ARMISTICE DAY PLANS ARE RUINED

Rain and Cold Wind Forces Committee to Call Off Parade

VETERANS DISAPPOINTED BY TURN OF EVENTS

Had Several Speakers and Gold Star Mothers Monday

Newark's fifth Armistice Day celebration, on Monday last, was summarily called off an hour before the scheduled start of the parade, when the Committee in charge decided that owing to the persistent drizzling rain, and the cold wind, the marchers would be thrown open to heavy colds and subsequent illness, especially the children. The parade was called off shortly before 10.00 A. M.

The inclement weather kept almost everyone in doors and had the parade been held, there would have been but a handful along the curbs.

In calling off the parade, the Committee also cancelled the proposed mass meeting at Wolf Hall at 11.00, at which Prof. George H. Ryden was to speak.

When Monday morning broke dark and stormy, most people looked upon the parade cancellation as a foregone conclusion and did not put up decorations. There were few flags on display on Main Street all day.

Veterans Cancel Plans

The local Posts of the D. A. V. and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, had planned an elaborate program for the exercises in Wolf Hall, after the parade, and they, more than any one single organization in town, suffered by reason of the Committee's decision.

Several speakers, among whom was a former director of the Veterans Bureau in Philadelphia, and five or six Gold Star Mothers from out of the State were ready here in Newark for the services, but the veterans were forced to call their part of Armistice Day off, too.

There appeared to have been some misunderstanding between the members of the Veterans organizations in Newark and the Armistice Day Committee. The Veterans, through their spokesmen, assert that they were not led to believe that the Wolf Hall ceremony would be called off because of weather, and on that assumption went to considerable expense in procuring the speakers, some of whom came long distances. This expense amounting to nearly $200 must be borne by the local Posts.

Several Newark girls spent Monday selling Forget-Me-Nots for the benefit of the disabled Veterans of the War and quite a neat sum was realized. The bad weather and the lack of people in town kept down the sales, however.

Dance Well Attended

About the only event in Newark, Monday, which went through as scheduled was the dance in the Armory. Madden's music and the good floor attracted many young people from the community and it was pronounced a real success.

Local industries did not shut down during the day, probably figuring that the weather would play havoc with the parade. The bands were ready on a moment's notice, however.

The University battalion, comprising the entire student body, were excused from classes from 10.00 a. m. to 12 noon, but did not report for assembly.

HOUGHLAND VERY ILL

University Student In Wilmington Hospital; Said to Have Typhoid

Geoffrey V. C. Houghland, a member of the senior class at the University was suddenly taken ill last Friday night at his home here, and the next morning was taken to a Wilmington Hospital.

It was feared by physicians, according to reports received Monday, that young Houghland was suffering from typhoid fever. That has not been confirmed, however.

The sick man has been in charge of the University post office since college opened this Fall, carrying his regular classroom work in addition.

He is a member of the Theta Chi Fraternity.

BOOZE CARRIERS FINED

Men Caught In Newark Two Weeks Ago Before Court Violating Game Laws

James Watson, driver of the truck laden with 375 gallons of alleged alcohol, which was seized by County officers on Delaware Avenue, here about a week ago, was fined $500 and costs by Judge Rice in General Sessions Court this week. His companion, Watkins, was set free, as he proved that he had no part in the affair.

The truck was sold by the sheriff to the highest bidder, and the alleged alcohol sent to Philadelphia where it is being held by Federal authorities.

ON CHICAGO TRIP

Dean McCue and Professor Schuster Attending Meetings in Western City

Dean C. A. McCue of the School of Agriculture of the University, is attending a meeting of representatives of Land Grant Colleges of the country being held this week in Chicago.

Prof. George L. Schuster, of the same department, is also in Chicago, attending a meeting of the American Agronomy Society.

DOVER BEATEN IN CLOSE GAME

Out Rush High in Last Quarter But One Point Lead Held

SCORE WAS 26-25

The first of the series of crucial games for the secondary High School championship of the State resulted in a Newark victory Friday afternoon, when Dover High, champions of all they have surveyed this season, fell before the local attack in one of the most exciting High School games seen on a local field.

The score, 26-25, remains as the tribute to a goal from touchdown by M. Hopkins.

Both teams scored four touchdowns, making them in such a way as to keep the big crowd on tip toe all through the game. Neither team was out in front for any appreciable time and each was in danger up to the final minute.

Newark electrified their adherents when they scored in the first two minutes of play, when, after the kickoff, the locals rushed the ball over before Dover could gather themselves together.

From then on it was anybody's game.

Three touchdowns were scored by Newark in the first half, and when time was called, the score stood 19-12 in favor of the locals.

In the second half, Dover played Newark almost off their feet, rushing the ball up and down the field, and scoring two more touchdowns.

Their final score came with the score 25-19 against them. Hayes dropped back to kick the goal that would tie the score, but he was rushed by Chalmers and MacMurray and failed to clear the line of scrimmage with the ball.

From then to the end of the game Newark fought practically all the way on the defensive, and prevented another score. The rooters went wild at the close of the game and mobbed the home players in the excitement of victory.

Dover showed a remarkable High School team, well coached, fast and with a backfield hard to stop.

Teat, Wright, and J. Maloney starred in the backfield for Dover, the former getting away for several long runs.

For Newark, the all round work of Captain Hopkins featured the bitter struggle. He was in almost every play on the defense and was the most consistent ground gainer on the team. Patchell again ran the team readily, and Townsend made many good tackles. Shorty Chalmers, Doordan, Billy Armstrong and Doyle played hard driving games in the line and often broke through their heavier opponents and smeared plays.

CORRECTION

It was erroneously inferred in The Post last week that the Armistice Day dance in the Armory, last Monday night, was to benefit the football team. The dance was given to aid the Battery E Athletic Association. The Post gladly corrects the error.

HAVE YOU JOINED?

ROLL CALL, NOVEMBER 11-29

INCREASED CAPITAL OF NEWARK TRUST CO.

Stockholders Authorize Jump to $100,000 by Unanimous Vote

SOME OFFERED FOR SALE

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company last Wednesday evening, it was decided to increase the capital stock of the bank to $100,000. Capitalization heretofore has been $50,000. The increase is effective on December 31st, 1923.

The decision was made as the result of a vote by the stockholders of the institution. Out of a possible 1000, 918 shares were voted unanimously in favor of the increase in capitalization. This ranks the Newark Trust as one of the few banks in rural Delaware with capital stock reaching this figure.

To Sell Stock

At the directors' meeting this evening, a stock dividend of 50 per cent will be declared as of December 31, 1923.

The remainder of the increased amount of stock will be offered to existing stockholders at $110 per share. This offer closes on November 21st. After that date, all of the stock remaining will be available for purchase by the general public.

HOLSTEIN-HARVEY MEET HERE FRIDAY

To Organize Consumers' Club At Armory; Morton Harvey to Speak

A meeting of importance to householders of this vicinity occurs next Friday evening in the Armory, when an effort will be made to organize a Co-operative Consumers Club here, under the direction of the Holstein Harvey corporation of Wilmington. Several entertaining features are scheduled, along with an address by Morton Harvey, president of the concern. Many prizes will be awarded to lucky holders of coupons mailed to Newark people this week.

At a meeting in Elkton last evening, Mrs. L. Edward Phillips was elected president of a similar club in that town.

SLIGHT ACCIDENT

Mrs. C. B. Evans Car and Apple Wagon Came Together Friday

A small touring car loaded with 25 baskets of apples collided with a coupe driven by Mrs. Charles B. Evans at noon Friday last at the corner of Main Street and South College Avenue. Neither car was damaged by the collision.

DAVID C. ROSE PLACED ON RETIRED LIST BY P. R. R. AFTER 43 YEARS OF SERVICE

Prominent Newark Resident Was in Charge of Landscape Department for the Entire Time—Service Ended November 1st

PLANS TO LEAVE FOR FLORIDA DECEMBER 1st

After more than 43 years of service, former State Senator David C. Rose, of Newark, was placed on the retired list of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company the first of this month. Mr. Rose, who is 66 years old, retired at his own request on the grounds of physical disability. For the past two or three years he has been on furlough most of the time, largely due to his health. His retirement also places him on the railroad pension list.

Mr. Rose entered the employ of the railroad company in April, 1880, and the entire 43 years and six months was spent in the railroad's landscape department. The first two years of his employment was in the gardening department between Wilmington and Darby, and he then lived in Wilmington. After that he was sent to Newark to take charge of the large green house, then located just east of the Old Station, and he moved to Newark and has lived here ever since.

