Col. Smith Stresses Preparedness In Memorial Day Address

Former National Chaplain Tells of Sacred Trust to Dead. Legion Arranges Exercises at Memorial Stone. Foreign War Veterans in Charge of Parade

DECORATE GRAVES

Preparedness was the keynote of the address given by Colonel S. J. Smith, chaplain of the Newark Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and former National Chaplain, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who was the speaker at the Town of Newark Memorial Day exercises, held this morning, at 10 o'clock, at the Memorial Stone, on Old College Campus.

In opening his address Colonel Smith said that Memorial Day had a greater and deeper significance with each passing year and reviewed the struggles in which American blood has been spilled to defend the cause of liberty, and humanity; and that that blood had been freely given that we might approach that destiny of peace and perfection that we believe is ours.

He continued that this passed on to us a sacred trust to see that the progress wrought by the sacrifice of the lives, we commemorate, should not be lost, and that this Nation be prepared for any emergency that might appear. He stated that the Civil War and the Spanish-American War had not taught us the lesson of preparedness, but that the World War should have given us a final lesson so dearly purchased at the cost of American lives. He presented his conclusions as follows:

"The argument that preparedness fosters war is false and ridiculous. Show me the sane man who has seen the blood and carnage of war who is eager to repeat the experience in campaign and on the field of battle if you can. Ask the professional officer or enlisted man for an answer to such a statement. The veteran who has had the horrible experience will tell you that he hates war—and

Two new houses, of frame construction, are being erected on Kells avenue, by William Hendrix, contractor, of Wilmington. The houses are being built on two fifty-foot lots that were formerly owned by George L. Medill. They are located between the homes of Herbert Henning and Anthony Talucci. It is understood that the houses will be for sale, and that Mr. Hendrix will later build more houses on the lots on the opposite side of the street, ground also purchased from Mr. Medill.

United States Senator Thomas F. Bayard will deliver the principal address at the graduates' banquet. There will be a number of other speakers. Music will be furnished by a well known orchestra.

The committee consists of H. H. Cole, chairman; Harry G. Lawson, secretary; A. P. Shaw, treasurer; Allan Cooch, banquet; and Harris Samonisky, publicity. J. E. Dougherty is chairman of the baseball committee.

The interest committee is composed of Archie Dean, New York; G. P. Millington, Philadelphia; Claude Fouracre, Middletown; Chippy Bell, Smyrna; Ben Magee, Dover; Marshall Townsend, Milford; Howard Ennis, Georgetown; Emory Willey, Seaford; Warren Newton, Bridgeville, and Grayson Elliott, Delmar.

Among the invited guests are Senator Bayard, Dr. Walter Hullahen, president of the University of Delaware; A. G. Wilkinson, business manager of the University of Delaware; and Dr. George Harter.

Three More Delaware Professors Resign

Three more members of the University of Delaware faculty have presented resignations to take effect July 1. They are: Professor C. R. Runk, Dr. R. V. Townsend and Professor E. L. Gordy.

Professor Runk has been at the University of Delaware for eight years, and during the past year has been acting head of the Agronomy Department. He is taking a position with the Delaware Rayon Company, at New Castle, and will not move from Newark, for the present, at least.

Dr. R. V. Townsend, who came to the University of Delaware three years ago to take the place of Dr. Charles L. Penny, deceased, as professor of chemistry, will leave the University July 1, to become chemical director and vice-president of the Pilot Laboratory, Inc., at Arlington, New Jersey. The company with which Dr. Townsend will become associated is a subsidiary of the Washburn-Crosby Company, the largest millers in the world. He has been doing consulting work for the firm in the laboratory at Wolf Hall here since last September. E. L. Gordy, who has been working here with Dr. Townsend, will also go with him to Arlington.

Dr. Townsend is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a chemical engineer, and remained there after graduation, teaching and doing research work for two years. He took his doctor's degree at Johns Hopkins University. For five years, he was research chemist and chemical engineer for the Solvay Process Company, of Syracuse, New York, the largest manufacturers of alkalis in the world. Before coming to Delaware he was chief chemist for the Victor Talking Machine Company, of Camden, New Jersey. During the war Dr. Townsend did research work on explosives and poison gas at the Solvay Process Plant.

