Noted Speakers at Harvest Home Event

August 10th Set as Date for Annual Affair—Dr. James M. Taylor the Orator

All roads will lead to Whiteman's Grove, just above Milford Cross Roads, on Thursday, August 10th. This is the date of the Harvest Home celebration, one of the biggest affairs in these parts.

The affair is given annually by the official board of Ebenezer Church, and the members of the board this year are trying to make the celebration bigger and better than ever.

To accomplish this the board has obtained as the speaker of the day, Rev. Dr. James M. Taylor, claimed to be one of the best speakers in the country.

Dr. Taylor comes with as high endorsement as any public speaker of the day; and his address will be born of eighteen years of close study of conditions in one hundred different nations during which time he has travelled 1,500,000 miles outside of the United States.

At the Harvest Home celebration he will speak on the subject, "World Conditions That Make Democracy Impossible." This is said to be a very forcible address and everyone that can possibly be on hand on the above date should hear this excellent speaker talk on a topic that is discussed in every corner of the earth today.

Besides this address Dr. Taylor will deliver a special talk for young people, carrying the thrill and appeal of exciting experiences with Mexican bandits, the head hunters of Borneo and cannibals in the African jungles. A free-will offering for Dr. Taylor and his services will be taken.

With such a speaker added to the great attractions crowds find annually at these celebrations at Whiteman's Grove, August 10th should be a red letter day in the annals of the Harvest Home celebrations.

Dr. Taylor will start his addresses at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

The dinners and suppers served at these celebrations are always looked forward to eagerly and this year the tables will seat about 200 persons at a time and to avoid crowding only this number will be seated at each serving, but there will be enough "goodies" to serve the last as well as the first.

Mrs. M. M. Whiteman will be in charge of the novelty booth; Mrs. Sadie Wirt, in charge of the children's playground; Miss Alice Davis, in charge of the candy and cake sale and George Knotts in charge of the lemonade stand.

Those in charge are at the present time trying to arrange for another noted speaker and to have a band on hand to furnish music. In the afternoon there will be a program of games featured by the annual baseball game.

HORACE SUDLER

State Insurance Commissioner Died Suddenly

Horace Sudler, aged 66 years, State Insurance Commissioner, died suddenly at his home in Bridgeville, on Monday morning. Acute indigestion was given as the cause of death.

The deceased was the father of Miss Lillian Sudler, a teacher in the Newark schools.

Mr. Sudler was a noted horseman and a well-known horticulturalist. Besides the daughter mentioned above the deceased is survived by his wife and two other daughters.

TYSON WINNING

Herman Tyson, the local horse trainer, is having a successful season. He is driving on the New England tracks at the present time.

SCHOOL REPAIRS

Alterations and repairs were started on the Demonstration Room of the local schools on Academy street today.

NEWARK WINS

NARROW ESCAPE

Miss Mary Evans Nearly Drowns in University Pool

A near tragedy was staged in the swimming pool at the University of Delaware yesterday, when Miss Mary Evans, came close to drowning.

Miss Evans is a student at the Summer School and is said to be an expert swimmer. Her home is at Ocean View, Delaware. It is said that yesterday she exercised quite a great deal before going into the pool.

Other girls in the water noticed that Miss Evans was in distress and went to her assistance.

She was unconscious when taken from the water and was removed to the infirmary. Her condition is not serious.

Co. E Will Leave For Camp Monday

Local National Guard Troopers Are All Set to Go—Capt. J. W. Davis in Charge

Everything is in readiness for the moving of Company E, 198th Anti-Aircraft Artillery, Delaware National Guard, to the State Rifle Range, next Monday, when the annual encampment of militia will start.

There will be about fifty members of the local company take the trip and these men are all ready for the start which will be made from the Armory early on Monday morning.

The local soldiers will assemble at the Armory and from there march to the Pennsylvania Railroad station where they will leave on the 7:37 train, standard time. There will be a special coach on this train for the local company. The Newark boys will be carried from here to Wilmington at which place their car will be switched and they will then be taken to New Castle and from that point they will make their way to the camp by trolley cars.

The local company will be in charge of Captain J. W. Davis.

Scenes at the Armory for the past few days have resembled those back in 1917 when the boys were mobilized for action in the "big fight."

Major Harry W. Stark, who made a recent visit to the local company has stated that everything is in readiness at the camp where many improvements have been made since the last encampment. Governor's Day at the camp, when many Newark persons will be on hand at the Rifle Range, will be observed on Thursday, August 10th, and efforts are being made to have General Pershing present at that time.

INSPECTION TOUR

Forty Farmers See and Hear Talks on "Spuds"

The forty farmers who took the potato inspection auto tour in northern New Castle county last Thursday are of one opinion, namely, that certified seed potatoes pay. The tour was under the direction of County Agent R. O. Bausman and the New Castle County Farm Bureau. The tour comprised the following farms: Frank H. Buckingham, of Fairview; J. H. Mitchell and Sons, of North Star; P. T. Pierson, of Hockessin; John C. Mitchell, of Hockessin; John E. Brackin, of Marshallton; and Frank Yearsley, of Marshallton. The plots inspected were of the following varieties: Green Mountain, Irish Cobbler, Prince Edward Island, Rural Russet and Sir Walter Raleigh.

Lunch was served by Mrs. J. A. Collins, of Hockessin. Following lunch Dean C. A. McCue, of the University of Delaware, spoke briefly on the value of selection of seed potatoes. Dr. T. F. Manns, of the University of Delaware, spoke on the process of potato seed certification. A. D. Cobb, State Club Leader, explained the good work being done by the potato club members. C. P. Dickey, of Stanton, announced the annual Farm Bureau picnic would be Thursday, August 10th, at Augustine Beach.

