PRODUCE GROWERS WINNING

The corn business survey in the New Castle County area has been completed by County Agent J. Bausman. This area comprises the Hockessin, Fairview, Stanton and Elton communities. At the present time records of 93 farms have been taken. This number will be raised to 100 farms. The purpose of the survey is to make an analysis of the records of these 100 farms with the thought of determining the systems of farm organization, management and marketing that paid best in this area. This information will form the basis for the program of work of the Extension Service in this area. Based upon casual observation of the records, a few pertinent facts are evident.

Speaking of the survey, Mr. Bausman said: "The records show that there is a wide variety in types of farming within this area. The types of farming range from a very intensive type, such as those farms whose main enterprises are truck crops, poultry and dairy produce, to those farms having as their major enterprise the production of corn, wheat, hay and dairy produce."

Methods of Feeding

The records of many farms show that the cost of purchased poultry and dairy feed is a major item of expense. The record taken on one farm, for example, indicates some possibilities in economic feeding of livestock. This farm had about 12 head of dairy cattle with an average milk production per cow of about 8,000 pounds per year. The production of the poultry flock was creditable. The major feed crops grown on this farm were corn, oats and alfalfa hay. The ration for the dairy herd consisted of ground corn, ground oats, and chopped alfalfa hay supplemented with mixed hay. The ration for the poultry flock was cracked corn, wheat and oats for scratch feed, and ground corn, ground oats and ground alfalfa for mash. The Extension Service, said Mr. Bausman, at this date is not ready to endorse this system of feeding. However, as the labor income of this farm was about $2,000, and as dairy and poultry produce were the two major sources of income, it is apparent that this system of feeding suggests important possibilities in livestock products.

Curb Market

The records show that the amount of time spent on the curb market by the different farmers was rather uniform. Yet some farmers sold only $200 to $300 worth of produce on the curb market while others sold as high as $2,500 to $3,000 worth of produce. It is apparent that if this first group of farmers is to receive remuneration for the time spent in marketing their produce, it is necessary that they increase the volume of produce sold.

RECTOR'S GIRL SAVED

Eleanor Virgin, 10, of Elton, Has Narrow Escape

Eleanor Virgin, ten year old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. Frederick Virgin, of Elton, on Saturday accompanied by a young sister, ventured too far out on the ice on Big Elk Creek. She went through the ice and had gone down a second time when rescued by G. Reynolds Ash of Elton. And Ralph Rees, a merchant of Chesapeake City. Mr. Ash was driving his automobile over the bridge, when he saw the child struggling in the icy water. With a plank and a rope the two men managed to pull the girl out of the water.

BUSINESS MEN TO DINE HERE JANUARY 28th

Warren A. Singles, secretary of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, announced this morning the date of the annual meeting of the Chamber. It will take the form of a dinner-session and will be held on Thursday evening, January 28th, in the Commons of Old College Hall at the University. Annual reports of committees and the election of new officers and directors for the year will, no doubt result in a record attendance of members.

It is confidently expected in some quarters that a definite report on the prospects of gas for the town will be made. No confirmation of this rumor could be had today, however, as President J. K. Johnston is out of town on a week's business trip.

Tickets for the dinner will be distributed in a few days, said Mr. Singles.

BETTER HEALTH P-T. A. SUBJECT

H. V. Holloway, State School
Head, Coming Here for Speech Tuesday

An important meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association has been called for Tuesday evening, January 26th, in the High School building.

Dr. H. V. Holloway, state superintendent of public instruction, is listed as the speaker of the evening. A musical program will also be given.

In commenting on the meeting, Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson, president of the local association, said yesterday: "Doctor Holloway will tell what the State Board's plans are for health education. You, fathers and mothers, want to be there to ask Doctor Holloway how we can best adapt these plans to the needs of our community. Come to the meeting that we may talk over, together, plans for making and keeping our children's bodies healthy and 100 per cent efficient."

"We are offering two prizes to the rooms that have the largest per cent of parents present at the meeting."

WANT WAR CANNON

Elkton Rotarians Petition War Department For Gun

An effort is being made by the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club of Elkton to secure a war trophy for Cecil county from the War Department which has at its disposal in Maryland twenty-four captured German guns. Of these there have been allotted seventeen. The American Legion sponsored the movement, which has been taken up by the above named organizations and it is expected that a cannon will be given to Elkton.

Herman Connor Making Fine Record On Boys' Club Work

County Club Agent Ed Willim, Jr., has been in Dover on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, attending the State Corn Show and the annual meeting of the Delaware State Farm Bureau Federation. These meetings were held in conjunction this year for the first time.

Mr. Willim has several corn club members exhibiting at this corn show, as well as having several boys entered in the boys' judging contest to be held on Thursday afternoon. George Cook, Paul Jaquette, and Herman Connor, all of near Newark, are exhibiting their corn grown last year, at this show. George has been a consistent exhibitor at these State Corn Shows and has always brought home several of the prizes offered in the boys' class. At the show held last year he won the cup offered by the Dover Rotary Club for the best exhibit in the boys' class. This cup is offered yearly and becomes the permanent possession of its winner each year. George has been very active in club work for a number of years, according to the Club Agent's statement.

School Heads Gather Here For Meeting

Round Table Conferences Mark Session of Principals' Association Here Yesterday; Many Districts Represented; Hear of Health Crusade

Eighteen public school superintendents and principals of Delaware were guests of the Newark Board of Education yesterday at a general conference in the new High School building on Academy street.

In a program replete with interesting and timely subjects, the feature was an address in the morning by Milton Fairchild of Washington, on "Character Education." This activity, fostered best in the schools, has, according to Mr. Fairchild, developed into a major project among principals and teachers. He said that of all the objects of a school the three most important were:

1. Transmission of Knowledge.
2. Development of Ability, Skill and Health.
3. Maturing of Character.

Following Mr. Fairchild's address, the meeting was opened to discussion, with nearly every member of the Association joining in suggestions or asking questions.

Health Crusade

An illuminating talk on the Health Crusade being waged in Delaware schools was given by Mrs. Edna Palmer Upton, widow of the former director of the Rehabilitation school here. Mrs. Upton is a prominent figure in welfare work in the state and has full charge of the Crusade.

Howard M. Lewis, new field director of the D. I. A. A., also spoke briefly in the way of greetings from that branch of education.

Court House, Wilmington, January 20, (3 p. m.)—The State continues to offer testimony in the trial of James Woolman for manslaughter, arising from the death of Miss Mildred Congdon of the Women's College staff.

Philip L. Garrett, attorney for Woolman, had not opened his case late this afternoon.

It was reported from a spectator in the court room, this afternoon, that Woolman's conviction seems problematical from evidence so far introduced. Several Newark people have testified.

The talk will be supplemented by 100 stereopticon slides. Sponsors of the lecture cordially invite the public to attend. Mr. Ellsworth will speak again Wednesday morning before the students at College Hour on "The English Bible."

Seniors At Court

The entire Senior class of the Newark High School attended court in Wilmington today. Teachers and class leaders in the group hastened this morning to discredit rumors of a blanket summons to the bar of justice, however. They are making the trip as supplementary work in connection with their studies in Civic Government. Miss Anna Gallaher had charge of the group.

Edw. Yemmon, North East Taxi Driver, May Be Murder Victim, Police Assert

Car Found on North College Avenue Yesterday Afternoon Leads to Investigations by Delaware and Maryland Officials; Suspect Being Quizzed Today

Discovery of a Ford sedan on North College avenue, adjacent to the University campus here yesterday afternoon, and the subsequent finding of blood stains on the upholstery, developed today into what is believed to be a murder mystery, according to police of Delaware and Cecil County, Maryland.

