Newark Negro Boy Is Paroled For Killing

Samuel Parker Case Decided Monday Afternoon In Court

The final chapter of the case of State vs. Samuel Parker, 15-year-old Negro boy of Newark, charged with the murder of Jesse Stephenson, elderly Negro living in the same neighborhood, was enacted on Monday afternoon of this week in Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Following a verdict of guilty of murder, the prisoner was paroled for two years by the court.

The fatality occurred on the 20th of May last, and resulted from an altercation between Stephenson and the boy. The old man was mortally wounded when stabbed in the abdomen by young Parker. He died on his way to a Wilmington hospital.

No testimony was offered, but Chief Deputy Attorney-General Southernland and David J. Reinhardt, counsel for the boy, each made brief explanations of the case to the jury. Following the verdict, several witnesses were called. Rudolph Congo, Negro, said Stephenson, a man about 45 years old, had thrown the Parker boy and was standing in a ditch when the lad drew a small penknife and stabbed Stephenson.

The parents of the Parker boy were also called, as was Mrs. Stephenson and the defendant.

According to the facts related to the court, Samuel was on his way home from school on May 20 when he and Earl Stephenson had a quarrel, during which Earl struck Samuel with a ball and Samuel threw the ball away.

The only difference in the evidence of the two sides was that the defense claimed Stephenson was atop Samuel in a ditch and the State maintained the man was not holding the lad down.

Dr. Henry W. Briggs testified the wound from which Stephenson died was about three inches long and had severed an intestine. He died in an ambulance that was taking him from his home in Newark to the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington. It was testified the man bled to death.

On Gunning Trip

Walter Powell, Newark restaurateur and sportsman, spent part of last week on a gunning trip in the vicinity of Millsboro, Delaware.

NEWARK FANS HAVE CHOICE OF TWO LOCAL CLASSICS ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Two football games are expected to draw hundreds of people from Newark and vicinity to the sidelines tomorrow, when the curtain will be rung down on the 1924 gridiron campaign.

From a local standpoint, both games are important. A far reaching decision will be made in the High School game as it is being played for the secondary championship of the State. Newark and Laurel will meet on the baseball field at Milford at 2:30 Thanksgiving afternoon.

Those who cannot make the long trip to the down State town, however, may have their Turkey Day appetites whetted right here in Newark when the two old rivals, Elton and Newark, do battle for the championship of Iron Hills, Appleton, Main street, or what have you?

Make no mistake, it will be a great game. The scene yesterday had not fully been decided upon by the promoters, but it is thought that the impetuous battle will take place on Frank Field. If that field is not available for use, the scene will be shifted to the Continental Field. The game will start at 10:30 a. m.

It can therefore be readily seen that there will be no malnutrition from a football standpoint, among the home folks and their visitors from the congested centers.

High School Should Win
From a casual survey of the records of the two teams, Newark looks at least two touchdowns better than Laurel. According to form, the locals should annex their sixth straight D. A. A. championship. The feeling of optimism has not, however, gripped Coach Nunn. He is working his men hard and looks for a bitter struggle. The full offensive strength will be

Union Services

The annual Union Thanksgiving Services will be held tonight in the First Presbyterian Church at 7:45. Rev. H. E. Hallman will have charge of the services. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Frank Herson, and a prayer offered by Rev. R. B. Mathews. All are invited to attend.

TRUMP THIS ONE!

Billy Morgan Shoots A Rabbit 200 Years Old

The season's greatest rabbit story has arrived.

The public has been regaled each year with vague yarns of rabbits walking into gunning coats, drinking at a creek with the dogs, and that sort of thing, but it remains for "Billy" Morgan, the demon mail carrier of the town to go them all one better.

"Billy" has opened the way to an important scientific investigation by shooting a rabbit out in Ogletown barrens 200 years old. Anticipating your question, Billy will take you up to Perry Town's barber shop and show you an Indian arrow-head, found in the skull of the rabbit in question. "And if that don't prove it," says Billy, "Sitting Bull was a sailor."

The incident occurred last week, while Billy and Perry were bombarding the vales and hillocks of lower New Castle County. With two such estimable citizens concurring in the facts of the case, many housewives now understand why some rabbits are tougher than others. Comparing these aboriginal animals to humans, a further deduction will not doubt prove that the older one gets—

But that is aside the point. The Pessimists Society may view the arrow head at Perry's barber shop any week day. At any rate, it's a mighty good story.

Post Office Closes

Announcement was made today by Post Master William H. Evans that the Newark Post Office will close tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day after nine o'clock a. m.

To Speak Sunday

Mrs. Maud E. Perkins, of East Syracuse, N. Y., will make an address in Chester-Bethel, Sunday, November 30 at 10:30 o'clock. She will make another address in the Ebenezer M. E. Church at 7:30 o'clock.

Trustees Favorable To Entering Deal With Local Methodists

Matter Of Ground For New Church Discussed at Meeting Yesterday—May Go Through

Among the many business matters affecting the University discussed by the Board of Trustees at their stated meeting here yesterday was the matter of a real estate deal pending between the college and the Methodist Episcopal Church in Newark.

As outlined in THE POST last week, the church desires the tract of land lying along Delaware avenue east of Wolf Hall, and extending back to the Lewis estate on the south.

At the Trustee meeting yesterday, the Board empowered the Grounds and Buildings Committee to negotiate with the Methodist Church with respect to the sale or transfer of the lot in question.

It is understood that an offer has been made for a part of the tract by the church. That this offer was accepted with reservations, also has been reported.

A proposal was authorized to be made to the church authorities that will give them a little additional land and will more satisfactorily adjust the lines of the campus at that point than would be possible under the number of feet actually needed by the church for the new edifice.

It is further understood that the proposition made by the College is not at all counter to that made by the church authorities. It is actuated simply by a co-operative effort to satisfy everyone concerned in the transfer.

Lyons Elected Member

Captain Harry V. Lyons, of Lewes, was chosen by the Board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Daniel Corbit of Odesa.

President Hullen read his annual report of the condition of the College, and outlined the great need for additional instructors to meet the increase in student enrollment.

The budget was gone over again, and is fundamentally similar to the 1922-23 document. The Budget will be practically the same as the last one, little additional money being asked.

The admission of women to the Board of Trustees in the future was considered at the meeting, and was formally approved by the organization.

HAS TYPHOID FEVER

Newark Boy Ill In Salisbury, Md., Hospital

Robert P. Major, aged about 23 years, son of D. M. Major, of North College Avenue, Newark, is lying dangerously ill with typhoid fever in the hospital at Salisbury, Maryland, according to word received here this week.

Young Major was admitted to the hospital Tuesday of last week, and his case pronounced serious. He is a graduate of Beacom's Business College, Wilmington, and for some time has been a member of the staff of the Beacom branch school in Salisbury.

Licenses Ready

Newark motorists may have their same license tags renewed for 1925 providing they make their application before December 1st, according to an announcement made yesterday by Daniel Thompson, local magistrate. Mr. Thompson has issued several new licenses to date. The 1925 tags are a deep orange with black numbers.

TURKEY PRICES

ON HIGH LEVELS

The Thanksgiving turkey is again commanding a handsome price this year. The birds were late appearing on the markets, with only a few on the Wilmington curb Tuesday.

The Newark turkeys today were bringing 60c to 65c per lb. in local markets. In Elton, it is reported that the gobblers took a drop this week, and are selling from 55-60 cents.

Ducks are holding firm at 35 cents per lb., while chickens vary in price from 33c to 40c per lb.

MAJOR UNDERWOOD TO HELP VETS IN MAKING BONUS APPLICATIONS

In a letter from the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C., to Major General R. L. Bullard, Commanding General, Second Corps Area, Governors Island, N. Y., it is indicated that the World War Veterans are not submitting their applications for adjusted compensation (commonly called the "Bonus") as rapidly as is desired by the Adjusting Compensation Branch. This necessitates the keeping of the large staff of clerks in the Adjusted Compensation Branch a much longer time than should be necessary thus increasing the cost to the Government under the "Bonus Act."