WEATHER FORECAST

Considerable cloudiness, local showers, and thunder-storms until latter part of week, when weather will be fair. Temperature near normal.

Stables Must Be Kept Cleaner

Board of Health to Get After Owners Who Fail to Comply with Law

Secretary Herdman of the Board of Health has issued a statement that the town ordinance which regulates the cleaning of stables will be enforced rigidly. During the past few days Mr. Herdman has received complaints of several stables in Newark which, according to the reports, are not kept clean.

The Health Board secretary stated today that he was going to make an investigation of the situation and see to it that the stables of the town are cleaned up.

The ordinance covering this point reads as follows:

"Be it ordained by the Council of the Council of Newark, that any person who shall have or maintain on his or her premises, within the Town of Newark, any stable or place where horses or cows, or both, are kept, shall keep the same in a clean, healthy condition, and shall remove or cause to be removed therefrom the manure accumulation therein, or on the premises adjoining such stable, at least once in every ten days during the months of May, June, July, August and September, and at such other times as he or she shall be directed so to do by the Board of Health of the Town of Newark."

"Any person or persons refusing to comply with this ordinance, or with such order of the Board of Health of the Town of Newark, shall be deemed guilty of a common nuisance, and shall forfeit and pay a fine of Five Dollars for each offense, and the further sum of Five Dollars for every twenty-four hours that said nuisance shall remain unabated."

According to the reports received by the Board of Health there are several stable owners in the town who have not removed the refuse for several weeks and the warm weather of the past few days has made living in the neighborhood unbearable.

Canning Industry Undergoes Changes

Contracting for Tomatoes Being Carried on Differently—New Invention May Help

The tomato canning and packing industry is making rapid changes following the war, and the consequent depressed prices for canning products which followed. So rapid are the changes that it looks as if the old method of contracting for the vegetables before they were planted at a price which was all guess work on the part of both the canner and grower, will soon be ended. And none to soon for either the canner or the farmer, for such a method favored neither one. If the contract price was lower than the market price it was not a fair deal for the farmer, and it made him inclined to put off the low-graded truck on the canner, while if the contract was higher than the market it worked an injustice on the canner and made it possible for him to lose considerable money; a condition that certainly was not favorable to either canner or farmer. In many of the sections of Delaware this year the canners are contracting as to acreage, but not as to price, agreeing with the farmer that the price shall be governed by the existing market from day to day. Such an agreement is favorable to both the farmer and the canner. The canner is assured of enough of the vegetables to keep his cannery in operation; the acreage having been contracted for, while both the grower and canner surely ought to be agreeable to take and to pay whatever other farmers, or canners, are getting as market price, for that day. In many sections growers are leasing tomato canneries from the owners and operating them on the co-operative plan. In some cases the owner is retained on a salary as manager of the cannery and the factory is leased on a percentage of its valuation, as agreed upon by the parties to the agreement.

Often times the owner is hired as manager and given a percentage of the profits as his bonus above his salary. Such an arrangement is proving successful as the farmers are anxious to bring on the finest of their tomatoes. (Continued on Page Eight.)

Report Shows State Banks Are Stronger

State Bank Commissioner Medill's Figures Show Increase Over Last Year

George L. Medill, State Bank Commissioner, has issued a report of the condition of the banking institutions in the State and this report shows that the condition of the banks is better than a year ago.

This will come as a surprise, but a pleasant one, to most persons as it seems to be the general opinion that the financial condition of the State is on the decrease but Mr. Medill's report scatters this opinion to the winds.

The report shows the total deposits of State Banking Institutions as of June 30th, 1922, were $64,650,292, showing an increase over that of July 1st, 1921, of $3,389,465.

Total resources were $81,454,226, being an increase of $2,087,370 over that of July 1st, 1921.

The amount of money borrowed from correspondent banks was reduced during the year from $2,266,000 to $674,000, a decrease of $1,592,000.

The increase of the market value of securities owned has been very marked, and in many cases the market value exceeds the bank's carrying or book value.

Comparison of the compiled figures of the June 30th, 1922 report with those of July 1st, 1921, show the banks at this time on the whole to be in a stronger position, as to deposits, value of securities owned, amount of borrowed money and the liquidity of loans.

In the two lower counties of the State the returns from the strawberry and the early apple crops were, generally speaking, favorable.

ABOUT READY

The United Canneries Corporation which this year took over the Ritter plant, is about ready to start canning. Shipments of tomatoes are expected in a few days.

Splendid Services In Wolf Hall

Excellent Musical Program and Fine Sermon by Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins

Splendid music, a strong sermon and the largest crowd ever accommodated at Wolf Hall marked the services of last Sunday evening, as one of the most memorable ever held in Newark. The Oratorio Program sung by Mildred Faas, soprano; Marie Stone Langston, contralto; Henry Gurney, tenor, and Henry Hotz, bass, proved a truly fine rendition of the great classics of the church. All the voices beautiful in solo work, rose to the fullness of power in the Te Deum which marked the climax of the program.

Dr. Floyd W. Tomkins, the speaker of the evening, chose as his theme, "The Open Door," at which everyone stands facing an opportunity for service. "Fill your mind, obsess your being," Dr. Tomkins urged, "with the idea that every man, woman or child in the universe has a place to fill. Everyone on this earth is here for a purpose; there is all humanity to serve before us."

