Chrysler To Boost Employment Newark Parts Plant Shift

Overseas Parts Shipping Operation To Be Transferred From Marysville, Mich., To Newark With 175 To 275 Local Job Opportunities Anticipated Early Next Year

The Chrysler Corporation has announced it will move overseas shipping operations of its parts and accessory department from Marysville, Mich., to Newark early next year. The shift is expected to increase the work force of the Newark parts plant from 175 to 275.

"About 100 persons now employed at Marysville will be given the opportunity to move with the operation," a local spokesman said Tuesday. "The move will not affect the jobs of present employees."

Newark plant handles no parts shipping now, he said. The new shipping operation of the Marysville plant will go to a new plant at Center Line, Mich.

Marysville plant which has operated since 1936, continues to perform sheet metal work, interior trim work and component packing operations. About 20 per cent of L. plant's employees will remain in Marysville.

The transfer is expected to start in 1962 and to be largely completed by June 1, according to a spokesman, general manager of Chrysler parts and accessories division.

Chrysler announced the move to Newark as part of a program to streamline its operations and improve efficiency.

The move is expected to create 100 new jobs in Newark and 75 in Marysville.

The new plant in Newark will be a major expansion of the existing facility.

The move is part of a larger program to modernize Chrysler's manufacturing facilities.

Sewage Treatment Plant At Glasgow Put In Operation

Farmers, Businessmen
Provide $40,000 Plant
In Cooperative Venture

A privately financed sewage treatment plant serving the Glasgow community was placed in operation this week.

The $40,000 facility just north of the junction of Routes 40 and 886, is a cooperative venture of businessmen and farmers.

Early in 1960 they organized the Glasgow Sanitation Corporation in an effort to solve the sewage disposal problem which had plagued the community. Meetings with county officials revealed that it would be five to 10 years before county sewer facilities would be extended into the area.

Under leadership of Harry Briggs, president of Briggs Mobile Homes, Inc., it was decided to investigate feasibility of erecting a privately owned community plant, and Edward H. Richardson Associates, consulting engineering firm of Newark, was retained to design adequate facilities.

Dudley Willis of the Richardson organization, project engineer, says the new plant uses the "extended aeration" process, and can yield a very high degree of treatment.

"The designed capacity is that required for a town of 600 persons and it is intended to serve foreseeable needs of the area," Willis said.

Other businesses participating include the Glasgow Arms Restaurant, the proposed Glasgow Lodge, the Sherwood Diner, Gulf service station, and Summit Bridge Trailer Park.

The plant is expected to be in operation by the end of the year.

Families Escape As Fire Destroys Rose Street Home

Wilson Expresses Thanks
For Efficiency Of Police,
Firemen In Near Tragedy

Two families and a third tenant of a two-story frame house escaped injury but lost their home when fire gutted the building at 96 Rose Street early last Sunday morning.

Chief Clifton Knotts led 35 volunteer firemen with five pieces of apparatus to the fire after a 2 a.m. alarm, and the Aetna men remained on the scene for three hours in preventing damage to neighboring properties.

"I want to express my appreciation to the very efficient handling of the fire," Councilman George Wilson said Monday. "The Newark firemen were on the scene within two or three minutes, and the Newark police, especially Officer Ronald Bramble, had things well under control," Wilson said.

The fire started when an oil stove was upset on the first floor, and Jeffrey Taylor and his wife, with Ernest Patrick, a tenant, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Hozzy Smith and their two children to escape from the second floor apartment.

Deputy Chief George W. Smith, overcame by smoke, was released from treatment at Wilmington General Hospital.

Earlier on Sunday, Lieut. Frank Beers led 24 Aetna men with two trucks in extinguishing a rubbish fire in the rear of 33 Chaucer Drive, Brookside.

George Robinson led 19 men with two engines in extinguishing a grass fire on East Main Street at 12:07 p.m. last Saturday, and 30 minutes later, George Smith with 23 men and two trucks, prevented damage from an overheated stove at the Money residence, 35 Wilson Street, Fire Marshal William M. Donahue reports.

$4,401,400 Budget Presented For U. of D. For Year '62-63

President John A. Perkins, Other University Officials
Request $587,900 Increase Over Current Appropriation
To Meet Need For Higher Enrollment, Faculty Salaries

A budget of $4,401,400 for the University of Delaware for 1962-63 was presented by President John A. Perkins and other university officials last Tuesday morning at a meeting of the budget commission in Dover. The budget is $587,900 in excess of the appropriation for the current school year, and Perkins listed "five hard realities which create inescapable needs for additional funds."

