OLD HOME WEEK IS PROGRESSING

Full Committees Are Appointed to Handle Various Activities

THREE-DAY AFFAIR

All Organizations of Town Will Have A Part

Considerable progress has been made during the past week in preparation for Old Home Week, to be celebrated in Newark on October 25th, 26th and 27th, and it is felt by those at the head of the movement that the first celebration of this kind promises to be a success.

President J. C. Hastings, of the Chamber of Commerce, and general chairman of the Old Home Week project, announced today the following committees:

Program and Entertainment

Clarence A. Short, Dr. Walter Hurlbush, Mayor Eben B. Frazer, Charles A. McCue, and Miss Etta Wilson.

Invitations

J. E. Dougherty, W. H. Evans, George L. Medill, Dr. R. W. Heim, Mrs. Joseph H. Hossinger and Mrs. Walter Geist.

Publicity

T. R. Dantz, Fred W. Stierle, William E. Hayes, Clarence B. Dean and Eugene Stiltz.

Parade

Charles W. Straborn, J. K. Johnson, Irving Durnall, Ira Shellender, and J. Herbert Owens.

Dance

Mrs. Walt H. Steel, Mervyn Lafferty, Frank Mote, H. D. Jester, Daniel Thompson and Leslie Hill.

Merchandise and Decoration

George W. Rhodes, Patrick Nivin, Louis Handloff, Frank Fader, Michael Pilnick and James H. Hutchinson.

Industrial Display of Newark Products

Warren Singles, chairman.

The three days celebration is planned for the purpose of creating a new interest in the growing town by those who live here, to provide plenty of entertainment for old time residents and other visitors who will undoubtedly be here those three days.

It is understood that an effort will be made to have as many families as possible invite some friend or relative here for that week-end.

A parade, involving all the organizations in town will, it is understood, be a feature of the Old Home Week. The merchants will likely have one day set aside for them, on which they will plan a special feature.

It is planned to have a mass meeting or some other general gathering together on each of the three nights, ending on Saturday night with the parade, and dance, if such is forthcoming.

The plans as they are now prepared will be presented at the Chamber of Commerce dinner tomorrow night.

Included in the organizations which will be invited to take part in Old Home Week are the following:

Town Council, Fire Company, Daughters American Revolution, The Colleges, The Lodges, The Churches, Industries, Granges and Farmers Clubs of the vicinity, G. A. R., Schools and Fraternities.

NEW STREET PLANNED

Will Reach From Bernard Sawmill To Lincoln Highway

William J. Bernard, of this town, has a force of workmen busy this week leveling a plot of ground along the Lincoln Highway below Leak's Garage, and it is understood that he will have it surveyed later, preparatory to opening a new street.

It is planned by Mr. Bernard to extend the thoroughfare north from the highway to his sawmill, near Deandale.

If the plan is carried through to completion, it will open up a new portion of the town and provide a continuation of Cleveland Avenue, along the B. and O. embankment.

ERECTING NEW SIREN

Much Delayed Apparatus Now Being Placed In Position

The new siren tower is being erected at the rear of the Fire House on Academy Street this week. Chief E. C. Wilson stated today that the siren would not be ready for use for at least a week, as the concrete foundations must be placed and allowed to dry out before the tower is put in place.

The delay in the erection was caused, it is understood, by the failure of the manufacturers to send definite instructions. Furthermore, the iron work was not marked in any way to help the workmen when they attempted to piece it together.

When placed in operation, the siren will be held by all living within a radius of two miles from the town, and will be a great benefit to the firemen.

MARCO & CO. PLEASE

Magicians Delight Large Crowd In Wolf Hall Friday Night

The entertainment given last Friday evening in Wolf Hall by Marco and Company pleased a large audience of town and college people who were present.

The talented magician provoked many bursts of laughter when a member of the audience became the victim of his mystic tricks. The "bag or tricks" was a delight to all.

SCHOOLS JOIN IN FIRE PREVENTION

Working Out A System Of Fire Drills In Response To Nation-Wide Movement

The Newark Public Schools, under the supervision of J. Herbert Owens, are cooperating extensively in the observance of Fire Prevention Week, now being held all over the United States. In the larger cities parades and special programs are being held daily to enlist the aid of every citizen in preventing the greatest single danger to life and property.

The pupils of the High School and Grammar School departments in Newark are busy working out a system of Fire Drills for each room, and are practicing daily. With an efficient organization, every child may be gotten out of danger in a very few minutes if an emergency arises.

It is also understood that several of the grades are being assigned essays to write on this subject and as much information as possible in preventing the fire menace, is being given by the staff of teachers.

GIRLS ENTER TRAINING

Two Newark Girls Studying Nursing In Wilmington Hospital

Miss Edna Holton and Miss Mildred Richards, both of Newark, entered the Homeopathic Hospital Training School for Nurses in Wilmington last week. They will take the regulation course in nursing, graduating in three to four years with trained nurse diplomas. Their many friends in Newark wish them every success in their new undertaking.

MAKING ALTERATIONS

Local Contractor Working On Historic Old House

Benjamin F. Whiteman, local contractor and builder, is busy these days with a force of men remodeling the old Chadds Ford Hotel, at Chadds Ford, Pa. The owner, Mr. Frank J. Stackhouse, is also making alterations to his mansion nearby.

The old hotel is rich in historic importance, having been the center of the Revolutionary Headquarters prior to and during the battle of the Brandywine. It was in years gone by the most fashionable gathering place for people from all over the vicinity.

OPERATED ON TOMORROW

Little George Medill In Baltimore Hospital For Removal of Tonsils

George Cook Medill, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Medill, of this town, will be operated upon for the removal of tonsils and adenoids in the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, tomorrow. Mrs. Medill accompanied the child to Baltimore.

"LADIES' NIGHT" ASSURED AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DINNER TOMORROW NIGHT

Josiah Marvel Will be Principal Speaker at Banquet in Old College—Several Musical Numbers Planned

EXPECT OVER 100 PEOPLE TO BE PRESENT

The Fall dinner of the Chamber of Commerce of Newark, to which this time, ladies of the town will be invited, takes place tomorrow evening in Old College at seven o'clock.

The dinner marks the re-opening of the busy mercantile season of the town, and judging from the replies to the recent letters sent out by the Secretary, the merchants have responded with a vim.

There was considerable misunderstanding concerning the proposed "Ladies Night" as announced in THE Post two weeks ago.

Many people in town were of the belief that Ladies Night had been cancelled, and that only the business men would be invited to attend. It was later straightened out satisfactorily to all concerned and the members of the Chamber are urgently requested to bring their wives along.

At the last meeting of the organization the dinner was conceived as an opportunity to outline to as many people as possible, the plans for the forthcoming Old Home Week celebration. And it was upon this desire, it is understood, that possibilities of a Ladies Night were founded.

Chairman George W. Griffith, and his able assistants, Sol Wilson, Clarence B. Dean and Daniel Stoll, have been hard at work this week in preparing for the occasion. Tickets have been selling without much trouble, and it was announced this morning that over 100 people would be present.

The Program

Josiah Marvel, prominent member of the Wilmington legal circles, has been engaged to make the principal after-dinner speech tomorrow evening. Mr. Marvel is well known to Newark people, he having spoken here on several occasions. Dr. Walter Hurlbush, President of the University, will also sit at the speakers' table and address the gathering.

It is the intention of Mr. Griffin to then throw the meeting open to short talks by several local people, interspersed with musical numbers. The complete program has not as yet been prepared. There will be several other features which cannot be announced at this time.

Music for the occasion will be under the direction of Orville Little, and will be a five-piece orchestra. Songs and piano solos will be other musical numbers on the program.

At the meeting the report of the progress of the Old Home Week project will be given by members of that committee.

NEWARK MAN'S FATHER FOULY ATTACKED

John Finkernagle, Aged Storekeeper Shot Down In Maryland Store

ASSAILANTS STILL FREE

John Finkernagle, father of A. Finkernagle, Main Street fruit and produce merchant, was attacked by two masked men in his store at Swan Creek, near Havre de Grace, Friday evening last, and after being shot down, the robbers emptied the cash register and escaped.

