Newark Nite Saturday

Our town will hold its annual post-graduation celebration on Saturday night.

Newark Nite, organized by the City of Newark and the Downtown Newark Partnership, closes off Main Street to vehicular traffic, as the street comes alive with music, arts and crafts, food, shopping, carnival games, children's activities and more. Restaurants and stores on Main Street will remain open during the event.

The event gets under way on June 6 from 5:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Several stages will host music, demonstrations, and children's entertainment. The rain date for this event is Sunday, June 7 from 2:30 p.m. - 7:00 p.m. For a full schedule see our special report, beginning on Page 13.

Organizers note that pets are not comfortable in the heat and crowds of large events and advise visitors to leave them home.

The sponsors of Newark Nite 2009 are DuPont & DuPont Dow, Comcast, DART, Deer Park Tavern, TD Bank, American Spirit Federal Credit Union, WXCX 103.7 FM, and Caffè Gelato.

This program is funded, in part, by grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Delaware Division of the Arts, a state agency committed to promoting and supporting the arts in Delaware.

For event cancellation information please call 302-366-7147.

Curbside recycling arrives

The City of Newark is kicking off its own curbside recycling program and the vast majority of residents have signed on.

Those participating in the curbside recycling program will begin to receive their new recycling carts this week.

The first recycling collections will take place the week of June 15, 2009. Delaware Solid Waste Authority (DSWA) will discontinue their curbside recycling services in the city of Newark at that time. If residents are currently subscribed to the DSWA, they will continue to use those carts and the City will collect their recyclables.

Newark residents currently have two days of refuse pickup per week. With the start of the curbside recycling program, refuse collection will be cut down to one day per week and the second day will be used for collection of recyclables.

Those residents who did not sign up for the curbside recycling program will have only one day of refuse collection per week.

Approximately 5,000 of the city's 6,400 residential refuse collection customers have

Police honored for savings professor's life

"They were like angels that came out of the sky." That's how Lee Anderson, Maxwell P. and Mildred H. Harrington Professor of Marine Studies, described three Newark Police Department officers who answered a 911 call and saved his life.

Master Corporal Dennis Aniunas, a 1991 graduate of UD, and Corporals Andrew

Pagnotti and Jerry Bryda, all of the Newark Police Department, received Life-saving Awards from the New Castle County Paramedics at a ceremony on May 18. Anderson and his wife Sheila both attended the ceremony.

Anderson suffered cardiac arrest when his heart suddenly stopped beating. His wife called 911 and then applied CPR until the police officers arrived.

"They were mystery people to me because I was unconscious for days, but they were fast and efficient and applied the paddles until the medics arrived and got me to the hospital. I am very grateful," Anderson said.

Anderson was treated by hypothermia, immersion in Football player stabbing victim

A University of Delaware football player reported he was attacked and stabbed Saturday. The Newark Police Department was summoned to the Christiana Hospital Emergency Room for a report of a stabbing victim. The incident reportedly occurred in the area of East Cleveland Avenue near North Chapel Street. The victim, a 22-year-old UD student and football player, told officers that he was walking in the area of East Cleveland Avenue and North Chapel Street when he was attacked by four white males. During the incident, the victim was stabbed once in the right rib area and once in the neck area. The victim was treated and released from the hospital.

One suspect is described as a white male in his early 20's, heavy set, approximately 6'01" and 240 lbs., with short hair and wearing a white t-shirt. The other three suspects were only described as white males around the same age but smaller in stature.

Collision and attempted robbery

Early Monday morning the Newark police responded to a vehicle collision into a light pole in the intersection of East Main Street and Library Avenue.

Police found no one with the vehicle. Several hours later NPD Dispatch received a call from a male who stated that he was driving that vehicle and he crashed after he was almost robbed at gunpoint.

The 21-year-old male stated that he was stopped at the traffic light of Library Avenue N/B at East Main Street, when a newer model black Honda with tinted windows pulled up next to him. There were two males in this vehicle. The victim stated that the driver of the black Honda then pulled out a handgun and demanded money from him while speaking Spanish. The victim stated that fearing for his safety, he floored his vehicle, attempted to turn left onto East Main Street and then struck a light pole. The victim stated that he fled on foot as he heard the suspect vehicle coming after him.

