"While this is the largest single contribution by a Newark business institution", an association spokesman said, "sufficient smaller ones have been generously donated by local residents and business firms to enable us to "purchase" the entire 40-acre site at $250 per acre".

The association is carrying on a drive to provide funds for a modern outdoor swimming pool in the park and for money with which to operate the city recreation program.

Leaders Express Belief Late Reports Will Swell Total To Desired Quota

The United Community Fund of Northern Delaware closed its 1953 Red Feather campaign with a total of $936,291 in donations, $193,909 short of the $1,130,200 goal.

Bayard Sharp, the fund's general chairman, said there will be no formal extension of the drive, but urged workers who have not yet submitted final reports to finish their solicitation, and report as quickly as possible.

To keep himself informed, Mr. Sharp said, he will contact division, and section chairmen by telephone throughout next week, calling them together for an informal report session at the end of the week.

Meanwhile, Frederick H. Norris, executive director of the United Community Fund, reported that the total received at the end of the formal drive is the largest amount ever collected here in so short a time.

Mr. North expressed confidence that the final goal will be attained without too much difficulty, even though the 83 per cent participation this year, is below the percentage reported at the same stage in 1952.

"Our experience has indicated that there are still many reports, containing enough, to put the drive over the top, still outstanding."

Postmaster Warns Of Near Deadline For Overseas Mail

Christmas Packages Sent To Pacific Troops Should Be Mailed By November 1

Newark's postmaster F. Allyn Cooch calls attention to the fact that there is little time left for mailing Christmas packages to armed service personnel abroad.

Parcel post for armed service personnel in Korea, Japan and the Pacific Islands should be mailed by November 1. Articles addressed to Europe or American possessions will be delivered by Christmas if posted before November 15.

Christmas cards are the bright spot in overseas mailing. They may be sent by air mail as late as December 1. However, all over-seas Christmas cards bearing three-cent stamps should be mailed by November 15.

The Postmaster also pointed out:

(1) Air parcels for overseas are limited to two pounds. At regular parcel post rates, the weight limit is 70 pounds. Packages may not exceed 100 inches in combined length and girth.

(2) Foodstuffs such as fruitcakes, cookies and candy seem to be the most popular gifts for servicemen. Matches and lighter fluid are forbidden.

(3) Select a durable mailing carton of wood, metal or fiberboard. Line it with newspapers to cushion any shock. Use a heavy wrapping paper and strong cord.

"It's particularly important," the Postmaster continued, "that an overseas address be correct and easy to read. Servicemen are on the move so much that delay may mean delivery after Christmas."

To avoid any such disappointments, Postmaster Cooch recommends that you hand-print the full name, rank, service number, branch of service, organization and the army or navy post office through which the mail is to be routed.

Labels frequently fall off when exposed to moisture, so print directly on the wrapping paper. Include your return address.

In spelling out the do's and don'ts of his overseas program, Postmaster Cooch feels that the best advice is "Big or small, mail them all—now!"

Last year, he recalls, 440,000 pieces of mail were canceled by the local Post Office between December 1-25. This year an even heavier volume is expected.

Hi-Y Meeting

H. Lewis Miller, club sponsor, opened the first Hi-Y meeting of the school year with the annual voting in of new members. New members were chosen by majority vote of the 12 senior boys who were in the club last year. Due to the large number of boys wanting to enter the club, only a certain number from each grade could be included. The decision was that one senior, four juniors, and eight sophomores should be allowed to enter the club, thus bringing the total club membership up to 25.

As a result of this decision, Bill Wetzel was the senior elected into the club and Bill Hiddleston, Lawrence Biasotto, Jacob Shew, and John Hildreth were the four juniors.

The eight sophomores who entered the club include George Barczewski, Mark Hurm, James Jackson, Tom Kershaw, Ray Klapinsky, John Miller, Terry Sparks, and Earl Unruh.

Driving In Dark Increases Danger Council Cautions

"A strong offense is the best defense against night traffic hazards," C. J. Jamison, assistant manager of the Delaware Safety Council stated yesterday.

"Darkness is the enemy we have to fight in our campaign on night traffic accidents," Mr. Jamison said. "More accidents occur at night than in the daylight hours because cars, pedestrians, cyclists and stationary objects can not be seen readily in the dark.

He advised motorists to adopt the following rules for night driving:

1. Double-check all lights.

2. Use headlights properly. Use the upper beam on rural highways when no approaching car is within 1,000 feet. Use the lower beam when oncoming cars approach you, when you are overtaking another car, or when driving in cities and residential areas.

