Police, mother continue search here

By TONJA CASTANEDA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

A desperate mother has joined forces with New Castle County police to search for a missing 16-year-old girl, who disappeared Oct. 31 about 5 p.m. after being dropped off at the Main Street McDonald's Restaurant in Newark.

Police report Bari Sharmainia Goldsboro, a student at Newark High School, was reported missing Nov. 1 at about 6 a.m. by her mother, when she awakened and realized her daughter was not home. She had dropped her daughter off for work the previous day. Police said the girl was seen by co-workers at McDonald's, but never clocked in to work.

The missing girl's mother, Shelia Dunn, said Tuesday night that she, family members and friends have been combing the Newark-Wilmington area seeking leads about the missing girl. They have shown photographs of the 16-year-old and posted hand-written posters, all to no avail.

"There's nothing. We been coming up with dead-ends," Dunn said just before press time.

"We're wondering and worrying to death," she said, noting that family members have offered much support to each other.

County police are concerned about the girl because after questioning her friends at Newark High, they said no one has been contacted by her.

"We've been doing interviews with her friends and it seems unusual that she has not contacted any of her friends, including her boyfriend," said New Castle County Police Detective Rand Townley.

Rand also said police have found no evidence of problems at school or home for Goldsboro to leave on her own.

Dunn described her daughter as sensitive and "happy go lucky."

Republicans big winners in Newark

Area follows national trend

By JENNIFER L. RODGERS

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Republicans didn't miss the northwest corner of Delaware during their nationwide sweep Tuesday.

GOP candidates Stephanie Ulbrich, Donna Reed, Steve Amick, Vincent Lofink, Pamela Sue Maier, Joseph Petrilli, Timothy Boulden and Bruce Reynolds won their state senate and house races, leaving a Republican monopoly over the state seats representing greater Newark.

"This election ought to make a real difference in Newark," said retired State Senator James Neal (R-District 10).

Neal's retirement last fall, marked the beginning of shifts in local politics that have finally settled.

"Stephanie's (Stephanie Ulbrich) is the seat that really became open, I really see retiring as enabling Stephanie to run, she's the new person for Newark."

Ulbrich beat Democratic candidate Anthony Felicia by 76 votes for the 25th Representative District.

"I can't wait to get started to do something to help people," said Ulbrich.

Felicia said he plans to continue his work as a Newark City Councilman.

In another close race, GOP candidate Boulden ousted Democratic incumbent Cathy Wodjewodski from her 23rd Representative District by 61 votes.

"I thought it would be close, my prediction was I thought we would win by 79 votes," said Boulden.

Christina to seek referendum

By TONJA CASTANEDA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Christina School District officials will reportedly ask voters to pass a referendum this spring.

According to Dr. Capes Riley, assistant superintendent for planning and facility management for the district, the money, if approved, will be used to purchase land to build a new elementary school in Glasgow, buy land and build a replacement school for Leasure Elementary School and to make necessary repairs to 11 schools.

Riley said the district is looking to purchase land for a new elementary school on Del. 896 in Glasgow between U.S. 40 and the DuPont Glasgow site.

The district is also looking at buying land near U.S. 40, on Church Road to build a new school to replace Leasure because of traffic safety concerns created by the increase of commercial development near the school.

"I'm very confident this referendum will pass," Riley said. "The buildings are that bad (in need of maintenance), we have air quality problems and parents know the problems are there."

"We would not be holding a referendum unless we felt the buildings, at this point, are at the point of no return," said Riley. "They're old and falling apart. We must, at this point, resolve these problems."

As the district spokesperson, Riley is currently negotiating with the state board of education about the district's needs. He said the state has agreed to all district requests, except they want to delay construction of the Glasgow elementary school.

The amount of money being asked for is

The only nearby state seat Republicans missed was in the 14th Representative District.

Incumbent Rochard A. DiLiberto (D) beat newcomer Brian P. Lee (R) by 1,130 votes.

GOP candidates added four seats to their majority in the House of Representatives, expanding their advantage to 27-14.

Suspense mounted during tabulations for the 11th Senate District, recently vacated by Retired State Senator Roger Martin (D).

Republican candidate Reed beat Anthony DeLuca (D) for the 11th Senate District by 285 votes.

Martin said he had no feeling "one way or the other" about the candidates.

His former seat is one of the two Republicans gained in the State Senate. The 16th Senatorial district seat, won by Colin

Parking snafu at Chapel St. theater causes uproar

By TONJA CASTANEDA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

A PROPERTY OWNER'S right almost spurred a fist fight, when opening night at the Chapel Street Playhouse produced more drama than rehearsed.

At least three theatre goers ended up paying for more than the cost of their tickets Nov. 4, when their cars were towed from the Chapel North parking lot (where the New York Met Life and Cardio-Kinetics buildings are located) on Chapel Street.

It cost them $85 each to retrieve their cars. "It's annoying," said Larry Zwilmeyer, one of the people whose car was towed. "I've been parking there for three years (to attend Chapel Street Productions) with no problem."

The towing took place during the show's intermission. One unidentified man, a senior citizen, and the tow truck driver got into a heated shouting match and began pushing one another when the tow truck driver refused to put the man's car back on the ground. The man's wife stood in front of the tow truck so their car couldn't be towed away, but eventually moved and the car was towed.

Chapel Street Players show director Judy David apologized to theatre patrons

Wishes do come true

By TONJA CASTANEDA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

You might make a wish come true by closing your eyes and blowing out lit candles, but it's a sure thing a wish will come true if you buy the candles being sold by local citizens.

Two local civic associations — Stone's Throw and The Commons on Del. 896 — and Glasgow High School students are selling holiday and year-round candles and home decorations to raise money for sick children.

The money raised will be given to the Delaware chapter of the Make-A-Wish Foundation to grant the wish of a Delaware child with a life-threatening disease.

"We wanted to come up with a charity event that would bring our community closer together," Lynda Hrycak, vice-president of Stone's Throw Civic Association said. President of Stone's Throw Civic Association Tom Chidester said, their goal is to raise at least $4,400, which is the average cost of one child's wish.

"We hope other individuals or developments will join us in selling the candles or make a donation," Chidester said.

Currently there are 11 children, ranging in age from 3 to 17, on the waiting list for a wish to come true. Four live in the Newark/Bear area, according to Mary Roth, coordinator for the Delaware chapter of Make-A-Wish.

"In the last 18 months, 34 children in Delaware have received their wishes," Roth said.

She said kids have been sent to Disney World in Florida, to Spain and Italy to visit their grandparents and met Professional Wrestler Hulk Hogan and professional

Police beat

College students attacked

Newark police report two 20-year-old college students were assaulted by a group of seven men, after attending a house party in the 100 block of Madison Drive.

Police said the two students left the party after having an argument with others at the party.

While the students were waiting for the University of Delaware bus at Elkton Road and Thorn Lane, a group of men — who police believe followed them from the party — began kicking and hitting the two.

Police said the gang fled when the bus arrived.

The students suffered cuts and bruises but did not seek medical treatment.

Police describe the suspects as white men between ages 18 to 22. Police said one man was about 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighs about 280 pounds. Police describe other suspects as being 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighing 170 pounds with black hair and another man with short brown hair and wearing glasses.

To report information to Newark police, call 366-7111.

Uninvited guest lives in vacant apartment

A former employee of Towne Court Apartments reportedly moved into and lived in a vacant apartment in the complex without permission of management, police were told Nov. 4.

Police said maintenance personnel at the apartments changed the locks and told the person to leave.

Music equipment gone

A custom-made guitar for a left-handed person, an amplifier and other music equipment were reported stolen Nov. 2 from the basement of a house in the 100 block of Cleveland Avenue.

Police believe the house was entered through a basement window.

VCR taken

A video cassette recorder was reported stolen Oct. 31 from a residence at Southgate Apartments on Marvin Drive.

Police report the front door was unlocked during the burglary.

Cars stolen

A blue, 1988 Honda Accord was reported stolen Nov. 2 from Martin Olds at 298 E. Cleveland Ave. and the keys are also missing, Newark police report.

Also, a gray 1987 Chevrolet Monte Carlo was reported stolen Nov. 7 from College Square Shopping Center.

Jewelry taken

Two gold necklaces were reported stolen Nov. 4 from an apartment in the 300 block of East Main Street. Also, police said gold earrings, 10 compact discs and three gold rings — one with an opal stone and another an Amethyst — were reported stolen Nov. 5 during a birthday party at a residence in the unit block of Benny Street.

Businesses spray painted

Police report both the Newark Goodwill Store and Wilmington Trust bank on Main Street were spray painted on Oct. 31.

Also, the drive-up menu board at Kentucky Fried Chicken on Marrows road was written on Nov. 5 and at the Newark Emergency Center on Main Street, walls and vending machines were spray painted Nov. 3.

Police saw two boys vandalizing the Newark Emergency Center, who fled the scene.

Police describe the boys as white and between ages 15 to 18.

To report information to Newark police, call 366-7111.

City toughens rental code

NEWARK City Council members will vote on a beefed-up ordinance Nov. 14 at 8 p.m. that can ultimately take away a landlord's right to rent for one year.

If the number of tenants in a rental property is more than allowed by the city, a landlord has one chance to correct the situation. The rental permit will be revoked if a landlord refuses to comply, according to Thomas Hughes, city solicitor.

Under the existing ordinance, Hughes said landlords are fined when they have too many tenants.

The number of tenants currently allowed per dwelling depends on its zoning district (e.g. single family homes or apartments). For example, in Barksdale Estates — a single family housing development at the corner of Barksdale and Casho Mill roads — there can be three unrelated people living together. The number has nothing to do with the size of the house but its zoning status. This rule applies to property rented after 1990.

"In theory they (landlords) could have too many tenants, get fined, pay the fine and keep doing it," Hughes said.

Building Director, Junie Mayle, said the fine is $250 per tenant, even those legally living in a house.

"This is a serious problem," said Mayle. "We deal with probably 100 a year, over half occurs the first month of September when school is in session—it isn't 100 percent university students but a large portion are."

The new ordinance will also require landlords to "prominently stipulate" the number of persons who may live in house or apartment in accord with the city's code.

"This ordinance is different because a landlord has to notify his tenants that there is only a certain number allowed," said Mayle. "If the tenants are in violation, then the landlord has to tell tenants to move out, if he doesn't then the city can take away his rental permit."

The overcrowding code is one of the most difficult to enforce.

"How do you really know how many people live in a house without infringing on a person's privacy?" Hughes asked. "If it was a police state we could walk up and down the streets, go in the houses and count beds, but it's not."

"It is very difficult to enforce, what people forget is our local Alderman's court is a criminal court and in order to convict a person we have to prove beyond a reasonable doubt," said Mayle. "We have to go before the judge and do a very good job convincing him there was evidence of overcrowding."

The city has a good conviction rate, but the system works better when neighbors participate in court, according to Mayle.

The price tag: $56 million

By TONJA CASTANEDA
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

About $56 million is the price tag to renovate and repair 11 schools in the Christina School District.

The buildings are Christiana, Newark and Glasgow high schools, Shue and Gauger middle schools, Drew/Pyle, Bayard, Bancroft and Leasure elementary schools and Douglass Kindergarten.

These schools were recently part of phase I of the district's first-ever Building Condition Study begun last fall. The study is being managed by Dr. Capes Riley, assistant superintendent for planning and facility management in the district. Riley said it takes about one week per building to inspect and evaluate each building.

He said the outside engineering architectural firm of Moeckel Carbonell Associates of Wilmington is spearheading the evaluation with other consultants such as structural, mechanical, electrical and civil engineers and cost estimating and accessibility experts.

These companies are checking each building's structure from foundation to roof. Inspectors also check the buildings' heating, ventilation and air conditioning systems, electrical and grounds such as parking lots, sidewalks, playgrounds and stadiums.

"The biggest surprise I've had," said Riley, "is that Christiana High School, built in the mid-70s, is receiving only a little less money than Newark High, built in 1954."

He said he believes this is a result of buildings being made cheaply during the 1970s.

Riley said Newark High needs $10.1 million in renovations, Christiana High needs $10 million and Glasgow's needs are estimated to be $7.1 million.

Riley said Gauger Middle School needs $4 million worth of work and Shue $5.5 million, but he said over the last couple of years $3.3 million has already been put into these two schools.

In the 4-6 grade schools, Riley said Bancroft is estimated for $6.9 million worth of repairs, Stubbs is at $5 million, Pyle at $2 million and Douglass Kindergarten at $1.2 million.

Riley said this study is being conducted to provide the district with information for preventative maintenance for buildings. He said the study, which is costing about $390,000, could end up saving the district over time more than eight times this cost.

After each building is analyzed, Riley receives a report complete with photos of problems at the site and a separate report of each building's roof.

He said the results from the study will eventually be computerized data so the district can prioritize the most significant things needed to be done in each of the buildings.

