Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mabel J. Schwartz; a son, William T. II, a student at the University of Delaware; a sister, Miss C. Mildred Schwartz, and a brother, Charles E., both of Wilmington.

Services were held this afternoon in the R. T. Jones Funeral Home, with interment in Gracelawn Memorial Park.

Milk Tops Irish Whiskey As Erin's Favored Drink

Irish whiskey is not the leading drink in Ireland, as many people may think. It's milk!

The three countries having the highest per capita consumption of dairy products are Ireland, New Zealand and Finland—in that order, reports Mrs. Marjorie Whittaker, nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware.

The annual use of milk and other dairy products per person in Ireland averages 1,507 pounds; 1,416 pounds in New Zealand, and 1,265 pounds in Finland.

The United States ranks 15th among countries of the world in per capita consumption of dairy products.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

U. of D. Agricultural Extension Service

The Fourth of July is here and to many people that means picnic time. Simple precautions to follow to insure safety when you are picnicking include these few do's and don'ts — Don't prepare food that spoils easily, such as cream pies, fish and egg salads, mayonnaise dishes, sauces, gravies and creamed dishes. Such foods must be kept cold until they are eaten. If you prepare a food of this type, pack it in ice so that it will keep cold until you get to the picnic area and are ready to eat. If you are in doubt about being able to keep it cold, don't plan to take it.

Sometimes there is no safe drinking water near the picnic spot, so remember to take your own water and don't take any chances.

It's also a good idea to put a first aid kit in with your picnic supplies. Include materials for cuts, burns, insect bites and poisonous plants.

Before you leave the picnic area, be sure your camp fire is out, and clean up all garbage, leaving the picnic grounds clean.

Broiler-fryer chickens and the "teen-age turkeys" are best buys at the meat counter this weekend. The prices of these four to five pound turkeys are ranging around 49 cents a pound, making them much cheaper than most meats. Even hamburger has gone up a penny this week, making it 10 cents a pound higher than the "teen-age" turkey.

The continued hot dry weather is beginning to cut supply of a few vegetables. Snap beans, green peas and green onions are all a little higher in price and supplies are smaller due to weather. Some tomatoes show signs of the dry weather, especially those shipped in from Virginia and further south. They are a little undersized and the tops are cracked in some cases.

however, the flavor is certainly there.

New potatoes, beets and summer squash, apparently do not mind the heat, since they are in good supply and prices have dropped a bit on all three.

Fruits are a bit cheaper this week, and eggs are on the seasonal price escalator. Grade A large eggs increased about four cents a dozen this week; Grade A medium are up five cents; Grade B large, up three cents.

Homemaker Short Course Attended By Local Women

Women from all over Delaware attended the 21st annual Homemakers' Short Course at the University of Delaware recently, and at the end of the four-day session, Dean George M. Worrlow, of the school of agriculture, presented 10-year members with certificates of recognition.

Winning 10-year certificates were Mrs. Verna Ewing and Mrs. Martha Davis, Newark; and Mrs. Violette Moore, Bear.

Others in the Newark area who attended the course are Mrs. Dorothy Whittington, Bear; Mrs. Martha Davis, Bear; Mrs. Holly Dianich, Mrs. Brita Woolfson, Newark; Mrs. Myrtle Reynolds, Bear; Mrs. Deleena Ginter, Newark; Mrs. Estelle Wallace, and Mrs. Peg Chernish, North Star, and Mrs. G. Felbeck, Jr., Mrs. Dorothy Gwinn, and Mrs. Bessie Urian, Newark.

Frosh Orientation Program Changes Planned At U.D.

The orientation program for arts and science freshmen entering the University of Delaware next September, may be substantially modified because of the efforts and enthusiasm of the largest class ever to enter the university.

Last year's freshmen thought that some changes in the school of arts and science orientation program would prove beneficial to new students.

With the assistance of Dean G. Bruce Dearing the class formed a special committee to make recommendations for the 1959-60 program. Their suggestions ranged from participation by sophomores in the year-long arts and sciences orientation program, to a weekly tea for small groups of students so that they might become better acquainted with each other and with faculty and university officers.

Delores Massado Wins Scholarship For $100

Delores Massado, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Massado of Newark, has been awarded the $100 scholarship of the national sorority of Phi Delta Kappa Rho chapter.

