Mayor Funk opposes Campus Edge development

By DOUG RAINEY

Newark Mayor Vance Funk likes the appearance of the Campus Edge project off Main Street, but that's about the only kind words he has for the project that goes before the City Council on Monday night.

"It's beautiful," he says in discussing the mixed-use apartment and retail development on Delaware Avenue, near Chapel Street and adjacent to the Trader's Alley area off Main Street.

However, the mayor claims the project - which was narrowly approved by the city Planning Commission and recommended by city staff - does not fit in with his vision of a city attracting young adults who are not undergraduate students.

The mayor, who has been supportive of most new developments in and near Main Street, admitted to being angered over the fact that he was not consulted by the developers before the project went before planners.

While recent projects have typically featured student housing blended with retailing, Funk says the area in question does not need one more large development that will house 200 students. Better options, according to Funk, would be townhomes that would appeal to 25 to 35 year-olds or a project modeled after the Washington House condominiums that are finally nearing full occupancy.

Funk, a real estate lawyer, does not believe that retailers will flock to the retail space on Delaware Avenue. He says the action is on Main Street, with "Elkton Road as a last resort."

Retail development has been lagging on Elkton Road, with offices occupying what would have been retail stores.

Remembering Chief Nefosky

"We're all family," Ben Nefosky told the more than 200 residents gathered at the Newark Reservoir on Friday, April 15 for the 5th Annual Newark Police Memorial 5K Run/Walk in memoriam of his brother, Chief William F. Nefosky. Although not all the participants personally knew Chief Nefosky—who succumbed to pancreatic cancer in January 2007—they were joined by one common goal: the fight against cancer.

Originally started by the Nefosky family, the 5K has since been adopted by the City of Newark Parks and Recreation Department, drawing a couple hundred runners each year, and raising several thousand dollars for various cancer and law enforcement foundations.

"It's a great thing to be able to help a number of different organizations," said Recreation Supervisor Sharon Bruen as she handed bright yellow t-shirts before the race.

This year, proceeds from the 5K will be donated to The National Law Enforcement Memorial Memorial in Washington, D.C. as well as to the Compassionate Care Hospice, an organization that cares for terminally ill patients during their last days. In addition to proceeds from the race, Deer Park Tavern and Timothy's of Newark donated a portion of after-party profits to both organizations.

"It's a way for us to carry on his legacy," Nefosky said, lining up on the hill to take his place among the runners. "It pays tribute to my brother—how loved he was in the community and how this city feels for him."

Motorists were quick to stop for pedestrians at this crosswalk on Main Street.

Jaywalking crackdown continues in Newark

By DOUG RAINEY

DRAINEY@CHESPUB.COM

Newark Police and University of Delaware Police have launched an effort to enforce pedestrian crossing laws that includes tickets for jaywalkers and motorists who fail to yield to those in crosswalks.

According to a release, the period after spring break brings a significant increase in pedestrian traffic to Newark. The enforcement initiative is intended to promote the safety of pedestrians, as well as aid the flow of vehicular traffic in areas of the university and downtown business district.

During the first week of the initiative, officers issued 82 citations. The enforcement effort is continuing and will take place in areas where a large number of pedestrians cross the roads including Delaware Avenue, Main Street, College Avenue, Cleveland Avenue, and

IN THE NEWS

The owner of the Eagle Diner is now focusing on Rudy's Family Restaurant.

Old diner shows new life near Glasgow

In last week's issue of the Newark Post, we reported that the Eagle Diner on Elkton Road has shut its doors. Fans of the popular diner do not despair.

The comforting food and dependable service that you enjoyed at the diner for over 15 years are still around, but at a different location: Rudy's Family Restaurant in the Four Seasons Shopping Center on Route 896, Newark.