Parking problem at Chapel Street play causes mass car towing

► PARKING, from 1A

and offered to car pool people to Elktion Road where the cars were impounded, after the play.

"We're very, very sorry this happened," David said, "but the show must go on." And it did, but with less people attending than during the first half.

David said Chapel Street Players had no formal agreement with the owner of the Chapel North lot but knew patrons had parked there for more than three years without problems.

"Someone saw the tow truck go by," David said, on how they found out cars were being towed from the lot. "We would have appreciated it if the owner would have called here and we would have made an announcement for people to move their cars."

Carroll Mumford Jr., one of the owners of the building, called Ewing Towing of Newark when he tried to park in his lot and could not find a single parking space for his car.

"My father's in the hospital and I come back to my office and can't even find parking in my own parking lot," said Mumford. "I've had it. We've been dealing with these parking problems for more than 10 years."

Owner of the Cardio-Kinetics Building Tommy Hall said his practice is open until 8 p.m. on Fridays and his patients have trouble finding a parking space. "I treat bypass and heart transplant patients and I don't want them to have to park farther away," Hall said.

Both Mumford and Hall said no one from the playhouse had contacted them for permission of their theatre patrons to park in the lot.

"I had no idea that it was their (Chapel Street's) opening night," Mumford said.

Mumford estimated at least six cars were towed from the lot Nov. 4.

Mumford said the majority of their problems with people parking in their lot do not come from Chapel Street Playhouse customers but are an on-going daily basis. He said cars are towed about every third day there.

"It's not just the parking problem," said Hall. "Drug deals and fights have taken place in our parking lot."

John Ewing of Ewing Towing in Newark said Mumford called him to clear the parking lot. There are signs posted in the lot, threatening to tow cars and, Ewing said, the company is now monitoring the lot daily for illegally parked cars.

Newark Shopping Center Manager Frank Wisniewski said the Chapel Street Players do not have an agreement with them to allow their customers to park in the shopping center parking lot during their productions.

"If someone would contact me, we probably wouldn't mind working with the people of Newark on something like this," said Wisniewski. He said if permission was obtained, Chapel Street patrons would most likely be able to park in the shopping center during non-peak hours.

So since the City of Newark tows cars parked on Main Street after 9:30 p.m., where should people attending Chapel Street plays park?

According to Scott Mason, president of Chapel Street Players, customers of the playhouse should listen to parking instructions when making ticket reservations until the issue is resolved.

Christina to hold referendum

► REFERENDUM, from 1A

about $74.7 million. Riley said the state will put up more than half the money and local funds will finance about $33 million.

If the referendum passes, it will increase taxes about $50 per year for the average property owner, according to Ken Brown, director of business and finance for the district.

Riley said if the referendum passes, the repairs and renovations will be completed during the next 6 to 7 years. He said most renovations will be done while school is in session, but roof work will be done during summer months.

The district used the money from the 1990 referendum to build a new elementary school and do major construction and renovations to the three middle schools and Christiana High School.

Riley said a referendum proposal will be brought before the school board at their December board meeting and the board will most likely choose a day in March of 1995 to vote on the referendum.

Newark girl missing

► MISSING, from 1A

"She is my best friend," Dunn said, "she is still my baby."

In an interview before press time, the distraught mother issued a plea to her daughter. "If I've done something wrong, we can talk about it. Please come home or call and let me know that you're okay," Dunn said.

"She was crazy about her job at McDonald's," the mother said. She was often asked to work extra hours.

Goldsboro, who lives on Hobart Drive in Spring Run Apartments near College Square Shopping Center, is described as black, with a light complexion, 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighing 125 pounds, with brown hair and hazel eyes.

Police said she was last seen wearing a McDonald's uniform when management and co-workers saw her leaving the store alone.

"No one saw her get into a car or walk across a parking lot, so we do not know what direction to search," Rand said.

Rand said police have received two anonymous tips. One said she was seen in Wilmington and another said she was in New Jersey.

Goldsboro has been entered in the National Crime Information Computer run by the FBI and the case has been opened with the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children.

McDonald's Manager Bruce Gronenthal said Goldsboro has been employed as a cashier at the Main Street restaurant since summertime.

He describes Goldsboro as a good worker who is friendly with customers. Gronenthal said she has close friends who work at McDonald's and who are concerned about her well-being.

Co-worker Shannon Robinson describes Goldsboro as sweet and nice. "She works really good with people," said Robinson.

To report information to New Castle County police, call Det. Rand Townley at 571-7930.

TRUST

"I've been receiving health-care every day for some 20 years. I trust the people who work at the Arbors at New Castle to take good care of me."

Bill Kilmon, Jr., Wilmington with his father, Bill Kilmon, Sr.

Complete trust. It's a quality that needs to be learned, and earned. Each and every day.

Complete trust is the cornerstone of healthcare. Just imagine being cared for by someone you did not trust. It would not happen. You would not allow it. Ever.

The Arbors at New Castle is built on trust. Each day we must earn the trust of our patients. And their families. Of the community we serve - your neighbors, friends and family. It's what makes us different ... and makes you special.

You can see that trust in the faces of the Arbors at New Castle. Take a closer look. Then decide. We invite you to come see us. Face to face.

Winners should heed voter's impatience

THE ELECTION is finally over and now it's time to get down to work.

But first we would like to congratulate the local winners — Steve Amick, Donna Reed, Richard DiLiberto, Pamela Sue Maier, Joe Petrilli, Tim Boulden, Stephanie Ulbrich, Vince Lofink, Karen Venezky and Chris Roberts — and their worthy opposition for addressing the issues that Newark, Bear and Glasgow wanted addressed.

It was never more evident that our votes do actually count for something than it was Tuesday night.

Several elections — between Tim Boulden and Cathy Wojewodski and between Stephanie Ulbrich and Tony Felicia were primary examples in our area — were decided by less than 100 votes.

If just 100 people decided that their one vote didn't mean anything, elections could have, theoretically, swung the other way.

You, as citizens, can also be assured that your voices were heard.

Winners Amick and Boulden both cited traffic as their top priority. You can bet that the 'No Bypass — No Vote' campaign had a lot to do with those responses.

Similarly to the politicians, the election isn't the end of the job for voters. We must make our newly elected and re-elected officials accountable for what was said during the often tough campaigns.

Newark also reflected the Republican success that swept across the country. Seven of the 10 races in our area were won by Republicans, including some by political newcomers. All three Democrats that won were incumbents.

That — locally and nationally — shouldn't be seen as a long-lasting mandate. The Democrats thought they had gained one after the 1992 election and were wiped out this year. While there can be no doubt that there is a conservative movement in the country, there's also no doubt that the voters want action — and quickly.

That should be heeded by Tuesday's winners — no matter what party they are affiliated with.

Glad she's not on O.J.'s trial

By TONJA CASTANEDA
NEWARK POST STAFFWRITER

The verdict is in — jury duty can be interesting for a few days but for the most part is stifling, boring and frustrating.

When I was notified that I would be serving jury duty for two weeks in October, I was enthusiastic. I had always wanted to be a juror and still believe everyone should serve once.

Of course, now I know I hadn't exactly thought through what it was I was so eager about. I don't like courtroom drama on television, have enough of my fill of crime since I've been covering the police beat for the newspaper for more than a year and I have a hard time making decisions about a person's character.

So if I would have taken more time thinking about what the civic duty is and less calling my mom in St. Louis to chant, "I'm going to be a juror, I'm going to be a juror," I think I would have been a little more concerned about what I was about to plunge head first into.

I was picked my first day to be on a civil trial. The case I was chosen for was one of medical malpractice against a local cardiologist. I was randomly selected to sit in juror seat No. 1, which meant I was to be called Madam Foreman.

Being a woman, I decided I was to be a foreperson and announced so in jest to fellow jurors in our room. It was surprising to see one of the men get an amazed look on his face to find out I was such a "radical feminist" and announce that the men sitting on my side of the room should come on over to his.

But the emphasis on my words soon got lost as we 12 jurors and one alternate were made to listen for six days as lawyers questioned each witness more than an hour each.

I was particularly irritated when I had to interpret medical jargon because the lawyers decided since they used the word yesterday we must all remember what it meant. Well I didn't remember and although the nurse on our jury could understand what the lawyers and witnesses were discussing at all times, I did not.

The days in the courtroom were long and tedious, not in time — we went from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with an hour break for lunch, but because most people are not used to sitting and listening without talking for

UPON MY WORD

Prince Charming at last?

By SHIRLEY TARRANT
NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

IT WAS THE LAST DAY of summer, 1994. Horrific wins the previous evening had left our law strewn with small branches, twigs and clusters of fresh green leaves. Regional weather reports had included estimated winds of 47 miles per hour in New Castle County and 65 in Bethany.

Our power had blinked once during the early part of that blustery evening, so was not at all surprised to see the next day that our trees had shed prematurely — even more than Fall '94 could have expected. Consequently, I was playing 'pick up sticks'.

Not too long into my endeavors, a car with a New Jersey license plate came around the corner and stopped in front of our house. I looked up, because I thought it might be an acquaintance ready with some comment on my yardwork (positive or otherwise!). Instead, I saw three other men.

The car was still running, pulled over to our curb and the men were still sitting there. Then, I figured they must be pausing to use the mailbox located directly across the street. Wrong!

After a few seconds, as I resumed my 'bend and pick up sticks', the driver jumped out and came running around the back of the car toward me. He was holding a gorgeous watermelon-colored, large, long-stemmed carnation.

He held it out to me and said, "Hello! Have a nice evening," and returned to the car.

My acceptance of the beautiful flower, I must admit, must have seemed automatic, due to my stunned attitude. As I took the flower and thanked him, I asked, "Wait a minute. Whom do you represent?"

"No one," he answered as he hurriedly returned to the car. "You have a nice evening."

And the car drove away.

I just stood there in disbelief, holding the magnificent carnation. There was no one else around and it was very quiet. Was I dreaming? No, I had dropped my collected pile of twigs and leaves at my feet, so I went inside the house, found a vase,

• News as it appeared in the Newark Post throughout the years

Issue of Nov. 12, 1919...

Rain prevents Armistice Day celebration

The weather man or St. Martin or somebody played a scurvy trick on the populace yesterday.

With plans all made for the biggest day in her history, with every body working hard to make the Armistice Day celebration a grand success, and everything ready for the parade which was to have started at 2 o'clock, along comes a persistent, hateful drizzle that gave no sign of abating.

New Century Club enjoys "movies"

A trip to the movies with Mrs. S.C. Mitchell as hostess was an enjoyable feature of the New Century Club program on Monday afternoon.

Some famous Delaware pictures were described vividly with clever running comment.

Some living pictures of men and women whose achievements in their native state have made them famous were included in the word pictures.

Issue of Nov. 13, 1968...

Blaze at Shopping Center

Damage to a steak shop and real estate office was estimated at $40,000 when the building in the Possum Park Shopping Center was gutted by fire early Sunday morning.

The fire apparently had been smoldering for about two hours before it was spotted by a passerby.

Snow A Go-Go...Away!

Umbrellas led the way through this season's first snowfall, or rather snow storm. It was brief but blustery; while temperatures danced above and below freezing Tuesday.

U of D students fought their way through icy winds and wet, driving snow to get to classes.

Several trees and at least one power line were felled by the high winds which reached as high as 50mph during the storm.

Issue of Nov. 11, 1987...

Comprehensive Plan out by Year's End

The much-awaited comprehensive plan for New Castle County is nearly complete and should be out by the end of the year, according to Planning Director Wayne Grafton.

Although the plan will be complete, work will not end. Grafton intends for the plan to be continually updated and says constant reviews of the plan are necessary to keep the County abreast of contemporary planning principles.

Rabid Raccoon on Barksdale Road

A raccoon, discovered in front of a Newark business last Friday, has tested positive for rabies.

Newark Police Department animal control officer Bob Hairgrove says the animal was found in the 900 block of Barksdale Road.

"He sort of walked a little bit and fell down," said Hairgrove.

Cecil County zoo closing upsets writers

To: The Editor
From: Frank & Eloise Nelson
(Newark)

We cannot believe that the Plumpton Park Zoo near Rising Sun, Md. is about to go out of existence, because county funding has been cut off.

We have watched and cheered and supported the growth of this unique treasure since its beginning over 30 years ago, thanks largely to one man's vision, dedication, persistence and love of animals and creatures of the wild... especially the rare, beautiful and exotic.

We and our children, and their children, have enjoyed visits to this fascinating zoological park, where one can get up close and personal with its inhabitants. We know that the park is a favorite educational outing for school children from a wide area.

We learn that the zoo will soon be forced to destroy their animals, if vital funding is not restored. This would be an enormous tragedy and waste, not only for ourselves but for future generations.