The request for higher salaries for the faculty, and for the addition of new faculty members—$3,537,000—is the largest single item in the budget, representing more than 80 per cent of the total appropriation.

Other categories include office expense, $105,500; travel, $19,000; operations, $400,000; repairs and replacements, $75,000; equipment and permanent improvements, $167,000; and scholarships, $37,500.

Summary of Needs
President Perkins, in a summary of needs, reported:

• That the university will enroll at least 250 more undergraduates in 1962-63, if funds are provided.

• That certain weaknesses in the university's curricular offerings, caused by the rapid growth of knowledge must be overcome if Delaware youth are to receive satisfactory higher education.

• That higher salaries for University of Delaware faculty are essential in this time of critical college-teacher shortage.

• That prices of academic supplies and equipment, as well as labor rates, continue to rise.

• That increased demands for terminal two-year collegiate programs suggest that the university assume new responsibilities in this area for the greatest economy to the state.

• That the university will enroll at least 250 more undergraduates in 1962-63, if funds are provided.

THANKSGIVING DAY

... A Moment of Truth

The great American heritage... the opportunity to live as free men... freedom that gives dignity, worth and privilege to every individual in our land... that lends meaning to our living when so much of the world lives in darkness and despair.

It is easy to miss life's important landmarks in this age of speed... to place false value on material things. But now and then we pause... and in a moment of truth, we see more clearly the true values of life.

Such a moment of truth is Thanksgiving Day... a day of remembrance that the Pilgrim Colony thanks to an almighty God was not offered for a bountiful harvest alone but for freedom of worship, speech and opportunity in a land where individual effort could achieve individual reward... and for freedom from interference in the shaping of their own destiny.

Thanksgiving Day, 1961—our moment of truth—a time for all of us to count our blessings and offer our thanks to a bountiful God.

Launching the United Community Fund Drive in Newark

This unusual combination of musicians, cowboy, and spaceman descended on the Newark Shopping Center three times during the past several weeks to dramatize the United Community Fund campaign in Northern Delaware. Placard-bearers, truck driver, and truck owner all volunteered their help to launch the campaign in Newark.

Delaware Food Market Report

By Anne Holberton

U. of D. Agricultural Extension Service

December will feature a rich assortment of plentiful foods, and heading the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list will be a trio of popular favorites—turkey, broiler-fryers, and cranberries.

The record turkey crop now moving to market assures a low-priced holiday favorite. Retail prices are the lowest they have been in many years so fill your freezer with a good supply. Be sure to select turkeys that have the USDA inspection seal which assures wholesomeness and helps insure quality.

Another main dish favorite, pork, will be in bountiful supply in December. Pork marketings during the last month of the year will be nearly 10 per cent greater than a year earlier. Prices will be moderately lower than last year.

Use apples in preparing holiday meals as this fruit continues to be abundant and inexpensive. Nearly all varieties are available, so there is an apple to fit every need.

The fruit counters are full to overflowing, too, with grapefruit.
 This year's crop is considerably above last year's and the average.
 It has been a good nut year, also, especially for pecans, almonds and peanuts. The pecan crop is record large and the almond crop is the second largest on record.

For a sweet touch, honey does the job well. Honey production this year will set a record 276 million pounds, and grocery shelves are stacked high.

Use honey in baking for long-lasting moist cakes. The natural sweet is also excellent for glazing hams, sweet potatoes, and apples.

Soph Mike Brown Stars, Scores Two TD's As Hens Lose Finale To Bucknell, 22-14

Sophomore Mike Brown starred in the University of Delaware's 22-14 upset loss to Bucknell in a Middle Atlantic Conference game and season finale at Lewisburg, Pa., last Saturday.

Brown, a native of Wilmington, scored both Blue Hen touchdowns on brilliant plays — a 31-yard pass interception and a 62-yard run from scrimmage — caught three passes for 19 yards, ran back two punts for 35 yards, and was the Hens' leading ground-gainer with 83 yards in eight carries.

After Ash Dittka went over from the one to open the scoring for Bucknell in the first period, Delaware's ground attack began to roll with Brown, Tom Michaels and Johnny Wallace ripping off yardage up the middle to the Bison 22, where Bucknell held.

