"Popular Baby" Contest Off To Good Start; Entries File

Many Merchants Participating In $350 Newark Post Campaign

This week marked the opening of the "Dollars To You" Popular Baby Contest sponsored by The Newark Post and numerous cooperating merchants.

The contest is open to every baby in Newark and the surrounding community under the age of six years. All you need to do in entering a baby is come to campaign headquarters in the offices of the Newark Post, 14-16 Thompson Lane, ask for the contest manager, then fill out the blank for entry.

This will start your baby with 5,000 votes or credits for entry. If it is inconvenient for parents or guardians to come to the office of the Post to enter a child, simply telephone headquarters—Newark 4-4041—and the youngster will be officially entered for you.

Pictures Taken FREE

If you do not have a suitable photograph for use as a cut in the columns of the Post, the contest manager will gladly see that your baby has a photograph taken FREE by J. H. Rumer, 63 East Delaware Avenue, the official contest photographer.

Each issue of the Post during the contest will carry photographs of the younger generation of the community.

Remember, the campaign is just starting and does not close until August 6—a mere few weeks for your entry to win a silver loving cup and $150 in cash as the dual first award. Enter the baby NOW and get to work piling up the coupon-votes and the subscription credits.

During the past few days the campaign management has been busy starting new business houses in the contest and all participating merchants expect to be busy giving out "baby coupons" from this week until the end of the campaign.

Ask For Coupons

When you go into a store displaying a window sign announcing that "baby coupons" are given on purchases, and the merchant or clerk should forget to give you coupons, don't hesitate to ask for them.

It is one of the men behind this business promotion venture and he desires as much as anyone to see the campaign a success.

From now until the end of the first period of the contest on July 16, the credit value of merchants' coupons is greater than at any other time in the campaign, likewise the credit value on subscriptions to the Newark Post.

Two Ballot Boxes

The main official ballot box is at campaign headquarters in the office of the Post. For your convenience, however, an official sub-ballot box will be placed in Rhodes Drug Store, 36 East Main Street.

"Baby coupons" may be deposited in either ballot box. At five o'clock next Tuesday afternoon, June 28, the first counting of votes will take place and the standing of the babies made public. Make the Tuesday count tell a big story. Get YOUR baby to the top of the HONOR ROLL when it is posted after the Tuesday evening count.

The contest management urges the participation of additional merchants in this campaign and a telephone call will bring the manager to any place of business in Newark. Simply dial 4941.

Starting with the current issue, photographs of every baby entered will appear in the Post.

Green Lantern Inn Razed By Fire This Morning

The Green Lantern Inn, popular night club located on the Newark-Fair Hill Road, was gutted by fire of unknown origin about two o'clock this morning.

Lack of a telephone at the scene resulted in the delayed appearance of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company of Newark and the Singler Fire Company of Elkton, who were further handicapped by the lack of water.

By the time the companies arrived, the flames had swept the entire building and could not be headed. Firemen devoted their time to spraying the nearby residence, which was also in danger.

The establishment closed about 12 o'clock, standard time, and an hour later the fire was discovered by passersby, who notified the owner, Earl Bunker, and his family, sleeping in the house nearby.

The total loss, including all equipment and musicians' instruments, was estimated at $25,000 by friends and relatives of Bunker, who could not be contacted this morning. The only living thing on the premises, a police dog, was destroyed. The loss is believed to be partially covered by insurance.

WHEAT, RYE AND OATS INCREASE

Tame Hay, Apple Peach And Pear Crops Lower

Delaware's 1938 wheat crop is estimated at 1,494,000 bushels according to the June 1 crop report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

While this prediction is made on the basis of the June 1 condition of the crop, it is indicative of the prospects of Delaware farmers this year. The indicated yield per acre in the state this year was eighteen bushels on June 1 as compared to the June 1 indication for 1937 of sixteen bushels per acre. Last year's June 1 indicated total yield for the state was 1,376,000 bushels.

Likewise oats and rye show prospects of a larger harvest than in 1937. The June 1 condition of oats was 90 per cent of normal as compared to a June 1, 1937, condition of 84 per cent of normal. Indicated per acre yields for the 1938 rye crop are placed at thirteen bushels by the crop reporting board. Last year's prediction for rye on June 1 was 12.5 bushels per acre.

Tame Hay Lower

While the condition of tame hay in Delaware was lower on June 1, 1938, than on June 1, 1937, standing at 80 per cent of normal this year and 82 per cent of normal June 1, 1937, the condition of Delaware pastures, placed at 85 per cent of normal this year, is higher than the June 1, 1937, condition of 81 per cent of normal.