The victim of the supposed attack is Edward Yemmon, 22 years old, a taxi driver of North East, Md. Yemmon has been missing from his home since early Monday evening.

Samuel Downham, 25 years old, of Elk Mills, is being held in Elkton jail for questioning regarding the alleged crime.

DOHNHAM QUIZZED BY ELKTON SHERIFF. STILL BEING HELD

Samuel Downham, 25, of Elk Mills, is held in Elkton jail under suspicion of the murder of Edward Yemmon, of North East, it was learned this afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Buckworth at the jail, in a phone message to The Post at two o'clock, stated that the prisoner had been questioned this morning by Cecil County officials, but that no charges had as yet been preferred. He was recommended to a cell in the jail for further questioning.

"It looks bad for him," was the only comment from Deputy Buckworth during the conversation. He added that all efforts to locate Yemmon had failed to date.

"They were seen together at 4 o'clock Monday," said Mr. Buckworth. "That is the only clue we have to work on."

DEATH CLAIMS VETERAN MILLER

Custis Johnson, Glasgow, Was Highly Respected Resident;
Funeral Today

Custis W. Johnson, for twenty years a miller in the employ of J. Irvin Dayett, feed and flour manufacturer at Cooch's Bridge, died Saturday last at his home near Glasgow. He was forty-three years of age. Death was caused by an attack of pleurisy. His condition was weakened by the recurrence of Bright's disease.

Mr. Johnson was a native of Millsboro, Delaware. While a young man he moved to Glasgow and there raised a family of seven children. He was a member of Salem M. E. Church and took an active interest in the affairs of the community. He was an expert miller and a veteran employee of the Dayett firm.

Funeral services were held today from Salem M. E. Church, with interment in the adjoining cemetery.

Any "Hams" Today?

Newark housewives may be interested in this story:

An affable gentleman named Williams, possessing, among other things, the secret of curing Smythfield hams, called at several west end homes one day last week. Delighted ladies, sensing a bargain in hams, paid the price and wished Mr. Williams a pleasant good-day.

Came evening and the return of tired husbands. Over the coffee cups flowed news and gossip of the day, came at last the best story.

Unfortunately for everybody but Mr. Williams, the hams turned out to be shoulders of pork—at forty cents a pound, too.

(Williams, alias Cooper, has been playing his trade recently in Oxford, Pa.)

WINS QUILT HERE

Mrs. Lewis Krapf has been declared the winner of a quilt which was given away recently in a contest conducted by Mineola Council, No. 17. The quilt was donated to the lodge by Mrs. Lena Robinson.

From all information obtained this afternoon before The Post goes to press, the case appears to be one of the most baffling mysteries to confront local police in many years.

First Thought Stolen

While the mystery car was found about three o'clock yesterday afternoon, the possibility of foul play was not unearthed until this morning.

First word of the case was received in a phone call to Magistrate Daniel Thompson yesterday from Mrs. Frank McFarlan of near Stanton. With her nephew, William Yemmon, a brother of the missing man, she drove to Newark. Stopping at a local bank, she instructed the boy to drive up the street and turn around. During this drive, he came upon his brother Edward's sedan, and immediately notified Mrs. McFarlan.

Mr. Thompson was called and investigated, found the car with headlights burning, and ignition key in place. With young Yemmon, he drove it to the Fader Motor Company, where it is now being held. The car was believed to have been stolen and abandoned.

Find Bloodstains

This morning, however, the case took a sensational turn, when A. F. Fader, owner of the garage, reported the finding of extensive blood stains inside the sedan. Local officials at once called the State police and Sheriff of Cecil County.

A large spot of blood was found on the back of the driver's seat, a blood stained jack on the floor of the car, and the upholstery was partially torn off the rear seat-back. Officer Hession of the State police made an investigation at noon today. In his opinion, signs of a bitter struggle in the car are evident.

"It looks very much that way," the officer said this afternoon, when asked if he suspected murder.

Missing From Home

Meanwhile the scene shifts to the Yemmon home in North East, where the missing boy's mother is stunned by the turn in the case. In communication with Mrs. McFarlan in Stanton yesterday, she stated that Edward left the house at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon and has not returned. William, his younger brother, who found the car on the street here, has been staying at the Stanton home for several weeks.

Absolutely no clue to the whereabouts of the missing taximan has been unearthed up to this afternoon by the police. All that can be gathered up as evidence of the most circumstantial kind, is that he was seen with Downham at 4 o'clock Monday in Elkton. From that hour on, the movements of the two young men have continued to be a mystery.

State policeman Hession left Newark this afternoon for Stanton to interview Mrs. McFarlan about the case.

The bloodstained jack was removed from the abandoned car at noon today by Sheriff Pierson of Elkton and taken to that town where it will be shown Downham during the course of the investigation being administered him.

Police admit that the evidence so far found points to murderous assault, and that the murder, if such is proven, occurred sometime Monday night, either at the spot where the car was found, or earlier in the evening.

P.T. A. NOTES OF THE WEEK

Delaware City

Theft was the topic under discussion at the meeting of Delaware City P.T. A. on Monday evening, January 11. Mrs. M. J. Brannon was chairman in charge of the program, and after the consideration of the subject, the children of the second grade, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Vineyard, gave a little play—"The Magic Thrift Lamp." Chairman of membership, Mrs. W. D. Clark, reported 17 new members, making a total to date of 107 in the association.

McClellandville

Mrs. Daniel Willis, president of McClellandville P.T. A. presided at the meeting on January 14, when twenty members were in attendance. The children gave an interesting health program of songs and recitations, while news items from the P.T. A. Bulletin were read and enjoyed. A name social will be given at the next meeting in February.

Walkers

On January 14 the P.T. A. of Walkers School met for their regular session. After the children's program, Mr. W. H. Kenyon, Superintendent of the Smyrna Special School District was introduced as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Kenyon talked of "Common Interests," and his remarks were enjoyed by all present. Guests of the P.T. A. included, as well as Mr. Kenyon, Miss Clara Gray, teacher of English in Smyrna Junior High School; Miss Irene Stiff, Miss Heindol, of Deakynville School; and Miss Harris, of Blackbird School. The proceeds from a Social held by the P.T. A. in December is to be used for new window blinds and a table, while one of the members of the school board is seeing to the repairs needed in the schoolhouse.

Women's College Girls Achieve Notable Success In Handling Event Last Week

With all expenses paid, one hundred dollars will be cleared from the proceeds of the Orpheus Club concert given in Wolf Hall, Thursday evening of last week, under the auspices of Women's College sophomores.

The girls will turn the profits over to "The Review", the student weekly. Hard work and plenty of it brought success to the venture, say the girls. Prior to the concert, they canvassed the entire community with tickets. Several townspeople aided them by disposing of blocks of tickets. Nearly fifty dollars was added to the total by A. G. Wilkinson, business administrator, from tickets he sold through personal letters.

Crowded House

When the opening number was sung in Wolf Hall, the Club was greeted by a packed auditorium. Visitors were present from Wilmington, Elkton, Middletown, Dover and many nearby points. The program while changed at the last minute in a few places, was uniformly excellent. The Club was in fine voice. Particularly pleasing was the singing of spirituals. The unavoidable absence of some twenty members of the club did not seriously affect the choral work; in fact, the stage could hardly have held the full membership.

