Town Council Seats Members; Lovett Is Not Accepted

Decide Against Eligibility Of Annexation Candidates; Statement Issued; Questioned Ballots Allowed

ELECTION PROTESTED

At a meeting of the Town Council, held last night, the new Council members were sworn and seated by Mayor Frazer. Officials were elected and committees were appointed for the ensuing year. It was announced that the members of the Council had received their certificates of election, and that the candidates from the newly annexed territory were not eligible for election to the Council. Although William J. Lovett, annexation candidate for the Middle District was elected, a majority of votes over his opponent, R. J. Buckingham, by the house of the election, he was not granted a certificate of election.

A statement was prepared for publication and released by Mrs. Laura Hossinger, secretary of the Council, in which the reasons for the decision against the eligibility of the annexation candidates were given.

It was also stated that the election judges, after looking up the precedent in the matter, had allowed the ballots cast for the annexation candidates, that were questioned at the time of the election.

Two letters from George M. Phipps and William J. Lovett, protesting the election, were read by Mayor Frazer. No action was voted except to include them in the minutes and lay them on the table.

The letters were as follows:

Newark, Delaware,
April 18, 1927.
Mayor E. B. Frazer and the Town Council of Newark,
Newark, Delaware.
Gentlemen:

"I hereby protest the Town Election held Tuesday, April 12th, 1927, on the following grounds:

"1st—My name as candidate for Councilman in the Western District did not appear on the printed ballot.

Combined Choirs Give Cantata Second Time

Most Ambitious Musical Production Ever Attempted in Newark; Work of Leaders and Singers Highly Praised

The cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" was given for the second time by the combined choirs of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches and again many disappointed people were unable to crowd their way into the church. It was estimated that over 1,000 people attended the two presentations. Unless the choirs yield to the popular demand for another presentation of the cantata, it will not be given again this season.

This cantata is a very difficult and ambitious piece and not often attempted by any but highly trained organizations. The exceptionally fine rendition given by the Newark choirs meant months of grueling work and splendid leadership. Directors A. D. Cobb and P. B. Myers are to be particularly lauded for their work in training the singers. Local music critics are unflinching in their praise of the presentation and speak particularly of the wonderful control the leaders had over the choir. The choral work was beautifully co-ordinated and at times the play between the soloists and the choir reached dramatic heights that were sensational. This was particularly true of the first choral number where the singing of the soloist and choir were in direct contrast.

Before each presentation, the theme of the cantata was given by the minister of the church in which it was presented. The seven parts of the cantata represent the seven last utterances of Christ while on the cross. Christ is represented by the soloists and the choir represents the Statement of Council

"As there seems to be some misunderstanding as to why the names of William J. Lovett and George M. Phipps were not printed on the tickets for the Town election on April 12, 1927, I wish to state that there is a town law which compels all candidates for Councilmen to file their names with the Secretary of Council at least ten days before election day. As April 2 was the last day on which names could be legally filed, and as the bills for annexation were not passed and signed by the Governor until almost a week after that, Mr. Lovett and Mr. Phipps were not residents of the town at the time of filing their names.

"There was no retroactive provision in the bills that gave a resident of the annexed territory the legal right to file his name as a candidate for council before the bills became laws and consequently before he became a citizen of the town."

Laura Hossinger, Secretary, Town Council, Town of
Newark, Delaware.

Charles E. Grubb, president of the University of Delaware Alumni, has announced the tentative list of those on the committee for the Alumni Day and annual reunion in connection with the commencement exercises at the University of Delaware.

The 1916 class instituted a new plan at last year's alumni reunion when it celebrated its 10th anniversary.

Those on the Alumni Day committee, announced by Mr. Grubb, are: Harry L. Maier, chairman, '01; J. H. Mitchell, '03; Evans Crossan, '04; F. S. Price, '07; Sherman Corkran, '10; David H. Bell, '11; Howard Ennis, '12; Norman Groves and Warner McNeal, '14; Harris Samonisky, Harry Taylor, and Alex. Crothers, '16; James Hastings, '17; Garrett Cantwell, '19; J. F. Poole, '21; Milton Draper, '22; F. W. Barkley, '26, and the executive committee, ex-officio.

STATE LABORATORY WILL TEST SEED CORN

Germination tests of field corn thus far made at the State Laboratory this spring indicate that a considerable portion of the corn raised in Delaware last year is not of a good quality for seeding. The germination of most of the samples thus far tested is considerably lower than usual. It is suggested that before planting, the growers of the state have their corn tested. A testing laboratory is maintained at Dover by the State Board of Agriculture, where work of this kind is carried on free of charge for the citizens of the state. Samples sent for testing should consist of at least a half pound, and care should be taken that the sample thoroughly and fairly represents the lot from which it is taken.

Two-Alarm Field Fire Menaces Many Homes

Started By Boys' Campfire Threatens Lovett Ave. and Haines St. Houses; Whirlwind Adds To Spectacle

A field fire, which was started last Friday afternoon in the woods just south of Maxwell field, seriously menaced properties on Lovett avenue and Haines street, and necessitated two alarms before it was controlled.

The fire was started by small boys camping in the woods, who were cooking. A high wind spread their camp fire and carried it with alarming rapidity toward the houses on the two streets. One piece of apparatus responded to an alarm and was augmented by a large crowd of volunteers who helped beat the burning brush and grass. However, the burning area was so large and the blaze spread so quickly in all directions that a second alarm was necessary, and the second engine was brought into action. After a dogged fight, in which 15 or 20 acres were burned off, the firemen and volunteers succeeded in halting the progress of the blaze which burned itself out.

While the occupants of houses on Lovett avenue were alarmed to the point of making preparations to evacuate, the houses in the bungalow section of Haines street had the closest call. The fire licked so close at times that it was necessary to attach garden hose and wet the lawns and sides of the houses to keep the woodwork from catching.

