High School Day

school and college classes. Students will leave at 11 o'clock for special programs in their fields of interest.

A general tour of the campus is scheduled at noon, highlighted by tours of Sigma Nu and Sigma Epsilon Fraternity Houses as well as visits to a residence hall for both the fellows and girls. There will be a break in the day's activities for lunch in the Student Center dining hall at one p. m. At 1:30 p. m. a tea in Thompson Lounge will mark the end of the day's activities.

In the past the tea has been one of the most pleasant features of the program. It is here that the students have the opportunity to mingle with administration, faculty, and campus leaders. All faculty members are invited and encouraged to come. This is the visitors' chance to relax, compare notes, and ask any questions which might be bothering them concerning college and Delaware. Debbie Keiffer and Joe Pichette will provide the entertainment, and it is expected that they will be as warmly received as they were last year.

We would like to make a special note of all the cooperation which this program has received from the administration and faculty. The deans of all schools were openly receptive and helpful in setting up their school programs. In Agriculture, Dean Worrlow is providing transportation and a tour of the ag. setup. In Arts and Science, Dr. Turner is keeping the Language Laboratory open. Dr. Somers, chairman of the Biology Department will speak to students of science and there will be a talk on the Humanities also.

Dr. Maw will speak to the school of education, and in Home Economics a special feature will be a showing of slides from the Dior fashion show. In Engineering, there has been enthusiastic co-operation from Dean Cummings and Dr. Pigford. A tour featuring special displays and a question and answer period has been set up.

The cooperation among students has also been very good. About 50 students from the classes of '62 and '63 are involved. Barry Rieberman and Cynthia Ness are again co-chairmaning the program with Judy Eller and Don Childs taking charge of the guides. Earl Cone and Mary Lou Bahlman have also actively participated. Thelma Seaton has been in charge of refreshments and innumerable other tasks. Barbara Biting and Judy Brown are heading the committee for the tea, assisted by Jacqueline Diemicke, who is in charge of the decorations. Other committee members are Carol Sinn, Lorna Frese, Carol Rittenhouse, and Adele Levine.

This program serves as a living example of student leadership and class cooperation. It is hoped that this worthwhile enterprise will be perpetuated in the SGA.

CAMPUS CINEMA

Dr. Godby, Director of University Extension, is currently planning the 1960-61 Campus Cinema film program. He encourages students to suggest the names of films which they would like included in the program. Students should transmit their suggestions to their Student Government Association or Inter-Fraternity Council representative, or to Dr. Godby, directly, by May 2.

and sciences, have been members of SGA during the past year.

Sandy Schwab, a junior home economics major will fill the office of Chairman of Women's Executive Committee. Annette Adams, a junior in arts and sciences, and head of house, Newcastle Hall, was elected Honor Court Chairman.

CLASS LEADERS

Officers of next year's sophomore, junior and senior classes were chosen in the same election. The President and Vice-President of each class will automatically become SGA members.

Juniors elected Ralph Williams, president; Tom Roe, vice-president; Cookie Olson, secretary; Larry Logan, treasurer. Larry is an engineering student; the other officers are in arts and sciences.

New officers of the class of '62 are Roy Adams, arts and sciences, president; Bob Brayer, engineering, vice-president; Barbara Starzman, home economics, secretary; Jim Gurley, arts and sciences, treasurer.

Commuters elected Frank Buckalew and Madeline Baker to represent them in SGA.

New fraternity representatives to SGA are Dave Hilt, junior, Kappa Alpha; George Wescott, sophomore, Sigma Nu; and Lee Stetson, freshman, Sigma Nu.

Graduate Student Wins Annual Research Award Of Psi Chi

Mrs. Dorothy V. Schuette, a Delaware graduate student and mother of three children, has been selected as winner of the 1960 Research Award offered annually by Psi Chi, national honorary society in psychology.

A resident of Port Deposit, Md., Mrs. Schuette is working toward her Ph. D. degree in behavioral sciences. She will receive her master's degree in June and already is taking courses relating to her doctoral program.

Mrs. Schuette received her A.

B. degree in psychology at Lincoln University, Oxford, Pa., but took part of her undergraduate work in summer school at Delaware and the University of Maryland. Prior to enrolling for college work, she was employed as secretary to the Chief of Clinical Psychology at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Perry Point, Md.

AN ANNUAL AWARD

The award won by Mrs. Schuette is offered each year by Psi Chi as a part of a nationwide competition to encourage students of psychology to enter research. Entries are made in the form of research proposals which are evaluated by the Scientific Advisory Board of Psi Chi.

Mrs. Schuette's proposed study concerns an experiment to test the effects of certain drugs known to suppress the autonomic nervous system upon the physiological processes of the ear and the eighth cranial nerve. Execution of the problem requires the use of electro-physiological techniques.

ASSISTS SPONSOR

In addition to the Psi Chi research award, Mrs. Schuette has been awarded a pre-doctoral fellowship by the National Institutes of Health, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Under the terms of the fellowship, Mrs. Schuette will work in association with her sponsor, Professor W. Lawrence Gulick, during a twelve-month period beginning July, 1960.

She will assist Dr. Gulick in two research projects being conducted by the department of psychology. One concerns the effects of certain drugs upon the electrical responses of the mammalian eye, and the other relates to the development of a technique for the study of body temperature changes which occur during stress.

In addition to her academic program, Mrs. Schuette is a research assistant at the Felt Group Dynamics Center at the university and secretary-treasurer of the Delaware Chapter of Psi Chi.

MRS. DOROTHY V. SCHUETTE, a graduate student and Psi Chi award winner, is joined in the psychology lab by Dr. Gulick.

DON'T LET THE MONTH OF JUNE COME TOO SOON

It's an important month for you...and for IBM

June may mark the start of a career of rapid advancement for you with IBM. We need ambitious college graduates, with good scholastic records, for careers in direct and indirect marketing, applied science, programming, systems, and other areas. We've been expanding rapidly... and we promote from within.