All veterans are urged to make their applications for this compensation as soon as possible. Those who do not intend to apply either now or later for their compensation are requested to communicate that fact to the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C.

Major Arthur R. Underwood, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, University of Delaware, has on hand a number of Adjusted Compensation blanks with instructions for filling out same. He will be glad to mail blanks to any one desiring them, or to assist any veteran in making application should they call at his office at the University.

Wilmington Concern Reported Purchaser Of Elton Companies

Newton-Mitchell Ice Plant and Scott Coal Yards Go To Diamond Ice and Coal Co.

One of the largest single purchases of Elton property by an outside concern in recent years is reported to have been made this week by the Diamond Ice and Coal Company, of Wilmington.

It is currently rumored on the streets of the Cecil County Seat that the Newton-Mitchell Ice and Ice Cream manufacturing company has been taken over by the Wilmington firm, to be used by them as an auxiliary ice plant and distributing center. The Newton-Mitchell company supplies ice to Elton and neighboring communities, and also does a good ice cream business during the summer months.

In connection with this deal it is also reported that the coal yards on the Scott Fertilizer Co.'s property on West Main street at Bridge street, and extending down to the Elk River in the rear, has also been purchased by the Diamond company.

While the Wilmington concern maintains distributing points in Newark, Marshallton and other adjacent towns, this will make the largest single auxiliary plant west of Wilmington.

Expect Arrest Soon In Store Theft Here; $400 In Goods Stolen

Haberdashery and Clothing Shop of Clarence Hopkins Robbed Friday Night

One of the largest robberies of the year startled the town last week, when the men's furnishing and clothing store of Clarence H. Hopkins at the corner of Main and North Chapel streets, was entered by thieves Friday night.

Estimates hurriedly made by Mr. Hopkins after the theft indicate that between $350 and $400 worth of sweaters, socks, shirts, overcoats and other men's wear were taken.

Recent developments this week prompt those on the trail of the thieves to believe that the theft was accomplished by a white person or persons, and one evidently familiar with the store and the surroundings of the building. Authorities in charge of the case are said to be expecting an arrest within a few days.

Was New Store

Mr. Hopkins had just recently taken over the vacant store room on the corner, next to Cornog's grocery. He is a member of the office staff at the Continental Fibre Company, and ran the store in the evenings and Saturday afternoons. Starting a few weeks ago, Mr. Hopkins enjoyed a steady clientele at his establishment and carried a high grade of men's wear. Great sympathy is expressed throughout the town in the matter and offers of aid in running down the culprits have been offered in many instances.

Entered Through Cellar

According to reports of the robbery the thieves gained entrance to the store through a trap door in the floor, after forcing a pair of cellar doors under the Cornog store adjoining.

The manner of gaining entrance further convinces the police that the thieves were familiar with the building. The stolen goods were for the most part taken from tops of show cases, racks and shelves, and carried down through the cellar and out the cellar doors again. Two or three shirts were found near a coal pile in the cellar, evidently having been dropped by the thieves in their haste. The front door and windows of the Hopkins store were untouched, and from the appearance of the interior, the theft was made methodically and completely.

Car Seen Nearby

A valuable clue in the case, and one which is being run down determinedly, came Saturday from Jacob Shew, electrician for the town of Newark.

Mr. Shew was awakened by a noise about 4 a. m. Saturday, and upon looking out the window of his home on East Delaware avenue, saw a car parked near the New Century Club, headed east.

"The car had no lights," said Mr. Shew, "but I am reasonably sure it was a Ford sedan. It was too dark to read the license tags."

"I immediately dressed and went to the front door to have a look around the place. I was suspicious of the car. In the meantime, I saw two men near the machine. One looked to be cranking the engine, and the other was approaching the car from Chapel street, carrying what looked to me to be a bundle of some kind."

Continuing, Mr. Shew said, "I hurried to the front door, but in the half minute it took me to get downstairs and on the porch, the car had disappeared. I waited a few minutes but no trace of it was heard in any nearby street."

Mr. Shew is of the opinion that the car in question was used to carry off the stolen goods, after the thieves had carried them from the Hopkins store to Delaware avenue.

Must Be In Writing

At a meeting of the Newark Board of Health held last week, several items of business were transacted.

Among other things, it was decided that all petty complaints, involving the abating of nuisances, which are desired to be brought up before the Board, must be in writing and submitted before the stated meetings to the secretary, Roland Herdman.

WELL KNOWN MINISTER DECLARES THAT 75,000 CHURCHES ARE CLOSED ON SUNDAY

One-half of the 150,000 Protestant Churches in the rural districts are closed each Sunday to religious services, according to the Rev. Dr. D. D. Forsyth, corresponding secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"Fifty-four per cent of the rural churches in the country have absentee pastors," said Dr. Forsyth, last week in giving his report to the annual meeting of the Home Mission Board of the Methodist Church. "Almost invariably the churches served by the absentee ministers are the churches which are breaking down and decaying."

"Only 15 per cent of the rural churches have resident ministers giving full time. There are 18 per cent who are resident and give part of their time."

The girl of the West is superior to the girl in the East, is the opinion of the Rev. R. D. Kohlstedt, president of the Dakota Wesleyan University, at Mitchell, S. D.

"The girl of the West is the Sunshine Girl," he said. "She is out in the open where the sunshine is plentiful, breathes good, wholesome air and doesn't need to go to the drug store for her complexion."

"Modern girls are fully as good as their grandmothers. They have been unjustly criticized. Bobbed hair and short dresses are not indication that a girl lacks character or brains. I feel that, speaking generally, the modern girl is as upstanding and as serious-minded as ever."

The development of the movement for schools of week-day religious education was stressed by the Rev. Dr. Melvin P. Burns, of the Department of City Work in the Home Board. "Through the establishment of such schools," said Dr. Burns, "a very important factor will be introduced for the changing of the life in the city."

"To often the students in our colleges and universities think of the work in the home-mission field when they cannot do anything else. However, the situation is changing and we are acquiring a number of college graduates of first rank who are serving as directors of religious education and of Wesley foundations."

In an effort to improve the type of the future church building the Methodist Church has established a bureau of architecture to give plans for church and parsonage buildings.

"Some of the best architects," said the Rev. M. Conover, who is in charge of the work, "have lacked interest in church architecture because they felt that the church itself often did not know what it wanted. The architects of the famous Washington Cathedral and architect of large and beautiful Methodist Episcopal churches are helping the bureau. The need is for building a seven-day ministry for Jesus Christ."

DELAWARE DISTRICT Y. W. C. A. WELL STARTED IN FALL ACTIVITIES

The Delaware District Young Women's Christian Association Board met recently at the home of the President, Mrs. W. W. Harrington, Kings Highway, Dover. The budget for 1925 was discussed and adopted. The main business of the meeting was the reports of the various communities on their fall work. Miss Martha A. Good, District Secretary, spent all of September working with the committees filling the vacancies in the ranks of advisors for clubs and getting plans started for the new year.

Girls Have New Home
Recently the New Castle Business Girls held an "At Home" to their friends, the Town Council and others who had made their new Y. W. C. A. Room a possibility. All the visitors were pleased with the result of their efforts and the Association is made very real in their minds.

Training Council Held
The Cabinet Council for Training of officers of High School clubs was held in the Wilmington Y. W. C. A. building on October 3-5. The thirty-six delegates from the district clubs were entertained in the home of the members of the Friendship Club of the Girl Reserve Department. The discussions centered around the standards which a Girl Reserve Club must measure up to if it is a success, and the duties and privileges of the various committees in the clubs. A most interesting feature was the Morning

Watch held at 7:30 a. m. in Cedar Woods when thirty-five girls cooked breakfast out of doors and then listened to a talk by Miss Martha Trace, general secretary of the Wilmington Y. W. C. A. on "God In and Out of Doors."

