EXTENSION COURSES INCREASED AT U. OF D.

76 Offered In Nite Classes To Begin Last Week In Sept.

For the third consecutive year the college-level extension courses offered by the University of Delaware have increased to a new record number. Paul M. Hodgson, academic extension director, said yesterday in announcing the fall term program. Seventy-six courses in 26 different fields of study are being offered at Wilmington, Newark, Dover and Millsboro. Most of these are evening classes. A majority of them will be held at Wilmington High School. Last year 2200 students enrolled. Courses are selected and offered on the basis of indicated interest and need, and the ability of the university to provide instruction. Mr. Hodgson pointed out that additional courses, regularly offered at the university, might be added to the extension offering if sufficient demand appeared. Early registrations already are being received at Mr. Hodgson's office in Robinson Hall, Newark, from which bulletins, listing all courses and other information, will be mailed soon to interested persons. Prospective extension students, who may enroll for undergraduate or graduate credit, or for academic credit, may register by mail unless they have been admitted to the regular graduate or undergraduate programs. Application forms are obtainable from Mr. Hodgson's office. This work will begin in the last week of September. Meanwhile, registrations may be completed, or information obtained, at the Wilmington U. of D. A from 7 to 9 p. m. on Sept. 1, 2 and 3 in the lecture hall of the Wilmington Institute Free Library from (Continued on Page 2)

3-Year-Old Hurt In Auto Mishap Friday

Johnnie Aiken Injured When He Darts In Front Of Police Car On Main Street

Three-year-old Johnnie Aiken was injured seriously last Friday afternoon, when he darted suddenly from the sidewalk on Main Street and was struck by the Newark Police car. The child, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Aiken, Milford Crossroads, suffered a broken shoulder, fracture sinus and cuts about the mouth. He was rushed in the Newark ambulance to the office of Dr. Arthur Mencher for treatment and was later admitted to the Wilmington General Hospital. The accident took place on East Main Street before the Fairlawn Food Market around 4 p. m. The child had been left, along with his brother, before the market by his father, who had some purchases to make farther along the street. Mr. Aiken returned on the opposite side of the street, and when the car saw his father come into sight again, it burst across directly into the path of the patrol car. Sgt. Leroy Hill was driving at the time. No charges are being brought by the family, since the accident was unavoidable. The child is still a patient in the hospital but is reported doing well and is not expected to suffer any permanent injuries.

Wassmer Named State Legion Safety Head

Appointment To Department Post; School Patrol To Be Revived

Walter Wassmer, safety chairman for the J. A. O'Daniel Post, American Legion, has been appointed safety chairman for the Department of Delaware. He was named to the state office in recognition of his work the past year for the local post, which received a trophy for sponsoring the outstanding Legion safety program in Delaware. The student Safety Patrol, organized by the post last year at the Newark schools, will be revived this term, Mr. Wassmer says. Youths who were members last year or who are interested in joining are urged to attend a meeting Saturday at 10:30 a. m. on the high school athletic field. Pupils in the fifth grade and up are eligible to join and should make arrangements through their homeroom teachers. Purpose of the patrol is to direct students at dangerous intersections going to and from school. Members are equipped with badges, belts and white raincoats by the O'Daniel Post.

School Office To Be Closed Sept. 6-7

The school office will be closed Sept. 6 and 7 during conference for Newark teachers at Camp Tockwogh. No business will be transacted nor pupil registrations accepted during these two days except by special appointment. The schools will open for the fall term the following day on Sept. 8.

DIEHL IS ANNAPOLIS APPOINTEE

17-Year-Old Newark Boy Is Selected

Ricky W. Diehl, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Diehl, of Tip Top Farm near here, is one of two principal candidates from Delaware to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. His appointment, which was announced this week by Senator J. Allen Frear, Jr., was made on the basis of competitive civil service examinations held recently. He will enter Annapolis in July, 1950. Ricky completed his junior year at the Newark High School last June and the past two months has been attending the Bullis summer school at Silver Springs, Md., where he took a Naval Academy preparatory course. At Newark High, young Diehl was a member of the school, county and state bands and also a cheerleader. He plans to continue at the Bullis school this fall and winter in preparation for enrolling at Annapolis next July. Ricky is also a member of the Naval Reserve at Washington, D. C., and will receive training there during his school term this winter. Nominated to Annapolis along with Ricky was James V. Healy, of Wilmington. The principal West Point candidate from the state is Walter F. LeCates, Jr., of Laurel. The principal candidates must successfully complete physical and mental entrance examinations in order to enter the service schools. In the event any principal appointee fails to qualify, his alternates will be given an opportunity to take his place.

Services Here Saturday For Mrs. Mary Ellen Teague

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Ellen Teague, who died suddenly last Thursday at her home near Elkton, was held Saturday night from the Sheldene Funeral Home, with the Rev. James L. Additional services were held the following day at the Concord Methodist Church, where the Rev. Layton was in charge. Interment was in the adjoining cemetery. Born near Salisbury, Mrs. Teague, who was 75, lived for the past 35 years in and near Elkton. She was a member of the Concord Methodist Church and, for the past 20 years, a member of the Appletown Homemakers Club. Her husband, George W. Teague, survives, along with five sons and two daughters: Harold E. Teague and Mark A. Teague, Elkton; Lee Teague, Newark; Roger Teague, Philadelphia; Mrs. Carl W. Feucht, near Elkton; and Mrs. E. L. "Doc" Downs Retires After 18 Years As County Health Officer