3. Dim your lights even though an oncoming driver fails to dim his. Maintain control of your car by looking at the right shoulder of the highway.

4. Never pull onto a thoroughfare at night unless all front and rear lights are on.

5. If it's necessary to stop on the highway at night, pull completely off the road and be sure parking and dome lights are on. It's a good idea to carry flares or fuses to prepare for such emergencies.

"Cyclists and pedestrians can also make themselves visible at night," Mr. Jamison said. "The cyclist should be sure that he has a good headlight and tail light on his bike. It's also a good idea to trim the bike with white reflectorized material and to wear light colored or white clothing.

Alice's hobbies are roller skating and collecting pennants. Along the musical line she likes Eddie Fisher and her favorite song is "Dear John". Where movies are concerned she enjoyed "From Here to Eternity" and "Mogambo". Along the food line Alice enjoys subs with plenty of onions and hot peppers. For school she prefers sport clothes.

Alice is five feet, two inches tall, has dark brown hair, and green eyes. Her main ambition in lice is to travel around the world.

Petty-Cash!

SOME loose change . . . a few dollar bills . . . in a little tin box. In business, they call it "petty cash." Every home has its "petty cash" too . . . maybe in Mother's sugar bowl . . . maybe in Dad's back pocket. And isn't it amazing how low "petty cash" gets by the time next payday rolls around? If you figure on saving "what's left", you may not get very far. Try this better way: Deposit a fixed amount in your savings account FIRST, then spend "what's left." Before you know it, your cash in the bank will be far from "petty"!

Psychology Class Hears Discussion Of Nursery School

Is nursery school desirable for most children?

This is a question which the psychology class at the University of Delaware wanted answered, and Dr. G. Gorham Lane, invited Miss Jure Patterson, director of the nursery school at the University of Delaware to speak before his class.

"Nursery school is not a must for all children," Miss Patterson declared, "but most children between the ages of two and five receive some benefit from nursery school."

"Nursery school is a child's world," she added. "It is built for him. It provides a place where he can learn to get along with others his own age, to share with others, and to talk things over with them without hitting. This is the primary learning that takes place in a nursery school."

A day at the University of Delaware nursery school includes a period of free play (outdoors if weather permits). It includes fruit or vegetable juice or milk, and a period of quiet activities—pasting, painting, records and stories.

Miss Patterson says, "A nursery school is a supplement to home training. It does not take its place."

Knowing how to make precision parts for automatic washing machines may not be absolutely necessary in order to bake a chocolate cake but it helps according to Forrest Moreland, a foreman in the largest washing machine factory in the world. The difference is that he only bakes as a hobby.

Moreland uses practically the same efficient assembly-line methods for gathering cake ingredients as he does for turning out the vital and precise mechanism of a Whirlpool washing machine. The final results in each case are a proud example of craftsmanship.

In the nearly 30 years that Mr. Moreland has been associated with washing machine manufacture he has learned the secret of precision in quality production. In his own kitchen he follows the same methods.

A chocolate cake starts at one end with an empty bowl. As it moves along the kitchen "assembly line" toward the oven, proper ingredients are added from neat wall bins and shelves. While the cake is baking the "sub-assembly" job of preparing the frosting goes on.

Here is one of Mr. Moreland's "secrets" on how to remove cake that sticks to hot tins: Apply a cloth soaked in cold water to bottom of hot pan. The cold causes pan to contract and loosen cake without breaking.

PRECISION CHOCOLATE CAKE

Preheat oven to 350°.
1½ cups sugar; ½ cup shortening; 3 eggs unbeaten; 1 teaspoon vanilla — mix for 5 minutes.
2 cups sifted cake flour—if other flour is used, a 1 2 tablespoons more milk; 2¼ tea spoons baking powder, double acting, or teaspoons of quick acting; 1 teaspoon salt; ¾ cup milk.
Add dry ingredients and milk to above mixture and beat for 6 minutes.
Heat 3 squares chocolate, unsweetened, over hot water—add to batter and beat for 2 minutes.
Bake in two, 9-inch cake pans for 30 to 35 minutes.

PEACE PANACEA

In 1941, the Laymen's National Committee, a non-sectarian organization, first sponsored National Bible Week. The idea was, and is, to encourage everyone to read the Bible a few moments each day in the belief that this will help greatly in solving our individual and collective problems.

