The Undergraduate Weekly of the University of Delaware

VOLUME 70

NEWARK, DELAWARE, DECEMBER 2, 1949

No. 10

To the University of Delaware Student-body and Staff:

I have offered to the Board of Trustees my resignation as president of the University of Delaware.

My resignation is to take effect in April, 1950, when I am to take up new duties as president of the University of Vermont.

The decision to leave Delaware was made reluctantly, after much thought, and only because of professional opportunities which were virtually impossible for me to ignore.

I feel that we have started much that is worthwhile at the post-war University of Delaware, while carrying on the University's best traditions. My greatest regret is that I shall not be with you, save in spirit, to aid in completion of these programs.

My sincere thanks goes to every member of the University community who so loyally aided me during a most happy administration here.

WILLIAM S. CARLSON
President

November 22, 1949.

Big Formal Evening Initiated Here

Friday, December 9, will mark the first formal evening on the University of Delaware campus, when a banquet, play, and dance will be held here.

The evening will begin with a formal dinner at Old College for anyone possessing a meal ticket. Dinner will be served at six o'clock. Following the dinner, a performance of the E-52 production of "The Rivals" will take place in Mitchell Hall at eight o'clock. This will also be a formal affair.

At ten o'clock the annual Winter Formal will begin in the Field House, featuring continuous music by Ray McKinley and Eddie Karp and their orchestras. The dance will continue until two o'clock.

Tickets for the formal may be purchased for $3.60 tax included, and admission at the door will be $4.00.

Women Vote 3 to 1 Against Sororities

Climaxing a spirited campaign, University of Delaware women students have voted three to one against permitting establishment of sororities on the campus. Seventy-eight per cent of the women voted.

Milton R. Roberts, coordinator of student activities, who arranged for the polling after a series of pro and con discussions among the girls, announced that the vote was 354 against, and 120 in favor, on the question, "Do You Favor Sororities on the Campus?"

Dr. William S. Carlson, President of the University, said: "The figures speak for themselves as an expression of student opinion, and I see no reason to pursue the issue further."

No sorority ever has been recognized on the Delaware campus since women students were admitted in 1914. When a study was made of the desirability of sororities two years ago, the surveying committee recommended against permitting their establishment. The recommendation was based on opinions from alumnae and faculty members. The recent vote was the first expression obtained from the students. The discussions and poll were conducted at the instigation of those in favor of sororities.

The 474-vote recorded represents 78 per cent of the 612 girls at the University, Mr. Roberts said.

Both sides of the question were presented at length during the past few weeks in the columns of the Review, undergraduate weekly newspaper. Posters have appeared over the campus and both the proponents and opponents of sororities used all available opportunities to put their case before the students. An editorial in the Review prior to the election stated that the decision ought to be a final one.

Two Delaware Men Nominated to West Point Conference

Two University of Delaware students, Robert P. Billingsley, of Claymont, and Albert B. Smith, of Newark, have been chosen to attend a student conference at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point. The topic for discussion will be "A European Policy for the United States: Problems and Objectives of the Next Decade." The conference will last from November 30 to December 3.

The students were nominated by the political science department and appointed by President William S. Carlson. Both are seniors; Smith majoring in political science and Billingsley in economics.

The conference is described by the academy as "an experiment in the field of undergraduate experience in the study of international relations." The economic, political and national security aspects will be considered.

The conference is sponsored by the military academy with the aid of a grant of funds from the Carnegie Corporation, Brookings Institutions, and other organizations to promote student interest and knowledge in international relations and related topics.

Edgar Reese Heads Alumni Fund Drive

Edgar P. Reese, a graduate of the University of Delaware in the Class of 1929, has been named director of the University's alumni Development Fund drive for 1950.

Mr. Reese, who will be on leave of absence from his position as auditor in the State Tax Department, will begin work as chairman of the drive on December 1. During the five month period over which his work will extend, he will have his office in Furnell Hall, where he will work in cooperation with Richard D. Groo, alumni secretary and Mina Brown, alumnae secretary, as well as the officers of the two associations, in planning and carrying out the campaign for funds.

All funds received during the 1950 Development Fund drive will be allocated to the proposed athletic stadium, which is expected to be ready for use at the University farm in the fall of 1951, with a seating capacity of about 12,000. The campaign was dedicated to the stadium project by decision of the alumni's joint executive committee, headed by Hyland P. George.

E. Bohning Lauds Talents of Goethe

The importance to the world of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, Germany's most renowned literary figure, was emphasized by Mrs. E. Bohning on November 28, in one of the graduate lecture series at the University.

Mrs. Bohning, assistant professor of modern languages and literature, commenting that the Goethe Bicentenary is being marked in all countries this year, termed Goethe a "citizen of the world, a man who distinguished himself in all fields of literary endeavor: lyric, epigram, novel, short story, drama, criticism, autobiography, travel description, and philosophical poems and essays."

Goethe is not only famous in the literary field, however. He developed a color theory in the field of optics and morphological studies in biology. Along with these achievements, he was a geologist, a statesman, an actor, a theater director, a painter and an educator. He exercised a great influence upon German university education.

The Rivals Presented As Annual Classic Offering

STAN ROSEN
As Sir Anthony Absolute

It has been the policy of the E-52 Players to give one classic each season. This year Sheridan's The Rivals, a raucous period comedy, has been selected for presentation on December 8, 9, 10.

One editorial introduction to the plays says that, "From the liveliness of its plot, the variety and whimsicality of its characters, and the exquisite humor of its dialogue, it is one of the most amusing plays in the whole range of drama; and even without the aid of its more splendid successor, The

CAROL CHRISTIAN
As Lydia Languish

School for Scandal, would have placed Sheridan in the first rank of comic writers."

Hit Show On Broadway

The show was last seen on Broadway in 1942 with Mary Boland and Bobby Clark. Mr. Clark, now playing in the smash-hit As the Girls Go, took the role of Acres, which will be ably portrayed by Bob Neimeyer in the E-52 Production. Miss Boland was the inimitable Mrs. Malaprop, whose misapplications of words top the list of things ludicrous and laughable. Audrey Legge will play Mrs. Malaprop on the Mitchell Hall stage. Stanley Rosen portrays Sir Anthony Absolute, and Carol Christian assumes the role of Lydia Languish.

Among the first-nighters will be Mrs. Delaware Clark, the former Miss Harriet Curtis, who was Lydia in the 1873 production of The Rivals at the University. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Williamson, of Norfolk, Va., who also had a role in that performance, are our oldest living graduates.

No Intermission

Under the excellent direction of Mr. Thomas Pegg, the rehearsals are rapidly moving to perfection. From the original four acts, the play has been cut to two acts of six scenes each, with no breaks at all between the scenes. Check one of those dates on your social calendar. This fast-moving comedy, highlighted by the colorful sets and costumes of the period, should offer an evening well spent.

Webster Players Return To Campus

Margaret Webster's famed Shakespeare Company will return to the campus this year on January 9 with productions of JULIUS CAESAR (2:15 p.m.) and THE TAMING OF THE SHREW (8:15 p.m.).

The E-52 Players, sponsors of this year's performances, announce that the box office will be open for reservations for students, faculty, and staff on Monday, December 5, one week BEFORE tickets are available to the general public. Unless the University takes advantage of this opportunity to get their tickets early, it is likely that many will be disappointed.

By the time the Box Office is open to the public, it is expected that there will be enough mail orders on hand to use up a large proportion of the seats in Mitchell Hall.

