SCHOLASTIC PRESS GROUP TO CONVENE SATURDAY

Arrangements Now Completed By Dr. Day For Third Meeting

Final plans for the third annual press conference of the Delaware Scholastic Press Association, to be held at the University of Delaware on Saturday, were announced yesterday by Dr. Cyrus L. Day, a member of the university's department of English, who is director of the association.

Featured by competitions in the fields of news and sports reporting, editorial writing, proof reading and current events, scheduled to get underway following registration at 9:30 o'clock, the session will include discussion groups on all phases of newspaper work.

A novel part of the conference will be the news reporting contest, originated by Dr. Ned B. Allen, a member of the university faculty, who has prepared a five-minute sketch, "Trojan Horse" from which contestants will write their stories.

Newton H. Hartman, nationally-famous news photographer who has been associated with the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin for more than 15 years, will be the principal speaker at the luncheon to be held in Kent Hall, Women's College, at one o'clock.

Announcement of competition winners by Dr. William G. Fletcher in Mitchell Hall at 3:45 o'clock will wind up the program.

Dr. Day heads the committee on arrangements, assisted by the following students: Carl Allen, Frank Annand, Ann Bader, Joy Bohman, Gloria Breeding, Robert Brodie, Norman Bunn, Connie Coffman, Laura Jane Cooper, Barbara Coxe, Sylvia DiSabatino, Dorothy Daugherty, John Dougherty.

Members of the Newark Rotary Club held their regular weekly meeting at Hanna's tea room, Monday evening, when plans for the annual Christmas party were made.

The Rev. Oler A. Bartley, pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, was appointed chairman of the committee on arrangements for the holiday celebration. He will be assisted by Samuel Handloff, Russell Silk, and Dale I. Landers.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon to be delivered on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Park Place and Van Buren Street, Wilmington.

FFA FAIR AT SCHOOL FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Special Classes Of Hybrid Corn And Poultry Are Listed This Year

Members of the Newark Future Farmers of America are staging their annual fair in the Main Street school building. The exhibits will be shown tomorrow and Saturday.

No admission is charged for the displays which are open to the public on Friday and Saturday from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Special features will be exhibits of hybrid corn and farm flocks of poultry raised during 1941.

Hybrid corn is finding its place on many of the farms in this community and all farmers who raised any of the many varieties, are urged to bring in a ten-ear sample of their product, together with a report of their observations of its good or bad qualities.

The farm flock exhibits will consist of five birds raised from chicks purchased from the F. F. A. hatchery during 1941. Flocks may consist of pullets or cockerels or a combination of both. These birds will be judged on vitality, size for age, and quality, and a premium of $5 and a ribbon will be awarded for first; $3 and a ribbon for second, and $1 and a ribbon for third.

There will also be the regular classes for larger poultry, bantams, pigeons, guinea fow, and ducks together with classifications for all kinds of grain, hay, fruits, vegetables, nuts and eggs.

The fair committee consists of Richard Kelley, Robert Davis, Jr., and William Murray. F. Thaddeus Warrington, local agricultural instructor, is advisor.

GARSTANG TO TALK TUESDAY

Archaeologist To Give Series Of Three Lectures

In a series of three lectures on Biblical archaeology which will be given at the University of Delaware on December 9, 10, and 11, many extremely interesting facts which have been unearthed as a result of excavations in the Bible lands will be discussed by Professor John Garstang of the University of Liverpool.

His first lecture, "The Story of Jericho," will contain first-hand information and comment as a result of his own excavations in Jericho in the early 1930's on the extra-ordinary catastrophe which is related in the book of Joshua and which may be dated about 1400 B. C. The real building of that city about five centuries later as referred to in I Kings will also be discussed.

The second lecture to be given on December 10 will be centered about a discussion of the Foundations of Bible History.

In his third lecture Dr. Garstang will talk about one of the most mysterious people of early Bible history—the Hittites. The royal Hittite libraries, which were discovered in Asia Minor in 1916, throw additional light upon these people who were referred to in Judges and Ezekiel. About 1400 B. C. the Hittite Empire, centered in Asia Minor was on the eve of a great expansion under a warrior-king, Subtiluluma. These Hittites seemed to have amalgamated with the Hyksos, those shepherd kings who ruled Egypt for many years, and may also have been connected with Homer's Trojans.

All three of these lectures, which have been made possible through the generous contributions of several friends of the university, will be given in Room 220, University Hall, at 4:30 P. M., on each of the days stated, and will be open to the public.

Two Members Join Local Knights Of Pythias

William Bellman and James Mitchell were given the first and second degree at the weekly meeting of Osceola Lodge No. 5, Knights of Pythias. The third degree will be administered at the next session.

The losing team in the recent membership drive will stage a banquet at the next session for members of the winning group. On Dec. 15, "Magic Night" will be observed with Harry Brown, Philadelphia magician, the guest of honor.

C. OF C. TO MAKE PLANS FOR ANNUAL BANQUET

Last Meeting Of Year To Be Held On Monday

Directors of the Newark Chamber of Commerce will hold their last meeting of the year at eight o'clock Monday evening, in the Town Council offices, President D. A. McClintock said yesterday.

Due to several matters to be brought before the directorate at this meeting, President McClintock is especially anxious that a full attendance be present.

