Lack Of Enforcement Puts Student Beer Law On Shelf

Sympathy With Students As Mayor Frank Collins Criticizes Statute

Students at the University of Delaware who are over 21 years of age will be permitted to drink beer due to lack of enforcement of the old statute, according to developments following the start of the "Beer by Mid-Years" campaign, sponsored by The Review, weekly undergraduate publication.

Sympathy With Students

Sympathy appeared to be with the students as Mayor Frank Collins declared this week that the law "should be repealed," and Richard T. Cann, Jr., executive secretary of the Delaware Liquor Commission, announced that the law is "not part of the Liquor Control Act and actual enforcement is rather out of our hands."

Crowd At Meeting

Over 100 students turned out for a mass meeting in Wolf Hall Monday afternoon, staged under the sponsorship of the college newspaper, which broke out last Thursday with a headline in type three inches high that took two-thirds of the front page—"Drought Hits College."

Veritable Judge

Justice Kane proved that he is as well as direct with his handling of the role of Cartwright, Supreme Court justice, in the Evans case. He upheld her wife.

State Police Set Pace For Birth Registration

The state police may become the first body of men in Delaware to have attained 100 per cent birth registration, of those born here, according to the plans of Superintendent John R. Fader and Captain H. C. Ray. A recent letter from Captain Ray to the Division of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health enclosed a list of the members of the state police force, and requested to know which of them had had their births registered.

BALLOT CHARGES APPROVED

Levy Court Pays Bills; Suggests Bids For Job

Payment of bills of $23,823.98 for 738,320 ballots and $404.80 for other election necessities was authorized by the New Castle County Levy Court which on Tuesday, declared the number of ballots printed for the last general election was "excessive but within the law."

In a resolution, however, the court recommended that the Legislature amend the state election laws by "substantially reducing" the number of ballots to be printed and directed that copies of the resolution be sent to Governor Richard C. McMullen and to the presiding officers of the two branches of the new Legislature.

Bills Approved

The clerk of the peace, under the existing law, must have printed at least eight ballots for each voter, based on previous elections. Advertisement for bids for the ballot printing is not required.

The bills paid were: William N. Cann, Inc., $10,303.03 for 240,400 ballots for the 144 city districts, including folding, counting, and boxing, and $5,137.84 for 369,900 flat ballots for the 188 election districts of the entire county. A. R. Saylor Printing Company, $5,381.91 for 128,000 folded, counted, and boxed ballots for the rural districts, and $404.80 for 128,000 envelopes, rubber bands, and pencils.

The resolution adopted by the court said that it had examined into the cost of the printing and "has determined that the charges for the number of ballots per 1,000 was the same as, or lower than, two years ago," referring also to added costs to the printers arising out of the unemployment insurance law, the wage and hour bill, and other matters.

Clerk of the Peace Irving H. Craig had stated to the court that in his opinion, it was necessary to order the large number of ballots printed. It added the excessive but legal number required results in greater expense to the county than should be.

ELLISON UNOPPOSED AS CHIEF

Others Again Selected At Aetna Session

Fire Chief Elmer J. Ellison and his assistants, Charles Tasker and Edwin W. Shakespeare will hold their posts for another year as a result of the nomination of officers held at the December meeting of the Aetna Hose, Hook, and Ladder Company Friday night.

Delegates and alternates for the state convention to be held in Wilmington on February 22, were announced as follows: Mesdames J. Irwin Dayett, Ruth McKinsey, Edward W. Cooch, William A. Gilmore, W. Frank Wilson, Alex. D. Cobb, Arthur B. Eastman, W. S. Bogart, and Louise Hendey and Miss Audrey Miller.

Play And Concert Will Be Features At Century Club

The regular meeting of the Newark New Century Club will be held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. T. D. Mylrea, president, will conduct the business session.

Mrs. Perry Arnold and Mrs. Jay Robinson are in charge of the program for the afternoon. A one-act play, "A Fair Exchange," will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Robinson. Mrs. Donald Armstrong, Mrs. Milton Draper, and Mrs. Frank Cunningham are in the cast.

The club chorus will make its initial appearance of the season. A group of Christmas folk songs will be sung. Mrs. R. L. Spencer is leader of the chorus and Miss Nell Wilson is the accompanist. Following the program, tea will be served. Mrs. Frank Simons is hostess for the day.

POSTAL OFFICIALS PREPARED

Organized To Handle Heavy Christmas Rush

The local postoffice is expecting the largest Christmas ever experienced and has organized to take care of it. Postmaster Cyrus E. Rittenhouse announced yesterday.

Offers Suggestions

Pointing out the abnormal conditions existing during the holiday season, Mr. Rittenhouse recommended that all Christmas mail on its way by December 20. It is headed for a destination west of the Rocky Mountains, it should be sent before December 15.

Mail, Mr. Rittenhouse said, should be plainly addressed to street and house number and if the house number is unknown, describe the section of town, such as, East Main Street. Mail addressed to children should be in care of their parents if the street address is not known.

Mail sent out under three-cent postage (two cents local) will be given preference in handling. It will also be forwarded or returned to sender, if known, in case of none delivery.

Mail Classified

Christmas cards in envelopes may be sent for one and one-half cents if unsealed and no message other than "Merry Christmas" and the signature of the sender is inclosed. This mail is "Third Class" and does not receive the same treatment as letter mail. It is handled after all first class mail has been taken care of.

Parcel post should be packed thoroughly for holiday mailing and should be plainly marked with both the addressee and sender's name. Insurance is advised.

If for some reason, you are late mailing your gift package, it should be sent special delivery.

If stamps are purchased now, you will avoid the congestion and waiting at the post office windows during the last days of the rush, Mr. Rittenhouse advised.

Liontamer L. T. Staats "Handcuffed" By Police

Liontamer Louis T. Staats, who enjoys his job of fining erring members of the Lions Club of Newark for minor infractions of etiquette, suffered a trying situation at the meeting of the group Tuesday evening at the Newark Country Club.

Lion Staats' weapon of enforcement is a little metal bank into which his fines are placed. He often has a trouble retaining possession of the bank due to sleight-of-hand methods by his fellow clubmen. Tuesday night was no exception. Lion Staats again lost his bank.

A bit of detective work by Lion John R. Fader, superintendent of state police, resulted in bringing the bank from his hiding place. In returning it, however, Lion Fader slipped one half of a pair of handcuffs over Lion Staats' wrist. At the other end of the bracelets the bank was secured.

