

Joseph R. Murphy Wins Jaycee Distinguished Service Award

Local State Representative Chosen From Six Nominees For Newark Jaycee Award to 'Outstanding Young Man'; Grover C. Gouker, Jr., Addresses Bosses' Nite Banquet

Joseph R. Murphy received the Newark Jaycee Distinguished Service Award last night as "Newark's Outstanding Young Man Of The Year." The third annual Distinguished Service Award and Bosses' Night Banquet was sponsored by the Christiana Hundred, Millcreek, and Newark Jaycees at the local Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge.

Murphy, who resides in Brookside, was elected in November, 1966, to his first term as a member of the Delaware House of Representatives.

A Korean War veteran, he is a supervisor for Avon Products, Inc., at the local plant. Dr. Arthur P. Mayer, local veterinarian and city councilman, received the award last year.

Murphy was selected from six nominees for the Distinguished Service Award, including Alden Bugher, Dixon Falls, William T. McLain, J. Vincent S. McMullan, and Philip Sova.

Attorney Franklin Biffert received the award from the Christiana Hundred Jaycees, and Phil Dahlinger, ass't principal at Stanton Junior High School, the award from the Mill Creek Jaycees.

Grover C. Gouker, Jr., past national Jaycee vice-president, was the guest speaker; and Alfred V. Rogers, former Delaware Jaycee vice-president, was toastmaster.

Gouker delivered an inspirational talk, citing "personal satisfaction in knowing that you are one person who has accepted his personal responsibility" with an effort to make the world a better place in which to live.

He said that there were two kinds of people in the world—"leaders and leasers"—and that the "leaders" were outnumbered 20-1 by the "leasers," that it is "tough to be a leader," and "everybody wants to criticize."

"If there's anything we don't need, it's more lip service about service," Gouker declared.

A lifelong resident of Hanover, Pa., he has conducted a personal Christmas project of writing more than 12,000 letters to children over the past 17 years. John A. Maiz, president of the Newark Jaycees, and Ronald P. Mayer was chairman of the local Distinguished Service Award project.

Compulsory ROTC For New Students Abolished At U.D.

Voluntary Military Course To Begin Next September With Incoming Freshmen

The University of Delaware has made ROTC military training at the university voluntary rather than required, effective next September. Students already enrolled at the university will be required to complete the two-year basic ROTC course in order to graduate. This affects students enrolled in the freshman and sophomore classes.

Last fall, the compulsory Reserve Officer Training Corps program sparked more than six weeks of student and faculty protest against the university's administrative decision. A group of students disrupted an ROTC drill and suspensions followed.

In 1964, the U.S. Dept. of Defense abolished requirement that land-grant colleges offer two years of compulsory ROTC to male students. University officials feared at that time, however, that Delaware would be unable to maintain its military science program if the first two years were made voluntary.

Rapid growth in enrollment makes it feasible to establish a voluntary program at this time, university officials advise.

The Army requires that at least 100 freshmen enroll in the program and that at least 25 commissioned officers graduate each year.

Father For Four Frank B. Hodgdon Succumbs In Fire

Thiokol Official Dies As Family Escapes Fire In Arbour Park Residence

Father of four, and a Thiokol official at the Elkon plant, Frank B. Hodgdon, 44, died early last Tuesday when fire swept through his home in Arbour Park, Newark.

Hodgdon's wife and four children were rescued by neighbors who brought them down a ladder from a second-floor window of the dwelling at 314 Lark Drive.

Newark's Aetna Hosiery and Knit Goods Co., located at 101 a.m. after the New Castle County fire dispatch board received a call from a woman reporting "the whole house is on fire."

Two Newark policemen, Patrolmen Lawrence O. Thornton and Gary R. Lake, were on the scene before firemen arrived. They joined neighbors, including Morton Rosenberg, 312 Lark Drive, in getting ladders to the bedroom windows.

The children, Richard, 16, Carolyn, 15, Frank, 12, and Susan, five, escaped unhurt, but Mrs. Hodgdon was taken to Wilmington General Division where she was treated for shock and released.

Fire Chief Franklin Beers said the first floor of the home was a mass of flames when firemen arrived.

He said particular praise should go to the two policemen, who, after entering the home by ladder through the second floor, tried to get downstairs but were driven back by fire.

Upon arrival, firemen learned that Hodgdon was still in the house, probably trapped down stairs. His body was found in the kitchen.

William M. Donohue, Newark fire marshal, said the cause of the blaze is still under investigation.

Chief Beers said the first floor of the home was gutted and other sections of the house were extensively damaged by heat.

Hodgdon, in charge of program management services at Thiokol, was responsible for public relations, all technical editing, photography and printing.

A native of Portland, Me., he began work with Thiokol 10 years ago as technical editor.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, he served in the Army from 1943 to 1946.

Hodgdon and her children are living temporarily at the home of her sister, Mrs. Alan Miller in Fairfield.

Wife Finds No Fault With Gene Brasher Spending Time With "Well-Bred Tomato"

Eugene P. Brasher

When you sit down at your next fine meal, you may owe a word of thanks to a University of Delaware professor as well as to the chef.

Eugene P. Brasher, professor of horticulture at Delaware, has spent nearly 30 years developing new and improved varieties of vegetables.

Products that are sweeter, more disease-resistant, more attractive in shape and color, and greater in yield are the results of his patience and scientific know-how.

Brasher's most recent breeding experiment has led to the development of the Hi-Red garden beet. This high-quality beet was produced from crosses between a long-season, highly-colored, unnamed beet reproduced for generations by an Indiana family, and a commercial variety, Perfected Detroit. One of the progenies from this cross was backcrossed with Perfected Detroit, which was backcrossed with Perfected Detroit again.

It took nearly 23 years of selective breeding and testing before Hi-Red was named and released to seed companies for production.