Two plays later, Brown intercepted Ron Giordano's pass, and the former Conrad High School halfback set up his blocking, cut to the sideline and outran Bison defenders.

Sophomore John Osborn, of Normandy Beach, N. J., booted the first of two Hen extra points.

Delaware had three drives halted in the second quarter as both teams exhibited stout defense. The Hens never penetrated past the Bucknell 46 although an 18-yard run by Michaels, junior from Sayreville, N. J., a 17-yard pass from Giordano's Tom Kempki to former Salesian teammate Tom Harrison; and a 10-yard pass from Kempki to Barry Fetterman provided momentary pleasure for the visiting fans.

Delaware's own defense, helped by the punting of Arnie Rosenzweig, a Long Branch, N. J., kept the Bisons outside the Hen 36.

Bucknell unleashed an all-out aerial attack in the third quarter after being held to 18 yards rushing in the first half.

The throwing of Giordano moved the Bisons to the Delaware four on the first series of plays before the Hens were able to adjust their defenses.

The blitzing of Delaware Guard Don James of Delmar, and End Dick Broadbent of Wilmington, hurried the Bucknell touchdown pass which was picked off by Joe Slobojan, of Glenside, Pa., the Hens' safety man.

In the end zone, Ken Schroeck, of Ortleigh Beach, N. J., also was a key pass defender in the drive.

After an exchange of punts, including a 44-yarder by Rozenal, Brown ripped over right tackle for 11 yards. Using the same play Brown next went all the way. Breaking into the Bison secondary through a huge hole, Brown turned on his noted speed to outrun a half dozen Bucknell pursuers.

Going into the final stanza ahead by 14-6, the Hens fell victim to the most devastating aerial display they've faced this season. Shooting bullet after bullet, reminiscent of their Little All-American Quarterback Paul Terhes of a year ago, the Bisons' Giordano threw for one touchdown; set up another with Ken Twiford who went over from the one, and made good two conversion passes. His favorite targets were Dittka and Dick Tyrrell.

Bucknell got nowhere on the ground in the second half and barely held on to its 18-yard halftime net, but picked up 242 yards through the air, completing 14 of 25 passes.

Delaware ground out 147 yards and added 57 overhead on seven Kempski completions in 17 tries.

The loss evened Delaware record at 4-4, a respectable record for a young club after a disastrous 2-6-1 log in 1960, and put the Hens in a tie with Lehigh for third place in the MAC.

Brown and James, also a sophomore, won press box plaudits for their performances.

The song of the wild goose sounds over Maryland's Eastern Shore—and to a lesser extent, over the Kent and Sussex County marshlands of the Diamond State—to where Frankie Lane, and the 19th century's milder hunters, would feel right at home.

Hunting from goose pits on the Chester River near Church Hill in Maryland, Dick Ware, Gene Brashers, Doc Calder, Bus Townsend, Hugh Gallagher, and Scotty Duncan of Newark have had some grand goose gunning, and George L. Townsend, III, voiced the novel complaint concerning a recent trip with "I didn't even have a chance to get into the pit."

"In about nine seconds, my hunting for the day was all over," Bus reports. "A bunch of geese tried to sit down in the decoys while I was standing in the field uncovering the goose pit, and I threw a shell in the gun and killed one. And then another bunch came in—I fumbled for another shell—and shot another goose. And two is the limit," Mr. Townsend said with firm finality.

After getting up in the wee hours of the morning to drive the 60-some miles to the goose fields, Bus had shot himself out of business in less time than it takes to tell about it. Repairing to a shore blind on the Chester River, however, he found the going a great deal slower with the mallard, black duck, baldpate, and scaup of the waterway. The rest of the morning passed pleasantly, if uneventfully, without a bag limit of ducks.

Warren Anderson with 13-year-old son Parker, sallied forth in the cold and wind of last Saturday morning for a first-time first-hand try at the public duck blinds maintained and provided by the Delaware Game and Fish Commission's Norman Wilder and his conservation division in the Woodland Beach area—and it proved to be a rough, rugged, but pleasantly memorable experience for both father and son.

"We couldn't find our duck blind," Warren related, "and spent about two cold, dark hours in the boat with an outboard motor, traveling a maze of muddy, marshy thoroughfares."

The public blinds are marked with strips of reflector tape, but the Andersons were somewhat lost in the labyrinth of tidal guts and in approaching the blinds from the "blind" sides, were unable to see the tape.