Reports on Delaware fruits indicate smaller production of apples, peaches, and pears this year. The June 1 condition of the state apple crop was set at 65 per cent of normal as compared to the 1937 June 1 condition of 85 per cent of normal. For peaches, the June 1, 1938, condition was set at 64 per cent of normal as compared to the 1937 June 1 condition of 81 per cent of normal. Indicated production of peaches in Delaware this year is 343,000 bushels as compared to 398,000 bushels last year.

The condition of the 1938 pear crop was set at 56 per cent of normal as compared to last year's June 1 condition of 63 per cent of normal. The 1938 crop is estimated, on current indications, to total 8,000 bushels as compared to 10,000 bushels last year.

DELAWARE BORROWERS PAY WELL

Five-Year HOLC Report Shows Steady Returns

Delaware ranks high in the list of states included in the five-year report of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation which was completed last week. Borrowers in Delaware have paid back $705,804, or 13.8 per cent of their principal indebtedness, and sixty-five loans amounting to $183,661 have been paid in full, according to T. B. Young, state manager.

There were 1,644 loans amounting to $5,107,653 granted during the five years the HOLC has operated in the state. On April 30, 884 accounts were entirely current, or less than three months in arrears, while 346 other borrowers were meeting all current bills and making regular monthly payments on their arrearages.

There are 221 other borrowers who are making some kind of payments and whose homes the corporation hopes to save, Mr. Young reported.

Few Foreclosures

Only a small percentage of the number of loans granted has resulted in foreclosure, and in cases where foreclosure was found necessary disposition of houses was completed on satisfactory terms.

Collections in Delaware in April were one hundred and one per cent of the billings.

Borrowers of the HOLC nationally have paid back $408,124,521, or about thirteen per cent of their entire principal indebtedness. Full liquidation of 31,926 loans amounting to $73,128,446 has been accomplished.

As of April 30, 618,385 accounts were either current or less than three months in arrears, while 135,773 other borrowers were paying their monthly bills and making regular monthly payments on their arrearages. Thousands of others are making payments that should shortly place them in the liquidating class.

SHARING SERVICE WITH THE LIVING CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—Mark 16:1-8, 14-16, 19.

GOLDEN TEXT—And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them. Mark 16:20.

PRIMARY TOPIC—At Work With Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Our Living Lord.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making a New World With Christ.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Making a New World With Christ.

Easter again? No, the calendar does not say so, nor have we forgotten that we observed Easter ten weeks ago, but quite properly we study the resurrection story again today. Not only does it come in the sequence of our lessons as our final fact in that every Sunday is a reminder of Easter. The reason why we worship on the first day of the week is that it is the resurrection day. What life it would put into our Sunday worship if the glory of the risen Lord would shine forth (as it should) each Lord's Day in all of our service and worship.

It is difficult to think or write about the living Christ without using superlatives. Our lesson for today brings before us the most important truth that the world has ever heard—"He is risen"; it speaks of the worst thing in the world—"unbelief"; and it presents the world's greatest commission—"Go . . . and preach."

I. The Transcendent Truth (vv. 1-8).

"Ye seek Jesus, the Nazarene, who hath been crucified; He is risen, He is not here" (v. 6).

The world anxiously awaits news, and, hoping almost against hope, it longs for good news. This is the good news—the Gospel—the all-important tidings that the Son of God who had taken upon Himself not only the form of man, but the sins of mankind as well, who had tasted the bitter death of Calvary's cross, could not be held of death, but breaking its bands asunder had risen from the dead.

This truth becomes the chief burden of the messages of the disciples as they soon went everywhere proclaiming the Gospel. See the sermons recorded in the Book of Acts (2:24, 32; 13:15, 31; 17:31; 26:23; 26:68). It was such preaching that was at the foundation of the Christian church. It may be that we should emphasize it more.

II. The Impassable Barrier (v. 10).

"He upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not." Many are the sins that men commit, but at the root of them all we find the heart of all sin—unbelief. If a man steals he does not believe God's Word about the sanctity of property, nor does he believe that God is able to care for him. If he kills, he does not believe God's Word concerning the sanctity of human life, nor does he recognize that man is made in the likeness and image of God. And so we might go on and show that back of all sins there is the sin of unbelief.

The tragic consequence of unbelief is that it shuts the door, throws up a barrier to God's blessing that is virtually impassable until God himself gives grace to believe. The astonishing thing is that the hardness of heart and lack of faith here were on the part of those who had been the disciples of Jesus, to whom He had made known the fact that He was to die and to arise on the third day, and to whom there had now come the word of eye-witnesses that they had seen the Lord.

While we marvel at their short-sighted unbelief, shall we not ask ourselves what hindrances we have placed in God's way in our own lives?

III. The Supreme Commission (vv. 15, 16, 19, 20).

"Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation" (v. 15). "And they went . . . and preached, the Lord working with them and confirming the word" (v. 20).