For the benefit of the skeptical, the Business Manager adds, "This is no baloney." Last year's performances were sellouts.

Box Office hours are 3:30 to 5, and 7 to 8:30 daily except Saturday and Sunday.

War And Peace

The arguments and squabbles over the sorority question are all over at last. By a vote of 74% of the 78% of the women students voting, it has been decided that sororities will not be established at the University of Delaware.

The interest that has been stirred up over the question was greater than we ever expected. Unfortunately, the campaigns slid, near the end of the period of preparation for the vote, into what might have amounted to a figurative hair-pulling contest, but fell slightly short of that.

We hope that now that the question is settled and the cold cream war over, the two groups will get together and bring about some of the reforms which both sides admitted were necessary on South campus. The interest should certainly not die with the vote.

A stronger dormitory social program is certainly necessary toward the accomplishment of the proper conditions at Women's College. This weekend there are three houseparties being held in the dormitories. This is certainly an excellent indication of the attitude of the women at present. They apparently ARE willing to work together toward improvement of the social life. We hope, however, that this will not be a movement that will flourish for a short time and then die out from lack of interest.

These parties, do not, of course, benefit the commuting women, whose interests were one of the main points stressed by both sides, but it is certainly not the place of the dormitory women to work for the commuters. Every group must do its own work. There seems to be a certain feeling among commuters in general that the resident students OWE them something. They do not. The residents are willing to help, of course, but it is not their place to provide social functions for commuters. There are facilities available to the commuter. Dean Rextrew, the coordinator of Student Affairs, and the Chairman of Women's Affairs will be glad, we feel sure, to help in any way they can, but the commuters certainly should not feel that they have the right to sit and wait for someone to do something for them. The women in the dormitories are doing their own work for their own improvement; it is up to the commuting women to follow suit.

Interest is high now. It has been stimulated through an intensive program for the past three weeks or more. This is the chance for the 74% to prove that they were right, that sororities are not necessary or even desirable on the Delaware campus. It is also a chance for the 6% to prove that their interest truly was in the further development of the University. Each group has been working for the good of the whole, or so they have said. Now is the time for them to prove that they really have by doing something. The time for talking is over. This is the time for action.

Orchids

Too often, when groups of college students go on trips, they feel that since no one knows them they have no reason to conduct themselves as they would on their own campus or in their own home town. Unfortunately, however, more often than not, their behavior is noticed by someone who has the curiosity to find out where they come from, and then to reflect their actions on their college.

Because of this, it was a special pleasure that we felt when the letter printed below was brought to our attention by Dean Squire. This is an example of the other side of the story—how proper conduct of its students reflects well on a university. We're very proud, especially in view of all the recent adverse publicity given several of the larger institutions in this general area, that the University of Delaware has received, through the conduct of its football team, this approbation.

November 14, 1949

Dr. Francis Hagar Squire, Dean
The University of Delaware
Newark, Delaware
My Dear Dr. Squire:

For many years I have been the type of person who is always writing letters in her mind—and that's just where they stay, never being put on paper and mailed. Today, however, I am going to put on paper, one of those letters, because I think too often today, we are apt to withhold a word of praise that we feel, thinking it really doesn't matter to anyone whether or not we say it.

Last Friday night it was my good fortune to be a guest at the hotel in Natural Bridge, Virginia. In the dining room we saw a long table set for about forty people. Naturally we were curious as to who was having a banquet. Just then a group of fine looking young men silently tramped in, ate in quietness and then silently tramped out again. When we learned that this group of men was the football team from your university we were doubly impressed. Never have I seen such a large group of young men that was so well mannered, so well disciplined and so considerate away from the home grounds. We hardly knew when they had left the room—there hadn't been a loud word, not even a "guffaw" during the entire meal. Such quietness was truly most unusual, and it made a very deep impression upon me.

The next day we bought a Richmond paper just to see how the team had made out and were very pleased to see they had won again. You see, in the meantime we tried to find out all we could about the team, and from now on, we will watch the "Delaware Hens" with a very special interest. May they have great success for the remainder of the season.

Probably I never would have written this letter if when on returning home we hadn't heard on the radio of the antics of North Carolina fans in New York and of the highway barricade placed by Maryland fans during the day of their game. The picture of your fine young men came to my mind.

Perhaps I haven't expressed myself very well but the urge to praise your boys was so strong that I decided that this was one "mind letter" that was going to be put on paper and mailed. Your fine team certainly speaks well for your college and the type of men that attend the University of Delaware. May they continue to give you reason to be proud.

With great admiration and thank you for listening, I am

Yours most sincerely,
Gladys J. Doriety (Mrs. John W.)
943 Ridge St., Newark, 4, N. J.

We certainly owe the team a vote of thanks for this bit of public relations work. Not only have they shown their public what kind of football they can play, and in that way done the University a credit, but by their behavior they have cast another favorable light on the University of Delaware.

An Open Letter To The Editor

Editor
The Review

Dear Mr. Hughes:

Since you have taken it upon yourself to champion the policies, prices, and profits of the University bookstore, I direct this public letter to you.

Since you feel it is your duty to condone the practices of the bookstore, I challenge you, Mr. Mitchell, or the Library hierarchy to justify the following:

1. A bookstore profit of $11,996.72 for the year '47-48.

2. The screw drivers sold the ChE seniors for $1. were tagged to sell for $0.89.

3. The refusal on the part of the bookstore to handle used books.

4. The prices charged by the bookstore are appx. 10% above those charged by commercial distributors.

In the light of these facts, I will, with rebuttal, quote from your editorial of May 5th.

Quote: "The bookstore is not designed as a money-making institution."

My Comment: Profit last year, $11,996.72.

Quote: "Books are sold at list prices so that no independent operator can accuse the University of underselling him."

My comment: There is no independent operator in town. All large distributors sell at a discount or have profit sharing plans. Furthermore, the bookstore, by its policy of not publishing a required booklist until registration kills all competition and allows them to charge what they please.

Quote: "The bookstore does not solicit trade, not is any student required to buy his books there."

My comment: Nuts. Where else can a student buy those pretty blue-white engineering pads ($4.00) on which all homework must be submitted? I have already pointed out how their handling of the required booklists prevents a student who wants to get his books before mid-term from buying them elsewhere. The bookstore attempts to influence teachers to change textbooks more frequently. A language teacher openly told his class that the bookstore, not he, had switched the book requirement to a newer edition. I would also like a short two-thousand word explanation on how many forms a veteran would have to complete before the V. A. would pay for a single pencil not purchased at the bookstore.

I hope, Bill, that you reconsider your previous stand and take it upon yourself to spearhead a campaign to drive the bookstore out of the cellar and replace it with something that will represent the students. I will in a future letter

The Bars and Stripes Forever

BY
HARRY "THE HONEYMOON IS OVER" STRINGER
AND
DICK "SEVEN DAYS MAKE ONE WEEK" TYLER

At the close of each gridiron season it has been the policy of your scribes to select those whom we consider to be the finest bearers of the cleats and pads throughout the nation. From our almost unfathomable wealth of collegiate press clippings and material, we have found it no easy task to pick 11 athletes from a possible 20,378 pigskin hopefuls. However, letters from hopeful mothers had narrowed our list down considerably, we were able to sift the sand from the shale, the alcoholics from the anonymous, and present to you the "Bars and Stripes 1949 All-American Team."