Dr. Townsend will move his family to Arlington early in July. They have occupied the house belonging to R. O. Bauman, on Park Place, this year, while Mr. Bauman and his family have been living in Ithaca, New York. The Townsends have made many warm friends here, who regret their leaving. Mrs. Townsend has been chairman of the Social Service Committee of the Newark New Century Club this year and has done a splendid piece of work.

Dr. Townsend is well known in scientific circles generally, and has written numerous scientific articles. He is a member of Sigma Xi, the scientific branch of Phi Beta Kappa, as well as other scientific societies.

NO LICENSE

Harry Franks, of Iron Hill, was fined $25 and costs, Friday, by Magistrate Thompson, on a charge of operating a car without an operator's license. He was arrested by State Highway Officer Workman.

ACTIVE IN MEMORIAL DAY CELEBRATIONS

MAJOR R. G. BUCKINGHAM

Major Richard G. Buckingham, one of the most prominent Civil War veterans in Delaware, has been taking his usual active part in Memorial Day celebrations here and in Wilmington. Today he read the "Gettysburg Address," at the Newark exercises, leaving immediately for Wilmington to take part in the parade and exercises there. Monday night he responded to the speech of welcome given at the banquet of the Laurence Roberts Post of the American Legion, Wilmington, to Civil War veterans, both of the Union and Confederate forces. He was accompanied to the banquet Monday by Mr. Henry Jacobs, of Corner Ketch, another Union veteran. Tomorrow, Major Buckingham and Mr. Jacobs will be the guests of the Wilmington Rotary Club, at a luncheon.

Wells College, Bryn Mawr, Cornell, Brown, Boston and Wheaton College each have two or more in the class while there are a number of colleges and universities represented by one student.

The Foreign Study Committee of the University of Delaware passes on the qualifications of all applicants and to date there have been 76 applicants.

Junior Prom

The annual prom of the junior classes was held last Saturday night and was one of the most colorful affairs in the history of the event. The dance was given in honor of the senior class and was well attended by members of the Alumni Association and the faculty. The gymnasium was decorated in green and pink. There was a false ceiling of lattice with green and pink rosebuds intertwined, and around the room were several arches with live roses growing in their trellises. The cafeteria, where the refreshments were served, was also decorated with rosebuds. Music was furnished by George Kelly's Orchestra. The patronesses were: Mrs. F. A. Wheelless, Mrs. R. S. Gallaher, Mrs. George Vansant, Mrs. R. W. Thoroughgood, Mrs. A. J. Doordan, Mrs. H. H. Gray and Mrs. E. L. Richards.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Reverend D. W. Jacobs, who returned last week from the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Kansas City, delivered an address last evening at the Methodist Church here on the subject "Methodism on the March."

Under the auspices of the Men's League of the church, a religious census of this town will be completed by May 31. The town has been districted and all families will be visited with the idea of learning the religious preferences of the people. There has been no thought of proselytizing in the movement, the main object has been to learn the constituency of the Methodist Church. In learning this, the workers necessarily learn the constituencies of the other churches of the town. Cards designating the various other churches will be turned over to the pastors of those churches, so that they may benefit also from the census.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT M. E. CHURCH

Sunday, June 3, will be Children's Day at the Methodist Episcopal Church of this town. The children of the Sunday School have been asked to be present at 10:30 Sunday morning in their various classes and departments. They will then march in a body to the church auditorium, where appropriate exercises will be held. The auditorium will be beautifully decorated for the occasion.

BAKE

Miss Emma Willis' Sunday School class will hold a bake on Saturday, June 2nd, in the vestibule of the M. E. Church. Bake will start at 9 o'clock, standard time.

Russell Manages 800 Acres, 600 Cannibals

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Russell have had from their son, Raymond, who is in charge of a section of the Firestone Plantations Company rubber development in Liberia, West Africa, a letter dated April 15, which states that the weather is very much like that of July and August in Delaware, but that they are looking forward to a six months rainy season.