Dr. Alexander Matthews proved an able and sympathetic director and carried the voices along without a noticeable break.

FLOWERS IN DESERT

It was late February in Arizona, but on the mountainside bloomed several strange and beautiful wild flowers—one a yellow lupine, the common Golden Pea or Buck Bean of the west, another the pretty blue Covena or Brodiaea, also uncomplimentarily known as Hog Onion. The greatest find of all was a Japanese plant suggesting Mimosa, says Nature Magazine, recounting the American Nature Association's expedition, the calyx and corolla of the blossoms were so small that the flowers appeared to be merely a group of many stamens about an inch long, white at the base and shading to bright pink. Someone thus called it the bird of paradise flower, but its more common name of Fairy.

CONGRESS

What's Happened to Date

A flood of bills aimed to benefit agriculture is a noteworthy feature of the 69th Congress. A large part of the proposed legislation has little, if any, merit. Some of the remainder is worthy of serious study and consideration.

The Senate and the House Agricultural Committees will almost immediately start hearings on these bills and attempt to separate unsound proposals from those that are economically sound.

Very interesting and acrimonious sessions of these committees will be the rule. Each of the many agricultural groups thinks its plan is the only possible solution, and that all of the other plans are bad, unworthy of consideration, and should they be enacted into law, will bring greater evils than they are attempting to cure.

It is almost certain that at least two pieces of agricultural legislation will be enacted before Congress adjourns: One, a co-operative marketing bill based on the recommendations of Secretary Jardine; the other the Cotten-Cummings Bill. This legalizes the use of corn sugar on the same basis as cane and beet sugar in the sweetening and preserving of prepared and canned food products.

Advocates of the corn sugar legislation hold that this will result in the annual use of from 25,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels of corn in the manufacture of corn sugar. This would help materially to reduce the surplus of corn production.

Secretary Jardine has now conferred with agricultural editors and farm leaders in Washington. The National Council of Co-operatives opened in Washington on January 12th and lasted until the 15th. A Mid-West Farm Conference has been called to meet in Des Moines on January 28th. The National Board of Farm Organizations also meets here early in February.

EVEN IN WINTER

Under old logs even in winter you may find centipedes that have but one pair of legs to each body segment and millipedes with two pairs of each segment, says Nature Magazine. The members of one of these groups generally eat plant material, and of the other, animal material.

Word received by The Post late yesterday from the leaders in the Elkton ambulance drive announces that the fund has gone over $1,000 to date, with contributions coming in steadily.

The drive officially opened on January 18th.

The drive opened this week by the local County American Legion of Elkton for a $5000 ambulance, to be placed at the disposal of Union Hospital, has swung into line with good prospects for reaching the goal before February 13th.

For some years, the subject of a county money car has been talked of in major quarters. This, however, is the first organized effort of any group to accomplish the purpose. First news of the proposed drive came at a meeting of the Legion, Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club about two weeks ago in the Armory, when the proposal was outlined. Immediate approval was accorded the plan by the business men and Rotarians.

Will Provide Drivers

In addition to donating the ambulance to the hospital, Legion officials announce that they will see to it that a driver is always at hand day and night, subject to immediate call.

Sterling E. Dunbar, a leading worker in the Legion at Elkton, is treasurer of the drive.

The need of such a car has long been felt in the county. Other communities, notably Oxford, Pa., Kennett Square, and Milford have their own ambulances, and find them indispensable. A car such as these, ready at a moment's notice to go to any part of the county, will not only broaden the scope of the Elkton hospital, but will, it is confidently expected, save many lives.

Contributions

Since the opening of the drive, several hundred dollars have come into Treasurer Dunbar's hands. Among the heavy early contributors have been the Victory Sparkler Company, D. J. Ayerst, superintendent of the Radnor pulp mills, Elkton; Malin and Deibert, garage men; J. B. Decker and the following smaller contributions:

A. F. Stanley, $10; F. duPont Thompson, $10; Frank G. Pratt, $10; Mrs. Frank G. Pratt, $10; Charles B. Finley, $10; the Rev. William G. Harris, $10; Wallace Williams, $10; Samuel L. King, $10; J. A. Hartenstein, $5; Jacob Rubenstein, $5; Harry Cleaves, $5; the Rev. J. Frederick Virgin, $5; Ralph E. Garrett, $5; Thomas H. Bartilson, $5; David Scott, $5; Howard M. Deaver, $5; F. Rodney Frazer, $5; Sterling E. Dunbar, $5; George M. Millikin, $2; Fred E. Martinis, $2; George Eber Brown, $2; John E. Knight, $2; Walter Buckworth, $2; Ernest Willy, $1.

The jury summoned by Coroner Howard Green, of Elkton, in the death of Mrs. Martha F. Hanzel, of near Millington, who succumbed in Union Hospital, Elkton, to injuries when struck by an automobile owned by John J. Raskob, of Claymont, Delaware, vice-president of the duPont Company and driven by William W. Kline, rendered a verdict "that the victim came to her death from shock and injuries while riding in a carriage near Millington, which was struck by an automobile owned by John J. Raskob and driven by William W. Kline."

The verdict stated that Kline voluntarily admitted he was driving the automobile without headlights, which were in perfect condition, using cowl lights only. The jury referred the matter to the State's Attorney of Queen Anne's county for further investigation.

Kline stated that he did not see the carriage driven by William Bottomly, in which Mrs. Hanzel was seated until within about fifteen feet of the vehicle, and that he tried to avoid it, but failed. Dr. John Palmer, Jr., of Wilmington, and Mrs. Helen Raskob, wife of John J. Raskob, were in the automobile.

THE "RAY" BATTERY

The electric ray, also known as the torpedo or cramp fish, is equipped with an organ that generates an electric current. The back of the fish is positive and the underside is negative, and circuit must be established between the two sides to deliver a shock, says Nature Magazine. The fish uses this faculty both to defend itself and to stun or kill smaller animals, on which it feeds.

MINISTER HITS BACK AT CRITIC

Rev. M. W. Sweitzer, Now Near Lancaster, Replies To Attack On "Marrying Parsons" Through Press

Says a special dispatch from Lancaster, Pa., of recent date:

"It is the Maryland Marriage Law that is the basic cause, or fault, if you please, for the marriages in Elkton of so many young people and the trouble is not with the ministers of the Gospel who perform the ceremonies," was the reply of the Rev. Dr. Martin W. Sweitzer, Ephrata, this county, former "Marrying Parson" of Elkton to the scathing denunciation of Vice Chancellor Leaming, of Camden.

The Vice Chancellor, in hearing testimony in a recent divorce case before him, was quoted as saying "I often wonder what the clergy of Elkton will have to answer for if there is equitable distribution of punishment."

Dr. Sweitzer is now in his Ephrata home and spoke freely of his part in marrying elopers to the Maryland city. Dr. Sweitzer spent some time in Elkton late last year in order to relieve Dr. D. C. Lockert. In a brief interview the minister declared that he had never married a couple until they had conformed with legal requirements and paid their license fee.

The minister suggested that the New Jersey jurist direct his criticism at Maryland lawmakers and not at the clergy.

He called attention to the fact that New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware require persons who desire to marry must be residents of the State at least forty-eight hours. Maryland, he pointed out, has no such requirements.

The gist of Chancellor Leaming's remarks was published in The Post last week.

January 20, 1926

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence will be observed by the Sesquicentennial International Exposition, which opens at Philadelphia, June 1, 1926.