Miss Massado, a graduate of Newark High School, received the award on the basis of a competitive examination.

She will enter the University of Delaware this fall.

Commenting on the class project, Dean Dearing said, "It is heartening to see undergraduates taking so much interest in their own education and in that of the classes to succeed them. Many of the ideas suggested by this committee are most imaginative and will certainly be effected. All of the ideas the group has recommended are worth listening to, and I count myself fortunate to have access to the thoughts of these concerned students."

Judy Eller of Newark is a member of the class committee.

Sanders Addresses Agronomy Society On Rural Economy

The American people, struggling to solve problems associated with sprawling metropolitan areas, could well afford to consider ways of breathing economic life into rural communities, a farm leader told a gathering of agricultural scientists from 13 northeastern states in Newark recently.

Dr. Paul D. Sanders of Richmond, Va., and editor of Southern Planter magazine, told 150 delegates to the American Society of Agronomy's northeast sectional meeting at the University of Delaware, that location of industrial plants in small towns and villages in farming areas throughout the country could relieve congested urban centers and at the same time, tap the reservoir of underemployed farm labor.

"The flight to unprepared suburbs spawns new slums faster than we can complete slum clearance projects in congested areas," Sanders said. He suggested a plan of decentralized industrial development, establishing manufacturing plants in rural areas which offer many advantages for family living as compared with conditions faced by workers in teeming cities.

The editor paid tribute to the agronomist, whose job it is to develop and test new varieties of farm crops, increase the fertility and productive capacity of soil, and reduce soil erosion through improved conservation measures.

He described the agricultural experiment stations at state universities as "arsenals of science" in the cold war, which are helping to annihilate hunger in the weak and underdeveloped countries of the world.

The University of Delaware department of agronomy will hold this year's meeting, Jan. 10-12, 1960.

THEIR DREAM

FOR THE LOVE OF LIBERTY!

The flag of the United States changes to keep pace with a growing nation. But the ideal it represents remains unchanged—a free nation of free citizens; government by the people; a government of law rather than of men; government of the people, for the people. The ideal shines brightly, beckoning to people of the world who cherish liberty. Yet we who inherited freedom as our most precious birthright guard it but indifferently. Though we would protect it with our lives against foreign enemies, we trade it away cheaply among ourselves. Bit by bit we hand freedom over to the government in exchange for material advantages. We barter liberty for protection from predatory individuals or groups; we swap it for subsidies which burden us with taxes and shackle us with restrictions. Our ancestors willingly accepted privation to be free government bondage. We willingly accept the yoke of government for the promise of a full tummy and easy life. When our children will inherit a cheapened remnant of freedom—along with the bill for our short-sighted selfishness.

SLOW DOWN — AND LIVE!

Nearly 50 million motorists will be taking to the road for the Fourth of July weekend. Some will not return alive. Thousands more will return eventually, but it will be a long and painful route by way of the country's busy highways. The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company estimates a high 470 highway deaths over the three-day holiday weekend. The principal reason, according to the Institute, is that there are thousands more cars and drivers on the road than a year ago. Many of these new drivers taking to the road during the past 12 months lack the skill, caution and experience to keep them out of trouble in highly congested traffic.

A large share of holiday traffic accidents actually have been beginning well before the victims leave home, the Institute asserts. Here's why:

- (1) Lack of proper trip planning, and failure to allow enough time for reaching destinations and returning.
  - (2) Failure to allow for adverse weather or other driving conditions.
  - (3) Drinking before or during the trip.
  - (4) Failure to put the car in top operating condition, especially tires, brakes, headlights and windshield wipers.
  - (5) Starting the trip tired or in below-par physical condition (holiday driving requires top physical reactions and alertness.)
  - (6) An upset mental condition on the part of the driver such as: anger, depression, lack of patience and the like.
- So start your personal safety campaign well ahead of your holiday drive. It will go far toward helping you to avoid the fate of the unfortunate.
- And for double insurance against accidents, plan to drive every mile at moderate speeds, in keeping with road conditions and weather conditions.
- We wish you a happy, safe holiday and hope that you will be reading our pages next week.

Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to know when it has to be done, whether it is or not. —Huxley

Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither freedom nor justice can be permanently maintained. —James A. Garfield

Navy Notes - Jason

By William P. Mote

A graduate of Newark High School, Class of 1957, Navy Radioman Bill Mote, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Mote, Newark, is stationed at Asmara, Africa, 65 miles from the Red Sea. This article was submitted to the Newark Post while Bill was serving in Washington, just prior to his Navy flight to the Dark Continent. His articles concerning Navy life will appear from time to time.

To most people, Jason is simply a name for a boy. A cousin or brother perhaps. But, to the enlisted men and women of the Navy in the Washington D. C. area, Jason means many more things. Physically, Jason is a club. It is located in a fair size building at the foot of a hill at Quarters K, near Arlington, Va. It stands with an easy view of the Pentagon, just across the Potomac River from Washington. A Navy building, it is painted a light grey outside. But, there all likeness to standard Navy building ends. Inside it is nicely furnished, and painted light green and pink. On the walls are paintings of Paris, France, in the late 1800's. Jason is many things to many people. Mainly it is a place to kill off-duty time. A place to meet new friends, and in some cases, a place to try and forget old ones. The people here are mostly Navy; although, sometimes men and women of other military branches drop in.

Most have jobs at the various Navy offices, but some come from the air station and receiving station at nearby Anacostia.

The sailors and WAVES both have one thing in common; they are in the Navy. Some like it, others don't.

They start drifting in early in the evening. Singly, by twos, or in groups they come. The flow is steady, in and out, until the Master-at-Arms flips on the bright lights at 10:45 to signal that it is time to secure.

Many a romance starts here in the dim lights. Sometimes the paths of once close friends cross. And, hav-

Clothing Judging Course Scheduled To Begin July 8

"There are many events held in Delaware each year that require competent clothing judges," Janet Reed, extension clothing specialist with the University of Delaware, said in announcing the short course for training judges to be held July 8-9 at the university.

Any women who wish to take the course should contact Miss Reed or their county home demonstration agent as soon as possible.

Classes will be held from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. both days.

Mary Wines, associate professor of textiles and clothing at the University of Delaware, will give a ing met, once again go their separate ways. Such is life. Such is the Navy.

This old building has seen a lot. It has seen the masses of people that make up a profession come and go over the years. And, one rarely sees the same faces here two nights in a row. It is truly a cross section of humanity that comes here. A never ending parade of faces. The old boatswain with over 15 years in the service. He sits alone in the stag bar. He is still in uniform, he has long before given up wearing civilian clothes off duty. He is the Navy, so to speak. It has become a part of him rather than he a part of it. His very personality is geared to it.

I suppose people are pretty much the same everywhere. Most of us here are young. The average is in the early twenties. And, here at Jason, a good time is generally had by all.

Jason is and will be in the years to come, a place to accomplish either a little or a lot as one looks at it from his own point of view.

The night is clear and cool. In a few short hours it will be back to the job of helping to run the nation's defense.

This is a different Navy from the fast destroyers and overseas bases. We call it the WAVEY Navy because of the number of girls, but each person fights in his or her own way. Their desks are ships, letter-openers become swords, with coffee cups for hand grenades and lighters, flame throwers. The crews keep the paper work flowing. The yeomen, personnelmen, the people at Weather Central.

They also fight, those who only sit and write.

talk on "A Philosophy of Clothing Construction." The course is intended to help youth leaders who work with youngsters on clothing projects for competition. Certificates will be given at the end of the course and those who receive them will be eligible to judge at 4-H, grange, and fair clothing contests.

Champion Grass Racer To Be Determined With Sussex Turf Handicap On Saturday

The champion grass racer of the Delaware Park meeting will be crowned this Saturday with the 22nd running of the $25,000 added Sussex Turf Handicap, a test of a mile and three-eighths on the velvety infield course.

An international extravaganza is in prospect for the Independence Day feature, one which should truly provide fireworks competition—several foreign nations are slated to compete against the top American grasscutters in the east.

Delaware Park created a new turf course in 1956 with a view to attracting imported stars accustomed to grass racing on the flat, and also providing more variety for its patrons. It has proved a most successful move on both counts.

It is significant to note that foreign thoroughbreds have made a clean sweep of both the Brandywine and Sussex Turf Handicaps since those stakes were converted from dirt to grass.

The Sussex, in its three renewals on grass beginning with 1956, has been won by Australia's Prince Morvi, France's Ruffy and Ireland's Hindu Festival.

