College And Schools Are Nearing Season Of Commencement

High School Graduates Announced This Week — University Closes Monday

MANY EVENTS LISTED

In the course of a few days Newark will be deeply entangled in the Commencement season, with both University and Public Schools joining in the biggest events of the educational year.

The University events begin Saturday with reunions of old graduates at both the Men's and Women's Colleges, baseball games and dinners. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday morning, and the formal graduation ceremonies will be held on the campus Monday, the 9th. The full program of University events will be found in THE POST this week.

High School Is Busy

Although the public schools close a week later than the University, interest in their commencement program is even now at a high pitch.

The Senior class exams are about finished now, and the tests for the under classes will have begun by Saturday next.

The High School commencement speaker will be the Rev. Harvey W. Ewing, former pastor of Union M. E. Church in Wilmington, and well known to a host of Newark people.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Frank Herson, at the M. E. Church next Sunday morning. It will be a Union service and all are invited to attend.

The full High School program for next week follows:

Friday, June 6th, 1:30 p. m.—School Exhibit of Art Work and School Work of the past year in the class rooms of Grades 1 to 6, inclusive, and of Home Economics Work in the Home Economics room of the Grammar School. All parents and friends are invited to attend.

Sunday, June 8th, 7:30 p. m.—Commencement sermon by Rev. Mr. Herson in the Methodist Church. All the other congregations in town are invited to attend.

Wednesday, June 11th, 8:00 p. m.—Class Night exercises in Wolf Hall.

Friday, June 13th, 8:00 p. m.—Commencement exercises in Wolf Hall. Dr. Harvey W. Ewing, former pastor of Union Methodist Episcopal Church, Wilmington, Delaware, will deliver the Commencement address.

The list of graduates who will receive their diplomas Friday of next week are:

Glady's May Berry, Charles Edward Boyd, Eleanor Cornog Brooks, Nelson Leroy Bryson, Gladys Leola Clark, Amos Barnes Collins, Viola Lovett Eubanks, Dorothy Marie Bruce, Samuel Handloff, Abraham Hoffman, Catharine Holton, Marion Ada Elizabeth Johnson, Willis Moore Johnson, Herbert Henry Leverage, Anna Mary Little, Max Morton Maritz, Mary Elisabeth Ottey, Laura Ellis Perkins, William Henry Rupp, Mary Emilie Stroud, George Lybrand Townsend, III, Hester Pauline Widener, Evelyn Marie Worral, Ida Elizabeth Worral.

SLEEPLESS RESIDENTS UP IN ARMS; WANT WAR WAGED ON STRAY DOGS

A host of respectable, solid citizens of Newark are chanting their war song and putting on armor for a battle to the death.

Not the Germans this time. The problem is a domestic one, and involves a purely local cast all through. The war mentioned above is urged against the stray dogs and cats which are infesting the town and nearby country, killing young rabbits and cats by the hundreds, chasing cattle and horses, barking and fighting among themselves through the early hours of the morning, and making Newark a veritable canine hell.

One resident of East Delaware Avenue stated yesterday that he counted three dogs chasing two cows around a small pasture near his home, and driving the bovines almost frantic by their barking—to say nothing of the people nearby who were trying to sleep.

Another informant told The Post last week, that irreparable ravages are being made each day on the nests

DELINQUENT TAX- PAYERS ARE WARNED

A list of over 30 taxayers in Newark was read before Town Council Monday night by the secretary. The sum outstanding including back taxes, is about $400.

Notices are now being sent to the delinquents, with a warning that if the taxes are not paid within thirty days after receipt of notice, the bill will be placed in the hands of the proper authorities.

A great improvement in the promptness of the residents in paying their levies is noticeable this year.

SEVERE ACCIDENT

Miss Mildred Johnson, of McClellandville, suffered a serious accident several days ago, when her finger was cut off in an accident at her home. She was treated immediately by a physician and is greatly improved now.

Jolly Evening Spent With "Pinafore" Crew

Captain Corcoran and His Mates Tie Up at Opera House Monday Last

An audience which nearly filled the Opera House here Monday evening, spent two enjoyable hours with the crew of "H. M. S. Pinafore," the Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera classic, presented under the auspices of the dramatic committee of the New Century Club. And as the trusty anchor was weighed and the ship and "its excellent crew" slipped her moorings for the return trip back to the Harbor of the Past, a pleasant memory was left in the mind of each one in the theatre. It was a very creditable show, and easily upheld the high standards set for Newark amateurs by past performances.

Nearly everyone knows or has heard of "Pinafore," and to outline the plot and history would be unnecessary. Suffice to say that the old classic has withstood the test of years, and combines splendid character portrayals, with real music in a way not often equalled in modern attempts at sea-going plays.

The purely local cast for "Pinafore" covered themselves with glory every step of the way. From Captain Corcoran, ably portrayed by Mr. Ryden, down to the "Members of the crew," there can be little criticism offered.

Excellent Interpretations

Mrs. Tyson has never given a better character portrayal than she did in the role of "Buttercup." The mysterious lady who hides deep, dark secrets behind a gay and frivolous bearing is a role which is difficult in the extreme. Mrs. Tyson's low pitched voice, and splendid stage presence, combined with experience and a thorough knowledge of the opera, carried her through the part with distinction. Hers was real acting.

Perhaps the most difficult singing part was that of Mrs. Lafferty, who did "Josephine" in the opera. While (Continued on Page 10.)

Fatal Shooting Here Might Be Accident

P. R. R. Detectives Capture Alleged Murderer in Delmar Monday, However

That the shooting affray at the workmen's commissary shack, a few hundred yards north of the Depot Road station of the P. R. R., here Saturday afternoon, which led to the death of Anna Maddock, negro, aged 21 years, an employee there, might have been an accident, appears to be a growing conviction among local and railroad police.

The alleged assailant, Herman Christopher, also a negro, aged 33 years, has been captured. He was caught at Delmar, Del., Monday afternoon, by State policemen while attempting to cross a railroad bridge there. He was immediately brought to Wilmington and arraigned before Magistrate Stradley. He was held without bail and committed to the Workhouse until the next term of court.

Statements of two persons, Captain of P. R. R. Detectives Ward and Corrine Dorsey, sister of the dead woman seem to strengthen the theory that the gun was accidentally discharged.

Captain Ward is said to be of that opinion, while the Dorsey woman, who was in the next room at the time of the shooting, emphatically stated to local police Sunday that there had been no quarrel between her sister and Christopher. The prisoner signed a statement in Wilmington Monday, admitting the shooting, but claiming that it was an accident.

