History of Class of 1921

THE Thinker sat with his gaze steadily fixed upon the crystal ball before him. All evening he had been meditating upon his college days, and now, with the heavy incense trailing upward from the tall censers and seeming to soften the deep shadows cast by the concealed lights, he was trying to call back the pictures of his earlier life.

Suddenly the clouds which had hitherto concealed the ball were driven away and scattered as if by a brisk breeze, and the Thinker realized that the pictures which were unfolding before him were active duplications of the memories which he carried printed indelibly in his mind.

He saw his class, the class of 1921, entering the portals of Old Delaware, and he watched with keen delight as the pictures unfolded themselves. He saw his class start right in to trounce the Sophs in the memorable "Battle of Quality Hill," and there was not a man of '21 on the bottom when the smoke cleared away. Then there was the great football game in which the Sophs were smothered 20-0, the worst beating ever administered in a class game. In varsity football he saw McCaughan, Alexander and Tonkin giving splendid service, while Joe Wilson broke track records almost every time he ran. Basketball was simply a romp for our class, and the Thinker saw '21 go through the whole series without suffering a defeat. The saddest picture recalled was the death of Lee Roach who, though lost to us forever, will never be absent from our memories.

The second set of pictures showed war in reality, and the Thinker saw his class-mates Alexander, Boggs, Young, and Madden nobly taking their part in the great World War. When the College pictures did begin to appear again, the Thinker saw with a smile the one-sided "Egg Fight of Recitation Hall," and the hose fights upon the campus. Once more he saw his class soundly trounce their enemies, the Fresh, and scamper home once more with the basketball championship. The prowess of the class was so pronounced that he saw them force conclusions in the original bag rush, and defeat their opponents two bags to one. McCaughan and Alexander were leading lights this year upon both varsity football and basketball teams. The recalling of the class poster caused the Thinker to smile as he remembered the astonishment of the natives of the neighboring towns when the brilliant posters met their astonished gaze early one spring morning. The Fresh tried to have a theatre party that year, but were forced to take a squad of police along for protection. To such heights had the fame of '21 risen.

In the pictures of the Junior year the Thinker saw the class relax, as one who knows when its work is well done. He saw the originality of the class once more demonstrated when they held the highly successful Junior Prom at the Hotel du Pont in Wilmington. But just to remind the observer that '21 could still be victorious in anything it undertook, the Thinker saw the picture of another successful class basketball season with the championship won for the third time. He saw Alexander and McCaughan on the varsity basketball team; McCaughan playing varsity football, with "Jimmy" Horty piloting the tennis team through a successful season.

But the pictures of the Senior year called back the most pleasant memories, for he saw that glorious banquet at the Lambros and the theatre party. Once more class championship in basketball, an event that has never been accomplished before—champions for four years in succession. He watched McCaughan pilot the victorious varsity football team, while Alexander did the same thing for basketball. Dorse Donoho was in the leading position for baseball, with Wilson for track, and Horty for tennis. He saw all the sports loyally supported by '21 men, while the men who did not go out for athletics set an enviable record in scholastic standards.

The pictures were all true, and as the Thinker saw a rainbow appear in all its glory in the crystal ball, he had to acknowledge that it was truly symbolical. For there was offer of great promise in the class of 1921, and what had already been accomplished in College was merely preparatory to the great things that the members of the class of 21 would do in life. They had left a glorious record, but the future gave promise of even better things.

History of Class of 1922

THE class of 1922 is a war-time product, and during its years in Delaware has been noted for its fighting qualities. This aggressive spirit accounts for the large number of successes in the class-rooms, on the athletic field, in the inter-class games, and in the inter-class fights.

Our class numbered 140 in September of 1918—our Freshman year. At that time we were a part of the S. A. T. C., and our interests were centered about things military. With the breaking up of this organization on December 13, our interests were turned to the problems of civil and college activity. Although most of our time was to be spent in the classroom and in the study-hall, still many of our number have won highest honors in athletics and other school activities. In basketball the class of '22 has given to the varsity Gray Carter and Muncy Keith. In football, Stewart, Carter, Rothrock, and De Luca are from our numbers. Rothrock, Dantz, Carll, Wilson, and G. Carter have won berths on the varsity baseball team. Many of the letter men in track are from the class of '22. In the inter-class series of our Freshman year we finished second in basketball; and in baseball and track we set a pace too hot for our rivals to maintain, and, as a result, we carried off first honors in each of these events. The successful track team was under the leadership of Christfield, and the baseball team was headed by Burbage. In the inter-class fights we showed our fighting ability when odds were against us. Although we were outweighed, we made a very creditable showing in the bag rush. Before the close of this year, our numbers were reduced from 140 to 66, as many left after the breaking up of the Students' Army Training Corps.