Just as it looked as though the roly poly Staats would find it necessary to sleep with his wandering repository, Lion Handloff "rescued" him after he had been forced to deposit a quarter in his own bank. The usual rate is ten cents.

Christmas Program Of Music And Drama Presented Wednesday

University Of Delaware Groups Cooperating

CONFERENCE SPEAKER

K. J. Kadow

By Miss Margaret Smith Hoping to establish a new and lasting tradition, the University of Delaware will present a Christmas program of music and drama on Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in Mitchell Hall. Participating in the production will be the University A-Capella Choir, the Women's College Drama Class, and the University Play Production Class.

The program will include two anonymous miracle plays, which were acted each year on the "Corpus Christi Day" from the fourteenth to the sixteenth centuries by the chancellors and goldsmith of York and which have been modernized for production by Alice Breme, class of '36 and Jean Mason, of '35. The plays will be acted by the Women's College Drama Class under the direction of Dr. Cyrus L. Day and staged by Dr. C. R. Kase's Play Production class. The scenery is expected to play no small part in the effectiveness of the production.

Anthony J. Louis will direct the Christmas music by the A-Capella Choir and the carol singing by the audience.

Two selections, "Silent Night" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem," played by a brass quartet will open the program. Following the processional the miracle plays will be presented. Taking part in the first, "The Angels and the Shepherds," will be Wilhelmina Press, Edith Coughlan, Alice Ayljian, Janet Grubb, and Elinor Moyer.

The cast of the second miracle play includes: Jane Trent, Pauline Pianti, Sylvia Cohen, Margaret Maloy, Blanche Lee, Mary Le Schuster, Anne Dawson, Elinor Moyer, Janet Grobb, and Jerome Raminston.

Coming of the Three Kings to Herod. Following the miracle plays the entire audience will participate in the singing of popular and well known Christmas carols.

Included in the Christmas music by the A-Capella Choir will be: "The Shepherd's Story" by Dickinson, in which Jane Kenny will sing a soprano solo; William Everhart, a tenor solo, and James Carpenter, a baritone solo. The other choir selections are: "How Far Is It to Bethlehem," by Shaw; "Palapan" (French), arranged by Shaw; "Lo! What a Branch of Beauty" by Praetorius; "The Holly and the Ivy" by Boughton; "Carol of the Shepherds" (Moravian), arranged by Luvas; and "A Joyful Christmas Song" by Gevaert.

Other guests from Middletown were: John Swain, Max Gebhart, and H. B. McDowell. Thaddeus Washington, a member of the Georgetown Rotary also was present.

Sunday Worship At White Clay Creek At 11 O'clock

The regular Sunday morning service of worship at the White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church will begin at eleven o'clock. Rev. Clyde E. Rickabaugh, pastor, will have as his subject "What Does the Bible Say About the Jew?"

Truck Taxes An Important Factor In State Revenues

More than 10,000 miles of first-class roads, enough to span the United States three times, can be built with the annual revenue from special fees paid by American motor truck owners alone, according to W. Purves Taylor, secretary of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Delaware.

The marked increase in motor truck use in recent years has been accompanied by an even sharper rise in taxes, Mr. Taylor explained. "In 1937, these fees had increased 177 per cent since 1927, a period in which the number of trucks in use increased 46 per cent. "In most states motor trucks constitute approximately 14 per cent of the total vehicles registered, but in Delaware they constitute 16 per cent. From a national standpoint, trucks pay 28 per cent of the registration fees and other special taxes.

BIDS ARE REQUESTED FOR NEW VEHICLE

Building Code Discussed; Two Sewer Projects Are Launched

Following the unanimous action of the town council at its December meeting Monday night, Newark police will soon be riding in their own patrol car. Chief William H. Cunningham was instructed to solicit bids from local dealers. The car will probably be purchased next month.

A five-passenger, two-door sedan, equipped with siren, spotlight, short wave radio receiving set attuned to the state police system, first aid needs, and other utility essentials have been specified.

Police will continue to use a motorcycle during the day and in clear weather, while the new car will be used for patrol and emergency duty at night and in inclement weather. Allowances for personal cars now being used by members of the force will be discontinued when the new vehicle is placed in service.

Building Code Discussed

Mayor Frank Collins presided at the session which was attended by Councilmen Charles C. Hubert, George E. Ramsey, C. Emerson Johnson, George F. Ferguson, and Herman Wollaston. Secretary C. Vernon Steele and Engineer George C. Price were also present.

At the suggestion of Councilman Johnson, the possibilities of obtaining the power from the next session of the General Assembly for establishing a local building code and zoning law were discussed at length. While no definite action was taken, the idea was held in abeyance pending further investigation. Building lines, limits, business and industrial zones are included in the plan which Johnson obtained from the Pacific Coast Builders' Conference held recently in San Francisco.

Two Projects Approved

Council approved two sewer projects to start immediately as a means of combating the local unemployment situation. Nine hundred and fifty feet of 24-inch concrete pipe will be laid parallel with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks south of Cleveland Avenue, between College Avenue and Chapel Street, in order to drain surface water into White Clay Creek.

Residents on the south side of Cleveland Avenue have been complaining for several months about surface water, following heavy rains, flooding back yards and buildings. The new sewer will replace an open ditch. Work was started this week on the widening and straightening of a brook in the southeastern portion of the town that carries surface water under the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks below East Park Place.

Residents of the Kells Avenue section had petitioned Council to relieve flood conditions that carried water into cellars on several occasions last summer. It is thought that the straightening and widening of the brook bed will alleviate the difficulty. The Pennsylvania has agreed to widen the stream below its tracks.

Flower Hospital Donation

In compliance with an annual custom, $50 was donated to the Flower Hospital as a Christmas gift from the town government. Mayor Collins designated December 21 and 22 as "clean-up days" for the collection of rubbish.

A net assessment of $805.66 will be placed against six property owners for the cost of the sewer extension on Lovett Avenue from Haines Street to South Chapel. The assessment is figured on a cost basis of $1,085.95 per lineal foot, with the town bearing the expense for 45 feet at the Betty Street intersection. Total assessable property amounts to 741.96 feet.

Council set the meeting of January 3 for the filing of objections and complaints by property owners. Notices will be posted and advertisements placed next week. (Please Turn To Page 10)

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for December 11

THE SIN OF COVETOUSNESS

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:17; Luke 12:15-21; 1 Timothy 6:6-10. GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt not covet. —Exodus 20:17.