When Mr. Rose first took charge of the green house, C. T. Hayes was landscape engineer of the division and J. E. Smith was general foreman. He was Mr. Smith's assistant. On the death of Mr. Hayes the general foreman was promoted to the former's position, and Mr. Rose became general foreman. On the retirement of Mr. Smith, about three years ago, Mr. Rose took his place and had charge of the gardening work from Philadelphia to Baltimore, Philadelphia to West Chester and also on the Octararo and the Columbia divisions of the system. This position he held at the time of his retirement two weeks ago. For about twenty years the large green houses at Newark, in charge of Mr. Rose, supplied the plants used in the landscape work on the entire Pennsylvania System. From 12 to 15 men were generally employed at the green houses under the supervision of Mr. Rose. About fifteen years ago the green houses were done away with when the railroad adopted the hearty shrubbery and grass idea eliminating soft bed planting.

Mr. Rose is known personally to most every railroad man between Philadelphia and Baltimore and counts among his personal friends some of the highest officials of the road.

As has been their custom for several years, Mr. and Mrs. Rose will spend the coming winter in Florida. They plan to leave for the south about December 1st and will remain there until May. They have been spending a few weeks in Florida every winter for a good many years, but the past few years practically the entire winter has been spent there.

Mr. Rose in recent years has been keenly interested in the development of West Palm Beach. He is financially interested in and is also one of the directors of The Inn, a modern hotel (Continued on Page 5.)

GOING TO ENGLAND

Frank Mackey to Spend Seven Weeks In English Fibre Plant

Frank Mackey, well known young resident of Newark and an expert in the making of paper and fibre products, is spending a few days in town preparatory to leaving for Birmingham, England, where he will spend seven weeks as a consulting engineer in a large fibre mill. He has been employed for the past few months by a paper concern near Northfield, Mass.

Mr. Mackey was ready to sail for Japan to join the staff in a brand new fibre plant in that country. The earthquake and fire, however, wiped out the entire plant, which was situated near Yokohama. While in England, Frank expects to spend several days with Gray Carter now attending Oxford University.

TABLEAU IMPRESSES AT BATTERY DANCE

"Poppy Field In Flanders" Subject of Clever Stage Effect

During the Armistice Day dance given Monday evening by the Battery E Athletic Association, the young people were treated to a clever and original tableau arranged and staged by the boys of the Armory.

As the hour of 11 approached a realistic bombardment took place with the orchestra playing "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." Later all the lights went dim and finally out, and when they came on a scene "The Poppy Field of Flanders" appeared on a specially constructed stage at one end of the drill hall.

Rows of crosses, and over five hundred poppies were used in the tableau, and it deeply impressed all who were present.

Charles Green, a student of the University, read a few stanzas from an appropriate poem.

PLAN FOR BIG GAME

Plans are being made by Newark residents of all parts of the State to attend the Delaware-Dickinson game on Franklin Field on Saturday, November 24th.

University authorities are expecting to charter a special train to carry Newark Rooters. Tickets are on sale at the business office. All seats will be priced the same.

With the addition of hundreds of Philadelphia Alumni of both colleges and the regular quota of football fans who never miss a game in the big stadium, a record crowd for an outside game is expected.

P. T. ASSOCIATION IN REGULAR SESSION

Children Give Playlet and Clever Demonstration

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held Thursday evening, November 1, in the High School building.

Miss Harriet Wilson's class gave a demonstration. There was also an interesting drill in arithmetic, and a little play, "Hansel and Gretel," given in a most acceptable and clever manner.

Later a short business session was held. Mrs. Townsend reported funds in the treasury, and Mr. Owens suggested it be spent for a set of books on the "World War."

Mrs. Wilkinson reported on the crowded condition of the seventh and eighth grades in the local schools. Adjournment followed.

HARRY N. REED IS DEATH VICTIM

Prominent Newark Man Passed Away Yesterday Morning in Baltimore Hospital

LIVED HERE 35 YEARS

Was Treasurer of Curtis and Brother, Inc., and Prominent Church Worker

After an illness of but three weeks, following a gradual decline in health for the past year, Harry N. Reed, one of Newark's prominent and useful citizens passed away in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Tuesday morning of this week at 4 a. m. He was about 60 years of age.

Death was due to a complication of diseases, followed by a sudden attack of pneumonia, suffered while under treatment at the hospital in preparation for an operation. He went to Baltimore for that purpose, but the operation was delayed due to the weakness of the patient. An effort was being made by physicians to build him up to withstand the ordeal, when the fatal illness occurred.

Funeral services will be held from his late residence, on West Main Street, Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in White Clay Creek Cemetery.

Mr. Reed had, since last February, been treasurer and a director in the firm of Curtis and Brother, Inc., in Newark, and prior to that time had spent twenty-one years in their employ of the firm. He was a valuable member of the firm and aided materially in building it up to its present high position in the line of paper-makers.

The deceased was born in Kent County, Delaware, but moved to Newark when a young man. He entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and some time afterward was appointed station master at Newark Center. This position he held with honor until 1902, when he joined the staff at the Curtis Mill.

Throughout his busy life, Mr. Reed took an active interest in local affairs. He was an active member of the Presbyterian Church all his life, being during his later years an elder. He was also, for a long span of years, president of the Christian Endeavor Society of the local church. In church work as in every other activity he undertook, he had a large following and gave his best in everything he did.

He was also a member of the Hiram Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Newark, Odd Fellows, American Mechanics, and A. O. U. W. He was a director of the Newark Building and Loan Association and one of its active proponents when it was started.

The deceased was married twice. His first wife, formerly Miss Mazie Williams, daughter of the late George Williams, and sister of Mrs. J. Penrose Wilson, died some years ago. One son by his first marriage, H. Newell Reed, still survives and is living in California. Mr. Reed was married again later in life and his widow survives him. She was formerly Miss Irene Street, of Newark.

The deceased had a host of friends in the community, and they were shocked to hear of his death Tuesday. Of quiet disposition, yet full of fun and with a glad word for all, he was easily one of the town's best-loved citizens.

FLORAL WREATH PLACED ON BOULDER

"K. K. K." Pinned on Silk Ribbon; Placed Monday Morning

Early Monday morning, residents of Newark passing along Main Street were attracted by a floral wreath on the Memorial Boulder on the University Campus.

Investigation showed a floral formation in the shape of a cross made from Carnations. On either side of the tribute there was placed a small American Flag.

Pinned to the flowers was a newspaper clipping of the Poem—"You and You," by Edith Wharton. A ribbon attached was marked K. K. K. It is presumed, of course, that members of the Klan placed the wreath. Inquiries among students and University officials fail to bring out when it was placed or by whom.

No one seems to know whether it was placed there at night or early Monday morning.

COOPERATIVE MARKETING

BY C. A. McCUE, Dean and Director, University of Delaware

Successful commodity selling organizations for farm produce are organized on the commodity basis and not on a locality basis. Many promising co-operative marketing organizations have gone on the rocks because they were organized on a locality basis and not a commodity basis. Mr. Aaron Sapiro says "The commodity idea must be handled within practical limits. But the commodity idea is the first thing to bear in mind when you are thinking of successful co-operative associations."

A university rule that should be rigidly held to is that co-operative commodity associations should be composed of farmers only. A man may be a merchant and a farmer; but he should qualify as a farmer, he must actually have something to sell through the association. Every member of the association must have a community interest with every other member of the association.

A co-operative commodity selling association must be organized for business purposes only. There should be no room for politics or jingo. The association should be a business organization not a debating society.

There is room in Delaware Agriculture for co-operative commodity selling organizations. The grape industry of Delaware is ripe for such an organization.

The sweet potato industry ought to be a very fertile field for organization. Every grower of sweet potatoes is familiar with what the whole potato selling organization of the Eastern Shore of Virginia has done for the Eastern Shore counties of Virginia. There are even greater possibilities with sweet potatoes in Delaware.

Any co-operative marketing association should be organized on a permanent basis. A bank cannot start without permanent capital, neither can a co-operative association, if it hopes to survive. Co-operative contracts should bind a majority of the produce to be sold. The raisin growers association of California started out with controlling 75 per cent of the raisin output. An egg marketing association started out by controlling the output from 1,000,000 hens. Today this association controls the marketing of eggs from 2,300,000 hens. No co-operative selling contract should be effective until a minimum of production to be controlled is established and reached.

The justification of co-operative marketing is that it has been the means of a more progressive form of living and a superior type of citizenship and an economic remedy for marketing ills.