Had Been Drinking

According to statements pieced together, it is understood that the Maddock woman and Christopher were sitting side by side on a bench in the commissary Saturday afternoon, the latter examining a revolver. The Dorsey girl heard a shot and rushed in to find her sister lying on the floor with blood flowing from a wound in her face. Christopher, she said, appeared very much shocked at the shooting, and shortly after left the shack. He then went to Bryan's store; bought provisions, and started out for Porters.

Christopher stated to police that he alternately rode and walked from Porters to Delmar Sunday, and that he was on his way to his home in Eden, Md.

The dead woman was taken to the undertaking parlors of R. T. Jones here and prepared for burial. Relatives from Philadelphia came down Monday and took the body back with them. She was employed here as an assistant cook. The fatal bullet ploughed through her face and lodged in the brain. Death was said to have been instantaneous.

Considerable excitement prevailed in the workmen's camp of the P. R. R. here all day Sunday and Monday, as both principals were well known to the men employed on this division.

The Dorsey woman said that Christopher had been drinking Saturday afternoon. She knew he carried a revolver.

NEWARK HIGH TEAM TO PLAY FOR TITLE

Victory Over Caesar Rodney Monday Puts Locals In Finals

As a result of their thrilling ninth inning victory over Caesar Rodney High Monday last at Wyoming, the Newark schoolboy baseballers will meet Harrington for the D. I. A. A. championship at the Dover ball park next Friday afternoon. The game will start at 3 o'clock standard time, and a big crowd of rooters are expected to be on hand.

After going eight innings to a scoreless tie Monday, Newark filled the bases in the ninth, and with two out, Rupp placed a clean single to the outfield, scoring the necessary winning run. Rose pitched another splendid game for Newark, and his team supported him like champions.

Coach Elder announced Monday that the local track team had won five bronze medals at the Perkiomen Meet, Saturday, Steel winning one in the sprints and the relay team coming in third under hard competition.

NEWARK MILLS SLOW DOWN; LACK OF ORDERS GIVEN AS CAUSE

Hard to Forecast Future Conditions, Say Officials Of Plants Here; Working On Part Time Now

Considerable speculation and unrest, both among employers and employees, has been evidenced in Newark during the past two weeks as a result of a distinct depression in the paper and fibre market. This fact automatically affects the two fibre mills here and the Curtis paper mill, and through them a host of employees and the town in general.

The National Vulcanized Fibre Company and Curtis and Brothers mills are both working on part time. Last week the mills ran four days, and expect to do the same this week. Two weeks ago, the Curtis mill was running but two days.

The same situation exists at the Continental Fibre Company here, although it is being handled in a different manner. For the past three weeks, men have been laid off a few at a time. Last Saturday, it is reported, about fourteen men were released from the employ of the company due to the slowing down of several departments.

Causes Are Varied

Industrial officials of the town agree, according to interviews given to THE POST, that the direct cause for the slowing up of production is lack of orders. A tightening up of buying not only in fibre and paper but in many other lines, has been noticeable for some months, and the present rate of production only leads, they say, to filled warehouses.

Various reasons, ranging everywhere from the passage of the Soldiers' Bonus bill to the forthcoming Presidential election have been advanced for the depression here. As to the future, none of those close to the situation would hazard an opinion.

One view, advanced by an officers of a local company, holds that the so-called "business barometers," trade predictions, and "supply and demand charts," worked out by what are known as business experts, are the chief cause of the situation.

DISPLAYS WAR RELICS

Home Drug Co. Window Was Dressed With Souvenir

Several interesting war relics from the private collection of James C. Hastings, formed the feature window display of the town at the Home Drug Co. during Memorial week.

Included in the collection were several action pictures of actual fighting, shells, bullets, German rifles and helmets, a vase made by a disabled veteran from a shell, pieces of hardware and many other objects.

REPLACING FIRE PLUG

Jacket Broken Several Months Ago Taken Out Yesterday

Daniel Stoll's trusty crew of pipe fitters, ably assisted by Jacob Shew, town geologist and water leak detective, were at work all day yesterday removing the battered-up fire plug on Main Street near Potts' hardware store, and replacing it with a new one. The main feeding the plug is over six feet underground, and a real chasm was dug before the workmen could get elbow room.

The plug was struck by a truck several months ago and put out of commission.

TOWN BANDSTAND WILL COST $800

Estimates of the cost and material for the erection of the new Community Bandstand on the Academy grounds here have jumped considerably from the figure first made public several weeks ago.

J. C. Willis, local contractor, who will supervise the erection of the structure said yesterday that it was his opinion that the finished stand would cost about $800, according to the plans and specifications submitted.

Work was to have started on the stonework last week, but has been delayed. The erection must be rushed, according to comment heard on the street, or the summer band concert schedule will be considerably hampered.

The first estimate on the cost of the stand was placed at $600.

Town Council Takes Motor Vehicle Law Into Their Hands

Ordinance Passed Monday Night Through Which Confers of Town Will be Enriched

SPEED LIMIT 15 MILES

Coming as a change to a period of distinct disapproval of the State Vehicle Law affecting Newark on the part of members of Town Council, Newark's own auto ordinance was given its third and final reading Monday night and became a law.

For some time Councilmen have been complaining that the heavy fines levied upon intoxicated drivers arrested here are turned over to the County or State, although the local treasury often feeds the prisoners involved, and pays incidental expenses while they are detained. The matter has popped up at several meetings of Council recently and the ordinance passed this week came as no surprise.

It provides for the payment of fines to the Town when the arrest is made by town officers within town limits.

It also provides that the established speed limit for the town will be 15 miles per hour.

State Highway signs at each end of the town give 25 miles as the speed limit. That this creates a delicate situation between State and Town authorities is generally admitted. Whether the State Motor Vehicle Law will supersede the town ordinance in the matter of a speed limit remains to be tested by the first case called. In the meantime the ordinance has been spread in the minutes.

The full text follows:

AN ORDINANCE TO FURTHER REGULATE THE USE OF MOTOR VEHICLES WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THE TOWN OF NEWARK, DELAWARE.

Be it Enacted by the Council of The Council of Newark, Delaware, that Section 1. From and after the passage of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to operate any motor vehicle on any street, lane or alley within the limits of the Town of Newark, Delaware, while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and upon conviction thereof before the Alderman of the Town of Newark, or any Justice of the Peace residing in White Clay Creek Hundred, New Castle County, Delaware, shall be fined not less than One Hundred Dollars, nor more than Two Hundred Dollars, and be collected as like fines and penalties are now by law collected.

