

Loyalty Day Ceremony Slated On Sunday At Cooch's Bridge

VFW J. Allison O'Daniel Post 475 To Sponsor Annual Program at 2:30 P.M. With Delaware Congressman Roth To Speak; Mayor Handoff Proclaims Loyalty Day

Annual Loyalty Day ceremonies sponsored by J. Allison O'Daniel Post 475 of Newark, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be conducted this Sunday beginning at 2:30 p.m. at Cooch's Bridge near Newark, on the historic site where the American flag was first unfurled in battle during the Revolution. Delaware Congressman William V. Roth, Jr., will be the principal speaker, and Robert N. McCormick, national representative and past state commander for the VFW, will be master of ceremonies. The public is invited.

The theme "For God, Flag, and Country" will feature Loyalty Day ceremonies which are conducted annually at Cooch's Bridge by VFW Post 475 "to provide an occasion on which every citizen may publicly reaffirm his loyal support of the freedom principles enjoyed in our country for some 190 years," Sadot explained.

The Stars and Stripes
"The flag of the United States is the central, dramatic symbol of everything we have and cherish in our country," Jean Sadot continued, "and everything in which we believe."

"On Loyalty Day, we praise and pledge our most vigorous opposition to all forms of threats against our national ideals and government."

"We allow ourselves to work for the unity and security of our land and declare that the Stars and Stripes is the No. 1 symbol of our national character and of every freedom right we hold dear."

Mayor Norma B. Handoff, who will speak at the Sunday program, proclaimed Loyalty Day for the City of Newark and urged "every citizen, school, church, organization, business establishment and home within my official jurisdiction to display the flag of the United States and to participate in public patriotic activities sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States . . ."

Gail Maclary Tops DECA Conference As State Winner

The newly established Distributive Education-Diversified Occupations program of Newark High School has established a first-year record.

On April 23, the Newark chapter of DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) attended the state leadership conference at Tallahassee, and in the words of a conference participant from another school, "Newark High School's DECA came, they saw, and they conquered," bringing home a total of nine trophies, awards, and special honors.

Heading the list is Gail Maclary who won the DECA Student-Of-The-Year for the state; third place in the speaking contest; and a special award from the State Department of Public Instruction for placing first in reporting the main points of a featured speaker. And she was elected state parliamentarian.

As DECA representative of the Year, Gail will represent her state at the April 26-29 national conference in Chicago.

Despite the fact that she works 27 hours a week at the Newark Card Center and Richards, Gail is vice-president of Tri-Hi-Y, Student Council representative; and on the year-book staff.

Also going to Chicago as winning representative from Newark will be Cynthia Hill, national winner of the DECA poster contest, and Connie White, elected as a voting delegate and named DECA Sweetheart.

Other Newark winners at the state leadership conference are Pat Walker, third in decision-making; Dolly Zeglin, second in study in marketing manual; and Sue LeJeune, second in job interview.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

118 Applications Received For 78 NHA Apartments

Mrs. Joseph R. Perkins To Continue Receiving Requests For Residence

The Newark Housing Authority has received 118 applications for 78 apartments in its public housing projects which are expected to be ready for occupancy in June and July.

Mrs. Joseph R. Perkins, executive director, said the authority is continuing to receive applications for both the 36 one-bedroom apartments for the elderly, and 42 public housing units to be available later. She is interviewing elderly applicants.

The other group of apartments is on East Cleveland Avenue, at McKee's Lane.

Neither group of apartments has been given a name because the authority does not want the housing to be separately identified by names; it wants the apartments to be part of the community.

The authority has received 53 applications for 36 units for the elderly to be ready in June, and 65 applications for the 42 other apartments.

The new housing is for residents of the Newark area within two miles of the city limits. To qualify for residence in the apartments for the elderly an individual must be at least 62 or disabled. Income must not exceed $3,100 for a single person or $3,350 for two.

The family must be living under poor housing conditions or have been forced to move because the house was demolished, closed, or remodeled.

Deciding that art was her major interest, she left Smith College in her second year to study at Moore Institute of Art, Philadelphia. Leonard Nelson, with whom she studied printmaking and Hans Hofmann, who taught her drawing, were her most important influences.

Since 1953, she has exhibited in New York, Canada, and New Jersey but most extensively in Philadelphia and Delaware.