J. E. Wilson, better known as "Skeet," was our leader during this, our Sophomore year, and under his guidance we have continued our record. As per the usual custom, the duty of entertaining the newly arrived Freshies fell upon our shoulders, and we proceeded to show them about as they arrived. The first act was to introduce them to some of the charming scenery of New Castle County. A nice little walk out to the neighborhood of Cooch's Bridge and to other points of interest helped matters a lot. Then "Skeet" got a letter from our classmates at the Women's College, in which they asked that some of the Freshies be brought down for their inspection. A number of the "rats" were selected as being fair examples. These were collected one evening and taken down for inspection. Under the gentle persuasion of their Sophomore advisers, the "rats" went through their performances in an obedient, docile, becoming manner. After this event, the Freshmen were left to themselves until May 8, when they were again given an entertainment as a farewell from the Sophomores.

.1920. BLUE HEN .1921.

On this date the Freshies awoke from their "sweet dreams of peace" to find all Newark placarded with Sophomore posters. Later in the day they were to be further burdened with the news that these posters and numerals were to be found anywhere in the territory from Dover to Swarthmore College, and from Elkton to Wilmington. The large '22 banner of ours remained undisturbed on the flag pole for three whole days, which is a record around these parts. The "Vigilant Guard" of the Freshies proved to be soft pickings for us.

This year the high standard in our studies has been maintained, and the old jinx "Flunk" has had few friends in the ranks of '22.

In athletics we maintain, and in many respects surpass, the records of our first year. "Joe" Rothrock and "Dutch" Carll continue to be the mainstays in the box, with G. Carter on the receiving end. Our representation on the varsity basketball team has been increased by the addition of Frankie Wills. G. Carter is the hold-over from last year. In football, Holton and Kavanaugh each won his varsity letter. Harmer is one of the mainstays of the track team. "Tom" McDonnell, assisted by "Hop" Geoghegan, has the last say in any argument about pole vaulting. We point with pride at these records held by members of the class of 1922: Harmer holds the record in the 440-yard dash at 51  $\frac{3}{5}$ , and in the 880-yard dash at 2.04; McDonnell holds the pole vaulting record at 11 feet 7  $\frac{1}{8}$ ; and Gray Carter is boss of the discus throwers with a toss of 126 feet 2 inches. In G. Carter we have the only four-letter man in college. In the inter-class meets, the class of '22 again placed second in basketball, after one of the closest series staged on the gym floor in some time. The Sophomore-Freshman football game ended in a tie. Our track team, again under the leadership of Christfield, easily carried off the honors in the inter-class track meet. The baseball team, under the captaincy of Challenger, failed to come through in the final game and lost out for first honors, which went to the Juniors.

With the return of the class of '22 in September of 1920, the members were to find themselves engaged individually and jointly in one of the busiest years of their college careers. The work of the year as it presented itself was as follows: The publication of the Blue Hen; the Junior Prom, and the Farewell Hop, and at the same time add to and maintain the athletic and scholastic records it had gained in the two previous years.

Early in the fall did the Juniors show their lust for time honored fights by instigating Freshman-Sophomore scraps. Will the Sophomores ever know who threw the tomatoes into their marching hosts when they paraded down Main Street in celebration of their victory in the bag rush? Such things as class melees could not attract the attention of the classmates of '22 for any length of time, because as Juniors, they must begin their career as upper classmen, and there was much to be accomplished.

.1920. BLUE HEN .1921.

Under the capable leadership of T. R. Dantz (Ted the song-bird), the class made elaborate plans for the Junior Prom, and on the evening of February 4, 1921, this dance was given by the class in the ball room of the Hotel du Pont. It is considered as being the best Delaware Prom, and the present Seniors admit that it was superior to the one of last year. Much credit is due the various committees under the leadership of such men as G. Carter, S. Maroney, Al Reed, Oliver Goffigan, Gerald Smith, and others for the work they did in making this dance a success.