Whether you're majoring in engineering, science, math, business administration, or liberal arts, you should know about IBM and what we have to offer.

See your Placement Officer for more information. If we have already interviewed on this campus, and you did not get to see us, please write or call:

Candidates For Distinctions Present Project Descriptions

Appearing in the REVIEW today is another project description written by Amy McNulty of the school of arts and sciences. Miss McNulty is participating in the degree with distinction program.

The 1920's in the United States were the years of prohibition on the sale, manufacture, and transportation of alcoholic beverages. Most people have heard stories about the speakeasies, rum-runners, and home-made brew of the period. However few people are familiar with the zealous activity in every state of the Union of such groups as the Anti-Saloon League, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and several religious denominations in the twenty-year period before the Eighteenth Amendment. For my Honors Thesis in history, I decided to investigate the campaign for prohibition in the State of Delaware.

Under the direction of Mr. Morton Rothstein, I began my study by reading the standards works on the national movement for prohibition. From these books I learned what general trends to look for in Delaware.

The State of Delaware was not easily won to the support of the "dry" cause, and the liquor question was a dominant feature in every legislative session from 1897 to 1919. Geographically Kent and Sussex Counties favored the "dry" movement. The people in these counties adopted prohibition in a local option election in 1907. The "wets" had a strong majority in Wilmington, and they controlled Rural New Castle County for many years. The organizations favoring the curtailment of the liquor traffic conducted a long and at times bitter campaign to make Delaware a "dry" state.

For information on this period in the State, newspaper reports of the legislative sessions and the election campaigns from 1907 to 1919 have been the best source. Because of the strong support of the movement by various religious denominations, I have found valuable information in the records of church conferences, especially, the Official Minutes of the Wilmington Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Journal of the Proceedings of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Delaware, and the Reports of the synod of Baltimore of the Presbyterian Church.

Throughout my research, I have also received wonderful support from people in the Wilmington area who were active or interested in the movement. They have suggested many sources of information. Mr. E. Clifton Sutton, the present State Chairman of the Prohibition Party, has given me several interviews.

In this thesis, I am not attempting to justify the "wet" or the "dry" cause. I am tracing development of a movement which played a very important role in Delaware's history in the early twentieth century.

Co-Rec Night Held In Women's Gym

A co-recreational night will be held at the Women's Gym on Friday, May 6.

The program, sponsored by the Women's and Men's physical education departments, will be held from 7:30 to 11:30 p. m.

Activities offered will include swimming, playing cards, dancing, volleyball, Delaware football movies, and other games.

Residence Hall Assistantships Still Available

Applications are now being accepted at the office of the dean of students for the positions of assistant residence hall director in the women's dormitories and resident advisor in the men's dormitories.

The requirements for each position vary, but there are several standard qualifications which all applicants must meet. Personal qualities such as integrity, dependability, and maturity in judgement are essential. Financial need is also considered in the selection.

There are no specific requirements for the women's positions with regard to age or scholastic rating. It is necessary, however, that the applicant be generally well qualified for the post. The assistant's duties vary from hall to hall, but they principally consist of assisting the residence hall director in the administration of the residence hall, relieving her when she is away from the campus, and helping fellow students when called upon.

The qualifications for men are slightly more extensive. A Resident Advisor must be enrolled in the university as a senior or graduate student for the 1960-61 academic year. He must have lived a minimum of two semesters in a college or university residence hall and have maintained at least a "B" average in all undergraduate work. Resident Advisors are assigned to a single room and are expected to board at a university dining hall. Remuneration varies, ranging from room rental to room and board expenses.

For further information and application forms, students who are interested in securing a position may contact Clesta L. Dickson, Director of Residence for Women, in Smyth Hall, or Mr. J. E. Robinson, Director of Residence for Men, 100 Brown Hall. Applications should be submitted within the next few weeks.

Prize Awarded In Annual Here

An engraved sterling silver plate will be awarded to the winner of the popularity prize in the Newark Art Festival to be held May 4 to 26. Mrs. Lucien G. Maury, chairman, has announced. The award will be donated by Newark Department Store where the exhibition will be held in the store's Auditorium Gallery.

Visitors to the annual exhibition will be asked to cast their votes for their favorite painting or sculpture. Last year's winner of the popular prize was an oil painting, "Autumn," by Mrs. John C. Wriston, Jr., of Newark.

Local artists are reminded that all entries should be brought to the Auditorium Gallery of the Newark Department Store on Friday, April 29, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Paintings should be completely ready to hang with screw eyes and wires. Two entries may be submitted and should be accompanied by the title and price and name, address, and telephone number of the artist. A fee of 25 cents for each entry and a ten per cent commission on sales will go toward a scholarship for a Newark student at the Delaware Art Center.

An opportunity to meet the artists and view their paintings and sculptures will be offered on Wednesday, May 4, from 7 to 9 p. m. at the opening reception. The public is invited.

Further information about the Art Festival is available from members of the committee: Mrs. Jerome Weinberg, Mrs. H. W. Howe, Mrs. Leo Laskaris, Mrs. Harold Kwart, Mrs. William A. Coolidge, Mrs. H. V. Howe, and Mrs. Maury.

COLLEGE: THE FOE OF EDUCATION

In your quest for a college degree, are you becoming a narrow specialist, or are you being educated in the broad, classical sense of the word? This question is being asked today by many serious people—including my barber, my podiatrist, and my little dog Spot—and it would be well to seek an answer.

Let us examine our souls. Are we becoming experts only in the confined area of our majors, or does our knowledge range far and wide? Do we, for example, know who fought in the battle of Salamis, or Kant's epistemology, or Planck's constant, or the voyage of the Beagle, or Palestrina's cantatas, or what Wordsworth was doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey?

If we do not, we are turning, alas, into specialists. What, then, can we do to escape this strait jacket, to broaden our vistas, lengthen our horizons, to become, in short, educated?

Well sir, the first thing we must do is throw away our curricula. Tomorrow, instead of going to the same old classes, let us try something new. Let us think of college, not as a rigid discipline, but as a kind of vast smorgasbord, with all kinds of tempting intellectual tidbits to sample and savor. Let us dive in. Let our pent-up appetites roam and snatch where they will.

