Ford Foundation Offers Fellowship To Newark Teacher

Superintendent Shue States
Six Faculty Members Have Applied For 1952-53 Award

Officials of the Ford Foundation announced this week that a number of the faculty of Newark High School will be awarded one of 400 fellowships available to public high school teachers throughout the United States for the academic year 1952-53.

Superintendent E. Shue, Newark superintendent, in revealing this information stated that a committee has been appointed to act on the application of those interested. Mr. Shue said that he has six members of the faculty who have indicated interest in the program.

The fund for the advancement of education was established by the Ford Foundation in 1911 for the purpose of improving formal education at all levels. To this end the fund awarded fellowships to members of many colleges and universities throughout the United States.

These fellowships gave college teachers an opportunity to devote a year away from their regular duties on a program designed to assist them as liberal educators in their efforts to make them more effective teachers.

Over 10,000 State Residents To Get More Social Security Pay

More than 10,000 persons in Delaware will receive higher social security payments beginning early in October as a result of the social security amendments which President Truman signed into law July 18, 1952.

Nathan Milboer, manager of the Delaware social security office in Wilmington, emphasized that no one needs to apply for the increased payments. The Social Security Administration is already changing the amounts, he pointed out. "We expect to get them in time to have them in the next October 3, the regular delivery date, but if in a few cases we don't meet that schedule we'll send the regular check and make up the difference in a later check."

Mr. Milboer pointed out that although nearly every family receiving payments would receive an increase, the additional amount would not always be divided among all the members of the family receiving monthly checks. In some cases the entire increase will go to the retired worker.

Builder Reveals 10 College Park Homes Under Roof

First Of 400 Home Project
Rapidly Nearing Completion;
City Officials Pleased

Jesse R. Casselberry of Casselmae, Inc., builders of the new College Park development on Elkton Road, announced this week that the initial section of ten of these homes would be under roof by the end of the week.

He joined with Grover Surratt of Hanby-Worrall Realtors, sales agents for the development, in pointing out the fine cooperation which has been extended by city officials in an effort to provide necessary housing for the growing population of the city. "Without their valuable assistance," they stated, "we would never have been able to proceed at such a satisfying rate with this vitally needed project."

Present plans are to build a total of 400 of these row-type brick houses containing six rooms and garage. They are being built on a 47-acre tract on Elkton Road near the intersection of West Park Place.

Mr. Surratt stated that the homes would sell for prices ranging from $9,990 to $11,500 depending on whether they are corner lots, ones having breezeways, or interior locations. The entire project, he says, is FHA inspected and approved.

150th Anniversary Speaker

Crawford H. Greenewalt

The "vast unexplored area of science" opened up by advancing technology is a "new continent" fully as rich and as abundant as the geographical America of 150 years ago and "as full of promise for the future," Crawford H. Greenewalt, president of the Du Pont Company, said last week as he spoke at ceremonies, at the site of the first Du Pont mill, marking the 150th anniversary of the company. "The possibilities in increased productivity alone" from this world of science "are enough to expand our standard of living substantially beyond its present high level," he predicted in a talk which was broadcast to Du Pont employees in plants throughout the country as well as to a nationwide radio audience (NBC). Mr. Greenewalt declared the possibilities "are of a scale and a diversity far beyond the comprehension" of anyone in his audience today. Nearly 7,000 people were invited to the natural amphitheater at the site of the first Du Pont mill on Brandywine Creek just on the outskirts of Wilmington.

Dean Arm Article Urges More Industry-Education Programs

The need for more industry education programs similar to DuPont's "Year-In-Industry" for engineering educators was cited by Dean David L. Arm, school of engineering, University of Delaware, in an article appearing in the latest issue of the JOURNAL OF ENGINEERING EDUCATION. Dean Arm is the first of a group of engineering educators to complete Du Pont's newly established program.

Early last year, Granville M. Read, Du Pont's chief engineer, proposed that several engineering educators be invited into the company's Engineering Department each year on leave of absence from their regular college duties. With their regular salaries and normal expenses borne by Du Pont, these educators would spend 12 months, not on direct job assignments, but on a schedule taking them throughout the entire engineering organization.