She has exhibited prints at the Print Club of Philadelphia, winning the Mildred Boerleke Purchase Prize in the Annual Woodcut and Wood Engraving Show of 1958, and honorable mention in the same show of 1960. The print is owned by the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

The work Mrs. Allman is showing at the Art Center was completed during 1966 and 1967. The marble pieces, a new direction for her during the past two years, are made of discarded tombstones.

The paintings are in acrylic rather than oil, a medium she has been using since 1955.

The installation of officers will be conducted by Mrs. Milfred Keen, state vice-president of Church Women United. Mrs. Warren Hoffman, president of the Newark Council, will preside at the business meeting.

The closing meditation will be given by the Rev. J. Howard Link, pastor of Kingswood-of-Brookside Methodist Church.

Union Contract Cancels Raise Authorized By Newark Council

Retroactive Pay Increase To July 1, 1965, Superseded By Wage Roll Contract; Nursing Home Zoning Okayed; Gallo Suit Settled; Assessment Rolls To Be Displayed

A subsequent union contract was reported to cancel council commitment for a municipal wage roll pay increase retroactive to July 1, 1965; the .59-acre tract at 254 West Main Street was rezoned to permit expansion of the Newark Manor Nursing Home; and in lieu of $14,089.66 in assessments against the Park 'n' Shop property for sidewalk, street, and water main construction with the extension of Apple Road, the city is to spend $23,500 for acquisition of the right-of-way. In other action at the regular meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night, the 1967-68 assessment lists for taxable property in the amount of $75,438,000 were approved for public display from this Friday through May 15.

The pay increase for wage roll employees was approved by council retroactive to July 1, 1965, prior to union contract negotiations, and it was announced Monday night that this retroactive pay raise could be obtained "only by reopening the contract" which is in effect for another 17 months.

Not Now
"I do not think this is the best interest of the city at this time," City Manager Edward R. Stiff said of contract renegotiation—and council action.

"The point that impresses me is that the union negotiators chose another date," Councilman David H. Doehrlert said of the retroactive wage roll raise, with July 1, 1966 reported as the "earliest suggested date" during negotiations.

As Curtis Morrison, president of the local union, replied "This date, July 1, 1965, was brought in during union contract discussion, 'but we were given this date' of July 1, 1966."

Rezoning of the 254 West Main Street property from RS to RD to permit expansion of the Newark Manor Nursing Home, was approved unanimously, subject to screening access provision with deed restrictions.

Councilman William M. Coverdale cited "danger of the project being dropped and land exploited with RD zoning," and Attorney Bernard J. Messer, Jr., replied that the deed specified the property was to be used for a "nursing home or single family dwellings, only."

"Spot Zoning"
Hessler said the nursing home was to be expanded to conform with State Board of Health and Medicare standards—that the project "will not be harmful to the town of Newark, but will be beneficial to it"—and to protests of "spot zoning," replied "all zoning is 'spot' and that zoning changes were controlled by council."

Edward J. Sobolewski, attorney representing protesting property owners, cited the location as one of the "better residential areas" in the city, and cautioned against any down-grading with rezoning for expansion of the nursing home.

Councilman Arthur P. Mayer said that although his constituents were affected by the proposal, he favored rezoning for nursing home expansion as a need of the city, citing practical training received there by local high school girls.

And the property was rezoned in a 7-0 vote.

Out of Court Settlement
David Gallo's pending suit against the city for assessments levied against the Park 'n' Shop property was settled out of court with council approval of City Manager Edward R. Stiff.

In 1964, the city purchased the Crossan property west of Elkton Road, for the Apple Road extension to Barksdale Road, waiving assessments. With this extension of Apple Road east of Elkton Road, assessments of $14,089.66 were levied against the Park 'n' Shop property for street, sidewalk, and water main construction, and the owner received no compensation for the land acquired.

The 51,728-sq. ft. of land involved with the Apple Road extension east of Elkton Road, and the 19,962-sq. ft. with a donation of 2,215-sq. ft. west of Elkton Road are to be acquired at a cost of $28,500 to the city with waiver of assessments.

McLain Announces NHS Alumni Ass'n Career Day Plans

Career Day, a regular feature at Newark High School, is scheduled for next Wednesday from 8:30 until 11 a.m., according to William McLain, program coordinator.

The program is sponsored and arranged by the Newark High School Alumni Association, with J. Sherman White, president.

The keynote speaker will be Dr. George R. Seidel, professor of chemistry at Delaware State College, and former research chemist with DuPont.

Career Day will offer 40 discussion groups, each led by a representative engaged in that particular field, and with faculty and student hosts provided by Student Council.

