

Ed Stiff Proposes Compromise In Dispute of Police Pensions

City Manager Addresses 20 Local Policemen On Monday
With Offer To Amend Ordinance As Benefit To Veteran
Officers With Minimum 50 Per Cent Pay On Retirement

As a compromise in the dispute between Newark and its police department over a new pension plan, City Manager Edward R. Stiff told 20 policemen attending a meeting Monday afternoon that he would work out a supplemental ordinance to make sure no one retiring from the force at 55 would receive less than 50 per cent of his average wage in pension, providing he worked a certain number of years.

The length of service is still uncertain, but Albert K. Martin, city finance director, suggested 25 years. Martin also said one policeman's proposal, to base the average on the last five years of service rather than the total years, might be economically feasible.

A major issue has been affect of the proposed plan on officers who have served prior to Jan. 1, 1966. Under the proposal, a man would receive one per cent of his average monthly pay times years of service for time prior to 1966 and two per cent of his average monthly pay times years of service after Jan. 1, 1966. Mandatory retirement age for policemen would be 55.

3212 A Month?
According to police, this would mean that one man on the force would have to retire this year at $312 a month after 32 years service.

Stiff said the figure is true, but that a policeman starting Jan. 1, 1966, at age 21 would retire at 55 at 68 per cent of his average pay.

For this reason, Stiff said, he is going to draw up the supplemental ordinance and present it to council. Council turned down the pension package requested through the Fraternal Order of Police.

The request included a 20-year, half-pay retirement plan—the same as state and Wilmington police.

In The Red
Martin said Monday that both the state and Wilmington are deep in the red because of lack of funding for the plans.

He told the police, however, that if they feel a 20-year plan is what they really want, they should keep trying, but in the meantime accept the city's present proposal.

"If you don't achieve your goal and don't accept the present proposal," Martin said, "you won't have anything... and you will have suffered a substantial financial loss."

Confirmation
Stiff confirmed the log aspect. "We have found that we can have a plan without everyone signing up," he said.

There had been some doubt on that. As proposed, the pension plan would be a two-part package for all city employees. The police have refused to accept it, and there was a question if their action would hold it up for the city's other employees.

Stiff said he would present the supplemental pension proposal to the police within a week.

Girl Faces Series Of Rabies Shots As Dog Is Sought

A four-year-old Brookside girl faces rabies shots because she was bitten Monday by "a small black and white dog with a curly tail."

New Castle County Police, joined by agents of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, are searching for the dog in Brookside.

The girl, Donna Rivera, is the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Croall of 28 Meadows Lane, Brookside.

According to police, the child on her way to kindergarten, was bitten by the dog on her leg, arm and nose.

She ran to her home and was treated by the family physician. The bites, according to police, required only basic surface treatment, and no stitches.

However, as a precaution, efforts are being made by police and SPCA agents to find the dog, believed to be a neighborhood pet, so that tests can be made which may preclude the serious series of rabies treatments for the child.

Teletype Network Offers Millions In Library Loans

Delawareans May Borrow
From Library Of Congress,
Almost All Of 50 States

Delawareans have a state-wide teletype network that makes millions of books and periodicals available to them from almost all of the 50 states and the Library of Congress in Washington.

The Delaware library communications network is known as "DRILL," Delaware Rapid Inter-Library Loan, and is operated by the State Library Commission and the University of Delaware Library.

Teletypewriter machines are located in the Delaware State College Library and the Library Commission at Dover; the Delaware Technical and Community College Library in Georgetown; and the Wilmington Institute Free Library. These locations are linked via teletype to the University of Delaware which serves as control center for the state.

When a Delaware resident (for example, in Rehoboth) asks his librarian for a book which is not in the Rehoboth library, the librarian there can telephone or contact the library teletype center in his county. If that center owns the book, it will be mailed to Rehoboth. If it does not own the book, a teletype message is sent to another teletype center thought to have the book.

If the book cannot be found in the state and cannot be readily purchased, the University of Delaware Library determines from its book catalogues what libraries in the country own the publication needed.

This information is then sent to the library originally initiating the request (Rehoboth, in our example) and the Rehoboth librarian may then request the book directly from the owning library.

The teletype network, which uses regular telephone lines, is made possible from federal funds administered by the State Library Commission.

Sears New Shopping Service Scheduled For Friday Opening At Fairfield Center

Sears, Roebuck and Co. will introduce a new shopping service in the greater Newark area this Friday, with the opening in the Fairfield Shopping Center on New London Rd., of a 4,000-sq. ft. mini-store facility stocking the firm's complete line of major appliances along with rugs and carpets.