Cecil County officials ordered the park closed, and funding halted, citing "electrical problems." Hell's bells, this surely must be a practical problem, easily remedied. And surely, concerned county officials and public-spirited citizens will not stand idly by and let this unique local attraction pass from the scene!

Until this matter is resolved, the park is in desperate need of contributions to continue functioning, which should be mailed to: Plumpton Park Zoo, Rising Sun, MD, 21911.

Republican round table for Newark

► ELECTION, from 1A

R.J. Bonini (R) over Charles Paradee Jr. (D), is the other.

"Obviously Donna must have worked harder," Martin said.

As for a Republican consensus around Newark, Reed said, "We'll have to see how it all plays, just because one party wins doesn't mean they all agree... a lot of good friendships were forged in the heat of the battle, we supported each other and hopefully that carries over."

"I think the Republican sweep was a big factor in the race," DeLuca said. "I think a different time, a different day it might have went a different way."

Although GOP candidate Amick received 1,629 more votes than his Democratic opponent, Paul Lesniak, he said after the election, "Frankly, we were concerned—we're glad we pulled it off."

Lesniak said his future involvement in politics will be as a campaign volunteer rather than a candidate.

According to Amick, his first priority is to get to work on the Newark bypass.

"This will allow all of us in Newark to be on the same page," Amick added.

Boulden echoed Amick's intentions, saying "the first step is traffic."

"I talked to Steve Amick last night and we are both aware that that's the first thing we will be working on," said Boulden.

Democrats will keep the majority in New Castle County Council. The balance is still five Democrats and two Republicans.

Incumbents, Karen Venezky (D) and J. Christopher Roberts (D) were reelected to their seats.

Roberts' race with Erik Adams (R) was the closest of the two area council races—with a gap of 2,627 votes.

Prince Charming comes with flowers

► TARRANT, from 6A

filled it with water and the carnation. I stood back to analyze what had just occurred.

The young man, who was so pleasant and gallant, was wearing a coat and tie. He looked to be in his 20s, nice clean haircut and good manners. His smile was dazzling and his mission was accomplished in only a few seconds. Who was he? How did I come to be the fortunate recipient of his flowery gift? What happened?

I still cannot answer any of these questions to this day. Every now and then, I think of that summer afternoon and that kind, smiling young man.

It really was a most pleasant, though perplexing, experience. I was even smiling to myself. He actually 'made my day'.

Whatever he was doing and for whatever purpose, it was a pure delight to be treated in such a nice and totally unexpected way. The flower maintained its beauty and freshness for over a week. Its presence brought me great pleasure and shades of mystery.

I have tried my best to avoid being skeptical about the young man's actions and words. Initially, I did suspect that it was a 'political ploy' or a fraternity initiation requirement or maybe, he had an extra carnation on his hands which his best girl had rejected. That's why I asked him who he represented.

The entire scene was too good to be true. No explanations. No further contracts. I haven't heard of anyone else's similar experience.

If he was Prince Charming, he arrived 33 years too late!

Jury duty a real trial

► CASTANEDA, from 6A

hours upon hours of time.

One morning, I had to fight extreme boredom while the doctor gave a two-hour speech on the functions of the heart, each valve, the arteries, veins and chambers. I felt transported back to ninth grade biology, which for me was not a pleasant memory.

When the trial finally ended, deliberations began. I believe there has got to be a better way to prepare jurors for this grueling task.

I expected some guidelines, suggestions, information about how the group of us strangers (of course by this time we are getting to know one another so well we might as well spend holidays together or at least send Christmas cards) are supposed to agree on a not guilty or guilty verdict.

But there was nothing. The judge charged us with what we were supposed to decide and what the law said but gave no further information. I don't know about most people, but I need training to do a job to the best of my ability. I felt we were just thrown together to argue it out.

After about two days of deliberations we had decided on who should bring coffee and donuts to our room each morning, but could not agree a verdict. We were split 6 to 6.

It was especially tough for me to decide a verdict because as a journalist I do not decide an issue but quote the opposing sides and let the readers decide for themselves.

In the end, it seemed although I had finally made a decision that it didn't matter because we were a hung jury and the case will now be tried again with another 12 people.

Who knows, one of new jurors could be you.

Glasgow civic groups to raise money for Make-a-Wish

► CANDLES, from 1A

baseball player for the Seattle Mariners Ken Griffey Jr.

Currently some of the wishes include trips to Disney World, for computers and to meet with a celebrity baseball player, whose name Roth would not reveal.

"The wishes are as different as the kids are," said Roth. She said although the most popular wish is a trip to Disney Land, the children all have different reasons for wanting to go there.

"One might want to see the Little Mermaid" Roth said, "another wants to see if Disney World is like they see on television and another wants to go swimming after years of treatments."

Roth said this is the first time a civic association in the state has fundraised for the foundation. She said all money raised in Delaware, stays in the state to grant children's wishes.

To raise money for the cause the civic association's have held open houses to display the candles they are selling.

Two open houses to view the candles and products will be held Nov. 27 from noon to 5 p.m. and Nov. 28 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the clubhouse at Stone's Throw development.

The assortment of candles includes seasonal and festive red, green, gold and silver adornments as well as raspberry, mulberry and evergreen scented candles. Also for sale are golden pine tree candles, gingerbread tea lights, snowball candles and cherub candle holders.

The year-round decorations include brass, clear and colored glass candle holders, hurricane lamps, ivy trellis candleholders and flowered rings for placing around candles.

And candles are available with scents of vanilla, cranberry, Pina Colada, cinnamon, honeysuckle and peppermint to name a few.

Hrycak said the products are Colonial Candles of Cape Cod from the Partylight Gifts catalog and range in price from about $5.50 to $60.

Orders are being taken until Nov. 30 and products will be delivered in time for Christmas. About 25 percent of the proceeds from the orders go to Make-A-Wish.

For information on ordering candles, call Tom Chidester at 366-0855 or Lynda Hrycak at 737-4477.

Local restaurants to go smoke-free for day

By MARTY VALANIA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Over 40 restaurants in the greater Newark area have agreed to put away their ashtrays Nov. 17 in honor of the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout day.

Fast food chains and family restaurants will be promoting a smoke-free environment within the restaurant.

"Our goal is to encourage smokers to try and quit smoking for that one day," said Pat Carozzi of the American Cancer Society. "Most don't quit on the first try so we try to give them as many opportunities as possible."

According to the American Cancer Society, 9.4 million smokers stopped or reduced their smoking for the day during last year's event.

"This is the first year that we asked local restaurants to participate," Carozzi said. "We were shocked and surprised to find that over half of the restaurants we asked agreed to participate. We had no idea we'd be able to get that kind of response."

Local restaurants participating include: Adolpho's, Alysons, Bourbon Street Cafe, Burger Kings, Ciao's Pizza & Restaurant, El Sombrero, Italian Oven, Kenny Roger's Roasters, Malt Shoppe, Maxwell's, McDonalds, Mirage, Ninety East Main, Pizza Hut, Popeye's, Salsa's Gourmet Mexican, Sinclair's Cafe, Subway, Taco Bell, Taste of India, The Crab Trap, Three Little Baker's Dinner Theatre, Vietnam Restaurant and Wing Wah.

A time honored tradition with local veterans

By WILLIAM WAILES
SPECIAL TO THE NEWARK POST

MEMBERS OF OUR LOCAL Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States — Lt. J. Allison O'Daniel Post 475 started a honor guard unit at the end of World War II.

At its inception the returnees wore their unit uniforms but after a couple of years they changed over to their current dress.

In the summer months they wear short sleeve white military shirts, army green trousers, Veterans of Foreign Wars Service caps or white helmet liners, black army boots with white laces and gold accessories. The winter uniform consists of the army green blouse, army green trousers and white parade gloves.

These units have participated in local parades and have provided military funeral services for veterans at local cemeteries at the request of many families.

Other community services performed by these veterans include little league baseball, feeding needy families, senior citizen bingo, volunteering time at the veteran's hospital, visiting local schools to speak on flag etiquette, naturalization ceremonies of new citizens and the national buddy poppy campaign for disabled and homeless veterans.

On Nov. 17, at 10 a.m. the Newark VFW Post will be holding a job fair which is open to the public.

For more information, call 366-9578.

William Wailes is currently the commander of the Newark VFW Post.

Owen dedicates time to church and state matters

By NANCY TURNER
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

WHEN VICTORIA OWEN retired in 1986 after 20 years of teaching, she could have relaxed and tuned-in to a few good soap operas; but the last thing she planned to do was sit down.

Owen is a vigilant volunteer who understands that historic preservation and the positive evolution of communities don't happen automatically.

Dividing her week equally between church and state, Owen is responsible for maintaining the parish register at St. Thomas's Episcopal Church. This includes keeping record of baptisms, confirmations, transfers, marriages, and burials, as well as, handling correspondence relating to them.

As a government volunteer since 1987, Owen dedicates almost 20 hours per week to the Newark Building Department helping the code enforcement team with research tasks, ownership verification, and file organization.

"I grew up in Dover, Delaware," said Owen who moved to Newark in 1967. "I can't remember a day when I did not expect to be involved in civic things. Just sitting down wasn't an option."

"I needed to have a routine when I retired. I was fortunate when Junie Mayle, director of the city's building department, said that there was a place for my skills as a volunteer in his department."

There are more than 900 single family rental properties in the city of Newark. This doesn't include the multi-family units and apartment complexes.

YOU ASKED

A feature devoted to discovering the answers to curious questions about people and places in Greater Newark.

BY NANCY TURNER

Can the owner of a commercial parking lot have cars towed away at their owner's expense if there is no sign posting parking restrictions on the lot?

The answer is Yes, according to both Lt. Alex von Koch of the Newark Police Department and Cpl. David Thomas of the Delaware State Police.

"If it is a private lot, they can tow any time," said von Koch. "They do not have to post it. It can be a real predicament, but it can happen. We get quite a few complaints from people whose vehicles are towed by private towing companies and they are charged very high rates, but since we do not have a parking commission in Delaware that oversees these problems, there are no regulations governing them right now."

Is there any leniency granted in a situation when the owner of the towed car has been parking in a private lot for a significant amount of time without any problem?

"That is strictly up to the owner and the towing company," said von Koch. "If you are going to park on private property, you should have permission first. Written permission is a good idea."

Cpl. David Thomas of the Delaware State Police agrees.

"Because it is private property, it is always up to the owner of the property," said Thomas. "We are really left out and don't have much discretion. As for whether the property owner decides to give advance warning about restricted parking in his lot, that is also his decision."

Whether you have a question about people or places in Greater Newark or are just plain curious about something, staff writer Nancy Turner might just be able to find an answer for you. Send your question to Nancy, in care of the Newark Post, 153 East Chestnut Hill Road, Newark DE 19713. Be sure to include a daytime telephone number where you can be reached.

Local Master Gardener volunteers needed

NEWARK OUTLOOK

FROM THE STAFF OF THE COOPERATIVE EXTENSION OFFICE AT UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

GARDENING IS OFTEN thought of as a pleasant pastime for kindly people who have nothing better to do. Plant a few flowers here and there, scratch a little dirt, raise a few tomatoes, sprinkle out some grass seed.

Granted this activity makes the yard look nice, but in the big scheme of things, it really doesn't matter, right?

Wrong! Consider this: the average home lawn gets ten times more chemical application than the average crop land.

If you think of all the farm-to-development activity around the county in the past few years, the potential environmental impact on our air, water and land resources quickly reaches serious proportions.

Even the great American pastime of mowing the lawn on a Saturday morning is under scrutiny because of the nasty emissions coming from power mowers and the problems of disposing of lawn clippings in overflowing landfills.

So where does an environmentally concerned resident go for information? California studies show about 80 percent get their information from a garden supply store, and I expect these numbers to be true for our part of the country, too.

The remainder of the people get advice from neighbors, family and friends, television and radio or from reading gardening books, magazines and other printed material.

Locally, a group of volunteers called New Castle County Master Gardeners are responsible for making information available to home gardeners.

Each has had over 40 hours of Master Gardener training to sharpen their technical skills including soil science, botany and pesticide safety. Trainees then pledge and contribute a like amount of time each year in service to Cooperative Extension.

Master Gardeners have gone on to develop workshops and lectures for hundreds of residents. They respond to 4,500 calls and specimens coming to our office each year. There are several youth garden projects-in-progress at schools across the county, and Master Gardeners have dispensed advice at fairs and other events.

Since the first class in 1986, New Castle County Master Gardeners have devoted over 15,000 hours to New Castle County. Imagine the number of paid professional staff we can only dream of hiring to do the same amount of work.

We have considerable expertise among New Castle Master Gardeners. Some are into trees and shrubs while others prefer talking tomatoes. There are those eager to mix it up with energetic kids as they dig and plant, and others who prefer talking to individuals seeking solutions to problems.

Still, Master Gardeners share a common goal to help people make decisions based on research-based facts, rather than hype and misinformation.