Hi-Red, much superior to common varieties grown today, has a sugar content varying from six to 10 per cent. Its color is a rich, deep red, a particularly desirable quality to processors using beet juice to make food palatable and colorful.

The Campbell Soup Co. found Hi-Red contained all the nutrients prominent than the average of 21 other varieties tested.

Brasher also is responsible for developing the Delaware Belle pepper, the Delsher tomato, and the Golden Perfection cantaloupe.

He is working on a new variety of tomato for mechanical harvesting in a one-over operation.

The Delaware Belle pepper already has been a nationwide commercial success, but the Delsher tomato, which combines the names of the state and the horticulturist, has become most popular locally.

Hybridization and selection programs leading to Delsher were begun in 1949. No other garden tomato variety has surpassed its productivity, quality, fruit size, color, length of producing season and resistance to common diseases such as Fusarium wilt.

Individual test plants have produced over 30 pounds of tomatoes in a 90-day harvest period.

Professor Brasher's new tomato variety will have just the opposite characteristics of Delsher. Selecting a Canadian plant that bears its fruit in a short period of time, he crossed it with leading commercial varieties to obtain a productive plant that ripens most of its fruit at one time.

The lack of farm laborers has created a need for a plant of this kind which can be mechanically harvested in a single operation.

Brasher's research in this area already has led to considerable success. On a test farm, 24 tons per acre were produced in a single harvest—a huge yield. But such results are not obtained overnight.

The project has been under way for 10 years!

Fortunately for commercial processors and food lovers everywhere, Brasher has an understanding wife. Not once in 30 years has she objected when her husband casually disclosed that he spent the day with a well-bred tomato.

Paris Walters Invites Newark Residents To Visit Western Branch For YMCA Week

Paris Walters, chairman of the YMCA Week committee, invites fellow Newark citizens to be guests at the Western Branch YMCA in conjunction with YMCA Week, Jan. 21-27.

During the week, several special programs are planned. On YMCA Sunday, Jan. 21, churches will have YMCA youth members as guest speakers.

Promotional flyers will be distributed in several thousand homes, telling about the YMCA family program, and any civic clubs wishing to have high school youth as speakers for the month of February are invited to call Steve O'Neill at the "Y."

The Western Branch YMCA historically originated with the merger of the Newark and Southwest branches in order to build a facility to serve residents in both areas. It is located on the Kirkwood Highway near the overpass by the Meadowood Shopping Center, and there is a large sign to help Newark residents spot their local YMCA.

Over 500 families now enjoy their annual full privilege memberships in the Western YMCA. Membership includes each member of the family to 30 weeks of swim lessons, physical fitness classes, social activities, and adult and children's Y-ed classes.

In addition, there are family swims and open pool sessions for various age brackets. Every weekday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., there is an adult free swim, and from 5:30 to 6:30 there is men's swim.

In addition to full privilege family memberships, there are adult male, and young adult memberships for men 18-25.

The chamber's current membership drive, aiming at doubling the present 150, has brought in 37 since it was inaugurated Jan. 1, according to Campaign Chairman Robert Angstadt.

Dr. Russell W. Peterson, director of research and development for the DuPont Co., was guest speaker, and Dr. Ruben V. Austin, dean of the college of business and economics at the University of Delaware, was toastmaster.

Dean Roy M. Hall To Leave U. of D. For Georgia Post

College Of Education Dean To Return To Native State At New School Next July 1

Dr. Roy M. Hall, dean of the college of education at the University of Delaware since 1962, will become dean of the school of education at Georgia State College in Atlanta on July 1.

A native of Georgia, Hall will become the first dean of the new school which opened last September.

"Though we regret that Dean Hall has decided to leave the University of Delaware, the university can understand his desire to return to his native state of Georgia," Acting President John W. Shirley said.

"Dr. Hall has been a fine representative of teacher education in this state and during the six years he has been dean of the college of education."

Under Dean Hall's leadership, the college of education, which recently moved into completely new facilities, has become the fastest-growing of the university's seven undergraduate colleges. To serve its 1,220 undergraduate students, it has expanded both its curricula and its faculty.

A graduate of Piedmont College, Hall received his master of education degree at Emory University and his doctorate at Syracuse.

For 11 years he served as principal and superintendent in the public schools of Georgia before joining the Syracuse faculty as a research assistant and lecturer.

In 1950 he became administrative assistant and, subsequently, assistant director for the Southwest Cooperative Program in Educational Administration. Later, he became professor of educational administration, director of the Southwest School Administration Center and acting chairman of the department of educational administration at the University of Texas.

In 1958, Hall became assistant commissioner for research and director of the division of statistics and research services in the U.S. Office of Health, Education and Welfare, and was a member of a United States delegation to Russia to study education.

He married the former Leila D. Dupree, also a native of Georgia, and the Halls have a son, Roy, Jr., and daughter Leila Elizabeth.

VandePoole, succeeding Frank F. Pierson, Jr., who retires from the society on Feb. 15, has worked in the health field since his release from military service 10 years ago.

He has served as assistant executive secretary of the society for the past three years.

A native of New York City, he graduated from Newark High School, received a bachelor's degree from the University of Delaware, and a master's degree from New York University.

After serving in Japan as an Army lieutenant, he joined the Delaware State Board of Health in 1957 as a health educator. In 1962 he was appointed public health advisor in the U.S. Public Health Service division of accident prevention, serving in that position until he joined the Delaware Tuberculosis and Health Society.

During the past three years, VandePoole has been active in society programming, and cooperative efforts with schools and public agencies.

Portions Of Budget Approved, Senior Center Fund Rejected

Council Approves Five Of 13 Sections Of 1968 Budget; Rejects Senior Center Request For $8,000 Operating Fund; 14.77-Cent Tax Increase Pending Bond Approval

Five of 13 sections of the proposed, revised municipal budget for 1968 were approved for the expenditure of more than $2.5-million with a 14.77-cent tax rate increase pending freeholders' approval of a $2.1-million bond issue for capital improvements, and an $8,000 appropriation requested by the Senior Center, Inc., for operating expenses this year was rejected in a 4-3 vote at a special meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night that was recessed at 11:33 p.m. until Monday, Jan. 29.

