Visiting Scholar Speak On The 'Sex Life Of Man'

In his appearance at the University of Delaware last Saturday, Dr. Watta Q. Lottabul, widely-known philosopher, historian, and master of ceremonies, presented an entirely different outlook on the realm of human sex. The new theory fully explains many of the transitional stages of man which heretofore have remained a mystery.

According to Lottabul, "When the earth was created by God, man was called up. 'I'm giving you twenty full years of normal sex life,' said God to the creature. A strenuous objection was immediately raised by man, but to no avail.

"Following this, the lion was called before God and was granted the same privilege. This prompted the reply, 'Why, ten years is plenty.' Alert man quickly asked for and received the remaining ten years.

"God then called up the monkey and granted him twenty years of normal sex life. The monkey also replied, 'Ten years will be sufficient.' Man asked for and was granted the monkey's other ten.

"The donkey was called in next and, like the others, was given twenty years. He desired only ten, so an additional ten years of sex life was added to that of man. Last, God called for the noble parrot and bestowed twenty years of normal sex life on him. True to form, man asked for one-half of the parrot's share and received it."

Dr. Lottabul summarized his disclosure with the statement, "This clearly illustrates why man has twenty years of normal sex life, ten years of lion about it, ten years of monkeying around with it, ten years of making an ass out of himself, and ten years of talking about it."

Mob Storms Belmont Hall

'Kinsey Coed Of The Year' To Be Elected In Mass Orgy

The student body of the University of Delaware verified Dr. Kinsey's charge of responsiveness when they responded immediately to the announcement of the Delaware Kinsey Report.

Despite efforts by S.G.A. presidential candidate Dave Monster and investigating committee head Dev McCarthy to counteract any such move, they united into a mob today and stormed the grounds of Belmont Hall, shouting and waving placards.

Proclaiming their release from inhibitions by the "great Dr.

Rho Dammit Sues Neighboring Frat In Tiddley Tifney

An announcement from the Supreme Court of the State of Delaware today disclosed that suit has been entered by the fraternity of Rho Dammit Rho against the neighboring fraternity of Enigma Sexilon Pie for illegal participation of one of the brothers in a recent tiddley-winks tournament.

Ralph Slob, spokesman for Rho Dammit Rho, stated that in the tiddley tourney held last week, the Enigma group entered one Bill Anonymous as their anchor tiddler. Bill, claims Slob, once won a similar contest at the age of four held in Dagmar, Delaware, for tiddley-wink tiddlers from all over Sussex County. As a reward for his coming out top man on the tiddle pole, Anonymous received a personalized, rust-plated set of tiddley winks which, claims Slob, is now displayed in a prominent spot in the Enigma Sexilon Pie john.

Enigma Sexilon Pi blasted back with the statement that Rho Rho's charge was unethical, unconstitutional, dirty rushing and adverse to the Humane Society regulations.

A preliminary hearing was held last night in the neutral Enigma Phew house with IF president (Continued on Page 5)

Kinsey," many of the undergraduates exhibited signs bearing their choice for the "Kinsey Coed of the Year." The latter stemmed from an impulsive desire on the part of many students to honor the girls who contributed the most toward the revealing statistics of the good doctor.

In the section of the mob caught by the photographer, signs boosting Rita the Timid, Carol Cold, and Margaret Fullof are visible. These plus sixteen other candidates will be carefully screened in the balloting to be held in an orgy next week.

The mob, though moving with haste upon Belmont Hall, was careful not to damage the slightest blade of grass, lest natural propagation of the species be inhibited. Some defacing of the property is still in evidence, though, for simple sketches similar to the since-vanished Pogo pictures drawn by Udell students of three years ago remain.

SGA SEX COMMITTEE TO TRY KINSEY FOR SEXY SURVEY

Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey, noted gall wasp authority and sex scholar, arrives at the University of Delaware today to appear before Dev McCarthy's S. G. A. Investigating Committee.

The controversy arises over the contents and conclusions of Dr. Kinsey's recent survey of the sex life of the University of Delaware. Kinsey, usually requiring a large number of

Dr. Snicklepimp Disputes Kinsey; Calls Sex False

Dr. Abercrombie J. Snicklepimp, noted Delaware scholar, commented that, "All the excitement raised about the Delaware Kinsey Report is absolutely worthless, since the report itself is based upon a false pretense, sex."

