Needlework Guild

The Needlework Guild of America, known as "the charity that helps all charities" is sponsoring membership week from October 1 through October 8.

Mrs. Evans will entertain the local branch at her residence on North College Avenue next Thursday afternoon at two-thirty, when the annual business meeting and election of officers will occupy the session.

At four o'clock the same day, all members are invited to view the garments that have been made and contributed during the year.

Seed treatment of winter wheat and barley is cheap insurance against losses due to covered smut, also known as stinking smut or bunt in wheat, says G. M. Worrilow, county agricultural agent.

The value of treating all kinds of seeds is becoming an accepted and recognized practice, some treating being done on the farm, but a large percentage of the grain for seed is now treated in special cleaning and treating machines at the plants of several grain dealers and warehousemen throughout the county.

The organic mercury dust should be applied to the seed of winter wheat or barley at the rate of one-half ounce per bushel in a mixing machine, or as recommended in the directions on the container.

"Hitler Is The Effect--Not The Cause Of Trouble In Europe"

Speaker Tells Lions French Are To Blame

"Hitler is the effect and not the cause of present conditions" in Europe, members of the Lions Club were told Tuesday night at the Newark Country Club by Austrian-born William L. Hauser, a citizen of the United States for a quarter of a century, who spoke at length on the current Czechoslovak crisis.

A fluent and adept speaker, Mr. Hauser closed his highly interesting and timely discourse by placing the blame for the present disturbance in Europe on the Versailles and Trianon treaties, which he claimed were dictated by French selfishness and hatred.

"Had the Versailles and Trianon treaties been based on justice, humanity, truth, and right, we would not face the crisis of tonight," stated Mr. Hauser. "I go further than that. Had these treaties been rectified ten-fifteen years ago, Hitler would still be yodeling and painting barns in Austria and Bavaria."

Served Under Pershing. Mr. Hauser, who is business administrator of the Newark Project, Soil Conservation, Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, was introduced by Walter R. Powell, chairman of the Lions session. Paul D. Lovett, president of the club, officiated.

A graduate of the Austrian Imperial Naval Academy, Mr. Hauser was serving as an officer on an English merchant ship at the outbreak of the World War. Anchored in New York when hostilities started in 1914, he insisted that he be permitted to remain in the United States rather than be returned to a detention camp in England.

I tagged along with 'Blackjack' Pershing when he chased Villa all over the map of old Mexico, and I wore O. D. (olive drab of the American Expeditionary Force) in the "war to end all wars," Mr. Hauser told his audience by way of introducing himself.

Truth Becomes Propaganda. Married to an Indiana girl in 1921, the speaker is the father of five children. American children, he insists. "My family and I speak only the American language, and we read only American papers, periodicals, and books," he stressed.

"Since my arrival in this country I have not contributed one red cent to any movement, group, or nation in Europe. Under present circumstances, contributions of that kind, in my estimation, are un-American."

"I tell you these things because I am exceedingly anxious to assure you that during my little talk I will not twist the truth. When the truth is twisted around to meet the aims or the viewpoint of any group or movement, it ceases to be the truth, it becomes propaganda. As an American citizen, with all my interests centered in America, I have no reason and no intention to engage in the spreading of propaganda."

Making use of large maps, which he prepared especially for the occasion, Mr. Hauser traced the history of the pre-war Austro-Hungarian Empire as it was founded and existed from the time of the downfall of the Holy Roman Empire.

Dealing with its origin, its people, development and manner of trade, its natural barriers and frontiers, Mr. Hauser stated that the pre-war Austro-Hungarian Empire was combined by the Hapsburgs with comparative ease because as "forward looking scientists to this day insist that the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy was created by nature rather than by man."

"Some of the Hapsburgs were are asking for deferred registration for Delaware.

"In states where registration has been deferred millions of dollars have been released for holiday trade and state gasoline tax revenues have increased sharply because of the additional gasoline consumed. State officials, commercial organizations, motor clubs, granges, and highway users in general enthusiastically endorse the wide-spread benefits they have shared.

"In Delaware, economists estimate that state gasoline tax revenues under deferred registration. Support for the movement is steadily gaining ground and many legislators have already expressed willingness to sponsor or support legislation designed to give Delaware citizens benefits now being enjoyed by twenty-three other states. It is predicted that the legislation will be passed as there has been no opposition to the proposal. If other states have benefited, Delaware, too, should benefit."

Deferred Registration Of Motor Vehicles Is Urged

Thousands of dollars would be released to holiday trade in Delaware if this state followed the lead of twenty-three other progressive states which have adopted deferred registration of motor vehicles.

Purves Taylor, secretary of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Delaware declared last week a statement to the press.

"Twenty-three states now permit their motor vehicle owners to secure license plates on April first or a later date," Mr. Taylor stated. "At present, motor vehicle owners of Delaware are required to secure license plates on January first. Because of lack of money due to holiday demands and the usual first-of-the-year obligations, this works a considerable hardship on a large percentage of owners. As a result, many are financially unable to operate their cars at a time when inclement weather makes the operation of an automobile more necessary than usual. Truckers and farmers whose incomes are definitely lower at this time of the year

75 PERCENT TO BE FOR FACULTY SERVICE

Addition Projects At Middletown, Harrington, And Seaford Approved

The State Board of Education will submit a budget of $3,850,000 each year for the school system in the biennium beginning next July 1, it was announced this week.

The estimate, unchanged but little in total amount from that of the current biennium, was approved on Tuesday by the board and will be presented to the State Budget Commission.

About 75 per cent of the amount is for instructional service, and the next largest item for auxiliary agencies, including transportation of children in rural districts to consolidated schools, Dr. H. V. Holloway, state superintendent of public instruction, pointed out.

Comparatively little is provided for capital outlay, he added, but as in the present budget, $25,000 will be earmarked by the General Assembly as an emergency fund for upkeep.

Projects Approved. Approval was also made of a budget of $1,571,167.31 for the "state board unit," covering schools outside Wilmington and the special districts for this fiscal year, 1938-39.

Projects costing $376,000 for additions to schools at Middletown, Harrington, and Seaford were passed upon. Applications are to be made, it was said, to the Public Works Administration to pay 45 per cent of the cost.

The projects are: Middletown, providing space for 100 more children, costing $136,000; addition at Harrington costing $165,000, and a $75,000 addition at Seaford, where the district specified it should not be required to raise more than $50,000.

The business department was also directed by the board to begin furnishing transportation to the Milford district for children of the Slaughter Neck district in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades for courses in home economics and agriculture when such courses are available.

Board members said the action was taken because funds were lacking to build a two-room addition to the Slaughter Neck school. At the same time, the board urged to avoid duplicating the course already available nearby.

VOTERS

The September 26 issue of THE MARCH OF TIME, Weekly Newsletter, reports two odd developments on political fronts in widely separated areas of the United States.

From Cambridge, Mass., for instance, comes the story about Policeman Thomas Henry Leary, a political clown well above average in humor, who last week wound up his "Be Wary of Leary" campaign to avoid election as a delegate to the State Democratic Convention.