Expenditures of $1,152,647 in the electrical division; $620,962 for the water department; $221,682 for sewer service; $140,252 for refuse disposal; and $557,857 for the street division received final approval with council's consideration of the revised budget.

Preliminary approval was given earlier in the evening to the budget for planning, financial administration, and legislative and judicial divisions of the revised budget in amounts of $42,248, $110,487, $59,328, and $69,603.

Alternatives In a discussion of the final section of the budget—the recreation department, Mayor Norma B. Handloff cited "one of two alternatives—full scale on M-1 or subvention for the Greater Newark Recreation Association." A full scale recreation department involves operating expenses of $61,230 and capital outlay of $319,000.

City Manager Edward R. Stiff and Finance Director Albert K. Martin explained that the operating portion of the budget—$2,745,180—could be financed out of general revenues at the current 65-cent tax rate, but that proposed capital improvements and debt retirement of $2,077,550 would require a 14.77-cent tax increase over a 30-year period with public approval of a proposed bond issue.

Martin said that a 19 to 20-cent tax increase over the present 65-cent rate would be required next year for operations to meet a deficit of some $150,000 "with services included in this budget."

Tax Rate For 1969? Councilman Arthur P. Mayer cited a possible "8 1/2" tax rate in 1969.

and according to the referendum for approval of the $2.1-million bond issue this year, said that he was "disturbed that this is going to the voters as a complete package with the chance that it will be voted down, and everything will go down the drain."

Baldwin Reports New Savings Plan For Farmers Bank

O. H. P. Baldwin, chairman of the board and president of Farmers Bank, has announced inauguration of a savings service. The new type of passbook Gold Seal Savings Account, will earn interest at the rate of five per cent per year, compounded quarterly.

The bank guarantees this rate of interest for a period of five years and funds remaining on deposit for that length of time will produce an average annual yield of 5.64 per cent. Withdrawals may be made after 90 days written notice, and interest will be paid in full from date of deposit to date of withdrawal.

Deposits in a Gold Seal Savings Account must be $100 or more. In citing advantages of the new Gold Seal account, Baldwin said "The customer has the satisfaction of maintaining his savings in traditional passbook form while earning increased interest."

"Since all funds are commingled in a Gold Seal Savings Account, it is not necessary for the customer to keep track of maturity dates."

"Furthermore, withdrawals may be in any amount up to the total balance in the account," Baldwin concluded.

State Democratic Clubs Plan Feb. 24, Banquet

Music will be provided by Paul Wilkinson.

Staff Introduced By Western YMCA For Newark Area

Wayne Tatman, G. Mease,
Steve O'Neill Head YMCA
Program As Professionals

The Western Branch YMCA, serving residents of the Newark, Conrad, Dickinson and Alexis I. du Pont school districts, introduces its professional staff.

Wayne R. Tatman, executive of the Western Branch YMCA, is a native Wilmingtonian; graduated from Wilmington High School in 1966 and received his BS in agriculture from the University of Delaware in 1966.

At the university, he was a member of Kappa Alpha social and Alpha Zeta honorary fraternities, and of the Society for the Advancement of Management.

He is a captain in the U.S. Army Reserve, and a member of Old St. James (Stanton) Episcopal Church. He and his wife Patricia, reside at 2202 Dombey Road, Sheridan Square, with their two children, Ricky and Lynn.

Employed by the YMCA as youth and family director, and as program director at the Brandywine branch, he was program and residence director of the Central branch where he worked with adult educators in forming the Association for Continuing Education of Adults in Delaware. He is a certified professional YMCA director.

Glenn Mease and Steve O'Neill are program directors. Born in Nutley, N.J., Mease received a BA in psychology from Colgate in 1964, and at Springfield College on a John R. Mott Fellowship. He earned a master of education degree in community leadership.

He has been with the Western YMCA since 1965 except for a recent six-month tour of duty as an Army Reservist.

Before his tour of duty, Glenn worked with the elementary program, and upon his return, was assigned high school work with the 35 Newark and Christiana Hi-Y clubs. He is a member of Red Clay Creek Presbyterian Church.

Steve O'Neill hails from Richmond, Va., where he graduated from the University of Richmond with a BA in religion in 1965. He went on to graduate school, attending Central Michigan University with the Charles S. Mott intern fellowship program. Upon receiving his master's degree in education administration, Steve came with the Wilmington YMCA as a program director for the community extension program.

When Mease left, Steve came to the Western "Y" as elementary program director in charge of Indian Guides, Indian Princesses and day camp. In addition, he works with the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs at Conrad, Dickinson and A. I. du Pont. Steve and his family are members of Bethany Baptist Church at Newport.

The staff of the YMCA invite you to come in and meet them and enjoy a guided tour of the "Y" facilities on the Kirkwood Highway near Meadowood Shopping Center.

Improved Parks, Recreation Plans Supported By LWV

After a year's study of the park and recreation situation in Newark, members of the local League of Women Voters believe that Newark needs and can afford an improved park system and recreation program. They support a plan to acquire land and to improve existing facilities under direction of professional personnel.

League members are interested in finding ways to make other sites, such as school buildings and playgrounds, more useful to all people of the city.

In discussing use of school facilities, it was recognized that the schools cannot support a large recreational program with money raised for educational purposes, however the city can support such a program and can provide supervision when school facilities are made available.

"Members are quite encouraged with steps that are being taken in this area, and believe that someone, such as a city parks director, who can initiate action and supervise the development of parkland," Mrs. Harry Hutchinson said.

Members of the study committee headed by Mrs. Arnold Clark, are preparing information they have collected, to make it available to the public.