"Sex," commented Snicklepimp, "is merely a phenomenon emerging from the attempts of Hollywood to create mammoth thrills in order to anesthetize the pangs of mass hunger."

This time, however, they have

expanded all hunger limits with their latest — phantasmagoria. This creation has a rather pornographic name, sex.

Sex is simply another lewd sensual device employed by Hollywood to attract the vegetating masses. It is sheer chicanery. Hollywood moguls have made a concerted effort to popularize their latest high gear entertainment vehicle. Anyone with the least amount of clairvoyance, however, can see through this celluloid deceiver.

Latrine Lowers Prices To Get More Business In Scroungy Quarters

E. Meade Latrine, commissar of the Student Union, is currently under fire from proprietors of local beaneries for Latrine's recent movement to lower prices in his scroungy establishment.

In a subtle move to corner all of Newark's food traffic into the Scrounge, Latrine dropped rates on all food items from five to ten cents.

The word, once released, spread like wildfire over Newark. At once the UD Slop Shute was filled with scrambling, clawing, drooling, slobbering customers fighting madly for the counter.

This brought immediate protest from the proprietors of the nearby Rhodes Emporification for the Edification of Edibles, the State Steak House, Smitty's Smutty Smorgasborg, the Gastric Inn and Linton's Light Lunch.

A distinguished spokesman from Linton's in a Harris Tweed Coat with matching burlap trousers angrily interjected, "We're goin' broke—that Latrine gets all the excess. Why he must be flush by now."

interviews to avoid erroneous conclusions, chose to publish this study because of the evident pseudopigraphousness, pismelaneousness, and general raunchiness of the student body here.

While receiving denouncement by the campus representatives, Kinsey was praised in his work by Lee Mortified and Jack Latrine, co-authors of the recent Newark Confidential.

In comparing the Delaware replies to those contained in a recent nation-wide survey, the investigator made some astounding observations.

In the former study, considerable variations in erotic response was noted, while the UD response was, in the lingo of Jazzbo Collins, "Crazy, man, crazy!" In the previous Kinsey report, the earliest specific response was noted at the age of four months. "At Delaware," says Kinsey, "they are born that way."

Kinsey, listing 81 percent and 84 percent of the former group as having experienced premarital petting of females and males at the age of 15, noted 100 percent in both categories of the UD report.

Kinsey, whose recent report on the University of Delaware resulted in Cannon Hall, New Castle Hall, Sussex Hall, Smyth Hall, Topsy Hall, Boletus Hall, Johnston House and Warner Hall to be campused for the next eight years, has been charged by Arts and Silence Representative McCarthy as unduly accusing Udells of extreme relationships while allowing other raunchy colleges such as Laffingyette and Sexton Hall to carry on similar, but unnoticed, activities.

The report, observed only by the editor of the Daily Nausea, president of the S. G. A. (Students Go Ape) and McCarthy, caused a significant response among the three-some.

A telegram sent from the indignant three stated simply, "Report, maniac." The same message was quickly returned, changed to read, "Will report, sex maniac."

Welcome Home, Private

Private Floyd Twitchwood, former telephone tapper, returned home from Korea a few months ago. He served with the 1st Cosacks Division and was twice reprimanded for cowardice.

Nevertheless, he was warmly welcomed back to his telephone job. (There's no place to run when you're up a pole.) His new pay check reflects no increase. Let him suffer for the two years he lashed it up in the service!

The first day on the pole, Floyd was electrocuted. There are some 456 other Dingdong Telephone men now in the service who will receive a similar warm welcome on their return home.

Sexy Prexy Candidate Gives Proof That Kinsey Report Is Misleading

Dave Monster, unopposed sexy prexy candidate of the S. G. A., staunchly supported investigator Dev McCarthy this week. While he was supporting him, standing next to the gutter, he exclaimed, "Duh—we gonna prove dis Kensey wrong."

Monster will succeed Crank Twain as prexy of the University of Smelaware SGA. In the following comments he conveys his platform for running to the student body.