We will start the day with a stimulating seminar in Hittite artifacts. Then we will go over to marine biology and spend a happy hour with the mollusks. Then we will open our pores by drilling with the ROTC for a spell. Then we'll go over to journalism and scrawl a font of Bodoni. Then we'll go to the medical school and palpate a few spleens. Then we'll go to home economics and have lunch.

And between classes we'll smoke Marlboro Cigarettes. This, let me emphasize, is not an added filip to the broadening of our education; it is an essential. To learn to live richly and well is an important part of education, and Marlboros are an important part of living richly and well. Do you think flavor went out when filters came in? Well, ha-ha, the joke is on you. Marlboro, with its Selectate filter, delivers flavor in full measure, flavor without stint or compromise, flavor that wrinkled care derides, flavor holding both its sides. This triumph of the tobaccoist's art comes to you in soft pack or flip-top box and can be lighted with match, lighter, candle, Welsbach mantle, or by rubbing two small Indians together.

When we have embarked on this new regimen—or, more accurately, lack of regimen—we will soon be studded with culture like a ham with cloves. When strangers accost us on the street and say, "What was Wordsworth doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey?" we will no longer slink away in silent abashment. We will reply loud and clear:

"As any truly educated person knows, Wordsworth, Shelley, and Keats used to go the Widdicombe Fair every year for the poetry-writing contests and three-legged races, both of which they enjoyed wildly. Well sir, imagine their chagrin when they arrived at the Fair in 1776 and learned that Oliver Cromwell, jittery because Guy Fawkes had just invented the spinning jenny, had canceled all public gatherings, including the Widdicombe Fair and Liverpool. Shelley was so upset that he drowned himself in the Bay of Naples, Keats went to London and became Samuel Johnson, and Wordsworth ran blindly into the forest until he collapsed in a heap ten miles above Tintern Abbey. There he lay for several years, sobbing and kicking his little fat legs. At length, peace returned to him. He composed himself and, noticing for the first time the beauty of the forest around him, he wrote Joyce Kilmer's immortal Trees . . . And that, smartypants, is what Wordsworth was doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey."

Poets and peasants alike know that if you like mildness but you don't like filters, you can't do better than Marlboro's companion cigarette—Philip Morris.

Sorority Survey

In a recent campus survey conducted by Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, 788 women received questionnaires requesting replies concerning sororities on the Delaware campus. The respondent replied whether she was for, against, or indifferent to sororities here, and why.

Of the 788 questionnaires distributed, 419 were completed and returned — 211 in favor of sororities, 118 opposed and 90 indifferent. Three hundred sixty-nine girls did not return the questionnaire. These figures may be taken to indicate that a majority of those receiving the blank either were opposed or indifferent to sororities on this campus.

The freshman returned 123 of their 292 questionnaires with a majority of the respondents advocating sororities. The sophomores returned 93 of their 248 allotment with 42 favoring sororities. The juniors and seniors returned 72 of their 244 ballots recording 37 in favor.

The freshmen and sophomores took a much keener interest in the question. This seems natural since the seniors and juniors will neither benefit nor suffer from the results. The freshmen and sophomores, however, must realize that if a vote were to be conducted on the campus this year, the seniors and juniors will have a chance to cast their ballots even though many did not return survey ballots.

High on the list of considerations favoring sororities were an expected social life boost, increased and improved friendships and increased spirit. One respondent mentioned that sororities would bring about more freedom. If this one person feels that she will have no quiet hours, no closing hours or weekend restrictions we suggest that she is incorrect.

Those taking the negative side expressed that sororities were a basis for unhealthy clique formations, unhappiness to those not included, too expensive.

We are in the group who will neither benefit or suffer when the question is finally answered by a vote. We will, however try to be as objective as possible in expressing our views toward sororities on this campus.

They would probably, if organized correctly, boost social life, increase spirit on the campus, and form a much more solid student opinion block.

Sororities would also enhance the campus with an undemocratic organization exemplified in one instance by their discriminatory methods of selecting new sisters. They would in certain cases create a financial burden, unhappy years for those who didn't join or for those who were rejected, and a sharp segregation of girls into small groups. The organization would soon require first loyalty and the University would come second.

We suggest that the negative aspects mentioned serve to overwhelm the advantageous aspects. We agree that offtimes in college life and in later life one comes upon undemocratic principles, unhappy moments or financial burdens, but there seems to be no justification for founding an organization on this campus which we feel is based on these principles.

Holiday Theme For May Day

"Holiday Highlights" is the theme for May Day to be held on May 14 at 2:30 p. m. on the green in front of the Women's Gym.

Betty Kintigh, chairman of the program, announces the following committee chairmen: Betty Hastings, assistant chairman, junior education major; Virginia Hurm, dance chairman, senior in the school of education; Barbara Nero, music chairman, sophomore in the school of arts and science; and Mary Lou Brand, costumes chairman, junior education major.

Also chosen to head committees were: Margaret Holloway, publicity chairman, junior home economics major; Judy Frederick, poster chairman, sophomore education major; Sandy Kimball, business manager, education sophomore; Katie Collins Thomas, maypole chairman, senior home economics major; and Susie Ries, chairman of programs and ushers, a senior in the school of arts and science.

Modern Trend Reaches Our Campus Political Campaigns

GONE ARE THE GOOD OLD DAYS or I DEMAND A RE-COUNT by that keen political analyst, BILL "I'm A Bad Loser" HAYDEN

Gone are the good old days, the days of dirty politics, the days of vote machine fixing, the days of the one powerful party on campus, the days of mud-slinging.

This year's campaign's were carried out very sedately and in a very mannerly way. There were no gaudy and misleading posters on the trees to add that needed bit of color to the campus walks. The unspoken attitude of the majority of the candidates seemed to be, "I wish you would vote for me, but my worthy opponent is just as, if not more than, capable than I am."