With the year drawing to a close, it is observed that the local chamber has had one of the most successful years in its history with a total membership enrollment of sixty-five merchants, manufacturers and professional men.

Plans for the annual meeting and election of officers during the early part of January will be discussed with the appointment of a nominating committee to be made by the President.

Officers of the organization who will conclude their present terms this month are President, D. A. McClintock, vice president, Alfred Deck, secretary, R. T. Ware and treasurer, J. E. Dougherty.

Besides an entire slate of officers, four new directors will be chosen at the January meeting to succeed John K. Johnston, Meyer Pinick, Wm. S. Hamilton and Samuel Handloff whose terms expire on December 31.

Holdover directors are Alfred Deck, George F. Anderson, R. T. Ware, George M. Haney, J. E. Dougherty, D. A. McClintock and Weldon C. Waples.

DR. GOULD IS CLUB SPEAKER

Economics Is Topic Of Talk Before Women

Dr. Joseph S. Gould, head of the University of Delaware's department of economics, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Newark New Century Club, held Monday afternoon.

Introduced by Mrs. J. Fenton Daugherty, Dr. Gould discussed the topic, "Economic and Non-Economic Adjustments."

At the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Alex D. Cobb, president, the sum of $25 was voted toward Christmas gifts for local boys serving in the army. Mrs. R. T. Jones represented the club at a recent meeting of the Mayor's Committee, headed by Dr. John R. Downes, at which plans were made for the holiday program. Club members were urged to bring candy to the next meeting to be included in the packages. Contributions will also be collected for the Flower Hospital fund.

Arthur B. Eastman discussed the Sunday movie controversy and the club went on record in favor of the referendum which was approved by the Council of Newark Monday night.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. M. D. Darrell, chairman of the hostess committee, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Gallagher, Mrs. M. D. McMullen, Mrs. Thomas F. Manns, Mrs. Leonard Fossett, Mrs. Robert J. Boyd, and Mrs. Herman Handloff.

Third-Fourth Grades Give Assembly Program

Members of the third and fourth grades had charge of the Christiana assembly program on Tuesday. A recitation was given by Charles Morrison and a piano solo by Jean Elliott. A play, "Living In Fairyland," was presented by Nancy Murray, Richard Coleman, Ruth Ann Lockard, Joan Ford, Lewis Musser, Betty Ann Cleaver, and Donald Vincent.

SUNDAY MOVIE VOTE IS APPROVED

Council Reverses Action; Dates For Registration To Be Decided

Reversing the action taken at the November meeting, members of the Council of Newark unanimously approved the referendum on Sunday movies and made plans for a special election to be held in the near future. The measure, downed by a 4-3 margin last month when Mayor Frank Collins cast the deciding vote, was reconsidered Monday night and was voted on favorably following a brief discussion.

Mayor Frank Collins was authorized to appoint registrars who will determine registration days. Registration will be conducted for three days in two successive weeks. All residents of the town for a year as of Dec. 1, who are 21 years of age or over are eligible to vote on the issue.

Council also adopted a resolution, presented by Councilman C. C. Hubert, opposing the contemplated low housing plan for defense workers in this vicinity. It was pointed out that the sewer system and water supply of the town are barely adequate to take care of present needs and the public school buildings are unable to properly house any additional children.

The Actna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company was voted its payment of $1,500 in return for services rendered during the year. Council also appropriated $50 to the ambulance fund, $25 to the Mayor's Committee for seeing Christmas gifts to boys in service. Vernon C. Steele, former secretary.

LIONS IN BUSINESS MEETING

Committee Plans Xmas Program For Soldiers

Newark Lions held their regular monthly business session at the country club Tuesday evening with a meeting of the directors called at five-thirty. Vice President L. T. Staats conducted the meeting in the absence of President John K. Speicher.

Reports from George M. Worrlow, secretary-treasurer, and other committee chairmen were heard. A committee on entertainment for Fort DuPont soldiers, at Christmas, composed of Walter Powell, Ira S. Shellenbender and Dr. John R. Downes is formulating plans for local entertainment of the service men. The date and detailed plans will be announced later.

Charles Cooper, a new member of Newark Lions, was inducted into the organization.

A. E. Tomhave, past president, will be in charge of the program for the next meeting, to be held at the country club on Tuesday evening.

CONTEST JUDGES NAMED

Prizes Donated For Christmas Lighting Contest

Plans for the annual Home Lighting Contest during Christmas holidays, sponsored by the Newark Garden Club are progressing nicely, it was reported this week.

With five prizes to be awarded for various types of lighting and decorations it is expected that a greater number of homes than ever before will participate this year.

Prizes already have been contributed by The Delaware Power & Light Company, Louis Handloff and The Newark Post and the remaining two donors will be named shortly.

Representatives of local civic organizations will compose the judging committee, as last year. Those named thus far are: Mrs. Ella Plummer, Business Women's Club, Mrs. R. T. Ware, New Century Club and Weldon C. Waples, Chamber of Commerce.

DELAWARE DELEGATES IN CONTEST

Poultry Team Coached By W. C. Skoglund

At the 24th annual Eastern Collegiate Poultry Judging Contest, held Friday, December 5, at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., the animal industry department of the University of Delaware's School of Agriculture is again being represented for the second time in the history of the contest.