In describing the benefits resulting from the program, Dean Arm said, "The greatest benefits are long-range and perhaps can never be subject to complete evaluation. It seems logical to assume, however, that as more engineering college administrative officers take advantage of such opportunities, the benefits to engineering education will increase accordingly. All industry will then be supplied with better trained graduate engineers because of better policies, methods, and philosophies adopted by the engineering colleges."

More specifically, Dean Arm cited the following benefits: "Through an interchange of information, both industry and engineering colleges better understand each other's problem; it should make for educational programs better suited to the needs of industry; it should result in better counseling of students; it enables the individual who participates to observe at first hand engineering in action; it creates good public relations both for industry and for engineering education."

Brother Of Col. Ashbridge

Services for Thomas Lewellyn Ashbridge, 64, brother of Col. Donald M. Ashbridge of Newark, were held Saturday at his home, "Tree tops," Bycott Road, Holmwood, Bucks County, Pa., at 2:30 p.m. Interment was in the Friends Burial Ground at Lahaska, Pa.

Mr. Ashbridge, a member of the lumber firm of Wistar Underhill and Company in Philadelphia, died suddenly of a heart attack Wednesday at his home.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Ashbridge served with the 315th Infantry Regiment, Lorraine Division in France. Surviving, in addition to his brother, Colonel Ashbridge, a retired Regular Army officer and former director of the Placement Bureau of the University of Delaware, are his wife, Mrs. Natalie Reid Ashbridge; a daughter, Mrs. Ellen Ashbridge Abbe; and a son, Thomas L. Newark Council Will Consider Rent Controls At Next Meeting

Mayor Johnson Points Out That Each Community Must Decide Whether Rent Controls Will Be In Effect After September 30; Referendum Date To Be Settled Also

Newark City Council at its next meeting on August 5 will discuss whether or not rent controls will be extended after September 30 in the city, according to an announcement this week by Mayor Wallace M. Johnson.

The mayor pointed out that "responsibility for control or de-control of rents in each community is in the hands of the local governing body." This information was contained in a letter received recently from Gov. Elbert N. Carvel stating the changes in the rent control program contained in the recently adopted 1952 amendments to the Defense Production Act.

Under the amendments, rent controls automatically expire September 30 in the area north of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal unless there is a declaration of the need for continuation of controls. This declaration may be made either by the local governing body or by the voters of the municipality in a referendum.

This applies to communities which have not been classified by the federal government as critical defense areas. Newark has not been so classified.

In a statement this week Mayor Johnson said that he would make no prediction as to whether or not Council would see fit to extend rent controls but pointed out that the housing situation in the Newark area was critical at this time and felt that the matter should be given serious consideration before any decision was made. Members of Council were advised at the last meeting to think over the matter and be ready to make a decision at the August meeting.

At that time Council will also adopt a resolution setting a date for the referendum vote of city property owners regarding the $500,000 bond issue for the improvement of water and sewer facilities. Although it was previously announced that the referendum would probably be held in the latter part of August, some city officials are now of the opinion that it would be wise to wait until after the Labor Day holidays in order that many residents, who will be away during August, will be able to take part in it.

Following the public meeting held in the Newark High School auditorium last week, an informal vote was taken of those present and it was reported that it was overwhelmingly in favor of the proposed bond issue.

Mr. Roberts died last Wednesday at the home of a brother, Thomas J. Roberts, at 116 East Delaware Avenue, Newark, after an illness of seven months.

He was unmarried and had lived at Newark about 25 years, during which time he had been employed at the Continental Fibre Company plant. He was born at Cardiff, Md.

Newark Residents Return From 9500-Mile Trip Across Country

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Tomhave, 20 West Main Street, returned this week from a 9500-mile trip which carried them to Mexico, throughout the Southwest, to California and return.

Mr. Tomhave, a member of the Newark Lions Club, was a delegate to the Lions International Convention which was held in Mexico City. More than 3500 delegates representing Lions Clubs throughout the world attended the affair held from July 25 to 28. President Aleman of Mexico officially welcomed the Lions to Mexico City at the opening session.

