Contract Awarded For Eliminating Dangerous Curve

Council Meets In Special Session Monday Night

Machinery For Digging Wells Arrived Late Last Week

The work of driving artesian wells for the extension to the water plant of the town will be begun this week by the Artesian Well Drilling Co., of Philadelphia, who were awarded the contract. The apparatus arrived late Saturday and was taken to the scene of operations the first of this week.

A special meeting of Council was called on Monday evening to open bids for the widening of Elkton Road at its junction with Main St. This work has been in contemplation for some time and the ground for this improvement at a much traveled and dangerous corner was decided to the town more than a year ago.

The contract was awarded to F. W. Lovett who will complete this work and that on Elkton Avenue as far as the town limits be before November 1st. The work of resurfacing the streets of the town, contract for which was awarded Mr. Lovett a month ago, is held up because of freight embargoes which makes it impossible to secure materials. Mayor Frazer went before the Levy Court yesterday to make application for the laying of the new mains on Academy Street. The matter was referred to district commissioner Shaw and County Engineer Grubb.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH PICNIC PLANS OF PRESBYTERIANS

Members of Sunday School Enjoy Treat at the Church

Mr. Swinton did his worst on Sunday last, and that is saying a great deal, for he has, this summer, lived fully up to the reputation established back in the middle of the nineteenth century. The Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church had chosen that day for its annual outing and had planned for a gala time at Augustus Beach.

Swinton's performance was a failure in the calendar a bit of weather which the good Saint was doing graciously since his altered time according to tradition was on Thursday.

His gratuitous overtime was not appreciated as it would have been in the other world. Lunches were packed, ice cream ordered, cake made, and transportation provided for everyone who wished to go in the morning and for those whose work detained them until after noon.

At the hour appointed for departure a number of the children and a few of the adults who were hopeful that the skies would clear, assembled at the church. A decision was finally made that they would proceed to their destination if it should clear about noon.

When their hopes in this respect failed to materialize, they decided to assemble the children in the Sunday School room of the church and let them enjoy the treat of ice cream and cake provided. Teachers were therefore instructed to notify their pupils and a social hour with an abundance of refreshments was enjoyed.

Some who were unwilling to brave the elements held their own little private picnics at home and in some cases invited neighbors in to share the picnic feast with them.

THE LADIES' MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO HOLD BAKE

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church will hold a bake on next Saturday, September 4, on the porch of the office adjoining the residence of Daniel Thompson.

EXPECT PRESIDENT OF DELAWARE COL- LEGE TODAY

Will be on Hand for Opening Contrary to Previous Plan

Dr. Walter Hullahen, President of Delaware College, is expected to arrive in Newark today or tomorrow. He will remain until after the work of the academic year is well under way and will later take time to complete the work of the summer camp in which he has been interested for several years.

It was Dr. Hullahen's intention at first to complete the work of the camp and take over the work of the college about October first. The unusually large enrollment and the numerous problems which daily arise as a result thereof were such as to demand the presence here of the new president.

Two vacancies in the faculty remain yet to be filled on the college staff. Successors to Dr. Homer Hoyt, professor of Business Administration, and to Dr. John R. Moore, assistant in the English Department, have not yet been secured. One vacancy remains yet to be filled on the Experiment Station staff, that of assistant professor of Agronomy to succeed Professor R. J. Friant who resigned recently. Applications for these vacancies are under consideration and it is expected that the positions will be filled within the next week or so.

The buildings and equipment have undergone many improvements during the summer vacation. The furniture of the Lounge has been recovered with fabricoid, the expense of which has been borne by H. Rodney Sharp. The woodwork on the various buildings has received a coat of paint and the kitchen at the Commons has also been painted.

Miss Dorothy L. Hawkins, of Wilmington, reported for duty yesterday as assistant librarian at the college. She has been connected with the Wilmington Free Library for about five years.

The men composing the Rehabilitation Unit resumed their studies on Monday after a three weeks' vacation. With a few exceptions, all of the men have returned and several others who were assigned here recently, reported also. Raymond M. Upton, director, and Professor C. Edwards, head of the Academic Department, arrived the latter part of the week and had everything in readiness for the work to begin without delay. The dining room at the Commons was ready for the men on Monday noon.

LOCAL INDUSTRIAL PLANT SHUTS DOWN FOR OVERHAULING

The local plant of the American Vulcanized Fibre Co. closed down on Saturday at noon to undergo repairs and to install new equipment. Most of the force of workmen have been retained to assist in the overhauling. It will probably take a week or ten days to complete the work.

F. BAYARD CARTER SAILS FOR ENGLAND SUNDAY

F. Bayard Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, sailed on Sunday for Liverpool, England. After a sightseeing tour of that country, he will go to Balliol College, Oxford, to take up his course as a Rhodes scholar.

"Beas" was in town last week bidding farewell to his many friends here.

WILL TAKE COURSE AT GOLDEY COLLEGE

Miss Mary Clancy has resigned her position as operator for the Continental Fibre Co., and will take a business course at Goldey College. Miss Margaret Mackie, of Glasgow, succeeds Miss Clancy.

GUILD TO HOLD FIRST AUTUMN MEETING TONIGHT

The Guild of St. Thomas' Church will hold the first monthly meeting of the fall and winter season this evening at the Parish House.

AMERICAN LEGION ELECTS DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION

Mankes Change of Meeting Night and Increases Dues

At a recent meeting of Lt. J. Allison O'Daniel Post, No. 6, American Legion, delegates were elected to the State convention which will be held at Dover at a date in September not yet fixed. September 14, the date originally set conflicts with the Democratic State Convention. A later date will therefore in all probability be chosen.

The following were elected delegates: John W. Ramsey and Fred Strickland; alternates, Lee Lewis and Harry Herberner. At this meeting some changes were made in the constitution of the local Post. The dues were increased, the meeting night changed, and likewise the time for election of delegates.

WRECK ON PENNSY DE- MORALIZES TRAIN SERVICE

A wreck early this morning when the American Express special and a heavy freight met in head-on collision, demoralized East bound train service on the Pennsylvania. For the convenience of commuters a train was made up this side of the wreck to take the place of that due here at 8.31. The regular train due at that time arrived about 11.35. Traffic thereafter is fairly regular.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Charles P. Medill has announced his candidacy for State Representative from White Clay Creek hundred, subject to the rules of the Republican party.

PASTOR OF METHODIST CHURCH ON VACATION

In the absence of Rev. Frank Herson, who is away on his annual vacation, the pulpit is being filled by visiting ministers. Presiding Elder Robert Watt preached last Sunday.

Candidates for the pulpit at the Presbyterian Church are being heard each Sunday.

WOMEN CONSIDER QUES- TION OF REGISTRATION

Women of this vicinity are considering carefully the matter of registration and from the interest manifested, it is likely that a large number will appear for registration on Saturday, September 18, and on October 16. It is likely also that citizenship classes will be established in the various districts and that addresses and informal talks on the subject of registration and voting will be given by men and women well informed on such matters.

The qualifications which one must present are the subject of much discussion. Very few questions will have to be answered, however. The following will be asked:

"Are you of legal voting age?" (Exact age not required).

"What is your full name?"

"Were you born in this country?"

"How long have you lived in the State, county, town, district?"

"If not born in this country, have you been naturalized?"

