Year's Figure

Enrollment at the Newark Schools for the year 1948-49 is 1435 pupils, with 727 in elementary and 698 in the junior-senior high school, according to figures issued this week by Supt. Wilmer E. Shue. An additional 100 pupils are enrolled on the New London Avenue school.

The figures do not include registration since the opening of school last year. Quite a few new pupils have been added since then, but these are expected to increase substantially in the present total.

The heavy enrollment is taxing school facilities to the utmost, Mr. Shue said, adding that he intends to adhere to the policy of admitting only pupils in the Newark district.

Exceptions to this rule are those few pupils who attended here previously on a tuition basis. Also, the school is accepting a few Pennsylvania students into the ninth grade.

Part of the increased enrollment is due to the rerouting of school buses this year, which now bring here a number of rural pupils formerly attending Conrad High and other schools.

Although pupils whose residential status is in doubt are being admitted to school here for the present, all such will be checked, and no transfers officially registering there will be made until it is determined whether they actually reside in this district.

Enrollment figures by grades follow: first grade, 124; second, 124; third, 125; fourth, 127; fifth, 106; sixth, 107; junior-high, 117; eighth, 146; ninth, 146; tenth, 94; eleventh, 105; twelfth, 87.

AETNAMEN

CONVENTIONCompany To Enter Large
Parade Unit

The Aetna Company has sent four delegates to the Delaware State Firemen Association's convention now being held in Laurel. Chief Elmer Ellison heads the group, which includes assistant chief John Cunningham and Clifford Lee. The fourth delegate is John Lee. In addition a large group of members has made the trip for the annual two-day parley which opened Tuesday.

Highlight of the affair will be a parade beginning at 7 p. m. tonight and featuring fire companies from a four-county area.

The Aetna Company will enter a marching unit, headed by the St. John Fire and Bugle Corps, from Newark. This group, which has won the state championship of Maryland two years running for units of its size, also marched with the Aetna men at the parade where it took the $100 first prize for the best band. Fire Chief Lee arranged to bring the colorful group, composed of school boys, to the convention.

The opening session yesterday was devoted to routine business and election of officers. A talk by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel featured the demonstration of fire equipment.

The installation of officers took place this morning. The Ladies' Auxiliary also met at the hotel this morning to nominate and elect officers.

Music Supervisor
Leave Of Absence

Miss Fenton, elementary music supervisor at the Newark schools, has been granted a temporary leave of absence due to the grave illness of her father and mother.

Her post here is expected to be vacated for at least two months, which means that the elementary music program will be severely hampered. How long the leave will last is not known. Miss Fenton is expected to return.

Memorial Drive Lagging;
Deadline Is ExtendedDrive Heads May Drop Plan Unless Response Picks Up

Unless a sharp upswing in cash donations is evidenced soon, the plan to erect a permanent memorial to Newark's war dead will have to be abandoned, committee officials said this week.

Fact that only $550 towards the $5,000 goal has been secured to date is due, they said, both to public apathy and to the lagging response from those civic organizations which promised both financial support and volunteers to help push the drive.

In a final effort to put the campaign over the top, the deadline has been extended to October 15. If the goal is not attained by then, the plan will be dropped, and all contributions returned.

A last-minute appeal to the public and local civic organizations was made by drive officials this week. A partial text follows.

"During the war, Newark, like many small towns erected an Honor Roll as a tribute to her citizens who helped to make the victory possible. Today we look down the long list of names added to this Honor Roll during years of fighting. They are all in order, but among the alphabetical listings sections are tattered by the removal of names to the Gold Star Section. Adams, Pfc. Ralph E. France; Barnett, Pvt. George G. Europe; Dean, Sgt. William Home-wood, Jr., Germany; Ingham, First Lt. Thomas S. Jr., Unknown; Sheaffer, 2nd Lt. Harold Newton, Germany.

This is not the complete list of deceased military personnel. The State Archives gave us the names of thirty from Newark, Delaware.

"This Honor Roll still stands with a brilliant floodlight illuminating the names. Flowers have been kept banked at the foot of the roll. Not long ago a woman was noted placing a basket of flowers at its base. Whether she was a Gold Star Mother, next of kin, or a grateful citizen it is not known. She spent considerable time fixing and arranging this basket in front of the temporary memorial. Citizens like this and others of the community have kept the Honor Roll in flowers, illuminated and in good condition. However, the ravages of time and the elements have made inroads on this temporary memorial. Eventually, it will become weather-beaten and unsightly and will have to be removed. In view of this, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Newark, Delaware, thoroughly endorsed the erecting of a permanent memorial in tribute to those who fell and to those who served. A letter explaining this was sent to the American Legion for their discussion and approval. The

Mrs. Charles P. Griffin III, formerly of Michigan State College, has been appointed by Miss Irma Ayers, dean of the University of Delaware's School of Home Economics, to the position of assistant professor of home management, effective with the term which starts next week.