Coached by W. C. Skoglund, poultry instructor in the School of Agriculture at the University of Delaware, are five seniors who carry the colors for Delaware. These men are William Hopkins, Lewes; Phillip Decker, Harrington; Noah Cain, Harrington; Cleveland Hastings, Bridgeville and Robert Osborne, Penns Grove, N. J.

The Delaware poultry judging team members are pitting their ability against other collegiate poultrymen from Cornell University, University of Connecticut, University of New Hampshire, Massachusetts State College, Pennsylvania State College, University of West Virginia, University of Maryland, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, North Carolina State College and Rutgers University.

Eleven classes of poultry are being judged by members of the Delaware team for meat and egg production and for exhibition qualities. A written competitive examination on perfection in poultry breeds is also part of the contest.

Two of the Delaware men, Hopkins and Cain, were former 4-H club members before enrolling at the University of Delaware School of Agriculture.

Glasgow Demonstration Club Holds Annual Party

Members of the Glasgow Home Demonstration Club held their annual Christmas party at the Glasgow Arms Restaurant on Tuesday. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. H. Wilson Price and Mrs. Edward Wilson while Mrs. F. Thaddeus Warrington was in charge of the program.

Greetings were extended by Mrs. J. A. Correll, president, and a talk was given by Mrs. H. S. Palmer, president-elect of the organization. A reading "Jimmy's Christmas Star," was given by Mrs. Warrington, and selections were rendered by a vocal duet, Mrs. P. R. Roberts, Sr., and Mrs. Palmer.

A play was presented by Mrs. J. Leslie Ford, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Amanda Johnson, and Mrs. Robert Reed, Jr.

A covered dish supper will be held by the organization in January at Mrs. Palmer's home.

Parents Corner

What Toys Shall We Buy?

Parents, grandparents, uncles and aunts, and all fond friends of the children are going to be more interested in buying toys within the next few weeks than at any other time of the year. How many of us are saying, "What shall I buy? How can I be sure that Johnny will like a puzzle or that Jane will enjoy a set of blocks?"

What is a wisely selected toy? It is one which is appropriate for the child who is to play with it. It should be suitable to his age and his level of development; it should be one which meets his present interests and needs. The quality of the toy itself should be considered. It should be durable, well-constructed, safe and sanitary. Most of all, it should be a plaything with which a child can do something! Toys are no longer regarded merely as things to amuse children. Toys are the tools of play.

For Baby's first Christmas you will find that simple, bright objects are best. Avoid the dainty pinks and blues associated with infants and get him balls, rattles, bells in gay colors—red, yellow, bright blue. He can make good use of toys to grasp, to swing, to chew.

The toddler (up to two years) is interested in toys that he can push, pull and manipulate. These include:

Baby harness, balls, bells, color cones, floating bath toys, kiddie-car, pull and push toys, rag and doll cloth books, rattles, simple peg board, small bright blocks, soft dolls and animals, solid rubber bath toys, strongly strung large beads.

The majority of toys are manufactured for children from two to five, whom we commonly call the Pre-School Group. There are toys for developing strength and skill:

Wagon, wheelbarrow, jungle gym, toy auto to ride in, three wheel scooter, small two wheel bike, roller skates, handcar, tenpin game, balance board.

Other toys help the child in his constructive and creative play. Some of these are:

Large hollow blocks, sand toys, peg board, tinker toys, hammer and nail set, picture puzzles, easel, crayons and paints, modelling clay, bells, drums, tambourine, xylophones.

The best toys of all are those which encourage the child's dramatic and imitative play and help develop his social instincts. These are toys a child uses to imitate the world about him. They are:

Dolls, doll carriages, broom, sweeper, dishes, small tables, chairs, stoves, trucks, autos, trains, boats, fire engines, garages, gas stations, toy animals, farm sets, lawn mowers, garden tools, fish pond games, animal, bird and object lotto games.

A final word to parents—do provide a place for your child's toys. Low, open-faced shelves are the best. Boxes or chests are good, too. The child should learn that putting away inevitably follows play, and he will be far more likely to do this if he has a special place to keep his toys. Training a child to be neat and orderly about his possessions is a slow process but one which has great rewards. First, the parent puts away toys with the child's help. Then the child does it with the parent's help. Finally, at four or five, she should be able to assume full responsibility for himself. In this way, a child's play is a joy not only to himself but to the whole family.

POULTRY PRODUCTION INCREASED

Latest Report Indicates Boom Of 60 Percent

A review of latest figures indicates that the poultry industry, in all of its various branches, is undergoing the biggest boom in its history, according to H. L. Richardson, Extension poultry specialist of the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that the number of chicks hatched in October, 1941, was 60 per cent larger than in October a year ago and 56 per cent above the previous record production for October, 1939. The marketing service also announces that New England and South Atlantic States produced over one-half of the total chicks hatched during October.

Egg-production figures show that production during October reached an all-time high, the total amounting to over 6,000,000 cases of eggs.

Poultrymen marketing these record-breaking quantities of eggs for market and hatchery purposes are receiving higher prices. Egg prices received in mid-October were 34 per cent above prices received a year ago and 29 per cent above the 10-year average.