The one suspect driving the vehicle can only be described as a Hispanic male, 23 to 24 years old.

The Newark Police are seeking the public's assistance in locating witnesses to the attempted robbery or the vehicle collision.

Graffiti found on Main St. businesses

Newark Police are investigating multiple graffiti tags spray painted on the building that comprises Two Brothers restaurant, Sassy Cupcake, Margherita Pizza and Panera Bread. The owner of the complex, Dannemann & Danneman LLC, reported that tags had been painted on various portions of the building and that the graffiti had not been there the week before. A representative of the owner stated that she performs a visual inspection of the building complex every weekend and that the last inspection was performed on May 16. A report was filed with police on May 24.

Alleged robbery turns into revenge

On May 25 at 2:56 p.m., Newark Police were dispatched to the Quality Inn, located at 1120 S. College Ave. for an in-progress argument. After questioning the arguing parties, police discovered that Angel Conrad, 22, and Danielle Ortiz, 17, both of Elkton, Md., had been detained against their will and beaten in a room in the hotel by Shannon Wheeler, 21, Shellie Owens, 28, both also of Elkton and a friend of Owens, Chakara Hollis. Interviews showed that Wheeler, an alleged crack/heroin dealer, had discovered some drug money was missing and blamed his girlfriend, Ortiz. Wheeler called his sister, Owens, and tracked Ortiz and Conrad to the hotel to confront them.

Wheeler and Owens held Ortiz and Conrad against their will until they paid Wheeler back. Owens, who had brought her two children with her, proceeded to take cell phones and prescription medicine from Conrad and Ortiz. Owens and Hollis beat upon Conrad while Conrad was holding her four-month-old daughter.

Accomplices of Wheeler arrived to drop him off back in Elkton. Wheeler is being investigated by Elkton police for a recent shoot out in Hollingsworth Manor. All present parties were taken into custody. Charges are pending further investigation.

Home invasion in Brookside

New Castle County Police are investigating a home invasion and armed robbery of seven Hispanic men who were socializing at a Brookside home early Sunday morning. During the robbery, three armed suspects forced their way into the home and held the victims at gunpoint while they ransacked the dwelling and removed cash and other items of value.

On Sunday at 2:40 a.m., County Police responded to a home in the unit block of Kenmar Drive for a report of a home invasion that just occurred. When police arrived, they contacted one of the adult male victims who reported he was socializing with friends inside the home when three armed suspects forced their way inside.

The men, who were each wearing dark clothing and had their faces concealed, pointed handguns at the victim and forced them to all lay face down on the floor. The suspects proceeded to remove cash from each victim and then ransack the home before fleeing in an unknown make/model vehicle.

Identity theft

Last week, officers responded to an identity theft report from Terry Gibbs, 58, of Newark. Gibbs stated that he had been contacted by Caroline County, Md. police for a traffic summons. Gibbs has been declared legally blind and has not held a driver's license since 1991. The operator of the vehicle had presented a Delaware learner's permit with Gibbs' name and address. Gibbs was notified to contact the police after he advised the Delaware DMV of his situation. The photo on the license of the driver was not the same as Gibbs.

During an interview, Gibbs stated that about a month ago, a friend of Gibbs, Robert Grocki, and an associate of Grocki's named Sam had visited Gibbs for a dinner party. Sam, later identified as Salvatore Vogl, had asked to use the bathroom, next to Gibbs' bedroom. Gibbs told police that he keeps all of his personal information in his bedroom dresser.

Grocki was shown the picture of the ticketed driver and positively identified him as Salvatore Vogl. Vogl has been picked up on outstanding war-

Wampler's Twin Towers to premier on June 12th

Twain Towers, an original play by Damian Wampler and directed by Angela Astle, will premiere at The Planet Connections Theater Festivity on Friday, June 12th through Sunday, June 28th for six performances only at the Robert Moss Theater at 440 Studios, 440 Lafayette, in New York's East Village. Wampler grew up in Newark.

Proceeds from the play will benefit the non-profit ENACT, where actors use role-play and drama therapy techniques to help New York City students learn emotional and social skills. Set in the Bush Era, Twin Towers explores the struggle between natural law and positive law - what we know in our hearts to be right versus what society and our government tell us, according to Wampler.