Mrs. Griffin, a widow and a mother, has been at Michigan State for the past two years as assistant professor in the Basic College Department of Effective Living, a new curriculum to whose organization and development she contributed.

For three years previously she was advisor of home management at Pennsylvania State College. In addition to serving as advisor for the Home Management House, she taught courses in household equipment, home management and housing. Before going to Penn State, Mrs. Griffin was at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C., in home economics education, working with student teachers in various training centers. She also has taught home economics subjects at Hoke High School, Rockford, N. C. She was educated at Christiansburg (Va.) High School; Radford College, from which she holds a B. C. degree, and the Teachers College of Columbia University, which granted her an M. A. degree.

Mrs. Griffin will live in the University of Delaware's "practice house," for home economics students, and in the spring term she will be in charge of the nursery school operated by girls studying home economics. She succeeds Miss Muriel E. Starr, who has resigned to go to Pennsylvania State College.

Local Woman, 91, Next Thursday, Says Her
Long Life Formula Is Youthful Outlook

Well over half as old as the United States, which marks the 161st birthday of its basic set of laws, the Constitution, tomorrow, is a local woman who will be 91 next Thursday.

She is Mrs. Kate Cleaver, a guest for the past seven years at the Red Men's Home. A tiny, fragile woman, she is still a bright spark of life and a constant source of cheer to the home's 12 other guests, all younger than she.

Good-humored and even tempered, she says her secret for a long life is a serene, youthful outlook, healthy habits and plenty of sleep. She is an expert at snatching forty-winks, and, when in the mood, can slip off for a two-day cat-nap.

Although she has lived through a large segment of American history, she has no tall tales to tell of famous events she eye-witnessed. By some unaccountable mischance, her hand was one of the few unshaken by that legendary paw-wringer, Abe Lincoln, who died when she was about eight.

She remembers the wars, of course. There were plenty of them during her time, and she has done her part in all. During the last, she knitted sweaters Lakehurst, N. J.

BATTERY CBig Guns Will Be Stored In
Rear Of Dorms
On Academy St.

An artillery park for Battery C's two big anti-aircraft guns and other heavy equipment will be established soon in the area behind the university's three wooden dormitories on Academy Street.

The unit's 90 mm. guns, mobile radar outfit, director and power plant, will be stored there, according to Capt. Joseph Balbach, commander. This will be the first time since its organization that the Battery will have a permanent site for its heavy equipment.

Capt. Balbach also announced that the unit is again seeking new recruits. Although its roster was virtually filled just before the recent draft law was passed, a number of men have since left either to enlist in the Army or to return to school. The Battery, which is a unit in the 736 Gun Battalion, 198th AAA Group, Delaware National Guard, now has room for about twenty men.

Members of the Battery will hold a party tonight marking the entrance of the unit, then known as Company C, 198th Coast Artillery, into the Regular Army at the start of the last war.

Members of the old company who are still with the present unit are: S1 Sgt. Clarence Buchanan, S1 Sgt. John L. Sullivan, and Sgt. Marvin Atkinson.

Named Head Of
Auxiliary Here

Miss Dora Gibb was elected president and Mrs. Robert J. Davis first vice-president of the J. A. O'Daniel Unit, No. 10, American Legion Auxiliary, at the group's September session on Monday night. Miss Gibb succeeds Mrs. William Mote, who presided at the election.

Others named to office for a year are: Mrs. William Beswick, second vice-president; Mrs. C. K. D. Lewis, Jr., secretary; Mrs. Allyn Cooch, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Truitt, chaplain; Mrs. W. S. Hamilton, historian; and Mrs. Walter Wassmer, sergeant-at-arms.

The new officers will be installed here October 4, when the Department President, Mrs. Elizabeth Dresner and her staff will officiate.

Other business at Monday night's session which was held in the Academy Building, included the hearing of reports by various committee chairmen.

Mrs. John Fader reviewed the state convention held at Rehoboth on June 27, and Mrs. William Beswick reported on a meeting of the state executive committee in August.

Plans For New School
Completed By Architect

The architect's detailed plans and specifications for Newark's new elementary school building have been completed and are now being studied by advisors of the State Board of Education.

The drawings still must come before the local school board for approval, then be passed along to the state board for final okay. When this is done, bids may be advertised and a contractor named.

Meanwhile, the problem of what to do with the three houses now on the Academy Street site of the proposed school is plaguing authorities. The board purchased the buildings some time ago and offered them at public auction early this month, but all bids were rejected as too low.