During the course of the fire a strange phenomena occurred, a miniature whirlwind traversed the middle of the conflagration, shooting a column of smoke and flame a hundred feet in the air.

Group Insurance For University Staff

Coverage Of $181,000 Contracted For Faculty And Employees; First Contract Of Kind In State

It was announced last Saturday that through the Board of Trustees and Dr. Walter Hüllihen, president, the University of Delaware had contracted for group insurance to cover its faculty and employees. The coverage, which totals $181,000, is on the contributory form. This contract, which is the first of its kind ever entered into by an educational institution in the State of Delaware, was placed with the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and written by James M. Barnes, special representative, Newark, and John Price Hyatt, Wilmington.

In addition to the life insurance feature, a total and permanent disability provision is included. The effect of the latter is that if the insured becomes a non-producer, physically or mentally, from any cause whatever, prior to his sixtieth birthday, all premiums cease. Then, the face of the insurance, plus interest, is paid to the insured himself over a period of months. In this event, the policy becomes virtually a matured endowment.

The policies have a face of $3,000 per individual, except in the cases of the deans and the president, who are allowed $1,000 additional.

The individual certificates, which have just been delivered to the insured by A. G. Wilkinson, business administrator, contain an attractive half-tone cut, on a full page, of the Old College Building and the campus with the beautiful rows of trees on either side of the broad roadway. A letter of announcement, addressed to the "Faculty and Employees, University of Delaware," descriptive of the plan, and signed by President Hüllihen, occupies the third page of the certificate.

While this is the first group coverage to be written for a Delaware educational institution, many other universities have provided group insurance for their faculties and employees; among them the University of Pennsylvania and Princeton.

RUMOR OF DISBANDMENT OF BAND GROUNDLESS

The rumor that the Continental Fibre Company Band has been disbanded is absolutely untrue according to R. V. Buckingham, president of the band. They expect the coming year to be the biggest in their history and have already accepted a number of engagements for the summer.

Bayard Perry, manager, states that there will be new uniforms for the members and new instruments. New members will be recruited to bring the strength of the organization up to twenty-five or thirty.

The Continental Band was organized eight years ago with Professor Charles T. Edwards, of Wilmington, as director. For the past two years the band has been under the direction of David W. Chambers.

Questioned Ballots Granted by Judges

Wilbur Wilson, Dr. George W. Rhodes and Mrs. Laura Hossinger, judges of the Town election, held Tuesday, April 11, rendered a decision in favor of the questioned ballots cast for George M. Phipps and William J. Lovett. The ballots in question were marked (X) before the written names of the two candidates, but the printed names of the opposing candidates were not crossed out. It was argued that it was the custom to cross out the name of the opposing candidate, and that these ballots should not be counted. After looking up precedent on the matter, the judges decided that the intention of the voter was obvious and that the votes should be counted.

Extra Appropriation For Newark Schools

The $58,000 deficiency bill which was passed by the last Legislature, makes $1026 available for the Newark Schools for the present year. This money can be applied to instruction service only.

The Newark apportionment was made on the basis of the number of teachers, their qualifications, the net enrollment of the school, and the average daily attendance of the pupils. This appropriation as well as all other State appropriations are apportioned on the average daily attendance record so that the schools with highest attendance averages receive the largest percentages of money without any increase of taxes. The average daily attendance of the Newark schools has increased 49 pupils since last November without any increase in net enrollment. Expressed in other terms, the average daily absence has dropped from "20 per cent in November to 10 per cent in March."

A vote as to whether the Newark schools will go on daylight saving time is being taken. Each family with children in school has a vote.

In the program which followed the meeting, Mr. Fell gave a solo and Mr. Jackson gave several selections on the harmonica.

Citizens' League Formed To Contest Town Election

Allege Unfairness In Election Of Town Councilmen; Retain Judge Nields As Attorney; Determined To Seat Lovett

LEGAL ACTION EXPECTED

It has been announced that a Citizens League for Fair Play is in process of organization, its purpose being to contest alleged unfair tactics and breach of faith on the part of Mayor E. B. Frazer and the Town Council in the matter of the recent town election. It is said that fifty members have been recruited, mainly from residents in the newly annexed territory, and that double that number are expected to join. Judge John P. Nields, of Wilmington, has been retained as legal counsel and has already filed two communications with the League. The League is intended to supersede the committee of the annexationists in promoting the interests of the newly annexed territory. It is rumored that legal action will be brought to have William J. Lovett seated in the Council.

It is the contention of the League that the Mayor and Council broke faith with the extension committee and were guilty of unfair behavior in declaring the annexation candidates ineligible for election on the grounds that the filing date for candidates had expired before the annexation bill had been passed by the legislature and signed by the Governor. It is stated that the Mayor and Council had promised that the annexationists would have both franchise and representation in the Town election, and that the extension bill was amended so that any section of the Town Charter restricting these privileges would be set aside.

The Council in a statement to the press declare that the amendment to the bill could not be retroactive and that for that reason the annexation candidates could not be eligible for election.

It is his first communication to the League, dated April 13, Judge Nields cites precedent to prove that the annexation candidates were eligible, and advises the League that they have satisfied the requirements and that they are eligible for election.

Foreign Study Group To Sail July 16

Expect Largest Group In History Of Plan; Present Group To Return In July

The Foreign Study Committee of the University of Delaware has just announced July 16 as the sailing date of its fifth Foreign Study Group. This group, which is now forming, will leave New York on the SS. Caronia of the Cunard Line and will land in Le Havre, France, on the 24th of July. The students will rest for two days in Paris before going to the University of Nancy where the three months' summer term begins July 27. At the end of the Nancy session, October 22, the group is scheduled to return to Paris and commence the winter's work at the University of Paris and the Ecole Libre des Sciences Politiques. The scholastic routine is broken by several excursions to points of historic and scenic interest in various parts of France. The longest excursion, an Easter trip of fifteen days, covers the entire southern part of the country from the Italian border to the Spanish frontier. In September the students spend a week in the Alps which are within easy striking distance of Nancy. The group will sail on its return home on July 4, 1928.