Figures from the Agricultural Marketing Service on broiler production show that broiler growers of the Delmarva Peninsula are a part of this growth of the poultry industry. Peninsula growers had on hand about 98 per cent more birds the first of November of this year than at the same time last year.

Richardson points out that reports coming from the Sussex County Extension office indicate that much of the increased broiler production is taking place in Delaware. These reports show that during the first week of November the number of chicks put in broiler houses exceeded the 1,000,000-mark.

When an airplane, flying over Baldwin, Mich., dipped its left wing, residents knew it was a baby girl for Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Smith. The father, a pilot, had previously arranged this signal to announce the child's arrival.

UNCLE SAM WANTS More Milk

Choose Southern States OPEN FORMULA Dairy Feeds for best milk production

On 8-point Program to get it!

1. Keep more cows—it will pay.
2. Feed producing cows more heavily and with high quality rations.
3. Keep dry cows in good condition by proper feeding.
4. Grow all the home-grown grain you can and buy as little grain as possible. Get the best use of home grains by mixing with high protein supplements to get variety, palatability, molasses, and minerals.
5. Plan this year for ample hay production, especially alfalfa or other good legume hay.
6. Improve pastures. Your pasture makes the cheapest feed. Also plan for more and better silage.
7. Improve management practices—consult your county agent or your state agricultural college. Read the Dairymen's Issue of the Southern States PATRON (free on request).
8. Buy feeds and other production supplies cooperatively to get better quality and cut production costs.

AUXILIARIES JOIN FOR SESSION

Newport And Marshallton Groups Meet

Stanton, Dec. 3—The Woman's Auxiliary of the St. James P. E. Church changed its meeting date, and on Tuesday afternoon had as their guest speaker Miss Isabella Wagner of Anherst, Virginia. The auxiliaries of the St. James, Newport and the St. Barnabas, Marshallton joined in this session. Mrs. W. A. Mitchell presided at the joint session.

On Sunday morning, the Rev. Frank O. Baynard, pastor of the Stanton Methodist Church spoke on "Such as I Have". At 6:45, officers-elect of the Methodist Youth Fellowship were installed. At the evening service, the Class Meeting Chorus of the African Methodist Church, Wilmington, presented a program of music. Next Sunday, the Stanton Church will hold its Homecoming Service, and Dr. Oliver J. Collins, District Superintendent will speak at 2:30 p. m.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Stanton Methodist Church will meet on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Sue Smith.

The Young Women's Class of the Stanton Methodist Church will hold their annual Christmas Party on Monday evening, December 8th at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Trivits.

Miss Eloise Gertrude Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Reynolds of Silview and Mr. Robert LeRoy Buckingham, son of Mrs. Cora Buckingham of Newark were married Thanksgiving Day at 4 P. M. in the St. James P. E. Church, Stanton by the Rev. E. Kenneth Albaugh.

Mrs. Edward McCallister of Silview gave an organ recital preceding the ceremony, playing "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me", as well as the wedding march and the recessional. The church was decorated with palms and white flowers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white brocade satin, with sweetheart neck and puff sleeves, which was made on princess lines with long full skirt. Her long veil of silk tulle formed a train. The veil was fashioned in crown shape with orange blossom trim. The bride carried an arm bouquet of white lilies, finished in a shower of white ribbon streamers, small white flowers and fern.

Miss Elizabeth Golden of Silview was the maid of honor, and wore a gown of light blue brocade satin, with sweetheart neck and puff sleeves, made on princess lines with long full skirt. She wore a short face veil of blue tulle finished in crown shape and trimmed with tiny pink flowers. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and blue larkspur.

The little flower girl was Annabelle Jett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Jett of Silview. She wore a pink taffeta dress with sweetheart neck, short puff sleeves, and made on princess lines. She wore a crown shape wreath of blueflowers. She carried pink and blue sweetpeas.

The best man was Mr. Alfred Wilson of Milford Cross Roads, near Newark.

The ushers were Mr. Edward Crowe and Mr. William Weaver of Newark.

Mrs. Reynolds, mother of the bride, wore navy blue crepe, and a corsage of Rubian Lilies. Mrs. Buckingham, mother of the bridegroom, also wore navy blue crepe and a corsage of Rubian Lilies.

A reception was held Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Reynolds, No. 3 Lindberg Avenue, Silview.

Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham will live in Silview. Mr. Buckingham is employed by the Continental Fibre Company of Newark.

SPEEDING IS MOST FREQUENT VIOLATION

Rural Areas Have Higher Percentage Of Fatalities

Whether the driver was a city slicker or a hayseed, and whether the accident occurred in town or out in the country, excessive speed was the traffic law violation most frequently reported in 1940's fatal automobile accidents.

Ask people what they think is the matter with traffic and the most frequent answer will be, "Oh, they drive too fast."

The statistics prove that this answer is correct. Among fatal traffic accidents that occurred in cities during 1940, "excessive speed" was reported in 15 per cent. In fatal accidents in rural areas the percentage was even higher—21 per cent.

The other three corners of this four-cornered recklessness pattern aren't so clear cut as the fact that excessive speed stands out head and shoulders above other driver violations.

In the cities right-of-way violations were second to excessive speed. They were reported in 9 per cent of all urban fatal accidents.