During last week's elections, I kind of missed the voting machines that in the past have been loaned to the university by the League of Women's Voters. I had even saved a large number of paperclips to twist around the little selectors in the voting booth and had gone out and purchased a jeweler's screwdriver. Further details on voting machine fixing can be obtained by forwarding to me a ten-dollar bill in a plain brown wrapper.

NO LIBEL SUITS

I miss the insults that, in past years, were hurled in the general direction of opponents and the organizations that they represented. But alas and alack, no libel suits resulted from this year's campaign.

Center Corner

Hello and Good-bye!

This will be the last of my talks with all of you. I feel that 1959-60 has been a good year for me, and I hope that you have been equally fortunate.

It seems strange for anyone to be saying good-bye so early, and yet the large, official functions here are over. Hope you enjoyed our last big fling — "Circus Capers". I was glad to see so many of you dancing on my roof—under the stars.

I have been told that some of you students have requested that the T. V. set be moved up to the main lounge. There are many reasons why this has not been done before.

At one time the T. V. set was in the main lounge, and the result was not a room in which to relax and talk, but rather a disorganized jumble of furniture, all facing in one direction.

I was also wondering if you realize that the T. V. room downstairs has been air-conditioned for your comfort. With the hot weather we have already had and predictions for more of the same, I should think you would welcome coolness.

Tomorrow I will play host to members of the Indonesian embassy for tea and a dinner. Try to get to Mitchell to see their performance, which will be both entertaining as well as informative.

Tonight in the Faculty Lounge—which is also air-conditioned—there will be a bridge session. Also keep in mind May 27th when there will be a French movie in the small cafeteria.

A special note of thanks to Jane Anne Davis and her committee members for the excellent decorations at the Spring Dance. Also a thank you to Yogi Bonney, for a job well done.

Good luck to all of you during finals and good-bye to all you Seniors.

I'll see the rest of you next year.

As always,
Iyam Stood'nt Center
P. S. If any of you have a chance, personally congratulate Gib Smith on the fine job he's done this year as S. C. president.

The year 1960 may go down in history as the year that a second machine appeared in the politic world of the University of Delaware. The new organization, 'Campus Choice', was set up to provide candidates to vote against. However, surprisingly enough, several of the people it supported were voted into office.

LATE NIGHT CAUCUS

The InterFraternity Caucus went its highly efficient way, spending until two a. m. on two nights in Wolf Hall auditorium, selecting the slate. As usual, several of its candidates were elected.

Gone were the torchlight parades that once brightened college life at three in the morning.

Gone were more than one candidate for president of SGA. Gone were the rallies on the steps of the library.

SECRET BALLOTS?

With us were the highly secret ballots provided by drawing lines through our names on the IBM cards. With us was the very effective system of making sure that we did not vote more than once; they asked if we were sure we had our ID cards as we deposited the completed ballots in the box.

Upon looking at the ballot, I was disappointed in seeing that the afternoon bridge group from the Scourge had not put anyone up for an office, even someone to represent them on the SGA.

Letters to the Editor

To the editor of the REVIEW:

As an interested member of the class of '62, I naturally watched the past campus election with great avidity. I was pleased that both the fraternity and campus-choice slates presented candidates who were qualified and had the desire to serve their class.

It was a surprise and a shock to me, however, to learn that Barry Reibman had been defeated in the vice-presidential race. This is not to imply that the winning candidate will not adequately fulfill his duties.

Barry is one of the few dedicated people who, unknown to most of his classmates, has been a vital source of energy in class affairs.

Following the class elections in his freshman year, Barry began to work. He was one of the first members of the steering committee and has served on it for the past two years in an active capacity. He was the first chairman of the high school program and devoted all his energy in that direction. Under his leadership the program blossomed into an important and well-attended undertaking, with over 300 high school students participating.

Almost 100 letters have been received from the high schools involved, thanking the class for making this valuable service available to their students. Dr. Perkins has commended the class on the program, calling it one of the most significant achievements by a class at the university.

Beside his untiring efforts in behalf of his class, Barry has shown strength of character. Last year at this time, he lost in the class presidential election to Roy Adams. Despite this setback he returned to class affairs and worked untiringly with Roy on numerous class projects. I have no doubts that he will return again next year to donate his services in a behind-the-scenes role.

It is unusual that a capable person is willing to work without recognition other than, "Thanks for a job well done." It is still more unusual that a class which honors people for personal achievement, spirit and service has failed to show Barry that the class, not just a handful of officers, recognizes and appreciates his work.

I, for one, thank you Barry, for your interest and service.

Campus Chest

To The Editor:

The Campus Chest Committee would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people who helped to make this year's campaign the most successful in the school's history. Although all the results are not yet in, it is already evident that the money collected will total quite a bit more than it has in previous years.

In thanking everyone, we would like to especially thank the maintenance men, the administration, and all the rest who contributed both time and effort. In the next issue, there will be a rundown of all the booths at the Carnival and who the winner of the plaque is.

Thanks again to everybody.

Sincerely,
Campus Chest Committee

Students' Dining Hall Favorites Described By Local Gourmet

By ED TOMAO

Editors note — The following opinions are made in jest. It is written in the spirit of frivolity rather than condemnation.

Recently we were asked to fill out a form indicating our preferences in food for the dining halls. These are our top choices and explanations for them.

First choice on the dinner column is naturally your favorite and mine, "Mystery Meat" (Swiss Steak). The choice is obvious but this gourmet would prefer to explain his choice. Over-cooked in its own natural juices, basted with an emulsion of goose-grease and corn drippings, and spiced with rare herbs from a nearby garbage dump, Swiss Steak is a tantalizing, taste-tempting treat. When it is served with heaps of mashed mush from a box and freshly picked sliced Alaskan carrots seasoned with mouldy butter and canned sneeze powder you just can't beat the meal.