Dr. Tomkins expressed the belief that never at any previous time in history had the world faced a greater crisis. "And I refer not only to strikes and economic difficulties," he said, "but to the spiritual unrest that is everywhere; to the dangers that menace the hearts and souls of people. We are living in a whirl of conflicting doctrines and emotions. We must hold fast to the teaching of Him who said, 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto me.' Only in this way can we stabilize the world."

"But why have the ministers of the church the right to ask you for world unity until they have accomplished it in the church itself," the speaker continued, referring to the meeting which he addressed as a splendid beginning in church unity and subsequent strength.

At the close of the services, Dr. Tomkins urged everyone to rededicate themselves to the service of others.

FARMERS' DAY

Everything in Readiness: Big Crowds are Expected

With Dr. Jacob G. Lipman, Director of the New Jersey Agriculture Experiment Station and a national authority on agriculture as the speaker, everything is in readiness for Farmers' Day at the University of Delaware, on Thursday, August 3rd.

According to the reports coming to Dean C. A. McCue who is in charge of arrangements, there will be a larger attendance this year than ever before. Farmers in all parts of the State have been planning their work for weeks ahead so that they can be in attendance at the celebration here on Thursday week.

In securing Dr. Lipman as the speaker, Dean McCue made a master stroke. Dr. Lipman is known from coast to coast as an authority on all agriculture problems and he has just recently returned to this country from Rome where he attended the bi-annual meeting of the International Institute of Agriculture. He represented the United States at this meeting.

There will be many demonstrations on the University farm in connection with the celebration.

West Virginia Poultry Men Visited Newark

Stopped Off Here Yesterday Afternoon—Southern State Forging Ahead

Newark was visited yesterday by some of the foremost poultrymen of West Virginia. These were members of the West Virginia Poultry Association which is conducting a 2000-mile trip through eight States. The association, which is traveling by automobiles, arrived here shortly after noon yesterday and had dinner here. Although there were no official visits paid to the poultry farms of this immediate vicinity several of the members of the association made trips to the poultry plants around here. The members left about 3 o'clock for Wilmington where they took the ferry for New Jersey, they being enroute to New Brunswick.

The association is making a big thing of the trip and is carrying its own publicity man. This member of the party furnished the following information:

"In order to carry back to West Virginia the best poultry methods followed in other states, the first annual auto tour of the West Virginia Poultry Association started from Morgantown, West Virginia, Sunday morning, July 23, and will continue ten days during which time all the large eastern poultry districts will have been visited and a 2000-mile journey taken through West Virginia, Virginia, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania. In the party are representative poultrymen from more than a dozen of the leading Mountain State poultry counties, who declare that this tour will be made an annual event. The president of the association is E. S. Humphreys, of Bellville, Wood county."

"Few people realize that West Virginia is a real poultry state. For example, Wood, Roane and Jackson counties alone shipped more than $2,000,000 worth of poultry products last year. The 1920 census showed that the yearly egg sales from West Virginia were $9,000,000 and that other poultry products were worth nearly $5,000,000."

"As the result of concerted efforts to build up the poultry business in the state during the past two or three years, the egg production on more than 150 demonstration farms in twenty counties has been more than doubled with corresponding increases in profits. The slogan of the Poultry Association is '100 eggs from every hen and 100 hens on every farm.' Already this average egg production has been passed and many farms are averaging 150 eggs per hen each year, while the number of farms that have established new poultry flocks or enlarged the old ones will mount into the thousands."

"One of the most successful items on this year's West Virginia poultry calendar is the establishment of a co-operative commercial hatchery at Walkersville, Lewis county, to supply state farmers with standard bred chicks, hatched from selected West Virginia stock. Dr. Rush Carlin, manager of the hatchery, is on this

Ten Year Old Boy Is Drowned

Pierce W. Fell Meets Sorrowful Death Near Casho Mills—Failed to Heed Warning

Pierce W. Fell, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Fell, of South Chapel street, was drowned in the Christiana river near the Casho Mills, on Monday afternoon.

The lad, the oldest of four who were in a party went to the river Monday afternoon for the purpose of swimming. The other members of the party, all younger than the drowned lad, were William and Wrightson Dill and Ollie Henderson.

There are several stories told of the drowning but the one that seems to have the most foundation is that the small boys when they reached the swimming hole which is popular with the young men of the town, attempted to go in swimming in one of the deepest parts of the stream. It is said that some older boys in swimming at the time at once made the boys go ashore and told them the water was too deep for them. The older boys left a short time afterwards and according to the story the small boys again went in the water and it was this time that the Fell lad was drowned.

His companions evidently became unaware of the danger that had befallen their companion, through their own fear. They went to a barn on the property of William S. Armstrong and are said to have played there for a couple of hours. A man on the Armstrong place is said to have approached the boys and told them he thought it was time for them to go home for supper. The lads then are claimed to have said that they would have to go see Robert Jones, the local undertaker, for "one of us was drowned this afternoon." On hearing this Wilmer Riley, a young man, accompanied the youngsters to the swimming hole and on diving a couple of times came to the surface with the young Fell boy's body.

The body was removed by Mr. Jones.

LECTURE SERIES ENDS

Two More Numbers on Program; Glenn Frank Tomorrow Night

The 1922 Evening Lecture Series in connection with the University of Delaware Summer School will conclude this week with a lecture on Thursday, July 27th, by Glenn Frank, Editor of The Century Magazine, and a Sunday evening service on Sunday, July 30th.