Master Gardeners' educational programs help citizens make informed choices about the plants and products they use. Their mission is to help people protect themselves and the environment, to promote environmental diversity and conservation and to reap the beauty and bounty of healthy lawns and gardens.

Master Gardeners are looking for a few good recruits to train in spring 1995. The class of '95 will be put to work on specific projects concerning telephone response, workshop development and school gardening and environmental programs and teacher training.

Master Gardener training is open to all without regard to sex, race, color, age, disability or national origin. If you are wild about plants and want spreading some of that enthusiasm, give us a call at 831-2506 to get the application. We'll be training Tuesday and Thursday mornings during February and March in Newark.

Your help as a Master Gardener can get our message out.

FUNERAL & ESTATE PLANNING A SPECIAL ADVERTISING FEATURE

Ask to be informed

By FREDERICK J. DAWSON
SPECIAL TO THE NEWARK POST

YOU'VE BEEN named executor of a relative's estate. What does it mean? And what, exactly, will you have to do?

In general, an executor is responsible for seeing that the provisions of the will are carried out. In particular, this includes a long list of tasks, among them:

- Notifying life insurance companies and collecting policy proceeds where the estate is the beneficiary.

- Preparing a complete inventory of everything in the estate — cash, bank accounts, securities, household furnishings, jewelry, real estate and so on.

- Paying off any debts owed by the person who has died — after first making sure that they are valid.

- Collecting any money owed to that person, in the form of outstanding loans, salary, Social Security, veterans benefits, pension and profit-sharing benefits, etc.

- Hiring a lawyer, if necessary, to handle the legal aspects of settling the estate. (more) 1

- Managing assets so as to preserve their value until the estate is finally settled.

- Preparing and filing, as they become due, all income tax and estate tax returns.

- Distributing the estate to the people named in the will.

- Making a final accounting of all receipts and payments to the probate court and to beneficiaries.

It's a big job, and can take considerable time to accomplish. Some tasks must be done immediately; life insurance proceeds can be paid, for example, as soon as the company is notified of the death.

Others will take time; final tax returns, if an estate is at all complicated, may not be filed for two or three years.

You'll find the job easier if you've been kept fully informed. (And, if you're an executor who has yet to carry out the task, you should ask to be kept informed.) Find out:

- Where wills are kept and who is the family lawyer.

- The names of other financial advisers; insurance agents, accountant, etc.

- The location of past income tax returns and current financial records.

- Social Security numbers, life insurance carriers and policy numbers, past employers from whom benefits may be due.

- Where there is a record of safe deposit box contents, where the box is located and where the key is kept.

Dawson, ChFC, CLU, is vice president of Bassett, Brosius & Dawson, Inc., which recently relocated to the E. A. Delle Donne Corporate Center.

It could be beneficial for you to know these terms

Here is a glossary of terms important to those interested in funeral and estate planning:

Beneficiary — A person named to receive property or other benefits.

Codicil — A supplement or an addition to a Will. It may explain, modify, add to, subtract from, qualify, alter, restrain or revoke provisions in a Will. It must be executed with the same formalities as a Will.

Elective share — The surviving spouse's right to request a statutory share of the decedent's estate rather than a under a Will or intestate state laws.

Estate — Everything a person owned at the time of death.

Executor/executor — Person appointed by the testator (maker) to carry out the directions and requests in his/her Will.

Intestate — Where there is no valid Will at death.

Issue — All of a person's lineal descendants of all generations (i.e. child, grandchildren, great grandchildren).

Letters of administration — The order issued by the Register of Wills empowering a party to gather and distribute the assets of an estate in the case where the decedent died without a Will or did not name an executor in a Will or where the executor dies, renounces his appointment or is not qualified.

Letters testamentary — The order issued by the Register of Wills to the executor named in the Will of the decedent to allow the executor to collect and distribute the estate.

Life estate — A right to use or occupy property for the life of the person named, which completely expires upon the death of the person named.

Next of kin — Those persons most nearly related to a decedent by blood (i.e. children, parents, brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles, etc.).

Personal property — Any property which is not included in the definition of real estate — tangible property such as, furniture, books, automobiles, jewelry and clothes and intangible property such as money, stocks, bonds and/or bank accounts.

Personal representative — Person(s) who administer an estate and includes executor, administrator, successor administrator and administrator with will annexed, and persons who perform substantially the same function under the law governing their status.

Per stirpes — This denotes the method of dividing a share of an estate where a class or group of beneficiaries take the share which their deceased would have taken if he/she survived the testator. These members of the group take by their deceased's right of representation.

Probate — The act or process of proving a Will before the Register of Wills.

Real property — Land and buildings

Spouse allowance — The surviving spouse's right to request up to $2,000 from the personal representative in addition to any other provisions for his/her benefit contained in a Will or by intestate law.

Testator/testatrix — Person who makes a Will (maker)

Witness — A person who is over 18, not incompetent and who witnesses the testator's original signature to a Will and signs the Will attesting his presence at the time the testator signed, or acknowledged signing, the Will.

Our service won't end after the funeral.

AT SPICER-MULLIKIN FUNERAL HOMES, we know that the hardest part about the death of a loved one may not be the funeral itself. It's after the funeral, when grief and pain can feel nearly overwhelming, that you may need the most help. That's why we developed Delaware's first "Aftercare" grief counseling program back in 1982. Today our Aftercare program is distinguished by two experienced grief counselors, Katherine "Kit" Angell and Terri Sensing. Kit and Terri offer a variety of special services for those who are grieving, including:

- one-to-one personal counseling
- grief support workshops
- unique support seminars for those who have lost a loved one to accident or murder
- an extensive lending library and a bi-monthly newsletter

Our counseling services are offered at no charge to those who are grieving. Call us today to learn more about how Spicer-Mullikin Aftercare can make the difference between living in grief and living in hope.

FUNERAL & ESTATE PLANNING A SPECIAL ADVERTISING FEATURE

Prearranged funerals fast becoming accepted

THE MIDDLE-AGED man and woman walk hesitantly into the funeral director's office, holding each other for support.

This is not easy for them. Will they have to choose caskets? What about the cost? Can they really afford to do this now? These and various other questions race through their minds as they are led to the silent reception room.

This couple, like thousands today, face their own funerals and look death straight in the eye for the first time.

Surely, we must all face the inevitable. Most do through the death of a loved one — parents, grandparents, friends, and sometime even children.

Arrangements have to be made and we often wonder aloud if Mom would prefer to be buried in her favorite blue dress or should we buy a new one?

Did Grandpop want an elaborate viewing or would a simple memorial service be more appropriate? After all, most of his friends are gone.

Arrangements have to be made. Most adult children find it hard to sit down with their parents and discuss funeral arrangements. On the other hand, parents often don't want to burden their children with funeral directions.

The solution seems to be with prearranged funerals.

According to funeral directors, prearranged funerals are fast becoming an accepted alternative with clients choosing simple or elaborate arrangements as desired.

Pre-funding means that services are rapid and arrangements made in advance. You are not, however, required to do both.

The advantages of prearrangement are that everything is done according to your wishes. It gives peace of mind and the children are relieved of the burden.

The added protection of pre-funding guarantees the current price, this beating any inflationary spiral.

In Delaware, two separate trust plans are offered: the trust account and insurance.

In the trust account, funds are deposited in a federally insured savings institution and are 100 percent irrevocable.

The account is set in either the family or funeral director's name.

Delaware also offers an insurance program where an insurance agent will sell the program through the funeral home. Insurance makes the pre-funding irrevocable, which protects for medical assistance.

As we live in this mobile society of the 1990s, it's important to realize prearranged funerals are transferable. You are not locked into one funeral home.

You can have a voice in your care

What are advance directives?

Advance directive is a general term that refers to your oral and written instructions about your future medical care, in the event you become unable to speak for yourself. Each state regulates the use of advance directives differently.

What is a living will?

A living will is a type of advance directive in which you put in writing your wishes about medical treatment should you be unable to communicate at the end of life.

Your state law may determine when the living will goes into effect, and may limit the treatments to which the living will applies.

Your right to accept or refuse treatment is protected by constitutional and common law.

What is a durable power of attorney for health care?

A durable power of attorney for health care is a document that lets you appoint someone you trust to make decisions about your medical care if you cannot make those decisions yourself.

This type of advance directive may also be called a "health care proxy" or "appointment of a health care agent."

The person you appoint may be called your health care agent, surrogate, attorney-in-fact, or proxy.

In many states, the person you appoint through a durable power of attorney for health care is authorized to speak for you any time you are unable to make your own medical decisions, not only at the end of life.

Why do I need an advance directive?

Advance directives give you a voice in decisions about your medical care, even when you are unconscious or too ill to communicate.

As long as you are able to express your own decisions, your advance directives will not be used and you can accept or refuse any medical treatment. But if you become seriously ill, you may lose the ability to participate in decisions about your own treatment.

What laws govern the use of advance directives?

Both federal and state laws govern the use of advance directives.

The federal law, the Patient Self Determination Act, requires health care facilities that receive Medicaid and Medicare funds to inform patients of their rights to execute advance directives.

All 50 states and the District of Columbia have laws recognizing the use of advance directives.

Knowing practices ahead of time can ease funeral arrangements

NO ONE WANTS to think about dying. Yet most adults will be in making funeral arrangements once or twice in their lifetime.

Because we don't like to think about death, we usually are not prepared for it; we've made no plans for funeral arrangements.

Survivors face a bewildering array of decisions. But families can prepare in advance for death by becoming acquainted with the various funeral practices and arrangements.

When death occurs, the doctor in attendance will declare the person dead and make out a death certificate. Today most people die in a hospital or in some type of care facility, for example, a nursing home.

If a member of the deceased's family is present when death occurs, the doctor or nurse will take care of the immediate needs of the bereaved. The hospital will ask which undertaker you wish them to call to remove the body.

The clergy of your faith should be called no matter what hour of the day or night the death occurs. He will want to walk with you through these days. He will help you plan and give comfort in your sorrow and initial grief.

Details that need attention

The following is a general outline of the procedure to follow after contacting a funeral director and clergyman. Some of these details can be taken care of by friends, some will require the attention of the family.

■ Notify members of the immediate family who are unaware of the death as well as close friends, and employer or business associates.

■ Consult with the minister and funeral director on details of the funeral arrangements.

■ Secure personal data and any special requests or instructions of the deceased affecting the funeral or memorial service.

■ Make necessary arrangements with the cemetery if interment is preferred.

■ Notify the deceased's attorney.

■ Arrange hospitality for visiting relatives.

■ Arrange for care of infants and small children.

■ Coordinate the supply of food for the next several days.

■ Cooperate with the funeral director and attorney in securing forms for filing claims with life and casualty insurance companies, banks, fraternal groups, veteran or military organizations, social security, credit union, trade union.

■ Check final details of service with funeral director.

■ Prepare list of distant persons to be notified by letter.

■ Mail "thank you" notes for flowers or other expressions of sympathy.

Burial alternatives

These are the alternatives.

■ Earth burial or interment in a cemetery.

■ Entombment— a crypt or niche in a mausoleum.

■ Cremation— an urn for the cremated remains can be buried in a cemetery or be placed in a niche in a mausoleum, or the ashes may be buried or scattered as a family wishes on privately-owned property.

■ Donating body to medical school.

The funeral

Since ancient civilizations, the dead have always been given special care. Our customs regarding death and bereavement are usually part of our cultural patterns. We need to develop some plan to help us cope with death.

The funeral is that religious, social, and ceremonial ritual that provides opportunity for friends and relatives to surround the grieving with faith, hope and support.

Traditionally, funeral services in this part of the country are held in a church or funeral home with the casket present, followed by a brief service at the gravesite.

Friends and relatives often gather afterwards at the home of the bereaved to offer words of comfort and support.

The funeral director

If your community offers a choice of funeral directors, it is good to remember the relationship between the director and the family is personal and confidential.

Thus integrity and professional competence of the director are important. When you attend funerals, observe the funeral director and his facilities.

If you are not acquainted with a funeral director, talk with your pastor, priest or rabbi.

In selecting a funeral director be sure that he has an up-to-date license. Usually it will be displayed in his office. Is he a member of his professional organizations?

Do the Chamber of Commerce or Better Business Bureau have any derogatory comments regarding his business and professional practices? Are his facilities adequate for your funeral plans?

The following are details that will be discussed with the clergyman and the funeral director:

■ Place of service — Does the family want the service held in a church, funeral home, in a community hall, in the home or elsewhere?

■ Time of service — The chosen time must fit the schedule of those involved. Religious beliefs may dictate the time.

■ Regulations governing disposal and space for disposal — decisions on disposal by cremation, interment, or entombment must be made. Space for disposal of remains is purchased to coincide with the decision— a cemetery lot if interment, a crypt or niche in entombment, or an urn if ashes are to be kept after cremation.