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS TO MEET TUESDAY

The Lt. J. Allison O'Daniel Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday evening in Centre Hall. They will have as their guests on that occasion the members of Reynolds Post, G. A. R.

This Post was recently established here by the soldiers comprising the Rehabilitation Unit. Many of the local men who fought on foreign soil in the Spanish-American and World Wars have since joined. Rooms in Centre Hall were secured by Commander B. Frank Harris who will have them open to ex-service men at all times.

NEWARK-WIL- MINGTON ROAD TO BE REPAIRED

J. K. Johnston Makes Formal Complaint to Levy Court on Behalf of Citizens

While much grumbling and more profanity have resulted from the uncomfortable jolting over the rough and rutty road between Roseville and Pike Creek, little or no actual complaint has been made to the Levy Court which is responsible for the existing conditions.

Yesterday, however, John K. Johnston, representing the citizens of Newark, made formal complaint to that body, stating that those who made the journey to Wilmington, and those who have occasion to use this road to reach Newark, have reached the limit of their patience.

County Engineer Grubb informed Mr. Johnston that the new road between Roseville and White Clay Creek Church will be finished by the end of this working season. From this point on the road will be repaired, leveled and put into good shape for winter travel.

This will be welcome news to Newark residents who, to quote Chief Engineer Upham after he had made the trip between here and Wilmington, have been "very good natured indeed" to endure such discomfort for so long a period without formal demand that the road be made fit for travel. Mr. Upham's statement the traffic between Newark and Wilmington would justify the expenditure of a considerable sum for temporary repairs, was no doubt a determining factor in the decision to lay formal complaint before the Levy Court.

YOUNG FOLK FROM COUNTRY SCHOOLS TO EXHIBIT AT FAIR

Many Children in Immediate Vicinity Included in the List

The young people composing the sewing and cooking clubs in the schools of the county are having a busy week preparing their exhibits for the State Fair which will begin next Monday. These young folk, together with their teachers under the direction of County Club Leader Miss Agnes Medill, have done excellent work this winter and are looking forward to Fair Week as the Red Letter event in the Club year. Their success in this venture is the key to so many pleasurable and profitable trips which are yearly awarded to Club champions.

A number of young people from the county schools in this vicinity, in all about 70 children, will have exhibits or will do Demonstration Work at the Fair. The following from schools in the immediate vicinity will have a part in the Club work there:

McClellandville—Ethel Crowe, Clara Lane, Marguerite Ferguson.

Welsh Tract—Doris Jarmon, Viola Everett, Lucy Smith, Vera Conner, Margaret Jarmon, Ethel Jarmon, Rebecca Hutchinson.

Glasgow—Clesta Wilson, Doris Brown, Helen Dunn.

Union—Ida Eastburn, Marilla Howell, Sara Sharpless, Lucy Armstrong, Ethel Connell, Madeline Ash, Ethel Erickson.

Christiana—Mary Keen, Ada Miller, Ruth Cleaves, Dorothy Smith, Elizabeth Hanna, Sara Kilvington.

In addition to these Summit Bridge, Stanton, Mt. Pleasant, Sunnyside, Newport, Howells, and Oak Grove will send representatives.

It is expected that the exhibits this year will overtop those of previous years both in number and quality of work demonstrated.

LOCAL MAN GETS ELKTON CONTRACT

The contract for installing a steam boiler in the Elkton High School was recently awarded to Daniel Stoll, of this town. His bid was $1,475.

NEWARK YOUTHS MAKE GOOD RECORDS AT CAMP PERRY

Eugene Stiltz and Walter Holton High Men in Team Matches

Walter Holton and Eugene Stiltz arrived home on Sunday at noon from Camp Perry, Ohio, where they participated in the National Rifle Matches. Both young men are enthusiastic over the treatment accorded them and both enjoyed the month spent there as guests of Uncle Sam, who paid the bill for transportation, guns, ammunition, board and all expenses.

The local youths acquitted themselves admirably both in the individual and in the team matches. In the team matches, Holton was only 2 points below Manion, the crack Wilmington marksman, and only 11 points behind young Terrell, who was high man in the individual scores.

Stiltz was also among the leaders also with a score of 250.

In the (1) 200 yards rapid fire; (2) 600 yards slow fire; (3) 1000 yards slow fire, the scores of the two young men were as follows:

Holton	95	86	83
Stiltz	90	81	79

The team as a whole, comprising 12 men, made the excellent score of 3217 out of a possible 3600 points, thus winning third place.

The young Newarkers were invited to participate in the matches to be held soon at Sea Girt by a New York and New Jersey rifle men's association.

ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP ON DELAWARE AVENUE

A variation of the first floor burglary which have furnished excitement to householders this past year, was tried by two local knights of the road on Sunday evening when they with the aid of a dog attempted to hold up Conrad K. D. Lewis on Delaware Avenue shortly after the arrival of the midnight train.

The young man was homeward bound when at a point opposite the grounds of Wolf Hall, he was called upon to halt. The two men with the aid of the dog made an ineffective triangle from which Lewis escaped in the direction of Main Street. Here he enlisted the aid of Eugene and Ferd Stiltz and an unavailing effort was made to locate the would-be footpads.

The identity of the men was discovered through sleuth work of the young men within the next day or so. Their defense is that they thought an attempt was on foot to burglarize Wolf Hall and they were anxious to foil this attempt.

PILLSBURY FAMILY MOVES TO WILMINGTON

The family of Thomas H. Pillsbury will move to Wilmington tomorrow and will reside at 824 West Ninth Street.

Mr. Pillsbury is chief clerk in the U. S. Engineer's office in Wilmington and came here from New England several years ago. The family has made many friends in Newark who regret their departure. Mrs. Pillsbury has been an active worker in the New Century Club and in the Presbyterian Church. Miss Pillsbury graduated last year from the local high school and will take a college preparatory course at Friends School this coming academic year.

ELKTON CARNIVAL RECEIPTS OVER $13,000

The carnival held by Singlerly Fire Co. at Elkton last week was brought to a successful close last night when a record breaking crowd was in attendance. Rain last week interfered with the carnival plans to such an extent that the affair was continued on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week. The gross receipts were more than $13,000, of which $8,000 or $9,000 will be clear. The Buick automobile was awarded to Kennard Blake, of North-east, Md.; the automobile tire to Richard Keithley and the barrel of flour to John Cavanaugh, both of Elkton.

Public Schools To Open Next Tuesday

Full Corps Of Teachers Signed Up For Season

Building and Grounds Put In Shape For Reception Of Students And Teachers

The public schools under the direction of the Board of Education and Superintendent Owens, are being put in readiness for the opening of the academic season which begins next Tuesday, September 7.

The buildings have received a thorough cleaning and airing, necessary repairs have been made, supplies have been ordered and every thing relative to the physical plant has been put in good order for the reception of the students and teachers.

Newark is particularly fortunate in having a full corps of teachers signed up for the season. A large proportion of last year's force is returning. In the Primary School, of the five teachers employed, only one is a newcomer, Miss Pauline Rutledge who succeeds Miss Alva Lockhart as critic teacher in charge of the first grade. In the Grammar School, Misses Verna Brown, Madge Nickerson and Olive Heiser were elected this year. The last two are residents of the town. Miss Anna Gallaher who was one of the faculty here last year was transferred to the High School.