THE LIBERTY BELL

On New Year's Eve the tones of the Liberty Bell were broadcast by radio for the first time in history, when 1-9-2-6 was tapped out by Mrs. W. Freeland Kendrick, wife of the Mayor of Philadelphia, announcing the dawn of the Sesquicentennial year; a year to be made memorable by the Sesquicentennial International Exposition commemorating the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of American Independence, which opens in Philadelphia on June 1.

The famous relic has not been rung since 1835, when it cracked as it tolled the sad tidings of the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall. Since then it has been lightly tapped twice, once on February 11, 1915, when its reverberations were caught up by telephone and carried across the continent.

The Liberty Bell was originally cast by Thomas Lister, of Whitechapel, London, and arrived in Philadelphia in the latter part of August, 1752. It was then known as the Province Bell. It was hung on trusses in Independence Square to try out its tone before it was raised to the tower.

Early in September "it was cracked by a stroke of the clapper during a test without any violence," according to a contemporary account, and was recast. It was recast twice in Philadelphia. For some time it hung in the steeple of Independence Hall, where it remained until the steeple was taken down, July 16, 1781. Then it was lowered into the brick tower, where it remained until 1846. During the following years it was moved several times and was finally placed in its present position in Independence Hall.

Few people realize the dimensions of the bell. The circumference around the lip is 12 feet, around the crown 7 feet 6 inches, from the lip to the crown it is 3 feet, and its weight is 2080 pounds.

The greatest event in the history of the bell was recorded when its notes pealed forth to announce the proclamation of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 8, 1776, and by so doing gained for itself the name by which it has since become famous.

Farmers Throughout The State Gather At Farm Bureau Session

The sixth annual meeting of the Delaware State Farm Bureau Federation began in the Dover Century Club today. The annual meeting of the Delaware State Farm Bureau this year is held in connection with the State Corn Show, and a special invitation was extended to all the farmers and their families throughout the State to attend these combined events.

The business session of the Farm Bureau meeting opened at 10:30 to day in the Century Club Rooms in Dover, and the first item of business was the reports of the various committees and officers of both the county and State organizations. Following these reports an account of the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago was given by John D. Reynolds who attended this meeting as a representative of the Delaware Farm Bureau.

The next subject of a business nature was the election of officers for the ensuing year, and following this procedure, short reports on extension activities and their relationship to the Farm Bureau organization were given by County Agents R. O. Bauman, Russell E. Wilson, and M. C. Vaughn.

Dr. C. L. Benner of the Department of Farm Economics of the University of Delaware delivered an address on the relation of agricultural economics to the farming conditions as they exist in Delaware and other states at the present time. In order to show the value and importance of boys' and girls' club work in each of the three counties, it was suggested that the demonstrations of projects being conducted be given by a boys' team and a girls' team to be selected by the County Club Agents.

During the noon hour, lunch was served in the Century Club Rooms by the Dover Club girls.

The chief speaker this evening, at 7:30, will be C. R. Titlow, Secretary of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, and plans have been completed for making this joint program with the nineteenth annual meeting of the Delaware Corn Growers' Association.

Secretary of the Corn Growers' Association. Following another selection by the Junior Orchestra, Mr. Titlow will deliver an address which will be well worth hearing by all farmers and business men of the State.

TAXPAYERS URGED TO FILE

Incomes May Be Computed Now
Regardless of Pending Tax Legislation

The following statement has been issued by Internal Revenue Collector John W. Hering:

"Heretofore taxpayers have been urged to file their income tax returns early. The filing of returns this year is delayed, pending the enactment of the new revenue act now before the Senate, which, as it passed the House, contains changes in regard to rates and other features. However, there is nothing to prevent a taxpayer at this time from closing his books and computing his net income. Such computations will not be affected by any provisions of the new act. The actual preparation of the return itself, after the computation, requires, in a majority of cases, but a few minutes. There-

CENTURY CLUB "HOMES" DAY

Good Program Arranged By Committee; Playlet Given
By Girls

The Newark New Century Club meeting, Monday afternoon, under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Van Keuren, chairman of the Better Homes Committee, was a delightful affair.

After the business was transacted the Freshman home economics class of the Newark High School gave a playlet entitled "A Clothing Revolt," which illustrated the proper care of clothing and what happens to the finest garments if they are ill-treated. The girls taking part were: Marguerite Braman, Lillian Brown, Mary Moore, Edna Moore, Elma Smith, Pauline Moore, Roberta Leak, Agnes Miller, Hester Morris, Marjorie Barnard, Helen Ferguson, Helen Eastburn, Helen Frazer and Ethel Connell. Miss Margaret Satterfield, a senior in the home economic department of the Women's College, who is practicing teaching in the High School, coached the playlet.

Miss Eleanor Duffy sang a group of charming songs. Her program included: Villanelle by Eva Duval Acza; "A Bowl of Roses," Clark; "Swiss

This was followed by a very interesting talk on the survey inaugurated by Mrs. John Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, on American Home Equipment. This address was delivered by Miss Elizabeth Amery of Dover, who is State Supervisor of Home Economics. She stated statistics and explanations which were very enlightening.

Miss Louise Harris, another senior of the Home Economics Department of the Women's College, gave a talk on "The Purpose of the Practice House at the Women's College." She explained how this part of the Home Economics training is of great value to the girl who expects to teach and the girl who will be a home maker.

The club members are eagerly watching the papers for the announcement of a "soup sale" at the home of the president, Mrs. Heim, one day next week, the proceeds of which are to swell the treasury fund.

Mrs. George Dutton, Library chairman, regretfully announced that owing to the shortage and high price of fuel, the Town Library would not be opened, except on Saturdays, at the usual hours, 9 to 12 a. m. and 7 to 9 p. m., until March 1st, when it is hoped that the present tense situation in the coal industry will have been relieved, making it possible to resume the usual service to the patrons.

Herman later bought another heifer that made a 13.9 pounds butter record in 7 days. He now has in his herd two two-year old and one three-year old heifers. This club boy was a member of the judging team that represented the State at the National Dairy Show at Syracuse, N. Y., in 1923. He placed second in both Jerseys and Guernseys among the 150 entrants from all parts of the United States.

At the present time he is attending a business college in Wilmington to further fit him for the business of farming. When questioned as to his future Herman said, "It would take a pretty good city job to get me away from the farm."

This is Herman's second year in corn club work. He has also carried the pig project when attending the Uewark High School and taking the agricultural course under Mr. Horace Nunn, who is teaching the vocational agriculture at this school.

All of these boys have been given special corn judging work in preparation for the judging contest at the corn show by Mr. Nunn and the Club Agent.

Delaware Five Bows To Quakers; Beat Drexel, In Week's Game

Delaware won and lost for their place last week. Swarthmore nosing up the locals 24-20, while Drexel fell in a last game, 25-13. Both games were second round, especially the first, a home game.

Drexel

Lichtenstein, Carroll and Creamer were the main force on the offense and a defensive wall which the Quakers could not penetrate successfully. Delaware walked away with a 25-13 victory in the Army game on Thursday evening. A record crowd witnessed the struggle, the game to be held in the Army gymnasium.

From the opening whistle, Forestburg's men held the upper hand. Close guarding by Creamer and H. Holt kept the home basket free. Creamer and the ball down the floor incessantly and fed Carroll or Lichtenstein for easy shots. The big Delaware center was in particularly fine form during the opening and completely outplayed his opponent.

Passing Improved

The Delaware floorwork seemed greatly improved over former exhibitions. Especially pleasing to the eyes of spectators was the stiff defense put up at all times. Lack of weight on the team appeared to make little difference.