His son, in Newark, was notified of the crime Saturday and left immediately for the scene of the attack. In the meantime, the elder Finkernagle had been rushed to the Havre de Grace Hospital, where physicians say now that he has a fighting chance for his life. He is seventy-two years of age. Despite this handicap, the jagged wound in his throat will not cause his death, although he may be paralyzed, as the bullet touched his spine.

Finkernagle breathed through a tube substituted by surgical skill for his windpipe, which had been cut in two by the bullet. The lower part of his body was paralyzed—he may never walk if he lives—because the bullet had passed through his neck and pressed against the delicate nerves of his spinal column at the base of the neck.

Men of Harford County, in the vicinity of Belair and Havre de Grace, armed and formed a posse to beat the 1000 acres of woods into which the Negroes escaped. The hunt continued until daybreak, when others took it up. Everybody in the county had known Finkernagle.

Soldiers of Aberdeen Proving Grounds joined the deputy sheriffs and civilians in the hunt. Railroad detectives watched all trains to capture the fleeing gunmen should they attempt that avenue of escape.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN BED

Mrs. Isaac B. Neale Victim of Heart Trouble Last Week

BURIED SUNDAY

A sudden and tragic death shocked the community east of Newark last Thursday, when the body of Mary E., wife of Isaac B. Neale, tenant on the Huber farm, was found dead in bed. Dr. Kollock, hastily summoned by the husband, stated that Mrs. Neale had been a victim of valvular heart trouble, and had probably succumbed shortly after retiring Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Neale said that his wife usually is up ahead of him in the morning but that he left the house to start the morning work still of the belief that she was sleeping. When he returned to breakfast, he discovered that she was dead. Mrs. Neale had been, it is understood, in good health for some time prior to being stricken.

The funeral was held from her late home east of Newark, on last Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Daniel J. Givan, pastor of the North East, Md., M. E. Church, officiated at the services. Interment was made in the North East cemetery.

Mrs. Neale was well known by many people in the community. They have been farming the place for the past seventeen years, and in that time have made many friends.

The large barn and the stock therein was destroyed, it will be remembered, last year by one of the worst fires in this vicinity.

Mrs. Neale's plans are at this time uncertain.

CHARLES MEDILL MARRIED TODAY

Miss Lillian West of Townsend, Del., Became Bride of Local Man at Noon

WILL LIVE IN CITY

A wedding of much local interest was solemnized today at noon in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Townsend, Del., when Miss Lillian West, daughter of Mrs. Susan West, of that town, became the bride of Mr. Charles L. Medill, son of Mrs. Philena Medill, of Newark. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Townsend church.

The wedding was a quiet one, with members of both families and immediate friends present. Miss Ethelyn Maloney, of Townsend, a close friend of the bride was maid of honor, and Mr. Harry Warrington, of Wilmington, was best man. The ushers were George L. Medill, brother of the groom, and Joseph McVey, brother-in-law, both of Newark.

After a wedding trip to be spent touring through northern points, the bride and groom will reside on Gilpin Avenue, Wilmington.

Mr. Medill was born and raised in Newark and has lived here all his life. After completing his courses in local schools, he entered the banking business with the Central National Bank of Wilmington. He has been with the institution for the past eighteen years; he is now paying teller. Up until the present time he has been at home with his mother in the Medill home on East Main Street. Mr. Medill enjoys a host of friends both in Wilmington and in Newark.

CANNING PLANT SETS A RECORD

Biggest Season Ever Experienced in Newark Closes This Week

WILL CAN PUMPKINS

Warehouse Full of Products—31 Cars Shipped Out

This week brings to a close the largest canning season ever seen in Newark, according to the production report received from the United Canneries yesterday. Upon inquiry, it was found that 270 tons of tomatoes and 860 tons of corn were packed at the local plant during the approximate forty-five days of full-time operation.

John F. Richards stated the other day, that a total of 31 carloads of corn and tomatoes had already been shipped from the plant. The big new warehouse built this year is packed to the roof with cases ready for shipment.

Included in this record pack, are many hundreds of cases of tomato pulp, which will be used in making catsup. A force of workmen will be kept at the United Canneries throughout the winter at this job.

It is also planned to start canning pumpkins and squash, which will soon come in from the farmer-stockholders in the concern.

Although an accurate check has not as yet been completed, it is estimated that the largest single grower to ship to this cannery from the community was C. I. Richards, from his farm on the Newark-Kemblesville Road.

Production Report

Included in the production at the local cannery is the following:

42,649 cases No. 2 machine packed tomatoes; 1,583 cases No. 3 hand packed; 760 cases No. 10 (gallon cans, 6 to case).

12,586 gallon cans of skin and core pulp; 19,312 cases corn; 9,893 cases whole tomato pulp, and 10,309 cases No. 3 machine packed tomatoes.

About 300 people were employed at the canning plant at the peak of the season. No serious breakdowns were reported.

J. F. Richards is general manager of the plant, W. H. Dougherty is plant superintendent, and Miss Mary Spiker, Mary Eastburn and Mr. Emery Ewing handled the work in the office.

NEGRO SHOT SUNDAY

Sam Anderson Suffers Wound In Arm In Sunday Night Conflict

Samuel Anderson, a Negro residing on New London Avenue, was the victim of a shooting affray last Sunday night in that district.

Anderson was shot through the fleshy part of the arm, and was later taken to the Union Hospital, Elkton, where it is said he will soon be well again.

The assailant's name could not be learned, although local police are hot on the trail. Anderson gave a confused version of the episode, and could not say who fired the shot.

BEHIND THE SCENES

AT THE DAIRY SHOW

By H. E. Babcock

A rivalry so intense that it is equalled only by the feeling between rival football squads characterizes the showing of the cattle at the National Dairy Show, now on at Syracuse.

The spirit of contest is not confined to the owners of the herds which are shown—gentlemen-farmers, practical farmers, and stock fanciers—but has its chief stronghold and rises to the greatest intensity among the herds-men, the boys who stay with their charges day and night, groom them with almost loving care, teach them to pose, and on show days stand primly erect at the end of a show halter.

*At the dairy show this year these herdsmen run the gamut from college graduates with doctor's degrees to vagabonds of the road with a knowledge of cows; from soft spoken Southern dandies to dour Scotch. To these, success in the judging ring at the National Dairy Show means personal victory, the joy of the winning, and justification of their pride in their cattle.

Over these herdsmen and their long lines of sleek and shining charges, E. S. Sabage, professor of animal husbandry at Cornell University, presides. The boys all call him "prof" and consider his judgment final.

Visitors at the ringside in the great new coliseum where the cattle are judged get only a small reflection of the keen contest enacted there unless they go back to the barn and talk with "prof" and his herdsmen behind the scenes in this greatest of dairy expositions.

TOO SILLY

A VISIT TO CHINATOWN BY LOCAL PEOPLE

One of the most interesting sections of New York City is Chinatown. It seems hard, on seeing the groups of well-dressed Chinamen on the streets, to realize that this section of New York used to be one of the most notorious gambling and opium smoking sections to be found. However, due to the last raid, of 1912, made by the New York police, this is now one of the cleanest of the foreign sections to be found in the city.

Our guide took us into the theatre which was the center of the 1912 raid. The theatre he claimed was only a blind for the gambling den which was operated below. This cellar is now used as a gathering place for the derelicts from all over the city. The secret passage which he pointed out to us, was the center of the battle between the Chinese and the police. This passage is not open to the visitors. After this, we went up to the top floor of another building to see the Chinese place of worship. This is a small room usually at the top of a high building. According to the Chinese belief, they are closer to their god, whom they worship, when situated in the top of a high building. In the center of the room is a large altar of teak wood. The lower section is carved to represent the earth, while the upper part represents the Chinese heaven. It is claimed that it took three generations, the father, son and grandson, to carve out this magnificent altar. The top of the altar is a marble-like surface. On this they place their gifts. These mostly consist of pork, chicken and grape fruit. On top of the altar at the present time, however, were laid two small sticks, probably about three inches long, with one rounded side and one flat side. The Chinamen on going to the altar would toss these sticks into the air; if they fell any other way than both flat sides down, he would retire from the room and return a later date and repeat, and so on until both flat sides were down, then he would be favored by the god.