After stammering momentarily for words, Mr. Monster reached beneath his armpit and brought out a well worn copy of the Delaware Kinsey Report. Said Monster, "Dis business about stutterers are not likely to stutter when they are with a companion to whom they are sexually responsive is so much malarky, cause I knows!"

"And, as for dat about males declining after de late teens while de females jes keeps on goin, ah here-by states as how dere ain't been any change in me whatsoever."

Dave Monster promptly ceased supporting McCarthy, allowing him to slide to the sidewalk, and climbed upon his campaign soapbox. "I protests the insinuations which Kinsey insinuates," roared Dave. "When I made my tour before election, I at no time encountered 50% of the coeds that acted as Kinsey says. Why, when I was there, they all were that way."

Monster caught his breath and started to elaborate further. He was stopped, though, by the sudden appearance of one of the UD coeds in the Delaware Kinsey Report.

Monster went bounding down the street, humming a recent popular song and juggling his bottle of androgen.

President Am Perkin Purchases Yacht To Sail White Clay Creek

President John Am Perkin announced recently the purchase of the sailing craft, "A. A. Constitution," for use as his private presidential yacht. This is reportedly in the wake of public demand that there be much closer contact between administration officials and students in view of the disclosures of the Delaware Kinsey Report.

President Am Perkin disclosed that he planned to get directly to the core of the controversy by sailing along the banks of White Clay Creek in his new yacht.

In a recent press conference with members of the AP, UP, and WHO P, the university prexy disclosed that the ship had been picked up for a paltry $500,000 and 10 free passes to next year's Women's Weekend. Original plans only concerned financial compensation, but former owners, after Dr. Kinsey's controversial publication, decided to abandon sailing for a hobby and take up investigating.

Current plans include a red-carpeted gang plank, milk bars on all levels, radar and an infra-red sniper scope to detect students from logs, debris, etc.

Delaware Campus Before And After Kinsey Sex Report

The announcement of the Kinsey report on the Delaware campus is expected to produce a marked change in the activities that currently exist on campus.

One such change is the process of job preparation. This is indicated by the increasing number of times that male seniors request positions as interviewers. As for female graduates, well?

A second innovation is the criteria for becoming a B.W.O.C. (Big Wheel on Campus). Cast aside are the books, grades, ready cash and flashy cars of yesterday, and inserted is the distinction of being an interviewer of Kinsey.

Expressions of speech will also suffer a change. Rather than referring to one as a gossip, she now will be dubbed, "Smyth Hall's Kinsey Report."

Teaching concepts will change. Where sociology professors have in the past assumed people to be essentially good or essentially evil, the new assumption promises to be immoral.

Fullips Picked By Staff As 'Girl Most Likely To'

The staff of the Daily Nausea have picked Miss Petite Fullips as "The Girl Most Likely To" of 1954. The contest was hot and heavy, but, after casting aside the more moralistic of the Delaware coeds, the Daily Nausea staff decided that Miss Fullips had a couple of points that put her far in front of other contestants.

Counting considerably for Miss Fullips was the recognition given her by Dr. Kinsey. According to Kinsey, she was the most . . . she obviously is in danger of . . . if the rest only knew that she . . . and this could get to be a habit!

Of utmost importance among Petite's winning form were her legs (she has two), good posture (as is shown by the picture), eye-lashes (credit to Newark Beauty Salon), fingernails (also credit to Newark Beauty Salon) and personality.

Miss Fullips was likened, by an ardent admirer to a aqueduct containing a large body of moving, electrifying water. The informer added that the dam has bust 40, waist 22, and hips 36.

S.G.A. Notes

The University of Delaware pampas turned out to be a headache for the editor of the Daily Nausea. As a result Glim Pill took a powder. Rumors have it that the powder belonged to Dean of Women, Tom Collins. Don't lose face over this dean, The Review will be out again next week.

A sports article revealed that boxing referee Tilt Roberts is retiring from his profession. In a personal bout with Tilt, the Daily Nausea learned that he intends to get into the fight game again as a fighter. His first opponent will be the famous OX slugger, Jon Bordson.

Ted "Muscles" Hughes, curly-lipped French wrestling champ for the past two years, plans a trip to Sweden to pull a Christine. Seems Minnie's girl looked at him with a T-shirt on and commented that balloons were big, too. Besides, Minnie is the only one on campus who shaves with a Kent Hall knife.