One of the interesting facts regarding Mexico City, said the Tomhaves, was the fact that the city is reported to have sunk 18 inches during the past several years and the heavy rains which occur daily during the rainy season cause considerable floods in the older section of the city. They also stated that agricultural methods in Mexico were rather primitive being with most of the cultivation still done by ox-drawn plows, and grain harvesting done by hand sickle, while a few tractors were used on the large ranches in north Mexico.

On Tuesday night Robert J. Woodruff, Jr., editorial staff of the Newark Journal Company, spoke to the members of the local Lions Club concerning the value of the editorial page in today's newspapers.

Mr. Woodruff described the editorial page as an invitation to readers to think. On this page, he pointed out, are the opinions of the newspaper, columnists, and readers regarding issues of the day. He described the editorial page as a "democratic process" wherein the opinions of various elements are printed regarding the facts contained in news items found on the other pages.

WHERE'S IT TAKING US?

Thank Urninman For Your Bathroom

You can thank an old Babylonian for the modern bathroom you enjoy today.

Five thousand years ago, a wealthy monarch of Babylon, named Urninman, started a trend. He had the first clay tile bathroom in history built in his palace.

For those times it was a sensation, and only a fellow as rich as the old king could afford it. Today, waterproof clay tile is available to the average man at moderate prices. In fact, it is expected to go into at least half a million American rural and urban bathrooms in 1952 alone.

Moderns have still another bathing advantage over Urninman. Archaeological records show that the ancient Babylonian had no tub, much less a shower, both of which are standard equipment in bathrooms today. The king's servants washed him down by tossing water at him, allowing it to run off the tile. No harm was done to the waterproof palace bath, of course, but there couldn't have been much genuine satisfaction for Urninman, either.

Saturday Designated As Miss Delaware Day

Mosquito Control Work In Progress

The mosquito control work for the present season, under the direction of the State Highway Department, has been in progress for about a month during which period about 20,000 acres of marshland have been sprayed by the use of a plane and ditch cleaning operations have been in progress.

Frank D. Cannon, Director of the Mosquito Control Division of the Department, reports that the work this year is being aided through the use of a fog machine which is used to cover areas where adult mosquitoes have been found in large numbers.

While costs of chemicals and oils used in the preparation that is used in the spraying operations have greatly increased this year, Mr. Cannon reports that the spraying work will be accomplished at a cost of about forty cents per acre.

What A Friend We Have In Jesus

A Carpenter and The Lord Write a Hymn Together

Grief fell over the town of Lake Rice, Canada. One of the community's most beloved citizens was dead. Some believed his death was accidental. But the poor people—those who knew him best—wondered if their friend had taken his life!

Joseph Scriven was born in Dublin in 1820. He was educated on the Emerald Isle and graduated from Trinity College. He was a youth of high ideals and a beautiful lass has set the day when she would share his high hopes. Then tragedy struck. The day before the wedding, the body of the young Irishman's bride-to-be was pulled from a pool of water where she had accidentally drowned.

Scriven never overcame the shock. At twenty-five he migrated to Canada in the hope of forgetting. But he never forgot. For forty years the melancholy man associated himself only with the poor. He worked at simple labor but refused employment from those who were able to pay. Most of his time was spent sawing wood and doing patch carpentry for widows and the sick.

One day when he was ill an attending neighbor found a poem in his room. Questioned as to the authorship, Scriven replied, "The Lord and I wrote it between us."

It was October 10, 1856, and Joseph Scriven was dead. Like his sweetheart of years ago, his body was pulled from a pool of water. Whether he died of his own design didn't really matter. His neighbors built a monument to his memory. Not because he had written a famous hymn but because he had devoted his life to the poor.

The Hymn Scriven said he and the Lord wrote together was . . .

What a friend we have in Jesus,
All our sins and griefs to bear!
What a privilege to carry
Everything to God in prayer!

O what peace we often forfeit,
O what needless pain we bear,
All because we do not carry
Everything to God in prayer.