PEOPLES BANK FOR TOWN OF ELKTON

Movement to Take Over Defunct Second National Gains Strength

With directors for the first year and organization plans almost complete, there is every reason to believe that Elkton will open a new banking institution in the near future.

Plans call for the taking over of the defunct Second National Bank on North Street, remodeling of the interior, and other minor improvements. The bank will be called The People's.

This action has been contemplated for many months, but nothing definite was announced prior to the election of directors. The election results follow:

Henry L. Constable, president; J. Wirt Willis, J. B. Decker, Dr. C. C. Laws, J. W. McAllister, Benjamin Miller, and Frank B. Evans.

The organizers propose to buy the building from Receiver Perkins, who has been in Elkton for two years, settling up the affairs of the old Second National.

It is further planned to do all the banking business on the first floor of the building and to fit up the second floor as offices.

Indignant because their mother will not allow them to stay up at night to her party, they wish themselves in Story Book Land where there are no unfeeling mothers and where one meets with such alluring adventures. STANTON NEWS OF THE WEEK

Grange and Church People Active in Nearby Town

Diamond State Grange held its regular weekly meeting in Stanton Hall. A class of 4 were initiated into the 3rd and 4th degree; 25 have signified their intention of taking the 5th degree at Newport on October 11th. Very nearly enough orders have been secured for the car load of coal. All orders must be in by October 8th, when the order closes. A very pleasant social hour was indulged in, the new Victrola is being put to good use. Hugh J. Lindsey was appointed temporary lecturer.

The Parish Aid of St. James Church, Stanton, held its regular all-day monthly meeting at the home of Miss Nellie C. Justis last Tuesday. The members were as busy as bees getting articles finished for the coming Supper and Bazaar, to be held on November 14th. This will be the annual Chicken Pattle Supper.

The Women's Auxiliary held the first meeting of the fall at the home of Miss Nellie C. Justis. The announcement was made of the Fall Diocesan Meeting to be held in Immanuel Church, New Castle, on Thursday, October 11th. It was voted to give towards the Japanese Relief.

A preliminary meeting of the Altar Guild was also held at the same time and place, when Mrs. Rich gave us a very good talk on "What Was the Work of the Guild." The next meeting will be held as soon as the chairman, Mrs. A. J. Newlin, returns from her trip.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR BIG PARADE OCTOBER 31st

THE COMMITTEES

The following committees were made to make Elkton's Halloween the same success this year as similar affairs in the past few years:

Finance—John W. McCool, J. Alfred Taylor, Howard Baines.

Prize—Henry H. Mitchell, John Malony, William Fenton.

Decorations—S. Ralph Andrews, Warren W. Boulden, John A. Minster, J. Frank Frazer, Delancy Scott, Wm. Creamer.

Printing—Harry Cleaves.

Lights—Calvin Fox, J. Wesley McAllister, Walter Dubois.

Music—Sterling S. Dunbar, Daniel H. Garrett, A. Victor Davis.

Fireworks—J. B. Decker, A. H. Hubbard, R. V. Criswell, John K. Burkley, Clarence Perkins, Harold Garrett, Russell George, Avery Stithbury, Wilbur Borland, Harland Schaffer, Layton Boulden, Charles Mazemore, Frank Davis.

Registration—Michael Lipman.

Parade—Taylor W. McKenney.

The fall of the year always brings the thought of Halloween to Elkton people, and this interest has greatly increased during the last five years.

The young men of that town will hold their fifth consecutive Halloween parade on the night of October 31st, and at a meeting held Friday evening an organization was effected, with W. C. Feehly, chairman; Sidney Lipman, secretary; and Herman Meziek, treasurer.

Each year Elkton's Halloween has improved. The first time the celebration was attempted, the results were gratifying, although not many people took part. Last year, the town was jammed and packed with people from all over Cecil County, Newark, Wilmington and lower Chester County, Pa., there to see the parade.

Feehly Good Chairman

In the opinion of the majority of Elkton residents interested in Halloween celebrations, the selection of William C. Feehly as chairman this year was a wise choice. Mr. Feehly, by reason of his experience in former affairs, and his energetic nature, is looked upon to be the one man to put the celebration across. Sidney Lipman is another Elkton man capable of taking plenty of responsibility on his shoulders. Mr. Meziek completes the small group of officers.

The Finance and Prize Committees are at work this week and it is the desire of the organization to speed up this part of the work, as the success of the coming event will depend upon their reports.

ter as soon as the Trolley Company have completed their work.

Ruth, Lillian Beecher, Edna Jacobs, Mary Lynch, Esther Miller, Mary Vannort, Harold Swift, Clifton Abrams, James Case, David Vannort, Francis Lynch, Louis Boulden, Harold Narvel, Alfred Lucas and John Barlow.

It was decided to hold the annual Oyster Supper on Thursday evening, November 22nd. The representative to the Supreme Lodge, Lady Jesse J. Howett, gave a very interesting and able report of the Supreme Session just past.

The Unity Lodge No. 41, I. O. O. F., will hold a Bazaar on Friday and Saturday, November 9th and 10th, at their hall.

"Courts are established, not to determine the popularity of a cause, but to adjudicate and enforce rights. No litigant should be required to submit his case to the hazard and expense of a political campaign. No judge should be required to seek or receive political rewards. The courts are known and honored wherever men love justice. Let their glory suffer no diminution at our hands. The electorate and judiciary cannot combine. A hearing means a hearing. When the trial of causes goes outside the courtroom, Anglo-Saxon constitutional government ends."—Coolidge.

Let's Be Generous

"Let's be generous" was the decision of Coach MacAvoy on Saturday when Muhlenberg was late in reporting on the field at the beginning of the second half.

The rules provide for a penalty when the team does not report on time. Last Saturday when Delaware Grit went up against the Dutch Beef with tremendous odds against her, this expression of Mac shows the type of sportsmanship here.

The crowd did not see this by-play which is so illustrative of Mac and Delaware. Muhlenberg was late in reporting on the field. So late, that an official reported to our Coach and asked his wishes. Quick as a flash Mac replied, "Oh, I do not think it is intentional. Let's be generous. We will not take the advantage that the rules would give."

A little thing—but significant. The game was wonderful. Pluck, sand and good team work—all were there. It was a great game and was won by straight football. The score on the bulletin board looks great and causes sporting editors to revise their gloomy theories. But the greatest of all was this expression of "Old Delaware"—"Let's be generous."

Some score, some game, some sportsmen!

Our Coal and the Mines

During the next few weeks, THE POST will print a series of articles on the Coal Situation. These articles are written by one familiar with conditions in the mining district—not by reading but actual experience and contact.—Ed.

Shall we have coal and have it more abundantly with lower cost to the consumer and at the same time assure the miner the present wage scale? Is the man who wields the pick and shovel in the bowels of the earth over-paid? Are the operators making too large a profit on their investment? Are the railroads too excessive in their rates of transportation, making the price of coal per ton exorbitant, when that point is at no little distance from the colliery; or is a very large part of the cost to the consumer added through brokers into whose hands the coal passes en route from the mines to the coal bins of the households?

These are some of the questions which ever agitate the public mind and which, during the recent suspension of the mines in the hard coal region, were discussed most freely through the press and some men even clamored for government control, asserting that the natural resources of the country were the inherent possession of its people. These differences were adjusted for the time between the operators and the miners through the offices of the Governor of Pennsylvania, in which his four points was the medium of arbitration, the increased wage demanded in this instance being met by an increase per ton to the consumer, which the Governor, however, plans to have absorbed in other ways, and thus avoid placing on the shoulders of the consumer additional expenses since his burden is already excessive. Each purchaser of coal is watching eagerly through the columns of the press that he may learn just what disposition the executive of the Keystone State finally makes of this increased cost.

The chief blame for the excessive price of coal seems to be divided between the operator and the miner. The operators claim that if they pay the mine the present scale they cannot in any way reduce the price per ton on a shipment from the colliery the overhead being excessive and many additional expenses for "dead" work being necessary in the delivery of the coal at the tipples for which they receive no monetary returns. The miner realizes fully the hazards under which he works, the limited time during which he is an active worker in the mine and the expense of maintenance and protection of his family, and for that reason the present scale is none too large.