Mr. Frank's theme will be "The Coming Renaissance," a subject through which, in his department in The Century, he has made himself well known to a great host in this country. He is remembered by the entire University community as one of the strongest speakers on the 1921 program, and his return is hailed with enthusiasm in all quarters.

On Sunday evening, Dr. John M. Moore, one of the foremost ministers of the country in the Baptist denomination, will be the speaker. Dr. Moore is pastor of the Marcy Avenue Baptist Church, Brooklyn. The concluding sacred concert preceding the service will be under the direction of Miss Dora Wilcox. The numbers will be sung by a community choir of fifty voices, including members of the choirs of the Newark churches and students of the Summer School. The soloists for the evening will be Miss Cora Frye, soprano, Richard Turner, baritone, and Howard Haugh, all of Philadelphia.

The demonstration of this hatchery's success has resulted in five more orders being placed for mammoth incubators for next year. Another important item is the building of 300 new poultry houses this year of the approved West Virginia type.

"The journey covers the government poultry farm at Washington, the farms of the New Jersey State College, the market garden sections around Baltimore and Philadelphia, the New York poultry and egg markets and the biggest poultry farms all along this route. Stops will be made at every point of interest. The return trip is by way of Gettysburg in order to see some of the big Pennsylvania farms. The party will reach Morgantown again August 1."

Local Invention Going Forward

R. A. Whittingham's Atlas Axle to Be Used in Modern Bus Construction

Announcement was recently made of the combination of the interests of the American Machine Company, of Newark and the Lobdell Car Wheel Company, of Wilmington. The reason for the combination of these interests was for the manufacture of the Atlas Axle. This axle is a real Newark product.

The combination of these two shops takes an industry away from Newark and brings a new one, known as the Atlas Axle Company, to Wilmington. This new company was incorporated in June. The Lobdell Company will continue to function and manufacture car wheels and special machines, in which work it has been engaged since 1886.

The new company results from the work of the company that formerly occupied a shop on Cleveland avenue. The American Machine Co. will be dissolved.

There is a great deal of local interest in the new company as the vice-president and sales manager, Richard R. Whittingham, is from here and it will be of interest to note that the Whittingham family will in October move into their former residence, Linden Hall, on Depot Road.

The Atlas axle, as the product of the new company will be known, is the result of the work of R. A. Whittingham, a resident of Newark and a graduate from Delaware College. Mr. Whittingham, who is responsible for the original axle design, will act as chief engineer of the new company in a consulting capacity. The capitalization of the new company is $500,000.

For the immediate present, production will be confined to the various models of the special motor bus rear axle designated as the LC series. This is a highly specialized design incorporating a one-piece cast housing of box girder offset from the wheel spindles, thus providing a very low spring mounting. It is the original low center of gravity motor bus rear axle which affords a very desirable low floor height of approximately 24 inches which has become so popular in the truly modern motor bus as distinguished from adapted and converted motor truck chassis. The invention of the Newark man fulfills the demands of this modern construction as it permits the low floor height and corresponding low center of gravity without kicking up the frame or underslinging the springs. Deliveries on these axles will start in a short time.

The local shop of the American Machine Co. served as an experimental shop on the work of this axle where developments and tests of the Atlas Axle were conducted for the past three years.

State Offers Vacationists Rest

Many Excellent Places to Shake Worries of Town and City from Brain

With its large amount of shore line, Delaware affords considerable space for those who want vacations along the water, and as a result of the idea developed in the last ten or twenty years, of taking a summer vacation away from work, an idea which even the farmers have adopted and which they claim pays them in good health and in renewed vigor for their work on their return to the farms, Delaware is building a number of small summer resorts. It looks as if some day they will become large ones. Rehoboth Beach is, of course, a large and prosperous resort, but outside of that particular one, local residents have established smaller places where a good time can be enjoyed without so many of the frills of regular life, and where a very cheap vacation can be enjoyed. Fenwicks island down on Assawamunn bay and the Atlantic ocean is at the lowest end of the state and there is a two weeks' camp-meeting where the farmers flock in attendance. Corn is "laid by" and the farmers take a rest in a small lean-to, in courtesy called a "cottage," where for a few dollars a week they can enjoy a rest, and at the same time enjoy the religious fervor of a camp-meeting. Other places are Bethany Beach on the ocean, Lewes Beach at the breakwater, where the ocean and the Delaware bay meet; Broadkill Beach, Slaughter Beach, both old-time beaches, enjoyed for many years on the Delaware bay by nearby farmers. Then the famous fishing grounds of Bowers Beach and on the more pretentious beaches around Wilmington, where the city crowds enjoy themselves. It is at the smaller places, however, where the tired city workers enjoy their real rest, for it takes neither stiff collars nor even shoes to move in select society at these beaches. Every one goes as he pleases, there is plenty of fishing, crabbing, boating and bathing, and it does not cost much. Vegetables are cheaper than they are in the city; fish is free, and cottages rent for about $5 a week. When city people awake to the cheapness of vacations along the Delaware shore and when the cement roads are fully completed so that the city worker can slip back and forth to his work over concrete roads, Delaware will be one string of shore resorts during the coming summers.

GREAT CROOK PLAY

One of the finest of the so-called crook plays ever shown in this town, will be displayed at the Opera House next Saturday. It is "Proxies," a superb Cosmopolitan production for Paramount and the leading roles are played by such artists as Norman Kerry, Zena Keefe, Raye Dean, Paul Everton and William H. Tooker. The story tells of the efforts of a former crook to live straight, and of the difficulties he meets with in the operation. But he manages to win out in the end, after many thrilling happenings however. The love element is highly captivating.