Owner Rudy Kovcas opened the restaurant a few years ago, and has steadily built up his clientele. The family-run restaurant features an Italian-centric menu, with weekly specials including Monday and Tuesday spaghetti and meatballs for $2.99 or lasagna and meatballs, on Wednesdays and Thursdays, for $4.99. But, many of the favorites from the Eagle Diner, such as burgers, hoagies, cheese steaks, salads and more, are also a part of the new menu. Daily lunch and dinner specials round out the extensive number of choices for those with a healthy appetite.

The restaurant sports a bar, with many options for beer and wine. Catering options are also available.

Rudy's Family Restaurant is open for lunch and dinner seven days a week. Hours are Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 12 a.m.; Sunday, 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. They can be reached at 302-737-4150 or at www.rudyspiz-zaitalian.com. Fax orders can be sent 302-737-4140.

Chinese buffet brings new choices to Main Street

This week, we received a menu from the newly opened Joann Buffet, located at 153 E. Main Street. After perusing the options, the newest addition to Main Street's culinary caravan will not disappoint in its breadth of choices.

The Chinese buffet features an all-you-can-eat smorgasbord, including free soup, appetizers, soda, and dessert, for $6.50 for lunch and $8.50 for dinner. Other dinner choices, such as General Tso's Chicken or broccoli with shrimp or beef, can be had for $7.00, including pork fried rice and an egg roll. Lunch specials, priced at $4.75, range from curry chicken to pork chow mein to moo goo gai pan.

Joann Buffet also has a carry out buffet option and free delivery service. So be sure to get a menu and save those coupons.

Joann Buffet is open

Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Friday and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 12 p.m.; and Sunday, 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. They can be reached by phone at 302-737-4288 or at 302-737-4688.

Popular and filling

As you noticed in last week's issue, the new Chipotle Mexican Grill on Main Street is a popular place. Lines are no longer out the door, but seating is still at a premium at the noon hour.

As of now, we're not doing dining reviews. But one piece of advice—come hungry. While Chipotle highlights fresh ingredients, it will win no prizes when it comes to low-cal creations. It's easy to end up with a 1,000-calorie-plus burrito. One solution, cut it in half and eat the rest the next day or go to chipotle.com and check out the calorie counts for various ingredients. For example, tacos are smaller, hence fewer calories.

The PR folks representing the place wanted to pass along that the company is conducting a contest that highlights their use of high-quality ingredients and the use of gold foil to wrap the burritos and tacos. Known as Wrap What You Love, the contest offers a $10,000 grand prize, weekly prizes and a People's Choice for something you love wrapped in the gold foil. Based on the photo gallery, everything from a drum set to a four-day-old baby has been wrapped. You can find out more by logging into <http://gold.chipotle.com/wrapwhatyoulove>.

turn over some parking to help ease parking problems in the area, but Funk said that will not soften his opposition to the project. He says the scope of the project would set a precedent that might bring similar developments.

While Funk's opposition is a blow to the project, the mayor said there could be some support on the council, due to the attractive appearance in architect's drawings.

The proposal will come on a busy night for the council on Monday, with city fathers also slated to vote on a new electrical rate design that gives a rate break to large users such as the University of Delaware.

The council meeting gets under way at 7 p.m.

Police say UD student was growing marijuana

Newark Police Department has arrested Jarrett T. Husid, a University of Delaware student from Hopewell, N.J. on drug charges following an investigation and search warrant of his local residence on the 200 block of Courtney Street.

Husid

On Friday, members of the Newark Police Department's Special Investigations Unit initiated a search warrant of Husid's residence. During the search warrant officers uncovered a small marijuana grow operation in the basement of the residence and seized approximately 12 pounds of marijuana valued at over $50,000. Officers also seized potting soil, grow lights and other items related to the grow operation along with supplies to package the marijuana for distribution. Husid was found to have a variety of grades/strands of marijuana all packaged for sale and there were indications that Husid also accepted delivery of marijuana from outside sources.

Husid was out of town during the search warrant but later turned himself in to authorities. He was arrested and released after posting a $32,000 cash bail.

He faces a number of marijuana trafficking, manufacturing and dealing charges.