Ask Doctor's Help For Mental Illness

It's as outdated as being embarrassed or to hesitate about seeking professional help for mental illness as it is to cling to tin washbuds, drip-pain ice boxes and wood stoves.

There have been such great advances in the treatment of mental illness, says the Council on Family Health, that a business man today can go about his job, and a housewife can carry on her life as a homemaker while they are undergoing treatment. In fact, the medical routine for mentally ill patients is very much like that of a heart or diabetic patient who leads a normal life even though he requires regular medication and checkups.

This does not mean that mental illness is no more of a great medical problem. What it does mean is that remarkable progress has been made in recognizing, diagnosing and treating certain kinds of mental illness. New drugs are available which enable the mentally ill to benefit from psychiatric care. For the eleven straight year, the number of patients in state and county mental hospitals has decreased.

What steps can one take — if one suspects mental illness in the family? The Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by members of the drug industry to promote home safety and family health, makes a few suggestions:

Consult the family doctor. He can guide you to further expert professional help if it is needed.

Consult your local hospital and clinics.

In the case of children, discuss the problem with members of the school staff.

In many cities, advice may be sought from the courts, social agencies and community centers.

The problems of mental illness need not be faced alone. Help should be sought when the problems become apparent, without delay.

SENIOR CITIZENS REJECTED

Newark City Council rejected a request for $8,000 in municipal funds to continue operation of the Senior Center this year, and although the 4-3 vote of rejection was close, it was decisive—and the rejection ridiculous.

On a coldly practical basis of financial accounting and budgeting, the Senior Center request for an additional $8,000 could have been denied. But based on a warm, common-sense approach with real love and respect for older folks—and upon sound economics, too—the money should have been allocated in far less time than required by the debate that resulted in rejection after 11:30 last Monday night.

The city has invested $20,805 in what was a worthless building, ready for razing, and approval of the additional amount requested would have resulted in a total of $28,805 in property that is reportedly assessed at over $30,000 with improvements made by the senior citizen group. A loan shark would relish such collateral.

The Senior Center project was initiated by the Newark Soroptimist Club to "serve and enrich the lives of older people"—to teach and revitalize skills; aid with solution of problems for the elderly; and as a senior citizen said with real feeling concerning her contemporaries, "Above all, to provide them with the opportunity to serve the community."

The Senior Center has done all of this—and more—and is an outstanding, heart-warming example of a successful effort to provide renewed interest in their lives for older people who have helped establish benefits enjoyed by younger generations.

City Council

Staff said that the "15-cent phase is up to the voters," with reference to a current year tax increase with approval of the proposed bond issue.

Councilman Olan R. Thomas proposed that city appropriations for the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co. be increased from $10,000 to $15,000; that $100 be allocated for civil defense eligibility; and that $25,000 be appropriated for use by the Greater Newark Recreation Association in cooperation with the city manager. And council approved these allocations.

Senior Center

Councilman David H. Doehliert opposed a request of $8,000 for operating expenses of the Senior Center, pointing out that that city subvention of $9,960 for a total $20,805 for the Senior Center, Inc., last Sept. 12, it had been stated by center officials that "no further requests" would be made.

Doehliert said "senior citizens do not have a voice in election" of their board of directors, and cited "$15,000 in renovation" of the Senior Center, the former city waterworks building.

With the Senior Center still under discussion at 11:15—the meeting had been extended from the 10:30 deadline to dispose of this item on the agenda—Mayor Handloff proposed a recess until another night. But Thomas opposed such a recess, and urged settlement of the problem with an appropriation of $8,000 for the senior citizens despite the fact that council had been told there would be "no further cost" after the last city contribution.

Improvements

"The building and property does belong to the city," Thomas said of the Senior Center, adding that the senior citizens group "have the building in shambles so that it is appraised well above $30,000."

"These folks are entitled to this—if not, nobody is," Thomas concluded of the requested $8,000 subvention for a total city investment of $28,805 in what he termed had been a worthless building.

Former Councilman Fred Wakefield, spokesman for the Senior Center, Inc., explained that the request for $8,000 was being made with curtailment of anticipated federal funds, and that the money was necessary for current operating expenses.

"I haven't opened my mouth all night on this," Councilman William M. Coverdale said of the Senior Center discussion, and Mayor Handloff agreed "It's your turn."

Vote Slated Today On Assembly Halt At Chrysler Plant

After a week-long strike, members of United Auto Workers Local 1183, were reported today to vote today on a tentative local agreement.

If the agreement is approved, assembly lines at Chrysler's Newark assembly plant could start rolling as early as tomorrow morning, according to Holly Bandy, president of the 4700-man local.

Local 1183 and nine members of the union bargaining committee arrived home from Detroit last night to arrange for the vote.

Union leaders declined comment on proposals, but Bandy said "Our bargaining committee is very much pleased with them."

Aetna Store, Chrysler Plant Win United Fund Awards

The United Community Fund of Northern Delaware has begun the final phase of its "Thank You Week" program with the announcement of 93 awards in recognition of fair-share giving.

Awards include an Award of Excellence for groups achieving 95 percent of their fair-share goal. Fair-share goal is described as one-half of one percent of the firm's gross annual payroll.

The Award of Excellence has been presented to 25 area firms or corporations, including Aetna Stores, Newark Store 6261, and the Chrysler assembly plant.

Councilman William E. Frame said "I don't believe this deficit should be limited to the city, and for that reason, cannot vote for it," and Councilman Frank J. Osborne, Jr., objected to the $8,000 allocation because it was "not for the benefit of the entire city" with those residing elsewhere in the city.

Councilman Mayer cited "GNRA and other appropriations" made by the city; that the $8,000 was a "small sum," and added that "senior citizens have contributed to the development of the city."