He says that he is in charge of a section of 800 acres, which includes the main offices and the storehouses. He has 600 natives, who are of a cannibal tribe, working under him. He tells of a garden which he has planted from which he intends to harvest tomatoes, lettuce, sweet potatoes, bananas and pineapples. He included pictures, showing some of the natives, and of himself in work and Sunday dress. His dress consists of a pith helmet, an undershirt, khaki "shorts," shoes and leggings for work, and patent leather riding boots on Sunday.

$19,000 Pledged For University Faculty

Will Try To Raise $30,000 Subsidy To Increase Salaries; Committee To Collect Other $11,000

The first step of President Walter Hullahen, of the University of Delaware, and the Board of Trustees, in the effort to raise a subsidy to increase the salaries of the teaching staff of the University, was taken at a meeting in the du Pont-Biltmore, Friday, when $19,000 was subscribed toward a fund of $30,000. Henry B. Thompson, chairman of the Board of Trustees, presided at the meeting.

That such a subsidy was vital, was revealed in the fact that six members of the faculty of the University presented resignations this year to accept positions that offered more money.

The following committee was appointed to consider the problem of raising the remaining $11,000 by September of this year: William H. Heald, Charles B. Evans and H. Rodney Sharp.

Before the meeting H. Rodney Sharp, a trustee of the University, who has done much for the institution both in a financial way and with his advice as a trustee, said some money had been promised. He was optimistic that the needed amount would be raised.

Dr. Walter Hullahen, president of the University, pointed out at that time that the salary scale at Delaware was much lower than that of

TO SHOW CARNIVAL CAR

One of the features of the opening of Henry F. Mote's showroom, at 40 East Main street, on Saturday, will be a display of the Hupmobile Century 8 sedan, the car which the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company has purchased to give away at its annual carnival, next July and August. As another feature of the opening, Mr. Mote will give away one chance on this car with every purchase of one dollar or more.

Mr. Mote, who has opened this showroom to display the Hupmobile models, the agency for which he was recently awarded, will carry a stock of Michelin and Goodrich tires and tubes, automobile accessories and Sinclair oil. He will display models of both the 6 and 8 Century Hupmobiles. In addition to the showroom, Mr. Mote operates a garage and service station, just east of the B. and O. tracks, on New London avenue.

Virginian Elected To Presidency Of Del-Mar-Va Association

Each Of Three States Now Represented At Head Of Organization; Heads Of Departments Report

RESOLUTION

Over 200 delegates, representing the varied interests of the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula, attended the third annual meeting and convention of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, held last Friday, at the Wicomico Hotel, Salisbury, Maryland. Benjamin T. Gunther, lawyer from Accomac, Va., and former president of the Eastern Shore of Virginia Chamber of Commerce, was elected president of the Del-Mar-Va Association, succeeding Dr. G. Layton Grier, of Milford, Delaware. The first president of the Association was Fred P. Adkins, of Maryland. It was voted to continue the work of the Association.

The resolution continuing the association reads as follows: "Whereas, the initial two-year period of operation of the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association was completed on December 31, 1927, and whereas, the association, in the midst of the first year of the second period of its activities, is handicapped by an insufficient financial budget which prevents the full functioning of the association on an efficient and effective basis.

"Whereas, the members of the association, in annual meeting assembled, are of the opinion that the activities of the several departments and bureaus of the Del-Mar-Va Association in the two and a half years of its operation have been of inestimable service to the varied interests of the peninsula and are bound to prove of wider and greater usefulness in the future, therefore be it

KNIGHTS OF KHORASSAN CONVENE AT NEWARK

About 300 members of the Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, a branch of the Knights of Pythias, attended the spring ceremonial of Habib Temple, No. 205, which was held in Newark Saturday. Delegations were present from Wilmington, Baltimore, Reading, Philadelphia and Bridgeport, N. J. The Knights were the guests of Oscola Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Newark.

Initiation of a class of fourteen in the New Century Club, Saturday night, marked the close of a day's activities. A banquet preceded this ceremony, at which time B. H. McKindless, of Baltimore, imperial deputy of this district, was the principal speaker. Royal Vizard H. R. Wilson, of Wilmington, presided at this function. In the class to be given degrees were men from Newark, Wilmington, and Lewisville, Pa.