THE BARS AND STRIPES ALL-AMERICAN

Right end—"Snatch" Pglxy, Rockpile Tech's greasy-fingered flanker has missed every pass thrown to him this year, but was picked for his consistency. A .00004 student, Snatch likes naked women and scotch whiskey with no chaser.

Right tackle—"Leapin' Lena the Leper" is the first woman ever selected on a B.S. All-American. She hails from Canyon College and is built along the low slung lines of the new Studebaker. Her pet hobbies are window-shopping for new teeth and tackling men in and out of season.

Right guard—Al Capone of the San Quentin Progressive School is a seven letter man and is enjoying his twenty-third season. Played the entire Leavenworth U. game with a ball and chain attached to his foot. Keeps in shape by smoking marajuanas and crushing rocks in his spare time.

Center—Cousin Lee of Punjab Joe's Grad School for Afflicted Fakins couldn't make anything while playing for Vassar, so he transferred. An independent fellow, he punts his own money and robs graves after dark.

Left guard—Seymour Kaplowitz, University of Delaware; lineup would not be complete without this stalwart example of masculine pugnacity. (Whatever that means.) Outstanding play of the season occurred in the Richmond game when he intercepted a pass, lateraled to a rival player, and took out four of his teammates with a block.

Left tackle—Bo Bo the Ape from Sewer Under the Ruhr is the first of his specie ever to break into the All-American ranks. Bo Bo is in fitting company with Kaplowitz and his bewildering style of play (biting his opponent's legs) has made many Joes wary of him.

Left end—Harry Bridges, a product of Lucky Pierre's School for Peasants. This brilliant left winger led his "big Red" team to victory over N.M.V. The "galloping Siberian," as he is called by his coach, Knute Molotov, leaves everybody cold. The Bridges family already has a quarterback and two guards (prison) but Harry was the end.

Quarterback—"Lightfingers" Daley, 44 year old Freshman from Penitentiary State who serves as a waiter while in school and time when on vacation. This 163 lb. ball handling magician ran his team both brilliantly and into the ground this season. He led the East in forward passes and as a result numerous coeds seem to be somewhat distressed.

Right halfback—"Shadow" Simpson, 175 lb. speedboy from Podunk Island, Alaska, currently enrolled at Colony Tech. He was the sole shining light on an unsuccessful team that ran from a balanced line and an unbalanced coach.

Left halfback—"Golden Boy" Green, all conference, all southern, all American, and all wet. Remembered for his five long snake-hipped jaunts against Voodoo U., three in the right direction, two in the wrong.

Fullback—"Axe" Abbelmann, 210 lb. terror with soft blue eyes and two left feet. Called "Axe" because he never quite got to be a wheel, he led the nation in yardage gained and lost, softies, penalties, blocked kicks, common law marriages, and money wasted.

Coach of the Year—Fedora Fink, former member of Notre Dame's famed "Four Mulepackers," he guided the Macaroni "Gondolas" to their most perfect season in seven years. Nine straight defeats. As quoted from Fink, "We had the weight, we had the speed, we had the uniforms, we had the opponents, but damn it, we didn't have a stadium."

STRAIT-JACKET BAIT

Psychiatrist—the thing for you to do is to stop worrying about yourself. Bury yourself in your work.

Patient—But, Doc, I'm a concrete mixer.

Lord Pimbrey—I say, old boy, whatever became of your valet?
Earl of Lifebuoy—I dismissed him for removing a spot from my snail.
Lord Pimbrey—That was part of his duty.

Earl of Lifebuoy—Yes, but it was a five-spot, don't you know?
Professor—What does a dash before a sentence is finished mean?
Voice from Rear—My old man tried it and got ten more years at hard labor.

Then there was the little doe who came running out of the woods and exclaimed, "My goodness! That's the last time I'll do that for a buck!"

See ya around the grounds . . .

MEET YOUR CLASSMATES

By ROGER BROWNING and BOB CUNNINGHAM

Believe it or not, no one pays us to get in this column. The accusation has been made many times and will probably be made even more so after reading the free plug given to senior Barbara Ann Wood, of Haddon Heights, N. J. After the interview, we decided that Barbara has many of the qualities to make a good wife. Some of her characteristics are not found in too many women, and many of them are the very ones men like most. First of all, Barbara is sincere, understanding, helpful and patient. Is that all? No! Secondly, she is very adaptable to almost any situation, not hurt easily, and she is a lot of fun. These are just personality traits, and naturally she must have other good qualities to make a good wife.

Intelligence is a great aid to anyone and Barbara has her share. Her major is history, a subject which interests her immeasurably. Barbara has hit the Dean's List three times and has an overall scholastic index close to 3.00. Her inclination towards history goes beyond the classroom for she is now holding the office of vice-president of the International Relations Club. However, this is not her only extra-curricular activity. Barbara is also vice-president of the D.S.T.A., an organization she helped form. She served as social chairman of the D.S.T.A. last year. These offices are enough proof that Barbara is well-liked by her classmates. In the preceding two years Barbara was a reporter for the Review. Barbara has one other important job at the University and, it is at this job where she is probably seen the most. Barbara enjoys dramatics, preferring work behind the scenes and can often be found selling tickets at the box-office in Mitchell Hall. She is one of two asst. business managers of the E-52 box office and is in charge of ushers.

In her spare time, Barbara likes to sew and knit. Of course, she likes social life too, preferring bridge, dancing, and parties (cuts up at parties).

The snapshot is a good description of Barbara, but since it is printed in black and white, the following may help out. She is 5' 4" tall, has short brown hair, brown eyes, and is very slender. She barely looks her twenty-one years.

Yes, Barbara is just as human as anyone else and just to prove it here are some of her other traits. Bull sessions after twelve and sleeping are two of her favorite activities. Neither of these two traits are very bad and adding everything up, wouldn't she make a good wife?

After graduation, Barbara plans to teach history somewhere in New Castle County.

With basketball season close at hand, Frank Albera, a 6' 3" junior from Wilmington, is a busy man. Frank, who plays forward on the Delaware varsity, spends much of his spare time with a basketball in his hands, and that is apparently a good habit for last year he won his big "D".

Frank is an ex-Navy man who is attending school under the G.I. Bill; he spent two years in the service before coming to Delaware. Flashing his quiet smile, Frank says that he believes that veterans tend to be more settled and serious about their college work. He, himself, is quiet and somewhat reserved in the company of strangers but there is a twinkle in his eye which belies his manner.

It was in the Navy that Frank acquired his basketball skill; he played for his ship's team. Even though he never played in high school, he learned enough in the service to make the Delaware squad. Other activities include intramural football and the Newman Club, of whose sports committee he is the chairman.

A chemical engineering major, Frank intends to make his career in that field, but he is not yet certain just what sort of job he will seek.

Among the numerous out-of-state students of Delaware is Freshman Sherwood Joy from Collingswood, New Jersey. Blond, blue-eyed, Sherwood is a husky 160-pounder who made his mark in high school athletics by winning letters in three sports: football, basketball, and baseball. Playing for Collingswood High School, he was a member of the team which won the South Jersey Football Championship.

Although he is still greatly interested in football, Sherwood did not go out for the Delaware Freshman team because he thinks he is too light for the college game, and he is afraid that it might interfere with his studies. He still talks a lot about the game, and it is evident that he misses the gridiron.

He's an easy, interesting talker who makes an impression with his direct and open manner. Popular and friendly, he was chosen vice-president of the Student Cabinet by his high school classmates.