Superintendent Owens has been in Newark almost daily for the past month in conference with the Board and with the teachers. The record of promotions and other data necessary for expeditious enrollment, are in good shape so that the army of 500 or more children who will besiege the schools on Tuesday can be taken care of readily.

The county schools, 86 in number, will also open on Tuesday. These too, in the main, are ready for occupancy. There are relatively few vacancies here. Of the 152 teachers employed there are ten yet to be secured in spite of the fact that the standard for teachers is much higher than in previous years.

All supplies have been ordered and are ready for distribution next Tuesday.

ST. JOHN'S SUNDAY SCHOOL ON PICNIC TODAY

The members of St. John's Sunday School are enjoying a picnic at Augustine Beach today. Transportation was provided for the young people and a number of older folks accompanied them. They left for the Beach shortly before ten o'clock.

Labor Day, September 6

Labor is the crown of the true royalty and the splendid scepter of Man's Highest and Noblest Sovereignty.

Work!

Thank God for the might of it,
The ardor, the urge, the delight of it—
Work that springs from the heart's desire,
Setting the brain and the soul on fire—
Or, what is so good as the heat of it,
And what is so glad as the beat of it,
And what is so kind as the stern command,
Challenging brain, and heart and hand?

Work!

Thank God for the pride of it,
For the beautiful, conquering tide of it,
Sweeping the life in its furious flood,
Thrilling the arteries, cleansing the blood,
Mastering the stupor and dull despair,
Moving the dreamer to do and dare,
Oh, what is so good as the urge of it,
And what is so glad as the surge of it,
And what is so strong as the summons deep,
Rousing the torpid soul from sleep?

Work!

Thank God for the pace of it,
For the terrible, keen, swift race of it;
Fiery steeds in full control,
Nostrils a-quiver to greet the goal.

Work, the power that drives behind,
Guiding the purpose, taming the mind,
Holding the runaway wishes back,
Reining the will to one steady track,
Speeding the energies faster, faster,
Triumphing over disaster,
Oh, what is so good as the pain of it,
And what is so great as the gain of it?
And what is so kind as the cruel goad,
Forcing us on through the rugged road?

Work!

Thank God for the swing of it,
For the clamoring, hammering ring of it,
Passion of labor daily hurled
On the mighty anvils of the world,
Oh, what is so fierce as the flame of it,
And what is so huge as the aim of it?
Thundering on through dearth and doubt,
Calling the plan of the Maker out.
Work, the Titan; Work, the friend,
Shaping the earth to a glorious end,
Draining the swamps and blasting the hills,
Doing whatever the Spirit wills—
Rending a continent apart,
To answer the dream of the master heart,
Thank God for a world where none may shirk—
Thank God for the splendor of work!

For the Homemaker's Eye

Corn and Tomatoes.

Mix a quart of corn cut from the cob with the contents of a can of tomatoes, add a little onion juice, salt and pepper to taste, simmer for 15 minutes. Then add a generous tablespoon of butter and serve very hot.

Corn Oysters.

Two heaping tablespoons of flour, half teaspoon of salt, cayenne, 12 ears of corn, two eggs, butter and lard for frying.

Score the corn and press out all the grains with the back of a knife, this is much better than grating. Beat the eggs, whites and yolks apart, until very light. Add first the yolks to the corn, then the whites, salt, cayenne, and flour; mix lightly and thoroughly. Have two tablespoons of mixed lard and butter in the frying pan. When very hot, drop the mixture into the pan by small spoonfuls. Brown one side, then turn with a cake-turner and brown the other. Be sure the lard is very hot before you put in the batter, or the oysters will be greasy. Drain on brown paper in the mouth of the oven, and serve on a cut paper or folded napkin.

Chicken Casserole.

Joint the chicken or fowl and place in a deep casserole. Season well with salt and pepper and add bits of butter, a small onion, a blade or two mace and a quarter of a cup of best rice which has been previously washed. Pour over all boiling water, cover and place in a hot oven. If sufficient water is put in and the temperature of the oven is kept up, the casserole need not be disturbed until serving time. A fowl will require four hours or more in a hot oven, with half that time allowed for chicken.

Beef Stew.

One pound of beef cut from the shin or flank or from the bottom of the round, one quart of water, two cups of tomatoes, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of paprika, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, six small onions, six small carrots, six small white turnips, one-half cupful of celery cut into small pieces, three potatoes cut into halves. Trim off the fat and cut the meat into one inch pieces. Try out the fat in the kettle, and in it brown the onions and meat.

Add the water, tomatoes, paprika, salt and pepper and cook slowly until the meat is very tender. Add the carrots, turnips and celery and cook until soft.

Kidney Stew.

Cut the kidneys into small pieces, rejecting tubes and hard portions. Blanch and then cook until tender in sufficient water to cover, adding two onions finely minced. When tender thicken the gravy slightly with two tablespoonfuls of flour. Add one tablespoonful of finely minced parsley. Fill into sterilized pint jars and place the rubber and lid in position, then partially thicken. Place in a hot water bath and process for two and one-fourth hours after the water starts boiling. Remove from the bath, fasten the tops securely and then test for leaks. Store in a cool, dry place. Sheep or pig kidneys may be cooked in the same manner and they will be found to be delicious for luncheon on a cold or stormy day by simply heating and serving in a border of mashed potatoes.

Orange Milk Sherbet.

Mix one cupful of sugar with the strained juice of three oranges and one lemon and gradually beat it into one quart of hot milk in which one teaspoonful of gelatine has been dissolved. Cool and freeze slowly. If the oranges are not highly flavored a few strips of the peel can be scalded with the milk.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Bar to Ants.

If one is housekeeping in the country and bothered by an attack of ants upon the bread box, take a common piece of chalk, such as children use for writing on a blackboard, and draw a ring around the bread box with it; the ants will never go over it. The same kind of chalk ring will keep them out of closets where dresses are hanging or away from shelves.

A Hot Brick.

A hot brick on the end of your ironing board makes an admirable stand because it keeps the iron hot longer. Set it on a piece of asbestos.

When Straining Soup

use a fire, hair wire tea strainer. It takes up the grease but none of the liquid. A wet napkin will also answer the purpose and is to be recommended for patients who should get no fat.

When Packing Flowers

that are to be sent or carried some distance, place the stems in a cut raw potato. This keeps the flowers fresh and nourishes them.

Baking Soda

added to the water with which painted walls are washed cleans them easily and quickly. Rinse with clear warm water.

A Slice of Lemon

in the boiler whitens the clothes without injuring them. Use freely.

Remedy For Aching Feet.

A simple remedy for tired and aching feet is lemon juice rubbed into the soles. If the feet are dry and rough rub ordinary yellow vaseline well into the soles and around the toes. This will make the feet soft and pliable.

It is a good plan to change the shoes every two days. After wearing them put a pair of shoe trees in them and set them aside. This will save the shoes and will rest the feet. Stockings should never be worn more than two days at a time.

SCHOOL CHILDREN "MAKE IT UNANIMOUS" FOR THRIFT

Superintendents and Principals Laying Plans for Drive on Quota Plan

Youngsters in the Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey schools will have to "pass" something else besides the time-honored "rhythmic penmanship 'n history" during this coming school year.