Twenty-four hour delivery service on most of the 240,000 merchandise items Sears offers through its catalog will be provided by the store.

Sears officials say the new venture is basically an extension of shopping service available through its Price's Corner store, but offered especially for convenience of customers who live some distance south of the main store location.

Burt Roy, manager of the Price's Corner store, said the new unit would be a "satellite" operation of his store and directly under its control.

Sears will employ approximately 15 people in the new unit.

A large percentage of the store's compact floor area will be given over to displays of washers, freezers, ranges, machines, vacuum cleaners, television, stereo, and rugs. These sections resemble—

President Alden C. Bogner said.

The chamber unanimously endorsed the school district's recent referendum to provide needed facilities and to improve the educational program for 14,042 children in Newark public schools, and for those who will be entering school in years to come.

Commenting on formation of the new committee, Board of Education President Albert J. Jones said: "The school board is gratified with formation of the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce liaison committee."

"It has been the board's consistent policy to encourage avenues of school-community communications. Strong civic interest in the operation and goals of the Newark school system is a significant factor in developing and improving a quality educational program for children in the community."

Martin Reports City Surplus Of $367,409 For End of 1968

Finance Director Cites 16.5 Per Cent Revenue Increase
With 14.6 Per Cent Rise In Expenditures As Reasons
For Balance; Extra $250,000 Possibility With 1969

Finance Director Albert K. Martin reported a revised 1968 year-end surplus of $367,409 in municipal funds at last Monday night's regular meeting of Newark City Council, with the possibility of a $250,000 underestimate in 1969 revenue with the current budget allocation of $43,670 for unappropriated surplus.

At the beginning of 1968, estimated year-end surplus was $77,627. That figure was revised during the year with increased revenue, especially from electricity sales.

Revenue Rise
The increase, Martin said, was due to a 16.5 per cent rise in revenue with a 14.6 per cent increase in expenditures. The normal revenue increase is eight per cent, he said.

If the 16 per cent increase continues, he said revenue for this year could be underestimated by as much as $250,000.

Council immediately allocated some of the unexpected funds, appropriating $30,000 to launch another phase of its long-term slow-walk program.

Sidewalks
A resolution for sidewalks to be placed in 20 areas in the city over a three-year period at a total cost to the city of $10,000, was adopted, and the staff will determine location and priority on the basis of safety need.

The estimated cost to property owners for the total package is $138,359.

The balance of the surplus was untouched.

Council directed action on two long-standing projects — selection of a city hall site and renovation or rebuilding of the New London Avenue School.

Executive Session
An executive session was called on the city hall site issue, but after 30 minutes behind closed doors, council stated it was not ready to act.

Voters approved a $750,000 bond issue to build a new city hall last April.

The New London Avenue School project was approved in the same referendum, but has been held up due to cost.

Council directed James F. Hall, city parks and recreation director, to state exactly what is needed in the building—proposed as a community center—after receiving a $30,000 cost estimate to remodel or replace it.

Council awarded contracts of $50,000 to R. A. Boyer, Inc., of Heritage Park for transmission mains from two wells; $26,250 to Westinghouse Electric Supply of Wilmington for transformers and conductors; and $3,200 to B. M. Pincusson of Newark for preparation of an electric substation site.

Teen-Age Volunteer Workers 'GO MOD'
To Support March of Dimes Programs

Teen-age volunteers for the March of Dimes are following the lead of their national chairman, TV star Kathy Garver, as they "GO MOD" in a meaningful manner.

They work extremely hard to raise money for the March of Dimes (MOD) fight to prevent birth defects, and they work equally hard on the community service and education programs needed to win that fight.

For example, Teen Age Program (TAP) volunteers for the March of Dimes brought the good old summertime to handicapped children in Portsmouth, Va., this year.

TAP's in this southern city boosted a recreational project praised by Portsmouth Health Department and civic organizations as sponsors.

Their unanimous verdict was that TAP's reached the children in a way that adults could not.

The Portsmouth teen-agers devoted the summer holidays to making summer as much fun for physically handicapped children as it is for boys and girls enjoying normal health.

Each TAP became a "buddy" to a particular youngster. They drove the children to and from the city park, where games and arts and crafts classes were set up for them. They played checkers, catch-ball games, held sing-alongs, read stories and helped their small charges romp through other specially planned activities.

