Second Heavy Snow Of Winter Hits Newark, Closes Schools

Municipal Employees Keep City Streets Open As 11-In. Snowfall, Record Low Temperatures Strike Area; Storm Closes Schools Thursday Afternoon, All Day On Friday

The second severe snowstorm of the winter struck the City of Newark last Thursday morning and school classes were dismissed at noon and cancelled Friday with a total snowfall of 11 inches when the skies cleared early the next day.

The heavy snow was followed by record low temperatures to three degrees above zero this week, along with periodic but short-lived snow flurries — and more snow is scheduled for today with rising temperatures.

City crews with municipal snow removal and supplemental, rental equipment labored through last Thursday night in a successful effort to clear Newark's streets of snow as high winds piled snowdrifts throughout the area.

Residents labored Friday and Saturday to clear driveways and walks from drifts more than waist high.

Chain Damage
But by last Saturday, drivers with chains on their cars were seeking out less traveled, slightly snow-covered streets to avoid tire chain damage with the pounding on bare pavement of the main thoroughfares.

City Manager J. Francis Neide reports that snow removal operations in December had cost the city a total of $12,000 — and there have been no complaints concerning this expense in view of the effective job performed.

No cost figures are available for the January job of snow removal, but again, the condition of Newark's streets and the efforts of its municipal men have been praised by local residents and visitors alike.

In fact it's snowing now — hard.

Fletcher Explains Benefits In Change Admission Policies For University
Dr. William G. Fletcher, director of admissions and records at the University of Delaware, has issued statements clarifying several changes in the university's admission policies.

Since December, the university announced two changes in regard to the deposit fee.

One change is that the deposit fee is now $10.00, and the other is that the fee is refundable in full if the student is accepted for admission in the fall.

Dr. Fletcher pointed out that in the past, the deposit fee was $5.00, and that it was non-refundable.

He also pointed out that the university has a policy of not accepting students who are not accepted for admission in the fall.

Officers For NRA To Be Announced At Annual Banquet

Public Invited To Attend Tuesday Annual Meeting At Newark Country Club

The annual meeting of the Newark Recreation Association will be held next Tuesday at the Newark Country Club beginning at 6:30 p.m. when five members will be elected to the board of directors, and Floyd Swope, nominations chairman, will present candidates for officers held by Albert Chittenden, Mrs. Amos C. Jaquette, Robert P. Shearer, and Robert H. Dutton, whose terms expire.

A 30-minute skit depicting a typical board meeting with the year's program of activities will be presented.

Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock and the business meeting will follow.

Reservations must be made by this Friday through the Newark Recreation Association office.

Those unable to attend the dinner are welcome to attend the open business meeting at 8 o'clock.

The Newark Recreation Association has been a voluntary agency providing public recreation since its founding in 1946. In 1955 it became a member of the United Community Fund of Northern Delaware.

The association serves the greater Newark area defined generally by the Newark special school district. Any resident of the area is invited to attend the dinner and annual meeting.

W. L. Gore Firm Completes Move To New Quarters
W. L. Gore & Associates, Inc., manufacturers of Teflon insulated wire and cable, have completed the firm's move into a new plant facility near Newark.

Located on a 10-acre site, the modern one-story structure is the first stage in a long range building program.

The planned expansion is intended to increase Gore production capacity and research and development facilities for their line of fluorocarbon wire insulations and other specialty products.

The move was necessitated by increased demand for Gore products from electronics manufacturers, defense contractors and other users of their highly specialized line, W. L. Gore reports.

Founded in 1958, the firm was located at 487 Paper Mill Road in Newark.

The new plant is immediately adjacent to the old at 555 Paper Mill Road.

Traveler To Speak
Next Thursday's luncheon at the Alice P. Smyth YWCA Center in Newark will feature Mrs. Russell Hardy's talk on "Some of our Latin American Neighbors."

