many difficult tasks that are part of being wife and mother.

Yet the lot of today's homemaker may be easier than that of her grandmother, and easier, perhaps, than that of her mother.

Electricity has done much for the American homemaker. She has learned to depend on its benefits.

But how much does the homemaker really know about her many appliances—about the conveniences she has come to take for granted?

To fill the knowledge gap, University of Delaware home economists have prepared a half-day homemaker program on the selection, use and care of small household appliances for the University's 1969 Farm and Home Field Day on Aug. 13, at the Georgetown Substation.

Highlights of the session will include discussions and demonstration of several food preparation appliances and personal grooming aids.

Guest speakers from the Delmarva Power and Light home economics staff will demonstrate a variety of new and different uses for common kitchen appliances, discuss the safety features of grooming aids and offer hints on appliance care and storage.

Ladies attending the program will have an opportunity to inspect a portable electronic oven capable of reducing cooking times by more than 50 per cent.

Throughout the afternoon, Field Day visitors are invited to inspect an exhibit of electrical equipment and posters, and of university fruit and vegetable research in the grove area.

ART LEAGUE BALL

The 30th annual Art League Ball will be held this Saturday beginning at 8:30 p.m. in Rehoboth Convention Hall. Tickets may be purchased at the door, and there will be a door prize of a trip to Nassau for two.

Local Student With Seven St. Regis Test Winners

Seven University of Delaware students, including one from Newark, made their presence known in the 10th annual St. Regis collegiate packaging design contest by winning 15 awards.

Farhad Balaanglich, 82 Armistead Avenue, Newark, won honorable mention for his entries in corrugated container and consumer bag design.

Middletown Girl Wins First Place In 4-H Dress Test

The soft, feminine look, in a perfectly fitted and styled rose jacket-dress, won first place honors for petite Sharon Feucht, 16 of Middletown, in the State 4-H Dress Reveal. She competed with 56 county revue winners in the annual contest held July 15, at Caesar Rodney High School, Dover.

She will receive an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November.

The softer, more feminine look was a favorite with most of the dress revue contestants, according to contest judges Janet Reed, extension clothing and textile specialist at the University of Delaware.

Ten contestants named to the Dress Reveal Honor Court included Debbie Laws of Newark.

Judges for the annual event were Mrs. Morgan J. Jones, Dover; Mrs. Arthur McDaniel, Newark; Miss Reed; and Mrs. Ralph Paisley, New Castle county home economics extension agent.

Coral Morris Urges Care In Camping Gear Choice

You can enjoy your camping adventure more if you choose good equipment including sleeping bags and tents, says Coral K. Morris, home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

"More Podiatrists Needed"

Keeping human feet active and on the job requires doctors with specialized medical training and education. Their services are an important part of the total health picture and represent a challenging career opportunity for the professionally minded young adult.

Foot problems are among the most widespread and neglected health problems affecting the people of this country. A recent survey by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare states that 20 out of every 1,000 Americans suffer disability because of foot ailments — and for each person suffering actual disability, there are approximately 30 others with less serious afflictions.

Doctors of Podiatric Medicine are the specialists who care for the foot. They are licensed in every state to treat the foot medically and surgically. The skills of the podiatrist are increasing in demand, with 105 percent more to be needed by 1975, according to U.S. Department of Labor figures.

As with all medical professions, a career in podiatry begins with college training. There are five Colleges of Podiatric Medicine at present, located in Chicago, Cleveland, New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco. To be accepted for completion of a minimum of two years of pre-podiatric education is required, although the majority of students have a baccalaureate degree. Students must satisfactorily complete courses in biology, chemistry, English and physics or mathematics.

The four-year podiatry course provides knowledge in the biological, physical and behavioral sciences. These basic sciences prepare the student to make the most of practical and theoretical work in the major clinical sciences. Through the college clinic and cooperative hospitals students receive extensive clinical experience and gradually assume patient responsibility under faculty guidance.

The degree of Doctor of Podiatric Medicine is awarded on the successful completion of the four-year course of study. Internships and residency programs are available, and podiatrists are expected to pursue further education to maintain proficiency and keep abreast of new techniques and advances.

Podiatrists share with all those devoted to the healing arts the satisfaction of being able to relieve suffering. As a podiatrist the young man or woman can choose to practice at home or in a professional building with other specialists. Podiatrists also serve on the staff of hospitals and treatment centers, in government health programs and in the armed forces.