Next in the cities came "disregard for officer or traffic control device"—in 8 per cent of the fatal accidents. And in the fourth corner in the urban pattern was "driving on the wrong side of the road"—reported in 3 per cent.

In the rural areas, driving on the wrong side of the road was reported in 12 per cent of the fatal accidents. Excessive speed was the third most frequent—4 per cent. Disregard for an officer or traffic control device "improper passing" were tied for fourth with 3 per cent each.

In fatal urban accidents driver violations of some traffic regulation were reported in half the cases. In the fatal rural accidents driver violations were reported in two-thirds of the cases.

Statistics make it look as though a more obedience to the laws is in order.

FEDERAL WORKERS WANTED

December 30 Set As Final Filing Date

Three new examinations to secure federal workers were announced by the Civil Service Commission today. Applications for the examinations must be filed with the Commission's Washington office not later than December 31, 1941. The examinations are:

Assistant Soil Scientist, $2,600 a year, Department of Agriculture. Applicants must have completed a 4-year college course with major study in soils, agronomy or a closely related subject and must have had at least 2 full years of professional experience in soil classification and mapping.

Assistant Chief Nurse, $2,000 a year, City of St. Elizabeths Hospital, the Federal Institution for the treatment of mental diseases. The register established from this examination may be used for other appropriate vacancies in Washington, D. C. Applicants must meet the requirements in education and experience prescribed by the Nurses' Licensing Board of the District of Columbia. Those requirements are as follows: Completion of a full course in accredited school of nursing requiring a residence of at least 2 years in hospital having a daily average of more patients; and a bachelor's degree with major study in advanced nursing education from a college or university of recognized standing. In addition, they must have appropriate nursing experience, including instruction in the nursing arts, as a dietitian, for duty at the Federal Medical Center, War Department. The student dietitians are paid $1,000 a year less a deduction of $360 a year for their subsistence and quarters, and are given a training course in dietetics lasting 1 year. After successful completion of the training course students may be eligible for retention in the service of dietitians of $1,620 a year. Applicants must have completed an accredited college course appropriate to the profession of dietitian. Provision is made for the acceptance of applicants from senior or graduate students.

Back Issues Wanted

Now in press for publication this fall is METHODISM AND THE FRONTIER, by Elizabeth K. Nottingham. We resisted the temptation to call it Go Wesley, Young Man.

When THE PLEASURES OF PUBLISHING first rolled off the mimeograph machine back in 1934 we never dreamed that early issues would become so scarce and so sought after that we would be embarrassed by our inability to meet the demand. Yet that, and we hope we say it with becoming modesty, is just what has happened. Much to our surprise, individuals and libraries began assembling complete files and now nearly every week we get requests for back issues. We have taken steps so that from now on there will be a secret reserve stock for such purposes, but we simply have no copies of some of the early volumes. This, then, is a "want ad." If any of our readers have back issues—any issues, any volumes—which they no longer want, the editors will give a hearty welcome to their wandering brainchildren.

What do you think of this as a plot for a novel? "Ambrosio, the Monk, is Abbot of the Capuchins at Madrid, and revered throughout the city for his sanctity. A son of mystery, his parentage is unknown, since whilst an infant he was found by the brethren laid at their abbey door, a gift, they like to think, from heaven. The youngest novice of the house, Rosario, becomes a particular favorite with the abbot, who one evening when they are together in the gardens to his horror and amazement discovers that his companion is a woman. The lady declares herself to be Matilda de Villanegas, the daughter of a noble house, passionately avowing that she has for his dear love alone penetrated the cloister walls. As her cowl falls back he recognizes in her radiant beauty a sacred picture which some two years before had been bought by the monks, and which has been the object of his increasing adoration. Matilda confesses that she thus conveyed her portrait to his notice. After a brief, but fierce struggle, the celibate yields to the overwhelming temptation and seeks satisfaction in her wanton embraces. Howbeit anon comes safety, and then disgust.

"Ambrosio is requested to attend a widow, a stranger to Madrid, who is sick, Donna Elvira Dalfo. At the house of his new penitent he sees and becomes violently enamoured of her daughter, Antonia, a lovely maiden of fifteen. Matilda consents to aid his designs and help debauch the innocent object of his hot desires. In order to complete these ends she summons a fallen angel, and at midnight in the dark vaults of the monastery the monk takes part in impious rites. By means of a magic spell he gains admittance to Antonia's chamber and is about to violate her, when Elvira interrupts the ravisher. In order to escape he murders the hapless woman, and, unsuspected, regains his cloister. By Matilda's contrivance he then administers a soporific draught to the orphan Antonia, and being taken for dead she is conveyed to the vaults for sepulchre. Here Ambrosio waits her hour of waking, and in spite of her cries effects his lustful purpose.

What Do You Think?

"To conceal his crime in a wild frenzy he stabs her, but the fact is almost immediately discovered. With Matilda he is thrown into the dungeons of the Inquisition, and accused of horrid crimes, murder, rape, and sorcery. Torture is applied, a full confession being extorted from the fears of his accomplice, when both are condemned to the stake. Matilda obtains freedom by devoting herself to the demon, and at the last moment Ambrosio also vows himself to the find on the condition of instant release. He is borne to the wilds of the Sierra Morena where the mocking spirit informs him that Elvira, whom he slew, was his mother, Antonia, whom he raped and killed was his sister. The condition of release has been fulfilled, no more will be granted. The wretched monk is then hurled into the abyss."