Delaware needs co-operative marketing. Mr. Aaron Sapiro will be in this state November 21st to 24th to tell how it may be done. Mr. Sapiro's visit holds untold possibilities for the future of Delaware's agricultural prosperity.

Columbia Record—They say there is an increase in child labor. We say it isn't noticeable around the home.

The Best is None too Good

This old adage is especially true with reference to bathing and toilet equipment.

No dwelling is safe that is lacking in sanitation.

The church, theater, school or office building that does not provide sanitary toilet and wash room facilities menaces health.

The old-fashioned water closet—or the out door privy—wherever found, should be replaced with a modern sanitary fixture. Comfort requires and demands modern sanitary water closets.

Let Good Health Week, October 21st to 27th, find your property completely equipped for sanitation, ventilation and hygiene.

We'll gladly serve you—to your advantage.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

AS TOLD BY CORRESPONDENTS AND EXCHANGE

THEY WERE LOOKING BUT SHE DIDN'T DROP

Dirigible TC-2 Leaves Residents of Elkton "Holding The Bag"

In response to a telephone call from the Government station at Perryville early Saturday evening, the Singlerly Fire Company took out an engine and travelled to a field belonging to Frank B. Evans, near town, and waited patiently for the landing of the United States blimp TC-2, en route from Mitchell Field, L. I., to Aberdeen.

But the firemen, together with a big crowd of thrill seekers, were given the go-by and never did see the airship land. But thereby hangs a tale.

It appears that the blimp, a powerful ship, but not as big as the "Shenandoah," made a late start from Long Island Saturday afternoon, and became confused in direction while flying over Delaware.

A radio message from the pilot of the blimp was picked up by the government wireless at Perryville. While not in distress, the commanding officer stated that he would have to make a landing soon, as he had lost his way in the darkness.

Accordingly, Elkton was informed and the news spread like wildfire.

The firemen took out their truck with the big searchlight, and many cars went to the Evans field, hoping that by their light, they would make a ring in which the airship might land.

Residents heard the humming of the motors, signifying the approach of the TC-2 and as it grew louder, the streets were thronged with people gazing aloft. The big machine circled over the town several times, and once looked like it was going to land as per schedule, but finally few northward, and disappeared in the darkness.

The firemen folded up their apparatus and went home, and the thrill was missed by all.

The ghostly shape of the ship in the darkness, however, was clearly seen by many people. It was burning a red and green light and had a searchlight aboard.

In landing earlier in the day at Mitchell Field, a tragedy occurred, when an enlist man was carried aloft when the big bag broke her moorings, and before the horrified eyes of his comrades fell from a height of 1000 feet to his death.

SUPRISED THEIR FRIENDS

A quiet wedding of two young people of this vicinity occurred at the home of the Rev. John McElmoyle, of Elkton, Saturday last, when Miss Elizabeth Taylor, of Elkton, and Mr. Ralph Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robinson, of Newark, were married in the presence of but two or three witnesses.

The bride is well known in Elkton and is prominent in the social life among the younger people. Mr. Robinson has been living in the Maryland town for several months. He is in business with his father, and is engaged in piping and plumbing work, handling the Elkton and Cecil County work.

For the present the bride and groom will make their home with Mrs. Robinson's mother, in Elkton.

Elkton Personals

William Lewis, of University, Maryland, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Winfield Lewis.

Mr. H. Frank Hurn and family motored to Philadelphia Saturday. Mr. Hurn and Mr. D. J. Ayerst attended the Penn-Lafayette game.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer McFadden, of Singlerly, had as their guest over Sunday their son, Charles, who is attending the University of Maryland.

Mrs. Ida Burkley and Miss Edith Burkley are having extensive repairs made in the apartment over their store. They expect to occupy the apartment at a very early date.

Last Thursday evening a Smoker was given in the Parish House by the minister, Mr. Virgin. Many of the young men of the town were present as well as some of the older, and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Miss Hilda McCool, who has been ill for the past week, is able to be up and around again.

ELKTON OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

Big Mass Meeting in New Theatre Addressed by Judge D. O. Hastings

EVERY SEAT TAKEN AND MANY FORCED TO STAND

Monument Beautifully Decorated by Women's Committee

Elkton and Cecil County paid homage to the boys who lost their lives in the great war on Sunday last when the fifth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice was observed.

Hundreds of people from Elkton and the entire northern half of this county crowded into the big new Community Playhouse.

The services were started at three o'clock, but long before the appointed hour, every seat in the auditorium was taken, and late comers were standing three and four feet deep in the rear.

Chairman Feehly and his efficient committee members had everything arranged to a nicety and the program given was quite on a par with any given in that town on a similar occasion.

Judge Daniel O. Hastings, judge of the Municipal Court in Wilmington, made the principal address of the afternoon. Judge Hastings emphasized by brief recountings of the incidents which led up to the great conflict in Europe, that there must be some way in which peace, an honest peace, may be given to every nation under the sun.

The speaker in the course of his remarks stated that he was against the League of Nations at the time of its issue in Washington, except with reservations made by the Senate, but added that while against the measure, he was generally in favor with the motives behind it, heartily in accord with the attempt to take some step towards permanent peace.

Quartet Sings Well

The Elkton Quartet, composed of two men and two women, sang two old favorites during the services, "Lead Kindly Light," and "The Recessional." They later led the audience in singing "America."

Rev. P. P. Arndt, of the Catholic Church in Elkton, made the invocation, which was followed shortly later by the roll call of the boys who made the supreme sacrifice "over there."

As the names were called out, they were also flashed upon the screen, with the theatre in complete darkness. As each name flashed on and remained for a few seconds, everyone in the audience remembered.

As Judge Hastings said later in the program:

"What I could say to you about the boys who never came back would be nothing compared to the vivid recollections of their deeds brought about by the flashing of their names upon the screen."

Rev. W. G. Harris, pastor of the Elkton M. E. Church, offered an eloquent prayer, following the main address. Rev. John McElmoyle pronounced the benediction.

Music was also rendered during the services by the Elkton Orchestra and also by an accomplished organist from Northeast.

The Soldiers' Monument at the Court House was a beautiful sight Sunday. Great bunches of Fall flowers were arranged about the base of the statue in a pleasing effect, by members of the Women's Soldiers Monument Committee.

The Way It Was

"A girl over beyond Mounty Piggy ran away with a feller night before last and got married," related Gap Johnson, of Rumpus Ridge. "She's got a father, three uncles, two grandfathers and four brothers, all of which took down their guns as soon as they heered about it, an'—"

"Great grief!" ejaculated his hearer. "And follered 'em and shot 'em both to pieces."

"Not prezisely. In fact, they all went over and shivareed the young folks as soon as they got back from marrying."—Kansas City Star.

DELAWARE FARMERS WILL HAVE AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY To Study Co-operative Commodity Marketing of Farm Products

Through the generosity of the Service Citizens of Delaware the Agricultural Department of the University of Delaware has been able to secure the services of Mr. Aaron Sapiro for a series of lectures in Delaware.

Arrangements have been made for Mr. Sapiro to speak in the duBarry Room of the Hotel DuPont in Wilmington on the afternoon of Tuesday, Nov. 20th; at Laurel the afternoon of Wednesday, November 21st; at Seaford the evening of Thursday, November 22nd; at Milford the afternoon of Friday, November 23rd; and at Dover the afternoon of Saturday, November 24th. Dean C. A. McCue of the University is looking for a record attendance at these meetings.

Mr. Sapiro is often called the evangelist of cooperative marketing and everywhere recognized as a world authority on the subject. Ever since Mr. Sapiro as a small newsboy organized a gang of smaller boys in San Francisco to thresh the bullies, who tried to steal their news corners, he has believed in and practiced co-operation. He has actively preached co-operative marketing since the time he was counsel for the California State Market Commission, eight years ago. Since that time Mr. Sapiro has become a national figure. His first great work was the formation of the California Raisin Growers' Association. About two ears ago he successfully organized the marketing of tobacco in the dark tobacco regions of Kentucky, and the bright tobacco districts of Virginia and the Carolinas. He has assisted the cotton growers of the South, and the potato growers of the Central Northwest in forming marketing associations. Mr. Sapiro is a "direct actionist" for successful, orderly, co-operative marketing of farm commodities. He has taken an old subject and blazed a new path. Sapiro, a Jewish orphan, brought up in an orphan asylum, has within a few short years made himself an international figure and his brain has made its imprint upon the world's markets wherever America's farm products are found.

WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Head of Christiana Presbyterian Church, Wednesday afternoon last, when Miss Ethel Mae Teague, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Teague, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Teague, of near Newark, became the bride of Mr. Carl W. Feucht. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, potted plants and pink and white chrysanthemums.

The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Lucy Brickly. The bride was gowned in white flat crepe with veil and carried brides' roses. Miss Lenna Teague, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and was attractively gowned in honey dew satin back crepe and carried pink chrysanthemums. Mr. Leo Nurnberg was best man and Mr. Harold Teague, brother of the bride and Mr. Norris Brown were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Feucht left for Washington and points south.

After their return they will reside on a farm near Elkton.

Mr. and Mrs. Feucht were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

GROUP MEETING AT MARSHALTON

On Monday evening, in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Marshalton, there was a meeting of the Newark Group of churches to consider the New World Service program. Ministers and officials were present from the following churches: Newark, Hockessin, Ebenezer, Cedars and Marshalton. Dr. Crooks, of Newark, gave a very interesting and profitable speech on the foreign mission work as carried on under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church in many lands. Dr. Colona made an address on the New World Service Program, and Rev. Gehman spoke on The Home Mission Program.

Old Roman Laws

Many of our laws have their basis in the old Roman laws. In early days of the Roman Empire a man could not exercise control over his estate after death. Later in the march of progress this was changed.

There would be many protests now if the State did not give men the privilege to dispose of their property as they see fit. Yet many do not make use of their privilege. They die intestate and the fixed laws of descent become effective.

Any attorney will be pleased to explain present laws effecting Wills and a descent of property. Our officers will be glad to discuss the administrative side with you.

Harry Reed

Quiet, unassuming, honest to a fault, a staunch citizen, valiant for Truth—these are words that everyone used in describing Harry Reed. He was positive in convictions but never aggressive; kindly but never dramatic; strong but never a fighter. He was not a leader of men in a spectacular sense, but a tower of strength in any worthy movement. Modest in social and civic and church affairs, yet his interest, time and energy has been the secret of many a Success. His co-workers at the Curtis Plant, his associates in the church, and a host of friends will miss his life and work. But his quiet, subtle and Christian influence will inspire for many a day. A Christian Gentleman has passed this way—we knew him as Harry Reed. His monument will not be a Shaft signalling dramatic events—but Love in the hearts of those who knew him.

house on Tuesday afternoon, November 13. Only a business meeting was held, and at the end Miss Hurd read a short and amusing sketch entitled, "Who Wrote Shakespeare?"

On December 4, at 5 o'clock, the club will give a supper in the club house. There will also be fancy work, cake and candy tables, and other attractions.

It is requested that all donations of fancy work be sent as soon as possible to either Mrs. Neal, Mrs. Bonham, or Mrs. Cann.

NEW CENTURY CLUB NEWS

The Newark New Century Club held its regular meeting in the club

The photo shows the group of University of Delaware students that is in France under the Foreign Study Plan that was worked out by Professor Raymond W. Kirkbride, of the University faculty. The headquarters of the group is at Nancy, France. The above photo was taken in front of the famous "Golden Gates," in the Place Stanislas, that city.

DAVID C. ROSE PLACED ON RETIRED LIST

built in West Palm Beach two years ago. On the completion of the hotel he and his wife made that their winter home and disposed of a house that he had previously built there for a home. In addition to his many other interests, Mr. Rose found time for years to take an active part in politics of the State and was a Democratic leader. He served his party four years (one term) in the Senate at Dover and two terms (four years) in the House, making a total of eight years that he served in the Legislature. For four years he was a member of the State Revenue and Taxation Commission and was Jury Commissioner for New Castle County for three years. He also served on the Jamestown Exposition Commission while the late

Preston Lea was Governor. Mr. Rose's interests in Newark are varied and many. He has always been a keen real estate dealer in Newark properties and has probably done more than any other one man towards the development of local real estate and bringing desirable residents to Newark. While in the Legislature he secured the charter for the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company now a flourishing banking institution. He has been a member of the Board of Directors since it was created and is now secretary of the Board.

For more than 30 years he has been a director of the Newark Building and Loan Association and has been president of the Board for nearly that long. He has also been a member of the vestry of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church for about thirty years. His lodges include the Masons and Red Men.

Mrs. R. W. Heim was hostess last Friday afternoon to a number of Newark friends at a tea.

PRIMARY SCHOOL SURE OF PIANO

$91.93 Cleared at Bake Last Saturday

As bakes go, the most successful one we have ever had in the town was held Saturday, November tenth, under the direction of Miss Harriet Wilson, head of the Primary Department of the Public School. Last spring Miss Wilson with Miss Rutledge conceived the idea of buying a piano for the department and it was useless to make application to the Board of Education on account of no funds. Last spring these ladies took charge of and conducted a very successful pageant. Being still short of funds Miss Wilson inaugurated this bake and I have been creditably informed that the sale continued for two hours and the net proceeds were $91.93. Before this bake, Miss Wilson had the assurance of some of her lady friends that they would furnish the balance of the money required for the piano, thus the department is sure of their piano. The pupils, the parents and the friends appreciate this effort.

40 VISITING GRANGERS AT HARMONY

Harmony Grange Holds Big Meeting in Hall Monday Night

DISCUSS STATE FAIR

The regular meeting of Harmony Grange met on Monday evening. Forty members of the Centerville Grange were entertained. During the course of the business meeting, the question of buying nuts and grapes in wholesale lots was thoroughly discussed. Another question, Would the grange uphold the continuing of the present Delaware Stat Fair, arose. After a lengthy discussion, the grange members came to the conclusion that they thought a fair was needed in this section of the State, but could not decide whether present conditions of the fair should continue. Worthy Master Frederick, together with several of the Worthy Past Masters, of Centerville, were called upon. All responded. Brother O. W. Eastburn was another visitor present. He called the attention of those present to the fact that a majority of the granges of New Castle County would be 50 years old in 1924. Harmony reminded him that they had celebrated their 40th anniversary and were looking forward to the celebration of their 50th in 1925. Harmony Grange has 7 charter members living. The grange was closed in full form that the lecturers hour might be open as several outside visitors were present. The lecturer's hour opened with a violin solo by Sister Patterson accompanied by Sister Blanch Derickson. Brother Cooper recited four of Robert Burns' short love poems, in the Scottish dialect. A short play, "A Man Behind the Sofa," was given by nine patrons. Sister Lillian Denison gave one of Will Carleton's love poems. The grange united in singing "The Star Spangled Banner," fitting to Armistice Day. A second short play, "The Travelling Photographer," closed the social hour. Seventy-five members of the Harmony Grange were present. The lecturer announced that November 26th would be Brothers' Night.

TOWN TEAM POINTING FOR BIGGEST GAME IN YEARS ON NEWARK GRIDIRON

Under Leadership of "Dick" Holton, the Local Warriors Are Shaping Up As Real Champions

WILL PLAY FIBRE CO. TEAM NEXT SATURDAY

At last two great rivals have been booked to perform on a Newark gridiron.

Arrangements have been made for a football game between Newark A. C. and Elkton, to be played on a local field, probably Frazer Field, on Thanksgiving Day. Papers have been signed and everything is in readiness for the game which all local fans have been wanting to see.

The proposed game has been hanging fire for several weeks. Elkton agreed to come over the six miles of mainland for the game for the slight sum of fifty dollars. Feeling that this was a trifle steep, the local management offered a counter-proposition in which the two teams should play on a percentage basis. This was refused by Elkton.

Then to show that Newark really wanted the game, the local leaders offered a "winner take all" agreement which was finally accepted by our Maryland rivals.

So everything is turkey, as they say down in the Elk River bullrushes.

Submit List of Eligibles
Both teams have been required to submit lists of eligible splayers in the forthcoming struggle. The lists were to have been in rival managers' hands Monday evening, and it is believed the agreement was complied with.

Coach Dick Holton of the local team stated that evening, that the Newark list would stand, and the men who have been playing their best all season will start the "croocial" game, regardless of the result. He further added that if Elkton chose to disregard the eligibility list and play imported players, Newark would suffer the defeat rather than go back on its word.

Team Is Developing

In speaking of the prospects of Newark's team, Holton said:

"I believe Newark is at least two touchdowns better than it was at the time of the Parkside game. Parkside players stated that Newark was the hardest team they had struck up to that time. Since then the Wilmington lads have held Defiance to a tie, and Defiance ranks as perhaps the strongest team in the State. Frankly and honestly, I believe Newark has a team this year which ranks on a par with any in the State, and with a few weeks practice, I will stack them up against any of them and be confident of victory. The boys are working hard and the coaching is easy. They all want to win, and are eager to learn. With this spirit always evident, Newark fans are going to see a real football team in action on Thanksgiving Day."