Mrs. Hardy will show slides of her trips to Puerto Rico, Colombia, Panama, Honduras, Guatemala and Mexico, with comments on life in Latin America to promote better understanding with our neighbors across the border.

Mrs. Hardy, born in Elwood, Ind., is a graduate of Indiana University. She is past-president of the Newark New Century Club, American Association of University Women, and Newark Bird Club, and is president of the Weed and Seed Garden Club.

Her hobbies include bird study, gardening, travel and gourmet cooking.

Mrs. Hardy traveled over the United States, a large part of Canada and Mexico; all Central American countries; the West Indies, Europe, and the Near East, Egypt, Sudan, and a large part of Africa.

These luncheons are open to all women from the Newark area, with nursery facilities for children.

Mrs. Frank Nichols is chairman of this program, with Mrs. C. S. Moore, hostess.

Six From Newark Named With E-52 Play Tryouts
Dr. C. Robert Kase, director of the E-52 University Theatre's forthcoming production of "The Boy Friend," has announced the results of tryouts held last month, with six Newark Thespians winning dramatic laurels.

The cast includes Thomas Lackman, William Harper, Constance Parker, Dan Lanning, Bruce Oberholzer and Jerrold Knotts from Newark.

The final cutting of the company to 14 will be made during the first week in February.

Newark C. of C. Elects Five Directors; Carvel, Bowman Address Annual Meeting

Five directors were elected unanimously at the annual dinner meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce attended by 126 persons last Tuesday night at the Newark Country Club, with Gov. Elbert N. Carvel addressing the group in a pre-banquet stopover during the course of a commitment-full evening.

Dr. Neal Bowman, professional lecturer for the National Association of Manufacturers, was the principal guest speaker.

Samuel Handloff, attorney; Silas Pettit, banker; Reginald Rockwell, merchant; and Harlan Williams, realtor, were elected for three-year terms as members of the Newark Chamber of Commerce board of directors, and Tommy Barber, store manager, was elected as director for a term of one year.

Retiring President Roger Douglas, conducted the meeting and introduced special guests at the head table including Newark's mayor and council members. He was presented with a desk pen set by Ralph Madden, a former president of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Governor Carvel, who had a previous dinner date, addressed the Lions Club meeting downstairs in the Newark Country Club before speaking at the chamber meeting.

The governor cited the local Chamber of Commerce for assisting with Newark's growth and progress, and offered full cooperation from Dover.

"The one big weapon in our arsenal," Dr. Bowman said "is knowledge. We warned that Communism is our greatest competitor, that Communists sacrifice 'belongings for belief,' and cited $81 billion spent abroad by the United States 'to build competitors.'"

In urging teamwork here at home, Dr. Bowman cited "a little less of you and me, and a little more of us." He said the world must choose between C.O.D. and F.O.B. — Communism or Democracy, Freedom or Bondage.

Dr. Bowman stressed three points for all Americans to think and act upon — "Revitalize our responsibility with acceptance and self reliance, keep an open mind; and remember that suppression of expression is dangerous to democracy," urging the need for "articulate leadership."

He concluded that "The success of a Chamber of Commerce depends upon two things — the attitude of individuals, and complete enthusiasm for what you do."

5 New Members Elected To Board For Newark YMCA
David McMillan, chairman of the Newark YMCA, announced today the election of five new board members — Thomas A. Cobley, principal of Gallagher Elementary School; Howard Ferguson, Curtis Paper Company; Mitchell Justice, Chrysler Corporation; John Murray, Farmers Bank of the State of Delaware; and Rodney Willis, DuPont Experimental Station.

On Monday evening, Feb. 6, newly elected board members will participate in an orientation period led by Martin Gauson, chairman of the YMCA recruitment and orientation committee.

Clarence Fulmer, president of the Metropolitan Wilmington YMCA, will give a brief history of the movement, and explain how the YMCA of Wilmington and New Castle County carry on their program.