Holland - Frederick
Westminster Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, was the scene of a pretty wedding at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, when Miss Elma Dilworth Holland became the bride of William Heister Frederick. The Rev. Charles L. Candee, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Holland, of 2006 Van Buren street, and is an attractive member of Wilmington's younger set. Mr. Frederick is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frederick of Price's Corner. He is a graduate of the University of Delaware.

News Oddities
It is reported that the last of the once numerous tribe of cigar store wooden Indians in St. Louis has been stolen from the store of Louis Grotzky.

From Minneapolis comes the story that Irving Myers of that city ate twenty "hot dogs" at one sitting, breaking his own previous record of seventeen.

A poverty social was held under the auspices of Mrs. John Moore's group of the Ladies Aid Society in the Lecture Room on Tuesday evening. The proceeds will be used for the parsonage fund.

The Union Thanksgiving service will be held this evening in the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. John H. Bickford, D. D., of the Pittsburgh Conference, preached in the local church on last Sunday evening.

Willing Workers of Rock Presbyterian Church will hold a social in the Session House on Friday evening, December 5th, when Rev. William Davis, of Little Britain, will give a talk on his trip last summer to England and Wales. Everybody welcome.

OBITUARY

Joseph W. Hartis
Complications which started last summer when he was stricken with typhoid fever caused the death of Joseph W. Hartis, aged 38 years, who died at his home in Newport, November 15, 1924, after he had been the victim of two strokes, the last of which occurred a week before his demise. Although he was born in Princeton, N. J., he had only been a resident of Newport for eight years. Previous to that he had farmed for a number of years for Charles G. Jones, near Avondale. Mr. Hartis was a charter member of Camp No. 112, P. O. S. of A. of Port Penn, and also the Bible class of Avondale M. E. Church. Funeral services were held from his home on Market street at Newport last Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, with Rev. Mr. West and Rev. Mr. Sparklin in charge. The pallbearers were: Harvey Gregg, Lewis Duff, Thomas Varel, Roland Abbott, Alfred Craig and Charles Sindall. Interment was in St. James' cemetery, Newport. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ella M. Hartis, two children, Clarence P., aged 12, and Charles Robert, aged 2 years; besides two sisters, Mrs. Albert B. Tribbit, and Mrs. Clarence S. Collins.

William O. Parsons
Following years of suffering with paralysis at the Red Men's Home here, William O. Parsons died Thursday last. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, with interment in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Smyrna, Delaware. The funeral was in charge of Robert T. Jones, of Newark.

Mr. Parsons was installed in the Red Men's Home here in 1916, and has been ill ever since that time. For the long period of sickness his companion has been his wife, who nursed him faithfully throughout the years. He was originally a native of New Jersey where he was engaged in Public Utilities work. In 1915 he came to Wilmington and shortly after was stricken with a stroke of paralysis. Thence followed his removal to Newark.

Decensed was a prominent lodge man, being active in earlier years in both the Red Men and Odd Fellows orders.

Besides his widow, Mr. Parsons is survived by one brother in Chicago and a sister in Wilmington.

ELKTON-DOVER GAME ENDS IN SCORELESS TIE

Marylanders Fight Valiantly Against Heavier Team; But Fail To Score By Inches

In their annual game in Elkton last Friday afternoon, the Cecil County High School football warriors held the strong Dover High outfit to a scoreless tie, before a crowd of several hundred people. It was one of the best games of the season, the only regret being its indecisive ending.

The first half was hard fought, with little advantage to be seen on either side. Beginning the third period, however, Elkton opened up with a sustained offensive, which carried the ball well within the ten-yard line. Twifline line plunges brought the oval to the one-yard line, but there it stayed, and Dover took charge of it. A good punt and the danger was over temporarily.

Just to make the game more thrilling, Dover went on a self-conducted rampage in the final session, and slowly beat the Maryland team back to its goal. The advance was halted in the two-yard mark, and everybody breathed easier. A few minutes later the game ended.

H. Brimmer and Smith, rival captains, led their teams well, and played splendid games in the bargain. The entire Elkton team played a strong game, and the game in its entirety pleased the spectators. The lineup:

canal level between the Delaware river and St. Georges.

The dredge is discharging the mud in the low marshes around St. Georges. The portion of the marsh on the right hand side of the Delaware City road will also be filled in. This work, it is believed, will do much toward booming St. Georges as the area to be reclaimed is near the center of the village and along the State highway as well as the route of the new ship canal. The reclamation will also obliterate probably the largest mosquito breeding grounds in the vicinity.

PARENT-TEACHER NEWS

Parent-Teacher Associations all through the State are holding enthusiastic meetings these days. In every community the friends of the school are coming out to meet their teachers, many of whom are newly appointed in the districts; to see how the children are progressing; and, in cases where they find that something is needed at the schoolhouse or in the grounds, they are setting to work to raise money to secure the necessities. The work planned by the State Association this year, that of making a survey of each separate district to see in what ways the living conditions and economic conditions may be below or above the average, is being taken up with great interest by many of the members of the associations. Besides being a splendid constructive work, of great value to the state as a whole, this survey will prove an opportunity to members of a community to find out more about their homes and surroundings.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving, The American Day! Conceived and observed first in the hardships of the colonists of bleak New England, nationally recognized by the Proclamation of that simple and master pen of Lincoln in days of strife, it is today the one American Day. It celebrates no event, pays tribute to no honor, worships at no particular altar, recognizes no victory—it is America's Day. Without regard to party or creed, sect or station, birth or heritage, it is the one day we all recognize, love, and observe according to our sentiments and the light that is given us to appreciate, to recognize, and to know.

Strange as it may seem, Thanksgiving was born of poverty, and proclaimed in blood. Thanksgiving is most sincerely observed in times of strife and stress and strain, rather than in times of peace, prosperity, and plenty. But it is American tradition in history, in present fact and in tomorrow's hope.

So may we say Thanksgiving for friends who love, and for enemies who inspire,—whether kneeling at the altar of their creed, in the family reunion, around the candle glow of the hearth, on the links, afield with dog and gun, or tramping quietly in the chancels of God's first temple—the great open,—or down in the forecandle or up in the blue—Thanksgiving to and for you all.

For the rights enjoyed, given us by the blood of our Fathers, for the joys experienced in today's realities, for the dreams of tomorrow's opportunities, we offer humbly our Thanks.

For the privilege to live, to work, to serve, we are thankful indeed. To conceive, in our dreams, to create in our work and to just be kind is our Thanksgiving Prayer.

Niagara Falls Called Hour Glass of Nation

Geologists Study Minutely The Rocks Which Fall From Cliff Into Gorge

When the fall of a huge piece of rock recently threatened to turn the honeymooners' Horseshoe Falls of Great Niagara into a mere spillway the peril to the falls' beauty brought forth the proposal to hire engineers to patch up North America's outstanding natural wonder.

By dropping a keystone out of its horseshoe arch Niagara was merely performing its duty to the ages.

For 30,000 years the falls has been the geologic hour-glass for much of North America. By reading the record of the rocks that go through the neck of the gorge, as grains of sand slip through the hour-glass, scientists stop-watch the glacier sheets, which were the first plows to furrow the fertile mid-West. In the sermons of the cataract's stones lies the chronology of Lake Algonquin, the predecessor of Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron and of Lake Iroquois, the sprawling progenitor of Lake Ontario. Their dates are fixed almost as accurately as history books report William the Conqueror's arrival in England in 1066.