There are five applicants for appointment as postmaster at Rising Sun, this county, to succeed Clarence Dare, the incumbent, whose term will shortly expire. They are E. Hughes Keilholz, William M. Cameron, Perry Gibson, Miss Bertha Tyson and Mrs. William B. Pechtel. The office pays about $2,000 a year.

The Elkton Gas Company, composed of several local people who a few years ago took over the company's affairs when the plant was about to close down, is finding considerable trouble in supplying the town with gas because of the capacity of the plant not being sufficient. In order to make the plant meet the requirements of the town the officers of the company have appealed to the patrons to subscribe to new stock for improvements.

The following Cecil county couples have been issued marriage licenses at the office of the clerk of the courts here during the past few days: Paul H. Hall, Zion, and Rachel A. Ward, Calvert; Luther Amos and Claudia Overstreet, both of Elkton; Lawson Love and Edith May Riale, both of Colora; Cecil D. Brown, Colora, and Edith Ren, Philadelphia.

Earl Lockwood, aged about twenty-five years, of Millington, was brought to Union Hospital, Elkton, Sunday evening in a serious condition from burns, which he sustained in a peculiar way. When the gasoline tank on his automobile sprang a leak, he crawled under the machine to make repairs. In doing the work he got a lot of oil on his clothing. A friend of Lockwood, who came along, stopped and began to talk and finally struck a match to light a cigarette. The blaze from the match ignited Lockwood's clothing, and before the burning garments could be torn from his body he was seriously burned about the body, hands and legs. It will require several days to determine the exact extent of the burns.

WITHIN AN INCH

Pat was the man who did all the odd jobs about the place, and, owing to petty thieving, his employer instructed him to get good yard dog.

Pat was out all day and in the evening landed home with a dachshound.

"What on earth have you brought along, Pat?" queried his employer.

"Well, sir," said Pat, "he's the nearest I could get to a yard; he's two feet eleven inches long."—Minneapolis Tribune.

The Deeds Men Do Live After Them

Report of a committee of three Delaware College professors, Dr. Purnell and Prof. G. Harold Powell and Eugene W. Manning, brought out criticisms of the smallness of school districts, need of more financial support, lack of well-trained teachers, need of changed curriculum and suggesting establishment of a chair of pedagogy at Delaware College.

The above is clipped from the Wilmington Sunday Star in their column, "Looking Back Twenty Years." All three of these great good men who worked and walked in our midst have passed on but their influence lives so strikingly today.

Last evening at the concert at Wolf Hall, we wished that they all might see and know what is going on. Compare Delaware today with their times—a state system of Public School Education, a School of Education at a recognized and supported State University, a Summer School for Teachers with expense paid by the State Treasury, a Lecture and Concert Series unsurpassed in the whole country. Dreams do come true after all. The thoughts and deeds of men do live on after them. What an inspiration to us living today!

We remember how they worked, how they were criticised for their new thoughts and here now we are enjoying naturally the results of their toil. The world is growing better and life truly lived faces the East.

Speaking of our growth, the Lecture Series given by the Service Citizens is doing more than we perhaps dream. Here during the past five weeks, Newark has enjoyed talent in music and lectures that would be a proud boast of most towns in five years. Names and personages, national in recognition, are becoming a routine experience for us. The influence of this is silently permeating the life of the whole State. Every school district will catch a glimpse of the great worth while things in art and literature. Its effect, subtle though it may be, can never be reckoned.

Designed for the Teachers, this community has been given a rare opportunity for which there is increasing comment and appreciation. Last evening the hall was jammed to the doors, and crowds were turned away. And this is only a repetition of most of the series.

The course this year has been well balanced and records a success in the minds of every one. The Teachers, the State and Newark especially, should give some expression of the appreciation felt and well deserved.

Delaware Education System in Movies

Interesting Pictures Will Be Shown in Wolf Hall August First

The moving picture films of all three counties will be presented in Wolf Hall on Tuesday evening, August 1, at 8 o'clock.

These films show the Field Day and Parade of each county. The Parade of the New Castle schools together with the Play Festival and sports, is as fine and spectacular a pageant as could be seen anywhere. The Kent county pictures have a different emphasis still, with a splendid showing of dodge ball and track events. Sussex county has three films showing the splendid new buildings put up within the last two years, the Field Day parade, and a variety of school activities in different parts of the county, together with some of the leading industries in the State.

The pictures are typical of each county. The New Castle picture shows the result of a fine technique in school work; Kent, the result of what 42 dodge ball teams can do for boys and girls; and Sussex, the great mass effect of thousands of children whose spirit and enthusiasm can be nowhere surpassed, as they come knocking at the door of a Wider Opportunity, the door that can be opened only by the will of the people of the State.

This picture was shown before the Department of Rural Education in Boston, at the National Education Association in July, before people interested in rural education for every state in the Union. Miss Ina Barnes, a New Castle Supervisor, gave an address interpreting the picture. Mr. Meurman of the Department of Education at Boston, said it was the best picture of the kind he had seen anywhere, and has asked for a duplicate film to be shown through the country.

This picture should be of great interest to every Delawarean. The expense of making the films is being defrayed by presenting the picture in various parts of the State, and by means of a nominal charge. The admission on Tuesday evening for adults will be 25 cents, for children under 10 years, 15 cents.

It is very certain that the people of Newark will be interested in seeing the picture, especially since Delaware is among the foremost states in using the moving picture for educational purposes.