The great commission of Christ is still the "marching orders of the church," but how slowly we have marched. The writer of these notes was recently startled by statistics revealing anew the fact that "Christian" America is rapidly returning to the status of a mission field. It is said that last year 60,000 churches in America had no converts, and 9,000 churches were closed during the year. There are 10,000 villages reported to be without church services, and 30,000 communities without a resident pastor.

The command of Christ is that we should go to these pagan communities in our own land with the gospel, and surely it is our double shame that there are still lands where Christ has never been preached, yes, tribes that do not even have a word in their language for the blessed name—Jesus!

If we will go He will indeed work with us (v. 20) and accompany the message and ministry with divine authority and power. Who will go?

Selected from a large group of Sinclair Refining Company dealers in the Peninsula States, Mr. Cunningham will go on the air with Ed Thorngren, popular sports commentator, at 6:05 p.m., Tuesday. The broadcast will be heard over radio stations WCAU, WABC, and the Columbia Network.

The choice was made by Sinclair executives after Mr. Cunningham had shown a phenomenal increase in business during the six months his station has been in operation at 35 W. Main Street.

Depreciation Of Farm Buildings Increasing

Repairs, remodeling, and new construction of farm buildings are not making up for normal depreciation. This is true on widely separated areas, as shown by surveys made in Wisconsin, Kansas, Georgia, and Illinois, under the direction of the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering of the United States Department of Agriculture and the four state agricultural colleges.

"Few people realize how bad the situation really is," according to the bureau. "Many structures must be repaired at once or they will soon be worthless. Many have already deteriorated to such an extent that they are beyond repair. On the majority of farms, buildings have not been properly maintained since the postwar drop in farm prices in 1920."

The type and size of structures needed on farms also has changed considerably in many sections of the country. For example, in the Kansas township surveyed, farms have increased in size since wheat proved to be a more dependable crop there than corn, alfalfa, and livestock. The type of crops grown has changed in other cases, and yields per acre of many crops have increased. As a result, there is great need for replacement or enlargement or other remodeling of many of the older buildings.

WARNING OF DANGER IN TICKS

Health Board Urges Care In Summer

Two deaths from Rocky Mountain spotted fever in an adjacent state, emphasizes the need of vigilance against the wood ticks or dog ticks that spread this disease, according to Dr. A. C. Jost, executive secretary of the State Board of Health. Fortunately, he says, only a small proportion of these common ticks are infected. The disease, however, is widespread and has a high mortality.

According to U. S. Department of Agricultural statistics, at various times cases of spotted fever have been reported from nearly all states in the eastern part of the country except in New England, Ohio, Wisconsin and Mississippi.

Contracting Diseases

The diseases for which ticks are responsible, according to the Delaware State Board of Health, are contracted through the bite of infected insects, or by crushing the infected and absorbing the infectious materials into the system through a break or scratch in the skin, or by getting the material on the hands and accidentally rubbing it into the eyes, nose or mouth.

All persons whose work or pleasure takes them into sections where ticks are likely to be found, are advised by the board of health to take all possible precautions to protect themselves against these potentially dangerous little pests. One should remove any ticks found on one's self, or on animals, as quickly as possible, but take special care not to crush between the fingers; if the insect is already embedded in the flesh, use forceps or wear a glove.

Preventive Measures

After removing the ticks, wash the hands thoroughly with soap and water; wear suitable clothing while going through tick-infested areas; or hives or camping trips, or if your work keeps you in heavily tick-infested sections, carefully inspect your clothing and your person for ticks at least twice a day, especially on retiring, and take another look in the morning; cut out and burn undergrowth and weeds, and cut grass.

Nowadays even the Eskimos are fearing a Pole tax.

very short near bathing pools, shore and along paths, or other places where persons may walk barefooted.

Ticks are the most numerous in the early summer. Usually they practically disappear by the first of August, making the late summer safer for camping trips and hikes.

Pasturing New Hay Seedings Is Dangerous

Fred L. Bull, Agronomist, Points To Practice As Unwise For New Crops

Pasturing new hay seedings is an unwise practice, according to Fred L. Bull, project agronomist of the Soil Conservation Service in Newark.

Due to the shortage of early spring rains, the summer pasture shortage is beginning to show up somewhat prematurely this year. Because of this fact farmers are already planning to start pasturing their spring hay seedings as soon as the grain is cut. From an erosion control standpoint this is recognized as a poor practice even under favorable conditions, and this year with spring seedings also being handicapped because of insufficient moisture early in the season, it is especially unwise.

If sufficient moisture is available during July and August, which is unlikely, good stands of new hay might be pastured lightly without doing a great deal of damage.