Lack of funds has hindered the local cause considerably. Although none of the players receive money for their work, there are several details of expense in running a game and the local treasury is about depleted.

The boys practice in the Armory several times a week running through signals on the drill floor and practicing line play, blocking and charging on the wrestling mats in the basement. In this way, Coach Holton is making the best of the limited amount of practice periods which can be used.

Play Diamond State

The Newark warriors with their regular lineup, will journey to Second and DuPont Streets, Wilmington, Saturday next where they will hook up with the strong Diamond State Fibre Co. Team, which defeated Elkton twice this season. The results of the game will be watched with interest.

PICTURE OF PERSHING

A big autographed photograph of General J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the Army, adorns the wall of the office of the Rehabilitation Building here these days. It is inscribed "To The Rehabilitation Division of the University of Delaware, Sincerely, John J. Pershing."

This admirable gift was made through the efforts of James King and D. J. Mustoine, members of the Rehab unit in Newark. King, an old-line "regular," served in the 6th Artillery, under Pershing. The General was mighty glad to see one of his own workers, when the two met in Washington about a month ago. Then along came the picture.

NEW MEAT SLICER

A new design meat slicer and packer has been installed in C. B. Dean's store on Main Street. It is almost uncanny in its work, cutting cheese, dried beef, ham and bacon, and packing it, if necessary, in special cartons. It is a splendid addition to the Dean store.

AN APPRECIATION OF DELMARVIA

BY JOHN STEVENSON McMASTER

Written Especially for The Post

Editor Johnson of The Newark Post and I took our first swallow of milk years apart in the Land of Evergreens in the lower part of Delmarvia, and with these swallows and others came a great love for our native Peninsula that has fortunately never left us, and shows signs of hanging on. He now writes me to write "a little article" sometime on my hobby, as he is sure his readers will enjoy it. Just such requests as these have often given his readers welcome words on many subjects from many people, including our mutual friend, Dr. Edward Noble Vallandigham, author of that delightful book entitled, "Delaware and the Eastern Shore" and which has been recently followed by another most interesting book entitled "The Chesapeake Bay Country" by my friend, Wesson Earle. Dr. Vallandigham sometime ago wrote of my law office in a Delmarvia Watch Tower on the banks of the Hudson just three minutes from New York City. He also has a similar Watch Tower in the suburbs of Boston.

Reverend Dr. Willets, now deceased, was one of the most charming and delightful lecturers I ever heard of, such in the same class as Reverend J. Conwell of Philadelphia. Dr. Willets when beginning to lecture was accustomed to say with a happy smile that he had sixty lectures, each entitled "Sunshine." I can in a measure say that I have as many and each one entitled "Delmarvia" or Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia.

How fortunate Newark and vicinity to have The Kells Printing Plant. It is so beautifully located at the foot of Iron Hill and other Hills in the upper part of Delmarvia where the States meet and yet convenient to the great cities of the East. How wish the Delaware University occupied all of Iron Hill, which was thought of as a suitable site for the Capital of the United States. The "Post" is unique among country papers; so high in its aims, so full of spirit and well balanced and beautifully printed. How I wish every farmer and present student of Delaware University could read it each week as I do, and so keep up with Delaware University news as well as with much else of interest and profit.

Besides the Newark Post I have long subscribed to nearly every paper published from Delmar to Cape Charles, so that through that and frequent visits "down home" my Watch Tower gets some fine and interesting views of Delmarvia,—that Peninsula which is still very English in so many respects was from the very beginning so choice in so many ways that three States seized portions of it and have ever since held on to their portions with commendable pride and each one now trying to excel the other. Though different in forms of government they are fortunately much the same in spirit and growing more so, as they are enabled to see more of each other through the fine improved road system which is now rapidly extending throughout this notable "3 in 1" Peninsula with its index finger pointing to our Southland.

This is a friendly country where people know and love each other and where you are not lost in the crowd as is the case in most of our large cities. When people sing "Oh To Be Nothing" I cannot help but say to myself "Go to New York, the greatest city on earth, without a home in it such as we Delmarvians love most, with yards and gardens and views of sky and woods and water, etc."

After spending about six weeks in the city I generally take a week or week-end off and instead of going on a spree, as many used to do in the good old days, I go mostly to various parts of Delmarvia to make short calls on my relatives and friends and visit familiar or some new localities, going from end to end of the Peninsula, and taking in as I did recently an excursion of the A. P. V. A. from Cape Charles to Jamestown and later a three day excursion with the Eastern Shore Society of Baltimore to Chestertown, Easton and Cambridge—two grand trips, and in each case on a specially chartered steamboat which childlike we called "our yacht." As I have in my immediate line of ancestry a physician and a Presbyterian minister each of whom practiced their professions for nearly forty years in the lower part of the Eastern Shore of Maryland and vicinity I, like a duck who takes to water at once, often have the call by reason of such an ancestry to quit the Law for a while in the great crowded, noisy city and go to my restful, native Heath, where I can relax and enjoy some of the finest and most wholesome experiences of some of my dearest ancestors, some of whom date back to the earliest settlers in the Eastern Shore of Virginia.

After having traveled several times to Europe and across the American and Canadian Continents to the Pacific and in the far South and to the West Indies and South America and Panama Canal I now appreciate by contrast more than I did before the many advantages of our beloved Peninsula. In view of this I am now trying to persuade our young people especially to stay in Delmarvia in some congenial section and work on or near the many "acres of diamonds" there and grow up with the country, and be contented to make their mark in life right there, where there are as many opportunities for success for most persons as in most other places. Though we have worked wonders in this section in so many ways there is much more to be done for its improvement and toward attaining its highest development and which will be done in time. What a privilege our coming young people have in helping along the above. Whilst mostly a level country nearly surrounded by water and with enumerable water ways running through it there is much variety in the towns and country sections and plenty of room for several millions more people. Notwithstanding its fine percentage of cultivation there is much land yet which can profitably be cultivated or made to grow valuable timber.

The Southern tip of the Peninsula occupied by the two counties of Virginia now have the largest percentage of production of any country sections in the United States, and this fine percentage can be largely extended throughout most of the Peninsula. Newark and vicinity is dear to me. There my first McMaster ancestor in this Country graduated at the Newark Academy, the forerunner of Delaware University, in the class of 1774, and there I one hundred and three years later boarded and attended Delaware College as a member of the class of 1880.

Through my ancestors on both my father's and mother's side I have tender associations with almost every section of Delmarvia, especially the lower Evergreen portion, which I delight in cultivating as I do my flowers, and which have always given me such great pleasure and especially so these latter days. Nearly every section of this Peninsula has of late improved rapidly in many ways. To see this fully take the country papers and travel about this Peninsula as I do, and plan to keep on doing, and thereby also meet its many interesting and charming people.

You and I own all of the roads and water ways down there and should at least travel along them to thank our friends for keeping up their places so well and paying the taxes, etc., and to especially thank them for the fine roads now being extended throughout the Peninsula and for the Welcome Signs posted here and there by the Rotarians and others, and for the modern hotels lately built, with more soon to be built.

Also to again thank the great duPonts for their many great gifts to Delaware, thus giving among other things an honorary title to all appreciative Delawarvians of D. D. D. standing of Delaware, Diamonds and DuPont.

Besides I urge all of us to stand by Delaware and the Eastern Shore and feel at home in every part of it, and to thank those citizens from one section of Delmarvia who have built such attractive summer homes and establish business relations in other sections of Delmarvia, as this creates the right sort of neighborly spirit.

The twenty or more already endowed Old Home Prizes in various schools of Delmarvia have for their chief aim the creation among our advanced scholars of a better knowledge of the past and present of Delmarvia and suggestions for its future improvement, besides learning the aims and advantages of an endowment.

My space is now more than taken up, so I must close, though I have only touched the fringe of my hobby.

JOHN S. McMASTER.

The Newark Post

is a Country Weekly, published every Wednesday afternoon at the Shop called Kells, at Newark, Delaware. It is a country paper, neither pretending nor aping anything else. In fact it is proud to be known and read as such.

Our News

We feature news of Newark, surrounding country and neighboring towns. We advertise our town, tell its story and try to reflect the spirit of this good country side and the good folk living here. Along with the news, we write occasionally a story of yesterday and those heroes sleeping at our foot-hills. Every organization, society or individual, with an idea that would seem to help the town has our support. This policy is ours always, whether public or private. Whether we agree personally or not makes no difference in our news columns. Every one is welcome to tell his story and to use our columns to exploit his idea.