Have we trials and temptations,
Is there trouble anywhere?
We should never be discouraged,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Can we find a friend so faithful,
Who will all our sorrows share?
Jesus knows our every weakness,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Are we weak and heavy-laden,
Cumbered with a load of care,
Precious Saviour, still our refuge,
Take it to the Lord in prayer.

Do thy friends despise and forsake thee?
Take it to the Lord in prayer.
In His arms He'll take and shield thee,
Thou wilt find a solace there.

Trivits Continues To Set Pace In Recreation Softball Loop

Other Clubs Fighting For Next Three Positions Which Will Be Included In Championship Playoff Beginning On Monday Between First Four Teams

With only one week of play remaining in the regular season of the Newark Recreation Association Softball League, Trivits has practically clinched first place with a perfect record to date of eight wins in eight contests.

On Monday the championship playoffs will begin with the first four teams in the final standings playing a round-robin series to determine the league winner. The first and third place finishers and the second and fourth place winners will meet in the semi-finals, playing a best two-out-of-three series. The winners will meet in the finals to determine the league champions.

In last week's play, A and P socked the offerings of Delcollo for ten hits and eight runs in defeating Knights of Pythias, 8 to 4. Knotts, Eulom and Reynolds each collected two hits apiece to lead the A & P offense.

Local 404 scored three runs in the sixth inning to hand V.F.W. its ninth loss of the season, against a single win. It was the fifth victory for Local 404 against three losses which places them in third spot in the standings behind Trivits and the Blue Jays.

Official Says Many Families Fail To Claim Benefits

Social Security Payments To Survivors Not Paid Unless Claimed In 2 Years

With the approach of the second anniversary of the new Social Security Act, Myron Milbourn, manager of the Social Security office, warned that many families who are entitled to survivors' death payments would not claim them promptly.

The 1950 amendments increased the amount of survivors' insurance by social security payments from 40 million to over 60 million. More than 100,000 families are insured to receive survivors' benefits.

Survivors' benefits are paid to the family of a worker who has died. The benefits are paid to the widow, or to the child of a deceased worker. The benefits are paid to the child of a deceased worker who is under 18 years of age, or to the child of a deceased worker who is under 22 years of age and is a full-time student.

For further information, survivors should write or call at the Social Security Administration, located in the Old Custom House Building, at 6th & King Streets.

For the convenience of local residents, a representative will be at the Old Academy Bldg., Academy & Main Sts., the 2nd Tuesday of each month at 9:30 a.m.

July Important In Social Security Benefits To Some

Workers Nearing Retirement Or Age 65 May Qualify For Higher Monthly Payments

For many employees who are nearing retirement or age 65, the month of July 1952 is very important because in some cases it will be possible for the wage earner to qualify for higher monthly social security benefits if he has continued in regular employment through June of this year. Myron Milbourn, manager of the Social Security office in Wilmington, reported this week.

The "new start" provision of the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act makes it possible to use a new computation formula based on earnings after 1950 instead of all earnings since 1936. For many people this will mean a higher average monthly wage and, therefore, a higher benefit payment. This is so because, after 1950, maximum wage credits of $3600 a year are possible. Under the old law $3000 was the most a person could be credited with in any one year.

Mr. Milbourn went on to explain that for many persons it will be advantageous to continue working until at least six new quarters after 1950 have been earned. At the time of filing an application for benefits, careful consideration will be given each case under both the new and the old formulas, and the higher benefit will be paid.

In computing the benefit at this time, earnings from employment in the preceding six months will not be immediately used; therefore, the retired worker will receive a reduced amount until six months later, when he will be eligible to have his benefit refigured. This recomputation will be based on all earnings from January 1, 1951 to retirement which will increase the amount of the temporary benefit that he has been receiving.

The office of the Social Security Administration, Custom House, 6th & King Streets, Wilmington, Delaware, will be glad to answer questions about Social Security Benefits. The telephone number is 4-7778.

For the convenience of local residents, our representative is in the Old Academy Bldg., Academy & Main Sts., Newark, the 2nd Tuesday of each month at 9:30 a.m.