With an eye to possible future work in metallurgy, Sherwood is majoring in chemistry.

AIEE Warned Of Stagnation In Jobs

"Engineers want jobs that offer security but not stagnation!" Mr. Henry Evans in his address to the Student Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers Institute of Radio Engineers on Thursday, November 17, told the members many things which will be of use to them in the future years. He is the Distribution Engineer for the Delaware Power and Light Company.

Many of the problems of present day power engineers were discussed with a view toward their future solution. Things such as improved circuit breakers and trouble shooting techniques, high voltage transmission and generation, better insulators, and the use of microwave systems to control relays were among the many topics pointed out as projects to be developed. The fact that all engineering graduates do not end up in purely technical jobs was emphasized. Many positions in management require men who have been trained as engineers.

Mr. Rudrow of the Atlas Powder Company came with Mr. Evans, and his tips on "how to beat the power company," were much appreciated by the would-be industrial members.

President, Joe Alexander, presided at the meeting, and the guest was introduced by Harry Heyle, program chairman. Bob Wright was in charge of refreshments and served cider and cookies. Dot Welch, the only woman member of the organization, was present and naturally a center of particular interest. Our moral boosters and faculty advisors, Mr. Young, and Mr. Beuche, were congenial as always.

R.O.T.C. Notes

The Freshman members of the ROTC Course are engaged in the Small Arms marksmanship course this week. The small bore firing is being conducted at the Newark National Guard Armory under arrangements with the Delaware National Guard. Lt. J. W. Barrett, Master Sergeant W. G. Rivello, and Master Sergeant G. G. Wicker, Regular Army instructors with the University ROTC are instructing

A Capella Chorus Yodels Revolution; By-Laws Adopted

Downtrodden students . . . read and take heart. We of the A Capella Choir, an accredited course in the Arts and Science curriculum, recently asserted ourselves, and in a one-day, bloodless revolution, wrested absolute power from the instructor. It's really not as bad as it sounds, because our instructor, Professor Anthony J. Loudis, head of the Music Department, actually suggested the move. On this go-ahead signal, a steering committee, headed by Dave Riblett, drew up a constitution, which is now in Milt Roberts' hands pending recognition from the S. G. A. This is a unique document, in that both our rights and those of the instructor are outlined. We honestly feel that with this constitution serving as a recourse for both sides, a better spirit will pervade our group and more will be accomplished.

Elections Held

As soon as we ratified its various provisions, we held elections in which the following persons were chosen: President, Maida Fry; Vice-President, Frances Green; Business Manager, Obie Edge; Publicity, Greg Gause; and Award Committee, Roberta Carothers and Bob Maul. Each individual section was allowed to choose a leader to supervise attendance, distribution of music, etc. These are: Soprano, Mary Ann Biter; Alto, Barbara Beck; Tenor, Dave Riblett; and Bass, Everett Smith.

Performances Scheduled

The reason for electing so many officers for such a small group (46 voices in all) is that we are really an active organization. Aside from our Tuesday and Thursday class periods, we can boast of several concerts a year and an annual spring tour, which last year took us to practically all the down-state schools. This year we will present our annual Christmas program (done in conjunction with the larger University Chorus) on Thursday evening, December 15th. This performance promises to be bigger and better than last year. There will be numbers for male voices alone and a program with such varied selections that even the most demanding choral lovers will be satisfied. Then on January 13, 1950, we will present a concert version of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Gondoliers." Soloists for this presentation will be chosen from among our own people. Their names will be announced at a later date.

As 1950's Mitchell Hall finale, we have scheduled a concert version of Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah." This will be given on the evening of March 17 with soloists to be imported from Philadelphia. In view of the action recently taken and our agenda for the coming year, 1950 looks like a year of definite progress for the U. of D.'s A Capella Choir.

W. A. A.

The Frosh girls' hockey team came through to capture the championship title by virtue of four wins and two ties. The sophomores were the winners-up with three wins and three ties. Congratulations are in order to these girls for their fine show of spirit for both class and team.

Volleyball in the Women's Gym started off last Tuesday, the 29th. A demonstration game was played off and various technicalities of the game were discussed. In order to be eligible for W.A.A. credit, three games must be completed by Christmas. Five games must be played in order to play in finals, and the top two class teams will compete for the championship after Christmas. Anyone interested in playing for their team is asked to come to the Women's Gym at 4:00 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday or contact Shirley Burns, manager.

The cadets and conducting the firing. The 258 freshman cadets are expected to complete the firing about December 10.

The freshmen are competing for the Marksmanship Prize which is awarded for the highest score by the Delaware Chapter, Society of Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America. The gold medal was awarded last year to Cadet J. E. Buechele, now a member of the sophomore class.

Derwent Heads List Of Theatre Confab Notables

Clarence Derwent, president of Actors' Equity Association, will head the list of prominent people from the professional and non-professional theatre who will appear on the program of the second Eastern Theatre Conference which, in conjunction with the tenth Delaware Dramatic Conference, will be held here on December 3 and 4. A distinguished actor and director, Mr. Derwent has just returned from playing Polonius in the Hamlet Festival at Elsinor this summer. He will speak on Sunday at 2 p. m. on the subject, "American Theatre Tomorrow."

About 400 representatives from school, college, community, and professional theatres in Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, the District of Columbia, and Eastern Pennsylvania, will be present at this conference, which will be a preliminary to the National Theatre Assembly—to be sponsored by the American National Theatre and Academy in Washington in the spring. One of the major objectives of the conference will be the presentation and discussion of the most urgent theatre needs in this area.

The Who's Who of persons in the conference program includes Richard Coe, drama critic on the Washington Post; Aline McMahon, actress on the stage and screen, now appearing in the just-released movie, "Roseanna McCoy"; Theron Bamberger, producer of "Tomorrow the World" and director of the Bucks County Playhouse; Bryllion Fagin, director of the Johns Hopkins Playhouse and author of the recently published "The Histrionic Mr. Poe" and Katherine Cornell's "That Lady"; Bernard Simon, press representative for "The Madwoman of Chailot"; Ted Mabley, author of "Temper the Wind"; Robert Breen, executive secretary of ANTA, who played Hamlet at Elsinor this summer, and others.

The conference will open on Saturday morning at 10 a. m. with simultaneous meetings on casting and rehearsing and children's theatre production. These will be followed at 11:30 by two meetings, one on scenery and lighting, at which our own Spof Beadle will demonstrate a portable switchboard that he has designed and constructed, and Mr. Harry Bidlake, Technical Director for the E-52 Players, will talk on the use of curtains, screens and set pieces for scenery. The other meeting at this time will concern theatre business and promotion. At 2:30 p. m. the delegates will break up into panel discussions in the areas of high school, college and community theatre.

At 4 p. m. Mr. George Henry will be the principal speaker at the general session. His subject will

Soda Fountain Statement

Mr. Mortimer, the manager of the soda fountain in the library basement, presented his financial statement to the S.G.A. The S.G.A. felt that the payroll was larger than it should be. Mr. Mortimer stated that there were several reasons for this. The volume of business exceeded that which was anticipated during the first six weeks, and inexperienced help had to be employed and trained. It was impossible to determine those who would be best suited for the work beforehand. The type of equipment which must be used requires more workers, also. With different equipment, it would be possible to eliminate work.

Extra help is needed to keep the dining room clean, also, customers walking out without paying makes a dent in the payroll. Much of this will be eliminated when the new installation which is being planned, is put in.