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

The word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart" (Heb. 4:12).

It seems peculiarly appropriate that this lesson on covetousness should come right in the midst of our preparations for Christmas, for it directs our attention away from things to God, from outward preparation to the preparation of the heart, from greedy desire to true liberality of heart.

I. A Command (Exod. 20:17). "Thou shalt not covet."

This last commandment carries us beyond the domain of civil magistracy into that intellectual realm of motive, desire, and thought, where God alone is Lord and Judge" (Dykes).

II. A Warning (Luke 12:15-21). "Beware of covetousness."

The teaching of this passage is so directly opposite to all ideas regarding such matters accepted by the world at large, that it may be a total surprise to some readers and attendants at Bible school.

The yardstick of success in the world—for an individual, and organization, or a nation; yes, even for many a church—is the possession of wealth, or property, or other "things."

III. A Way of Victory (1 Tim. 6:10). "Godliness with contentment."

As a minister of the gospel the writer would first remind himself that this was written by Paul to the preacher Timothy.

In this dizzy age when many are so intent on making money that they have no time for home and children, church and fellowship; when men neglect their responsibilities and duties as citizens to get gain; when any dirty business is all right if it produces a profit; when "for gold men betray their country, their friends, their God, their immortal souls" (Farrar)—yes, in this day let us remind men that "we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain that we can carry nothing out."

Let us teach and exemplify in our lives the fact that the only real and worth while gain in life is "godliness with contentment."

Kerosene Needs Care In Home Use, Says Ramp

Engineering Authority Lists Simple Rules For Handling Fuel; Danger

Any spot that's too hot to place your hand is also too hot to place a can of kerosene. Although its flash point (100°F.) is much higher than that of gasoline, it is still necessary to store and handle kerosene or "coal oil," carefully to prevent fires.

Here are some "don'ts" from Russell Ramp of the Agricultural Engineering Department of the University of Delaware, on using kerosene around the home.

Don't set a kerosene lamp or lantern on or above a stove or in any other place where the kerosene might become heated. It may flare. Don't locate the kerosene stove, lamp, or heater where curtains may blow over it or against it.

Don't place a kerosene lamp close to the ceiling or the wall. Don't place a kerosene stove against a wall. There should be a sheet of metal behind it and an air space behind the sheet of metal.

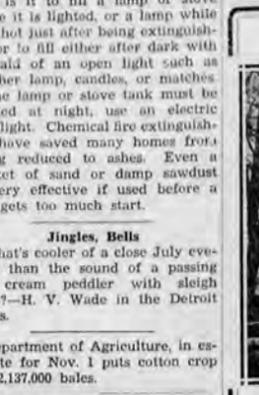

Don't hang towels on a rack above a kerosene stove. They may catch fire if the kerosene flame should flare up or if they happen to fall.

Electric Poultry Brooders Listed In New Bulletin

Use And Management Outlined By Mumford And Richardson

Outlining the use and management of electric poultry brooders, a new bulletin, "Electric Brooders," published by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Delaware, is being distributed to poultrymen of the state.

The bulletin, which was written by H. L. Richardson, extension poultryman, and C. W. Mumford, experiment station assistant in poultry, states that it is believed that certain Delaware poultrymen will benefit by the use of electric brooders.

"This belief," the bulletin says, "is based on careful observations in the field reports of many satisfied users as well as on the result of tests made on different types of brooders by the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station."

According to the authors, electric brooders have made rapid gains in popularity in recent years because of two factors. First, because better electric brooders are now being manufactured and are available in various sizes and types. Secondly, because poultrymen have learned better how to use them.

Broiler growers, however, are warned to use electric brooders only on an experimental basis, especially for winter brooding, particularly where economic conditions and customs require placing as many as 500 to 600 chicks under one cover.

The new bulletin may be obtained without cost by writing to the University of Delaware Extension Service, and asking for Bulletin No. 26, "Electric Brooders."

Auto output for year ending Sept. 30 reaches 2,704,992, including 574,778 trucks.

POPS OF FRUIT TO INCREASE

Agricultural Bureau Reports Upward Trend

Growers will have large crops during the next season if present production is borne out, according to information received by the University of Delaware Extension Service from U. S. Department of Agriculture. Significant increases are expected in the production of oranges, grapefruit, and peaches for several years. A more moderate rate of increase is expected for apples and pears. Grape production is expected to be maintained at the present level. Production of peaches is expected to increase. The report said that the rate of increase will continue to decline as it has over the past several years.

Citrus Fruit Increase

The size and age of both bearing and non-bearing trees indicate that citrus production in Delaware is on an upward trend. The production of grapefruit and lemons will increase for several years. The production of oranges is expected to increase. The report said that the rate of increase will continue to decline as it has over the past several years.

ELECTED HEAD

Frank H. Balling

At a meeting held Thursday night in the Red Men's Club, Wilmington, Past Great Sachem Balling was elected president of the Past Sachem's Association, I. O. R. M. Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Ellis Neville; secretary, C. Orville Sidwell; treasurer, Bayard S. Smith; and chaplain, James H. Bedford. Installation ceremonies will be held January 16.

Plans for a Christmas party at the Red Men's Home, Newark, on Dec. 22 were also made. The committee in charge consists of James Cheeseman, Mr. Balling, and Mr. Smith.

CORN LOAN PLAN SET

Rules Laid Down For Growers In State-Stelzer

Delaware corn growers who follow rules laid down by the Commodity Credit Corporation are eligible to receive loans on corn in storage at the rate of 43 cents per bushel, according to R. O. Stelzer, state executive officer for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

"Any corn producer, upon whose farm the 1938 acreage of soil-depleting crops did not exceed the total acreage allotment for such crops pursuant to the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program, is eligible for a corn loan," Stelzer said.

"Producers desiring to make corn loans should make application at their local County Agricultural Conservation offices, where their eligibility will be determined," he explained.

"Corn to be used as collateral for loans, must be merchantable field corn produced in 1938, husked and in the ear, containing not more than 20% water content, and which otherwise grades No. 3 or better, as defined in the Official Grain Standards of the United States," Stelzer said.

"The beneficial title to such corn must be and always has been in the eligible producer," he pointed out.

"All corn to be placed under loan," Stelzer said, "must be stored on the farm in cribs which are, according to the rules of the Commodity Credit Corporation, of such substantial and permanent construction as to afford protection against rodents, other animals, thieves and weather, for a period of two years, as determined by the County Agricultural Conservation Committee."