Last year a half million out of the two million school children in the Third Federal Reserve District were enthusiastic Government savers and bought an average of nearly a stamp a piece, or an aggregate value of $2,000,000. This coming school year the children, the teachers and the officials of the Savings Division of the United States Treasury Department have jointly decided that they will "make it unanimous" for saving. They have set a quota of two big stamps for every child in every school which means that if lived up to, a total of $20,000,000 face value will be saved by youthful thrifty scholars, their actual investment being $16,700,000.

The system of sales among scholars will be the same this year as last year, with the exception of the definite quota set in lieu of the vague "save as much as you can" plan of last year. "School banks" will be again organized in every school class room, with the miniature banking system of caring for pennies deposited, converting them into Thrift Stamps.

Savings Stamps costing a little over $4 and worth $5 on maturity five years later. The cost of two Savings Stamps, averaged over the year, is $8.55. The quotas will be translated into weekly terms for the children, who are to be encouraged to set their goal at last 16 pennies every week, which gives the desired $20,000,000 total for the district for the school year.

County School Superintendents and Principals who have been laying plans for the thrift drive during vacation months are now confident that under the "quota plan" this goal can be obtained or very nearly approximated. Scores of school children have written George E. Lloyd, Savings Director of the Third Federal Reserve District, endorsing the plan and stating "that they believe that their sales will double or treble under the quota system."

Teaching thrift and saving to school children in the early grafting in them of those virtues and habits that will make for their future well-being and prosperity and that of their country. Educators and teachers fully realize the benefits and are enthusiastic promoters of the Savings Plan. Hundreds of class rooms are daily sending in their applications to be organized into Savings Societies and the Savings Division is busy distributing attractive and interesting Thrift lessons and Thrift literature. Any school, class-room, industrial place, or any organization whatever can be enrolled in the Government Savings Society by simply communicating with the Savings Division, No. 925 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa. Article 23.

At a recent meeting of Lt. J. Allison O'Daniel Post, No. 6, American Legion, delegates were elected to the State convention which will be held at Dover, at a date in September not yet fixed. September 14, the date originally set conflicts with the Democratic State Convention. A later date will therefore in all probability be chosen.

The following were elected delegates: John W. Ramsey and Fred Strickland; alternates, Lee Lewis and Harry Herberner.

At this meeting some changes were made in the constitution of the local Post. The dues were increased, the meeting night changed, and likewise the time for election of delegates.

The minister was giving the newly married couple some excellent advice for their guidance in matrimonial life.

"Pay attention to me," he said. "You must never get cross with one another. Always try to do everything in such a way that there is no unpleasantness for either of you. It is the husband's duty to protect his wife, and a wife must always obey her husband and follow him in the walks of life."

"But, sir," interrupted the young wife.

"I have not finished," said the minister. "She must always—"

"But, please, sir," broke in the young woman once more in desperation, "can't you alter that last part—about the walks of life? My husband is a country postman."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

TWO HEIFER SHOWS TO BE HELD THIS WEEK

Charlotte Dayett and Clarence Davis to be Rivals at Stanton Event

The farmers of New Castle county are to enjoy two events of signal interest in the district shows of the boys' and girls' club and vocational heifer shows to be held on the farms of J. D. Reynolds of Middletown, and C. P. Dickey, of Stanton, beginning at 1 o'clock standard time, on September 2nd and September 3rd, respectively.

The show held on Mr. Reynolds' farm September 2nd gives unusual promise of some keen competition. Gossip is at its height among the boys as to whether the heifer belonging to Howard Crothers of Mt. Pleasant, is to again carry off the high honor. Several of the boys state that he is going to earn it if he does.

At the show at Mr. Dickey's farm, September 3rd, interest centers around the heifers to be exhibited by Charlotte Dayett of Cooch, and Clarence Davis, of Fairview. Charlotte had a little the advantage last year but Clarence says he is coming back strong this year.

At each show Prof. T. A. Baker will judge the heifers. Prof. J. B. Baine, of U. S. Department of Agriculture, will speak and he says he has something of real importance for the farmers of New Castle county. Dr. C. C. Palmer, of Delaware College, whose ability as a speaker is known outside of the State, will make an address which is going to hold the attention of both the boys and their fathers.

Every rural family of New Castle county is invited to attend these meetings.

SCOUT TRAILS OF YES- TERDAY AND TODAY

"Westward Ho! Where life is free,"

He said as he westward pressed.

"Westward Ho! Is the place for me,

By the hand of my Maker blessed."

So he packed his kit on his bald-faced roan

And he left his cabin and clearing 'twine

And he sang a song as he passed at dawn.

"Oh! Westward Ho! Away we'll go

Here's a joy to the unknown trail.

Westward Ho! till the drifted snow

Makes my journeying onward fail

There I'll build a shack and a stable rough

And hunt and trap 'till I've had enough

Then I'll sing a glad song and I'll start at dawn."

"Oh! Eastward Ho! Away we'll go

Great joy on the homeward trail.

Eastward, Ho! 'till the melting snow

Bring me wand'ring home again."

TO KEEP WATERMELON THROUGH THE WINTER

An exchange tells of a way to preserve the luscious watermelon in its natural state. Good results have been obtained by keeping in the ice house, by burying and in other ways. This method sounds worth trying:

"The melons should be picked with the stem left on. They should be ripe, but not too ripe, just right for the market. Take a good varnish brush and paint each melon with melted paraffin, not too hot, but hot enough to spread and stick. The melon should be free from dirt and perfectly dry. One should work with speed and not go over the same place twice until the first coat hardens. The melons should be well coated with the paraffin. Store in a dark, cool place where rats and mice can't get them. These pests will eat into melons for the seeds. If paper can be wrapped over the paraffin, so much the better. When a watermelon is wanted for use put it in a pan and place in the oven a few minutes. The paraffin will melt. Then pour the paraffin into a vessel of hot water and stir well. After this gets cold the paraffin will come off in a clean cake and can be used again. This method will also apply to pumpkins."

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, Grace A. Rose, who departed this life nine years ago today, September 1, 1911.

Gone in the best of her days,
Bright in womanhood bloom,
Gone from those who loved her
To sleep in a lonesome tomb.
Oh, how we miss you, Mother,
More and more each day,
And our hearts have never stopped aching

Since you have passed away,
We miss your kind and willing hand,

Your kind and loving care;
We miss you, oh, dear Mother,
We miss you everywhere.
By Her Children.

YOUNG MEN OF SMYRNA TO HAVE DANCE

The young men of Smyrna are making great preparations for their second annual Labor Day Dance, which will be held in the Twentieth Century Club on Monday evening, September 6. This holiday attraction last year was considered by the large crowd that attended as the best dance given in the lower part of the State during the early fall and winter season. Several new attractions are promised for this year and the affair is expected to be well patronized by the young people for miles around. Music will be furnished for the occasion by a well known Wilmington orchestra.

The committee on arrangements consists of Lyman J. Scotten, William C. Hurlock, F. Earl Keith, Davis H. Hall, George C. Scotten and Robert Y. Wallen, Jr.

"You look lonesome, Mr. Lightly, why don't you go in? Just see what a good time they're having!"

"You see, Miss Charmer, I—er—I have a cork leg and I do not believe I could paddle."

"Oh, leave your cork leg on, and with your head at the other end you wouldn't need to paddle!"

