

NINE MORE FIRES PAST WEEK KEEP AETNA BUSY

Most Are Field Fires; Damage Is Only Minor

A continued hectic for the Aetna Company volunteers the past week, with nine alarms being sounded, six of which were field fires. No serious damage was reported in any case.

The total almost equaled last week's total of 10 alarms and meant little let up in the strenuous pace demanded of local fire fighters since the start of warmer weather.

The week's first call came last Thursday for a brush fire near the property of John B. McDaniels, near Glasgow. The same afternoon another call came for a fire in a vacant field on the Salem Road. Firemen did not identify the owner of the property.

Friday brought three alarms, the first for a brush fire near the Sandy Brook School. The next call came in the afternoon for a fire on the property of Arthur Moore on Possum Park Road. Later, another alarm sounded, this time for a fire on a vacant lot on Wilbur Street.

The first break in the steady run of fires came Easter morning with a call for a chimney blaze at the home of Edward Walton, near Iron Hill station.

On Monday, another brush fire brought out the volunteers to Frank Mercer's residence at Roseville Park. Tuesday afternoon, a straw rick caught fire on the Sandy Brook Road. Firemen did not disclose the name of the owner.

Tuesday evening, the wind-up came with a blaze near the Negro school at Iron Hill. It was for a wood's fire this time, with only minor damage.

MUSICAL IS PLANNED BY LIONS CLUB

Script Written By Silverman; Date Not Set

A musical comedy, based on an original script by Dr. William C. Silverman, will be staged at the State Theatre soon by the members of the Newark Lions Club. The production is expected to be ready within six weeks.

The cast, except for the orchestra, will consist entirely of Lion members, and the proceeds will go towards the club's civic improvement program.

Committees are: publicity, W. O. White, Nelson Clark, Robert Davis; finance and tickets, Ford McBerty, Paul A. Lovett, E. F. Matthews; directors, Dr. Silverman; associate directors, Mr. Clark and John Sinclair; properties, Ed Jones; production manager, Al Kline.

Spoken at this week's club session Tuesday night was Dr. A. J. Jackson, pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, who discussed "Palestine—Yesterday and Today." Dr. Jackson has made five visits to the holy land.

George Haney, chairman of the local Red Cross scrap drive, made an appeal for contributions.

A director's meeting will be held Tuesday.

VFW PLAN GAINS HERE

Response to the V. F. W.'s plan for permanent war memorials here continued favorable the past week with more civic clubs and organizations expressing willingness to back the project.

A number, however, said they preferred to withhold support until the features of the proposed monument, now being executed by Edward Ratti, sculptor, and Newark resident, are completed and placed on display.

The V. F. W.'s memorial committee last week formally expressed its appreciation to town authorities for their efforts in maintaining the Honor Roll on Main Street. The reflector lights have been kept in place, and wreaths and other tokens placed at the base.

New Plant Will Start Production Here May 1

A modern, new plant for the production of mayonnaise products will go into operation here about May 1, according to an announcement yesterday that Wilson and Company, Chicago, has purchased the former Hadley Company building on South Chapel Street, and has begun extensive remodeling.

The disclosure was made by O. Robertson, local manager, whose headquarters currently are in Philadelphia. This latest addition to Newark's expanding industrial scene will be one of the most up-to-date plants of its type in the East, Mr. Robertson stated, adding that the firm will employ between 20 and 25 persons, drawing all personnel from local sources.

The factory here will be the only mayonnaise producing unit operated by Wilson and Company, which, Mr. Robertson said, is the third largest meat packing corporation in the world. The product will be known as Wilson's Mayonnaise and Wilson's Salad Dressing.

Work on renovating the former Hadley building has already begun, with Wilson officials promising to turn the one-story, concrete block and stucco building into one of the most attractive industrial plants in the South Chapel Street area.

The building, which will contain 13,000 feet of floor space, will be painted white and the acre plot in front will be completely landscaped.

Mr. Robertson did not disclose the purchase price of the Hadley property nor did he estimate how much Wilson's plans to spend on the remodeling.

The building itself, situated next to the Danita Hosley Mill, was built in 1939 by the Hadley Company for the production of electrical appliances. It was last used by Edco Company, which rented it from Hadley.

NEW CHARTER IS PRESENTED CUB PACK 55

Paul Smith Graduated To Scout Troop

A new cub charter was presented to Pack 55 recently by Milton Draper on behalf of the J. A. O'Daniel Post, No. 10, American Legion. Cub chairman John Z. Miller accepted the presentation at a meeting in the Methodist Church.

After discussing the general aims of cubbing and scouting, Mr. Draper expressed appreciation for the excellent service given by former Cubmaster Lester Beers, now on the committee. Later, Vernon Steele told the boys of some of the advantages of scout training.

Paul Smith was presented the Webelos badge, highest cub scout award and was formally graduated to the Boy Scouts. He was also given a scout knife by the pack. Dr. F. E. Reinhart, assistant scoutmaster, welcomed Paul into scouting.

Bob Conway was inducted into the pack and presented a Wolf book.

Feature of the evening was a still walking contest, won by Paul Smith of Den 8. Second was Franklin Fuller, and the consolation race was taken by Richard Beers.