Slaying admitted

A New Jersey man has admitted to killing his girlfriend in February 2010, driving their 20-month-old daughter to Delaware and abandoning her in a Shell station on College Avenue in Newark, Del.

Dwayne Jackson, 26, of Edison, entered his pleas in New Brunswick, N.J.

The toddler remained unidentified for some time, but Newark Police videos and other information resulted in a breakthrough in the case.

Head-on crash

Newark Police investigated a head-on collision that occurred on Cleveland Avenue in the area of Christopher Lane at approximately 1:53 a.m. on Friday.

Traffic investigators have determined that a 1998 Toyota

Avalon, driven by Robert Singles of Newark, was traveling westbound on Cleveland Avenue when it crossed the center line and struck the front end of an eastbound 2011 Mazda 3 operated by Daphne Crean of New Castle.

Crean was trapped in her vehicle for approximately 45 minutes and had to be extricated by rescue personnel from Aetna Hose Hook & Ladder Co.

Both drivers were transported by EMS to Christiana Hospital and are in surgery for non-life threatening injuries. There were no passengers in either vehicle.

Alcohol is suspected to be a factor in the collision; however, no charges have been filed due to pending toxicology results. As a result of the collision, Cleveland Avenue was closed for approximately four hours.

Copper pipe stolen from residence

Newark Police are investigating a burglary where unknown suspects removed approximately 200 to 300 feet of copper pipe valued at $2,000 from the basement of a house on Tyre Avenue. The home's owner reported that he has been fixing the house up in an effort to sell it and that several workers have been in the house over the past few weeks.

A Newark Police Department photo of the Mazda involved in last week's two-car crash. Neither driver is not believed to have suffered life-threatening injuries.

Last Saturday, April 9, the owner told officers that he had been cleaning the house's upper floors, when he noticed that no water was running. He went into the basement to see if the main valve had been turned off, but discovered that someone had removed the insulation from the pipe. A further inspection showed that all of the copper pipe had been cut out and removed.

A search by police showed that only the pipe had been taken in the burglary and that various electronics, tools, and lawn equipment had remained untouched. Officers could not find any signs of forced entry at the house and believe that a small sliding window in the basement was used to get the pipe out of the residence.

A few fingerprint samples were lifted from locations in the basement which are being reviewed to develop a suspect list.

Robbery at city park

Last Tuesday, employees with the City of Newark Parks & Recreation Department reported that an unknown suspect forced open a storage container and removed just over $100 in sports equipment.

The incident happened at Dickey Park, located at 60 Madison Drive, near the basketball courts. The lock on the container was pried off.

A representative with the department said that he performs regular property checks on the site, and noticed that the container was open on April 12.

Four prints were recovered from the scene with officers entering them into a central database for comparison.

Traffic stop leads to DUI, possible drugs

On Wednesday, April 13, police engaged in a routine traffic stop where the vehicle and driver did not respond to other nearby drivers. The event occurred on Adelene Drive,

Knights of Columbus honor police officer of the quarter

Three Newark Police Officers were recognized as Officers of the Quarter on March 28, 2011 by the St. Michael Council #4548 of the Knights of Columbus. The Knights hosted a ceremony organized by Grand Knight Brian Kunkle and Albert Ware to award these officers for their outstanding efforts for the third and fourth quarters of 2010. PFC Adam Mease was recognized as the Officer of the 3rd Quarter 2010 for his actions leading to the arrest of two suspects breaking into parked vehicles. Cpl. Marc DiFrancesco and Officer Morgan Fountain were both recognized as Officers of the 4th Quarter 2010 for their efforts in a counterfeit money investigation.