Section 2. That from and after the passage of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to run or drive any motor vehicle on any street, lane or alley within the limits of the Town of Newark, Delaware, at a greater rate of speed than (Continued on Page 4.)

Two Cases Heard Here During the Week

Charged with threats, punctuated with the waving of a butcher knife, Mrs. George Husfelt, living south of Iron Hill, was arraigned before Magistrate Thompson yesterday, on complaint of James F. Cowden, a neighbor. After hearing a wealth of conflicting testimony, the case was dismissed and Cowden paid the costs. The alleged threat was made yesterday morning.

One of the heaviest fines here recently was placed upon Algie Thomas, said to be a resident of Continental Avenue, here on Monday last, when he was taxed $200 and costs when he pleaded guilty to driving an auto while intoxicated Saturday night. He was found in his car by Chief Lewis along Main Street, but was not arrested until Monday. The chief said he could find many witnesses who saw Thomas driving the car Saturday night.

NEWARK TRUST SELLS MORE PROPERTIES

The Newark Trust Company sold three properties this week—the houses on Welsh Lane, near Pennsylvania Depot, belonging to Miss Agnes Evans to Mrs. Mary McKeon Richards. Consideration not given.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED HERE WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

The community of Newark again paid impressive tribute to the soldier dead of the nation here on Friday last.

Following a week of almost continuous rain, the bright sun and clear air of Memorial Day was gladly received by everyone. Flags appeared on porch roofs and over business houses with the rising of the sun and in a short while the town was decked out in National colors.

As in past years, the observance of Memorial Day here took the form of an early parade to cemeteries and later in the morning, services around the boulder on the upper campus of the University.

Of chief interest was the proposed Memorial Tablet to be placed on the boulder, marking forever the spot upon which New Castle County's selected service men were sworn into the Army.

Following a suggestion made several months ago, a floral basket had been placed alongside the boulder, and the organizations and citizens of the community were thus given an opportunity to contribute to the erection of the marker.

At the close of the services shortly before noon, it was announced that the fund had reached a total of above $280.00. Practically every organization in town had a part in the raising of the money.

Two wreaths were placed on the stone in addition, one by the local post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and one by the University of Delaware.

A small bunch of native flowers in addition, comprised the simple but effective floral display.

Chairman Clarence A. Short, in announcing the intention of the community to erect the tablet, offered the following wording, agreed upon by the Tablet Committee:

"In honor of the men of Rural New Castle County who entered the military service of their country near this spot during the World War, this tablet is erected by the University of Delaware and the community of Newark."

Chairman Short then said that any suggestion for an improvement in the wording would be gladly received and considered by the General Committee.

Parade Starts the Day

Shortly after nine o'clock, the Continental Band, a number of Veterans and a group of school children, marched from the center of town to the M. E. Cemetery at the foot of Choate Street, where brief but impressive services were held over the graves of the soldiers there. Col. Samuel J. Smith, of Newark, national chaplain, V. E. W., delivered a short address to the assemblage, following which flowers were placed on several graves and a salute to the dead sounded.

Many Attend Services At Old Drawers Church

Dr. J. H. Odell and Henry Ridgely, Esq., Make Addresses Sunday

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Hundreds of people from this and nearby states made their annual pilgrimage to "Old Drawers," Delaware's pioneer Presbyterian Church, Sunday. The pilgrimage commenced early Sunday morning and before noon, the old churchyard on the outskirts of Odessa was thronged with visitors.

Wilmington was well represented in the gathering by regular patrons of the old church. The West Presbyterian Church choir of that city was in attendance and sang at both morning and afternoon services. Newark, New Castle, Middletown, Elkton and Dover also sent delegations to the services. Good weather increased the crowd of motorists and the roadside near the church was lined with autos.

Both morning and afternoon sessions were in charge of Rev. John Townsley, of Middletown, and the chief speakers were Dr. Joseph H. Odell, director of the Service Citizens of Delaware, and Henry Ridgely, Esq., prominent attorney of Dover.

Bring Picnic Lunches

The great majority of the visitors Sunday stayed all day, and as lunch time approached, the quiet old church yard became crowded with picnic parties. Friends renewed old associations under the shade of the old trees, many reunions were held among the older folks, and it was said that even a little politics were injected into the discussions among the men. It was a typical Old Drawers crowd, and measured well up to the standard set many years ago, when the first pilgrimage was held.

Dr. Odell, the morning speaker, dwelt principally on Religion as applied to every day business, and stated among his many forceful points that "the business of all men is Religion."

He continued by declaring that no man could progress through life without God, and that religion is principally "contact with God."

Dr. Odell spoke at length on the early worship of pioneer peoples, and urged that every one keep their hearts and souls open for the religious influence which must carry them along day by day.

APPLETON WOMEN'S CLUB

"Canning Day" Meeting Slated for June 25th

The next meeting of the Appleton Women's Club will be held June 25 at Lofland's Hall, Cowtown. This will be a "Canning Day." All members are requested to notify the club secretary what they expect to can to facilitate her report to the Home Demonstration Agent. Bring your basket of lunch along and see how pleasant a day in June can be spent. The hostesses for the day will be Mrs. John B. Hobson, Chairman, Mrs. George T. Hobson, Misses Ida and Evelyn Kimble, and Mrs. Harry Grant.

religious influence which must carry them along day by day.

The morning worship included Bible reading by one of the State's pioneer ministers, the Rev. John Derrickson, retired, of Odessa.

After luncheon was over, the church itself became the mecca for the throng. When the afternoon meeting was called to order almost every seat in the old closed-in pews was taken and many stood in the rear.

Henry Ridgely Speaks

Contrast between the people of the late eighteenth century and the people of the present day was the theme of the address by Mr. Ridgely at the afternoon services. He told of the hardships and inconveniences the founders of Drawers' Church had undergone.

He also visualized the way people came from all parts of Delaware to worship in Old Drawers more than a century and a half ago. "To travel in those days," he said, "from Wilmington to Dover was an adventure."

"What a contrast, what a change," Mr. Ridgely then said. "How different we live, we of this first quarter of the twentieth century. But have we gained anything by this change? I believe that the evolution of the human race, the march of the times, has and will bring progress."