Programs conducted by the Newark YMCA include the Indian Guides for fathers and first, second and third grade sons; trips for elementary and high school students; Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs for high school boys and girls; the Industrial Management Club; and a summer day camp for elementary school pupils.

Operation Examinations Underway at High School
"Operation Examinations" is in high gear at Newark High School, with required exams the order of the day.

On recommendation of the students body and by vote of the faculty, a system of semester and yearly examinations was approved two years ago.

A faculty-student committee worked jointly to offer a plan for scheduling exams with the result that every student takes a two-hour examination in each of his major subjects.

As one senior expressed it "This system ties together the work of the semester. And it keeps us on the ball with our studying."

Vets Pay Tribute To Retired Chief Bill Cunningham

Snowstorm Fails To Halt VFW Banquet As Friends Honor Newark's Lawman

William H. Cunningham, who retired Dec. 31, after 32 years as Newark chief of police, was honored by J. Allison O'Daniel Post 475, Veterans of Foreign Wars, with a banquet at the post home on Barksdale Road last Thursday night.

And despite the severe snowstorm, 128 friends of the veteran police chief were on hand to honor the lawman.

Chief Cunningham was presented with an electric choral organ — and playing instructions — and a framed scroll with the inscription "William Cunningham, Chief of Police, City of Newark, Del., for faithful service, March 1, 1928-32 years—Dec. 31, 1960" from the VFW.

State Police Sergeant Norval Robinson of Newark was banquet chairman, and George Lowe, safety director for the Atlantic Refining Company Philadelphia district, was master of ceremonies.

Lowe flew to Wilmington from Akron and drove to Newark in the snowstorm to be on hand for Chief Cunningham's testimonial dinner.

Gerald Dougherty is commander of the J. Allison O'Daniel VFW post. The Ladies Auxiliary of the O'Daniel Post prepared and served the dinner.

All Moose are urged to attend a lodge meeting tomorrow night in Odd Fellows Hall, Newark, at 8:30.

Dick Groo To Head Young & Williams Insurance Agency
Appointed manager of the insurance department for Young & Williams, Newark realtors, Richard D. Groo will begin his new duties Feb. 1.

According to H. Gibbons Young and Harlan C. Williams, partners of the Young & Williams organization, Groo's addition to the staff is in keeping with the firm's long-range plan to improve and extend its insurance services to its clients.

Young & Williams insurance activities have increased to a point where the addition of a department head is necessary.

Mr. Groo graduated from the University of Delaware in 1948 and received his master's degree from Delaware in 1956.

Former director of alumni relations for the university, he has been assistant secretary and agency supervisor for Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company of the State of Delaware, for the past five years, serving as company representative to some 50 agencies in a two-state area.

A native of West Collingswood, N. J., Dick Groo served in Europe with the Air Force in World War II, and is a captain in command of the 3d Howitzer Battalion, 33d Artillery, U. S. Army Reserve.

Mr. Groo resides at 827 Orchard Road, Newark, with his wife, the former Jane W. Rayner of Wilmington, and their four daughters — Anne, Deborah, Toby and Virginia.

Sidewalk Ordinance Approved, Rezoning Rejected By Council

Unanimous Approval Given Sidewalk Construction Law At Special Meeting; Residential To Business Zoning Request Refused; Newark Magistrate Foster Resigns

Meeting on successive Wednesdays, Newark City Council unanimously approved a municipal sidewalk construction ordinance in special session last week, and at the regular meeting deferred until last night because of the annual Newark Chamber of Commerce Tuesday meeting, unanimously rejected a proposed ordinance at a final reading to rezone the William H. Porter property on Capitol Trail from residential to business; accepted the resignation of Alderman-Magistrate Clarence S. Foster, effective Feb. 1, and approved proposed charter changes to permit voting reapportionment with six municipal districts and to waive necessity for a local auditor.