The story that is told by Niagara (95.17 per cent Canadian) is related in the following bulletin by the National Geographic Society from its headquarters in Washington:

"Niagara is the North American champion in one of the greatest battles nature ever umpired. Literally scores of challengers sought her crown. More than once Niagara fell almost lifeless on her water-worn rocks. But finally the seekers for her crown gave up; the last not many more centuries ago than the days of Tut-an-kh-amen.

"Niagara is said to take its name from the Indian title nee-ag-arah, which appropriately means 'across the neck.' The Niagara River cuts across the neck of land separating Lake Erie and Lake Ontario. Just east of Buffalo the river collects the entire natural discharge of the four upper great lakes, rushes it through a narrowing river for sixteen miles, pushes it over a sheer drop of 212 feet, churns it seven miles through a canyon and then carries it gently by seven miles of lowland to Lake On-

Two of the carrier pigeons released on Bolling Field by Mrs. Calvin Coolidge yesterday afternoon at the christening of the Los Angeles, formerly the ZR-3, arrived at the Lakehurst Naval Air Station shortly before 6 o'clock last night, beating the leviathan of the air back by more than an hour and a half.

The pigeons when released circled upward and then shot off for home. They were freed at 5 o'clock. Five minutes later the great airship rose for the return trip. At 7.33 p. m. it was sighted in the vicinity of the Lakehurst station.

Less than an hour was taken by the birds for the flight, in contrast to two hours and twenty-eight minutes for the man-made machine.

Like the glaciers of the Rockies, these enormous sheets of ice moving down from Labrador poured out streams of water. Accumulated water sometimes rose hundreds of feet higher than the present level of the Great Lakes and poured out into the Mississippi, over the present site of Chicago and through outlets in Ohio and Indiana.

Write New Song

The following song, "Old College," which won a $10 prize at the big smoker at the college last Friday night, was written by Kenneth Givan and Charles Green, both Seniors at the University. It was received with great acclaim by the students and will no doubt find its place along with other traditional songs of Delaware.

OLD COLLEGE
Oh! stately pile, with accents true,
Our voice with love we raise to you;
You stand midst us a shrine of gold,
Whose virtues we shall e'er uphold.
Old College dear, with memories sweet,
'Tis there old friends we always meet,
Who grasp us by the hand and sigh
For times of joy in days gone by.

CHORUS
Dear Old College, heart of Delaware,
Your spirit shows us what is right,
And makes of us thy men of might.
Dear Old College, heart of Delaware,
With your ideals may you e'er mold
Brave students true to Blue and Gold—
Dear Old College, heart of Delaware.

From your high place we glimpse a scene,
A lovely linden shaded green,
And paths bedecked with golden rays,
Now changing with soft shadowed grays;
Above the fleecy clouds ride high Amidst the azure tinted sky—
A sight that makes us hold our breath
And pledge our loyalty till death.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE IN THANKSGIVING DINNER

Residence Hall Scene of Affair Monday

Students of the Women's College, University of Delaware, held their Thanksgiving dinner in Residence Hall Monday night and the affair proved a pleasant occasion for students, faculty members and guests.

The affairs of the evening began with the assembling of the entire student body and the guests of the scholars in the dormitory of Residence Hall, after which an invocation was made by the Rev. T. G. Hill, of Smyrna. Following the prayer a turkey dinner, prepared by the students studying domestic science, was served by the girls. The meal which won the praise of all present, proved the topic of the address of Dr. Walter Hulihan, President of the University.

Following the dinner and address a short play, "The Exchange," was given by the students under the direction of Mary Kruger, '25. Those who took part are: Judge, Orpha Conahay; Imp, Decana Keithley; Vain Woman, Sara Coffin; Poor Man, Alice Webb; Rich Citizen, Alice Bierman. The players were coached by Marian Neide.

The affairs of the evening were concluded by the singing of "Alma Mater" and a rising vote of thanks for Miss Ruth King, dietitian of the Women's College, under whose direction the menu was prepared.

DELAWARE FALLS BEFORE POWERFUL DICKINSON ATTACK

Big Carlisle Eleven Batters Through For 15-0 Victory Saturday

McAvoy's Warriors Unable to Stop Versatile Attack—Hubert's Punting Saves Further Damage

In a "sea of mud," "quagmire," or what you will, Delaware went down to defeat before their old rivals, Dickinson, on Harlan Field, Wilmington, on Saturday last.

Not within the memories of the oldest alumni present did a football field present the distressing appearance on the day of a big game as Harlan Field Saturday. A drenching rain, starting Friday night, continued until game time. It withheld its punch for three quarters of the struggle, and resumed again where it left off. The field was mud, that's all. The players, after the first kickoff, were mud-horses.

Good football was unanimously ruled out of the question before the teams went on the field. Sage experts wagged their heads knowingly, and talked about "breaks," fumbles and what-not.

But strange to relate, the dope was completely spilled, from a Delaware standpoint.

Dickinson, after the first period of sparring for an opening, appeared to forget about breaks, and tore up and down the field, slipping and sliding, churning mud like steam shovels—but hanging on to that all every time.

For such weather, the ball was carried remarkably well by both teams. Dickinson's offensive formations required but a short lobbing pass from center. The passes never missed.

Delaware Outplayed

The Blue and Gold fought valiantly. There is no doubt of that. To the very last, they stood up under the terrific battering, and kept hoping for the break that never came.

Dickinson had the better team. No better in fighting spirit, but in everything else that goes to make up a good football team, they were far and away superior. Their running game centered about two plays, a cross buck, and a delayed crosscut, ending with the quarterback knifing through the center of the line, after faking the ball to a halfback. Strange plays for a field covered with mud, certainly. But those same strange plays rent the Delaware line wide apart, and gained ground by the acre.

Dickinson also uncovered a neat forward pass offensive, in the second quarter, and in less than a minute came from midfield inside the ten-yard line. After the resultant touchdown, the pass was put away in their bag of tricks, and that incessant, deadening line attack began again.

In punting, Hubert, Delaware full-back, clearly outpointed his rival, P. Rupp. Hubert's boots averaged nearly fifty yards, and one went for 80 yards in the last period. Such punting is a delight to see, and the Newark boy's name was on every lip after the battle. His boots saved further scoring, and kept Dickinson at bay the second half.

It was Dickinson's day. The Carlisle eleven outweighed, outrushed and outplayed Delaware in all but one department of the game. There is no disgrace in being beaten by a better team. The sting of defeat is always lessened when you fight a good fight. And Delaware did that very thing. They fought from whistle to whistle, hard and clean. But they could not dent that powerful line. Their offense was dead after the first five minutes. Their only salvation was a break. And the break never got into the field.

Resumé Of Game

Two forward passes, P. Rupp to Captain Roth, both beautiful efforts, placed Dickinson deep in Delaware territory at the beginning of the second quarter. The Blue and Gold held at that point, but Nye dropped back and with P. Rupp holding the ball, dropped a neat field goal over from the 20-yard line. Delaware 0; Dickinson 3.

Shortly later, Kramer was taken out because of injuries. Lohman went to center and Baxter to end for Delaware.

The first touchdown for Dickinson came by the aerial route. Two long passes, P. Rupp to Captain Roth, after the Dickinson menace had reached Delaware's forty-yard line, did the trick. Roth caught the last pass and raced ten yards untouched for the score. P. Rupp failed at goal. Delaware 0; Dickinson 9.

On the next kickoff, White started down the field, reversed and cut over to the sidelines. Baxter was drawn in hopelessly on the play, and White ran thirty-five or forty yards before he was forced out of bounds. On the very next play, Baxter was again trapped by a crosscut, and C. Rupp ran to Delaware's 22-yard line before he was stopped. White and P. Rupp, in three plays, went over the last line.

From then on, the game slowed up perceptibly. The fast pace and heavy going was telling on both teams, and both McAvoy and Assistant Coach Frank, of Dickinson, sent in a raft of substitutes.