Continuing, Mr. Ridgely brought out the great change brought about in American ideals by the passing of the years. He said that today America stands forth among the nations as a beacon light, because she has taken giant steps forward to insure peace, both among her people, and among other peoples. He said that the nation in future years will not be judged in terms of Wealth, Size, or

Bad Wreck Reported

It was reported in Elkton the past week-end that a bad auto accident had occurred near Charlestown, on the Highway last Friday evening, in which three cars were smashed up. Several people were injured and it was said one of the injured died later. Accurate details are lacking.

Power, but for her efforts towards peace on earth.

The invocation in the afternoon was offered by the Rev. R. L. Hallett, of Altoona, Pa., a staunch supporter of the old church.

Brief History

Old Drawers Church is commonly known as the cradle of Delaware Presbytery. The site was purchased May 10, 1711, and the church was immediately erected. In 1769 the church was condemned as unfit for a house of worship, so funds were raised for erecting a new building. In 1773 a two-story brick building was constructed by a London contracting company. The first pastor was Rev. John Wilson, one of the members of the first Presbytery organized in the United States. In 1895, a society of Friends of Old Drawers was organized for the purpose of keeping the church in good condition.

Officers Re-elected

Before the afternoon services, the annual meeting of the Friends of Old Drawers was held in the church. The treasurer's report was gratifying. The feature of the meeting was the re-election of the officers for the coming year.

The new officers are: I. Janvier Woods, president, Mt. Pleasant, Del.; Clarence E. Pool, vice-president, McDonough, Del.; Miss S. Cornelia Bowman, secretary, Wilmington, Del.; George Janvier, treasurer, Middletown, Del.

The trustees are: Mrs. Edgar Hobbs, Greenwich, Conn.; Miss Helen S. Garrett, Wilmington, Del.; John P. Hyatt, Wilmington, Del.; F. deH. Janvier, New Castle, Del.; William G. Janvier, St. Georges, Del.; Mas. Cazonove G. Lee, Jr., Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Bessie A. Mills Moore, Washington, D. C.; John P. Nields, Wilmington, Del.; Howard A. Pool, Middletown, Del.; Joseph M. ELKTON ROTARIANS ARE ON THE JOB

The old adage that there is always something to be done if you look around a little can just as well be applied to the modern age. For instance:—

Elkton Rotary Club has taken definite steps to replace the rusty old staff and red flag on the "busy corner" of Main and North Streets with a substantial stone or cement marker to direct motorists and reduce possibility of accidents there.

For many months, the patient tin sign has been knocked down and put up again. It's been run over, dragged, lacerated, and beaten by all manner of gas wagons. And everybody, including Town Council, have said, "Too bad," and let it go at that.

Rotarians now have decided that the punishment has gone far enough. A new marker will be shortly put up.

BLAZE ENDANGERS ELKTON PULP MILL

Quick Work by Firemen Keeps Fire From Spreading Friday

Fire breaking out in the chip room high up in the main building of the Jessup and Moore pulp mills in Elkton created no end of excitement for a few minutes Friday afternoon. Holiday seekers flocked to the scene of the blaze, and a large crowd gathered to watch the fight.

The mill siren gave the alarm and the Singler Fire Company quickly responded. By the time they arrived, however, workmen at the mills with their apparatus, had the flames under control. They were directed in their work by D. J. Ayerst, superintendent, and other officials of the plant.

The blaze is believed to have been caused by sparks, and was threatening to spread over the frame tower near the chip room. Lines of hose were run alongside the building, and runways near the roof were used to good advantage by the firemen. Axes were used to chop away weather boarding and allowed the hoses to get at the seat of the flames. The loss was slight.

ELKTON HAS QUIET MEMORIAL DAY

Soldiers' Monument Beautifully Decorated by Women Of Town

While no formal program had been arranged for Memorial Day in Elkton, the women of the town banded together with a committee of 25 at their head, spent most of the morning decorating the Soldiers' monument at the Court House.

Residents say that the floral decorations were never more beautiful or more tastefully arranged. The whole marble monument, rising from a veritable mound of flowers held the attention of every motorist who passed through Friday and Saturday.

A brief and simple service was held at the monument by the newly formed Elkton Post, American Legion, during the morning. Led by their Commander, Wallace Williams, the members marched to the Court House, placed a wreath and planted a flag in the sod in front.

A prayer was then offered by Mr. Williams, and the little company of veterans dispersed. It was a very impressive little ceremony.

At other points throughout the county, Memorial Day was observed quietly. Perhaps the biggest celebration was held at Leeds Chapel, to which many people went.

Commencement At Elkton High School

Exercises Held This Morning in Community Theatre— Alumni Meet Saturday

Eighteen members of the senior class of Elkton High School were graduated this morning shortly before noon, at Commencement exercises held in the Community Playhouse. It was one of the largest classes of recent years.

Music by school choruses, addresses and the awarding of diplomas were the feature parts of the program. The big theatre was well filled with parents and friends of the graduates.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached by the Rev. John McElmoyle in Elkton Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning. Special music was rendered by the choir and the church was crowded.

Thursday evening of last week, an auspicious evening was spent by the Seniors at Class Night in Mechanics Hall. A clever play was given and other stunts devised and executed strictly by the graduating class entertained a big crowd.

Alumni Dinner Next

Following the custom of several years, the annual Alumni dinner and dance will be held again in the Armory Saturday evening of this week. Ladies of the town will have charge of the serving of the dinner, and the graduating class this year will be the guests of honor. The dance will begin shortly after the conclusion of the after dinner speaking, and if past records are a criterion, will be largely attended.

The list of other Cecil County Commencements follows:

Calvert, Thursday morning, June 5, in the School's auditorium, at 10 o'clock.

Cecilton, Friday evening, June 6, in the Community House, at 8 o'clock.

North East, Thursday evening, June 5, in the M. E. Church, at 8 o'clock.

Rising Sun, Monday evening, June 3, in James M. E. Church, at 8 o'clock. Chesapeake City, Tuesday evening, June 10, in Masonic Hall.

Correction

An error in last week's Post has been called to our attention by one of our Elkton readers. The statement that Harry Noeke, aged 8, was "knocked down and run over by a Keys and Miller lumber truck" recently in Elkton is hereby corrected.

According to our informant, the boy jumped on a light delivery truck, although warned to stay off. He then fell from his perch and was struck by a wheel. His injuries were slight.

Lincoln on the Constitution

Let every American, every lover of liberty, every wisher to his posterity, swear by the blood of the Revolution, never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country, and never to tolerate their violation by others. As the patriots of 'seventy-six' did to the support of the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of the Constitution and the Laws let every American pledge his life, his property, and his sacred honor; let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father, and to tear the charter of his own and his children's liberty. Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap. Let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges. Let it be written in primers, spelling-books, and in almanacs. Let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice. And, in short, let it become the political religion of the nation.