The Portsmouth project was only one outlet for the thousands of March of Dimes TAP's who serve communities across the nation year-round. In cities, towns and rural centers they help to support the March of Dimes in its nationwide program to prevent birth defects.

Since 1958, when the voluntary health organization redirected its energies and resources from the successful war on polio, it has established more than 100 Birth Defects Centers. The extensive March of Dimes program includes patient care, research, professional education and public health information programs.

Despite our nation's excellent health standards, a quarter of a million infants are born each year with physical or mental defects. As future parents, teen-agers have shown their concern for preventing these tragedies.

Community education ranks high with TAP's. Evidence of this is the growing attendance at Young Adult Conferences on Birth Defects sponsored during the year by the March of Dimes.

The organization's first national conference held at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, drew more than 300 TAP representatives from 48 states as well as delegates from 28 youth organizations and 17 adult organizations.

In October, the fourth annual Young Adult Conference on Birth Defects at Sargent College of Allied Professionals at Boston University, had a record attendance of 1,000 young people. The same month, 659 participated in a conference at Colby College in Waterville, Maine.

But TAP's do more than attend conferences. A whirlwind Miami, Fla. TAP, Maria Landry, 18, recruited teen-agers to renovate quarters for a local Birth Defects Center, spoke before youth groups about birth defects and helped the Northeast Miami Junior Women's Club and Bnai B'rith to sponsor county-wide youth conferences. She also arranged layette showers for needy mothers and enlisted more than 300 young people to serve as volunteers for non-professional duties at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

Susan Merritt, 18, of Colton, Calif., teen chairman of the March of Dimes San Bernardino County Chapter, was awarded a Junior Volunteer Service Award by the Mayor and City Council for her outstanding community service.

Miss Merritt organized many successful education programs for young people and also helped raise more than $10,000 for the March of Dimes.

Shrimp Toast Is Snack Supreme

Chinese cooking is in! It is an easy, breezy style for the most part because the Chinese like to cook things in the shortest possible time. Like the French, early Chinese cooks needed to economize on fuel and so from necessity created many of the classic dishes that cook in a hurry. Chinese-style Shrimp Toast is no exception to the rule. This snack superior for all seasons and occasions requires about 30 seconds in an unusually small amount of hot fat. Spread the triangles ahead if you wish and at serving time turn them out hot, crisp — and fast. The recipe, adapted to easy, handy canned shrimp, is one to cherish and pass along with pride.

SHRIMP TOAST
2 cans (4 1/2 ounces each) shrimp
1/2 cup finely chopped water chestnuts or celery
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon soy sauce
6 slices two-day old bread, crusts removed

Drain shrimp and chop coarsely. Combine with water chestnuts or celery, cornstarch, eggs, sugar, and soy sauce. Mix well and spread evenly over the bread all the way to the edges. Cut each slice into triangles. Fill a heavy skillet with cooking oil to a depth of one inch and heat oil to about 375 degrees or until, by test, it will quickly brown a small piece of stale bread. Lower the filled bread, shrimp side down, into the hot oil and fry about 15 seconds. Turn and fry on the other side a few seconds or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes 12 servings.

Stop hunger — Start progress

The underdeveloped nation are in a race with time. While they struggle to catch up with modern progress mankind's oldest enemies do their damage now.

Hunger and malnutrition kill 10,000 persons a day, maim children for life — stunt their bodies, deaden their minds. Needless diseases cripple and weaken many more. Lack of education and training doom young people and adults to a hopeless cycle of poverty.

America would not be America if we closed our hearts to human agony at home or abroad. CARE is a way to reach the needy in countries whose resources are far less than our own. Your contribution does more than keep people alive. CARE's Food, Self-Help and Mexico programs help the hungry grow self-sufficient. Health, education, food production, job training, construction of community facilities from schools to roads and water systems—these are the supplies and services CARE provides in the name of the American people.

Your dollars are multiplied by those you help: local governments share operating costs, and community groups give what they can in materials and volunteer labor. Our Government gives farm abundance for many of the feeding plans.

Every dollar can serve lunch to 90 children... $10 treat 14 patients at a clinic... $300 per classroom can buy materials for parents to build a school.

Whatever you give, your concern speaks straight to the hearts of the millions of persons CARE aids in Africa, Asia, the Middle East and Latin America. Mail your check—for the sake of those who need help so badly, and for the kind of world all of us want.