This year the Week was observed for the 13th time, beginning October 19. The theme is "The Bible, the Key to Peace." A better theme could not have been chosen. For certainly it is clear that if peace is to come again to this troubled world, there must be a tremendous resurgence of spiritual values—and of these principles of conduct which the Bible stands for.

Read your Bible during the week—and every day thereafter.

With no score at the half, and at the start of the third period Rip Smith, Newark's triple threat quarterback, ran the ends ragged while Frank Mayer blasted holes in the duPont line for a sustained drive to the 25. And from there, Smith went all the way around right end for the first touchdown.

Frank Mayer smashed through the left side of the opposing line for ten yards and the second touchdown, in the final quarter, and Newark converted on a pass from Smith to Capt. "Winnie" Mayer.

The University of Delaware was defeated for the fourth straight time Saturday, when Rutgers trounced the Hens 34-0 at New Brunswick.

Letters To The Editor

Oct. 18th
Korea

Dear Editor,

I just now finished reading a copy of the "Newark Post." I enjoy the Post very much, as I can read all about my home town in it.

I have a suggestion to make although I don't know if it could be done or not.

Could there in some way be a column devoted to Newark residents in the service, giving their addresses and what they are doing? I know a lot of my buddies are in the service and I would very much like to know where they are.

I thought maybe the families of boys in the service could put the information in the column.

I'm sure most of the boys in the service receive and enjoy the Post as I do. In that way we could all keep up with each other.

I'll say again, I enjoy the Post very much and it makes one feel closer to the old town.

Sincerely,
Pfc. Ray Long
1st Marine Division

Editor's Note: Thanks, Ray, boy. We can't visualize a more newsworthy column than one such as you suggest. The Post will be happy to carry such a column if you service men and women and you folks at home will give us the low-down.

We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.—(Romans 15,1.)

It is one thing for a man to be confidently strong in his faith; but it is quite another if, in his strength, he becomes smug and unsympathetic, unmoved and unseeing. He is not truly a good Christian if he fails to help those less fortunate than himself—for their sake, not his—at every opportunity.

The one false step that brought me into court!
If you own property, take heed

(A true story from Company File No. 001-D-187)

My wife and I own and live in a two-family house, renting out the upper floor. One day my tenant's daughter came to visit her and stepped on a loose brick which I had forgotten to fix. She crashed on her back. Badly hurt, she later sued me for $25,000!

Tastes As Good As It Looks

It's like looking through Alice in Wonderland's rose-colored glasses to see the fresh pears in this Raspberry Pear Mold—all thanks to raspberry-flavored gelatin. Entirely apart from the Alice in Wonderland touch, you will appreciate the make-it-ahead, all-in-one dish features that fruit-flavored gelatin gives this refreshing, economical dessert. And with fresh pears in season, the wise homemaker makes use of them in all their juicy, flavorful glory, in as many ways as possible.

Raspberry Pear Mold

1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin
½ cup hot water
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
1½ cups ginger ale
1 cup diced fresh pears

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add lemon juice and ginger ale gradually. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in pears. Turn into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with green grapes, pear slices and green leaves, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For larger mold, double all ingredients.

Homecoming Hen Meets Mule After Connecticut Victory

Muhlenberg Invades Delaware Stadium In Homecoming Test; Frank Serpico Scores 13 Points Against Uconns; Hens Stage 23-Point Scoring Spree In Final Quarter

Delaware's Fightin' Blue Hens, one of the East's best small college elevens, will play Muhlenberg College next Saturday in the fifth home game of the season at Delaware Stadium. Kickoff is at 2 p.m., but extensive pre-game ceremonies are planned for the Homecoming event.

An interesting highlight of the game will be the battle for supremacy in the mythical Middle Six Conference, in which Delaware is the only undefeated team.

Muhlenberg was jolted from the undefeated ranks in conference play last week by the Gettysburg Bullets, a team previously plastered by the Hens.

Muhlenberg will bring to Delaware Stadium one of the most powerful teams, yet faced by Delaware. In the backfield will be a quartet of hard-running backs led by fullback and captain Ernie Scarpa.

In the line, the Mules have several outstanding players, including end Dick Wertheiser and two freshman guards, Stan Vmuk and Francis Gutierez. The Mule line will probably hold a heavy weight advantage over the Delaware forward wall.

In their Connecticut invasion, the Hens were on the short end of a 7-0 count at the end of the first period, tied the score at 7-all in the second quarter, and in the new ball game starting with the final half, Hen and Husky battled on scoreless terms for 15 minutes.