Judged as the best designed stunts were those constructed by: Franklin Beers, Jr., Richard Beers, George Boone, Franklin Fuller, Harold Hambleton, Johnny Lawson, Johnny Miller, Billy Ruth and Paul Smith.

First prize, a one pound Easter egg, went to Richard Beers.

Mr. Miller announced plans for a Cub Scout Pow Wow for adults only to be held in the Lore School, Wilmington, on April 3 from 1 to 8:30 p. m. A. L. Lackman, William Ruth and Mr. Miller will represent the Newark pack.

Guests at the meeting here were Sam Smith, Charles David and Price Mote.

Arnold Painting In Academy Exhibition

A painting by Robert Arnold, of Newark, is among those now on display in the Annual Fellowship Exhibition at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Broad and Cherry Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. Entitled "Martha," the work is a portrait of Miss Martha Savage, of Philadelphia.

A student at the Academy of Fine Arts, Mr. Arnold, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Arnold, 35 North College Avenue, also maintains a studio in Philadelphia.

The current exhibition includes some 56 juried paintings all by students of the Academy. The showing will close April 4.

School Board Accepts Low Bid On $300,000 Bond Issue

The Newark School Board was awarded the $300,000 school bond issue, floated to finance construction of a new elementary school building here, to Laird and Company of Wilmington, which turned in the low bid of $301,632 at two and five eighths per cent interest.

The bid was accepted at the March meeting of the Board on Friday night. Others with close bids were Farmers Bank, State of Delaware, $300,024 at two and seven eighths per cent interest and Laird, Bissell and Meeds, Wilmington, $303,905 at two and three quarter per cent interest.

The moved cleared the way for the new school building project here. Preliminary steps still hanging fire are the naming of an architect and the selection of the site.

At its Friday session, the board also accepted the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Derry, instructor at the New London Avenue School. Miss Derry taught grades five and six. No successor was appointed.

DEL. CANCER DRIVE OPENS HERE TODAY

State's Quota Set At $51,300; Needs Outlined

Contributions to the Delaware Cancer Campaign, which opened here today will go into a three-front attack on cancer, through Research, Education and Service.

Harry O. Gray, general chairman of the drive explained in a "Report to the People of Delaware," how the society uses the money it is asking for the war on cancer. This April, Delaware's quota is $51,300.

First, said Mr. Gray 25 per cent of every dollar collected in Delaware will go into research, the most powerful weapon against cancer. The Delaware share will go into a national fund used for a huge coordinated research attack on the disease.

Another 15 per cent of the funds collected in Delaware—as in other states—will be used for nationally directed educational and service. Through this program the public and physicians and scientists are informed of the latest developments in the detection and treatment of cancer.

Sixty per cent of the funds collected will remain in Delaware to be used in the work of the Delaware Division, in education and service. A major part of the service program here this year is the creation and operation of the statewide chain of Cancer Detection Centers, to be financed at first partly from campaign funds and partly from donations from the persons examined in the center.

The division has appropriated $20,000 to get the centers started and underwrite their operation.

$325,000 Apartment House Project Needs Council O. K.

A partial answer to Newark's acute housing problem was proposed here this week when two Wilmington promoters disclosed plans for a lavish, $325,000 apartment house project to be erected on the south side of Dallam Road, at the western edge of town.

The go ahead signal on construction awaits only the granting of a building permit by the Town Council, which in turn depends upon the reaction of residents in the Dallam Road area.

If no serious objections to the project are raised by property owners there, the permit probably will be approved. The question is expected to come up for consideration at the April meeting of the Council on Monday night, although final action may be postponed until the new Council meets after the coming election.

The development, which promises to be one of the showplaces of Newark, is planned as a garden type apartment settlement of solid brick, two-story buildings in colonial design. An estimated $10,000 of the $325,000 total is earmarked for landscaping alone. It was said.

The project will contain forty family apartments of from four to five rooms, including all modern improvements. Each will have a tiled bathroom and an efficiency kitchen, equipped with

Above is the last view ever taken of Paper Mill Bridge, which was torn down recently after spanning White Clay Creek here for over three quarters of a century.

Workmen took only a few days to erase completely the historic landmark, leaving the new, prefabricated bridge, the steel framework of which is partially visible on the left above.

Erected in a day when the horse was the chief means of private transportation, the covered bridge found today's heavy trucks and streamlined passenger cars a little too much to take and was finally condemned by the State Highway Department.

Although outdated, the quaint, roofed span was soundly designed, according to the engineer in charge of removing it. A curious feature of its construction were the stout oak pegs used to hold the diagonal beams, which criss-crossed the side of the bridge. These were discovered by workmen during the demolition.

The new bridge, an Army Bailey type, is only temporary and will be replaced eventually by a permanent structure.

The old covered bridge, a type fast becoming extinct in this section, was not the first bridge to be erected over White Clay Creek on the North Chapel Street site. It replaced an even older structure, built in 1816.

To Outline Recreation Plans At April 6 Meet

Details of the community recreation program to be staged here this spring and summer will be outlined at a meeting of the Newark Recreation Association on Tuesday, April 6, at 8 p. m. in the offices of Dr. John R. Downes, 132 East Main Street.

Election of three new directors for three year terms will also highlight the session. All contributing members are eligible to vote and are urged to attend.