Ringed doorbells at dead of night, begging irate voters not to vote for him, he vowed (if elected) to campaign for lifting the old-age pension limit from 65 to 150 years, to abolish all relief projects "so the men can go back to work."

His campaign expenditures, he reported, were: 20 cents for rotten tomatoes for boys to throw at a "Vote for Leary" sign, five cents for a false mustache to frighten babies. Elected anyhow, Delegate Leary sat down to prepare a statement berating the voters.

And from Milton, Washington, TIME reports the tale of fifty-one voters last week marking their ballots for one Boston Curtis, Republican candidate for precinct committeeman. Boston Curtis was elected.

Milton's Mayor Kenneth Simmons, a Democrat, chortled hugely. He, who had sponsored Candidate Curtis and filed his papers, had proved his point that voters "have no idea whom they support." Boston Curtis is a large brown mule.

Local Couple Celebrated Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pike, 23 Haines Street, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Tuesday. Several friends from Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania visited the couple to extend congratulations.

Dancing was enjoyed and entertainment was furnished by Eileen and Phyllis and Helen and Alma Clark, and Mrs. Marion Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pike. Music was furnished by Helen, Alma, Edward and Roy Clark, Jr., all of Camden, N. J.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

Lesson for October 2 THE ONE TRUE GOD

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:2, 3; Isaiah 45:22; Mark 12:29-34; 1 Corinthians 8:4-6

GOLDEN TEXT—And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.—Deuteronomy 6:5

Today we begin a series of studies which should be of unusual value, a consideration of the Ten Commandments in the light of the teachings of Jesus and related New Testament passages.

I. The Truth Stated—There is One True God (Exod. 20:2, 3)

Jehovah means "I will be what I will be," or "I am that I am." (Exod. 3:14). His very name declares that God is self-existent, eternal one.

II. The Truth Explained

1. God is our Deliverer (Exod. 20:2). He who brought Israel out of the bondage of Egypt is the one, and the only one who can deliver men from the bondage of sin.

2. God is our Saviour (Isa. 45:22). Again note that "there is none else who can save."

3. God is Love (1st John 4:8). In I John 4:8 the truth is stated in all its glorious simplicity, "God is love."

4. God is our Father (1st Cor. 8:4-6). Paul is speaking of the eating of calf offered to idols, and points out that such false gods are really nothing.

5. God is the Father, yes "the Father," of whom are all things and we in Him (v. 6).

6. God is the Father, yes "the Father," of whom are all things and we in Him (v. 6). There is but one God, there is also but one Lord, Jesus Christ through whom the one God has wrought all things.

7. God is the Father, yes "the Father," of whom are all things and we in Him (v. 6). There is but one God, there is also but one Lord, Jesus Christ through whom the one God has wrought all things.

8. God is the Father, yes "the Father," of whom are all things and we in Him (v. 6). There is but one God, there is also but one Lord, Jesus Christ through whom the one God has wrought all things.

9. God is the Father, yes "the Father," of whom are all things and we in Him (v. 6). There is but one God, there is also but one Lord, Jesus Christ through whom the one God has wrought all things.

GIVING

LAURA GRAY The piping of children's voices mingled with the deeper tones of father and mother, and an occasional chuckle and ripple of laughter drew my attention to a picnic that had assembled under a brilliant autumn tree on a beautiful Saturday afternoon.

The father had stretched himself on the fallen leaves, and four little ones played beside him. The mother seemed to be knitting. The picture gave the impression of satisfying serenity, of quiet fun, and I said to myself, "These youngsters are lucky—their parents are giving themselves to their children."

Happy Days Recalled

The scene recalled happy days in my own childhood that stand out as delightful memories, when our father would wander with us in the woods, show us how to make whistles from twigs, hunt Indian pipes and imitate birdcalls. He would relax, grow playful, smile and be happy. I remember and love my father best as he was in these moods.

Cannot Be Passed On

But these things cannot be passed on if we always drive the children from us. It's so easy to tell them to "run and play," instead, the interest and activities of the home should be shared by all.

NEWARK IS DESCRIBED IN GUIDE

Present Scenes And History Marked In Book

By Anthony Higgins, Asso. Editor Federal Writers' Project Newark's present scene and past history are given 13 pages in "Delaware—A Guide to the First State," the volume compiled by the Federal Writers' Project and recently published by the Viking Press of New York.

In recognition of the town's importance as an educational, industrial, business, and agricultural center, past and present, the section on Newark is particularly full and detailed. There are two photographs of University of Delaware scenes, and a double-page map of the town drawn from the best available surveys. This map has located on it by number, a score of the most noteworthy points of interest within the university and elsewhere in the town.

Buildings Described

A "campus tour" described these and other buildings in a convenient sequence for visitors, that for the first time an inspection trip around the university is made easy for those unfamiliar with the place.

"The Wedge" Described

That unique tract of land, formerly a "pro-man's-land" called "The Wedge," long in dispute between three states but now within the State of Delaware, is given the clearest and most readable treatment it has ever received—on pages 456-459. The Wedge Map in the book helps in making it understandable.

Other nearby points of interest in the tours are the old Cooch House at Cooch's Bridge, Iron Hill and its history, the old Red Lion and Buck taverns. In fact, the "Tours" section is leading Newark residents first through New Castle County, and then, before they quite realize it, into Kent and Sussex, where towns and side roads are being explored with the pleasure that the Delaware Guide has made possible for the first time.

Church Workers' Supper At M. E. Church Tonight

A workers' confidence supper will be served tonight at six-thirty in the dining hall of the Newark M. E. Church. All of the workers of the Church School are urged to be present.

"Fair Warning" Is Spirit Of New Drug Act

New Provisions Force Protection For Label Readers; Dangers Noted

"Fair warning" is the spirit of several of the new protective provisions of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act which will take the place of the present law next June. These new features, according to the men who have been enforcing the old law, will enable intelligent label readers to avoid many dangers of the old law.

One provision requires that any drug intended for use by man must bear a label warning against the habit-forming possibilities of the preparations if it contains any of a list of hypnotic or narcotic drugs, habit forming if used repeatedly.

Warnings Against Use

This requirement will go a good deal beyond perfunctory warnings not to use external remedies—liniments, for example—internally.

Also, the administration will have power to forbid manufacturers to

SLOGAN OF CAMPAIGN IS CHOSEN

Annual Sale Of Christmas Seals Is Announced

"Protect Your Home From Tuberculosis" will be the slogan of the 1938 Christmas Seal Campaign. Miss Emily P. Bissell, president of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society announced this week.

"The design of the seal suggests the slogan," she explained. "A mother and two young children in costumes of the Victorian age are shown lighting a candle in the window of their home. The lighted candle is indicative of the enlightenment on tuberculosis that has been kindled by the Christmas Seals and of protection from the dread disease."

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Help to Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis

"Tuberculosis breaks up more homes than any other disease. If a mother or father is stricken, this means separation from the family if other members are to be protected from the threat of the disease."