The play, set in the Bronx, focuses on the lives of two best friends who have chosen very different life paths - Trevor and Jamal, the Twin Towers of the title, were once inseparable schoolyard buddies. Now, years later, Trevor has returned from Iraq a war hero, while Jamal has returned from years of overseas work in the Peace Corps searching for purpose.

The two clash as the fantasy of their childhood innocence fades to reveal the truth of their character.

Twin Towers is a coming of age story not only for two young men but for our country as well, criticizing what Wampler sees as a moral vacuum our country experienced during the last eight years.

Twin Towers will incorporate music, dance, a Brazilian dance-like martial art called Capoeira and a primarily African American ensemble cast. Capoeira is woven into the play to illustrate the complex relationships and emotional upheaval in the play because it flirts between fighting and dancing, as do the main characters throughout the play.

Wampler is a returned Peace Corps volunteer who spent five years overseas as an educator, researcher and community developer. Many of his best friends from high school joined the military and are currently serving in Iraq and Afghanistan.

"When I came home, I realized that not only had my country changed, but I had changed as well. I had a greater understanding of who I was and what was right and wrong; an understanding that I had come to through my own personal journey."

"This play will impact Peace Corps volunteers and Iraq war veterans, African Americans and anyone who has stood up for something they knew was right, even though everyone around them told them it was wrong," Wampler says.

"Damian infuses music and dance into almost every scene, creating a lyrical piece that is both realistic of an urban neighborhood and whimsical as the characters try to hold on to their childhoods," says director Angela Astle, "but finding actors who could sing, dance Tango and Capoeira was a challenge, regardless of race."

There will be a reception to meet the author and cast of Twin Towers on June 12th at 7:00pm in the lounge of 440 Studios, directly following the world premiere.

Show Times: Friday, June 12th, 5:30pm, Sunday, June

Chapel Street Players holding 'FUNdraiser'

"I wish to say that on my first visit to Moss Hart's house I had one of the most unpleasant evenings I can ever recall having spent." - Alexander Woollcott

It is from this that Moss Hart and George S. Kauffman penned the farce "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

While on a lecture tour in Ohio, Sheridan Whiteside slips on the ice outside his hosts' home; until his broken leg heals, the hosts are forced to put up (and put up with) the imperious Whiteside. This means enduring an unending stream of Whiteside's whims, caprices and vitriolic bon mots, as well as his long-distance phone calls, eccentric guests and a variety of critters, ranging from penguins to octopi.

Like the real Alexander Woollcott, Whiteside insists upon stage-managing the lives of everyone around him.

Performance dates are: June 12th, 13th, 19th, 20th, 26th and 27th at 8pm Matinee dates are: Sunday, June 21st and Saturday, June 27th at 2 p.m. The play is part of the Chapel Street Players Annual 'FUNdraiser.'

All tickets for this event are $15. Call the CSP Box Office in early June at (302) 368-2248 to reserve your tickets and seats or go to the CSP Website (ChapelStreetPlayers.org) and click on the "Ticket Leap" icon and reserve your tickets and seats using a credit card.

"We were fortunate the cardiac wing at Christiana was completed, and that our doctor, James Hopkins, was there," Sheila Anderson said. "The University was very supportive, especially Dean Nancy Targett (of the College of Marine and Earth Studies) and the people in Benefits."

"Only five percent of cardiac arrest patients survive, and those who do usually require different kinds of therapy, but Lee did not," she said.

Although responding to 911 calls and administering CPR is not uncommon, the outcome is not always as successful as this, Anunas said.

"Professor Anderson was at the ceremony and it was amazing and good to see him looking so well."

Youth and teachers volunteer to promote buckling up!

By CINDY GENAU

NEW CASTLE COUNTY EXTENSION

We read so much negative news lately. There are budget deficits, people having to take forced pay cuts or furloughs, people losing jobs, and people losing homes. It also seems that too often we read about negative incidents related to our youth and young adults. In similar style, I think we are too quick to criticize the teachers that educate our youth and young adults. So, I thought I would like to share some positive news about some youth, parents, and teachers, who gave up their time after a long week at school and other obligations to assist me. They helped me to remind others that wearing their seatbelt is a "No-Brainer" for everyone. Seat belts save lives, prevents injuries, and save the country, state, county, city, and every person from economic loss.