You don't think any publisher would be interested in such a manuscript? Well, one was back in 1796, because, as some may be aware from this outline, this is the principal story of The Monk, by Matthew Gregory Lewis, one of the best-selling of the many best-selling Gothic novels. We have quoted the above summary from a book we are going to publish shortly, a book that is unquestionably the best history of the Gothic novel to be found anywhere: THE GOTHIC QUEST, by Montague Summers.

Jacob Abbott (1803-79), American teacher and pastor, best known for the Rollo books, wrote over 180 books in all. His brother John Stevens Cabot Abbott (1805-77) was only one-third as productive. . . . Francois de Bonnavard (c.1493-1570), the Swiss patriot who was the hero of Byrons The Prisoner of Chillon was commissioned by the city of Geneva to write a chronicle of the city. He did, but it wasn't published until nearly 200 years after he died—in 1831. . . .

The late Frederick J. E. Woodbridge in AN ESSAY ON NATURE: "I often think that 'adjective' is a neat word suggesting a missile thrown at a noun to make the noun take notice."

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION

By W. W. Reid

"Comparing our conditions with those in other lands, we must recognize that our country is singularly blessed," said the Roman Catholic bishops of the United States in a recent statement to the nation. "But we cannot avoid the repercussions of a world catastrophe. . . . In this solemn hour when fateful decisions are to be made it is evident that a spirit of exemplary restraint should characterize our priests and people. In every national crisis and every danger our priests have been an inspiration. We are confident that their good example of strong faith and courage, founded on the virtue of fortitude, will not be lacking now. As moral teachers they show that freedom has its limitations. It is limited first of all by the rights of God, and next by the rights of others and by the interests of the common good."

Despite their relative poverty, the Oneida Indians who are members of the Oneida Methodist Church in De Pere, Wisconsin, have for several years been giving funds for Christian work among their less fortunate brethren, the Aymara Indians of Bolivia, South America. The members of the church have set aside "The Lord's Acre," and from the sale of beans and other produce are sending missionary funds to the Rev. John Herrick, educational-evangelistic missionary to the Aymaras at La Paz, Bolivia. Last summer the acre yielded $22, and the members added $40 from other savings. The Rev. J. H. Wenberg, pastor of the Oneida congregation was for a number of years a missionary to the Aymaras and for sixteen years has been serving Indians in Oklahoma and Wisconsin.

The newly-organized "Church of Christ in Japan," composed of most of the denominational churches that had their roots in European and American missions, has a Social Welfare Board with a program of aggressive community work. The American Bible Society recently announced that in its 125 years of service as a scripture-distributing agency, it "has not yet received, from all gifts of all kinds, the equivalent of the cost of one first class battleship." Yet the Society's annual distribution at home and abroad exceeds 7,000,000 Gospels, Testaments and Bibles. Ministry and national service. Measures already adopted by the Board include a nationwide campaign for the prevention of tuberculosis, provision for Christian student hostels connected with churches, aid for the unemployed, a "Big Brother Movement" to guide the youth of the nation, temperance education, prevention of poverty, care for the families of soldiers, a welfare service for rural and fishing people, sanitary instruction, day nurseries and Peasat Gospel Schools.

For two centuries the Moravian Church of Holland has been carrying on missionary work in Surinam (Dutch Guiana, S. A.)—now occupied by U. S. troops. The work has long been supported by the Mission Society of the Moravian Church of Zeist, Netherlands. But, because of the occupation of the Netherlands, money no longer is available, and the International Missionary Council lists Surinam as an "orphan mission" to be cared for by churches in the United States and Great Britain. The church and educational work reaches the Negroes of the bush, said to be descendants of runaway slaves, 3,500 of whom are church members; 45,000 Hindu East Indians, 800 of whom are church members; 40,000 Moslem Javanese—300 church members; and Creoles, 27,000 of whom are church members. Missionaries and Surinam-born pastors include Anglo-Saxons, Negroes, Javanese, Indians, and Creoles.

More than 1200 conscientious objectors to war are now enrolled and assigned to nineteen service camps throughout the United States; and it is estimated that 1800 additional registrants will soon be added to this number. From the religious point of view, the men represent eighty-six religious sects, including all the major denominations, Friends, United Brethren, and Mennonites are the religious groups operating the camps. Ten are connected with the United States Forestry Service, seven with the soil Conservation Service, and two with the National Park Service.

EAGLE PATROL LAUDED

Plaque To Be Presented For Fine Record

Black-Ex, Dec. 3 — A walnut plaque in the name of each member in the Eagle Patrol of the Black-Ex Methodist Church was presented to the patrol by the Scout Troop. The plaque will remain in their possession for a year. It is awarded to the patrol with the best record in the interschool test held at the church social hall under direction of Mr. William Koch, merit badge counselor.

The Eagles scored a total of 30.55 out of a possible 40 points for competitive scouting events in the month. Second place was awarded to the Panther Patrol, Thomas Donnan, patrol leader, with a total of 28.15 points.