The Brandywine, which became a turf course in 1957, went to England's Akbar Khan and Tudor Era the first two times, and at the current meeting was captured by France's Pantene, who equalled the course record set the year before by Tudor Era.

Pantene is expected to be back in Saturday's longer and richer Sussex, which he'll probably have to tackle—among many others—the Australian route-running ace Monte Carlo, who was imported to this country by Baltimore's Mrs. Henry H. Hecht after finishing second in the Melbourne Cup last year, and in the Melbourne Cup last year.

Monte Carlo was a fast-closing fourth in a mile and a sixteenth grass race at Monmouth Park in his recent U.S. debut.

With many other highly regarded grass specialists aiming at the event, this could equal any past Sussex for thrills.

Old friend Joe Marousek—and Joe's not so old, either—had some stirring seasons Saturday out of the Indian River Inlet with another ol'-friend—Skipper Joe Niblett, on the Fay Mary.

"We went out to the tuna waters," Joe Marousek writes, "lost three and boated four of the 20-plus pound jet-propelled furies, along with 22 medium sized blues."

"On my first strike," Joe continues, "I tried to stop the whizzing spool with my thumb. What a bluster!"

"Eight of us divided our catch, so that I came home with half a tuna and three bluefish."

Cap'n Joe Niblett, who works out of Wilmington as a carpenter during the week, dons his skipper's cap on weekends to pilot sportsmen into the blue horizon of the Atlantic Ocean out of the Indian River Inlet.

A native of the Rehoboth area, Joe somehow migrated inland, but the song of the sea still sings in his ears, and it's down to the sea in a ship for Niblett each warm weekend until fish and sportsmen wander away with smiles.

We first fished with Joe Niblett aboard an old gray tub which bordered on being a submarine, eliciting the concerned comment of fishing companion Bill Moffet, that "this boat leaks like a sieve."

Joe's first trip, far off Delaware's shore. But we caught fish on that occasion some 12 years ago—and made it back to port—still riding the surface.

Shortly thereafter, Skipper Niblett acquired one of the classic cruisers in the Indian River fleet—the Fay Mary—and the fall the Phillis won the pennant—when Billy was two years old—Joe Niblett invited the family to spend the day aboard the new boat for Little Bill's first ocean fishing trip.

And it was on this occasion that the Fay Mary had probably her closest brush with Davey Jones. A couple of splashes were noticed as we headed out to sea in calm water, and it was evident that somebody had thrown something overboard. Later, when it became rough, and water began coming aboard, it was discovered what had gone over the side—the wooden plugs for the scupper holes.

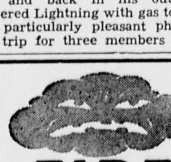

"Now I know what the baby threw over," Cap'n Joe said with a wry smile as he hurriedly whittled a pair of plugs from a mop handle.

Last Saturday, with Dad, Tom Callagy and Little Tom, Brother Lew, and Little Bill, we fished the Chesapeake at the mouth of the Severn and Whitehall Rivers, just below the Bay Bridge, and caught more rockfish and white perch than we counted.

This sounds a bit better than it was, because all of the rock or strippers were from six to 12 inches long, and the great majority were of less than legal length. Some 30 young rock were happily restored to their Chesapeake Bay environment to swim and grow some more.

Young Tommy Callagy came up with the big fish of the day—a 12-inch rock; William H. Waggaman, Sr.—convalescing from a recent operation—outfished and outlasted all hands and won the pool prize for the first fish—a rock, by the way—and Big Tom Callagy did a land office business with those baby rock on a silver shad spoon.

In a dead calm, Lew piloted us out and back in his outboard-powered Lightning with gas to spare—a particularly pleasant phase of the trip for three members of the

Al Neiger Chosen For All-American Collegiate Nine

$35,000 Bonus Player, Delaware Pitching Star Wins Additional Laurels

Al Neiger, Delaware pitching ace of the past season, who was signed by the Phillies with a $35,000 bonus agreement, has been named on the Collegiate Baseball Digest's All-American first team—the first Delawarean ever accorded such an honor.

The stylish southpaw also was selected as the Most Valuable Player in District 2 of national collegiate ranks.

The annual selections are released by the Digest from its Tucson, Ariz., publishing house. Neiger will receive a gold wrist watch as the MVP and a ring emblematic of his All-America rating.