"An interest rate of 4 per cent will be charged for the loans," Stelzer said. "Producers also must agree to store the pledged corn until October 31, 1939. The borrowers will be expected to take insurance on all corn on which they expect to obtain a loan. Such insurance must cover damage from fire, lightning, and windstorm."

William Astle Elected Noble Chief Of K. G. E.

William Astle was elected noble chief of Ivy Castle, No. 25, Knights of the Golden Eagle last Friday night at a meeting in Fraternal Hall.

Other officers elected were: Past chief, C. Orville Sidwell; vice-chief, James E. Tasker; high priests, George Reed, Vernon Hermit, William Armstrong; keeper of exchequer, John A. Johnson; collector of exchequer, James B. Frazer; master of records, W. Vaughn Heavell; Sir Herald, Frank Johnson; representative to grand castle, C. Orville Sidwell; alternate, John A. Johnson; trustee for three years, Norris Anderson.

There is More Heat in Old Company's Anthracite

BECAUSE NATURE PUT IT THERE
Only Old Company's Anthracite comes from the famous Panther Valley deposit, where Nature exerted more pressure in the making of coal... thereby making it harder and more compact.
As a result it has more heat units than other anthracite, and burns more steadily and economically.

THE NEWARK POST

Founded January 26, 1910, by the late Everett C. Johnson. An Independent Newspaper. Published Every Thursday by the Newark Post, Inc. Locally and Independently Owned and Operated.

EDITOR: CHARLES H. RUTLEDGE. ASSOCIATE EDITOR: A. WILLIAM FLETCHER. Telephone: Newark 4941

Member of The Consolidated Drive for County Newspaper National Advertising National Advertising Representative American Press Association 225 West 39th St., New York City

Entered as second-class matter at Newark, Delaware under Act of March 3, 1879.

The subscription price of this paper in the United States is $1.50 per year in ADVANCE. Canadian and Foreign subscriptions $2.25 per year in ADVANCE. Single copies 4 cents. Make all checks payable to The Newark Post.

Legal and Display advertising rates furnished on request. In Memoriam and Cards of Thanks 3 cents per agate line.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

In keeping with the custom started many years ago, The Post is again happy to announce its appointment as Newark representative for Santa Claus. A despatch from the North Pole informs us that all children in and around Newark have been instructed to send their letters for Santa Claus to this paper.

They will be published in a special section so that Santa Claus, who keeps his eye on things in Newark through the Post, will be sure to find them.

AN HOURLY NEWSPAPER

Whether its performance set a new record or not we do not know, but the printing of an edition of the paper every hour on election night by the Chicago Tribune, between 6 o'clock in the evening and 8 the next morning was quite a newspaper feat.

Counting four smaller special editions for Wisconsin subscribers, 14 editions in all were issued between the hours mentioned, with a total of more than a million copies. Approximately 280 tons of paper were used, and three tons of ink. If spread flat on the ground, this amount of paper would have covered 2,220 acres.

So well were the employees organized for this extraordinary effort that only 10 extra men had to be added to the usual mechanical force of about 300 men, yet every edition went to press exactly at the time scheduled in advance, except one, which was only five minutes late.

Gathering, organizing and printing the results of a national election, accurately and speedily, puts the organization of a metropolitan daily newspaper to its severest test.

The effective manner in which American newspapers meet this test is truly amazing.

EFFECTS OF TOBACCO

Almost anything can be proved by statistics and examples. This appears to be particularly true with respect to the effects of tobacco, long a subject of spirited argument.

So far as physical consequences go, its effects seem to depend largely upon the individual. Many who lived to an extreme old age were users of the weed, while others were not. Leading physicians and scientists report that little influence is exerted upon the intellectual powers by the use of tobacco. Many literary men believe that smoking is a stimulant to their creative impulses.

Among the outstanding figures of the past may be named the following smokers: Washington, Bismark, Kitchener, Spurgeon, Huxley, Keats, Browning, Carlyle, Dickens, Stevenson, Howells, Grant and Mark Twain, the last two being inordinate users of tobacco.

Among the non-smokers were Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson, Greely, Wellington, Tolstoi, Ruskin, Haekkel, Whittier and others.

An interesting trend of the tobacco habit in the last few years is shown by the increasing and almost universal popularity of the cigarette. In spite of strenuous attempts to discourage its use, more than 150 billion are manufactured in the United States annually.

While tobacco is no doubt injurious to the young, its detrimental effects, physically or otherwise, upon mature persons have been perhaps greatly exaggerated.

BARNUM vs. BAILEY

Some 60 years ago, when Barnum's circus held undisputed sway as the biggest amusement enterprise in the world, the great showman had little cause to pay attention to several small rival circuses which sprang up, for they usually kept their distance.

The time came, however, when one of them, headed by a young Irish-American named James A. Bailey, threatened Barnum's prestige. For one spring day in the Bailey menagerie a baby elephant was born.

This baby elephant immediately became a greater attraction than all of Barnum's colossal aggregation, and Bailey began packing the crowds in, while the big show's attendance fell off. Chagrined beyond words, Barnum wired Bailey an offer of $100,000 for the baby elephant.

Instead of selling, Bailey had prepared and displayed enormous posters, bearing a facsimile of Barnum's telegram, to which he added in box car letters, "This is what Barnum thinks of Bailey's baby elephant."

In desperation Barnum then offered to take Bailey in as his partner, and Bailey accepted. Thus Barnum and Bailey's "greatest show on earth" came into being.

John Joh Frystak, one-legged man of Chicago, saw Eugene Cheleboski, 12, drowning in ten feet of water, he unbuckled his artificial leg, leaped into the water, and dragged the boy to shore.

Joseph Skelly, Commissioner of Public Property of New Orleans, invited the entire city to his daughter's wedding reception. More than 12,000 sandwiches, 10,000 cakes and 100 gallons of punch were served.

Accused of stealing six batteries which were found under his bed, William Golden of Detroit explained that it took a shock from six storage batteries to awake him each morning.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM F. ALLEN

RESIDENTIAL CONSTRUCTION

A further recovery in residential construction may be expected, providing there are no untoward incidents such as a sudden increase in building costs. It appears as if the potential demand due to an accumulated housing shortage is now transferring itself into effective demand. In this field it is important to note that home mortgage finance is today in a much sounder position than at any time in the past decade. Property values are higher and more stable than in the early Thirties. Total home mortgage debt has declined. Interest charges on home mortgage loans have been greatly reduced. Financial institutions generally are in a better position to serve their communities than they have been since 1930. A plentiful supply of mortgage money is available. The rate of foreclosures has dropped.

