BEST SPELLER TO GET AWARD IN STATE "BEE"

Each School in County Will
Have Prizes for Titlist;
Filing Limit Set

CONTEST RULES GIVEN
Pencil and Certificate for School Winner; Affair To Start on March 17

Each school in New Castle County will have awards for its best spellers. A handsome, unbreakable, pyralin pencil will be presented to each school champion. This pencil can write 8,500 words without refilling. Beautiful certificates will be presented to the best speller in the 6th, 7th, and 8th grades in each school in New Castle County. So, a child does not necessarily have to get up into the semi-finals to be awarded for spelling merit in the big state-wide Spelling Bee.

March 17 Last Day

Zero hour along the Delaware Spelling Bee front is set for 7:30 o'clock the evening of March 17. At this time, the first big local county matches will get under way in New Castle, Kent and Sussex.

THE NEWARK POST is receiving numerous inquiries about the approaching battle of words. One of the most frequent questions from children and parents alike, has to do with the rules of the plan. THE NEWARK POST, therefore, is publishing today the following rules which will not only govern the county and state match, but will also be applicable to the national program in Washington.

Do Real Studying

With these worthwhile awards in the offing and the date set for the opening match announced, it behooves every child to settle down and do some real studying.

There can only be one Delaware champion, but the benefits derived by the thousand of boys and girls in the educational plan, however, will be many fold, and useful in years to come.

Spelling Bee Rules

Choice of written or oral work is allowed for all school contests preceding the county matches, in which oral spelling shall be used exclusively. Contestants may pronounce words before or after spelling them or not at all.

Any speller failing to spell a word shall drop out of the contest, and another word shall be given; to the next in line.

When the contestants have been reduced to two, the speller who first corrects a word misspelled by the other and then spells the next word on the list shall be declared the champion.

A contestant may request that a word be repronounced or defined.

The New Castle County Teachers' Association will hold its annual spring meeting in the Newark public school on Friday. Dr. Samuel Engle Burr, superintendent of New Castle Schools, and president of the association, will preside.

Principal speakers will include Dr. Harry V. Holloway, of Dover, state superintendent of public instruction; Dr. John L. The program will begin at 9 o'clock, Friday morning with musical selections by pupils of the Newark schools under the direction of M. W. Tonge and Miss Elizabeth Staton. R. W. Heim, president of the Delaware State Education Association, will welcome the teachers on behalf of the state.

Change Starting Hour

The University Hour committee has requested THE NEWARK POST to call attention to the change in time for the University Hour program scheduled on Monday evening, March 8.

In order to give ample opportunity for guests at the Parent-Student dinner at the Women's College to get to Mitchell Hall, the lecture will not begin until 8:15 instead of 8 o'clock as formerly.

As announced in these columns last week, the program will be an illustrated lecture by Captain John B. Noel, world-famous photographer and traveler, on England's famous Thames River.

The title of the lecture is "The Royal River," and the pictures will be shown with the unique color dissolvograph, Captain Noel's own invention.

WORRILOW SETS MEETING SERIES

County Farmers to Hear New Conservation Program;
Five Gatherings

Farmers in White Clay Creek Hundred and neighboring sections have been storming the office of County Agricultural Agent George M. WorriLOW here with inquiries concerning the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Up to the present time, however, the program has not been definitely settled upon, but the particulars have been established.

Double Last Year

New Castle County farmer participation in the program last year was double that in any other phase of the AAA activities. It is expected that the sign-up this year will be even greater than in 1936, due to certain changes in the new program which are expected to work to the advantage of the farmer.

In order that interested farmers may become fully acquainted with details of the plan, a series of special meetings has been arranged throughout the county.

Sessions Start Monday

The schedule of meetings is as follows: Monday, March 8, Newark, Wolf Hall, University of Delaware, 7:45 p. m.; Tuesday, March 9, Middletown Fire Hall, 1:30 p. m.; Tuesday, March 9, Townsend School, 7:45 p. m.; Wednesday, March 10, St. George's, Sutton Hall, 7:45 p. m.; Friday, March 12, Hockessin School, 7:45 p. m.

Working with Mr. WorriLOW in arranging and carrying out these meetings is a special committee of officers and other officials of the New Castle County Agricultural Conservation Association.

From All Sections

State Vocational Heads Meet at Dover Tomorrow

The Delaware Vocational Association will meet in Dover on Friday, March 5, at the Hotel Richardson, where the annual banquet will be staged at 6:30 o'clock.

Dr. L. A. Wilson, assistant commissioner for vocational and extension education in the State of New York, will be the principal speaker. Miss Marion F. Breck, state supervisor of home economics who is president of the association, will officiate at the meeting.

During the 11 years that Miss Breck has been in Delaware, there has been a tremendous increase in the number and size of home economics departments throughout the state. There are now, outside of Wilmington, 30 departments in which 3,227 girls are being trained.

The growth in the number of students is especially noticeable among girls in the upper high school grades. Professor R. W. Heim, state director of vocational education, will be in the Newark group attending the affair. Mr. Heim has been responsible for much of the progress shown by vocational education in Delaware.

DAIRY CENTER TO BE OPENED FOR TOURISTS

Local Party to Visit Famed
Research Station on Trip
To Beltsville

TO VIEW EXPERIMENTS

Delaware dairymen and their families are invited to attend the dairy tour sponsored by the New Castle County Guernsey Breeders' Association on Thursday, March 11, F. Ed. Hitchens, president, announced this week through County Agricultural Agent George M. WorriLOW, Newark.

The tour will include a visit to the United States Dairy Experiment Station located at the National Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville, Md.

To Study Experiments

Plans for the day include a study and explanation of the various experiments being carried on at the dairy station and will cover the following phases of dairy education: pasture management, mastitis and abortion, milk secretion, nutrition of dairy cows and dairy cattle breeding.

The results of these experiments will aid any dairy farmer in deciding the answers to many perplexing questions relative to the practical and economical management of his dairy herd.