McLain said that the Alumni Council maintains a file of 150 career possibilities and resource people to rotate over a four-year period.

"Since everyone attends two discussion groups," McLain points out, "every student has an opportunity to look into a minimum of six different careers while in high school. We think that such exposure is of real value."

HOWARD FERGUSON

As vice-president of the Curtis Paper Company, Howard Ferguson admirably fulfilled the duties of a key executive while maintaining his native warmth and friendliness for all who knew him—a most unusual and difficult bit of doing with all of the problems confronting a top administrator.

All who knew Howard Ferguson—and there are many—are shocked and saddened at his passing. One of the many, many victims of heart attack, he was not afforded the second chance so happily accorded others.

Howard Ferguson needs no memorial—he will be remembered with affection and appreciation—but a fitting tribute to the gentleman who served his community so well, is continued support of the Delaware Heart Association.

City Council

Phrasing

Doehlt objected to the "waiver" phrasing with "I am reluctant to waive assessments for a roadway that will benefit the property owner." He said that the agreement should be "written as a cash affair—collect assessment, pay what the property is worth."

"I am satisfied that these improvements do not benefit Mr. Gallo," Councilman Olan R. Thomas said of assessment levies, "and I recommend that we accept the city manager's recommendations."

The proposal was approved 6-1 with Doehlt's dissent. "The deal is all right," he said, but objected to "the recording of it."

"I am sure you are as relieved as we to have this thing settled," Mayor Norma Handloff said to Gallo.

Assessment Rolls

Assessment rolls representing $18,211,300 in land, and $57,226,700 in buildings, for a total of $75,438,000 in taxable property, were accepted for public display April 23 thru May 8 at Rhodes Drug Store, and May 9-15 at Cappone's Pharmacy.

Appeals will be received at the council office on May 16 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Based on a 65 cents per $100 tax rate with a 70 per cent market value, the city is an increase of $490,347 for the year.

Two proposed ordinances, to rezone property at 124 and 126 East Main Street from Business "C" to "B" and to rezone a 4.857-acre tract in the Oaklands development on Barksdale Road from Residential RS to Business BL, were tentatively approved with final readings scheduled for May 15.

Council accepted the State Highway Department franchise for installation of a 525-ft. water main on the south side of West Chestnut Hill Road from Arbour to Highfield drives; and awarded contracts to Rittenhouse Motors and to Atwell Tractor for city purchase of a dump truck at $4,700, and a trencher at $6,556.

Bus Service Study

A proposal by New Castle County Councilman Henry R. Folsom, Jr., that the City of Newark contribute $500 to a $10,000 study for feasibility of a publicly-owned bus service, was rejected after Councilman Mayer's observation on county taxes.

"I feel that we have already paid it in our tax bill," Mayer said. "The City of Wilmington also pays taxes," Mayor Handloff said, and Councilman Mayer replied "Yes, and they receive most of the benefits," citing city use of county ambulances. "I look at this thing as a bargain," Councilman Doehlt declared, but there was no move for the $500 appropriation.

In extending the meeting adjournment deadline from 10:30 p.m., council authorized an economic feasibility study of electric power rates at a cost of $3,150; and approved proclamation of Fraternal Order of Police Week for the period May 14-20, with May 15 as Police Officer Memorial Day in honor of those killed in line of duty.

Burglary Charged To Man Arrested At Gallaher School

John Wesley Rose, Jr., of the 400 block South Chapel Street, was held in $1,000 bail for Superior Court, and committed to the New Castle Correctional Institution in default of bail, state police said.

A state trooper patrolling the area observed someone in the school at about 12:20 a.m.

He radioed headquarters and was joined by other troopers. Police said they found Rose hiding in the girl's locker room.

Police said Rose apparently had entered the school by forcing a window and had ransacked the office and cafeteria.

Pupils' Convention Conducted At CHS For Council Vote

Christiana High School's Student Council convention was held April 10, and after candidates for next year's council offices had campaigned, five delegates from each homeroom voted to select two candidates for each office.

Then each candidate had 15 minutes on the convention floor to convince delegates through speeches, music, noise-making, and demonstrations of support, as at a national convention.

Finalists will continue campaigning until the end of this month and election.

In addition to the competition among candidates, there was rivalry among the "states" or homerooms for the best and most original sign.

Sign competition was won by the delegation from "Montana" whose rocket reached the ceiling of the auditorium.