TRAVELLING

Miss Agnes P. Medill is taking the lake trip from Buffalo to Chicago. Before returning home, she will visit relatives in Lancaster, Ohio.

I CAN WAIT

"I cannot feel
That all is well, when darkening clouds conceal
The shining sun;
But then, I know
God lives and loves; and say,
since it is so,
Thy will be done."

"I do not see
Why God should e'en permit
some things to be,
When He is love.
But I can see
Tho' often dimly through the mystery
His hand above!"

"I do not know
Where falls the seed, that I have tried to sow
With greatest care,
But I shall know
The meaning of each waiting hour below,
Sometime, somewhere;

"I do not look
Upon the present, nor in nature's book,
To read my fate;
But I do look
For promised blessings in God's holy book;
And I can wait."

THE M. MEGARY & SON CO.

Certainly, We'll Have An August Sale!

Our friends have been looking forward to it—and there are many homes waiting for it and these good friends must not be disappointed.

And now as to the sale and merchandise in it.

IT IS A "MEGARY" AUGUST SALE.

Which means that reductions are REAL.

This is not a sale of exaggerated statements either as to the size of the stock or the quality of the stock or the reductions.

It is a "Megary" August Sale and that to the many, many good customers who wait and watch for it and take advantage of it means everything.

And what of the furniture offered in this sale?

We have never sold nor will we ever sell a piece of furniture that we are ashamed of.

From the lowly little kitchen chair to the most expensive suite the Megary standard of quality prevails.

And it shows even to the most inexperienced buyer in every piece of furniture here.

It is the kind of furniture that we have been selling for nearly fifty years. It is the kind (but of course not the patterns), that many homes boast of having "come from Megary's."

There's no place or no welcome here for "shoddy" or make-believe furniture.

There's no place here for "Sale" furniture—poorly made and built with but little service in it.

The furniture that comes into and goes out of this store is furniture we're proud of—sure of—and furniture that you'll welcome in your home and be glad to live with.

And THAT'S the furniture in this sale.

The reductions?

They to say the least will be worth while.

In many cases, for good business reasons they will be more than usual.

In all cases (Nationally priced articles excepted) you will save by making your selection now.

AND REMEMBER THIS

No matter what the reductions, every article carries the Megary guarantee of quality and our word that it must be right and satisfactory.

August prices will be on this furniture Wednesday—sales dating of course from August first.

But there are some very special prices, on quite a lot of things and the early and wise buyer is going to profit.

Mark now on your calendar;

"The Megary August Sale begins Tuesday the first."

"I must go in."

And Now Home-Makers!

Bear these things in mind.

You can buy "cheap" (and it IS cheap) furniture at many stores and at a CHEAP price.

And you can buy this kind of furniture and regret its purchase for many a year.

But here, in this store with its reputation for good, moderately priced, merchandise and better still, its reputation for honesty, dependability and service, you can only buy GOOD furniture.

And so, now, with the August Sale but a few days off bear this in mind—

Compare, not prices, but the furniture and the store and that store's reputation.

And then we know who will furnish your home!

Yorklyn Applies Whitewash---3-0

Newark Plays Good Game But Fails to Hit in Back of Watkins

Newark's team in the New Castle County League lost another hard game on Saturday to Yorklyn by a score of 3 to 0. The locals played one of the best games of the season and the Suffolk champions were held scoreless until the seventh inning when they waited in three runs.

"Bobby" Watkins who has pitched wonderfully for Newark all season was on the mound and allowed the winners only four hits but his team failed to produce the hits when his mound runs. Newark only landed three safeties off of Haggerty, the home town pitcher.

The game was one of the best that has been played at Yorklyn this season and the fans there claimed after the game that they could not see how it was that the Newark team was not higher in the club standing.

It was a pitchers' duel all the way with Haggerty having a slight edge, he allowing one less hit than the local carry artist and striking out eight batters while Watkins turned back only three of the Yorklyn team. The score:

Horseshoe Championship Bone of Contention

Cleveland Avenue "Flingers" Put Skids Under Claims of Choate "Streeters."

When we were kids we were always anxious to play on the ball team from our street which was known as the Brown Streeters or the Clark Streeters or some other streeters. That was baseball, but here in Newark the horseshoe pitchers are the ones anxious to play with the Streeters.

Last week things seemed rosy for the Choate Streeters and after winning several matches they were going around with the old chip on their shoulder claiming to be the champions when it came to flinging the quoits and horseshoes.

But alas they had forgotten that off to the north there was a street, which was avenue when legally speaking, but this did not stop the men from that place organizing the Cleveland Streeters.

These people, from up where the street will soon be paved and be on a par with the other street of the town, heard of the claims from the Choate Street pitchers and they came along and knocked the old chip for a goal. The result was that the Choate Streeters accepted the challenge and invited all the rooters to be on hand to see the beating that was to be administered to the bunch from Cleveland avenue.

For a time it seemed as though the matter of where the games were to be played would have to be taken up with the "League of Something" for settlement, but at last the Choate Streeters decided that they were so far superior to the Cleveland avenue flingers that the matter of where the games were to be played would have to be bearing on the results. Therefore the games were played on the courts of the challengers and now there is weeping and gnashing of teeth among the Choate Streeters because their claims to the championship among quoit and horseshoe flingers has been transferred to the avenue masquerading under the name of streeters.