THE OLDEST CODE OF LAWS

The oldest written code of laws yet discovered has been deciphered recently by a scholar in Paris from clay Nippur tablets. They date back 3000 years before Christ, 900 years before the Hammurabi code and show a high state of civilization.

We know much in our age. Advancement in science, government, arts and invention has been prodigious in the last 200 years, but the fundamentals of human nature reach back as far as known records go, and invariably show that a knowledge of justice and right and wrong existed.

What we have hoped to hear of for years from some ancient record is the story of the beginning of the use of cooked foods. It makes us miserable sometimes to think of the millions of people who had to live their lives away without ever knowing the delights of hot biscuits, fried chicken and cherry pie.—Omaha Bee.

If you cultivate a poor memory for the failings of others, others will cultivate poor memories for your faults and failings.

FORMS DELAWARE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Suffrage Association Accomplishes Much at Rehoboth Meeting

As a result of the meeting held at Rehoboth last week, the Delaware Equal Suffrage Association automatically became the Delaware League of Women Voters. The first meeting will be held at the Hotel duPont the last of September.

The women are in a dilemma concerning party organization. Time is too short for any systematic survey of the women voting power in the state, consequently the leaders must accept the compromise position afforded by the invitation from the political leaders among the men to be associate members of the party committees. This accords restricted participation in the presidential campaign, but inasmuch as most of the new voters are totally inexperienced in politics, and are even unregistered, it is the only solution of the problem.

The division into Republican and Democratic gatherings showed equal strength. There are experienced suffrage leaders enough on both sides to furnish capable leadership for the women. The Democratic Committee has already invited several women to serve as members of its organization and the Republican committee has a plan for active participation of women in its campaign. By next week both sides will have a full array of feminine talent in the field. The personnel of the women participants is high, including the most prominent club-women of Delaware, and women affiliated with civic movements. If the plans for district and ward organizations hold, the old-line politicians will have to furnish up considerably in order to show good form.

While the choice of the new political timber is being carefully studied, there are one or two cases where first-hand refusals of position have been converted into acceptance. One such case gives to the Democratic party the influence of a prominent New Castle woman.

The political choice of the suffrage leaders is being observed, especially with reference to two well known women, one a Democrat, the other a Republican.

Both are expected to make a political change.

The influence of the suffrage campaign is still too fresh in the minds of some of the leaders to entirely forget past grievances. The majority, however, have put old scores behind them, and are ready to work, when needed. This attitude is much to the credit of those women who desire party affiliation, rather than a separate woman's party.

At the closing morning session of the suffragists, letters were read, sent to Governor Townsend, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Martha Cranston, Henry R. Isaacs and Charles Warner, those to the last named thanking them for their co-operation and speaking before the body.

The following resolutions were recommended by the executive meeting: "Resolved, that the Delaware Equal Suffrage Association shall become the Delaware League of Women Voters."

"Resolved, that believing there should be no sex in politics, we maintain there should be no separate party for women voters. We favor working with and through the present political parties but we believed the voter should reserve independence of judgment and action and refuse to be governed by partisan considerations when they conflict with the best interests of the state."

"We demand clean elections and clean and competent candidates for office. We believe no platform professions can justify unfit nominees."

"We hold that in state and local politics, the only true test of a party's sincerity is the character and ability of its nominees."

"We pledge ourselves to oppose all candidates whose intention to uphold the honor and welfare of the state can be justly questioned."

The address of Mrs. Henry Ridgely, president of the association, delivered on Thursday afternoon, gave in concise form the aims of the suffragists. She said: "We should make it clear to the men who compose the two great political parties in Delaware that the League of Women Voters has no intention of creating a woman's party. It has no sympathy with any body advocating such a party. There should be no sex in politics. A woman's party would be as absurd as a man's party. What then is the appeal of the League of Women Voters? To what are its members pledged? These things, "To instruct for candidates who are known to support the principles of good government. To demand clean elections. To hold principle above partisanship. To vote for the best candidate available, rather than one to whom the party is indebted."

REEDBIRDS AND OYSTERS BEGINNING TODAY

Today marks the opening of the reedbird season on the marshes along the lower Delaware, an event which ushers in the big program of shooting for Delaware sportsmen.

Today marks also the opening of the oyster season, September being the first of the months containing the magic letter "r" which according to long-established tradition, puts the edibility into this succulent sea food. Encouraging reports are coming in from the Eastern Shore stating that oysters are more abundant and of better quality than for many seasons.

Opera House Offerings

WALLACE REID IN COMEDY

Imagine a popular film star like Wallace Reid reduced to hocking his watch in order to buy a square meal! Of course, it's just in the pictures that it happens. Mr. Reid has the role of a busted millionaire in "Double Speed," his latest picture which will be shown at the Opera House Monday night. It starts with an auto trip from New York to Los Angeles, during the course of which he is robbed of everything he has.

McCutcheon Novel Filmed

If you think of George Barr McCutcheon only as the author of "Graustark," "Beverly of Graustark," and other pseudo historical romances, you should see the Thomas H. Ince photo-play, "Black is White," at the Opera House on Wednesday. Dorothy Dalton is the star. The film was adapted from a McCutcheon novel that is wholly different from the others that he has written. The central figure is Margaret Brood, who leaving her husband on account of his almost insane jealousy, impersonates her sister and becomes the ward of a parisian nobleman. So changed is she in her new character that her husband does not know her.

Katie Gets a Chilly Reception

That family of Peter Crandall's was about as cordial to his young wife—who had been Katie Malloy, manicurist—as Bryan is to the brewers' association. The warmth of their welcome was as intense as a boarding house radiator after ten o'clock in the evening. And if Katie had not been so completely and, perhaps, so unwisely devoted to Pete, she might have broken under the oppressive strain of the family's disapproval. As it was, she stuck it out. Until they made her believe—but that is the story; and it can best be told on the screen itself. It's "The Misfit Wife," Friday at the Opera House and Alice Lake, who won a million hearts in "Should a Woman Tell?" and "Shore Acres," portrays the character of Katie.

"How do you like the army, Mose?" he asked.

"S all right so far, cap'n," replied the negro, "but Ah don't know how I am going to like it when dem Germans shoots at me."

"Don't worry about that," replied the officer. "All you have to do is zig-zag." And he demonstrated.

The next time the two men met the negro was in a hospital.

"What's the matter with you, Mose?" asked the officer.

"I ain't sure, cap'n, but Ah think I must have been ziggin' bout de time Ah oughta been zaggin'."

PENNSYLVANIA EMPLOYEES GET BACK PAY

Local employees of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads were made happy on Saturday when they received checks covering back pay for May, June and July, awarded recently by the Federal Labor Board.

The clerks received checks for nearly a hundred dollars, covering the difference between the old and the new rate which amounts to 13c per hour for the three months. The checks for August will be determined at the new rate.

An arbitrary increase, it is understood, was granted to officers of the company who were not included in the Labor Board's award. The whole sum paid Saturday to employees was $23,000,000.

UNIQUE MACHINERY EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

In the machinery building at the Delaware State Fair, which begins September 6, will be several unique displays of machinery and contrivances that the up-to-date farmer must have to conduct his business successfully. Among these is a milking machine by the Sharpless Company. This machine will demonstrate to the farmers how efficiently and quickly a cow can be milked. There are some who are still prejudiced against a cow which is not milked by hand, but the manufacturers of this machine say that after it has been once observed in operation all doubts are removed.