The sidewalk construction program passed over several protests from property owners, requires that sidewalks be constructed within three years according to three zones A, B, and C, with residents in A zone to begin such construction by May 1, 1961, with completion by June 15 of this year, and with sidewalk construction to follow in the next two zones, year by year.

The city manager is to notify property owners without sidewalks that the city will construct such walks with costs to be assessed against the owners.

Rezoning Refused
Despite the plea of Attorney Vincent A. Thiessen representing William H. Porter, Inc., for rezoning a 1.24-acre tract on Capitol Trail adjacent to the Arthur Hauber, Rex Willis, William Barnard, and B&O Railroad properties, from "RS" residential to "Business C," council unanimously rejected the proposed ordinance at the second and final reading.

Thiessen urged that his client be permitted to utilize his land for business expansion, pointing out that the land was of no residential value, and Councilman William Coverdale reminded his colleagues of a promise made to residents of the Lumbrook area at the time of annexation that their residential rights would be protected by the city.

"Used car lots add nothing to the appearance of a city," Councilman Vernon Steele opined, and Mayor Frank Durnall objected to commercialization of the lot near what acres purchased by the city for parkland.

The planning commission had rejected the proposal on the basis of heavy traffic in the area — a basis that Thiessen declared "invalid in view of city plans to establish a park in the same vicinity."

Foster Resigns
In a letter dated Jan. 9, 1961, and presented at last night's council meeting, Alderman-Magistrate Clarence S. Foster wrote: "I do not wish to continue as justice of the peace until a successor is appointed. As I do not consider that an alderman is necessary or practicable on account of his limitations for hearing cases, I also wish to resign as alderman at the same time."

Mr. Foster's term as magistrate expires at midnight, Feb. 1. Councilman George Wilson's resolution to have the city charter changed "to leave the alderman's office unfilled when satisfactory and" (Continued on Page 8)

City Registration Offered Saturday For April Voting
The first of five city registration days for voting eligibility in Newark's April municipal election is scheduled for this Saturday, by the Newark Election Board.

Registrations will be accepted at the Council Building from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. from non-voters who are United States citizens; having resided within the state for at least one year; in the City of Newark for at least three months next preceding the election date; and are residents of the district at registration time.

Harold Grant is president of the Newark Election Board.

Words Of Wisdom Offered For Freshmen By Sophs For Aid At Examination Time
Words of wisdom to freshman students preparing for their first examinations have been prepared and distributed by the sophomore class at the University of Delaware.

Written and circulated under the direction of class vice-president Wayne Callaway, the memo to freshmen is designed to prevent panic and to prepare the fledgling students for a proper mental approach to their task.

The sophomores advise "No one can give you a handbook guarantee to doing your job through exams with a 4.0 index. There are, however, a few suggestions, some so simple as to be overlooked, which may be of help to you."

"First, read the whole examination through very closely before you start to work. This, of course, pertains primarily to essay and short answer type questions. It would be rather pointless to read through 150 true-false questions before answering any."

"Budget your time. It is your responsibility (not your professor's), to see that you complete the exam. Do not become so wrapped up in one question that you find only one-fourth the allotted time remaining."

"Secondly, consider the reader's point of view and how he will interpret your answer. Do not try to charm him with an overindulgence in wit. Answer as simply as possible and in the spirit in which the question was asked."

"Finally, many questions require as answers both fact and opinion, or an argument and a conclusion. Do not ignore either aspect."

The university's final examinations began last Friday and will continue through this Saturday.

THE PUMP

"MAKING" MONEY

If the U. S. government suddenly started printing twice as many one-dollar bills as it took out of circulation last year, everyone knows what would happen. We would have inflation of the worst kind.

Without realizing it, Americans are asking the government to do what amounts to much the same thing. They are asking that Congress spend more and more money on more services and social welfare programs. If the government took in enough taxes to pay for the extra expenses, that would be one thing—but over the years the government has spent $290 billion more than it has taken in. When the government needs money it doesn't have, it deposits a promissory note in a commercial bank; then it cashes them, and the government has "created" money none existed before.