While the above conditions are exaggerated by many who are unfamiliar with actual working conditions of the mine and the life in a mining town, yet the miner and the operator work together to each other's advantage, and conditions are, in most instances, harmonious.

In subsequent issues, articles will appear dealing with the process of mining, the life of the miner, and the aid—philanthropic and social—rendered by the operators to the communities within their jurisdiction.

SIXTEEN MILLION CARS IN 1925?

Number of Cars in U. S. Show Inevitability of National Highways

Three hundred motor cars were registered in the United States in 1895. In 1925, thirty years after, the number will be in excess of 16,000,000.

This is not a prophecy, but a continuation of a table of registrations. In the ten years from 1913 to date, the table of motor car registrations in hundred thousands, reads as follows: 12, 17, 24, 35, 51, 61, 73, 91, 104, 123. It is hardly prophecy to say that the next two years will show figures of 140 and 160 hundred thousand, or 14,000,000 and 16,000,000 cars registered.

It is inevitable that these cars have more and more goods roads to run upon. If this number of wheeled vehicles congest our few hundred thousand miles of good roads, it is obvious that a greater number will compel more and more hard-surface highways.

Opposition to good roads comes from two sources; the ignorance of taxpayers, who think that the bond issue or the road tax represents outgo, instead of the means of increased income, and politicians, who desire "pork barrel" national legislation in order to get votes, rather than money to be spent upon roads.

Both classes of opposition are slowly but surely being steam-rollered out of existence, with the automobile in the role of steam roller.

How many cars in 1935?

"WHISPERING WIRES"

Kate L. McLaurin, whose play, "Whispering Wires," will be presented at the Playhouse, Wilmington, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 18th, 19th and 20th, has an abiding faith in that old refrain, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." Hers is essentially a case of "try, try again" after a series of disappointments. Today she finds herself with a success on her hands. "Whispering Wires" hit the bull's eye of popular appeal.

Not so long ago Miss McLaurin came upon the theatrical horizon as the author of a sentimental journey, called "When We Are Young." The public showed no more desire to see the play. Nothing daunted Miss McLaurin started to work on another play. This was comedy and was called "The Six-Fifty." It was about this time that she got in touch with Henry Leverage, author of a story called "Whispering Wires." She agreed to dramatize the story and set to work. When she finished the job she read the play to Lee Shubert. He bought it for early production. It played all last season in New York.

"Six months will wind it up"

That was the comment of the local knocker and loafer back in 1910 when the Newark Post was started.

"Have you seen the Tower of Failure?"

That was the Inquiry when Kells was being erected down on Welsh Lane. "Newark's Monument to Folly", it was called.

That was seven years ago when we moved down here.

Yet through all the years, we have worked and played—and studied. And Kells is growing still. There are those who speak of it as an Institution.

The "Six months" has rolled by—and the years too and Kells still lives and The Post has never missed an issue since December 26th, 1910. Last week, our sales, inquiries and orders reached the highest yet—and we are dreaming still. The Kells Tower holds samples of Printing unsurpassed in Delaware.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP DRIVE TO START NOVEMBER 26

Executive Committee Fixes Date for Opening of Campaign
—Sapiro, Marketing Expert, to Speak

FEED POOL AGAIN PROVES SUCCESSFUL

The Executive Committee of the Delaware State Farm Bureau Federation met at the Dover office on October 1st, with the following men present: President John Ponder, Milton; W. V. Coaden, Dover; Ed. Willim, Dover; E. H. Donovan, Brenford; J. D. Reynolds, Middletown; Chas. P. Dickey, Stanton; Robert J. Allen, Seaford; George A. Hill, Bridgeville; Kent County Agent, R. E. Wilson and New Castle County Agent, R. O. Bageman.

Plans were perfected to start the membership drive following the visit of Aaron Sapiro, the foremost co-operative marketing expert of the nation. Mr. Sapiro will speak in this state from November 20th to 25th and the drive will begin on November 26th. The plan of the publicity committee was approved, which is to publish a Farm Bureau Special Edition in New Castle County and to publish one page of Farm Bureau News each week in a paper in each of Kent and Sussex County.

Delaware is to be officially represented at the National Dairy Congress at Syracuse, New York, October 5th to 10th. Mr. J. D. Reynolds of Middletown, and Mr. E. H. Donovan of Brenford, two of the five delegates who were appointed by President Ponder of the Farm Bureau, left Philadelphia the evening of October 4th for the fair grounds at Syracuse, New York.

Mr. Roland C. Handy, the Delaware representative of the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange, gave a short talk on the quality of the feed bought through the pool and also on the service that has been obtained through shipments in train loads. Mr. Handy stated that at no time would the quality of the Eastern States Feed be inferior to that which was manufactured last year. No substitute of a cheaper grade will be used in this feed such as cottonseed meal substituted for gluten. Cottonseed meal being higher in protein if substituted for gluten would keep up the protein requirements at a saving in price but would make an inferior feed because a surplus of cottonseed effects the health of the cattle. At all times the same ingredients will be used and in the same proportion that was originally used thereby insuring the buyer of a high quality feed.

Record time has been made in getting orders through to the buyers. Cars have come through from Peoria, Illinois, to Delaware points in five days, which is just one-half the time that was required last year. This service has been achieved by train-load shipments, whereas cars came through singly last year.

There has been circulated a false report as to the pay that the members of the Executive Committee of the Farm Bureau receive for their service. It might be said for information of those who are interested that these men receive nothing except their expenses which is carfare and one meal. Instead of being paid well as some people have hinted, these men sacrifice their time and leave their farm work to attend these meetings in helping to promote the welfare of this farmers' organization.

PENNSYLVANIA WANTS $100,000,000 FOR ROADS

Amending Constitution Only Way To Get It

The constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania contains, in section four, article nine, a drastic regulation regarding the State going into debt. The section reads:

"No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in revenue shall never exceed, in the aggregate at any one time, one million dollars: Provided, however, That the General Assembly, irrespective of any debt, may authorize the State to issue bonds, to the amount of fifty millions of dollars, for the purpose of improving and rebuilding the highways of the Commonwealth."

At the November election voters are to be given a chance to vote "yes" or "no" on an amendment increasing the amount from the above quoted fifty millions to one hundred millions of dollars.

In 1918 the voters gave the first $50,000,000 bond issue a majority of 262,000. That money has been spent. It pulled a great part of Pennsylvania out of the mud. The new bond issue will build many additional hundreds of miles of durable highways.

If the voters approve this new bond issue no time will be lost in getting the work started, because the last Legislature passed a law detailing the procedure to be followed in selling the bonds. Work will be resumed in early spring.

There are in the State highway system 10,325 miles of roads, of which 5,277 miles are improved, and 5,048 miles unimproved. The first $50,000,000 bond issue did much, but much work remains to be done—and there is no money to do it unless another bond issue is authorized.

LARGE POTATO CROP IN THIS VICINITY

New Castle and Kent Counties
Report Big Yields
In Whites

The success of the white potato crop in Kent and New Castle Counties is predicted by John S. Dennee, agricultural statistician of the United States Department of Agriculture in the division of crop and livestock estimates. He also predicts a large yield of apples in Sussex County.

Because of the shortage of labor, many of the farmers in Kent County have not rented farms for next year. This condition is noted also in Sussex County. The public works and road works are getting all the help since they offer high wages.

The weather in New Castle County is ideal for late white potatoes and a large crop is anticipated the report says.

NOT GUILTY

An old negro went to the office of the commissioner of registration in the Missouri town and applied for registration papers. "What's your name?" asked the official.

"George Washington," was the reply.

"Well, George, are you the man who cut down the cherry tree?"

"No, suh, I ain't de man. I ain't done no work for nigh onto a year."—Western Christian Advocate.