This was the last business which was discussed and the meeting was adjourned.

be "Dramatics as General Education." Mr. Henry is director of curriculum for the Bridgeville, Delaware schools. He is the author of articles in Survey, Graphic, Harper's, and the Ladies Home Journal and has lectured in 42 states on "Behind the Crisis in Education." He will be remembered in this state for the excellent high school productions he has directed at Dover High School.

At 8 o'clock on Saturday evening the delegates will be entertained by a performance of "The Pot-boilers" by the E-52 Players, a performance of a scene from a play which has been cast at the morning session on casting and rehearsal, and the presentation of the two best productions in the radio drama competition.

VA Officials Explain

The Sunday meetings will begin at 10 a. m. with explanation by officials of the Veterans' Administration of how community and college theatres can cooperate in the development of the important veterans' hospital entertainment programs. At the same time there will be a panel on the problems of the professional theatre and the road in this area.

"What Our Regional Theatre Needs" will be the subject of a panel discussion at 11 o'clock. Participating will be six professional and non-professional theatre workers from this five state area, each of whom will present his ideas in a ten-minute talk.

Following the talk by Mr. Derwent at 2 p. m. there will be another panel, "How to Get What Our Theatre Needs," under the chairmanship of Robert Breen, executive secretary of ANTA. In this session members of the ANTA Board of Directors and some representative professional theatre people from New York will discuss the National Theatre Assembly and give an evaluation of the projects submitted at the morning panel.

Resolutions Passed

Concluding the two-day conference will be the passing of resolutions at 4:30 p. m., which will in turn be submitted at the National Theatre Assembly as representing the opinions of people in this area on the development of an American National Theatre on a regional basis.

Although the registration fee for the conference is $1.00, interested students will be admitted with the presentation of their student theatre tickets. This promises to be the biggest and best theatre conference ever held at the University and will surely be worth looking into.

Blue Hens Top Rams 27-14 With Last Quarter Comeback

Wilmington, Delaware, November 19, 1949 (J. J.)—The University of Delaware Blue Hens were forced to come from behind in the fourth quarter to beat the West Chester State Teachers College, 27-14, at Wilmington Park. Over 9,000 frantic fans watched the powerful Hen eleven snap the Rams' winning streak at thirteen straight games and drop them from the elite undefeated ranks.

The Teachers jumped off to an early lead as they scored early in the first period on a one yard line plunge. Playing with a strong wind at their backs, the Rams completely controlled the first quarter. Their first score came as the result of a wind-blown punt by Hank Paris which carried to the Delaware 19. A pass to Da Lonzo, and runs by Schneider and Da Lonzo brought the ball to the one, from where Da Lonzo scored. Walt Blair's extra point attempt was good and the Rams led 7-0. Later in the same period, Jack O'Donnell snatched a Hen fumble out of the air and raced twenty yards to score. Blair converted and the Rams led, 14-0.

Stunned, but not stopped by these explosive touchdowns on the part of West Chester, the Hens began to click as they had in previous games. Summing up the same strength and drive they had exhibited while downing such formidable foes as Lafayette and Washington and Lee, the Hens began to drive to an apparent score, only to be denied by a fumble on the Ram one yard line. With only two minutes left to play in the first half, the Delaware squad again began a goalward thrust. Charlie Smith passed to O'Toole on the Ram 25 and then pitched two perfect strikes to Jim Thomas, the second for the score. Stan Bilski's conversion cut the Rams' halftime lead to 14-7.

The third quarter was scoreless, with each team battling on an even scale. The alert Teachers, capitalizing on every break, made the deepest penetration when they marched to the Delaware 2 before Miller, Gallagher, and Co., halted their advance. The tying touchdown came early in the fourth quarter as the Hens, with the help of two 15 yard penalties against the Teachers, drove to the Ram 4, from where the Smith to Thomas passing combination clicked again. Bilski's conversion was good and the score stood at 14-14.

Having at last evened the count the Hens soon surged into the lead. "Ducky" Carmichael, one of the sophomore defensive stars, intercepted a Ram pass on his own 25 and ran it back to the West Chester 30; he then interaled the ball to Johnny DeGasperis who picked up five more yards before being stopped. Paris carried to the 17 in two plays and on third down, "Nine"

Injuries, Bad Luck Plague '49 Booters

The University of Delaware Soccer Team finished its 1949 season with a record of one win, eight losses, and one tie. The lone victory came at the expense of Western Maryland by a 1-0 margin. The tie came on the final game of the season against Stevens Tech after the Hens had held the lead well into the final quarter.

This season was the second for Coach Whitey Burnham here at Delaware. For the past two years he has been attempting to build a nucleus of a winning team. But for injuries to two of the team's star performers, the booters record probably wouldn't have veered so much toward the loss column. Dick Murray and Haight West were on the injured list long enough to give Coach Burnham plenty of headaches.

Six members of the squad are graduating this year. They are Jim Dedman, Flody Goss, Ken Walls, Ace Hoffstein, Dick Murray, and Captain, Ed Horney. The loss of these very capable performers will be sorely felt during the 1950 season, and the newcomers to the team will have a tough job cut out for them trying to fill the shoes of this sextet.

Chicks Cap Great Season With 20-0 Conquest of Mules

Newark Nov. 18 (CR)—Coach Marty Pierson's University of Delaware Blue Chicks rolled to a sweet 20-0 victory over favored Muhlenberg on Frazer Field Friday, the 18th of November. The Frosh shut out their opponents for their fifth straight win in an undefeated season.

The Blue and Gold scored early in the second quarter, after a blocked punt on the Mules 21 by Bob Vogeli in the waning minutes of the first stanza, set up the score. Ross Dempsey and Don Rumer carried to the 14, where Dempsey bulled over after 4 running plays. Vogeli converted the first of two extra points.

A 40 yard gallop around end by speedy 130 lb. Don Rumer started another scoring drive late in the second period. After two passes from cocaptain Dick McMullen, the score read 13-0 at the half.

The Mules made their display of power as the second half started, driving to the Hen 15, where a fumble lost them their opportunity. Dempsey quick-kicked 71 yards to the Mule 15, and a return punt only came out to the 37. After Don Rumer went for 20. Carbonette heaved into the end zone to Jack Duval for the score.

The Chicks racked up their fourth shutout win of the season, having yielded only two touchdowns, both to Lehigh. A few statistics show the team's outstanding power and performance. Delaware's offense ground out 717 total yards while the defense held their opponents to only 217. The air attack completed 16 of 39 passes, while stealing twelve of the enemy aeriels. The Frosh made 38 first downs to their opponents 20. Ross Dempsey was the leading punter and ground gainer. Ross punted 18 times with a 45.6 average, and carried the ball 77 times for 392 yards and a 5.1 average. Don Rumer and Jack Wollaston were runners up, having carried for 74 and 101 yards, respectively. Rumer averaged 6.2 yards for each of his twelve attempts. Quarterback Jim Carbonette completed 10 out of 25 passes, and Dick Berl, 6 out of 9.

The Frosh bettered the one loss record of the last year's team, and next season should be grabbing plenty of headlines as varsity players.

Emerson Builds Quintet Around Three Lettermen

Hangovers Topple Sig Ep in Playoff

Newark, Del., Nov. 22 (D. K.)
Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity's touch football team, champions of the Inter-Fraternity League, finally met their masters last week as they succumbed to a well-knit Hangover club by a 14 to 9 score. This victory gave the Hangovers, champions of the Independent League, undisputed title to the 1949 Intramural Touch Football Championship Plaque. It also enabled the Hangovers to complete a once-defeated season, and was Sig Ep's first defeat in 19 games. (They were undefeated last season.)