Then came the fourth quarter in which none was granted the hapless Huskies. Delaware rolled to 23 overwhelming points as time and the Connecticut defense power ran out.

The Uconns lead-off, lone touchdown came after a 62-yard drive when Tinsley plunged over from the one-yard line.

Don Miller pitched to Andy Wagner for 26 yards and the Hens' first touchdown and faithful Frank Serpico place-kicked the tieing point.

Delaware failed to invade Connecticut territory again until early in the last quarter when guard Bob Trivits blocked a Husky punt and from the Connecticut 42 the Hens drove for a touchdown. Serpico took Miller's seven yard pass in the end zone.

It was Serpico again, kicking off for Delaware into the Uconn's now familiar end zone where a Connecticut griddler stood watching the ball bounce in anticipation of a touchback call. Serpico didn't wait and tackled the ball for the third Delaware touchdown. And he kicked the extra point.

Flashback Jim Zaiser intercepted a Connecticut pass to race 35-yards for another Delaware score, and with 12 seconds left, Quarterback Bob Hooper performed a bit of kicking artistry with a field goal from a bad angle on the 16-yard stripe.

Dusting 'Em Off

By
E. A. RAUGHLEY

In case you are looking for records, the longest double play on record has just been completed. With the signing of Dressen to manage Oakland, it went like this: Oakland to Brooklyn to Oakland. Time three years.

The Brooklyn management brought Dreseen from Oakland and the first year he was out in front by 13 games in August when the roof fell in and he wound up second to the Giants. The next two years he was the unwilling victim of the Yankees in the Fall classic.

When he asked for a three year contract he was put out to graze and wound up just where he was three years ago—managing Oakland in the Pacific Coast League. So ends the longest double play on record. The latest rumor going the rounds is that Pee Wee Reese will be named manager with an increase in pay.

Brooklyn still wins, for the increase will be about 10 grand and they offered Dressen 40 for next year. Maybe they intend to split the $30,000 saved with the boys who won the pennant in pay increases!

In Summary

With the last batch of averages released, Porterfield of Washington leads his league with nine whitewash jobs. Three of the jobs were done on our A's.

Over in the senior circuit Harvey Haddix of the Cards was the leader, with Roberts of the Phils coming in second.

We read where a fugitive from Cleveland—Boone—led the league in 4-ply swats with the bases loaded. When he was turned loose in the middle of the year, the info was that he would not hit. So he does an about-face and starts to pound that pill and winds up as the leader in hitting grand slam home runs. And he hit one of them off Porterfield, who threw the most shutouts.

As everyone expected Mr. Stengel was named "Manager of the Year" in the American. But the surprise was in naming Charlie Grimm of Milwaukee as the National manager. Most of the writers were of the opinion that bringing the Braves home second was just about the top job. Paul Richards of the Chisox, and Dressen were runners-up and Brooklyn's Carl Furillo was cited for making the "greatest comeback" of the year.

Top Rookie

American League "Rookie of the Year" honors went to Jim Pearsall of the Boston Red Sox. This is almost one of those Alger stories come to life. Last year he was up but could not make it and was shipped to Birmingham. Along about the middle of the season he was returned to the Sox as unwanted, and he put on a tantrum that wound up in a private sanitarium.

But Joe Cronin and the Sox could see greatness in the boy and stuck with him. So this year he was one of the sparks that brought Boston in with a fourth place finish after being consigned to seventh place by the forecasters at the start of the season.

When the National selection is made public it would surprise no one if Gilliam of Brooklyn took the honors.

So Soon

The first prediction of the 1954 season came out the other day when Lopez of the Cleveland Indians announced that his was the team to beat for the pennant next year. His reasons—the best pitching staff in the league, the all 'round hitting with Rosen as the big stick man, and the hoped-for better fielding.

He forgot to say who would be his first sacker or who would be in right field. Those were his problems this year together with a sieve-like infield. So he picks his team and most everybody else will pick the Yanks. That's what makes a horse race—different opinions.

The so-called Orioles of Baltimore are having their problems before they even get the official papers to take over the Browns. Out in St. Louis is a law suit that could throw a monkey wrench in the whole deal. The minority stock holders are asking the court to make Bill Veeck give an accounting of his years as head of the ball club. If these folks are successful in their suit and the club is thrown in bankruptcy it could mean that the club would have to be sold all over again through the courts and a lot of road blocks could be in the way of the new owners.