The parade during the afternoon was one of the highlights of the activities. It was headed by the Continental Band. About 200 marched, including Ben Hadad Temple, No. 93, of Baltimore, which had a uniformed patrol.

THIEVES LOOT POSTOFFICE

Late Sunday night, of early Sunday morning, thieves broke into the Postoffice at Iron Hill, Maryland, and took about $1.50 in small change and some unfilled money order blanks. The Postoffice is in the store of William B. Walton, who is also Postmaster, and the robbers gained entrance by forcing a rear door. Apparently they wanted cash only, as they did not disturb stamps or merchandise. They used tools stolen from a nearby railroad tool box to break in with. They also broke into a nearby garage and pushed a car out. However, the car was locked and they were unable to run it away.

DOG CASES

On Monday night, Magistrate Thompson fined Charles Davis $5 and costs on each count for harboring unregistered dogs, and Nathan Brooks, colored, $5 and costs for having one unregistered dog. Game Warden Mackinson had signed the warrants.

Expert Decries Reckless Battery Guarantees

Unconditional Terms Unfair To Everyone

Kreuger, Wilmington Expert, Says
Guarantees Should Be Specific

Battery advertising frequently contains such statements as: "Guaranteed for Two Years," "Backed by an Iron-Clad Guarantee," or "Guaranteed for Three Years," giving the man who reads it the impression that such guarantees are unconditional. If they are unconditional, it is an unsafe policy for the manufacturer, for every battery man knows that the length of efficient operation of a battery depends upon many things other than the "inside" of the battery itself. Let someone set the charging rate wrong, or let the generator be out of order—there are many things upon which a battery must depend over which the battery manufacturer has no control, says Ted Kreuger of Kreuger Battery Company, 1301 French Street, Wilmington, Del.

If the guarantee is conditional, and not so specified, it is unfair to the customer, as he has the right to know the conditions.

"A guarantee is only as good as its maker."

Any reputable manufacturer will have the efficient operation of his product at heart and will place upon it a guarantee within reason and one that he can live up to.

COLORFUL CONLON WASHER DUOCOED IN TWO TONES

Graciousness is woman's loveliest charm—and it is much easier to keep gentle and smiling when things you work with are cheerful and beautiful. It was with these facts in mind that the Conlon Washer was produced.

The Conlon cheers the heart of any woman. It is literally America's Most Beautiful Washer. Six dashing two-tone Duoco color combinations are presented for your choice. The famous Duoco finish is nearly everlasting and the colors are of artistic merit—they make ordinary washing machines appear as relics of the long ago.

The Conlon, which is sold by the Automotive Service Company at Concord Avenue and Market Street, Wilmington, is as efficient as it is beautiful. It washes a pound of clothes a minute—a big family wash in an hour. Yet so gentle is the washing action that sheerest fabrics are washed without a thought of harm.

Priced considerably lower than any other washer, the Conlon can be purchased on a small down-payment and easy terms.

PADDED VANS HAUL FURNITURE TO PITTSBURGH

A few weeks ago Herbert White, mover and hauler, 320 French Street, Wilmington, was given the job of hauling two large vans of furniture to Pittsburgh—a distance of 382 miles.

This was the longest haul ever made by Mr. White and was done in a satisfactory manner to all concerned. Padded vans were used, the expert movers carefully packed all the furniture, and other household goods—including chinaware; everything was delivered in good shape, unbroken and unscratched. The haul took 22½ hours running time.

The white fleet consists of six trucks from one-half ton to six tons and may be safely depended upon for hauling work of all kinds.

CHANDLER AUTOMOBILE POPULAR CAR ABROAD

"That you are liable to meet a Chandler motor car most anywhere, was amply demonstrated recently to a Chandler owner who is taking a Mediterranean Cruise," states H. A. Drake, of Drake Motor Co., local Chandler distributor. "It so happens that this owner is a friend of the Chandler distributor at Toronto, Canada, The Chandler Ontario Sales and Service, Ltd., of which O. J. Eaton is president.