Dr. John R. Downs, known to hundreds of local families for his work as county health officer, announced his retirement last Friday after 18 years on the job. It was also his seventieth birthday and almost 25 years since he came to Newark to take over the practice of the late Dr. Charles H. Blake in October, 1924. He became public health officer here seven years later, giving up private practice. His formal title, which scarcely anyone knew, was Deputy State Health Officer for rural New Castle County. During the years that followed his appointment, he became extremely active in local civic affairs, and it became almost a community custom to call on "Doc" Downs when a job that didn't pay anything had to be done. As was natural, no sooner did he announce his retirement than he was caught up in a round of testimonial dinners, given by local clubs and friends. The first came last Thursday, when he was guest of honor at the annual picnic of the J. A. O'Daniel Post. "Doc," who has held almost every office in the local post, was presented with a lifetime Legion membership. The following night, his birthday, he was tendered a dinner of his favorite corn beef and cabbage in the State Restaurant by some old friends. At the table were: R. T. Jones, Charles Colmery, Perry Towson, Jack Dennison, Dan Stoll, Emerson Johnson, Walter Powell, Esmer Wilson and Col. E. P. Jolls. On Saturday, he was guest at a picnic given by the county health unit staff and former nurses, at the cottage of Mrs. Elsworth Walker on Noxentown Lake. Sunday, he attended a dinner in his honor at the home of Dr. Arthur A. Mencher. One of the biggest affairs was held Tuesday night, when a birthday party was staged for him by the Lions Club. Over sixty members and guests attended, including many old friends. "Doc" Downs was presented with an honorary Lions membership and a large television set. Lion Frank Fader made the presentation on behalf of the club. "Doc" was a bit overwhelmed but went on to prove himself a masterly and witty after dinner speaker, singling out many friends in the audience to recall humorous experiences and modestly pointing up his own life philosophy, which has been to avoid dreaming too much of "doing big things," and trying, instead, to accomplish a few little things. As county health officer, "Doc" Downs' duties were many and varied. Almost every Newark school child of the past 15 years remembers him from the pre-school examinations. His chief job was to supervise preventive measures against communicable diseases. His work included immunizations, directing maternal and child health, prenatal and post-natal care, crippled children program, tuberculosis and cancer (Please Turn to Page 2)

Issues Now Before Town Council Outlined In Survey By Mayor

Complete Round-Up Of Problems Facing Local Lawmakers Is Released; September Meeting Tues.

A detailed survey of the problems and issues now facing the Town Council was released this week by Mayor Ford McBERTY. Since the report gives a comprehensive picture of town affairs and a concise round-up of the questions before the lawmakers, it is carried below in full. Many of the items mentioned in the survey will come up before Council at its September meeting next Tuesday at 8 p. m. Some of the more important items are: the question of adopting liability insurance for the town, possibility of a new assessment here, the status of the fluorine plan, the proposal for incorporating Lumbrook in the town limits, the current status of the proposed southside sewer project, complaints from residents on unusually high electric light bills, and the need for clarifying the manufacturing and residential rate charges on electricity. The report follows:

TOWN COMMITTEE
Public Liability Insurance—Question of adopting general liability insurance for the town to protect against injuries or property damage resulting from negligence of employees, etc., may be discussed again. Town Solicitor to be asked whether elected officers may be held liable for such damages.

Assessments—No action has been taken concerning the recommendations of the citizen's committee on assessment procedures. A further suggestion has been received that individual property owners assess or appraise their own properties, with appropriate safeguards to ensure realism.

University Garden Apartments—A request for permission to appear before Council on the matter of status of building permit is believed still pending. Request was delivered verbally by the Town Solicitor, who was asked to contact the lawyer for the promoters. Some doubt exists as to whether the latter still intend to go through with this project.

Gift for Hospitalized Town Employee—A suggestion has been made that the town donate a pedestal fan to Fire Chief Elmer Ellison, now hospitalized with a broken leg.

Water Metering George Road Village—The Town Engineer heard reports that it is not proposed to install meters, now on hand, because of the expense. He awaits further instructions. It is understood this area is now billed at (Please Turn to Page 7)

Fluorine Treatment—The matter of fluorine treatment of the town water supply is still pending. Council is awaiting a response to its letters to local physicians.

1645 PUPILS WILL RETURN TO SCHOOLS SEPTEMBER 8

First Grade Room Assignments Given—Enrollment Sets New Record Here

The carefree days of summer will end abruptly for approximately 1645 white and 100 colored pupils of the public schools here, when the bell sounds for the opening of the fall term next Thursday. About 813 elementary and 732 junior-senior high school students will troop back to classes. Among them will be 155 first grade toddlers, spick and span in new school outfits, making up one of the largest entering classes in the district's history. The senior class will total 99 students, and the largest single class will be the ninth grade with 162 pupils. The total enrollment for the white students is slightly higher than the 1529 pupils registered here last year, and the increase is expected to be more substantial when final enrollment figures are tabulated. A large number of late registrants and transfers are still unaccounted for, according to Supt. Wilmer E. Shue. Room assignments for the entire first grade, were announced yesterday by Henry M. Brader, elementary supervisor, and are listed below. Home-room assignments for the remaining grades, usually carried in full in the Post, are omitted this year due to the fact that the students were given this information along with their final report card last term. The system of notifying the pupils of next term's homeroom assignment before the close of school in June was adopted for the first time at the school this year. Half day sessions will be held Sept. 8 and 9, with the school doors opening at 8:30 a. m. and classes beginning at 9:00 a. m. (Please Turn to Page 2)