Marty Marion

In passing, it might be said that one of the nicest fellows in baseball, Marty Marion, might be let out as head man of the club. It has been rumored that a name manager is on the way in and Marty is on the way out. As he has another year on his contract he could sit this one out and save wear and tear on his nervous system.

This past week saw the reign of two unbeaten football teams come to an end. Out in South Bend, Notre Dame took the measure of Georgia Tech, while in Lafayette, Ind., Purdue defeated Michigan State. No 2 team in the country.

To make it all the worse for the Staters, a lad they ran off the campus as not able to make their club was the boy who made the touchdown that rocked them out of the unbeaten class.

And Delaware came through with a big win over the University of Connecticut, which makes them a favorite over Muhlenburg on Saturday here in Newark. Up in Philly, Penn stopped Navy in an upset, 9 to 6. These Penn boys have a couple of tough times ahead in the next two weeks, with Michigan and Notre Dame.

Record Attendance Expected For Hens Muhlenberg Clash

Saturday Homecoming Game Seen As New Mark For Delaware Stadium

A record crowd is expected to pass through the gates of Delaware Stadium for Delaware's Homecoming game with Muhlenberg College next Saturday afternoon.

Assistant director of athletics, Robert F. Siemen, reports a heavy advanced sale of seats with some alumni groups purchasing large blocks of tickets. The game itself features two of the leading powers of the mythical Middle Six Conference and may be the deciding game of the season for the league crown.

The Mules hold a slight edge in the overall series which dates to 1910, with seven victories against five loses and a scoreless tie, but the Blue Hens have had much the better success in recent years. Muhlenberg copped last year's game at Allentown, 21-12.

The battle of the two small college powers is expected to bring about one of the most exciting running duels of the season featuring Muhlenberg's highly touted Jackie McDonald, a shifty 160 pounder, and Delaware's flashy Jimmy Zaiser, who has been tabbed by many observers as the fastest break-away back in the East.

Other contests during the busy week will feature the freshman Blue Chick gridders at Lehigh, 2:30 p.m. Friday; Whitey Burnham's soccermen at Washington College, 2 p.m. Saturday; and a triangular cross country meet, Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, between Johns Hopkins, Gettysburg, and Delaware.

Rebuilt Warriors Start 72-Tilt NBA Campaign Saturday

Penn's Beck, Olympic High Jump Champ Boost Philadelphia's Chances

A completely revamped Warriors basketball team, hopeful of regaining its one-time lofty status in the National Basketball Association, will open its league campaign Saturday night at Convention Hall against the Syracuse Nationals.

As the Warriors approach the start of their 72-game NAB schedule, owner-coach Eddie Gottlieb is filled with more confidence than at any time in the recent past. He has completely overhauled the team which won only 12 games a year ago.

Gottlieb's biggest addition is Ernie Beck, the 6:04 sharpshooter who was Penn's bulwark for three years. Ernie has demonstrated that he has the makings of one of the league's top players.

The most publicized of the recruits is Walter (Buddy) Davis, the world's high jumping champion. As a result of his Olympic championship and his record leap of six feet 11½ inches, Davis is an international figure. But Gotty picked him as his No. 1 draft choice in 1952 on the basis of his basketball ability as Texas A&M.

In the face of such stars, the club's ace pivotman, Neil Johnston has been shunted to the background. But the 6:09 giant is coming along strong and hopes to duplicate his efforts of a year ago when he captured league scoring honors with 1,564 points to become the third Warrior to turn the trick. The other two, Joe Fulks in 1946-47 and Paul Arizin in 1951-52, also will be on hand for the twin bill.

Bill Reybold Takes First As Hens Beat Swarthmore

Delaware's cross-country endurance racers defeated Swarthmore, 24-31, at Swarthmore, Saturday, as Bill Reybold came home first for the Blue and Gold in the fast time of 26:16.5.

The victory was the first of the season for Coach Ken Steer's standard-bearers who lost to a powerful Pitt Panther squad in the opening meet.

All-Americans Stop Hens In Temple Soccer Clash

Facing a power-laden Temple squad, complete with a pair of All-Americans in Didriksen and Dunn, Coach Whitey Burnham's Blue Hen soccer varsity lost their third test of the season on Saturday by a score of 12-1.

Delaware's McLaughlin came through with the sole goal in the final quarter to save Burnham's booters from a shutout.

Panthers To Meet Gophers In Saturday TV Grid Tilt

The Pittsburgh Panthers, one of the nation's roughest, toughest football teams, will battle the Golden Gophers of Minnesota in the TV Game of the Week.