At long, cold last, with a pale sun well up, they happened upon an unoccupied, public blind—put out a stool of decoys, and young Parker was in the duck hunting business for the first time.

"We didn't get any," Dad Anderson concluded wistfully, "but we saw plenty of 'em—and that's almost as much fun as the shooting." And young Parker concurs.

"I shot a duck that looks like a cockatoo," Bill Manduke reported last Monday night after a trip down Chestertown way with the Cisco Kid. "At least, I think it's a duck," Mr. Manduke said hopefully.

Frank Dunn Bows 615 To Pace League Leaders

Frank Dunn rolled a 615 series with 201, 214, and 200 to lead Wegman Brothers to a five-game lead in the Newark Classic Bowling League last Friday, as the league leaders turned back the Browns, 2-1. Joe DeCollo bowled a 584 for the winners, and Bob Hopkins and Bill Bellman led the losers with 568 and 559.

Harold Laws rolled a 541 in Adams' defeat of Eldred, with Fred Eldred tossing a 518 for his losers. Walt Mackey led Stimmel to a 2-1 win over Calvert's Sunoco with a 539 series despite Calvert's Ken Griest and Jack Innes who bowled a 607 and 525.

With Jim Cisco, Bill Manduke came up with a pair of Canada geese, four mallards, one black duck, and the "cockatoo" in some stirring shooting over the Eastern Shore. And the mystery migrant proved to be a wood duck drake—a beauty.

Within a few minutes ride of the Newark city line last Friday afternoon with R. T. Ware, Billy Richards, and Billy Waggaman, we ushered in the Delaware upland game season by kicking out a pair of ring-necked, three rabbits, and a red fox. The fox, a red gold beauty with a great flowing, white tipped brush, whisked out ahead of the two 13-year-old boys from a clump of honeysuckle bushes, a wooded ravine, and like a tongue of flame, flickered down a path into the hollow and up over the opposite ridge into infinity—at least we never saw him again.

The first cockbird exploded in a thunder of wings from a clump of brush within the woods just ahead of the two young hunters, and both tried mightily in a pair of tough chances with the pheasant having all the best of it in the screening woods.

Billy Richards and R. T. Ware each bagged a bunny with a three-way miss sandwiched between, and Jackie Richards hunting with his new Irish setter, joined us to flush and kill a cock pheasant at sunset. Trolling down the Chesapeake for rockfish last Saturday with Carl Chirico, Ed Dowling, Bruce Sharp, and Gibby Young, we witnessed a panoramic parade of waterfowl of astronomical proportions.

Thousands and thousands of ducks and geese, along with hundreds of whistling geese flew on all quarters from North East to Rock Hall and back, and the canvasback rising from the water beside Poole's Island flickered whitely against the red and gold foliage of the shoreline trees like snowflakes.

"More ducks and geese than I believe existed!" Michigan men Dowling and Sharp chorused. "I've never seen anything like it," Ed and Bruce breathed, still in unison.

And the three more veteran wildfowlers, with years of experience along the Atlantic Seaway, hadn't seen anything to rival it, either.

"The first wild swan I ever saw!" Carl Chirico said, awed.

We didn't see a rockfish, but discovered a new reef between Rock Hall and Techeater to temporarily terminate trolling.

"Good, tough skeg on this boat," Capt. Gibby Young said with a blend of conviction and hope as the Young Un III granted over and free of the oyster bar.

THANKSGIVING
A tough day for the turkey, and a hectic one for Newark High School's boy Yellowjackets who wind up their football season in a game at Elkton, but Thanksgiving Day is one of the happiest occasions of the year—a day in which each of us should pause to take stock of our many blessings and perpetuate the tremendous tradition established by our Pilgrim forefathers by giving thanks to Him.

If you drive during the holiday, drive with particular care. Holiday travel is hazardous. Don't foul up your holiday—nor the holiday of anyone else. Happy Thanksgiving Day!

Senior Basketball Slated To Begin During December

The Senior Basketball League sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association will begin the regular 1961-62 season in December.

At a meeting held Nov. 15, six teams were represented and anticipate entering the league.

It was announced today that additional teams may still enter this league. All players must be at least 18 years of age, and no less than eight players, nor more than 15 shall constitute a team.