Colburn Hall Fire Damages Reported At Est. $75,000

Students Escape Sunday From Dormitory Blaze; Hocutt Injured In Fall

A fire in Colburn Hall at the University of Delaware campus last Sunday caused an estimated $75,000 damage and routed 145 male students into the chilling rain. All students were able to return to their rooms later in the day, however.

Newark Fire Marshal William M. Donahue said that he was conducting his investigation into the fire which swept through the 150-ft long lounge area of the dormitory shortly after 11 p.m. Sunday.

One student was injured, a freshman, Dr. John E. Hocutt, vice-president of student affairs, sustained minor cuts and bruises after he slipped and fell running from his home to the fire scene.

Raymond Lynch, a junior from Milford said it was the fourth time this semester that there has been a fire in the 10-story-old structure. Donahue said closed fire doors confined the blaze to the lounge and except for some smoke and water damage, the rest of the building was not harmed.

The alarm was reported at 10:36 a.m. as dormitories officials raced through the four-story brick and poured concrete building to evacuate students.

Fire Chief Frank Beers of the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co., said the lounge was fully involved when the first equipment arrived. Witnesses said the flames shot out as high as the roof.

Two university students had been studying all night in the lounge and had fallen asleep about 4:30 a.m. Both were dormitory residents. Final examinations are scheduled to start at the university this week, and it is traditional for students to be found in dorm lounges studying at all hours.

The fire was brought under control about 11:15 a.m. after some 150 firemen responded to the two-alarm blaze.

Along with Newark firemen were volunteers from Singery of Elkton, Md., Christiana, Mill Creek, Cranston Heights, Hockessin, and Five Points fire companies.

Colburn Hall was built in 1957 and named for the late Dr. Allan P. Colburn, professor of chemistry and former university provost.

Stafford Reports Delivery Of New City Directory

F. Racine Stafford, president of the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce, reports that new editions of the Newark City Directory, published by R. L. Polk & Co., have just been delivered to subscribers and are ready for reference use.

"Your new Newark City Directory," Stafford said, "is a reference guide to help you determine one's title, occupation, address, telephone number, marital status, and if he is a homeowner."

Eighteen is the minimum listing age. Stafford stated, and there are 19,000 names listed.

The proposed appropriation of $8,000 was defeated in a 3-4 vote with Coverdale, Mayer and Thomas favoring the proposal.

Start Now To Put Yourself In Shape

Your doctor recognizes the importance of exercise to health. The American Medical Association points out that exercise, or lack of it, is often a significant factor in the control of obesity, diabetes, heart and circulatory problems, orthopedic disease and emotional disorders.

Fitness developed through vigorous activity and exercise can be preventive, as well as therapeutic, in nature.

In a positive sense, health includes abundant energy and vitality. A healthy person is physically fit when he can perform his daily work and tasks with undiminished energy, maintain adequate reserves of energy to enjoy recreational activities and leisure, and meet the challenge of unexpected demands. This might be running to catch a train, quickly climbing several flights of stairs, shoveling snow, or jacking up the car to change a tire.

Can you go up several flights of stairs without severe discomfort, chest pain, or having to stop before you reach the top? You would expect to be puffing a little at the top, but this should subside soon if you are reasonably fit.

The best exercise is doing something physically active which you enjoy, with the exercise part secondary. If you enjoy swimming or tennis, or handball, these are excellent sports for exercising most of the body. Golf is good for the tired businessman. Most of us, however, find it difficult to exert the mental discipline to keep at it.

a program of daily calisthenics purely for the sake of exercise.

If you have had little or no exercise for years, be cautious about plunging immediately into active sports. Work up to strenuous exercise gradually.

There are simple tests by which your doctor can determine the extent of your physical fitness. If you flunk the tests miserably, and many of us will, then ask your doctor to prescribe a simple, daily exercise program to help you get back in shape. 1-68

BRIDGE GAIN

Delaware Memorial Bridge traffic increased by 87,957 vehicles last December over the same month in 1966, a gain of 8.1 percent. In his monthly report to the Delaware River and Bay Authority, General Manager Theodore C. Bright said there were 1,368,480 crossings in the last month of 1967, compared with 1,080,523 vehicles in December, 1966.

BLOOD DONORS

Forty-seven Wilmington policemen and firemen have volunteered to provide for the blood needs of guests at the Home of Merciful Rest, according to Dr. William H. Lockwood, president of Blood Bank of Delaware, Inc.

Dry heat can kill a mosquito because its body cannot efficiently control loss of moisture. This is why most mosquitoes will not fly in hot dry sunshine.

Robert W. Lang Selected As GWDC Economic Director

The Greater Wilmington Development Council has announced the appointment of Robert W. Lang of Newark as director of economic development.

Paul A. Wilhelm, GWDC executive director, said Lang will provide staff services to three standing committees of the organization—the planning, recruitment, and new firm recruitment committees.

Lang has been employed by the DuPont Co. for the past 13 years and has experience in market development and venture analysis.

An industrial engineering graduate of Johns Hopkins University, he earned a master's degree in business administration at the University of Delaware, with his thesis analysis of mass transportation in Wilmington.

Deputy Cities ACS Benefit For Hunters, Fishermen

Both sportsmen and farmers have a big stake in wildlife conservation practices carried out on New Castle County farms under the agricultural conservation program, according to Harry Deputy, chairman of the agricultural stabilization and conservation county committee.

"Special food and cover plots established with ACP help since the wildlife phase of the program was first authorized in 1962, have made a substantial contribution to improved hunting," Deputy declared. Fishermen, as well as hunters benefit from conservation measures carried out under this cost-share program, too.

Spotlight on HEALTH

Wipe Out Home Accidents

There's no place like home—for accidents. The National Safety Council estimates that in 1966, home accidents killed 29,500 persons and incapacitated 4,400,000 others for a day or longer.

Studies indicate that 9 out of 10 home accidents are preventable. You can take the first step in prevention right now by inspecting your home, room by room, eliminating hazards as you go.