Tuberculosis usually brings a serious economic problem. Each year tuberculosis claims the lives of 40,000 persons between 15 and 45, the most productive years. Many of these victims are mothers and fathers, who leave young orphaned children to face life alone. Last year 142 citizens of Delaware died from tuberculosis. Christmas Seals finance a year-round program to control tuberculosis and by so doing protect all homes from tuberculosis. The sale will start Thanksgiving Day and continue until Christmas.

Down-State Clubs

John N. McDowell, the executive secretary, reported tentative plans for the issuance, early next year, of an alumni directory. The information for such a directory is being secured from the alumni by means of questionnaires which have been mailed to all members, and which they are urged to complete and return to the Alumni Office as soon as possible. It was also announced at the meeting that a number of alumni in both Kent and Sussex Counties have expressed a desire for clubs in their respective counties. Meetings for the purpose of organizing these groups in Kent and Sussex Counties will be held some time during October.

Announcement was also made that the fall alumni homecoming will take place on November 12, on which day the Drexel football team will clash with Delaware on Frazer Field. The mid-winter alumni banquet is planned for February 25, 1939, on which night a basketball game between the University of Delaware and Pennsylvania Military College is scheduled. Alumni Day will be held on May 20, 1939, and according to tentative plans, the Delaware baseball team will play Pennsylvania Military College.

"Ready on Your Call..."

Years ago, when you placed a long distance call, you waited several minutes until the Operator called you back to say, "Ready on your call..."

Today, more than nine times in ten, your long distance connection is made while you hold the line.

This improvement in service came because Bell management said that it should come—and found the men, methods and machinery to make it possible.

Whenever you need to talk to someone out of town—think of Long Distance. Think of its speed, its ease—how pleasingly personal it is. Think of the time and money it can save you. Think of the low night and Sunday rates for friendly chats. And remember, please, that we are always "ready on your call"—eager and able to serve you well. The Diamond State Telephone Company.

Then It Was 13 Miles Now It's 20 Minutes

A Message to Newark Businessmen

(With Apologies to The Publishers' Auxiliary)

WHEN you and you and you were boys in Newark, it was thirteen miles to the nearest city. Now it's a mere 20 minutes.

WHEN that city was thirteen miles instead of 20 minutes away, the people of this community were willing to accept such merchandising methods as its grocer and dry goods dealer and hardware man offered them. They weren't always too particular about the cleanliness of the stores, nor the quality or variety of the merchandise offered, nor the sales ability of the merchants and their clerks.

IN those days the only competitors of these merchants were the mail-order houses. It was a case of buy in the home town, or from the mail-order catalog. Those thirteen miles of soft mud road and travel by horse and buggy or wagon protected the trade of the grocer and dry goods dealer and hardware man. Those thirteen miles of mud kept the interest of the people of the community centered in Newark and it kept the people of the town at home, except for occasional trips (by train) to Wilmington, even Philadelphia, New York, and Baltimore.

BUT today the thirteen miles of distance have been changed to a brief 20 minutes of time. The mud roads have been changed to concrete and macadam highways. The automobile HAS replaced the horse and buggy or wagon. Today the County's Public Building is as near as was the College Farm a few years ago. And because it is, the merchants in Wilmington—yes, even in Philadelphia, New York, and Baltimore—are the competitors of the Newark merchants.

THIS situation is not unique. It has meant radical changes in the social and commercial life of the nation. The merchants in some of the little towns, who did not realize that their fortifications of mud roads and slow methods of travel had been broken down and would not accept the challenge of the new competition, eventually closed their doors and the town began to die.

BUT in hundreds of towns there were merchants who recognized the new order of things and changed their merchandising methods accordingly. Almost invariably these were towns in which there was a live local newspaper to help them and to lead the way.

IN speaking thus, it must not be assumed that the transformation from the era of mud to the era of concrete is a closed chapter in American social and commercial history. It is a chapter that's still being written and, because it is, there is still as much need for community leadership by the local newspaper as there ever was.

IT must lead the way in community advertising campaigns, selling the community to itself, stimulating co-operation among its people, advocating community improvements, community trade, prompt payments of obligations, and the numerous other things that are needed to arouse the community and help it keep pace with progress.

CONFIDENT that Newark businessmen—grocers, dry goods dealers, hardware men, lumber dealers, automobile dealers, druggists and the like—are looking to the advancement and progress of the town and community, The Newark Post is, in its own right, endeavoring to carry out the functions of a live newspaper in a live town.

THE paper alone, however, nor any one group or business can accomplish the job without support. It is imperative, therefore, that we work together for the common good.

NEWARK'S advancement and progress is the Post's chief concern. It is dedicated to the cause and will ever strive to fulfill its allegiance to the community. But the Post cannot do it alone. Mr. Businessman, your support is needed, too. May we count on you as an ally in this drive for Newark's success and prosperity?

GIRL SCOUTS ASK FOR AID

Newark, cooperating with other centers in Delaware, is afforded the chance next week to help the Girl Scouts in the State by contributing to the drive for funds.

A growing organization throughout the world, Girl Scouts are represented in Newark by three troops with a total enrollment of eighty. Organized and sponsored by a group of progressive women, the Scouts' affairs have been advanced locally by methodical and progressive stages.

Troop meetings, which were originally held in the high school building, are now conducted in the girls' own hut on Academy Street. The building, its use donated by the Board of Education, was repaired and altered for its present needs by the girls themselves, aided by generous support from business houses, Scout leaders, and the troop committee.

During the past year alone, Girl Scouts have contributed five important things toward the betterment of the community. They have made and contributed jelly to the Flower Hospital; held a Christmas party for needy children of pre-school age; have made scrap books and utility bags for patients at Sunnybrook Cottage, Brandywine Sanatorium; have made baby trays and infant clothing for the local visiting nurse, and lent valuable assistance in arranging and conducting the May Mart at the high school.

Like their brothers in the Boy Scout ranks, the girls, while receiving valuable training in good citizenship, cooperation, and community betterment, are paying rich dividends to Newark and the State in the form of unusual and valuable service.

They merit the financial support of the town and community in order that their work can continue. It is to be hoped that their appeal for funds will be met by the same generous response that is characteristic of Newark when worthy organizations state their requests.

WRITE A LETTER

It's only a few steps to the nearest mail box—write a letter! Take a little chunk of your heart and spread it over some paper; it goes, oh, such a long way!

Write a letter to your mother or father, to your sister, brother, sweetheart, loved ones. Are they dear to you? Prove it with a letter! Write a letter and give them the same thrill you had when you last received the same kind of a letter. Think of the joy of opening the mail box and drawing out a warm envelope enriched with old familiar hand-writing! A personal letter—it's good to get one. So send one—write a letter!

Write a letter to the aged relative who hasn't many days to live, the friend of your father, the friend of your family, the one surviving link between your own present and past. Don't wait for that dear soul to die till you act. Act now with a message of love to cheer those last few days on earth. Sit down and start writing!

Write a letter to the author whose story gave you that delightful half hour last night. Write a letter to the cartoonist whose serial strip you avidly devoured this morning; to the teacher who inspired you twenty years ago; to the doctor who saved your baby's life; to your old employer to show him there was something more between you than a pay check. Be a human being—write a letter.