Rotary Speaker Asks Moves To Stabilize European Economy

Lawyer Outlines Major World Issues In Talk Here; Minimizes Russian Influence

Joseph D. Craven, a Wilmington lawyer and former teacher at the Wilmington High School, urged that the United States adopt more forthright moves to stabilize European economy, in a talk Monday night at the Newark Rotary Club. His topic was "Changing Scene," and he stressed three problems faced by this country at the present. The most pressing, he said, results from the gradual break-up of the British Empire, which has left no military or economic force to stabilize the international scene. Mr. Craven said that it is up to the United States to fill this vacuum, but he added this is not being done properly due to lack of statesmanship and a definite economic philosophy. Our high tariff system, he said, cannot take the place of the British "free trade" methods. Secondly, Mr. Craven emphasized the need for bolstering European economy. He pointed out that we are not primarily an importing nation and indicated we must help Europe with dollars. Thirdly, he minimized the importance of Russia as the problem child of the society of nations. Russia's prestige, he said, is declining daily, and he felt that the friction between East and West will naturally adjust itself in time. The only visitor present was Roger Attkins, of West Grove, Pa.

GI INSURANCE REFUNDS SET

Application forms for the $2,800,000-000 National Service Life Insurance Special Dividend are now available at all postoffices, veterans' service organizations and Veterans Administration offices throughout the country.

No further word was available this week on the plan announced by the local VFW to distribute the blanks through certain Newark stores. The blanks are on hand at the postoffice and the veteran posts.

The dividend will be shared by approximately 16,000,000 World War II veterans who paid or have held National Service Life Insurance for three months or more.

Veterans should apply promptly for the dividend. The flow of special dividend checks will begin sometime in January 1950, and continue at the rate of 200,000 per day until all applications have been processed.

The application form is a three-part card. One part contains instructions, which the applicant tears off and keeps.

The middle part must be filled in and signed by the applicant. It contains nine spaces as follows: (1) full name, typed or printed; (2) complete mailing address; (3) county; (4) service serial number or numbers this is very important; (5) branch of service; (6) birth date; (7) insurance number (desirable but not absolutely necessary if all other information is supplied); (8) VA claim number (if the veteran has one), and (9) signature of the applicant. On the reverse side, the applicant fills in his return address.

On the third part, the applicant prints his name and address. He then folds the two parts of the form together, puts a one-cent stamp on it and mails it—it is self-addressed to VA.

VA will stamp an application number on the third part of the form and mail it back to the applicant to acknowledge receipt.

Beneficiaries of deceased veterans do not apply, for their payments are being handled separately.

The amount each veteran will receive will be determined on an individual basis, depending on (1) amount of insurance carried, (2) length of time it was in force, and (3) age at the time policy was purchased.

VA has pointed out that veterans can help speed the payment of the dividend by carefully filling out the application form, filing only one application and by not writing to VA for information on their applications or checks.

The project will be the largest of its kind in history. VA has hired and trained 1800 special employees for the job that will require more than 1300 machines.

case finding and venereal disease control.

In addition to this, he squeezed in a great deal of civic work. He was chairman of the local Red Cross drive for six consecutive years and organized it on an efficient basis here.

During the war, he was chairman of the Mayor's Committee on service to local men in the armed forces. The group sent Christmas packages and remembrances to the soldiers and directed a home service program.

His work with the community's youth has been considerable. A great baseball fan, he was one of the organizers of the Junior Legion Baseball Team, and he is a director of the Newark Recreation Association.

Besides being a Legionnaire and a Lion, he is a member of the Newark

Visiting Nurse Committee, Osceola Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and a past master of A. F. & A. M. of Preston, Md. Born in Queen Anns County, Md., he graduated from the University of Maryland in 1904 and spent several years in private practice in Preston, Md., before coming to Newark. He also saw two years of medical service with the Army during the first World War. "Doc" Downes has one son, Commander R. N. Downes, USN, now stationed at the Norfolk Naval Base, and one daughter by adoption, Mrs. Mark N. Donohue, of Summit, N. J.

Schools To Open

8:40 a. m.

Cafeteria service will be available for grades one to six, and the children in these classes will remain at the school for lunch. All classes will be dismissed at 12:20 p. m. The lunch hour will be staggered for the lower grades during the first two days. Full sessions will begin on Monday, Sept. 12.

Officials stressed the fact that no new pupils will be registered on opening day in order to facilitate the opening of classes.

Full arrangements have been made for holding overflow classes in the Methodist Church. Special equipment and furniture has been installed there. About 170 pupils will attend classes in the church, including one first and several second and third grade sections. The emergency plan will continue until the new elementary building is completed here.

The returning students will be greeted by fully renovated buildings, newly painted classrooms and many innovations. The cafeteria expansion, which was scheduled to be completed by the opening of school, has been delayed. Shipments of necessary equipment and furniture are not expected to arrive until the middle of October. The expansion when finished, will almost double the capacity of the present cafeteria.

STATEMENT BY DELAWARE COACH COMPANY

This company regrets that the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for the City of Wilmington has directed it to abandon its present system of trolley coach stops and to resume the old stopping system which was in effect prior to November 6, 1942. Great changes have occurred in traffic since 1942. Notwithstanding these changes caused by the heavy increase in the number of automobiles now using the streets, the present system of coach stopping and new traffic regulations made from time to time by the City authorities permit passengers and motorists to get to and from the business district of the city within a reasonable time. The company believes that the order is a step backward, not only for a majority of the people who use the transit system, but also for the traffic system of the city.