"In writing Mr. Eaton, this gentleman bears out Chandler's wide distribution abroad, by saying: 'When I arrived at Madeira, I took a taxi to the wharf and found it was a Chandler. The next day, I ordered a motor car to use during my stay in the city, and to take me up in the mountains and it also was a Chandler. My impression of Chandler's wide popularity abroad was further intensified when I arrived at Algiers and hired a car again, and found it was a Chandler. Then when I was at Cadex, I also found another Chandler at my service. Outside of Fiat, Chandlers were the only cars used by me while abroad.'

BEAUTIFUL DELAWARE SESQUI BUILDING RE-ERECTED ON OUTSKIRTS OF DOVER

Thousands of Delawareans visited the Sesqui-Centennial at Philadelphia two years ago and saw the Delaware State Building. Those thousands will be pleased to learn that this building has been re-erected near Dover and is now the SESQUI INN.

Fine meals are served here and the tea room may be rented for private affairs by responsible persons.

SHOE REPAIRER DOES NOVEL ADVERTISING

One of Newark's enterprising merchants, Fiore Nardo, well-known shoe repairman, has adopted a novel advertising scheme and one that is sure to build good-will. He has had a number of benches made with his name painted thereon in large letters. These benches are being placed in public places for the comfort of his prospective customers.

Mr. Nardo, who has been located in Newark for about two years, has had extensive experience in his chosen line; for several years he maintained a shoe repairing shop on West Fourth Street, Wilmington. Since coming here he has built up a large and well satisfied trade in this vicinity.

THE WELDER MUST KNOW THE METAL HE USES

New metals coming into industrial use bring new problems for the welder to solve. The repair welder probably has the worst of it, because the man who brings the job to him may have no knowledge at all of the composition or nature of the material to be welded, but even the man in the factory, with all data concerning the material at hand, has it hard enough. For, unfortunately, the makers of a number of alloys can give little assistance in welding them. This is not universally true, be it understood, because those who have solved the welding problem have also been willing to broadcast the answer. Mr. Hall G. Goodwin of the DuPont Machine and Grinding Co., says it has been especially interesting to investigate the welding of stainless steels, a term applied by the layman to a great many different alloys indiscriminately. These steels vary in weldability as much as they do in composition, and as a result, failures in hopeless cases have led to the hasty conclusion that all such steels are difficult, if not impossible, to weld. It is surprising to the average person what can be done by welding, so if you break a part of a machine of any kind—you should first thing ascertain the cost of welding. The cost will in the most cases not only be less than a new part, but it will mean a saving in time—which in these days is really money.

Memorial Day

"But, in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow, this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion, that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Loyal To the University

A splendid spirit of loyalty to the University of Delaware was shown at a meeting of friends of the institution held here yesterday. It had been learned that the teaching force was threatened with defection unless a way could be found to increase some of the salaries—which is not possible from available funds. The raising of $19,000 in an hour or so indicated the readiness with which Delawareans come to the rescue when a real need develops. This sum will doubtless very soon be increased to $30,000, the amount required to take care of the situation until the Legislature can come to the rescue, which it is believed it will, by increasing the salary fund hereafter.

As has been explained heretofore, six members of the teaching staff have been offered larger pay by other colleges or to take up other lines of work. Their departure from Delaware—and they could not be criticized if they did leave in order to earn more money—would probably cripple the institution to the extent of jeopardizing the high standard that has been set there. The loyalty of the friends of Delaware who have prevented such an unwelcome happening is commendable.—Wilmington Every Evening.

Reports Progress On Pres. Sunday School

One of the most important building operations of the past year in this town is that of the Sunday School Annex to the Presbyterian Church. George W. Griffin, who has been in constant touch with the work, has been asked to write a sketch of the need for the building and the development of the work. Mr. Griffin's report, which he has kindly made, is as follows:

The Sunday schools touch so intimately the social and religious life of our community as well as laying the foundation of good citizenship, that I believe some comments and description of the new Sunday School Annex to the Presbyterian Church might be of interest to many of our readers. Pastor Hallman and Sunday School Superintendent, Prof. Preston, have long desired more room and better facilities for carrying on their work than was afforded by the old basement with its low ceiling and poor ventilation. So about a year ago they called a meeting of the official Church Board and decided to put up a building that would anticipate future needs as well as the present. A congregational meeting was called, and giving a favorable vote, committees were appointed to invite pledges. The people responded forthwith to the amount of $23,000.00, most of which is on deferred payment plan and is being handsomely met. A building committee, consisting of George W. Griffin, H. K. Preston and Orlando K. Stahorn, was authorized to set the project in motion and look after it.