There's a man in public life you admire, believe in, rave about. Write him a letter of praise of encouragement. To be "with him in spirit" is not enough—show your spirit with a letter. We can't all be pioneers, crusaders, presidents—but we can help those brave men stay on the track and push through to a grand and glorious success if all we ever say is "Attaboy!" Write an "Attaboy" letter!

Write a letter and—give. Give praise, encouragement, interest, consideration, gratitude. You don't HAVE to give these things; but the real letter is the one you don't HAVE to write!

The sweetest, gentlest, and most useful of all the arts—letter writing. Great, grand characters like Washington, Franklin, Lincoln, and the greatest men of all nations, have been regular letter writers. Write a letter! Write it with pen, pencil, or typewriter. Use any kind of paper, any kind of spelling or grammar. It doesn't matter how you say it, and it doesn't even matter what you say; it's beauty, its gold lie in the pure fact that it's a letter! Each mistake is another handclasp; every blot is a tear of joy.

Do you see a job? Do you smell an order? Is your mind on business? Write a letter. Then write another letter. No business, no individual, built on the "write-a-letter" rule ever failed. Because you simply can't fail, if you write a letter.

Try it, you'll like it. Great joy and many surprises are in store for you. You'll get letters back. You'll get help from unexpected sources. All that you gave in your letters will be returned to you a thousand-fold. For a letter is a 3-cent investment in bountiful good fortune.

Write a letter! Whether you say: "Attaboy!", "Thanks!", or "I love you," always remember: A LETTER NEEDS NO EXCUSE!

This, too, is the height of something or other: A fund of $50,000 is being raised by the Workers' Alliance, an organization of WPA workers, for the purpose of supporting candidates who will vote to give them easier jobs and more pay.

Dispensing with haphazard methods, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ginn of Bowman, Ga., have used the alphabet consecutively from B to Q in naming their 16 children.

Fifth Installment

Have You a Hollywood Personality?

Out of Hollywood there frequently come the words, "She has a good screen personality." They mean, of course, that we like that person when we see her on the screen. Anyone who does not make a favorable impression when seen on the screen has a not-so-good screen personality.

The divorce records would indicate that a good screen personality is not always a good matrimonial personality. Evidently they do not act as well at home as they do on the screen. But, of course, a lot of people do not act as well after marriage as they do before. How come? We have already indicated that if we will only bring up the matter of temperamental compatibility before marriage instead of the matter of temperamental incompatibility after marriage we might be able to put a crimp in the divorce business and start a depression in Reno. And find a little more happiness in the world.

Matter of Temperament

We have simplified this matter of temperament as much as possible to make it easy for us to fix in our minds the four fundamental types of temperament—the irascible, the materialistic, the mental, and the emotional. To make it easier for us to remember the nature of each, we have used the age old names: Fiery, Earthy, Airy, and Watery.

It should now be very easy indeed to connect up temperament, personality and individuality, understand these factors, and be in a much better position to clarify our knowledge of human nature. Even the human nature of an incompatibility, if we can spot them first, there may not be as much trouble afterwards.

For a successful marriage partnership, there should not only be compatibility of temperament, but compatibility of personality and of individuality. In fact, it is all temperament, and it will simplify matters if we make these distinctions:

Three Main Factors

PERSONALITY temperament is that which is on the surface for all to see—your outer self.

INDIVIDUALITY temperament is that of the inner nature, hidden from the world, but your true self.

INTEREST temperament is that which predisposes one toward certain kinds of vocations and avocations, likes and dislikes, interests.

In choosing a marriage partner, personality temperament is the most important consideration. Because it is on the surface where it shows all the time, the explosions are just about continuous when a fire temperament and a water temperament hook up together.

Inharmonious individualities do not produce constant irritation and frequent brawls as discordant personalities do. The discord will be felt in time, and it will hurt. But the hurt may remain hidden even as the inner nature is. Harmonious individualities bring an understanding and sympathy that is too deep for words. It makes all the difference in the world.

Community of Interest

When the interest temperaments are harmonious, there will be a community of interest that makes for true companionship. Two incompatible interest temperaments will seldom want to do the same thing or go to the same place at the same time. She will want to go to a show while he prefers to stay at home and read. She will want to go to the city while he will insist that a fishing trip is just the thing. She will go to church while he goes—well, the less she knows about the better.

Your astro-map will show at a glance the nature of your personality temperament, your individuality temperament, and your interest temperament. It also enables you to be absolutely sure of the temperamental qualities which should be possessed by your ideal partner.

Your astro-map also holds the answer to the question, "Have I a Hollywood personality?" or any other question you may want to ask yourself. These can be answered, not as a matter of fortune telling, but as a matter of judgment based upon a knowledge of character and temperament. The answer to some questions is obvious. Others are deeply hidden, guarded as you guard the secrets of your heart from an unsympathetic world.

Desire to Cultivate

To understand the deeper mysteries of our own innermost nature, we must study ourselves with a sincere desire to cultivate those qualities that will enable us to serve humanity better, to spread light and happiness along the way we go. Things of great value are not easily come by, and there is nothing of greater value than the ability to "know thyself."

To understand the deeper mysteries of another's innermost nature as shown by his or her astro-map, we must study that astro-map on bended knee, with a prayer that we may find the heart of gold beneath what may be an unprepossessing exterior, that we may find a brother or a sister whom we may love and help along life's way.

And perhaps if we study others in that same spirit, even without an astro-map, personalities and temperaments will not matter quite so much, and all will be a little happier.

Astro-Map Will Help

But, really and truly, an astro-map will help a lot. Get your own or that of a loved one whom you wish to understand and help. It will become more and more valuable to you as you follow these articles.

While your astro-map is free, there is a limit to the number we can make. No two are alike, and it will be something like 26,000 years before there is another one just like yours. Therefore, each one must be calculated and made separately. This takes time. Time is limited. And we must limit the number of astro-maps we make. Therefore we limit this free offer to those who send in a subscription to this newspaper. Then, also, we know that you are going to follow these articles and get the most from your astro-map if you are a subscriber.

But we shall be glad to answer your questions even if you are not a subscriber. Here are some questions and answers of general interest:

Some Questions and Answers

Question: A friend who is a scientist says that vibrations do come to us from the sun, moon and planets, but that they also come from all the stars. He says that it is silly to think that the sun, moon and planets affect us while all the other vibrations do not. What have you to say about that?

Answer: Your scientific friend is right as far as he has studied the matter. But he has been so very busy learning all the wonderful things he knows that he has not had the time to learn more about the true astrology. And, also, he may be prejudiced against astrology because of the hokum of the fortune tellers. Therefore he has failed to consider one scientific fact that explains the entire matter. Let us use an illustration: You are sitting in a room flooded with sunshine (light vibrations), music from your radio (sound vibrations), the smell of ham and cabbage cooking (vibrations that affect your sense of smell), and other vibrations that affect you consciously or unconsciously. Now, in a chair opposite you, only a few feet away, sits an oyster. The same vibrations are all about that oyster; but the poor thing does not see the sunlight, hear the music, or smell the ham and cabbage. Your scientific friend will tell you that the oyster has no nerves tuned to the frequency, or wavelength, of these vibrations and is, therefore, not affected by them. The status of this oyster in evolution is somewhat different from our own, and it is only reasonable that he should be limited in range to those vibrations which he can use to the best advantage.