Time Limit Suggested

This pasturing should only be for short periods, however, and should be stopped early enough in the fall so the plants can attain a height of six to eight inches before winter weather sets in.

If it is absolutely necessary to pasture new seedings for short periods, as outlined above, extreme care should be taken to keep livestock off when the land is wet. At this time, before the hay plants have become well established, the damage done by slipping animal hoofs might result in severe erosion as well as damage to next year's hay crop.

The reasons for protecting new seedings as much as possible are to insure a good hay crop next year and to prevent sheet and gully erosion by allowing the new crop to form a complete ground cover as quickly as possible.

Lesson In Economics

What with $50,000 purses being placed on the line in sundry and assorted sectors of the nation, an occasional daily double paying in excess of $4,000 for every two bucks bet on the proper combination, individuals growing rich for backing a winner in the Irish "sweeps," and vast railroad, munitions, steel, and other fortunes being sunk in establishing racing strings that require additional fortunes to maintain, it is small wonder people generally believe that money flows like water in the horse racing world.

Such a conclusion is as silly as a naive belief in Aladdin and his lamp, however. Doubles are necessary to keep the geegaws running, and plenty of doubles at that, but people who assume that EVERYONE connected with the racing world has bucks to burn probably labor under the impression that Hitler is a humanitarian.

Newark landlords and residents with a spare room or two to rent have learned a costly and impressive lesson concerning horses and those who are employed in their wake.

Rude Awakening

When the bangtails first hit the Stanton sector last summer, too many people here thought the noise of galloping hoofs sounded the boom, boom of prosperity that would, in thirty short days, transform the spare bedroom into a veritable gold mine. In many instances little Willie was ousted from his cot (the one Uncle John snatched from the quartermaster the day he was discharged) and sweet old Aunt Martha was rushed off to visit the folks on the farm so that additional gold mines could be provided as sleeping quarters for the genteel (?) folk who trot along with the ponies.

It was true—that glitter surrounding Delaware Park in 1937 proved to be gold. Visiting horsemen, ticket sellers, and others, in kind—paid through the nose because they were helpless to do anything else—in 1937.

Some complaints were registered, but local landlords, satisfied that they had the world by the fanny because they had a daybed in the hall for rent, merely replied with a smile that asked, with irritating smugness, in effect: "So, what?"

The answer wasn't forthcoming until this year. It isn't being asked from the house tops, of course, but it is effective. Restaurant owners and other business people who have a way of gauging such things are complaining over the fact that less than one-third the number of horsemen who quartered in Newark for the 1937 meet at Delaware Park are here this year. Meanwhile, spare bedrooms in Newport, Stanton, Elkton, and other towns in the vicinity are loaded to capacity.

It's pitifully funny in some respects—especially in those scattered cases where residents went to "add-

Flashes By Bill Fletcher

IT'S NOT A PLEASANT THING TO BE IN THE DOG HOUSE FOR something you've done unintentionally and with the best in mind, but for the past week and for perhaps many more weeks to come, we shall continue to reside in the canine residence.

And all this, because we listened to Anderson, assistant pro at the golf course, who swore up and down last Sunday that George E. Dutton, Jr., was going to walk off with the Newark Country Club championship this year.

As Anderson extolled the remarkable links feats of the favored Dutton, we visioned an embryonic national champion and we based our predictions accordingly.

Dutton, we said, was going to burn up the old course like it had never been scorched before and there wasn't any doubt as to who would cop the laurels in the current championship tourney.

Dutton lost to A. E. Benton in the second round—that's the end of our story and our career of prediction—the beginning of our dog days.

A LONG TALK WITH TEE Spoon, who is quite an authority on golf, revealed that the swing and hunt game is as unpredictable as a shag dancer's next step and anybody with one lot of common sense would shy from giving advance dope on the winner—sounds like horse racing, too, doesn't it?

He explained that little things like an argument with the little woman might throw a guy off his game so far that he'd be walking and swinging around in the rough all afternoon.

According to Tee, fifty per cent of the game depends on mental adaptation, twenty-five per cent on power and the other quarter on accuracy.

The ideal golfer, Tee went on, would be a conglomeration of the nerves of an Egyptian sphinx, the power of an elephant and the accuracy of England's Robin Hood.

Because of Tee, we now know that there are many unforeseen factors which might enter into a man's game of golf. The chief offender seems to be the Mrs. and so we have arranged a set of rules to help every woman help her man's game.

Bear with us and listen.

NEVER TAKE YOUR HUSBAND'S game seriously. Remember that his golf count isn't half as important to him as your bridge score is to you.

Budget at least five minutes of your day to the purpose of some plain, old-fashioned listening, and two hours to telling him how silly the game is. Chortle as he laments that duffed approach; scoff at him as he tells about that first shot that reached the green and just missed the cup.