Officer of the Quarter, Third Quarter 2010

PFC Adam Mease was nominated for his actions in the early morning hours of July 25, 2010 that led to the arrest of two suspects breaking into parked vehicles. PFC Mease was patrolling a local apartment complex when he observed two subjects walk out of the parking lot, enter a pickup truck and drive away. He continued into the lot and was contacted by several witnesses who reported two subjects had just broken into a vehicle. PFC Mease located the vehicle he had just seen leaving and initiated a traffic stop contacting both occupants. Numerous stolen items were found in their possession linking the pair to multiple thefts from the Newark

Police Department, New Castle County Police Department and University of Delaware Police Department jurisdictions resulting in 23 criminal charges including 7 felonies.

Officer of the Quarter, Fourth Quarter 2010

Cpl. Marc DiFrancesco and Officer Morgan Fountain were nominated for their efforts during a counterfeit money investigation. On November 17, 2010, Cpl. DiFrancesco was assigned to a follow up an investigation regarding the passing of several counterfeit bills at locations throughout the City. Cpl. DiFrancesco was able to identify one suspect and was obtaining a warrant when Officer Fountain had just taken an additional suspect into custody shortly after the suspect had attempted to pass counterfeit money at a local shopping center. During an interview, this suspect provided additional information to Cpl. DiFrancesco which led the Street Crimes Unit and the Special Investigations Unit to conduct two search warrants resulting in the arrest of three suspects and the recovery of $3,000.00 in counterfeit currency along with the equipment used to create the currency.

Cpl. Marc DiFrancesco was also nominated for an investigation involving a counterfeit merchandise operation. On December 7, 2010, a search warrant was executed at a local business regarding counterfeit National Football League clothing being sold. Approximately 400 counterfeit jerseys were recovered and an additional $17,000.00 in illegal proceeds was seized from the business. Cpl. DiFrancesco's investigation stopped the illegal sale of counterfeit merchandise which had been ongoing for several years.

This is Cpl. DiFrancesco's second Knights of Columbus Officer of the Quarter Award.

POLICE, from 3

near South Dillwyn Road, in Newark.

The driver, a 27-year-old woman from Newark, was behind the wheel of her gray Saturn when the reporting officer arrived. When asked, she stated that she had been to a friend's house on Adelene

Drive. The officer noticed that she slurred her words and that a strong smell of alcohol came from inside the vehicle. A series of sobriety tests were initiated and the officer determined that the woman was too drunk to drive. An inspection of the car showed that an open bottle of wine, with two thirds of the contents removed, was in the passenger side along with 3.6 grams of a green, leafy substance in a plastic container found in the center console.

One of the other drivers in the area notified the police about the incident and stated that he saw the suspect slumped behind the wheel of the car, with the lights on, and the car rolling forward slowly. Another witness told the police that he pulled behind the car, went to the driver's side, saw that the driver was asleep, and banged on the car to wake her up. When she did, the car rolled forward.

A blood alcohol test showed that the driver had a .096 BAC where she was charged with Possession of an Open Container, Driving Under the Influence, and the possibility of a third drug-related offense.

Equal Housing Lender. Fulton Bank, N.A. Member FDIC. The product is a variable rate line of credit secured by the primary residence and not exceeding an 80% loan to value ratio. This account includes a fixed rate option. Current fixed rate APRs range from 3.49% to 9.74% depending on credit qualifications, payment option, loan term selected, and market area. This rate may vary, but once established as a new Fixed Rate Advance, will not vary thereafter. A $100 rate lock fee applies each time you establish a Fixed Rate Advance. The fee is waived if rate is locked at closing. For properties in PA, closing costs for lines of credit up to $500,000 typically range from approximately $290 to $675 depending on line amount, appraisal requirements and property location. Closing costs for properties in Virginia typically range from $281 to $2,720. Any closing costs initially paid by the bank on the borrower's behalf, must be paid by the borrower if the account is closed within 3 years. Borrower must pay mortgage satisfaction fees at loan termination. Property insurance is required. Rate and terms subject to change and may be withdrawn without notice. Rates are available to qualified borrowers and loans are subject to credit approval. The advertised 1.99% APR (Annual Percentage Rate) applies to new lines of credit of at least $10,000 and an automatic deduction of payment from a Fulton Bank deposit account. Applications must be received by May 27, 2011. Borrowers with a credit score of 720 or better will receive 1.99% APR for 6 months from the opening date. For borrowers having a credit score of less than 720 (not receiving an introductory rate), APRs are variable and may range from 4.25% Wall Street Journal Prime (WSJP plus 1.00%) to 6.75% (WSJP plus 3.50%), depending on credit qualifications, payment option selected, and market area. After the expiration of the 6-month introductory rate period, the APR will be based on the WSJP as published daily plus a margin or minimum APR of 3.99%, whichever is greater. The advertised 3.99% APR is our current standard rate with automatic deduction of payment from a Fulton Bank deposit account. For borrowers having a credit score of 720 or better, depending on credit qualifications, payment option selected, and market area, APRs may range from 3.99% (Minimum) to 4.25% (WSJP plus 1.00%). APR may increase if automatic payment is discontinued. The maximum APR is 18.00%.