Authorities now plan to sell them privately or keep them to rent to faculty members. An announcement on their final disposition is expected within a week, it was said.

243 YOUTHS
ENROLL FOR
DRAFT HERETotal Now 578;
Registration To End On Saturday

A group of 243 more youths of military age signed up at the armory here the past week for the peacetime draft, bringing the total since the beginning of the registration on August 30 to 578 men.

Tomorrow and Saturday will wind up the registration period, when all youths born in 1930 before September 19 will enroll.

Mrs. Agnes Crossan, who has been directing a corps of volunteer women registrars here, said that the figure on enrollment to date was higher than expected for this community, but she pointed out that the local center covers outlying rural areas as well as Newark proper.

Meanwhile, Dr. Victor Washburn, state director of selective service, said this week that registration in Delaware appears to be lagging behind expectations. Of the estimated 20,000 youths in the state between 19 and 25, only about 10,000 had enrolled by the forepart of this week.

Dr. Washburn warned that draft age men are required by law to register, and, if any missed the day scheduled for their particular age group, they should report without further delay to their registration center.

Volunteers from local civic clubs are carrying out the registration here. An announcement of those taking part will be made next week, Mrs. Crossan said.

EBENEZER
PROGRAMFilm Will Be Shown

The choir of the Ebenezer Methodist Church, Pleasant Hill, will show the religious movie, "Beyond Our Own," this Sunday at 8 p. m.

A feature length film with a simple but exciting story, the plot deals with two brothers, one devoted to material the other to moral aims. One becomes a lawyer absorbed with his business, and the other goes to China as a "never-give-up" medical missionary. In a war-blasted mission hospital they meet again, where each is led to make his own decision as to which lived the better life.

The general public is invited. A silver offering will be voluntary.

An old-fashioned "Hymn-Sing" will begin at 7:45 p. m.

During the past war he served in the Third Service Command at Camp Holabird, Baltimore, Md.

Corporal Haas is married and has one son, Joseph, all of whom are residing in Newark.

NHS COURSE
ON HUMAN RELATION TO BE RESUMEDState-Wide
Plan To Be Revived In Grades 6-8

The course in human relations, which proved highly successful at the Newark Schools last year, will be continued this term for sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils, officials announced yesterday.

First introduced on a wide basis in the state's school system last year, the course, which has attracted nationwide attention, aims at helping pupils to understand themselves and their fellows with a view to making a successful adjustment to life.

Principles of mental hygiene and the fundamentals of psychology are stressed in the course, which gives the pupil a sound, common sense approach to the all-important task of living with others. Some of the topics the grade students study and discuss are: "Personality Growth," "Imagination as a Personality Asset," "Should We Be Different or Alike," "Being Yourself," "Enthusiasm is Catching," "Meeting People," "Moods."

Based on the theory that much of the world's troubles are due to the fact that people do not know how to get along with others, the course is intended to help pupils overcome frustrations, determine their individual abilities and limitations, and make an effort to understand the problems of others.

Col. H. Edmund Bullis, of the Delaware State Society of Mental Hygiene, was the first to suggest introducing "Human Relations" as a formal topic of study in school curriculums of the state. It was tried on an experimental basis in a few schools before the war and was revived afterwards. It proved so successful that the program was expanded to include all schools of the state. The aim now is to devise a course which will be suitable for use in lower elementary grades.

The course, Supt. Wilmer E. Shue said, covers what education has always attempted to do but never in such a direct, forceful manner.

THANKS FOR FOREIGN AID
IS RECEIVEDLocal Women
Get Letters
From Abroad

Evidence that American contributions for European relief in the form of food and clothing are reaching their destination and are being welcomed by war impoverished families is being received here.

Two local women have letters of thanks from Germany for gifts of clothing sent some time ago through the Newark Methodist Church.

Mrs. Howard P. Williams, East Main Street, has received two letters, one in English, and Mrs. John Moore, East Main Street, another.

The clothing, in which a number of local donors put their names and addresses, was sent last December and arrived overseas in February.

Mrs. Williams' letter in English is from Frau Minna Lotzke, mother of an East-Prussia family evacuated to Germany. Her letter reads in part: "You will remember that you made once upon a time a gift in form of a nice black jacket. Now I want to tell you that I was the receiver of this jacket and that I'm very glad of it."

"You will understand that it doesn't easy to take helplessness. On the other side we are thankful for the kindness of Americans to help. Our home was East-Prussia, now occupied by the Russians. We must leave our home and went to Denmark. There we stayed a long time in a large camp. 1947 it was possible to come to Germany. Here we found a new home. In East-Prussia we have a large farm, here we are living in modest circumstances. But we are contented, that the whole family—my husband, 2 grown daughters and I—are sound and able to work."