Kinsey whisky makers revealed after the last report by an author of the same name that they had received hundreds of requests for samples of their product. Several months later they received a note from a coed who received one of their samples. She informed them that she had tried the sample and three months later had a bouncing baby boy. Guess what! She wanted another sample.

A late news flash from the Dean of Students' office revealed today that next year's ID cards will contain two spaces for a student's age—one for the Deer Park and one for the FBI.

While next year's gridiron hopefuls have been indulging in spring football practice, fans have been getting in shape for the coming season with night football games at the Stadium. For a hot night life—visit the Stadium.

Vat 69 Players To Present 'The Drunkard' In 4 Shots

It was revealed today by Dr. C. R. Kase (of Scotch, we hope) that the Vat 69 Players will present The Drunkard in four shots. Bill Brown and Bill Harkins will head an all-star cast for the premiere to be held in the Pink Room of the Deer Park Hotel on April 14.

Unprecedented in its frankness, this play is predicted to become the toast of the year. The plot revolves around an incurable seuse, Pilsner Von Budweiser, adeptly played by Harkins and his spurned spouse Frau Bilgewater Von Budweiser.

The villain of the story, Schlitz Rathskeller, portrayed by Brown, makes a pass at Von Budweiser's wife early in the first act after asking her to drink a glass of stale beer. Von Budweiser interrupts the scene saying, "Save some of that stuff for me," (meaning the beer).

While the first act admittedly moves somewhat slowly, the second act is quite lively, producing gurgles of applause from the on-lookers.

This play has been produced especially for students taking DP 401; however, seats can be reserved for mature-looking underclassmen. Judge McH2O is in charge of scenery.

English Dept. Offers Sex As Special Course For '54

The English Department has announced several revisions in the American Literature 340 course for the next semester. The new course will be designed to keep the student informed on the latest sex knowledge as compiled by Dr. Kinsey and several other mad scientists.

After careful consideration at a department meeting last month, it was decided that the course was in desperate need of modification. Out of deference to a tradition that has lasted for many, many years, there will be a section taken from the works of our contemporary American authors.

Circumstantial Evidence

This picture was taken recently by a Kinsey Investigator and published as exclusive proof of the questionable, but unanswerable, conduct of the UD student bodies.

The photo was obtained at a dimly-lighted reeper party.

It is the opinion among English professors that the average college student spends too much time reading classics and not enough on modern literature. Although a complete list of books and authors has not been set up, it is definitely known that the life and work Dr. Alfred Kinsey will be studied in detail. At the close of the semester, each student will be required to write a research paper on this topic.

In the field of the contemporary novel, Mickie Spillaine will be featured. The department hopes that they will be able to secure a large number of pocket-books written by the widely-known author, Clyde Clogghopper. His works include: Sex Life Among the Aboriginal Natives of Newark and Come Out of the Wheat Field, Mazie, You're Going Against the Grain.

By making these changes, the English Department hopes to provide more variety to the course and make it more interesting to those students who, because of their intense enthusiasm, have repeated the course several times.

Stengman Predicts Top Notch Season

Casey Stengman, free-spending coach-owner of the Delaware Blue Birds, has climbed out on a limb and predicted the Birds will not be birds like last year. Stengman attributes last season's poor showing to the fact he read the wrong books.

Stengman points to his free-spending as one main reason the Birds will be a success this year. He says the club spent over $22 repairing the injured wing of catcher Frank Huskico. Other big outlays were for two real ball hawks Tom Redbird and Gary Crowalter.

"Stingy Stengman," as he is amiably called, is also expecting big things of Bald Eagle Wagner on first base and "Big Jack Fat" Eagle on the mound.

Over the winter Stengman made shrewd deals which brought the Blue Birds a top flight double play combination. The Birds got second baseman Bill A' No'Hitio from the St. Louis Redbirds for the $75 waiver price and drafted Lou Ravioli, shortstop from Naples of the South European Olive League. At third the birds will stand pat with modest Rob Snooper.