TURNPIKE TOLL

"Don't put no money in it — it don't work!" an exasperated young man admonished with good intent if not grammar last Tuesday night as we drove up behind his car stopped before the red light at the southbound John F. Kennedy Memorial Turnpike exit to Newark via Route 896.

After conscientiously depositing his quarter, without receiving the go-ahead green light at the automatic computer, he apparently had been engaged for some cold time in trying to get a legal signal — and it was cold Tuesday night. We say he had been there for some while, because no car within our range of vision had turned into the exit as we approached 896 from Wilmington.

The coldly impersonal lettered command to stop, pay toll, and the red light are aggravation enough in this day of ever increasing regimentation, but to obey the sign by stopping and depositing the toll — and having the light remain red with the eventual embarrassment of driving off through an alarm bell, is adding real insult to what may be considered injury.

Former state representative and now newly elected State Senator William F. Hart of Newark campaigned hard to remove the toll for turnpike travel between Newark and Wilmington, citing many good reasons for its abolition.

But the pesky toll depositories, red and sometime green lights, bells, cost and embarrassment remain — and the occasional police cars deployed to enforce payment at the exits may well be put to better use with a legal free ride on the Turnpike between Newark and Wilmington.

Fishell, Murphy Kris Ciesinski Win Music Honor

MAKE AMERICA A BETTER PLACE.

LEAVE THE COUNTRY.

Of all the ways America can grow, one way is by learning from others.

There are things you can learn in the Peace Corps you can't learn anywhere else.

You could start an irrigation program. And find that crabgrass and front lawns look a little ridiculous. When there isn't enough wheat to go around in Nepal.

You could be the outsider who helps bring a Jamaican fishing village to life, for the first time in three hundred years. And you could wonder if your country has outsiders enough. In Watts. In Detroit. In Appalachia. Or in Indian reservations.

Last year, for the first time, Peace Corps alumni outnumbered Volunteers who are now out at work overseas.

By 1980, 200,000 Peace Corps alumni will be living their lives in every part of America.

There are those who think you can't change the world in the Peace Corps.

On the other hand, maybe it's not just what you do in the Peace Corps that counts. But what you do when you get back.

The Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

Coach Hubert Mock's Yellowjackets Tie For First In Defeating Bulldog Matmen

Coach Hubert Mock's Newark High School Yellowjacket matmen moved into a three-way tie for first place in the Blue Hen Conference with Brandwine and Conrad by defeating the previously undefeated Bulldogs at Brandwine last Saturday 24-16.

Hill Early and Joe Sacket won 6-3 and 1-0 decisions over Ingraham and Carlson in the 95 and 103-lb. opening matches to provide the Yellowjackets with a 6-0 lead, and Neil Desmond wrestled jumps to a 1-1 draw at 112-lbs. for a two-point split and an 8-2 count.

Desmond was edged by Barton in a 3-2 thriller at 120-lbs., and Geoffrey Squire drew 5-5 with Palmer at 127 on Brandwine moved up in the 167-lb. tally.

However, when Fred Klison was defeated 13-5 by Parthenore at 133, the Bulldogs tied things up at 16-all. Co-Capt. Steve Jones and Mike Strenigari then provided Coach Mock with an eight-point cushion as Jones defeated Marshall 8-0 at 136-lbs., and Strenigari pinned Hoover in 3:26 of the 145-pounder.

Co-Capt. John Frame lost a 7-3 decision to Batoon at 154-lbs. and Brandwine was still in the running with the 18-13 score.

Dave Chapman, 165, won an 8-3 decision over previously undefeated Rich Widdows, and barring a pair of wins by the Bulldogs in the remaining two matches, Newark was home free.

"I knew we were okay after Dave won," Coach Mock said of Wm. Penn Coach Ollie Chapman's son.

Steve Strenigari lost a 12-3 decision to Hazel in the 160-lb. event, and then Heavyweight Jack Kowal stopped Brandwine's Burns 9-0 in the finale.

Mock's 4-1 Yellowjackets host 2-3 DeLaWarr this Saturday with junior varsity matches scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

YOUNG MEN, HAVE YOU HEARD?
THE U. S. MARINE CORPS HAS
NEW ENLISTMENT TERMS

The Marine Corps has modified its length of enlistments to meet an authorized 30,000 increase in personnel strength. This new expansion makes possible a two-year active duty assignment for a limited number of volunteers.

Now you can be an "active-duty Reservist." It works this way: you volunteer as a Reservist, serve only two years on active duty and then revert to an inactive Reserve status. Three and four year enlistments are also available.