In second place by a close margin is that world's favorite dish, baked Swordfish Steaks. (It's really amazing the number

Poets' Corner

By ED TOMAO

A flower in Spring can mean very much,
To men who dream of the future.
It can be the means of a strong, silent crutch,
To sew up past cuts like a suture.
When those petals open and spread all the seeds,

That nurture their sons and their daughters,
Thees seeds can get caught in willows and reeds,
Or maybe they'll fall in still waters.
And then they'll be sprouting and sowing new children,
With an over-abundance of seeds.
And new men will see them and climb from their doldrums,
Those flower will help all their needs.

E-52 Produces Children's Play On May 5 & 6

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," this year's E-52 Children's Theatre presentation, will be held at Mitchell Hall on May 5 at 7:30 p. m. and May 6 at 3:30 p. m. before their tour begins on May 7.

The cast will include: Julie Whittman as princess Snow White, Katherine Salvatore as the wicked stepmother, Dan Lanning as Jollo the Jester and the Prince, and Jack Talley as the Wise Man. To be seen as the Seven Dwarfs will be: Ken Shelton as Gramps, Anita Cicone as Giggles, Shirley Glick as Plumpty, Joann Collier as Sniffles, Libby Stiff as Gloopy, Julia Welch as Cross Patch, and Rosemary Mahaffey as Scuse-Me.

Working on the production crews are: Doug Maddox, Stage Manager, assisted by Pete Fisher; Rosemary Mahaffey, Property chairman; Lora Lee Wollaston, Head of Costumes; Larry Spitz and Elliot Goldyn, Lighting and Sound. Cast members are also working on production crews.

Dr. C. R. Kase is the Director again for this year's Children's Theatre production. The entire setting of this production is under the direction of Mr. Thomas Watson, technical director of the show.

of uses that modern terminology can make of the word "steak". What few people realize is that the swordfish that their steaks come from are specially bred in the stagnant cesspools of Rehoboth Beach just for the university. Only the choicest cuts of the sword are served here.

When baked in an old-world recipe sauce composed of melted "Nair Care", Coney Island onions, and pulverized Pottsville tomato puree, it represents an unusual delicacy. Served with side helpings of French-fried potato chips dipped in solid Crisco and a grand mixture of peas, carrots, stringbeans from the day before, turnips imported from Sherwood Forest and parsley snips the student can enjoy a well-balanced conglomeration of glop.

The luncheon choices are: in first place, creamed dried beef on toast; in second place, salmon loaf; and, due to the diversified selection, in third place, lasagne. It's no wonder that that old Army dish was chosen for the top spot. Creamed with the juice from squashed hoptoads and cooked over a red-hot fire started with blackberry brandy, chipped dried creamed horsemeat on asbestos is a delectable dish. When served with imported Irish potatoes boiled until every last drop of flavor has escaped into the water, which, incidentally, goes down the drain, and a side dish of simple, saucy, stomped-on lima beans, the combination is unbeatable.

You can't do better than the live salmon loaf, the second choice, made from Nova Scotian salmon which were found floating on the surface after they failed to make it upstream.

Their third choice had to be lasagne. Prepared in the kitchens of Chef Boy-ar-Smith, and transported to the university by way of tractor, its tempting ingredients, 40 year-old mozzarella cheese, 109 year-old whole tomatoes and yesterday's bread, would be satisfying to the most playdough bum.

This little critique was meant as a salute to the dining hall staff in lieu of their never-ending work to give everyone on campus a stomach-ache.

Results Of Sorority Research Revealed By Pi Kappa Alphas

REPORT BY VIRGINIA ZEC

The recent debates concerning sororities at Delaware aroused new interest in this subject and this was thought to be a favorable time to conduct a survey. It was limited to the women living in dorms, because the commuters were too hard to reach. The guess about increased interest was quite good, because 419 questionnaires were returned from 788 women. Out of 292 freshmen 123 answered; out of 248 sophomores 93 answered; out of 162 juniors 48 answered; out of 82 seniors 24 answered; and 131 women forgot to mention their class and school. None of the four women graduate students answered.

Before starting to interpret results, it is necessary to caution against certain pitfalls. First of all: 369 women did not answer, which means that a great number of women still showed little interest in sororities and therefore did not want to answer the questionnaire. Secondly: Those who answered were interested in some way, but especially those in favor were most likely to state their opinion, so that it may appear as if a majority of girls want sororities. Whereas in reality the majority of girls were opposed or indifferent. Thirdly: a great number of girls who are in favor will never be able to join sororities, for financial reasons.

With these considerations in mind we can start looking at the results. All classes combined show the following results:

In favor	211
Opposed	118
Indifferent	90
Total number of answers	419

PRO AND CON

Not only did the women tell what they thought about sororities, but also why they thought so. The questionnaire was set up in such a way that respondents stated both their consideration for and against sororities on the same sheet. Thus a respondent who had stated she was for sororities and who had given her reasons for this opinion, also stated some disadvantages or possible dangers of sororities as she saw them.

In interpreting the above figures one should also take into account the relative value of the ballots. For instance, the juniors and seniors that are for sororities will never be able to support the movement. The value of freshmen's and sophomores' opinions is the highest.

PENETRATING RESULTS

Although this survey is still incomplete, it is believed that the results are worth considering. It was not intended to serve as an argument for the Pi Kappa Alpha debating team, as some people thought. Many were just curious to know what the opinions of the women are. It is hoped that it will give the reader a basis for further thought about this subject. All respondents are thanked for their kind co-operation.

Ghost Charge Haunts Lucky Strike's Dr. Frood

Dear Dr. Frood: I am writing my term paper and would like to know how the average professor differentiates between research and plagiarism?

Lit. Major

Dear Lit: Plagiarism is when you copy your paper from a book. Research is when you copy your paper from more than one book.

Dear Dr. Frood: I was shocked when I read of ghostwriting firms preparing term papers for certain college students. But I was doubly horrified, upset and stunned when I heard a rumor that you, Dr. Frood, also use a ghost. Tell me it isn't so, Doctor.