The mound staff will be headed by Dallas "you need an X-ray to see him" Purple, Ed "you need to be blind not to see him" Mooso and the Hondo Hurricane himself, Muddy Mimmel, a strapping right hander.

Stengman's last statement was, "Don't sell the Birds short, but if you know anyone who wants to buy them, I'll sell cheap."

Kent Hall Stalks Prey

Once upon a time Delaware soldiers walked into battle leading blue fighting cocks. Later, the University of Delaware was founded. In memoriam of these crazy cockerals of yesteryear, the Blue Hen was adopted as the symbol of the U of D.

This was fine; but when these same cockerals, in varying states of senility, become the official symbol of UD dining halls, tradition has been allowed to overstep its boundaries.

Whereas the prices of meal tickets at other schools are determined on the basis of food costs, enrollment, labor prices, etc., the fare at Delaware varies with the fluctuations of the chicken market.

Week-end meals at UD dining halls are limited to breakfast, lunch and dinner being served at one time for each, thus allowing dining hall employees more time to stalk the wary fowl, the chicken. Because of the fact that Kent Hall's location necessitates more travel time, only one evening meal is served during the week, thus allowing cooks, dishwashers and waiters more time to hunt the bird before nightfall.

This results in the situation that exists at the Delaware dining halls at the present time—a diet of steady chicken.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

Recent magazine reviews of Dr. Kinsey's latest book on the ladies made much of a spinster's comment on the good doctor's previous volume. The remark was to the effect that it had simply proved what she had known all along, " . . . men are nothing but a herd of prancing, leering goats."

Far be it from me to protest such a perceptive analysis, but I do have one question. What's wrong with that?—I like goats!

Dear Editor,

Let's get modern! It's time for a change! Why isn't our university up to the current ideas on socialization. The best universities in the country are advocating free love. Let's get in the swing of things.

After careful consideration of our facilities, we feel justified in proposing that a course in free love be added to the curriculum. This course should be taught by a qualified instructor and should include one hour of lecture plus five hours of experimental laboratory work.

We would appreciate if this request would be taken into consideration in the planning of next year's roster.

Yours in quest of higher learning,

Dear Sir:

Having been at this school for four years, we feel that it is our duty to reveal the immoral attitudes and actions of the students on this campus.

Several issues are at stake. To begin, let us examine the lax social regulations for women. We feel that the ten o'clock curfew is much too lenient; for although little can happen before ten, there is still the possibility that some young misinformed miss might be misled. Curfew should be at sundown, and all cells should be locked at this time.

In contrast, the fraternities have taken a sensible attitude toward the social problem. They avoid the temptations of wicked women

'Neath The Armpits

By MICKIE SPILLAIN and DAVE MONSTER

If you've thought all along that this column stinks, you're right this week.

Su Sexilon had a tremendous party. Everybody was in character, they all wore dunce caps, especially the chaperones. One of the chaperones wasn't even observing the two foot rule, and who was he with? None other than Auntie Dottie; if he'd been any closer to her he'd have been on the other side. Poor old dad; but nevertheless old dad was the lad who thought he'd been had. All were very conscious of the Cannon had a hay-ride, but most were disappointed since it was pretty warm and nobody needed their love to keep them warm. A lot of people had their little alcohol stoves with them, but the hay didn't catch fire. Somebody kept sneezing the whole time and said he must be allergic to hay.

Smythe had a combo from Wilmington, Knowles by name. All the down-homers were thrilled to see the Milton music teacher playing in the combo. The chow hounds liked the party, since there was lots of food; and herein lies a tale. A freshman likes a lot to eat . . . and now over to New Castle where the upperclassmen had a lot of spirit.

Lou Gross' combo from Wilmington furnished the noise that made it easier to sway seductively in the semi-gloom. The little thieves all swiped decorations from the dance Friday nite to decorate their dorm on Saturday. But as a penance they invited the girls from Warner and Topsy and Boletus to share their little party.

Johnston House had a buffet supper of their own. As far as we know it was right in their own little wigwam. To climax a wonderful evening the girls all toasted their dates by smoking a community water pipe while sitting cross legged on the floor. Of course the mere fact that there was opium in the pipe didn't detract any from the evening. Said they bought the stuff from a pusher in Hullihen Hall.