CHILDREN'S DAY HERE

A bright and attractive program featured the annual Children's Day exercises held by the Sunday School of the M. E. Church here last Sunday morning. Superintendent Earl Dawson and his assistants had a busy time arranging the affair, and it reflected great credit to them and to the teachers. Rev. Frank Herson gave a delightful talk to the kiddies during the morning, and Mary Louise Thomas gave the address of welcome. Space forbids the publication of the complete program as rendered.

A Keynoter Who Will Pitch'er High

(From the Omaha, Neb., Bee)

Senator Pat Harrison is billed to be the keynoter at the Democratic national convention. This is assurance doubly sure that the note will be pitched far above the treble clef, the motif lofty in the extreme and the melody enchanting in its syncope. As a cacophonist Senator Pat is the chief of the clan. With the palladium of our liberties clasped firmly to his bosom by one hand, and the gonfalon of democracy waving high from the other, he will parade proudly and vociferously before the assembled hosts of democracy and hurl his defiance into the teeth of all who may oppose.

When Pat Harrison thunders the earth trembles with the tread of armies long since returned to dust, and the disarticulated bones of democratic leaders long since consigned to Mother Earth spring together once more, and the skeletons parade pompously for another brief time, then again back to mold and decay.

When Pat Harrison rides with lance acouch, visor lifted to give his vocal apparatus full play, he sweeps like a besom of destruction upon the ranks of all who dare oppose, and courageous indeed is he who dares to sit and listen.

When Pat Harrison gets into action as the Democratic keynoter, the reputations of orators of today and yesterday will be shattered into infinitesimal fragments, history will shriek and flee in dire dismay, truth will hide her beautiful face, and only Bombasio Furioso will survive.

With no partition wall dividing his imagination from his information, Pat will hold his Democratic brethren enthralled by the spell of his vociferation, and sound without sense will once more be vindicated as the real keynote of a party whose religion is opposition to the thing that is, and unwavering adherence to anything that was and is not because experience shunted it into oblivion.

A characteristic Democratic keynoter, Pat will pitch it high in piercing tremolo, and the hosts of democracy, hungering and thirsting, will stand and sing, as always, the calamitous wail of those who are out and seek nothing higher than to get in again.—Omaha Bee.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETS

An unusually quiet session of Council was held here Monday evening. Mayor Frazer opened the meeting, and the treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $1447.61.

A letter was ordered sent to the Federal Electric Co. concerning their refusal to put the Fire Co. siren in running shape. $31.00 in fines were reported by Alderman Thompson.

It was decided to continue curbing along the south side of East Main Street from the Wilson property along the new row of houses for a space of several hundred feet. A request for a sewer along Latta Street, running south from West Delaware Avenue was read to Council by the Mayor. An investigation will be made.

The meeting adjourned shortly after nine o'clock.

MASONIC FIELD DAY DRAWS CROWD OF 3000

Sports and Speeches Mark
 Celebration At Masonic Home Friday Last

Large numbers of Masons from all parts of Delaware took part in the second annual field day celebration at the Masonic Home, near Wilmington, last Friday, and it is estimated that more than 3,000 persons were present.

The program was made up of field sports, a drill by the Drill Battalion of St. John's Commandery, and an address by Right Worthy Howard R. Cruse, Junior Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey.

After the sport events were over the crowd gathered in front of the beautiful new Masonic Home, while Mr. Cruse spoke on the ideals of American independence and of the part Masonry played in the formation of the country.

The speaker pointed out that men have three ideas of what social government really is. The first notion, he explained, is anarchy, under which rule men do as they please without regard to law. The second is monarchy, which embodies the right of a certain individual over a group, while the third is democracy.

Concerning the social division of democracy, Mr. Cruse said: "Universal public education is right for all children, rich or poor. This great American ideal is pictured by a little red school house on the hill. Liberty is glorified when the school is open, for schools are the bulwark of our future greatness. We also need a free press. When the press of America becomes totally unsubsidized, it will then emancipate the American people."

The speaker then said no deed or victory was gained in the history of this country but what it was influenced by Masonry, and named several Masons who had figured in the Colonial history of America, such as Washington, Anthony Wayne, General Warren and Patrick Henry.

The address of welcome was delivered by Most Worthy Grand Master Edward W. Cooch, and Right Worthy Deputy Grand Master Charles D. Bird made the closing speech.

Following these talks, the Knights Templar, under the commandship of Major Clinton D. Edwards, gave an exhibition drill, for which music was furnished by the Masonic Band of Delaware, under the leadership of Charles M. Banks.

Baseball and Other Sports

The feature of the sports program was the baseball game between the Wilmington Chapter De Molay and the Old Timers, managed by George E. Winter. The De Molays were defeated by a score of 10 to 2.

The committee in charge of the outing consisted of the following grand masters of Delaware: Frederic W. Kurtz, chairman; Harry L. Croak, Howard L. Wilhelm, Elbert C. Bailey, Colonel C. Hopkins, John P. LeFevre, C. D. Holzmuller, Kenneth A. Horn, Joseph E. Short, Chas. M. Machamer, Percy C. Holmes, James A. Clendaniel, P. D. Geoghegan, J. G. Highfield, Jr., T. Scott Purse, Clarence A. Darby, William E. Holton, K. B. Pierson, Chester R. Jones, Kenny B. Tull, W. Herbert Potts, Charles A. Holloway.

Talks to Graduates

Prof. R. W. Heim, of the University of Delaware, delivered the Commencement address at the Avondale Vocational School, Avondale, Pa., on Wednesday evening, May 28th.

LOCAL PEOPLE AT STUNTS

Waldo Lovett, Harry Neave, Uhle Buckingham and Bayard Widdoes attended the air demonstration held at Lakehurst, N. J., on Saturday, May 31.

It is claimed to have been the greatest exhibition of flying ever staged by American aviators, and was witnessed by a crowd of more than 100,000 people.

Lieutenant Williams, speed king of the air service, flew through the Shenandoah's hangar at a speed of 100 miles per hour.

The many other events included stunt flying, sham battles, formation flying by Marine and Navy planes, aerial combats, sky-writing, parachute race, putting down a smoke screen, dog fight, and flights made by free balloons, blimps, and the giant Shenandoah.

The Naval Air Station at Lakehurst is one of the largest in the world. It cost more than $6,000,000 to develop it. The flying field is 1400 acres in area. The hangar is 962 feet long, 348 feet wide and 225 feet high. To take care of this plant and the airships there are 50 officers, 500 enlisted men and 300 civilian workmen.