Designed To Help

According to Thomas W. Mosely, dairy husbandman in charge of the station, the experiments are designed to help the farmer in solving his everyday problems, and Mr. Mosely promises those farmers on the tour a very interesting and instructive day.

The tour will start from Old College, University of Delaware, promptly at 8:30 o'clock on Thursday morning. The road to Beltsville is excellent, the tour following a route through Conowingo and Bel Air which affords much unusual scenery.

Every New Castle County farmer, whether he is particularly interested in dairying or not, has been extended an invitation to join the entourage.

Newark Student Has Role In Play at Sweet Briar

Miss Ethel Hauber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hauber, Capital Trail, will take part in "Pride and Prejudice" which will be produced by Paint and Patches, the student dramatic association at Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Va., where she is a student.

She will play the role of Amelia in Helen Jerome's dramatization of Jane Austen's famous book, which recently completed a long run on Broadway. The show will take place on Friday and Saturday.

Queen Elizabeth, daughter of the much married Henry VIII, was a spinster.

General Motors Executive to Address Automobile Drivers' Safety Gathering

Dr. W. J. Davidson, chief assistant to Charles F. Kettering of the General Motors research department, will be the principal speaker at the fifth annual Automobile Operators' Safety Rally, which will be held Sunday afternoon, March 14, at three o'clock in the Aldine Theatre, 8th and Market Streets, Wilmington.

The Safety Rally is being sponsored by the Commercial Vehicle Committee and Fleet Representatives Section of the Delaware Safety Council. The rally is open to the public and in addition to the main address, the following program is being prepared:

Local Man Presides

A short memorial prayer for last year's 37,500 automobile dead will be made by the Rev. Park W. Huntington, a director of the Delaware Safety Council. Immediately following Rev. Huntington's prayer, taps will be sounded by a group of American Legion buglers. Hugh F. Gallagher, Newark, chairman of the Council's Commercial Vehicle Committee, will preside.

Safety motion pictures entitled, "Remember Jimmie" and "Everybody's Business," will be projected.

BACHELORS IN TOWN APPROVE NEW MEASURE

Few Objections Raised to Tax
Leap Year Castoffs Get
Added Chance

"IT'S CHEAP," "SNAP"

Local bachelors were rudely awakened from a listless, dream-like existence last week and joined a statewide group of unattached male workers when Representative William A. Ringler, of Milford, introduced in the Delaware House, a bill creating an annual assessment of $50 on all single men over 30.

In what seems to be a sectional conspiracy against the happy-go-lucky masculine members of society, the Maryland Senate passed a bill raising the marriage license fee from $2 to $5 in Cecil County and it looks like the to-date women haters are under a crossfire.

John "Snap" (Maternal Instinct) Fisher, projectionist at the State Theatre and a member of the bachelor clan, roared his approval of the bill, announcing, "it's cheap at twice the price," but his statement lacked conviction as he lent volume to his words, creating an obvious subterfuge. (Are you listening Kirkwood?)

Heretofore unhampered members of the male sex, once relaxed in an indolent Utopian stage of existence, are now forced to consider more seriously that antiquated statement "two can live as cheaply as one," as they attempt to weigh advantages of both sides. Is it worth $50 to stay single? That is the perplexing question being milled over in the minds of those concerned.

Considers It High

Otis Gregg, one of the leading local exponents of bachelorhood said: "the tax is too d—d high. I'd be willing to pay $25, but $50 looks like a deliberate legislative move against us."

While these local figures were upholding the bill, debonaire and smoothie Harry Heath, put a little more crease in his trousers, washed his face and gave his hair an extra comb, as he obviously prepared to evade the tax via the marriage route.

TOWN COUNCIL SEEKS TO CUT BIG BALANCES

Change Proposed in Section of Ordinance Adopted
Originally in 1911

CONSIDER NEW SEWERS

Delaware Avenue and Chapel
Street to Benefit by Additional Drains

A proposed change in the ordinance governing the collection of light and power bills by reducing the period of grace from three months with an additional ten days before shutting off current, to 30 days, plus ten for settlement, and sewer improvements to relieve periodic flood conditions on Delaware Avenue and South Chapel Street were the main subjects considered by the Council of Newark at the March session Monday night.

Mayor Frank Collins presided at the meeting which included Councilman C. C. Hubert, G. E. Ramsey, C. E. Johnson, E. F. Richards, Herman Wollaston and George F. Ferguson, in addition to Town Engineer George C. Price and Secretary C. Vernon Steele.

Follows Utility Plan

The ordinance change which received its second reading prior to its adoption or rejection at the April session, follows the collection plan used by the majority of public utilities throughout the country.

Backers of the change point out that since it is necessary for the town to make monthly settlement with the Delaware Power and Light Company for current, it is equally necessary that users settle on the same basis.

The present section of the ordinance was passed in 1911. More than $3,000 is overdue on the town's books in power and light accounts, as compared to Smyrna's annual statement which shows only $72.01 overdue by consumers there. The 30-day, plus ten plan, is in vogue in the latter town.

Price Submits Plan

Engineer Price submitted a proposal for sewer improvements on Haines Street to cost, when completed, about $7,800. The sketch calls for a 24-inch storm sewer running from Delaware Avenue to Lovett Avenue where it will empty into a 30-inch sewer to carry south into an open ditch crossing the Maxwell lot, which, in turn, connects with a brook running south under the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks.

While granting approval for relief labor to be used for digging the open ditch section below the unimproved portion of Haines Street, south of Lovett Avenue, the Council withheld action on the sewer itself. The ditch will start at a point 570 feet below Lovett Avenue.

COMMERCE BODY TO MEET MONDAY

Interest shown at the scheduled meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce Monday night in the offices of the Council of Newark, 26 Academy Street, will largely determine the organization's future.

Persistent though scattered inquiries by various local business leaders have served to arouse heads of the group which has been comparatively dormant for three years.

Consisting of ten officers and directors who have kept a skeleton organization together as a means of protecting the charter, the body has shown little activity since 1934.