The effect is the same if the government had printed amount of new money without withdrawing any old money from circulation.

Letters
To The Editor

Jan. 22, 1961

Dear Sir:
 I'm wondering if somewhere in the Newark Post you could find space to insert a plea. This is the story.

Last Thursday night, Mrs. James Gillman's dachshund slipped out the back door (Mrs. Gillman is our neighbor here on Chestnut Hill Road) as she was preparing its bed for the night. It was such a cold night she felt sure he would return within minutes. However, she put on her boots and started out with the flashlight, calling the little fellow.

She noticed a red pick-up truck in front of her home, but as her neighbor in business, she assumed some one was stopping there. The truck left as Mrs. Gillman started looking for the dog.

Out front, the narrow road was splattered with blood, and several neighbors joined Mrs. Gillman with flashlights, combing the woods across the street from the house, thinking perhaps the dog had been struck by a car and had crawled over there.

Next morning the search continued but with no results. She called all the vets to see if the dog had been taken there for help, had it been taken to a radio station, and placed an ad in the paper.

Mrs. Gillman, a widow, lives alone and the dog, her constant companion, was also her "ears" as Mrs. Gillman is very deaf.

We feel that whoever accidentally hit the dog, picked him up out of fear and took him with them. He may have been tossed somewhere to die, or again may have been taken to his home.

All she asks is that they return him "dead or alive" that she may go on from there—to either bury the dog or get a doctor for him—with peace of mind as to his whereabouts.

If the person does not want to face her, it's all right, though she does not hold whoever it was, responsible for what has happened. If they just leave him on her lawn—at her door—or even phone her where she can find him she will be most grateful. She has a special hearing device on the phone and will hear it ring.

All the folks on the hill feel very badly about the incident. We later learned the pick-up truck was not at the neighbor's.

I have read of people panicking when they hit humans—and driving off. This person at least stopped. If they will only return him no questions will be asked.

257 W. Chestnut Hill Rd.
 Most sincerely,
 Margaret Weiner

Arnie Saunders, Don Keister, Alan Ely Pace NHS Scoring In Loss To Red Devils

Arnie Saunders, with six field goals and a successful foul shot set the 13-point scoring pace for Coach Bill Conrad's Newark Yellowjackets last Tuesday night at Wilmington High School as Newark lost a 69-51 Blue Hen Conference contest to the Red Devil cagers.

Don Keister and Alan Ely shared runner-up spot in the scoring column for the Yellowjackets with 12 points each.

Keister scored on five field shots and a pair from the foul line, while Ely rang up his 12 points from the playing floor.

Newark trailed throughout the game, with Wilmington taking a 22-14 advantage in the initial period, and outscoring the Jackets 16-6 in the second quarter.

In the third period, the Yellowjackets outpointed their hosts 15-13, and Wilmington topped the 18-16 scoring in the fourth quarter.

Walt Jones scored six points for Newark with a pair of field goals and two successful shots from the foul line.

The Yellowjackets face a Fun Fest at home tomorrow night with a Soc Hop, and return to conference competition next Tuesday night at Conrad High School at 8 o'clock.

Newark has one conference victory—a 50-36 win over Dickinson—and has lost to Mt. Pleasant, Brandywine, De La Warr, William Penn, and Wilmington High.

The Yellowjackets scored an opening win over North East (Md.) High School, and stopped their alumni team in the second game of the season before hitting the rough conference road.

POSTED

"No, I haven't caught anything yet," Brandy Davis said concerning several sessions of ice fishing at Lum's Pond. "But I saw a man with two beautiful pickerel he had caught just before I walked out on the ice the first time—and those two big Delaware 'pike' have kept me trying." Newark's big league baseball player continued.