Lodge News Notes

Ivy Castle, No. 23, Knights Golden Eagle, will attend services at the M. E. Church Sunday, June 15th. They will meet at the hall at 10 o'clock, standard time.

Next Saturday night the class initiation will be held. A large attendance is expected on both occasions.

SCOUT NEWS

Because we were unable to go to the first aid and compass events, in Wilmington, by the rain; we had Scout meeting last Thursday. No program was arranged because a meeting was not expected. Therefore a goodly bunch marched to the College "gym" to play games.

Strahorn and McCue started it off by choosing sides for hand, or Indian, wrestling. It so happened that when the others were eliminated, Strahorn won out over McCue in the finals. Games or Red Rover were played with the same sides. Strahorn proved to be a fast crab, when he won several crab races. The winners of the wheelbarrow race, Williamson and Strahorn, displayed speed, not form. The elephant team of Grothenn and Widdoes got closest to the goal line, but they didn't get all the way there. Of course we had a swim in the pool. We were dismissed with the Scout oath. —Scribe.

STRAWBERRIES ARE COMING ALONG NOW

Milford, Del.—Strawberries are beginning to ripen in lower Delaware and within the next ten days extensive shipments are expected to be made from different points.

The season will be about two weeks late, owing to the cold weather and incessant rains which have greatly retarded the fruit from developing.

Prospects at this time are good for a record-breaking crop and nothing will prevent a big yield unless rain storms set in about the time the fruit begins to ripen, followed by hot suns which will cause the fruit to soften and prevent it from carrying.

CHESTER COUNTY MILK PRODUCERS MEET

West Grove, Pa.—The annual meeting and banquet of the West Grove Milk Producers Association was held Thursday evening in Clotti Hall. One hundred and fifty persons were present, much to the surprise of the committee in charge, who had only received about half that number of acceptances of the invitations issued. The serving of the elaborate spread was in charge of Misses Lois and Helen Zimmerman of the Roseboro Tea Room, who were assisted in the arduous task by a number of ladies of the town. Their task was exceedingly serious, as at the last moment the amount of food had to be doubled in quantity. Addresses were made and enjoyed, the principal speaker being Honorable Frank P. Willits, State Secretary of Agriculture and formerly president of the Interstate Department.

KILLS HIMSELF IN FIT OF DESPONDENCY

Oxford, Pa.—William Mullen, 25 years old, Gum Tree, attempted suicide on Thursday morning by shooting himself in the neck with a shotgun.

The young man was rushed to the Coatesville hospital and it was stated he would recover, although he suffered considerable from loss of blood from a gaping wound.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mullen, who was well known in the Gum Tree section, young Mullen has been in ill health for several years, suffering from epilepsy. The illness weighed upon his mind, but at no time did he intimate he was considering an attempt at suicide.

The report of a gun shortly before six o'clock aroused members of the family. His mother found him on the floor in a pool of blood. Mullen had placed the end of the barrel against his neck, but in attempting to discharge the weapon the barrel shifted slightly, otherwise it is likely his head would have been blown off.

MODERN "T. SAWYER" UNEARTHED AT DELMAR

Delmar, Del.—Leaving home without a cent of money, earning enough money to buy himself a new cap, tie and a pair of shoes besides paying a visit to five states, all within a period of six days, is the record of Leslie Smith, Delmar, champion wander-luster of this section who unannouncedly walked in the home of his father, Harold L. Smith, Delmar, after the arrival of a northbound train Monday night.

According to the lad's story he left home on May 21st, with Sherman Phippen, 13, a year his junior. The pair secured a ride on a truck to the Eastern Shore of Virginia. Here the money for picking berries was made. From Onancock to Norfolk by boat was the next jump. At Norfolk the youngsters secured a ride with a party who was seeking berry pickers and traveled overland through Virginia, West Virginia and into Ohio.

On the return trip, it is said, he endeavored to get the Phippen boy to accompany him home, but the lad steadfastly refused and stated that he would never come back.

The Smith boy is said to have been of an adventurous nature. He is of the red haired, freckled face sort famed in literature as being of the strong-willed, determined type.

His parents had become very much worried and had asked the school authorities to help in locating their boy.

WILMINGTON SINGERS PLEASE DOVER PEOPLE

Dover, Del.—The Walter L. Fox Post, in presenting the vocal concert in the Opera House, recently, performed a real service to those people of Dover who are lovers of fine music. The Orpheus Club, whose home is in Wilmington, consists of a chorus of 50 male voices and it is difficult to speak of the fine work of this chorus without using language which might seem extravagant. It is doubtful whether a Dover audience has ever been treated to a finer exhibition of choral singing.

The ensemble was well high perfect and the shading and expression of each piece rendered was a splendid exhibition of well trained musicianship. The tonal quality of the chorus was excellent and the chorus as a whole was splendidly balanced. The high tenor voices were of beautiful quality and unusually clear and distinct and there was just enough of the deep bass quality to give the music the necessary background and foundation.

Mr. John Barnes Wells, the noted tenor was the solo artist of the evening and he showed himself possessed of one of the finest tenor voices in the country. He sang a group of selections requiring a wide range of voice and expression and each number was a veritable gem in itself.

In the two final number Mr. Wells was accompanied by the entire chorus which gave him splendid support.

FARM BUREAU BUYS MOVING PICTURE SET

Centerville, Md.—The Queen Anne's County Farm Bureau will this summer possess its long sought motion picture machine. The American Farm Bureau Federation now has on the market a machine that is suitable for the projecting of both lantern slides and motion pictures, and this machine sells for a very reasonable amount.

The necessary purchase money will in part be raised by a sale of advertising privileges in which the Bureau will show advertising slides at its meetings throughout the county. The pictures shown will include educational films secured from the Department of Agriculture and from the American Farm Bureau Federation. Many of these films are vastly beneficial and interesting, and are calculated to increase interest in both progressive farming and in organization.

The boy arrived just on the eve of final examinations at the high school where he is a student, the tests starting Tuesday morning.

AMERICANIZATION BOOKLET ISSUED

Attractive Volume Contains Interesting Material

A wide variety of topics of interest to aliens is contained in an edition of the Americanization News, just issued by the Americanization classes of Delaware. The publication is in magazine form and beautifully bound.

In February last the Delaware Americanization schools celebrated their fourth anniversary, and the edition of the Americanization News is issued as a part of the event. This fact is told in the preface, which also contains a brief account of the activities of the schools, written by Mariano Finocchiaro, of the American House School for Declarants.