Jacob Marley

Dear Jacob: I categorically deny your accusation. I do not use, nor have I ever used, a ghost to write this column. I admit, however, that when confronted with certain difficult student problems, I have called upon my late departed Uncle Purdy for advice and counsel.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have just been informed that there are over 100 brands of cigarettes on the market today. Why so many?

Harvey J. Wamerdam

Dear Harvey: Conceivably, there are 100 people in the country who do not smoke Luckies.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a sophomore who has finally mastered every syllable of the Whiffenpoof Song. To my chagrin, I have just discovered that I am not attending Yale. Any suggestions?

Jivy Leaguer

Dear Jivy: Fake it, man, fake it!

Dear Dr. Frood: I have just completed my doctorate thesis on "The Socio-Political-Religio-Economic Aspects of Tribal Development in Central Africa, 1805-1809." I believe my work has immense popular appeal and would like to have it published in pocket-book form. How does one go about doing this?

Ethelbert Pingbank

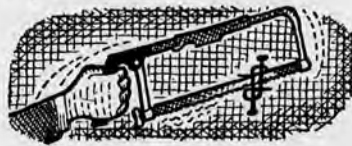

Dear Ethelbert: One changes the title to "Love-Starved in Mau Mau Land."

Dear Dr. Frood: I am going nuts—nuts, I tell you!—trying to solve this puzzle. Please! What is the secret?

Puzzled

Dear Puzzled:

Dear Dr. Frood: I didn't make the crew because I get seasick. I couldn't make the baseball team because the resin bag gives me a rash. I was kicked off the track team because cinders kept getting in my eye. And I had to drop tennis because I get vertigo watching the ball go back and forth. What can a great athlete like myself do now?

Dear Sig: Why don't you expose over-emphasis of college athletics in a leading national magazine?

Sports SLANTS

By Howard Isaacs
Sports Editor

Track may be regarded as a poor relative in the sports family at the university by some spectators, perhaps, because it is overshadowed by the national splendor of Blue Hen baseball.

This may be due to the fact that track simply doesn't have the appeal of the diamond sport or else that the number of standouts that make a sport attract are simply lacking on the cinders. The fact that Delaware awards no track scholarships may account for its relatively poor showing when compared to others on the national scale.

The casual observer would be surprised to look at the national high school track and field records and find that they are superior to most of the marks set at the university. Due to the lack of enticement for superior trackmen at Delaware, most of those, who could compete on a national level, are lost to the giant powers of the mid-west and far-west.

However, this does not mean that Delaware is not fit to walk onto the same track as any other team. This is only to give a picture of track as run at the university, and probable reasons for its lack of popularity in recent years.

When compared with other schools in this area Delaware stands up well and can hold its own. In the Middle Atlantic Conference championships last year the Hens finished sixth in the University division. Prospects for a much improved showing this year are very bright.

On a national level, however, Delaware is simply out-classed. Bill Reybold, in 1954, ran in the national championships, the only Blue Hen ever to compete in a meet of that type. Frankly speaking, he was the only one good enough to be invited. Reybold holds Delaware records in the mile at 4:18.6 and the half-mile at 1:53.9 which in themselves, aren't comparable to the national marks.

But simply saying that Delaware is no match for a Big Ten team doesn't alter the fact that track at the university is not a popular attraction. That is, it wasn't in the past. Presently, the team boasts several standouts, who in themselves should be able to draw attention.

Foremost among the newcomers to the varsity is Cliff Losee, a sophomore sprinter, who has accounted for between twelve and fifteen points per meet. The slender red-head runs the 100 yard dash in addition to both hurdle events, the 120 highs and the 220 lows.

So far this season Losee has finished second only once, in the highs, due to hitting one of the barriers. He has bested the field in his other times out. In his second time out, he set a new Delaware record in the lows, eclipsing Cliff Browning's mark of 25.4 st in 1958. Losee's time was 25.3. In the next meet he broke his own mark with a time of 25.0.

Running two other events Cliff approaches the Delaware records. He runs the highs in 15.9 as compared to the record of 15.6, and the 100 dash in 10.1, while the mark is 09.9. Although close to records here, the times do not compare with national marks, which in the lows are two seconds faster.

Nevertheless, Losee is still the top point-getter of the Hen team. Worth note is the fact that Cliff never competed in the high hurdle event before entering the university. In high school where he was the work-horse of his team, he ran the 100, 220 and low hurdle events. In the hurdles he was a consistent winner.

In his freshman year, he ran both indoor and outdoor track, scoring 33 points, again the top point-getter. In addition to the hurdles, he ran the 220 and 440 dashes.

Because of indoor track, Cliff believes he has built up strength and speed, which has enabled him to perform as well as he has in the past.

Hens Top Bisons, Mules In Tri-Meet at Allentown

CLIFF LOSEE leads Al Huey and Ed Moore across finish line as Hen sprinters sweep 100 yard dash event in meet with Lehigh.

Swartz Ices Diamond Tilt With Four-Bagger As Gates Pitches Win

By ERNIE LEVY

Jerry Swartz's circuit clout with Pape Lukk on base, highlighted last Saturday's 6-3 baseball victory over the Sho'men from Washington College. The blow capped a four run eighth inning rally to ice the game for the Hens.

The Sho'men drew first blood with a run in the first inning, but the home forces tied the game as Karl Frantz took first on an error and coasted home in front of Sonny Rheim's double.

SHOESTRING CATCH

In the second inning Boo White made a tremendous shoestring catch but lost the ball in rolling on the ground. This was followed by another hit, but Rusty Gates chalked up a strikeout and forced the next man to pop out.

A beautiful snag robbed White of a hit in the bottom half of the inning. Bruce Green flied out and Curt Combs popped to the infield.

In the third frame Gates fanned two after a ground ball out to Gary Hebert at second. The Hens were set down in order. The fourth inning saw the Hens and opponents each collecting a hit. Rheim sandwiched a solid shot to center field between the outs.

WHITE STARTS RALLY

Dave Beinner caught two flies in the fifth stanza before Rheim made a fine play on a bunt to retire the side. White started with a single to center. Nothing materialized, however, as Curt Combs popped out on the hit and run play. Gates flied to left and White was caught stealing second. He slowed up in his approach to second as he thought someone yelled foul ball.