Hubert's consistent punting stood his team in good stead in the last period, and his eighty-yard boot recovered by P. Rupp on his own five-yard line, looked like a golden opportunity for Delaware.

There was a great shout when Rupp missed the pass from center on an attempted punt back of his own goal line. The Delaware forwards swooped in to recover, but Rupp got the ball, and circled like a scared rabbit out towards the playing field. He was trapped.

Then came one of the finest bits of quick thinking ever seen by most of the spectators. Surrounded by Delaware tacklers, and five yards from the playing field, Rupp was at bay. Quick as a flash, he tossed the ball away from him, and out over the goal line, praying that a Dickinson jersey would cover it. His prayers were answered, for the ball dropped untouched.

ed, through a host of players, for an incomplete forward pass. It was Dickinson's ball again, and Rupp got it away on a good punt the next play.

It was the headiest play of the game, and stamped Rupp as a field general of real ability. To think quickly and correctly in a tight place like that is not the easiest thing in the world.

The game came to a close with the ball at midfield in Dickinson's possession after they had intercepted the third Delaware forward pass.

For the Blue and Gold, Kramer, Beatty, Hubert, McKelvie and Lohman played sturdy, brilliant games. The guards looked to be boxed in most of the time and were pretty well worn out before the game closed.

For Dickinson, the entire backfield, Captain Roth at end, and Milligan at tackle, looked best.

Crowd Is Colorful

Despite the terrible weather several thousand people saw the battle. The grandstand was filled early, and as game time approached, the rooters for both teams appeared on the sidelines.

Yellow slickers splashed the otherwise drab color of the crowd with refreshing coloring. It seemed that every third person had one on. The Delaware band from its vantage point in the stands, cut loose with their very best numbers under the impressive direction of Givan. The Carlisle band took to the open country after the game started, however, and played from the uncovered Dickinson cheering section.

It was the second consecutive Delaware-Dickinson game in which rain figured as the greatest single factor. The lineup:

Light colors, rougher fabrics, are the thing in styles this season. The approved cut is still loose and easy; the lapel somewhat lower than last spring, the trousers somewhat wider. The essence of this effect is an air of complete ease. It's an effect attained more happily in Society Brand young men's styles than in any clothes we have seen. This is a comprehensive statement, but the fact is, we have seen them all. We invite you to compare your judgment with our own.

NOTES OF THE GAME

This fellow Norman White had everything to lose and nothing to gain by playing in his own home town. He finished, however, on the right side of the ledger.

The advertised Delaware student parade to the game left lots of people in the lurch on Market street. Dickinson's band was the pinch hitter.

ANNUAL BAZAAR TO BE HELD BY GIRL STUDENTS

Women's College Affair On December 4th, Given By Y. W. C. A.

Announcement has been made by Miss Heriott Marvel, student chairman of the function, that the annual Y. W. C. A. Bazaar at the Women's College will be held in Residence Hall on December 4th next, from 4.30 until 10 p. m.

The Freshman Commission, a department of the Y. W. C. A. at the college, will have active charge of the affair.

A feature of the Bazaar will be the Japanese girls who will serve tea and wafers to the visitors. Many Japanese articles suitable for gifts will also be on sale, as well as scores of dainty bits of needlework and handwork. A candy table is also planned. The gifts at the Bazaar are all made or contributed by the girls in College, and are offered for sale to help finance the Association.

A cordial invitation is extended to Newark people to be present on the 4th, and pick up some useful and beautiful Christmas gifts.

Women's College

The Women's College was represented at the annual conference of the Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government by Kathryn V. Ladd. The conference was held at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York, November 13 to 15.

Sixty eastern colleges were represented and one hundred and ten delegates attended. The purpose of the conference is exchange of ideas on Student Government in colleges. This conference decided to discuss the underlying principles of student governments for all colleges in preference to stressing details of governments in individual colleges.

The first session on Thursday afternoon was on "Student Government and Education." President Aydelotte of Swarthmore College gave the opening address in which he said that the values of student government were educational and disciplinary, but principally educational. A discussion followed the address in which the general opinion was that student government was of value both to officers and members as an educational institution; that student government may be an important factor in shaping academic policies especially through a joint faculty-student curriculum committee.

The second session on Friday morning was taken up with the discussion of student opinion and its effect on student government. The three ways of obtaining opinion are through open forums, group discussions, and questionnaires. This was followed by smaller discussion groups where details of student government were exchanged.

"Student Government and the Law" was the topic at the Friday afternoon session. A discussion as to the practicability of a complete honor system occupied the important place. The opinion of the conference was that the honor system should be dealt with under two heads, social and academic; and infringements of academic honor should be dealt with by students in consultation with a faculty committee.

At the last session on Saturday, a report of the findings committee was read. Election of officers took place and business was transacted. It was decided to obtain a secretary, paid by the association, to go through the states in the east in order to organize honor systems in high schools.

The conference will be held next year in November at Wellesley College.

The delegates were entertained on Thursday evening by a play, followed by a reception. On Friday evening there was a piano recital followed by informal receptions at the faculty homes.

The Women's College is not yet eligible to membership in the association, but will be when there are thirty members in the graduating class; which will probably be next year.

New Bulletin Board

The Student Council has provided for a new bulletin board to be placed in Old College that will be used exclusively for Council notifications.

Lately several important matters have miscarried and to avoid just such things the Student Council will have it understood that all Council notices will be posted upon this board, and that it is the duty of each man to acquaint himself with the material contained thereon.

The new case is being made in the shop and will resemble those in the hall of Recitation Hall.

R. O. T. C.

"Much may be made of a Scotchman if he be caught young," said Samuel Johnson, the shrewd Englishman with the lamp-post complex.

The notion of catching them young has evidently appealed to the Deans at Yale. Special pains have been taken to equip the R. O. T. C. so that the hearts of every Freshman will skip (a few beats) with joy. Freshman have been promised horses, polo ponies, field guns, pistols, and uniforms.

It is expected that these advantages will lure about 650 Freshmen to the R. O. T. C. that the War Department has so thoroughly equipped.

Interviewed, President Angell remarked: "Every student should consider the advantages which this training holds out to him and the chance which it presents to discharge an important part of his duty as a free citizen in a free republic."

Said Dean Jones, "The Great War was a college man's war"; students are good officer-material; preliminary training would make them more valuable.

SIGMA PHI FOOTBALL TEAM IS ORGANIZED

Fraternity Boys Will Play Defiance On Saturday, According to Reports

According to reports emanating from Wilmington, the Defiance team of that city will play a team composed of Sigma Phi Epsilon boys from the University of Delaware, on Saturday next. The game will take place in Wilmington.

The Sigma Phi boys have an abundance of football material in their organization, including several members of this year's Varsity. Captain McKelvie, Torbert, Lohman, Kramer, Wegmann, Gibson and several others are expected to make up the team which will face the Wilmingtonians.

COBB AND PATTERSON ADDRESS BOY SCOUTS

"Delaware Night" Sunday In Wilmington Council

The fourth session in the community boy leader training program at St. Andrew's parish house, Wilmington, held Sunday evening was given by the University of Delaware in co-operation with Wilmington Council, Boy Scouts of America. It was a sort of University of Delaware night. The two chief addresses were delivered by University of Delaware leaders.

Professor William Patterson, the instructor in modern languages, spoke on the topic, "The Boy and the Spirit of Adventure." A. D. Cobb, the State club leader and who because of the great respect and esteem with which thousands of Delaware boys and girls hold him is called "Dad" Cobb, although he is a young man, addressed the class on "Boy Nature."

Miss Betty Hart of the Blue Hen Farms, near Newark, was the winner of the Sunday Star's recent picture coloring contest, which ran in that paper for the past several weeks.

Little Miss Hart received a $5 prize last week, and a third prize award earlier in the contest.