With equal interest and enthusiasm, the class is backing the Blue Hen Board, with "Bill" Lilly as our Editor-in-Chief, in striving to make this a banner book. Due to certain changes in program of scholastic publications, the classes of '21 and '22 are publishing a combined book which should be a credit to Delaware. Various members of the class have proven invaluable, for the aid they have rendered to Bill in his efforts to put the book across, and in truth this spirit of co-operation has existed among the class throughout its three years of activity at Delaware. We must admit that the Seniors did win the basketball championship, but we feel confident that victory will be ours before we leave college. Our class team was led by Snipe Twoes, and the team which was greatly depleted of men, by their promotion to varsity ranks, made a creditable showing. With the opening of track, we are determined to capture the track championship which we have held before. In speaking of our athletic achievements we do not consider what has been done in the past year by the class teams, because the class of '22 has urged her men on to greater things, and when we will have graduated from our Alma Mater, we feel confident that we will leave a very large per cent of our class as letter men—the proud wearers of the "D."

With the setting of our Junior year, and the dawn of our new duties as Seniors, we must be determined to further the honor and glory of this class, and when we bid farewell to the Seniors at the Farewell Hop, assure them that we will gladly and efficiently take their places as Seniors around college.

History of Class of 1923

'TIS said that the members of the renowned class of Delaware '96 agreed in September, 1919, when the members of the class of 1923 gathered at Delaware College, that in the near future the numerals of this newer and younger class would be written in the highest pinnacle of the Blue and Gold "Hall of Fame"; that times were coming when the bard would tune his harp for songs of '23, rather than of '96.

The following relates the history of Delaware '23, from that day until this. But before going into cold facts, let us say that ours is a modest class, believing in action, rather than in words. To prove this, we refer you to any Junior or Freshman. But facts are facts and "the truth will out"; so, mark, Anthony, the ways of the ambitious.

The worth of our class showed itself on the first night of our Freshman year. So awe-inspiring were we in that stage of our existence, that, without risking physical defeat, the Sophomores (members of Delaware '22) went down to moral defeat, not attempting the usual widespread, first-night hazing.

This was an index to the subsequent underclassmen battles. In the tug-of-war, and in the numerous "free-for-alls," during our first year, we were victorious. The Freshman-Sophomore football game ended in a tie, 6 to 6, the "Sophs" scoring on a fumble. When basketball season rolled around, our class team was strong enough to warrant Coach Shipley's arranging a special schedule for it, and the squad came through in great shape. In class baseball, '23 did not fare so well, but we must be allowed one weakness.

One of the best affairs of our Freshman year was our class banquet and theatre party, on January 5, 1920. The Sophomores were fooled so completely that they learned of the affair only when it was too late for them to do any damage.

This we did as Freshmen. Now see how we fare as Sophomores.

When we returned to Newark last September, we found our class, originally numbering 120 men, had, by the will of the powers that be (be they gods or "profs"), dwindled to about eighty, good men and true.

The first under-class conflict of the year, the bag rush, showed that we, as Sophs, did not lack the punch we had as Freshmen. We "gyped" two of the three bags, winning with an average of .666. The track duel on October 14, saw us victorious again with a score in points of 68-56. Then, with the habit of winning thoroughly incorporated in our activities, we won the big under-class contest of the year, the Soph-Fresh football game, the scoring standing at 12-6. This, with the exception of a few "free-for-alls" in which we topped the Fresh, tells the story of the '23-'24 "war-fare" to date. We started like a whirlwind and expect to make things hum until June. Look out, Fresh!

.1920. BLUE HEN .1921.

Eleven men of Delaware '23 have won the coveted "D." Three of our classmates hold college records. These latter are: Pitman, holder of 220-yard dash record at twenty-two seconds; Humphreys, holding the javelin throw record, with a mark of 164.75 feet, and Booth, holder of record over the college cross-country course (five and one-half miles), time twenty-eight minutes and fifty-two seconds.

Our "D" men are: for football, Megaw, varsity end, '19 and '20; Wintrup, varsity fullback, '19; Williams, varsity fullback, '20; for basketball, Cole, varsity forward, '21; for track, Humphreys, Pitman and Tebo; for baseball, Robbins, varsity third baseman, '20; Underwood, varsity short-stop, '20; for cross-country, Hoey, '19; Booth, '20.

This is what Delaware '23 has done in a year and a half. We hope the prediction of the honored alumni, made in September, 1919, will come true. The years of our greatest service to Delaware are before us, and if we acquire the true Delaware spirit and learn the lessons of the Blue and Gold, we are satisfied we can render that service. We are glad we came to Delaware and we trust in the years to come Delaware will not regret we came to her.

HISTORIAN OF DELAWARE '23.