Led by their coach-captain-player-playcaller Bob Shockley, the Hangovers entered the touch football Independent League last year as representatives of Hanover Hall and came out in second place. This year with part of last year's squad and some newcomers, they completely dominated the circuit and defeated all comers, except the "Sharpies," whom they lost to during the season and defeated in the league playoffs.

The title-deciding game was held on the Women's Athletic Field on November 22 before a host of interested spectators. The crowd at this game and at many other of the league games showed that touch football is popular and is reviving student interest in campus athletic activity. The Hangovers scored early in the first half when Bill Utt, the Hangover passing prima donna, raced around the end 10 yards to score. A quick pass from Utt to Don Martin added the extra point.

A little later in the first half, a long pass from Utt to Martin was good for another touchdown, and a spot pass from Utt to Dick Harris was good for the extra point. This placed the score at 14-0 and the skies looked gloomy for undefeated Sig Ep, who were using the familiar "two-platoon system."

The Fraternity champs came back early in the second half with a TD on a pass from Jack Lewis, Chick DeFlore's able passing understudy, to captain Don Huston. The same combination connected for extra point and the score was 14-7. After an exchange of punts and a couple of neat completions to Sig Ep's Dick DiSabatino, the Hangovers were driven back to near their own goal line and the ever-ready Sig Ep forward wall pressed hard to score a 2-point safety by trapping Bill Utt behind his own (Continued on Page 5)

Harriers Stalemate Albright in Finale

The cross country team closed out its 1949 season last November 18 as they journeyed up to Albright and ran a 28-28 tie.

Stan Hughes sewed up the high scoring position for the season by finishing first, and Captain George Bradley finished fourth.

The line-up:
1. Hughes (D) 19:50 8. Bolton (D)
2. Zellner (A) 9. Lehman (D)
3. Boush (A) 10. Cherr (D)
4. Bradley (D) 11. Roland (A)
5. Ready (A) 12. Hammer (A)

Newark, Del., Nov. 29 (D. K.)
With King Football safely locked in the north tower of Baron Bill Murray's athletic castle for the winter, Basketball, sovereign of the indoor sports, will soon be coming into full power. Delaware's new basketball coach, Mr. Fred Emerson, is currently preparing his hardwood gladiators to avenge last year's record of 5 wins against 15 defeats. A large squad has been working out two nights a week since September and have recently intensified their drills to two hours each afternoon in preparation for their two pre-Christmas games with Muhlenberg on Wednesday, December 14, away, and Washington College on Friday, the 16th, at home.

Coach Emerson comes to the University of Delaware from Lenoir Rhyne College in Hickory, North Carolina, where he was basketball coach, golf coach, assistant football coach, Director of Intramurals, and Assistant Athletic Director. His cage team last year won 10 of its 25 games. Prior to his appointment to Lenoir Rhyne, Coach Emerson was at Durham High School in Durham, North Carolina. In his collegiate days, the new Hen mentor was active in varsity sports at Wake Forest College, winning letters in basketball and football. He was particularly outstanding in the latter, and only lately has received full recognition of his former talent. Recently an all-time All-State of North Carolina football team was selected by the local experts naming Emerson as their first ranking center along with such other gridiron greats as Ace Parker and Charlie Justice.

With only three lettermen left from last year's squad, the 1949-50 basketeers are starting from scratch to develop a winning ball club. The June graduation subtracted the services of Co-Captains Billy Cole and Bill Nash and high-scoring Bob Gregory from the array of talent. A host of speedy sophomores are bidding for starting berths as replacements for these men, most of the sophs being products of Bob Seiman's great freshman team of last year. Coach Emerson is stressing the fast break, close guarding, and systematic plays. He will attempt to use a pressing defense and, by sheer speed and ball-hawking, attempt to keep the foe as near the back court as possible. During the fall he has taught the boys several series of intricate offensive plays and by the showing in the scrimmage games against Goldey College and King's College, his tactics are paying off.

Back from last year's varsity are lettermen Jim McFadden, Jules "Ace" Hoffstein, and Frank Albera. "Reds" McFadden, Blue Hen captain this year, is a lefthanded forward who averaged better than 9 points per game last year and has three varsity basketball letters to his credit. The 5'9" redhead will start at right forward and can be billed as the man to stop. "Ace" Hoffstein, the "Grand Old Man of Basketball," also has three letters behind him and averaged 6.5 points per game for the hapless Hens of last year. He stands a mere 5'5" and will probably alternate with Frank Albera at left forward. Albera wound up last year with an impressive late season spree and his 6'3" frame is being counted on to bottle up the backboards. He was a regular on the successful freshman team of two years ago. Other members carried over from last year's squad are "Easy" Ed Clark, 6'3" Fred Kelleher, and Joe Kwiatkowski of football fame. Joe Heim, who started but did not finish last season, is back to lend his sharpshooting ability. The bright spot in the immediate sea-

Dr. Carl J. Rees, chairman of the Department of Mathematics of the University of Delaware, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Mathematics Club. The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, December 6, at 7 p. m., in Warner Hall Lounge. In accordance with the custom of the club, there will be a social period as people arrive, followed by a short business meeting. After the talk by Dr. Rees, there will be an opportunity for questions from the floor before the meeting adjourns at 8 o'clock.

All interested members of the University community are cordially invited to attend the meeting. Any student of the University who wishes to join the club may do so. Prospective members are asked to communicate with the corresponding secretary, Donald B. Clark, or with one of the other officers.

Wesley Club To Go On Skating Party

The Wesley Club of the University of Delaware held their regular meeting on Tuesday night, November 29. The program was titled "Earmarks of a Christian," and was led by Palmer Carter of the World Christian Community. A film strip on Japan was also shown.

A discussion regarding the Methodist Student Fund was conducted. This fund is especially important because it is the only one to which Wesley Club contributes to be used outside of the club itself.

On Friday night, December 2, the Wesley Club members and their friends will go to the Merryland Roller Rink for a skating party.

son and the seasons to come lies in the wealth of talent coming up from last year's strong, twice-defeated frosh five. Bill Utt, an ex-P. S. du Pont High ace, seems assured of a starting berth at guard on the varsity this year, and three of the tall lads up from the freshman squad are working for the starting center position. Ray Kee, who was the high-scoring captain and a pillar of strength under the backboards for the freshmen last season, is the probable starter with Walt Swenehart and 6'5" Jimmy Krusinski available for great reserve altitude. Kee, playing at forward last year averaged 10.5 counters per contest, while Swenehart, the pivotman, accounted for an average of 8.5.

Along with Utt in the guard positions will be another of the sophomores, probably either Bob Shockley or Johnny Beuchele. Supporting the guards are Dick Harris, Gene Lent, and possibly Don Carmichael. In addition to Carmichael, John DeGasperis, Joe Kwiatkowski, Joe Lank and Milt Adams are expected to add depth from the football team. DeGasperis was a leading scorer on last year's frosh team; Joe Lank is also up from the frosh. Carmichael and Adams forewent basketball last year in favor of scholarship.