Captain McKelvie and Captain Roth staged a merry battle all afternoon. Two good linemen against each other make the fury fly.

Fair rooters in abundance were present in galoshes, slickers and sou'westers. They needed them.

As soon as everybody had become nicely seated in the covered grandstand, everybody decided to get up and go out on the field again.

We saw George Carter and another 200-pounder pass in a narrow aisle—and with some to spare, too. Encouraging news for the stout.

Doctor Sypherd, in a terrible state of dishabille, was right on the bench all afternoon. His usual precise appearance was conspicuous by its absence. Like H. R. H. The Prince, he confounded the onlookers with his boots and rakish hat. We expect to see the vogue present itself shortly.

Faculty Loses Game To Senior Team 12-0

Dr. Manns' Hirelings Have Great Potential Strength— Seniors Run For Long Score

By MR. JOE SPYRIS

The ancient and honorable struggle between the Senior Class team of the University, and the harder members of the Faculty was waged again on Frazer Field yesterday afternoon.

At the close of the matinee, the Seniors were discovered to be in the lead. Some say it was due to two touchdowns; at any rate the published score is 13-0 and everyone believes what they see in print.

Tilghman ran long and robustly for the first touchdown, and later, again took the ball over the prostrate forms of the scholarly group. The goals were even, as in bridge.

Many Potential Stars

Despite the hordes of substitutes thrown into the breach by Coach Gibson of the Seniors, the Faculty remained practically intact until the end. They disdained relief, or something like that.

Dr. Manns, the generalissimo at large of the Wise Men was off and on—the field, of course. His trusty cap was in place. His extraordinary plays, many of them, like Napoleon's tactics, devised on the spur of the moment, often swept through the Seniors like wind in the attic.

The Faculty really didn't play up to their potential strength. That was freely admitted, even by Billy Hayes, and Doctor Patterson. Imported for the occasion were several new "professors," no doubt appointed at the meeting of the Trustees that morning. Dick Cole, Mr. McWhorter and Ted Dantz, hoary sages of the classics and the Faculty Club, threw away their crutches, took off their false whiskers and assisted in the obsequies. The Agricultural end of the College was well represented, as were the Chemical boys. In the former group, Willis, Mott, Manns, and Russell were very potent, while the Synthetic Quartet, G. Baker, his brother, Myers, and McWhorter were very clever, indeed.

It might also be mentioned that the Seniors inserted into their lineup an international influence, when Walker and Lank, formerly of the Sorbonne, entered into their positions. The Sorbonne, by the way, must not be confused with the Bellevue-Stratford or the Washington House. It's not a hotel; it's a place where the Delaware Foreign Students and a few French boys go to school in France.

Well, as the fellow says, that didn't make any neverminds, except that the game took on a rather cultural aspect, in short, artistic tone, if you get the delicate comparison. Indeed the entire function smacked strongly of a comaraderie peculiar to mad dogs in a crowded street car.

Astonishing Formations

Both the Faculty and the Seniors used plays of every vintage. In this respect, the Sages confined theirs to the mid-Victorian Era. The Seniors decided upon a more recent period from which to draw their inspiring end runs.

In the last canto, be it said, the Faculty thrilled the boisterous spectators with some very choice advances—advances which, as Dr. Sypherd would so pungently say, were destined to gather momentum and inspiration, until they would carry the battle to the shadow,—yes, the very deepest shadow of the goal line.

To analyze the game is one thing; to let George Do It is a much easier thing. Sufficient to say this: both teams gained acres and acres; but the Seniors seemed to get closer to the fences. The punting was exceptionally enjoyable. Some of them actually went for fifty yards (25 up and 25 down). Mr. Tilghman (he seems to get into this article too often) even went so far as to rush through the crowd with the ball tucked under his arm, while he waited for somebody to catch up with him. Then they had a dog fight and—oh lots of things happened to make it one of the most enjoyable frolics ever seen on the Field. And I don't mean perhaps.

EUROPEAN CARS
BETTER THAN OURS?

For the first time, a specific comparison is here drawn by a leading American manufacturer just back from Europe, between foreign and American cars, which makes clear the reasons for American superiority of manufacture.

By A. R. ERSKINE
President, the Studebaker Corporation
Two of the world's greatest automobile shows were held in October at the Grand Palais, Paris, and Olympia, London. The number of firms exhibiting at both shows exceeded considerably the number which exhibit at our annual shows in Chicago and New York, but the character and quality of their automobiles, bodies, parts and accessories were certainly not superior to ours.

Different conditions in Europe and the United States explain the numerical superiority of the foreign shows.
With the exception of two or three manufacturers in both France and England, all producers of motor cars sign visitors. It was estimated that over 100,000 people visited the Grand Palais on each of the two Sundays upon which the show was open, and 700,000 during the eleven days it continued. The same interest prevailed in England. Such attendance proves that public interest in motor cars is as keen in Europe as it is with us. Both shows were an unqualified success from every standpoint.

Most Cars Tiny

Another marked difference between the automobile industry in Europe and America is in the size of cars produced.
Perhaps three-fourths of all European makers produce small cars. Many of these cars are of short wheelbase and of treads as narrow as 46 inches, against the American standard of 56 inches. Small tires and low road clearance are common, as are open cars seating two and three people, with quite flimsy tops.

Small bore motors with high compression, under speeds of from 3,000 to 4,000 r. p. m. prevail.

Owners are accustomed to climbing hills in second gear which American cars breeze over on high.

Andre Citroen, the Ford of France, has five plants in Paris which are now producing 300 cars per day and are being enlarged to produce 500 per day. He is producing over half the cars sold in France. His product consists of a 5 H. P. car, the threeseater of which sells for 11,800 francs, and a 10 H. P. priced at 16,500 francs.
He will sell perhaps 50,000 cars this year. Renault ranks next, with an output of about 35,000. The total French output will approximate 100-000 cars.

Morris-Cowley is the Ford of England. Their small car, 11.9 H. P., four-seater, sells for £195, and their 14 H. P. for £285. This concern is probably producing one-half of the cars made in England. Numerous other concerns in France, England, Belgium, Italy and Germany are producing small cars.

America produces nothing comparable to these European small cars, as the reasons which compelled European manufacturers to make them do not exist in America.

Taxes Govern Size

Europe was forced to build them because of the basis of taxation, which generally is a high tax on horsepower. The French tax is 36 francs per H. P. on cars of 10 H. P. and less, and 44 francs per H. P. for those from 10 to 20 H. P., and 52 francs per H. P. for those above 20
H. P. The Belgian tax is 30 francs per H. P. and the English £1 per

H. P. But France has also a 10 per cent luxury tax on the French cars.
These taxes compare with something like 25c per H. P. in the United States.

The mathematical formula used by practically all countries to determine horsepower rating is admitted by engineers to be grossly inaccurate, and yet the government uses it as a tax basis. Without attempting to describe the formula, it can be said that the actual horsepower of an engine can be determined only by test, and cannot be arrived at by formula, because it involves not only horse-stroke and speed, but the additional factors of compression ratio, valve size, valve lift, timing, weight of valve-rocker parts, and the nature of ignition; also manifold design, density of gas, and frictional resistance.

Citroen advertises 20 H. P. as the effective power of his 5 H. P. car.
Morris-Cowley advertises 30 H. P. as the effective power of their 11.9
H. P. car.

High Speed Motors

They actually get the higher power from these small engines by running them fast under high compression, but buyers pay tax on the formula rating. American cars like the Ford, Chevrolet and Overland have much bigger, slow speed, normal compres-sion motors, whose buyers must pay much higher taxes. Consequently, the European small cars have a big advantage.

Large European cars with slow speed, normal compression motors, comparable to American made motors, come within the luxury class, and buyers pay about the same taxes as American cars of the same kind carry.

