A Message from Renee Taschner...

Effective government requires teamwork and tested leadership built through relevant, real life experience.

A 21-year career in public safety, serving as a member of the crisis negotiation team, and long-time detective in the New Castle County Police Force, has prepared me for the role of County Council President.

Public service has been my life's calling. Yet, like so many of you, I also have balanced career interests with my responsibilities as wife, mother and family care-giver.

I will bring an independent, strong and responsive voice to our County Council. My leadership skills will be put to work to serve our collective best interests. I respectfully ask for your vote on September 11th.

Renee Taschner

"Renee Taschner is exactly the kind of independent-minded person we need on the New Castle County Council. She is smart and strong. She will put the public interest over partisan politics and get the job done."

- Governor Jack Markell

Recognized for Bravery

"I have known Renee since she was a new officer just out of the academy. She has always been strong, smart and able to work with others in the most difficult of circumstances. Just six months into her career, she played a critical role as an undercover decoy in the apprehension of Delaware's only serial killer. Renee knows what matters most to the citizens of New Castle County and will fight hard for their interests."

Renee Taschner: A Leader for Difficult Times

Difficult times demand tested leadership. She may be a newcomer to political office, but that's exactly what we need...

- An independent voice:

Renee Taschner is running for office for the same reason she originally chose law enforcement . . . public service. Taschner has demonstrated the strength and capability to work under pressure to solve problems.

- A proven leader:

Renee earned the respect of her supervisors and fellow officers during a 21 year career in law enforcement. In addition to her crucial involvement in the capture of Delaware's only serial killer, she led the Detective Squad that investigated physical and sexual abuse of children and domestic violence. Renee also served as a patrol supervisor overseeing the patrol officers protecting our homes and communities.

- A full-time public servant:

Renee Taschner will focus her time and energy full-time as our County Council President. She has no outside business or law practice to run. She will serve the interests of county residents full-time . . .and overtime.

Renee Taschner will bring to the position of County Council President the experience she learned during her 21-year career in law enforcement . . . as an undercover officer, a detective sergeant in charge of investigating the physical and sexual abuse of children and domestic violence, and a shift supervisor overseeing as many as 30 officers.

"By returning to public service as County Council President, I will bring an independent, responsive voice to our County Council."

- Renee Taschner

- The Ability to Listen and Fashion Compromise

Renee Taschner's career in public safety also demonstrates her ability to lead teams of people in difficult, pressure-filled situations. Her successful undercover role in the Steven Pennell serial killer investigation proves she can keep her cool under the most trying circumstances.

- Focused on Public Safety

Renee Taschner understands public safety. In these difficult times, when violent crime threatens our neighborhoods, Renee brings firsthand knowledge and direct experience in public safety to county government.

- Basic Family Values

Renee Taschner also has her personal priorities in order. After her career in public safety, she provided end-of-life care to her late Mother. She took a part-time job and with her husband, Jeff, raised her two children.

A personal commitment to public service...