From the game, Victor Lichtenstein, of Wilmington, was elected captain of the 1926 aggregation. This is the second year as a regular and his work has been of a high standard. He is a Sophomore.

SWARTHMORE

Before a crowd which packed every nook in the University gymnasium here Friday night, Swarthmore nosed out Delaware in one of the hardest fought games in the memory of the spectators between these teams. The score was 24-20.

The defeat dazed the Delaware rovers, as they had previously seen their favorites leading 17-4 in the

Walked Into Lead

At the opening whistle, the two teams sparred a bit, then Lichtenstein hit the cords for his first long shot. The score mounted on two fouls and a goal by Carroll. Then the Quaker coach withdrew his second string starters, and sent in his Varsity, a Brother Rocker.

Unfortunately, the Varsity was slightly less successful than the scrubs. Instead of wading through the light Blue and Gold five, they ran around in dizzy circles, watching the ball spin into their basket. With the score 17-4, time out was called, and the local rovers rubbed their eyes.

So it went through the opening half, Delaware always on the attack, and Swarthmore haggling, fast losing their poise at the unexpected drubbing. The whistle blew with Forestburg's team enjoying a comfortable lead, 18-9.

Rally Begins

In the second half it was an entirely different story. Swarthmore got away good and scored a couple of field goals early in the half. Then R. Holt was put out on personals and shortly afterwards Carroll also went out. The visitors in the meantime were guarding the Delaware forwards so close they were unable to score although they missed several comparatively easy shots.

It was near the end of the game that Swarthmore tied the score and in the next couple of minutes two more field goals gave them the margin of 24 to 20. Score:

JAY VEES LOSE

Previous to this game the Swarthmore Junior Varsity five defeated the Delaware Junior Varsity, 29 to 7. In many respects this game as to game. The first half ended with the score 9 to 5 in favor of Swarthmore Junior Varsity. In the second half

Leander And Bill Henry

Leander and Bill Henry were friends, and, as it often the case in first friendships, the one was brilliant and versatile, while the other engaged himself largely with complete and self-effacing admiration.

To Bill Henry, heavy of body and mind, the witty paws of Leander, the swift like antics of his graceful body were no less marvellous, writes Ben Hur Langman in Nature Magazine. Bill Henry would raise a paw to strike, in their mimic duels, and point in its midair, and look reflectively at it, and try his hardest to recall what it was he had intended to do with that paw.

But the reactions and reflexes of Leander the peerless were instantaneous and dazzling. And, again, how Bill Henry cared for him! He was just and unhappy if his gifted companion strayed out of his sight—and inconceivable small Leander straggled in again.

It was Leander who skinned to death, and who strove with a brave heart to put it all away, and to make pretense of happiness even when he could not lift his head. If you scooped to Leander then, inert and dying as he was, the old gay light came most pitifully into his eyes, as though it were a joke, and very low and shaky came his feeblest part.

A cat, you say? Well, a trifle more that a cat, perhaps; a cat plus love and courage. Bill Henry wouldn't leave him. An agitated nervousness had replaced poor Bill's stolidity. There was something the matter with his friend—something hideous and terribly wrong. And so Leander died. Are there degrees to grief? Bill

Delaware Junior Varsity could score but two points while Swarthmore scored 22 points.

The final result of the Varsity game was a great disappointment to a large crowd of fans after the showing made in the first half. Early in the second half Delaware lost R. Holt and then Carroll as a result of personal fouls and this no doubt weakened the team and put a stop to the scoring combination. Swarthmore deserves much credit for the rally in the second half, winning the game.

TYPESETTING MACHINE IN 1846

Massachusetts Man's Device. However, Never Came Into Practical Usage

The first typesetting machine was invented by Timothy Alden, who was born in Barnstable, Mass., 100 years ago.

In his boyhood Timothy was apprenticed to a printer. He was a born inventor, and, almost from his first day in the printing office, he began to think of plans for improving the various processes connected with the typographical art. He invented several machines connected with printing before he turned his attention to the mechanical setting of type.

After several years of study he produced his first model of a typeset-

Long machine in 1846. This machine consisted of a horizontal rotating wheel with type-balls in its circumference, making receivers rotate with it to pick out the type at the proper places. The application was ingenious, but it effected no improvement over hand composition.

Timothy Alden died in Boston in 1888, and his brother, Henry, later made several improvements in the machine. Timothy Alden's machine had the merit of setting others to think about the same problem, with the result that hand composition has practically become a thing of the past.—Chicago Journal.

Cage League Organized In Cecil County

Seven Teams Entered In Round Robin Tournament During Balance Of Season; First Games Played Saturday Night Last

ELKTON LOSES PRELIMINARY

Basketball enthusiasts of Cecil and Harford counties have organized the Susquehanna Basketball Association with Elkton, Rising Sun, Perry Point, Aberdeen, Bel Air and Port Deposit as members. J. Owens Thompson, of Tome Institute, Port Deposit, was elected president of the association.

Rising Sun and Port Deposit are unfortunate in not having a building large enough to accommodate the crowd of fans that attend the games. The Rising Sun boys will play their games in Company E Armory, Elkton, while Port Deposit will use the Bel Air Armory for all their games.

A series of ten games will constitute the season, the first game to be played on Friday evening, January 22, with Rising Sun at Bel Air, Aberdeen at Perry Point and Port Deposit at Elkton.

A good sized crowd witnessed two preliminary games between Perry Point and Elkton and Port Deposit at the Elkton armory Saturday evening.

In the opening game Rising Sun proved too fast for the Perry Point quintet and easily defeated the ex-soldiers with a 54 to 11 score, while in the closing game Port Deposit gave Elkton a battle royal in the last period, winning the game with a 15 to 12 score. The teams' lineup:

Perry Point Rising Sun
Kupps forward Dunbar
Green forward Smith
Foster center Hanna
Sentman guard Rawlings
Berkley guard Taggart
Field goals—Green 3, Dunbar 5, Smith 5, Taggart 3, Hanna 3, Kay 3. Time of periods—15 minutes.

Elkton Port Deposit

Minster forward J. Foster
Preston center Reed
West guard Einwacher

Field goals—Minster 2, Foster 3, Klee 2. Foul goals—Preston 3. Time of quarters—15 minutes. Referee—William C. Foster.

ICE SOLONS BAND- ING TOGETHER

Wilmer Stradley of Wilmington Named President of Tri-State Organization

At a meeting held in Baltimore recently, an association of ice manufacturers and distributors of Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia, to be known as the Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia Ice Association, was formed. Wilmer Stradley, president of the Diamond Ice Co., was elected president of the new organization. Jesse D. Price, president of the Salisbury Ice Co., Salisbury, Md., was elected vice president, and J. P. Faherty, Baltimore, secretary and treasurer.

It was announced that a program of activities for the association was under preparation and would be announced at a second meeting to be held in the near future.

Of the 118 plants represented at the meeting, 88 are in Maryland, 18 in Delaware, and 12 in the District of Columbia.

NEW COMEDY AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Jed Harris announces that his latest production, "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em," a new comedy of American life by George Abbott and John V. A. Weaver, will appear at the Playhouse, Wilmington, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon, January 22 and 23.

The cast is an unusual one, including Florence Johns, Katherine Wilson, Donald Meek, Thomas Chalmers and Donald MacDonald. The play has been directed by George Abbott, who directed "The Fall Guy" and "The Holy Terror," of both of which plays he was also part author. The sets have been designed by Cleon Throckmorton.