The structure averages a little more than 43x105 feet. The walls are of Brandywine granite, hammered to shape and built to the Gothic style of architecture. The sharp slate covered roof is supported upon steel trusses, giving to it strength, grace and permanency. A broad, inviting entrance leads to an excellent interior lay out, well suited to the purpose for which it is intended. The interior walls are a combination of tinted sand finish and white coat, combining a color scheme with reflected light. The auditorium is lighted by eight fine Gothic memorial windows, presented in memory of their departed loved ones by the following members of the congregation: Mrs. Nora Bryan, Harry Dougherty, Miss Etta Todd, Mrs. R. J. Colbert, Mrs. Harry N. Reed, Professor Howard K. Preston, Albert Lewis and George W. Griffin. Other windows are opaque glass set in iron casement sash. Six handsome semi-indirect lighting fixtures swing from the auditorium ceiling, with ample lighting for the large platform at the south end of this assembly room, and for halls and class rooms. There are eleven class rooms in the new building, five of which overlook the large assembly room, besides a beautiful room for the pastor's study, a large well equipped kitchen for social activities and five remodeled class rooms in the old part, altogether meeting the graded system of teaching now so essential to modern ideas. Retiring space for the choir is provided near the pastor's study. Lavatories, book and equipment closets, together with a fine furnace room rather complete the lay out. The interior finish is in selected North Carolina pine of fine grain colored to light walnut. The floors are edge grain or rift North Carolina pine, scraped to even surface, fine to look upon and fine to wear.

Some necessary repairs have been made to the church proper—new copper gutters and conductors, some much needed pointing done to masonry. The roof repaired and unsightly little metal flues taken down. There is easy access from the old building to the new through a wide hall and a fine stairs leading to second floor rooms. While the auditorium's ceiling is twenty-six feet in height, the room is buttressed at either end by a two-stories effect, which, by opening of doors and windows will enable four adult classes to take part in opening and closing exercises from their class rooms. It seems probable that the school will take possession of its new quarters June 17th. What the exercises will be or when the building will be dedicated the writer does not know, as that will be worked out by the Pastor, Superintendent and teachers. Some new furniture has been looked after.

The Smythe Construction Co. drew the plans and erected the building, and too much cannot be said in praise of the manner in which they have carried on the work, doing even more than specifications called for. The material is the best of its several kinds, and the workmanship in all its branches is beyond reproach.
Geo. W. Griffin.

OFFENDED BY TYPEWRITER

Discussing the modern typewriter and its future development, Lieutenant-Commander R. T. Gould, R. N., in a lecture at the Royal Society of Arts told of the indignation which was at first felt by many recipients of typewritten communications. One man—a Kentucky mountaineer—returned a typed letter, with the marginal comment: "You don't need to print no letters for me, I kin read writing." The dignified rejoinder of an aggrieved district agent to a banker was:

"I do not think it was necessary, nor will be in the future, to have your letters to me taken to the printers and set up like a handbill. I will be able to read your writing and am deeply chagrined to think you thought such a course necessary."

The speaker referring to the future of the typing machine said:

"The question has been raised whether it will one day be possible to eliminate the personal equation in typing by producing a perfect automatic typewriter which will take dictation without the intervention of a human operator. Well, I consider the thing could be done, but I do not think it could ever be worth doing and it certainly has not been done yet."

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the six energetic young men, headed by Lynam Reed, who recently planned and carried through a successful dance for the Flower Hospital.

THE AMERICAN SERIES

A NOTABLE project!—to perpetuate, in sterling silver, the outstanding periods in America's artistic development.

Thus far, there are only two designs, covering the entire scope of American life. MINUET—representing Early America... PINE TREE—representing the America of today. Each is notable not only for historic importance and fidelity to period, but for its charm and individuality.

In view of the widespread interest shown in the American Series sterling, we have arranged a complete display of both MINUET and PINE TREE. We shall be glad to show these patterns to you.

