Working for a Clean Christina

The Christina Conservancy Inc. was created to promote the preservation, restoration and conservation of natural and historical resources of the Christina River watershed. It is a coalition of private citizens, industry and government agencies working together toward one goal.

Last year, the Conservancy sponsored a river cleanup that netted 45 tons of trash—much of it was recycled. This April a larger volunteer force embarked on another successful river cleanup.

With the Delaware Nature Society, the Conservancy started a stewardship program to make landowners more interested and aware in preserving the Christina and helping them in preservation efforts wherever possible.

The Conservancy and the Society have an ongoing audit of pollution sources along the river to help steadily eliminate those sources.

These efforts have a real positive effect on the river, the environment and the communities along the Christina.