"Love 'Em and Leave 'Em" deals with a phase of life which has never been treated on the American stage, at least in terms of realistic comedy. Both the authors are unusually endowed to reproduce the speech and emotions of the shopgirls and landladies and their kind, who are the characters in this play. Mr. Weaver became famous as the first writer to use the "American" language as a medium for poetry. His poems amazed people by revealing the possibilities for humor and pathos, for genuine eloquence inherent in the ordinary slang, the common patois used by the average American. In "The Fall Guy" which Mr. Abbott wrote with James Gleason, the author of "Is Zat So?" the same qualities emerged which distinguished Mr. Weaver's poetry. "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em" is the first collaborative effort of these two writers and it is an intensely human play about real people.

Mr. Harris has assembled an extraordinary cast. Florence Johns, who plays the lead, distinguished herself in "Children of the Moon" and in "The Best People," two plays which revealed her great emotional power and her sense of humor. Thomas Chalmers, who plays a comedy part, was formerly baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and is now making a distinguished place for himself on the spoken stage. Donald MacDonald is one of America's leading juveniles. And then there is that sterling actor, Donald Meek, who, in "The Potters" gave what was generally acknowledged to be one of the finest performances ever seen in New York. All in all, Mr. Harris' new production promises to be one of the major dramatic productions of the season.

Training Rules For Girls' Rifle Team Laid Down At College; No Tea, Coffee

The Women's College rifle squad which was chosen last week, has begun training in preparation for the matches which will be shot in February and March. The training rules are rigid and it requires much perseverance on the part of the girls, to keep them for such a long period of time, but they realize that in order to be in physical trim it is necessary. Here are the rules:

1. Retire at 10:30 p. m. and do not rise before 6:30 a. m.; five out of seven nights.
2. Take a cold plunge (preferred) or a dry rub every morning.
3. Eat nothing between meals except fresh fruit, such as apples, pears, grapes, oranges, grape fruit. Do not eat nuts.
4. Refrain absolutely from drinking coffee, tea and prepared beverages.
5. Two moderate size pieces of candy may be substituted for dessert.
6. Eat three regular meals a day, (at morning, noon and night).
7. Rest alone for one consecutive quarter hour (at least) between the hours of 11 a. m. and 4 p. m., preferably following practice.

The Observance of training rules:

1. They must be observed by all members of a team three weeks preceding final competition and continue throughout the competition.
2. Anyone in training may take one cut during a period of training, and must be reported on the weekly training slip which is filed in the gymnasium. One cut means the infringement of only one training rule.

The members of the rifle squad have been practicing with the regular army rifles, but in the matches, the conditions require the use of 22 long. The club owns only two of these rifles, which makes practice difficult. The Athletic Association has consented to buy another rifle for the club, thus helping to relieve the situation a great deal.

Since the college does not permit intercollegiate games of any sort, rifle is the only sport through which the Women's College may come into contact with other colleges and universities. The students feel that this contact is exceedingly well worth while and they are supporting the rifle club royally, because they realize that it is through its members only, will their Alma Mater gain recognition in the world of women's intercollegiate sports.

SAFETY AND PROGRESS

To the Editor of The Post:

The advertisement last week of the opening of a new section of our town as a development for the sale of building lots brings to us the question, as follows:

Is the opening of a street for the sale of building lots as necessary as one to safe-guard life and property? The writer is interested in any development which will benefit the town or community, but does not like to see favors granted a few persons when they are withheld from a greater number.

What the community needs is a street near the center of the town that will connect Main street with Cleveland avenue and provide a passage under the B. and O. R. R. that will be safer for life and property of the people living on Cleveland avenue and adjacent thereto. In case of a fire on Cleveland avenue near the upper section the delay caused by a long freight train crossing either College avenue or Main street might mean considerable property loss to the owner.

The inconvenience caused by a lack of means to get to Main street from the section between North Chapel street and North College avenue is that is a continual source of discussion. There is an opportunity right now to get under way a street which will alleviate these conditions. As a proposal we suggest a street through the ground of Sol Wilson on Main street, continuing through land of J. P. Wilson to B. and O. R. R. at a point which would connect with ground of Walter R. Powell and thence to Cleveland avenue.

Such a street could be made without excessive construction cost and would not necessitate the removal of any dwellings, but would provide a good, safe roadway to that community which is already built up and as a means of safety for passage of persons and vehicles should be considered an immediate necessity.

The writer is not financially interested in any of the property connected with the proposed street but for the good of the community is offering this communication for due consideration and believe it calls for prompt action from the standpoint of safety progress.

MD. DIVISION TO BE ELECTRIFIED

Workmen Now Laying Underground Conduits Preparatory to Supplanting Steam

Several hundred men are now engaged in digging trenches and laying conduits between Wilmington and Philadelphia, preliminary to the work of electrifying the road between the two cities. At the completion of the work electric trains will be operated from Philadelphia to the West Yards, Wilmington. Steam trains will operate on the lower end of the Maryland Division. At first it was proposed to operate both steam and electric trains between Philadelphia and Wilmington but, according to announcements made by the supervising engineer at Philadelphia, all trains between Wilmington and Philadelphia will be electrically operated, the changes to be made at West Yard.

After the new Philadelphia Terminal is completed the company will consider the advisability of electrifying the New York Division from Manhattan Transfer to North Philadelphia. When this is completed, electric engines will haul trains direct from Pennsylvania Station, New York City, to Wilmington, without change. At the present time, changes are made at Manhattan Transfer from electric to steam operated trains.

No change will be made between Wilmington and Washington until such time as the density of traffic will justify changing to electricity.

This whole project will be worked out in steps hinging around the completion of the passenger terminal in West Philadelphia.

A complete reconstruction of the automatic block signal system between Philadelphia and Wilmington also will be made. The present automatic block signal system in this territory was one of the first constructed on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

States Spend Money

Almost staggering are figures the Department of Commerce offers in showing the tremendous increase in costs of state governments, using 1917 as a basis.

Congressmen striving to make a creditable reduction in the federal tax levy condemn the apparent unwillingness of states to cooperate by at least not increasing their levies. No relief comes to taxpayers if a half-billion is lopped off in Washington and a half-billion is added by the states.

One of the chief points open to criticism lies in the increase in cost of maintenance and operation of the states' general departments—in other words, the every-day upkeep cost. In 1924 this item for the 48 states stood at $1,001,465,258, or $9 per capita. In 1917 it was $4.19 and in 1923, $8.17.

Turning to the total payments for 1924, including maintenance and operation of public service enterprises, interest on debt outlays for permanent improvements amounted to $1,513,628,021, or nearly three times that of 1917.

The net indebtedness, funded and floating, less sinking fund assets, was $1,183,467,433, or $10.63 per capita. In 1923 it was $8.72 and in 1917, $4.93.

If the states are to keep up any general permanent improvement schedule, strict economy is essential. True economy will not halt progress, and it will insure the future. In the end progress will be best served by the policy of economy.

A striking example of community cooperation fostered by a Grange was recently shown at Eden, Idaho, when the local Grange enlisted the support of the business men's organization in holding a mammoth harvest festival and exhibit, to which people came for miles around and competed for the generous premiums made possible by such community cooperation. The Grange exhibit of agricultural products, fruits and household arts was considered among the finest that has ever been shown in the state of Idaho.