Brandon, brandished a pretty pickerel under the nose of the Post's editor one Sunday evening just before the deep freeze set in—a fine fish taken the hard way—at Lum's Pond near Kirkwood.

Catching fish at Lum's takes a lot of doing under ideal conditions when one can fish the open water over dozens of likely spots. But to come up with a pair of pickerel in some pin-point fishing through a small hole in the ice is a neat feat indeed.

Lake St. Clair

Ice fishing in Delaware and in Maryland, however, is crude and cold compared with winter angling in Michigan.

Transplanted Michigan sportsman Ed Dowling reports that on Lake St. Clair, in the shadow of Detroit's skyline, ice fishermen are conveyed by professional guides to warm, well, fairly warm—darkened shanties on the ice of the lake where sportsmen catch yellow perch, walleyes, bass, and Great Northern Pike of impressive size anywhere, while peering down through a hole in the ice where the water is illuminated by the sun shining through outside—something like fishing in a round television screen.

Despite past comfort with his ice fishing, however, Ed Dowling is eager to give the rough, local style a whirl, and we tried to get in touch with Mr. Dowling last Sunday to ask him to accompany us to the North East River.

Fortunately for Ed we missed connections—and he missed a fishless, frigid afternoon in the wind whirling over Maryland's Antietam—the snow drifts and thick ice locking the North East waterway from shore to shore.

Jigging

With Gibby Young, we jigged a pair of lures over the weeds just off the Bay Boat Works dock for a cold couple of hours without seeing a fish or another fisherman. And the only bit of excitement in this fishless, freezing fling occurred when Gibby distracted his cold

OLD FASHIONED WINTER

We've heard about the extreme cold and heavy snows of old fashioned winters from an older generation, and now we find ourselves telling a younger generation of the deep snow and cold weather that we experienced while growing up.

And youngsters in Newark today will be telling their children of a not too distant tomorrow of the "old fashioned winters" they remember—with this winter of 1960-61 as a feature in reminiscence.

The "old fashioned winters" of which our young listeners will relate at some future date are still very much with us. We just dig out more quickly, thanks to modern machines and our city employees in Newark.

Game Captain Bob Renn and Conrad Dancy with 11 points each, and Mike Ganous with 10 more, paced Coach John McNelis' Newark High School junior varsity basketball team to a 39-37 victory over the Wilmington High School Jayvees in Wilmington last Tuesday night.

Dancy and Renn turned in duplicate scoring performances with five field goals and a good foul shot apiece, while Ganous sank all 10 points from the field.

The victory was the fourth in six starts for the junior varsity cagers of John McNelis.

The Newark Jayvees, with last Friday night's test against P. S. DuPont's junior varsity postponed because of the snow, face the Conrad Jayvees next Tuesday night at Woodcrest.

Patty Kinnamon Tops Girls In NRA Senior Cage Play

In Newark Recreation Association Girls' senior division basketball at Oglethorpe last week the Satellites continued to dominate league play by edging the Fireflies 19-14 behind Sheridan's and Barbara Crossley's six points.

The Satellites have a '0 mark, followed by the Shooting Stars.

In junior division play, the Hot Rods continue to lead the league with a 3-0 record followed by the Warriors with 2-1.

The Hot Rods downed the Powder Puffs 11-2 while the second place Warriors were dumping the Wild Chicks 18-0.

companion by mulling something unintelligible through numbed lips, pointing across the river—and then suddenly yanked the line like a pike strike.

It was cold that we could see the ice forming in the fishing holes, which required constant skimming, and some dozen inches of our fishing lines that were being jiggled in and out of the cold water and colder air, were encased with ice of lead pencil diameter.

Mr. Young removed his gloves for what proved to be some completely unnecessary, futile changing of lures, and with his gloves back on again, said with some pain "Boy, it takes 'em a long time to warm up!"