The claim of the Choate street fighters is that the Cleveland avenue players pulled the wool over their eyes and had the biggest men of the street pitching horseshoes that were made for elephants or some other

SPORT TUTORIAL

Baseball still holds as the national game of the United States, but athletes from this country are certainly playing havoc in the title ranks of sports that other countries claim as their national sport.

Never has any country developed baseball teams that could give the clubs of the United States real competition, but yet Uncle Sam's representatives in the sporting world step out and cop honors in golf, sculling and other events which foreign countries claim as foremost in their sport line.

Englishmen and Scotchmen for years have claimed that golf was played "the bally best in their countries," but Walter Hagen, a home-bred American, goes over this year and cleans up and Americans finish in one-two-three order. Then England sends some of their best here to compete in National Open and what happens, Gene Sarazen, a lad of Italian parentage, but American bred, who had as his golf training caddy on American courses, hangs through at the age of 21 years and cops this event from the best that America and England could produce. It is that great American breeding that brings them out on top.

Hoover, the American sculler lifted the Diamond Sculling crown just a short time ago from the English champions. Quite an accomplishment when one considers that Hoover was in a strange country and among strange people and it is said that in places his welcome was not any too warm. But he carried off the honors and had some to spare.

No matter who you are or whether or not you are interested in sports that something down in you just can't help but "sorta kinda" crawl up in your throat when you hear that another American athlete has copped a title in some foreign country.

The only real disappointment that American sport devotees have suffered this season was the defeat of Mrs. Molla Mallory by Suzanne Lenglen, the French wizard of the court. This defeat was suffered in England and whether Mrs. Mallory will have a chance to revenge this defeat on American courts is doubtful as it is not thought Suzanne will compete in this country.

It is not so many years back when England was supreme in the boxing ring, but take the records of today and if you can find the name of one Englishman, excepting Jimmy Wilde, at the head of any boxing division then you can find hen's teeth. Americans are the leading champions, and although a number of the title holders are of Jewish and Italian parentage, they are American bred.

There are a lot of tennis followers of this country who are more than surprised at the action of England in announcing that it will not compete this year in the Davis Cup trials. The Englishers have announced that they will not even compete in the preliminary events and will allow Spain to win its match by default.

The reason given is that England cannot this year send a team to the United States that will have a chance against the team of other competitors. That might be, by England's tennis devotees' way of looking at sports, but we'll bet that United States would not offer such an excuse if there were only four tennis players in the country. This nation would try and that is the reason that it is out on top in most sporting events today. Backbone is needed in the sporting events of the present age and that is what the United States possesses.

SPORTSMEN'S HAVEN

Delaware will be a sportsman's haven in a few years if all the fish live that are being placed in the streams and lakes. Under a ruling of Congress the Bureau of Fisheries will send a stock of fish to be placed in any stream on the petition of at least two reputable persons. As a result of the information sent out by Congressman C. R. Layton, of Georgetown, many have made applications, and many streams will be stocked.

Many people find it difficult to rise from a bathtub, as their elbow often slips on the side of the tub. This can be remedied by placing the washrag on the side of the tub and resting the elbow on it as you rise from the tub.

animal much stronger than a horse. This claim is made by the Choate streeters as they vouch that there is not a horse in Newark which could carry such heavy shoes around for a whole day without falling from exhaustion.

The fight is not over and the two teams may get together again and the Choate street aggregation claim that if such is the case it will see that horse size shoes are used.

Athletes Training Up For State Meet

Several Local Runners to Compete in Events in Wilmington

Hundreds of athletes are training for the Delaware State Championship Meet which will be one of the big features of the opening day of the Delaware State Fair at Elsmere on Labor Day, September 4. The meet which is open only to Delaware boys and men who have lived in the state for six months prior to Labor Day, will open the afternoon program at 1 o'clock and will be followed by the horse racing that will occupy the remainder of the afternoon.

There will be loving cups offered for several events and also for the man winning the most points and for the club which scores the highest. In addition there will be gold, silver and bronze medals for the first three who finish in the various races.

Entries for the events will close at 8 o'clock on the evening of August 30th and all entries should be sent to James T. Godfrey, 6 West Sixth street, Wilmington. Mr. Godfrey is desirous that every young man who wishes to try his skill as an athlete should compete in one of the events on the program, and arrangements have been made to comfortably care for every contestant at the Elsmere race track.

The events comprise 100-yard dash; 880 yard run; 1 mile run; 220 yard run; 3 mile run; running broad jump; shot put, 16 lbs.; running high jump; discus throw; pole vault; javelin throw; 1 mile relay; four men each to run 440 yards. Prizes for first, second and third in each event.

"ONE EVERY MINUTE"

Not What P. T. Barnum Said But Ford Automobiles

Retail sales of Ford cars, trucks and tractors established a new high record during June, when, according to a statement issued from the Ford Factory at Detroit, an average of 5,709 machines were sold daily.

Ford sales have been showing a constant increase each month this year; June being the highest in the history of the company with a total of 149,439 cars, trucks and tractors. Of this number, 6054 were sold by the Ford Company of Canada and 9435 by the various European Ford Companies and South American Branches, reaching purchasers in practically every civilized country in the world.

With the closing of business for June, Ford records disclosed the fact that total sales for the first six months of 1922 were well over the half-million mark, the exact figures being 652,261. This is also a new high record as it is considerably in advance of any previous half-year period.

July Ford sales are expected to equal, and probably eclipse June. The estimated output of cars, trucks and tractors has been placed at 151,767, although dealers have requisitioned more than 200,000.