Neiger recently was credited with the opening-inning victory for the Phillies' Johnson City farm in the all-rookie Appalachian League—a 7-4 decision over Morristown in which he pitched five innings, as scheduled, gave up only three hits and struck out eight.

Setting the opposition down on strikes is the left-hander's forte. During his 9-3 season at Delaware last spring he included a new university record of 21 strikeouts in 5-0 one-hitter against Swarthmore. Called "the best I ever coached" by Delaware's Tubby Raymond, Neiger had a two-season record of 14-4 for the Blue Hens. Last season, he struck out 166 in 103 innings, permitted only 47 hits and compiled the fantastic earned-run-average of 0.88.

crew who had rowed in from their last outing together on the broad Potomac.

Not Quite
And speaking of running out of gas, we thought we had done just that last Sunday night in the dark on the Northeast River, as with Francis Neide and Skipper Gibby Young, we followed the red and green running lights of Gibbo's new cruiser back home from a day on the bay at the mouth of the Chesapeake River.

With J. Francis, we were enjoying the cool of the evening, comfortably half asleep in the stern of the Young III as it roared softly ahead of a foaming wake near the mouth of the Northeast, when abruptly the engine's song ceased, along with all forward motion.

"I think we've had it—we're out of gas," the skipper said sadly—and as the last boat on the river in the dark, a long night aboard at

Francis Neide outfished his two companions, and we had to swipe a few white perch from the champion of the day for a fish fry at home that night.

Cap'n Young was holding his own with Neide until he made the mistake of keeping one under-size white perch, whose relatives spread the word that Gibby had "kept Little Jim," with the result that all subsequent action about the Young hooks ceased.

Mary Yarrington Scores Low Gross In Women's Golf

Mary Yarrington, Penns Grove, topped a final field of 28 over the 18-hole route with a gross 85 at the Newark Country Club last Tuesday, as 40 women golfers from Penns Grove, DuPont and Newark dropped out at the nine-hole turn because of the heat and humidity in the special Ladies Day event.

Zona MacPhee scored low gross for Newark with an 89; Ruth Wagman carded the low net 70; and Jean Aneda scored a low net 34 for nine holes.

Hazel Sentman scored low net for Penns Grove with a nine-hole 37; Ella Kulp had low gross for DuPont with 88; and Tsalina Parriott, low net 67.

Edna Chase scored a low net 33 for nine holes for DuPont.

CHRISTIAN STARS

Gene Christian pitched a no-hitter as Rhodes' Giants trounced the National Dodgers in the Brookside Boys Baseball League Monday night, 16-0.

anchor in the channel appeared in the making.

Ever hopeful, Gibby Young hit the starter button, however, the motor roared alive—and we cruised into port with no further trouble, gas or no gas.

"I don't know what happened," Gibby said with a half happy frown. "She sure stopped like we were out of gas. But we should have had enough—and I guess we did. Anyway, I'm mighty glad she started up again."

Neide, an engineer, and more than a little familiar with the workings of a gasoline engine, agreed—and with a heartfelt sigh on relief at avoiding any familiarity with a forced night after a long day on the water.

It had been one of those perfect days, with wind, water, and weather just what one would wish, and while we never caught up with the big rock, we had fun enough with small strippers, white perch, and one big yellow perch that somehow strayed into salt water over the oyster bars normally inhabited by spot and croaker—and oysters.

Francis Neide outfished his two companions, and we had to swipe a few white perch from the champion of the day for a fish fry at home that night.

Cap'n Young was holding his own with Neide until he made the mistake of keeping one under-size white perch, whose relatives spread the word that Gibby had "kept Little Jim," with the result that all subsequent action about the Young hooks ceased.

McDermitt Stops Defending Champ In NCC Tourney

Paul McDermitt sank defending champion B. F. "Sank" Richards in first round play for the Newark Country Club golf championship last weekend, 2-1, as Chauncey Dean defeated Bunny Walter, 6-4; Dick Bauer beat Fred Mitchell, 2-1; and Dick Tweed topped Wallace Williams, 1-up over 19 holes.

Gibby Young stopped Tony Pacello, 4-2; John Stephenson set back Matthews, 1-up; Skripps beat Fox, 1-up; George Anderson turned back Howard Webb, 7-6; and Turnbull won by default from McSpadden.