Christiana lacrosse culture changing for the better

By JON BUZBY

JONBUZBY@HOTMAIL.COM

The innocence of youth. Or in the case of the Christiana boys lacrosse team a more appropriate saying might be the inexperience of youth. Including the coach.

First-year coach Brian Polaski welcomed back just three returning players with any kind of starting experience from last year's senior-laden team, which finished with just one win.

Those three returning starters are junior attackman Peter Groft, junior defenseman Greg Welsh and senior goalie Digan Patel, who started as a defenseman last year but volunteered to make the position change for the benefit of the team.

Christiana's youth has shown on the field as the Vikings have yet to win their first game heading into the latter part of their season. And that elusive first win is something Polaski hopes will come sooner rather than later.

"Not having a win under our belts is frustrating for the kids and for the coaches," said Polaski, who teaches world history at the school. "When you see the kids trying hard and giving their all it can get disheartening because all you want for them is a win - something positive for the team that you can build on. We've had other positive events during games — high number of saves, zero even-strength goals, etc. — but that elusive win is sitting there for us. We are looking for that one game where everything for the team 'clicks' and we can go get that victory."

And while winning games is important to Polaski, it's not his ultimate goal as head coach of the Christiana program.

"As a coach wins are very important, but there is a culture here at Christiana that needs to be changed," said Polaski, who also serves as head coach of Newark High's successful swim program. "Not just within the lacrosse program but the entire school. My goal is to begin enacting change on that culture. Creating a quality program which puts forth the correct attitude, sportsmanship, discipline and class is far more important than having a winning season."

Polaski says he's been pleasantly surprised by the play of junior midfielder Devin Jones, who played his freshman year but sat out last season, and senior midfielder Jonathan Donathan, a first-year player who specializes in faceoffs and is "picking the game up more and more each day."

As Christiana heads into the final part of its season the players and coaches hope to win a few games. But if not, they'll head into the offseason knowing they have a strong contingent returning next year — a group which, from top to bottom, is learning each and every day.

"We are improving every day in practices and games," Polaski said. "The boys are working hard and are buying into the system and program we are installing. We can see glimpses of the potential this team has so we focus on those things and work to fix our mistakes. It's just going to take time for them to gain the experience they need."

The Vikings have four games left to pick up that elusive win. But win or lose, the program is heading in the right direction.

Reach Jon Buzby at jonbuzby@hotmail.com.

Christiana coach Brian Polaski, center, is determined to change the culture of the schools lacrosse program.