Maybe you've thought you couldn't "make the grade" as a Marine. Well, 95 percent of the men who enlist do make it because they respond to the fine training and the exceptional spirit of the Corps.

You'll be proud to say: "I am a Marine."

Your local Marine recruiter is:

Yellowjackets Lose Two By One Point In Basketball Race

The Yellowjackets of Coach George Pittnick suffered their third and fourth successive setbacks by one-point margins, losing 61-60 at Brandwine on Friday, and dropping a 66-63 thriller at Mt. Pleasant last Tuesday.

Newark, 4-4 for the season after straight opening wins, hosts Coach Al Mann's 2-6 Christiana Vikings this Friday, and the Yellowjackets play at Wm. Penn next Tuesday. Junior varsity preliminaries are scheduled at 6:30 p.m.

At Mt. Pleasant without the services of All-State Bob Tucker, Newark led 34-27 at the half, but the Green Knights rallied to outscore their guests 17-13 and 22-18 in the remaining two periods for the 66-63 win.

Chris Dunn paced the Yellowjackets scorers with 18 points — six field goals and six out of eight from the foul line.

Gary Hayman was the leading scorer for Newark at Brandwine, sinking five field goals and five out of 10 free throws for 15 points.

The Yellowjackets held a 17-11 edge over the Bulldogs in the first quarter and led 21-20 at halftime, but Brandwine took command in a 21-14 third period.

Newark edged their hosts 15-14 in the final period — one point short of an overtime chance.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day A Lost "Art"

Sometimes the criminal mind has a sporting bent and, instead of applying undeniable talent to producing a likeness of the coin of the realm, a counterfeit will try his hand at altering part-minted tickets.

Special paper developed by the American Totalitarian Company, ultra-violet lamps at the cashier's windows, and alert mutual clerks have made ticket counterfeiting practically a lost art, but the files of the Thoroughbred Racing Association's private investigative organization, concerned a counterfeit gang that flourished briefly in New England a few years back. Their modus operandi was to buy five or ten $10 tickets on No. 1 in a race, the theory being that the figure "1" was easiest to change. Then by artful use of clover, nail polish remover, carefully mixed inks and counterfeit numeral dies, No. 1 became the number of the winning horse. On one occasion, however, they failed to notice that there were ten horses in the race. The winner proved to be No. 10 and they had no "9" die.

On another occasion, after they had carefully obliterated the No. 1 on their ticket, the winner proved to be No. 1. Their chagrin made them sloppy in the re-application of the numeral "1" and proved their undoing.

Soph Pair To Aid Hens In 2nd Half With "Evolution"

Delaware Basketball Coach Dan Peterson has his own theory of evolution.

"There are three stages of development in the normal sophomore basketball player," Peterson theorizes. "In the first stage they hurt you; then they hold their own; and finally, they are ready to help you."

Peterson is happy that at least two of his sophomores are in the third stage of their development.

"Danny Carnevale and Dave Hostenstein have gone through the development of the normal sophomore," the Hen coach says, "and we know they are going to help us tremendously in the remainder of the season."

Carnevale and Hostenstein have already helped the Hen cause. Both came off the bench and did a fine job as the Hens rebounded from an eight-point deficit to defeat Lafayette 65-60 in their last game.

The Hens will be coming off a two and a half week break for semester examinations, when they meet Drexel here this Saturday.

"Carnevale and Hostenstein have played more than the other three sophomores on the team," Peterson points out, "and their development will enable us to give the regulars more rest. This was a big factor in the win over Lafayette."

Peterson has a stick almost entirely with his five regulars through most of the Hens' first 12 games. The all-junior starting team played the entire game against PMC and the Hen coach substituted only after somebody fouled out in some of the earlier games.

"The 'iron man' days are over for the starters," Peterson says. "We are going to use Carnevale and Hostenstein to give the regulars a breather and I'm confident that they will do the job."

Carnevale, a 6-5 forward from Newark, N.J., is the top frontcourt reserve.

Hostenstein, a 6-5 native of Landale, Pa., will be used to give co-captains Jim Couch and Loren Pratt a break in the backcourt.

Carol Thomson Cops Three In Baltimore AAU Event

Newark High School's Carol Thomson won three of the four girls' events and set two records in Baltimore last Saturday at the fourth annual South Atlantic AAU Track Meet.

Running with the Delaware Track and Field Club, Carol won the 220 and 60-yd. dashes in meet record times of 26.6 and 7-1.

The Newark High School coed won the 50-yd. hurdles, and Mary Wisniewski of Newark and the DTFC finished second.