As a new coach, Mr. Emerson is blessed with a team with which he can start from scratch and develop during the next three years, since many of the brighter lights have that many years of eligibility ahead of them. He has only two seniors on the team, Jim McFadden and Ace Hoffstein. What the newcomers lack in experience now will no doubt be gained during the coming season, and if they can at least play 500 ball, they will be bettering last season's poor showing of 250.

All home games will be played in Carpenter Field House and commence at 8:30 p. m., with the preliminary Freshman games getting underway at 7:00 p. m. The 1949-50 sixteen game basketball schedule:

goal. This 14-9 score placed the fratmen within a touchdown of victory and they would have gotten that if it were not for the stellar defensive play of the Hangovers.

With three minutes to go, Sig Ep was on the Hangover 3 yard line, first down and goal to go. They tried a run around right end and brought the ball down to the one yard stripe. On the next play they attempted to run the opposite end but were smeared for a 5 yard loss. On third down, quarterback Levis called a pass and promptly threw into the arms of Hangover's alert halfback, Dick Harris, whose interception extinguished the Sig Ep fire. Captain Shockley's seven iron men had beaten the unbeatable.

Stalloni, the Rockin' Roman, who was climaxing a brilliant grid career for the Hens, slashed through a hole on the right side of the line and streaked down the side line to score standing. The extra point attempt was low.

The final score of successful 1949 grid season was a 55 yard jaunt by Hank Paris, another last-time performer for the Hens. Aided by fine blocking, Paris dodged and squirmed his way for an assurance touchdown. Jack Gallagher added the final point of the game and season with a perfect placement. Other seniors playing their last game for the Blue and Gold, besides Stalloni, Paris and Gallagher, were Bob Burk, Sam Macrum, Geo. Mullin, Bill Murray, Larry O'Toole, Phil Genthner, Kenny Wood, Tom Silk, Stan Bilski, Ted Youngling and Ray McCarthy.

Welfare State Is Smoke Talk Topic

The second of the 1949-50 series of Smoke Talks, sponsored annually by the University of Delaware's Department of English, will be held at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, Dec. 5, in the Old College Lounge.

The subject for discussion will be "Do We Want A 'Welfare State'?"

The speakers will be Dr. William A. Mosher, professor of chemistry, and Daniel Hamberg, instructor in economics and business administration, who will discuss the question from differing points of view. Dr. Frederick B. Parker, professor of sociology, will be the Moderator.

There will be a period for questions and general discussion after the scheduled talks. Those familiar with the informal and spirited "give and take" of past Smoke Talks will recognize that this provocative question is likely to produce many interesting and stimulating opinions. The question is admittedly broad and controversial in its economic, political, and sociological implications, and has seemed frequently to transcend traditional political alignment. Certainly such a discussion is very timely as in the United States who are even now being called upon from all sides to encourage or reverse what seems to many to be a present trend towards the so-called "Welfare State."

Those presented with varsity soccer letters were Harold Betts, Daniel Cappel, James Cann, Ernest Chamorro, James Dedman, Jules Hoffstein, Edward Horney, Harold Isaacs, Joseph Miller, Roland Mills, Richard Murray, John Torkelson, Carl Walbeck, Ken Walls, and Haight West.

Guests at the dinner were the honorary co-captains of the undefeated Freshman football team, Jim Carbonetti and Dick McMullin.

The Georgia Tech College Inn in Atlanta, Georgia, is a favorite haunt of the Georgia Tech students. That's because the Georgia Tech College Inn is a friendly place, always full of the busy atmosphere of college life. There is always plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola, too. For here, as in university gathering spots everywhere—Coke belongs.

Bergelin Reports On Heat Research

A report on heat transfer research being done at the University of Delaware was presented Tuesday morning at the annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in New York City.

The report was presented at a section meeting on heat transfer by O. P. Bergelin, associate professor of chemical engineering. Collaborating with Dr. Bergelin on the report were G. A. Brown and F. W. Sullivan, research fellows at the university, and Harold Hull, formerly with the University but now associated with the DuPont Company. The topic of the paper was "Heat transfer and fluid friction during viscous flow across banks of tubes, a study of tube spacing and tube size."

Also attending the ASME sessions from the University are Dean

David L. Arm of the School of Engineering; James I. Clower, professor of mechanical engineering; Edward C. Lawson, Jr., assistant professor; and Morris Ojalve, instructor. Edward H. Elliott, of Newark, president of the U. of D. student branch, is representing the branch at the student luncheon.

Alpha Tau Omega

Although it seems long past to talk about . . . wasn't the Interfraternity weekend wonderful? We are not being outspoken when we say that the dance was the finest ever held on this campus. Our biggest bouquet of roses goes to the decorations committee . . . another bouquet to Johnny Long and his wonderful music.

Not to be forgotten: Brother George Long doing the evening up brown by pinning his sweetheart of many years, Alice Schumacher . . . best wishes to you both always . . . George gets another feather in his cap by leading us to another cup . . . we throw the credit of winning the Cheerleaders Trophy all to him . . . The boss, Jack Symonds, seemed to be in heaven all weekend . . . we wonder why? . . . Don't be surprised if you see Bob Hopkins wandering around saying, "Where's Polly?"; it's a habit he picked up after the dance.

We are proud and happy to announce that after months of work, the ATO Alumni living in Delaware have formed an Alumni Association. Spearheading the tremendous amount of work from our end was Bob Hopkins. The officers elected were: George Loving, president; Marvin Smith, vice-president; Edward Coons, treasurer; Frank Zumbro, secretary. The enthusiasm of these men indicates their sure success.

Kappa Alpha

Last week Kappa Alpha celebrated the birthday of our illustrious brother, Jim "Buzz me" McNeal. Thousands of people turned out to celebrate this great event. Jim acknowledged with a cheshire grin. Statistics prove that he's only fourteen—but Brother McNeal still has a lot of fun.

In the sports department of Beta Epsilon we find that the Engineers won over the Arts and Science boys 11-0 in a razzle-dazzle football game. With the use of poison, darts and hypnotism these midnight Engineers were able to score over the powerful, magnificent A & S squad. (By the way, this is being written by an A & S student.)

The K. A.'s have formed three basketball teams: The Confederates, Goobers and the Rebels. All of these groups have been organized capably by Lt. Col. Stan, "The Bald Eagle", Bazela.

Next we offer all kinds of congratulations to Brothers Winter Wadsworth and Dick Wright, who pinned their gals. Also Brothers J. Cassidy, Genetta, and Miller who performed the same act. I would put them in the above list—but their names don't start with "W".

Now that the Thanksgiving holidays are over, the boys of Amstel avenue are buckling down to work.

Phi Kappa Tau

I. F. C. weekend was one of Phi Tau's fullest of the year getting under way with the house party on Friday evening, November 18. Music for the house party was supplied by a combo consisting of "Frank" of Delaware, "Charlie" of West Chester, and "Rudy" of Wilmington with Charlie Lebergern helping out in the vocal department. After that thrilling game with West Chester, an alumni-resident chapter banquet was held at Kent Manor where we were indeed honored by the presence of Mr. Rolland Maxwell and Mr. Richard J. Young who are National President and Secretary, respectively, of the Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity. These two men were enroute to Washington D. C. to attend the recent National Interfraternity Conference at which some 56 National Fraternities were represented. To wind up the festivities, Johnny Long supplied the music for one of the best I. F. C. formals ever known by Delaware. To all those men who planned, directed, and effected such a memorable weekend—a hearty "well done."

Phi Tau congratulates "Gorgeous" George Green on his recent initiation to Alpha Zeta, Honorary Agriculture Fraternity.