The Chicks Patrol, George Brown, patrol leader, captured third place with 28.15 points. Banner Patrol, George Green, placed fourth with 24.52 points. Clayton Keyser is leader of the winning patrol and the members participating included Walter From, assistant patrol leader, James Crossan, Norman Hall and Harold Parsons. The patrol presenting the plaque three times will receive the permanent owner.

Official visitors included District Commissioner Arthur S. Chillas, who conducted an annual inspection and Commissioner William E. Chas.

The monthly business meeting and meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Black-Ex Presbyterian Church was held last evening at the church. Mrs. J. Shoemaker, Jr., had charge of the hostesses included Mrs. Mary E. Charles C. Dawson and Paul Davis.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel E. Wicker, president of the Wilmington Bible College and a member of the faculty of P. S. duPont High School, was the speaker at the regular services of the Elmore Presbyterian Church on Monday morning.

Two gallons of milk he was taking from the farm of Anacosta, Mont., was spilled on a fire that broke out in the rear of his automobile.

FELLOWSHIP DINNER STAGED

35 Guests Attend Affair At Newport

Newport, Dec. 3 — A fellowship dinner was held in the Newport Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, at which time the Sunday School Board was host to the Young Peoples Classes of the Sunday School. Miss Irene Smiley was chairman of arrangements, and was assisted by teachers of the School. There were 35 guests present.

Following the dinner, there was a program of entertainment under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Genet, and a playlet "Better Than None" featured the program. Those in the cast were Miss Nancy Doyle, Irene Smiley, Thelma Peterson, Emogene Zimmerman, Charlotte Mahan and Joan Schranck. There was a piano accordion solo "Ave Maria" by Miss Doyle. Fred Benoit entertained with a vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Doyle on the piano accordion. Mrs. J. D. Genet gave a reading. Devotional service was in charge of the Rev. R. S. Hodgson, pastor of the church.

The monthly meeting of the Sunday School Board was also held, and it was reported that a portable radio had been purchased and sent to William Richey, former treasurer of the Sunday School, who is now in service and stationed at Camp Wallace, Texas.

Mrs. James Hartley was confirmed as a teacher in the church school.

Mrs. Fred Benoit reported that the Christmas cantata will be presented Sunday evening, Dec. 21st at 8:30, and the evening preaching service will be dispensed with on that date. A Christmas party is being planned for Monday evening, Dec. 22nd at 7 P. M. The committee in charge comprises Mrs. Sarah Ingram, chairman; assisted by Mrs. Fred Benoit, Mrs. Frank R. White and Mrs. Helen Nuesle.

The Newport Town Commission is continuing its street improvement program. The curb and gutter and street paving projects in Stonehurst and Colony Hill, new developments, is about half completed. The Town Commission will hold its monthly meeting Friday evening in the town offices.

The remodeling of the St. James Parish House, which was formerly the Red Men's Hall, is nearing completion. A card party will be held in the parish house Friday evening, with Mrs. Thomas Berry of Silver in charge.

The recently organized Young Women's Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service will meet on Wednesday evening at the parsonage, as guests of Mrs. R. S. Hodgson. Following the business session, Mrs. Hodgson will review the book "Youth on the Highways". A musical program will also be enjoyed.

At the Methodist Youth Fellowship session Sunday evening in the Newport Methodist Church, Miss Mildred Stradley and Charles Bratton reviewed the Young Peoples Conference session held at Newark, recently, where they were delegates from the Newport group.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Day and daughter Miss Mary Jane Day spent Thanksgiving Day as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scarborough of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Munn of the Virginia Apartments had as their guests this week, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Riddell and daughter, Miss Mera Riddell of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Maclary, Charlotte and Edith Maclary and Mr. Robert Maclary spent the Thanksgiving Holiday with Mrs. Maclary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carter of Roselle.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Donovan of Newark, were guests on Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Maclary.

Miss Doris Benard, a pupil of the Krebs School who recently underwent an appendix operation in the Delaware Hospital, has returned to her home where she is convalescing.

How to Save Money

1. If you are Buying, Building, or Remodeling your home, the NEWARK BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION can save you money.
2. Here's how—our carrying charges are lower than most other financing plans. This means that there is no need to drain your income to make payments. This means also that your home is debt-free in less time.
3. To illustrate:— While you are charged 6% interest against your shares, our experience indicates that on a paid-up share of $200.00 approximately $61.00 represents earnings — making your net carrying charge much less than the 6% charged against the share.

HOME COMING IS MARKED AT CHURCH

Anniversary Is Celebrated

Marshallton Dec. 3 — Marshallton Methodist Church observed its fifty-fifth anniversary and annual homecoming services Sunday.

The Rev. Dr. C. A. Richardson, of New York City, secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church, preached at the morning service at 11 o'clock. The Senior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Edna Ball Gilbert, sang.

Dr. Arthur J. Jackson, president of the Methodist Junior College, Dover, preached at the evening service.

Plans for the annual Christmas party for children and their parents, Tuesday, December 23, were outlined at the meeting of the church school board of the Marshallton Methodist Church last week. The program will include games, refreshments, a decorated Christmas tree and a candy treat for the children. Eugene Cain, superintendent and John S. Kelso, are in charge of the program, and refreshments will be arranged by Mrs. David Montgomery, general chairman.