It was a very hot and humid afternoon in late April when eight Delcastle members of the Youth to Eliminate Loss of Life (YELL) and the Kick Butts Generation (KBG) chapters came out to remind students and faculty to buckle up. The students, family members, and teacher chapter advisors met at the school to paint buckle up stencils at the entrance/exits to the parking lots of Delcastle High School. The students concluded the activity by sharing one thing they enjoyed, one thing they learned, and one way they would spread the message of seatbelt safety.

The students enjoyed the opportunity to spend time together outside of the classroom on the weekend. (Although this day air conditioning would have helped. I think it hit 90 degrees that day—drinking water to stay hydrated was a must and all of us were dripping wet from the heat!) Students felt good about getting to do the actual painting of the stencil and being part of a project that has the potential to save lives of fellow students, family members, and teachers by reminding them to wear their seatbelt. One of the students was spotted not wearing her seat belt as she arrived to help and admitted her forgetfulness. After the stencil was finished and she learned about traffic safety statistics and the results of not wearing her seatbelt, she stated she won't forget to wear her seatbelt again. Another student mentioned he did not realize that the driver could be fined if his passengers were not buckled up. The students also committed to continue to spread the word about how important it is to buckle up by being a good role model and wearing their seatbelts, hanging seatbelt safety posters at the school, at local stores, and having a display table at the school's Wellness Center Health Fair.

This community service project is coordinated through the University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Traffic Safety Program and funded by the Delaware Office of Highway Safety. The "buckle up" stencil has been painted at 25 schools in New Castle County including Newark, Dickinson, McKean, Padua, and Appoquinimink with the help of School Resource Officers and other student groups.

It is part of the Highway

Safety's "Click It or Ticket" Campaign in Delaware, which is part of a national initiative orchestrated by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration that promotes enforcement of seatbelt and child restraint laws. States all across the country conducting education, awareness, and enforcement during the month of May. These efforts were targeted to reduce the number of deaths and injuries on our roadways due to motor vehicle crashes. The federal government holds Delaware and all states accountable for increasing seatbelt use and reducing deaths and injuries on our roadways. The federal government can penalize states by reducing important transportation funding when improvement in traffic safety is not met.

So do your part to spread the "Buckle Up" message. It is a "No Brainer" that seatbelts save lives and prevent injuries. Wearing seatbelts also saves all of us money in medical and insurance costs, workman's compensation, loss of wages or productivity, and physical and emotional stress. In Delaware alone, we could save $400 million dollars a year spent on motor vehicle crash deaths and injuries. Maybe less people would have to take a pay cut from the state if we reduced that $400 million loss.....To have the stencil painted at your school or business, contact me at 302-831-4973.

Caravel Academy upset in state finals

By JON BUZBY

JONBUZBY@HOTMAIL.COM

The 2009 Delaware High School Softball Championship featured two schools from opposite ends of the state.

One is nestled in a small town where every student lives practically within walking distance of the small campus; the other is located on a sprawling campus with students commuting from all over the county, and even from across state borders.

One team was playing in the championship game for the first time since 1976, when it won the state's inaugural tournament; the other is back in the title game for the 11th straight season. They are the Buccaneers. Both teams that is.

When the final out was recorded in Saturday's final, it was the less-experienced Buccaneers from Milford winning its first state softball title in 33 years with a 2-0 upset victory over Caravel Academy.

Marcy McKee's two-out single in the top of the eighth drove home both Milford runs, and Janee Williams set Caravel down in order in the bottom of the eighth to give Milford High its fourth state title of the year.

Milford's football, wrestling, and boys track and field teams also won state championships this year.

"The tournament was a huge disappointment for us,"

Caravel coach Randy Johnson said when reflecting on the loss. "Playing the role as the favorite comes with a lot of pressure."

Caravel's Cara Stecher, who will pitch at James Madison next year, had eight strikeouts in the final game of her stellar career.

"She has had a tremendous impact on the development of our younger players," Johnson said when asked how he'd replace his star pitcher. "I am not sure you can ever replace someone like Cara, but what she has given to us will surface in the years to come."

Caravel (21-2) last won the title in 2006, and in addition to Stecher will lose several talented seniors, including three who are heading to college to play softball: Ashley Bragg (Rutgers), Nikki Gayle (North Carolina - Charlotte) and Sarah Agnew (Eckerd College - Tampa).