These cars, like Buick, Studebaker, Nash and others, are marketable in Europe in competition with the local product, while our small cars which appeal to buyers of limited means suffer by comparison. All European countries except England have a tariff on motor cars, which is 15 per cent in France and Italy, and American manufacturers have this disadvantage. Gasoline is from 50 per cent to 100 per cent higher in Europe than it is in our country.

Quietness, durability, comfort and performance are vital factors in motor car satisfaction. They are impossible of attainment by high speed, high compression motors. Slow speed, moderate compression American motor cars afford them in high degree.
Our cars are likewise unsurpassed in the world in design, quality and appearance.

PROTECT YOUR CAR IN COLD WEATHER

Local Studebaker Dealer Gives Timely and Valuable Suggestions on Care of Car

"The average car owner is seldom in a position to know just what must be done to his car in the winter to approach as nearly as possible conditions as they exist in warm weather. For this reason, says Charles W. Strahorn, local Studebaker dealer, the following suggestions should be carefully observed by automobile owners."

Anti-Freeze Solution

Before any anti-freeze solution is used, the water circulating system should be inspected for leaks, and repairs made, if necessary. It is usually a good plan to replace hose connections at this time of the year. Do not use anti-freeze preparations containing calcium chloride or other similar compounds, as they corrode the inside of the radiator.

The only satisfactory solution of which we know is alcohol and water. Denatured alcohol is preferred, but wood alcohol can be used. Wood alcohol often contains free acetic acid and should never be used unless it is known to be free from acid. If acid is present, damage to the radiator will result.

The following table shows different proportions of mixtures with temperatures at which the solution will begin to freeze:

Denatured Alcohol	Water	Will begin to freeze at 10%	90%	27°
20%	80%	19°
30%	70%	10°
40%	60%	2° below zero
50%	50%	18° below zero

Glycerine is sometimes used with alcohol to reduce the evaporation to a minimum. However, it is rather expensive and also has a tendency to damage the rubber hose connections. If glycerine is used, mix the alcohol and glycerine in equal proportions and use this mixture in the same percentage as alcohol in the above table.

It must be remembered that it is necessary to add alcohol from time to time to replace what is lost due to evaporation. Whenever necessary to fill the radiator, to replace loss by evaporation, use a mixture of 40 per cent water and 60 per cent alcohol.

Fan Belt Adjustment

During extremely cold weather the fan belt can be loosened, which will reduce the flow of air through the radiator and thereby allow motor to run warmer than it otherwise would.

Radiator Cover

It will assist greatly in approximating the summer temperature of the motor if a radiator cover is used. With a radiator cover that is adjustable, a large part of the radiator can be covered, allowing the motor to readily warm up, and then adjusted to a suitable opening to keep the motor running warm but still not allowing it to overheat.

News Oddities

Foreign Students Getting Along Despite Inclination To Stick To English Language

Professor Kirkbride, Writing From Paris, Outlines Early Course of This Year's Activities

In Bulletin No. 13, issued by Professor Raymond Kirkbride, director of the University's Foreign Study Plan, now in its second year, an outline of the work completed so far has been given. The Bulletin, in part, reads as follows:

"The Delaware Foreign Study Plan is no longer an experiment. With 16 months of successful operation behind it, the project has passed from the theoretical stage to the place where actual facts can be demonstrated. The outcome of the initial year was more than satisfactory, and the second year, now four months gone, gives every promise of showing equally good results.

"The pioneer group of students completed their 12 months in France last June. The eight members of the group continued to the last to do honor to themselves, to the Plan, and to the University. Every man earned his 'credits' for the courses pursued in France. Every man acquired a gratifying fluency in the use of the French language. Every man became familiar with the best in French civilization and French culture. Every man learned to appreciate and apply the French student's method of individual study and research. Possibly most important of all, every man extended his horizon to at least one other continent, and through the year's experience in a foreign country developed a broad-minded world outlook that could scarcely have been obtained in any other way.

"The total expenses of the year's program (1923-24)—including cabin passage both ways between America and France, board, laundry, etc., for 12 months, tuition, books, and private lessons, operas, plays, and excursions—were kept well under $1200. When it is remembered that the students lived comfortably, traveled comfortably, and that most of the year was spent in Paris, by no means the cheapest city in the world, this cost figure is remarkably low.

"The most serious problem encountered during the year was the use of English by the members of the group among themselves and among the other English-speaking people with whom they came in contact. This regrettable evil partially nullified the efforts of the majority of American students in France today. Most of them stubbornly waste 12 out of the 16 waking hours of every day speaking their native language. The Delaware men succeeded in reducing this 75 per cent loss of time very considerably, perhaps to somewhere around 25 per cent. However, the difficulty persisted until the very last, and is again showing up as the chief stumbling-block of the new group.

"The second year's work is now well under way. The new group arrived in France in July, and started in at once on their preliminary drill in French. The three-month stay at Nancy was successfully completed on September 26, when every member of the group received the diploma of the 'Cours de Vacances' of the University of Nancy. Since then, similar training is being pursued here in Paris at the Alliance Française, and will be continued until the last of October, the end of the preliminary drill period.

"Two of the year's excursions have already been made. The first, August 14-17, included Wiesbaden, the Rhine, Cologne, Düsseldorf, and the Ruhr, with a visit to the big Thyssen Steel Works at Hamborn, and a glimpse of the Krupp Works at Essen. This very exceptional opportunity of seeing the Ruhr was made possible by the generous courtesy of the French Occupation authorities, who placed staff cars at the disposal of the group. The second was a 7-day trip to Grenoble, Mont Blanc, Geneva, and Dijon, September 27 - October 4. This trip included not only the impressive beauty of Mont Blanc, the 'Chânes des Alpes,' the 'Moucherotte,' etc., but also interesting visits to one of Grenoble's principal glove houses and to one of Geneva's oldest watch factories. The excursion was made all the more enjoyable by the kind hospitality of a member of Delaware's Faculty, Prof. Mosher, at Grenoble, and by the cordial reception of the 'Bienvenue Suisse' at Geneva.

"The winter term, or regular college year, will open according to schedule on Monday, November 3, when the group will take up their courses at the Sorbonne and at the Ecole Libre des Sciences Politiques, with private lessons in French at the Institut du Pantheon. In general, this year's program will repeat that of last year."

RAYMOND W. KIRKBRIDE.

Know what's underneath the paint before you buy

YOU wouldn't think of buying a house without first knowing how it is built and the quality of materials used. In selecting a piece of furniture you are sure to find out whether it is solid wood or veneer.

Yet many people who exercise care in most purchases buy automobiles without even lifting the hood or knowing about the hidden qualities of body and chassis construction that really determine one's satisfaction with a closed car.

We want you to know about the unseen qualities of the new Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Down underneath its superb body finish is a sturdy framework of carefully selected ash, glued together and fastened in place by screws—not nailed. Ash is scarce and expensive, but Studebaker uses it because it best combines proper weight and strength.

Upholstery is genuine mohair of high quality. Various grades of mohair look much alike—the big difference is in the quality.

Beneath this mohair covering are many nests of cushion springs, padded with heavy burlap, upholstery cotton and curled hair. Almost any car seems comfortable on the showroom floor, but it's quality such as this that makes the Studebaker Standard Six remain comfortable after years of service.

The same standards of excellence are maintained throughout the body and chassis. In the engine, for example, the crankshaft is completely machined on all surfaces, a practice that results in the smooth, quiet, vibrationless performance that characterizes all Studebaker cars.

Judged solely on what your eye can see—in beauty of line and finish and exterior refinements—the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan will command your instant approval.

But go deeper than that. Compare its hidden, vital qualities—its design, materials and workmanship—with cars selling for hundreds of dollars more.

Studebaker never compromises—never uses a substitute for genuine quality. Studebaker has been building quality vehicles for 72 years.