Appliance controls and medicine should be kept well out of children's reach, and pot handles should be turned away from the front edge of the stove.

To prevent falls, provide strong handholds and a rubber mat for the tub, and be sure all throw rugs have a non-skid backing.

Disconnect all electric appliances before putting your hand near "live" elements or moving parts. And make it a habit to pick up all objects which might trip someone, and to wipe up all spilled liquids promptly.

Also make it a habit to keep first-aid supplies on hand.

If a burn, cut, or abrasion breaks the skin, cleanse the injured area thoroughly. An antibacterial ointment to cover the wound is often required. One such—Neo-Polycin antibiotic ointment—has a special, nongreasy base and combines three of the most effective antibiotics. It is stable, can mix with oils and skin tissue without losing effectiveness; will not stain clothing, and is easily removed by washing.

If bleeding cannot be controlled, or if a burn covers an extensive part of the body surface, call a physician at once.

For further information, write to the National Safety Council, 425 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill. 60611. A 100-page study of accidents, called Accidents Facts is available for $2.40.

benefit from conservation measures carried out under this cost-share program, too. Ponds for fishing, as well as those for wildlife, erosion control, or to provide water for livestock are providing recreation for more and more sportsmen.

$44,100,000 for Expansion in 1968

Most of us try to anticipate the future to a certain degree. We plan for a new or larger home, for the children's education, for a comfortable retirement.

In our business, the promise of a bright future requires planning, too. Right now, we have our sights fixed on five, ten, fifteen and more years into the future with your needs for electricity in mind.

In 1968 alone, planned construction projects throughout our service area on Delmarva will require the expenditure of $44,100,000. This is the largest one-year "progress budget" in our history.

Here's what this record sum will be spent for: 1) work on a new, additional 167,000-kilowatt generating unit at Indian River Power Station in southern Delaware; 2) installation of an improved air cleaning device that will greatly reduce the amount of solid dust emitted by the Delaware City Power Station; 3) construction of several high-voltage transmission lines to strengthen the transmission network throughout the system; 4) continuation of DP&L's participation in the construction of the Keystone and Conemaugh power stations located in the coal fields of western Pennsylvania; 5) a proportional share in the construction of the nuclear power plants being built jointly with three neighboring power companies; 6) extension of gas system transmission and distribution facilities.

That's a good way to start off a New Year, isn't it?

Geraldine Wyatt Reports Decrease With Job Offers

Competition may be as keen as last year, but recruiters in business and industry appear to be showing more restraint this season in making beginning salary offers to college seniors.

Last January, the number of offers reported for technical students was up 25 per cent over January, 1966. In the corresponding period this year there has been a 26 per cent decrease, according to an announcement by Mrs. Geraldine M. Wyatt, director of placement of the University of Delaware, one of the institutions participating in the College Placement Council's 1967-68 survey of beginning salary offers to college seniors.

The biggest factor in the decline is reduced activity of the aerospace industry. Traditionally, aerospace offers have accounted for the largest share of the volume in salary survey reports.

The number of offers for non-technical students has dropped also, but only slightly.

Offers to advanced-degree candidates have declined in number even more sharply than those for bachelor-level students. The master's total is down 40 per cent while the doctoral-candidate figure is 45 per cent lower than last year.

In terms of average dollar value of offers to bachelor's candidates, the chemicals and drugs group is in the midst of what appears to be a paradox. Last June, at the end of the 1966-67 recruiting season, it stood third both in volume and actual dollar value. This year, in the first reporting period, it has dropped to seventh in volume but has risen to the top in dollar average, going from $715 to $747 a month.

Electronics employers, first in June at $718, are second with an average of $742.

Tied for third at $735 are aerospace and electrical machinery.

By curricula, chemical engineering students are continuing to receive top dollar offers. Their average has gone up 6.0 per cent to $777. Next are mechanical engineers at $753; electrical engineers at $752; and industrial engineers at $749.

Aeronautical engineers, third in June, have slipped to sixth with an average figure of $755.

The average offer for all technical curricula is $748, a rise of 3.8 per cent from the June closing of $720.

William H. Amos Writes 2nd Book In Nature Series

A research associate of the University of Delaware Marine Laboratory has contributed a second volume to the McGraw-Hill series "Our Living World of Nature."

William H. Amos describes impact of changing seasons upon pond life and the fascinating ways in which plants and animals have adapted to fresh water in "The Life of the Pond," the ninth volume in the series.

He also is author of "The Life of the Seashore," the second volume. In addition to his research work with the university marine staff, Amos is chairman of the science department at St. Andrew's School, Middletown, and has been a senior visiting investigator at the Marine Biological Laboratory in Massachusetts, where he serves as a consultant in biophotography.

A few years ago, he was a member of the Smithsonian-Bredin Expedition to the Lesser Antilles.

His new volume contains more than 100 color pictures, includes a guide to common pond plants and information on collecting, keeping, and studying them.

"The Life of the Pond" was produced jointly with publishers of the World Book Encyclopedia and developed with the cooperation of the U.S. Dept. of the Interior.

Suburban Hospital DuPont Co. Grants Progress Reported At Local Meeting

At the January meeting of the Suburban Hospital Committee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hurn, Jan DeLong, assistant director of the Health Facilities Planning Council, outlined current progress in studies of hospital and nursing home needs of New Castle County.

In-depth studies are being made independently by two consulting firms, and some results of these studies should be available in a few months.

Previous studies indicated that during the next decade, the hospital bed need will become acute, particularly to handle the tremendous population growth in the western section of New Castle County.

Plans are in process to involve all interested agencies in an effort to coordinate planning for future hospital growth as it will affect the greater Newark area.

Further information may be obtained from the Suburban Hospital Committee, P.O. Box 925, Newark, or by calling Jim Anderson or Larry Rosero, committee chairmen.