"The greatest thing is these girls are better people than they are softball players," Johnson said proudly. "They will move on and be very successful young ladies. I just feel so fortunate to have had the opportunity to be with this group of people every day."

DelleDonne returning to her first love

The much-anticipated wait is over. The University of Delaware women's basketball program made it official that Elena DelleDonne will join the team for the 2009-10 season. She will have freshman eligibility.

DelleDonne is the all-time leading scorer in Delaware history (boys and girls), was a first-team all-state selection all five years of her eligibility, and led the Raiders to four state championships while at Ursuline Academy. She was the 2008 national player of the year.

Her story is well-documented.

Three runners choose Wilmington U

► SPORTS, from 10

Elena DelleDonne

After skipping her high school graduation ceremony and spending just a few days at the University of Connecticut during the summer of 2008, DelleDonne returned to Wilmington, citing burnout from the sport and creating a buzz among sports journalists that even made its way to national media.

After enrolling at UD, the 6-foot-5 DelleDonne joined the volleyball team, where despite just playing one season in high school, she made the Colonial Athletic Association all-rookie team and helped lead the Blue Hens to the conference title and into the NCAA Tournament.

But after leaving the volleyball team shortly after the season, it's the sport of basketball that drew DelleDonne back, and where she now plans to spend the rest of her college eligibility.

"I am extremely excited to be competing in my home state and for Coach [Tina] Martin," DelleDonne said in a UD statement. "I really enjoyed playing volleyball this past fall but found myself missing basketball. Basketball has been an important part of my life and I realized that it is my first love and my passion."

Delaware coach Tina Martin will welcome DelleDonne onto a team that finished with a 15-15 record last season and returns its entire starting line-up, including its top nine scorers and seven rebounders.

"We are thrilled that Elena will be playing basketball at the University of Delaware," Martin said in the UD release. "Elena is versatile and has the ability to play multiple positions. She will have an immediate impact on our program with the skills, competitiveness and athleticism she brings to the team."

Local runners to stay local

Three local cross country runners have committed to run at Wilmington University for the upcoming 2009 season.

Kristina McCrea (Padau), Amber Turner (Newark) and Vinnie Trotta (Dickinson) will join the Division II Wildcats team, which competes in the Central Atlantic Collegiate Conference.

McCrea was a two-time All-County and All Catholic Conference performer for the Pandas. Yellowjacket Amber Turner was a two-time All-County and former All-State honoree. Trotta will give the men's team some much needed depth, according to head coach Keith Jones.

"We are thrilled to have these three runners join us and look forward to their arrival in August," Jones said in a press release announcing the commitments. "Both squads finished fourth at conferences last season, and I am confident that these new runners will give us the needed depth to make a push for the titles. The coaching staff is looking forward to some exciting things during the upcoming year."

News and Notes

Caravel baseball coach Paul Niggebrugge finished the season with 299 wins ... Greg Morrin, a senior at St. Mark's High School, was chosen by the Delaware Interscholastic Athletic Association (DIAA) as the male recipient of the 2009 DIAA/Harry Roberts Senior Scholar-Athlete Award for the state of Delaware. As the winner of this prestigious award, Morrin received a $2,000 scholarship and a commemorative plaque.

Roommates Sean McCabe and Jason Hernandez reported that an unknown person or persons had broken into their apartment. Officers discovered that several windows at the back of the ground floor residence had been broken. Several items, including a Wii and Xbox gaming systems, a laptop, a Nikon camera and McCabe's checkbook, were taken. Both men could not think of any possible suspects, but McCabe stated that he had seen a small yellow pickup truck near the clubhouse last week. The truck had contained a driver and a black male standing next to it at the time. McCabe said that he had never seen either man before at the complex.

Van stolen from nursery

Police are investigating a vehicle robbery from the Newark Day Nursery, located at 921 Barksdale Road. Employees of the nursery stated that the vehicle, a white 1997 Dodge 3500 Maxi passenger van was stolen from their parking lot on the morning of May 29.

Employees said that the van was still in the lot when they left at 8:00 p.m. the night before and that the van was secured. Around noon on the afternoon of May 29, the van was found, still running, in the rear lot of 214 King William Drive.