Further business will include a reading of the group's financial report and the discussion of plans for the annual fund drive to get underway here soon.

Presiding will be Ned McCully, president of the association.

OSCEOLA MEETING

Attendance was large Monday night at the Osceola Lodge, No. 5, Knights of Pythias, when 11 members of the order were presented with the Past Chancellor's Jewel.

G. I. Durnall gave an interesting talk before awarding the jewels to Samuel Diehl, Jr., Willie T. Gray, Jay S. Steiner, Arthur R. Maclary, James P. Greenplate, G. Melvin Dempsey, David O. Hones, Edward E. Carlin, George T. Blinn, Floyd S. Dear and Herbert F. Wood.

Lenine George was elected to serve the unexpired term of Earl Carney Wolven as Inner Guard, who resigned to give more time to other Pythian activities.

FILING FOR VOTE HERE TO END ON SATURDAY

Line-Up For Election Stays Unchanged; 2 Contests Still

The town political campaign remained quiet the past week, with no new candidates filing for the vote to be held on Saturday, April 13.

Deadline for entering the race is noon this Saturday, as required by the Town Charter. Written notice of a candidate's intention to run must be filed by then with town secretary Vernon Steele.

As things now stand, the election line-up is highlighted by two contests. In the Eastern District, John S. Hopkins, incumbent, is opposed to William B. Swan, former town assessor. In the Middle District, Herman Wollaston, incumbent, is running against Frank Durnall, Kells Avenue businessman.

The remaining two candidates are riding along without opposition. Mayor C. C. Hubert is seeking reelection as President of Council and F. A. Wheeler, incumbent, is running for his first full term from the Western District.

Propertied citizens who have paid their town taxes and have resided in Newark at least three months prior to the election are eligible to vote. Non-property owners whose capitation taxes are paid in full are also qualified to cast a ballot.

3 Youths Paroled By Family Court

The three 14-year-old youths arrested here recently for a series of minor robberies were paroled in the custody of their parents following a hearing at the Family Court, Wilmington, last week.

The trio was charged with carrying out five robberies over a two week period, breaking into the B. & O. ticket office once and twice into the Newark Bowling Alleys and Frank Smith's Atlantic Station.

In no case did the youths take anything of value but caused a sizeable amount of property damage.

Rees To Address U. Of D. Yacht Club

Dr. C. J. Rees, chairman of the Department of Mathematics at the University of Delaware, will speak on "Marine Navigation and the Magnetic Compass" at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the University's Yacht Club, scheduled for 7:15 p. m. tonight in Recitation Hall.

Commodore William J. Osborne will preside. Other recently elected officers of the group include James Burri, vice-commodore; Doris Goodley, rear commodore; Leslie Riggs, first lieutenant; Joanne Bronson, secretary; and Bernard Deitch, treasurer.

MERCHANTS TO SPONSOR TOWN RADIO SHOW SOON

Daily Variety Program To Be Aired; Station Not Yet Named

Newark soon will have a radio show of its own, including audience participation events and other personalized features. It was announced this week, following completion of plans by a group of local retailers.

The show, to be sponsored by the merchants of Newark, will be aired over an as yet unnamed Wilmington station.

Plans call for a daily half hour variety program with transcribed interludes of interviews with local people, on-the-street reports, special events at the State Theatre and impromptu broadcasts from stores here. Recordings of such local events will be made by station officials and later beamed over the air on the Newark program.

Funds to finance the show over a 13-week period have already been raised, it was said, with only 80 per cent of the merchants approached to date. The remainder will be asked to join the project in the near future. All those questioned thus far are 100 per cent behind the project.

Prospect of finally establishing uniform store hours here, with a possible Wednesday afternoon closing, also appeared brighter this week, after a group of local merchants, headed by George Wiggins, sounded out officials of the American Stores and the A. & P. in Philadelphia. Representatives there of both firms evidenced willingness to cooperate in setting standard store hours here and also in helping to finance the community radio program.

In addition to its entertainment features, the program will plug the community radio station, "The Voice of Newark." The show will be a co-operative venture, with little individualized advertising by local merchants. Each merchant, however, will be required to sign a separate contract with the station.

Final details regarding the selection of a station, and the working out a broadcast schedule are expected to be completed next week.

Merchants who are taking a leading part in organizing the venture are: Henry Mote, Alex Richards, Robert P. Nick, George Neighbors, N. J. Galt, Jack Handloff, Don Savage and Mr. Wiggins.

LEGION TO OPEN NEW HOME HERE

Former Read Community House Taken

Official acceptance of the bid recently made by the Lt. J. Allison O'Daniel Post, No. 10, for the community building in George Read Village, Newark, for use as a Legion Home, has been received by William K. Richardson, Post Commander, who announced that the next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, April 13, will be held in the new location.

At this time reports will be heard from two post committees, one of which headed by John Fader, is charged with establishing policies regarding the Legion Home, and the other, of which Harold Sheaffer is chairman, is concerned with the physical equipment and improvements to the building.

A special invitation has been issued to veterans living in the village to attend this next meeting and also to become members of the O'Daniel Post.

At the last meeting, approximately 45 members heard Maj. Charles L. Wright, ORC, discuss atomic energy and emphasize his belief that the age of mere push-button warfare is not at hand. The need for man-power, hence UMT and selective service, is still great, he asserted, explaining that for every man in combat, seven are behind the lines to support him.