Freeman Williams Sets Scoring Pace For Mann Vikings

Coach Al Mann's Vikings were paced by 6-2 Sophomore Freeman Williams with 11 and 18 points as Christiana dropped its last two basketball games — to visiting Conrad 51-42 on Tuesday, and by 73-56 in hosting the DeLaWarr Lions last Friday night.

Both Conrad and DeLaWarr sport 7-1 records in a tie for first place in the Blue Hen Conference A-Flight.

The Vikings play 44 Newark away this Friday, and are at home against 6-2 Brandwine next Tuesday, with Jayvee games at 6:30 p.m. preceding varsity contests.

On the short end of the 31-18 first half scoring against Conrad, the Christiana rallied to play the first place Redskins on near even terms in a 14-13 third quarter, and outscored Conrad 11-5 in the final frame.

Williams connected for five goals and one out of three free shots, while Kenny Ryser contributed 16 — eight points via the field goal route.

Mann called on 12 men in effort to stem the DeLaWarr scoring tide, and Williams sank eight field goals for his 16-point pace.

The Vikings were in the thick of things in the first half, trailing by 14-13 and 17-15 in the initial quarters.

But DeLaWarr commented things with a 22-8 third period, and Christiana's 22-20 edge in the fourth quarter fell far short.

But DeLaWarr moved into a 9-9 tie when Bob George lost a 5-0 decision to Lucas in the 127-lb. event, and the Lions went on to win 30-15.

Winning decisions for Klimek's Vikings were Wagman, who defeated Roger 8-4 at 103-lbs.; Don Hopper, stopping Fols 6-2 at 112; and Kurt Loveloy, who mastered Jones 9-0 in the 120-lb. event.

Harold Reisinger defeated Sheppard 7-9 in the 165-lb. match, and Roy Bastein edged Adderley 8-5 in the 180-pounder.

Carl Sharp was pinned in 1:34 of the opening 95-lb. match; Andy Wolf was pinned by Thomas in 3:35 of the 133-lb. event; and Tom Kee, 138, dropped a 6-0 decision to DeLaWarr's Day.

Peterson Rests Easier With Own Couch As Hens Face Drexel After Intermission

Delaware Basketball Coach Dan Peterson is resting easier these days because he has his own Couch.

"I hate to think where we would be right now without Jim Couch," the Blue Hen coach says. "He is Mr. Consistency. Couch does so many things well, sometimes they are overlooked."

The Blue Hens are 6-6 for the season despite a flu epidemic that struck Couch and three other regulars.

Peterson blames the flu as the main reason for a five-game losing streak after the Hens got off winning with a 3-0 start.

Delaware's next game is with Drexel at Delaware Fieldhouse this Saturday at 8 p.m. Following the freshman game at 6, and the Hens host Temple next Tuesday at the same time.

"Couch has been very steady for us all year and he was at his best when we needed him most, during that losing streak," Peterson notes. "There were many Atlantic Coast Conference coaches at the Eastern Carolina Classic — and they were all impressed with Couch."

Couch, a 6-1 Junior from Pekin, Ill., was a forward at Pekin High School, but has been a starting guard for two years of varsity play at Delaware.

"Jim has made the adjustment from forward to guard very well," Peterson says. "Dave Golden of Duke and Ron Rhoads, who went to Bradley, were the guards on that great Pekin High team that won the state title in Illinois when Jim was a Junior. Jim didn't get to handle the ball a great deal, but through hard work he has made himself an excellent ballhandler."

Peterson, who has a 37-22 record in two and a half years at Delaware, says that Couch doesn't have any glaring weaknesses.

"Jim will never be a super-star, but he is the type of player who is a winner," Peterson says. "He handles the ball very well, does a good job defensively, scores consistently in double figures and keeps fouls and turnovers to a minimum."

The statistics bear out Peterson's analysis. Couch is averaging 15.6 points and leads the team in assists.

Couch is also an asset to the team as a co-captain with Loren Pratt of Maywood, Ill.

"Jim and Loren complement each other very well as captains," Peterson points out. "Loren is a real fiery leader, while Jim is a hard worker who leads by example. He has the respect of his teammates because he goes out and works hard and does a great job every night."

Peterson is looking forward to the second half of the season now that his team is healthy again.

"I think we are going to be much better in the rest of our schedule," the Hen coach says. "We are going to get strong play from our first five and we know that Dave Hostenstein and Danny Carnevale are going to help us coming off the bench."