One of the features is the attractive pictures of the Americanization committee seated about a table at its headquarters, 835 Market street, Wilmington. The committee is composed of George B. Miller, president; Mrs. James N. Ginn, vice-president; Dr. Thomas R. Bown, H. V. Holloway, David A. Ward, Dr. Joseph H. Odell, H. C. Mahaffy, Mayor G. W. K. Forrest, LeRoy Harvey, James T. Chandler, Sr., Miss Elizabeth Draper, William F. Kurtz, John C. Saylor, Carlton T. Bridgman, Miss Marguerite H. Burnett and Miss Grace T. Brewer.

65 DELAWARE BOYS IN C. M. T. C.

Delaware has submitted to date 65 applications for the Citizens' Military Training Camps which exist in the Second Area, according to an announcement by Gen. Robert Lee Bullard, of Governor's Island, N. Y. The camp opens July 1. The Second Area includes New York, Delaware, New Jersey. A quota of 4300 men have been assigned to the Second Area. So far it is estimated that 900 vacancies exist.

As Delaware's share of the entire quota of 4300 is but 81, it is now quite certain that this figure will be reached, if not passed, before June 10th.

The applications by towns, are as follows: Wilmington, 24; Georgetown, 5; Felton, 1; Smyrna, 2; Millsboro, 1; Seaford, 8; Lewes, 3; Middletown, 1; Milford, 7; Laurel, 2; Harrington, 2; Selbyville, 1; Delmar, 1; Lincoln, 1. The six or more not reported in this list have not yet been definitely reported to the Wilmington office as accepted.

Newark, as far as known, will not be represented at the training camp this year.

YORKLYN'S BIG GAME

Tackle Krebs Saturday in Battle for League Lead

Probably the most important game of the County League season so far will be the one staged at Yorklyn, Saturday afternoon next, between the home team and Krebs, of Newport. The two clubs are tied for the lead in the first half race, and a big crowd is expected to witness the battle.

Manager Gregg of Yorklyn told the Post yesterday that George was being groomed for the important mound duty. McDaniel will receive him. The Krebs battery will be Archibald or Miller pitching and Galloway catching. If Miller and George hook-up, a rare pitchers' battle is looked for.

MEMORIAL DAY IN NEWARK

The parade then formed again, and, augmented by scores of additional marchers, moved up Main Street to the college campus where the main exercises were held.

The Continental Band led the procession, followed by two sturdy old G. A. R. veterans, who marched along with the old swing of the Union Armies; a detachment of Veterans of Foreign Wars, with Chaplain Smith; the American Legion; a squad of members of Battery E Delaware National Guard, under command of Lieut. Frank E. Mote, and over a hundred school children, each carrying a small flag, and accompanied by their teachers.

Many Attend Services
Shortly after 10.30, the community services started with C. A. Short presiding. With Mr. Short on the speakers' stand were Dr. Walter Hulihan, Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, speaker of the day; Mayor Eben B. Frazer, G. E. Michael, Richard G. Buckingham and John Waters in G. A. R. uniforms; Dean Winifred J. Robinson, Mrs. Charles B. Evans, Rev. Father Brennan of St. John's R. C. Church here, Everett C. Johnson, and James C. Hastings.

The meeting opened with prayer by Father Brennan, followed by community singing led by Mr. Hastings. Major Buckingham then read Lincoln's immortal "Gettysburg Address." Then followed the announcement by Chairman Short of the arrangements made for the memorial marker.

Rev. Tomkins Speaks
The chairman then introduced as speaker of the occasion the Rev. Floyd W. Tomkins, rector of Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia. In introducing the speaker, Mr. Short said that Dr. Tomkins was no stranger to Newark people, having spoken here several times, and who of late, has been giving them the benefit of his regular Sunday evening radio sermons.

Dr. Tomkins spoke particularly of the loyalty and devotion to the Flag and the Nation which every real citizen of America must have. He called attention to the various wars in which we have engaged and stated that none of them had been waged with any regard for personal gain. From the Revolution down to and including the World War, Dr. Tomkins said that America has always fought for those things which she as a nation held dear and as her unalienable rights.

With this thought in mind, the speaker went on to say, this nation must never forget the memories of the men who suffered, bled and died for us in these conflicts, and that in hallowing the thought and sentiment of Memorial Day, we shall all be better citizens. If every man and woman would give a thought on this day to GAL. 2—ART. 8 6,2,24 JAK the glorious history of the United States, and to the men who made it, and have preserved it from all foes, we are not in peril.

The audience listened attentively to his address, and comments later were heard that it was one of the best ever delivered in Newark.

Salute To the Dead
At the conclusion of Dr. Tomkins' address, the audience sang the national anthem, led by the Continental Band, a detachment of Battery E fired a salute to the dead heroes, and bugler Orville Little blew "Taps." As the last sweet strains of the call died away, the meeting was concluded.

The band and veterans again took up the march and moved to St. Thomas' cemetery, where flowers were placed on the graves there.

While the crowd was not as large as in former years, Newark's Memorial Day program was carried out without a hitch and reflects great credit on the committee which arranged it. The members of the committee follow:

Elkton Again Wins In Hard Fought Game

Elk Mills Fail to Break Through County Seaters Defense, and Lose 2-0

Before a capacity crowd at the Elkton ball park Saturday, the home team went into a tie with Elk Mills for the lead in the Susquehanna League race, by winning from the "cliff dwellers," 2-0.

It was a pitchers' battle every inch of the way. Old Man Clay for Elkton, while apparently easy to hit, was stingy with safeties with men on bases, and at critical points was given sensational support by his teammates. He deserved his shutout.

On the other glove, Foster comes in for a lot of praise for his work. The Elk Mills flinger was in fine form, and he was cheered from the stands all through the game by a host of his home town rooters. They were there in force, and vied with the Elkton contingent in making noise.

Close observers of the two teams say that Elk Mills was far from the hitting form they have shown at other times this season. It appears that Clay's slow ball pitching had them worried throughout, and they were not able to connect when a hit was most needed.

The entire Elkton team played big league baseball during the nine innings. Marcus, Peterson and Finn helping out by some mighty good catches in the outfield, and Robinson and the Dunbar boys guarding well the inner works.

One of the largest crowds of the season turned out to see the game, and certainly got their money's worth—that is, if they came from Elkton.