Two dates for the post calendar of coming events, announced by the Ways and Means Committees, include the Legion Spring Frolic-Cabaret Dance, to be held on April 24 in the Newark Armory, and a Legion-sponsored carnival, to be held May 5-15. Details of both will be disclosed later.

DRIVERS' COURSE IS DISCUSSED

J. R. Fader
In Talk At Rotary Club

A discussion of the achievements of the student drivers' course, sponsored in high schools throughout the state by the Delaware Safety Council, was given by John R. Fader in a talk at the weekly meeting of the Newark Rotary Club on Monday night in the Academy Restaurant.

Mr. Fader, a director and former manager of the Council, substituted for the scheduled speaker, J. J. Ashton, Safety Council representative, who was unable to appear.

According to a recent survey, students trained under the state's driving program are involved in 75 per cent less accidents than those who fail to take the course, Mr. Fader said. The survey covered 1,600 students who completed the course against 1,600 who had not undergone the training.

Delaware, he said, is the only state in the union with such a comprehensive course.

Program chairman of the evening was Dr. S. W. Smith. President William S. Hamilton presided. Guest was Dr. Robert Deunnen, staff physician in charge of student health, at the University of Delaware.

Plans for the annual Ladies' Night, set for April 19, were outlined by William Shack Martin, chairman for the event.

The club's annual election of officers will highlight next week's meeting. The list of nominees was published several weeks ago.

P. R. R. Reports Income Of $7,285,125 For 1947

The Pennsylvania Railroad disclosed recently net income of $7,285,125 for 1947 despite an operating deficit of $5,273,829.

A company spokesman said there were three factors which overcome the deficit to put the road in the black: 1. Non-operating income in the form of dividends from the Pennsylvania Company and other subsidiary and affiliate companies.

2. A 25 per cent increase in mail rates. The increase was retroactive to early in 1947 but revenue from that increase was recorded in December, accounting for a $3,879,852 boost in mail revenues for that month.

3. A 10 per cent freight increase effective early in October; another 10 per cent boost became effective Jan. 1, 1948.

State's Death Rate Above U. S. Average

The death rate in Delaware is higher than the national average, and by a considerable margin, the highest in the Middle or South Atlantic regions, the United States Public Health Service has reported.

In a compilation of vital statistics from the years 1945 and 1946 which has only now been completed, the public health service reports that the death rate in Delaware in 1946 was 11.3 per 1,000 estimated population (exclusive of armed forces overseas) compared with a national average of 10. The 1946 death rate, however, marked a decline from the previous year when it stood at 11.9 deaths per 1,000 population.

College Education Is Becoming Commonplace

Contrary to popular belief, government subsidy of veterans is not the main cause of high college enrollment, but only a contributing factor, a memorandum prepared by the late president of Fenn College, in Cleveland, O., two days before his death said.

Surveys show the average veteran would have entered college anyway, Dr. C. V. Thomas said. He pointed out that going to college is becoming part of the social pattern—becoming contagious and likely to be as common as secondary education once was.

"For the first time in history, the world is witnessing the beginnings of an experiment in higher education for the masses. It behooves educators then to guard zealously the great experiment that somehow has fallen abruptly into their hands, because only in America will we have this opportunity," Dr. Thomas said.

In conclusion, he pointed out that there are 2,338,226 college students today and predicted that after 1960 there would be upwards of 3,000,000 persons seeking a higher education annually.

GOLF DRIVE BEANS SQUIRREL

It wasn't an eagle or a birdie that one golfer scored recently in Memphis, Tenn., after a terrific ninth hole drive. It was a squirrel. The ball struck a squirrel in the head and killed it.

ARMY LISTS CHANCES FOR ASSIGNMENTS

Local Recruiting Sergeant On Duty In Post Office

1st Sgt. Robert T. Botsford, recruiting sergeant for Newark, located in the Post Office Building, Army and Air Force has compiled in answer to many questions a list of special assignments and opportunities now available to both veterans and original enlistees in the new regular Army and Air Force. To go and what he desires to enlist in some of the special assignments available are:

1. All Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard veterans who returned from overseas since September 2, 1945, and are eligible to enlist in a grade no higher than sergeant can enlist directly into any one of eight units now located in the U. S. and stay with that unit for his full three (3) year enlistment.

2. All veterans that are eligible to enlist in a grade no higher than S/Sgt. can enlist for direct assignment to the European command.

3. Veterans, including Navy, Marine and Coast Guard, who held certain military occupational specialties (and there are about 450 different specialties needed) may enlist in the Army or Air Force and retain all or most of the rank they held at the time of their separation.

4. Any veteran who was medically separated from the service due to a combat incurred disability may automatically enlist in the grade they held at the time of their separation provided they are physically qualified with the exception of their combat wound.

5. Both new enlistees and veterans may enlist for direct assignment to the 2nd Airborne Division located at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, provided they meet the physical requirements for airborne training. In addition to their regular pay they receive $50 airborne pay.

6. Any unmarried applicants between 20 and 26½ years of age who has two years of college credits or can pass an educational exam, may enlist directly as an aviation cadet and upon completion of his training be commissioned a 2nd lieutenant on flying status.