NEW MERCHANT FLEET

The U. S. is soon to have a new merchant fleet. You have, I am sure, heard that statement several times before, but now it is to be taken literally. It is true. Within two months the first of the new ships of this fleet will actually be sliding down the ways. They will take their place under the American flag on the foreign trade routes of the world. By mid-summer, several of the c-2 type cargo ships will be in service. Month by month additional ships built either by the Commission itself or in cooperation with private interests will follow.

STUDY OF PATENTS

The Temporary National Economic Committee has set out to answer the question of whether or not patents are handled to the benefit or the detriment of the average American. Public hearings will begin in Washington on December 1. A partial report will be submitted by the TNEC early in the Congressional term.

TREATMENT SAVES DRAPERIES AND CURTAINS

Sulphur in illuminating gas and in ashes from coal-burning stoves and furnaces is destructive to window curtains, draperies and other household fabrics. The deterioration often is not suspected by housewives. Dipping or spraying the fabrics with a solution of 7 ounces of borax and 3 ounces of boric acid dissolved in 2 qts. of water protects them. This treatment was offered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture chemists as a simple and effective fireproofing for fabrics.

HEALTH CONDITIONS

With the national death rate holding to a low figure since 1933, the U. S. Public Health Service feels that 1938 health conditions, as interpreted on the basis of mortality, have been remarkably good and continue to reflect a period of great achievement in public health.

NEW STAMP

First day sale of the $5 Coolidge stamp of the new regular series at the Washington, D.C. post office N.Y. 17, was announced by the Post Office Department. The amount received from this sale was $98,000.00 representing a total of 1,600 stamps sold. First day covers canceled amounted to 15,615, which included 766 in blocks of 4.

Beer Law

Caution Dealers

"We feel that we must caution you in regard to this practice, since the majority of the students are minors. We would call your attention to paragraph 2788, of section 19, of the Revised Code of Delaware, 1935. This section provides: 'It shall not be lawful for any person, whether licensed or not, to sell, dispose of, barter, or give to, or be instrumental in procuring for any student of the University of Delaware, within two miles of the said university, any spirituous or fermented liquors or cordials of any quantity what ever, and any person violating the provisions of this section shall be liable to a fine of $25 for the first offense, and $50 for the second offense, and $100 for every subsequent offense, and the fines recited may be collected as similar fines are now collected by law, one-half to be paid over to the informer, and the other half to go to the constable or officer serving the warrant.'"

Town Lacks Power

Later Mr. Cann explained the letters were sent simply to caution tavern keepers of illegal sales, particularly to minors. "It would have to be determined," Atty-Gen. P. Warren Green said, whether the Liquor Control Act covers the whole field relative to sales of liquor, thereby repealing former laws, or only a special field. "Newark," Mayor Collins said, "is not winking at any violation of the law, for enforcement of the statute is not a duty of town officials."

Something On The Ball

Like everyone in the public eye—and many who are not standouts in this vale of tears—Bill Gillespie, principal, athletic director, and football-basketball-track coach at Newark High School, has his critics. Undoubtedly (he's only human) there are times when the criticism is justified. At least we hope so, having gone out on the limb to voice objections to his methods on several occasions.

There is always the possibility that we'll pop off again, too. But it is quite certain that Herr Gillespie is not the bugaboo he is pictured in many quarters. His record and his relations with youngsters under his care—especially the athletes—belie the attitude that exists, either through misunderstanding or malicious disbelief, in some local circles.

We have been becoming conscious of Gillespie's ability and outstanding traits with growing awareness. For a time our vision was clouded by the smoke screen set up by some of his more unrelenting critics. Those same critics, however—especially the ones who have urged us, and not always with understandable reason, to "fan Gillespie in your column"—have caused us to intensify our study of the man as an individual. And the more we study the more we admire his firmness, appreciate his accomplishments.

Can't Fool Youngsters

If the stuff a man puts on the ball is anything but the real McCoy when he's dealing with boys, it's an often proved fact that the youngsters themselves will be the first to bring it to light. What's more, they'll keep it there until the genuine article comes their way. As a guest and spectator at Newark High's annual football banquet Monday evening, we were profoundly impressed by the attitude of admiration demonstrated toward Gillespie by members of the team. In few but effective words, delivered frankly and honestly on behalf of the squad, co-captain Norval Robinson thanked Bill for his help and efforts during the season. Brief and simple as was the pronouncement, Robinson's words were still impressive and effective. You knew them as genuine, born of sincere respect of a group of boys for a man who had done his job thoroughly and well.

Both Gillespie and his assistant coach, Ralph (Lish) O'Connell, were presented with gold footballs as mementos of the 1938 season. Gestures of appreciation. Not startling in the doing, merely the enactment of an American custom. But proof that the routine duties of two men were carried out in a fashion that commanded respect, received it. . . and appreciation.

Lads Outstanding

In rating co-captains Bill Hancock, center, and Robinson, guard, with Bill Bellman, fleet backfield ace and punting star, on the mythical all-State scholastic team for 1938, Newark High School and its coaching staff can do some justified chest expanding. Bellman, a really great scholastic grid warrior when not troubled by affairs d'amour, tied Tom Pleasanton, Dover full-back, for the honor of being the outstanding player of Dave Hugg's selections, which were released in the Sunday Morning Star (Wilmington) last week.

With Willard Crater, co-captain Bernie George, Melvin Brooks, Ray Beyerlein, Dilbert Peel, John Grundy, and Ray Gregg performing as members of the 1938 University of Delaware team, Newark High certainly did its bit by way of furnishing grid material for the state's lone higher seat of education.

Others Do Well, Too

Another Newark High grad, Robert T. Jones, Jr., who went to Colgate via Tome School, made out well as a first-string freshman tackle under the Andy Kerr banner. Those wits at Delaware, who thought Bobby too slow to make the grade in big-time grid circles, will probably be surprised to learn that he is being groomed for an end post come the spring training grind. . . . And Kerr's style of play depends on lots of speed with plenty of tricks.