The fourth group sent under the auspices of the Foreign Study Committee has been in France since July of last year and is at present in Paris. It is composed of forty-five students from the following colleges and universities: Amherst, Brown, College of the City of New York, Cornell, Dartmouth, Delaware, Dickinson, Hood, Iowa, Kenyon, Miami, Michigan, Mt. Holyoke, Minnesota, New York University, Randolph-Macon, Wellesley, Westminster and Williams. The students from the local university are: Miss Ruth Clark, Sewanee, Tenn.; Miss Dorothy Indler, Wilmington; Miss Ann Lawrence, Raleigh, N. C.; Charles L. W. Stein, Seaford; Harry S. Lynch, Jr., Wilmington; and Fred K. Nevis, Seaford. All members of this group will return to the United States in July of this year and receive full credit for the work done abroad. The majority of them are at present in their Junior year.

The committee is now receiving applications for membership in the group of 1927-1928 and, judging from inquiries and requests already in hand, will have the largest party since the institution of the plan.

Bulletin Covers Ten Years Of 4 H Work

5,000,000 Enrolled In Decade; 225 In New Castle County Last Year

Ed Willim, Jr., 4 H Club Agent of New Castle county, has received a bulletin from the U. S. Department of Agriculture explaining the work done in the Boys' and Girls' 4 H Clubs under the Smith-Lever Act from 1911 to 1924. He is giving this information to the rural people of New Castle county and the State of Delaware in the hope that it will be an explanation as well as an aid to the boys or girls who are interested or might be interested in the 4 H agricultural club work.

"In the 10-year period following the passage of the Smith-Lever Act, 1915-1924 inclusive, more than 5,000,000 farm boys and girls have been engaged in 4 H club work. As club members, these boys and girls played themselves to carry out a farm or home enterprise using the best practices developed by the State agricultural colleges and the United States Department of Agriculture. Under the supervision of State and county extension agents of these co-operating institutions, they undertook voluntarily to teach themselves, their friends, and their neighbors by actual demonstrations the value of such practices. In so doing, they have made a genuine and substantial contribution to the improvement of American farm life.

Some idea of the proportions to which this work has grown may be gained from the fact that 510,355 different boys and girls were enrolled in the 4 H clubs in 1924, their demonstrations of better practices covering a wide variety of farm and farm-house interests. Of this number, 283,283 boys and girls, or about 56 per cent of those enrolled, completed all phases of the various projects undertaken and submitted written reports on the results obtained.

How generally 4 H club work has become accepted as an essential feature of co-operative extension work is seen in the fact that of the 3,419 county extension agents reporting in 1924, 2,753 had 4 H clubs organized to assist them in their work. In the supervision and direction of these clubs, the agents were greatly assisted by 37,905 local leaders, many of whom voluntarily offered their aid. These local leaders were men and women of the various communities in which 4 H clubs had been established. Much of the success of 4 H club work in 1924 and in previous years is credited to them. There has been a marked and continuous increase in the number of local leaders during the 10 year period, indicating the value rural people place on 4 H clubs as a means of training young people of the farm to make use of the economic and social opportunities of the country."

In this county during 1926 there were 225 boys and girls enrolled in the 4 H clubs. These clubs were organized in about 30 different rural localities in the county and the club members were under the direction of the local leaders and the Club Agent, Mr. Willim. While the enrollment for 1927 has not been completed to date the Club Agent expects the enrollment to increase to about 275 for the current year. Any rural boy or girl in the county between the ages of 10 to 20 is eligible to join a 4 H club. If there are any who are interested and would like to join one of these clubs, please get in touch with the Club Agent, Mr. Ed. Willim, Jr., of Newark, as soon as possible.

LOW SERVICE RATES FOR GAS CONNECTIONS

For a short time it will be possible for those contemplating the use of gas for both cooking and heating purposes to have a connection laid to the home from the mains being laid in Newark, at a cheaper rate than after the work of laying mains is completed, according to an announcement by the Gas Company.

After the mains have been completed the cost of service pipes will be advanced because it will entail special work so that folks who want gas in their homes are urged to call at the office of the Gas Company, 48 East Main street, and place their order. When ordering house service pipe connections, it is understood there will be no minimum charge for gas until the meter is installed at the time the home owner is ready to use it.

To those who have under consideration the installing of a gas house heater, in addition to other gas equipment, it would be interesting to learn the details of the gas rate, which gives the user an opportunity to enjoy a better rate as the amount of gas consumed is increased.

Mrs. Pearl J. England, of the Oriole

Company of Baltimore, will be in Newark all of next week demonstrating the use of gas as a fuel at the office of the Gas Company.

Mrs. England will not only emphasize the economy in the use of oven controlled gas ranges, but will also explain away some of the apparent mysteries that are perplexing to the housewife when she starts to use gas for cooking purposes.

Through the use of the oven-controlled gas range it is possible for a housewife to place her meat with four or five vegetables and dessert in the oven at one time and after setting the thermostat for the right temperature can go away and forget the meal for two or three hours according to what is being cooked.

The cooking demonstrations will be free and the public is invited and anyone desiring assistance at home may obtain the services free of charge of Mrs. Mary V. Gambeau, director of the Home Service Department of the Gas Company, upon application for her at the gas office.

No One Need Keep or Return UNORDERED Merchandise--- Sent Through the U.S. Mails

FREQUENT complaints have been received by the Advertising Club of Wilmington concerning unordered merchandise sent through the mail by mail-order concerns. This matter includes such unrelated articles as neckties, raincoats, traveling bags, soaps, concert tickets, handkerchiefs, etc., etc. The recipient is asked to remit for or return the shipment.