The morning session was closed with an address by Dan S. Hollenga, manager of the Petersburg (Va.) Chamber of Commerce, who appealed for community cooperation.

At the afternoon session, which began at 2 o'clock, addresses were made by Dr. Fred Pearce Dennis, vice-chairman of the U. S. Tariff Commission, who cited economic factors which would contribute to the future of the Peninsula.

Much praise of the Eastern Shore and the cooperative endeavors being undertaken were voiced by Dr. C. J. Galpin, U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the other speaker on the program.

U. Of D. Finishes With A Victory And A Loss

Beats Pratt, 2 To 1; Drops Good Game To C. C. N. Y., 3 To 2

The University of Delaware baseball team finished its season in New York and parts adjacent, namely Brooklyn. Friday Rothrock's charges visited the city of the Unburied Dead, and with an unlooked for reversal of form, trimmed Pratt Institute, 2 to 1. On Saturday, lost to C. C. N. Y. 3 to 2, but chopped no prestige, for the Lavender is considered big league in college circles.

Pratt Game
Max Glasser was mainly responsible for this victory, for he made one of Delaware's tallies in the fourth and drove in the other one in the seventh. Garrett pitched a nice game and kept Pratt's hits scattered.

Delaware came within several acres of beating City College Saturday. The Blue and Gold hit the ball hard at times, Skura and Taylor getting triples, and Taylor, Loveland and Jaquette whacking doubles. However, Muscant, the Lavender's portside ace tightened at crucial moments and kept the one run margin safe.

Women's Clubs in Semi-Annual Session

The Eastern Shore District of the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs of Maryland held its semi-annual session in Denton, on Thursday May 24. The attendance was large—over two hundred delegates being present.

The Denton Community Club was host to the other clubs. Mrs. D. W. Davis, president, made the speech of welcome, and Mrs. Walter S. Sheppard, president of the Federation, responded to the greeting by Mrs. Davis.

In her usual happy, graceful manner, Reports read by the different club presidents were most interesting and showed a wide scope of work done during the club year. Denton, Federalburg and Cambridge Clubs were especially active and successful, and showed a well-balanced treasury, and many good plans for the future.

The social program was particularly fine, some of the outstanding features being musical numbers rendered by the Caroline County High School Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. J. Kemp Stevens, superintendent of vocal music in the county schools, an historical sketch of Caroline County compiled and read by Mrs. Harry Ramsdell, and a most interesting and impressive address given by the Reverend T. O. Mulligan, of Cambridge, Maryland.

After an invitation extended by the Greensboro Club was received and accepted by the Federated Clubs, the meeting was adjourned to convene in October, 1928.

Delegates from Elkton who motored to Denton and thoroughly enjoyed the sessions and the bountiful luncheon, were: Mrs. Henry M. McCullough, Mrs. I. D. Davis, Mrs. Reginald Constable, Mrs. Albert Constable, Mrs. Harry Young, Mrs. Elizabeth Yerger, Mrs. Harry T. Alexander, Miss Jennie Quigg Realey, Mrs. John T. Hartnett, Mrs. John W. Alexander, Mrs. Howard T. Ruhl, Mrs. Peyton Harrison, Mrs. Russell George, and Mrs. Florence Graves of Chesapeake City.

Years of Service in Model T Fords

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perches, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of re-conditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

J. R. O. U. A. M.

The five wives of the American Flag Council No. 28, J. R. O. U. A. M., met Monday evening in the council chamber. Several applications for membership were presented. An eloquent and forcible address on Memorial Day was delivered by Charles D. Colmery. The council appointed John R. Kennedy, George F. Goldy and A. Neal Smythe to take active part in the Memorial Day parade and participate at the service on the University campus. Brother Goldy spoke on the "Standards of True Patriotism." This message made a deep impression on all present.

On Sunday morning, June 24, at 9:45 a. m., standard time, the Council will present a large flag to the First Presbyterian Sunday School. Mr. Charles H. Semkens, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will deliver the message. Mr. Semkens is a man that is known to all Juniors as a man whose heart is wrapped with the Bible and the American Flag. Definite outlines of the service will be announced next week.

After the service a Junior American dinner will be served at Scarborough restaurant. It is desired that special reservations be made no later than June 18. Communicate with Brother Norton or Smythe.