Despite an injured knee, Jones stood up well with the Colgate University's Archibald Stadium when 20,000 spectators saw the Orange frosh prevail, 28-14. . . . Incidentally, no less an authority than Grantland Rice ranked Syracuse's 1938 freshmen as the best first-year team he had ever seen. They spanked Penn State frosh, 21-0, after the Lion cubs had smashed Pitt's we-won't-play-if-we-have-to-pay yearlings, 13-0. Freshman football material, all red hot, was three deep at Syracuse this year. . . . Looks like Ossie Solem has his eyes on the Rose Bowl.

Still another former Newark High grad who did big things on the grid this year is Paul Richard Skillman. He captained Fishburne Military School's cadets to their first victory over Augusta Military Academy in five years. . . . Skillily is also varsity center in basketball and the outstanding track star at Fishburne.

Other Newark High graduates who went places in athletics this year are: Harold Zebley, varsity guard on St. John's last football team, Wilbur (Ciggy) Butts, end at P. M. C., Eddie (Moosie) Morgan and Drex Harrington, varsity soccer players in their first year at Colgate College, and George F. (Im On The Honor Roll, At Last) Anderson, golf leader and a basketball candidate at Tome School. Nothing startling in the records. . . . but not bad in any company!

HEN—PECKS

The spacious gym at Rutgers is one of the best in the East. It is an immense affair with at least twenty feet of open space on all sides of the court. There are no spectators on the main floor but there are large balconies on one side and an end seating upwards of three thousand people.

Last week-end, Rutgers was having a fraternity week-end similar to the one held at Delaware some weeks ago. The Sophomore Hop had been held the night before and there was a great number of people staying over for the house-parties that night. Consequently, Delaware played before the biggest crowd Delaware is apt to play before all season. And it is to be hoped, Delaware played the worst game that it will play all season.

The game opened as was pretty generally expected. Rutgers scored the first basket, and as the minutes passed, gradually increased its lead. About two or three minutes before the half, they had a lead of twelve or more points when Delaware came to life and began throwing them in. At the half, Rutgers led by six points and the way Delaware was going, it looked as though they might make a game out of it.

But when the third quarter opened, it was Rutgers who started heaving the ball through the cords and Delaware scored only three points in the complete third quarter. The Rutgers players were in condition. They had been practicing since the school opened in the fall and they ran rings around the fast-tiring Blue Hens. After playing in Delaware's hand-box, they simply couldn't handle the large floor. In spite of the score of 70-37, most of the Delaware players were of the opinion, and we are inclined to agree, that it would have been a different story indeed if the game had been played in the Taylor Gym. Rutgers scored most of its points on fast-breaking forwards whose tactics wouldn't have been worth a dime on the home floor. We're not so sure that Delaware would have won the game but it would have been a lot closer.

Bruce Lindsay played his usual fine game. Eddie Anderson is still the best shot in these parts and Phil Reed played, for the most part, a good game as guard.

You know, every basketball team has a manager. He's the guy who's supposed to take care of equipment and make sure that everything that's necessary is taken on the trips. Last Saturday, the basketball manager on the trip to Rutgers made sure he had shoes, socks, laces, uniforms, sweat clothes, tape, score-book, first-aid equipment, rosin, chewing gum, knee guards and other incidentals. In fact, he made sure he had everything—almost. He had only forgotten one thing—

he forgot the basketball! It's a dog's life—I know! Every year Lehigh picks an all-opponent team. We were extremely gratified and pleased to note that Handsome Howie Viden made quarterback on the second team. He was picked although Lehigh also plays such teams as Penn State, New York University, Muhlenberg, P.M.C., Lafayette, and Rutgers. That's a great tribute to a great little player. Jacket Gridders Guests At Banquet

Delaware Cagers Hang Up 36-22 Conquest Over Textile School

32 MEMBERS OF SQUAD AT TESTIMONIAL AFFAIR

Joseph A. Shields Guest Speaker At Dinner; Coach W. K. Gillespie Acts As Toastmaster; 12 Letters Awarded By J. Fenton Daugherty

Joseph A. Shields, a member of the physical education department faculty and director of intramural athletics at the University of Delaware, was the guest speaker at the fourth annual Newark High School football banquet, held in the cafeteria, Monday night.

Mr. Shields lauded the team for its fine comeback after getting off to a slow start. The Jackets, in a ten-game schedule, split even with five victories and the same number of setbacks.

Guests included Carleton E. Douglass, superintendent of Newark schools; M. James Parsons, assistant superintendent; Dr. J. R. Downes, team physician; Dr. J. S. Gould, president of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association; E. L. Richards, a member of the local school board; Gerald P. Doherty, graduate manager of athletics at the University of Delaware; Dr. J. Fenton Daugherty, a member of the Delaware faculty; Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark; O. R. Suttles, Stanley Gibbs, John Munroe, Leon Buehler, Mulford David, Fred Kutz, Harvey Moore, Thaddeus Warrington, and Robert Kern, members of the high school faculty; Eugene Stiltz, and J. H. Rumor and C. H. Rutledge, representatives of the press.

Letters were presented by Dr. Daugherty to the following players: Ackie Stiltz, George Norris, Bob Ewing, Paul Robinson, Ray Ewing, Harold Beeson, Robert Stewart, Co-Captains William Hancock and Norval Robinson, Gus Smith, Dan Gallagher, and William Bellman.

Seniors who have climaxed their football activities at the local school are: Delbert Thompson, Norris, Bob Ewing, Stewart, Hancock, Gus Smith, Norv Robinson, and Gallagher. Thirty-two members of the squad attended. These present, besides lettermen and seniors, were: Frank Balling, Andrew Tryens, Robert Sauerman, Edgar Jaquette, Francis Hill, Bob McCall, Wally Edmanson, Angelo Cataldi, Harvey Gregg, Berry Wiggins, Albert Aiken, Bill Smith, John Moody, Arthur Smith, James Kelley, August Comati, Fred Ingham, Newt Sheaffer, and Ralph Klouisek.

Coach William K. Gillespie acted as toastmaster and introduced Superintendent Douglass who gave the address of welcome. Other talks were given by Mr. Doherty, Rev. Hallman, Mr. Rutledge, and Dr. Gould. Gold footballs were presented to Coach Gillespie and Assistant Coach O'Connell by Co-captains Robinson and Hancock on behalf of the squad. Robinson made the presentation speech.