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The new teacher payroll for the coming year will be up for approval and faculty appointments will be confirmed at a meeting of the Newark Board of Education tomorrow night.

This will be the first meeting of the group since July.

LIVESTOCK SHOW SET

Wilmington
Fete Oct. 6

The second annual Delaware Livestock Show will be held Oct. 6 at the Wilmington Livestock Yards, 725 South Market Street, Wilmington, it has been announced by Jack B. Clinch, secretary of the Delaware Livestock Show, Inc.

The show was initiated last year through the joint efforts of producers, livestock handlers and slaughterers to help stabilize the industry in Delaware and is similar to shows held in Lancaster and Baltimore for the past several years.

Classifications this year will put emphasis on 4-H and FFA livestock, for which the show is primarily intended. An open class will also be included, but will be changed to Department "B" while the 4-H and FFA Classes are now rated as Department "A." Two new classes for steers and heifers will also be added, one from 750 to 900 pounds, and the other 900 pounds and up.

A sizable increase in entries is expected this year. Officials expect about 200 hogs and from 15 to 20 steers to be shown and sold.

Prizes ranging from $20 to $4 will be offered to owners of outstanding animals in the show, with $15 prizes offered to the owner of the grand champion individual hog of the show and to the owner of the grand champion trio. The champions of the Departments A and B will compete for the grand championships.

D. F. Long is president of the show. G. M. Worrlow vice-president, and M. Elizabeth Lamborn treasurer. Members of the executive board include: Louis Goldinger, D. A. Scott, Lee Carey, Horace Short, Maurice Field, F. T. Warrington, Thomas Herlihy, Jr., and Harold W. Shipley.

Classes which will be judged in the show are: Department A—Class 1—Individual Hog weighing between 180 and 225 pounds; Class 2—Individual Hog weighing between 225 and 275 pounds; Class 3—Trio of fat hogs weighing between 180 and 225 pounds; Class 4—Trio of fat hogs weighing between 225 and 275 pounds.

Department B—Class 1—Pen of ten fat hogs averaging 180 to 275 pounds; Class 2—Pen of three fat hogs averaging 180 to 275 pounds; Class 3—Individual hog weighing between 180 and 275 pounds. Entries in Class 2, Department B, may be selected from Class 1, and entries in Class 3 may be selected from either of the two previous classes.

Fairlawn Food Market Undergoes Renovation

Price-wise housewives, out to deal the high cost of living a sharp blow, might do well to look into the newly renovated Fairlawn Food Market, formerly the Community Store.

Completely remodeled inside a few weeks ago at a cost of over $5,000, the store now features complete meat and produce departments. Modern cabinets for frozen foods have also been installed.

Biggest surprise will be the meat department where a full line of first-grade meats are being offered at very reasonable prices.

Gas Consumption In State Jumps

Ernest Muncy, state motor fuel administrator, disclosed recently that gas consumption here last month showed an increase of 8.83 per cent over July of last year.

Gross sales of gasoline on which tax was collected in Delaware last month totaled 8,119,176 gallons, or $59,899 more than July, 1947.

After refund for non-highway use the net gallons upon which tax was paid, sold for July, this year, were 7,214,843, an increase of 568,602, or 8.56 per cent over July, last year. Sales to the government of tax exempt gasoline in Delaware in July were 41,809 gallons, an increase of 11,559 gallons, or 38.2 per cent, over July, last year. W. H. Sterling, auditor of the motor fuel tax division, said.

Ten inches of snow equals in water content, on the average, approximately one inch of rain.

Wartime Rank For Veterans In Army

Former members of the Army, Navy, Air Corps, Marine Corps and Coast Guard who were honorably discharged from active service on or after May 12, 1945, may enlist in the Regular Army in grades commensurate with their prior service provided they held certain occupational specialties while in the Armed Forces was announced by Captain Walter G. Runte, local Army and Air Force Recruiting Officer for Delaware.

This is an example of the modernized thinking of the New Regular Army and it also shows that the Army is seeking to enlist men of the highest type of technical skill and training. Such ratings will give peacetime soldiers positions of responsibility comparable to those which they could demand in civilian life.

Any discharged veteran whose service was in one of the specified jobs needed by the Army is eligible for enlistment in a grade commensurate with his skill up to an including the grade which he held at the time of his discharge.

"To man the Regular Army and Air Force which consists of about a million volunteers," Capt. Runte said, "thousands of trained men will be needed."