Our own status on the path of evolution is not the same as that of beings in other solar systems. It is, therefore, only reasonable that we should be limited to vibrations of our own system. For this reason we consider the sun, moon and planets, and not the stars which are suns of other systems as foreign to us as is ham and cabbage to the oyster.

Parking Warning Issued

By Local Police Head
Chief of Police William H. Cunningham, following several arrests this week, issued a general warning to all motorists that the one-hour parking law on Main Street would be strictly enforced.

Henry D. Church, 24, who acted as caretaker at the home of Walter Black, 25 Haines Street, this summer, was brought back from Welsh, West Va., on a larceny charge. Church waived extradition rights and returned with Officer Leroy C. Hill, of the local police force, and State Detective Francis Burke to face a charge at the Court of General Sessions of stealing two diamond rings, an automatic rifle and several articles from the Black home. Bail was set at $1,000.

Bicycle Recovered

Edward Gardner, 18, was arrested for larceny as bailer following a charge by Norman I. Harris, jeweler, that he had purchased a watch on credit and then pawned it. He will be tried at the Court of General Sessions.

A bicycle belonging to Arthur Chillis, of near Wilmington, was recovered by local police this week. Chang Hun, Newark, was fined $10 and costs before Magistrate Benjamin Eubanks on a charge of reckless driving. A similar charge against Malcolm Hastings, of Chester, Pa., was dismissed.

Chang Hun is said to have driven out of the lane by the Newark Laundry and crashed into Hastings' vehicle, going south on Main Street.

Bud Wilson And Band To Play At Welcome Dance

Bud Wilson and his orchestra will furnish the music for the annual Welcome Dance which will be held in Old College Saturday night under the sponsorship of the Delaware College Student Council.

Wilson returns to local circles following a three-month absence during which time he has been filling engagements at several popular resort dance halls.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair are Dr. and Mrs. J. Fenton Daugherty, Miss Rena Allen and Miss Emma C. Ehlers.

SCREEN SNAPS

By "Snapper"

STATE THEATRE BRIEFS

Friday and Saturday

Recognized as one of the foremost women writers in the realm of American literature, the late Kate Douglas Wiggin was the author of "Mother Carey's Chickens," now brought to the screen in a faithful filmization with all the original sweetness and down-to-earth sentiment of the classic.

Anne Shirley, Ruby Keeler and James Ellison head the cast in "Mother Carey's Chickens" which has become a "standard" book in the past two decades. Originally published as part of a trilogy of "best sellers" which included "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and "The Birds' Christmas Carol," "Mother Carey's Chickens" has been serialized as a successful play by Mrs. Wiggin and Rachel Crothers.

Depicting the loving, sorrowing and rejoicing of a devoted family composed of a widow, two beautiful daughters and two young sons, RKO Radio's "Mother Carey's Chickens" offers the contrasting romances of the two lovely girls as a highlight. Its peaceful New England settings and its early 1900 period have been transferred to the screen by the magic of the camera and the technical skill of movieland. Its human, lovable characters live again in the fashion of the day.

Monday and Tuesday

Reunited after a screen separation of almost three years since they made "Ceiling Zero," James Cagney and Pat O'Brien are co-starred in "Boy Meets Girl," the Warner Bros. comedy about Hollywood.

Teamed before in pictures which were mainly grim and serious, Jim and Pat on this occasion played their roles entirely for amusement value, and for the first time in their careers, they put on a lampooning show of two typically wacky Hollywood writers.

In "Boy Meets Girl," they head a cast which also includes that pretty, blonde comedienne, Marie Wilson, in her first leading role—said to be a "natural" for her—Ralph Bellamy, in what is reported to be his best part since "The Awful Truth," Dick Foran and Frank McHugh. Others are Bruce Lester, James Stephenson, Dannie Moore and Penny Singleton.

The picture is based on the highly successful stage play of the same name by Bella and Samuel Spewack, and the screen version was prepared by the same two authors. The director was Lloyd Bacon, ace "box-office" megaphonist of the industry.

In bringing the play to the screen, the original was adhered to with entire fidelity. There is nothing missing of the hilarious play built around the antics of the two irresponsible writers who plan to make the still unborn child of a studio waitress into a big motion picture star, and then succeed beyond their wildest expectations.

With the baby star as its focal point, the picture is the same extravagant satire on Hollywood people and practices as the stage work, with Jimmy and Pat, of course, playing the writers, while Marie is the waitress.

Wednesday and Thursday

Robert Young, last seen in a dramatic role in "The Toy Wife," has a brand new comedy part and a brand new leading lady in "Rich Man, Poor Girl." She is Ruth Hussey, who essays her first feminine lead on the screen after a solid year of grooming.

Young portrays a new kind of millionaire playboy—one who is willing to move into the flat occupied by his secretary's family to prove himself a "regular guy." Miss Hussey is different, too. She doesn't want to marry a million dollars.

When Young threatens to give away his fortune, the girl's family goes into a tizzles with comic results. Lew Ayres, who recently scored as Katharine Hepburn's brother in "Holiday," has one of the leading supporting roles as Cousin Henry, chief conspirator of the plot. Also in prominent spots are Guy Kibbee as the heroine's father, Rita Johnson as Robert Young's sister and Lana Turner as Ruth Hussey's sister.

Also Lloyd Nolan and Shirley Ross in "Prison Farm," one of the most thrilling films to come out of Hollywood this season.

Do Not Elect Captains

At University of Wisconsin no captains are elected by the football, basketball or boxing teams. In football and basketball the coach appoints a captain for each game. The teams elect honorary captains at the close of the season. In boxing, Coach John Walsh appoints captains at the start of the season.

Preserving Quince While Keeping Flavor Attempted
Scientists have been attempting to find a process for making quince preserves that would prevent the loss of flavor which follows the customary steaming or parboiling of the fruit to soften it. They recommend putting the pieces of quince into a very thin sirup at the first of the preserving process. As the cooking proceeds the sirup gradually thickens, the quinces become softer, the natural juices of the fruit go into the sirup, and none of the flavor is drained off.

Time Out-- For Thought

Syndicated by the Rosicrucians
Amore, San Jose, California

Those who regard time as something to be found, and walk around looking for it, waste it in advance. The world's most successful men have never found a single tick of time—they have always made it. He who makes time has time, as well as the knowledge of its true value. When self-made time is invested in the Work and Worthwhile Bank, the interest accumulates at about the same rate as "time flies" in ordinary sense.

How can we make time? One way is to follow the example of a successful business man; get into bed an hour later and out of bed an hour earlier. At the end of the first year the interest on the investment is 730 hours, or one month. This is time made. Theoretically, it places the time-maker ahead of the "haven't-timers" per year, and he gains a whole year every twelfth year.

Time is like worry and other false conditions: the more we give thought to it the more we bring it into our lives as an obstacle, as something contrary to harmonious living. In the present era, time is a robber in retreat, man a policeman forever in pursuit but never able to catch him. It is an aimless, hopeless chase.