Persons receiving such merchandise are under no obligation to pay for it (unless they use it); nor even to return it. They may return it to the postman marked "Refused" if they care to. If the shipper does not send for it promptly, the person receiving it is relieved of legal liability for its safekeeping.

It is the opinion of the Advertising Club of Wilmington that it is more satisfactory to deal with mercantile institutions of established reputation in your community. We know that many citizens and residents of our community have been receiving unordered merchandise through the United States mail. We know that the outside-of-Wilmington mail order concerns play upon both the sympathy and the lack of desire of addressees to return such merchandise.

The Advertising Club of Wilmington desires to state to the people of Wilmington and vicinity that no one has to buy unordered articles or merchandise, or return it, even if sufficient postage is enclosed for that purpose. Our advice is to simply keep the articles or merchandise, with reasonable care, and if the individual or company mailing you the same desires it back again, it will be necessary for them to send a qualified agent for the said articles or merchandise.

There is the usual state-wide interest in the annual tree-planting day at Stockley Colony, which will be celebrated this year on April 30. NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

AS TOLD BY OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Elkton

W. Arthur Mitchell, aged 68 years, a retired farmer and formerly County Treasurer of Cecil county, was found dead in bed early Tuesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Taylor, with whom he lived, in Elkton. His death had been due to heart trouble.
Mr. Mitchell retired Monday evening apparently in his usual good health. He took a newspaper to bed with him to read before going to sleep. His daughter, Mrs. Taylor, was out for the evening and when she returned she went to his room to see if he was all right, as has been her custom for several years. She saw the light burning and found her father in bed. He still held the newspaper in his hand and wore his reading glasses. When he did not speak to her she placed her hand upon his forehead and found him dead. A physician was summoned who said he had been dead about three hours.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Taylor, and a son, Henry H. Mitchell, both of Elkton, and two grandchildren, Mrs. Ralph Robinson, of Elkton, and Edward Taylor, who is attending school in Massachusetts.
Mr. Mitchell was a son of the late Hooper Mitchell, and was one of Elkton's best known and most popular citizens. He had only recently returned from a Baltimore hospital where he underwent a successful operation. Deceased's wife, who was a Miss Elizabeth Walmsley, a sister of A. B. Walmsley and Mrs. George R. Ash, of Elkton, died a few years ago, and Mr. Mitchell then made his home with his daughter.

Funeral services will be held on Thursday at 2 p. m., at the home of his daughter, on Bridge street, with interment in Elkton Presbyterian Cemetery.

Wallace Scott, Jr., of Elkton, near West Amwell Chapel on the Elkton-Newark road on Sunday, April 10, when he stepped in front of the car, died Saturday evening about 6 o'clock. Monday evening an inquest was held by Coroner Green at the Undertaking parlors of H. W. Pippin. The following verdict was rendered by the jury: "That Grant Simpson came to his death by being struck by an automobile on the Elkton-Newark road, Sunday, April 10, while intoxicated, and contracting pneumonia. Said automobile was driven by J. Wallace Scott, Jr., and we do hereby exonerate him from all blame."

Carroll P. Van Pelt, of North East, has purchased the residence of the late Rev. Dr. Lockerbie, located on West High street, Elkton, for $7,000, and will remove to Elkton.

"Good Roads, Flowers, Parks, Better Schools, Trees, Pure Water, Fresh Air, Sunshine and Work for Everybody."—OUR MOTTO.

APRIL 20, 1927

Ramsey MacDonald, British labor leader who is visiting this country has the courage of his convictions on many subjects.
Thus he says:

"Heaven is not taken by storm, but by honest thought, which is not afraid to examine itself, and by honest action which is not averse to standing the test of time."

"What is the educated man? Certainly not the learned man, certainly not the university man, though he is not debarred by any means. The educated man is a man with certain subtle, spiritual qualities which make him calm in adversity, happy when alone, just in his dealings, rational and sane in the fullest meaning of that word in all the affairs of his life."

"Journalism is not a hack profession, but one of dignity, power and responsibility."

Revealing the simplicity of his character and faith, we have this: "The shield of love and the spear of justice will still be in the hands of good and upright men and women. And the ideal of a great future will still be in the front of our people. I see no end, thank God, to these things. I see my own horizon, I see my own sky-line, but I am convinced that when my children and children's children get there, there will be another sky-line, another horizon, another glorious beckoning from heaven itself. That is my faith, and in that faith I go on and my colleagues go on doing in their lifetime what they can to make their generation contribute something substantial to the well-being and happiness and holiness of human life."

"Tend to Business"

(Editorial by Everett C. Johnson, Reprinted from The Newark Post, February 27, 1924.)

Anniversaries, Campaigns, Drives, Tag Days and Weeks for This, That and the Other—where will it end? No one appreciates these Days and Memorials more than we. They recall an Event in the Past or a Duty of the Present that takes us out of our sordid everyday existence and recalls to us a sense of social or civic duty that we would probably otherwise forget.

But since the War they almost dominate a man's life. If one observed the Anniversaries, participated in the Campaigns, entered into all the Drives and played Tag on Days and Weeks, there would be but precious little time for "earning a living," which is essential and honorable if not longer popular.

Most of these occasions are worthy. They have our good wishes and where possible our support. But looking at it as a country editor, a man who works for a living, a plain ordinary citizen, interested in taxes and getting them paid, it has occurred to us that one more "Drive or Observance" might not be amiss—
"Tend to Business Week." Just for one week, let everybody attend to his own business. Stand uncovered a moment before his creditors—then go to work. Let Politics, Oil, Ruhr, Dance, Mah Jongg, Firpo, Mary Pickford, Clubs, Rummage Sales, Stage
Parties—all step aside for a week. Let the plain American citizen store his Ford, cut the wires, just for a week—and work at his own job. Think what the increased production would be.