■ Clothing, casket, outside receptacle — these vary as to personal preference, religious beliefs, and local regulations.

■ Transportation details — may include distant transportation of remains or only transportation on the day of the funeral.

■ Obituary and death notices — detailed, accurate information is needed. The family may have special requests.

■ Flowers or other memorials — if the family wishes gifts to a memorial in lieu of flowers, this decision is made as soon as funeral plans are underway. Arrange disposition of flowers after the funeral, for example, to a hospital or nursing home.

■ Services and rituals by church staff, by lodges, fraternal organizations or military — the family may have decided a preference.

■ Pallbearers — the number to be named, their duties, the seating arrangements.

■ The funeral cortege — this involves the immediate family, friends and relatives, and police escort when necessary. Individuals must be told of the processional arrangements.

Obituaries

Tony Hunt, 22, member UD crew team

Newark resident, Tony Hunt, died Nov. 1, 1994, of a ruptured aorta in Wilmington Hospital.

Mr. Hunt, 22, attended the University of Delaware where he was a member of the crew team.

A memorial service was held on Nov. 3 at Thomas More Oratory, Newark. The family suggests contributions to the University of Delaware Crew Team.

Elmer S. Smith, 83, operated dairy here

Red Lion-area resident, Elmer S. Smith, died Oct. 29, 1994, of coronary artery disease at his home.

Mr. Smith, 83, was raised in Vermont and was former owner-operator of a Cooch's Bridge dairy farm that is now Old Baltimore Park Industrial Park.

After the government took over the family farm on Delaware 72—now the site of Delaware Industrial Park—during World War II for ammunition storage, Mr. Smith and his father, Sidney Smith, began farming on Delaware 896 north of Newark.

When the hilly terrain became hard on his father, they moved to the Cooch's Bridge farm in 1950. In 1968, Mr. Smith sold out, moved to Red Lion and became a handyman at Lester Lumber Co., St. Georges. He retired in 1991.

He is survived by his wife of 26 years, Helen M. Smith; a daughter, Marion Peltz of Clarion, Pa.; a sister, Lucy Lloyd of Newark; three grandchildren; and a great-granddaughter.

A service was held Nov. 3 at Robert T. Jones & Foard Funeral Home, Newark. Burial was in White Clay Creek Presbyterian Cemetery.

The family suggests contributions to Alzheimer's Association.

Ida Virginia Mann, 94, homemaker

Former Newark resident, Ida Virginia Mann, died Oct. 30, 1994, of heart failure at Calvert Nursing Home, Rising Sun, Md.

Mrs. Mann, 94, was a homemaker. Her husband, Howard, B. Mann, died in 1989.

She is survived by a son, H.

Ronald, and a daughter, Virginia D'Ambro, both of Newark; six grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

A service was held Nov. 2 at Robert T. Jones & Foard Funeral Home, Newark. Burial was in All Saints Cemetery.

The family suggests contributions to Alzheimer's Association, Delaware Chapter, Wilmington

Jeffrey Amato, 32, real estate professional

Newark resident, Jeffrey Amato, died Nov. 1, 1994, of cancer in Arbors at New Castle nursing home.

After he became ill in 1990, Mr. Amato, 32, retired from his real estate position at Amato & Associates, Wilmington.

He is survived by his mother and stepfather, Joan M. and Karl H. Feldner of Elkton, Md.; two brothers, Joseph III of Wilmington and John of Leesville, La.; two sisters, Jill Amato of Bear and Jody Amato of Wilmington; his maternal grandmother, Marie McDonald of Mount Holly, N.J.; and his father, Joseph Amato of Wilmington.

A memorial service was held Nov. 5 at the residence of Janet Gould, Newark. The family suggests contributions to the Salvation Army, Wilmington, or Tri-State Hospice, Newark.

Robert E. Shelton, 50, Chrysler retiree

Newark resident, Robert E. Shelton, died Nov. 2, 1994, of cancer at home.

Mr. Shelton, 50, retired in July from Chrysler Corp.'s Newark assembly plant, where he worked for 30 years.

Born in Chestertown, Md., he was raised in Sudlersville and graduated from Sudlersville High School in 1962. He was an Air Force veteran of the Vietnam war. In 1968 he moved to Newark where he was baseball coach for Newark Parks and Recreation League during the 1980s. An Eagle Scout, he was active in scouting and assisted with summer camp for Troop 252 of Newark until he became ill in May.

He is survived by his wife of 25 years, Barbara A. Gillum Shelton; a son, Jason at home; his mother, Anna V. Shelton of Sudlersville; and two brothers, James C. "Bennie" of Sudlersville and Joseph Wayne of Port St. Lucie, Fla.

A service was held on Nov. 7 at Fellows Funeral Home, Millington, Md. Burial was in Asbury Cemetery, Millington.

The family suggests contributions to Boy Scout Troop 252, in care of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Newark, or charity.

Shannon Kenneth Butry, 24, ironworker

Newark resident, Shannon Kenneth Butry, died Nov. 3, 1994, after his motorcycle ran into the back of a tractor-trailer on U.S. 40 at Delaware 1, according to state police.

Mr. Butry, 24, was an ironworker at Eagle Erectors in New Castle. Earlier, he worked for R.C. Fabricators in New Castle.

A 1988 graduate of Elkton (Md.) High School, he was an avid motorcyclist who traveled throughout the country. He enjoyed cooking.

Mr. Butry is survived by his father and stepmother, Kenneth N. and Karyl Butry; and two brothers, Roblyn K. and Tim K., all of Elkton; a sister, Tammy Wyner of Marshallton; his companion, Deborah "D.J." Johnson, with whom he lived; his paternal grandmother, Helen Bainbridge of Spotsylvania, Va.; and his maternal grandmother, Emma Kauffman of Waynesboro, Pa.

A service was held Nov. 7 at Robert T. Jones & Foard Funeral Home, Newark. Burial was private.

John Michael Ward, 68, Ametek president

Newark resident, John Michael Ward, died Nov. 3, 1994, of an asbestosis, related lung disease in Christiana Hospital.

Mr. Ward, 68, retired in 1989 as president of Ametek Inc. From 1952 to 1980 he worked for Haveg, a subsidiary of Hercules, where he worked in sales of corrosion-resistant chemical equipment and was later promoted to vice president and general manager.

While at Haveg, he was granted several patents and was instrumental in Haveg's development of the silica fabric business.

He was a member of the See OBITUARIES, 17A ►

'Fortunate to have Gunzenhauser in charge'

'TIS THE SEASON. Well, almost the season anyway. One of the problems with the Christmas season is that some of us get on such a hectic schedule that we miss things we later wish we had not missed. There are so many great fine and performing arts events scheduled from now until the first of the year that I will be devoting several columns to them with the hope that you and your family might be able to work some of them into your holiday schedule.

The Delaware Symphony Orchestra is offering three concerts in its Classical Series just about a week before Christmas, December 15, 16 and 17. Our symphony will hold forth at its performing home, The Grand Opera House, 818 The Market Street Mall in Wilmington. All concerts begin at eight each evening.

Music Director Stephen Gunzenhauser will be on the podium to conduct a program which includes Dimitri Shostakovich's Symphony No. 6 and Serge Rachmaninoff's Symphonic Dances.

Soprano Pamela Hinchman will pay a return visit to the DSO as she performs Reinhold Gliere's Concerto for Coloratura Soprano. Sounds like a delightful intermission in the Christmas rush.

Pamela Hinchman has a voice, technique and experience which belie her calendar years. She was named Young Artist of 1990 by "Musical America."

Pamela received the 1992 Alumni Achievement Scholarship from the Cleveland Institute of Music for "significant professional achievement in performance."

Her orchestral performances include the Pittsburgh Symphony, the Hong Kong Philharmonic, the Indianapolis Symphony and last season with the Delaware Symphony in their "pops" series. Pamela has performed with the Cleveland Opera Company, Chicago Opera Theater, Opera Company of Boston and the Greater Miami Opera Company. In

THE ARTS

By PHIL TOMAN

Pittsburgh she sang with Sherill Milnes in Mozart's "Don Giovanni." Impressive, to say the very least.

Stephen's selection of this modern Russian program is indeed an interesting one. We would all certainly list Rachmaninoff as a Russian composer, but the work our music director has selected for us to hear was actually completed in Huntington, Long Island, in 1940. This apotheosis of the dance was the composer's final major work.

It is important to remember that this opus was not intended as dance music as the name might imply. Rather it is music inspired by the dance. This is not programmatic music in any way. It is essentially symphonic. It was the composer's original intention to give the three movements names: I. Non allegro to be called "Midday," II. Andante con moto; tempo di valse would be "Twilight" and III. Lento assai, Allegro vivace to have been "Midnight."

Rachmaninoff removed these titles before the premiere of the work with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra because he wanted no suggestions to the audience. The music would stand alone. It has stood very well.

Shostakovich's Symphony No. 6 in B Minor, Op. 54, has three movements instead of the usual four movements, which most of his symphonies had. They are scored: I. Largo, II. Allegro and III. Presto. In its Leningrad premiere on November 5, 1939, it was not very well received. It seems that the composer originally had planned the work with a large chorus as a tribute to Lenin. He abandoned that idea and went on with what the Supreme Soviet considered an unorthodox work.

Indeed, it is still considered a both unorthodox by many. For example there is the use of a xylophone which lends an air of frivolity to the symphony. There are many lyric passages in the work as well. No one but you will know if you like it, and you won't know until you hear it. I think we are very fortunate to have Stephen Gunzenhauser in charge of our symphony. He is a man who likes to introduce so many different kinds of music to us.

■ Closing comment: We have choices

I want to close today with a special and heartfelt "Thank you" to all of the men and women our country is honoring this week, our veterans. Those men and women who put their lives on the line for us and for our country are the reason we have a CHOICE of what to attend in the performing arts, a CHOICE of what newspaper to read and what stories in that newspaper to read, and the millions of other choices we, as Americans, make throughout our lives.

All adults should understand what we owe our veterans. Perhaps this week, or weekend, you might explain our debt to a young person in your family. It may be one of the most important conversations you ever have with a youngster. Of course you have a CHOICE of doing it or not doing it — our veterans fought for that right too.

Centenarian assembles time capsule

By NANCY TURNER
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

NOT LONG AGO, Loula Reese sat in a comfortably upholstered chair in her room at Millcroft Retirement Community and peered through the window at a construction crew hard at work adding a new room to an adjacent dining wing.

At some point between the blue snaps of chalk lines and the hammering of batter boards, the 99-year-old great grandmother had an idea: "The new addition must have a time capsule, something for its cornerstone to mark this moment in time."

With some help from Barbara Kanter, activities assistant and Gail Perkins, director of resident services at Millcroft, Reese organized a dozen friends to collect items for a time capsule. Photographs accounted for the majority of the contributions; however, essays describing the state of the world as perceived by Reese and other residents were possibly the most prized.

"The objective is to give people here something to take part in," said Reese. "When this time capsule is found after many years in the future, what I have said in there [the capsule] may help others to go on. They will know what happened in our time."

Reese explained that she wrote

OBITUARIES, from 11A

American Institute of Chemical Engineers and St. James Episcopal Church, Stanton. He was an active alumnus of the University of Delaware where he earned a degree in chemical engineering and was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

He was an Army and Navy veteran of World War II.

Mr. Butry's first wife, Ruth Helen Dale Ward, died in 1987. He is survived by his wife, Helen Christine Kniska-Ward; a son, Michael D. of Philadelphia; two daughters, Catherine D. Ward of Stinson Beach, Calif., and Marley W. Armstrong of Oxford, Pa.; a stepson, William R. Kniska at home; and three stepdaughters, Alicia Kniska of Morgantown, W. Va., Natasha Spiedel of Columbia, Md., and Katrina Kniska of Gaithersburg, Md.; and three grandchildren.

A service was held Nov. 7 at McCrery Memorial Chapel, near Marshallton. Burial was private.

William N. Geib, 64, purchasing agent

Christiana resident, William N. Geib, died Nov. 4, 1994, of lung cancer in Christiana Hospital.

Mr. Geib, 64, was a purchasing agent for Sun Oil Co., Marcus Hook, Pa. for 38 years before retiring in 1986.

He was a trustee at Chester Bethel United Methodist Church, Brandywine Hundred, and a member of Concord Masonic Lodge 25, Concordville, Pa., and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 11358, Bear.

He served in the Navy on the aircraft carrier USS Midway during the Korean War. Raised in Chester, Pa., he lived in Claymont for many years before moving to Christiana Green in 1989.

He is survived by his wife of 39 years, Jane Heacock Geib; two sons, William N. Jr. of Cheboygan, Mich., and David A. of Newark; a sister, Naomi McCormick of Boothwyn, Pa.; and four grandchildren.