7. Any applicant who has completed high school, both veterans and new enlistees may, under the new specialized school plan, choose a course of study in either the Air Force or regular Army and be assured of attending that school before enlisting. There are over 80 special schools ranging from airplane and engine mechanic to watch repairman.

8. Any applicant may choose, for direct assignment, one of the famous divisions now located in the Far East command including Japan. Sgt. Botsford said that in addition to choice of assignment enlistees may also enjoy the highest pay scale in the history of the United States along with the retirement benefits.

For further details relative to the many opportunities now available for enlistment in the regular Army visit your local Army and Air Force recruiting station in the Post Office Building, here, daily from 9 to 4:30 p. m.

BEACH HOUSE IN 12TH YEAR

The Children's Beach House at Lewes has completed its 12th year of service to the handicapped children of Delaware. Located on Lewes Beach, it has proven itself to be a utopia for many a frail or crippled child, weary from long weeks in a hospital, and not yet well enough to return home.

The Beach House is a home away from home for convalescent and handicapped children between the ages of 2 and 14 years of age, where their individual needs, physical, mental and social are met by a well-trained staff, and specialists in the field of convalescent care and child guidance.

During 1947, fifty-six children were given an average of 131 days care per child at the Beach House. This group included rheumatic fever, cerebral palsy, nephritis, cardiac, anemia, malnutrition, chorea, otitis media, defective hearing and speech, cleft palate, and mental hygiene cases.

During the twelve years of its existence, children have been admitted to the Beach House from every section of the state.

The education of the convalescent child is not neglected at Beach House, as classes and individual instruction are conducted by a teacher appointed by the State Board of Education. Occupational Therapy, music appreciation, art and creative dramatics are a part of the recreational program for these children. During the summer months the physical therapist takes full advantage of the sunshine and salt waters of the bay in her work with the children. Many of these children learn to swim while at Beach House. All beach and water activities are closely supervised, and during the summer months recreation leaders having Red Cross Life Saving Certificates are employed.

FREE SPEECH!

A Democrat can raise his voice in praise of him who is his choice and tell the world what's wrong with those whom he considers his chief foes. Republicans can state their case, can choose the time and place and no one will dare interfere 'cause free speech is the habit here.

WareAbouts

Our good friend and fellow citizen, Harry L. Bonham dropped into our office in his absence one day this week and left for us a copy of a letter circulated by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, relating to Senate Bill No. 472, providing Federal aid to education.

Says the letter, in part: "Under the bill it is proposed that there would be a $300 million annual appropriation. Delaware would not fare so well in the matter of grants-in-aid versus taxes we would have to pay. The average percentage of Federal taxes collected in Delaware, during the year 1943-46, was 1.1% of the total Federal tax collected."

"We would, therefore, be called upon to pay in taxes $3,300,000.00, and we would get back a grant of $285,000.00. Will you not advise Senators Buck and Williams, and Congressman Boggs, of your views on this legislation?"

Belated but nonetheless sincere congratulations to fellow-printer Wm. S. Hamilton on the celebration of his birthday, last Friday.

Today is April Fool Day—but it was no fooling that snow flurries fell at least three times on Easter Sunday.

With Saturday the last day to file intentions to seek election to the Town Council, on election day, Tuesday, April 13, at least two contests are assured as of today.

However, there is just a faint rumor that Councilman Herman Wollaston, seeking reelection from the Middle District, might possibly withdraw after the deadline for filing. This, we view with an extremely skeptical eye.

Also, along the same line, several prominent national political writers are coming out with blunt predictions that President Harry Truman will announce his withdrawal from the presidential candidacy on or about July 4—which wouldn't be nearly so hard to believe.

Have you noticed, the town has placed new and larger trash containers at convenient spots along Main Street. Now, all we have to do is put our empty cigarette packages and other scrap paper into them to do our part toward helping keep our business thoroughfare clean and neat.

WE weren't wrong, but our source of information was, last week, when we quoted the Sunday Star by saying that Wayne C. Brewer had been mentioned as a possible candidate for Clerk of the Peace. Mr. Brewer went General Eisenhower one better by stating emphatically that "under no conditions would he be a candidate for Clerk of the Peace or any other office"—and, we believe him.

A Classes of Eight golf tournament will inaugurate the local season with qualifying rounds scheduled from April 10 to 18, inclusive.

John Cunningham may now be rated along with Cuth Claringbold, Cy Rittenhouse and Doc Nutter as a boat owner and enthusiast.

No news is good news—to everybody but the newspaper man.

An outstanding sales opportunity for aggressive salesman with car.

We have a position for a man who can put forth real effort every day in the week.

He must own a car. He will be protected in a given territory and all sales and leads coming from that territory will be turned over to him.

The demand for our service is great and commission is such that he can earn substantial income immediately. The most profitable selling season is at hand so write or phone for an early interview.

MISS BARBARA A. DEAN

BRIDE OF W. ANDREW DICK

A pretty spring wedding took place Monday evening in St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Newark, when Miss Barbara A. Dean, daughter of Mrs. A. L. Dean, 344 East Main Street, Newark, became the bride of Mr. W. Andrew Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Dick, Wilmington. The Very Rev. Robert Hatch, dean of the Cathedral Church of St. John, Wilmington, officiated.