Arguments and Meetings have started already on Daylight Savings so we can have time for Recreation. When as a matter of fact Recreation (so-called) is working us to death.

We advocate a "Tend to Business Week," not selfishly, but as a business and patriotic duty. To start this, there is no need for organization. No Committee, no stationery, no editorial or free space, no Proclamation, official or unofficial, no special sermon, no meeting, no telephone, no contribution, no inaugural dinner, no team captains, no buttons, no competition—no Creel or Reel, no film. No campaign at all. Just plain everyday work that adds to joy, health and prosperity of the ordinary American Citizen—that is our object in advocating a "Tend to Business Week."

NEWARK NEW CENTURY CLUB

At the Monday meeting of the Newark New Century Club it was announced there would be a rummage sale at the club house Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 28, 29, 30,
by the Ways and Means Committee for the benefit of the club. The chairman, Mrs. George Rhodes, would be glad to call for any rummage on Wednesday if notified.

One ticket for the annual club
luncheon which is to be held this year
May 4, at twelve-thirty, will be mailed each member at the end of this week.
Each member may buy a ticket for one out-of-town guest if she wishes from Mrs. Frances Couch. The ticket mailed must be returned to Mrs.
Couch before April 29, or money for same sent in.

Mrs. Neale announced a meeting of the Club House Company April 25, at 4 p. m., when two directors will be elected to fill the expired terms of Mrs. W. H. Evans and Mrs. H. S.
Bonham. Also that the club must elect a club member to represent the club at this meeting. As there was no quorum present this could not be done at the meeting. Therefore the members are requested to make a special effort to be present at the club meeting on Monday, April 25, as this is important business.

For the program of the afternoon,
Mrs. Cobb introduced Mrs. Grant
Hyde Code as a lady with a beautiful speaking voice. Mrs. Code read two selections from Barrie's "Half Hours", to show the author's philosophy of life. First, "The Will," and then

"The Twelve Pound Look". Mrs.
Code reads so well and is so willing that she is greatly appreciated as a club member.

After an urgent appeal to club
members to be present next Monday at 2.30, the meeting adjourned.

—Mrs. James C. Hastings,
Secretary.

The Butler-Borah Debate

In days gone by, when a man, or a speech, or an incident, attracted wide attention, we have spoken figuratively, thus: "The eyes of the world are on him," or "it," as the case might be. These days, when the radio reigns supreme, we speak literally: "The whole country listened." This was the case when Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and William E. Borah, United States Senator from Idaho, debated the eighteenth amendment, in Symphony Hall, Boston. Both men were eloquent; both sincere, and they were discussing a question which affects the whole country. Extracts from the two speeches give food for thought.

Dr. Butler:

The Eighteenth Amendment
should never have been placed in the Constitution, because it is legislation and is not germane to anything previously in the document.

It conflicts with the whole body of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Crime, corruption, murder, en-trappings and solicitations to crime
have accompanied the dry law.

A better solution of the liquor problem is government control.

We talk of law enforcement. You cannot enforce conflicting laws—
something must give way.

The only hope and the only cure
is the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. There is no use in talking about tinkering with the Volstead law, about seeking for one form or another of nullification, although nullification has become perhaps the convenient and cowardly American method of dealing with laws which we do not like.

Teach law to mind its own business and liberty will do the rest.
Total abstinence is different from temperance, and both are fully different from compulsory total abstinence or prohibition.

My own program, so far as I am entitled to have a program, is,
never to permit the return of the saloon, but under Government control; leaving the details to be settled not by the Federal Government—far from it—leaving the states as units in accordance with the wishes and desires of their several populations to deal with this problem in a way that will lead to obedience,
but that will reduce enforcement
to a minimum.

States having over 50 per cent of the population of the country had this legislation forced upon them at the instance of 12 states having only 11 per cent of the population.

You are face to face with nullification every time you attempt by law, in advance of public opinion,
to settle a question.

Senator Borah:

Everyone recognizes that the liquor traffic is a curse to the human family and must be dealt with by law in some way in order to protect the public interest.

If you repeal the Eighteenth Amendment you go directly back to the saloon.

Government control, trying to supply liquor to 120,000,000 people is ridiculous, and I never want to see Uncle Sam in the liquor business.

The Quebec plan is not effective and bootlegging goes on there as it did before.

The people of the United States,
after 50 years of campaigning,
wrote deliberately into the Constitution of the United States this pledge. They believed, or a great majority of them believed, that it means better citizens, better homes,
better individuals and national life;
and be assured they will never repeal it until they are satisfied that its enforcement has had a fair trial and has utterly failed.

Modification is utterly ridiculous.
It would not stop the attack one hour. It does not meet a single argument of those who are dissatisfied with the Eighteenth Amendment.

If the Constitution of the United States as construed by the Supreme Court be not the law, then there is no law.

Obedience to the law as it is written is a fundamental principle
upon which this Government rests, and the Republican Party is now called upon to meet such doctrine.

There is, my friends, in this country a deliberate, organized attempt to nullify the Constitution of the United States. Any man who will preach nullification in a government of law, as the most insidious, destructive means of accomplishing the destruction of all government of law, is distinctly an enemy of our form of government.

THE SICK

C. E. Johnson, who has been ill, is much better.

Mrs. Ralph Bunting, who has been a patient at the Flower Hospital for several weeks, is very much improved, and was able to return to her home in Strickersville yesterday.

Miss Anne Osborn and Miss Greta McKenzie, teachers in the Newark schools are both away from their duties because of illness.

Ida Anderson, of Cleveland avenue,
who has been very ill with pneumonia, is somewhat improved.