A witness stated that he saw the van when he walked his dog at 6 a.m. that morning, but that there were no suspects in or near the van.

Condo burglary and vandalism

On Sunday morning, the Newark Police Department responded to the Washington House Condominiums for a report of burglary, theft and vandalism. Upon arrival, it was discovered that two males and one female forced open a security door and gained access to several areas of the building.

The building is currently occupied by residents and some units are vacant and/or under construction. While in the building, the three suspects damaged the interior of two condos that were under construction, and threw items off the fourth floor balconies. Then, they broke into a storage area, where personal items were removed.

They also damaged other areas throughout the building by breaking fire control equipment, emptying fire extinguishers, damaging light fixtures and removing signs from walls and doors. The total amount of damage is estimated to be approximately $640 and the total amount of stolen property is estimated to be approximately $940. All three suspects can be seen on the building's video surveillance system.

Anyone with additional information about this incident should contact Detective Greg D'Elia at 302-366-7110 ext. 132. The photo is available at ledgerdelaware.com.

NEWARK NITE 2009

Family fun will abound at annual Newark Nite

By REBECCA SEWALD

RSEWALD@CECILWHIG.COM

There's something special about that one night of the year when downtown Newark transforms from its daily hectic scene into the lively street festival that has come to be known as Newark Nite.

"This is something that people look forward to every year," recreations superintendent Joe Spadafino said. "There are not many times of the year when you can walk the length of Main Street without worrying about traffic."

The annual event will kick off Saturday evening at 5 p.m. and continue through 9:30 p.m., encompassing a large portion of Main Street. Featuring family-friendly entertainment and activities, organizers are expecting more than 20,000 visitors to attend Newark Nite this year.

"It's a street festival that runs from Tyre Avenue to south College Avenue, through pretty much all of Main Street," Spadafino said. "The street will be closed to vehicles and lined with hundreds of vendors. It will feature things like community information, craft vendors and Main Street businesses."

Event-goers will be able to browse through a variety of exhibits offered by local organizations, businesses and civic groups, as well as vendor booths selling everything from artwork and crafts to food and beverages.

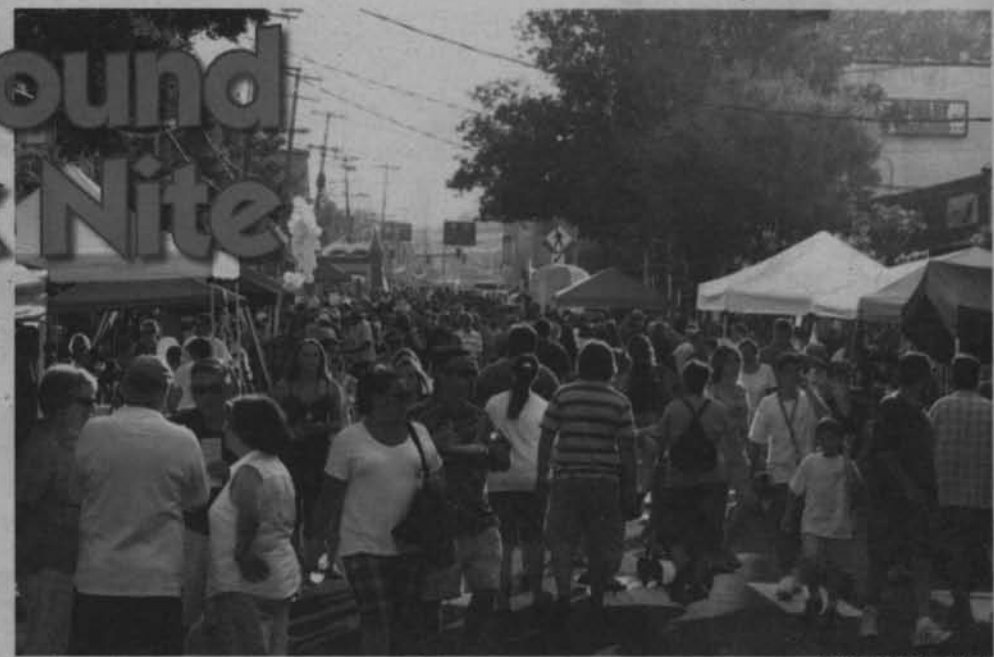

But that's not all Newark Nite has to offer.