Founded in 1921

Organized about 1921 by local merchants, professional men and other interested leaders, the group expanded until a membership of 85 was recorded at one point in its history.

Through a number of combined causes, including lack of coordination and a general waning of interest, the organization slowly declined until it all but expired in 1934.

Weldon C. Waples heads the body as president, with George Danby and J. E. Dougherty holding the respective offices of vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Other holdover members, all directors, are: Magistrate Daniel Thompson, E. L. Richards, J. Irving Dayett, Dr. G. W. Rhodes, Louis Handloff, J. K. Johnston and D. A. McClintock.

Lesson for March 7

LIFE HERE AND HEREAFTER THROUGH CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—John 14:1-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me, John 14:6.
PRIMARY TOPIC—In the Heavenly Father's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Many Mansions.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why We Need Christ Always.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Life Here and Hereafter through Christ.

It was the night before the darkest day in the world's history. On the morrow the Son of man was to hang on Calvary's tree for the sins of the world—for your sins, and for mine. But for the moment he was alone with his disciples. The last Passover had been eaten together, the betrayer had been discovered, and the Lord had told them that he was soon to go where they could not follow. Peter had, by his bold self-assurance, brought forth the prophecy of his denial. The disciples were disturbed. Then came from the Saviour the words of comfort, assurance, and power which have been the strength and solace of his people through all the centuries. Our life both here and hereafter is in His mighty hands.

I. Comfort (vv. 1-3).
Troubled hearts are everywhere—in the palace and in the cottage, on land and sea. There is a place of rest, thank God! There is One who still speaks the majestic words, "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me."

His comfort is one which covers the future life, for he says:

1. "I go to prepare a place" (v. 2). Concern about future destiny is settled at once when Christ Jesus becomes our Lord and Saviour. We need worry no longer. He has gone on before to the Father's house to prepare a place for his own. When we come to that ever-peaceful shore we shall not come as strangers, but as sons and daughters to a prepared place in our Father's house.

2. "I will come again" (v. 3) is the word that gives present meaning to the future promise. He not only prepares the place, but he is who brings us there. The glorious hope of his coming again is the Christian's greatest comfort and mightiest incentive to useful, holy living.

II. Assurance (vv. 4-11).

The doctrine of Christian assurance is one of vital importance, and should be taught in all its scriptural power and beauty. Unfortunately it has so suffered violence at the hands of some of its friends that others have not only come to fear it, but even openly to oppose it. This is most regrettable, for it is manifest that until one has assurance he will make but little progress in Christian usefulness.

The believers assurance rests fundamentally on Christ himself. Two grounds are given in the text.
1. "I am the way, the truth, and the life" (v. 6). These words are their own best commentary. Read them again, slowly, weighing the meaning of each word. If we are in him who is the way, how safe we are! If we are not in him? Read his own solemn words in verse 6, "No man cometh unto the Father but by me." (v. 11).

In Christ dwells all the fullness of the Godhead. He is not only a supernatural being, he is God. How can anyone deny that and read his words in these verses? To do so is to make Jesus a liar and blasphemer.

III. Power (vv. 12-15).

His followers are not left in a world of sin and need as a little group of hymn-singing weaklings, thinking only of the day when they shall be in a brighter land. Ah, yes, they sing hymns and rejoice in them; they look for a better land; their weapons of warfare are not carnal—but weaklings? Oh, no! God uses them to do great and mighty things for his glory.

1. "He that believeth" (v. 12). This army of God carries the royal banner of faith.

2. "Greater works . . . shall he do" (v. 12). Jesus only began his work on earth. His greatest development was to be the joyous privilege of his followers.

3. "If ye ask . . . I will do" (v. 14). Someone has called this a signed blank check on all the resources of God. Faith fills it in, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Moody knew how to use it. So did Mueller, Livingston, J. Hudson Taylor—the list might go on indefinitely. Shall we dare to trust God and add our name as one of those who ask in faith?

The Man of Wisdom
He is a wise man who does not grieve for the things which he has not, but rejoices for those which he has.—Epicurus.

Thoughts of Good People
The thoughts of some people live so near to God, that to ask them to think of us is to ask them to pray for us.

Chief End of Education
Manhood, not scholarship, is the first aim of education.—E. T. Seton.

IF NOT MONDAY, MAYBE NEVER

United we stand—divided we do too much individual criticizing, might be a good slogan for adoption by Newark business men.

As a means of altering the situation, what remains of a once active Chamber of Commerce is being used as a nucleus for a reorganization of business heads in Newark and vicinity. The group can be re-established as a vital instrument toward the betterment of the community, but co-operation, whole hearted and unanimous, will be needed.

After Monday night it may be too late to act. Critical attitudes without a willingness to help, before or after the attempt to reorganize the body, will do no good.

Regardless of individual attitudes, opinions, likes and dislikes, every business and professional man and woman in and around Newark should be present for the forthcoming session in the Council offices.

Cite your suggestions and listen to others. If they don't meet with your approval, say so then. That's how constructive things are worked out.

Criticize if you will, vent your ire, sound off as you see fit, but show your interest in Newark by attending the Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night. After the meeting it may be too late.

Bachelors In Town Approve of New Bill

On guard, gals, Heath is huntin'. Frank, mouthpiece for the Mayer trio, which includes John and Winnie, exclaimed, "it's an outrage. Why from our family alone, a sum of $150 will be extracted. I hope that darn thing never goes through."

Grab Your Chance, Gals

Local spinsters were given one of the best opportunities of their lives, not excluding Leap Year, when the bill was introduced and are advised to avoid cosmetic skin, toupee hair, fallen arches, etc., in order to add momentum to that already created by the suggestion of the tax. It has created a furore and gives any female an entree into the heart of her actual or dream man, as the case may be. A guy will do anything to save fifty bucks. Was it the fear of this potential tax that made Dr. John Heuberger set June as his wedding month, after a year of indecision? It may have been—so gals, don't lose this chance.