The captain stated, that all veterans in making a decision on a post-war career, should compare the Regular Army as to its financial aspects, its retirement benefits and its advancement.

REPORTS AT ROTARY CLUB

Committee Heads
List Group Aims

A business session with no formal program marked the weekly meeting of the Newark Rotary Club on Monday night. President Ken Steers presided.

Reports on the aims and achievements of four major committees appointed in July were heard.

Jack Handloff outlined progress made by the Club Service group, Joe Bryan the Community Service unit, Rodney Dann, Vocational Committee and Gilbert Nickel, the International Service group.

Although a number of interesting projects are being planned by these groups, none is sufficiently advanced for a detailed report, it was said.

Visitors at the session were Noble Golt, of Golt's Cut Rate Store, and Rev. Thomas Wingate, of Salem, N. J., who is past district governor of Rotary.

Next week's meeting will be in charge of Joe Shields.

Memorial Drive

American Legion went on record in favor of this program. The same letter was sent to all civic, fraternal, and town groups. They were all in favor of the permanent memorial. Representatives of the V. F. W. spoke before the town groups explaining in detail the plan. From these talks and affirming letters from the various groups of Newark it was believed that the majority were in favor of a memorial of this type. A town memorial committee was formed consisting of members from the Masonic Lodge, Order of the Eastern Star, Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder, Knights of Pythias, Rotary, Lions, the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and others. The attendance at these meetings has been poor. The house-to-house canvass has been discouraging. Let's face it Newark. Do you or do you not want a permanent memorial as proposed to take its place?

"At the last meeting of the Newark War Memorial, Inc. it was decided to set a deadline of October 15 at which time the plan will be discontinued unless new encouragement in the way of financial help and manpower will be had."

TRAGEDY!

A man could be in awful pain and not even once complain. He might meet great financial loss or have a run-in with his boss and, somehow, manage all the while to meet his troubles with a smile. But, if his putt should fail should fail to drop, then that same gent would blow his top. You'll never have any rational excuse to blow your top at meal time if you cook electrically! You'll be surprised how simple and easy it is to cook on the beautiful new Frigidaire electric range. The best part of this range is that it will turn out excellent meals for your family every day in the year. Don't delay; find out about the outstanding features of the Frigidaire, today at the

FILLIN' IN

Today's average citizen is beset by so many and such commonplace perils that it is a wonder he finds time to fret at all over such large menaces to existence as the grocery bill or the Berlin situation.

The other day, for instance, we were a helpless bystander at a catastrophe of the sort that never makes the headlines. A mother, trying to give her child a drink from a public fountain designed for grown-ups, hoisted the tot in the air and suspended it directly over the nozzle. At the same time, she felt around with her foot for the pedal which operated the machine.

Just as the child's face swung into position, a powerful stream of icy water shot from the machine. The small victim gasped and turned purple, while its mother, paralyzed with panic, stood with her foot glued to the treadle. The water glanced off the child's face and spouted an easy twenty feet in the air, soaking a number of onlookers. Eventually someone found the presence of mind to drag the pair from the machine. Both were drenched and bear hysteria, and an emergency call was immediately put through to the deluge relief branch of the nearest Red Cross center.

The incident, we feel, brings to a focus one of the major hazards to modern living—the public fountain with an empty drinking cup container.

In the interest of the general welfare, we have carried out a survey of various type drinking devices and have catalogued their more dangerous characteristics. Our conclusion is that the public should be equipped with canteens.

In the first place, we found that most fountains are designed to prevent the untrained layman from getting any water at all out of them. Each has a cunningly concealed lever, knob, button or treadle intended to baffle the parched wayfarer.

Many times during our investigations, we have observed thirst-ridden citizens, stalking over the barren wastes of a city train terminal or striding hip-deep through the lush undergrowth of a movie lobby carpet, approach a fountain and strive futilely to get water out of it. In the end, they slunk away with blackened lips and glazed eyes into, very probably, oblivion.

Indeed, we have heard it said that during the summer months in the more remote regions of large public buildings in our big cities, the fozzled remains of unfortunate pilgrims may be found strewn about moist, cool but utterly unworkable fountains.

More dangerous than the stubborn coolers are the playful ones. These emit a sudden, powerful jet full in the face of the unsuspecting citizen, then, with a moist smirk, go completely dead. The crazed wayfarer mops the life-giving drops from his brow and strives panically to find what he accidentally pushed to get the spurt. It is of no use, however, for the machine has had its fun and is now bored.

Most despicable of all are the fountains which lead their victims on by sending out a sparkling, well-disciplined stream, which, as the traveler touches it to his lips, shrinks to a feeble dribble. If the unwary drinker bends closer to lap up the precious fluid, the fountain shoots a foaming torrent down his larynx, driving him back with purple face, bulging eyes and completely innuendos. The victim has the curious look of one going down for the third time on dry land.