The Editor's Column

In our Editorial Column, we are, or, at least, try to be, economical with our opinion and comment. When expressed, however, it is personal, ours—and, we hope, honest. We reserve this right—to speak in commendation or condemnation of any man or men in their public words or deeds. We may be right or wrong as our point of view may direct. But this right we reserve—or rather take. This is granted by every real American—others don't count except as enemies of ours and free speech.

Speaking of enemies—we are proud of them. An active citizen, unafraid and trying to do his bit in life has them. They inspire us. "Give us this day an enemy,"—the Persian prayer makes an interesting slogan for civic doers and newspaper men.

So we take only what we give. Any citizen, man or woman, can write for our columns on any question of Public interest—if he signs his name. Others cannot. There are no cowards on our Staff.

Our Advertisers

The Post carries the largest amount of local advertising of any rural paper in Delaware. We make this statement advisedly. No rural paper in Delaware, according to the population of its territory, carries so much space of local advertisers as the Post.

We appreciate this confidence. But then it is not all confidence—it is business return based on experience. And pertinent too, the space used last month, the last six months, the last year, is more than at any time in its history.

Our price is fixed. No favors, no special rates, no special discounts—no return business agreement.

Our space is for sale at a fixed rate—and we do the fixing.

So This Is To Say

That the news in the Post is controlled by events—neither colored nor suppressed.

Our editorials are our own—neither suggested, dictated nor written by anyone else.

Our advertisers do business with us—on business principles, not for friendship nor for favors.

The Post is an Independent Paper printed in the Country, for the Country, by those who live and make a living in the Country.

"Print all the Truth you dare—and dare a little more every week" is a personal creed. Our Faith in Newark led us here and that Faith abides, still.

We offer our Time, Thought, Energy to this day and our country. "To spend and be spent" appeals to us as the Great American Game. To voice the life of this community, to be the medium of exchange for opinions, to record the deeds worthy, is the mission of the Post. To be lenient and honest, to be generous, and worth-while is our ambition. The Post is a part of Newark—its columns are yours. Use them.

TEACHERS OF STATE IN ANNUAL MEETING

State Educational Association Meets In Milford This Week

LOCAL PEOPLE TO SPEAK

Miss Agnes Snyder, Formerly of Women's College, To Make An Address

Public school teachers from all sections of Delaware, who are members of the Delaware State Education Association, will meet in fifth annual session in Milford on Friday and Saturday of this week. The program as arranged by Robert E. Shilling of Milford, who is president of the association embraces many general addresses and sectional meetings for the discussion of educational subjects, considered pertinent to the teaching profession in Delaware.

The convention will open with a general meeting in the Plaza Theatre at 10 o'clock on Friday morning. There will be scripture reading and prayer and music in charge of Mrs. Nell K. Anderson with Miss Wagner of the DuPont school of Wilmington at the pipe organ. Henry L. Bunting, president of Milford Board of Education, will welcome the teachers. John Shilling, state superintendent in charge of high schools, will make the response for the association and these will be followed by an address by Dr. H. V. Holloway.

Miss Agnes Snyder, formerly a member of the teaching staff of the Women's College here and in charge of Practice Teaching in the local public schools, will deliver an address at the general meeting on Friday morning. Miss Snyder was formerly secretary of the State Association.

Other University people on the program for the two-day session are Miss Laura V. Clarke, of the Women's College who will give a lecture on "Child Training" on Friday afternoon.

Dr. Walter Hullihen, president of the University of Delaware, will be present at the banquet and meeting Friday evening and will no doubt give a short talk.

Newark teachers will be present in force at these meetings. Some of the foremost public school educators in the East will be on the program and it is evident that assistant Superintendent Shilling, president of the Association, has with his aides arranged for a splendid session.

The high school history division will discuss Delaware history as taught in junior and senior high schools and also the teaching of the history of heroes of the nation. The high school vocational section will discuss home economics.

Election of officers of the association will take place at a meeting of representatives in the auditorium of the High School at 4 p. m. Every voting delegate must produce 10 paid memberships or a major fraction thereof and properly provided with credentials from the secretary, W. K. Yerger of Wilmington.

All of these meetings are open to the public with the exception of the representatives' assembly at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

Dover Dance

The fourth annual Thanksgiving dance, given under the auspices of the Walter L. Fox Post No. 2, American Legion, at the Dover State Armory, on the evening of November 30th, at nine o'clock, will open the winter's social season in the State capital.

In previous years these dances have been a wonderful success and greatly enjoyed. This year's program promises more success and a much better time for everyone.

APPLETON WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING

The Appleton Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Fred VanSant at Richardson Park on Wednesday, October 17. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Gus Blackson. After the usual business routine plans were made for the community show of October 25. The women were addressed by Miss Grimm, the Home Demonstration Agent, and also by A. D. Rodebaugh, the County Agent. Refreshments were served and the club adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Mathias on November 21, at which meeting Miss Grimm will tell how to make inexpensive Christmas gifts.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

A Paper Read at Kells—by George Morgan

The following article by George Morgan was given in a talk made by him to members of the Delaware College Review Board and friends of Old Delaware in the room called "The Whim" at Kells. It has since been augmented by additions of names by local people. Mr. Morgan, a true and good friend of Delaware and a loyal alumnus of the University, is at present Sunday editor of the Philadelphia Record.

"We in Delaware have names to be proud of, and to wonder at. I went to school first to Prof. Freeze, next to Prof. Frost and when I came to Delaware College, one of my classmates was Charlie Snow.

"Now the Bible tells us Adam was the first man. We have numbers of Adamses in Delaware. We have a Cain family and an Abel. We have the Hamans and the Isaacs, the Jacobs and the Isaacs. David is not overlooked nor was the Pauls, of the Apostles. We have a goodly number of Peters, James, Johns and Matthews. In Sussex we have Coverdales and Tyndales, who gave to us their English translations of the Bible. We have Delaware Shakespeares, too, as you all know, and Popes and Whittiers, Longfellows and Hawthornes.

"We have almost all the Condiments, the Pickles, Spicers, Peppers and Mustards. War statistics brought forth an Onion. A census in Wilmington gave a lady of color whose name was Etta Roach and another Flossie Melody.

"Speaking of things to eat we have the famous Grubbs, also the Gums. There are Peaches, Berrys, Cans and Cooks. I do not know of any Corns, but Mr. Cobb is appropriately interested in Agricultural advance. And don't forget that we have Chippys and Chickens and Quills, old and honorable families.

"We have Gunns and Fowlers to find for us our Ribbins, Crows, Sparrows and Starlings.

"Speaking of food, don't forget we have our Dayetts and Stouts. We have Widdoes and Prides, Kings, Queens, Jacks and the popular Trump family, well known for piety. There are Jesters aplenty. We have Twilleys and Willeys, Wooleys and Wileys. Not to mention Shelldrakes, Rakestraws and Thistlewoods. There are Blacks, Whites, Grays, Browns, Greens, even Raddish.

"We are not so peaceful as we may seem for down in Bridgeville a Cannon goes off frequently as a certain citizen mounts his car. Let me add that I read only recently of an Alexander Gunn, who was recently discharged from the Custom House in Scotland for making a false report. We have Burns, Fevre and LeFevres. But have doctors Kollock, Slays, Slaughters and Peterkills. We have Lanks, Shins and Skinners, Johns and Pettyohns. We have even Pretty-mans.

"There are Frames and Painters if not pictures. There are Jumps, Sprys and Bounds. Ropes, Strings, Stringloves, Sharps and Dulls, Bacons and Hamms, Cunningshams, Cotinghams and Brittinghams.

"We have the French family, the English and the Hunn—ancient and distinguished.

"Of course we've Rivers, Shores, Waters, Pooles, Wells, Branches, not forgetting the Fords, and therefore Fishers and Fish, Herrings, Salmon, Leeches, Wales. There are also Rows, Rohrs, Rowans and Saylor's. The Poor and the Rich are with us. Indeed we have Moneys, Pence, Nichols, Coynes, Pennys and Shillings.

"We are well provided with Bakers, Brewers, Carpenters, Smiths, Shriners, Masons, Clothiers, Naylor's, Drapers, Chandlers, Carters, Coopers, Shepherds, Millers and Tinkers. Therefore we have Walls, Halls, Steels, Sleepers, Staples, Maulls, Tunnels and Riggins.