Bubs Eubanks was unveiling Harold Wivel's ears, Friday morning, when we walked in to inquire about the possibility of transplanting operations from the back of the neck to topside, and above the drone of the electric clippers and Eubanks' commentary on the Blue Hen fortunes, Wivel glowingly described the bass fishing to be had in the North East River.

"A couple of guys from the plant were down there this week," Harold said, "and they got some beauties—up to four pounds. And lots of 'em.

"Take the road to McDaniel's Yacht Basin, right through North East, and turn right at the big wooden fish sign, to the wharf. Get a rowboat and pull straight across to the grass beds."

"Have you been down there, Harold?" the patient was asked.

"No, but I was down at Ocean City, Md., last Sunday," he sidestepped, "And believe me, the blue fish were really in the surf. Fished off the public pier and just as fast as we could get a piece of cut fatback in the water, those snapper blues would have it."

"How many, Harold?"

"Our hooks were too big," he said.

A Friday trip to the North East River was not advisable because a certain amount of newspaper advertising is an economic necessity, and a Saturday trip was impeded by a number of cheerless chores, from furnace cleaning to window washing.

We did get out for awhile with Little Bill for some close-to-home fishing in the Christiana and took five nice crappie with a tiny bucktail, spinner and fly rod.

The fish of the day—a giant crappie—hit the lure just as we were getting ready to call it a day. The big fellow surged onto the line and surfaced just long enough to thrash an impressive, open-mouthed head around to throw the hook and provide a disheartening last look.

On Sunday afternoon we finally made the North East River, and while our experience fell short of Wivel's narrative, we did have a lot of fun and some action.

The sun was pretty well down in the west and it was difficult to see down into the water to locate the grass-fringed holes where the bass might have been waiting.

But after laboring through masses of marine vegetation left on the surface of an ebbing tide, we did find a broad pond of open water surrounded by grass banks.

And there we anchored after more than enough rowing and exploring.

A half hour of casting slipped away and after the labor of traversing acres of oar-clinging seaweed to reach what was becoming more and more evidently a completely fishless spot, we were a bit on the tired side. This physical fatigue was accompanied by a mental variety, too, as the result of a constant interrogation from an inquiring five-year-old.

"What's the worst, Dad," we remember as a sample, "A pistol, a Winchester, a hot-rod, Mighty Joe Young, or an atom bomb?"

The cove just around a peninsula of marshland was alive with brown and white pintails, and waterfowl were weaving their spectacular etchings against the sky as another distraction, and when another 15 minutes of unresponsive casting had passed, we interrupted one of Little Bill's questions to state: "Bud, this is your Daddy's first and last trip to the North East River unless this bass fishing business picks up pretty quick" and then the first bass of the day smashed that Al Foss Shimmy Wriggler and porkrind.

Fat and green-gold, he was a battler from start to standstill, and made two water-shattering jumps despite a determined, horsing effort to hold him down with the rod deep beside the boat.

A half hour later, another bass, a half pound heavier, joined the first bronzeback in the wet sack and we watched the ducks flying against the red sunset as we pulled for the shore and home.

Undefeated Chicks Defeat Leopards For 3rd Victory

Johnny Oberg Registers 2 Touchdowns As Frosh Continue Winning Ways

The Lafayette Leopard Cubs had their pelts pelted all over Frazer Field on Saturday as Coach Jimmy Sullivan's victory-minded freshman gridders romped to their third straight victory in an undefeated season. The Blue Chicks larruped the Leopards, 26-7.

Immediately after the opening kickoff, the Hens drove to the 13—were stopped—and Lafayette returned the ball to the 30. Mike Slaveski recovered a fumble and this time the Delaware team scored in five plays, Johnny Oberg crashing over from the two and adding the extra point with a place kick.

Delaware inserted a complete new team in the second period.

With Patsy Friello, Billy Michaels, and Bobby Moneymaker in the backfield, the frosh again drove into Lafayette territory. The Leopards took over, but on the visitor's first punt of the game, Jim Shelton broke through to block the kick, scooped it up and raced 40 yards for the second touchdown.

Oberg set up the Hens' third scoring play with a 25-yard run and the touchdown came on a 24-yard pass from Quarterback Bart Wenrich to Carmen Cella, who made a leaping catch on the goal line.

The final Delaware score came on a 25-yard screen pass from Wenrich to Oberg.