Chief Scott Norris Howard Work, George McGuck, William Kane, and Charles Menzies, members of the Mill Creek Fire Company, attended a civilian defense meeting last week at the Edgewood Arsenal, Baltimore.

The congregation of the Marshallton Methodist Church joined those of "The Cedars," Hockessin and Ebenezer Methodist Churches and Red Clay Creek and White Clay Creek Presbyterian Churches for a United Thanksgiving Service, Thursday morning in the White Clay Creek Church, Capital Trail, near Newark.

The Rev. George W. Goodley, Jr., pastor of Ebenezer Church, delivered the sermon.

Ruth Steele of the local 4-H Club is attending the National 4-H Club Congress and International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. Miss Steele was awarded the trip for her canning and gardening skill.

The December meeting of the Marshallton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held Thursday at the Methodist Parsonage, with Mrs. John M. Kelso as hostess. Mrs. Edna Ball Gilbert, president of the local union, will preside.

Musical Notes

by Burton Morris

"When arriving late, remain in the lobby quietly until admitted by the ushers, and then be quietly seated." This was the first of the "ten commandments" recently handed out to a concert audience. The bold manager of the series gave a printed sheet to his audience listing the "do's" and "don't's" of behavior which would yield them the greatest satisfaction and enjoyment from the concert. A few of the overly-sensitive sputtered protests but his idea was generally accepted in the spirit in which it was given. Although your correspondent does not know them, he has been told that there are people with otherwise perfect manners who sometimes attend concert or opera and spend the evening audibly whispering about last night's bridge game or some other equally important subject.

Which brings us to the story told about Robert Donat, the screen star, who was the guest of honor at an opera party. Throughout the evening his hostess chattered on and on, and as the final curtain fell said, "Oh, Mr. Donat, I do want you to be with us tomorrow evening. The opera will be 'Tosca'." "Charmed, I'm sure," replied Mr. Donat. "I've never heard you in that."

Returning to our "Ten Commandments," of course number seven asked the audience not to applaud between movements of a number. The next day the manager received a call from a dear soul who admitted some confusion as to what was meant by "movement". She asked, "it would be a great help if you would tell us what movements of the artist we should look for."

"I dare you to try!" These words from a friend led to the chance singing of Mona Paulee in a Portland, Oregon movie house. Unexpected and enthusiastic acclaim by the audience won the contest for the young mezzo-soprano. This proof that people liked to hear her sing started Mona Paulee on the path that has led to the winning of the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air and introduced her to the acclaim of a Metropolitan audience.

Each of the ten grand fingers of Moissaye Boguslawski, noted concert pianist, is valued at five "grand", making fifty grand fingers. This is how it is figured—Boguslawski's hands are insured for $50,000 or at the rate of $5,000 per digit.

About his hands that are valued so highly, the genius remarks, "They get more attention than the average hands, I suppose. Before each recital I bathe them in hot water. It is a problem. I must always keep my hands where they belong."

Newark Department Store Completes Extensive Modernization and Expansion Program

Nationally Advertised Lines To Be Featured

During the period that the construction of the new home of the Newark Department Store has been progressing, the management has been progressively contracting for the distribution of outstanding lines of merchandise in every department with the result that many of the well-known brands of men's, women's, and children's wearing apparel are presented. It is their desire to provide for the people of the community the products of those manufacturers who strive year after year to produce the best merchandise at the lowest prices.

These producers tell the people of the entire nation about their products by national Advertising campaigns, and the local store is turning to these sources for the merchandise they offer. For this reason, the displays in this new store carry names familiar to every reader of newspapers and magazines. Customers are requested to aid in making the store of greater service by comments to the management respecting to desired items that may be missing. Wherever possible, the requests will be followed, but every request will be gratefully received.

Modern, New Department Store Ready For Christmas Trade

Exterior view of the Newark Department Store's new home which has tripled its floor space and now offers the residents of Newark and vicinity a complete line of nationally-advertised merchandise. The installation of modern display fixtures and complete remodeling has made it one of the most up-to-date stores in this section. Shoppers will find a wide selection of articles on the new Newark Department Store shelves.

Culmination Of Many Years Progress

The present Newark Department Store was founded many years ago, and the older residents of this community will no doubt remember that in 1918 the present owner acquired the business from John R. Chapman. From its inception, the store has enjoyed the patronage of customers from Newark and neighboring communities and has always been known to offer full values without resorting to promotional ballyhoo.

In 1931 the store was moved to modern quarters and now in 1941 a further expansion is made enabling the management to offer their customers a modern, cheerful store which would do credit to any community.

Favorites with children and their "budgeteer" mothers are these smart new Star Brand shoes. Grown up styles combined with a construction that lasts. We're happy to show these outstanding children's shoes. See our large assortment of styles, sizes and widths.

Genuine All-Leather POLL-PARROT Shoes . . . Good For Growing Feet . . .

Here's a match for young active feet. Genuine all-leather Poll Parrots. No card board or fibre board in counters insoles or heel base of Poll Parrot shoes, no-sirree! Poll Parrot last longer, wear better and stay better looking longer because they are leather constructed. See these smartest of new Poll Parrot styles on display.

Let children try to scuff this genuine sharkskin tip . . . they're bound to try, but they can't.