Naylor's Team Provides Feature of Saturday In County League

Scoring 21 runs in nine innings, with only two frames barren of scoring, Five Points annihilated the Diamond State entry in the County League Saturday. The Pointers jumped on Ellwood with all their might early in the game, and later forced little Scott to take a little punishment. The game was too one-sided to be interesting. It, however, set a new record for the County League.

Newark Drops Two County League Games

Lose to Krebs Memorial Day and Also Saturday's Game at Yorklyn

LEAGUE RACE TIED

Newark's entry in the New Castle County League apparently has not thrown off the jinx which has been following it all season. The local team has yet to win a regulation game in the League, and with the defeat at Yorklyn Saturday, have dropped six straight contests.

Most of the games have been hard fought, and a few saw the Newarkers outwit their opponents, but Manager Ewing's men seem to lack the punch to drive over the winning markers. Jack Williams, Delaware College first baseman this year, played his first County League game of the season Saturday against Yorklyn, and gathered in two hits, but his team lost nevertheless.

There has been a rumor prevalent during the week, that due to lack of funds, the Newark team may be forced to disband for the balance of the first half race. This could not be confirmed, however. The attendance has fallen off considerably since the long losing streak started, which fact has crimped the income from the home games.

Tied for First Place

The games last week failed to break the tie for first place in the League, both Yorklyn and Krebs winning their games and remaining deadlocked for the lead.

Newark lost to the Newport team on Friday by a close score, and the following day dropped a tough game to Yorklyn, 12-6.

In the latter game, the locals out-hit Yorklyn, 18-10, and pounded George hard in every inning. The final punch was lacking, however, and after the second inning, when Ewing's men bunched their hits for four runs, they were trailing throughout.

Tribbitt and Ewing led the attack for Newark, with Bland, Steedle, Williams and Greco right behind. Wright and Cole were the heavy guns for the winners.

Cole was an especial thorn in the side of Newark. He slammed out a homer and two two-baggers, all of his hits accounting for runs. The score:

RIVER LEAGUE RACE TIGHTENS UP A BIT

As a result of Saturday's games in the Susquehanna League, all six teams are well in the running for the first half banner. Elkton and Elk Mills are fighting it out for the lead but the other clubs are not far behind and coming fast.

Havre de Grace won out over their old rivals, Perryville, by a 4-0 score, mainly by pecking away at Manager Alexander's delivery consistently.

The score by innings:

Havre de Grace . . . 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 1 0—4
Perryville . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

Batteries: Poughkeepsie and Peel; Alexander and Gillespie.

Delta and Aberdeen staged an old fashioned slugfest as their contribution to Saturday's excitement. After the regulation nine innings of battling, the score read 13-12 in favor of the Pennsylvanians.

Delta went out in front with six runs in the first, and three more in the third. Then Aberdeen bats limbered up and three runs in each of three successive innings put them in the lead 12-11.

Despite the lucky "3's," they could not save off the tailenders and a Garrison finish in the eighth and ninth won the game for Delta. Fans were said to be in their seventh heaven of excitement in the closing minutes of the game.

JOLLY EVENING WITH "PINAFORE" CREW

not generally known, this was her first appearance before the footlights.

To say she carried the audience with her would be putting it mildly. She was complete mistress of her role at all times. Two of her solos were as difficult as any written by the great Sullivan. She was encored several times. Hours of faithful practice under careful tutelage fitted her admirably for the part and she easily shared along with Mrs. Tyson and Messrs. Ryden and Usher, the honors of the opera.

The latter named gentlemen, naval men of great consequence and importance around which the plot was wrapped, both have splendid voices, the former a resounding baritone and the latter a clear tenor. Both had full measure of solos, duets and trios. Mr. Ryden's solo at the beginning of the second act brought continued applause, as did Mr. Usher's opening solo. The latter's voice was clear as a bell at all times. Perhaps the best duet in the opera was that rendered by Mr. Usher and Mrs. Lafferty in act 1.

And then there was Sir Joseph Porter, magnificent in gold lace and accompanied by his bevy of "cousins and aunts," who come aboard the ship and get right into the middle of the involved plot. Portrayed by Mr. Hancock, the doughty admiral left little to be desired, both as to acting and booming voice.

Miss Ritz ably supported her gallant companion, and made a very pretty picture on the stage. Her trained voice showed to great advantage when the opportunity came. Miss Naylor and Miss Cook made very realistic "aunties."

"Dick Deadeye," the "Bos'n," his mate, and the other members of the jolly crew carried the opera along during the chorus work in creditable fashion. Much depends on the chorus in a Gilbert and Sullivan opera—Newark's efforts then should be complimented for the chorus possessed good voices, were snappy and attentive at all times and formed a pretty background, along with the ladies, for the acting in front.

Well Trained Cast

To Mrs. J. O. G. Duffy, musical director of the Opera, who conceived the cast and started work last Fall, and to Mrs. Tyson, stage director and in charge of the dancing, go all the credit for the successful completion of months of work.

Both ladies were called to the footlights between the acts and presented with several gorgeous bouquets by admirers in the audience. Mrs. Duffy and Mrs. Tyson both are thoroughly familiar with Gilbert and Sullivan operas, and it was entirely due to their untiring energy and belief in the cast that it was given. Miss Nell B. Wilson accompanied at the piano, and also worked with the cast at practically every rehearsal, being the most faithful attendant. She was assisted Monday evening by William H. Cook and O. W. Mosher, Jr., both violinists.

And last but not least, the incidental dancing. Three dainty little maidens, Misses Mary Louise Smith, Betty McKelvey, and Louise Steel completely captivated the house with their Sailors' Hornpipe dance during the first act. They were rewarded and thrilled when they were called to the footlights and presented with flowers at the end of the act.

William R. Hill also gave a splendid hornpipe dance at the same time. Hill is a University student and one of the best clog dancers in this section.

The marine atmosphere was even carried down over the footlights as several young girls sold candy between the acts, dressed as sailor lassies.

All in all it was considered one of the best home talent shows ever given in Newark, and every member of the cast, the directors, and all who had a part in the performance should be congratulated.

Children Day exercises will be held in the church on Sunday, June 15th, at 10.30 a. m. H. K. Preston, superintendent of the school, and Miss Florence Cook, chairman of the Children's Day Committee, are both busy these days preparing for the event.

The rite of infant baptism will be held by Rev. Hallman at the same service.

In the evening the Newark Chapter of Odd Fellows will attend the service in a body.

The Presbyterian congregation will join the rest of the churches in a Union service next Sunday evening at the M. E. Church, the occasion being the High School baccalaureate sermon.