At the public hearing before the Commission held August 15th, it was pointed out:

that safe, convenient and satisfactory service was the company's paramount objective;

that the passenger would get a more comfortable ride under the present plan;

that schedules could be better maintained, thus providing more adequate service;

that increased stops would increase street accidents;

that the present plan is preferred by the drivers of other vehicles;

that, if the present plan were abandoned, curb markings would be required at the new stops which would lessen parking space for other vehicles;

that the great number of people using the coaches in the business section of the city were not affected at all;

that where the present stopping plan is in use, some people do not have to walk any further than they ever did; and that the longest additional walk any person has to a stopping point because of the skip stop system is approximately 330 feet.

The company has been of the opinion, and still is of the opinion, that the present plan affords much better service to the public.

Notwithstanding these facts and other supporting data submitted by the company and the testimony of public witnesses who appeared in favor of the present stopping plan, the Commission decided that the plan should be abolished for trolley coaches and that the old system of stopping should be restored. The company has carefully considered the Commission's order and has concluded that, instead of taking an appeal to the Superior Court as permitted by law, it will comply with the order and give the old system, under modern traffic conditions, a fair trial.

Therefore, the company will not at this time take any appeal from the order of the Wilmington Public Commission of August 24, 1949. It will immediately begin to prepare new schedules for its trolley coach routes and will apply promptly to the Board of Directors of the Street and Sewer Department for permission to mark the additional curb stops, as required by the regulations of the Street and Sewer Department and the order of the Commission. If, after a reasonable trial period, the company believes it is demonstrated that the interest of the public is not best served by the old system, it may then take further proceedings before the State Public Service Commission.

FRESH WEEK PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Expect Class Of 600 For Events Starting Sept. 15

The University of Delaware's Class of 1953, nearly 600 strong, this week is receiving announcements of the traditional Freshman Week, which will start on Thursday Sept. 15. The program includes registration, placement tests, entertainments, welcoming addresses and get-acquainted meetings.

An address to the class on Friday morning, Sept. 16, by President William S. Carlson will highlight the week. The new students will meet with Dr. J. Fenton Daugherty, dean of men, and Miss Amy Rextrew, dean of women, on Thursday afternoon, and with the deans of the various academic schools of the university on Friday morning.

At other talks, the students will be introduced to the student activities program, the library, and the health-physical education-athletics program. Placement tests will include a battery of psychological tests administered by the Psychological Services Center, an English test including a theme, modern languages, mathematics, and reading.

Social events listed are a freshman get-together in the Field House Thursday night, the president's reception at Warner Hall Friday afternoon, a dramatic program Friday evening, pep fest Saturday afternoon, and music department program Saturday night. On Sunday, which otherwise is a free day, there will be a vesper service in Mitchell Hall in the evening, and on Monday night the Newark churches and campus religious organizations will hold social hours. For women students, there is to be a "Big and Little Sister Party" Wednesday evening, Sept. 21.

Freshmen will register on Monday, Sept. 19, and the final major event will be convocation, at 3:30 p. m., Sept. 21. The offices of the president, deans, director of admissions, and registrar will be open to all students and their parents on Sept. 15.

REFRIGERATOR THERMOMETER

Using a portable refrigerator thermometer to check the temperature inside the refrigerator and the home freezer is a good way to be sure that foods are kept cold enough for safe storage. One reliable thermometer is made of white enameled metal with shiny chrome trim. It has a round, clock-like face which shows temperature ranges for the safe storage of foods.

Five Named By Ag Department

Five instructional appointments in the University of Delaware's School of Agriculture were announced this week by Dean George L. Schuster, who listed two new associate professors, two instructors and a graduate assistant.

Two of the appointments are in the field of animal and poultry industry, and one each is in agricultural economics, agronomy and horticulture. Winthrop C. Skoglund, formerly on the Delaware faculty until his resignation last fall to enter business, returns as an associate professor in animal and poultry industry, and as director of the new short course which the School of Agriculture will offer this winter to Delaware farmers. The other appointees are:

Dr. Samuel A. Dum, associate professor, agricultural economics; Robert J. Bacon, instructor, animal and poultry industry; F. Burton Collins, instructor, agronomy; Otis H. Johnson, Jr., graduate assistant, horticulture. All will work also in association with the Agricultural Experiment Station at the university farm.

and the Harbor of Refuge at Lewes, Delaware, have been assured for the coming year. The sum of $440,000.00 has been approved by both the Senate and the House. Senator Frear said that the final action on the Service Functions Bill by the House Conference Committee is still awaited, but that in any event the allotment for these two Delaware projects will be made. Senator Frear's remarks were contained in the twelfth of a series of weekly reports to the people of Delaware on Congressional matters of current interest.

Mr. Frear in his talk again commended the action of Secretary of Defense Louis A. Johnson in reducing the number of civilian employees within the armed services. The Delaware senator called the move a courageous one and added he did not believe it would adversely affect the efficiency of the Department of Defense.

Senator Frear also told the audience that the Senate Postoffice and Civil Service Committee is still studying legislation which would provide for an upward adjustment in postal rates. Mr. Frear, who is a member of that committee, said that the Senate members are attempting to write a bill which will help alleviate the present Postoffice Department deficit.

Two Newarkers Win Farm Scholarships To University Here

Local Boy And Girl Are Among Five In State To Get Awards

Awarding of five agriculture scholarships at the University of Delaware—including one to the first girl ever to receive such an award in the state—was announced this week by George L. Schuster of the university's School of Agriculture. Two in the group are from the Newark area.