Professional status in this respected, manpower-short field also assures a dependable and substantial income. Podiatrists in well established practices have incomes comparable to those earned by other doctors. Podiatry is a lifetime profession, offering personal challenge and financial rewards. A family can be supported in security and comfort with the certainty that the demand for podiatric services will grow as the demand for all Americans for health care increases.

All-Star Games Nothing New To CR Star Mike Fennimore After Two Bowl Tests

All-Star football games are nothing new to Caesar Rodney High All-Star Tackle Mike Fennimore. For this reason Fennimore will have one edge on other players in the Delaware All-Star High School Game on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 23. The 14th annual contest will be played in Delaware Stadium and again benefit the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children.

Fennimore, a standout as Caesar Rodney won the Class AA championship of the Diamond State Conference last fall, played twice in the Union Bowl at Kindley Air Force Base, Bermuda.

"The Union Bowl was a climax to the Junior League season there," said the 200-pound Fennimore. "I was chosen two years and when they didn't have the game in 1963, I was selected as an All-Star."

Fennimore will attend Wesley College in September.

"My father was in civil service with the Air Force," said Mike, "and he was transferred to Kindley. We spent five years there and that's where I got my early football training."

Fennimore was a center in the beginning and it was not until he went to Caesar Rodney that he was shifted to tackle.

"I've always loved football," Mike said. "When we were in Bermuda, I was just about the biggest boy in the program. That certainly helped me."

Mike could not remember just how big he was, but Diamond State Conference opponents had no trouble remembering the last few seasons.

He was an All-Diamond State Conference selection two years in a row and opposing coaches aimed their offensive thrusts away from him. The Riders' co-captain, he blocked two punts during the season and scored a touchdown against Smyrna after running 20 yards with a recovered fumble.

Fennimore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson C. Fennimore of Dover Air Force Base.

"I felt I had a better year as a junior than as a senior," said Mike. "I was hurt several times last season and was ineffective. We lost to Middletown and in that game I hurt my neck."

Pro football is not out of the question, but at least four years off. "I don't know whether I'm good enough," he said. "I've been working for a bricklayer this summer and have been lifting weights. I want to go to the All-Star camp on Aug. 12 in the best possible shape. I've been playing some touch football and run just about every day."

Dave Chapman's Relief Pitching, Hit, Provide Win

Newark's Dave Chapman in relief led off the 10th inning with a single for a three-run uprising which led the Babe Ruth All-Stars to a 7-4 victory over the American Legion All-Stars at William Penn last Sunday.

The Babe Ruth Stars took a 2-0 lead with single runs in the first two innings, but the Legion Stars rallied to take a 3-2 advantage after six innings.

Tom Jamison smacked a two-run homer in the seventh inning to give Ruth All-Stars the 4-3 lead.

Mark Henderson had three hits for the winners.

Chapman was the winning pitcher and Steve Kendall took the loss. Chapman and Henderson each had singles in the decisive 10th inning. Two walks and an error also contributed to the three-run burst.

Chapman relieved in the seventh and allowed only one hit and struck out nine in the last four innings. The Legion used all 24 of its players in the game.

The Fragile Records

The vulnerability of records is demonstrated by the fact that the last of five world records established by Man o' War passed out of the record book without particular notice on July 9, 1966 when, at Doomben, Queensland, Australia, a horse named Winifreux covered a mile and three eighths in 2:13 4/5. Man o' War's record time for that now infrequently run distance was 2:14 1/5, and it was in the Belmont Stakes of 1920 that Big Red set the mark.

The fact that Man o' War is no longer listed among the speed demons in no way detracts from his greatness. There was less emphasis placed on time in Man o' War's day and in many of his races which were won by many lengths it is certain that he was not being pushed.

Improvement in track surfaces and the introduction of electronic timing devices have seen most time records at popular run distances lowered considerably. Man o' War's record for 1 mile was 1:25 4/5. It stood for but one year, and has been lowered tick by tick to the phenomenal 1:32 1/5 established by Dr. Fager last year. The oldest among the 40 distances for which world records are listed is for three furlongs in 33 1/2 seconds by Atoka at Butte, Montana in 1906; fifteen have been established in the 1960's and only nine were set prior to 1940.