Time can never be found ready-made; it is what we make it. To no two persons has it the same duration. It is lengthened by indolence and impatience; shortened by diligence and enjoyment. It is not so much the minutes and hours that count as the way we use them.

NEAT AS A PIN!

Lots of good things to be said for this calf monk sandal, in black or tan, but "neat as a pin" best describes its stylish simplicity. Perforations form a "mud-guard" line, and the clever slip-through belt buckles smartly on the side. Then, too, there's the comfortable medium heel and new round toe that lend such a sporty air to most better-designed shoes.

And other smart styles at the same low price.

Work And Determination

Taking our first prolonged look at the 1938 University of Delaware football combine as it went through a lengthy and toilsome workout at Frazer Field last Saturday, we were immediately and profoundly impressed by the determined manner with which both veterans and new candidates went through their paces.

No doubt the lads are reflecting the philosophy of Steve Grenda, their new coach, who has stated that football success is attained through 25 per cent ability and 75 per cent determination. In any event, the 1938 Blue Hens are a determined and earnest lot.

What with all the unfavorable fanfare that has been sounded while the limited and uncertain squad has been sent through the pre-season training grind, little is expected in the form of victories from the current Hen aggregation.

Unexpected Victories

And that state of affairs is ideal, in our opinion. Things have a peculiar way of happening, even the good things, when least expected. We aren't climbing out on any limb by way of predicting a series of unexpected victories for the Delaware eleven this year, but we won't be even mildly surprised if the lads register an occasional upset.

That determined attitude on the part of a squad that has had nothing but discouragement cast into its collective face since it was first assembled indicates the presence of that indescribable but essential requisite commonly known as "guts."

The late Mike Murphy's immortal slogan, "a team that won't be beaten, can't be beaten," which has proved true on other occasions, may be borne out again by the 1938 Blue Hens who have suffered untold abuse without being afforded a chance to show their ability . . . or lack of it, as the case may be.

Still Had Job

No less an authority than Dr. J. Fenton Daugherty, president of the University of Delaware Athletic Council, who went into the matter very thoroughly, steps forth to disprove a statement which appeared in this pillar last spring.

Steve Grenda, who coached football at Blue Ridge College last year after having served as a line assistant under Lou Little at Columbia for four seasons, did not step out of a "bread line" to accept the vacancy left open at Delaware by the resignation of Lyle Clark, Dr. Daugherty corrects. Such an intimation appeared herein following Grenda's appointment in the spring.

Unlike the majority of people who take exception to incorrect statements in print, including some of his contemporaries, Dr. Daugherty did not "fly off the handle," so to speak.

Armed with important and official letters from Blue Ridge and a series of clippings, gathered after a prolonged search through Baltimore sports pages, Dr. Daugherty, in his characteristically calm and gentlemanly manner, merely informed us of our error.

And in appreciation to "Mike" for his friendly attitude, in deference to Grenda, and out of respect for the University of Delaware, we ex-

Flashes By Bill Fletcher

WE SPENT AN AFTERNOON THIS WEEK ON FRAZER FIELD, THE scene, as you well know, of the University of Delaware's opening grid battle with Ursinus College on Saturday.

It was a very fine afternoon that we spent on the Blue Hens' skrimish grounds and as we watched a spirited squad of gridgers go through their paces, we couldn't help wondering how much longer Miss Fortune was going to take the Delaware boys for a ride. And as we thought, we couldn't help but silently wish for Coach Steve Grenda, the Blue and Gold's new mentor, none of the bad breaks that dogged former Coach Lyle Clark's footsteps during his regime here.

We saw mope and fight shown on the field that afternoon that has been displayed thus far this season and this, we thought, may be the favorable feature that may turn those one and two-point losses into those beautiful shiny victories.

FOR THE HENS' MENTOR HAS stressed this point all season . . . that determination is a more important part of the make up in a football player than ability.

And so, the Hens' braintrust finally broke down Monday night and gently, oh so gently, cast off a flap of his coat of pessimism and hesitantly, very hesitantly admitted, "we're shaping up better."

Not that "better" would or could mean a he-ava lot, but coming from a man who is a stickler for perfection and one who has been as gloomy a picture (justly so) of "midnight in a coal mine" we can't help but think that it means a word of encouragement.

Don't misunderstand us . . . Delaware followers can still expect a season that still falls to hold the Hens' share of victories, but at least there are now forty candidates on Frazer Field where once there were twenty and there is now light and

OXFORD DEFEATED, 2-1, AS AIKEN LOSES DUEL

Conway Fans Dozen In Pitching Jackets To Victory In Opening Game Of Bi-State League's Flag Test; Roberts-Argo Deliver Hits

By "The Roamer"
Mixing a blinding fast ball with a sharp-breaking drop, Reggie Conway scaled the pitching heights before a large turnout of fans at Cooper Field, Oxford, Sunday afternoon when he hurled the Yellowjackets to a 2-to-1 victory over the Maroons in the first of the three-game play-off series for the 1938 Bi-State League hunting.

Form Is Superb
Pitted against the talented George (Sadie) Aiken, late of Fordham University, Conway came through in glorious style as he more than outburled his vaunted rival.

Limiting the second-half winners to six scattered hits, three of which were of the fluke variety, Conway fanned an even dozen. He retired the side in the third and again in the ninth via the strike out route.

With the exception of Larry Preston, every member of the Oxford ensemble went down on strikes on one or more occasions. Dinty Richardson fanned three times, and Aiken and Doug Woodworth on two trips to the plate.

Conway walked three men, one being an intentional pass to Preston, and had strikeouts in every inning but the fourth and sixth.

Fielding Is Aid
His offerings rapped for nine bingles, including doubles by Dick Roberts and Earl Sheats, Aiken whiffed two Jackets and did not issue a pass.

Fielding gems were turned in by Roberts, Barrow, George, and Edmanson for Newark's first-half winners, and Jackie Myers for the Maroons. Both Rube Argo and Richardson, rival first sackers, turned in some neat fielding work at the initial sack.

With Oxford runners on first and second with only one out in the second as the result of Scotten's fuke single that hopped over Chalmers' glove, Goldie's sacrifice, and a pass to Jim Yerkes, Aiken fanned for the second out, and Roberts' snap throw to Argo nipped Yerkes to end the threat.

Again in the sixth, Oxford had runners on first and second with only one out when Barrow grabbed Woodworth's boulder over the bug, stepped on third to force Myers, and rifled a throw to Argo that caught Woodworth in a double killing.

Outfielders Travel Far
George robbed Goldie of a triple and a possible home run in the fifth when he galloped far into left center to nab his liner. Again in the seventh, Barrow stepped in front of Goldie's drive to turn a prospective double into another out.

Jack Edmanson only had two chances in right, but he drilled far to nab them both. Jim Yerkes' blast in the fifth and Conroy's liner in the eighth were both headed for extra bases, but Edmanson camped under them for outs.