DuPont Co. Grants Of $233,000 Aid Delaware Colleges

Grants totaling $233,000 have been awarded to the University of Delaware and Delaware State College in the DuPont Co. aid-to-education program.

A total of 145 colleges and universities shared in grants of more than $2.1 million in the 50th anniversary year of the program.

C. B. McCoy, DuPont president, noted that the company was among the first to provide grants in support of the nation's educational institutions.

"In 1918, as today," he said, "our primary goal was encouragement and support of those components of the educational establishment on which the corporation depends, directly or indirectly, for trained manpower and new knowledge. Strengthening the teaching of science and engineering is an important part of this effort."

The university's grant of $225,000 is for a wide diversity of activities, including funds for a program in inter-collegiate education.

Delaware State College was awarded a grant of $7,500 in chemistry to help in activities beyond ordinary financial resources.

Bank Of Delaware Saving Certificate Benefits Increase

Bank of Delaware, which six years ago became the first bank in the state to offer savings certificates, has announced an increase in interest rate and more liberal terms on both five-year interest-by-check and five-year growth certificates.

Beginning last Monday, Bank of Delaware offers five-year interest-by-check certificates carrying a guaranteed five per cent a year interest rate. Interest will be paid quarterly.

Five-year growth certificates are guaranteed to pay five per cent interest per year, compounded annually.

Al Mann's 4-0 Vikings Tie For BHC Lead; Swayze, McCarns Pacers In Bulldog Win

Coach Al Mann's victorious Vikings are tied with P. S. du Pont for the Blue Hen Conference basketball lead with 4-0 records after Mann's men disposed of Brandywine and Dickinson in last Tuesday and Friday outings.

Christiana stopped the visiting Bulldogs from Brandywine 43-32 last Tuesday night with Jerry McCarns and Lee Swayze sharing high scoring honors in 15-point performances, and playing away from home last Friday night, the Vikings defeated Dickinson 50-37.

Swayze paced the scoring against Dickinson with 16 points, and Verne Orndorff was runner-up with 11.

Christiana contained Brandywine's offensive gestures in the first period to a slim four points, and the Vikings led 21-13 at the half.

Brandywine topped their hosts 10-9 in the third quarter, but Christiana surged on with a 13-9 advantage in the final frame for the 43-32 fourth win.

At Dickinson, the Vikings led the scoring in each period, and were

New York Traffic Slows Hen Cagers For Hofstra Loss

Arriving at Hofstra Fieldhouse only 25 minutes before the starting whistle last Saturday after a New York City traffic tie-up, Coach Dan Peterson's Blue Hens lost 90-74 to the Flying Dutchmen for Delaware's third setback of regular season play.

The trip from Newark to Hempstead usually takes 3½ hours, but last Saturday the trip took 5½ hours, and two of them were spent in New York traffic.

Despite their late arrival, the Blue Hens jumped off to a 4-0 lead, but then their hours of frustration caught up.

Hofstra hurried to a 7-6 lead and widened the margin to 46-34 at intermission.

Delaware moved up to within seven points midway through the second half on three straight field goals by Vic Orth, but Hofstra checked the threat and coasted home.

Wandy Williams paced the Flying Dutchman attack with 29 points, 16 in the first half.

Kenn Barnett topped the Delaware scorers with 16.

"Hofstra played very well," Peterson said, "and Williams was terrific. But we weren't sharp."

"That 5½ hour trip took something out of us, and I don't think we were ready to play. Our legs were dead."

Flynn's Hens Top Lehigh; Bob Johnson Sets Record

Coach Jim Flynn's Flyin' Hens won their second indoor track meet of an undefeated season last Friday night, defeating Lehigh 87-21 at Delaware Fieldhouse.

Bob Johnson broke his own mark at 114 in the 60-yard run with a 1:13.5 clocking.

Bruce Regental won the long and high jumps.

Flynn's feet-footed Hens return to action Jan. 27, at the Pitt Invitational.

Several cold hours of the latter—while thinking with longing of the former—we decided to call it a day.

"This ice fishing is tough enough when you're catching fish," Mr. Young frowned in winding up his frozen line and the afternoon with a jiggling stick.

The only reason we didn't quit sooner, was in contemplation of the uphill drive over the winding, frozen trail through the woods from the Pratt's home, back to the cleared, dry, level, paved highway to Newark.

With ordinary but smooth instead of cleared snow tires, there appeared to be an excellent chance that we would have to abandon the car in the brush. But things worked out happily for the Pratt—they had no snowbound guests as the car carried us surprisingly but safely and smoothly up and over a classic wooded ski run.

And we did bring home three yellow perch—in a solid block of ice chipped from what had been a hole where a more fortunate but less discriminating angler had discarded his catch.

With the seven yellow needs that the Billy from home had caught in fishing along with Billy and Jackie Richards at Car Cove the day before, they made a good fresh fish fry.

Far out near the mouth of Car Cove, we saw an angler toss a big yellow perch onto the ice where it flopped twice before freezing stiff—and three other fishermen beat us to the area where they promptly cut adjoining holes to get in on this apparent bonanza. But that was the last fish we saw taken.

Staring down a pair of cold noses into the gray-green North East River water that welled up through some six-inches of ice, we jigged away with a pair of shad darts while the wind whipped with increasing intensity as our enthusiasm ebbed.

"Dick Pleasanton should be here," H. G. Young managed through numbed lips. "It would make him appreciate Florida."

Gibby was referring to the professional skipper-fisherman of the Young Lady, now berthed at Boynton Beach on the Sunshine State's East Coast, where at the moment Captain Pleasanton and Mate Stan Semervell probably were complaining about the solar heat reflected from the azure Gulf Stream and steaming up under the Bimini top of the flying bridge.