Many of the hazards connected with fountains might be eliminated if paper cup containers were kept filled. But, as everyone knows, laxity on the part of the country's paper cup container fillers is nearing the proportions of a national scandal.

Our investigations left us with the conviction that there is no sure-fire formula for dealing safely with drinking fountains. Our advice is to ease each individually before approaching it. Discover its whims by watching how it traps others.

Even this is not always successful. The last time we tried it we overlooked an important factor. Technically we had the gadget mastered and directed a nicely aimed stream down our throat. Then we fell back gagging. There is nothing more unnerving than a mouthful of flat, tepid water when you're expecting it fresh and cool.

A horse and buggy on Main Street now would cause almost as much neck-cranning and excited comment as the first automobile did years ago.

Just about 45 years ago, though, it looked somewhat doubtful that the automobile would make the grade. In fact, the first machine to pass down Main Street eventually earned the humiliating fate of being converted into a horse drawn farm cart.

Newark's first automobile, according to Post files, was an International double chain drive touring car, owned by a Mr. Donnell around 1903.

It sputtered and coughed its way about town for a number of years until it was eventually sold to Armstrong and Shank Hardware, now the Newark Farm and Home Supply. When Gett bought out Armstrong the horse machine, which had been turned into a truck, went with the store. Later, a local farmer, Joseph Crockett, bought and dismantled it, using the running gear for a horse drawn farm wagon.

Anyone at that time who claimed that the auto would one day banish the smart rigs and buggies from Main St. would have gotten the horse laugh.

HENS BATTLE TEMPLE ON EVEN TERMS IN PRACTICE CONTEST; TWO TEAMS USED

Newcomers To Delaware Varsity Show Promise In Mock Match At Owls' Training Center; Morrison And Coach Murray Direct Action

First pre-season viewing of the 1948 Delaware grid machine came last Saturday when the Hens worked out with Temple University at the latter's training camp, Collegeville, Pa.

Both squads were divided into first and second teams, battling four regulation periods and two shorter overtime sessions on virtually even terms.

Several newcomers on the Delaware first string aggregation showed promise of going places this fall. Among them were Charlie Smith, 186-pound sophomore from Glenside, Pa., who served as quarterback, and Jim Thomas, sophomore from Wilmington, who worked for a while as an end. Both were excellent on the defense.

Another standout was left halfback Hank Paris, 179 pounder from Freeport, N. Y., who broke away for one of the most spectacular runs of the day, reeling off 35 yards on a reverse. Considered the fastest man on the squad, Hank, who is a junior, showed flashes of brilliance last year in his jayvee and varsity clashes and is regarded as a strong possibility to start at left halfback.

Veterans who appeared set to match or better last year's showing for the Hens were fullback Mariano Stalloni, left end Carroll Hauptle, co-captains Gene Carrell and Bob Campbell.

On the second team it was Don Boorse, a sophomore from Norwood, Pa., who led the attack with some hard line plunging. He is being groomed to spell Nine Stalloni and Tony Salerno at fullback.

Frannie Hill, a 203-pound sophomore and a product of the Newark High School, was outstanding on the forward wall, breaking through on one occasion to block a punt.

He played as a second-string tackle in his freshman year but did not return to school last year. Murray was glad to see him back this year, and he is expected to either spell Campbell or bid for the left tackle job. Hill, who is 25, is an ex-Navy man.

Both Ray Morrison, Owl coach, and Bill Murray were on the field most of the time, guiding their teams and criticizing plays.

The complete Hen line-ups:

First Team
For defensive play, Nash, Cole, Tom Silk and Roy McCarthy were used in the backfield.

Second Team

Judge Thy Self Lest Another Fine Ye More

Peter Boysen pleaded guilty to operating his automobile under an expired driver's license.

He was fined $5 and ordered to make immediate application for a new license. In addition he was ordered not to drive his car until he had complied with the order.

The justice who issued the orders? Peter Boysen—the defendant. He is a justice of the peace and heard his own case.

Rollins Tars Set To Give Opponents Trouble

Coach Jack McDowall predicted today that any team that beats the Rollins College Tars this year would have to score at least two touchdowns.

"We'll stress offense, with special emphasis on passing, more this season than ever before," declared the Tar mentor, who will take his first look at his 1948 squad on Friday morning.

McDowall said his decision was prompted by the wealth of talented passers and receivers on the 1948 squad. "It would be foolish not to take advantage of them."

Key men on the offense will be hard running spinner-back Kenny Horton. The St. Petersburg sophomore, last year's leading ground gainer can pass as well as he can run.