Second Shift

Late in the afternoon, we staggered stiffly back to the Bay Boat Works with our axe, boxes, and tackle, and spent a much warmer hour talking with a lonely, genial salesman and inspecting a couple of luxury cabin cruisers in the display room, while another pair of ice fishermen began outdoor operations.

Later, looking out the display room window, we saw one of these fishermen catch three perch in swift succession—enough to send us back on the ice for another hour in the ever-increasing cold of very late evening.

"The ice fishing has been good," we were informed by the gentleman with five small yellow perch from his fishing hole. "When a school of perch comes along, you pull 'em just as fast as you can drop your line. I've been catching my limit of five bass almost every day," he said, and at Gibby Young's intent inquiry continued "from 2 1/2 to 5 pounds."

"Wow!" Mr. Young said, impressed. And he was not alone in this.

"It's no good this afternoon though," our informant added as he prepared to leave with his five fish and fishless friend. "Tide's too low," he concluded.

Oh, No?

With that, he swept the five yellow perch through the hole in the ice for them to thaw out and swim off, and in afterthought asked "You don't want these little fish, do you?"

Both pride and any thought of conservation measures for small perch had been lost along with three cold hours on the ice, and we happily retrieved the still frozen fish from the water. Fresh fried golden brown, they were delicious.

"Ice fishing on the North East River?" Louis B. Wilson asked later that night back in Newark. "A friend of mine has been catching big bass down there for weeks," Mr. Wilson said. "Wanted to give me some more just the other day, but I had all I could use," he concluded.

"We'll try it again," Gibby Young grinned grimly.

"One trouble with growing older is that it gets progressively tougher to find a famous historical figure who didn't amount to much when he was your age,"—Bill Vaughan.

Mrs. Harry Clark Boden, Newark, Preps Racing Car For "500" At Indianapolis

Mrs. Harry Clark Boden of Newark, owns the Kelso Autodynamics Special racer, one of the favorites to win the Indianapolis "500" on May 30.

The car, one of the two lightest of the custom-built specials seeking more than $150,000 in first prize money, this year will be driven by 33-year-old Lloyd Ruby of Dallas, Tex.

Ruby, who finished seventh last May in his first appearance in the "500", is a veteran of 14 years of racing.

Mrs. Boden has just signed George Salih as chief mechanic.

Mrs. Boden's car was built by Luigi Lesovski of Los Angeles, but was deprived of a chance to qualify last May when rain cut short the time trials. The car had shown extreme speed in early tests. Jack Turner was the driver at that time.

In recent trials at Indianapolis the Boden car lapped at 145 miles per hour, far faster than will be necessary to qualify for one of the 33 starting berths this year.

In addition to the Indianapolis car, Mrs. Boden races three sports cars in amateur road races.

A Kelishev (Chev.-powered British Lister) and a 3-liter Maserati are driven by George Constantine, Sports Car Club of America Driver of the Year in 1959, and a Kelcooper (Porsche-powered Cooper) is handled by Brad Howes of Newark.

The Newark Hi-Y swept to an important victory Monday night over the second place Falcons 25-23 to remain in first place in the Newark Recreation Association Boys' Intermediate League.

Newark featured a well-balanced attack led by Mike Sinclair with 11, and Lloyd Wells with eight points. Archie Peed paced the Falcons with 10.

Neither team could hit from the field with the Falcons having perhaps their poorest shooting performance of the season.

The Eagles and Vampires remained undefeated in boys' junior division play at Oglethorpe last week.

The Eagles paced by Baylis' nine points edged the Blackhaws 17-10 while the Vampires were idle.

The third place Hellcats defeated the Warriors 54-9 behind the 24-point performance of Ronnie Hamer.

George Getty Heads Team Of Local Police Bowlers

The Newark Police have organized a bowling team with George Getty, Jr., as captain.

A pair of Newark Public Works Department performers — Bruno Cionte and Ben Campagna — will join the "Untouchables" as team members.