Candidates participating in the convention for president were Shan Haddaway, Bill Philhower, and John Ufford; for vice-president, Lee Child-ester, Bob Marshall, and Danny Ratchford; and for treasurer, Nan Butterworth, Cathy Cawley, Cliff Houston, Ann Loeffel, Debbie Marvel, and Pete Sukalo; and for secretary, Karen Adams, Nancy Blaudet, Larry Green, Kathy McPherson, Wanda Register, and Julie Vannan.

McAllister Reports Farm Irrigation Interest Increase

Another very dry year in 1966 led to a great deal of interest in irrigation, and farmers see lack of adequate rainfall as the most severe limitation on their returns from production, W. T. McAllister reports. While irrigation is expensive—especially in terms of several hundred acres per farm—if added water will guarantee a much bigger yield, irrigation must be considered even on such an extensive crop as corn, the University of Delaware farm management specialist adds.

Actual costs will vary widely depending upon type and size of unit used. Large units are less costly per acre than smaller systems.

If a large, deep well must be dug, an irrigation system will have a fixed cost annually between $38 and $48 per acre whether it is used or not. Operating costs between $5 and $10 per acre must be added to this; therefore, the cost of crop irrigation will be between $45 and $55 per acre, for adding 4-in. of water.

The key question then, is will extra corn produced more than pay for this extra cost?

According to Dr. William Mitchell, extension agronomist at the university, on light soils with a very low moisture holding capacity, putting on enough water at critical times could give an added yield of as much as 90-bu. per acre.

Mitchell points out irrigation is a form of crop insurance. Having taken care of the thing most likely to limit production on sandy soils—water—farmers can afford to invest a little more money in other things which limit maximum yields such as fertilizer and plant populations. Pesticides controlling corn borers and other insects, diseases, and weeds also may raise yields.

Coral Morris, home management specialist at the University of Delaware, spoke during the luncheon on "Stay Young Gracefully." She suggested isometric exercises to keep muscles strong and flexible.

TOWNHOUSES IN THE COUNTRY

Colonial design with contemporary convenience—that's Haslet Park, the community of rental townhouses on Newark's southern periphery. An uncrowded setting that will stay uncrowded, with the University of Delaware stadium and the Joseph McVey Elementary School as neighbors. A couple minutes from downtown Newark, and only a few minutes more from downtown Wilmington via the nearby Kennedy Turnpike.

These smartly distinctive homes have a bit of the old—the architectural charm of America's early townhouses with a pleasing variety of colors, textures and rooflines. Similarly, they have a lot of the new—central air conditioning, floor-to-ceiling glass doors both front and rear, and all-electric kitchens with dishwasher and disposal. Each is two stories with two bedrooms, a spacious basement and loads of living space.

Sound inviting? Then why not accept this invitation to visit Haslet Park on Saturday or Sunday 1 to 5 P.M. Or phone OL 8-3566 for an appointment during the week.

Turnberger Vikings Lose 10-Inning Tilt; Mike Horney Hurls Second 5-Hit Victory

Mike Horney hurred his second five-hit victory of the season as Coach Bob Turnberger's Vikings defeated 1. S. du Pont 4-3 last Friday at Christiana, but Turnberger's team lost a 4-3 heart-breaker at New Castle last Tuesday in a 10-inning contest with William Penn.

Co-Captain George Arbeiter walked the Colonials' John May with the bases all occupied in the home half of the tenth—and that did it. There were no more innings left, either.

Christiana Wins First Of Season In Tennis Play

Christiana defeated William Penn 3-2 in tennis last Tuesday in New Castle for the Vikings' first win after a pair of setbacks in Blue Hen Conference competition.

Viking Mark Pihlback defeated Smith 6-3, 6-0, and Craig stopped Sabatino 6-1, 6-1 in singles play, while Christiana's Robertson lost 6-3, 6-3 to Carliotti.

Lovejoy and Pihlback turned back Ryan and Watson 6-3, 7-5, and the Vikings' Lewis and Ufford lost 6-1, 7-9, 6-4 to Proud and Hurst.

Bob Clinie, Double Winner As Delaware Tops Bullfets

Bob Clinie was a double winner for Coach Jimmy Flynn's Hens, coping the mile and two-mile events. Flynn's Delawareans entertain Lafayette and St. Joe's in a triangular meet next Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Considering what experience costs, it should be the best teacher.