WILMINGTON AND KENNETT TROLLEY DOOMED

Rochester Corporation Agrees
To Buy Road and Scrap

Residents of Rockessin, Marshallton and other sections of upper New Castle County who have made a vain attempt to have the line in question restored, may be interested in the following discouraging report:

From present indications the lower end of the former West Chester, Kennett and Wilmington Electric Railway will soon be but a memory for on Friday Richard W. Crooks, Joseph H. Martin and Samuel E. Cooper, owners of the road from Kennett Square to Brandywine Springs, agreed to dispose of their holdings to S. Snyder Corporation, dealers in rails and metals, of Rochester, N. Y., who contemplate scrapping" the property.

In addition to buying the cars, rails, machinery and equipment the Snyder Corporation also took an option on the car barn and power house in Kennett Square, two modern buildings, suitable for manufacturing purposes.

The upper end of the road, from Kennett Square to West Grove has also been sold, but the new owners of that division intend to operate it in connection with the existing trolley road to West Chester.

Some of those who regret the cutting off of the trolley connection between Kennett and Wilmington have not yet abandoned their efforts to find some way to finance a resumption of operations before the Snyder Company undertakes the actual work of "scrapping" the property.

The road sold to the Snyder Corporation is about twelve and a half miles long.

PILOT a roofing that keeps bad weather out

As most roofings look alike surface appearance is not a reliable index to quality.

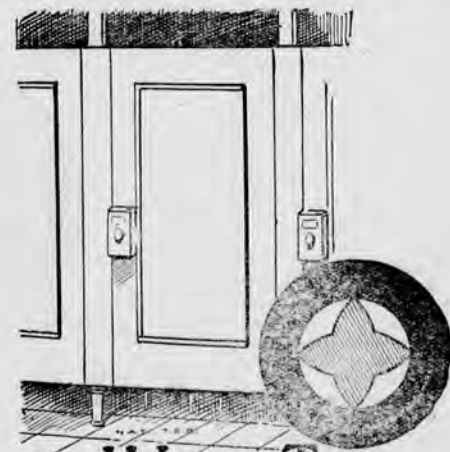

Years of experience in the manufacture of roofing stands squarely behind

Johns-Manville Pilot Roofing

And Johns-Manville responsibility stands behind the product of that experience.

Johns-Manville Pilot is a mighty good grade of rag-felt thoroughly saturated with life-giving natural asphalt. It's durable and weather-tight and easy to lay. Pyramid Kaps insure tight laps. Full directions in every roll. Ask us about Pilot and the plan of roof registration backing it.

WATCH THE COMMUNITY'S HEALTH

October 21st to 27th is National Good Health Week. How will it find Newark?

Every community should provide public comfort stations. There's no other sure means of avoiding unsanitary nuisances.

Public comfort stations can be made practically self-supporting by the use of coin operated locks and soap and towel vending machines. Most anyone will be willing to pay a few cents for the use of toilet facilities that are sanitary.

We will be glad to help in planning comfort station facilities in Newark.

STOCKHOLDERS THREATENED

May Have to Return Dividends; DOLLINGS Companies Capital Impaired

Preferred stockholders of subsidiaries of the defunct R. L. DOLLINGS Company may have to refund dividends that have been paid to them. It is asserted by attorneys for receivers of the DOLLINGS Company.

Several suits have been filed by stockholders of preferred stock in companies for which the DOLLINGS Company acted as fiscal agent. They have asked that their status be changed to that of creditor.

It was pointed out that the subsidiary companies in their charters provided that the DOLLINGS Company shall be the agent of the preferred stockholders as long as any preferred stock shall be standing and shall be entitled as their representative to a place on the board of directors of the company. Thus it is claimed that whatever the R. L. DOLLINGS Company did in the matter of declaring dividends through its membership on the board of directors of the subsidiary company it did as agent of the preferred stockholders and hence the latter is bound by that action.

Receivers for the DOLLINGS Company, in an intervening petition filed against receivers for the C. and E. Shoe Company, a DOLLINGS subsidiary, for $72,682, of which the major amount is cash advanced by the parent concern apparently by way of dividends.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

Forty-fourth Annual Session This Week in Wilmington Church

Several local women, interested in the work of the W. C. T. U. are attending this week the forty-fourth annual convention of the Delaware division of the Union. The convention opened yesterday in the First Central Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, and continues until tomorrow evening.

Several noted speakers and scientists are present at the meetings. Some of the subjects are: "The 18th Amendment in the Light of Modern Science" and "Americanization."

HE WON

The recently announced engagement of a widely known man about town to a young woman who lives in Watts brings to light, if his closest friend can be believed, a new angle in successful courtships. Said friend gives the inside dope on the proposal.

"If you would marry me, it would make me quite happy."

"My dear Bob, happiness is gained in the pursuit of something, not in the catching it."

"That's not so," cried Bob. "You've never chased the last car out of this town on a rainy night!"—Los Angeles Times.

children, muslin, gingham, flannelette, etc., and needles and materials for knitting, crocheting, and embroidery. The women in the detention rooms are so eager for something to do, and many of them can do beautiful work if they can get the materials. Mrs. Mary B. Donnell is in charge of this work and contributions for the box may be sent to her or left at the home of the Misses Todd.

Cooch's Bridge Chapter has several new members in prospect, and there is an interest in the wonderful work of our National Society, so quietly done, that is very encouraging.

BARRATT'S CHAPEL 143 YEARS OLD

Big Celebration at Famous Church Last Sunday

The 143d anniversary of Barratt's Chapel, near Frederica, was celebrated on Sunday last, at 2.30 p. m. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, General Secretary, Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Washington, D. C., was the speaker.

This was one of the greatest religious events in the State of Delaware, largely due to the fact that Barratt's Chapel is one of the oldest churches in this country. Several thousand people attended the celebration.

Dr. Wilson is a native of Delaware, having been born at Milton. He is well known throughout the State and along the Eastern Shore of Maryland, where he formerly held important pastorates. He is one of the best known speakers in the country and everywhere is recognized as the outstanding leader of temperance and reform work. For twelve years he has represented the Methodist Episcopal Church in an official capacity at the head of one of its benevolent boards. He has been termed a "moral strategist." He has just been elected a delegate from the annual Oregon Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

His father, John A. B. Wilson, was long presiding elder in Delaware, and was one of the outstanding characters of Methodism in this State.

It was by special invitation that Dr. Wilson returned to preach the anniversary sermon at Barratt's Chapel, an historic landmark in Methodist history. It was here that Francis Asbury, one of the founders of Methodism in America, had numerous conferences with leaders of the church. As an outgrowth of one of these conferences, Cokesbury College, at Abington, Md., was established.

LIFE ACCIDENT HEALTH

It is odd to relate, but every man after a serious accident or term of sickness is a firm believer in Accident and Health Insurance. It is also strange to say, but most serious accidents happen when the man is not covered by insurance, and after the accident it is too late to get this form of coverage.

Why not let me show you how you can get this coverage—thus insuring a steady income for life, if necessary, and at a surprisingly low cost to you.

The services at Ebenezer last Sunday were very well attended, with an ever increasing interest in the autumn program of work.

The pastor will open a Revival of Christian Religion, Sunday, October 21st. We shall invite and offer the cooperation of all our friends to help make the meetings successful.

The last cabinet meeting of the Epworth League made some vast improvements in the Epworth League program. The meeting Sunday evening was led by Mrs. Sheldon. The pastor addressed the League also. The League has decided to support a native worker in India and assist in supporting one in China this year.

There will be an election of officers next Sunday evening when the League meets at Milford. Mrs. Emma Buckingham and Mrs. G. T. Gehman sang solos, at the meeting Sunday evening. There will be an Official Board meeting Wednesday night at the parsonage. All members are requested to be present to help the new pastor make plans for the autumn and winter program.

The new signboards have been placed on posts out on the Lincoln Highway, directing folks to Ebenezer, which has a stone road leading all the way to the church now. Come up on our beautiful hill and worship the Lord with us.

KEEN INTEREST IN COMING FIELD TRIALS

Five Classes Arranged For Three or Four Days Starting Nov. 5

Never in the history of the Delaware Setter and Pointer Club has there been such keen interest and enthusiasm as is manifested in this year's field trials which will take place at Georgetown, Del., beginning on Monday, November 5. A large program has been arranged, consisting of five classes. It will take from three to four days to run it off.