Warner didn't have a party. No one knows exactly what happened; must have been the old Senior slump. Maybe they didn't want to spend the money. Those girls have a lot of Scotch in them, but if you don't stand close to them, you don't notice it.

Turvey doesn't have a dorm, but they had a party in Wilmington; they seem to stick together alright.

by making it illegal for women to enter fraternity houses. The fraternities' high moral standards carry this rule to the extent that wicked women must wait out in the rain for their virtuous victims in order that their sins be washed away.

The biggest blot on our record is the drinking problem. According to the latest survey, 90 per cent of the students are alcoholic or show alcoholic tendencies; the other 10 per cent are liars. The wall around campus should be increased to at least 30 feet in height with guards at every gate in order to prevent illegal smuggling of intoxicating beverages. Entrance or exit should be allowed only by permission from the Dean of Students.

In closing may we say that abstinence from all kinds of social intercourse is the key to Moral Living.

Frustratedly yours,
Adam and Eve.

Lucky Continentals Wood Bring Riches

Imagine walking around with a dollar in your pocket and not realizing it. That's just what somebody is doing.

Be that as it may a new GIANT LUCKY CONTINENTAL goes out today and we certainly hope some poverty-stricken UDER comes up with it.

Yesterday's giant has been in circulation already for 24 hours, and no claimants have appeared yet at the Daily Nausea to pick up the 2500 wooden nickel reward that is offered for every continental. If some fortunate person has discovered this continental, which may be easily identified by the White Rock engraving and the signature of the third assistant secretary of the Treasury in the John Smith administration, he may claim his reward at the Nausea office anytime after 5:30 a.m. next February 30.

And don't forget — if the previous GIANT LUCKY CONTINENTAL is not turned in by the deadline, its successor will be worth a cool 2750 wooden nickels. Time to double check the exchequer with a treasure like that just waiting to be picked up.

In addition to the giant, there are 4,000,000 other prize winning bills floating around of which 3,999,999 are defunct czarist rubles, each good for a one-way ticket to the gold fields of Siberia. The four-millionth bill we don't recommend since it covers the Nausea's printing costs since September. If you want that one, you had better look sharp, because the printer is looking for it, too.

Make it a daily habit to check your continentals. You can never tell when a lucky one will come into your possession, so don't give a continental until one does. And remember — if it's not worth a continental, it's not worth much!

I move in. Details taken care of, we prepare to leave.

7:36 p.m. We arrive at the Deer Park and order two—hers with and mine without.

8:05 p.m. After fourteen "with-outs," I am full, so I suggest we leave. We leave.

8:12 p.m. We arrive at the scene of the crime—White Clay Creek.

8:35 p.m. I re-enter my fraternity house, tear up the Delaware Kinsey Report page by page and settle down for an evening of scintillating adventure with Mickey Spillaine. The report was wrong.

Supreme Court

Frank Slurpico presiding. Prosecuting attorney was Carl Goldenrod, arch sex lawyer of Rho Rho fraternity. Heading the defense panel was Crank White, well known investigator of facts, fiction and women.

Rho Rho's Goldenrod opened the ordeal with the official charge of illegal entry into the tiddley-winks contest. White immediately leaped to his feet, opened his fishing creel full of red herrings and accused Goldenrod of being a member of the Prohibition Party.

Goldenrod countered with the angered comment that Enigma Pie Sexilon had failed to pay their fifty dollar gambling tax this year.

White, red-faced and wearing a blue blazer (being patriotic for the occasion), challenged Goldenrod to a duel on the spot. Goldenrod accepted and selected for his choice of weapons horse manure at ten paces. After five hours of combat, the affair was stopped because of lack of cooperation from the horses at the agriculture farm.

With no further chance of local settlements in sight, the case was referred for further misconstruing to the state Supreme Court.

ROOSTER RUNNERS WIN AS MINK, BLAINE STARS

Spearheaded by high-stepping Mink Blaine, holder of the cross-town record of Greater Newark, the Blue Rooster track team swept to a brilliant victory over the sixth graders of Newark School before some seventeen Rooster boosters.