A service was held Nov. 8 at Robert Moreland Funeral Home, Trainer. Burial plans were not announced.

The family suggest contributions to Chester Bethel United Methodist Church, Brandywine Hundred.

Gwen A. Cartagena, 19, honors '94 NHS grad

Newark resident, Gwen A. Cartagena, died Nov. 4, 1994, of complications of cystic fibrosis at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

Miss Cartagena, 19, graduated with honors from Newark High School last year through an off-campus program for disabled students.

She entered First State School for chronically ill students at Christiana Hospital after completing Brookside and Stubbs elementary schools. She also attended Kirk Middle School for a year.

Through First State School, she earned a diploma from Newark High, where she was inducted into the National Honor Society. She also edited First State School's yearbook. The school enrolls about 15 students.

She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by her parents, Joyce M. and Eugene P. Cartagena, with whom she lived.

A service was held Nov. 9 in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Brookside Park, with burial in Delaware Veterans Memorial Cemetery, Summit.

The family suggests contributions to Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, 311 S. Juniper St., Philadelphia, or St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Newark.

Arthur R. Wilson, 84, worked at Chrysler

Newark resident, Arthur R. Wilson, died Nov. 3, 1994, of respiratory failure in the Franciscan Health Center of Brackenville.

Mr. Smith, 84, was a lifelong resident of New Castle county and worked as an assembly worker for Chrysler Corporation, Newark, for 20 years before retiring in 1972.

He was a member of Red Lion Evangelical Free Church, where he served as an usher for 14 years. He enjoyed gardening, mowing grass, yard work, fixing things, and being with his family.

He is survived by his wife of 55 years, Ruth C. Wilson; two sons, Arthur R. Wilson Jr. of Wilmington and David E. Wilson of Glasgow; one daughter, Ruth Anne Sharp of Erial, N.J.; two brothers, Ralph R. Wilson of Newark and Earl W. Wilson of Bear; two sisters, Eleanor Poley of Glasgow and Marjorie Glenn of Louisville, Ky.; three grandchildren; and two step-grandchildren.

A service was held Nov. 7 at Beeson Memorial Services of Christiana-Elkton, Rt. 40, Fox Run. Burial was in St. George's Cemetery.

Caravel falls to A.I. in v-ball states

By BRETT LOVELACE
NEWARK POST CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Third-ranked Alexis I. Du Pont thumped 10th-ranked Caravel Academy 15-8, 15-7 in the first round of the Delaware High School Volleyball Tournament at St. Mark's High last Saturday night.

Caravel (12-6), making its second straight trip to the state tournament, lost to A.I. (16-2) in the first round for the second consecutive time.

"I think nerves had a lot to do with the way we played," said Caravel Coach Lori Lorah. "We played a little softer than usual."

A.I. Du Pont set the pace during the first match, jumping ahead 7-0. Caravel responded with three service points from Chantel Daunno. The Tigers pulled away after Gwynne Warner served four straight points and a thunderous spike from captain Brenda Paloni (14 kills) to seal the win.

Buccaneer captain Kara Odom had eight service points in the match.

A.I.'s second game mirrored the first, going ahead 5-0 behind Carrie Little's five service points.

"It's tough to try and constantly come back," said Little. "We just wanted to keep on a roll."

Christiana tops Glasgow, Newark falls

Vikings look for outright Flight A title

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

The Christiana High football team rolled into this week's Flight A showdown with archrival Newark by pounding Christina District rival Glasgow 48-8 last Friday night at Glasgow Stadium.

The Vikings (7-1 overall, 5-0 Flight A) clinched at least a share of the conference title with the victory but can win it outright by beating the Yellowjackets (8-1, 5-1) Saturday afternoon at Coder Field.

"This is what it's all about," Christiana Coach Bill Muehleisen said of the upcoming Newark game. "We have great respect for Newark and hope they respect us. We'll come in 7-1 and they'll come in with eight or nine wins and it should be great."

Before turning its full attention to Newark, however, Christiana had to deal with Glasgow.

The Vikings didn't take long to establish themselves.

After holding the Dragons (3-6, 2-4) on their opening series, Christiana's Cliff Hayes stormed around the right end to block Glasgow's punt. Rashad Bailey picked up the ball and returned it 25 yards for the first touchdown. Andrew Allen's extra-point gave Christiana a 7-0 lead just 1:26 into the contest.

Christiana scored twice more before the first quarter ended to open a 21-0 lead.

After a scoreless second quarter, the Vikings scored on its first three possessions of the third quarter to build the lead to 42-0 and put the game out of reach.

"We didn't want any excitement tonight," Muehleisen said referring to last year's scintillating contest between the two teams. "We just wanted a solid effort to keep on a roll."

"We're happy. We didn't play well," said Hayes. "We didn't play well."

Newark quarterback Jeff Strengari gets stripped of his jersey and eventually fumbles on a play symbolic of the Yellowjackets tough day last Saturday at William Penn. The Colonials won 21-14 to give Newark its first loss of the season.

Jackets lose to W. Penn, must win to force tie

By JOHN HOLOWKA
NEWARK POST ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

NEW CASTLE — What recently had become a bothersome ache in Newark's side has finally turned into a nagging pain.

A cure would have been the Yellowjacket's first win since 1989 over arch-nemesis William Penn, but the Colonials stunned the previously unbeaten 'Jackets 21-14 in a Flight A battle Saturday at Bill Cole Stadium and stopped Newark's eight-game winning streak.

"We just didn't get it done; the turnovers were killing us," said Newark Coach Butch Simpson. "Obviously turnovers are going to be extremely important in a game like this. And William Penn capitalized on several of them."

William Penn took advantage of three Newark fumbles and an interception and parlayed two fumbles in the first half into the tying and go-ahead scores to lead 13-7 at halftime.

The Yellowjackets had taken an early 7-0 lead when Butch Patrick scored on Newark's second play from scrimmage as he stumbled and then regained his balance on a 56-yard touchdown run through the middle of the defense. Steve Gwinn's point-after gave Newark a 7-0 lead with 35 seconds gone in the game.

"My first reaction as soon as we did that was that we have so much more game to play," Simpson said. "And then we didn't perform well enough to win. I don't know that we deserved to win. Offensively, we had no control of the football game."

About midway through the opening quarter, Newark fumbled a punt return and the Colonials recovered on the Yellowjacket 24. Five plays later Rahsaan Matthews snuck across from the one-yard line. Following another William Penn touchdown, the Colonials led 13-7 at halftime.

Cocky Hofstra brings impressive record to town

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

What in August looked like the worst home football game of the season for the University of Delaware, may turn out to be the most important.

Hofstra — that's right Hofstra — comes to Newark Saturday with an 8-1 record, a national ranking and a chance to make the NCAA I-AA playoffs. The Flying Dutchmen also come with a big chip on their collective shoulder.

Hofstra Coach Joe Gardi makes no bones about his team's motivation.

"I ask them every time we play a Yankee Conference school if any of them had been contacted by that school and then, if they had made a visit to that school," he said. "Most of the time there are very few hands up."

The strategy has worked so far as Hofstra has walloped Yankee Conference leader New Hampshire 28-6 and Rhode Island 42-16.

"I think we've already done that," said Gardi when asked if his team could play in the Yankee Conference. "The problem is not that we're not getting any respect. I really just don't think people know who we are. Then when we beat people, I think they're embarrassed to vote for us in the poll."

"There's nothing better than being where we are — being 8-1 — and going down to Delaware to play the Eastern I-AA power."

Gardi also let it be known that Hofstra has managed this terrific season without the aid of scholarships.

"We have aid that's similar to the Patriot League format," said Gardi, who was an assistant coach for the New York Jets for eight years before coming to Hofstra five years ago. "But I would say that five of our top 10 players don't get a dime."

In a story published last month New York Daily News Gardi was quoted as saying "I'll say this, we would be going for the national championship every year if I had scholarships. Every year."

In the same story he added, "If we had stayed in Division III we would have two or three rings already. What we've done here is really an unbelievable feat. To win like we

St. Mark's tops Christiana in volleyball

By JOHN HOLOWKA
NEWARK POST ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

CHRISTIANA HIGH lost to St. Mark's in the opening round of the state volleyball tournament Saturday, but this season the Vikings finished as winners anyway.

"We lost the game, but I don't feel we losers," said second-year Christiana Coach Kim Huggins, following the 15-5, 15-9 setback to the Spartans at McKean. "It's one thing to lose and play terrible, but it's another thing to lose and play well. We played a real nice game."

"Against St. Mark's we didn't serve and receive. The (Spartans) are a tough team, they got a lot of points on serves. It was surprising for us because it was the younger and more inexperienced kids that had never been to the state tournament that stepped up and were really enthusiastic."

Liza Stapleford had four blocks and six kills and Kate Hubbard added three aces, four perfect passes, five kills and five digs for St. Mark's (17-2), which advanced to the quarterfinals against Wilmington Christian.

"I think the big thing was that we were more consistent," said Spartan Coach Dave Stover.

We played well, we didn't have any glaring weaknesses. We passed well all match and kept people off balance.

Both teams were physically and mentally warmed up, but the first match lasted so long I think it affected both teams. It took the edge off. Christiana has some fairly young players and they played well; they went down fighting. But I think it came down to experience; that was the factor."

“It turned out to be a positive season.”

KIM HUGGINS
CHRISTIANA VOLLEYBALL COACH

For the Vikings, Sharna Gray had eight blocks and six kills, Erin Pfozter had 10 assists, Val Rodriguez had three kills and led the Vikes in perfect passes, Jen Thompson added eight perfect passes and Kate Lego had five kills.

Huggins lost six seniors from last year's 18-1 squad that won the Blue Hen Conference and was defeated by Padua in the post-season quarterfinals. This year the Vikes relied on two seniors, two juniors and a pair of sophomores to bolster the starting line-up and ended the season 10-8.

"I was definitely pleased it turned out to be a positive season," Huggins said. "I didn't know what was going to happen, but the younger kids really did a nice job stepping up and carrying the varsity. That's asking a lot of the younger players to help provide leadership and commitment and to win on a team with only two (starting) seniors. That says a lot about them."

"Most of our matches went to three games and most of our losses were because of our lack of experience. The skills were there. This year we graduate three seniors (Rodriguez, Thompson and Lego), so next year we'll have a strong bench. I could put any player in any time and not hinder the team. That makes for strong growth for the next couple of years."

Newark opens soccer tourney with win over IR

GREENVILLE — Dave Benin scored two goals and assisted on three others to help lead top-seeded Newark over 16th seed Indian River 6-0 Tuesday evening in an opening round game in the Delaware High School Soccer Tournament.

"We definitely wanted to get this first-round win," said Benin. "Last two years we lost in the first round, so we wanted to get this one under our belt so we could just play our game and try to get the monkey off our back. This is the one we wanted to get over with; just go out and play soccer. Our goal this year is to win the state championship and you have to beat every team you play."

Todd Everett scored in the 11th minute off Benin's corner kick when he rifled a low shot past Indian River goalie Matt Schifano. Rob Sylvester made it 2-0 in the 21st minutes when he deflected Benin's looping free kick into the goal.

Newark topped Glasgow last Thursday.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

JOHAN HOHMAN - St. Mark's

JOHAN HOHMAN figured St. Mark's needed a head start to make this year's state high school soccer tournament.

The junior center halfback headed in two goals, the final one coming with under a minute left in the game, to give the Spartans an emotional 2-1 victory over Brandywine last week and a spot in the post-season playoff tilt.

"It made me feel great," said Hohman, who has scored four goals this season. "We knew beforehand it was either (Brandywine) or us. They were trying as hard as we were. That's what propelled me to score. They tied us 1-1 earlier this season; that's what I thought about. I've been waiting for the game to be played."

Hohman's first goal came seven minutes into the game off a long throw-in from Brian Clark to give the Spartans a 1-0 lead. Brandywine tied it before the half.

"Usually on throw-ins (Clark) looks for me," said the 5-foot-11 Hohman. "We made eye contact like hit me; the ball came right to me. and I out-jumped my opponent for the head-in. We work well together."

His game-winner came with about 30 seconds remaining in the game off a Ken Vanella corner kick when Hohman again out-leaped his defenders and scored.

"The set plan is I go to the near post," Hohman said. "This time for some reason I went far post. Somebody on the team told me it was coming to me. I got in front of the defender and beat him to the ball."

Hohman didn't start until this year, first playing stopper, then sweeper, then back up to the midfield-er spot.

"I like center half the best," Hohman said. "But wherever I play I'm happy."

"In the beginning of the season we played the 4-4-2 for a while where there are two center half-backs," said Spartan Coach Tom DeMatteis. "We moved him back to get one more defender. But in the second half of the season we've had so many injuries we had to have him mark up."

The victory vaulted St. Mark's (7-4-5) as the 15th seed into the playoffs after the Spartans, who have been to the state championship game the past four years, were in jeopardy of not making the post-season tilt.