History of Class of 1924

AND so it came to pass in the days of Hullihen, the Grand, that the great god Zeus did send his fleet-footed messenger, Hermes Editorius, in search of the humble scribe, the servant of the far-famed class of '24. Upon receiving this most potent command, the aforesaid scribe wearily cranked his rusty flivver until the smallest bolts did groan in agony. And on the east side toward the rising of the sun, did the scribe drive wearily up the east sides of Mt. 'Lympus. And it was so, when Zeus heard the rattle of the dilapidated jitney, he did send his high escort to meet the scribe. So in regal manner was he brought before the omnipotent Zeus.

"How now, me lad," quoth the great One, "what's all this rumpus I hear about the class of '24 of Collegii Delawarensis? Verily, the dope doth proclaim that thou art a noble aggregation. Be ye not silent; open ye your portal; and spill ye the dope."

Accordingly, assuming the proper "three-minute-speech attitude," the clerk proceeded.

"O august deity, I shall attempt to do thy bidding. On September 15 we arrived, 100 strong. We were a motley crew. After a few days of initiations—stunts and water-trough diving—we settled down to getting acclimated and acquainted. The first actual organization started with the election of Schaefer as temporary president. Under his guidance, we organized strongly enough to stop the pranks of the dignified Sophs. The next step toward strengthening our body was the election of permanent class officers."

"Enough," rasped Zeus, "these politics bore me. What have you done on the field of battle?"

"The Bag Rush was our first official athletic contest. Here we literally carried one bag off the field, and lost the other two by inches. In the track meet, many of our men appeared to be of varsity calibre, but they had little success against the Sophomore 'D' men of last year's team. Our gamest fight was against the Soph football team, which outweighed us throughout the line. The final score of 12-6 hardly shows the pluckiness of the fight. Great victories were recorded over the defeated (!) Sophs and Juniors in the inter-class games. The '24 basketball team was defeated only by the famous 'undefeated' '21' team. The class of '24 furnished twelve men for the varsity football squad, five of whom earned their 'D': Aiken, Betzmer, Donaldson, Elliott and Steel. Our baseball aspirants are giving the veterans of previous years a run for their positions."

"Ay, and well have ye upheld the traditions of Old Delaware," said Zeus, "but have ye not had any social activities?"

The scribe salaamed and said: "Sire, we had two social functions—the Freshman parade and the Freshman banquet. The evening before the Dickinson football game was set for the time of the time-honored annual Freshman parade. This date also marked the beginning of the annual 'Stunt Night.' Trick costumes and costumed tricks furnished great rivalry for the prizes which the Footlights Club offered. Our big social outbreak was the Freshman banquet on December 15, at the Hotel du Pont, followed by the musical comedy 'Irene,' at the Playhouse. It did not take the '24 spirit long to show itself when the Sophs kidnapped our president, Townsend, on the day before the banquet; it required but 15 Freshmen to rescue our leader and take him to a place of safety. The Sophs only made sure of Leamy, our treasurer, by taking him to Lewes, the southernmost end of Delaware. The banquet was a great success, and too much credit cannot be given to the class officers for their untiring efforts toward the success of the affair. John Rew, with his 'Old Virginny Corn,' kept us all in good 'spirits.'

.1920. BLUE HEN .1921.

"The class of '24 deeply mourns the death of two of its members. During the typhoid epidemic, we lost James M. Chipman and Robert Walker. They were both true friends and loyal supporters of Delaware College. However, this loss was the only serious misfortune by which Fate has seen fit to punish us."

Now the mighty Zeus is satisfied. "Go back, faithful scribe," said he, "and tell your story to all the world. The class of '24 shall wax strong in spirit: it shall prosper; its members shall be the leaders of men."

And we shall!

CLASS OF 1924

.1920. BLUE HEN .1921.

Alma Mater

Come ye forth all ye sons to greet her
To your Alma Mater sing,
Let our song rise to tell her glories.
Let each voice with gladness ring.
Of her fame let us ne'er tire singing,
Let her victories be told—
We can well be proud of dear old Delaware
So cheer the Blue and Gold.

CHORUS

Rah! Rah! Rah!
Hurrah for Del-a-ware!
Rah! Rah! Rah!
With name and fame so fair,
Hurrah! Rah! Rah!
May her glories never grow old!
Boys let's cheer that name so dear:
Hurrah for the Blue and the Gold.

True her blue as the skies of heaven;
Purity and worth her gold;
They stand forth a banner emblematic,
Truth and honor they unfold.
Raise this flag to the starry heavens
And when they her folds behold,
Off will come all hats and then just once again
We'll cheer the Blue and Gold.