An April 7, post card from Dolphin Dave Porter, general proprietor of the South Shore Marina at Inlet, N.J., includes a nostalgic color photo of the Sanitary Fish Market and Restaurant at North Carolina's Morehead City—'Mohead' in the vernacular of Tarheel Bus Humphreys and Arnold J. 'Ducky' Stewart—along with the information that the Porter team of Parents Barbara and David were on their way home to Wilmington—after fabulous fishing with Skipper Dick Pleasanton aboard the Young Lady out of Boynton Beach, Fla.

"Just returning from Boynton," Dave Porter pointed out with obvious regret, "Caught 10 dolphins 10 to 20 lbs. and Babs caught a 55½-lb. bull dolphin from the Young Lady."

"Biggest so far for Florida!" Mr. Porter questions hopefully, and adds, "Definitely the biggest of 'em," the pleasant Pleasanton pilot of Gibby Young's Florida-berthed boat.

Mrs. Porter may well regret catching that green-gold beautiful monster dorado. It was difficult enough before, Dave Porter said, to get the marina for proprietary chores—and with the Lady of the Porter House racking up a dream dolphin, the blue, blue water off the Delaware coast, and their Tiger II cruiser will sing a frenzied song of obvious regret.

"Caught 10 dolphins 10 to 20 lbs. and Babs caught a 55½-lb. bull dolphin from the Young Lady."

"There was a big old trout that lived in a hole in Pike Creek," Rip reminded. "I caught him several times—always put him back."

"Why?" Spectator Stan Gibbs asked with a puzzled frown. "Why did you turn the fish loose?"

"Because I didn't want him," Mr. Smith stated simply.

"There used to be a fellow around here—by the name of Trout, too," the Ripper recalled. "And he finally caught that big trout—proud of it. I felt like I'd lost an old friend—not Trout, but the trout."

"I've caught fallfish weighing a pound—a pound and a half—beautiful, clean silver, swift fish and wild, they would put a trout to shame," the 20th Century Thoreau said.

"Remember taking three big fallfish from a pool in Pike Creek just as fast as I could lay the lure in the water—and then I caught a big trout. The fallfish outgrew him—and outgrew him," Rip related, "which is why I caught them first. The trout wasn't fast enough to beat them to the hook."

Newark naturalists were out in force last Tuesday afternoon, with Vic Ewing hard on the heels of the Smith sportsman.

"I got a hunting license and duck stamp last season—as usual," Vic Ewing said, "and never used 'em," he frowned reflectively.

His listener, who had done the same thing, advised Mr. Ewing that it was later than we think, and such negligence is a far cry from the halcyon days when a pair of duck hunters had difficulty in sleeping the night before the season opened.

"I remember one afternoon in a blind with the Lums," Vic brightened with reminiscence of one of those golden days.

"We had fair shooting but were safely short of our limit when Pappy Lumb gave us a chance at a twin double as four ducks planned into range—and we collected."

"That was enough, and we came on in. Still shy of the limit, but what a way to wind up a day in a duck blind!" Vic Ewing said.

Flynn's Trackmen Face Two Tests Friday, Saturday

Delaware's track team has a busy two days in store this weekend with competition in the Penn Relays in Philadelphia on Friday and a dual meet against Bucknell in Lewisburg, Pa., on Saturday.

Coach Jimmy Flynn plans to enter two relay teams, and discuss records holder Bill Wheeler in the Penn Relays. Wheeler, who established a Delaware record of 159-4 in his specialty at the Colonial Relays, is the defending Middle Atlantic Conference champion.

Capt. John O'Donnell is expected to run with the Blue Hens' two relay entries. He will run the mile leg on the distance medley, and anchor on the mile relay.

The 100-yard distance medley team will be made up of Bob Clinie (¾ mile), Randy Jernigan (half-mile) and Bob Johnson (quarter). Johnson, Jernigan and Don Hansen will join O'Donnell on the mile relay team.

Frank Linzenbold No. 1 Quarterback In Spring Practice

Quarterback Frank Linzenbold, who led the Blue Hens to the Middle Atlantic Conference championship last year as a junior, is being pressed for his job this spring by a pair of talented rookies.

"Frank is our No. 1 quarterback," Coach Tubby Raymond says, "but I have been pleased with the development of Tom Dimuzio and Ed Martinek during spring practice."

Linzenbold set a Delaware record with 87 completions last year. A 186-pounder from Roebling, N.J., Linzenbold gained 1,139 yards and threw for eight touchdowns in directing the Hens to the MAC title.