The sixth frame saw a ground out to Hebert and a base hit through Rheim. A flashy double play from Frantz to Hebert to Green ended the threat.

In the bottom half the ice was again broken by the Raymond-coached squad. Beinner led off with a walk, Hebert grounded to short on the hit and run, advancing Beinner to second base. Frantz then boomed a double to bring Beinner home. Rheim popped to center and Lukk ended the inning with a grounder to deep short-stop.

HENS LEAD

The Hens went into the seventh canto leading 2-1. Gates retired the visitors in order. Swartz's pinch hit for Green was chopped to first base. White walked and Combs was hit, but Gates fanned and Beinner grounded out to short.

The visitors were retired on three grounders around the Hens' first error. The home half of this eighth inning proved the most profitable.

Hebert singled to left field. Frantz executed a perfect bunt hit while advancing Hebert all the way to third base. Frantz stole second and Rheim followed with a base on balls to load the bases. Lukk beat an error to first base after Rheim was thrown out at second. Frantz

Homen, Losee Each Win Two Cinder Events

Runners Maintain Perfect Slates, 4-0

By DICK GREEN

Delaware's track team scored 70 4/5 points to romp over Bucknell with 50 1/5 and Muhlenberg's 33 in a triangular meet at Muhlenberg's stadium in Allentown, Pa.

Carl Homen and Cliff Losee were double winners for the Blue Hens who remain undefeated with a 4-0 record.

Losee led the Hen scorers with 13 points by winning the 100 yard dash and 220 yard low hurdles and a second in the 120 yard high hurdles. Homen remained undefeated with victories in the 1 and 2 mile races. Wes Stack and Captain Al Huey each had one first and one second place. Stack won the 880 yard run and Huey the 440 yard race.

ONE FIELD WIN

Joe Abrams shot put was the only outright Delaware win in the field events. Ed Bacon and Dale Stecher tied for first in the pole vault and high jump, respectively.

Delaware's next dual meet outing is May 3 at Johns Hopkins. This Friday and Saturday some members of the team will be competing in the Penn Relays in Philadelphia.

Also gathering points in the tri-meet were Chet Stachecki in the 440; Tom Crumlish and Gil Mahla in the 880; Al Huey and Stachecki in the 220; Ed Moore in the broad jump; Earl Ritchie in the discus; Bob Hamilton in the shot; and Ken Schroeck in the hurdle events.

BEAT LEHIGH

Earlier in the week the Delaware varsity and freshman track teams defeated Lehigh University on Frazier Field, setting five records in the process.

Record breakers Cliff Losee and Carl Homen led the varsity to a 79 to 47 win. Losee beat his own five day old record in the 220 yard low hurdles in 25.0 seconds. He also won the 100 yard dash and the 120 yard high hurdles. Carl-Olaf Homen erased the school 2-mile record by winning in 9:31.5. The record was 9:45 set in 1921 by Verne Booth. Golf Team Scores Victory; Tennis Squad Swamps P.M.C.

In games played this week, Delaware's undefeated golf team scored a victory over St. Joseph's, while the varsity tennis team swamped P.M.C.

The varsity golf team kept its record unblemished, by defeating St. Joseph's last Thurs. In this meet Delaware's Jim Cannon topped the Hawks' Jack Egan in nine out of the first ten holes. This feat is considered to be comparable to a no hitter in baseball.

Two of the other winners for Delaware were Gene Gallagher and Mike Turnhull. Mike, incidentally, playing in varsity competition for the first time this year, is now the number one man on the team. He took over the first spot this season with scores of 83 and 81, on the difficult DuPont C. C. Laivers course where all home matches are played.

GOLF LINE-UP

The starting lineup of the team is selected on the basis of the practice scores of the individual players and on the recommendation of the professionals at the golf course.

The next three games are away. The team first meets Swarthmore, followed by Lehigh and Bucknell.

Turning to tennis, the team after defeating P.M.C. by a score of 9-0, is faced with one of its most difficult tests of the season when it meets Swarthmore on April 27, at Swarthmore. The team hopes to make a good showing this year against the powerful Swarthmore whom they have never beaten in the history of their competition which dates back to 1910.

TENNIS CHANGES

In this match the lineup will have a slight change with Capt. Russel Givin playing in the first position, with Pete Lingerian and Jake Feldman playing in the second and third slots respectively.

Pete moved into the second spot this week by defeating Jake in a playoff game during the week.

In other tennis news, the excellent Cambridge High Schools squad defeated the Delaware freshman 8-1 in a match played Mon.

Track Coach Steers has compared Losee to sprintmen of the past, such as Davidson in '47, and Lanza in '50. The former holds the Delaware 100 record and Lanza ran both the 100 and 220. More recently Gil Mahla has been a potential standout. He has been hampered, however, by a leg injury which has kept him out of most sprint events.

Cliff Losee may be considered an outstanding sprinter for Delaware but unless he can bring his times down to where they will be comparable to national times, he wouldn't stand much of a chance in national competition. On the strength of Losee's showing together with other Blue Hen standouts, Delaware may make a mild noise in the Middle Atlantic this year. Here's to a flash of red, first across the finish line.

Blue Hens of The Week

One of the chief reasons the Delaware Baseball squad is rated as a top contender for the N.A.C. title is the right arm of Robert "Rusty" Gates.

The fair haired athlete is the ace starter for the Hen nine and Coach Tubby Raymond depends on Gates to pitch the "big" games. Last year the young Wilmingtonian, beat Princeton, Ar- and Randolph Macon and wasn't beaten.

While attending Salesianum High School, Gates chalked up 13 wins without a loss in two years and also did some outstanding hurling during the summer in the local semi-pro league.

As a freshman, Bob participated in getting in basketball and baseball his numerals in both sports.