List Prepared

Prepared for the convenience of feminine residents of the town is this list of confirmed bachelors—all potential husbands: Assistant Postmaster Corbett Crompton and brother, Leroy; Harry Gallagher, Jack Fosssett, Dr. Clyde M. Cox, Lawrence Bringham Brown, Chief of Police William Cunningham and brother, John; C. Vernon Steel, Fire Chief Elmer (Skinny) Ellison, Bob Cook, Prof. Ed. Schoenborn, Town Engineer George C. Price, Temple Connelly; Dr. George Ryden and Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, professors at the University of Delaware; Ralph Griffin, Clyde Robinson, C. H. Rutledge, "Uncle Ed" Powell, George Laskaris, Samuel Handoff, Paul Rice, George Walker, Stanley (DungHill) Gibbs, Jimmy Malone and Joe Lutton.

Instructions: look him over, if he's got an extra wave in his hair, a little sharper crease in his pants, and an extra shine on his shoes—go get him, he's yours, because he's not going to pay the fifty plunks.

Judges' Word Final

Though some authorities prefer one spelling and some another of words spelled in two or more ways, the rule of reason dictates that any form acceptable to standard authorities shall be adjudged correct.

Any question relating to the spelling of a word shall be referred to the judges immediately.

Should a champion be prevented for any reason from entering the next stage of the contest, the individual ranking second in the contest last won by the champion shall take his or her place. Protests must be made to the judges promptly.

The judges of the Spelling Bee are in complete control of the contest from the moment the first word is pronounced. Their decision shall be final on all questions.

Editor's Mail Bag

We hope you gain supporters—Ed.

To the Editor:

Another Delaware town will adopt the "city manager plan" which is included in a new charter for the City of Rehoboth.

Rep. P. N. Dodd introduced a bill Tuesday before the Delaware House which will give Rehoboth a new charter, a city manager form of government and create a board of public works.

During the political campaign last fall, the question of a new charter for Newark was discussed and favorable action was anticipated. To date, however, no action has been taken. Why?

All agree that our charge, old and out of date, belongs to the horse and buggy era. We need to get in line with Dover, Milford, Seaford, Delmar and Laurel, all of whom have the city manager plan.

Rehoboth, with its progressive spirit, is unwilling to remain in a rut. Newark, with a like show of spirit, can take advantage of the present able representation in the Legislature—two outstanding citizens, business men who are willing and anxious to put the town on the map.

They will act when the citizens make their demands heard. No one citizen should decide the issue, but

Attention Girls

The demand for beautiful girls has so far exceeded the supply this year in Hollywood that we soon are going to witness one of the biggest national scrambles for beauty in the history of the movies. The reason is that there are only 300 outstanding beautiful "non-name" girls now working in the movie town and virtually every one of them has suddenly become signed to "stock company" lists by the various studios, records show. "The shortage of beautiful girls has never been more serious than it is today," pointed out Samuel Goldwyn. "There has been an actual fight between studios for the 300 or so beautiful girls available in Hollywood and every one of them has been signed up on the stock contracts." To fill his own needs of the beautiful "Goldwyn Girls" for his forthcoming "Follies" Mr. Goldwyn is planning to send out teams of cameramen and test directors to various cities in the United States. This does not mean that every girl should hop on a train and go to Hollywood. Instead, watch the newspapers for the arrival of the talent scouts. They will be around soon and every girl will get a chance to show her wares. Good Luck to you All.

State Theatre House Notes

Friday and Saturday

"God's Country and the Woman," Warner Bros. brilliant picturization of the James Oliver Curwood novel of the same name, dealing with a feud between lumber companies in the deep forests of the Great Northwest comes to this theatre with George Brent and Beverly Roberts in the leading roles. The thrilling dramatic romance of the story is heightened by the fact that the scenes, almost all of which are in the open, were photographed in natural colors. Brent and Miss Roberts have an excellent supporting cast including such outstanding favorites as Barton MacLane, Robert Barrat, Allan Hale, El Brendel, Joseph King and hundreds of real lumberjacks which appear in the exciting scenes.

GEORGE BRENT Beverly Roberts

"Guns of the Pecos," a thrilling western, will be added to the bill on Saturday.

Monday and Tuesday

"Rembrandt," produced by Alexander Korda and starring Charles Laughton, the producer-star combination that gave the movie fans the memorable "Private Life of Henry VIII" brings a two day engagement to this theatre. The first film to depict the life of the great Dutch artist for whom love and inspiration always went hand in hand, "Rembrandt" offers Laughton another great human characterization. The actor, who went to Amsterdam to absorb atmosphere for this colorful portrayal, is said to bear a remarkable resemblance to the man whose love of beauty was equalled only by his genius. Gertrude Lawrence, Elsa Lanchester, who is Mrs. Laughton in private life, and Edward Chapman are featured in the imposing supporting cast.

Wednesday and Thursday

A new setting for comedy, the usually commonplace interior of a jury room, proves a fertile source of fun in "We're on the Jury," new Helen Broderick and Victor Moore screen starring vehicle. These noted mirth-makers are teamed as members of a jury trying a wife for the killing of her husband, and their efforts to swing the other tablesmen around to their view of the case and at the same time to solve the real mystery of the killing, affords plenty of dramatic action as well as gales of laughter. Philip Huston, Louise Latimer, Robert McWade and Earl Foxe are prominent in the large supporting cast. The story is based on a play by Fred Ballard.

let's get together and make a concerted request for a new charter with a referendum providing for adoption or rejection by the voters of the town.

It seems to those interested that the election next month would afford an opportunity for a poll of Newark on this important issue. Any intelligent voter will see vividly why the city manager plan should be adopted, providing they will study the audit (?) now being made, or last year's which shows the same bad business methods in vogue.

RUTLEDGE

Crossroads

Conditions in the Bi-State Baseball League have brought about a situation which demands immediate and drastic action, if the league hopes to continue operating.

Either the present rules must be tightened to the point where a definite plan of obtaining and handling players will be adhered to, or several present regulations must be cast to the four winds, throwing the league wide open to teams and players from all sections.