Do all you can to take his mind off the game. A good plan on Sunday is to suggest taking a drive out to see mother. Automobile rides are diverting and you can soon make him forget the links by getting out in the country air. Make it a point to go motoring every holiday and if he shows signs of restlessness when passing a golf course, say something sweet like: "This is doing you much more good than that hot, silly old game, dear."

Make every effort to keep him away from the links, but if friends should, by chance, persuade him to play again, some Sunday afternoon, be sure to plan dinner for just about the time he finishes the first nine holes.

Have Junior meet him at the first tee and then you'll be doing him a favor by delaying dinner as much as possible in order to keep him off the course for the rest of the afternoon. A good method at this point, is to have some non-playing friends drop in unexpectedly.

TAKE UP SOME FORM OF EXERCISE yourself such as tennis, badminton or ping pong and insist that your husband join you in your activity.

If he still clings to the silly old game, surprise him some day by breaking all the clubs over your knee. (If they're steel-shafted, a back-saw will serve the purpose.)

Jackets Hold Lead In Bi-State Race

ELKTON THROTTLED BY LATE NEWARK SPLURGE

Whiteman, Winning Pitcher, Drives Six Runs Across Rubber; Bel Air And A. P. G. Divide Double Attraction

By "The Roamer"

Busting the assorted offerings of three hurlers for a dozen blows, Shorty Chalmers' Yellowjackets racked up their seventh straight victory to retain the lead in the first-half pennant scramble for the Bi-State League gonfalon at Elkton last Sunday.

Johnny Dickerson's Barristers made the contest somewhat of an issue during the first six innings, but with the Jackets opening a belated attack in the last three frames that was good for ten runs, the Marylanders were forced to accept the short end of a 12-to-2 score.

Whiteman Is Winner

Ort Spratt, who started for Elkton, sailed along in fine style for five sessions by holding the Chalmers delegates to a single marker in the outfield and at first base. Pressed into service at Chester largely because he is a portside, he proceeded to demonstrate his skill on the pitching parapet.

Although defeated here by the University of Delaware—3-2, in case you have forgotten—Ciggy gave a gritty exhibition in the face of Bronx cheers from local urchins. He was only beaten because the club back of him didn't belong in the same league with the Hens. To top a fine afternoon's work, he held Dick Roberts hitless, the lone contest in eighteen wherein Sir Richard failed to register one safety or more.

Zebly, who never played football at Newark High, earned a varsity letter as a guard at St. John's College, Annapolis, in his first appearance. Despite the Johnnies' poor season, the Appleton youngster developed fast under the expert guidance of Dutch Lentz and should prove outstanding in the next couple of years. He has gained twenty pounds since last fall, which should help him no end ere another grid campaign rolls around.

Fielding Features Three fast double killings turned in by the Heretino-to-Barrow-to-Dickerson combination aided Spratt and Richards in coming out of trouble some holes. Five errors were charged to Elkton at that, while three bunts were charged against the Jackets.

Earl Sheats enjoyed a big afternoon with the willow, socking three singles in four trips to the plate. Chalmers and Whiteman had two blows apiece, while every man in Newark livedry had one or more hits except Argo. George and Jackson were credited with doubles.

Whiteman added his own cause by driving six runs across the counting station and added a pair on his own. Heretino, with a single and double, and Mike Peterson, with two singles, paced Elkton's eight-hit attack.

Bel Air Divides

Bel Air's contest of a 2-to-1 defeat suffered at the Aberdeen Devoing Grounds several weeks ago was upheld by President Thomas T. Preston and the game was ordered replayed as a part of a double header at Bel Air Sunday.

The Soldiers came through again, however, to snare an 8-to-3 verdict in the disputed battle, while Bel Air captured a hard-fought 1-to-0 decision in the nightcap.

Bel Air's defeat gave Newark an official lead of two full games with only three more remaining on the first-half schedule. Before journeying to Bel Air on July 3, the Jackets are listed to play Aberdeen here Sunday, while Bel Air performs at Darlington. Both teams have postponed games with Oxford which will not be played unless the present standings are altered.

Errors Aid Soldiers

Six Bel Air boots, two of which were charged to Bud Lloyd as A. P. G. marked up four runs in the seventh, aided the Soldiers in registering an 8-to-3 verdict in the opener of the twin attraction.

After Aberdeen had picked up a pair of runs in the initial frame, Bel Air retaliated with single markers in the second, third, and fourth. The Soldiers forged ahead with two more runs in the sixth and put the contest on ice with a four-run splurge in the seventh.

Whiteford worked six and a fraction innings before giving way to Trust, while Carter went the distance for Aberdeen. Hits were divided: A. P. G. 13, Bel Air 9.