St. Mark's upends second-seeded Dover

The St. Mark's High soccer team entered the Delaware High School Soccer Tournament in an unusual position - a 15th seed and an underdog.

The Spartans, however, looked anything but in its 1-0 opening round victory over second-seeded Dover Tuesday night at Milford.

The victory advanced St. Mark's to a quarterfinal round game against 10th seeded Caesar Rodney Saturday night again at Milford.

Bryan Ballas scored the game's lone goal after pounding home a ball that the Dover goalkeeper lost control of on a corner kick.

Both teams tallied five shots while Spartan goalkeeper Joey Iudica recorded four saves. The win improved St. Mark's record to 8-4-5 and enabled it to take a second seed's draw through the rest of the state tournament.

Newark spikers advance to state semifinals

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS EDITOR

It wasn't your typically easy 2-0 volleyball match.

Newark High defeated Archmere 2-0 in the quarterfinal round of the Delaware High School Volleyball Tournament Tuesday night at St. Mark's but the 17-15, 15-13 victory was anything but easy.

"It was too thrilling," said Newark Coach Barb Apichella. "[Archmere's] a good team. I expected it to be a tough match."

The win advanced Newark (18-3) to a semifinal matchup with St. Mark's.

The Yellowjackets, in the first game, jumped to leads of 5-1 and 10-4 but the Auks fought back to within 11-10 and eventually tied the game 14-14.

Archmere then actually took its only lead of the match 15-14 only to see Newark - behind a Lori Wagner kill and two Ursula Cornish service points - score the last three points and earn the victory.

Game two was similar. The 'Jackets ran out to leads of 6-2 and 13-8 but Archmere again fought back to within 14-13 before Newark finally pulled out the victory.

Jessica Phipps helped led the way with 14 digs, 19 assists one ace and one kill. May Lai added 11 digs, six perfect passes and one kill; Heather Lloyd added six digs, three aces and six kills while Andrea Clark added five kills and Cornish a block, three digs and six kills.

The win was the fourth straight for Newark after dropping its final regular season match to Concord. The loss dropped the Jackets into a tie for the Flight A title. However, Newark answered by beating the Raiders in a playoff game, topping A.I. in the Blue Hen Conference championship match and routing Caesar Rodney in the opening round of the state tournament.

Tuesday's win also gave Newark a chance to avenge two of its regular season losses which came at the hands of the Spartans.

"Hopefully, the third time is the charm," Apichella said. "I really think that loss to Concord was a wake up call."

Post Picks of the Week

With Newark High falling 21-14 to William Penn last week, a little of the luster has been taken off this week's Newark-Christiana matchup.

The game, however, still holds great significance. A Christiana victory would earn the Vikings the outright Flight A title and complete an unbeaten conference schedule. It would also give Christiana the automatic berth into the Division I state tournament. A Newark win would force a three-way tie between the Yellowjackets, Vikings and William Penn.

All three, however, will make the state tournament as long as Caesar Rodney (9-0) beats Dover. A win by the Senators would earn them the Henlopen North title and CR would earn one of the at-large berths thus knocking one of the three Flight A teams out of the tournament.

The state tournament point system is tricky but we'll give our best shot at sorting out the different scenarios.

If Newark beats Christiana and William Penn wins out, the Jackets would have 58 points. Christiana would have 54 points under the same scenario and William Penn would have 59 points - thus gaining the automatic berth. A Dover win over Caesar Rodney would then keep the Vikings home.

Under the same scenario, except William Penn losing to St. Mark's, the Colonials would have 55 points and Newark would earn the automatic berth.

If Christiana wins, it gets the automatic berth and Newark would have 54 points, making it the odd team out if Dover were to upset Caesar Rodney.

Whatever, the game still means a lot. The winner will get into the tournament and the loser will have to sweat.

St. Mark's, which can get a maximum of just 52 points, needs Mount Pleasant to beat William Penn this weekend to have a chance to beat the Colonials next week and get in the tourney.

Last week we won four of five games (Newark's loss to William Penn was the only loss) to bring the season record to 32-12-1 (.788).

ST. MARK'S (6-1-1) VS. ARCH-MERE (5-3) - Friday night at Baynard Stadium, 7:30. The Spartans need to keep winning and hope for a minor miracle to make the tournament. The first part should be the easier of the two equations this week. The Auks are a solid team but St. Mark's - if its spirits aren't dampened by its slim playoff hopes - should be better. There still is hope and they need to win to keep it alive. The Pick - St. Mark's 22, Archmere 14.

CARAVEL (0-8) VS. ST. ELIZABETH (6-1-1) - Friday night at Frawley Stadium, 7:30. The Bucs have had a tough season and it won't get any easier Friday night against St. E. The Vikings are rolling toward a state tournament berth and can't afford a loss. The Pick - St. Elizabeth 26, Caravel 12.

GLASGOW (3-6) VS. BRANDY-WINE (3-6) - Saturday morning at Brandywine, 10:30. This should be a very competitive game with both teams trying to close out the season on a winning note. The Dragons were drubbed last week by Christiana while the Bulldogs topped Delcastle. Brandywine has played the tougher teams a bit tougher than Glasgow. The Pick - Brandywine 21, Glasgow 20.

CHRISTIANA (7-1) VS. NEWARK (8-1) - Saturday afternoon at Christiana's Coder Field, 1. This is a big game, no matter how you look at it. Both teams aren't undefeated but it still has a big bearing on the Flight A championship. A Christiana win guarantees the crown for the Vikings. A Newark win forges a three-way tie. The Vikings, though, appear to be the team playing better football right now. Newark didn't look sharp last week against William Penn and hasn't beaten a team with a winning record all season. The Jackets, however, do give Christiana all it can handle. Just remember last year when the Vikings appeared to be juggernaut and 6-4 Newark team upset them. It should be a great high school football game but Christiana appears to have a little too much. I think? The Pick - Christiana 21, Newark 17.

St. Mark's tops Wilmington Christian to advance volleyball semifinals

By MARTY VALANIA
NEWARK POST SPORTS EDITOR

The St. Mark's High volleyball team survived a major scare in Tuesday's quarterfinal round of the Delaware High School Volleyball Tournament at Newark High.

The Spartans (18-2) held off a tough Wilmington Christian squad 2-1 (15-10, 10-15, 15-7) to advance to Thursday's semifinal against Newark - a team that they have already beaten twice this season.

"We played a real tough team," said St. Mark's Coach Dave Stover of the Warriors. "They play good fundamental volleyball and that [Beth] Menzie is an outstanding player."

The first game saw the lead see-saw between the two teams before the Spartans pulled away from a 9-8 lead to win 15-10.

The Warriors, though, bounced back strong in the second game, jumping to an 11-2 lead and holding off a St. Mark's rally to win 15-10.

"We played pretty well in the second game but Wilmington Christian just played better," Stover said. "We came around in that second game and in the third game we played much better."

In that third game, St. Mark's took a commanding 9-3 lead only to see Wilmington Christian fight back to within 9-7. The Spartans, however, reeled off the last six points to secure the victory.

"It was just a good match," Stover said. "The kids came through pretty well."

Outside hitters Allison Sternberg and Liza Stapleford led the Spartans with 13 kills each.

HEARING AID NEWS

Can a hearing aid be virtually invisible? Today the answer is yes. You will agree when you see, or better yet when you do not see the Hearco "INVISIBLE™".

Is there a hearing air that helps you hear in noise? The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) now requires manufacturers to produce evidence to verify all advertising claims about hearing aids.

What could be better evidence than one's own trial experience?

Today's technology produces a product that we feel is the "hearing aid" answer for so very many who need help but do not want to be seen using a device. Technology, know-how, experience and technique permit us to offer a completely new device manufactured specifically to the individuals hearing loss and ear canal. AND TO OFFER THIS ON A 21 DAY FREE TRIAL; THERE IS NO ADVANCE PAYMENT, NO DEPOSIT, NO PAYMENT OF ANY KIND. This offer is limited those we feel are credit worthy and are motivated toward better hearing.

The hearing aid is the new HEARCO "INVISIBLE™". Yes, it is virtually invisible in your ear canal. Although mighty small, it is, because of today's technology, powerful enough for hearing losses up to 80 decibels. This is termed "severe". Of course, there are always exceptions, but the number of people this aid helps is substantial.

This new HEARCO "INVISIBLE™" will take about 14 days to manufacture after we measure your hearing loss and take a special type ear canal impression.

You use the aid for a full 21 days in your every day life. Use it at work, use it in church, use it in noise. If you find that this is not the answer to your hearing needs or if anyone sees the device in your ear, return it. Similarly, if you keep it we ask that you pay for it or lease it.

In my 49 years of fitting and supervising over 25,000 hearing aids in Delaware, Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland, Ohio and Florida, I have never worked with a hearing aid that was so "perfect". The quality of results and acceptance of this aid prompts me to make this 21 day free trial offer. This is better than a money back guarantee because you have made no payment.

Handelman Hearing Aids has been in Wilmington since 1932. You know of our reputation for satisfaction, quality and performance. We are here every business day for service.

Hearing aids help many people hear better, but no aid can solve all hearing problems. Find out for yourself if this tiny HEARCO "INVISIBLE™" is your answer. Phone us today for an appointment with our manager, Nettie French.

Penn fumble recovery on Newark's 36, Matthews broke free on a quarterback draw and scored to give the Colonials their six-point halftime cushion.

"We gave up too many big plays offensively and defensively," Simpson said. "Collectively we just didn't perform. William Penn controlled the line of scrimmage. I thought overall we played pretty good defense against the run, but I was disappointed in our pass defense."

The Yellowjackets allowed the Colonials 265 total offensive yards. Matthews rushed 14 times for 62 yards and completed six of 12 passes for 105 yards, including a 19-yard TD pass to Terrance Dendy with 8:19 left in the third quarter that gave the Colonials a 21-7 lead.

William Penn held the Yellowjacket offense to 108 net yards as Newark didn't gain a yard rushing the entire second half. Patrick rushed for 63 yards on 10 carries, all of them coming on his nine carries in the first half. Jeff Strengari was sacked four times for minus-21 yards. He completed five of 16 passes for 55 yards with one TD and one interception.

Newark rebounded following Doug Campbell's fumble recovery on the Colonial 24, when on the next play Strengari found John Bush across the middle for a 24-yard scoring play. Gwinn's second point-after made it 21-14 and concluded all scoring.

Bush finished with one TD, one interception and a fumble recovery as Newark fell to 8-1 overall, 5-1 in the conference with one game against Flight A leading Christiana (7-1, 5-0) with a showdown coming against the Vikings Saturday at Coder Field.

Glasgow booters knock off Sallies

By JOHN HOLOWKA

NEWARK POST ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

GREENVILLE— Glasgow High's 1994 soccer team has gone where no team before them has ever dared to venture.

The Dragons defeated defending state champion Salesianum 1-0 Tuesday night in an opening round game of the Delaware High School Soccer Tournament at Alexis I. du Pont to give Glasgow its first-ever playoff win.

The No. 8 seeded Dragons (12-4-1) advanced to the quarterfinals against top-seeded conference rival Newark at Baynard Stadium Saturday at 6 p.m.

Freshman Dave Hudson took a pass from fellow freshman and Striker soccer club teammate Ivan Vidanovic in the 57th minute and beat Sallies goalkeeper Jeff Stoklosa low to the netminder's left.

"This is great. We play on the Strikers together and he used to play midfielder," said Hudson, who scored his fourth goal of the season, all assisted by Vidanovic. "He used to pass it back to me all the time, and I used to do something with the ball. That's what happened (Tuesday)."

"Hudson had a lot of opportunities during the season he missed," said Glasgow Coach Bob Bussiere. "But the last couple of weeks he's really been clicking. Now he's getting some confidence. And Ivan's a freshman too; they kind of look for each other."

"The win's a great monument to these kids," Bussiere said. "What we're trying to do is keep focused on each opponent. We knew Sallies played a very direct style, so we just prepared for that. We came out ready for that intensity and that kind of physical game. And we can play with them."

Referees handed numerous yellow cards and one red card to Salesianum's Frank Law, who leveled Matt Hasty near the sideline after Glasgow's goal, a penalty that forced Sallies to play a man short with 20 minutes left.

"When we played Newark (a 3-0 loss last week), we dug ourselves a hole," Bussiere said. "I think that helped us. We knew we had to show up intense and physical."

"We thought if we kept pressure on them (we'd get the goal)," Bussiere said. "This Sallies team wasn't scoring as much as the teams in the past so we didn't really expect a whole lot of attacking power. We thought if we kept the pressure up we could wear them down and knock one in."

"I thought they'd come at us all guns and fire and lay it on us. I thought the first 10 minutes of the second half were critical. Lo and behold we came out and I think we took it to them. That pattern continued."