William Tyson, of this city, will show a portable garage. As its name indicates it is a building that can be set up and taken down at the convenience and disposal of the owner. Garrett Miller Company will show a complete electric light plant that can be set up on the farm of any granger so that he may have the luxuries of a city resident so far as good light is concerned.

One of the most unique displays of dahlias will be another attraction for lovers of flowers. One of the largest growers of dahlias in the east will send samples of his dahlia farm for exhibition and the display will be attended by attendants who are familiar with all the details of dahlia growing.

The Canadian exhibit arrived on Saturday and after the U. S. custom officials inspected the collection of seeds and grasses and other products grown in Canada, to see that the duty was not abused, gave permission to have the goods removed to the Fair grounds.

Workmen are putting the finishing touches to the repairs of buildings that were necessary and finishing up various other jobs, so that the ground

RED CROSS MAKES APPEAL FOR CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

Following is the text of a self-explanatory appeal which is being sent throughout the State by Mrs. Henry P. Scott, vice-chairman of the Women's Bureau of the Delaware Red Cross, who is acting in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Willard Hall Porter. Encouraging replies are being received, showing that the appeal is being cheerfully heeded. The letter follows:

Your Red Cross appeals again for immediate assistance. Conditions deplorable beyond description exist in eastern Europe. Disease, starvation and destitution exist beyond precedent in eastern European countries bordering on Asia. The condition of the children awakens our warmest sympathy.

We have been requested by our division headquarters to proceed at once to supply in September as many layettes and children's garments as possible.

Having abandoned our headquarters we cannot take up this work in the same way as before. We are not requested to open our work rooms in the Old City Hall, but to urge the ladies of our branches and auxiliaries to make them garments in their own way by women meeting in neighborhood sewing circles or in their homes, although the receiving and inspection of work should be done under the supervision of someone in your organization who is familiar with the requirements.

Instructions concerning the collection of the layettes and their shipment will be forwarded later. The hope is that these articles may be secured by the end of September for shipment in October.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Henry P. Scott,
Vice Chairman Women's Bureau.

"I am grieved to hear, my boy," said father, "that you have told your mother several falsehoods. Always tell the truth, even if it should bring trouble upon you. Will you promise me to do so?"

"Yes, father," replied the boy. "All right. Now go and see who is banging at the door. If it's the landlord, say I'm out."—Houston Post.

MANY PREMIUMS FOR CLUB WORKERS AT STATE FAIR

$300 in Cash and Free Trips to be Awarded to Champions

The annual Boys' and Girls' Club contests at the Delaware State Fair will be participated in by local group and county-wide champions representing 1216 club members, over 900 of whom have belonged to 90 community club groups and have made a practical study of eight farm and home enterprises. These local and county champions will now compete in 45 special club classes for premiums and awards valued at approximately $900.

The club program will consist of contests in exhibiting, judging and demonstrating practical phases of the work that the club members have been successfully carrying out during the year at their own farms and homes in corn, canning, dairy cattle, garden, pig, sewing and tomato club work.

The premiums will consist of the following named awards. The State Fair Board will pay about $300.00 in cash premiums. The three best junior dairy cattle judges of the state (club boys or high school students in agriculture) will be sent in October as a State team on a free trip to Chicago to the National Dairy Show where they will contest for national honors. Nine State champions—three in canning, three in corn, and three in pig club work—will be awarded with a free trip the latter part of September to the inter-state contest at the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass.

The judging of all of these club contests will be done by specialists from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, by the subject-matter men from Delaware College, and by County Farm Bureau Agents.

DEPARTMENT HEADS RUN MILLER BROS. BUSINESS IN AUGUST

Firm Praises Loyalty and Business Ability of Employees

Miller Brothers, furniture dealers at Ninth and King streets, Wilmington, entertained their employees and a few friends at a picnic, banquet and dance given at the handsome summer home of Nathan Miller at Delaware City.

About 75 employees and invited guests assembled at the store at 1 o'clock and were conveyed to Delaware City in automobiles and trucks. Upon their arrival they were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Miller and were immediately served with a delightful buffet luncheon under the direction of caterers from the Lambros.

The afternoon was spent in dancing and in various out-door sports. The banquet was served in the conservatory early in the evening. George Carter, of Newark, was toastmaster. A rising vote of thanks and three rousing cheers for the host and hostess preceded the dinner.

In the speechmaking which followed, Mr. Miller delivered an address of welcome in the course of which it was revealed that during August the business of the store is being run by a committee of five employees, department heads.

"And I desire to state," Mr. Miller said, "that thus far this month the business of our store is $7,600 ahead of that of the corresponding period last year. I shall be greatly surprised if, when August ends, the business increase does not amount to $10,000 or more. It goes to show the value of cooperation between employees and the high business ability that is displayed by loyal employees when such ability is given an opportunity to assert itself."

Mr. Miller praised his employees in all departments for their loyalty and cooperation.

The other speakers were Frederick W. Reybold, former Sheriff of Delaware, W. G. Higgins, L. M. Evans, E. A. Clark, Robert A. Shaw, H. C. Lynch and Harry Slagle.

Their addresses were laudatory of Miller Brothers and of Nathan Miller, active head of the company.

Following the banquet the party repaired to the large parlor, where the Original Six orchestra was discoursing jazz music, and danced until midnight.

TRIBUTE TO MIDDLE- TOWN SOLDIERS SOON TO BE ERECTED

Will Be Dedicated After Arrival of Data From War Department

Work on the Soldiers' Memorial monument at Middletown, Del., the base of which is being prepared by C. Frank Davidson, of Wilmington, who will also "set up" the structure, is about completed and awaits only the setting of the day of erection. Practically the only work remaining undone is the inscribing of the names on the granite panel of the super-base, it being necessary to communicate with the War Department for positively correct data on some of the names and the complete list of the boys who made the great sacrifice in the late war is somewhat delayed.

The monument is unusually attractive, not unlike in general design to the Soldiers' Monument at Delaware avenue and Broome street, in this city. It will stand in the central square of Middletown, at the intersection of the two Main streets.

It will consist of a circular concrete base about two feet high and five feet in diameter. On this will rest a granite base three and one-half feet square with a panel on the side for the inscriptions. There will be the names and the service ranks of all the boys who died in the service. This block will be of Chester granite.

Above is a simple shaft of great dignity, surmounted with a "spread eagle" and with two ornamental arms to carry electric lights. The shaft is of bronze effect, this being produced in the finish. The metal work is produced by J. L. Mott Company, Trenton, N. J. Mr. Davidson not only will provide the stone work, but will set up the monument.

It is expected that as soon as the complete list of names is received the work will be put into condition to set up quickly, as it is thought dedication of the shaft will be held until the date of some anniversary of an event of importance in the history of the state and the town.

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION

We have now arrived at the end of our journey, and as every end of a road is the beginning of a new one, so it is with woman suffrage.

This is a solemn moment! We stop now to enjoy our success, and also to search our hearts for those ideals which will make us worth the efforts of our sainted pioneers.

What is it that we have now? The right to an expression of opinion by means of the ballot.

What are we going to do with that privilege? Are we going into the arena of government blindfolded and be led into party politics?

No; that would not be woman's way. Not, at least, the good woman's way.