Trust Beats Elliott

The nightcap was a thriller that wasn't decided until two were out in the ninth when Bel Air counted the only run of the game.

Trust and Elliott hooked up in a grand hurling duel that threatened to carry the tilt into extra innings. Holding the Soldiers to four hits, Trust was always ahead of the opposition despite four errors by his mates. He fanned four and walked two.

TOURNEY TO START JUNE 27

Double Card To Attract Record Entry

The Middle States Championships, men's singles and doubles, will be combined with the Delaware State Clay Court Championships, women's singles and doubles, this year, and all events will be staged on the courts of the du Pont Country Club, near Wilmington. Starting on Monday, June 27, the tourney will run to July 2, a week before the National Intercollegiate Championships.

This will be the first time the Middle States Championships have been played on the du Pont courts, and it is expected that the two events will bring a record entry.

Men's and women's singles begin Monday, June 27, at 1:30 p. m., and the doubles begin on Tuesday, June 28, at 1:30 p. m. Entries for singles close on Saturday, June 25; for doubles, June 27. Fees will be $1.50 for singles and $2.00 per team for doubles and entries must be accompanied by fees made payable to the du Pont Country Club.

Open To Amateurs

All matches will be the best two out of three sets, except in the finals of the men's singles and doubles, which will be the best three out of five. The tournament is open to amateur tennis players whether residents of Delaware or elsewhere, and will be held under the auspices and rules of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. T. W. Harris, Jr., of Wilmington, president of the Delaware Lawn Tennis Association and past president of the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association, will act as official referee.

There will be prizes for all events, and in addition, three-year cups will be placed in competition as follows: Hotel du Pont trophy for women's singles, and the Mrs. Harrison Smith trophy, for women's doubles.

The 1938 tournament committee includes V. R. Hardy, chairman; Lucy M. Crass, chairman women's tennis; M. L. Ernsberger, M. H. Brown, J. P. Creighton, and E. F. Altmaier.

Former Marathoner Treated For Injury

Joe Zebly, Jr., of Appleton, Md., who established himself as a marathon and cross country runner while a student at Elkton High School in 1932, is undergoing special treatments at the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, for a leg injury suffered two years ago.

Trained to run the marathon course of 26 miles, 385 yards, in the Olympic tryouts which were scheduled to be held in Washington, D. C., on May 30, 1936, Zebly slipped while working in the National Vulcanized Fibre Company's plant here two days before the trials.

He was unable to compete in the tests and has been handicapped by the injury ever since.

Losing Proposition

Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner, estimates American colleges take a combined loss of $250,000 to sponsor baseball.

Bryon was so proud of his hands he constantly wore gloves, even indoors, to protect their whiteness.

Charley Meyers, Philadelphia, Pa., who turned in the next best time, 29:54 seconds, was closely followed by Harry Harper, Chester, Pa., with 29:58 seconds. Harper, driving the H. and W. No. 15 Team Car, won the feature event of the evening.

Twenty-five cars and drivers were qualified for starting positions which they will maintain throughout the next three meets.

The track was in unusually fine condition and the show was marred by only two crashes. Earl Johns, Mt. Ephraim, N. J., went through the fence on the first turn during the time trials and Slim Enterline, Philadelphia, followed suit in the second heat when he blew a front tire.

Enterline was in second place when his crash occurred. Neither driver was hurt.

Anchors Aweigh

Washington.—Georgetown is the latest Eastern university to take up sailing as a semi-varsity sport. Arrangements are being made to enter two-man crews in several regattas.

"Cap" Clark, who was delayed in joining the "Phils" because of a high-school coaching contract, has impressed Jimmy Wilson with his batting power and aggressiveness behind the plate.

Dick Tweed Stretches Margin In Billiard Tourney To Two Games

By Cue Keeley

Handing Boo Boo Beck a 65-to-18 lacing, Dick Tweed stretched his lead in the class B pocket billiards tournament being conducted at Jimmy Martin's State parlor to two full games during the week. Vic Willis, Jr., aided Tweed's cause when he throttled Jake Hogan, holder of number two position in the race, by a count of 65-32.

Hogan now has a mark of ten victories in fourteen starts, while Tweed has captured a dozen decisions in fourteen matches.

Willis tumbled Bull Taylor from fifth to seventh position and climbed from twelfth to ninth when he defeated the husky plumber, 65-43, for his second win in seven days. Taylor's mark is now eight and five, while Willis has won seven in twelve matches.

Daily Double Loser

Spike Daly suffered a pair of defeats, losing to Hughie Thomas, 50-32, and Bob Stewart, 50-21, to drop three and one-half games back of Tweed. Stewart has won nine against six, while Thomas has dropped six matches in eleven starts. Daly's mark is ten and seven.