Miss Mae Malcom returned home
on Saturday from the Delaware Hospital. On Thursday Miss Malcom underwent a very tedious operation, a small bone obstructing the nasal passage being removed. Dr. La Motte performed the operation.

A Test of Morals

And I thought as I stood there how many a man, deep down in his heart, knows to a certainty that he has escaped being an outcast, not because of any real moral strength or resolution of his own, but because Society has bolstered him up, hedged him about with customs and restrictions until he never has had a really good opportunity to transgress. And some do not sin for very lack of courage and originality; they are helplessly good.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Editor, Newark Post:

Mayor Frazer's methods of annexing the town to the adjacent territory, giving the citizens thereof the right of franchise and his method of conducting a municipal election, remind me of the manner in which the Civil Regime was introduced to the Igorrotes in the Province of Benguet in the Philippine Islands. The incident was as follows:

Some little time before the military forces had fulfilled its mission, Benguet Province was pronounced pacified and ready for the great responsibilities of self government. A young lieutenant by the name of Patrick McGann was entrusted with the great mission of initiating the Igorrotes to the Australian Ballot system. The day for the election had been set; the head hunter's ax had been duly ordered laid by and past differences removed from memory.

The morning of the great event
came; however, long before Aurora had smiled upon the pines, there had gathered from far and near an eager and expectant throng of Igorrotes.
Meanwhile, Patrick McGann, inspired by his great mission, was proceeding
across the mountains from Dagupan
in a sedan chair carried by a dozen Igorrotes. Accompanying him was his retinue of a score of native constabulary. The day was very hot. The lieutenant had imbibed freely of Milwaukee's "Famous" and he felt equal to the great task assigned him by the American Government. The young lieutenant had been instructed to cast
his retinue of a score of native contest in favor of an American named Pack, an army officer who had campaigning in the territory of the head hunting tribes.

Arriving on the scene Pat's eyes beheld a sight such as would awaken
the deepest sentiments in the breast of any American. Arrayed with spears before him in the foreground in a semicircle was a score or more of Igorrote chiefs, all bowing with profound obeisance to the great white benefactor. The background was filled with as fine specimens of the genus
Homo as Pat had ever beheld.

Following a short but cordial greeting the great representative of the American nation broke into a long harangue on the wonderful blessings of political and religious liberty, which the American nation was about to bestow upon them. So great were his depths of oratory, that the interpreter at times failed to find words in the tribal tongue to express Pat's sentiments.

Touching up his thirst with a draught from a fresh bottle, Pat said,
"Now we'll proceed with the election;
it will be conducted on the Australian Ballot System. Every man of ye dommed Igorrotes will come up and whisper the name of your candidate in mi ear."

The final vote was cast; the ballots were counted. According to Patrick McGann there were no opposing candidates; according he declared the Honorable Mr. Pack unanimously elected Governor of the Province of Benguet.

Garrett's Pitching Beats Stevens

Wins Eleven Inning Game; Delaware Still Weak With Stick

"Charley" Garrett, pitching baffling, air tight ball for eleven innings, held Stevens to five hits on Friday afternoon and contributed a major share of Delaware's victory over the Hoboken visitors to Frazer Field. The game had been scheduled for the day before but was called off on account of rain. Garrett had good support in the field, but Delaware lacked hitting punch at crucial moments.

Stevens scored a run in the first frame on an error and picked up two more in the 7th. Delaware didn't score until the seventh when they got one across, and in the next inning Snowberger's double scoring Carlon and Jaquette, tied the score. From the seventh on Stevens was helpless in the hands of Garrett and not a man got to home. In the eleventh Reitzes scored the winning run, assisted by Taylor's two bagger and a bingle by Lichenstein.

The work of the Blue and Gold battery was the feature of the game. Garrett not only kept the Stevens' wallows from being potent, but fanned 10. Reitzes kept the Hoboken runners close to the bags by threat of his fast throws, and made good his threats by nailing several of the venturesome. Besides his defensive work, he got on every time at bat. Taylor added to his batting average by accumulating two doubles and a single.

Resolutions of Respect

We, the members of Ebenezer M. E. Sunday School desire to note our sense of the great loss sustained by the community in the death of our beloved teacher, Margaret Reynolds. She will be grievously missed in the many lines wherein she was actively and industriously engaged.

We wish to tender to the members of her family our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

Whereas in view of the loss we have sustained by the death of our friend and associate and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to her, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say in regretting her removal from our midst we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with her family and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved, That this heartfelt testimonial of our sympathy and sorrow be forwarded to the family of our departed friend.

(Signed)

Superintendent, A. T. Buckingham.
Secretary, Sara Mousley.

High School Wins Second Game, 6 To 3

Mayer Pitches Winning Ball Against Middletown; Field Work Of Both Teams Excellent

With a close fielding team behind him Winnie Mayer, smoke ball artist for the High School, had the Middletown boys pretty much at his mercy and they only bumped him for 4 hits and 3 runs. Newark in the meantime managed to get 6 runs out of as many safe slaps. This all occurred last Friday afternoon on the Continental diamond.

Newark won the game in the first three innings by bunching their hits to force all of their 6 runs across the plate. After that they settled down to hold their lead. Mayer's sizzling slants had the Middletown crew wiping the tears from their eyes and when they did connect, their efforts stopped before they passed the outer guard. Newark's hitting showed some improvement, but is still uncertain.

Rawley, Middletown southpaw, pitched a nice game and was well supported. Middletown didn't have a single error chalked against them.

This afternoon Newark will entertain Goldey College on the Continental diamond.

"Strawberry Special" For Fruit Growers

Del-Mar-Va Association Arranges Special Train To Rush Fruit To Markets; Distribute Advertising Pamphlets

As a result of the action of the Del-Mar-Va Takes Inventory Congress, it has been announced that there is in process of distribution a booklet advertising the strawberries grown on the peninsula, and that there will be put into operation a fast freight service to hurry the fruit to the market. This "Strawberry Special" is only one of a number of special concessions made by the Pennsylvania Railroad officials in conference with the various committees of the Del-Mar-Va Association.