Made possible by a grant from the Sears, Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, the scholarships are valued at $200 each for the coming year's study.

One was awarded to a sophomore, Boyd M. Cook, of near Middletown, who also received one of the scholarships last year. The other four go to entering freshmen. They are: Miss Helen Samendinger, of Foxden Farm, near Newark; Arthur F. Johnson, R. D. 1, Newark; Paul L. Hunter, Jr., of The Cedars Marshallton; Vincent Yokois, of near Petersburg, Kent County.

Miss Samendinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Samendinger, is a 1949 graduate of Newark High School, where she was a member of the senior honor society. Active in 4-H work, she also is a member of the Future Homemakers Club, and in numerous other school and community activities. Her principal interests in agriculture are dairy and beef animals and forage crops. She hopes to experiment with forage crops to learn methods of using them to best advantage in providing cattle with proper nutrients in the least expensive way. She is experienced in dairy work.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Johnson, has worked for several years on a farm in his spare time. A 4-H Club member, he is another graduate of Newark High School. "After having a great deal of practical experience with animals and crops," according to him, "I am convinced that

FILLIN' IN

One thing we've long wanted to do is reverse the tables on a professional shoe shine man and shine his shoes. We want to pay some of these fellows back for the humiliation they have heaped on us over the years. We don't mean the boy bootblacks, those paragons of courtesy and ambition, who, according to song and story, will go on to become princes of industry or economic czars. We speak of the middle-age, dour, career shoe shiners, the top-ranking men in their field, usually found operating lucrative stands in big train terminals and looking as if they owned a seat on the stock exchange as a sideline. We want to get one of these fellows in his own chair at high noon, and we guarantee we'll make him squirm.

The first thing we'll do is quietly take up a brush and, before he can brace himself, knock his left foot off the shoe support. Then, we'll look up at him with a smile and say, "Sorry," in a tone which means, "Whatsa matter, fella, weak?"

Shoe shiners always say "sorry" to us in this way, when they knock our feet off the supports. For a long time, we believed we actually were the victim of a strange weakness that seemed to afflict us alone, and we fought against it manfully. In fact, we did everything except put glue on our feet, but the shoe shine man always knocked them off, making us look silly in front of other customers, who usually began tittering behind their hands. We finally became convinced that shoe shiners, as a class, are out to get us.

But to get back to our victim. When he recovers himself and gets his foot in place again, he'll bear down on it with all his strength, determined not to let us catch him off guard again. When he's all set, we'll descend suddenly on his other foot and sweep it off the support. We'll apologize once more, but this time with an unmistakable leer.

By then, a large crowd will start to collect, and we'll really go to work on our man. Giving him only enough time to get into position again, we'll snatch up two brushes and sweep both his feet off at the same time, leaving his legs dangling helplessly. He will founder about like a five year old in a high chair, and we'll turn and bow to the crowd, which will be cheering us wildly at this point.

If this treatment seems severe, it should be remembered that we have undergone exactly the same persecution at the hands of these fellows for years.

By this time, our victim will be a panting, unweary thing, clutching the arms of his chair and eyeing us warily. He will be completely at our mercy, and we won't be able to resist the temptation to toy with him for a spell. First, we'll roll up his pants to the knees and twang his garters, then we'll splatter polish on his socks and bark his shins sharply with a brush handle. This, too, has been done to us on occasion.

After that, we'll probably be ready to move in for the kill. We'll give our fellow a sporting chance, though. We'll let him clamp both feet securely on the supports and thrust his weight well forward. When he has thoroughly entrenched himself and defies us to dislodge him, we'll give the crowd a confident wink, snatch a long polishing rag from our pocket, step nimbly forward and snap it in our victim's face with a series of retorts like pistol shots. As he rises from his seat in terror, we'll bend and, with an expert flourish of the rag, sweep both his feet off the supports once again. His weight will send him toppling forward, and we'll step gracefully out of the way, with another bow to the crowd.

While the latter goes crazy, our shamefaced victim will pick himself up, and we'll send him scampering off with a few well placed flourishes of the rag.

True, all this is still only in the dream stage, but our day of reckoning is sure to come. When it does, we'll be prepared. We've been laying the groundwork for months by practicing daily with full shoe-shining equipment, and we've reached a point where we handle a polishing rag and a pair of brushes like a professional.

NEWARK AA SWAMPED, 17-1, BY LANDENBERG SUNDAY IN WORST SHOWING OF SEASON

Club's County Team Overwhelms Colored All-Stars, 21-4, Here On Saturday; Pen-Mar League Play-Offs Are Postponed Until September 11

Displaying the poorest form this season, the Newark AA absorbed a 17-1 trouncing at Landenberg on Sunday. The local club, hardly recognizable as the top team in the Pen-Mar League, was guilty of 12 errors and managed only seven scattered hits.

Fortunately, it was the final game of the regular season and did not affect Newark's position at the top of the standings. Newark trailed throughout the game, while Landenberg scored freely on only 10 hits. Bill Biddle, who hurled for the victors, found Newark's sluggers off form and easily kept them under control.

The league play-offs, scheduled to begin Labor Day, have been postponed until Sunday, Sept. 11. The delay is due to the close race for third and fourth place in the league. While Landenberg has clinched second place, Andrews Bridge, New London, Providence and Hickory Hill are still in the running and must play this Sunday to decide the issue. Labor Day is being held open in case of bad weather Sunday or a tie for fourth place, which could easily develop.