Miss Mary June Taylor attended the ceremony as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were her sisters, Miss Esther Dean and Miss Joan Dean. Little Miss Sue Dean Chase, small cousin of the bride, was the flower girl.

The bride wore a gown of white marquisette with a fitted bodice trimmed with eyelet ruffling, high round neckline, long fitted sleeves, and a full skirt which fell into a long train. Her hair was styled in a long, straight, length veil was attached to a crown and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaids wore pale yellow marquisette and the bridesmaids were in pale blue marquisette. Matching face veils were caught to their hair with white ribbons and all carried bouquets of spring flowers.

The flower girl's frock was of pale blue marquisette and she carried a small old-fashioned bouquet.

Mr. William D. Dick was best man for his brother Ushers were Mr. Paul Thompson, Wilmington; Mr. John Dick, Philadelphia; and Mr. Howard Dean of Newark, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Dean, mother of the bride, chose a gray gown with matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Dick, mother of the bridegroom, wore navy blue with a gardenia corsage.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother, after which the couple left for a wedding trip. They will reside in Newark.

The Sports Post

By Sean N Hurd

Not so many years ago professional wrestling was a reputable sport in which respected competitors adhered to a set of established rules as well as to the broader rules of sportsmanship and honesty. Then wrestling fell under the control of certain promoters and managers who were largely unprincipled and only slightly concerned with such things as honesty and ethics. As a result, we more often speak of "the grunt and groan racket" than we do of pro wrestling. It may be entertaining, just as a circus is, but it's no more than a travesty on the field of competitive sports.

But what we're driving at is that proper precautions ought to be taken promptly—if it isn't already too late—to prevent boxing from suffering the same fate which befell wrestling. And, unfortunately, there are many indications that it may already be too late. One indication is the featured story on "the boxing racket" which appeared in a popular national weekly magazine several months ago. Another is the indictment of boxing handed down recently by a coroner's jury in Chicago which investigated the ring death of Sam Baroudi—and his manager and trainer who tried to skip town.

"By their actions," said the jury, the manager and trainer "proved themselves totally unworthy of professional recognition in any degree and completely disreputable and reprehensible either as handlers, sportsmen or citizens."

The jury also added, "Men of notorious reputation have . . . injected themselves into or behind the scene of professional boxing and have brought that sport to an evil repute it has not known since its recognition as a major sport."

In spite of this strong indictment of boxing there seems to be little inclination on the part of those who control the sport to do anything about cleaning up the situation. Boxers who are wholly unmatchable are still being brought together in the same ring where quick knockouts or farcical exhibitions take place. And in an apparent effort to prove beyond a doubt the present low estate of boxing, a Washington promoter has appealed personally to Secretary of State Marshall to permit 42-year-old Max Schmeling to come to this country as a heavy-weight title contender.

No doubt the Greeks had a word for it—and so do we.

We have always admired quiet, retiring, reticent people. Guess that's why we were so attracted to a recent guest sports column by that shy, modest man of baseball, Bobo Newsom, who is now "at liberty."

Wrote the unassuming Bobo, "I don't think they'll have to stage any benefit for Bobo. Getting a job pitching for a big league club is one of the easiest things I do. Ask the eight clubs I've pitched for in the majors . . . The Yankees didn't fire me, I canned them. Boston ought to win the American League pennant," the silent one continued. "And I'm picking the Cleveland Indians to finish second, ahead of the Yankees. Cleveland is the dark horse and could even win it, with smarter management than Lou Boudreau. I always respected Boudreau's judgment until last winter when he said he wasn't interested in Old Bobo because he thought I would lose more games than I would win. With that kind of management," said Bobo, "I can't pick the Indians to win the pennant."

"Before the season starts," Bobo continued, "I'll be able to name the National League winner. I could tell you right now which team that is, but I have a few confidences to respect. When I finally sign with 'em, you'll know which club I mean. Old Bobo," said Bobo, "doesn't want to trifle with anything less than a pennant winner."

So now it's our guess that the owners and managers of no less than eight National League ball clubs are standing around with abated breath.

SPORT SPECKS: When J. Neil (Skip) Stahley resigned a couple of weeks ago as head football coach of George Washington University, after a stay of two years there, to become backfield coach for Howie Odell at the University of Washington, newspaper accounts reported his prior grid mentoring at Western Maryland, Harvard, Brown, and in the Navy but failed to mention his football tour at the U. of Delaware. After unsuccessful efforts by G. W. authorities to obtain the services of Tuffy Leemans and Johnny Fenlon, both G. W. alumni and the later an assistant to Jim Tatum at U. of Maryland, the job went to Chauncey Simpson, backfield coach at University of Missouri . . . Although Bobby Riggs got off to a good start in his cross-country series of tennis matches with Jack Kramer, "Big Jake" is now pouring it on last year's pro champ with regularity. After they had met 50 times, Kramer had 34 victories—with nine of them in a row . . . Hottest thing in the Phillies camp at this time is a previously unheard of outfielder from Nebraska named Ritchie Ashburn.