Last week at Andrews Pond, Lane McBurney popped a surface lure over the heads of some big bass that tossed caution to the winds, late season tradition out the window, and a lot of Andrews' Pond water into the McBurney face as they exploded around the popping bait in some strenuous sport.

"He caught a lot of 'em," Fred Kutz said, "And they were big ones."

F. A. "Rich" Richardson, a Michigan migrant, with 12-yr. old son Tommy, took to the squirrel timber east of Newark on Saturday, and after some gun-handling, parental instruction, Tommy was given a loaded .22 with which he promptly creased a bushy-tailed gray. Wounded, but still moving, and moving in a hurry for a tree hollow sanctuary, the squirrel was finished off with an insurance blast from Dad's shotgun.

Yellowjackets Face Claymont After 42-0 Loss to Wm. Penn

Colonials Crush Newark With 3-Touchdown Offensive In Second Quarter; Truskey, BiaSotto Injured In Wm. Penn Fray; Indians Come To Newark Friday Night

The Newark High School Yellowjackets, who dropped a close one at home last year to Wm. Penn for their only loss of the season, visited New Castle on the Delaware last Saturday and were stopped cold by Billy Cole's Colonials, 42-0.

It was the second one-sided loss in a row for Coach Scotty Duncan's gridders who lost their previous outing to Wilmington High School, 40-2 the previous week end.

"There's no use getting out the crying towel," Coach Duncan said wryly, "We were hammered good and proper—twice."

Wm. Penn rang up a touchdown and an extra point in a closely contested first quarter, but in the second period the hard-driving Colonials riddled the Yellowjacket defense for three touchdowns, complete with nightcaps, and Newark was out of the contest.

With reserve operations, Cole's Colonials added seven points in each of the second half periods.

Already hindered by injuries, the Jackets lost the services of halfback Jerry Truskey, who injured a knee, and of reserve center Larry BiaSotto, who suffered an ankle injury in the Wm. Penn clash.

Two starting backers, Mark Rice and Paul Smith, and first string fullback Bill Huffington were unable to play against Wm. Penn because of previous injuries.

Horn lost his bark against Wilmington High School, Smith injured a vertebrea in an early scrimmage session, and Huffington is nursing an ankle chipped in the Brown game at Wilmington last.

Juggling the line-up, Duncan announced his starters against Claymont as John Smith and Jack McDowell, ends; Dick Beldyk and John McNair, tackles; Irving Thomas and Terry Sparks, guards and Bill Wetzel, at center.

Jake Shaw will fill the quarterback backing; Rob Conway and Pete Schuyler will be at left and right halves, and Al Jevyk will be at the fullback post.

Friday night's game will get under way at the local high school field at 8:15, and the Newark gridders have been working long and hard to strengthen their defense and shore up on their scoring punch in an attempt to get back on the victory trail against Claymont.

After losing the Elkton opener, 13-6, Newark defeated Brown, 34-0, and trampled Dover, 33-0 before running into the Wilmington Tigers and Wm. Penn debacles.

Third Lightweight Meets 2nd Feather In Friday TV Tilt

George Araujo, Ranking Lightweight, To Battle Featherweight Red Davis

George Araujo, the hard-hitting, third-ranked lightweight clashes with Teddy (Red Top) Davis, second-ranked featherweight in a ten round catch-weights bout to be nationally telecast and broadcast Friday night from Madison Square Garden on the Cavalcade of Sports.

The fight starts at 10 p.m. New York time, and will be seen on NBC's television network and heard over ABC's radio network.

The battle has championship aspects and is causing quite a bit of excitement among New England sports writers. Although the match is being held in New York, the winner will be declared lightweight champion of New England, since Araujo is from Providence and Davis from Hartford.

Araujo, a busy, two-fisted punch thrower, has scored 30 knockouts in his 51 fights. He has lost only three. He holds decisions over Sandy Sadler, Orlando Zuleta and Del Flanagan. He has kayoed Charley Riley and Joe Brown, among others.

Davis, hot right now, is a fighter who goes in streaks. He has fought nearly twice as many professional bouts as his rival. His record shows 50 wins, 46 losses and 16 kayoes. He has beaten Corky Ganzales, Percy Basset, and Dennis Pat Brady.

Economists Offer Delaware Farmers Cost-Price Tips

High Operating Costs, Lower Product Prices Present Profit Problem

Agricultural economists at the University of Delaware have some tips that may ease the plight of the farm operator who finds lower prices for his products while his operating costs remain high.

"Look for places to cut cash costs—but don't overdo it!" advise W. T. McAllister and William F. McDaniels. "In the next few years good farm profits will depend a great deal more on good farm management."