Methodist Church Wins First Game In Softball Loop

Church Loop Officials Hope Other Groups Will Form Team In Monday Night League

Methodist Church defeated Presbyterian Church, 24 to 10, on Monday evening in the first regular game of the newly-formed Newark Church Softball League.

For both teams the game represented an organization or tryout session with each team planning to divide the large squads into two teams, one for the Junior and senior high group and one for the adult and young adult group.

League officials expressed the hope that other churches in the vicinity will organize teams in these two groups and join in the league. All interested groups are urged to contact Louis Mattison, or Don Butterworth, for further information. Games will be played on Monday evenings at 6:45 p.m.

Members of the Methodist team on Monday were: Gregg, Shue, Brader, Spears, Hyre, Miller, Starky, Pritchett, Gowing, Dittenberger, Everett, Bunting, Sparks Holmquist and Butterworth.

Presbyterian Church was represented by: Edmanson, Day, McDowell, G. Skinner, Lewis, C. Rose, Southwell, Knauss, Gilmore, Robinson, Sherman, Darsie, McAlpine, Dudo, Carswell, Dale, Hogshend, Pickett Cox, Mattison, Eastman, Hogshend, Miller, George, and C. Skinner.

Farmers To Elect PMA Committeemen

An election of community committeemen of the Production and Marketing Administration, to be held on Wednesday July 30, at 8:00 p.m. has been announced by John A. Redding, Sr., chairman of the New Castle County PMA Committee.

The election will be held at the following places:

Community No. 1—Brandywine and Christians Hdr., Community No. 1a—Mill Creek Hdr., Harmony Grange Hall Hockessin, Del.
Community No. 2—White Clay and Pender Hdr., Community No. 2a—New Castle and Red Lion Hdr., County PMA office, Newark, Del.
Community No. 3—St. George Hdr., Middletown Fire Hall, Middletown, Del.
Community No. 4—Appoquinimink Hdr., Community No. 4a—Blackbird Hdr., Townsend Fire Hall, Townsend, Del.

All farmers, said Mr. Redding, are urged to remember that the success of the conservation program depends on the men selected to administer it, and to attend the election and use their ballot to secure the men of their choice.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. Anna F. Riley

Mrs. Anna F. Riley, 75, widow of Horace L. Riley, of 22 Prospect Avenue, died Saturday in the Delaware Hospital where she had been a patient since May 31. Her husband died two years ago.

Mrs. Riley was a member of the Methodist Church at Newark. Surviving are a son, Edgar Riley of Newark; a daughter, Mrs. Marie Jones of New Castle; four grandchildren, Charles Riley of Bridgeville, a detective with the State Police, Chester Riley of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Mrs. Gwendolyn Coe, of Summerville, W. Va., and Mrs. Dorothy May Cash of Newark.

The funeral was held at the Jones Funeral Home Tuesday at 2 p.m. The Rev. Dr. J. J. Bunting, Jr., pastor of ture of physical effort and with a consequent decrease in fatigue," he said. "The worker is well protected against financial crises from accidents and illness and every effort is made to insure his financial independence after retirement. In the event of his death, his family is protected by liberal group plan life insurance. He has the highest standard of living in his history with the shortest working hours and unequalled recreational facilities."

Dean Arm pointed out, "The very nature of the program which we have just completed involves a tremendous expenditure of time and effort by the sponsoring organization so that not more than five participants per year could be accommodated by any one company. This leaves much ground to be covered if all accredited engineering colleges are to be given the opportunity of participating in programs of this sort."

"Since the benefits accrue to all industrial companies," he said, "other progressive organizations might well consider similar plans."

year are not over $900. The amended law contains a provision of special importance to self-employed people who have retired or plan to retire during 1952. Before the passage of the amendments their earnings for the year in which an application was made could not be used to figure their old-age benefit payments. Now, those self-employed people who originally applied for benefits in 1952 may re-apply at the close of the taxable year and have their 1952 earnings used in figuring their monthly benefit payments. In general, this will increase the monthly benefit payment to self-employed persons.