OUT OF THE ATTIC

This week's Out of the Attic item is an undated photograph showing Newark's early electric power plant. By the last quarter of the 1800's, Newark's economy was shifting from an agricultural base to an industrial / manufacturing base. In 1886 the Bedwell Hammock Manufactory was established in a new building in the field at the southwest corner of East Cleveland and North College Avenues. Three years later the building was taken over by the Knauf Organ Company of Philadelphia. Knauf needed electric power that was not yet available in the area. The company built a generating plant on the Big Elk Creek west of town in Cecil County and strung transmission wires to the Newark plant. In 1890 a contract was awarded to Knauf to supply electricity to the town. January 2, 1891, Main Street came ablaze with electric street lights. In 1892 the Knauf Electric Plant was sold by company receivers to the Town of Newark. Thus the Town came to be in the electric utility business and it continues to be so today with a significant portion of its budget underwritten by electricity sales. The Big Elk Creek plant was discontinued in 1919.

Visit the Newark History Museum located at the historic passenger train station on South College Avenue. The museum will be open Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. April through November. Visitors are also welcome at other times by appointment for individuals, groups, clubs, or organizations. Call 368-9845 for arrangements. The Newark Historical Society invites donations or loans of objects, stories, pictures and other artifacts of places, activities, people, and life styles in the Greater Newark Area for its permanent collections.

Contact the Newark Historical Society by voice mail at 302-224-2408, by postal mail to P. O. Box 711, Newark, DE 19715, or by email to newarkdehistoricalsociety@yahoo.com.

What's around your Easter Table?

By MARIA PIPPIDIS

NCC EXTENSION OFFICE

Gatherings with friends or family at Easter and Passover time often include shared meals. Each person brings their specialty which is enjoyed by all. Inevitably, our favorite dishes are brought from varying distances and may be left out for extended amounts of time. The safety of our meals should not be left up to luck, so adhering to the following tips can help keep unwanted microbial guests away.

During preparation, make sure the cooking area stays clean. Maintain good hygiene while cooking, including keeping hair pulled back, and washing hands thoroughly with soap and water before preparing any foods. To minimize cross contamination, cut ready-to-eat items before cutting items that will be cooked, or use separate cutting boards for meat and vegetables. When cooking, make sure meat and egg products reach proper internal temperature (160°F), poultry (165°F), fresh ham (160°F) and precooked ham (140°F). If a cooked ingredient such as chicken is going on a salad, spread pieces out on a flat surface (plate, cookie sheet, etc.) and chill beforehand in the refrigerator.

Food should be transported to the hostess's home in an insulated container or bag so that hot food stays hot and cold food stays cold. Hot food needs to be maintained at a temperature of at least 140°F and cold food must stay below 40°F. In between these temperatures is the danger zone, which is optimal for the growth of harmful food microorganisms.

Pippidis

When guests arrive, food at 140°F or above should be placed on a warming plate on the buffet table or kept in a warm oven until serving time. Hot food that arrives below 140°F should be reheated in the oven, microwave oven, or on the stove, and then kept at that temperature until mealtime. Provide a serving utensil for each dish and keep dishes covered with lids when possible. Stir hot foods frequently to distribute the heat from the warming plate.

Cold food should be stored in a refrigerator until serving begins. One convenient way to keep chilled dishes cold is to nest them in bowls of ice. If ice and warming plates are not available, food should be presented right before the meal and placed back in a warming oven or in a refrigerator immediately after guests have been served.

With the increase in food allergies, potentially allergenic items should be labeled (peanuts, tree nuts, dairy, gluten, wheat, shell fish, milk, dairy products, soy, etc.). You'll also want to be sure these dishes have their own serving utensils so there is no chance of cross contamination among foods.

At the end of our family celebrations, often guests take a portion of the leftovers home. Foods that were kept at safe temperatures (below 40°F, or 140°F and above) for less than 2 hours can be refrigerated and saved as leftovers. Food that sat out at room temperature for longer than two hours should be discarded. If by chance we have a really warm day (90°F or higher) and you have your meal outdoors, discard food after one hour. Leftover cooked foods should be reheated to 165°F and consumed within 3 to 4 days.

With these few tips, you'll be sure to have only those guests you invited at your holiday table.

Same sex civil union bill on way to governor

Delaware is on the verge of becoming the seventh state to allow same-sex civil unions. The measure won approval in the House of Representatives Thursday and sent the bill to the governor for his signature.