Newark's opponent in the opening play-off game will be announced in next week's issue of this paper.

On Saturday, before a very slim crowd, Newark swamped the Colored All-Stars, 21 to 4. Ronnie Bramble led the attack with two home runs and a triple, while Buddy Cataldi also had a round tripper.

With the ending of the regular season, Newark boasts a record of 35 wins, 16 losses and three tie games. This is the best balance sheet compiled in many years by a local team.

Playing in two leagues for the first time, Newark won the pennant in the Pen-Mar circuit and finished second to Glasgow in the New Castle County League.

Pen-Mar Loop Boss Lauds Newark Nine

Compliments Local Club On Winning Championship

Joe Bally, manager of the Pen-Mar League, issued a statement this week complimenting Newark following its pennant clinching victory over New London.

"The hard hitting Newark Club," he said, "is to be complimented for winning the championship their first year in the league and also for the excellently managed group of fellows who wore the uniform."

"Beginning with a string of 6 victories and behind the capable pitching of Bob Hoch, who moved up to the Inter-State League, and currently holds the best pitching record there, Newark did not experience a reverse until they met the equally strong Landenberg team on May 30. In a pitcher's duel at its best, Jim Johnson and colleagues turned back Newark 2 to 1 for Bob Hoch's only loss.

"After Hoch moved to Allentown, Fuzzy McCormick took over the starting role and carried it most of the season. Newark later dropped two games to Providence, one thriller to Hickory Hill, who were in the midst of their thrilling 8-game winning streak."

Newark And Elkton In Exhibition Tilt, Sept. 5

The Newark AA, champs of the Pen-Mar Baseball League, will meet Elkton, of the Susquehanna League, in an exhibition game on Labor Day at 2 p. m. on Delbert Field, Elkton.

Dick Lynch, star right hander for Havre de Grace the past season, will hurl for Newark.

This game may act as a test match in determining whether or not the Newark club will enter a team in a league of higher classification next year.

Newark AA Shortstop To Join Class C Outfit Next Season; Gregg Leads In Player Vote

Gene Schaen, shortstop for the Newark AA, has signed a contract with the Phillies and will join a class C club in their organization next season.

Buddy Cataldi, Newark's third baseman, starts school at Stout Institute in Wisconsin on Sept. 5. Stout is coached by Tony Storti, former University of Delaware football star.

Balotting for the most valuable Newark AA player will continue until the Pen-Mar League play-offs are over. So far Gregg is leading with 37 votes and George Schaen is second with 46.

Others in the running are E. Schaen, 21; Baylis, 3; Cataldi, 2 and Burris, 2.

Providence To Meet Elk Mills Here Sunday

Providence will meet Elk Mills in the playoffs of the Mason-Dixon Baseball League on the Continental Field at 1 p. m. Sunday afternoon.

Foxcatcher Chase In 10th Running Sept. 10 At Fair Hill Course

Internationally Famous Cup Race Always Provides Thrills

The internationally famous Foxcatcher National Cup Steeplechase, will have its tenth running Saturday, September 10, at Fair Hill, it has been announced by William duPont, Jr., who sponsors the event in conjunction with the Cecil County Breeders Fair, Inc.

The Foxcatcher was revived by Mr. duPont last year after a six-year lapse due to the war. The revival was a huge success and the race provided the most thrilling finish in its history when Richard K. Mellon's Replica 2nd nosed out Bayard Sharp's Tourist Pride in a furious stretch drive. Chance Bullet, owned by Mrs. Cortright Wetherill, the former Miss Ella Widener, was a close third.

The racing program this year is being expanded, Mr. duPont revealed, to include four races supporting the Foxcatcher. According to the many requests received from "through the field" racing enthusiasts, Mr. duPont has added a post and rail race to the card. The new event has appropriately been named the Cecil County Steeplechase, since Fair Hill is in Cecil County. The new race will carry a purse of $1,000 and is to be run over the new post and rail course that is being built for the event. Conditions of the race call for it being run over a "fair hunting country," which means that the field would practically disappear from view and go "out into the country." However, Mr. duPont, one of the best known authorities and builders of steeplechase courses in America, has built the new course within the bounds of the spacious racing grounds and the race will be plainly visible from the stands.

The Foxcatcher is considered by many racing authorities to be one of the greatest spectacles in American racing. Often referred to as the American counterpart of the English Grand National, the race is run over a three-mile Grand National brush course, and steeplechasing experts say it is perhaps the most difficult course in the world. There are 19 jumps in all, with the biggest jump nicknamed the "Chinese Wall" which measures, six feet, four inches in height. Strictly by coincidence, the "Wall" is the thirteenth jump on the course.

Mr. duPont is chairman of the race committee, and assisting him are Donald P. Ross, president of Delaware Park and the Thoroughbred Racing Association of America; John K. Johnston, chairman of the Delaware Racing Commission; Morris Dixon, trainer for the Elmendorf Farm, Mrs. Marion duPont Scott, whose Battleship won the English Grand National in 1938, and Russell D. Ketcham, a Delaware Park director and amateur rider.

Edward J. Brennan, formerly racing secretary at Delaware Park but now general manager at Monmouth Park, has been selected by Mr. duPont as secretary of the meeting.

Forty-eight grid hopefuls, including ten holdovers from last year's varsity squad, reported to Coach Fred Sposato and assistant Ray Ceisinski for the opening of football practice at Newark High School last Thursday.