Myers' play on George's grounder that took a bad hop in the eighth was one of the features of the tilt. Oxford started the scoring in the first inning, Richardson, first up, bounced an ordinarily easy chance at Chalmers, but the ball took a weird hop on the pebble-studded infield and rolled into left for a single.

Don Yerkes sacrificed Richardson to second and Myers rode him home with a single to left.

Loss Chance In Second
After being held scoreless in the first, the Jackets threatened to dent the rubber in the second. Sheats, first up, was out on a fly to Goldie, Chalmers beat out a single to second, George took a pitch in the back, and Wharton was safe on Don Yerkes' error to fill the bases.

Argo missed a squeeze signal and Chalmers was trapped off third. On the rundown, however, Woodworth dropped the ball as Chalmers regained third in safety.

The threat ended when Argo lifted a weak fly to Richardson, and Conway went down, Aiken to Richardson.

The Jackets tied the count in the third, when Edmanson led off with a single to center and pulled in on second on Barrow's sacrifice. Aiken to Richardson, Roberts laced a drive over Scotten's head in left for two bases as Edmanson raced home with the deadlocking run.

Win In Fourth
Failure to hustle on Argo's Texas League single cost the Maroons the ball game in the fourth. George opened the stanza with a (Please Turn To Page 7)

Failure Of Line Causes Coach To Forget Deception

Turned back by a powerful Millville team on Saturday, Coach William K. Gillespie, Newark High School grid mentor, cast aside his intentions to employ a deceptive attack this year and concentrated his efforts in a scrimmage session Tuesday on developing an aerial offensive.

The line, in which the Jackets' braintrust had placed most of his faith, failed to measure up to expectations as they allowed opposing tacklers to sift through and nail Newark runners behind the line.

Due to the failure of the forward wall, the Jackets will change their style of attack from slow-starting deceptive maneuvers to quick-thrusting jabs at the line and a gradually improving air offense.

Bill Bellman, the locals' ace leader-lugger, and Gus Smith, a steadily-developing fullback, will probably be on the projecting end of the aerials when they meet West Chester High School on foreign soil Saturday.

Lineup Unchanged
The same lineup which started the Millville game will open hostilities on Saturday. Bob Stewart and Don Gallagher will be at ends; Harvey Gregg and Paul Robinson, tackles; Norv Robinson and Newt Sheaffer, guards, and Bill Hancock, center.

Ackie Stiltz will be at the signal-calling post, Bellman and Harold Beeson at the halves, and Gus Smith in the fullback spot.

A hard-charging shift (Crashboom accounted for the first of Millville's two tallies after he had led the attack to the goal line and then tossed a forward to Barton for the final counter.

Newark's only sustained offensive came in the third quarter, but the rally was short-lived when the attack fell to pieces.

The work of Ralph Klenic at an end post was the outstanding performance of the game, while Bellman, the nucleus of the Jackets' running attack, was completely bottled up and failed to break loose for any great distance.

R. H. Morris Advances In Tourney; Banquet Oct. 8

Richard H. Morris entered the semi-final round of the E. B. Wright Memorial tournament last weekend as Newark Country Club official speeded up play in an effort to make up for time lost last week due to bad weather conditions.

Morris defeated H. B. McCauley in the second round by a one-up count and then proceeded to take the measure of Dr. W. Owen Sypheerd, 3 and 2.

Results of matches: J. A. Giamatti defeated Harry B. Williamson, 3 and 2; C. O. Houghton and Ray Burnett, all even; J. M. Cherpak defeated J. D. Counahan, 4 and 2; Ben Davis, Sr. defeated Wallace Williams, 2 and 1; T. S. Beck defeated Dr. J. A. Paradisi, 5 and 4; A. E. Benton defeated F. B. Burnley, 4 and 3; R. H. Morris defeated H. B. McCauley, 1 up; Dr. W. O. Sypheerd won by default from Robert Stewart, Jr.; Quarter-final match: R. H. Morris defeated Dr. W. O. Sypheerd, 3 and 2.

According to the announcement made this week by members of the match committee, the annual banquet will be held at the club house on Saturday, October 8. Members are urged to make reservations.

Craft Scatterers Home Runs

Harry Craft, of the Reds, hasn't half as many homers as his teammate, Lyle Goodman, but Harry has scattered his shots just as widely. His recent homer in St. Louis gave Harry five of the eight National League orchards. He needs homers in Chicago, New York and Pittsburgh to give him a complete string.

DARTMOUTH . . .
by Earl Blaik
Head Football Coach

This is the third in a series of six outstanding diagram plays by leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's new Cities Service Football Guide.

THIS is one of those deceptive reverses. The success of this play depends on the playing habits of the defensive right end (or it can be reversed). If he is charging hard and fast he will be blocked out of the play. This play is to be used after the offense has had ample opportunity to study the defensive tactics of their opponents.

The ball is snapped to the No. 1 back who fakes a pass to either the No. 2 or No. 4 back, then spins and plunges over the weak side end. The No. 4 back should cross the line of scrimmage, ahead of and to the inside of the ball carrier, to be in blocking position.

Engineers Sink Sailors In Opener At Fort DuPont; Prep For Hancock

Displaying an abundance of offensive power, the Red Devils of Fort DuPont overwhelmed the Sailors eleven from Washington Navy Yard Sunday afternoon to the tune of 33-0.

Scoring in every quarter but the third, the Red Devils were at no time seriously threatened by the visitors. Except for a belated rally in the final quarter, when the Sailors bunched two first downs for a total advance of 30 yards, the Navy outfit made little impression on the powerful Soldier defense.

The Engineer backs dominated the ball game with their brilliant running attack. Beckett, in three plays, lugged the ball 30 yards to score and later the veteran Binder crossed the last wide stripe after doing the bulk of the ball carrying in a 45-yard touchdown march.

Zenone's accurate passes to Barnes, and Beckett's heaves to Perrin accounted for two other touchdowns. The fifth Engineer score was registered late in the fourth quarter, when Perrin snagged a Navy pass on the visitors' 45-yard stripe and raced over the goal line behind beautiful interference.

Fort DuPont made 15 first downs against Navy's three and completed four out of eight passes as against five out of 16 for the Sailors. With a 33-to-0 victory as a starter, the Red Devils are being pointed for an important clash with Fort Hancock at Delaware City Sunday afternoon.

ELMHURST DEFEATED 7-0 IN LAST GAME

Second Striker Three-Hitter Chalked Up Big Hurler

Pitching his second shutout against the Continental Diamond Fibre, Elmhurst, and Holloway Terrace for the second-half flag in the New Castle County Baseball League finally came to an end last Saturday. The Fibremen announced the sorry thing and were automatically crowned champs for the season, having also captured the first-half diamond.

Should the Continentals have lost the second half, making a post-season series necessary, however, there is no telling when the race would have been decided. "Out of the trenches by Christmas" would have been a timely slogan for the lads to have chanted had a post-season series taken place.

When the first-half race ended in a tie between Holloway Terrace and Continental, one game, captured by the Fibremen at Frazer Field, decided the issue. With three teams tied at the conclusion of the second half, however, the league heads nipped up with their ridiculous double round-robin. As the result, an entire month was required to get the silly business done with.