Gulf Stream trolling for marlin, sail, wahoo, kingfish, dolphin, amberjack, and barracuda in January is in marked contrast with jigging for yellow needs through a hole in the North East River ice, and after

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Ripened Late

Of the 40,000 or so Thoroughbreds that race each year, less than 700 prove to be stakes winners. Generally, if a horse doesn't win a stakes race at the age of 2 or 3, he's not likely to, but there are exceptions. Styneie won a stakes race at the age of 4, where Hirsch Jacobs obtained him for $1,500. Styneie went on to win $918,485, but he didn't win a stakes race until he took Aqueduct's Grey Lady Handicap as a 4-year-old.

No Styneie perhaps, but a record breaker of a sort is the old grey mare Clarice M., who won her first stakes in the Sweepstakes Handicap at California's Stockton Fair last summer at the ripe age of 6.

What makes Clarice M.'s accomplishment worthy of note is the fact that she had never been

Two Viking Forfeits To Weight, Injury Block Coach Ken Klimek's Win Over P.S.

A pair of hard luck forfeits spelled the difference between winning and losing for Coach Ken Klimek's Vikings in hosting P. S. du Pont last Friday night in the Christiana gym. The visiting Dynahs defeated the Vikings 25-20, with Christiana giving up 12 points when George was unable to make 95-lbs. in the opener, and 165-pounder Frank Forshey was unable to continue after leading Friedman 4-3 after 2:44.

George, moving up to 103-lbs., stopped Cohen 13-0, and then the Vikings dropped the next three matches.

Kurt Lovejoy lost a 5-0 decision to Donovan at 112-lbs.; Brant Perkins in his first varsity match was defeated 5-2 by Godowski at 120; and Roger Reed was pinned by Robinson in 2:44 after leading 5-0 and almost scoring a pin during the first minute of the torrid test.

Co-Capt. Gerry Hopper put Christiana back on the score board with an 11-1 bit of mastery over J. Stippo at 133; and Co-Capt. John Hall, 133, defeated Shapiro 3-0.

John Redding pinned Griffin in five minutes flat of the 145-lb. match, and in what Coach Klimek terms the outstanding bit of wrestling of the evening, Fred Walters edged Stippo 17-14 at 154-lbs.

Tom Meccariello mastered Hrysak 8-0 in the 180-lb. event, and heavyweight Dennis McAlexander was pinned by P. S. du Pont's Friedman in 4:20 of the final match.

McAlexander pulled a muscle in the heavyweight bout, and is expected to be out of action for the

Fulghum's Cagers Win 3rd Straight As Tucker Stars

Coach Francis Fulghum's Yellowjackets won their third straight basketball game last Tuesday night for a 3-1 second place standing in the Blue Hen Conference A-Flight race, with All-State Quarterback Bob Tucker scoring 32 points as Fulghum's cagers walloped winless Dickinson 77-56 in the Newark gym.

Tucker, on the sidelines with other regular starters Gary Hayman and Wayne Masado during the first period, sank 15 field goals and two-four from the free throw line.

At Conrad last Friday night, Tucker and Hayman paced the Newark scorers with 18 and 17-point performances, and Hayman hit on five out of seven from the foul line.

The Yellowjackets play a non-conference game at Gunning Bedford this Friday night, and the Delaware City cagers lead the B-Flight with a 3-0 record.

Newark returns to A-Flight play next Tuesday at New Castle with the 1-2 Wm. Penn Colonials.

Varsity games are scheduled for 8 p.m., after 6:30 jayvee contests.

Newark plays at Elkton this afternoon, and at Kennett Square on Friday next game at 3:30.

Perkins, McCormick Cop Final Two Bouts For Undefeated Newark Win Over Conrad

Tied with Conrad at 17-points with two matches remaining last Saturday afternoon in the Newark gym, Coach Andy Marcantonio's undefeated Yellowjackets handed the Redskins their first defeat of the new Blue Hen Conference wrestling season as Eric Perkins and Gerry McCormick won decisions in the 180-lb. and heavyweight wind-ups.

Perkins defeated Dambach 6-4, and McCormick stopped Darrah 7-4 to nail down the Yellowjacket team win.

Joe Sadot lost an 8-2 decision to Conrad's Arterbridge in the 95-lb. curtain-raiser; but Ron Matthews evened things up for Newark by taking a 14-2 decision over Andrus at 160-lbs.

Co-Captain Craig Nau, undefeated in 12 bouts over two seasons, defeated Minor 4-3 at 112-lbs. for a 6-3 Newark edge, but Conrad moved out in front of the 9-6 count by taking the next two matches.

Mike Kerstetter, 120, lost a 6-2 decision to Harrison, and Ron Johnston lost to Kempksi 9-1 at 126.

Steve Jones tied things for Newark again by edging Panico 10-7 in the 133-lb. event, and Co-Capt.

Delaware Cagers Lead Middle Five With 5-0 Record

Delaware continues to lead the Middle Five in its first season of basketball competition.

Coach Dan Peterson's squad, 5-0 in Middle Five play, is the only unbeaten team in the new alignment.

Bucknell, Delaware, Gettysburg, Lafayette and Lehigh play each other twice during the season with the Middle Five championship decided on a percentage basis.

"We still have the toughest part of our Middle Five schedule coming up," Peterson notes. "We have the two games with Gettysburg plus a game at Bucknell in the second half."

Gettysburg is in runner-up spot in the Middle Five with a 1-1 record. The Bullets are followed by Bucknell (1-2), Lafayette (1-3) and Lehigh (1-3).

LACROSSE CLINIC
The annual Lacrosse Coaches Clinic will be held this Saturday at the Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia at 10 a.m.

The Blue Hen swimmers won six of the 11 events.

Bob Locke, competing in the 200-yard individual medley for the first time, was a winner.

In the freshmen meet, Delaware scored a 61-30 triumph.

Dennis Carey broke one Delaware record for the Frosh, and Jack McDermott shattered another and tied one.

Rawstrom's merman face semester exams before their next swim meet with visiting Drexel on Feb. 9.