McMinn beat Fox, 2-1; Wes Barrows, Jr. jolted Mathes, 4-2; Richtel defeated Matthews, 3-2; Keim clipped Holloway, 4-3; Stewart stopped Straughn, 5-4; and Wes Barrows beat Leon Ryan, 1-up.

In first round play for the senior championship, Grant beat Gasper, 5-4; Hamilton stopped Anderson, 2-1; Fossett beat Williams, 4-2; Richards defeated Smith, 8-6; Frye beat Kay, 2-1; Uhl upset Meade, 1-up; Ott ousted Ingram, 3-2; and Musselman won by default from Le-Fashion.

Tony Pacello won low net honors in the Sunday sweeps with a score of 74-12-62, while John Stephenson was runner-up with 77-11-66.

Sank Richards and Ed Richtel tied for low gross with 74's.

Joe Aneda Conducts NCC Junior Golf Lessons
The second of a series of six weekly golf clinics for juniors at the Newark Country Club was conducted yesterday by Professional Joe Aneda, with 65 junior golfers from nine to 16 years young in attendance. Lessons were followed by nine holes of play.

Bob Stewart carded the low gross 42 for boys over the nine hole route, and Elisabeth Young scored the low gross 55 to win the girls' event.

Barry Jones scored the low net 35 for boys, and Pat Gallagher led the girls with a low net 34.

Ruth Wagman is chairman of the Newark Country Club golf program, assisted by Elisabeth Young.

No-Hitter Hurlled By Dave Coursey For 13 Strikeouts

Nat Morse's Two-Hitter Gives Vets First Win Over Newark Lumbermen

Dave Coursey pitched a no-hitter, with 13 strikeouts, as Curtis Paper defeated the VFW, 13-0, in Babe Ruth League play.

Ruth League play, Curtis clouted 15 hits in defeating the Vets, including three doubles and a triple.

Newark Lumbermen handed the Bankers their first defeat, winning a 7-4 contest featured by clutch pitching of Lumberman Art Carney as the Bankers left eight men stranded while collecting eight hits.

The Optimists outscored Continental, 11-8, as Merville Korla batted three for four, including a homer. Korla drove in six runs for the Optimist club.

The Vets upset Newark Lumber, 3-0, for their first win as Nat Morse pitched a two-hitter and Thornton and Foster each belted a pair of hits for the victors.

Russ Reed and Billy Beatie shared a no-hit pitching performance as the Bank of Delaware stopped the Optimists, 6-4. Reed struck out 17 opponents, but issued 11 passes, while Beatie fired one strikeout and gave up one walk.

Curtis clipped Continental, 9-6, as Ken Fell batted 1.000 with two timely hits.

Ricky Van Name, a 13-year-old, pitched three good innings for Continental, giving up two hits and one run, while collecting two hits in two trips.

Dunsmore batted two for four, and Joe Brothers, two for three, for the Curtis team.

Pete Heuberger, a 13-year-old, pitched a four-hitter as the Bankers walloped the Vets, 20-0.

Wayne Widdoes poled three doubles, and Ronnie Brayman hit a three-run homer for the Bankers. Curtis and the Bankers meet tonight; CDF and VFW clash tomorrow; and in a Saturday doubleheader, Newark Lumber and the

Distaff Big Three Presents Opportunity For Change In Top Rated 10 Race

Back in 1955, Delaware Park had members of the American Trainers Association—oldest organization of its kind—serve as a jury in ranking the 10 Greatest American Race Mares. Each year since, the Stanton track has kept alive interest in this distaff project by asking the same jury two questions:

1—Who is the outstanding filly or mare of the year, regardless of age? 2—Is that filly or mare worthy of inclusion among the top ten so carefully arrived at by your votes?

Thus far, no glamor gal galloper has been able to break into the original top 10 ranking—but this could be the year for it to happen. And July could be the month to serve as the stepping stone to such a distinction.

Delaware Park's quarter-million dollar jackpot for fillies and mares—the famed Distaff Big Three series—will be run on the final three Saturdays of the meeting: July 11, 18 and 25.

Every outstanding female racer in training (and many experts consider the 1959 group the strongest in many moons) is named for these events—the $50,000 Oaks, $40,000 New Castle, and $150,000-plus Delaware Handicap, world's richest distaff race.