Defending Champion Scores Win Over Ben Davis, Jr., In Newark Title Play

In one of the closest matches of the tourney thus far, William Bradford eked out a win over W. C. Northrop, one up. The pair were forced to 19 holes before the event could be decided.

Kentucky Fond Of Two-Year-Old Juvenile Races

Lexington.—Ever since horsemen started racing their two-year-old thoroughbreds juvenile events have been popular at Lexington. Again this spring they have been given a prominent place on the Keeneland program. Two juvenile dashes will be run each afternoon during the eleven-day program at the Lexington track.

All will be run over the Headley course, which is about forty feet short of a half-mile. Climaxing the juvenile racing will be the Lafayette Stakes, $2,500 added, which was run Wednesday, April 27. A large field of youngsters is expected for that added money contest.

Strange Tonic

Indianapolis.—Wilbur Shaw says his best spring tonic is the smell of castor oil, which now, however, is being replaced to a great degree by stock motor oil in racing cars.

Real Iron Man

Ted Meredith, Pennsylvania's greatest star, won the 100, 220, 440 and 880 in the same afternoon in a meet with Princeton, 25 years ago.

DEAVER LOSER AND WINNER TWO TIMES

First Half Still In Doubt As Deadlock Remains

By Homer

Big Bill Deaver, Delaware curve-ball pitcher, handed a 9-to-2 lacing to Terrace at Continental Thursday night, avenging over the Finnerman own orchard Tuesday's 5-to-4 win.

The victory placed Deaver back in the lead for the pennant in the New circuit from whence he tumbled by the Terrace team last week. Only a bare half game separates a scant margin, erased by the Hollownay port tossers in a postgame tussel.

With the start of the scramble originally set last week, the entire card ended back until Tuesday night to get the first-half tussel ended away. League play near the boiling point of the Continental and Hollownay in a near deadlock for the half run with another week in prospect.

Darlington climbed into third place, two games back of Bel Air, by defeating Oxford, 4-2. It was the Maroons' fourth loss in five games.

Grapefruit Production Breaks Record in Texas

Production of grapefruit in the United States in the 1937-38 season is estimated to exceed 28,000,000 boxes of which 13,000,000 are credited to Florida.

The Texas crop for the 1937-38 season is around 11,000,000 boxes, breaking all records for that state.

The balance of the crop came from California and Arizona.

Florida's relative nearness to the important eastern marketing centers has made it possible for the Gator State to enjoy a freight rate advantage over the other citrus producing areas.

The rate for Florida oranges and grapefruit moving to New York, Philadelphia, and Baltimore is sixty-two cents, for Texas fruit ninety-eight cents per standard box, and for California and Arizona fruit $1.11 per box.

These freight rates no doubt account for the great amount of Florida grapefruit and oranges sold in the eastern markets.

The preferred plant of the hummingbird is one of reddish or dark orange hues. Whether the hummingbird hums for nectar or insects—and there is still some argument on that score—has invariably given his attention to the reddish flower he can find. And if a garden possesses no flowers that suit his color fancy, he will generally avoid it altogether. Of the hundreds of plants that I have raised, scarlet salvia pleases the hummingbird most.

How America Proves Its Case

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

National Chairman

Sentinel of the Republic

In recent speeches spokesmen for the dictator states of Europe have indicated a desire for a "doctrinal" bout with the democracies.

By this apparently is meant a readiness to argue the relative merits of the two contrasting systems of government. Particularly, it seems, they would like to argue with Americans.

But Americans don't need to argue. They need only point to the evidence, so apparent in their own nation, of what the average citizen enjoys under the advantages of democracy in contrast to the sacrifices and limitations imposed by dictatorship.

What dictator nation, for example, has witnessed an expansion of national growth and prestige comparable to that of our American democracy?

What dictator nation assures the freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of religion which have been foundation stones of our American democracy since the nation was born?

What dictator nation can show anything even remotely approaching the high standards of living and wages that America has offered throughout its history?

What dictator nation gives to every citizen a voice in the conduct of its government, and control over his elected officials?

What dictator nation offers to every citizen the wealth of opportunity exemplified in the careers of Lincoln and Edison and others too numerous to mention?

What dictator nation—founded on the outworn traditions of the dead past—can look to a future so full of promise as our own?

America has no need to argue the advantages of democracy. It proves its case by concrete examples.

The continuation of the temporarily reduced interest rates on Federal land bank and land bank commissioner loans, as a result of recent congressional action, will apply to all interest payable prior to July 1, 1940, Charles S. Jackson, president of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, said this week.

President Jackson stated the temporary reduction of rates of four per cent on land bank commissioner loans, made through the land banks, will also be continued until July 1, 1940.