As the situation stands now, things are in a muddled condition with little or no chance of lining up the same towns that comprised the circuit last year, unless, of course, there is an unexpected change of heart in Aberdeen and Havre de Grace.

"THE ROAMER"

R-W-R

Resignations Filed

Elkton, as was expected, withdrew from the league at the initial meeting in February. The Barristers suffered two miserable years and almost brought financial ruination to three backers in that period. The withdrawal was no surprise.

Aberdeen indicated at the first session that there was little chance of its further participation in the group due to the attitude of townspeople there regarding Sunday baseball. While the Cannons have not entered their formal resignation, it is just as sure to come as further debates anent the Supreme Court.

Havre de Grace, faced with the task of lining up a team of temperamental and grossly over-rated stars, threw up the sponge last Sunday at Rising Sun by way of telling said stars to go play ping pong in Hades.

The Rivermen will have a team, but it will be composed of kids who play ball for the fun of it. Most likely they will accept a franchise in the Harford County League, a strictly Sunday combine.

R-W-R

Crown—No Kingdom

All of which places the Perryville team, 1936 champion, in the position of being a king without much of a realm. In fact, without Havre de Grace as a drawing card, Harry Walters, who laid a big pile of the dimes on the line for the Pandours last season, insists that he will forego baseball to devote his time to picking horses.

Taylor Biles, Pandour pilot, is endeavoring to round up backing, however, and can be counted on to have a strong team in the circuit if it is humanly possible.

With Providence going ahead, raising money, lining up players and straightening out numerous details preparatory to the start of another season, and Newark pretty well set for a banner campaign, the entrance of Fort DuPont into the Bi-State loop keeps a ray of hope glowing despite conditions in the lower end of the wheel.

After New Blood

Feelers are being extended to St. Ann's of the Wilmington Catholic League; the Diamond Ice and Coal Company outfit of the Wilmington Industrial League; the Polish-American club, 1936 champion of the Wilmington City League; Kennett Square and other likely candidates for berth.

If the league fathers consent to opening the door to outside teams it is highly likely that one of the fastest circuits ever to operate in this district can be formed. On the other hand, however, it might be a good idea to show some of the so-called stars, guys who have gained an exaggerated idea of their own worth and importance, that a league can function without their services.

Players who think they can get away with ridiculous demands for playing baseball in sectors like this, will learn through the reorganized Eastern Shore League that "it ain't in the wood," despite reported big league backing.

BI-STATE LOOP IN MUDDLE

Attempt To Assemble Tennis Interests On Sunday

HAVRE DE GRACE QUILTS LEAGUE
AS FORT DU PONT NABS OPENING

Aberdeen Thought Ready To Drop Out; Perryville Team In Questionable Status; Newark and Providence Carry On

By "The Roamer"

Little or no progress toward reorganizing for the 1937 campaign was made at the Rising Sun meeting of the Bi-State Baseball League last Sunday. A new member, Fort DuPont, was enrolled, but the session marked the official termination of Havre de Grace as an important cog in the wheel.

They're In and Out

Aberdeen, scheduled to report what could be expected from that center anent continuance in the loop, failed to send a delegate to the session. Instead of silence giving consent, however, leaders feel that the lack of interest on the part of the Cannons indicates that there will be no team from Harford County, Maryland, in the league this season.

Although stating that he was through with baseball forever, Don Cole, business manager of the Perryville entry, made lengthy comment to the effect that with Havre de Grace out of the circuit, the Pandours would not find it possible to retain their franchise.

Biles Feels Otherwise

Cole explained his opinions by adding that Havre de Grace is the one big drawing card for Perryville and with that gone there would be no incentive for the champions to continue.

No official word was brought from Harry Walters, financial backer of the club, however, and nothing definite can be determined until after another meeting has been held.

Manager Taylor Biles feels that Walters will be willing to continue in the league, and in case he isn't agreeable, the pilot will attempt to interest backing for a club in Oxford.

Newark-Providence Set

Newark and Providence along with Fort DuPont are in the process of organizing and will be ready for the opening of the campaign whether as members of the Bi-State League or some successor loop.

While the boys in the lower end of the circuit are having a merry time playing "off again, on again, Finnigan," efforts are being put forth to interest prospective member teams from Wilmington, Kennett Square and a number of other points.

Unless, however, the sorely tangled mess can be definitely straightened out at the next meeting, tentatively scheduled for the New Central Hotel, Elkton, on March 14, it is quite possible that the once vaunted Bi-State Baseball League will fade up the well known spout.

Rivermen Need Money

In explaining Havre de Grace's withdrawal, Business Manager J. Lee Johnson, who is also secretary-treasurer of the loop, stated that close to $400 will be required to clear up outstanding debts and defray costs of needed repairs to the fence and stands at Rivermen Field.

With players, around whom a team in Havre de Grace would have to be built, showing no interest in reorganization plans, officers of the club are turning their efforts toward the development of young players. A franchise in the Harford County League will be sought.

Newarkers Present

Charles H. Rutledge, president, affiliated at the Rising Sun meeting which included the following delegates: Havre de Grace, J. Nathan McVey, Donald Mergler and Johnson; Perryville, Donald C. Cole and Taylor R. Biles; Newark, Huey Morris, John Murray, Paul Whiteman and Cleaver Potts; Fort DuPont, Sgt. M. A. Everett; Providence, Reynolds Mackie; and Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Corp. James Bullock, who stated that the post could not support a team in replying to an invitation extended prior to the session.

CANNING AID

Experiments indicate that there is less liquid during processing if air bubbles are removed from the packed jar by thrusting a knife down the sides, and if the jars are filled only to within one-half inch of the top.

Flamingo's nest is a cone of mud twenty inches high.