Chapman, Gardner Henderson, Sheats On All-Star Team

Second-place Newark VFW placed four players on the New Castle County Babe Ruth 16-18 League All-Star team.

Pitchers Dave Chapman and Allan Sheats, infielder Mark Henderson and outfielder Mike Gardner represent Newark, which had the most players chosen.

League-leading New Castle Police had three players picked.

The Babe Ruth All-Stars defeated the Legion League All-Stars 7-4 at William Penn on Sunday.

Dave Klinger Tops Nation's Collegians In RBI, Triples

Delaware Rightfielder Dave Klinger is the 1969 national collegiate leader in runs batted in and triples.

A native of Woodbury Heights, N.J., Klinger topped both the RBI and triple categories in final statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

A 196-pound left-handed batter, Klinger had 37 RBI and nine triples in Delaware's 24 games this year. Klinger hit 371 this year as a junior after a 429 sophomore average.

The former Woodbury High School standout was voted the most valuable player in the Middle Atlantic Conference by league coaches, was named to the NCAA District II all-star team, and to the third team All-American.

Klinger is playing for New Market, Va., in the collegiate Shenandoah Valley League this summer.

We missed several strikes as the fishing tapered off with the crest of the tidal flow, and as the tide turned, we headed in for a last chance stand near the buoy toward shore.

And right away, Carroll Mumford caught the trout of the day — a pound-and-a-quarter beauty with enough heft to make him think he had another shark until the silver-golden standstill splashed a mother-of-pearl flank beside the boat.

The sixth and last trout — a one-pounder — came aboard shortly after — and we headed in toward the sun that had long since reached its zenith.

"How'd you do?" we asked a pair of sportsmen pulling into the public launching ramp behind us, and promptly regretted the question.

"Not too well — we only got 30," was the reply.

Ron Mitchell Tops NCC Title Field After 36-Holes

Ron Mitchell holds the 36-hole lead for the Newark Country Club Golf Championship after a 69 on Saturday.

Mitchell shot 74 Sunday for a 36-hole 143, three shots better than Gibby Young Jr., who scored 76-70 — 146.

Mitchell sank four birdies on the back nine Saturday to offset a double-bogey and give him 34 coming in. Par is 71 for the 6,200-yard course.

Tied for third with 147s are George Anderson and Piet Van Ogtrop. Anderson had rounds of 75 and 72 while Van Ogtrop rallied for a 70 on Sunday after shooting 77 Saturday.

Defending Champion Charlie Pinto did not enter the tournament because of a hand injury.

The final 36 holes will be played Saturday and Sunday.

$50,000 Delaware Oaks Slated Saturday As Feature With Week At Delaware Park

This is Oaks Week at Delaware Park and will be featured Saturday by the 31st running of the $50,000 added Delaware Oaks, a mile and one-eighth fixture which should go a long way toward deciding the champion three-year-old filly of the year.

The field for this stellar attraction will come from 80 eligibles, the great majority of which have dropped out of the picture through the process of elimination. Quality, rather than quantity, is expected to rule.

Biggest names on the lengthy list of nominees are Shuvee, Gallant Bloom and Process Shot, and if only those three were to clash, it would have to be one of the outstanding races of the season for sophomore fillies. However, a number of others boasting worthy recommendation figure to be among those present for the rich purse and the beautiful Oaks Trophy awaiting the winner.

Other stakes winners this year, aside from the aforementioned Big Three, include Hail to Patsy, Double Delta, Royal Fillet, Irish Course, Hasty Hitter, and All Ahead.

There also are such fashionable fillies as Restless Tornado, Imbibe, Dedicated to Sue, Parisian Parfait, White Xmas, Golden Or, etc.

Last year's winner of the Oaks was the brilliant Dark Mirage, who scored out 4-2 except three rivals. Among other famous heroines of the stake down through the years were Vagrancy, Miss Request, Next Move, Kiss Me Kate, Parlo, Bayou, Lady Pitt, Gallorette, High Voltage, Big Effort, Primonetta and Miss Cavandish.

Mrs. Russell Menard First In Women's Golf

Mrs. Russell Menard won the handicap stroke golf event in Ladies Day Play last Tuesday at the Newark Country Club.

Mrs. Alan Duff won second place, and Mrs. Robert Westcott, third.