The "Strawberry Special" will operate from Cape Charles to Chester and Philadelphia during the coming season. The special will leave Cape Charles at 12:30 p. m., daily arriving in Philadelphia 12 hours later. By covering this 225 mile run on the schedule mentioned it will make possible proper distribution of the strawberry shipments before the city markets open.

Endeavor will be made to concentrate strawberry loadings along the route so that a number of stops will be eliminated. The principal shipping points are Cape Charles and Onley in Virginia; Marion Station, Pittsville and Salisbury in Maryland; and Selbyville and Bridgeville in Delaware.

This train service will augment the usual special freight service to New York, Pittsburgh and New England points and is the result of a policy of co-operation between the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Traffic and Transportation Bureau of the Del-Mar-Va Association, to provide speedy delivery to the nearby city markets.

While the strawberry crop last year was below normal the Pennsylvania hauled 1,738 carloads of berries from the Peninsula and there is indication

With our long experience in estate matters, trained organization, financial responsibility and continuous existence, this company is equipped to assume the management of your estate when you are gone and to operate it as a going concern.

If you name this company as executor and trustee, there will be no loss through sudden and enforced liquidation of assets. On the contrary, your affairs will automatically pass into the hands of a group of expert managers and will receive the same type of careful, experienced attention that you yourself have given to them.

JUNIOR RED CROSS NEWS

School children of South America, Sweden, Switzerland, Japan, Greece and Italy will shortly receive portfolios illustrating the work done by Delaware school children who are members of the Junior Red Cross, which portfolios are a part of the International Correspondence Department of this world-wide charity.

During the winter hundreds of Delaware school children have been busy with the work of preparing and assembling these portfolios and in practically every instance where they have forwarded one abroad or to South America, the children of the school where the portfolio is received have replied with a portfolio demonstrating their school work with illustrations.

The schools of Williamsville, Roxanna, Sugar Hill and Lizard Hill have sent a portfolio to South America. No country was designated it being left to the Red Cross National Headquarters to determine its destination. The portfolio was assembled under the direction of Miss Melissa McCabe.

The schools of Calloway, Columbia, Beaches and Providence have forwarded a portfolio showing their school work and which will be received by some school either in Switzerland or Japan. The portfolio was assembled under the direction of Mrs. Mabel R. Hearne.

Delmar school children with the assistance of Miss Lulu Ellis have sent a portfolio to Japan.

Edgemore and Mount Pleasant schools through the aid of Miss Irene Robbins have forwarded two portfolios, one to Italy and one to Switzerland.

Newark school children have prepared three portfolios for foreign children. In the room of Earl Kaller the 7th and 8th grades assembled a portfolio which was sent to Sweden. In the fifth grade room of Miss Bessie Wingate a portfolio was forwarded to Greece. The third grade in Miss Harriet Wilson's room also prepared a portfolio.

"Say, Jake, when's that there oldest gal of your'n thinkin' of gettin' married?"

"Constantly," was the ready reply.

P. T. A. Convention

Officers of local Parent-Teacher Associations, teachers, and committees in charge are looking forward to the convention to be held Saturday, April 23, in the Opera House, Dover, as the greatest meeting of its kind in the history of the State Association. The morning session will open at 9:30 a. m., with registration of delegates; the business meeting, with Mrs. Robert E. Lewis presiding, will convene at 10:30; a luncheon will be served at the People's Church to 300 guests; and the afternoon session will open at 1:30, when a splendid program has been arranged. Owing to the large attendance of the last two years, one delegate for every fifteen paid-up members, instead of ten as formerly, will be allowed. The seats on the main floor will be reserved for these delegates; visitors are welcome to come and occupy the seats in the balcony.

Important new business will come before the Convention in the morning. Banners and pennants will also be awarded to associations that have fulfilled certain requirements specified at the beginning of the school year at this session. Between 75 and 100 associations are to be honored for their good year's work.

The feature of the afternoon session will be the address of Dallas Lore Sharp, author and lecturer of national prominence. Dr. Sharp was the guest at the dinner of the Joint Educational Committee in Dover in December. As a boy, he lived on the Jersey shore of the Delaware River. He early acquired a great love for the outdoors and all wild things, and now, in the midst of many critics, he is America's foremost writer on nature subjects. He frequently refers in essays or stories to his life along the Delaware.

For the past thirty years, Dr. Sharp has been a teacher. After his love of nature, his great passion is the American public school which he pronounces the very backbone of the nation. "I might as well plead for your protection of the flag as for your protection of the American public school," he said upon the occasion of his last visit to Delaware, "for it seems to me they are one and the same thing. The American public school is a new institution. It has grown up out of our need in the carrying forward of our great experiment in human government."

TO BEAUTIFY STATE HIGHWAY

Representatives of the newspapers and other organizations of the State attended a meeting at the State House in Dover today, the object of which was to form a state-wide organization to work in conjunction with the State Highway Department in beautifying the State highway with trees, flowers, shrubs, and to plan to make a drive through Delaware attractive as well as safe.

Citizens' League Formed

the League it had not been decided by the election judges that certain ballots with the names of the annexation candidates written on them were to be counted, so the Judge was asked for an opinion on that point, which he gave in communication dated April 16. However the Council later announced that the disputed ballots would be counted. Judge Nields, in his second communication, gives lengthy precedent to this point. In closing his second letter, he advises legal action unless the Council decides to seat William J. Lovett.

It has been rumored that as the Council has seated R. J. Buckingham as Councilman from the Middle District, the Citizens' League for Fair Play will, through its attorney, contest this action and bring legal action so that William J. Lovett will be seated in the Council as representative from the Middle District.