The unusual interest is due to a new class which has been added by the club for the benefit of the shooting dog. This will be known as the Novice Stake and prizes worth while will be given. The Du Pont Company has donated an L. C. Smith double barrel, single trigger ejector gun and case for first prize. A handsome silver pitcher will be awarded second and one-half dozen silver knives and forks for third.

This stake will be run and judged differently from the usual trial. To protect the hunting dog from the field trial winner restrictions have been put upon this class. No dog that has run for money will be allowed to start, no dog that has been placed in amateur trial can start, dogs will be run in threes and will be given 45 minutes in qualifying heats. After all have been tried the one standing the highest in the list will be run again.

There is no specified time for the length of second running. If judges want to see bird work the dogs will be run until they are found. If they have all had bird work in their previous heats it may be that they want to get a line on the way they hunt their ground when braced together. A dog does not necessarily have to find birds in his first run to get a second chance. If he goes out boldly and searches his country in a manner to please the judges he may be taken back and run until he is shown on game. Some may think that the time is too short for a dog to show what he can do. In answer to this, Isaac Elliott's shooting dog, which ran in the trials last year at Oak Orchard, found five beavies of birds in a 30-minute heat. After the novice class, the regular stakes will be run. Amateur Derby and Amateur All Age with silver trophies for first, second and third place; Open Derby with $150 purse and silver trophies for first, second and third place; open All Age $300 purse and silver trophies for first, second and third place.

The regular meeting of the Newark New Century Club will be held next Tuesday afternoon, October 16th, in the Clubhouse, at 2:30. A splendid program is arranged for the meeting and all are requested to be present.

"LITTLE NELLIE KELLY"

In writing "Little Nellie Kelly" his newest play, George M. Cohan has given it a real honest-to-goodness plot, and the beautiful part of it all is, that regardless of the many typical Cohan song hits and the dancing novelties, the satirical dash of mystery is ever in evidence throughout the swift action of the play.

The cast is a notable one having been carefully selected by George M. Cohan personally, after which they were placed in the cast at the Liberty Theatre, New York that they might accustom themselves to the speedy action of the play. "Little Nellie Kelly" will be at the Playhouse, Wilmington, next Friday and Saturday.

ORGANIZATIONS PUSH GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT

Number of Road Associations Express Country's Interest

The extent of the Nation's interest in good roads in general, and any governmental scheme which will provide real highways, in particular, is well shown in the number of organizations of State, interstate, and national character, which are actively engaged in promoting the cause of good roads.

There are no less than twenty-five organizations, each devoting itself to pressing for the establishment or the completion of a transcontinental highway; that is, one which crosses several States, in distinction to those purely State highways, which are wholly within a State.

Twenty-two great associations are working on twenty-two interstate highways, entirely distinct from the twenty-three State Highway Associations which are actively laboring for better roads of all kinds within their respective States.

Besides these, there are eleven great national organizations either wholly devoted to roads or including roads as one of their major activities.

Subsidiary to these are hundreds of smaller road organizations, working with these associations, but chiefly concerned over some local stretch of road.

It is to be noted that when, as is inevitable, the National Government begins to build a national highways system, a great many of these great organizations can write "done" after their charter explanation of their purposes.

Snow Hill Pastor Accepts Call Of Local Church Vestry men

Word was received by Senior Warden Alfred A. Curtis, of the St. Thomas' Episcopal Vestry, here last Saturday, that Dr. R. B. Mathews, rector of the Snow Hill, Md., Episcopal Church, had accepted the call of the local church to become its pastor, and will remove to Newark as early as convenience permits and will then take over the active work.

On Sunday last, Rev. Dr. Alban Richey, rector of St. John's Church in Wilmington preached the sermon at St. Thomas. The attendance was large, and Dr. Richey's sermon was greatly appreciated.

Dr. Edgar Jones, former rector of St. Thomas' has taken up his new duties as Dean of the Cathedral in Cincinnati.

NEWARK ROMPS OVER SMYRNA HIGH

Joe Wilson's Team Rolls Up 85-0 Score On Kent Countians

VISITORS HELPLESS

Newark High indulged in a scoring orgy at the expense of Smyrna High School last Friday afternoon on the High School Field, and after the dust had settled over the fracas, the locals had piled up a total of 85 points. The visitors never threatened the goal line. It is believed to be the biggest score ever made by the local High School team.

Every man in Coach Wilson's squad saw service in the game, and every one played bang-up football. It was no real test of the Newark strength, however, as Smyrna afforded no defense, and have an attack which brooks no evil for any of their opponents this year unless the Kent Countians show a world of improvement.

Patchell, Crompton, Townsend and Capt. Hopkins started the game in the Newark backfield.

The overwhelming victory came as a great surprise to a large crowd of rooters who came out to the game. Smyrna was an undermanned quantity, although beaten by Elkton the week before. However, the score shows that Wilson has instilled football knowledge into his proteges, and everything points to a successful season. The team lacks weight, but is considerable faster as a whole than last year's aggregation. With this fact in mind, it is believed to be Wilson's policy to build up his offense around a speedy backfield and a light line. The score:

ELKTON HIGH ARE FOOTBALL VICTORS

Defeat Delaware City In Second Game of Season, 34-0

Elkton High, playing at home, defeated Delaware City High, Friday afternoon last, rolling up 34 points and holding the visitors scoreless throughout.

At no time was Elkton in danger of being scored upon, and although Delaware City put up stiff opposition at times during the fracas, the County Seat boys scored almost at will. Captain Terrell played a great game at end for the winners while Smith, Perkins and Pierson carried the brunt of the offensive work. The home team scored in every period.

Elkton has two victors to its credit so far this season, having walloped Smyrna High previously by a 35-0 score. The lineup:

Elkton	Delaware City
A. Kay left end M. McCarthy	S. Sanders left tackle Corbett
P. Kay left guard Taylor	(Wright)
McKeon center Walters	Warburton right guard Carpenter
Beers right tackle Petterson	(Marcus)
B. Terrell right end Rose	Smith quarterback Bender

PUZZLING A CANDIDATE

A parliamentary candidate in a rural district made the following remark in the course of his address: "There is no question in the world which can not be answered with just 'Yes' or 'No'."

An old farm laborer jumped up and said: "Please, maister, might I ask 'e a question?"

"Certainly, my good fellow," said the candidate.

"Well, then, maister," said the old farmhand, "what's the time?"—London Telegraph.

THE SPORTING TICKET

A Column Devoted to Clean Athletics and Sportsmanship, written by one who loves the Game.

JOE SPIVUS IS UP IN ARMS!

Cooch's (New) Bridge,
Oct. the 9, 1923.

Mr. Speaker,—I mean Mr. Ticker:

You must surely see I am excited. When I get this way I always think I'm addressing the Speaker down at Dover, in other words, revert to my subconscious hobby. Well, as says the poet, that is either here or there, ain't it?

The thing I want to get off my chest this week is that there being where old pigskin chasers, fly catchers (not by the mouth method), dribblers and steeplechasers what attended Delaware in days gone by has got to fork over 1 dollar each time they sets their noses inside Frazer's Field to see their Alma Mater cut loose. I says it's an outrage, I does, and I backs it up with the following conclusive arguments, viz., etc.:

When I was in college (you mightn't have knowed it, but I was up on Poverty Row, too), I played at football for four years. In the last year I made the Varsity, because the center man got me measles, and they had nobody else left. So, after takin' a eatin' every day for a total of three seasons, I went in and took heap worse beatin' every day for the last season. If I could only get it across to Sally Ann just how many beatins' I hev' taken in my college career, she would humor me a little more than she does.

Well, in them days they was lucky to get 11 men out on Saturdays for the games, and the coach he used to count noses till he counted 11, and give them the jerseys and pants. I never had othin' but old pants and a flannel shirt. And whenever the coach wanted to try out a few new plays, I was always placed on the opposite line, where they could work 'em out on me. I think represented Dickinson's line about fifty times in one season. They had beat up Dickinson like they beat up me, them Carle fellows wouldn't give us a game for a fortune.

But I got my letter, and even Sally Ann says it was one thing I earned.

And so the first time I hev' had a chance to see a game in three years, I goes up to the field in my Sunday clothes, and just make sure, gets out the old gold felt letter from my treasure box. When I showed it to that feller on the gate, he says "Sorry, old man, but we got orders to soak everybody 1 dollar."