He explained that the temporary interest reduction provided by Congress does not change the contract interest rate that is, the rate written in the mortgage at the time a loan was made. Under the law, as now amended, both land bank and commissioner borrowers will resume interest payments at their respective contract rates on July 1, 1940.

Benefit By Reduction

Farmers who obtain new loans now, "will get the benefits of the reduced rate for all interest installments payable prior to July 1, 1940, and after that will not have to pay more than the contract rate for the balance of the term of the loan, which may be for as long as twenty to thirty odd years."

On May 31 there were 43,977 land bank and commissioner loans outstanding in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania, with an unpaid balance of $90,312,015.

Ebenezer M. E. Church

A large congregation attended the Children's Day services at Ebenezer M. E. Church, near Newark, last Sunday. The program, following the form of a worship service throughout, was much enjoyed by members of the church and visitors alike. The two teams of boys led by Walter Patterson and Lindsay Greenplate succeeded in raising a larger Children's Day offering than has ever been raised for that occasion heretofore.

The Fifth Annual Fathers and Sons Banquet will be held in the basement of the church on Thursday evening, June 23rd Raymond Beyerlein and Harold Lynch are in charge of the arranging of the program; while Charles Nelson and Buddy Wiggins are heading the dinner arrangements. The boys are all members of the Champion Class of the Church School. An appetizing menu has been drawn up by the mothers of the boys, and an entertaining program of speeches, music and readings has been prepared. The fathers and sons of the community, regardless of their church affiliation, are cordially invited to attend.

At their monthly meeting, held last Saturday evening at the home of Miss Lora Little in Stanton, the De-Cee Club, comprised of members of the Dorcas and Champion Classes of the Church School, voted to undertake as their project for this year, the making of a recreation center on the vacant lot adjoining the Parsonage. "Night Must Fall" Now At Robin Hood

Stirring Melodrama Being Given At Arden; Edwin Ross In Role of Killer

"Night Must Fall," the thrilling melodrama which has fascinated London and New York, as well as screen audiences from coast to coast, is the current bill at the Robin Hood Theatre, Arden. Performances are given Tuesday nights through Saturday.

As a sensational study of abnormal psychology, "Night Must Fall" follows the career of a baby-faced killer from his first thrilling murder to his inevitable downfall. This play represents as great an advance over the old style "clutch and scream" melodrama as does a psychiatrist's office over a police third degree.

Edwin Ross plays the role of the maniac who makes love to his intended victim's niece. Mary Lonne plays the girl who, guessing his secret, still is fascinated.

Comedy relief is provided when the situation becomes too tense by Dorrit Kellon as a crotchety old invalid who dotes on her unstable young friend. Other members of

THE OLD SETTEE

Ma's got her kitchen all fixed up And painted just like new; With real linoleum on the floor, And colored curtains too. She got a stove that uses gas, And when they brought it, see, There wasn't any place, Ma said, To put the old settee.

She said it was so out of date We looked like back woods folk. But right or wrong, there was no place So nice, to read and smoke. I always liked to rest myself Full length, upon its bed, And Ma would wash the dishes while I smoked—and then we read.

The settee's in the woodshed, now; I s'pose it ain't no good. But somehow, I can't bring myself To chop it up fer wood. It seems it's like an old time friend That's been real good to me; I guess I'll fix the woodshed up And keep the old settee.

Adam N. Reiter, West Chester, Pa.

the Robin Hood's resident professional cast who take part in "Night Must Fall" are Richard Edward Bowler, Ruth Gruette, Charles Mondick, Laura Barrett and Ruth Kelly. The settings are by Bayard Berndt.

A ROCKEFELLER SECRET

John D. Rockefeller was at the height of his career, and worth $700,000,000, when asked by Arthur de Fauris, great painter, what the secret of making a million dollars was.

"Why it's very simple. If your income is $30 a week you save ten per cent of it. When your income gets to be $60 a week you save twenty per cent of it. And when your income gets to be $120 a week save fifty per cent of it." (Reprinted Chicago Herald Examiner, March 6, 1935).

If you make only $18 a week save at least seven per cent of it. At any rate, save for yourself for who should be more interested in your future than YOU?

No matter how much or how little you have or make THERE IS A PLAN FOR YOU. Start today, tomorrow may be too late. How much do you have now? How much should you have?

WASHERS Wash Better

For over a quarter of a century the name "ABC" has stood for quality and value in the home laundry field. ABC has always built washers better than was necessary, using materials of higher quality than ordinary. As a result ABC Washers have become the standard of value by which hundreds of thousands of housewives measure the purchase of a washer.

Never before in 29 years of experience, during which ABC has contributed more worthwhile advancements to the washer industry than any other manufacturer, has ABC offered a better value than ABC Washer Model 137.

Better workmanship, better materials, better construction methods, and better features all go to make today's ABC Washer a better value.