Gates states although it may sound corny, Coach Tubby Raymond is responsible for any success he has had as a pitcher in college ranks. He goes on to say that not only has Tubby helped him in the fundamentals of pitching, but the tremendous confidence which Raymond has helped Rusty gain while on the mound has been invaluable to him.

The junior Business Adm. major when asked about his future plans stated, "I want to play baseball."

Jim Guida Gets Scholarship to Ga.

Jim Guida, a senior chemistry major, has been awarded an assistantship in teaching and research to Georgia Institute of Technology. Guida, who will be doing his graduate work in organic chemistry, plans to work for his master's degree at Georgia Tech., then continue his research for his doctorate.

Jim's activities at the university include membership in Kappa Alpha, where he is a Knight and an Usher. He is student affiliate for the American Chemical Society, and belongs to the Society for the Advancement of Management.

Guida has also participated in intramural sports, freshman golf and Newman Club.

Swartz Ices

scored the first run on that play. Lukk stole second and sauntered home on the strength of Swartz's home run. The inning ended with White bunting out and Combs flying to center.

The visitors threatened in the top of the ninth with a single followed a double to tally a run. Then came an error followed by a grounder to Swartz. The third and final error occurred but no damage resulted as Swartz and Hebert ran down the man between first and second base to end the game.

Continuing their winning ways, the Hen varsity baseball team overpowered Muhlenberg earlier in the week by the score of 10-3.

Showing offensive might for the Blue Hens were Davy Bein- ner, 3 for 4 with two stolen bases; Sonny Reihm with three rbis; and Pape Lukk, Bruce Greene, and Gary Hebert, each collecting two rbis.

Ronnie King was the starting and winning pitcher for Delaware. Vern Walch finished the game by allowing just four hits and one run in the four innings he worked.

considered too. This waiting period would give the freshmen a chance to get an idea of the academic requirements and the amount of time they will be able to spare for extra-curricular activities.

The banquet for the members of the student publications will be held on the evening of May 10 in the Student Center. The banquet will consist of a dinner, greetings from the Student Government Association and the Dean of Students, a report on the workshop, presentation of the student publications. The main address of the evening will be given by a guest speaker, who the guest speaker will be has not been determined at this time, but he will probably be chosen from the university faculty.

won 69 to 57 as three freshman records were supplied by Marshall Johns, Larry Pratt, and Bill Olkowski. Johns won the 100 yard dash in 10.3, knocking one-tenth of a second off the mark previously held by three men. Pratt tossed the discus 129 feet, 7 1/2 inches to eclipse George Starzman's 122 feet, 8 1/4 inch record set in 1956. Olkowski's 45 foot, 10 1/2 inch heave was a new Blue Chick shot put record, outdistancing Bob Graham's 1953 mark of 41 feet, 10 1/2 inches.

STACK WINS TWO

Wes Stack scored 10 varsity points by handily winning the 1 mile and 880 yard runs. Individual varsity winners were Earl Ritchie in the disc, Joe Abrams in the shot, broad jumper Ed Moore, and a pole vault tie by Ken Kendzierski and Ed Bacon.

Freshman double winners were Marshall Johns in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and Charles Tubbs in the 120 high hurdles and 220 yard low hurdles events. The varsity record is now 2-0 and the freshmen have a 1-0 record after their first meet.

Cosmopolitians Dance

p. m., members of the Student Center Operating Board and the Cosmopolitan Club will attend a reception for the visitors in the Faculty Lounge. Following the reception, a dinner will be held in the Morgan - Vallandigham room.

At 8 p. m., the Indonesian troupe will begin a program featuring a traditional Gamelan orchestra and dancers. The United States Information Agency is expected to have representatives present to record the performance for Voice of America broadcasts in Asia. In addition, the Student Government Association will film the presentation as part of a planned movie on activities at Delaware.

DANCERS OF BALI

Among the dances that will be presented, the exotic oriental dances of the island of Bali will play a prominent part. The performers will wear traditional costumes for the presentation, including elaborate brocaded gowns and headdresses. Both court and folk dances will be presented, including some in which the performers represent animals and dress accordingly. Among the most outstanding events of the evening will be a Balinese temple dance, based on an episode from "Malat," the Indonesian version of the "Thousand and One Nights" stories. This episode, known as the "Legong," presents the tale of Princess Rangkesari who is kidnapped by the arrogant king of Lasam, her despised suitor, while he is waging war against her father. She spurns King Lasem's advances, even though he offers to end the war if she will yield. He then threatens to kill her, but she still refuses. The enraged king then attempts to carry out his threat, but is interrupted by a great black bird which foretells his death on the battlefield.

Like the Gamelan orchestra, all these dances are from a cultural tradition that is centuries old. No one is quite sure just when the Gamelan first came into being, for both music and dancing are a part of life in the islands of Indonesia beginning in childhood and continuing throughout life.

AMATEUR PERFORMERS

All of these performers are either members of the embassy staff or of their families, and all are amateurs. This, however, does not detract from the quality of their music or of the dancing. They have performed for visiting delegations from other foreign countries, the State Department in Washington, and some of the larger American universities. Their appearance at Delaware presents an unusual opportunity for students and staff members to gain a little more insight into the culture of Asia.

HINDU TRADITION

Although the Indonesians are predominantly Moslem, Hindu tradition is also present in the culture. An episode adapted to the Balinese dance-drama from the Hindu epic, "Ramayana," will feature this tradition with the dance interpretation of the combat between Hanuman, the white monkey hero, and a demon eagle.

The Student Center Operating Board wishes to offer thanks to the Dramatic Arts department and the staff members of the Political Science department for their enthusiastic endorsement of the program and their assistance in bringing this group to Delaware. Sponsored jointly by the Student Center and the Cosmopolitan Club, it is hoped that this is only the beginning of a large program to be presented annually as part of the Festival of Nations.

TICKETS NEEDED

Tickets must be presented for the performance in Mitchell Hall tomorrow night, and may be obtained from members of the Cosmopolitan Club and the Student Center Operating Board, or picked up at the main desk in the Student Center. There is no charge for the tickets, and they may be obtained by presentation of a student identification card.