Sold The Goods
Promoted by a Wilmington sporting goods store, the circuit was one of the most loosely operated affairs ever to limp through a season in this section. League officials and umpires had about as much control over the situation as an Iowa corn cutter in a bevy of Broadway blondes.

When dissenting teams, and they were always falling out, objected to a decision or the work of some umpire, a sit-down strike was instituted. Unfortunately, the method proved effective.

Don Harper, president, instead of being able to direct the affairs of the circuit, found it necessary to continually alter his policies to conform with the ideas of objecting member-teams.

It was all very satisfactory to the promoters, of course. They were selling supplies, unmindful of the damage that was being done to sandlot baseball in a community where it is already on the downgrade.

Possibly the double round-robin affair was necessary in order to clear the promoters' shelves of some baseballs that would have remained unsold over the winter. That's mere conjecture, but not entirely improbable.

Armed with important and official letters from Blue Ridge and a series of clippings, gathered after a prolonged search through Baltimore sports pages, Dr. Daugherty, in his characteristically calm and gentlemanly manner, merely informed us of our error.

CONWAY MASTERFUL

Oxford had runners stranded in the second, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth, as Conway bore down to end every threat after the first.

FLASHES

(Continued From Page 6) for discontinuing football for a few years was putting it mildly. Why didn't he go back and select the last ten years, during which time Dover has NOT won ONE game with the Jackets?

Important Cogs In Delaware's Grid Machine

Earl Sheats

Howard Viden

Charlie Allen

When Coach Steve Gretna sends his University of Delaware gridgers out to battle Ursinus on Frazer Field Saturday, the three veterans pictured above are expected to receive important assignments on the starting eleven.

Sheats, a fast-developing end, will be at one of the flanks; Viden is expected to handle a large share of the ball-carrying jobs from his halfback post, and Allen will again occupy his familiar guard berth.

All three are lettermen.

Clark Takes Up Place Kicking; Buys New Boots

Because the shape of the football has been changed to further forward passing, Earl (Dutch) Clark, coach and quarterback of the Detroit Lions in the National Professional Football League, has decided to try place kicking rather than dropkicking for field goals and extra points.

Clark, the last drop kicker in the league, explained that it is easier to meet the present-day ball squarely in place kicking.

The Dutchman, who has led the league in scoring in five of the last six years, blames frequent drop kicking during his 15 years as a player for an ingrown toenail on his right foot.

MARTENIS HERD TOPS BIG LIST

The Holstein herd of 13 cows owned by Fred B. Martenis, Newark, Ark., heads the list of herds under supervision in the New Castle County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the month of August.

Checked without a hit for seven innings, the Elmhurst forces bunched their three bingles off Deaver in the eighth but failed to score. Russell started the futile uprising with a single. He was forced by Walker, Chalmers to Wharton. Eckard singled to place runners on first and second.

Hatcherson followed with a bounding single to center, but Conway's accurate throw to Sheats fanned to end the inning.

With Barrow, Sheats, and Wharton collecting three hits apiece to lead the Continental attack, every member of the Fibremen ensemble was credited with one or more blows.

While turning in his second straight three-hit shutout against Elmhurst, Deaver fanned nine for a total of 17 strikeouts in the two games.

Errors by Chalmers, Barrow, and Deaver placed the only three runners Elmhurst could land on the paths in the first seven heats, but on every occasion the big University of Delaware curver was equal to the emergency.

Outside of the third, fourth, and eighth, Deaver retired three hitters in order every inning.

25 YEARS AGO IN REVIEW

October 1, 1913

OBITUARY

Joseph Brown, well-known farmer living north of town, died on Saturday, Sept. 27, aged 73 years.

Funeral services were held from the late residence this morning at 10 a. m. and in the White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church at 11 a. m. Interment in the adjoining cemetery.

Robert Poole

Robert Poole, for twenty years employed at the McLaughlin Bros. Mill, near Newark, was stricken with paralysis last Saturday. Mr. Poole failed to rally and died at his home on Christie street on Monday, September 29. The decease was 62 years of age. A wife and eight children, Harry, Clarence, Albert, Mary, Florence and Clyde Poole; Mrs. J. C. Cordery and Mrs. George Curtis, survive.

Samuel I. Sweet

Samuel I. Sweet, aged 63 years, died in the Homeopathic Hospital, Wilmington, last Saturday from uremia. Mr. Sweet is well-known in Newark where he lived for many years, at one time being connected with the lumber yard of Wright and Son, near the Newark Center Depot.

A short time ago he returned to Newark after an absence of several years. He was taken to the hospital from this town about ten days ago. The remains were taken to Germantown, Pa., on Tuesday.

Funeral services were held at the residence of his son, Roland E. Sweet, Germantown, at 2 p. m. today. Interment in Northwood Cemetery. Mr. Sweet is survived by one son and a daughter, the latter being in the hospital with typhoid fever. His wife died a few months ago.

Alumni To Organize

The Alumni of Newark High School will meet in the High School building on Thursday evening, October 9th, at 8 p. m. A constitution will be adopted and permanent organization effected. At the meeting held two weeks ago representatives from the classes graduated from the school were appointed to compile lists of names of their respective classes, and forward same to Miss Bessie Whittingham. All who are eligible for membership are urged to attend.

Football Season Opens

Local football enthusiasts are looking forward to Saturday with eager interest when Delaware opens the season with Haverford. This game is of special interest when it is recognized that it will be the christening game of the Frazier Field. Coach McAvoy is keyed up to high pitch and is working hard with his squad. Haverford usually plays good ball and this year promises to be no exception. The visiting team has been down on the seashore for a week practicing. This is of great advantage but the home boys are expecting to give them a good game and put one over on them.

The Athletic Association has invited the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington to attend the game.

Also, complimentary tickets will be given the local members of the Tri-County base ball league and the Newark Field Club.

Persons

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Rowan have returned after a visit with Judge Arthur B. Hayes, Washington, D. C. While away, Dr. Rowan had a personal interview with Hon. W. J. Bryan.

Mr. Sol Wilson is spending several days in Philadelphia, observing the Jewish holidays.

Mr. Joseph Thomas left yesterday on a business trip to Baltimore.

Junior's Back In School

No more days along the creek Dangling hook and line. No more lazy morning naps. School-bells ring at nine. No more hikes and "campin' out." So long "swimmin' pool." No more "thumbin' into town." Junior's back in school.

Junior's got a nice, new suit. Face is clean and bright. "Young man, let me see those ears." "Aw, Mom, they're all right. Got 'f' find 'm' cap an' books. Ain't no time 'f' fool. G'bye, Mom. Mother sighs: Junior's off to school.

Daddy has a word to say. "Now, look here, my son. No more running out at night. Homework—must be done. You're to be in bed at ten. Let that be the rule." Junior thinks (best love it out) "Junior's—back in school."

"Daddy, what's a adjective?" "Hey, Mom, what's a noun?" Lay aside the paper, folks. You can't let him down. Don't you start to fume an' fuss; Best keep calm and cool; There's some homework to be done— Junior's—back in school. —Adam N. Reiter West Chester, Pa.