Interested managers and coaches may have further information by calling the NRA office, or by attending the manager's meeting next Wednesday, at 315 Delaware Circle, at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Dave Nelson Invited To Return For Tucson Bowl

Delaware Dave Nelson will be back at the helm of the Small College squad in the fourth annual All-American Bowl football game.

Although his team was beaten by the Major College team in the last one, 26-12, Dave Nelson's wide-open offensive caught the fancy of promoters and he was invited to return.

The game will be played at Arizona Stadium in Tucson on Saturday, Dec. 30. It is sponsored by Tucson Optimist Clubs for charity to build the All-American Boys' Home there.

Nelson brought with him from the East last year Quarterback Paul Terhes of Bucknell and Terhes' sharp passing was one of the highlights of the contest.

The Delaware mentor will face a new coaching rival, Minnesota's Murray Warmath has been appointed to succeed Pitt's John Michelosen as coach of the Major squad.

Juniors Bowl Saturdays Under NRA Supervision

Tom Mangold, president of the Newark Junior Bowling Leagues, reports 15 junior, and six bantam teams are supervised by the Newark Recreation Association's Donna Parker, each Saturday morning at the Blue Hen Lanes.

Each week the boys who bowl a 500 series, a high series, a high game, or a 200 game, receive three free games, and Mike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Yednak, and Dave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dolgas have been walking off with most of these free games, Tom reports.

TOP WINNER

Marion Harold Vanberg, who wins more horse races than anybody else, will make a major invasion of Maryland racing at Pimlico this fall. Vanberg is sending 18 horses for the 28-day Pimlico meeting opening Nov. 13, to improve on a record this year of 133 winners, 145 seconds, 113 thirds and purse winnings of $392,512 through September.

Co-Captains Martin Clancy, Joe Hughes To Lead 16 NHS Seniors In Final Game

Sixteen seniors will play their last football game for Newark High School this Thursday when Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjackets led by senior co-captains Martin Clancy and Joe Hughes at the tackle and halfback spots, play at Elkton High School.

Kick-off is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Thanksgiving Day.

Newark senior linemen donning Yellowjacket grid livery for the last time include Marty Whitman, Don Bailey, and Mike Horgan, centers; Tom Hannagan, Ken Williamson, Tunis Foltz, and Don Connell.

Defending co-champion Blue Hen Conference, the Yellowjackets have a 27-7 triumph—over the 27-0 victory over Delaware State, and a 27-0 victory over Delaware State, and a 27-0 victory over Delaware State.

She plans to study nursing at the Moore Institute in Philadelphia.

Peggy Hauben, Newark School senior, has been assistant coach of the Aquatic Club.

A veteran member of the Club, and a titlist in the medleys, free style, and events, Peggy Hauben is a majorette for the high school band, and is studying nursing at the Moore Institute in Philadelphia.

State To Receive Millions In Federal Farm Returns

Congressman Harris B. McDowell (R-Del.) announced today that millions of dollars in farm returns are assured to Delaware in 1961 as a result of feed grain program payments and increases in support prices on several commodities grown in the state.

"More than 1,500 Delaware farmers who retired 33,522 acres of land from production of corn and grain sorghum into land conserving uses under federal auspices, will receive $1,000,000 in payments," McDowell said. "About one-half of this sum was received in advance payments last spring, and the remainder is being received upon completion of harvest this fall," the Delaware Congressman concluded.

Raynor Johnson, Betty Mendenhall Win Top 4H Honor

Two young people from Newark have won top state honors in 4-H Club competition.

They will receive all-expense trips to Chicago for the 40th National 4-H Club Congress at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Nov. 26-30.

Raynor Johnson, 21, of rural Newark, won leadership honors, and Betty Mendenhall, 17, of 337 South College Avenue, Newark, is top clothing winner.

Johnson, who has been in 4-H for 11 years, will visit Chicago the week after Thanksgiving as guest of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. He will compete for 12 college scholarship awards valued at $400 each, given by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation to national leadership winners.

It will be Johnson's second trip to Chicago as a 4-H winner. In 1956 he made the trip as state winner of the home improvement program.

Miss Mendenhall will be making her first trip to the 4-H Congress, as guest of Coats & Clark Inc., New York, donors of 12 scholarships at $400 each for national clothing winners.

Betty, who was president of her 4-H Club in 1960, has a near perfect 4-H attendance record, missing only six meetings in seven years.