Well, Mr. Ticker, it hurt me worse than anything that has happened in many years. They didn't say why, they didn't say come on, be a sport, and give the team 1 dollar." No sir; they set up and says, "If you got a dollar come on in, if you ain't got a dollar, stay out."

And me an old timer, who played in the days when most of these fellers were in swaddling clothes, and when they'd think you were yellow if you quit in a game with anything less than a broken leg!

I'll admit that the athletes don't make up the college, and I admit that the old Delta Phi and Atheneum societies turned out better men than I am, but I played for old Delaware, and don't you think I didn't, and I was forgotten three years after I left college. I only have the old felt letter to remind me of them plays.

I don't aim to be no hog for fame, nor do I want to make the athlete all-important in Colleges, but when a feller plays football when he can't see for blood and sweat, and when he plays his head off for his college for four years, and then comes back to see a game once more,—and they make him pay, as if he hadn't aid to make the team out there that minute what it is,—well, Mr. Ticker, I, for one, fail to see the joke. Darned if I do.

What they want up there under the lindens is a complete powderdown, with all cards on the table, and long sleeves barred, and the sooner it comes the better off the place will be.

I'm all heated up so I better quit.

So long, young feller,

JOE SPIVUS.

S. Note:

I forgot to tell you I got a letter from the Athletic Council, tellin' all about that 1 dollar charge. The letter came 2 days after the first game! If it was a party they was invitin us to, wonder that they would do with all the ice cream what wasn't eaten? Spiv.

ELKTON WATCHES THE WOODPILE

There has recently come to our attention some rather unusual facts concerning the Elkton Baseball Club, which recently won the Susquehanna League championship. And from what our informant tells us, it would not be a bad idea for the Elkton baseball fans to take a look at the woodpile—perchance the well-known "nigger" is in there.

It is understood that during the course of the first game of the All Star series, played a week or more ago in Elkton, the players on the county seat club did not receive carfare for the game, and not a cent in the way of remuneration for their services.

It is also charged that several of the men on the team have not been paid their salaries for games played several weeks ago. In other words, it is the belief of those on "the inside" of the baseball situation in Elkton that the team didn't care if the All Stars licked them 50 to 0, and if one were seated on the bench during the game, one would hear that sentiment loudly proclaimed.

Providing this be the case, Elkton's 1924 baseball team looks sort of doubtful. Shanner, Coyle and Patton, all of Wilmington, and all standbys on the Elkton club have declared that they will not be in the fold next year, and even some of the home bred players insist that they too were accorded a "raw deal."

The club started the past season with a sum slightly over $2000, it is reported, in which was included donations to the amount of $500 and the proceeds from the Carnival last spring, about $1600. It is said that the total expenses of the first half of the league season amounted to about $1700.

The club organization, however, declared that they were out of funds, and that the players must rely on gate receipts for the 2nd half of the season.

Where did the other $500 go?

That's the question which is said to be causing deep thought in our neighboring town.

We have not in anyway tried to start an investigation. In fact, if the "nigger" is in the wood pile, he will come out in time, so we all can get a good look at him.

LOCAL BOY STARS IN VICTORY

John D. Williams, a Newark boy, and graduate from Newark High School played a prominent part in Delaware's sensational victory over Muhlenberg on Frazer Field last Saturday.

Williams is a Senior at the University this year, and has played all four years on the Varsity. He has not been forced to leave a game on account of injuries for two seasons, and is directing the plays this fall from fullback position. Last year he was captain of the Blue and Gold warriors.

FIVE POINTS WINS COUNTY LEAGUE TITLE

Defeat New Castle In Second Game of Post Season Series; Naylor Stars

Johnny Naylor's Five Points aggregation carried off the championship of the New Castle County League last Saturday at Five Points' diamond, by the score of 9-5.

Due to the cool weather neither team flashed mid-season ball to the shivering fans. New Castle, however, was easily outplayed at every stage of the game. With the title in their grasp Five Points played good safe conservative baseball and kept up a consistent hitting attack on A. Miller, getting off to a four-run lead in the first two innings and ending the fray with a burst of hitting which sent four more men over the platter.

Tripp for the winners, turned in his eighth straight victory of the current season and was never in danger from the beginning. He twirled carefully and did not seem to be exerting himself in the least.

Johnny Naylor, manager of Five Points, again distinguished himself both at bat and in the field. He made three hits, one of them a double. Worth and Proud were also there with the willow.

To Naylor, goes the lion share of the credit of bringing a championship to Five Points. Taking over the reins when the team was floundering in sixth place, the peppery leader gathered together a real ball club and worked hard and long with them. He is a born leader and further than that, plays a star game at all times, which

LOCAL FOOTBALL HUSKIES COMBINE TO PUT A STRONG TEAM ON THE GRIDIRON

Failure of Continental Fibre Team to Materialize Prompts Effort to Place Newark on Map Again This Fall

KEELEY, MOORE, HOPKINS, STEEL AND OTHERS NAMED

At an informal meeting one night last week, several local football players and fans layed definite plans for a Newark team, composed of strictly home players and managed by H. D. Jester, a young man who takes a great interest in sports of all kinds. Mr. Jester is busy arranging games with nearby teams for the season.

Football enthusiasts throughout the vicinity placed great confidence in the prospects of the Continental Fibre Co. team, which recently disbanded. That aggregation has been practicing regularly for some weeks on a dis in good condition. The failure of the team to appear before their town-folks, somewhat dampened an appetite already whetted by prospects of many good games.

However it has developed that members of that team and others engaged in other places of business throughout the town decided to get up a team to represent the town. Hence the meeting Thursday evening.

Jim Keeley, one of the best backs developed in Newark, was keenly disappointed in the blowup of the Continental team, Jim has had several offers to play with Wilmington teams, but when he heard of the local town team being organized, he got in on it, and is working hard for its success.

Besides Jim, there is a wealth of football material in town this year, far more than was available last season. Biff Hopkins, "Doc" Steel, Griff Moore, Johnny Mayer, the Cornog brothers and many others have had plenty of experience in the fall sport, and from that group a real team should be forthcoming.

May Play Elkton One of the real desires of the Newark team is to engage Elkton in combat again, and try to avenge the defeat administered them last year. It is reported that William Hevelow, of that town, is backing a movement to put a team on the field, and if such a movement materializes, Newark fans have a treat in store for them.

BLUE AND GOLD TEAM SHOWS BIG IMPROVEMENT IN SATURDAY'S GAME

Husky Visitors Stunned by Strength Displayed by Newark Collegians — Torbert Places His Team in Position for Only Score

KRAMER AIKIN AND WILLIAMS STARS OF GAME

Carried through by an indomitable fighting spirit, and a pronounced improvement in both offensive and defensive football, the Blue and Gold warriors scored a brilliant victory Saturday last over the powerful Muhlenberg combination on Frazer Field, score 6-0.

In view of past performances and the appearance of Delaware's team the previous Saturday, the victory came as a distinct surprise to every one of the hundreds of spectators who lined both sides of the playing field. It was freely predicted before the game that Muhlenberg was at least two touchdowns superior to Delaware. And when the burly Red and White eleven trotted on the field at 2:30, their stock went up several points, and Delaware rooters suffered sinking spells. It was one of the heaviest teams to appear on Frazer Field in many years.

Captain Donaldson and his mates, however, went in there and from the first whistle to the end of the game, outplayed, outfought and outgained the visiting aggregation to such an extent that they were a beaten team long before the second half was concluded.

There is no gainsaying the fact that Delaware received many breaks of the game, all coming at precisely the right time. But as one honored alumnus, caroled from his seat on the bench, "The Lord loves his people." So we'll let it go at that.

From a football standpoint, however, it showed that MacAvoy's team were on their toes, and it is the team which takes advantage of a break which generally comes out on the long end of the score.