Dimuzio, the No. 1 quarterback on the Delaware freshman team last year, is the heir apparent to Linzenbold's job. He is a 202-pound former All-Catholic choice at Bishop Neumann High School in Philadelphia has impressed Raymond.

"Tom throws and runs well," the Hens coach says, "but his primary asset is his hardness. He is a power runner and runs like a fullback. He has looked very good to me, but he still has not mastered the system and he lacks game experience."

Heavyweight Mat Champ Shetler To Attend U.D.

Joe Shetler, one of the outstanding schoolboy athletes in the state, has accepted a grant-in-aid to attend the University of Delaware.

Shetler, state heavyweight wrestling champion, and an outstanding tackle and end on Coach Billy Cole's William Penn football team, was one of the most sought-after athletes in the state.

"Joe is probably the outstanding line prospect in the state," Blue Hen Coach Tubby Raymond said. "He is an excellent athlete and a fine competitor."

Larry Tucker Takes Three First Places For Unbeaten Yellowjackets' Second Win

Larry Tucker led Coach Ray Ciesinski's track and field Yellowjackets to their second win of an undefeated season by taking three events last Monday to defeat the visiting Redskins of Conrad 71-46.

Tucker won the 220 in 23.6 and the high and low hurdles in 15.7 and 21.9.

Wolf Bauer won two firsts for Newark with a 4-44½ mile and a 2:06.5 time in the 880.

Conway Hayman won the shotput and discus with tosses of 47-1 and 118-10½; Bob Tucker high jumped to a first place 5-10; and Dick Kelley won the pole vault with a 10-6 effort.

Pedro Swann took first in the broad jump with a flight of 19-2; and Gregg Rolfe ran a first place two-miles in 11:25.2.

Bob Locke Elected Delaware Captain For Swim Team

Locke, one of the top performers on Delaware's 10-1 team this year, holds the school records for the 100-yard freestyle (51.0) and the 200-yard freestyle (1:56.1).

Carey, a senior from Ocean City, N.J., set three Delaware records this year. The versatile swimmer established marks in the 200-yard backstroke (2:15.3), the 200-yard breaststroke (2:31.3) and the 200-yard individual medley (2:14.0) — all on March 2, at the Middle Atlantic Conference championship meet at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore.

Ehrenfeld, who set a mark of 23.6 in the 50-yard freestyle at the MAC meet, is only a junior, but finished the GNRA effort to help offer baseball and softball to children of the Newark area.

There also is need for umpires for the Men's Softball League—men with good working knowledge of the game, and who will be paid for their services.

"No matter how cars are built and equipped," said Old Sorehead, "they will never be safe as long as they are driven by people." —Olin Miller, Duncannon (Pa.) Record.

Unbeaten Rylander Netmen Stop Washington College

The Hens play Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Temple, and at Rutgers next Tuesday at 3 o'clock.

BONSAL LEADS

Veteran Maryland trainer Frank A. Bonsal, Jr., has won more training championships at Pimlico than any other conditioner. He has led the list no less than 11 times, most recently in the fall of 1963.

HISTORY REPEATS

A horse named Saxon ran in the Preakness in 1874, and again in 1927. Of course, only the name was the same, not the thoroughbreds. Neither had any luck, finishing fifth and seventh.

Mark Brown, Don Sticinski Pitch, Bat Fulghum's NHS Nine To Twin BHC Wins

Pitchers Mark Brown and Don Sticinski threw and hit to lead Coach Francis Fulghum's Yellowjackets to 3-2 and 4-3 victories over the Knights at Mt. Pleasant last Thursday and the Conrad champions at Newark last Friday for an undefeated Blue Hen Conference record in the postponed season opener followed by a next-day test with the defending champs.

Tuesday's test with P. S. du Pont in Wilmington was postponed, and Fulghum's Yellowjackets face a pair of home stands with William Penn this Friday and Brandywine next Tuesday.

In defeating Mt. Pleasant in the curtain-raiser, Brown scattered seven hits over the seven-inning route, fired eight strikeouts; and in the sixth inning drove in the tying run—and crossed the plate himself for the winning marker.

Sticinski won his own game with a two-run single in the home half of the final seventh inning against the Conrad champions, while Centerfielder Jack Houtt led the Newark lumbermen with three of their seven hits.

Scheduled to host Lafayette this afternoon, Coach Bob Hannah's Delaware nine is slated to play Saturday at Temple at 1:30 p.m.; at Ursinus on Monday, and at Lehigh on Wednesday at 3 o'clock.
