Sarah Palin look-alikes

NEGATIVE campaigns RIGHT-WING agenda

Sarah Palin and friends are trying to take over Delaware. Join us in defending the Delaware Way.

Delaware is starting to look a lot more extreme.

With millions of dollars from out of state backers, Sarah Palin and her extreme followers are taking Delaware by storm. As the Tea Party Express bus rolls back into town, the goal is simple: elect right-wing candidates to push Palin's extremist agenda.

Help us fight to preserve the Delaware Way – vote.

Tired of nasty ads and angry rhetoric? Delaware's Democratic candidates are putting Delaware first: fighting to bring new, permanent jobs to our state, cutting government spending and preserving Delaware's natural resources for our children and grandchildren.

Next Tuesday, November 2, tell the out-of-state extremists to take a hike.

There are some SCARY REPUBLICANS on the ballot.

and they're backed by big business interests, billionaire outsiders, the Tea Party, Sarah Palin and other extreme groups that want to take control of Delaware. What happens if you don't vote? They get to set the agenda for our families.

The extremist groups are hoping you'll be too scared to vote.

It's tough out there right now and we're all frustrated. But if you don't vote, things will get a whole lot worse. From jobs to schools and health care, the stakes have never been higher. Don't let outsiders tell us how to live in our community.

Outside groups with scary agendas are trying to buy Delaware's elected offices

Right wing out-of-state groups are spending millions to influence our election, but not because they want to help our families. These groups are only interested in pushing their extreme agendas. They don't know Delaware and they don't care about Delaware. So why should they choose our elected officials?

On November 2nd, don't let out-of-state extremists take charge.

This election is not like others. Up and down the ballot, far right-wing Republicans are running for office. You may be frustrated. We all are. But if you don't vote, the result will be scary.

Right-wing special interests from outside our state are spending millions to influence Delaware's election.

The right wing is trying to influence Delaware's election

Recently, Delaware has been getting a lot of attention from elsewhere. Out-of-state corporate interests and the extreme right wing are spending millions to buy Delaware's elections. Don't let them sway you. The attention is not about us, it's about building power.

Misleading TV ads, nasty direct mail – all carefully designed to scare you

Up and down the ballot, the nasty hits keep coming. Republicans don't care if the ads deceive, lie, or upset people. Actually, that's the goal. If enough reasonable people stay home, the extreme right wing will gain the power to make major decisions nationally and right here in your neighborhood.