OUT-OF-BOUNDS PLAYS
(Thirteenth in the Series)

A tight defense has had your team bottled all evening, and the score is close as you enter the fourth quarter. Now you have the ball in your scoring zone—the atmosphere is tense; here's when every basket counts. Suddenly your offensive is interrupted by a defensive guard who manages to deflect the ball over the sidelines. The opponents relax for the moment. There's your cue! A lapse even for a second should prove fatal at this stage of the game. But, can you take advantage of it? It is your out, but have you a set-play to spring at just such a time? You should have, and, moreover, you can have; but don't wait until the fourth period of a close game to plan one. Organize now a few simple plays such as the following, illustrated by the four diagrams:

O-OFFENSIVE MEN D-DEFENSIVE MEN
PASS DRIBBLE RUN

Play "A": 0-1 takes the ball out of bounds. 0-3, 0-4, and 0-5 cut toward the right side of the court and slightly toward 0-1. 0-2 cuts around the free-throw circle receives the throw-in pass under the basket. Note that all players must move at the instant the official hands the ball to 0-1. 0-4 and 0-5 will set up a screen to enable 0-2 to elude his man, D-2.

Play "B": 0-1 again takes the ball outside. This time he passes in to 0-4 right on the foul line, and, cutting under the basket, receives a snap return from 0-4 for a lay-up. This play is made possible by the fact that 0-2 screens 0-1's man, D-1, while 0-3 and 0-5 fake in order to draw their men out of position.

Play "C": Use this play when the ball is out of bounds on the sidelines, not at the end of the court. 0-1 fakes a pass to 0-2 who is coming toward him, and passes, instead, to 0-4, a short distance away. 0-2 screens D-1, allowing 0-1 to get into the open where he receives a pass from 0-4, and dribbles in for a lay-up.

Play "D": (Let's have somebody else score this time—0-1 must be getting tired). The set-up is the same as in play "C": 0-1 fakes the ball out of bounds and passes to 0-4 who pivots and passes cross-court to 0-5. 0-5 dribbling down the court for a shot. 0-1, in the meantime, goes down the sidelines toward the basket and may be in a position to receive a pass from 0-5 if the latter be covered for a shot. One caution on such plays: do not become discouraged if they fail from time to time. A good average for them would be three or four a game. After all that would be six or eight points, and many contests have been lost by less.

This is the end of Coach Simester's "Basket and Bleachers" series. Did you like it?

HEN HURLERS
TO TOSS 'EM
SOON IN GYM

Good Year Expected With 8 Lettermen Back; Coach Not Yet Chosen

ROBERTS IS CAPTAIN

Blue Hen hurlers will "break the ice" next week when the University of Delaware diamond men will start preliminary warming up exercises in preparation for the first game with Virginia Medical College, the first tilt of the Southern trip, which will be played March 30. Lynchburg, Hampden-Sydney and Randolph Macon will follow on successive days to round out the remainder of the annual tour.

No Coach As Yet

Selection of a coach is uncertain as yet, pending action of the athletic council. Gerald (Doc) Doherty who has guided the Hens through the past several seasons will act as coach until official appointment. According to Coach Doherty, practice will be held on the athletic field, should weather conditions permit, otherwise the boys will go through their early paces in the gymnasium.

Captain Dick Roberts, local backstop, and seven other lettermen return from last year to form the nucleus of what promises to be a successful club. Other varsity men include: Earl McCord, Harold Hickman, Lew Carey, Bob Carpenter, Kirby Preston, Phil Reed and Bill Deaver. Ernie George, a local boy who starred in the outfield last year, will not be eligible to play this season.

Jackson To Pitch

Roland (Boney) Jackson, another local hurler, will join the Blue Hen pitching staff this year which boasts of two other dependable moundsmen, Deaver and Reed, of last year's team, and Charlie Allen, a Seaford freshman, who is able, according to reports, to do tricks with the sphere.

New additions to the team include: Earl Sheats, well-known in local baseball circles as a brilliant all-around player; Ed Graham, another outstanding freshman; Jack Daly, former Newark High School star who has received recognition for his play at the local institution and for town teams; and Ferris Wharton, also a former high school and Augusta Military Academy performer.

Indications point to a highly successful season. West Chester State Teachers College will open the home season on April 10.

Jordan Captures
Top Prizes With Good Shoot Mark

Winning three chickens and a pair of second-place prizes, Harvey Jordan topped rival marksmen at the weekly trap shoot sponsored by the Newark Baseball Club at Dameron's Field last Saturday.

Other winners were: Rip Smith, chicken; Slim Everett, chicken; Ernie Cornog, turkey; Paul Whiteman, chicken; and Hitchens, chicken. Second prize winners were: Price Jackson, W. Wilson and Kinsey Whiteman.

Individual scores were recorded as follows: Jordan, 43x56; Barrow, 26x48; Jackson, 15x25; Singles, 17x29; Smith, 16x37; Everett, 24x43; Collins, 3x15; E. Cornog, 16x29; Little, 15x28; Wilson, 20x39; P. Whiteman, 20x33; P. Cornog, 4x11; Spry, 8x30; Wood, 6x16; K. Whiteman, 11x20; Edmanson, 4x15; Hitchens, 6x7; Crowl, 2x5; Lloyd, 5x7; R. Whiteman, 3x5; Godwin, 6x10. Jordan, Barrow, Jackson and Singles shot from handicap distances.

A 30-pound turkey, raffled off by the ball club, was won Monday night by Clarence Richards, E. Delaware Avenue.

W. E. MOORE
LOCAL GROUP

Local Resident, Membership Chairman of D. L. T. A. To Present Details

MAY ORGANIZE CLUB

Feminine Interest Is Also Paged; Miss Mary Gaffney Is Female Leader

An attempt to organize local tennis enthusiasts will be made Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the offices of County Agriculture Agent George M. Worrlow, 91 East Main Street.

Local Resident To Speak

William E. Moore, Sr., of Newark, chairman of membership in the Delaware Lawn Tennis Association, will attend the meeting and present details and information relative to joining that organization. Whether or not the group will enlist in the ranks of this body will be decided by a vote at the meeting.

Membership in the D.L.T.A. automatically places a club in the Middle Atlantic Lawn Tennis Association and in turn, in the National organization.

