

ADMINISTRATION

TO THE CLASS OF 1964:

The University of Delaware's Class of 1964 should be the proudest one in its one hundred and thirty-one year history. The University from which you are receiving your degree is a stronger institution of higher learning than ever before. Its baccalaureate degree, therefore, becomes each year something more to be cherished. Our degree, especially one indicating graduation with honors in course, or with distinction, signifies a recognized high level of intellectual achievement in which each of you can take life-long satisfaction.

The ultimate quality of your education, however, remains to be proven. The way members of the Class of '64 meet the challenges of life in home, community and vocation will ascertain just how well each one has been educated academically and personally.

My fervent hope is that your grades will be even higher in your life's performance than they have been on our Campus.

With every best wish,

John A. Perkins

available cultural programs of concerts and lectures, as well as major social events including Homecoming, Christmas, and Spring Dances, jazz concerts, and combo dances. Short excursions plus an annual Ski Trip are scheduled by the Travel Committee, "Weekend Flicks" by the Film Committee, both local and regional tournaments in bridge, pool and billiards by the Recreation Committee. The council encourages all students to take advantage of services offered by the Student Center as a relaxing escape from the daily routine!

John Trager, Mike Field, Elaine Smith, Walter Fletcher, Ross Ann Jenny.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The class of '67 began the year by waging vigorous campaigns for election to class offices. Under the leadership of President Mike Field, the class was responsible for the inclusion on the spring registration class roster of the name of professor teaching each course. Other activities have been the sale of class blazers and the establishment of a freshman tutoring list.

Seated: Joan Johnson, Secretary; Marian Galaini, Women's Dormitory Representative; Dan Marple, Vice-President. Standing: Lee Walls, President.

The Sophomore Class gave its traditional assistance in the orientation of the freshmen to college life, only to be defeated by the frosh in the Tug of War. Undaunted, the Class of '66 went on to sponsor a dance in the Student Center. With the Junior Class, they sponsored a concert by Fats Domino, and in late spring gave a dinner honoring the top twenty-five students in the class of '66.

Seated: Bob Parsons, Vice-President; Diane Magness, Secretary. Standing: Terry Girdon, Treasurer; Haylor Osborne, President.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Seated: Jean Freas, Vicki Esker, Gary Myers, Wilson Young. Standing: Paul Desborough, Ken McCullough.

The Senior Class, the class of '64, sponsored the Smothers Brothers Concert with the Junior Class in November. The second semester the class was busy with plans for graduation. The class sold announcements and planned the Senior Party which was held at the Hotel DuPont the night before graduation.

The Class of 1965 co-sponsored the Smothers Brothers Concert and the Fats Domino Concert. The Juniors gave a dinner for the outstanding top twenty-five in their class. They have also been working on the University Evaluation, the academic honor system and their senior weekend.