Ford officials state that every attempt has been made to supply their dealers with sufficient cars to fill their orders, but that for the past three months, prompt deliveries have been impossible with some of the types. The demand for Ford enclosed cars has been especially hard to meet, due to the ever-increasing popularity of the coupe and sedan for all year-round use.

A reflection of general business conditions is seen in the record of Ford truck sales, which show an increase of eighty-four per cent. over last year. Merchants and farmers alike have come to recognize the utility of the motor truck in cutting

HARD CIDER

Farmers of State Have Right to Make It

Public notice has been given that Delaware farmers can make cider and even make hard cider under the terms of the Volstead act. This fact is nothing new to Delaware farmers, for they have been making hard cider every year there has been fruit, and will probably continue to make it as long as there is fruit. The Delaware farmer knows how to make hard cider, and with many it is a favorite drink. Many prefer it to most any other sort of intoxicating drink. The Delaware farmers like good apple or pear cider, and it is whispered about that they know how to make a mighty fine drink out of the cider. Prohibition Enforcement Officer Robert B. Elliott, who, by the way, was born and raised in old Sussex county, where they make good cider, has announced that the federal officers will bother no farmer who makes his barrel of hard cider this year, and even calls in his friends to help drink it. Here comes the point—it must not be sold.

BEGGARS AT WORK

Delaware people have been warned by officials in the last few weeks to watch out for the many beggars that are flocking through the country asking for money. Most of them are branded as "fakes," and are making from $40 to $80 a day begging from the unsuspecting. The people are asked to stop giving to these fakirs in an effort to rid the state of them. If the people would refuse to give, they would soon leave Delaware. The public is asked to make all its charitable gifts through some organized plan so that they can be sure that the money given is not used in a wrong way.

transportation costs and speeding up deliveries, and the fact that they are buying nearly twice as many now as a year ago clearly points to better business conditions.

At the present time, Ford is employing 75,000 men in Detroit.

Waldo Lovett and "Chick" Clark Swim Well

Waldo Lovett and "Chick" Clark, two popular lads of this town, accomplished quite a feat at Town Point last Thursday evening when they swam across the Elk river and back again in 55 minutes. The distance covered was about one and a half miles and the time is considered very good.

The lads were so well pleased with their accomplishment that in a few days they will attempt to swim from Elkton to Town Point, a distance of fourteen miles. Several local persons will accompany the boys in a boat.

Rehoboth Has Building Revival

Delaware's Foremost Summer Resort on Crest of Boom—Lost One Chance

Every Delawarean has more or less interest in Rehoboth Beach, the State's real summer resort, and many persons from Newark visit there every summer.

This season the beach is experiencing a boom the like of which it has not seen for many years, and with cottages being built and many more contracts being let out for cottages to be built next winter, it looks like the boom is a real one.

To old settlers, however, the present boom is not half so interesting as was the one seen twenty years ago, a boom which was suddenly stopped by the greed of some of the citizens and which instead of building Rehoboth Beach, sent hundreds of interested people over to Cape May on the Jersey shore and gave Rehoboth Beach such a setback that it has been a number of years getting over it. The boom took place when the Queen Anne Railroad was run through from Baltimore to Rehoboth, and the day the first train pulled into the resort it was a gala time. Prominent Baltimoreans became interested in the resort, and railroad officials purchased cottages there. A big club was organized and a fine clubhouse was built at a cost of about $15,000. Many new cottages were built and then the Baltimore people proposed building a large hotel. They selected the location and asked the town officials what price would be taken for the site. Instead of giving the location free, the officials insisted on $4000, and the hotel syndicate thought $2000 was enough. The fight grew warm until finally the Baltimore men left in disgust, sold their cottages, and instead of building a hotel, put their money into a steamship which took the people across the Delaware hothob both Beach not only lost many Baltimoreans, but also incurred the enmity of railroad officials to such an extent that the excursions were stopped and Rehoboth Beach slowly began to expire. Since then, Wililmington and Philadelphia people and persons from all parts of Delaware, have become interested and now with good cement roads running through Delaware, a new cement road about to be built into the resort, another boom has started, but this time it looks like a more permanent one and dependent upon no set of officials or men.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad K. D. Lewis are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, born on Saturday, July 22.

STARTS YOUNG

The four months old baby of Town Officer and Mrs. William L. Tyrens is cutting a double tooth on its upper jaw. This is very unusual and Dr. Blake who is in attendance said that it is the first time in his experience that he has known a baby of this age to cut a tooth. The baby though only four months old weighs twenty pounds and four ounces.

and the manager is anxious to make a larger bonus and takes more care in the preserving. So far such plans are entirely experimental. One large packing company with factories in several parts of the State is dawning up a simple contract with the farmers in which they agree to pay a minimum price for tomatoes suitable for paste or canning and to pay as much more as the market is quoted on the day of delivery. One of the largest banking institutions of the State has taken a hand in the business, claiming that its banking interests are vitally concerned with the success of the packing business and the amount of money the farmers are able to produce from their farms. This banking concern is interested in several packing plants and has purchased the patent which controls the manufacture of machinery which will peel tomatoes in enormous quantities. A great part of the imported labor used in the canneries is for peeling tomatoes. This banking concern is making every effort to cut the cost of packing and at the same time arrange for an equitable distribution of the profits of the business between the manufacturer and the grower.

Although the inventor of this machine is not named, it is understood that he is one of the best-known men in the State and lives just a short distance from Wilmington. It is a known fact that a few months ago this man was working on an invention which it was claimed would revolutionize the tomato canning industry. The inventor of this machine is the head of a bank with branches in various towns.