Anonymous Writer Protests "Ruined Homes In Newark" By Bad Bootlegger

In a letter to the editor of the Delaware Sunday Star, Wilmington, published recently, an anonymous writer from Newark gave vent to a violent protest against the "notorious bootlegger," alleged to be living a short distance from town. A number of pungent statements mark the letter. It follows in full:

Editor Delaware Sunday Star: I have a very dear friend whose home has been wrecked by bootleggers and I, in her behalf, ask you to please print this. WE HAVE NO LAW AGAINST BOOTLEGGING IN NEWARK.

What good is prohibition to the State of Delaware?

When prohibition was made a law, why did the government not enforce the law and not allow bootlegging?

Of what value is it to the government to allow the bootlegger to sell poison hooch and the government receive no revenue?

In one case down here in Newark a man was fined for selling liquor in his own hotel and yet now the common bootlegger is allowed to ruin homes, businesses and everything else, and make some homes a perfect hell.

One of the most notorious bootleggers of Newark lives on a farm a very short distance out. He at one time lived in town. He is still delivering his poison hooch in the town and his wife has a list of names of those who can't get it at his house.

I know of one home his demon work has wrecked so badly, that the man refuses to work and still gets hooch while his little children and wife go without clothes. The wife is near death's door. I do not know why the Ku Klux Klan does not know of this kind of trouble. If they did know they would come down to Newark and raid the bootlegger's farm house and it would be a better town for all to live in.

Dec. 30, 1925. Miss No Prohibition. Newark, Del.

Maybe there are more killings now because people shoot straighter when sober.—Washington Post.

If we have civilized warfare, why not civilized peace?—Oil City Derrick.

HAS A HAMMRHEAD

The hammerhead shark derives its name from its curiously shaped head. A large lobe is produced on each side of the head. From above, its head has the shape of a mallet, with the two eyes placed on the extreme edges, says Nature Magazine. This peculiarly shaped head seems to act as a rudder, since the hammerhead is often seen to descend very abruptly to deeper water.

CAN YOU ANSWER THIS?

Sho wmay be well marked with the arrow-like tracks of pheasants, says Nature Magazine. Do these arrows point in the direction in which the pheasants were walking or in the opposite direction? If you can't find pheasant tracks for this, look at the tracks of chickens or quail for the same purpose.

Note On Domestic Happiness

Passengers on a trolley car of the Newport and Stanton line Friday afternoon witnessed a fight between a young man and young woman when the car reached Richardson Park, on its way to Stanton.

The young man, who is a newspaper agent, was a passenger on the car and the young woman, his wife, was waiting at Richardson Park for him to alight. The couple separated some time ago.

The wife was armed with a handbag about a foot long and before the husband stepped from the car she struck at him with the bag. Instead of striking the husband the bag struck one of the car windows, breaking it into pieces, and startling the passengers.

The husband managed to leave the car without being assaulted but the wife took after him and she was still chasing him through the streets of Richardson Park when the car proceeded on its way.

Whether she finally caught up with him could not be learned, but the passengers on the car who witnessed the incident claimed that she was gaining on him when last sighted. Just what the fight was over could not be learned, but from the wife's actions and the remarks she made she was certainly very angry at her husband. He evidently thought it would be better to run than to stand up and fight.—Sunday Star.

The Fire Hazard On the Farm

The American Farm Bureau Federation, at Chicago, takes up the question of fewer fires on the farm. Every year enough farm fires occur to build a city like Kansas City. Practically every daily paper contains an item like the following:

"John Doe's barn burned with all its contents, loss so-many-thousand dollars; uninsured." The Farm Bureau will urge its people to do something about fire carelessness.

Many barns are burned through the use of lanterns, made more necessary through lack of care in planning barn work. A little extra thought in routing the barn chores, in placing the feeding facilities so that they are practically automatic even without a light, would have millions every year and would cost hardly a penny. Barns are left uninsured because under ordinary conditions they are dangerous and high-priced risks, it would be far better to insure, however, rather than to try to carry one's own hazard; but the danger might be greatly reduced by definite planning.

ANTS INVADE WASHINGTON

Proves of Little Pests Destroy Foods, Eat Away Floors and Menace Valuable Government Documents

Enemies have invaded Washington. They have tunneled under the Treasury and entered its vaults. They have entered the vault room of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and destroyed paper money, silk fiber bond paper and postage stamps.

They have made away with battle-ship plans at the Navy Yard, writes T. E. Snyder in Nature Magazine. They destroyed the foundations of the buildings of the National Capitol, the U. S. National Museum, Library of Congress and other public buildings.

In other localities these enemies have destroyed stored food, cloth, books, and paper bandages, in hospitals have overthrown telephone and telegraph poles, short-circuited cables, and destroyed the foundations, floors, woodwork and contents of churches, railroad stations and many beautiful residences. They are native insects, however, and not of foreign origin.

The reason for blaming the injury caused by white ants or termites in the United States to imported foreign goods is because many of the most injurious insects in North America have been imported from abroad. However, this is not true of all our injurious insects.

The mention of termites or white ants brings to the mind the spectacular termites nests and the serious damage which these insects cause in tropical countries. Yet termites are by no means restricted to the tropics.

In North America, certain regions from Vancouver Island, British Columbia in the Pacific Ocean, southward to the Florida Everglades, are infested by forty-two species, representing eleven genera of termites of economic interest and variety. Mainly being species of subterranean or wood-boring habit, they are not as spectacular or as common as their mound-making or tree-nesting relatives. Very few Neotropical termites have conspicuous habits or come above the ground into the sunlight, except during the annual columnar swarms.

In the United States, termites probably occur in every state in the Union, more commonly in the south, southwest and on the Pacific coast. Termites live in colonies which are made up of more or less highly specialized forms or castes, with both fertile and sterile forms. Each of these forms has a distinct role in the community. There is a well-defined division of labor. Some termites have no worker caste, others no soldier caste.

A Good Lesson

Newspaper comment, both in this country and Great Britain, has been to the effect that within four years America will pay Great Britain $4,000,000,000 for rubber, at prices fixed by the British rubber monopoly. It is a good lesson for us as to the necessity of protecting ourselves against such foreign monopolies.

During the World War, if it had not been for our domestic beet sugar industry, we would have been in much the same position as to sugar.

It is better to give reasonable protection and encouragement to basic American industries than to find ourselves at the mercy of a foreign power when buying essential commodities. Sugar is even more important than rubber. The American people are the greatest sugar eaters on earth and it forms part of every meal of every American family. For that reason it is essential that our domestic sugar industry be kept on a safe basis, which will prevent it from being crippled or destroyed by foreign interests.

The Home Paper Best

"Ireverent shears are never laid upon the President's home town paper. That is the greatest newspaper, the most important newspaper that comes to the White House, and the President wants it all."—Tomahawk, Wisconsin, Lender.

The population of every great city is largely made up of men and women from small towns. Many of them are never weaned away from the old home surroundings and they read the home town paper from the first paragraph to the last. That is the reason the rural papers of America have such a far-reaching influence, in safeguarding the ideals and traditions of our constitutional form of government and what it stands for.

Practical Accomplishments In Farm Electrification

The Kansas State Agricultural College has recently issued Bulletin No. 16 on the present status of rural electrification in that state. In summing up the situation, the bulletin stated that rural customers as a group are well satisfied with central station service. Not a single case was found where a customer was desirous of discontinuing farmstead service.