Our hearts are filled with an unconquerable longing for justice, equality and the securing of opportunities to all!

As mothers of children and teachers of the country's youths, our aim through the ballot must be the bringing up and educating our children for a new citizenship, a citizenship, not of the present type—the grabbing one—but for useful membership in a community.

We must see that the children of our communities have, first a chance for life, then a chance for such an education as shall bring out in each the quintessence of his or her personality. A future citizen of such a type will run for her or him. We shall have that type of efficient persons in the right place to serve the community.

Our war for democracy shall have been fought in vain if these higher types of men and women are not the outcome of the succeeding generations.

The day has long passed when a suffragist was pictured as a scarecrow. Funny caricatures and cartoons of suffragists no longer provoke the laughs they used to. In the Evening Journal of last night the cartoon of the mother who in her interest in suffrage, so forgot her domestic implements, that cobwebs grew even over her scrub brush, was not at all amusing.

The time has now come for woman to be taken seriously, and my injunction to you, at this solemn moment, is "Take yourself seriously."

The new road has many by-paths. Let your ballot be on the road that is illuminated by a clear conscience, a keen sense of justice, right, honor and equality.—Every Evening.

BIG EVENTS AT STATE FAIR LABOR DAY

Program for Entire Week
Embraces Unusual
Attractions

In addition to the regular exhibits that this year are much greater in number and more diversified than on any previous year, the Delaware State Fair, which opens at Elsmere, on Labor Day, September 6, and continues for five days, will provide some of the best horse and automobile racing, vaudeville, fireworks and the largest midway in the history of the Fair Association.

Because of the large number of entries the judging of horses in the Horse Show will very likely begin at 10:30 o'clock each morning, so that there will be something going on practically from then until the same hour in the evening.

Every afternoon and evening there will be horse racing. Harness events in the afternoon and running races in the evening. Some of the speediest specimens of horseflesh that are following the fairs and track events, are entered in the lists, and seven States have sent representatives to compete for prizes.

On Labor Day there is a big double bill in the afternoon, there being thrilling automobile races as well as the harness events. Roy Freck, who has successfully directed the auto contests at the fair for several years has lined up some daredevil drivers who do not hesitate to take a chance if there is the least opportunity of winning a race.

During the time the races are in progress both afternoon and evening, a vaudeville program of a dozen numbers will be given opposite the grandstand. The program embraces some of the most skillful and humorous of acrobatic performers, as well as expert high tight wire walkers.

Every evening at the close of the running races there will be a display of fireworks fully up to the standards of other years, and which feature has proven a source of much interest to those who visit the fair after supper.

The Midway—the chief source of pleasure for many seeking amusement—will be there with all the old and many new tricks and diversions to entertain. There are two score of ways in which a visitor can be entertained and special plans have been made for the entertainment of the children.

"Every one in our family is some kind of an animal," said Jimmy to the amazed preacher.

"Why, you shouldn't say that!" the good man exclaimed.

"Well," said Jimmy, "mother's a dear, the baby is mother's little lamb, I'm the kid, and dad's the goat."

Canning Situation Critical

Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland tomato canning situation is said to be without parallel. Stringency of bank credit, shortage of cans and trouble with farmers over the raw fruit are said to have greatly complicated matters.

Some farmers are threatening to plow under their tomato crops unless the canners pay at least 50 cents a basket.

The growers assert the fruit is worth more for fertilizer than the present prevailing price, which is reported from 20 to 30 cents a basket. Canners are said to be preparing to curtail with the intent to hold up prices.

WHAT THE THUMBS TELL

Many traits of a person's character are revealed by the hands.

The thumb is in itself an interesting indicator. Small and weak thumbs denote a character full of weakness, mental and physical, but the well-developed, well-shaped, fairly thick and correspondingly long thumb foretells an even-balanced character, with good intellectual powers, together with a sense of refinement and culture.

If the thumb be divided into three parts, the first part will include the nail, the second the portion called the joint, and the third the root.

If all three proportions are equal, the character of the individual is normal. Should the second part be thick, the owner is devoid of refinement.

If you wish to study the hand carefully, hold it out openly. When in this position, should the thumb be set close to the fingers, it is a sure sign that the possessor is nervous, weak-willed, and dependent upon others for mental strength.

When the thumb stands out too far from the fingers, it indicates generosity and boldness to a fault, the love of adventure, and an inclination to be extravagant in thought as well as in action. People with short, broad nails are critical, and have a keen sense of humor. Imaginative folk usually have long nails, and are poetic and deeply sympathetic towards others.

He stands for a square deal for all.

America first and always is his motto.

Remember these important things before you vote.

Do not be deceived by what his opponents say.

Important to study and remember his home life.

Never failed a friend or foe when in need.

Great in mind and heart and lovable as McKinley.

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION TO MEET AT REHOBOTH TOMORROW

Many Subjects of Vital Interest to be Discussed

Tomorrow the bankers of the State will gather at Rehoboth for the annual meeting of the Delaware State Bankers' Association. The meeting comes as the climax of a year's campaign for closer co-operation and coordination of interests among the bankers, and promises even to surpass the gathering of one year ago in its spirit of sociability as well as business achievement. Various proposals and recommendations that have been considered during the year at the district group meetings of the standing committees of the associations, held in Newark, Middletown, Smyrna, Milford, Seaford and Georgetown will be brought to a head in the presence of the entire membership of the association.

As a step forward in the modernization of the banking facilities of the state, the association will advocate the passage of a comprehensive banking act, aimed to consolidate all existing banking statutes and the addition thereto of provisions that will help to create a model banking system for Delaware. As it may be recalled the association was largely responsible for the enactment of the State Bank Commissioners Act by the last Legislature, ministering to the better protection of the banking establishments and greater assurance to the public. Another matter upon which the bankers will take definite and unmistakable stand is the institution of a state budget for the management of the finances of the people of the state.

Speakers, experts in the respective fields of finance will address the bankers on various topics. The list of speakers includes:

U. S. Senator L. Heister Ball, Governor George W. Norris, of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia; Henry P. Scott, chairman of the State-Wide Committee for Delaware of the National Budget Committee; Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, George E. Allen, secretary State Banks Section of the American Bankers' Association; Dean Winifred J. Robinson, of the Women's College of Delaware; Harry B. Salter, chief auditor of New Jersey; William P. White, chairman of the Delaware State Survey; David Barry, president of the Pennsylvania State Bankers' Association; C. A. McCue, dean and director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Delaware College; A. V. Morton, vice-president of the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities, of Philadelphia; Charles S. Conwell, vice-president Baltimore Trust Company of Camden; Robert H. Bean, executive secretary of the American Acceptance Council of New York; G. L. Medill, State Bank Commissioner; former Governor Charles R. Miller; Mayor Walter P. Robinson, of Rehoboth.

The Rev. William P. Mowbray, superintendent of the Dover District of the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal Conference, will offer the invocation at the opening of the afternoon session to be held in the Hohn Theatre.

The invocation at the opening of the evening session will be offered by the Rev. F. Alan Parsons, pastor of St. Phillips' P. E. Church, Laurel. The evening session will follow a banquet at the Hotel Bell Haven.