Parent Open House Program Offered By Future Nurses

Newark High School's Future Nurses sponsored by Mrs. Doris E. Donaldson, RN, held open house for parents on the night of Nov. 6, in the high school cafeteria.

President Marcia Balinski extended greetings, and "A Day in the Health Room" was presented by Diane McKnight, narrator; Mary Donoho, Virginia Baker, Janet Haczynski, Gail Heath, Gail Neave, and Christie Baker.

Mrs. William Wertz, guidance director, spoke on "Looking Toward Nursing," and a film "Keepers of the Lamp" was shown.

This week the club is sponsoring the collection and sorting of clothes for "Bundle Day" under the auspices of the "Save the Children" Federation.

Officers for the club this year are Marcia Balinski, president; Virginia Baker, vice-president; and Sue Wharry, secretary-treasurer.

Postmaster Cooch Reports On Savings Stamps Sale

Newark Postmaster F. Allen Cooch, Jr., said today he had received a letter from William H. Neal, national director of the U. S. Savings Bond Program, commending the local post office for promotion and sale of savings stamps during the past year.

"In this 20th anniversary year of the United States Savings Bond Program," the letter read, "Americans in all walks of life, in communities throughout the country, own more than $44 billion in Series E and H Savings Bonds—an all-time record."

Postmaster Cooch reminds the public that Savings Stamps are on sale at the post office at all times, as well as in local schools.

Two Fellowships Awarded In Hagley Museum Plan

Edward C. Ezell, of Indianapolis, Ind., and John V. Miller, Jr., of Dillsburg, Pa., have received Hagley Museum Fellowships for study of American history and historical museum training.

The fellowships are offered each year by the University of Delaware and the Plowman-Hagley Foundation for study toward a master's degree.

Ezell is a graduate of Butler University, and Miller, of Franklin and Marshall College.

Passion To Learn Rests With Adult Perkins Cautions

Parents Day On Campus Attracts 900 Saturday; College Career Outlined

"Our students cannot be expected to have a passion for learning unless our adults have it," President John A. Perkins told some 900 parents who visited the University of Delaware campus last Saturday, as keynote speaker for the 11th annual Parents Day.

Although the conference is held each year shortly after six-weeks grade reports are distributed so that parents may know whether their sons and daughters are experiencing academic difficulty, it is more important that they attend the conference "to catch the larger significance of high learning," Perkins declared.

"We do not admit students to this university unless there is evidence upon application that the would-be freshman has the secondary school background and the native intelligence to do work of a true collegiate caliber," Dr. Perkins added. "Unfortunately, there are some criteria that a student must fulfill if he is to graduate, which cannot be ascertained by tests or in any other way when a student is admitted."

Dr. Perkins reiterated for parents the university's oft-stated goals for each of its students. They include the graduation of students who have grown in knowledge, especially within their chosen field of concentration; development, through an especially enriched environment, of men and women of considerable culture; and finally, development of students with an above-average sense of responsibility who are willing to work for the common good and voluntarily participate in worthwhile and necessary civic activities.

"If this university succeeds with the education of your sons and daughters according to the three purposes I have mentioned, we are bound to change them," Dr. Perkins said. "Do not be alarmed if your freshman son or daughter no longer completely accepts your pattern of thinking or your prejudices as precisely his or her own."

Dr. Perkins spoke at the general session in Carpenter Field House, which was followed by conferences with deans, departmental heads and individual instructors and advisors.

In the afternoon, open house was held by residence halls and fraternities, and a president's reception was held in the Student Center.

Dr. Edward Ott, director of admissions, was conference chairman.

Pre-School Ass'n To Hear Juvenile Book Authority

Elizabeth Hedenberg, director of the juvenile book department of the New Castle County Library, will address a child study group meeting of the Brookside Pre-School Association on Nov. 30, at 8 p.m. in the home of Joseph Zappo, 3 Curry Lane.

Her topic will be the value of books, and what types are recommended for pre-schoolers.

Mrs. Robert L. Carey, program chairman, has announced that refreshments will be served and all parents are invited.

Mrs. Milo Lude is president of the Brookside Pre-School Association.

Today Magazine to Publish Meditations By Andrews

The editorial office of "Today" magazine in Philadelphia has announced that 13 meditations by the Rev. Robert W. Andrews will be published in the May issue.

Nov. 27, Andrews will attend a briefing session for leaders of a nation-wide program of seminars on the nature of the ministry, which will include all parish ministers of the United Presbyterian Church.