The most frequent complaints were made on rates but the bulletin pointed out that a proper rate for rural service cannot be built just at this time. Too little is known of the volume of business, the characteristics of the service, the cost of maintenance and construction, and the probable growth of farm uses to make a definite rate schedule.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company, of San Francisco, in its Pacific Service Magazine for October, goes into farm electrification from many angles. This one company serves 38 countries in northern California where electricity is used on the farm more widely and for more different purposes, than in any other section of the world. Its experience in this field dates back to the latter part of 1908, and it is probable that it made the first installation of an electric motor for agricultural purposes for a farmer near Yuba City, in 1898.

Electricity on the farm is so well established in California, and its use in modern farming is so vital to agricultural success, that this review published by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, recording practical accomplishments, is of great interest at this time.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

We, the members of McClellandsville Parent Teacher Association, desire to note on the minutes of the association our sense of great loss sustained by the community and by ourselves in the death of Mary Wagner. She will be grievously missed in the many lines wherein she was actively and industriously engaged.

We wish to tender to the members of her family our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

Whereas, in view of the loss we have sustained by the death of our friend and associate, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to her; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting her removal from our midst, we mourn for one who was, in every way, worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with her family, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolve, That this heartfelt testimonial of our sympathy and sorrow be forwarded to the family of our departed friend, and be printed in three newspapers.

Signed
Lillian E. Willis, President.
Ethel G. Crowe, Secretary.

Women's College Notes

Mrs. Forbes-Robertson Hale, the well-known English author, lecturer, and actress, delighted the students last Wednesday at College Hour with her address on "The Drama." Mrs. Hale was particularly interesting when she told of the development in this country of the Little Theatre movement, and of its success. She told of the advantages of such theatres over the commercialized theatres, in that plays that did not have an universal appeal yet strong merit could be produced. In this way, audiences of different types may be pleased and actors may play a larger number of parts.

At the meeting of the French Club, last Wednesday evening, Monsieur Roux, of Paris, a student at the University this year, gave a talk on conditions in France. Monsieur Roux's talk dealt with politics, education, and literature in his country, and was much appreciated by his listeners.

The members of the Sophomore class are jubilant over the success of the Orpheus Club Concert, given in Wolf Hall last Thursday evening. Not only was the large audience appreciative of the fine program, but their generous support of the venture will enable the class to clear the sum of ninety-seven and one-half dollars for the "Review." A friend, Mr. H. W. Vandever, of Wilmington, has asked to be allowed to make this sum one hundred dollars.

Much of the financial success of the concert was due to the class treasurer, Martha Vandever, who handled the numerous petty accounts with the finest good nature. Another outstanding friend was Mr. A. G. Wilkinson, who worked for the cause from the moment his interest was solicited. The patronesses were: Dean Robinson, Miss Nora B. Keeley, Mrs. Hulihan, Mrs. A. G. Wilkinson, and Mrs. A. D. Warner.

The Junior Prom on Saturday evening was quite the lovely dance we had expected it to be. The hilarium was beautifully transformed into a frosty, wintry scene. George Madden played his best music. The refreshments were served by members of the Freshman class.

In the afternoon the Seniors had also been the guests of the Juniors at a tea-dance, given in the Common Room of Sussex Hall.

The patronesses for the Prom were: Dean Robinson, Dr. and Mrs. Hulihan, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre du Pont, Miss McKinney, Miss Gillespie, Miss Moss Tyler, and Miss Taylor. Miss Jean Middleton, president of the Junior class, was at the head of the receiving line.

Those students who have been chosen on the rifle squad are: Mary Jamar, Orpha Conahay, Josephine Roscoe, Olive Murray, Bertha Cooper, Frances Elliot, Eloise Rodney, Carmen Thomaszewski, Florence Wilson, Dorothy Sharpless, Dorothea Pierson, Devona Keithley, Grace Smedley, and Katharine Holton.

The first of the series of Vesper Services, conducted by leaders chosen from the various halls, was held last Sunday evening, with Mary Jamar from Turvy as leader. The speaker was Reverend G. W. Harris of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Elkton.

Charlotte Dayett, Florence Stidham, Bertha Staats, Marian Neide, and Edna Reynolds were back for the Junior Prom last Saturday evening. May Thompson of Smyrna was a week-end visitor.

The college sleds had "rough sledding" for three evenings last week. Every one who could gain permission was hunting a sled and a hill.

Funeral services will be held from the home of a son-in-law, Alban Buckingham, near Pleasant Hill, tomorrow afternoon. Interment in Ebenezer cemetery.

Deceased was widely known through the county in his younger days as a singer and camp meeting entertainer. He was possessed of a powerful voice and many of the older residents of the community can easily recall his appearance on stage and pulpit. Of late years, his health became undermined, aided greatly by the death of his wife about a year ago.

CATHERINE E. KEELEY

Pneumonia struck a Newark home last week and called another victim, this time a loyal mother and highly respected character, Mrs. Catherine E. Keeley, wife of James C. Keeley, of South Chapel street. She died on January 10th.

Mrs. Keeley raised a family of eight splendid children and devoted practically all her time to her home. She was, however, well known in church, school and neighborhood affairs.

Funeral services were held last Wednesday from St. John's R. C. Church, with interment in the church cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH COOPER

Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper of Harrington, Delaware, a sister of Mrs. John Frazier of this town, died on Sunday. Funeral services were held from her late home today.

Murder Charge Laid Again Alvin Dow

Elk Mills Youth Held W
for Grand Jury by Cor

Buried Yesterday

STILL REFUSES TO

"We, the jurors, Frank Edwin Yeamans his death January 18, being struck on the head by an automobile jack in the town of Alvin Downham, with intent to murder said Alvin Downham on the road, between Elk Mills and Cecil County, Maryland, we, the jurors, that said Alvin Downham for the grand jury County without bail."

The above verdict was returned 10 o'clock Monday morning at the Court House, Elkton, by a jury, following an inquiry by Cecil County authorities into the death of Yeamans, a farmer, whose body was found in a brook a mile from Elk Mills.

Downham was not present at the trial. He is still confined in the Baltimore city jail, where he was arrested on the day of his arrest.

Twenty witnesses were called during the inquiry by Coroner Howard G. testimony of all endeavoring to trace the movements of Downham, January 18, and the day following. From their testimony it was ascertained that the murder took place along the "Cecil Road" between Elk Mills and Elkton on Monday afternoon.

Damaging Testimony

Perhaps the most damaging testimony given was that from a Newark constable, who testified that Downham had said to him that he had killed Yeamans if it took five minutes. This statement was made when he and Downham were discussing the death of the farmer, which occurred on the morning of January 18. The driver was said to have worked with Downham for several months in the town of Elk Mills, near the Elk Mills Silk Fabric Company.

Doctors Bates and McDaniel, who examined the body of the victim, revealed that he was beaten with a tool, and was killed with a jack. Six fractures of the skull resulted, any one of which would have caused death.

Refuses To Talk

Not once since his arrest has Downham given any way to the conclusion of state police and county authorities that he was involved in the movements Monday having been refused to answer questions by the family in Elk Mills and the body was abandoned him.

The funeral of Yeamans was held at his home in North Elkton on Tuesday afternoon. Rector Quinn of the Episcopal Church there conducted the services, which were largely attended.

The ice-coated body of Downham was found between Elk Mills and Cecil County on Saturday morning. Several boys who were leading a posse searching in the area for the body of the victim were offered a reward of $250 offered by the county.

Morton Jackson, sons of Howard Jackson, and their cousin, Taylor, found the body. They were over the ground which was covered by several others. They noticed that the body was dead and had been thrown to the ground. They searched, and they found the body frozen in the snow.

One foot was extended from the face down. A constable Ray who was a body was found in a state of (Continued on Page