It is a generally accepted fact that the U.S.L.T.A. and its component clubs have been almost entirely responsible for the growth, development and popularity of tennis in the United States and throughout the world.

From an international standpoint, the U.S.L.T.A. has taken the lead in the development of the game through the donation by Dwight F. Davis of the Davis Cup which has been competed for each year since 1900 by a steadily increasing number of nations.

It has developed for the boy, girl and junior, giving districts, sectional and national championship tournaments with suitable trophies in these events.

Many Expected To Attend

Because of the increasing success of tennis tournaments held in this town, as interest has developed during the last few years, a good turnout is expected for the initial meeting. Should the majority of those present signify approval of joining the D.L.T.A., organization will be affected immediately.

Feminine interest is being marshaled under the guiding hands of Miss Mary Lou Gaffney, tennis devotee, who is attempting to assemble the feminine interests in the town. Anyone interested is invited to attend the Sunday meeting.

AFTER COPPING FOUR of the first six games played, Coach Loyal Clark's courtmen suffered a relapse starting with the University of Baltimore tilt that extended through ten games to the climax of the season when Penn and Stevens swapped verdicts. The Hens were a first-half team.

Looking back over the season, we found only four decisive victories scored over the local club and the definitely established fact that the Hens were a first-half team.

Rutgers (76-38), Baltimore (44-38), West Chester (44-29), and Bucknell (47-29) romped away with victories but even West Chester was forced to "turn it on" after being held to a 16-16 deadlock at the half-way mark.

On the New York trip, at half-time, Coach Clark's charges had nose into a 26-25 lead in the Pratt tilt and a 19-15 edge against Stevens. Second half relapse, however, resulted in 4-40 and 38-30 defeats.

IT WAS QUITE A FEAT for the Hens in their initial tilt to hold a strong St. Joseph's court combine to 37-30 count and when the local lad took, in turn, Osteopathy and Hampden-Sydney, the horizon took on a rosy hue. The Rutgers tilt interrupted the Haverford and P. M. C. conquest and at this point the Chickens and their followers were riding high (two defeats against four victories) for what promised to be the most successful court campaign in years.

It was at this point that the University of Baltimore emerged with the verdict and started the local club on its extended streak of defeats. Washington College followed up with a meagre 30-28 decision, with the Hens performing sans three of their stars. The Hens were confident of victory in the return contest. West Chester easily emerged victorious and Bucknell, sporting an effective zone defense, a formidable to the Blue and Gold, garnered 47 points while the Chickens were annexing only 28.

Opposing Dickinson on the home floor, Coach Clark's charges made a valiant attempt to redeem themselves and took a 20-16 lead over a strong Red Devil team at the mid-point. Unable to hold this advantage, however, the Hens dropped to the rear and a 40-35 defeat was added to the list. M. C. averaged the early season defeat and Washington College surprised a highly over-confident local team in the return engagement, easily easing a 31-22 conquest.

American League Umpire

THE NEWARK POST is especially fortunate in being able to present a series of articles written exclusively for its columns by Bill McGowan, famous umpire employed by the American League—Ed. Note.

Article II

Source of Pride

It's always been a source of pride to me knowing that the first paychecks I drew for umpiring came from the cradle of the Eastern Shore League. It was about twenty years ago that Doll Richardson of Dover, and Dr. Walter L. Grier of Milford signed me to umpire their bitter series.

It started out to be a best out of even proposition, but wound up, I believe, with Milford taking eight of fifteen games. Every game was a stubbornly fought contest. The fans came from miles around to see these thrilling struggles.

The average attendance was 1,500 but at one game I saw over 3,000 people, among them were five ex-Governors of Delaware and Maryland, besides the Governors and Senators then in office.

Galaxy of Stars

What made the series so interesting was the fact that each team "padded up" for the next game. In the beginning, home town boys and several youngsters from Wilmington, namely, Russell Smith and Johnny Naylor, were regulars in the line ups. In a short while they were bringing to Dover and Milford, players like Shorty Long of the University of Pennsylvania; Bill Morgan, star pitcher of the Delaware County League; Doc (Dr. Walter) Cariss, former coach at Penn; Jimmy Jackson, former big leaguer, who managed Wilmington to its only flag in organized baseball; Joe Knotts, leading hitter of the Tri-State circuit; Charley Home Run Johnson, who also played in the majors, and many other well known players.

Another season rolled by and a league was formed comprising Milford, Seaford, Cambridge and Salisbury.

Each League Starts

Talk about your red hot ball games, saw plenty of them, in this compact little loop, which, I believe, formed the foundation of the Eastern Shore League, organized some years later.

Some great ball players were developed in the Old Peach League. Then referred to as the Del-Mar league, but called the "Tin-Can" circuit by the players, all jumps being made in automobiles.

On the Seaford club were Joe Boley, who played shortstop for the A's during their pennant streak of '29, '30, '31; Jimmy Dykes who now manages the Chicago White Sox; and Eddie Egan, who won 27 games for one of Connie Mack's last-place clubs.

Incidentally, Boley, Dykes and Egan as players and the writer as umpire, in addition to starting our careers on the diamond in the Peach League, went through world series all at the same time.

YER OUT!

Bill Sees Dykes
Milford was playing in Seaford one Saturday afternoon. I had wired Connie Mack to send down a scout look over a pitcher named Jamison who had been winning regularly for Milford club.

Connie Mack sent down Mike Drennan, his chief scout, to look my prospect over. You can imagine how happy I felt when Jamison was picked out of the box after two or three innings.

Scout Drennan, approaching me for the game, remarked: "Billy, I don't like your pitcher at this time as a prospect, but I'm glad to see the wire to Connie. Who is that boy on third base, playing with pants hanging around his ankles afternooon?"

"His name is Jimmy Dykes," I replied. "Well whatever his name is, he will be one of the Athletics' infielders before I leave here tonight," Drennan said.

And that fans, was Jimmy Dykes' introduction to big league baseball.