"We even have a family of Sellers, Speaking of good sellers, we have Shews and Coats, and many Modes and Styles. There are Hoggs, Bears, Campbells, Catts and Bulls. In Sussex there is a host of Horseys. Miss Hart, of the Americanization Bureau, has been succeed by Miss Hartshorn.

"We find we have many number of Days and Knights, and those who Read and Wright.

Our landscape is dotted o'er with Fields, Woods, Downes, Boggs, Dykes, Marshes, Motes, Hills and Dales, and we should count our blessings Daly."—Delaware State News.

UNIVERSITY MEN TO SPEAK TO GROWERS

Dean McCue and Dr. Adams Listed On Program of Horticultural Society

Dean C. A. McCue of the Experiment Station here, and Dr. J. F. Adams are listed on the program of the thirty-seventh annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society to be held this year in Salisbury, Md. The dates of the meeting are November 20th, 21st, and 22nd, inclusive.

Dean McCue's address will be on "Commercial Varieties of Apples and Peaches for the Peninsula." He will speak on Wednesday evening, November 21st.

Dr. Adams will speak on "The Use of Spreaders in Orchard Spraying." Other speakers of prominence are listed from four states, Maryland, New Jersey, Virginia and New York. Mr. Aaron Sapiro, of Newark, the celebrated authority on Co-operative Marketing, will also deliver an address.

DELAWARE GRADUATES MARRIED SATURDAY

Miss Alice Roop and James W. Hahn Wedded In Wilmington Church

A wedding in which the two principals are recent graduates of the University of Delaware occurred last Saturday afternoon in the Harrison Street M. E. Church, Wilmington, when Miss Alice Lincoln Roop, of Wilmington, became the bride of Mr. James W. Hahn, of Pen Argle, Pa.

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Roop, on West Seventh Street. Mr. and Mrs. Hahn after a short wedding trip will reside in Jarrettsville, Md., where the groom is instructor of Agriculture in the High School of that town.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Roop are graduates from the University here, the former getting his degree last year.

Mrs. Hahn was formerly Social Editor of the Every Evening, and has been greatly interested in the College activities in Newark.

Several recent graduates and students of the University here attended the wedding. Daniel Devitt, of Seaford, Herbert Pierce, of Doe Run, Pa., William Foster and Jacob Orr were ushers.

Farm Bureau Prizes For Best Essays

The Kent County Farm Bureau will give three prizes in gold for the three best essays on "Why Dad Should Join the Farm Bureau" or any subject along similar lines. The High School and Grammar School will be judged separately and a first, second and third prize award to both high and grammar school. These prizes will consist of ten, five, and two and one-half dollars in gold. The separation of the high school from the grammar school was done to give those who are not so far advanced a chance for the prizes and to create an interest in the elementary grade or rural schools.

Not only will those essays which have been judged as the best but others that receive honorable mention may be published in the newspapers of Kent County.

EX-GOV. MILLER SPEAKS

Talks On Mexico Before Big Assembly Of College Folk Saturday

Former Governor Charles R. Miller of Wilmington spoke in the Hilarium of Residence Hall at the Women's College last Saturday evening before a large and appreciative audience composed for the most part of College people.

Mr. Miller gave a most interesting account of a recent trip to Mexico, and interspersed his remarks with several bits of humor which kept the audience in a happy mood. The trip into the land of our neighbor to the south disclosed many observations to be made by the speaker on the importance and actual tone of the Mexican State at this time.

Dean Winifred J. Robinson of the Women's College presided and introduced the speaker.

STUDENT OPINION

A letter to the Editor of The Delaware College Review, in its current issue:

To the Editor of The Review:

During the past two years there has been a very noticeable lack of cooperation between fraternities. In several instances there has been occasion for hard feelings between the groups. Of late, cooperation has become better, but in a slow and uncertain manner. Now Delaware is an expanding university and needs the solid backing of the older organizations on the campus in all phases of university work and in maintaining the fine old traditions for which Delaware has been noted. The fraternities have the greatest power to help the university be what it should, if petty politics is put aside and "Delaware" brought to the foreground.

Fraternity politics is a monkey wrench thrown in the wheels of an otherwise powerful machine (Fraternities) for good University co-operation. It causes hard feeling between fraternities and consequently a decided lack of unity in the Student Body and the loss of much influence which could be used to the betterment of the University.

It is true that it is natural for a group of men to believe that one of their own group is the logical man to hold a certain office and that they should vote for him. That is not what is meant by fraternity politics.

Fraternity politics consists of definitely planned campaigns for acquiring offices, involving propaganda for one man and against another, truthful and otherwise, and "combines." This together with a very bad tendency on the part of some to misrepresent other fraternities has existed here on our campus within the last year and still exists to some extent. In some cases it is not the fault of the group as a whole, but of certain individuals in the group. In that case it is up to the organization to curb the action of its members or answer for them. The gains acquired by methods like those mentioned never make up for the damage done in acquiring them.

Throw aside politics and, remembering that there are greater things in life than college offices to work for, make way for more secure friendship and co-operation throughout the Student Body for the development of a strong university.

NEWARK PUBLIC SCHOOLS ATTENDANCE RECORD FOR MONTH OF OCTOBER, 1923

63 High School Students Have Perfect Record for the Month—3rd Grade Probably Has Best Record With 35 Out of 42 Perfect

The October attendance report of the entire Newark Public Schools for the month of October is herewith published.

Grade 3A, Miss Harriett Wilson teacher, has perhaps the best record of any of the grades. With 42 pupils listed on her sheet, she reports 35 of them to have attended school with a miss each day during the past month.

The High School (grades 9 to 12) reports 63 perfect attendance students, and a host of those who rate "good." The October report is considered a good criterion of the manner in which the pupils are attending. Thus far Superintendent Owens and his staff have had no serious trouble and everything seems to be going smoothly.

The complete report follows:

- High School—Grade Nine

FIRE AT CHRISTIANA

Paul Murray's Home Saved With But Little Loss

A fire breaking out in the home of Paul Murray living about two miles from Christiana Saturday morning, was checked in time to prevent appreciable loss by the promptness of the Christiana firemen.

The call was answered in a very few minutes and aided by their new engine, the Christiana laddies made short work of the blaze. The loss was reported as slight by Mr. Murray later.

ENJOY GUNNING TRIP

H. Warner McNeal, E. B. Wright and Party of Friends in the Field

A party of Newark sportsmen headed by H. Warner McNeal and Ernest B. Wright left town Saturday last for the Eastern Shore of Virginia where they spent two or three days gunning for quail and rabbit. The country in and around Machipongo is noted for the sport and the local nimrods are fully expected to bring home plenty of game.

OLDEST HIGHWAY ON CONTINENT IN N. MEX.

Road Was Old When Pilgrim Fathers Landed

The most ancient highway in North America is said to be the New Mexico section of the National Old Trails Road. According to Judge J. M. Lowe, president of the National Old Trails Road Association, this section of the great highway is the oldest road established on the North American continent. It extends from Socorro to Santa Fe, about one hundred and fifty miles. Don Juan Onate, a Spaniard, who was governor of New Spain (which comprehended all of Mexico) in the fifteenth century, was the first man to establish a road in America.

Long years before the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock, Onate had marked out and established this road, which started at Santa Barbara, now Jimenez, Mexico, and ended in the vicinity of what is now Santa Fe, New Mexico. This territory had been claimed by the King of Spain in 1598, and 1606 Santa Fe was founded as the capital of New Spain. This route was used later as a highway over which goods were freighted from the Gulf of Mexico via Vera Cruz, via the City of Mexico and Santa Barbara, until the Santa Fe Trail was opened under the Act of Congress of 1824. This old road was then known as the "Camino Real" . . . "The Kings Highway" . . . and it traversed the Rio Grande Valley from the Gulf to Santa Fe.

CLAIM STARS AND STRIPES WERE FIRST UNFURLED ON BRANDY-WINE BATTLEFIELD IN CHESTER CO.

One of Delaware's Important Bids for Fame Repudiated by Article in Philadelphia Paper—Monument at Cooch's Bridge Marks a "Skirmish," Says Writer

In a special article in the magazine section of the Philadelphia Public Ledger last Sunday there appeared a repudiation of one of Newark's, and for that matter one of Delaware's chief bids for national and international fame—that the Stars and Stripes were first unfurled in battle at Cooch's Bridge, three miles south of Newark.

Accurate and critic-proof records are somewhat lacking on this subject, and there has before been some controversy between Pennsylvania and Delaware historians as to just where Betsy Ross's famous creation was unfurled.