The economists point out that while hired labor costs four times as much as in pre-World War II days, machinery has just doubled in price. However, while labor-saving machinery is a good investment for some, for other farmers, buying machinery may be more practical if it is used only a few days each year.

This isn't the time to cut down on fertilizer sprays and dusts, caution the economists. It will still pay in the long run to spend what is needed for these items, as well as some farm machinery, good seed and proven varieties.

Get rid of non-paying livestock now. When prices are falling, low producing cows and lazy hens may not earn their keep. Farmers also must plan and manage their crops more carefully. Dairymen can provide their cows good home-grown hay and pasture at much lower cost than when buying it.

Other ways to beat the price-cost situation: Pay off debts or combine several short time debts into one longer time farm mortgage at lower interest rates. Keep insurance paid up on buildings. Keep a more complete record of income and expenses.

Provide Teen-Agers Regular Allowance Specialist Advises

"Mary and Jimmy are always asking for money . . . for school, for movies, for a basketball game. How can I keep giving them money? There's no end to their demands!"

This mother's complaint isn't unusual, says Miss Louise Whitcomb, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware. But she feels there are satisfactory answers to the problem.

"Have you ever considered letting the teen-agers handle their own money?" asks Miss Whitcomb. "A regular source of income, for your child will help him learn to make wise financial decisions."

Some teen-age boys and girls are able to earn their own spending money by outside jobs such as baby-sitting, running errands for neighbors, or working in stores on weekends. If this isn't possible, then the youngster should receive a regular allowance. Here the parent and child must work out together just what the sum should cover—perhaps school lunch, movies, clothes, Sunday School. Then the parent must stick to the amount set, paying promptly and not allowing the child to borrow ahead, for this would defeat the purpose of the allowance.

Homeowners Burn Money In Bonfires With Fall Leaves

Many home owners have money to burn this fall season, and that's just what they're doing.

When setting fire to fallen autumn leaves, they might as well be igniting dollars, according to E. I. Kabel, Dancy tree expert.

For grounded leaves are valuable assets to lawns trees and shrubbery.

And the smoke signals sent up from leaf piles throughout the nation spell out the warning word: "Waste."

Those home owners who turn over a new leafe and save their trees' discarded foliage gain one of the finest types of garden humus for nourishing the hungry soil.

Rake into a pile and developed as compost, the leaves produces a high-grade lawn and garden top-dressing and save their landlord the trouble of tending a bonfire.

If a compost heap is not desired, many leaves can be used as a mulch around evergreens or other plants that like some winter protection. And folks with powerdriven leaf pulverizors may simply plow into the leaves and cut them up into tiny bits that soon add to the soil humus.

Bonfires, besides destroying potential soil humus have a way of broiling the branches of nearby or overhanging trees. A bright, hot fire may look fine in the aumn twilight, badly damaged.

SERMON OF THE WEEK

ANSWERED FOR THE REST

Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Grandpa did not like to hear anyone expressing doubt that God hears or answers prayer. Whenever he heard someone complaining about his prayers not being answered, he would launch into a favorite story of his:

"When my father was a very young man, he ran away to sea. On the very first voyage he took, his ship was wrecked in a storm. As far as he knew, he was the only survivor. He managed to cling to a piece of driftwood and eventually floated to an uninhabited island.

"It took him several days to build himself a little hut, in which he placed the few things he had been able to salvage from the wreck, and also the things he found on the island which he thought he could use. Daily he prayed to God for deliverance and anxiously scanned the horizon to hail any passing ship. One day, on returning from a hunt for food, he was horrified to find his hut in flames; all he had, had gone up in smoke. Dejectedly he decided God had forsaken him and threw himself to the ground, weeping bitterly.

"After a while he raised up and saw a ship steaming toward the island. He ran wildly up and down the little beach, shouting and waving his arms until he was rescued. After he was brought aboard and the ship had headed out to the open seas again, the captain came up to him. 'We saw your smoke signal,' he said, 'or we would never have known there was anyone here.'"

Then eyeing the doubter sternly and disapprovingly, Grandpa would quote John 14-13: "Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do." I learned that in Sunday School, son, when I was knee-high to a grasshopper, and in all my 84 years I've never found it to fail! Maybe your prayer isn't answered in just the way you figured it would be—the world would sure be a mess if the Lord let every one of us have his own way in everything—but prayers are always answered for the best . . . and you can't tell me anything different, either!"