2634 Home Loans Are Backed By VA In State

HEN NINE TO OPEN HERE TODAY AGAINST HARVARD; FACES LASALLE ON FRIDAY

Al Thorpe Expected To Take Mound Against Crimson; Roy Probably Will Face LaSalle; Delaware Varsity Is Listed

Al Thorpe, Hen moundsman, will probably shoulder the pitching assignment when Coach William Shack Martin sends his University of Delaware baseball team against Harvard University this afternoon on Frazer Field in the season's opener.

In a quick follow-up to the curtain raiser, the Hens will meet LaSalle College here tomorrow, with Bill Roy probably getting Martin's nod for the hurling job.

Against Harvard, the starting line-up will boast an array of experienced talent. Gene Gallagher is the likely candidate as Thorpe's backstop, since, under the latest switch, Franny McAllister, originally considered for the post, has been moved to right field. Tom Silk, reconverted third sacker, may spell Gallagher behind the plate.

Jim McFadden is the big prospect for first. Talented veteran Luke Selby is also a definite prospect here, although he will not be available full-time until later in the season.

Barnie Runcie has staked out what appears a sure claims for second, and Jimmy Gilson is ensconced at shortstop. Bob Brodey, showing promise as an infielder, is regarded as Gilson's reinforcement.

The hot corner has been taken over by Bill Cole, former second baseman. He was moved over to free silk for battery duty.

Pillar of strength in the outfield is centerfielder Charlie Griffith, who looms as one of this season's mainstays. Jack Messick and Larry O'Toole are contenders for the left field berth, while flanking Griffith on the right will be Franny McAllister, with Ace Hoffstein, his chief understudy. Thorpe also performs at right when not pitching.

The Army Organized Reserve Headquarters and Navy Recruiting Service at Wilmington are loaning personnel for the distribution. "It is felt this service will be a direct benefit to honorably discharged veterans who have been unable to obtain applications and execute them previously," according to Col. Randolph T. Pendleton, commanding officer of the University's ROTC battalion.

Nearly 1200 of the university's students are former service men.

U. OF D. VETS GET MEDALS

Army Week Observance

World War II Victory Medals for Army and Navy veterans who have not received them previously will be issued at the University of Delaware as one of the features of Army Week observances there.

The University's Military Department announced that on Thursday, April 1, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., the medals will be issued, at a booth in the lobby of Mitchell Hall, to veterans producing honorable discharge papers. Photostat and certified copies of discharge papers will not be accepted.

The Army Organized Reserve Headquarters and Navy Recruiting Service at Wilmington are loaning personnel for the distribution. "It is felt this service will be a direct benefit to honorably discharged veterans who have been unable to obtain applications and execute them previously," according to Col. Randolph T. Pendleton, commanding officer of the University's ROTC battalion.

Nearly 1200 of the university's students are former service men.

110 ROTC Students Are Named Noncoms

The appointment of 110 University of Delaware ROTC students to non-commissioned officers' status in the university's battalion was announced recently by Col. R. T. Pendleton, professor of military science and tactics. They will hold various grades of first sergeant, master sergeant, technical sergeant, staff sergeant, sergeant, and corporal in the ROTC unit.

In addition, 24 officers of the battalion were named to various commands in battalion headquarters, the four batteries and band in the unit. All the latter consist of reappointments, except for the naming of Weston H. Beale of Wilmington as captain commanding Battery D.

All the appointments are for the remainder of the current academic year.

BOYS' CAMP AID SOUGHT
A worthy but little publicized campaign now underway here seeks funds to provide a Children's Camp on a 1,650 acre tract near Ocean View, Delaware. The camp is being planned and built by the Delaware Association of Chiefs of Police.
Sgt. Leroy Hill, member of the local force and a camp director, is accepting contributions here. Sgt. Hill is one of a number of Delaware police officers who are devoting their off days and vacation time to the preparing of the camp for the coming season.
Underprivileged children from throughout Delaware, including a quota from Newark, will be sent to the non-sectarian camp free of charge. Broad scale recreational, athletic and educational facilities are being prepared, and an experienced youth counselor will direct the program.
Children, who would otherwise be left to their own devices during the summer months, will be provided a clean, healthy and profitable vacation under the police plan.
It was pointed out that contributions to a project such as this have direct value to residents here.

BREEDER HONORED
P. Zeitler's Jersey Cows Set Records

Two registered Jersey cows owned by Peter Zeitler, Newark, have won the Delaware 305 Day State Fat Championships in their class as announced by The American Jersey Cattle Club from their offices in Columbus, Ohio.

Sunset Masterpiece Flame 1531773 produced 9,137 pounds milk and 525 pounds butterfat as a Junior Two-year-Old. Masterpiece Merry Fern 1448394 produced 10,045 pounds milk and 560 pounds butterfat as a Senior Two-year-Old. Their records exceeded by more than two and one-half times each the butterfat production of the average dairy cow in the United States, and earned for them the Silver Medal Award given by the Cattle Club.

All tests on the production of these cows were verified by the Delaware Agricultural College and The American Jersey Cattle Club.

BLUE CROSS NON-GROUP PLAN OPENS

Enrollment
Is Now Open
Ends April 2

The Delaware Blue Cross Plan which opened last week for non-group enrollment closes tomorrow, according to Harold V. Maybee, managing director. The period has been set aside, he said, for a special application for membership by those who have not had the opportunity to enroll for the low-cost hospitalization and surgical benefits through employee or community plans.