Co-Managers Roger Attkick and Joseph Moore also received awards. Members of the team attended the State Theatre as the guests of Owner Louis Handloff following the banquet.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following: Mrs. W. K. Gillespie, chairman; Mrs. C. E. Douglass, Mrs. J. M. James Parsons, Mrs. R. A. O'Connell, Miss Ann Gallagher, Mrs. Vera Moore, Mrs. Harold Sheaffer, Mrs. Frank Balling, Mrs. Hugh Gallagher, Mrs. T. S. Engham, and Mrs. Josephine Hancock.

Harky Mosley, Alabama left half-back, has punted 40 times for the Tide this season. His kicks have averaged 40.6 yards.

mentioned above was held in the gym the night before the game and that floor was as slick as the pavements have been in Newark for the past few weeks. Time after time the Delaware players came down the floor and when they tried to stop, fell on their you-know-what, it was tragic at first but later in the game, it was funny.

BASEBALL FILM IS AVAILABLE

Game's History Shown In Nat'l. League Picture

The National League's motion picture, which has been re-named "Baseball—The Story of a National Institution," will be ready for distribution after December 18, it was announced this week.

Schools, church, fraternal, civic, athletic, service, and industrial organizations interested in arranging shows for their members are instructed to contact the Philadelphia National League Club, Packard Building, Philadelphia. There is no charge for the film and all equipment, including projectors and sound apparatus, is furnished by the club.

Philadelphia will not have a monopoly on the picture, however, and groups in other cities will be given the opportunity to see it providing application is made to the Phillies' headquarters. Many requests have already been filed and a busy winter schedule of shows is assured.

Having its preview a few weeks ago before a distinguished Philadelphia audience, the National League's initial attempt with the movies proved both historical and instructive as well as entertaining.

Next year, baseball will celebrate its one hundredth anniversary and in keeping with the occasion to be marked throughout the 1939 campaign, the picture unfolds the history of the game. Portrayed by a cast of professional actors, the pioneer organizers are seen making plans and solving problems that are responsible for baseball's great popularity.

The educational part of the picture is so complete that players and fans alike are certain to learn more about the national pastime. Made under the supervision of Ethan Allen, who for more than 10 years was an outstanding major league player, the stars of the National League demonstrate, with the aid of close-up and slow motion shots, the movements they make.

This gives the baseball student an excellent chance to watch the forms of these players who have made record performances in the various departments of the game.

Baseball—The Story of a National Institution is as comprehensive as the name implies and will appeal to all baseball fans, young and grown up. Boys who want to study the technique of today's great hitters and pitchers will also learn something of the game's traditions while adults are sure to be impressed with the dramatization of the origin of America's leading sport and will enjoy watching the players who were the heroes of last season.

Bill McGowan Opens School For Lads With Umpiring Ambitions

American League Arbiter Includes Course By Mail

For young umpires and youngsters nursing a yen to become umpires, Bill McGowan, known father and son for his ability as an arbiter, has started a "guessing school."

Two types of courses are offered—the personal contact or attendance method and the other via your Uncle Sammy's mail service.

Delaware's leading contribution to America's leading pastime has forty students enrolled at his institution which is located at 6143 30th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., where the McGowans' Willie shares public acclaim with such upstarts as Franklin Delano Roosevelt, members of the Supreme Court, and others of prominence in the daily despatches.

McGowan, who first saw the light of day in Wilmington, ranks as one of the leading umpires in baseball. He has been a member of the American League staff for 14 years, after having worked in the minors for ten seasons.

On two occasions prior to 1937 when the custom was dropped, Bill was named the "most popular umpire in the American League." Officials of the circuit, players, team heads, and umpires voted in the poll. The custom, which started as a "kidding idea" many years ago, grew into one of the most appealing attractions of the game before it was censured two years back.

McGowan has reached the pinnacle sought by every umpire in working no less than three world series. He has also been in on the officiating in two all-star "dream games" between American and National league teams.

Captain Lindsay Paces Blue And Gold Courtmen With Ten Points

Coach Steve Grenda's University of Delaware cagers emerged from rough-and-tumble first half with 22-6 edge and then coasted to a first victory of the year by scoring a 36-22 triumph over Philadelphia Textile School.

Cautioned for rough play and bickering, the invaders, who committed sixteen fouls in the first half, managed to settle down following the intermission and defended on only six occasions. Showing a glaring weakness from charity stripe, however, the Blue and Gold were able to convert only the twenty-two free tosses.

Captain Bruce Lindsay again paced the scoring pace as he racked three field goals and four free shots in the initial half. Eddie Anderson, another veteran, trailed Blue and Gold leader with seven field goals and a charity three-point marker. The invader's Captain, Ralph Thomas, accrued nine points with three field goals and three fouls.

Abe Cohen broke the scoring and put the visitors in the top for the first and last time when he dropped in a gift shot after a late and a half of play, but Lindsay notched a loss from the field a foul to give the locals and which they never relinquished.

Leading 8-3 at the close of the first half, the Blue and Gold were able to convert only the twenty-two free tosses.

Jacket Quintet Opens Against A. I. duPont

With two more weeks of practice remaining before the Newark High School basketball team ushers in the 1938-39 season, the Yellow Jackets are expected to be in top shape for the opening battle with A. I. duPont High School on December 22.

Prospects for the season, however, are gloomy and are not much brighter than last season when the locals suffered their most disastrous season in the history of the school.

Seven lettermen will form the nucleus of this year's squad, including Newt Sheaffer, Bob Stewart, Bill Hancock, Ackie Stiltz, George Norris, Bill Bellman and Albert Aiken.

Probable Starters Hancock, Aiken, Norris, Bellman and Bob Ewing, a former letterman who returned to school this fall, will probably be given berths on the starting quintet.

Aiken, who has shown improvement during the last two seasons, is expected to lead the Jackets' attack. A regular last year, he is gradually developing his eye and is rapidly becoming the best shot on the squad.

Only the duPont tilt will be staged prior to the Christmas holidays and the locals will not get underway again until January 6 when Wilmington High School will invade the Newark court.

This year's card lists nineteen tilts, including ten home contests. The initial encounter will be played away.

WHADDA SHAME, WHADDA PITY," WE HEARD A voice sobbing as we walked into an establishment (side of the two-mile limit) in search of a few student athletes on the beer controversy which was raging at the time which has since been settled.

and pushed a glass full of the stuff toward us and we picked it up, sipped it gingerly, then sipped again.

"What do you think about beer?" we questioned, warning to the task on hand and he gave us a glare that seemed to say: "What the hell do you think about it?"

"I've got to answer questions, I'll have to have another pitcher," he said slowly.