The writer in the Ledger, in discussing the feasibility of marking the battlefield of the Brandywine in Chester County, Pa., as a national shrine, makes the following statement:

The American Flag, made by Betsy Ross, was first carried in actual battle at the Brandywine, though it had been raised a few days earlier during a skirmish at Cooch's Bridge, Delaware.

Flung to the breeze from a window of Washington's headquarters on the morning of the battle, the original Old Glory, with its thirteen stripes and thirteen stars, was later transferred to Birmingham Meeting House, where for the first time many British eyes beheld the symbol of the infant Republic formed from the erstwhile thirteen colonies of England's King.

And it was at Brandywine that Marquis de Lafayette fell wounded.

Regarding the movement of Howe's troops, the writer goes on:

"The Battle of the Brandywine was fought September 11, 1777.

"A British army, commanded by General Sir William Howe, had sailed from New York with the purpose of capturing Philadelphia, then the seat of the Continental Congress.

"Finding it impossible to ascend the Delaware River because of obstructions the Americans had placed in the waters of the Delaware, the British ships entered the Chesapeake Bay and effected a landing at the head of Elk River in Maryland. Thence the force proceeded to the vicinity of Newark, Del. The army, including regular British troops and Hessians, totaled about 18,000.

Howe's purpose was to find an overland route to Philadelphia, by marching through Maryland, Delaware and South-eastern Pennsylvania en route to crossing the Schuylkill River at Swedes Ford, near Norristown.

"Washington marched his army from Philadelphia to the Brandywine, when he was advised of Howe's intention to make a land attack on Philadelphia, and it was along the stream that the two forces came to grips.

"The Americans, facing the very flower of the British army, re-enforced with desperate and unscrupulous mercenaries, were forced to retire at nightfall, but not until the dogged resistance of the defenders had made Brandywine 'the bloodiest battlefield of the Revolutionary War.'"

It has been handed down to the present generation in Delaware that old historic Cooch's Bridge saw for the first time our national emblem. Upon the site of that "skirmish" a monument has been erected, and until more adequate and accurate proof is given, the Delaware battlefield must keep the honor. Speaking from a modern standpoint it appears that both of the engagements were minor ones, and neither productive of great military importance.

However, Washington and his troops, in a delaying movement, met the outguards of the British at Cooch's Bridge, and forced Lord Howe to slow up his march. Bullet and cannon ball holes in nearby buildings testify to the fact that the engagement was a damaging one.

The article in the Ledger, despite what Delawareans think to be a mistake, is a most entertaining one.

The American Legion, beginning Armistice Day, 1923, is going to raise a fund for the perpetuation of the Brandywine battlefield as a national shrine.

But what about Cooch's Bridge, Del.

The Fisherman and the Genie —and the telephone

A POOR FISHERMAN found a strange appearing jug by the sea. It was sealed tight—but his curiosity caused him to break the seal and from it came clouds of smoke forming the shape of a giant figure. "Command me and I will do thy bidding," thundered the Genie.

And the Bell Telephone today is the Genie of yesterday. Markets are but seconds away. Buyers are but across the street. Distance is nothing to the man with a telephone.

There are hundreds, yes thousands, of concerns that are making the telephone a profitable partner in their business.

You have the same assets. Making use of them is a part of your work. Tie close to this modern communication system. Make use of it wherever possible.

WHO'S WHO IN THE CRAFTS

Weekly Sketches of Local Craftsmen Who Are Making The Town Grow

JAMES H. HUTCHINSON

One of the recent arrivals in the building field in Newark and vicinity is James H. Hutchinson. Mr. Hutchinson, through a sound knowledge of engineering and construction work gained through associations with some of the largest and best known firms in the country, has gained a prominent place in the building craft in Delaware, and particularly in Newark.

His most recent achievements have been the magnificent J. P. Wright home on Orchard Ridge and the new Continental Fibre Co. office here. Both these buildings called for expert supervision and attention to details. His success in them has stamped him as a man who knows his work thoroughly.

Graduate of Cornell

Mr. Hutchinson was born and raised near New London, Pa., a few miles from Newark. After attending the Academy in that village, he spent a year or two at Tome Institute, at Port Deposit. Following preparation there, he entered Cornell University, graduating as a Civil Engineer, in the class of 1906.

Upon his entrance into his profession he gained a position with the Pennsylvania System, on their lines both east and west of Pittsburgh, doing general railroad engineering work.

His next position was with the McClintic-Marshall Co., the foremost steel and bridge construction firm in the country. While with this company he lived in Pittsburgh.

Following this, he spent about a year with the National Fire-Proofing Company, also in Pittsburgh, and also a short period of service with the Pennsylvania Steel Co.

Joins duPont Ranks

Perhaps the major portion of Mr. Hutchinson's experience in construction work was gained during his lengthy service with the duPont Company. He spent nine or ten years with the Delaware firm, and in their employ, travelled all over the country.

During the early part of the war, he was assigned to Hopewell, Va., where he had charge of a division in the erection of the plant. In 1917, he went back to the war village as construction engineer.

Among his other interesting assignments with the duPont firm, were the rebuilding of a $600,000 plant in Missouri and a lengthy stay on the West Coast in their interests.

Following the war, Mr. Hutchinson became attached to the staff of the Delaware School Auxiliary, and for some years had charge of the school building program in lower Delaware.

Comes to Newark

He came to Newark in 1918, while attached to the Wilmington office of the duPont Company, and took up his residence here with his family.

He broke into the game for himself in August, 1922, still carrying on the work of the Auxiliary and duPont interests, the situation remaining so until last January, when he severed all connections with his employers and started out for himself wholly.

Since that time, Mr. Hutchinson has enjoyed remarkable success in his chosen profession. Although he at one other time was in business for himself in Olean, N. Y., this time he expects to continue independently.

Of late, Mr. Hutchinson has been busy with several large paving and curbing contracts in and about town. His concrete work is considered high grade, and he is an authority on plant and office construction work.

He erected the home for Armand Durant recently, on Orchard Ridge.

Mr. Hutchinson is married and with his family, lives on West Main Street. He likes the town and the people and says he has found the town he has been looking for.

RAMS PARKED CAR

While parked along the roadside while its owner was walking for a supply of gasoline, the automobile of Samuel Wright, of near Cooch's, was struck a smashing blow by a Nash touring car bearing a foreign license along the Cooch's-Glasgow road Saturday evening last.

Ellwood Keeley was occupying the car waiting for Wright to return with the "gas," when the car, evidently blinded glaring headlights, swerved across the road and crashed into the light Ford.

Keeley was partly thrown out by the collision but not injured. There were no arrests made. It was evidently a case of rushing into the inevitable "blind zone" by the Nash, when the driver was confronted by the glaring lights of a fan approaching car.

HORTICULTURISTS MEET NOV. 20, 21, 22

Salisbury, Maryland, Scene of Annual Session

The Peninsula Horticultural Society will hold its annual meetings in Salisbury, Maryland, November 20, 21 and 22. An exceptionally strong program has been arranged. It is one which no fruit grower or truck grower can afford to miss. The meetings will be held in the Court House. The exhibits, which will consist of a large display of apples, vegetables, potatoes, etc., as well as a full line of commercial exhibits, will be held in the State Armory.

The program will include an address by Mr. Aaron Sapiro, a man of national reputation for aiding farmers in getting results by co-operative marketing. Mr. H. W. Collingwood, editor of the Rural New Yorker, is also on the program. Mr. Collingwood is also nationally known as a friend of the farmer. The other speakers are men who are leaders in their line and they will bring much timely and valuable information to all fruit and truck growers.

Copies of the full program and premium list as well as other information concerning the meeting can be had by writing to Mr. W. Lee Allen, Salisbury, Maryland.

LIFE ACCIDENT HEALTH

THERE IS AN OLD ADAGE that says, "It is too late to lock the barn after the horse is stolen." Likewise, it is too late to get your automobile insured after the car is stolen or been ruined in an accident.

Why not let me show you what is possible in the way of complete protection at a surprisingly low cost to you.

It is much better to be safe than sorry, and much cheaper for you in the long run, because automobile accidents will happen, and sometimes with disastrous results to the financial welfare of the owner, when he is not covered with reliable insurance.

The smart air—it's in the cut

Because of their cut, Society Brand Clothes always have the smart air that's the most important thing about a suit. The Cambridge single breasted sack is a loose, broad shouldered, straight line coat. The Yorkshire—equally popular—is semi-fitted and double breasted. Both are smart; they're correctly cut.