Next Monday evening Brother W. Amos Norton will have a message on "Seventy-five Years of Juniorism." Spread the news as great interest of vital importance is in store for all Juniors.

other similar institutions, and that the members of the faculty who have left and those who are talking of leaving were justly entitled to salary increases, but money was not available to grant the increases.

Dr. Hurlihen explained that the matter had been discussed by the trustees and that an effort would probably be made to secure a subsidy of $15,000 a year for two years to cope with the situation until the legislature meets when it is hoped an adequate appropriation will be made to adjust the salary scale to make it at least on a par with that of other institutions with which Delaware has to compete to secure competent instructors.

In all cases where faculty members have resigned, or are talking of leaving, they are satisfied with conditions at the University in every respect except the low salaries.

Those invited to the conference were:

would do anything consistent with duty and honor to avoid it.

"We must be constantly on guard within our own borders. Our forefathers and comrades, in whose memory we met today, fought and died that we might be safe from enemies within our walls, as well as those without.

"In a speech not long since, our own Senator Bayard said: 'First keep your country on an even keel, and secondly, keep your country ready to fight for its own. Continue to strive for peace, but keep in mind your duty to defend your country at all times—and at whatever cost.'

Colonel Smith spoke of the danger from radical propagandists within our country, and said that we should at all times be prepared to defend our institutions and heritages from attack from within as well as from without our country's borders. He closed with a plea for remembrance both for the dead and for their living comrades, who were willing, but were not called upon to make the supreme sacrifice.

The exercises, which were arranged by the Newark Post of the American Legion, were opened by an invocation by Paul Lovett, chaplain of the Newark Post. This was followed by the singing of "America" by all, the singing led by A. D. Cobb, Major Buckingham, Civil War veteran, then recited Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address." This was followed by the assemblage singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Colonel Smith then gave the address of the day, which was followed by the placing of wreaths on the Memorial Stone by various town organizations, and by the school children. Professor Ira S. Brinser, superintendent of the Newark Schools and a Legionnaire, gave "The Eulogy to the Dead." The Continental Band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner," which the audience joined in singing. The Veterans of Foreign Wars' firing squad fired a salute to the dead, and the exercises closed with "taps," blown by Orville Little.

Professor Brinser, in his "Eulogy to the Dead" spoke of the occasion as one of grief, pride, new consecration to duty, but mainly one of memory. He said, in part:

"Our love and pride for those who gave their lives remains unharmed. Their sacrifice for country and for civilization is complete. It is taken out of our hands and we can do nothing with it. It is beyond the reach of our scruples and our doubts and uncertainties.

"We may have our doubts as to the future. But that can affect only our children, but cannot disturb the silent bivouac of the honored heroes who sleep today beneath the blossoms of a grateful country.

"We may have doubts as to our service to our country; but there are no doubts about the dead. They have fought the fight, they have finished their course; they have kept the faith.

And today in this day of memory, in this day of grief, in this day of pride, we all renew our pledge of consecrated loyalty to the high aims and purposes of these United States, that those for whom we cease our labors this day, shall not have died in vain."

There were three G. A. R. veterans on the platform: Major R. G. Buckingham and Charles Waters, from Newark, and Henry Jacobs, from Corner Ketch. The Continental Band furnished the music. The squad of Veterans of Foreign Wars, which fired the salute to the dead, was composed of: John Grundy, William Dailey, James Kelly, Benjamin McCormick, Ansel Tweed, William McFarland, Raymond Edmondson, and Angelo Cattallo.

The parade, which was organized and directed by the Newark Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, started from the new school building, on Academy street, at 8:30. It was led by the Continental Band with the following organizations in line: Newark Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Newark Post of the American Legion, Battery "E" Delaware National Guard, Boy Scouts, and contingents of school children.

The parade first marched to the Methodist Cemetery, where salutes were fired, and then to the Episcopal Cemetery, where the same ceremony took place. The parade then marched to the Memorial Stone for the exercises.

The Newark Legion Post will decorate the veterans' graves in Newark cemeteries, and the Newark Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will attend to the decoration of graves in cemeteries adjacent to Newark.