Congratulations and best wishes to Dave Wright upon his marriage to Dottie Maars on Saturday, November 19.

Colonel Zimmer stated the eligibility and selection of Distinguished Military Students is based on the cadets outstanding qualities of military leadership, high moral character and aptitude for the military service.

The basic requirement is that the cadet be a senior and student in the advanced ROTC course and have a standing in military subjects among the upper portion of his ROTC class.

CARE Drive Ends

Do you remember a girl with a small orange box approaching you on campus before Thanksgiving and asking for a donation for CARE? Through the diligent efforts of the workers and the co-chairmen Patty Reybold and Sue Millikin, the drive netted $170.85. A check for this amount will be sent to CARE from the University to pay for packages being sent overseas.

NOTICE
All members of the Review Sports staff are urged to attend a brief reorganization meeting next Monday evening at 7:00 p.m. The meeting will not last over 1/2 hour—please attend.

Major Ed Wall, Harvard, '40
-Flying Executive, U.S. Air Force!

Born in Newark, N. J., he moved to Boston at an early age, graduated from the public Latin high school in 1936, entered Harvard the same year, where he majored in economics and government.

"Active on the campus" — he played football, earned his letter on the boxing team. He worked part-time in a variety of jobs from bouncer to baby sitter, received his AB degree in 1940.

He enrolled in Harvard Law School, left at the beginning of the war to become an Aviation Cadet. In December, 1942, he won his pilot's wings, received a Reserve commission as Second Lieutenant.

Assigned to anti-sub patrol duty, he flew B-25's and B-17's before going overseas in 1944, where he flew 30 missions as a B-24 pilot. Shot down over Germany, he was a prisoner of war for 3 months.

Back in the States with his English wife, he earned his Regular commission. Then he returned to Harvard under the Air Force college training program, receiving his LLB degree in 1949.

Now, he is confident about his future and security. As a pilot and legal officer of Bolling Air Force Base, D. C., Major Ed Wall is a typical U. S. Air Force flying executive . . . with a challenging career.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26 1/2, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training as an Aviation Cadet. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train at Officer Candidate School for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

Sigma Nu

This week, Sigma Nu would like to take time to congratulate the Delaware co-eds who are responsible for the current activities on South campus.

We feel that Warner Hall house-party Friday night and the Sussex Hall and New Castle Hall house parties on Saturday constitute the vital beginning of an interest that seemed to be lacking at this University. We know that the other fraternities will join us in our praise. Congratulations again to what looks like a wonderful start.

The knights of Delta Kappa would like to wish Theta Chi much success on their fraternity girl's houseparty. We would appreciate finding out how well the party goes as we too are planning a houseparty to be given by the pinned-girls of the frat in the spring.

Mention has not yet been made of the new, four legged arrival on North campus. He is a pure bred Irish setter belonging to Buz Deakne and answering to the name of "Sigma Nu." Many people have been wondering how "Sig" can withstand the continual petting and mauling he receives at the house. Just remember, it was St. Patrick who drove the snakes from Ireland and "Sig" is Irish.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sig Ep congratulates the Inter-Fraternity Council on their excellent job of decorating the field house, which, along with the music of Johnny Long set the stage for one of the finest dances we have ever seen at the U. of D.

While tossing orchids around, we would like to extend best wishes to Brother Bob Miller and Carol Roberts, who were married Thanksgiving day. Brothers taking the first step in that direction by pinning their girls were: Bojo Schlenzig to Mary Ann Getsinger, Les Riggs to Doris Sullivan, and Wayne Pollari to Joanne DiSabatino. Good luck to all of you.

The Sig Ep football team trounced Theta Chi in the final inter-fraternity game of the year to capture the cup for the second straight year. The Hangovers apparently weren't hungover when they met and defeated the Sig Ep six for the Intramural honors. The girls All Star hockey team proved to be too experienced for the star studded Sig Ep team, and scored two second-half goals to put the game on ice. Thanks anyway for the practice—maybe next year!

Theta Chi

There should be more weekends like the last one—complete with football victories. We sure will miss Brothers Stalloni, Paris, Bilski, Murray, Miller, Gallagher, Wood, Genthner, Silk, Mullin, and McCarthy next year.

The Theta Chi's and their dates rendezvoused at the DuPont Country Club after the game to fill the main dining room and overflow into the cafeteria. Thank you, Jack Guenveur. It was good to see all the brothers together with so many pretty, well-dressed women. It was perhaps the only time the brothers were so quiet that weekend—even though we had just won a big game.

Quite a few of the brothers and alumni were at St. Andrew's Church Wednesday night to see Bulldog Murray marry Grace Walker of Wilmington.

Full credit to the girl's dorms and fraternities for their excellent job of decorating for Homecoming. This year was the best yet.

Jack Gallagher, honorable mention All-American end (AP) and winner of the Maxwell Award, announced that he has pinned Kitty Lebergern of Wilmington.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Now that the Interfraternity Ball and Thanksgiving vacation have come and gone, Brother Bill Welsh, Jack Ward, and Lou Sala have finally decided to buckle down and crack the books. Some of the boys study by osmosis, y'know. And speaking of the I. F. Ball, congrats to Brother Andy Scari, and all the gang for a really beautiful job of decorating.

After the dance we found most of the brothers and their dates over at Don Hoffecker's in George Reed Village. Among those soaking up Don's hospitality were Emil Lewis, Harry Heyle, Jack Veale, Bob Dukes, Don Shannon, Bob Cox, Bill Thompson, and Dixie "What's in the oven" Dickens. Sorry to hear that Jim Neal's and Dixie's Green Hornet had a slight mash-up, but rather than a bad mash-up.

Word from Tennessee has Jim Reagan and Gloria Smith tying the knot come New Year's.

The Pike basket ball team is rolling, so let's go, cage-men and sink 'em.

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Thanksgiving vacation notes: Ed Engel sporting a red plaid cap obtained in New York where he spent the week-end. Big bandage on Arnie Greenhouse's hand. He fell from a horse in Central Park, Brooklyn. Saturday night party at Herbie Keller's. Joe "The heart-breaker" Yucht was at it again, this time, in Philadelphia.

Inter-fraternity weekend was a very big success, and Alpha Epsilon Pi would like to extend its thanks to the Interfraternity Council for running everything so well. Harvey Day, Andy Scari, and Dick

Newman Club

The semi-annual Communion Breakfast of the Newman Club will be held on Sunday, December 4, in Kent Dining Hall, following the 8:30 Mass in St. John's Church.

The speaker at the breakfast will be Father Raymond A. McGowan, director of the Social Action Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

DiSabatino certainly deserve a lot of credit.

At the AEPI house, entertainment was provided by Dave Bunin and his boys: Sam Spiller on the drums, Henry "I have a suggestion to make" Galperin on the clarinet, and Norm Glassman on the Sax. George Chamlin made with the jokes and did the MCing. Before the dance Saturday night everyone stopped in at Garry Greenstien's for cocktails. Stan Budner entertained at his home in the small hours Sunday morning. During the intermission of the dance, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chase acted as chaperones at the fraternity house.

Daley, Gene Dougherty, Tom O'Donnell, Andy Korenyi, Bob Miller, Dick DiSabatino, Mary Agnes McCarville, Teddy Martin, Ursula De Marie, Joanne Kowalewski, Doris Ladowski, Mary Ann Biter, Alice Gorny.