Williams To Ride For Brandywiners
Brandywine Polo Club's varsity will meet Miami in the second match of a three-game series this Sunday at 3 p.m. on the outdoor field at Toughkenamon, Pa.

Fred Fortugno, who passed the record varsity team three goals to notch the series opener, 5-2, last Sunday, will be joined by George Weymouth, Col. Howard Fair and Harley Williams of Newark.

Miami's mount will feature Richie Jones, Preston and Everett King, Jr., and E. B. Stewart.

Bankers meet at 10 a.m., and the Optimists play Curtis at 1 p.m. Next Monday, the Optimist meet Curtis; the Lumbermen play Continental on Tuesday, and the Vets and Bankers meet next Wednesday.

Fireworks Menace Cited For Parents On Fourth Of July

With Independence Day, the State Board of Health and the Delaware Poison Information Service anticipate several accidents resulting to children who have obtained fireworks.

Every year, although fireworks are outlawed in many states, children succeed in obtaining these materials. Needless accidents, particularly burns and poisonings, have resulted.

Parents are deceived when they believe that by removing explosive type fireworks, their children will be relatively safe. Recent cases of accidental poisoning involve the non-explosive sparkler. Children have found these sparklers to be particularly palatable and have chewed them down to the central iron rod.

Gold sparklers contain barium nitrate; green sparklers potassium perchlorate. These substances can be particularly toxic if eaten by a small child.

Some children prefer and are readily supplied by their parents with roll caps similar in composition to gunpowder. A roll of 50 caps contains a sizeable amount of potassium chlorate, antimony sulfide and red phosphorus. These materials, too, could be potentially toxic if, as in the past, they are eaten by small children.

Common sense and strict parental supervision would insure that the Fourth of July will be a happy one for all families.

Wool Payments For State Slated To Be 70.3 Cents

Wool growers of Delaware will receive a payment of 70.3 cents for each dollar's worth of shorn wool marketed during the 1958 marketing year, Chairman Wm. N. Hopkins of the Delaware Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

The payment rate represents the percentage necessary to bring the national average price wool growers got for their wool during the year ending last March, up to the established national incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be $1.02 per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to maintain the normal practice of marketing lambs with the wool on, rather than shearing them to obtain the shorn wool payment.

The 1958 wool payment rate is the highest in the four years the program has been in operation, Chairman Hopkins said, the result of relatively low prices received for wool in the market last year.

County ASC offices expect to begin making 1958 wool payments soon to growers who filed applications by April 30, 1959. The payments are for wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958 and March 31, 1959.

"Funniest" Play Slated Substitute At Arden Theatre

"The funniest play of the century"—that continuing success "The Man Who Came to Dinner"—will be the attraction, opening Monday, July 6, at Robin Hood Theatre in Arden.

The selection of this play in place of the previously announced "Good Night, Ladies" comes about because of some difficulties in casting, which often beset companies whether they be made up of high school amateurs or Broadway featured players.

"The Man Who Came to Dinner" is a natural in that Robin Hood's regular leading man is just made for "The Man."

Lee Moore is such perfect casting for the role of the great Sheridan Whiteside that his performance and the play itself are attractions to look forward to whether one has seen the play or not. Lee should tread successfully in the steps of those who made Whiteside famous.

Monty Woolley on the screen and Alexander Wolcott on the stage. This farce comedy in the very best style and manner of George Kaufman and Moss Hart has 399 laughs—and probably more, but by that time one is so tired from laughing that one can't keep an accurate count any longer.

"Blue Denim," the emotional drama of a family turmoil which comes about when the son gets into trouble, is continuing through this week—final performance scheduled for Saturday night.

When American Independence was born...

not everyone subscribed to the noble, inspired phrases of the Declaration. It is always this way. No cause ever has complete following.

Today, 183 years after our freedom was proclaimed, there are still in our midst those individuals and groups who, unknowingly or deliberately, threaten to destroy our God-given natural rights guaranteed under our Constitution and the Bill of Rights. There are hostile elements who would enslave free enterprise, and against whose perverse and peculiar ideologies we must be ever-alert . . . ready to recognize . . . regardless of any disguise they might assume.

Let us remember that Freedom can be attested in writing, can be won by struggle, but can only be preserved by eternal vigilance. We must be alert . . . to recognize danger where it exists, to extol the virtues of our American way of life, to protect "liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof."