The police team will bowl Thursday nights at 7:45 at the Blue Hen Lanes beginning Feb. 2. Getty reports.

Delaware To Play Lehigh In Return Test On Saturday

Wisniewski's Blue Hens Return To Court Action After Mid-Year Exams

Coach Irv Wisniewski's Fighting Blue Hens return to the basketball court this Saturday night after a major battle with mid-year examinations.

The Delaware cagers, stopped in their last outing on Jan. 18 at Drexel, will meet the Engineers of Lehigh in a return engagement beginning at 8:30 p.m. this Saturday.

In their first meeting, Wisniewski's Hens stopped Lehigh here at home, 60-43.

Delaware has a 5-5 record for the current campaign.

In Philadelphia on Jan. 18, the Drexel Dragons came from behind to take a 69-63 decision from the Delawareans.

With Nate Cloud and Tom Adams setting the pace, Delaware led by 33-32 at the half after Drexel had piled up a nine-point advantage.

The Hens built their lead to a comfortable 42-34, holding Drexel without a field goal for the first five minutes of the second half.

But the Dragons tied the score on a steal by Ben Brown at 47 with nine minutes left—broke the last tie at 63 on a basket by Bobby Morgan with 1:45 to play and held on to the finish.

Cloud was Delaware's top scorer with 20 points.

Delaware's freshman team coached by Ed Maley turned back Drexel's junior varsity, 35-48.

Newark Methodist, Our Redeemer Top Volleyball League

Newark Methodist and Our Redeemer Lutheran Church continue undefeated in Newark Recreation Association Men's Volleyball League play.

Newark Methodist, while utilizing their tall men to best advantage, barely edged a fighting Independent team in their best two out of three series. Newark Methodist had little trouble in the first game, winning it 15-4, however, the Independents came back and edged their rivals 15-13 in the second.

The Methodists were just too strong for the Independents and took the third, 15-7.

Our Redeemer had little trouble in downing Kingswood as they swept the first two games 15-2 and 15-11 to take the series.

League standings:

Our Redeemer is in first place with a 4-0 mark, followed by Newark Methodist with a 3-0 record.

The Independents are in third with 1-2, and Thiokol and Kingswood of Brookside have yet to record a victory.

League play continues Monday night with the Independents opposing Thiokol at 7, and Newark Methodist facing Kingswood-of-Brookside at 8 o'clock.

Sir Winston Churchill wrote: "Nothing in life is so exhilarating as to be shot at . . . without result."

"College basketball coaches are all interested in high education, and the closer they come to seven feet the better they like it."

Income Tax Information Offered At Newark High

With many students part-time wage earners, income tax instruction has become a part of the social studies program in a modern high school. And Ezra Benson of the Internal Revenue Service spoke recently at a special assembly for all seniors at Newark High School.

Using a film to illustrate his remarks, Mr. Benson explained the background and purpose of the income tax in America and offered basic instructions for filling out tax returns.

He is scheduled to return next week to answer questions of faculty and students.

Exams Postponed Because Of Snow Slated Saturday

Snowbound commuter students at the University of Delaware have received only a temporary reprieve from taking final examinations scheduled for last Friday. Provost Carl J. Rees announced last week.

Since the severe storm prevented many of the more than 1,000 undergraduate commuters from reaching the campus, examinations missed by reason of travel difficulties have been rescheduled for this Saturday.

Dean Rees said that last Friday's schedule is the only one affected in the storm rescheduling. Students missing examinations on any other day for valid reasons must apply for a makeup within two weeks to the dean of students according to normal procedure.

Saturday's schedule will follow generally that planned for last Friday.

All courses will meet at the originally scheduled time, although the locations of several of the exams have been changed, according to Dean Rees.

Information may be obtained from the records office.

City Treasurer Charles D. Long was authorized to deposit $200,000 in municipal funds with the Wilmington Savings Fund Society for an additional return of one-half per cent over that realized from U. S. Treasury bonds.