The sessions are being stepped up daily with conditioning drills and instruction in fundamentals. No estimates on how the boys are shaping up are in order as yet, but Sposato reports they are full of vim and enthusiasm, which is the basic requirement. Newark AA Shows Cash Loss Despite Two Winning Clubs

Complaints From Fans That Team "Laid Down" Last Sun. Denied By Manager Hill

Complaints were sounded in several quarters this week regarding Newark's showing at Landenberg on Sunday, where they suffered a 17-1 shellacking.

Some claimed the local club, with nothing at stake, "laid down" on the fans. At least one person called the Post to say the team appeared uninterested in winning and had been unfair to the local fans who made the trip to Landenberg and paid to see the game.

Leroy Hill, Jr., manager of the Newark club, said this week that the charges were untrue. "The boys were trying," he said, "but it was just one of those days." He admitted they played their worst game of the year and he had no alibi but insisted the team had not deliberately booted the game. He also said that the fact that the boys had clinched the league pennant the week before might have caused a psychological let-down.

The complaints of the fans over this one setback were ironical in view of the poor support the team has received this year. Despite the fact that it topped the Pen-Mar League and finished second in the County League, the Newark AA suffered a financial loss for the season and is over $100 in the red. Sparse attendance at home games is the chief reason.

The team has wracked up the best record for a local club in years. Its entries in the two leagues have ground out 35 triumphs against only six losses, yet interest on the part of the fans has remained apathetic.

The boys are hoping for larger at-time this year, has had little opportunity as yet to screen his talent size up team possibilities. Practice hard work is ahead before the opening with Brown Vocational at Wilmington on October 1.

The Jackets' attack this year will be built around a double wing-T, with balanced line and the quarterbacks working up close to the center.

Team manager for the 1949 season: Ted Davis.

Attendance when the Pen-Mar play-off start here September 11 on the Continental Field.

In an attempt to overcome the deficit, the team is sponsoring a test with a television set in first place. Tickets may be secured from any member of the club.

Town Affairs

Monthly Minimum Rates—A letter from the State and insurance companies calling attention to 1946 action of rate adjusters stating that minimum rates for "semi-protected" policies are below minimum rates for "fully-protected" policies. It is noted that there has been a recent change that would increase the minimum rates for the matter of incorporating minimum rates in the town limits and providing for adequate sewer and water supply.

Town Water Tanks—The matter of increasing the capacity of the standpipes will await Council action.

Continuous Pumping—Installation of equipment to avoid around-the-clock attendance at the water pumping station is being considered. The Town Engineer, when operating, will save thousands of dollars per year in wages and salaries and would provide assurance that water will be continuously chlorinated, since it is now necessary for operators to forget to turn the chlorine. The Police Committee has been asked to have the station visit the pumping station at two-week intervals and report conditions to the record.

Water Metering Accuracy—A comparative comparison of water sales with water pumped has been proposed to check on the accuracy of metering and on the extent of leaks. Each comparison is known to have been made so far this year. The figures made cover a 6 or 12 month period of the differences in times of metering.

Cement Joints for Water Mains—The Town Secretary will be furnished with a pamphlet of an American Water Works symposium on cement joints in water mains. Cement joints apparently are satisfactory and cost about one-third as much as the lead joints now in use here. Council may authorize the purchase of such joints.

Streets Committee—Kells Avenue Street Lighting—Street lighting on Kells Avenue is ineffective due to the trees. Ten foot arms are on the side of the street. Town Engineer understands that some residents do not like this change made or the accompanying extensive trimming of trees. Instructions from Council may be forthcoming.

Walkway for School Children—Final plans for a walkway along the side of the Town Parking Lot for use by the school children who will attend classes at the Methodist Church. The students will use the pathway in going to the High School Building at noon for lunch.

Drain Schuster and Webber Properties—The Town Solicitor has been asked by Council to advise as to the ownership of rights of way as a preliminary to complying with the request of two property owners that the town erect a drain in front of their properties.

Gutter Drainage, Corner Elk and Main Street—Action on the complaint awaits a decision by Council as to whether to spend money to erect this condition or to await the possible erection of a filling station at this corner, which would presumably correct the condition without expense to the Town.

Corbit Street Corner—The Town Engineer reports that he considers the building of the corner of Corbit Street and New London Road an unwarranted expenditure of several hundred dollars and proposes no action unless specifically instructed by Council. The roundabout at this corner was decided upon by Council last year, and title to the property was most laborious. An agreement in which the Town agreed to round off the corner and provide a sidewalk and new fence for the property and which a considerable sum will be taken. The object is to improve the street entrance.

Sewer Committee—South Side Sewer—This important project awaits advise of Town Solicitor concerning status of rights of way, easements, final receipt of detailed plans and specifications from Johnson & Requet, consulting engineers.

North Side Sewer Assessment—Collecting of North Side sewer assessments awaits compliance by the Sewer Committee with the sewer assessments ordinance. The prompt collecting of these funds may aid in avoiding the need for borrowing to pay for the sewer improvement program.

Sewer Connecting Charge—The Town Engineer has pointed out that a charge for connecting to the sewer mains would be reasonable and would aid in controlling such connections on the standpoint of conformance with reasonable standards. It would also be a source of revenue.

Sewers for North College Avenue, Canal and Courtney Streets, and Howard—The Town Engineer is undertaking the installation of sewers in these three areas with town employees in view of the lack of men and supervisors properly trained in this type of work. Council may be asked for instructions on this.