Torbert Helps The Cause

Just such a break came late in the first quarter and resulted in the only score of the game. The quarter had been devoted principally to a punting duel, neither offense being able to obtain much yardage. After three plays at the line for small gains, Elliott punted deep into Muhlenberg territory. The ball came down into the arms of Dorang, but squirted out of his grasp and rolled along the turf on the visitor's 30-yard line. A blue clad jersey swept by. Torbert, a Delaware tackle and never noted for speed on the gridiron, had his eyes open and saw his chance. He scooped the ball up on the dead run and had a ten yard start before Dorang recovered his senses. Torbert was finally dragged down on Muhlenberg's five yard line.

The visitors were penalized a few seconds later for offside, and the ball rested on the one-yard line. Williams took it over for the first touchdown of the year. Elliott failed at goal. Score 6-0.

At this stage, the Delaware stands went wild with joy. The period ended a minute later.

Muhlenberg Desperate

From that moment on until the end of the game, Muhlenberg fought desperately to overcome that small lead. The big Pennsylvania team unleashed a forward passing attack in the second half which for a time threatened to tie the score.

They used a running play with the quarterback tossing short passes obliquely to ends and halfbacks. It was a splendid play and beautifully executed. At the start of the last quarter, after futile attempts to break through the Delaware line, the visitors brought the ball to the 25 yard line, where Weggenman knocked down a perfect pass from Witt. Elliott immediately booted, but the ball went out of bounds with but twenty yards gained. Again Muhlenberg resorted to an aerial attack, completely three passes in succession. Down within the shadow of their own goal line. Delaware grimly held the desperate visiting attack. Three times Witt hit the line for a total of six yards. On the fourth down a long forward arch over right tackle, but grounded behind the Delaware goal line. During these four plays the Delaware stands rose and sang "Alma Mater."

This was the last time Muhlenberg threatened. From then on till the end of the game, Delaware kept the ball continually in the enemy's territory, making no mistakes and playing a safe game. The game ended with the ball in Muhlenberg's possession on their own 28-yard line.

Delaware Linemen Battered

Throughout the game, considerable feeling sprang up among the two lines of forwards. Several times the officials had to rush in and prevent what might have been a free for all fight. The Red and White linemen, angered at their failure to charge through Delaware's light forwards, repeatedly resorted to dirty football. In this respect, Kramer and Aikin took the brunt of the punishment.

Which brings us to the part the Delaware line played in the victory. Without a doubt it was the best exhibition of defensive play seen on Frazer Field in many seasons. Time after time Kramer and Torbert, tackles, knifed through and pulled down runners going to the opposite side of the line. Captain Donaldson and Ev. Magaw also were in nearly every play, the latter particularly being a shining star on the defense. Kramer was badly hurt twice in the struggle, and the last time had to be dragged off the field, much to his displeasure.

Jack Williams, Ike Elliott, Sook Jackson and Weggenman played excellent football in the backfield. Jackson handled several difficult punts in splendid style, while Williams and Weggenman continually threw themselves into the line and off tackle for gains. Elliott got off punts averaging forty yards throughout the game. All in all it was a great victory and one that was certainly well deserved. The lineup:

NOTES OF THE GAME

"Huck" Finn and his cosmopolitan entourage were sadly missed by the "Cliff Dwellers," or those who sit on the embankment on the south side of the field. "Huck" and his mates usually entertain with a hair raising game of their own between the halves.

The Muhlenberg team, it is said, were detained unusually long between halves, due to a classic oration being given by the coach. All hands enjoyed the talk, except the team.

When Cherub Aikin raises his voice in protest on foul playing, it must be true. It's not like Cherub to complain, for he has outplayed nearly every opponent he has met on the field.

We wonder whether it is below the dignity of upper classmen to "snake dance" over the field.

Major Row drove up a few minutes before starting time with his Ford blowing off steam like a tug. He "made knots" to get there in time.

"Allah Be With Us"—the famous calisthenic cheer so well thought of among Delaware students was given with great gusto several times during the game. The Mecca, unfortunately lays to the East, not the South. But what matters that!

"Scoop" Hubert played every minute of his first college football game. He was in there fighting every minute and he was a huge success in every way. More power to him!

Elkton was well represented at the game. Bob Gonce, and his playmates headed a big delegation.

AID ERADICATION OF TUBERCULOSIS

Pugsley Signs Amendment for the Regulation of Accredited Herds

Valuation of cattle in localities where animals are practically free from tuberculosis will, no doubt, increase rapidly with the federal government's O. K. on modified accredited areas. Cattle breeders have advanced from the accredited herd unit to the point where the government is ready to accredit areas that are almost completely free from the disease. Acting Secretary of Agriculture C. W. Pugsley has just signed an amendment to the federal regulation having to do with the eradication of tuberculosis among cattle in which provision is made for classifying certain areas where the disease has been practically eliminated as "modified accredited areas."

Secretary Pugsley's announcement of the new regulation, which is now in effect, states that there are many counties in various states where the cattle plague has been practically eradicated, and many others in which clean-up work has gone far. As a result, these areas will be recognized and freed from certain inhibitions which are necessary in other territories.

Last winter the United States Live Stock Sanitary Association adopted the provisions contained in these new regulations. They have also been adopted by various cattle breeders associations. The bureau of animal industry, in co-operation with state live stock sanitary authorities, will carry them out, maintaining quarantines to protect designated areas from the introduction of untested animals from other counties or states.

"Under the amended provision a county may be designated as a modified accredited area when a complete test of all cattle in the area shows less than one-half of 1 per cent to be reactors—that is, affected with tuberculosis," says the acting secretary's announcement. "Those few herds in which infected animals were found will be quarantined and cannot be re-tested within less than sixty days from the date of the original test."

"Once an area is put into this modified accredited classification, no cattle can be brought in unless from an accredited herd or after having passed a satisfactory tuberculin test. However, under certain conditions they may be brought in for slaughter or for feeding and grazing."

According to the announcement from Washington, when an area is designated by the co-operation state and federal authorities as a modified accredited area, it will remain in this classification for three years, provided there is no indication, through animals slaughtered or in other ways, that the percentage of tuberculosis does not exceed one-half of 1 per cent at any time. If it is found that 1 per cent or more reacts, all cattle must be retested, if the infection is between one-half of 1 per cent and 1 per cent only infected herds must be retested, and when the percentage of reactors is reduced below one-half of 1 per cent the area must be classed as a modified accredited area.

In Memoriam

In memory of my son, Charles Mercer, who departed this life October 10th, 1922.
Peaceful be thy silent rest.
Slumber sweetly, God knows best
When to call thee home to rest.
How we miss thee none can tell.
Jesus called thee, all is well,
But there will come a summer,
More precious, sweet and fair,
When we shall, like the flowers,
New robes of beauty wear.
Then we'll rise together and walk
these fields again,
And sing with all the angels, redemptions joyful strain.

His Mother.

WHAT STOPPED HER

The old Scottish butcher noticed that one of his customers had not been visiting his shop lately and he made up his mind to ask her the reason for her falling off when he next saw her.

"Why do ye no' buy your meat off me noo?" he asked when he met her a few days later.

"Weel," replied the old woman, "the last I got frae ye I could hae soled mu buits wi' it."

"An' why did ye no' then?" asked the other, sarcastically.

"So I wad if I could hae got the tacks to go through it!" was the sharp reply.—London Answers.

THAT WAS DIFFERENT

O'Halloran rushed up to a cottage, shouting: "Lend me a spade! Lend me a spade!"

"What for?" asked the owner of the cabin.

"To dig my friend out of the bog," replied O'Halloran. "He's just fallen in and he's up to his ankles!"

"Up to his ankles!" replied the other. "Then you don't need a spade. I'll lend you a rope."

"Begorrah, but a rope's no good," replied the would-be rescuer. "He couldn't catch hold of it!"

"Why not?"

"For several reasons," replied O'Halloran; "but the chief one is that he went in head first."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

METALLIC SUBSTANCE

"Strange case of heredity in that family," mused Jones.

"How is that?" inquired Brown.

"Well, one of the boys has a golden tenor voice, one is in the prize ring, and has a tin ear, one is a press agent with all the brass in the world, one is an aluminumware canvasser, one is a steel puddler, one a copper—"

"But where does the heredity come in?" broke in Brown.

"Why," returned Jones, "their father was one of those men who rule their families with an iron hand."—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.