The event is known for its non-stop entertainment lineup.

Throughout the evening, visitors can enjoy live performances on three different stages, including the Main Stage at Newark Shopping Center, the Academy Building Stage on the Academy Building lawn and the Children's Stage on the corner of Main Street and Tyre Avenue.

Musical performances will featured everything from oldies and classic rock to country, folk, blues and jazz. Participating bands include Triple Play, 61 North, Gang of Two, the Cole Younger Band and Late for Dinner, as well as an act sponsored by radio station WXCY 103.7 FM.

The young at heart won't be left out, either. Kids can visit the children's area, where stage performances will include appearances by DC Perry and

John Hadfield. Other nearby entertainment that young visitors can look forward to are pony rides, inflatables, games and a make-and-take craft station.

Also featured throughout the evening will be demonstrations by local organizations.

Participants include HEAL Delaware, the Nova Dance Company, Fort Delaware Society, Trilogy Salon & Day Spa, Danceworks Dance Studio and ATA Martial Arts.

Event-goers who plan to drive to the event should arrive early, as Main Street will close to traffic at 4 p.m. Free parking will be available in all Newark city parking lots, as well as at the Trabant University Center at 17 W. Main St.

Entertainers to make Newark Nite a harmonious occasion

By REBECCA SEWALD

RSEWALD@CECILWHIG.COM

Newark Nite will hit a high note this year as it hosts a variety of musical acts. This year's lineup will include performances by eight different entertainers. Here's a roundup of several of those participating:

61 NORTH

With the release of their debut record, "On the Road," 61 North has continued to grow as a band, gaining attention from music fans throughout the Delaware Valley.

Taking the Main Stage at Newark Shopping Center Saturday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., the four-piece ensemble will capture the audience with a blend of new and old sound. The band is known for its fusion of blues, rock, jazz, funk and progressive music.

61 North consists of guitarists Brian Lapann and Ryan Nelson, as well as bassist Bob Comfort and drummer Joe Bross. Since forming as a band, the group has received recognition from radio station 93.7 WSTW for their original song, "Loaded Gun," which received an award for best rock song in 2008-2009. For more details about the band, visit www.61northband.com.

COLE YOUNGER BAND

Incorporating a blend of folk, rock and country music, The Cole Younger Band features both original and cover tunes. Led by singer-songwriter John Pollard, the ensemble also features bassist Glen Walther, lead guitarist Chris Benjamin, keyboardist Joe DiGiacomo and drummer Bob Tobasko. Fans can catch the band on the Academy Building Stage on the Academy Building lawn from 7 to 8 p.m. Saturday.

The band formed in the early 1980s and has since released two CDs, "Ride On" and "Younger All the Time." The band is currently working on a third album, titled "Should the Heavens Fall."

Finding inspiration from the renowned James-Younger Gang, which included the legendary Jesse James, many of the band's signature songs feature lyrics about the outlaws' famous exploits. More information about the band is available online at www.coleyoungband.com.

LATE FOR DINNER

Taking the Academy Building Stage from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday, Late for Dinner will close out Newark Nite with a mix of oldies, classic rock and country music. The band consists of guitarists Rick Griffin and Dave Furey, a musical duo who's performed together at venues throughout the region.

Among the wide variety of songs Late for Dinner brings to the stage are classics like Elvis' "All Shook Up," and The Drifters' "Under the Boardwalk." Others include popular tunes like "Brown Eyed Girl," "Pretty Woman," "Run Around Sue" and "Mustang Sally."

For additional information about the band, go to www.latefordinner.info.

JOHN HADFIELD

The young at heart will enjoy being amused by children's entertainer John Hadfield as he takes the Children's Stage from 7 to 8 p.m. Saturday.

Hadfield appears in a variety of roles during his time on stage — sometimes as a comical clown, sometimes as a zany scientist and other times as a musical sensation. With shows that often feature kid-friendly music and a variety of tricks, such as juggling, plate spinning and even a little magic, the entertainer is always a hit with young audiences.

Hadfield's latest show is titled "Monkeys in the House" and features original music with entertaining and educational lyrics, as well as a variety of comedy and magic skits that are fun for the whole family. Learn more about the entertainer at www.thescience-show.com.