Newark Gridders To Meet Pleasant Valley

The Newark A. C. grid team will open its season on Sunday when it meets Pleasant Valley at the Baynard Stadium, Wilmington, according to business manager Bernard Saunders.

A six game schedule faces the outfit. Except for the opener, dates have not been fixed as yet, but games are planned with teams from Kennett Square, West Chester, Toughkenamon, Chester Boys' Club and the Philadelphia Panthers.

Home field for the club is opposite the Curtis Paper Mill.

Bowling Season Here Will Move Into High Next Week; 5 Leagues

Monday Night Loop Underway; Friday Night Circuit Starts Tomorrow

Two leagues are opening for the fall and winter at the Newark Bowling Center this week, and the season will move into full swing next week when three more loops start.

The Tuesday Night League opened this week with eight teams, and the Friday Night Loop, also an 8 unit circuit, will start up tomorrow. The remainder of the three weekly leagues will begin on their respective nights next week. Plans for the girls' league are not complete as yet, but Manager Morris Adams expects to organize one before the month is out.

Harry Axenroth is president of the Tuesday Night Loop with Henry Whiteman secretary-treasurer. Teams are: Red Clay I, Red Clay II, Knights of Pythias, White Clay Creek, Continental-Diamond, Newark, Curtis Paper, and T. N. T. The latter is composed of ROTC instructors at the University of Delaware.

The Friday night circuit is headed by Curtis Spence, and Harvey Robertson is secretary-treasurer. The teams: Marylanders, Milford Cross Roads, Masons, Red Men, Five Stars, Ebenezer Church, Osceola Lodge, No. 5, and the Lions Club.

Faster Service On G. I. Benefits Promised

Faster payment of subsistence allowance to veterans enrolling in colleges this fall is expected by William I. Tawes, chief of vocational rehabilitation and education service for the Veterans Administration in Delaware.

He said that with the cooperation of the veterans, the Delaware regional office can get first checks to the veterans by the first five days of October.

The VA spokesman said that he had held conferences with representatives of all educational institutions in Delaware, and those officials have been briefed on registration of students under the GI Bill.

JACKETS ROUND OUT SECOND WEEK OF DRILLS; EXPECT TO SCRIMMAGE NEXT WEEK

Few More Gridders Report After Start Of School, But Squad Still Smallest In Several Years; Debut With Brown Less Than Month Away

The Yellowjacket grid squad, one of the lightest and smallest in a number of years, rounded out its second week of drills under Coach Walter Matt today with the emphasis still on light workouts and technical fundamentals.

Coach Matt plans to issue heavy equipment for the first time tomorrow, with the prospect that scrimmage will begin on Monday. The Jackets have less than a month to prepare themselves for their opener with Brown Vocational here on October 2.

Although a few more candidates reported at the opening school last week, the squad still numbers only about 26. Practice was called a week in advance of classes.

Matt is facing a severe shortage of brawn this season. Heaviest man in the backfield will be fullback Jim Foard, who weighs in at 167. Only other applicant for ball tooting spots who top the 150 mark is halfback Jack Lehman.

What's more, the backs won't get too much protection from the forward wall which from all indications will be a fragile barrier. Clifford Moore, six-foot, 156-pounder is the biggest flank man. The remainder of the line will average around 165.

Lack of experience is also plaguing the Jacket mentor this year. Although last year's backfield is fairly intact, the first and second string lines were lost through graduation.

A complete list of the squad working with Matt and assistant Wilmer Ott follows:

Smoke Detection Devices Are Tested For Aircraft

New smoke detection devices for aircraft are being tested because those now in use are "not yielding the results expected," a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing was told recently.

The board is investigating the causes of a United Airlines plane crash June 27 near Mount Carmel, Pa., in which 49 persons were killed.

Albert Vollmacker, chief air frame and equipment engineer for the Civil Aeronautics Administration, revealed the tests and said there have been 22 reports of false smoke alarms in aircraft this year.

Earlier in the hearing the theory had been advanced that the pilots of the United Airlines plane may have become unconscious from carbon dioxide fumes from automatic fire extinguishers, set off by a false smoke alarm.

Grid Stars To Cavort In Charity Tilt At Baltimore

A parade of All American football players are marching towards Baltimore and will arrive at the stadium on Sunday, September 19th, to perform in the Variety Club's fourth annual charity football game.

The famed Chicago Bears, seven times champions of the National Professional Football League will meet the Washington Redskins. Both teams have played some historic games in the past and the rivalry is not of the sweet nature, and this year's clash promises a lot of fireworks.