Come in and let us tell you the "inside story" of the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Sixth Annual Thanksgiving Dinner Held Last Night At The Men's College

Former Governor Miller, H. Rodney Sharp, Dr. Hulihan, A. G. Wilkinson and Others Among Speakers

HON. CHARLES R. MILLER

Former Governor of Delaware who spoke at the student Thanksgiving dinner last night.

The Delaware College family gathered once more along the festive board last night. It was the occasion of the sixth annual Thanksgiving dinner given for the student body and invited guests.

From the comments of those who have attended several previous dinners, indications are that the annual jamboree grows bigger and better as the years roll by. Certainly no dyspeptics or pessimists were present.

Students, faculty members and their wives, out-of-town guests, and members of the staff of the College, were all carried away by the occasion. Fully 500 people were seated in the Commons when the dinner began. The lights were lowered and candles flickered at intervals on the long white tables, giving the scene a truly old fashioned aspect. The guests entered the dining hall to the strains of the College Orchestra. The same orchestra rendered valiant service throughout the evening's fun.

Splendid Dinner Served

Miss Marion Skewis, dietitian at the college was in charge of the dinner. It was a sumptuous affair, with turkey leading the march to the platters. Then, of course, there were all the fixings which go to make up a Thanksgiving dinner. Generous portions were served, topped off with a delicious salad and ice cream in blocks. Cigars and cigarettes were placed on the tables. The dinner was efficiently served by a corps of Delaware student waiters under the direction of Albert Krewatch, head waiter.

Among those seated at the speakers' table were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Evans, John G. Leach, president of the Student Council, President and Mrs. Walter Hulihan, Ex-Governor Charles R. Miller, Dean and Mrs. George E. Dutton; Dean Merrill VanG. Smith, Dr. George A. Harter, H. Rodney Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Wilkinson. The invocation was pronounced by the Reverend T. G. Hill, of Smyrna, Del., and the benediction by the Reverend Daniel J. Givan, of North East, Md.

Delightful Program

From beginning to end the after dinner program was well fitted to the occasion. The speakers were brief and interesting; plenty of good music livened the occasion, and a persistent wave of choral efforts by the entire gathering kept everyone in a high good humor.

William P. White, armed and fortified with his famous "harmonikker," was right on the job. After leading a few old favorites, continued calls for a solo, brought out the ancient mouth organ, and "Bill" delighted the crowd with the very latest hits, including "Yes, We Have No Bananas," "The Old Gray Mare" and other outbursts.

Time and again the students and guests got away from their leader and blissfully sang their own songs. The good-natured White was the life of the song-fest, however, and the program was really held up several minutes while the gathering received their fill of singing.

John Leach, toastmaster of the evening, introduced Dr. Walter Hulihan as the first speaker. Prefacing his remarks by several humorous quips, the President of the University urged his hearers not to forget to be thankful for public spirited men have done for the old College, and for the great strides forward it has taken in the past ten years.

Former Governor Miller, when called upon, pleaded that the students go back to their homes this Thanksgiving season and try to acquaint the home folks with the problems and work being done at old Delaware. He spoke of the great growth of the college as an omen of a distinguished future.

"Not only is the University of Delaware progressing rapidly, but what is more important it is progressing substantially. To me," he continued, "it does not seem more than a few years ago since the enrollment of the entire school comprised only 50 scholars, but now we have an enrollment of 600 in Delaware College alone."

Others who spoke at the dinner were Dean Dutton, Dr. Sypherd, A. G. Wilkinson and H. Rodney Sharp.

Mr. Sharp caused a roar of approval when he announced that on January 7 next he will give a dinner at the College for every student and their fathers. "Father and Son" dinner it will be called. Following this announcement, Cheer Leader Green leaped to a chair and led the throng in a big yell for Mr. Sharp.

The musical program, interspersed in the speeches was delightfully given. It included with a solo by Miss Lillian Gordone, which included a Russian folk song. Two piano selections from Chopin were played by Jefferson D. Chalfont, Jr.

General T. C. du Pont, senator-elect from Delaware, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Robinson, the former Governor-elect, were invited to attend but found it impossible to be present.

The splendid evening came to a close when the audience rose and heartily sang the Alma Mater.

Professor Heim Addresses National Conventions

Professor R. W. Heim, of the Agricultural Education Department of the University of Delaware will address the David Grayson Club of the Laurel High School on Thursday evening of next week, at their annual banquet. Following that he will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of State Directors of Vocational Education, which will hold its session in Indianapolis on December 9th and 10th. He will address the Convention on "Suggestions for Obtaining State Appropriations and Legislation."

Immediately following this meeting Dr. Heim will speak at the National Society of Vocational Education, held in the same city, on "The Weakness in State Supervision."

FORMER NEWARK BOY WRONGLY ACCUSED

Wesley Wollaston Not Driver of Car Which Caused Claymont Tragedy

Early reports of the fatal accident Saturday night last at Worthland, near Claymont, Delaware, when George Tryon, a member of a serenading party, was struck and killed by a passing car and others were injured, indicate that the driver of the car was Wesley Wollaston, of Wilmington, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Wollaston, of Newark.

It was later learned that Wollaston had no knowledge of the fatality, but that Benjamin West, also of Wilmington, drove the car which crashed into the serenade procession. West had no driver's license and was using Wollaston's at the time. When arrested, he gave the Newark boy's name, and a fictitious address. Later he retracted former statements made. He is being held in the Chester, Pa., police station on a charge of manslaughter. A companion, Lafayette Cooper, is being held as a material witness.

Tryon was a member of a party serenading Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Walber of Worthland, who had been married that evening. The couple were riding in a carriage drawn by the merry-makers when the car crashed into them.

ROAD WORK STARTED

Last Wrinkle on Kemblesville-Newark Highway Ironed Out

After a last minute delay when neither New Castle County or Cecil County claimed about 100 yards of the road near the junction of the State lines, everything has been straightened out to the satisfaction of all concerned, according to reports emanating from that locality, and work has started on the bad stretch between Pennsylvania and Delaware. Cecil County road builders have their materials and mixer on the ground, and their part will be cement. County Engineer Grubb will use cinders on the few yards in his territory for the winter and in the Spring will rebuild it to conform with the hard surfaces on each side.

Fire having destroyed the cottage in which President Garfield died at Long Branch, N. J., a memorial tablet will be placed to mark the spot.

Female Deer Seen

Close To Newark

For the first time in many years a deer has been seen within a few hundred yards of the town limits of Newark.

The animal was last seen Monday of this week grazing in T. F. Manns' tract of land south of Elkton Road. A few days previous, it was seen grazing with cattle in a field near Glasgow. Sportsmen hereabouts are at a loss to account for the animal's presence on the lowlands. An opinion is advanced that it was driven out of Pennsylvania or Maryland forests by fire or lack of water.

It is strictly against the law to shoot deer in this State, according to a Newark sportsman, and it is urgently hoped that no one will destroy the harmless creature. If it is seen, let it alone.

Mail Early!

The Shop Early, Mail Early campaign inaugurated by Postmaster General New last year proved to be an unqualified success. It was of great benefit to the people and also enabled post office employees to deliver all the Christmas mail before noon on December 25. The Department again this year asks the hearty cooperation of the public in order that the record made last year may be equalled, if not excelled.

When you shop early and mail early you are helping the clerks in the post office to eat their dinners home and you are greatly benefiting yourselves. You have a greater chance to secure a better selection of gifts from the stores, you have more time to wrap them securely and you are sure that they will arrive at their destination in time to be opened Christmas morning. You are also relieving the burdens on the clerks behind the counters in the stores, and you are giving a practical demonstration of the good will that Christmas time signifies. Acting Postmaster General, John H. Bartlett, requests that you refrain from using small envelopes in sending your Christmas cards as this very greatly retards the sorting and distribution of the mails.