After a two-hour hearing, lawmakers voted 26-15 in favor of Senate Bill 30, which also makes Delaware the 15th state to fully recognize same-sex relationships. Under the measure, civil unions would be available only to same-sex couples. Marriage would remain limited by Delaware law only to opposite-sex couples. Couples who enter into a civil union would enjoy the same rights, protections and obligations that exist for married spouses.

Lawmakers defeated nine amendments to the bill, eight proposed by Republicans.

Two of the amendments were similar to those rejected in the Senate last week. One would have authorized civil unions for opposite-sex couples, not just same-sex couples. The other would have required that Delaware voters approve civil unions in a state-wide referendum.

Lawmakers also defeated an amendment stating that no one could be held liable for refusing, for religious reasons, to participate or assist in any event related to a marriage or civil union.

The Delaware Family Policy Council launched a lobbying effort to defeat the measure and appealed to churches and organizations to oppose the legislation. It also held a rally attended by an estimated 200 persons.

Supporters of the legislation noted that civil unions offer Delawareans equal protection and equal treatment under the law. Couples in a civil union would have the same protections, rights and obligations as a married couple, such as hospital visitation rights, property and last will and testament transfers, the ability to live together in nursing homes, joint adoption, and other legal issues.

However, arguments about the cost of benefits to same sex couples and the claim that the measure would lead to same sex marriage failed to sway lawmakers. Opposition was concentrated below the C&D

Canal, while sponsors were from northern New Castle County.

"There are many more people who are publicly supporting recognition of same sex relationships, and this is primarily because they have friends and family and coworkers and neighbors who they know are in same sex relationships," said Sen. David P. Sokola, D-Newark, the lead sponsor of SB 30. "These are people who serve in our law enforcement, protect our country, teach our kids and they serve in civic and community associations."

Also under the bill, Delaware would recognize legal relationships that same-sex couples enter into in another jurisdiction – whether it is a civil union or same-sex marriage – and treat the relationship as a civil union.

Schooley said that opponents of the bill are concerned that it will negatively impact their lives, but the only impact it would have would be a positive one on same-sex couples' ability to live in a committed relationship together.

"Research has shown that children living in loving and committed families – no matter their makeup – are going to thrive," said Schooley, D-Newark. "What we have seen through testimony is that families with same-sex couples are struggling because our laws don't allow them to be recognized. We are rectifying things so families with same-sex couples can stand just as strongly as families with opposite-sex couples."

Gov. Jack A. Markell has said he will sign the bill into law.

Pedestrians get bulk of tickets

► JAYWALKING, from 1

Elkton Road. Violations by both pedestrians and drivers will continue to be enforced, the release noted. The 82 tickets are broken down as follows: 69 pedestrian; 10 bicycle and three vehicles.

Some of the laws being enforced include:

- When pedestrian signals are in place, pedestrians must obey the signal.
- If there is no signal in place, a driver must yield to a pedestrian who is in a crosswalk.

- Pedestrians cannot leave the curb and step into the path of an oncoming car.

- If crossing not within a crosswalk, pedestrians must yield the right of way to vehicles.

- No vehicle can pass another vehicle that is stopped at a crosswalk.

- Between adjacent intersections at which traffic-control signals are in operation, pedestrians shall not cross at any place except in a marked crosswalk.

- Pedestrians cannot walk on the roadway if a sidewalk is provided.

The effort is not without its critics, including an individual with a Twitter account known as newarkista (<http://twitter.com/newarkista>). The local resident argues that periodic crackdowns on jaywalking do not address the lack of crosswalks in the city, especially outside Main Street and claims enforcement efforts should be targeted at cars, which have a major weight advantage over people.

Others have a different opinion, with the comment section of this story on Newarkpostonline.com expressing support for the crackdown.

Information about traffic laws can be obtained from the Newark Police Department's Traffic Division at 302-366-7110 ext. 105.