Judge Nields' letters to the Citizens League for Fair Play are as follows, in part:

April 13, 1927.

"Citizens' League for Fair Play,
Newark, Delaware.
Gentlemen:

"I find on cursory examination of the law a precedent directly in point relative to the eligibility of Mr. G. M. Phipps as a candidate for City Council at the municipal election held in Newark, Delaware, Tuesday, April 12, 1927.

"The case of Gibson v. Wood, 105 Ky. 740; 43 L. R. A. 829, was as follows:

"The charter of the City of Louisville provided as follows: 'No person shall be eligible to any office who is not at the time of his election a qualified voter of the City and who has not resided therein three years preceding his election.'

"These are the facts. Since 1893 defendant Wood has resided in the Town of Enterprise a suburb of Louisville and about two squares east of the city boundary line. In August 1896 the Town of Enterprise was annexed to and became a part of the City of Louisville. On October 15, 1896, the municipal council of Louisville elected Wood Commissioner of the Sinking Fund of the City.

"A suit in equity was brought to enjoin Wood from taking or holding the office of commissioner on the ground that he was ineligible because not a resident of the City of Louisville for three years prior to his election.

The court stated that the question involved could be simply put as follows: 'When the territory occupied by the defendant's residence was incorporated into the City of Louisville did he then acquire all the rights of the residents of Louisville and is he entitled to consider the period of his residence in Enterprise in determining his eligibility to this office?' The court held: 'When the defendant Wood and his territory become parts of the City of Louisville they are entitled to all the benefits that belong to all other property and citizens of the City of Louisville. To hold otherwise would be to bring persons into the City of Louisville and to burden them with city taxation and all the burdens of our city government, without granting them all the privileges that it had granted to its other residents. It would put the burden on all the residents alike but would give different rights to different classes of citizens, by distinguishing the old residents from the annexed residents.'

"In brief the court held: 'Previous residence in a territory annexed to a city is to be deemed residence within the city for the purpose of computing a period of residence necessary to make a person eligible to a city office.' Dillon in 'Municipal Corporations' 437, sec. 372, cites Gibson v. Wood in a note to the following effect: 'Residence in a territory for three years immediately preceding annexation of the territory to a city makes a candidate eligible to a city office where three years residence is required by statute.'

"McQuillan in his work on 'Municipal Corporations' 992, sec. 444, in the text says: 'Under a charter providing that "No person shall be eligible to any office who is not at the time of his election a qualified voter of the city, and who has not resided therein three years preceding his election," previous residence of one elected to office in a territory annexed to a city is to be deemed residence within the city for the purpose of computing the period of residence necessary to make him eligible.'

"In 28 Cyc. 413, the law is thus stated: 'Residence in an annexed territory for the statutory period immediately preceding annexation is equivalent to the residence in the city.'

"If the courts of Delaware adopt the law as stated in the foregoing case and in the leading text books on municipal corporations, there is no doubt but that you were an eligible candidate for election to the council of the Town of Newark and that you fully met all the conditions of eligibility prescribed by the charter of Newark.

"Very truly yours,
John P. Nields."

"Citizens' League for Fair Play,
Newark, Delaware.
Gentlemen:

"I desire to reiterate the statement contained in my letter of April 13th, that the name of George M. Phipps for councilman, Western District, and the name of W. J. Lovett for councilman, Middle District, should have appeared on the printed ballots because they were eligible candidates for those offices at the town election held Tuesday, April 12th.

"Moreover, the legal consequence of setting aside the town election held Tuesday, April 12th, would be to retain in office the councilmen holding office before April 12, 1927. The old Council was elected to hold office until their successors were elected, and if none were elected last Tuesday, the Council as composed theretofore would hold office until April 1928.

"I assume that the election officers have delivered to R. J. Buckingham and to the others certificates of their election. If so, their functions have ceased. By section 13 of the Charter of Newark, the Council is made judge of the election returns and qualifications of its members. With the fullest opportunity to be advised as to the law, it may be that the Council will seat W. J. Lovett as councilman for the Middle District. If not, I advise that W. J. Lovett was lawfully elected to the office of councilman of the Council of Newark by a clear majority of the ballots cast at the town election on Tuesday, April 12, 1927, and that the will of the people of Newark will prevail if the matter be carried to the courts.

"Very truly yours,

Bulletin No. 2

These are days of unusually low priced fertilizers as every farmer knows. This presents a grave temptation to the manufacturer to make fertilizer from the cheapest available materials.

Ammoniated fertilizers, so far as the ammonia is concerned, can be made from a variety of materials ranging in cost from $2.00 per unit to as high as $5.50 per unit. Probably eighty percent of the fertilizers being sold in this section today derive their ammonia from the cheapest source, namely, sulphate of ammonia.

When The Triangle Agricultural Corporation was established we adopted three principles upon which to build for success, Fidelity, Quality, Service. We would not be keeping faith with the farmer if we did not maintain quality in Triangle fertilizers. We believe that the tendency with most manufacturers to cheapen their goods is a mistake. We cannot permanently succeed unless we furnish you with fertilizers that will produce results.

No amount of price cutting or other bad trade practices will ever influence us to deviate from our high standard of quality. Triangle brands, therefore, are made from Nitrate of Soda, pure animal matter tankage, purchased in Wilmington, Bone, Blood, and Sulphate of Ammonia, properly balanced so as to give a succession of plant food throughout the growing season. Unbalanced fertilizers may lose their value in the first week after they are applied.

Our low manufacturing costs and other advantages enable us to sell to you at very low prices and still maintain quality. Further with our plant here in Wilmington, we can deliver Triangle brands to your farm when you need them or if you want to haul the goods yourself, you can save a dollar a ton at least on the hauling expense. Call us up on the telephone at our expense and get factory prices.