This victory, the first for the Roosters in three hundred and ninety-two contests, made the water run hot in the veins of the athletes. The Delaware squad was listed at a 5-3 underdog by sports-writer Al Cartwheel, since the grade school opponents have thoroughly trounced such local rivals as the Little Sisters of the

In the two-mile relay Rank Ravensson, Don Raw, Bob Mygirl and ole Mink Blaine teamed up to finish one-half mile ahead of their opponents.

Wee Willie McWilliams managed to cap the pole vault figure set by a staunch 88-pound Newark lad. Wee Willie's success can be attributed to the stirring slap given him by booster Jane Bunk, newly-elected May Queen, which literally boosted him over the bar and out of the park.

The Delaware squad will be strengthened by the return of F. Bausman Splotcheroch and Herman Snickledroop, famed broad-jumpers, who recently completed stretches in the Workhouse on morals charges.

Hot Hooch Found; 'Bye Housemother

A Related Press disclosed today that Miss Backward, house mother of Strife Hall, has been released by the University for distributing 98 proof bootleg whiskey to residents of that dormitory. This is contrary to the campus ruling that no alcoholic beverages in excess of 90 proof be allowed on University grounds.

A plea of leniency was entered by the Association of University Women based on the fact that there was no violation of the price established by the office of the Dean of Students. Also, they stated, present day feed mash (used in the preparation of moonshine) is much higher in protein content, thus making it difficult to keep the potency of the drink down.

The sole statement issued to the press by Miss Backward was a subtle "burp".

It was the first unveiling of Coach Nelson's new V-formation, an adaptation of the old seven-man offensive line which the Coach modestly says will "revolutionize football."

Gridders Of 1954 Will Meet Vassar And Sarah Lawrence

Coach Dave Nelson announced yesterday an interesting eight game grid schedule for his 1954 Blue Hens.

In compliance with the desires of many alumni, coach Nelson has dropped several of larger schools from the schedule, notably the Wesley University and Goldey Beacom. Two "rugged" intersectional battles are slated with Vassar and Sarah Lawrence, which will replace the Wesley and G.B. contests. The "Crimson Times" from Vassar sported a leggy squad which led the nation in "pass" attempts last season.

The Sarah Lawrence squad has a more subtle attack, basing much of their attack from the "tea" formation.

Aside from the two new additions to the schedule, all of the old traditional opponents will be faced next season. The Work House, Kings College, Brooklyn Navy Yard, the Carstairs' warehouse eleven from Reliance, and the Conrad alumni figure to give the Hens many busy afternoons. Only weak Army rates as a soft touch for the Blue and Gold.

The Schedule:

Sept. 21	Vassar	H
Sept. 22	Work House	BW*
Sept. 27	Kings College	H
Oct. 3	Brooklyn Navy	H
Oct. 10	Conrad Alumni	H
Nov. 20	Sarah Lawrence	H

Nov. 25 Army H
Dec. 24 Carstairs H

Football Star Takes Basoon Job In Band

Captain-elect for the 1954 football season, Dan Ford, has announced he is giving up football to play the basoon in the school band. It took a lot of persuasion on the part of band maestro Wayne King, but Ford at last came to see the light of the finer advantages of playing in the band. Head football coach, Dwarf Nelson, has announced he is grooming Lenardo LaGrange, that muscular keeper of Taylor Gym, for Ford's job.

OLD RAG CIGARETTES(?)

SOME CIGARETTES HAVE A FINE BLEND OF TURKISH AND DOMESTIC TOBACCO, OTHERS CONTAIN MENTHOL, STILL OTHERS POSSESS MICRO-BIOLOGICAL FILTERS—BUT OLD RAGS CONTAIN NOTHING BUT OLD RAGS.

Newton Twiddlehop, professional chimney sweep, says, "I've been associated with chimneys long enough to appreciate asphyxiating smoke when I choke. I'm with OLD RAGS."

Earl P. Hamstring, noted explorer, geographer, and birdwatcher of the U of D, says, "The hell with 'em. I smoke Luckies."

Za Za Nomore, typical American school girl, says, "Gasp . . . Choke . . . Cough . . . Makes my P-Zone feel like Ozone . . . Hic."

OLD RAGS — THEY DON'T SOOTHE, THEY DON'T SATISFY, THEY JUST SMELL!