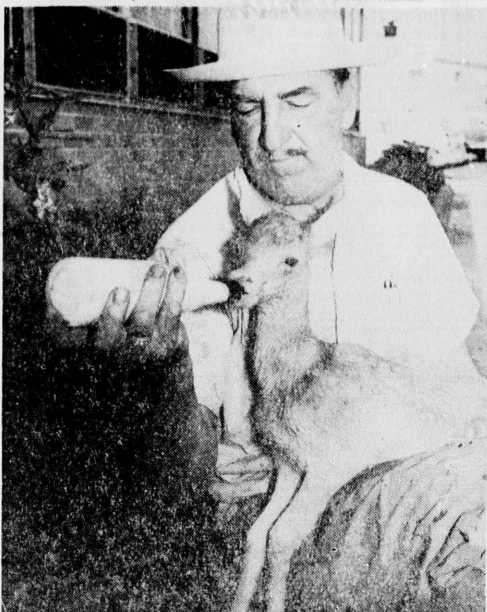

The session will be conducted at Purdue University.

Robert T. Hall Addresses ACS On Food Chemistry

New scientific detection methods and equipment that enable industrial chemists to team with toxicologists to keep constant check on food additives were described in New York last Friday by Dr. Robert T. Hall of Newark. Hercules Powder Company analytical chemist and research supervisor.

Appearing at the American Chemical Society's Eastern Division Symposium, Dr. Hall discussed "Unsolved Problems in Food Chemistry" and the detection of food additives. He stressed the importance of food additives and their detection, and made sure that they are only in harmless amounts.

Why Chrysler hasn't fooled around with "in-betweens" and "baby brothers"

An encouraging word to you who may be slightly confused and faintly unhappy about the wide variety of cars in the market today

If all the baby brothers, junior editions, and in-between sizes of cars you've known and liked for years have you slightly confused and faintly unhappy, we hope you'll take a long, hard look at the cars from Chrysler Corporation.

Although our 1962 models are probably the most truly modern cars on the road, they are designed and engineered with the old-fashioned notion that a Chrysler is a Chrysler, a Dodge is a Dodge, and a Plymouth is a Plymouth.

You'll know where you're at with a 1962 car from Chrysler Corporation, and we think you'll find it a good place to be.

To begin with, there are some things our cars do have in common.

There's no fat or dead weight. Each car has a trim, racy look. They're nimble in traffic, far easier to handle and park. And they do what a lot of automotive engineers thought was impossible. They give you a lot more action on a lot less gas. Acceleration is up as much as 10%; gas mileage, which was already outstanding, is up as much as 7%.

These are the cars that we have to offer:

IMPERIAL

This is the most luxurious car we make, and nobody in the country makes one plusher. Leather hides, for example, are finished by hand. Upholstery is shrink-fitted to seats with live steam. It is truly America's most carefully built car. Prices start at $4,920*.

CHRYSLER

This is the big car that first made Chrysler engineering famous. This year the Chrysler 300, the car our engineers use to show how much performance can be put into an automobile, is available in a new series priced just above the Chrysler Newport. Previously there was only an expensive limited edition. Chrysler Newport prices start at $2,964*.

DODGE

Now priced with Ford and Chevrolet, Dodge has always been known for dependability. This year we've added a dash of daring to give you quality without bulk. There's still plenty of head and legroom, but reducing the car to road-hugging live weight gives you more zip in a car that gets more miles out of every gallon. Prices start at $2,241*.

PLYMOUTH

Priced for the average income, sized for the average garage. Full size in both front and back seats. Powered for performance that almost reconciles a sports car driver to a car big enough for the wife, the kids, and a St. Bernard. Gas farther on a gallon of gas than ever. Prices start at $2,206*.

LANCER

This is the compact that can cruise at turnpike speeds without pressing, but it uses regular gasoline sparingly, as a compact car should. Exclusive Torque-Aire Ride, used in our most expensive cars, gives the Lancer an unusually comfortable ride. Prices start at $1,951*.

VALIANT

This is the compact frequently mistaken for an expensive foreign make, although it's priced like a compact. With its advanced Slant-Six Engine, it combines the economy of a compact with passing power you expect to find only in larger engines. Prices start at $1,930*.

Six cars, no confusion. Each designed to offer you something extra in its price class. Before you decide on your next new car, drive one of these.