Electric Committee—Recording Voltmeter—The Council last month authorized purchase of a recording voltmeter to check on the control of the voltage at the Delaware Power and Light Co. substation, which supplies the Town with electricity.

This was done in response to complaint that the electric bills are generally higher now than in the past, which might be due to better voltage, with accompanying more efficient use of electric lights. The Town electrical supervisor now advises that a recording single phase voltmeter originally installed in the Council office is still available. The Town Engineer will have this installed promptly at the substation so that a continuous record of voltage supplied to the Town will be possible.

Electric Rate, "Manufacturing"—The Electric Committee may give a clarifying report on the meaning of this rate and its application, with particular reference to the request by Southern States Cooperative Locker Plant for a more favorable rate for its refrigeration load.

Danita Complaint—The Danita Company has been referred to the Town Engineer, for whom arrangements have been made with an expert in metering. H. S. Bueche, of South College Avenue, for consultation. It now appears that the Danita metering installation may be at fault, at least to the extent of fallaciously indicating a uniform 100% power factor, under which a 5% discount has been granted for some years past.

Electric Rates, General—The electric committee may report its progress on the general question of electric rates and their application, with particular reference to differentiation between businesses and residences.

Reconciliation of Electricity Sold With Electricity Purchased—So far as known, no recent reconciliation of quantity of electricity purchased with metered sales has been made. This reconciliation is a check on completeness of metering and on meters accuracy. It needs to be on a several-month-average basis to eliminate the effects of differences in dates of meter readings.

Pending Ordinances and Ordinance Changes—1, Zoning Ordinance changes. 2, Speeding Ordinance. 3, Building Permits Ordinance.

125,000 Miles Without A Chargeable Accident!

Meet our Royal Silver

He's the Delaware Coach driver with a safety record as impressive as his name! 125,000 accident-free miles since 1939!

Royal Silver came to work for us in September of 1937. His job was rebuilding street car trucks and motors. With the advent of trolley coaches, he transferred to driving—that was in April, 1939. Since then, he has built a wonderful safe-driving record.

Mr. Silver served in the U. S. Army from March, 1945, to September, 1946. He's married, has three children. His hobbies are woodworking and flying. (Royal is the proud possessor of a bona fide private pilot's license.)

We're proud to introduce you to Royal Silver—proud to introduce you to all our safe drivers. For it's an easy task to do a good job well for a short time. But these men drive carefully, conscientiously year after year—assuring you comfortable safe transportation always.

New Castle Jeweler Buys DuFar Shop Here

William B. Bridgewater, long established jeweler in New Castle, Del., has purchased the DuFar jewelry store at 52 East Main Street. The sale was completed at an undisclosed price last week and Mr. Bridgewater has already taken over operation.

The latter's family has operated a jewelry store in New Castle since 1885, and the present Mr. Bridgewater represents the third generation of the family in active business there. He will continue to operate the New Castle store, dividing his time between it and the Newark outlet. He is married and will continue to reside in New Castle.

The DuFar store was opened here last year by partners Frank Duffy and Joseph Farley, who combined the first syllables of their last names for their trademark. Although Mr. Duffy had not been active in the business for some months, he retained his interest until the partners sold out to Mr. Bridgewater.

The store, which features a modern, tastefully styled showroom, will now be known as Bridgewater Jewelers and will carry the same lines at Mr. Bridgewater's New Castle outlet, including sterling silver, fine waters and diamonds.

4 Newark Pushmobilers In Second Eliminations

Four of the Newark entries in the Pushmobile Derby last Saturday on Lea Boulevard reached the second eliminations in the Class B competition and one got as far as the same point in Class B.

Col. Zimmer

mandant for the Delaware ROTC unit's nearly 600 cadets, and a Regular Army detail of five officers and eight enlisted men, was made by Headquarters, Second Army, at the request of the university's president, Dr. William S. Carlson.

Colonel Zimmer has been in acting command since May 15, when General Pendleton's illness, which later caused his retirement, forced his hospitalization. He advances from his previous status as associate professor and executive officer. In the latter post he will be succeeded by Lt. Col. Harold G. Osborne, formerly adjutant. The actual replacement for Colonel Pendleton on the instructional staff is Maj. John E. Arthur, Jr., who already has reported at Newark.

A native of Rochester, N. Y., Colonel Zimmer first entered military service in July, 1918, and in 1923 was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. After naval service, he transferred to the Army in 1926, and between that time and 1933 he served in the United States, Panama and Hawaii. Going overseas in 1942, he commanded a 40-mm. battalion in North Africa, and led it from Casablanca to Bizerte; and later commanded it in Sicily and in Italy through the Volturno campaign in 1944. Later he was chief of staff at the base section, Bari, Italy, from where British and American forces in eastern Italy were supplied.

Upon returning to this country, he was assigned to the University of Delaware at the time the university was changing from its wartime quota of ASTP students to a reactivation of the post-war ROTC.

Colonel Zimmer was decorated with the Order of the Crown of Italy in recognition for his help in the re-establishment of Italian governmental control in 1944-45. His campaign medals include those of the First World War, American Defense, Middle East, African, European, American Theatre and World War II Victory.

A director of the University Drama Group at Newark, he also served as president of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association last year.

He is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity, the Masons and Sojourners. With his wife, Katherine P. Zimmer, and their son, Layton, a Newark High School graduate, he lives at 219 West Main Street, Newark.

General Pendleton, whose impending retirement was announced earlier in the summer, has gone to Florida to live. He served for three and one-half years at Newark, and acquired the rank of brigadier general upon retirement.