Despite the Hens' hanging up 47 points, Drexel added to the string of set-backs by rolling up 50 points and the two New York clubs, Pratt and Stevens, rounded out the defeat string. Just why this losing streak was started and extended over the last half of the schedule is problematical. Lack of reserve strength, inability to coordinate in the clutches and lack of a second-half punch should round out the story. Who knows?

MISCELLANEOUS—Jack Kearns and Ferris Wharton going "hero worshipers" and getting George Raft's autograph at the Cotton Club while on the New York trip. . . . Mary Livingston and Jack Pearl (the Baron) at the same table (with Raft, not the local lads). . . . "Spike" McCord was charged the nominal price of $1.00 for a ham sandwich at the same joint and consoled himself with the statement, "Well, you get coal slaw with it, anyway." "Teddie" Wilson, on the subway, kibitzing over the shoulder of a Chinaman (reading a Chinese newspaper) and exclaiming, "Holy smokes, the Japs are at it again!" . . . maybe there's an unannounced branch of the language department at Delaware. . . . Two bits for a cup of coffee and the same for cigarettes. . . . hark to the groans of creaking purses and walling pocketbooks. . . . the price for going cosmopolitan.

Coach Ed Bardo's tank men assembled sufficient calories to defeat St. Joseph's and the Junior Prom by a 42-27 count. . . . After failing to cop a first place in the first four events, "Toots" Carpenter came through in the backstroke to set off the fireworks; Captain Kenworthy annexed the breast-stroke; Lippincott the 100 yard freestyle and the relay team fanned to lead in the swamping.

Alexandra (The Goon) Zebrowski, Washington College pivot man who led in the Sho-men's whitewashing of Delaware, was held to a field goal and two foul tosses by Uvanni, Western Maryland flash who garnered 21 points for himself. The 30-26 victory scored by W. M. deadlocked the two teams for second place in the Maryland Collegiate League. Mike Pellino, star guard of the University of Baltimore cage team, a prominent figure in another of the Hens' defeats, has been appointed by Coach John Ogden as captain for next year. A worthy award to an excellent performer.

Bill Deaver, Blue Hen hurler last year, who was banned the last part of the schedule because of heart trouble, worked off energy with the Elkton ball club in the Bi-State League during the summer. He'll be on the mound for the Hens this year. Hard luck seems to be tagging the heels of Jack Daly. . . . a leg, an eye and now another leg injury suffered in the Pratt tilt, is the lot of this ill-fated star.

Beagles In Specialty Show At Glasgow Site

The Sixth Annual Spring Specialty Show of the Eastern Beagle Club will be held at Glasgow on June 6, according to announcement forwarded to owners this week by Raymond Buckingham, secretary. Horace F. Shearer, Pittsburgh, has again consented to judge the show.

In line with the club's policy, cash premiums are again being increased as follows: in all classes of three or more entries $5 will go to winners, $3 to second and $2 to third-place dogs. In every class with only two entries, the winning hound will receive $2.

Prizes of $25 will go to the best dog or bitch in the puppy classes, novice classes and limit classes. The committee is working on complete premium lists to be forwarded at an early date.

Elkton Bowlers Defeat Aberdeen in Match Here

Winning two out of three games, the Elkton team of the Wednesday Night Bowling League downed Aberdeen by a total of 2552-2484 at the Legion Alleys Saturday night.

"Bottles" Marquess of the winners set the pace for both teams with a score of 539, closely followed by Charlie Weldin's 538. Rudolph had a 533 count for the Elkton outfit while C. Day, 530, J. Day, 520 and Honer, 510, led Aberdeen's bid.

Jimmy Martin In Close Fight For Billiards Crown

Facing Tommy Riale at Rising Sun tonight and listed to entertain Ches Hoss, Oxford, here next Wednesday night, Jimmy Martin, Newark, is the center of a great three-way fight for the 1937 championship of the Tri-State Pocket Billiards League.

Winner over Jack Fossett, 125-75, during the week, Martin holds a one-half game lead over Hoss and a one-game edge over Riale at the present time.

While not clinching the crown, a Martin win over Riale will give him a lead that will be hard to overcome. Tommy, on the other hand, can throw the race into a three-way tie by handing Martin a setback.

Brown Out of Race

Ringier eliminated Champion Fred Brown from any chance of figuring in the spoils when he stopped him by a 125-92 count at Port Deposit Tuesday. Brown defeated Cunningham late last week, 125-121, in a close match.

Other engagements during the week resulted in a 125-49 victory for Hoss over Ringier and a 125-91 win for the same man over Fossett, while Riale was stopping Hanna, 125-50.

"I've been driving a telephone truck for seven years without an accident. And it's not just luck. The first rule I was taught when I took this job was—'A telephone truck never has the right of way.' I'd have a lot of explaining to do to my boss if I had an accident. Our trucks are kept in good shape and alibis don't go with him. Besides I've seen enough bad accidents and I don't want any."

When you have to get there fast—go by telephone. The telephone takes you across the street or across the continent and back again at 186,000 miles a second! That's speed! There are no STOP signs in telephone travel. You always have the right of way. Just pick up your receiver and GO! With recent reductions in long distance rates, voice visits now cost less than ever. Lowest rates are in effect every night after seven and ALL DAY SUNDAY.

Price estimates that the sewer, if built, will run for a distance of 1,700 feet from Delaware Avenue to where it joins the ditch.

Quality Hill Problem

Councilman Richards was named chairman of a committee to investigate reported flood conditions at the intersection of West Main Street and New London Avenue. Councilmen Ferguson and Wollaston and Engineer Price were also named to the committee.

The periodic appearance of sanitary privies on the Council's docket received more consideration this week than they have at any time since their introduction a year ago.

Providing the Works Progress Administration and the State Board of Health agree to use all local labor, except carpenters trained especially in the work, Council will appropriate the $576 needed for materials to build 24 privies on Ray and North Streets where sewer connections are not practical.

House owners will be billed for material costs with the privilege of paying on a deferred plan.