This year's meeting will terminate the second term of office of president performed by John S. Russell for the past two years. The vice-president, George Massey Jones, also completes two years of service. Mayor William G. Taylor completes six years of successive service, while the term of James H. Hughes, chairman of the executive committee, also comes to an end. Election of officers will very likely be held at the afternoon session.

The total assets of the banking institutions of this state on June 30 last aggregated $84,250,000, compared with $75,141,294 on June 30, 1919, an increase of more than $8,100,000 during the year. A statement just made public by George L. Medill, State Bank Commissioner, including the accounts of national and state banks, trust companies and savings funds also shows that the total savings funds on deposit in the state amount to $39,258,000 or nearly as much as the demand deposits which are $36,250,000. The report further shows that Delaware banks hold more than $6,941,000 in government bonds and $25,400,000 in other investment securities.

MAKES A SUCCESS OF COOPERATIVE MARKETING

"It was only a little object lesson in cooperative marketing", is the modest statement of a Tennessee woman whose activities have produced a prosperous dairymaking community.

In 1909, fourteen women were organized at Pulaski, Tenn., to demonstrate the theory of cooperative effort. Butter and eggs from the relatively few cows and fowls of the community were assembled and marketed. The quality of the products, due to the care taken in selection and preparation, was such that they commanded the highest prevailing prices. The women's husbands began to take notice and soon interested themselves in dairy cows. This led to the introduction of Jerseys, separators, silos, milking machines, and the shipping of whole milk and cream.

Similar results are being secured in many sections of the country. State experts of the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture. The movement frequently starts with a small group of farmers, farmers' wives, or boys and girls, who quickly demonstrate the advantages of improved production and marketing methods. The county agents advise those interested in the formation of such organizations and the administration methods to be adopted and are glad to render every assistance upon request.

"Quite a good epigram that," said the tramp who had been convicted for vagrancy.

"What did he say?" asked the tramp's pal.

"Seven days." I once asked a parson what an epigram was and he said, "It's a short sentence that sounds right, but gives you plenty to think about."—Stray Stories.

Historical Society to Mark
Howe's Entrance to Chester County

New Garden Township, just over the Delaware line, will be the scene of an interesting exercise on Saturday, September 25.

Following the annual custom of dedicating a marker to commemorate some historical event in this county, the Chester County Historical Society is preparing to dedicate formally a bronze tablet on the road where the British troops of Lord Howe entered Chester county prior to the Battle of Brandywine, on their march from "the Head of the Elk" toward Philadelphia.

Some time ago, Lewis K. Stubbs, the treasurer of the Chester County Trust Company, who has long been the treasurer of the Historical Society, was appointed chairman of the committee to make arrangements for the proposed celebration. During the past few weeks several meetings of this committee have been held for the purpose of planning for this year's celebration.

It is proposed to make an auto trip to Elkton, Md., and then follow the route of the British to the Brandywine Battlefield, holding suitable exercises at the spot where will be dedicated the proposed tablet.

The tablet to be erected and dedicated will be of bronze, about sixteen by twenty-four inches in size, and will contain this inscription:

Here
General Howe's Army
Entered Chester County
September 8, 1777
on its march from
"Head of Elk"
to Brandywine Battlefield
Marked by Chester County
Historical Society, 1920

This tablet will be erected on the old New Garden Road, where the British entered New Garden township, this county, from the State of Delaware, it being now definitely determined as to the identical route.

The committee expect to make a preliminary trip to Elkton and vicinity and look over the grounds, and also confer with William T. Warburton, of Elkton, the President of the Historical Society of Cecil county, and others who may have some facts regarding the British route from Cooch's Bridge, Del.

An Ohio newspaper editor spent a few days in New York and while there somebody asked him how he liked the big town.

"I care for it very little," replied the editor. "Did you ever think of this? Suppose you lived in New York and wanted to go fishing. Where would you go to dig a can of worms?"—San Francisco Argonaut.

Just as the train was about to start, a very stout man struggled into a carriage and sank into a seat, breathing heavily.

A small boy who sat opposite appeared to be fascinated. His ardent gaze eventually began to annoy the fat man, who demanded angrily:

"What are you staring at me for?"

"Please, sir," replied the lad, "there's nowhere else to look."

RIFLE TEAM MAKES GOOD IN NATIONAL MATCHES

Local Representatives Well
Pleased With the Trip

The Delaware State Rifle team has lived up to all expectations and put the Diamond State on the map again by taking third place in Class C of the National Team Match, and by placing Fred Manion among the medal winners of the national individual match. Manion has performed consistently all through the matches, winning places in practically all of the important individual matches and his final attempt in the national individual match clinches his seat among the elite of the rifle shooting fraternity.

One half of the Delaware team were total strangers to the other half when the boys left for Camp Perry the first of this month, so the team work and shooting ability that they have shown by landing third place in their class, at the national matches, is particularly noteworthy.

In the national team match rifle men from every State in the union, from the regiments of the regular army, from the marines, from the navy, from the R. O. T. C.'s and from the military schools and colleges, in addition to the State civilian teams, totaling over 2,000 of the picked marksmen of the country, battled for two days at 200, 600 and 1,000 yards, and it was not until the evening of the second day that the smoke cleared enough for Delaware to be perceived in third place.

No detailed scores have been received, but the boys themselves are expected Sunday or Monday, when the whole story will be told from Rockland to Dover, for there are boys on the team from all over the State.

HOG CHOLERA SPREADING RAPIDLY

Reports from every county in the State indicate that hog cholera is on the increase and is spreading rapidly. Areas of infection now exist at Georgetown, Bridgeville, Lewes and several other sections of Sussex county. Kent county has infections near Felton, Dover and Smyrna. New Castle county veterinarians report cholera at Middletown. Vaccination before the hogs contract the disease will positively protect against cholera and no one need take the risk of losing their hogs under the present circumstances when the State is furnishing free serum the loss of one hog will more than pay for the veterinarian's fee.

The administration of serum to hogs while it protects them against cholera does not in any way injure the meat as the material used is not a drug or medicine but pure, clean blood from a healthy hog containing cholera protective qualities.

The Federal Government and the State Live Stock Sanitary Board are prepared to assist any community in controlling cholera and checking its spread. Farmers are requested to report sick swine of their own or neighbors. The law requires dead hogs to be buried or burned and the Board will enforce this law in every case reported.

HARRY J TO RUN EXHIBITION MILE AT THE FAIR

Local interest is aroused over the announcement that Harry J., the noted black stallion owned by Harry J. Stoeckle, of Wilmington, and trained by Herman Tyson of this town, will be driven an exhibition mile at the State Fair in an effort to break the track record for trotters.

Harry J. has been raced this year on the State and metropolitan circuits meeting some of the fastest specimens of his class on half mile tracks in the country. His record so far this year has been 2:08 1-4 for the mile. He has won seven races and been the victor in every heat but one that he has entered this summer. He has been the only horse in years to put Delaware on the map as far as a speedy specimen of orse flesh is concerned.

His return to the track after two years' absence shows that he is apparently just as good as ever, and that he is enjoying as good a season as could be hoped for.

Mr. Stoeckle has had seven offers from devotees of the track who have wanted to buy Harry J., but has always refused. Some of these men wanted to race him abroad. He is now 9 years old and has been in retirement for two years for breeding purposes. Some of his offspring give promise of possessing their father's speed.

Mr. Stoeckle gives credit to Mr. Tyson for the success of Harry J.