Players that have basked in the spotlight for many years will have to step aside and rest on their hard won laurels, for some of last year's stars from the college gridiron have folded their books and have joined the ranks of the pros.

Lujack and Connor from Notre Dame; Layne, Baumgardner and Canaday from the University of Texas; Washington Serini, 235 pounds of brawn from Kentucky; J. R. Boone, broken-field artist from Tulsa, and Dick Flanagan who starred for Ohio State last fall are a few of the rookies that are expected to carry the Windy City banner.

The Redskins have added 18 rookies to their squad and from their showing to-date, Turk Edwards, the big, likeable coach has a difficult task in selecting the ones that he will retain.

moisture, and compares with a support of $2.04 for the 1947 crop. Black, brown, and mixed varieties will be supported at $1.98 a bushel.

Soybean prices are directed by law to be supported at 90 per cent of a price comparable to "parity." A "parity" price is designed to give farm products purchasing power equal to that within a previous "base" period.

Details of the program will be made public later, according to Mr. Ocheltree.

New Plough Seen As Aid To Conservation

Astonishing savings in tillage costs are being realized by many of the Delaware and Maryland farmers who are using the new revolutionary Graham-Hoeme lifetime plow, according to Frank G. Dennison, of Limestone Road, retail agent.

Substantial increases in yields are also in prospect due to deeper, looser tillage which has promoted a deeper root system and healthier foliage.

As a most worthy successor to the slow, expensively operated moldboard plow, many of the more progressive farmers are adopting the disc type Graham plow, which is expensive in maintenance and upkeep. The Graham plow will chisel through the plow sole, thoroughly loosen the soil—deeply, and leave most of the crop residue on top of the land to act as a mulch, thus, enriching the soil and preventing erosion.

The creation of a deeper, richer topsoil, increased crop yields, erosion prevention and 40% to 60% lower costs of operation are of importance to American farmers whose labor expense and tillage costs have skyrocketed and whose erosion and fertility problems are taking an annually increasing amount of fertilizer and, what may be even more important to all America, decreasing the amount of fertile topsoil.

NHS SAFETY UNIT FORMED

Pupils To Act As Patrolmen

Organization of a safety patrol at the Newark Schools was completed at an assembly yesterday in the auditorium.

The group will be composed of boys in grades seven through 12 who will patrol dangerous intersections during the hours pupils are going to or returning from school.

Formation of the club was proposed by the local Legion post and will be a part of that group's safety program.

The P. T. A. and the Newark Police are cooperating.

At yesterday's organization meet, Walter Wassmer, Legion safety chairman, gave an orientation talk and exhibited two films on traffic safety.

Vets To Get Job Training At NHS

Veterans, learning a trade under the G. I. Bill, will be trained on a part-time basis at the Newark High School, it was disclosed this week.

The program will be under Elsworth Hoffman, industrial arts instructor.

Veterans, working as trade apprentices, will be given related training in the school shop five hours weekly. The government program calls for the student-workers to receive 144 hours of classroom training in addition to working on their job.

The course will begin the first part of October.

Complete Collection On Ancient Man Underway

The Smithsonian Institution reported recently it is building up a collection of minutely accurate casts of skulls and other fossil bones of primitive man.

It hopes the collection, when finished, will give anthropologists a chance to study a complete record of human development in one research center. In the past, the relatively rare relics of prehistoric man have been scattered in museums all over the world.

Cast copies of invaluable relics also is a protection against irrevocable loss. For example, the highly valued skull of "China Man," generally recognized as the second oldest human fossil found, was lost without trace when it was removed from Peking during the war. But the Smithsonian has a perfect cast copy of it.

Military Rites For Francis Cunane, 41

Funeral services with military honors were held from the Jones Funeral Home, on Saturday morning for Francis Cunane, 41, of Christiana, a veteran of World War II. Requiem mass was said in St. John's R. C. Church.

Mr. Cunane, who died Thursday at the Veterans Administration Hospital, New Castle, entered the service in February, 1942, and was discharged in September, 1945. He saw action in Europe as a master sergeant with the 44th Division, 114th Infantry.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Cunane, he is survived by six sisters and five brothers.

Department Store To Open New Men's Section

The Newark Department Store will greatly expand its services tomorrow when it opens a complete men's clothing department.

A full line of men suits and topcoats, including the famed, hand-tailored Botany styles, will be offered. In the lower price range will be the popular Clipper Craft suits.

Expanding the men's department has long been contemplated by officials of the firm, who said that the store is the first in Delaware to be granted a Botany agency since the war.

In conjunction with the opening, the store will introduce its new payment plan. Men's suits and topcoats can now be bought with a modest down payment and the balance over 30 or 60 day periods.