"I ordered another pitcher, and with two glasses of the stuff under our belt, we paid for it with a little more fullness of heart. Our friend, clutching a stein in one hand and a bowl of pretzels in the other, climbed majestically to the top of the table and began his oration.

"Next to rum, my friend, beer is your best friend," he began, "and who am I to turn down a friend?" "Order another pitcher," he said in a stern voice.

"Certainly, I mean certainly," we replied, "but come down off your pedestal also, or so we can talk this thing out."

HE CLIMBED DOWN AND WE began a serious discussion concerning the food value, harmful effects, and literary contributions which can be charged directly or indirectly to the liquid, beer.

And as we saw tables, pianos, pink elephants, questions, chairs, bottles, and foam whirling around the room in cyclonic fashion, we managed to pluck one question out of the whirlwind.

"Wash you think about the law," we murmured.

"What law?" he queried.

"The law," two miles out of town, Ash a student, what do you think?"

And as he slumped over the table, we managed to decipher his mumbled: "I ain't no schudent. . . . I'm a truck driver. . . . wadda I care for law?"

Da next day, gettin' da thoid degree at da bulls' hangout, all we could remember was reachin' ova and grabbin' a holt of a stein and bashin' da guy's cunk. Den we blow off da foam and settled down to some real juggling'.

a job as an umpire, and how to interpret rules. It was a big job trying to answer a flock of letters every day, so I decided to start a school."

It was McGowan's original intention to merely teach boys and young umpires who enrolled in the school at Washington. But that failed to solve the problem. He continued to be snowed under with questions in the mail. Hence the correspondence course.

Learn To Be The Boss

"My aim is to improve the sandlot and semipro umpire," Bill explained. "Of course, if the boys are ambitious about entering organized baseball, I can be helpful."

"The first thing boys must learn is to run the game—be the boss at all times, he added.

"Good umpires are in demand all ways. Baseball officials apparently take a beating from players on close decisions, but there are lots worse jobs. The idea is to be well trained, alert, in condition, and ready for every emergency. Then you don't have to worry about players shouting too much. If you're the boss and let 'em know it, they'll respect you and like you for doing your job as you see it."

"Maybe I don't know all the answers about this umpiring business," Bill concluded, "but I've been through the mill. I'll do the best I can for the boys who register under me, either as attending students at my school or as corresponding students. I'm certain I can offer them some timely help and good advice, if nothing more."

Unfavorable Weather Hinders Dogs At Eastern Beagle Club's Trials

By "Ben Beagle"

The Eastern Beagle Club held its second of a series of informal field trials Sunday at the estate of S. Hallock duPont, Milford Cross Roads. Thirty-eight canines participated.

While game was plentiful, the weather was unfavorable and running conditions were poor throughout the day. Raymond Vansant Buckingham, former secretary of the host club, and Dr. Thomas B. Snyder, Phoenixville, Pa., were judges for the 13-inch tests, and Harry Campbell, Robesonia, Pa., and Charles Marlowe, Elkton, Judge of the 15-inch division.

Elkton Dog Winner

Woodchuck Given Rating As Game In Pennsylvania

The ground hog, or woodchuck, has at last come into its own as a game animal.

Although an increasing number of riflemen—many of them carrying costly weapons fitted with telescopic sights—take the field after the woodchuck, no one has set up any rules in favor of the quarry until this fall.

Now, in Pennsylvania, a woodchuck hunter must have a state license, cannot kill more than four in a day and must observe a six-week closed season.

That the woodchuck is to be taken seriously as game is also borne out by the fact that Pennsylvania has had four casualties, hunters being mistaken for woodchucks.

Although the modern sportsman discards the woodchuck after he has killed it, and is satisfied with having destroyed a farm pest, the pioneers esteemed the woodchuck, when young and tender, as a table delicacy. Woodchuck hide made the best whiplashes and was sometimes used for moccasins.

Common House Rats Seen As Destroyer Of Game

Studies of the common house rat, intensively carried on when they became a serious pest in the trenches during the World War, show that rats take to woods and fields during the summer months. They are almost as much at home in the water as a muskrat, and destroy many forms of wildlife. In the autumn, rats seek the habitations of man. Intensive control of rats, around farm dwellings, during the winter months is important in game management.

Wyoming 4-H Club Boys And Girls Aid Campaign

The Game and Fish Commission of Wyoming has enlisted the aid of 4-H Club boys and girls in the campaign to distribute pheasants. From the state Bird Farm near Sheridan, 1,800 eggs went out to 4-H Clubs and the pheasants reared from these eggs will be planted in areas closed to shooting.

Three Age Groups Where Tuberculosis Takes Heavy Toll

Babies under one year are safer today from tuberculosis than was the case in 1928. Ten years ago, 1,300 infants less than one year old died of tuberculosis in this country, while in recent years the annual toll has been 670.

Young girls are particularly susceptible to tuberculosis. Intensive efforts, financed by Christmas Seals, are directed toward turning back the threat of this disease from young people.

While more women than men are victims of tuberculosis up to 30 years of age, the toll among men 40 to 65 years of age is approximately twice that among women of the same age.

Honey Is Means Of Retaining Moist Puddings Bread, Fruit Cakes, And Other Goods Baked At Home Are Improved Many bakery concerns are much of the fact that they use honey in baking. They do this to keep their products from drying out so rapidly. The same principle works equally well in cakes and other products baked at home. Mrs. Pearl MacDonald, extension 34, tributionist at the University of Delaware. Honey takes up moisture and holds it so fruit cakes, breads and puddings, cookies and cakes made with it stay moist a long time. But confections and puddings made with honey will be undeniably soft and sticky and take up more moisture if they are allowed to harden. You can substitute honey in a cake recipe but because of the moisture in the honey, the liquid is needed. The amount that the liquid can be reduced depends on the kind of honey—medium, thick, or light. On the proportion of honey substituted for sugar. When medium-thick honey is substituted for half the sugar in a recipe, reduce the liquid one-half. If honey is substituted for all the sugar, reduce the liquid one-third. Honey may be used in breads, brown breads, and puddings. It has much the same consistency as molasses and may be used in place of it, measure for measure. But honey contains acid than molasses; so baking soda if it is called for in the recipe, increase the quantity of baking powder. For each quarter teaspoon of soda omitted, add one teaspoon of baking powder. Otherwise the usual method in the recipe are accustomed to, including acid and temperature of baking. Gen. Craig reports army anti-tank and anti-aircraft munition reserves "far short."