Glasgow outshot the No. 9 seed Sallies 24 to 13. Dragon netminder Dave Owens, who consistently repelled Sallies attackers, made nine saves and his counterpart stopped 10 shots Stoklosa.

"We get a second chance; that's how you have to look at it," Bussiere said of the upcoming rematch against Newark. "They beat us fair and square the first time, but I don't think we came out with our best effort."

Holy Angels wins C.Y.O. soccer championship

The Holy Angels varsity soccer team won the C.Y.O. championship with a 7-1 victory over St. Peter's Sunday night at Baynard Stadium.

The win improved Holy Angels record to 15-1-1 (10-1-1 in C.Y.O. play) advances the first year team to the Mid-Atlantic Regional championships to be held this weekend at Talley Day Park in Wilmington. Holy Angels also won the St. Mark's Invitational Tournament earlier in the season.

Tom Alexander led the Angels with three goals while Mark Rigney, Jason Dzielak, Eric Bastianelli and Katie Smith each scored one.

Goalkeepers Brian Cusick and Pat Burns limited St. Peter's to the one goal.

"It's pretty incredible what this first-year team has done," said Coach Tom Rigney. "I'm looking forward to the Mid-Atlantic and I expect them to play very well and compete for the title."

Holy Angels advances to C.Y.O. football title game

The Holy Angels varsity football team defeated Holy Rosary 44-26 last Sunday to advance to the C.Y.O. championship game against St. John the Beloved Sunday evening at Baynard Stadium.

The undefeated Angels got off to a quick start as Matt Schwander returned the opening kickoff 54 yards for a touchdown.

Brad Swift improved Holy Angels' lead to 12-0 with a 32-yard touchdown run on the next possession. Richie Parson added the two point conversion to make the score 14-0.

Still in the first quarter, Dubin Word recovered a Holy Rosary fumble and then caught a 43-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Charlie Porter. Swift added the conversion and the lead was 22-6 at halftime.

Parson and Swift both had big third quarters to secure the Angels lead. Parson had a 60-yard touchdown run and a two-point conversion while Swift added a 43-yard and 36-yard scoring jaunts.

back against a team like A.I., Lorah said.

Caravel refused to let its season slip away by battling back to tie the Tigers 6-6. Odom and Kelly Downey fueled the comeback for Caravel. The Tigers regrouped and kept Caravel back on their heels with kills from Little, Paloni and Lindsay Kacmar.

"I am proud of what we accomplished this year," Lorah said. "The hardest part of losing is saying goodbye to the seniors."

Kirkwood Diamonds top Ridley

The Kirkwood Diamonds under-14 girls soccer team continued its winning streak by defeating Ridley 6-1 last Sunday.

An aggressive Diamonds' offense scored six straight goals. Liz Pruitt, Lauren Bailey, Caroline McIlvain, Becky Ragard, Melissa Braune and Tori Guilfoyle each scored one goal.

Ridley scored in the final minutes of the second half to provide the final margin.

Kirkwood Phoenix triumphs 6-1

Goalkeeper Christy Ganc stopped three of four penalty kicks to lead the Kirkwood Phoenix to first round victory over Tredyfrin in the Tri-County 14-and-under soccer playoffs last weekend.

Arena to improve its record to 2-1 on the season.

Scoring for the Chiefs were Wyatt Cresswell (two goals), Ryan Bruner (one goal, one assist) and Kyle Cresswell (goal). Bobby Zeal added two assists. Goaltender Mike Connelly had 17 saves.

The midgets' next game is Nov.

14 against the Carrol Patriots.

Squirts rip Lancaster

The Chiefs' squirt team defeated the Lancaster Firebirds 11-2 to even its record at 1-1.

Scott Ellis led the scoring with three goals and two assists while Joey Allesandrini also had a hat trick.

Hawks peewee team victorious

The Delaware Hawks peewee team dominated the Unionville (Pa.) Middle School squad in a pre-season game at the University of Delaware Gold Arena last Sunday.

Hard checks from Mike Mooney, Nick DiRenzo, Shane Kranz and John Stvem shut off

Unionville's offensive attack.

The Hawks offense was led by Shawn Collins, who recorded three goals and three assists. Mark Stroik and J.P. Dawson added two goals each while Allen Haupt, John Strein and Jared Kranz scored once each.

year, but when the opportunity comes, you have to try to take advantage of it," Benin said. "We have a couple guys who could get up there so we try to put them in."

Dan Genusa gave the Jackets their third goal off a header from Benin in the final minute before halftime after he screened the goalie and just slipped the ball into the net. Benin scored unassisted twice in the second half. His first came in the 45th minute off a corner that caught the inside of the far side of the net and his second came about 14 minutes later when he beat the goalie low left.

"That was my worry coming in that because we beat them (10-0 earlier this season) we wouldn't take them as seriously as we should," said Newark Coach Hugh Mitchell. "In the first half we kind of struggled. We scored three goals, but we could of had three more. We talked about it and I think we kept a level head. We've made some positive steps."

The Yellowjackets outshot Indian River 32 to six. Newark starting goalie Carson Bradley made three saves and wasn't tested until the 34th minute. Joe Smith came in shortly after halftime and made two saves, and Eric Suro finished the game and made one save.

"Everybody on this team has been working since August," said Mitchell, who used his entire bench beginning early in the second half. "They deserve to play. And when you can reward as many kids a positive sible with that opportunity, that's meaningful for them and helps us with experience farther down the road, maybe as soon as Saturday night."

Newark (14-1-2) advanced to play eighth-seeded Glasgow Saturday in the quarterfinals at Baynard Stadium at 6 p.m.

Tony Fioravanti scored Newark's final goal in the 79th minutes when he drove the ball past the diving netminder.

Newark High soccer team nationally recognized

The Newark High soccer team has gained a national reputation.

The Yellowjackets (17-1-1), which advanced to the quarterfinals of the Delaware High School Soccer Tournament with a victory over Indian River Tuesday night, just missed being ranked in the UMBRO Boy's High School Soccer National Poll conducted by the National Soccer Coaches of America. The poll ranks the top 25 teams in the country and Newark was one of six teams that — although not in the top 25 — received votes.

St. Thomas Aquinas High of Overland Park, Kan. is the nation's top ranked team.

Lewis breaks 5,000 yard barrier

Trailing 21-0 late in the first half, Glasgow quarterback Tyjuan Lewis completed a nine-yard screen pass to halfback John Adams. The play in itself seemed fairly insignificant in terms of the game. In terms of a career, however, it was very significant.

The completion pushed Lewis' career total yards to over 5,000.

"It's really an amazing career for a high school player," said Glasgow Coach Dave Scott. "Some of the most highly touted players never reach that level."

The first pass of Lewis' career was a 75-yard touchdown pass as a sophomore.

Viking football in that second quarter but we came out the third quarter and executed very well. We really ho-hummed that second quarter but we played with a great hardness in that third quarter."

Glasgow freshman John Adams got the Dragons on the scoreboard with an 11-yard touchdown run with 8:27 remaining in the game. Quarterback Tyjuan Lewis ran in the two-point conversion.

Christiana sophomore Kobi Brown closed out the scoring with a two-yard TD run with 4:45 to play in the game.

Bailey finished the game with 70 yards and another touchdown on 10 carries while quarterback Jon Boney completed five of 10 passes for 108 yards and a touchdown. Boney also had a 16-yard touchdown run on a bootleg.

Curt Henry caught a touchdown pass while Willie Harris and Seth Davis each ran for scores.

"We were just outmanned tonight," said Glasgow Coach Dave Scott. "We did a good job hanging tough."

Vitamins, vitamins everywhere

By JENNIFER L. RODGERS

Vitamin Specialties opened on Halloween at College Square in Newark.

The company is part of a chain opened about 53 years ago by Raymond Steiner, according to Joel Hager, manager. Steiner, a chemist and pharmaceutical salesman, started his vitamin business after World War II through mail orders.

A New York investment firm, Founders Equity, bought the company after Steiner's son, Andrew, died in 1993.

Company stock is now sold publicly.

The company, which specializes in vitamins and natural remedies, is based in Philadelphia. The College Square store, which will be a test store, according to Hager, marks Vitamin Specialties' first venture in Delaware.

Hager said business has been kind of slow to start, but he expects it will pick up when they advertise.

Is there enough demand for vitamins to warrant an entire store? The manager said he thinks there is.

According to Alison Lowenstein, of Vitamin Specialties, the biggest portion of the store's clientele are 35 years old and up.

Castle Mall is revitalized

CASTLE MALL has a new look, a new name and a new store.

Caldor opened this Monday, three days before its official grand opening. The assistant manager of the store said about 250 people were waiting for almost an hour for the doors to open.

The mall, which was once an indoor mall is located near the corner of Del. 72 and Route 4. Renovations are still underway to convert it into a strip mall.

is being converted to a strip mall and renamed Pencader Plaza.

About 300 people are working at Delaware's newest Caldor.

"We kicked around a lot of names," said Frank Vassallo, of Fusco Enterprises—the mall's owner. "We were looking at a map and noticed it was in the Pencader Hundred area."

Vassallo said Fusco Enterprises is negotiating with "five or six" different companies for space in the center portion of the strip mall.

The owner is looking for another large store to anchor the end of the mall, opposite Caldor.

Vassallo said the company is looking to attract a supermarket chain, but haven't made any definite decisions.

"We are waiting to get the final plans from the architect," Vassallo said. "We have a couple leases (for the center portion), but no one has signed yet."

Thrift Drug, which was in the mall before renovations began, has agreed to relocate in Pencader Plaza, according to Vassallo.

There is no word whether Castle Mall Liquors, also located in the mall before renovations began, will return.

At right: Castle Mall gets a new name and a sign to prove it.

One-stop decorating theme

By JENNIFER L. RODGERS

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

The Cohen family will celebrate the grand opening of their store, The Furniture Solution, on Nov. 12.

Janice and Robert Cohen live in Wilmington, but decided after "much research," that Bear was the place to open a furniture store.

"This is an up and coming area and had the clientele we wanted to cater to," said Janice Cohen.

The store is the first joint business venture for the husband and wife team.

They hope to provide an "all inclusive" store for people who want to decorate.

Mrs. Cohen, who previously owned an interior design firm, said the new store will carry drapes and blinds and everything necessary for one-stop shopping.

"We bought everything that looked good and was reasonably priced," said Mrs. Cohen. "We will try to keep prices lower than the competition."

Mrs. Cohen is in charge of inventory, bookkeeping, design and buying and Mr. Cohen, who has been in the furniture business for many years, handles merchandising and advertising.

"This is our dream, it's what we've always wanted," said Mrs. Cohen.

The opening has not gone without its glitches however.

The store was originally named The Furniture Connection. The Cohens discovered there is a Baltimore-based store with the same name and an international patent to protect it.

The couple said they had just enough time to rename the store and notify the sign maker.

The store, about 10,000 square feet, is located a few blocks west of Fox Run Shopping Center on U.S. 40.

Kathleen Carter, owner of a different kind of furniture store next door to The Furniture Solution, said she thinks the store will help her business.

She has owned and operated Carter's Used Furniture for nine years. She sells merchandise, ranging from beds, dressers and tables to toasters, dishes and paintings, that she gets from people who are moving or from auctions.

Reading Glass and China invests at Pencader Corporate Center

Reading Glass and China recently bought a parcel of land at the Pencader Corporate Center. According to Eric Brinsfield the company bought the land as a investment only, not for a store.

Brinsfield's father, Jay Brinsfield, bought Reading Glass and China in 1990 and has since expanded it from one to nine stores. He describes it as a "kitchen/dining room super store."

The younger Brinsfield said his company is looking to locate in New Castle County, "hopefully within two years."

The Brinsfields also purchased another chain, Matthew's Hallmark in 1976. Since then the chain of Hallmarks has grown from six to 140, located from Maine to North Carolina.

WRITING An Ad

- Start your ad with what you are selling.
- Be descriptive. List your item's best features.
- Avoid abbreviations. Too many abbreviations can confuse the reader.
- Always state the price of an item. If you are flexible on price, include "negotiable" or "best offer".
- Complete your ad with a phone number and the hours in which you will receive calls.
- Including the word "please" in your ad increases responses.

Ad changes and policies

Please check your ad the first day to see that all information is correct. This will ensure your ad is exactly what you want readers to see. Call us the very first day your ad appears to make any changes or corrections. By doing this we can credit you for the first day if an error occurred. The newspaper's financial responsibility, if any, for errors of any kind is limited to the charge for the space for one day.

The publisher wants to do everything possible within the confines of good taste and legal constraints to help you advertise your products or services to your best advantage. The newspaper does reserve the right to edit or reject any copy or illustration that does not meet the newspaper's standards of acceptance. We make every effort to ensure that our advertisers are reputable. However, we welcome your comments and suggestions concerning any of our advertisers. Call Classified and ask for the manager.