Non-group applications may be un- employed, self-employed or work where less than five are employed. Those who are married must also en- roll their spouses and unmarried, un- employed children under 18.

Application blanks and information sheets may be obtained in Wil- mington by phoning, writing or calling the Blue Cross headquarters, 902 Orange street, or at any of the following hos- pital and medical centers: Delaware, Delaware General, Delaware, Delaware Memorial, Delaware and the Memorial.

State's Counties may contact the Blue Cross representative at Seaford, Del. Wayne Richardson at 5 South Main Street; the Milford Memorial Hospital or Beebe Hospital at Lewes. Sources of information in Kent County are the representative at Dover, Mrs. Elizabeth Behr, of South Main Street, or Kent General Hospital at that city. Mrs. Behr's phone is 2184.

AGRONOMIST LISTS ADVICE

Scores Use Of Rock Phosphate

"Penny wise and pound foolish"—is a familiar adage with Delaware farm- ers. "It was never more appropriate," says Claude E. Phillips, extension ag- ronomist, "that at the present time when we are receiving inquiries about the use of rock phosphate as a fertilizer material on the soils in this state." Phillips advises growers that the phosphorus in rock phosphate is avail- able to plants at such a slow rate that it would take at least 10 years to get the full effect of the material. To prove his point he cites the fact that in 8 years of experimental work at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment station comparing rock phosphate with superphosphate showed that super- phosphate yielded on the average 12 bushels of corn, 850 pounds of soybeans and 5 bushels of wheat than when even twice as much phosphorus was supplied by rock phosphate.

"What's a farmer got to do with flavor?"

"PLENTY! That finer flavor of Jane Logan DeLuxe, started right here, on the farm! We farmers have to hustle to meet Abbotts standards—in our personal care, and in the cleanliness of cows, barns and utensils. But, Abbotts make it well worth our trouble with a cash bonus for our extraordinary care.

"You see, ordinary care—and ordinary cows—can't produce cream that's pure enough and rich enough to pass Abbotts rigid laboratory tests for Jane Logan Ice Cream. But our extra care and selected cows give us the exclusive, premium-quality cream that makes Jane Logan the finest ice cream in America."

CASH IN ON SCRAP

STEEL MILLS NEED SCRAP METAL FROM YOUR FARM

Supplies of scrap for the steel furnaces are critically low. The furnaces thrive on a diet of about equal portions of pig iron and scrap. More scrap is urgently needed, if there is to be enough steel for making farm implements and countless other products. More than three million tons of steel scrap lie idle on America's farms, according to the latest estimates—scrap that only litters up the place, scrap that is wasted where it is. How much is there on your farm? How about the old car body, that rusted cultivator, those old plow bottoms, discarded tools? Every bit helps—and it is needed now.

IT'S HARVEST TIME FOR SCRAP

There's a bumper scrap crop to be harvested this spring—and there's money in it for you. Your scrap dealer will pay for everything usable. You can do three good turns in one scrap harvest:

1. You make some money on what you can't use.
2. You get your outdoor spring housecleaning done.
3. You help the steel mills turn out more steel for the implements and equipment you'd like to have on your farm.

Scrap means savings to you—if you'll collect it and sell it. On the first rainy day, when you can't plow or sow or cultivate, put on your oldest clothes and get that scrap together.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

1. Pile up every bit of iron and steel scrap on your place.
2. Take a payload into town the next time you go. You'll make more money out of it that way.
3. If you can't drive it in, call your scrap dealer and ask him to pick it up.
4. If there is no scrap dealer near you, call your implement dealer. Ask him how to get your scrap started toward the steel furnaces.

AREA HEADS FOR CANNON FUND NAMED

Regional Chairmen Are Listed

Regional chairmen to aid in the work of the Annie Jump Cannon Memorial Committee, were announced today by Mrs. John Pilling Wright, of Newark, general chairman. They are: Sussex County, Mrs. Thomas Robinson, of Georgetown; Kent County, Mrs. James H. Hughes, of Dover; New Castle, Mrs. William E. Holton, of Newark; Mrs. Cummins E. Speakman, Wilmington.

Dr. Cannon, whose brilliant record as an astronomer has yet to be recognized by the people of Delaware, became the world authority on the classification of the spectra stars. Working in the Harvard Observatory from photographs taken with a telescope and a prism, she interpreted the markings on the plates and developed a method of classification now accepted as standard, for approximately 400,000 stars.

She is the only woman with the exception of Katharine Lee Bates, author of "America the Beautiful," ever awarded three degrees by her alma mater, Wellesley College. In the years that followed, honorary degrees came to her from leading universities both here and abroad. One of the most notable was that from the University of Groningen, Holland, the highest degree conferred on a woman by a European university. In 1929, Dr. Cannon was included in a list of twelve selected by the National League of Women Voters, as the most outstanding women then living in the United States.

Miss Cannon was born and reared in Dover, in a comfortable-looking frame house on State Street, two or three doors from the Hughes residence. It is painted white now as it was when the girl Annie Cannon described it as "the only white house on the street." She attended the local public school and then "Conference Academy."

Dr. Cannon who died in 1941, is buried in Lakeside Cemetery, Dover.
